Pilger Wins in Class "A" Cage Tourney

Winside Defeats Craig by 32-22 Score in Class "B" Playoff.

Coach Fred Schneider's Pilger Redbirds, scheduled for tournament play in the class "B" basketball division but entered in class "A" competition, won the Wayne district tournament Saturday night with a sensational 18 to 12 victory over Wakefield high school quintette.

Wakefield led the cocky Pilger aggregation 9 to 6 at the half, after coming from behind in the first quarter. The third quarter found the two teams fighting on even terms, but Pilger forged out ahead to a comparatively safe margin in the last quarter.

It was a rough, hard-fought game, with neither team conceding a thing, and with defensive play as the outstanding feature.

Girl Scout Rally Set for Friday, March 31

Postponement of a Girl Scout rally, previously announced for tomorrow evening, was announced yesterday by local Girl Scout officials. The rally will be held Friday evening, March 31, in the college gymnasium. It was decided to postpone the meeting because merit badges could not be delivered from New York in time to present them on March 24.

Any Wayne girls who would like to become Girl Scouts are asked to call the community council chairman, Mrs. Frank Morgan.

They Still Prefer Wayne

R. P. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Williams and Mrs. Ethyl Lutz, who returned last week from Hot Springs, Ark., say that people in Wayne don't know what real depression really is.

"All they have in Arkansas is depression," Mrs. Lutz says. "Business is terrible at the health resorts, with few visitors. Prices are much lower than in the north. We rented a three-room apartment for $18 a month, including gas, light, water and heat."

People who think they are "hard up" in Nebraska simply don't know what "hard up" is, Mrs. Lutz says. "The farmers, she says, 'drive burros with chain harness, rope lines and little two-wheel carts. They live in shacks and tents. Many of them let their hair and whiskers grow—and they look like something that had come out of a story book. They farm little patches of ground that are covered with so much rock that you can't see how it would be possible to plow the ground—and they plow with one horse. They have no modern machinery. Cotton is their best crop, although they grow lots of vegetables for which they are poorly paid."

Hot Springs, surrounded by mountains, is beautiful beyond description, in the opinion of these returned travelers. The hotels are fine, they say, and there are hundreds of them. The Government Reserve, Mrs. Lutz says, makes a beautiful picture with the Veterans hospital, the officers'

County Can't Pay Car Refunds Yet

You can't get that five dollars yet!

County Treasurer J. J. Steele has not received printing supplies necessary to the disbursement of five-dollar refunds on 1933 automobile license plates. Automobile owners who paid $8.00 for their plates are entitled to a five-dollar refund as a result of action taken by the state legislature.

Mr. Steele telephoned yesterday afternoon to the company that is printing the supplies, and was informed that the refund blanks would not be mailed to Wayne for several days. He expects to be able to start distributing the refunds by Saturday.

Automobile license owners must show their 1933 registration certificates when they apply for refunds.

CLUBS TO SPONSOR BARGAIN SALES DAY

Value Event to Feature Farmers Union Meeting.

Plans for a special Bargain Sales day on Tuesday, April 11, in connection with the semi-annual Seventh district Farmers Union convention, are being sponsored by the Wayne Kiwanis club and Young Business Men's club.

It is planned for members of the two organizations to urge all local merchants to offer special trade inducements on the day of the convention, when Farmers Union representatives from Stanton, Madison, Pierce, Antelope, Cedar, Dakota, Knox, Boyde, Dixon and Wayne counties will be in town. About 100 delegates are expected to attend the organization's meetings, and the total attendance is expected to be between 400 and 500.

Entertainment for the convention will include a concert by the Wayne municipal band and a tour of the town by delegates. State Farmers Union president H. G. Keeney of Omaha, district director John D. Reynolds and L. S. Herron, editor of the Nebraska Union Farmer, will be on the program.

The Wayne convention sessions will be held in the Gay theater.

Meeting of the North Central association has been postponed until April 20. The same program as previously arranged will be presented. Dr. U. S. Conn, president of Wane State Teachers college, plans to go to Chicago to attend the meeting.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS DEBATE TOURNAMENT

Local Team Beats Grand Island in Finals of Hastings Meet.

Wayne high school debaters, accompanied by debate coach W. A. Behl, went to Hastings last Thursday and won an invitation debate tournament in which 29 teams participated. They brought home a silver loving cup, donated by the Hastings Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Lucile Wright and Raymond Sala were Wayne's affirmative team. William Studley and Raymond Sala composed the negative team.

The local debaters defeated Kearney, Arcadia, Genoa, Geneva, Grand Island 'A', Holdrege and Grand Island 'B'. The competition was run on a dual elimination plan.

Wayne met Grand Island 'A' in the finals Saturday night. William Studley and Raymond Sala, who took part in the final debate, will both receive gold medals.

Vivian Sandahl won fourth place out of nine entries in an oratorical contest conducted in connection with the debate tourney. William Studley was awarded second place in an extemporaneous contest which had nine contestants.

FUNERAL OF AGED MAN HELD SUNDAY

George Reibold, Sr., Dies Friday at Home of His Daughter.

Funeral services for George Reibold, Sr., 91, father of Jacob Reibold of Wayne and grandfather of George Reibold, Jr., of Wayne, were held Sunday afternoon, March 19, 1933, from St. Paul's Lutheran church six miles north of Wisner. Interment was made at the church cemetery beside his wife.

George Reibold, Sr., was born Oct. 28, 1841, at Gimbersberg, Hessen, Darmstadt, Germany, and died March 17, 1933, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. B. H. Von Seggern, north of Wisner.

He was married to Miss Elizabeth Fridrich. To this union three children, one of whom died in infancy, were born. The family came to America on June 21, 1885, and settled near Altona. The family lived in Wayne in 1887 and then moved back to the farm near Altona. They spent most of their time in Wayne county until Mrs. Reibold's death in 1915. Since then, Mr. Reibold had made his home with his daughter during the winter months. He spent his summers with his son and grandchildren, and was well known in Wayne.

Survivors beside his son Jacob and daughter, Mrs. Von Seggern, are 12 grandchildren, 24 great grandchildren and other relatives and friends. He was the grandfather of George Reibold, Jr., Harvey Reibold, Mrs. F. W. Franzen and Mrs. Charles Franzen of Wayne.

Wayne people who attended the funeral were Jacob Reibold, Harvey Reibold, Wayne Reibold, Mr. and Mrs. George Reibold, Jr., and Violet and Theo, and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Franzen.

Farmers May Obtain Rules on Crop Loans

Regulations for 1933 governing crop production loans have been issued by the secretary of agriculture and are now available to farmers in Wayne county upon request to C. E. Burnham, field inspector of the crop production loan office, or L. B. McClure at the First National bank in Wayne.

Marshall Team Gets Victory Over Wildcats

Marshall's Nurseries basketball team of Arlington defeated the Wayne State Teachers college Wildcats 34 to 29 in an exhibition game played Saturday afternoon at the college gymnasium. Ranking, Marshall forward, was high point man with 11 points. Baker and Lamson led the Wayne team with 7 each.

Wayne led, 15 to 12, at halftime, but Rankin and Alexander went on a scoring spree for the Marshall team in the second half, caging four baskets apiece.

Clubwomen to Hold District Meeting Here

Woman's Club Convention to Open Tuesday Morning.

Thirtieth annual convention of the third district, Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs, will be held in Wayne Tuesday and Wednesday, with the Wayne Woman's club as hostess. The convention theme is 'Be American.' The Methodist church will be convention headquarters.

Students at Wayne State Teachers college and the public generally are to have the opportunity to hear a first-hand report of the eighth annual 'Conference on the Cause and Cure of War,' held in Washington, D. C., last January. The conference comprised 11 national and international organizations of women. Mrs. A. F. Nuquist of Osceola, director for Nebraska of the General Federation of Women's clubs, will give a report on it at the convention and will address a public gathering in the college auditorium on Wednesday evening, at the invitation of the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., and Newman club.

Following registration of delegates at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, a drama contest under the direction of Mrs. B. E. Trump of Plainville and a public speaking contest, under the direction of Mrs. M. S. McDuffee of Central City will be held at the college. Seven clubs will present plays in the drama contest and the one judged best will be given on the Tuesday evening program.

At the Tuesday afternoon session, Mrs. H. C. Caspey will give the invocation and greetings will be extended by Mrs. E. W. Huse of the Wayne club, T. S. Hook of the local Kiwanis club and Dr. U. S. Conn. Response will be given by Mrs. J. L. Vandenburg of Scribner, acting vice president.

The address of the afternoon will be 'These United States,' by R. A. Kirkpatrick of Omaha.

Bankers Says Deposits Exceed Withdrawals

Deposits have overwhelmingly exceeded withdrawals since the resumption of bank operations in Wayne on Wednesday, March 15, according to John T. Bressler, Jr., president of the First National Bank.

"Even during the time that banks were closed," Mr. Bressler said yesterday, "people showed a fine willingness to co-operate with the government in the working out of national problems. Lack of complaint was highly gratifying to those bankers who felt that their banking institutions deserved the confidence of the public."

"When the secretary of the treasury called for gold," he said, "The response was amazing. A Wayne woman turned in a ten-dollar gold piece that had been given to her as a wedding present 30 years ago. Many local people brought in gold pieces that they had saved for years because of sentiment attached to the ownership."

Mr. Bressler said that the government's policy of re-opening all sound banks as soon as the strength of each banking institution was ascertained has met with the approval of all students of banking.

Claycomb Files Damage Suit

Damages of $10,000 are charged in a petition filed in the district court of Wayne county on Friday, March 17, by John Claycomb, a minor, by Amos T. Claycomb, his next friend. Mr. Claycomb seeks remuneration from Alfred H. Sedlak.

The petition charges that on or about Sept. 1, 1932, John Claycomb was driving his car south along main street and that Mr. Sedlak's car was heading in the same direction. The petition charge that Mr. Sedlak negligently made a sudden left turn at Tenth and Main streets, causing an on-coming car to swerve to the left to avoid hitting the car driven by the defendant. In thus swerving to the

Forcible Detainer Cases Are Heard

Two 'forcible detainer' cases, heard yesterday in County Judge J. M. Cherry's court, were decided in favor of the plaintiffs, with the judge issuing orders in both cases for the defendants to move off of the farms which they have been occupying.

One case was brought by the Brown Land Co. against Othal Baker, farmer living three miles west of Carroll. The other was brought by Clara K. Jones against Claude Bailey, farmer living southeast of Carroll.

No Farm Holiday association men were present at either hearing, and there were no demonstrations.

J. M. Strahan Home Struck by Lightning

Fire Damage Is Estimated at Between $1,000 and $2,000.

Fire caused by lightning Friday evening damaged the J. M. Strahan home two and a half miles west of Wayne to the extent of between $1,000 and $2,000.

The lightning struck at the chimney and traveled down the chimney and radio aerial into the house. Flames destroyed the stairs leading to the upper floor of the home and caused considerable smoke damage to clothing. The radio set was demolished. Woodwork throughout the home was blistered by heat, as were the floors. It will be necessary to put new plaster on the walls and ceilings.

So intense was the heat that several hours after the fire had been extinguished the walls were too hot to touch.

Mr. and Mrs. Strahan and their children were not at home when the lightning struck, having come into Wayne to see the high school basketball tournament at the Wayne State Teachers college gymnasium.

When they arrived home, about 10 o'clock, the flames were quickly put under control by Mr. Strahan.

The family is staying at the home of Mr. Strahan's parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strahan, in Wayne.

Local People Attend State Legion Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Orr, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Swan and James H. Pile are going to Grand Island today to attend an American Legion state conference of Legion commanders and adjutants. The conference opens tomorrow morning and will be attended by national officers and organization heads from surrounding states.

Sholes Man Suffers Light Paralytic Stroke

W. H. Root of Sholes, who has been visiting his daughter at Alliance, had a light paralytic stroke on his right side Friday. The attending physician says that he will recover if the stroke is not followed by another. Mr. Root had been in poor health for two months.

Wayne Gets Most Severe Snow of Year

Heavy Drifts Block All Highways Sunday and Monday.

Wayne got a taste of all varieties of weather this week. Last Thursday was a bright, mild day. Friday brought considerable rainfall and an electrical storm. Sleet fell Saturday afternoon and evening.

And on Sunday morning, Wayne awoke to find itself visited by the heaviest snowfall of the winter. The snow continued throughout the day, subsiding Sunday night. Roads were impassable Sunday and Monday, with high winds responsible for drifted roads throughout most of the eastern portion of the state. Wayne was in the territory in which the severity of the storm reached its height. It was estimated that about a foot of snow fell in the Wayne vicinity.

Nearly all of the main highways in the state were open Tuesday, but roads were rough and slippery, and only one-way traffic was available on some roads. Reports indicated that damage to telephone and telegraph wires in the state might total more than $100,000.

Main highways throughout the state were all said to be open yesterday afternoon, although some of them were in poor condition.

D. A. R. CONFERENCE TO BE HELD HERE

Wayne Chapter's Bid for 1934 State Meeting Is Accepted.

Douglas King chapter of Wayne will be hostess to the state conference of Nebraska Daughters of the American Revolution in 1934. The Wayne group's invitation was accepted at the closing session of the state conference in Hastings last Thursday afternoon. Between 200 and 300 people usually attend the state conferences.

Officers of the State D. A. R. for the 1933-34 term are as follows: Mrs. Horace J. Cary of Kearney, regent; Mrs. Frank W. Baker of Omaha, vice regent; Mrs. G. B. Holdeman of York, registrar; Mrs. E. J. Williams of Lincoln, recording secretary, and Mrs. T. O. Merchant of Hastings, auditor.

Mrs. Homer Scace and Miss Ethel Conklyn were Wayne delegates to the Hastings convention.

There are 50 D. A. R. chapters in the state.

F. S. Berry spent Monday in West Point at district court session.

The Inquiring Reporter

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Do you think the Nebraska legislature should legalize the sale of 3.2 per cent beer?

Minister: Certainly. If they're going to have beer in the surrounding states, Nebraska should have it, too. There's no sense in encouraging a continuation of present bootlegging problems.

Minister: No—and Nebraska will not stand for it. Nebraska is a dry state and doesn't want liquor—regardless of what New York wants.

Farmer: Yes, as long as the national government has approved it, we might as well stay in the buggy. The sale of beer will give income to the government and may help economic conditions.

Housewife: No. If the rest of the country wants beer, that's their lookout. Nebraska doesn't want it.

Merchant: It's immaterial to me—however, if surrounding states are to have beer, I think it would be a mistake for Nebraska to ban it.

THE KNOT-HOLE

No. 43 Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, March 23, 1933. Vol. 7

We claim that the established expenses of national, state, county and local governments should be based on the taxpayers' incomes of the poor years instead of the boom years.

Spring is here. You'll soon be putting around with the flower and garden seeds. Maybe you'll want a flower box or two. If you have any special design for size in a flower box that you wish duplicated, call on us. Carl does a lot of that kind of work.

Soda fountain customer—I wish you'd do something about these straws. I can't draw through them at all.

Fountain waiter—Why pick on me? I'm no plumber. I'm a waiter.

This is the time of year when you'll want a few pounds of coal to take in your car. We have Hot Nut ready in clean paper bags. Instant service.

It certainly pays to buy the best when you plaster the house. This week we received a supply of fresh plaster. It comes in small or large packages according to your needs.

We saw an advertisement in a magazine which said "Make Money at Home." We know a guy who tried it and got ten years for it.

Last week Carl got busy—made a hay rack, couple of ironing boards and a few other odds and ends. It's remarkable how that boy can turn out work.

Your spring heating requirements can be economically taken care of with CERTIFIED SAHARA coal. Hotter than the sands of the desert. Price $10.00.

We know a man who has pavement all the way home, but got stuck in his own driveway the other evening and was late for supper. He stopped in the next morning and told us to get a man and the material on the ground for a new driveway as soon as the weather is fit.

Store Manager—"No, sir, I would not cash a check for my own brother."

Customer—"Well, of course you know your own family better than anyone else."

We claim that the property owner, and not the politician, foots the tax bill and that if the procedure were reversed the results would be vastly different than they are.

DEXTER Fastwin

is more CONVENIENT

Not only the large, but also the medium size or small family which has only a small washing, is also much better off with the surprisingly compact Dexter Fastwin than with any single-tub washer—because with no single-tub washer is it really convenient to use the "two successive suds" needed to keep clothes permanently free from "that all-over grayish tinge."

Even for the smallest washing the Dexter Fastwin makes thorough washing far more convenient than with any single tub washer.

- Even for a small washing the Dexter Fastwin saves handling at least one tub of water, and saves time and effort as compared with any single-tub washer properly used.
- The Dexter "Fastwin" can wash properly at least twice as much clothing per hour (including all operations from hamper to line) as any single-tub washer made.
- Only by the "two-suds" washing method (which is thoroughly convenient only with the Dexter "Fastwin") can that "grayish tinge" and that "harsh feel" be kept out of clothes month after month, without soaking or boiling.
- The Dexter "Fastwin" thus offers a very substantial and easily demonstrated advantage over any single-tub washer that is, or ever can be built—even though the Dexter Company builds the finest of single-tub washers, also.
- Builders of line washers for more than a quarter of a century, the Dexter Company originated the double-tub type of washer 16 years ago, and the first one ever made is still in weekly use.
- More than 100,000 delighted users say they could never again be satisfied with any mere single-tub washer.

Kay's Swimming Pool

Has been submitted to the city council of Wayne by Mrs. Anna L. Kay for purchase as a new city park, aviation field, golf grounds, ball park or other amusement purposes.

The park consists of 36.98 acres. On it is a large, sanitary swimming pool, 150 ft. long x 60 ft. wide—all concrete, equipped with a large, modern bath house, circulating and filtering system, and wells for filling the pool with pure water.

Many trees have been planted. The park as it is today would be an asset to the city. The income from the park for six years (1927 to 1932, inclusive) totals $9,074.29. (These figures do not include the dance pavilion.) The investment of the Park, year 1927, of what is seen today is $25,000.

This Is Now Being Submitted to the City of Wayne for $10,000.

This bond of $10,000 may be sold, drawing interest of five per cent for a period of 10 years and 20 years if necessary.

The tax levy of one-half mill for operation and interest would be sufficient. One-half mill tax levy in 1932-33 would bring about $917.50, which would pay the interest on the $10,000 bond, operating expense on the property and, with income from the property, would make a payment on the bond.

The one-half mill tax levy would cost each individual in the city of Wayne ONLY 50-CENTS A YEAR on property at an estimated value of $1,000 in the city of Wayne.

The City of Wayne should be glad to have an opportunity to create something, especially for the younger people who are always seeking amusement. It will keep them in our own city, instead of forcing them to go to other cities, where they have these things for a day of pleasure.

POWER TO HIM

Franklin D. Roosevelt has been tackling the problems at hand with a vigor and directness which cannot help but please those Wayne people who voted for him.

In regard to his bank legislation, President Roosevelt told congress, "I ask immediate enactment of legislation giving to the executive branch of the government control over banks."

He waited for the bank bill to pass before he sent his second message to congress: "I am asking for new legislation laying down broad principles for the granting of pensions and giving to the Executive the authority to prescribe the administrative details."

After the banks had reopened and the economy bill had been passed, Roosevelt said to congress: "I recommend immediate modification of the Volstead Act in order to legalize the manufacture and sale of beer."

Except for major jobs, he declared a moratorium on patronage until after the passage of important legislation.

He is getting the loyal support of his nation—but he has deserved it.

WE STAY OUT OF IT

Stclair Lewis, novelist, returned from a trip to Europe, predicting war there on a large scale within two years.

It is, of course, traceable to the unfair, unjust, dishonest, cruel treaty of Versailles. The late Georges Clemenceau, when premier of France, drove a hard bargain when the world war ended.

When the new world war breaks out in Europe there is one thing of which the American people will want to make certain. That is that we shall stay where we are, mind our business, keep our ships in home waters, let them finance their own destruction and watch them fight it out.

We went into the world war in 1917, delivered the knockout punch and brought our soldiers back home. We got nothing out of the world war but heavy losses in human life and treasure and in addition an unpopularity throughout the world that may last for generations to come.

should make up our minds now to tolerate and endure much if such a conflict develops. We may need all our reserve, all our patience and all our common sense to remain neutral. Yet neutrality should be most be our objective. There is no profit in war.—Stoux City Journal.

DOES ADVERTISING "PULL"?

One reason for the complaint that "advertising doesn't pull as it used to" was uncovered by the Marshall (Tex.) News Messenger, when, with the aid of a Chamber of Commerce representative, it sponsored a test of the quality of the salesmanship in the local stores.

"Five of the stores visited had advertised special values in the News Messenger the day before the test was made. None of these special articles was suggested to the buyers," the paper commented in a report issued for the use of employers in talking with their sales people.

The test indicated, it was pointed out, that "retail trade in Marshall depends 70 per cent on buying and 30 per cent on selling, and only 13.50 per cent of the potential amount of money available for trade is utilized."

Military Training Camp Enrollment Is Opened

Filing of applications for enrollment in the Citizens' Military Training camps to be held next summer was officially opened March 1. On account of the reapportionment of quotas under the new census of population, only 5,000 young men will be trained this year in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas and Nebraska.

Camp will be held from Aug. 1 to Aug. 30 at Fort Crook, Neb. All applicants are examined physically, and those who meet the requirements are considered. Travel expenses to the camps are refunded paying candidates upon arrival at camp, the travel allowance being five cents per mile for the distance from their homes to camp.

Main Street Mutterings—Wayne people don't realize how fortunate they are not the bank situation. . . . You ain't got anything to be feeling mopey about. . . . Now that we've taken Allen, we ought have a chance to win the tournament. . . . An' he sent her a bunch of flowers, the better sense. . . . Pete oughta have better sense, but he's always gettin' into something where he gets his fingers burnt. . . . He gives Effie a dime every time she speaks a piece for him. . . . The dumb biddy thinks she can dance when all she can do is waddle around the floor with a guy. . . . Milo looks like he's in a hurry. . . . Yeah, thing got pretty hot for him, so he blew. . . . My, doesn't that look like it would be a gruesome movie. . . . That hay-stack fire sure loomed up pretty last night. . . . Yuh wouldn't think it'd burn like that when the rain was comin' down so heavy, would yuh? . . . I'll match you for a coke. . . . There was an awful big crowd up at Fritz's libel suit, but they ain't going to have the trial 'til a week from Monday. . . . Seems like when gas is low priced our car don't use much, but when the price goes up, the old fizzle eats it up. . . . She's the flapper type. . . . It it's a girl, we're going to name her Betty Ann. . . . We had to chase her all over Hell's half acre before we could get her into the truck. . . . He told me the filthiest, dirtiest story I ever heard—but it was kinda funny. . . . They're giving jigs-saw puzzles with oxydol and the meat market gives 'em with something or other.

One, local gent says, "I'm mad about the banks reopening—I was just having all kinds of fun writing checks while they were closed, and how my creditors expect me to make good on them."

That Wayne's younger generation is going to be cleaned up seems to be definitely assured, with determined action being taken by the oldesters to wipe out evils which have existed for some time. Progress has already been made—without fanfare or trumpet blast. And the most sensible thing about it is that the kids are not being humiliated by a lot of unnecessary publicity.

I am sorely puzzled, because a fellow that I admire and respect is the subject of many little, mean remarks. I can't think that the remarks are justified—and yet, when there is so much smoke—there darned near has to be some fire some place.

Would you like to be a movie star? Los Angeles—Joan Crawford, alluring young film star, announced Friday night she has separated from her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

Wonder what it is that makes a fellow sit at a desk these days designing new buildings, additions to old ones and laying out landscaping designs in harmony with the projected premises. Wonder what wife has in mind as she begins digging things out of closets, carefully scrutinizing finger prints on woodwork and wall paper, and inquiring casually if I do not think it would be a good thing for my health to lay off the lawn caretaker and push the mower myself this year.

Looking at the husbands of a lot of women, I have my doubts about the infallibility of woman's intuition. Clarence of the longerays says she guesses the reason the hol polloi is called the common herd is because they are so prone to follow the bull.

In these times of universal distress, thank God you have not lost your voice. If the worst comes you can always get a job singing over the radio.

Wonder what it is that makes a fellow sit at a desk these days designing new buildings, additions to old ones and laying out landscaping designs in harmony with the projected premises. And another one of Wayne's m. e. y. he's gotten away before and is generally considered a hard-boiled guard of his freedom.

And wedding bells might ring any day now for a local young fellow and girl who are gaga about each other. One young bucko who was considered just about ready to weaken and join the matrimonial ranks a few weeks ago has apparently reconsidered and is as free today as the air at a filling station.

Conversation overheard on the corner of Third and Main: "If they bring back beer, we don't need to worry about ever gettin' any of it in Nebraska. This state'll go as dry as the sands of the desert."

"That's what you think. According to the Literary Digest poll, Nebraska is 62.9 per cent wet."

"Yeah, mebbe in the Literary Digest poll Nebraska is wet—but I'm telling you that when Nebraska goes to the polls, Nebraska will be dry. The ones that drink dry, which means quite a lot of people, will vote dry—and sixty per cent of the ones that drink wet will vote dry. If you want beer, you'll have to keep right on getting it from a bootlegger."

"Groton School Quarterly," publication of the prep school, carries alumni notes—and their notes on the class of 1900, published in the last issue, are really classic. There are only two items.

1900. Dr. Edward B. Krunbhaar has recently been elected president of the American Society of Cancer Research.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected president of the United States on November 8th.

Here's an interesting note from the Jamestown, Cal., Morning Post: In the absence of Miss Ruth Schermerhorn, who was ill, Henry Schrader read her paper on "How to Keep Well."

The local young lady whose bundles fell out of her arms Monday afternoon was ever so much embarrassed when a package which came undone revealed a set of dainty lace underthings.

I wonder where that "Dear Julia" letter that the high school boys are enjoying so much originated? Was it a real letter—or is it an invention, the authorship of some literary struggler? At any rate, it has the ring of authenticity.

One way to make your dreams come true, suggests a columnist, is to wake up and go to work.

The "deck of cards" story published in Scott Shots of March 2 has caused more comment and has been responsible for more extra copies of The Democrat going out of the office than anything else ever printed in this column.

One local couple have a perfectly grand formula for getting along. She goes her way and he goes hers.

We're glad to oblige those local fellows who wanted their automobile accident kept out of the paper. It didn't amount to much, anyway, and if it will set their minds at rest to have the publicity squelched, we're glad to oblige. Nothing like being of service.

Of interest to local girls will be the apparently authentic report that one of Wayne's more eligible young bachelors is secretly engaged to one of their number. And neither one will admit the allegation.

And another one of Wayne's m. e. y. he's gotten away before and is generally considered a hard-boiled guard of his freedom.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS IN DECLAM CONTEST

Wayne Gets Three Firsts in Competition at Pilger.

Wayne high school took three of the four first places in the elimination declamatory contest held yesterday afternoon and evening at Pilger.

James Davies won first in the oratorical division, William Studley was adjudged first in extemporaneous speaking, and Mavis Baker was awarded first place in the dramatic group.

Schools competing in the contest were Pilger, West Point, Pender Stanton, Wayne college high, Wisner and Wayne high school.

Wayne high school's oratory and extemp speakers were coached by W. A. Behl. Dramatic and humorous contestants were coached by Miss Marion Marsh.

Deadline on Income Tax Reports Advanced

Deadline on income tax returns has been extended by the United States government from Wednesday, March 15, to Friday, March 31.

The extension was authorized on account of banking conditions during the bank holiday, to save those who could not have filed their returns the customary 25 per cent tax penalty for late filings.

A. B. Allen, collector of internal revenue for Nebraska, states that under the new lower exemptions, many persons are filing returns who have not been required to do so before, but that many others, as the result of decreased income and unemployment are released from the income tax roster this year.

Good Samaritan Hospital News

Mrs. Rachel Wagner was admitted to the Old Peoples Home Friday. Harvey Timm of Carroll, who suffered a fractured ankle a short time ago is improving.

Mrs. Celyn Morris of Carroll remains about the same. Mrs. Marvin Sorenson and infant daughter are doing nicely.

John Evers of Winside was admitted Monday evening for medical care. The condition of Leland Vandergrift remains the same.

PILGER WINS IN CLASS "A" CAGE TOURNEY

high school basketball team, winner of the Wayne class "B" tournament, came off victorious in a class "B" playoff against Craig. The Winside team piled up a comfortable margin against the Craig aggregation in the third quarter. The final score was Winside, 32; Craig, 22.

Pilger beat Clarkson, 32-15, and Wakefield beat Wayne, 20-19, in the semi-finals.

Thursday evening's play was featured by two close games and the sensational play of the Wayne quint. Allen barely managed to eke out a win over Laurel, with Laurel completely outplaying the Allen five in the second half. The final count was 19 to 18 in Allen's favor.

Wisner's margin of 3 points over South Sioux City was not enough to keep the crowd from being excited about the outcome. The final score was Wisner, 23; South Sioux City, 20.

Pilger, winner from Pender by forfeit, played an exhibition game with the "Yale Bulldogs," a team of college players. Pilger won, 20 to 18.

Wakefield showed class in taking Ponca into camp by a 25-12 count.

Those who had any doubts about the Wayne five's ability as "money" tournament players, had such doubts quickly dispelled when Wayne played Hartington. The local team managed to keep possession of the ball most of the time and hit the basket with ease and regularity, to win by a 30-17 score. Wayne's second team played the last two mints of the game.

meeting will be furnished by the girls' glee club of Wayne high school, under the direction of Kermit Stewart. A "Hospitality Tea" will be held at the college at 3:50 o'clock, with Mrs. U. S. Conn and a committee as hostesses.

The annual dinner will be held Tuesday evening at six o'clock, with Mrs. S. A. Lutgen of Wayne presiding.

The evening session opens with a piano and organ recital by Mrs. John F. Bressler, Jr., and Kermit Stewart. The winning drama from the morning contest will be presented. Dr. G. W. Rosenlof of Lincoln, director of secondary education and teacher training, will give an address on "Home the Foundation of American Citizenship."

The boys' glee club of Wayne high school furnishes music for the Wednesday morning session and Mrs. Edna Davis of Wayne will sing a solo. A book review will be given by Mrs. E. L. Moore of Norfolk and a one-act farce, "Meet the Countess," will be given by the Emerson-Woman's club. Dr. J. G. W. Lewis will give a talk. Election of officers will be held.

Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis, district chairman of 19, has received Peace Posters from 19 or 20 high schools in the Peace poster contest, and the awarding of prizes will be made Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Vandergrift. The public speaking contest winner will be presented by Mrs. McDuffee. Mrs. Nuquist's talk on "Cause and Cure of War" will feature the program. Mrs. M. F. Scott, president of the state federation, will discuss federation affairs, and club business will occupy the remainder of the afternoon.

COLLEGE PLAYERS TO GIVE TRAGEDY

"Children of the Moon" Is Depiction of Selfish Mother Love.

"Children of the Moon," a three-act tragedy by Martin Flavin, is to be presented Tuesday evening, April 11, at the college auditorium by members of the college dramatics class, under the direction of Miss Florence M. Drake.

The story centers around a young girl and an aviator. While the aviator is recovering from injuries received in a plane crash the two fall in love and make plans to marry.

When the girl's mother, who is away on a trip, finds out about the intended marriage, she returns home and tries to break up all plans of the couple. She becomes angry almost to the point of insanity when she sees that all her efforts are failing. The young girl and her mother have a battle of wills and the girl is driven to a mental break-down with the knowledge that she is a "child of the moon."

The mother has driven other members of her family to insanity and death by her continual nagging on the fact that the moon has the power to drive them crazy, and she uses this knowledge as a last resort to prevent the marriage.

She prevents the marriage, but she sacrifices her own happiness as well as the happiness of other members of her family and especially her own daughter who, together with her lover, is driven to her death.

Through it all the girl's grandmother tries to control the actions of the mother, but even her strength of character is powerless to curb the insane rage caused by selfish mother love.

COURT CONTINUES PUBLISHER'S TRIAL

Criminal Libel Case Is to Be Heard Here on March 27.

The case of the state vs. Fritz J. Dimmel, publisher of the Winside Tribune, charging criminal libel, was continued last Thursday afternoon until Monday morning, March 27, at nine o'clock, upon motion of C. H. Hendrickson and H. E. Stiman, attorneys for the defendant.

The charge of criminal libel has been brought against the Winside publisher by Sheriff A. W. Stephens, as a result of four editorials run in the Winside paper by Mr. Dimmel relative to the sheriff. The first editorial ran shortly after the Winside picnic last summer and the last ran in Mr. Dimmel's paper of March 9.

A crowded court room last Thursday afternoon was evidence of the interest which the case has aroused. Many people were unable to gain admittance.

Mr. Hendrickson filed motion for a waiver of preliminary hearing and expressed willingness to take the case direct to district court. After some little argument as to whether the case constituted a felony or misdemeanor charge, the motion was overruled. A demurrer to the complaint was also overruled, as was a motion for change of venue to another court. The defendant's attorneys then asked for a continuance, and Judge J. M. Cherry announced that the case would be continued until March 27.

Mr. Dimmel, in his paper of Thursday, March 16, carried a story relative to the trial and re-published all four of the editorials which had resulted in his arrest.

TAXIDERMIST GIVES TALK ON WILD LIFE

Gordon Ebersole Explains Process of Preserving Wild Animals.

Gordon Ebersole, student at Wayne State Teachers college whose hobby is taxidermy, exhibited a collection of examples of his art and gave a talk on the subject of taxidermy at a meeting of the Wayne Kiwanis club Monday-noon at Hotel Stratton.

Taxidermy, he said, has only existed for about 300 years. The first preservations of wild life, Mr. Ebersole added, were crude and unable to withstand the ravages of time.

The taxidermist, he explained, must know more than the technical side of his work to be successful, since much field work and an accurate knowledge of wild life are necessary.

The foremost taxidermist, according to Mr. Ebersole, is Carl Ackley. He described much of Mr. Ackley's work and told of the marvelous perfection of detail which it embodies.

In explaining the application of the taxidermist's art, he showed what he called his "depression crow," a mink of a mounted bird.

We are fortunate in Nebraska, he said, in having a plentiful supply of pheasants. Credit for the abundant supply, in his opinion, is due to the work of the Isaac Walton League.

Included in his exhibit were a number of pheasants, an eagle, a raccoon pelt, several squirrels, a northern pike head and a porcupine which he shot last summer in Minnesota.

Winners of Contest to Be Revealed at Prom

Wayne State Teachers college students voted Friday to determine the most popular boy and girl in school this year. Each of the four classes had previously chosen eight candidates. Voting was secret.

Identity of the school's most popular students will be revealed at the junior-senior prom to be held in the gymnasium the evening of April 22. The prom, as well as the popularity contest, is being sponsored by the junior class.

Postmaster Announces New Commemorative

Announcement of a new commemorative stamp, which will be placed on sale at the local postoffice as soon as received after April 20, has been made by the Wayne office. The stamp will be of the three cent denomination, commemorating the 150th anniversary of the issuance by General Washington of the official order containing the proclamation of peace, marking officially the end of hostilities in the war for independence.

The stamp will be of the same size as the regular issue and printed in purple ink. The central design is a representation of the Hasbrouck House at Newburgh, N. Y., used as headquarters by General Washington at the time the proclamation was issued.

Stamp collectors desiring first day cancellations of the stamp may send a limited number of addressed covers, not to exceed 25, to the postmaster at Newburgh, N. Y., with a cash or postal order remittance to exactly cover the value of the stamps required for affixing.

Stamps of selected quality, needed for collection use, may be obtained on mail orders to the Philatelic Agency, Post Office department Washington, D. C., on April 20.

11:00 a. m. The morning worship, inspiration and teaching. We do need to get contact with God these days, to seek Him. Good music, vital message, subject: 'Our Neighbors and Their Neighbors.' You will like this, we think.

6:30 p. m. The young people's fellowship. Good-cheer, study, discussion, prayer. Honest facing of life, seeking how to live more usefully, safely, and happily, day by day. Is that worthwhile? Welcome to all young people.

7:30 p. m. The evening glad hour. Reverent worship, happy singing, cordial welcome, and a vital, stimulating message, subject: 'Seeking and Finding True Wisdom from God.' Suggestive, workable, testing. Welcome. It might help us.

Special. Our church year ends April 30. The church voted for the annual taking of pledges for new year, as for April 9, and that week following. Practically all churches have found that plan wise, effective. For both these important matters: to close this year at our very best, and to assure the next also at our best, sincerely, faithfully, can become a joy, a real adventure as each and every one prays and shares and talks hopefully, gladly. We have indeed much to encourage. Voluntary reductions in costs may well encourage all to likewise make sacrifice a joy and a blessing. 'Co-operation Wins.'

Presbyterian Church
P. A. Davie, Pastor

The snow of last Sunday which made walking almost impossible, kept a great portion of our congregation in their homes. Our Sunday school was greatly curtailed and there were about forty in attendance at the morning hour. There were about 20 present at the C. E. hour in the evening.

Niobrara will hold its Presbyterial this Thursday and Friday at Wakefield. A good number of our ladies plan to attend. Among those who will take part on the program are Mrs. Hillker, Synodical president, and Miss Moore, our board's secretary of young people's work.

The pastor as chairman of committee on Christian Education of Presbytery has been giving much time to the young people's conference to be held at Norfolk this coming Friday night. A large delegation will go from this church. Miss Jean Davies, as president of the Eastern half of Presbytery's Young People's Work, will preside and F. L. Blair will lead the group singing.

Sunday is the last Sunday of our church year. It is our hope that just as far as possible all pledges to the church shall be paid.

We shall hold all our regular services next Sunday. Sunday school, 10 a. m. Morning worship, 11 a. m. Evening choir, 6 p. m. C. E. services, 6:30 p. m. Evening message, 7:30 p. m.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank friends and relatives for their many kindnesses and beautiful floral offerings during our recent bereavement in the loss of our father and grandfather.

Jacob Reibold and children,
Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Von Seggern and children.

A movie title that will appeal to bridge players is "Grand Slam," which comes to the Gay tomorrow and Saturday. It's supposed to do for the noble pastime of contract bridge what "Blessed Event" did for the columnist racket. Paul Lukas, Loretta Young, Frank McHugh and Glenda Farrell are its stellar luminaries. It's full of rich satire and good fun—and even has a burlesque of the Culbertson-Lenz bridge match worked into the plot. It is supposed to answer the question, "Is bridge a game or a disease?"

Bridge players of chronic variety as well as non-bridge players will get a kick out of it. The story deals with a Russian waiter who marries a bridge-playing wife. His serious efforts to write a book on Democracy are broken into every time he is called on to make up a fourth at bridge. His contempt for the game causes him to make his own rules as he goes along. Naturally, it causes eyebrows to raise in censure, but the fact that he always wins results in his name being put up as that of an expert. With the aid of his system—which consists of having no system at all—he goes on the road to fame and fortune, after getting a ghost writer to put out a book for him. He tours the country with his wife, playing in tournaments and exhibitions wherever they go.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday comes the musical comedy that the Sioux City and Omaha papers raved over so much last week. It's "42nd Street" and it brings a cast of 14 states, including Warner Baxter, Babe Daniels, George Brent, Ruby Keeler, Dick Powell, Ginger Rogers and a number of others.

"Three good tunes and a kick in the pants for your wow blackout. Can you make a hit show of it?" These are the first sentences in Bradford Ropes' novel, "42nd Street," and they color the length of the picture. In the movie, the words are addressed to Warner Baxter, who plays the role of a veteran stage director with a hundred hits to his credit. What he does to the three good tunes and the kick in the pants form the basis for "42nd Street."

Chorus girls—to the number of about 150—stars, directors, singers, crooners, comics, heavies, juveniles and ingenues—there're all there. Al Dubin and Harry Warren, two of Broadway's ace song writers did the song hits for it. They are responsible for such popular songs as "You're My Everything," "Too Many Tears," "Carolina Moon," and "I Found a Million Dollar Baby in a Five and Ten Cent Store."

Dubin wrote the lyrics for "Gold Diggers of Broadway." And, confidentially, 42nd Street is supposed to be the Hollywoods greatest effort to outdo the smashing success of "Gold Diggers of Broadway." Reviewing critics have said that it is lavish, spectacular, funny and tuneful. Which is just about all you could ask of a picture.

"Face in the Sky," which stars Spencer Tracy, Marian Nixon and Stuart Erwin, comes to the Gay Wednesday and Thursday. It is said to be a blending of romance and comedy—with a little emphasis on the latter.

The plot concerns a traveling sign-painter, always dreaming of his glorious future. He meets a little country girl who is likewise a dreamer. With the aid of his clumsy helper, the painter assists her in escaping from her drab existence on a Vermont farm, only to fall in love with her.

Tracy, hitherto famous for his "hard-boiled" portrayals in pictures is cast in an entirely different role. Erwin plays one of those "dumb" parts that originally made him famous.

College Degree Worth $100,000, Experts Find

Statisticians and research investigators have at last run down the elusive and much discussed dollar and cents value of a college education and have fixed it at $100,000. Their survey reveals that the average untrained boy goes to work at the age of 14, earns less than $1,700 a year, so that his income from 14 to 60 totals $64,000. The high school graduate, they find, starts work at 18, reaches his maximum income of $2,800 at 50 and by 60 has earned a total of $88,000. The college graduate, they learned, starts his career at about 22, has caught up with the high school graduate by 30 and at 60 is earning from $6,000 to $8,000 a year with a total earning at 60 of between $160,000 and $200,000. Figures from the same survey produced by the statistical department of Union Central Life Insurance Company show that out of 1,000 children entering grade school only 23 graduate from college. Lack of funds is revealed as the main reason for leaving school and educational insurance is now advocated as a means of giving a higher percentage the "break" which a college degree assures.

Days of Chaperonage at Parties Are Gone Forever

Think of the days when rows of so-called dowagers, many of them perhaps not yet past the early forties, were obliged to sit for hours at dances on more or less uncomfortable chairs, smiling heroically through agonies of weariness and boredom!

Incredible as it may now seem, there actually was a period when fathers went to dances with their daughters, waiting patiently for hours, until at last it was time to escort the dear girls home.

Some elderly persons can remember the old-fashioned picnics and beach parties, when chaperons of both sexes uncomplainingly provided nourishment for hordes of famished mosquitoes, while their charges swiftly vanished to indulge in the pastime then known as "twosing," and now more accurately termed "petting."

The number of parents martyred by the supposed obligations of a chaperonage which seldom, if ever, restrained their offspring from doing precisely as they pleased is as incalculable as the sands of the sea.—North American Review.

Lucky Scrap Jelly

Chip up pieces of candied fruit—you must have at least one-half cupful and you can use twice that amount if you like. If no candied fruit is around, use broken nut meats, or small bits of candy or raisins or dates stoned and finely cut.

Make 2 cupfuls of lemon or orange gelatine. Pour the gelatine into a mould and, when it is cool, and begins to "set" add the diced candy. When serving time comes, turn the mould upside down over the serving dish. Wrap it tightly with a cloth wrung out of very hot water and the jelly will fall onto the dish.

A garnish of whipped cream or condensed milk, whipped, makes the dish prettier.—Child Life Magazine.

Size of the Stars

How large are the stars? To the average individual their size is hard to comprehend, but Dr. Edwin H. Frost, famous blind astronomer in Child Life Magazine, solves the problem. The sun, he says, is 350,000 times as large as the earth, and yet some huge stars are forty million times larger than the sun.

The Telephone Bell is his GO-TO-WORK signal

A few cents a day invested in telephone service is helping many men and women in making a living for their families.

The more I need work the more I need a telephone," declares a telephone customer. "My work depends almost entirely upon the telephone calls I get." This man has kept busy fully three-fourths of the time while many others in the same line of work are idle.

A man and his two sons, laid off from work, ordered a telephone installed because men were called back only as needed and those with telephones got the calls. The three are now getting their full share of work.

Doctoring Diseased Trees

an Important Profession
The work of the tree surgeon is supplemented by that of the tree doctor, observes a writer in the Montreal Herald. The former cuts out disease growths and patches up the wounds with asphalt or other materials, after proper antiseptics have been used to clean them out and prevent further local spread of the malady.

Toadstools, sometimes of great size, are often seen growing on the roots or trunks of trees. They are disease growths. Fungi of many kinds invade the bark and deeper tissues of trees, causing rot which may make deep holes, perhaps killing the tree in the course of time. To remedy cases of this sort, the tree surgeon is called upon to exercise his skill.

Medicine, however, suitably administered, by injecting it into the sap ducts of the tree may prevent or cure fungus diseases. In addition, by use of the proper chemicals, the destructive activities of boring insects are discouraged.

Source of Mother's Milk

Scientists of the Carnegie Institution of Washington have discovered the hormone, or gland secretion, that causes and governs the production of mother's milk. Pathfinder Magazine reports. Dr. Oscar Riddle, Robert U. Bates and Simon W. Dykshorn, of the Institution's department of genetics at Cold Springs Harbor, N. Y., are credited with the find. The hormone, called "prolactin," is a secretion of the pituitary gland. The discoverers obtained theirs from the pituitary glands of cattle and sheep. When injected into rabbits and guinea pigs it caused the mammary glands to secrete milk. The importance of the discovery health authorities point out, is that it proves a valuable aid to the health of babies. Mother's milk is considered the most perfect food for babies.

Day That Lasts for Months

Summer in Greenland only lasts one day—but it's a pretty long day. There are four months on end of continuous daylight. But this has to be paid for in winter, when the midnight sun gives way to the midday night. For there are four months of darkness—tempered by the moon and the aurora borealis—to balance the four of daylight. Only for four months out of the twelve do the Greenlanders have alternate day and night like ours.—Montreal Herald.

"Bring Home the Bacon"

The slang expression "bring home the bacon," meaning to be successful in a quest, and similar expressions, such as to save one's bacon, rest on the old meaning of bacon, when it referred to the entire carcass of a butchered hog. This was the principal meat diet of rustic communities in this country and England, and the word came to mean, in a figurative sense, anything highly desirable or much prized.

Prairie Dog Like Camel

The prairie dog drinks little or no water. But years ago many western farmers believed that the complex tunnels constructed by these animals underground led to some underground source of water and as a result spent many useless hours in the vicinity of such tunnels drilling for water.

Come to Life at Last

A Japanese lotus, recently flowering at Kew gardens, London, was grown from seeds which had lain in the ground at least 120 years. Because they were buried too deep in the ground and in unsuitable soil, they did not germinate.—Family Herald.

Longest Epitaph Relates

Some time ago there was found hidden in the cellar of an old house in the city of St. George, Bermuda, a large brass tomb tablet dated 1778. On it was found what is considered to be one of the longest epitaphs on record. It is also believed to be one of the most elaborate eulogies ever pronounced on a human being. Recording the good works of a well-known doctor of the times, the tablet, which was placed in St. Peter's, the oldest church in Bermuda, reads as follows:

To the memory of George Forbes, M. D., whom living a singular comeliness of manners joined with many useful talents and eminent virtues.

Rendered highly estimable, blessed with a convivial disposition, in the cheerful hour of social festivity he shone irreprehensible and an agreeable companion, ever assiduous in furthering good humor and the enjoyments of sociality friendly to mankind.

His endeavors to mitigate the evils of life which he bore himself with temper and philosophy were not alone confined to the healing art, long exercised by him with much reputation, but were likewise exerted in composing differences, restoring ancient friendships interrupted and promoting peace, harmony and mutual good understanding among his fellow men, having acquitted himself with approbation in the several relations of life.

As he had lived, respected and beloved, so he died, lamented and regretted for those virtues and many others which though not engraven on this tablet are forever engraven on the loving memory of his surviving friends.

He died Jan'y 9th, 1778, aged 68 years.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Inbreeding

Results of a ten-year experiment on the College of Agriculture farm at Davis, Calif., appear to indicate that inbreeding in hogs did not lessen the vigor or the size of litters. Experiments elsewhere have seemed to show loss of vigor, but this has not been the case at Davis. The experiment will be continued in the hope of securing more information on the subject.

For Sproutless Potatoes

It has recently been found that if apples are stored in the same room with potatoes, that the potatoes will be kept from sprouting. Evidently there is something in the apples that makes potatoes keep better. The winter varieties of apples such as Wine-sap, Black Twig or Ben Davis can be kept until spring, providing the apples were in good condition when picked. If the supply is not too large, wrapping in paper will help preserve the apples.

Pasteur at the Fair

THE chief events of the life of the great Louis Pasteur and many mementos of his work will be shown by the famous Pasteur Institute of Paris, as a part of an international exhibit of medicine, in the Hall of Science at the Century of Progress International Exposition at Chicago which will be thrown open to the public on June first of this year.

The exhibit, of which Dr. P. Lecomte du Noy, chief of service of the Pasteur Institute, will be in charge, will include a model of the apparatus that Pasteur employed to disprove the theory of spontaneous generation, one of his microscopes, and three great painted panels twenty feet long and twelve feet high which will bring into its true perspective the vast part played by Pasteur in relation to modern science and industry.

Globe-Encircling Fame

The second of these panels will consist of a huge map of the world showing the location of the Pasteur Institutes in Paris, Lille, Tangier, Algiers, Tunis, Athens, Teheran, Casablanca, Dakar, Bamako, Martinique, Guyana, Brazzaville, Madagascar, NHA-TRANG, Saigon and New Caledonia, etc., etc.; more than 30 in all.

The third will be topped by another portrait of Pasteur with lines radiating from it through signs labeled "crystals," "microorganisms," "microbes," and "ferments" to the various animals and products which they affect, and to surgery, vaccines and rabies for the first and only cure of which Pasteur is world-famous. Below will be paintings illustrating the various topics, and Dr. du Noy will also bring with him from Paris numerous charts and statistics, and ten pictures representing some of the many Pasteur institutes.

Already Has Monument

A monument to Louis Pasteur was unveiled and dedicated in Chicago a little more than three years ago. It stands in Grant Park at the west end of the Field Museum in the fine open plaza between that structure and Michigan Boulevard. This piece of sculpture shows the figure of a woman presenting a palm to the bust of Pasteur, and on its face the shaft of the monument bears the words: "Erected to Louis Pasteur, Servant of Humanity, by the People of Chicago." On the opposite side is a bronze plate which bears the following words:

LOUIS PASTEUR

Benefactor in Industries, Revealer of Mysteries of Diseases of Man and Animals and Deviser of Methods for Its Control, Whose Discoveries Have Lessened Suffering and Prolonged Life and Added Immensity to the Comfort, Security and Dominion of Man.

This monument was built by local subscription from more than a thousand contributors, including medical societies, Chicago

French societies, and other organizations and individuals.

Made Cities Possible

It is peculiarly appropriate that this monument should have been erected and this exhibit of Louis Pasteur's work should be shown in this great center of our nation's food supplies. He was the man who, among his many other activities, perfected the process of canning discovered by his compatriot Nicholas Appert.

Without the existence of the modern commercial canning industry, neither Chicago nor any of our other great cities could exist, since it would be impossible to assemble sufficient food to feed their vast populations in any other form.

The most dramatic of Pasteur's discoveries was undoubtedly his treatment for rabies, now in practically universal use wherever civilization has spread. But it was his perfection of the canning process which undeniably did most to "prolong life and add immeasurably to the comfort, security and dominion of man."

Made Modern Surgery Possible

The fact should not be overlooked that modern surgery, as well as the aseptic treatment of wounds in general, is entirely due to the work and discoveries of Pasteur. He first showed that infection was due to living microorganisms, then proceeded to develop the process of "sterilization" without which we could not think of surgery at all. He even determined the exact temperature to which glassware and other materials should be brought in order to be germ free.

Leaders in scientific thought from more than a dozen foreign countries will pay tribute in person to this great Frenchman at Chicago this summer.*

A $1.50 Dinner for 6

THE following menu shows that an elaborate and tasty dinner can be served to six people at a cost of a quarter each if your marketing is careful, and you make wise use of canned foods.

- Cheese and Salmon Loaf 34¢
- Creamed Potatoes 15¢
- Mashed Yellow Turnips 15¢
- Pickles 10¢ Bread and Butter 10¢
- Tomato, Cucumber, Celery and Lettuce Salad 25¢
- Lime and Apricot Sponge Sandwich 31¢
- Coffee with Cream 10¢

Cheese and Salmon Loaf: Flake the contents of one tall can salmon, and add one cup grated cheese. Add two slightly beaten eggs, one tablespoon melted butter, one-fourth cup milk, one-half cup crumbs, one-half teaspoon salt and a few grains of pepper. Put in a buttered loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven for forty to forty-five minutes.

Lime and Apricot Sponge Sandwich: Dissolve one package lime gelatin in two cups boiling water and pour half of it into a mold and let chill. Press the fruit from an 8-ounce can of apricots through a sieve, add two table-spoons sugar, and bring to boiling. Dissolve in it two teaspoons gelatin softened in two table-spoons cold water. When beginning to stiffen, fold in one stiffly beaten egg white, and pour into the mold. When this layer is set cover with the remaining lime gelatin, and let the whole chill for some time. Unmold and slice. Serve with whipped cream.*

Recipes for Easter

IT'S April sixteenth this year—Easter. It comes so late that you will be doubly glad to welcome the end of Lent with a little feasting. So here are a couple of recipes for the beginning and end of an Easter luncheon which will make this feasting doubly welcome to your friends.

For a Fancy Lunch

Orange Flavored Appetizer: Cut skin from large seedless oranges and cut out the sections without leaving a particle of white fibre. Drain the contents of a can of green grape juice, remove stones and stuff centers with cream cheese. Have everything very cold. Arrange orange sections on crystal plates in flower shape, and place a stuffed plum in the center of each.

Apricot Sherbet: Drain the apricots from a No. 2 can, and to the syrup add one tablespoon corn syrup and twelve marshmallows, and steam in a double boiler until the marshmallows are dissolved. Cool, add the apricots pressed through a sieve and one tablespoon lemon juice. Pour into a refrigerator tray, and stir occasionally until it begins to freeze. Then fold in two egg whites beaten stiff with two table-spoons sugar, and continue freezing stirring now and then to prevent the formation of crystals. Serve on pieces of angel food cake. Serves six. The mixture may be tinted a deeper yellow according to your color scheme.*
