Rites for Mrs. W. C. Fox Are Held Sunday

Wayne Welfare Worker Passes Away Friday.

Funeral services for Mrs. William C. Fox were held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the home and at two o'clock from the Methodist church, with Rev. Wm. E. Braisted in charge. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery. Mrs. Fox passed away on Friday morning, March 24, 1933.

Mary Jane Libengood was born in Blairville, Pa., on July 25, 1879. She spent her girlhood there with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Libengood, and received her education in the public schools. At an early age she gave her life to Christ and joined the Methodist Episcopal church.

In 1897 she was married to Mr. Charles Meyers and they moved to Nebraska in 1902. To this union six children were born, five of whom are living; one having died in infancy. These children are: Frank, who now lives in Pennsylvania; Gladys, now Mrs. Earl Fox of Wayne; Clair of Wayne; Mary, now Mrs. Henry Fox of Newcastle, and Clifford of Wayne.

On August 16, 1919, Mrs. Meyers was married to Mr. William C. Fox and to this union one child, a son Russell, was born. These children with a devoted husband, survive to mourn the untimely death of the wife and mother. She also leaves three grandchildren: Marlene Claire Fox, Delores June Myers and Earl Eugene Fox; her aged mother, Mrs. Mary Jane Libengood; five brothers: Hilbert and Ray of Pennsylvania, Lloyd and George of Ohio and William of Wayne, and one sister, Mrs. Lloyd Prouse of Emerson.

Mrs. Fox spent a full life of service to her family and the sick and needy in Wayne and Wayne county will hold her memory in reverence. As a nurse in the early days, her cheerful, competent presence is remembered in many homes.

She kept her little children together and gave them a Christian training, giving to the world upright, honest young folks, living monuments to a mother's unselfish devotion. Her work among young people of the community in over 20 years of service as a teacher in the Methodist Sunday school, in the Loyal Temperance Legion, has been fruitful in his name.

She was a faithful member of the Methodist church and an unflinching help in all of its activities. For eight years she was the welfare worker of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, later taking up the same work for the Red Cross and Wayne county. During the past four years her ministrations through these charitable channels are well known. Her death brings sorrow into many homes where the needy have felt the touch of her kindly hands and the cheer of her smiling face. Her life of real service will be an inspiration to her sorrowing family and to her many friends. Her example of faithfulness in his service cannot fail to help all who knew her to a better and truer vision of the Master who said, "Inasmuch as ye did it to one of the least of these, ye did it unto me."

Mrs. Hattie McNutt was elected welfare worker, to succeed the late Mrs. W. C. Fox, at a meeting of the Wayne and vicinity Welfare association Monday night. Mrs. McNutt was selected from a field of ten applicants.

Libel Suit to Be Heard in District Court

Winside Tribune Publisher Waives Preliminary Hearing.

Acting upon a ruling that the county court cannot have jurisdiction in libel or slander cases, the case of "State vs. Fritz Dimmel," alleging criminal libel was not heard in county court, Mr. Dimmel was bound over to district court when his case came up for hearing in County Judge J. M. Cherry's court Monday morning. Mr. Dimmel's attorneys, C. H. Hendrickson and H. E. Siman, waived preliminary hearing.

The complaint, prepared by County Attorney H. D. Addison, charged that the alleged libel had been published "in a newspaper," whereas the law provides that libelous material published in a newspaper "of general circulation" constitutes a felony.

Mr. Dimmel's attorneys, in asking for a district court hearing, contended that The Winside Tribune, the newspaper of which Mr. Dimmel is publisher, is a newspaper of general circulation and that the case should come under the felony heading.

Had the case been tried as a misdemeanor, guilt could have resulted in a fine of not more than $500 or not to exceed six months in jail or both, with the minimum punishment left to the court's discretion. With the complaint listed under the felony classification, penalty to the defendant if found guilty would be from one to three years in the state penitentiary, with one year's imprisonment as the minimum punishment. Sheriff A. W. Stephens, who signed the complaint, alleges that Mr. Dimmel has "unlawfully, wrongfully and knowingly" written, printed and published false and malicious libel of Mr. Stephens upon four different occasions. There are four counts listed in the complaint.

WAYNE FIRMS ASK SUPPORT OF BUDGET

Urge Legislature to Pass Governor Bryan's Appropriations.

Telegrams favoring the state legislature's approval of Governor Chas. W. Bryan's budget bill rather than the finance committee's budget were sent to Lincoln to Senator Watson L. Purdy and Representative Frank J. Kloppling this week by heads of numerous Wayne business places. In a last minute effort to show local sentiment favoring the Bryan budget.

House members are said to be worried over the status of the finance committee's appropriation bill, which represents sharp whittlings on the governor's budget. The bill includes reductions under Bryan's recommendations of $950,000, of which the state university and state normal schools are asked to absorb approximately $700,000.

Unless the governor's bill is accepted, a substitute to the committee measure, a deadlock is said to be almost certain. Fear of repetition of 1931 history, when the legislature adjourned without making appropriations, has been expressed.

Rites for Mrs. W. C. Fox Are Held Sunday

Wayne Welfare Worker Passes Away Friday.

Funeral services for Mrs. William C. Fox were held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the home and at two o'clock from the Methodist church, with Rev. Wm. E. Braisted in charge. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery. Mrs. Fox passed away on Friday morning, March 24, 1933.

Mary Jane Libengood was born in Blairville, Pa., on July 25, 1879. She spent her girlhood there with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Libengood, and received her education in the public schools. At an early age she gave her life to Christ and joined the Methodist Episcopal church.

In 1897 she was married to Mr. Charles Meyers and they moved to Nebraska in 1902. To this union six children were born, five of whom are living, one having died in infancy. These children are: Frank, who now lives in Pennsylvania; Gladys, now Mrs. Earl Fox of Wayne; Clair of Wayne; Mary, now Mrs. Henry Fox of Newcastle, and Clifford of Wayne.

On August 16, 1919, Mrs. Meyers was married to Mr. William C. Fox and to this union one child, a son Russell, was born. These children with a devoted husband, survive to mourn the untimely death of the wife and mother. She also leaves three grandchildren: Marlene Claire Fox, Delores June Myers and Earl Eugene Fox; her aged mother, Mrs. Mary Jane Libengood; five brothers: Hilbert and Ray of Pennsylvania, Lloyd and George of Ohio and William of Wayne, and one sister, Mrs. Lloyd Prouse of Emerson.

Mrs. Fox spent a full life of service to her family and the sick and needy in Wayne and Wayne county will hold her memory in reverence. As a nurse in the early days, her cheerful, competent presence is remembered in many homes.

She kept her little children together and gave them a Christian training, giving to the world upright, honest young folks, living monuments to a mother's unselfish devotion. Her work among young people of the community in over 20 years of service as a teacher in the Methodist Sunday school, in the Loyal Temperance Legion, has been fruitful in his name.

She was a faithful member of the Methodist church and an unflinching help in all of its activities. For eight years she was the welfare worker of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, later taking up the same work for the Red Cross and Wayne county. During the past four years her ministrations, through these charitable channels are well known. Her death brings sorrow into many homes where the needy have felt the touch of her kindly hands and the cheer of her smiling face. Her life of real service will be an inspiration to her sorrowing family and to her many friends. Her example of faithfulness in his service cannot fail to help all who knew her to a better and truer vision of the Master who said, "Inasmuch as ye did it unto me."

Anyone having old clothing, shoes or supplies which might be of use in welfare work is requested to get in touch with Mrs. McNutt or any member of the welfare board.

Libel Suit to Be Heard in District Court

Winside Tribune Publisher Waives Preliminary Hearing.

Acting upon a ruling that the county court cannot have jurisdiction in libel or slander cases, the case of "State vs. Fritz Dimmel," alleging criminal libel was not heard in county court, Mr. Dimmel was bound over to district court when his case came up for hearing in County Judge J. M. Cherry's court Monday morning. Mr. Dimmel's attorneys, C. H. Hendrickson and H. E. Siman, waived preliminary hearing.

The complaint, prepared by County Attorney H. D. Addison, charged that the alleged libel had been published "in a newspaper," whereas the law provides that libelous material published in a newspaper "of general circulation" constitutes a felony.

Mr. Dimmel's attorneys, in asking for a district court hearing, contended that The Winside Tribune, the newspaper of which Mr. Dimmel is publisher, is a newspaper of general circulation and that the case should come under the felony hearing.

Had the case been tried as a misdemeanor, guilt could have resulted in a fine of not more than $500 or not to exceed six months in jail or both, with the minimum punishment left to the court's discretion.

With the complaint listed under the felony classification, penalty to the defendant if found guilty would be from one to three years in the state penitentiary, with one year's imprisonment as the minimum punishment.

Sheriff A. W. Stephens, who signed the complaint, alleges that Mr. Dimmel has "unlawfully, wrongfully and knowingly" written, printed and published false and malicious libel of Mr. Stephens upon four different occasions. There are four counts listed in the complaint.

Short services were held at the home at 1:30 o'clock and at 2:00 o'clock from Immanuel Lutheran church yesterday afternoon, March 29, 1933, for Mrs. Sophia Lessman, who passed away Sunday morning, March 26. The services were in charge of Rev. F. C. Docton and Rev. H. Hoppman. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Lessman was 80 years, 10 months and 17 days old at the time of her death.

WHITACRE REPLEVINS CARROLL NEWSPAPER

Appraisers Set Value of Publication Property at $2,000.

Replevin case of H. J. Whitacre vs. Nick Warth was certified to district court on Tuesday, March 28, by County Judge J. M. Cherry, after the appraised value of the property known as "The Carroll News" had been set at $2,000 by appraisers appointed by Sheriff A. W. Stephens.

On Monday, March 27, Mr. Whitacre filed an affidavit for replevin, asking immediate possession of the Carroll News property, in Judge Cherry's court.

WAYNE FIRMS ASK SUPPORT OF BUDGET

Urge Legislature to Pass Governor Bryan's Appropriations.

Telegrams favoring the state legislature's approval of Governor Chas. W. Bryan's budget bill rather than the finance committee's budget were sent to Lincoln to Senator Watson L. Purdy and Representative Frank J. Klopffing this week by heads of numerous Wayne business places, in a last minute effort to show local sentiment favoring the Bryan budget.

House members are said to be worried over the status of the finance committee's appropriation bill, which represents sharp whittlings on the governor's budget. The bill includes reductions under Bryan's recommendations of $950,000, of which the state university and state normal schools are asked to absorb approximately $700,000.

Unless the governor's bill is accepted as a substitute to the committee measure, a deadlock is said to be almost certain. Fear of repetition of 1931 history, when the deadlock was so bad that the legislature adjourned without making appropriations, has been expressed.

Mrs. Winifred P. Main's home at 518 Lincoln street was broken into early Wednesday morning for the second time in two months. The thief or thieves took off a storm window and screen and jimmied open a door. Sheriff A. W. Stephens investigated Wednesday morning, but was unable to unearth any clues.

The first robbery occurred on Wednesday, Feb. 1, while Mrs. Main and her niece, Miss Grace McElroy, were spending the evening away from home. Forty-three dollars was taken from Miss McElroy's purse.

If refunds are not called by April 15, he said, they will be mailed to car owners for signature.

"Better Lumber For Less"

THE KNOT-HOLE

No. 44 Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, March 30, 1933. Vol. 7

We claim that the cost of government must not exceed the ability of the taxpayer to pay.

Guest—"Look here! How long do I have to wait for the half portion of duck I ordered?"

Waiter—"Till somebody orders the other half. We can't go out and kill half a duck."

The fellow who jumps out the window when opportunity knocks at the door has probably heard opportunity knock before.

Your opportunity to raise a bunch of healthy chicks is glass cloth. We have it in two widths. Price 25c and 30c per yard in cut lengths. Roll lots for less.

This week we received a shipment of clear wagon oak. Call on us for reaches, double-trees, eveners and other machinery repairs where oak is required.

We're pretty fond of our CERTIFIED SAHARA coal. It keeps you warm all the time. How is your supply lasting you?

There are a few things you ought to know about WEYER-HAEUSER 4-SQUARE lumber. One very important fact is that it does not cost us any more than ordinary lumber and therefore does not cost YOU any more. Keep that in mind when ordering lumber.

It is said that Nebraska spent more for tobacco last year than for all of the schools in the state.

Carl built another hay rack this week. Next?

The office loafer says: "You can save laundry bills these days by wearing your shirts once and then tearing them up yourself."

When you buy trademarked merchandise like Helms 57, for instance, you know you are getting the best that the market affords. And so it is with trademarked lumber like 4-SQUARE. It is not only as fine as the market affords, but the first cost is no higher than ordinary lumber.

Mrs. Vanderhip went into the kitchen to find the maid sitting on the butler's lap. "Is that what I pay you for?" she stormed. "No, madam," replied the maid. "I do it for nothing."

A clothes line has to bear up under a pretty heavy load by the time it gets two or three baskets of wet clothes hung on it. Let these steel clothes line posts of ours take over the heavy end of the job.

We have finally isolated that much-touted, last-minute swing-for-Hoo-ver. It was a guy in the back office.

For years we have been giving free personal service to the building problems of our customers. More than thirty years of practical building experience is behind this service. It is yours for the asking. As a part of that service, we also offer a credit service backed by more than a million dollars of capital. This credit service is also yours to use if you need it.

Sophomore—"How come the scratches on your face?"

Senior—"Oh, I was playing checkers with my girl last night and she got sore at one of my moves."

We claim that courage is going to be one of the most essential elements in the reconstruction period on which we have now entered and that the supply seems to be woefully short.

With the Wayne Churches

First Baptist Church

William E. Braisted, Minister Sunday, April 2, 1933. Schedule of meetings.

10 a. m. The life training Sunday school of the Church. Welcome and classes for all ages. Graded lessons. Young People's discussion group. Primary department to welcome all the children. Intermediate for youth.

11 a. m. The morning worship hour. Good music, and the Holy Communion will be observed. The pastor will speak a brief message, subject: "The Real Presence in the Sacred Memorial." Welcome to all. God will bless all who "draw near to him with a true heart."

6:30 p. m. The young people's meeting. Fine fellowship, study, singing, prayer, free, informal discussion of life's great questions and values. Topic: "Can and Should We Love All Men, Even Our Enemies?" What about it? A social and business meeting is planned for April 7. That's your "date".

7:30 p. m. The evening glad hour of song, prayer, vital message. Subject for this hour, "A Pre-Easter Message." "Four Imperatives in the Life of the Lord." Can you think what they were? Were there "musts" in his life as well as in ours? What shall we think and do about life's imperatives anyway?

Special. April is the closing month in our Church and the denominational fiscal year. It has not been an easy year for any. But God has blessed and will continue to bless the faithful, honest, sharing and prayerful life. Shall we not each and all sincerely enter that group, and rightly claim God's promised grace? "Thou hast been faithful, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." That parable was based on integrity and industry in character and the use of money. Think of the promises given.

At service to all. At the above address or by appointment, the pastor is glad to be of any possible service always.

Methodist Episcopal Church

Harold C. Capsey, Minister Next Sunday the morning worship service at 11 will be conducted by Rev. George Almond, pastor of the Methodist Church at Oakdale. The Church School and the Junior and Epworth Leagues will be held at the usual times, but there will be no evening service.

The pastor hopes to be able to conduct the services of the Easter program, which will include the Palm Sunday service, April 9, and a musical program that evening by Mrs. J. T. Bressler, Jr. and Mr. Kermit Stewart. The Communion service will be held on Good Friday and on Easter Sunday Evening a Cantata is planned by the choir.

Thursday of this week the Junior League will have a social at the church between 7:30 and 9:30. Next Thursday the Woman's Home Missionary society will meet at the home of Mrs. I. H. Britell.

The church enjoyed entertaining the Third District convention of the Woman's Clubs this week. We hope that those attending enjoyed their visit to Wayne.

The Lenten season emphasizes the church's message in the needs of the world today. We invite you to share in a renewed devotion to the savior of the world whose death we commemorate.

Presbyterian Church Notes

P. A. Davies, Pastor It was a privilege indeed to have Mrs. Hilliker, our Synodical president with us last Sunday. She spoke both morning and evening to the great interest of our people. Having spent three years in India with her missionary daughter, she brought many stories of human interest from that land. We were also happy to have Miss Francis Limes of Norfolk, who is attending our college, sing for us. Her solo was greatly appreciated.

Last Sunday was the close of the church year. It is our hope that just as far as possible all will try to make good their pledges for the year.

Services are as follows for next Sunday. Sunday school 10 a. m. Morning worship 11 a. m. Evening Choir 6 p. m. Christian Endeavor services 6:30 p. m. Evening worship 7:30 p. m.

ONLY A START

President Roosevelt today is the dictator of banking. It was necessary in the emergency that he inherited to seize dictatorial power.

But this alone is not the answer to the national problem. The president does not wish to continue as bank dictator forever.

Congress soon will move to provide permanent correctives. It will move to aid private banks, such as the Morgan outfit, made accountable to the government.

Existence must be made safe for the little corner banks in places like Sioux City, Salka and Pöduuk.

The Federal Reserve system, created in 1914, grew out of the panic of 1907. Must there be another seven-year wait before something is done to correct the fundamental practices by which the Morgans and Mellons were permitted to prey upon small banks and the people's savings?

A start has been made. Roosevelt has the courage and the will to carry through. The people are behind him.

SCOTT SHOTS

by "SCOTTY"

It's That Easy!

"Scotty, the Wayne Democrat's Walter Winchell fellow, who gives you the low down on the deep, dark goings-on in that collegiate burg, is a former magician I am informed. And that is perhaps one of the reasons why the aforesaid Scotty is still able to draw his breath at regular intervals.

Speaking of magic, the Scott Shooter wants to say that it was a real pleasure to work before an audience at Wayne State Teachers college a couple of weeks ago.

Some day Fred Blair and the Scott Shooter are going to drive down to Fremont and try to fool the Kiwanians of Fred's native stamping grounds. We're going to put on a hypnotic act with Fred volunteering as the hypnotic subject.

Fred Howard, the Clay Center publisher of the Clay County Sun, who can be the tenor in my "Sweet Adeline" quartette, warbles a few Sunbeams:

Canaries quit singing when they moult. Guess radio sopranos never moult.

Rather difficult to stand up for a bird who refuses to try to stand up for himself.

Many a lad who has started out to spend an evening has wound up by spending the price of a diamond.

When a man does good it is a fool preacher or a fool Sunday school class that will question his motive.

My honest opinion of some people is probably no more scandalous than the honest opinion of some people of me.

Time was when the word of some men was as good as their bond. Under the new regime most any man's word is better than his check.

"Scotty" in the Wayne Democrat, is not able to decide whether his girl has reformed or got smarter. Mebbe declared a "holiday" old man.

No honest man has ever yet been able to discover how a bunch of neversweats exist in every community and get along just as well during hard times as when money is easy and work plentiful.

If the times get hard enough, one may see the return of the gilded palaces of sin. People who have not needed the money may be forced to cease their charity work and use their every resource in securing a living.

President Roosevelt's ability to handle difficult problems is so evident that just as soon as he has taken care of the things already under consideration I expect to ask him how one can make every page of a newspaper "front page." Thousands of inches of profitable advertising is ready for the paper that first solves this matter and, really, it should be simple to the present or, in fact, any fairly competent jig-sawer.

Predictions seem to be very much in line right now, so we get out our crystal and make the following forecasts:

Forty cent corn. A late spring.

Next year's Wayne Wildcat athletic teams as the greatest in the history of the school to date.

The downfall of Adolf Hitler. More troubles for Andrew Mellon.

A building on the Sam Sadden corner.

Main Street Mutters: (Sattiday).

The county department committee's gonna vote on postmaster this afternoon. I like her all right, but I've caught her cheating at bridge.

Was we drunk, I ask you! I still got a bad head this morning. They're gonna have beer by April Seventh.

She tries to run the club, but I stand up for my rights every time. Well, with this kind of weather, I don't have to think about a garden for a while, anyhow.

It seems to me that she's pretty silly, but I wouldn't tell her so. I'm going to get a cape and jacket tweed suit for spring.

He should win the Olympic and all-American, intercollegiate and A. A. U. medals for nerve. He's started picking up his golf clubs and getting that far-away look in his eyes lately.

What that kid needs is a good wallop.

"The first date in history," the instructor said, "was about 4,000 B. C."

To which Dumb Doty asked, "Who had it?" Household Hints: What one must do to have beautiful hands. Nothing.

Dedicated to the Dental Study Club "I seem to have run out of gas," he muttered. "Here's where I do some fast work."

The girl's face, small and white, was turned up to his, her eyes glowing dizzily from beneath heavy lids.

Her head swam. Her red lips were parted and she sighed faintly. Slowly he bent over her. He was her dentist.

Our Education Hour Walter Savidge relays some interesting information about the White House, which seems to be getting its name in the papers pretty frequently these days:

A Scotchman by name of Dave Burns owned a farm where the White House and Washington's monument now stand, and George Washington had considerable difficulty in persuading Mr. Burns to sell.

Washington laid the cornerstone for the White House in October, 1792, and the building was completed seven years later. It was the first to be erected in the new Capitol. The grounds comprise about 17 acres. A prize of $500 was offered for a design and was awarded to James Hoban, an Irishman, who also rebuilt the mansion after it was destroyed by fire by the British in 1814.

Jefferson prepared designs and submitted them anonymously. His plans were not accepted but when he became president he designed the terraces and colonnades that were added. Before the wings were added, it was said to have been a replica of the residence of the Duke of Leinster, Dublin, Ireland. The wings were added during the administration of President Theodore Roosevelt to afford enlarged executive offices on one side and a cloakroom on the other side.

When the structure was provided for in the original design of the city, it was known as "The Palace." When it was first built it was called "The President's House." After it was burned in 1814 it was painted white to hide the marks of the fire on the walls and the people began to call it "The White House," although officially it was known as "The Executive Mansion" until Theodore Roosevelt became president and gave his sanction to the "White House" title.

It has 53 rooms. The original cost of the buildings was defrayed from the sale of lands donated by Maryland and Virginia.

George Washington never actually occupied the mansion, but it is said that he and his wife walked through the rooms only a few days before his death in 1799. It was still in an unfinished state when Thomas Jefferson took possession. The principal stairway had not been built and the East Room and some of the upstairs apartments had not been plastered.

The furniture is owned by the nation. The president brings only such belongings as he may care to have with him and he removes the same when his successor is inaugurated.

Rustlings from the Scribner Rustler: The average citizen just can't help feeling sorry these days for anybody who is dumb enough to foreclose and take a farm.

It isn't what the farmer doesn't get for his products that is keeping him poor. It's his buy-products.

It seems our new warships are not a success as fighters. But think what a nice place they make for the naval officers to hold dances.

A girl may wear a golf outfit when she can't play golf, and a bathing suit when she can't swim, but when she puts on a wedding gown she means business.

Score one more for our side. The national social unit organization reports that 70 per cent of the cities' big captains of industry came from the small towns.

If the constitution would permit a tax on every liar the government would soon have all the revenue needed.

Some citizens are always willing to cooperate if you'll furnish the "co" part and let them operate.

Isn't it a strange coincidence that everything needed to end the depression would help the old world and soak America?

Sometimes you think the world is going to the dogs, and then you see an old picture of home-made skirts.

If you help a criminal escape, you are an accessory to the crime but if a professional does it, he's a great criminal lawyer.

The only thing a lot of us are praying for is that congress will not get the idea that the farmer is the only one who needs relief.

Why is it that the rich are the only ones dumb enough to make mistakes so they can get a rebate on their income taxes?

EDUCATOR SPEAKS

Dr. G. W. Rosenlof of Lincoln, director of secondary education and teacher training, addressed Wayne high school students yesterday morning on "Why Are You Here in School?" He emphasized scholarship, but placed courtesy above it.

Here's the Dope!

"Our Batters," the new Constance Bennett picture, is so new that there isn't much advance dope on it—but the critic who has seen it says that it is the best thing Connie has ever done. The story deals with men and women in the higher strata of London society who live, apparently, according to the fashion of their contemporaries... yet are ruled all the while by the dizzy whirl of petty emotions, jealousies and intrigues which beset ORDINARY mortals.

Their only restraint in the matter of yielding to temptations and conducting themselves in an indiscreet manner is that occasioned by the penalty of loss of social prestige and position. They sin with no remorse, deterred in their sinning only by the danger of discovery and the consequent deadly notoriety.

John Barrymore is said to hit a new high in entertainment value in "Topaze," a spicily comedy. Myrna Loy heads the supporting cast—which is always a good cast in a Barrymore picture. Critics have said that it is a really high-class comedy that leaves you feeling that you've seen something worth seeing.

It combines whimsical characterization with spicily plot and saucy dialogue. As Monsieur Topaze, Barrymore's talents find a joyous outlet. The play runs contrary to design. No one can be said to be a hero and no one exactly a villain, for each individual mixes a little good with a little bad, and vice versa—and dishonesty is seen to have some amusing virtues.

Professor Auguste Topaze, played by Barrymore, promises at the start to be a goody-goody, for he is seen teaching worldly wise boys that honesty is essential to success.

This maxim gets its first job when his conscientiousness loses him his teaching job; and its second when he finds his honesty is enabling the unscrupulous Baron de Latour Latour to wallow most happily in ill-gotten gains. The Baron needs the services of either an idiot or a scoundrel; and he prefers an idiot, feeling that he has found it in Topaze.

It's the Baron's mistake. For the modest little professor discovers his own ego and the glory of putting something over on the Baron, who put something over on him.

It's a hard idea to put across, but this picture is really big.

It took two years to make the picture, "Darkest Africa." Wynant D. Hubbard, head of the two-year flung expedition into the veldts and bush of upper Rhodesia and Portuguese East Africa, is a man of varied experiences and accomplishments.

He estimates that he has captured between 3,000 and 4,000 wild animals, taming and training several hundred of them. A large share of his captures were sent to America for exhibition in zoos and circus side-shows.

"Untamed Africa" is said to contain the most sensational wild animal sequences ever filmed in Africa—a fight between a lioness and a hyena, filmed at close range; a buffalo stampede, lions attacking the water buffalo, and natives hunting lions armed only with spears.

The picture is an authentic portrayal of the lives and habits of the beasts of prey in the wilds seldom visited by white men.

Slain Baby's Body Is Found Near Hartington

Cedar county officials were hunting Wednesday for the slayer of a two-day old baby, whose body was found on the bank of Broken Bow creek near Hartington Tuesday. The infant, a girl, had met death by a blow on the forehead with a blunt instrument.

Dr. Francis Dorsey, jr., Hartington physician, examined the body and said the baby had been dead less than 24 hours when it was found.

Dr. Charles N. Olson and Lawrence D. Falk, Hartington men, found the body and notified county authorities at once. The only clew that was found was footprints of a man near the place where the body was discovered.

Trial of "Elwayne E. Fleetwood" on a charge of harboring an indecent woman had not been held in Justice J. E. Brittain's court yesterday, although a complaint, signed by George Bornhoff, was presented to Mr. Fleetwood Monday afternoon.

The complaint, engineered by Martin L. Ringer and Mr. Bornhoff, refers to the tinware statue constructed by Mr. Fleetwood and displayed in the Hiscox Hardware store this week. The statue is alleged by Mr. Fleetwood to resemble a woman.

Mr. Fleetwood, through Attorney Burr Davis, served notice Tuesday on Mr. Bornhoff, Mr. Ringer and Mr. Brittain that unless retraction of the charges was made within three days he would file a damage suit for $100,000 on behalf of his statue, which he referred to in the notice as "Minnie, the Mocher." So grieved is "Minnie the Mocher" at the charges, he states, that her hair has turned a yellowish white and her hands have turned to iron claws.

Mr. Ringer said Wednesday morning that the notice served by Mr. Fleetwood is an attempt at blackmail. "If he does not withdraw that notice," Mayor Ringer said, "I'll bring suit against him for blackmail." He waived a fistful of stage money as evidence of his ability to pay.

Can You Restore the Easter Cathedral?

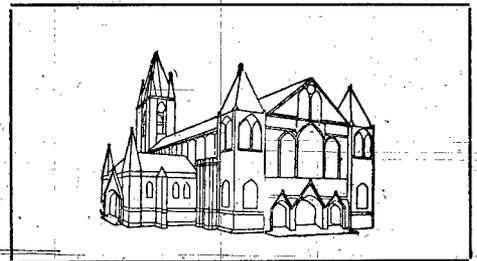

Men! Women! Children!

Here's an Easter Puzzle You Can Solve Easily and Win a Handsome Award.

(See story on page one for rules and list of prizes.)

It's fascinating. It's exciting. It's Easy.

Here are the fragments of a beautiful Easter Cathedral. Can you put them together the way the architect had them originally? Can you make a beautiful church out of them? If you can use a pair of scissors and paste you can do it--it's easy! Just cut out the parts and fit them together. You'll have no end of fun seeing the Cathedral grow as you discover just where each part belongs. Fit the parts together in such a way as to form a complete church, mount them down, and send in your solution with a short letter (not more than 50 words) telling "What the Church Means to Me." You don't have to be artistic or literary to win a prize. Neatness, accuracy and the idea expressed in your letter will count most.

No Charge for Help on Loan Applications

Farmers who apply for loans this year from the $90,000 fund authorized by congress for crop production should refuse to pay any fees for help in the preparation of their loan applications, according to C. E. Burnham, field inspector of the crop production loan office, stationed at Norfolk.

The law specifically prohibits the charging of any fee for the preparation of the application and provides for fine or imprisonment or both for any person found guilty of assessing such a charge. Notarial fees, however, are still necessary, as are fees charged by the county recording official for recording the lien given as security for the loan, and for searching the records for prior liens.

Prospective borrowers need not write to Washington for application blanks and detailed information about the loans, but may get that material direct from Mr. Burnham or from L. B. McClure at the First National Bank in Wayne.

The application blank requires a statement of the amount of the loan desired, the number of acres for which seed and fertilizer are to be purchased, the amount desired for feed, the amount desired for fuel and oil for tractors. It also requires a statement of the amount of the loan which is to be used for making repairs or for the purchase of other supplies. The total of these items must not exceed the maximum rates per acre specified in the regulations.

Significant differences between the 1933 and 1932 regulations governing crop production loans are that this year the maximum permitted to any one borrower is $300.00, and that, to qualify for a loan, borrowers must agree to reduce their acreage of cash crops 30 per cent below their 1932 acreage provided their farming operations are above the specified minimum. As in 1932, the first lien on the 1933 crop is required. Loans are to be repaid on or before Oct. 31, 1933.

Carol Jean Nicholaisen had tonsils and adenoids removed at Bentback's hospital Saturday.

Crop Report Indicates Farm Progress Normal

Mid-month crop report of the Nebraska department of agriculture indicates that top-soil moisture has been replenished and that the progress of farm work is normal. Feed supplies throughout the state are generally ample, and the general level of farm commodity prices is higher.

Spring disking, plowing and corn-stalk cutting over the state are well along, according to the report. A few potatoes have already been planted and some oats have been sown in the south central and southeastern parts of the state. There is said to be a considerable demand for horses, with farmers lacking money and credit generally restricted.

Feed supplies are ample over the entire state with the exception of a few counties in the western and southwestern portions. Hay and roughage are ample in most sections, but some corn is being shipped into southwestern counties.

Farm indebtedness is about the same or slightly less than at this time last year. The reduction, which is small, has been brought about by foreclosures.

Alco-Gas Tested in Automobiles at Blair

Gasoline containing 10 per cent alcohol made from corn was given a test Saturday at Blair by L. L. Snyder, oil dealer, and Alfred O. Sick, newspaper publisher and president of the chamber of commerce.

Both declared the alcohol-gasoline mixture, widely proposed as a means towards farm relief, gave greater mileage, more speed and faster acceleration than ordinary gasoline.—Ne-light News.

Beer Question Solution Doubtful in Nebraska

Solution of the question of beer in Nebraska is doubtful, with no indication having come from Governor Chas. W. Bryan as to what he intends to do about submitting a bill to the state legislature calling a special convention to pass on the question of national prohibition repeal.

The impression is said to be prevalent around the capitol that such a convention will be necessary if the wet strategists are not to be allowed to conduct such a convention in their own interests, by means of the initiative.
