Wayne Civic Leader Dies Sunday Night

Services for J. C. Nuss Are Held Wednesday Morning.

Funeral services for J. C. Nuss, who died on Sunday evening, Jan. 1, 1933, at 8:30 o'clock, were held Wednesday morning, Jan. 4, 1933, at 9:00 a. m. from St. Mary's Catholic church, with Rev. Fr. Wm. Kearus in charge. Interment was in the Wayne cemetery. Wayne business houses were closed during the funeral, out of respect to the memory of one of Wayne's leading business men, and friends of the deceased filled the church.

Mr. Nuss had been in ill health for some time, and his death came after an illness of several weeks. Heart trouble was the immediate cause of death.

Joseph Carl Nuss was born on April 2, 1873, at Mergentham, Germany, to Carl and Mary Nuss. He came to America in 1888. He was united in marriage to Miss Mary Herdt on April 24, 1906. Two children, Carl and Helen Nuss, were born to this union.

Mr. Nuss was a "self-made" man. He came to America when he was 15 years old and took up the baker's trade, at which he worked in Scranton, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Nuss came to Wayne in 1908. With a capital of $700, Mr. Nuss invested $500 in a variety store stock. He saved $200, he later told his friends, so that he could get back to Pennsylvania in case he went broke.

He rented a building close to Orr and Orr's present location, and built his own fixtures. Business improved and he moved to the building that is now occupied by the Palace cafe. He then moved to the Nuss firm's present location, buying the stock of the firm that had been there. In 1928, he rebuilt the store at a cost of about $30,000, making the building 150 feet long. The stock was greatly enlarged and the sales forces was increased.

Wholesalers said that the Nuss store was one of the best independent business places of its kind in the state, and variety store managers from all parts of Nebraska came to Wayne to inspect it.

On May 12, 1932, at a Master Merchants' banquet in Lincoln, Mr. Nuss was named one of the state's 12 Master Merchants for the year, considered one of the highest honors that can be bestowed on a Nebraska business man.

Mr. Nuss played a prominent part in the affairs of the community and could always be relied upon to furnish his services and financial aid for any worthy civic project. The advancement of Wayne meant much to him.

He was president of the Wayne Kiwanis club during the second year of that organization's existence and was always intensely interested in Kiwanis affairs. He served as secretary of the Country club for two years and was president of the Wayne commercial club. He was a member of the Sons of Herman lodge and served as grand vice president of that order.

He was also affiliated with the Knights of Columbus and Modern Woodmen lodges.

He was a faithful member of St. Mary's Catholic church.

Besides his wife and children he is survived by a brother, George Nuss of Mountain Top, Pa., two sisters, Mrs. Sebastian Gundling of Lancaster, Pa., and Anna Nuss of Wayne, a number of more distant relatives and a host of friends.

Omaha Educator Will Address Faculty Club

J. G. Masters, principal of Omaha Central High school, will speak at the monthly meeting of the Wayne State Teachers college Faculty club Tuesday evening, using some phase of western history as his topic. He will speak at college chapel Wednesday morning and will visit classes during the day.

Rev. H. C. Japsey is having a medical examination in an Omaha hospital today and will probably have to undergo an operation.

County's Largest Tree Goes Down

What is believed to be the largest tree in Wayne county was cut down on the Ed Frevert farm, known as the old Dave Cunningham place, 2 3/4 miles southwest of Wayne, Tuesday afternoon.

The tree, a cottonwood, was planted 63 years ago by Isaac Richardson. It stood not far from the Frevert home, in the middle of the farm yard. It stood about 90 feet high and measured over 15 feet around at the base.

Henry Barelman, Leonard Pospishel and Arnie Epker chopped it down, and it will be used for firewood. Mr. Frevert's farm was homesteaded by the Richardsons, and then sold to Henry Frevert in 1898.

Ed Frevert donated some smaller trees to the Wayne municipal wood pile, Tuesday.

Wildcats Meet Peru in Conference Hoop Tilt.

Wayne's wildcat cagers take the floor at the college gym tomorrow night in the first N. I. A. A. conference basketball game of the season. Peru will furnish the opposition, and Coach Ray Hickman has been drilling his proteges this week on defense plays against the Peru offensive.

Wayne's schedule of games is as follows:

- Jan. 6—Peru at Wayne.
- Jan. 13—Kearney at Kearney.
- Jan. 14—Doane at Crece.
- Jan. 20—Chadron at Wayne.
- Jan. 27—Omaha at Wayne.
- Jan. 31—Midland at Wayne.
- Feb. 4—Chadron at Chadron.
- Feb. 10—Open.
- Feb. 17—Kearney at Wayne.
- Feb. 24—Omaha at Omaha.
- Feb. 25—Peru at Peru.
- March 3—Hasting at Wayne.
- March 4—Doane at Wayne.

The Hastings game will be played on the afternoon of the district high school tournament, and the Doane game will be played on the afternoon of the regional high school tournament. Peru opens and closes the Wayne team's conference schedule.

KIWANIS INSTALLS HOOK AS PRESIDENT

Huntmer Thanks Club for Cooperation During His Term.

T. S. Hook was installed as president of the Wayne Kiwanis club for 1933 at a meeting of that organization Monday noon at Hotel Stratton.

Retiring president E. W. Huntmer gave a short talk in which he thanked members of the club for their cooperation during his term of office. Mr. Huntmer planned the president's badge on Mr. Hook and himself received a past president's button from A. B. Carhart.

Past presidents of the club sang, "The Old Presidents, They Ain't What They Used to Be."

Committee reports were given by C. E. Carhart and R. B. Judson.

MISS AUDREY CARR WEDS D. P. MILLER

School Teacher Is Bride of Young Wayne Attorney.

Miss Audrey Carr, instructor in the Wayne public school, and Donald P. Miller, local attorney, were married Friday evening, Dec. 30, at 6 o'clock at North Platte by Rev. Tula, pastor of the Baptist church. The ceremony took place in the home of a friend of the bride's mother, Mrs. F. E. Gorman. The couple were attended by the bride's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Carr. Miss Carr was gowned in blue and carried Ophelia roses.

Mrs. Miller, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Carr of Stapleton, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where she was affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta sorority. She instructs in French and English in the city high school.

Mr. Miller is the son of James G. Miller of Wayne. He was graduated from Wayne high school and attended Wayne State Teachers college for two years. He attended the University of Nebraska for three years and was granted an LL. B. degree. He practiced law in Wakefield for several years before opening his present office in Wayne. He is attorney for the City of Wakefield.

The couple are making their home at 408 Pearl. Mrs. Miller plans to continue in her teaching duties.

Services for Carroll Man Held Monday

Rites for W. L. Hurlbert Held from Baptist Church.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist church in Carroll on Monday afternoon, Jan. 2, 1933, at two o'clock, for W. L. Hurlbert, who died at his home in Long Beach, Calif., on Dec. 27, 1932. Prior to the church services, prayer was had at the old Hurlbert homestead. Rev. Wm. E. Braisted of Wayne was in charge. Interment was in the Carroll cemetery.

Walter Leroy Hurlbert was born at Cresco, Iowa, on June 28, 1867. He was the third son of Orlando and Charlotte Hurlbert, early residents of the Carroll community, where the greater part of his life was spent.

He was a great lover of travel. In his early boyhood, he and a brother walked from Cresco to Oberlin, Kas., where they homesteaded land. During the trip, the boys drove the milk cows behind their father's emigrant wagon.

In 1915 he and his family drove with team and wagon to see the old homestead and on to Salt Lake City. In 1903, he and his wife and two small children drove with team to Washington, and often in the past seven years, he and his wife had driven to California and east to New York.

Mr. Hurlbert was a successful farmer. Though he had passed through many trying years, he still owned the farm purchased just before his marriage to Alice Abbott, this being their home until 1920, when they moved to York.

He leaves to mourn his passing his wife, four children, two sisters, Ella Beach of Valley and Emma Collins of Elliott, Iowa; two brothers, Frank of Winner, S. D., and Carlos of Santa Rosa, Calif., and a host of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Hurlbert raised as their own a nephew, Marion Hurlbert, and a niece, Vivian Hurlbert.

Besides Mr. Hurlbert's two sisters, those present for the funeral services from out of town were: Mrs. Sidnie Spoor of Marysville, Mo.; Mrs. Otis Abbott of South Sioux City, W. J. Abbott of Valley and his son Kenneth of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hurlbert of Lincoln and Harold Hurlbert of Red Oak, Iowa.

Mrs. Hurlbert will shortly return to her home at Long Beach, Calif.

Seventy-five members of Farmer-Holiday association in 15 Nebraska counties met at Norfolk Friday to discuss a legislative program.

Deficit Looms for Mothers' Pension Fund

Continuance of County Aid to Be Discussed Today at Court House.

With only $172.59 left in Wayne county's Mother Pension fund on Dec. 1, Wayne county is faced with the necessity of having to abandon widow's pension aid if arrangements cannot be made to transfer money from some other fund.

Twelve widow women of Wayne county who are receiving aid from the fund will meet this morning at 10 o'clock at the county court house with the Wayne county commissioners, representatives of the Taxpayers' League, five members of the Juvenile court committee and County Judge J. M. Cherry to discuss the question.

Under the terms of the mother's pension fund, widow women of the county who are without adequate funds may receive $10 per month for each child under 16 years who shall attend school 220 days a year. Failure of parents to have their children in school the required number of days is punishable by jail sentence. The 12 widow women receiving aid from the county, all of whom live in the county, say that they cannot send their children to school without shoes and adequate clothing. Without the $10 a month per child they receive from the county, they maintain, it will be impossible for them to keep their children in school.

One Wayne county widow woman has four children. The two oldest are working for their board. The mother works for her board and that of the two younger children. Her only income comes from the pension fund. Her plight is said to be only slightly more serious than that of several others.

RENDER SERVICES ARE HELD FRIDAY

Rites Are Conducted from Winside Methodist Church.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon, Dec. 30, 1932, at the Winside Methodist church for Harry D. Render, who died in a Sioux City hospital Wednesday, Dec. 28, following a week's sickness from pneumonia.

Rev. A. E. Fowler of Winside had charge of the services, and interment was in Pleasant View cemetery at Winside.

Harry Dean Render, son of David Render, was born at Birmingham, Mich., on March 6, 1901. At the age of two years, he came with his parents to Winside, where he lived until 1928. Since that time he had lived in Wayne and Sioux City.

He was united in marriage at Omaha in October of 1928 to Marjorie Sherman of Randolph. He is survived by his widow, who is ill in a Sioux City hospital; his father, three sisters: Mrs. Cora Miller of Omaha, Mrs. Irene Warnemunde and Mrs. Fern Molgaard of Winside, and one brother, Walter Render of Sioux City. His mother and two brothers preceded him in death.

Car Owners Purchase "Freak" License Plates

County Treasurer J. J. Steele's office reported that only 302 1933 automobile licenses had been issued late Wednesday afternoon. While the licenses are supposed to adorn Wayne county cars on and after Jan. 1, there is no penalty until after Feb. 1.

Truckers will be permitted to operate without 1933 license plates for an indefinite time, due to the fact that legal controversy over Nebraska truck plates has not yet been settled.

Among license plates already purchased are a number of "freak" or "trick" numbers. Norbert Bruges defied superstition and made himself eligible for membership in the "Three on a Match" club by buying No. 13. The year 1933 should be blessed with luck for Doris Judson, who purchased lucky No. 7. E. E. "Budd" Fleetwood's car will be easy for traffickers to identify, because his number will be 27-27.

Democrat Prints World Chronology

This week The Democrat takes great pleasure in offering to its readers an annual feature, "Chronological Review of 1932," edited by E. W. Pickard. This capably written and concise record of all the important events of the world for 1932 will be found on another page of this edition.

In Mr. Pickard's review there appear a calendar summary of all important international, foreign and domestic events; a day by day review of progress in aeronautics; a calendar reference of all disasters of major importance in every part of the world, and a necrology of the deaths during the year of important men and women.

This page of the paper should be preserved for a quick and accurate reference to events of 1932.

Services for Henry Bush Held Tuesday

Pioneer Wayne Resident Dies Saturday at Norfolk.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 3, 1933, at two o'clock from the Presbyterian church for Henry S. Bush, who died in a Norfolk hospital on Saturday, Dec. 31, 1932. Rev. P. A. Davies had charge of the services and interment was in the Wayne cemetery.

Henry Samuel Bush, son of Lewis and Mary Bush, was born on Oct. 19, 1856, in Cook county, Ill., and spent his childhood and early manhood in the state of Illinois. It was there he received his education and took an active part in the social life of the young people.

On Feb. 21, 1884, he was married to Miss Adella Munch at LaMont, Ill. To this union three children were born. The two living are Henry D. and Louella, both of Wayne. A son, Lincoln, died in 1891 at the age of one year and seven months.

Mr. Bush came to Nebraska with his family in 1891. He settled on a farm 10 miles northwest of Wayne. Life in Wayne at that time had much of the pioneer spirit.

Mr. Bush joined the Presbyterian church in 1896 and was a faithful member until his death. He always maintained an active interest in the affairs of the community and state.

Besides his wife, he leaves to mourn his going one son, Henry G. Bush, daughter, Mrs. Louella Peck, three grandchildren, Mrs. Prudence Kay, Roderick Peck and Anita Bush, a brother, Lincoln Bush of East Orange, N. J., and two sisters, Mrs. Wm. McCauley of Orland, Ill., and Mrs. W. S. Patrick of Kansas City, Kas., as well as many friends.

Out-of-town people who attended the funeral were a nephew of deceased, W. L. Bush of Omaha, and William McCauley of Orland, Ill.

MARRIAGE BUSINESS GOOD HERE IN 1932

County Judge J. M. Cherry Issues 87 Applications During Year.

There may have been a depression in Wayne county in 1932, but Cupid didn't know about it.

The report of County Judge J. M. Cherry shows that 87 marriage licenses were issued from his office during the year. The judge doesn't know whether issuance of marriage licenses has anything to do with depression, but says that he believes his office issued only 64 marriage certificates in 1931. Only 63 were issued in 1930. "And we haven't had to solicit business to show an increase for 1932," he adds.

The judge's office turned down numerous applicants for marriage knotting the year because of irregularities in their applications. Less than half of the licenses were issued to people living outside Wayne county. The law requires that marriage licenses shall be issued in the county in which the marriage ceremony is to take place.

Services for O. W. Milliken Held Monday

Long-Time Resident of County Passes Away.

O. W. Milliken, 73, died on Thursday, Dec. 29, 1932. Funeral services were held from the Presbyterian church Monday afternoon, Jan. 2, 1933, with Rev. P. A. Davies in charge. Interment was in the Wayne cemetery.

Oscar Wendell Milliken, son of James L. Milliken and Sara Elizabeth Ikes Milliken, was born near Honey Grove, Pa., on May 24, 1859. His mother died in 1864, leaving two small sons of which he was the eldest. They were raised by their grandmother and father. The brother, Ira Milliken, died in 1884.

In 1881, Mr. Milliken went to Shenandoah, Iowa, where he attended normal school. He came to Wayne county in the spring of 1884 and located on a farm south of Wayne.

On April 25, 1886, he was married to Miss Ida Hikes. They bought a farm six miles southwest of Wayne and lived there until the spring of 1927, when they moved into Wayne. Eight children were born to the union. Mrs. Milliken preceded her husband in death, having passed away on April 24, 1930.

Mr. Milliken had been failing in health since last August, at which time he suffered a slight stroke. Last Tuesday evening he became seriously ill, and death came Thursday afternoon.

He leaves to mourn his going eight children: Mrs. Sara Jane Elvers, William Luther Milliken, Agnes Blanche Erickson, Etta Florence Blodgett, James Oscar Milliken, Jacob Albert Milliken, Margaret Belle Lundell and Donald Clarence Milliken; 13 grandchildren; a half-sister, Sara B. Gray of Honey Grove, Pa., a half-brother, John C. Milliken of Vivian, S. D.; many other relations and a host of friends.

Dr. Conn Addresses Local Legion Meeting

Dr. U. S. Conn, president of Wayne State Teachers college, addressed members of the Irwin Sears post of the American Legion last night on the subject, "Americanism." Dr. Conn stressed the value of increased emphasis on respect for the American government.

High School Cagers Open Season Tonight

Coach Ray K. Holder's Wayne high school basketball team will open the season with a game at the college gymnasium tonight, in which Bloomfield high school's quintette will furnish the opposition.

The Inquiring Reporter

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What one thing about Wayne is outstanding in its appeal to you?

R. H. Atherton: "The fact that business conditions in Wayne are better than in most towns of Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota."

Your business men in Wayne have kept things going."

Dr. J. H. Walters: "Wayne State Teachers college. The college helps your business and professional men, undoubtedly. And a college town is always a superior town from a cultural standpoint."

Milton Clabaugh: "Everything about Wayne appeals to me. Good hotel accommodations, live business men, good residence district, municipal light and water plants, attractive business district, the college—they all give the visitor a good impression."

C. R. Sellers: "The college. It's a beautiful plant and the large enrollment is bound to mean something to the town."

O. C. Jockheck: "The exceptionally sound condition of Wayne business institutions."

Here's the Dope!

"Handle with Care" is the picture at the Gay tomorrow and Saturday. It stars James Dunn and Boots Mallory, but El Brendel furnishes a lot of the comedy and Buster Phelps, juvenile, plays an important part. Romance and comedy are the features which the producers say "make this picture have an appeal very much like that of "Sunny Side Up."

Boots Mallory is a graduate of Ziegfeld's Follies and George White's Scandals. James Dunn has scooped in "Bad Girl," "Over the Hill," "Dance Team," and "Society Girl."

El Brendel, the funny Swede comic, was a star in vaudeville and was featured in Broadway musical productions before he made such a terrific success in the talkies. Buster Phelps is that six-year old kid you liked so well in "Three on a Match."

The picture was designed for entertainment purposes, with lots of clean laughs.

Wayne theatre-goers are fortunate in getting to see Edward G. Robinson's screen masterpiece, "Silver Dollar" which comes to the Gay Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Liberty magazine gave it four stars—and it is being hailed as one of the best pictures the talkies have turned out.

That grand character actor, Robinson, is ably assisted by Bebe Daniels, Aline McMahon and all-star cast.

Yates Martin, Mr. Robinson's character, is based upon the picturesque and glamorous career of Haw Tabor, Colorado pioneer who built the Tabor Grand opera house in Denver and whose history is bound up with the histories of Leadville and Denver.

The picture has been compared in magnificence to "Cimarron"—but those who have seen it say that it needs no such comparison, that it is different from Cimarron and more effective in a dramatic way.

Robinson portrays a rough miner with a "Midass" touch, who soars from poverty to wealth and power. When romance touches him he discards the wife who has stood faithfully at his side in the struggle for riches, and with a younger, more beautiful woman, played by Bebe Daniels, starts on a career of eccentricities that startled the world.

While at the peak of his wealth and fame, his fortune collapses with the adoption of the gold standard. The picture is said to be historically correct in every detail. The Denver Post assisted the director, Alfred E. Green, in preparing authentic settings.

William Powell and Joan Blondell are teamed in pictures for the first time in "Lawyer Man," which comes to the Gay Wednesday and Thursday. Powell is the ultra-correct and dignified type of lawyer, while Joan is wise-cracking and slangy and inclined to be hoydenish. She has just such a role in "Lawyer Man," being a typical East Side New York girl who has worked her way up to a secretaryship of a leading attorney, but who never quite forgets her early training.

Powell plays an East Side lawyer, whose brilliance brings him to the forefront of his profession. The picture is said to be a revelation of metropolitan political intrigues with

THE KNOT-HOLE

No. 32 Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, January 5, 1933. Vol. 7

Happy New Year! That exclamation is as old as time itself, which of course makes it all the more sincere!

And now comes the news that our legislature is buying a voting machine at a cost of $38,000.00. Good Lord!

During the past week we have sold two batches of that new insulation we have at $2.50 per hundred square feet.

Did you see the New Year in? We slept too.

Certified SAHARA coal will keep the house nice and cozy all night while you sleep. The price is $10.00.

A motorist who had been crowded off the highway said to us the other day, "The public built the highways and the trucking industry is using them with the public's permission. Trucks should either be ruled off the highways entirely, or so govern themselves that the roads will be safe for the use of the average motorist for whom they were built."

DIXIE furnace coal is especially prepared for heating stoves and furnaces. It is our belief that it has no equal at $9.50 per ton.

He—"I miss my bath-tub this year."

She—"On the contrary, I think showers are much better."

He—"They're all right, but you can't make beer in a shower."

The Rockefellers are building Radio City while prices are at the very bottom. Men in this community who have money and want to build, will do well to follow their example.

Maybe Columbus was wrong. As a friend of ours put it the other day, after Christmas the whole world is flat!

It is quite remarkable at how low a figure homes are being heated with our ECONOMY lump coal. Price $7.50.

Congress has been in session a month. Not a move have they made toward reducing expenses. But they're doing their level best to find new methods of taxation. But we elect those fellows, don't we?

Daughter—"Did you have many love affairs, daddy?"

Father—"No, child, I fell in the first engagement."

Refloor the home this spring while prices are at the bottom. Let us tell you what oak floors will cost. No obligation to buy.

And now we're all ready to plunge "slag-dab" into 1933. There's a lot of time in this year that has to be used to good advantage. We wish you luck!

"Better Lumber For Less"

Powell opposing the big city's politicians. Powell always turns in a finished performance and his portrayal of Anton Adam, the East Side lawyer, is supposed to be the best thing he's done in pictures.

WAYNE MARKET REPORTS

Following are the market prices quoted us up to the time of going to press.

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Price. Includes Oats, Barley, Corn, Cream, Eggs, Hens, Spring Roosters, Hogs.

SELF-ANALYSIS

Here are some questions that a friend wrote out and asked himself on New Year's Day. He answered some of the questions. Some of them he has not yet considered. His list would puzzle any of us, and might make us do a little bit of advantageous thinking:

What can I try this year that I have not yet tried to improve my business?

How is my health—and what can I do to improve it in 1933?

Do I have too much spare time on my hands? How can I make myself more valuable to my business and my family with this spare time?

Am I well-enough informed on current events? What reading will be the best for me in 1933?

Did I save a large enough percentage of my money last year? How can I regulate my expenditures to make my saving greater?

Am I spending enough money on self-education? Am I spending too much on unnecessary luxuries?

Am I getting the greatest possible value for my money?

Have I been spending too much time worrying and not enough time in thinking?

What has been my weakest point and how can I improve it?

Some of these questions will be hard for some of us to answer, but pondering over them can't help but do us all some good.

THE NEW YEAR

The New Year has already started. It will be for you whatever you choose to make it. You weren't responsible for all the hard knocks you took in the unjumbled 1932, but you could have made it a better year for yourself and your associates, couldn't you?

How is your mental attitude? Are you lickered or are you determined to forge ahead? The man who realizes that unusual conditions call for unusual thought and extraordinary effort in carrying projects through to successful completion is going to be the winner in 1933.

Business conditions are looking up. From the east comes word of encouragement. The automobile industry, an important factor in the general prosperity of the nation, plans a big revival of enterprise in 1933. Factories are resuming their operations, in prospect of better times. Reports of eastern economists are to the effect that business as a result of increased initiative, is already better.

You can lay down on the job and take your licker—or you can fight like blazes. You have 1933 in the palm of your hand. It's yours to fashion as you like.

YOUR SELF RESPECT

"Am I slipping?"
"Is my ability giving out?"
"Has my resourcefulness dried up?"
"Has my right hand lost its cunning?"
"Is my will-power on the wane?"

Such questions plague many men today. They won't down. In view of what has befallen this is natural. But it is not logical. If you were the only person whose income had diminished, if yours were the only business that has become unprofitable, you would be justified in concluding that something had gone wrong with you, with your brains, with your judgment, with your capacity. The truth is, however, that not one man in a thousand, that not one business in a thousand has escaped the devastating effects of events since 1929.

Ponder these facts: the total income of the people of this country is estimated to have fallen from approximately $90,000,000,000 to less than $50,000,000,000. One-fourth of all who were gainfully employed are now completely idle, and a still larger number are working only part time; almost every high salary has been drastically reduced; the income of every investor has been severely curtailed; most wages have been cut. That is what has happened to individuals. The majority of companies are today paying not a single dollar on their common stocks. Examine the quarterly or other earnings statements published day by day and you discover that it is unusual rather than usual for any net profit whatsoever to be shown. In a great many cases the losses run into very large figures. Since the panic there have been about 80,000 commercial failures. In addition some 4,750 banks have closed. Our foreign trade has shrunk.

Under all these circumstances why should we feel that we should have gone along as if nothing out of the ordinary has happened? How could we in reason have hoped to receive a special dispensation? If we still have a job—any kind of a job—we should realize that we are among the fortunate ones. If we have been able to keep our business going, even at a loss, we have reason for self-congratulation. Even those who have lost out completely, financially, work-wise, businesswise, must not conclude that they have outlived their usefulness. Whatever befalls, we must hold on to our self-respect. We must indulge overmuch in neither self-blame nor self-pity. We must not surrender abjectly to fear; but lay fast hold on faith. Our heads may be battered and bloody, but they must not become bowed. We must fight, not faint. Remember that no man is defeated until he himself admits defeat.—Forbes Magazine.

FRATERNITY GIVES THREE-ACT COMEDY

Alpha Psi Omega Group to Present "The Alarm Clock."

Members of Alpha Psi Omega fraternity at Wayne State Teachers college will present a three-act comedy, "The Alarm Clock," by Avery Hopwood, at the college auditorium next Thursday evening, Jan. 12, as their annual public performance.

Included in the cast of characters are a number of Wayne thespians who have delighted Wayne theatre-goers in previous years. This year's play is characterized as broad comedy, with plenty of laughs interspersed in a fast-moving plot that keeps the audience mentally alert and refreshed from the opening until the final curtain.

Avery Hopwood, author of the piece, enjoyed the reputation on Broadway of having turned out more smash hits than 95 percent of American dramatists. In addition to his record of comedy successes, he is credited with collaboration with Mary Roberts Rinehart on the mystery thriller, "The Bat," which broke records in the Broadway theatrical world.

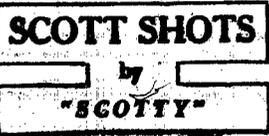

In "The Alarm Clock," a wealthy young bachelor is convinced by Grace Dunmore and Dr. Wallace that he must settle down to a calm family life. His up-country relatives come to New York to take care of him and complications begin. Reggie Wynne shows countrified Mary Kent the ways of the city; Charlie Morten initiates Mrs. Susie Kent into the night life; then Lulu Dean, the chorus girl, helps in the city education of the group; Homer Wickham teaches Filipino poetry to his friends and to Columbia co-eds. Of course, it all ends happily.

The cast is as follows:
Bobbie Brandon ..... Harry Ellis Fisher
Mary Kent ..... Charlene Brown
Charlie Morten ..... John McEwen
Lulu Dean ..... Francis Limes
Mrs. Susie Kent ..... Marie Mitchell
Theodore Brown ..... Elmer Mahler
Homer Wickham ..... Dick Fenske
Reginald Wynne ..... Lennie Burnham
Dr. Wallace ..... Russell Dowd
The dramatic fraternity is presenting to the college 18 pieces of scenery for interior settings. One of the ten possible arrangements of these flats will be used in the play next Thursday. Proceeds from "The Alarm Clock" will be used to help pay for the new scenery.

Bryan Names Committee on Truck Legislation

Appointment of a committee of seven, including the state engineer, railroad attorneys and heads of large truck companies, has been made this week by Gov. Chas. W. Bryan, to determine what Nebraska highways are costing, what costs are fairly chargeable to different classes of highway users and to suggest legislation that may assist either the railroads or truckers in maintaining or improving the services they render the public.

The committee is interpreted as an effort on the part of the governor to get the truckers and the railroads together on proposed legislation for control and regulation of trucks.

The other night I happened to be rereading Jim Tully's "Blood on the Moon" and it depressed me. Life, I thought, is damned brutal. Do you suppose people like that really live? Then I happened to pick up an old copy of Myra Kelly's "Little Citizens," and its humor refreshed me. Both books are excellent, yet the mental makeups of their authors are as far apart as the poles—and their effects upon the reader are as different.

And here in Wayne—haven't you noticed?—two people of almost equal mentalty, who have had almost identical advantages, can have entirely different effects upon you. And it's probably for the best. The world would be sticky sweet with too many Myra Kellys—but it would be terribly drab with too many Jim Tullys.

We nominate Pat Beckenhauer for the smartest—at least in a business way—dog in Wayne. Pat is Wm. Beckenhauer's little black and white terrier. The other day Mr. Beckenhauer and Pat came down town for their regular morning walk and after transacting some business started for the Beckenhauer mortuary. Mr. Beckenhauer noticed that Pat had something in his mouth, but payed no attention to it. When he got to the mortuary he discovered that Pat was carrying a pocketbook containing a few pennies, a nickel and a grocery list. He's going to send Pat out for bigger hauls, now—and announces that Pat's services as a bill collector are available at a price.

Having just heard about the guy who gave his wife a check for $100 for a Christmas present when he didn't have any checking account in the bank on which the check was drawn, the Scott Shotter relays the authentic story to you a bit late.

One Wayne youngster who celebrated New Year's Eve by passing out should know better after seeing what too many highballs and too many headaches have done to her father. I'll bet Andy Jacobsen and Don DeWolf will have a heckuva time laundering the shirt which one Wayne fellow undoubtedly sent to their establishment. Some Fenne had scrawled the words "Happy New Year" across the front of it—with lipstick.

Norman Ray Reynolds, young scion of the J. R. Reynolds family, has the right idea. He came into The Democrat office last Friday afternoon in search of a job. "I'll work for a penny a day," he said, "but I'd rather get two pennies a day." The makings of a business man.

Wayne bootleggers, according to operative 214, were disappointed with the New Year's Eve trade. "People bought less and paid less for it," my informant says. The only fellow who made any real money is said to be one not regularly engaged in the racket who got some fensee whisky—bottles and filled them with $4 a gallon moonshine. He sold the product at $3 a pint and had a good trade with friends who were quick to take advantage of his whispered "special favor."

Ouch! That crack about people not dying because they're too poor to employ doctors has all the earmarks of a dirty dig.

"The Old King Abdicates"

The king and queen of Musie sat on their gilded thrones
And clasped about the royal heads were royal ear phones.
The royal pair dialed in a program sent from earth,
And when they called it music, it provoked the royal mirth.

They call that stuff music, the King said to the Queen;
Methinks the good old U. S. A. don't know what music means.
Say, who is this Ben Bernie; they call Ye Old Maestro,
And that guy Cab Calloway must come from the hot place down below.

A dozen songs he sampled, before he called it wrong,
To let the crooning crooners stay on the earth so long.
Hear that trick voice, my Queen, he cried, it isn't natural.
To thus defame our noble art; they must surely be paid well.
And when they play this ha cha cha or rumba row-de-dows
The royal wrinkles gather on the royal pair of brows.
If that's what they call music, we'll abdicate our thrones,
And leave them to the King of Jazz and waiting saxophones.
They don't play our kind of music;

they've forgotten us I fear. And the stuff has gotten stronger since they took the kick from beer. Now that they can no longer get drinks to warm the blood. They want to feel their feet a slippin' on the Mississippi mud.

My dear, do you remember the coronation ball?
How arm in arm we lead the grand march 'round the hall?
And as we sat and listened to the strains of Schubert's symphony
You renewed your vows of love, for music and for me.

But now they sing Dixie skies, not My Kentucky Home,
And if they should play Nellie Gray it's on a saxophone.

But see my dear we're getting old; our hair is turning gray
And you've got to be futuristic in a modernistic day.

—Glenn Bunnell.

The society editor contributes the story about the Scotchman who was too tight to go home.

Then there's that hilariously funny little quip about the traveling salesman whose car broke down. He went to a farm house and asked to stay there all night. "We don't have an extra room," said the farmer. And so the traveling salesman slept in the barn.

Fred Howard, supervisor of good humor for Clay county, submits the following report in his Clay County Sun:

Prudence in companionship insures economy of time.

It is a fine thing to be willing, but much better to be competent.

"Reading maketh a full man." Yea, more often than not, full of puns.

Now, let's see you laugh that off, said mama as she fastened an extra safety pin in place.

Barber shops have gone ladies' boudoir, but continue as headquarters for the dissemination of off-color stories.

I would rather be called a profligate by a fool than be adjudged a bankrupt by a federal court that knows exactly what it is talking about.

Many a good woman who claims that her husband is a very light eater would be surprised to see what he does at a restaurant when a well cooked meal is placed before him.

I had a friend who admits that he is a natural born leader of men. The only thing that prevents his being a community nuisance is that he has never yet had any followers.

Just when I'm beginning to think of myself as an old married man, somebody has to come along and spoil my thoughts. Saturday, the Scott Shots family observed their second wedding anniversary. Monday night a bunch of young hopefuls were out charivaring Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller. They had time on their hands so, for some unaccountable reason they decided to pay us a call. And after two years! I asked 'em if they didn't think they were a little bit late and closed the door. Was I burned up! Married two years and still classed as a newly-wed.

It must be somewhat embarrassing to that gent who tipped me off to a piece of gossip several weeks ago and who is now the center of a good triangle story.

The fellow who gave me a wild story about another man who is supposed to be a friend of the first-named was probably surprised to see the story missing in last week's Scott Shots. Don't you know, guy, that it's the easiest thing in the world to check up on the veracity of a gossip story? And don't you think that we'd be apt to do it when we get another story to the effect that you and the fellow you told us about have had a falling out?

Operative 187 knows a Wayne woman who made a New Year's resolution to cut down her cigarette consumption to ten coffin nails a day. Operative 242 turns in the sad tale of a Wayne business man who spent about $50 trying to get a local working girl "that way" about him, only to discover that she's so dumb (or smart) she thinks he was just playing Santa Claus.

Pity the local lad who got a copy of Bocaccio for Christmas and who hasn't read it because it looks to him like a "highbrow" book. Your aunt, fellow, has better judgement than you credit her.

How come that some of the Wayne folks who saw "Of Thee I Sing" at Sioux City thought it was a grand show—and some of them thought it was terrible. Somebody was wrong—but I can't believe it's the Pulitzer prize award committee.

There's an old superstition that a mild Christmas means lots of deaths—and there were more deaths in our community in December than in any other month of 1932. What do you have to say about that, huh?

Wayne Vital Statistics Show Depression Didn't Hit Stork

By Mary Jane Morgan

Encouraging in a period of depression is the discovery that the stork has been going about his business with almost amazing regularity. According to City Clerk Walter S. Bressler's records, no less than 114 babies were born during 1932 in Wayne and vicinity. A majority of the infants were girls, as is fitting and proper during leap year. The laddies numbered 59, with the laddies running a close second with 55.

But what is really surprising is the fact that the 1932 figures tally exactly with those for 1932, for in 1931 114 babies were born, 59 of them girls and 55 of them boys. Who says the stork isn't consistent? He is likewise conservative, for there were no twins.

July appears to have been the most productive month, with a record of 17. November very nearly equalled this record with 16. December was by far the lowest, with only three births reported at the time of investigation.

As regards numbers, July was unquestionably the girl's month, with 8 female births recorded. As regards per cent, May leads with 6 female births representing 85.7 per cent of the month's births. Only 2 girls were born in December, the female birth rate reaching its lowest ebb at that time.

July and November marked the highest boys' rate, with 9 male births being recorded each of these periods. May and December record only 1 boy born. According to per cent, January leads in male births with 66 2-3 per cent.

Population is Increasing
According to other records kept by Mr. Bressler, Wayne's population should be steadily increasing, for during 1932 the number of births was almost three times as great as the number of deaths. Deaths for 1932 numbered 43, a decrease of four from last year's 47.

Strange as it may seem, male deaths outnumbered female deaths for both 1931 and 1932. Of the 43 deaths in 1932, 24 were male and 19 female. That is, 55 per cent of the deaths were male. Figures for 1931 show that of the 47 deaths recorded, 32 were male and 15 female. That is to say, 68 per cent of deaths were male.

There were no deaths during January, 1932. October and December tied for top rates, with seven fatalities during each. During three as well as January, seems to be the men's safe month, for there were no male deaths during those 30 days. July and October mark the most dangerous month, with four male fatalities during each. During three months of the year, January, May and August, there were no female deaths. December appears to be the worst month for the fair sex, since four female deaths were recorded.

With male births in the decline and male deaths far exceeding those of the fair sex, one wonders if leap year will not become something more than just an occurrence on the calendar.

'CAUTIOUS CAL'

That latest story illustrative of the famous Coolidge loquacity is being told by newspaper correspondents who covered the censorship conference at Madrid.

L. G. Crawford, one of the American delegates, a former counsel for the Federal Radio Commission, happened to announce one day that the following day would be his birthday. One of the newspaper correspondents discovered that the same date would also be his wedding anniversary. A celebration of sorts seemed in order; but of what nature? Further conversation disclosed that both Crawford and the other were Amherst men.

It was decided on the spot to organize the "Amherst Club of Madrid" and to hold the first, seventh and eleventh annual dinners of that organization on the following evening, with all of the other delegates as invited guests. But something extra special was required as an attraction.

"Who," asked one of the Amherst men present, "is Amherst's most distinguished living graduate?"

"Cal Coolidge!" came the answer in chorus, or as close to a chorus as could be approximated by a single voice, from the rest of the Amherst delegation.

"We must have a message from Cal for the occasion," suggested the first speaker. "For once, it won't cost anybody anything, so he ought to come through handsomely."

Whereupon a message to Calvin Coolidge, Northampton, Mass., was carefully phrased, described the impending event and expanding upon the glory that would accrue to dear old Amherst therefrom; with the addendum that since delegates to the International Telegraph and Radio-Telegraph Convention were entitled to send and receive personal messages without charge, by courtesy of the various communication lines, the former President need not limit himself in the matter of wordage.

"That ought to fetch him," the Amherst delegation declared with one voice.

The party assembled as per schedule, to celebrate the organization of the new club. But the guests had already gathered at the tables before the expected message from Amherst's Most Distinguished Living Graduate arrived.

"And now," he said, "having successfully launched this noble organization, I have an unannounced treat for you, in the shape of a message from the world-famous son of our dear Alma Mater."

He tore open the envelope and read the message.

"Amherst Club of Madrid: Greetings.

Coolidge."

And that was that.—American Press.

Walking "Cane" Had Its Origin in the Orient

The ferns or staff of fennel wood was one of the earliest supports used by elderly persons because it was long, tough, and light. The designation of "cane" so generally used in this country originated in the Orient, where hollow palms and bamboos were naturally used for walking sticks. Pope's Sir Plume prided himself on the nice conduct of his clouded cane, while Gay celebrated in verse the strong cane and the amber tipped cane. Henry VIII had one cane "garnished with silver and gilt, with Astronomie upon it," and another "garnished with golde, having a perfume in the toppe." Ancient Egyptian walking sticks made of cherry wood, with carved knobs, have been discovered. Comedy canes having heads carved in the grinning likeness of Punch, Merry Andrew, and Toby Filippot still can be found in the shops. It is said that a collector of canes in Madison, Neb., has more than 100 on display in his home.

Now You'll Remember

It was the ancient custom of English churches during Rogation week, a custom still followed in remote country parishes, to assemble the whole congregation, particularly the younger element, under the leadership of the headle and church officers, and trace from bourne to bourne the limits of the parish. The straggling procession followed the line like a fox of hounds on the scent of a fox. It was a great day for the children, but the elders, too, had some entertainment, for when an old

Blind Readers Get Books

Books in braille for reading by the blind are made by women under Red Cross direction. Last year 2,813 such books were produced in single copy and 3,538 in double copies. Fiction, biography, history, economics and school books were among those printed in braille. The Red Cross gives them to librarians for free distribution to blind readers.

COMMISSIONER PROCEEDINGS

Wayne, Nebraska, December 27, 1932. Board met as per adjournment. All members present. Minutes of meeting held December 20, 1932, read and approved. Comes now J. M. Cherry, County Judge, and reports the approval of the bond of Henry Rethwisch as County Commissioner of the Second District. J. M. The following official bonds are on motion duly approved. Harold Andersen as Overseer of Road Dist. No. 58. E. J. Scheurich as Overseer of Road Dist. No. 64. Andrew Granquist as Overseer of Road Dist. No. 54. Frank Hanson as Overseer of Road

Better Breakfasts

BREAKFAST is your first big opportunity of the day. It is your opportunity to send off the family bread-winner with a smile on his face. Or, if you are the bread-winner, it is your opportunity to leave home each morning wearing the aforesaid smile.

Try This

Just an imaginative touch or two makes such a difference! The canned figs with cream and the eggs in an unusual form are what give a special appeal to the following breakfast. Such imaginative touches make even the most familiar dishes taste different. Here's the menu.

Canned Figs with Cream Ready-to-Eat Cereal
Corned Beef Hash with Baked Eggs Toast
Coffee

The main dish is served in individual ramekins, and here's the way to make it.

Corned Beef Hash with Baked Eggs: Moisten the contents of one 10 1/2-ounce can corned beef with three teaspoons water, and divide among four wide, shallow, buttered ramekins. Cover with buttered crumbs, and place in the oven until browned on top. Drop a raw egg on top of each, sprinkle with salt and pepper, return to oven until the eggs are done.

Calorific Corn

CORN is a vegetable which will supply plenty of heat for the cold days that are coming. And it can be combined with any number of other vegetables too. How's this for a savory hot soup?
Corn and Lettuce Soup: Sauté one cup shredded lettuce in two tablespoons butter until it starts to brown. Add the creamy contents of an 8-ounce can of corn, and cook gently for five minutes more. Add three cups scalded milk to one cup hot mashed potatoes, then add to corn and season to taste with salt and pepper. Bind with a little flour if desired thicker. Serves six.
• Here's a Rarebit
Corn and Pea Rarebit on Toast: Make a cheese sauce of two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour, one and one-half cups milk and one cup grated cheese. Drain an 8-ounce can of whole kernel corn and an 11-ounce can of peas, and sauté a few minutes in two tablespoons butter, then add to the cheese sauce. Season to taste with salt and pepper, and serve on toast. Serves six to eight.

An Irish Dish
Carrots and Corn O'Brien: Melt two tablespoons butter in skillet, add one-half green pepper, shredded, and half the contents of a No. 1 flat can of whole kernel corn, and sauté five minutes. Add the drained contents of an 8-ounce can of diced carrots and one tablespoon chopped pimiento, and season to taste with salt and pepper. Continue cooking until a golden brown. Serves four.
Always save the vegetable liquor drained from cans to use in soups and sauces.*

Man of the Future
Following present tendencies into the future, Dr. Ales Hrdlicka of the Smithsonian Institution, is regarded as America's greatest anthropologist, finds that future man will have a longer and easier life than mankind of today; he will be somewhat taller and handsomer; his eyes will be deeper set, nose prominent and narrow, mouth smaller, teeth smaller and fewer, hair scantier, chin more prominent, head broader and larger, skull wall thinner, brain larger, face more expressive, feet more refined, fingers longer, chin thinner and squarer. Little toes, wisdom teeth and many internal vestiges, including the appendix, will be vanishing or gone.

He'd Know the Worst

Husband and wife sat munching fruit. Suddenly she stopped eating and a thoughtful look came over her face. "I say, Jim," she said, "what would you feel like if, just after you had taken a large bite of that apple, you saw a huge caterpillar in it?" Her husband went on eating happily. "Not half so bad as if I saw half a caterpillar left in it, my dear," he replied.

Bridge Trouble

A reader recalls a "wild argument" he had with a late friend who claimed the right to say "small slam" as soon as a game bid had been made, that he would suffer none of the penalties if not making the slam, but would be credited with the premiums should he be successful. His idea of a pleasant afternoon was to bid "four hearts, small slam." The reader concludes: "He has since committed suicide."

Buy Now

NO. This isn't an appeal to stimulate prosperity by putting more money into circulation. It's sound advice to housewives to stock up for this winter while the prices of foods are still low. Right now there are bargains in canned foods at almost every chain and grocery store, but the surplus stocks will soon have disappeared. If you own your own home, and have a place to store them, it's a great economy just at present to buy canned foods by the case. Beans, peas, corn and tomatoes are vegetable staples that you will be sure to use, so you can't go wrong on laying in a supply of them.

Fruits and Fish
Among the fruits you can always use peaches, pineapples, cherries and apricots, and cans of berries, apple butter and sauce, grapefruit, plums and prunes never come amiss. Fish should form part of your winter diet, and there is a vast variety of delicious fish in cans. Salmon is practically a necessity, and tuna and sardines run it a close second. But you should vary these with cod fish in various forms, crabs, herrings, lobster and shrimps. You'll find it mighty convenient, too, to have some meat in cans available for last moment meals. There are ready-made entrees, you know, which you can heat in a few minutes; such as beef à la mode, chicken à la King, curries, chop suey, Hungarian Goulash, lobster Newburg and Irish stew.*

Justice for Olives

BOTH ripe and green olives contain abundant quantities of Vitamin A according to the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture which has completed a series of laboratory feeding tests conducted to determine this fact. "Vitamin A," says the Department, "is particularly important to our nutritive well-being, for it protects the body against a number of troublesome bacterial infections. Foods having a yellow or green color are usually rich sources of this vitamin. About seven medium-sized olives will supply as much vitamin A as an eighth of a cup of whole milk, or as a serving of the bleached lettuce leaves that usually appear in a salad."

A Taste Worth Acquiring
A liking for olives is said to be an acquired taste, but, according to this, it's a taste worth acquiring. The Bureau of Home Economics found olives an unimportant source of the other vitamins, but because they are a rich source of vitamin A it recommends that both green and ripe olives be used more, not only as an appetizer, but in cooked dishes, salads, sandwiches and sauces. So let's do justice to olives and serve them in these ways for the sake of their vitamin A content as well as their taste. And don't forget that some of the best olives you ever tasted, green, minced, ripe or stuffed, all come in cans.*
