Laurel Wins Track Meet Here Friday

Laurel high school won the North-east Central track and field meet Friday afternoon at the college field with a total of 48 points. Pilger, last year's winner, was second with 34 1-2 points. Wisner came in third with 24 1-2 points, and Winside was close behind with 24 markers. College high school scored nine points and Cole-ridge, three.

Dawson of Wayne took first place in the shot put with a heave of 38 feet, 2 1-2 inches. Denkinger took fourth in the discus throw and Dawson took second in the javelin throw. Dawson was tied with two others for third in the high jump. Anderson of Wayne was fourth in the 440-yard dash and Denkinger was one of four tied for second in the pole vault.

Democrat Prints Ballyhoo Section

This week, The Nebraska Democrat presents its second annual Ballyhoo section, called "The Weakly Guyed." It is delivered to you as a part of today's paper. Practically none of the news material contained in "The Weakly Guyed" is true and nearly all of it verges on insanity.

We wish to call particular attention to the advertisements which appear in The Guyed. Local merchants have given excellent cooperation in the preparation of this nonsense edition, making their ads according to the same frivolous pattern which characterizes the news.

The Democrat believes that, with Prosperity finally coming around that mysterious corner, we need to get in a happy mood again. The Democrat management hopes that The Weakly Guyed will help in achieving that aim.

College Plans Full Program for Graduates

Over Three Hundred to Get Certificates or Degrees.

Commencement program at Wayne State Teachers college will be held on Thursday morning, May 25, with Sam R. McKelvie, former governor of Nebraska as the speaker.

The college will this year give 40 degrees of Bachelor of Arts in Education, nine degrees of Bachelor of Science in Education, 115 Normal school diplomas (first grade certificates), 28 professional life certificates to graduates of the four-year course, 34 professional life certificates to graduates of the two-year course, 65 general elementary state certificates and 16 elementary rural state certificates.

Baccalaureate services for college graduates and college high seniors will be held in the college auditorium on Sunday evening, May 21, with Dr. Walter Aitken, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church at Lincoln, delivering the baccalaureate sermon.

A musical program will be given by the college orchestra and chorus on Tuesday evening, May 23. The annual May program of the physical education department will be given on Wednesday morning, May 24. Wednesday has been reserved for Homecoming activities. The commencement play, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," will be given by members of the college dramatics class on Wednesday evening.

SCANTYCLADS PLACE IN DAKOTA RELAYS

Three Wildcat Track Men Score in Sioux Falls Competition.

Terry, Baker and Paul upheld the prestige of Wayne State Teachers college on track and field by placing second, third and fourth in their respective events at the Dakota Relays, held last Friday and Saturday at Sioux Falls, S. D.

Terry was second in the high hurdles, clocked in 16.4. Baker tied for third in the pole vault with a mark of 11 feet, 8 inches. Paul was fourth in the javelin with a heave of 161 feet, 8 inches.

Court Paroles Drunk from Jail Sentence

Jim Jensen, charged with intoxication, was brought into County Judge J. M. Cherry's court Monday by Marshall Alex C. Gabor of Winside. Mr. Gabor signed the complaint, alleging that Mr. Jensen had been intoxicated on Sunday. The defendant entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail, plus payment of $8.05 costs. He was paroled Tuesday to Alfred Drvesen. Jensen refused to tell where he got the liquor.

Parents to Be Guests at College Open House

Tomorrow will be Mother and Dad's day at Wayne State Teachers college. Invitations to attend have been sent to the parents of all college students.

A special chapel period will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. A tea for the mothers will be held during the afternoon, and the fathers will be guests at a triangular track meet in which Wayne, Midland and Western Union colleges will compete.

Parents will be given an opportunity to inspect all of the grounds and buildings at the college.

LEGION AUXILIARY SPONSORS POPPY DAY

Mrs. E. E. Galley Is in Charge of Relief Program.

Wayne will observe "Poppy day" this year on May 27, the Saturday before Memorial Day, according to announcement of Mrs. E. E. Galley, chairman of the poppy committee of Irwin Sears unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Memorial poppies, to be worn in honor of the World War dead, will be made available to everyone in Wayne by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary Unit. Organization of the workers is going forward rapidly under Mrs. Galley's direction. Flowers for the sales have been ordered from the veterans' hospital at Lincoln, where they have been made by disabled World War veterans.

The local Auxiliary wants everyone to wear a poppy on Poppy Day and to contribute for the flower according to his means. All contributions will be used for relief work among the disabled veterans and their families, the bulk of the money going to support the relief activities of the local Auxiliary unit among needy families in Wayne.

Making poppies for the sale has given hundreds of disabled veterans employment through the winter and spring months. These disabled men are the only workers in the Auxiliary's poppy program receiving pay, all others donating their services.

COLLEGE TO GIVE SHAKESPEARE PLAY

Three Distinct Themes in 'Midsummer Night's Dream.'

Members of the Wayne State Teachers college dramatics class will present "A Midsummer Night's Dream," popular Shakespearean comedy, at the college auditorium on Wednesday evening, May 24, at 8:15 o'clock.

Three distinct themes run through the play and constantly intermingle. There is the dignity of the aristocratic group, the comedy of the workmen, and the dreaminess of fairies on a moonlight night.

The vocal music incident to the play is being directed by Prof. H. H. Hanscom and Miss Ardath Conn. Doris Childs is pianist. Two of the dances were composed by Louis L. Chalf of the Chalf Normal school of Dancing, while the clown dance has been composed by Miss Florence Drake, who is directing the production.

Great care is being taken to select the materials and make the costumes with a view to artistic principles and historical accuracy. Members of the class are busy with their construction. The staging will be simple, in accordance with Shakespearean tradition.

Twenty Are Selected for Forest Jobs

Committee Names Wayne County Boys for Peace Army.

Twenty boys were selected Monday by Rollie W. Ley, Frank Erklebey and Martin L. Ringer, the committee in charge, for work on President Roosevelt's Emergency Conservation forces.

The names were selected from applications of 51 applicants. Those who will be given jobs immediately were selected from Wayne, Carroll, Winside, Hoskins and Wakefield.

Those selected to go from Wayne are Orval Rhoades, Harvey Reibolt, Lyle Trausen, Don Davis, John Lynch, Geary Embody, Harry Ogan, Herbert Bonawitz, Marilyn J. Simmerman and Verne Sylvanus. Raymond McVey, Howard Tucker, Nolan Holekamp, Wayne Mitchell, Donald R. Hulbert and Leo P. Hennessey have been selected from Carroll. Allen Francis and Warren Selders will be Winside's representatives. Louis Weber will go from Hoskins and Paul Gray from Wakefield.

The boys are all between the ages of 18 and 25 years. They will work on government reforestation projects for six months, receiving $30 a month wages and most of their personal expenses. They will work five days a week, eight hours a day and must stay on the job for the full six-month period.

WAYNE HIGH SENIORS TO GIVE CLASS PLAY

'Peg O' My Heart' to Be Presented Wednesday Night at Gay.

Wayne high school seniors will present "Peg O' My Heart," a comedy by J. Hearty Manners, at the Gay theater on Wednesday evening, May 17. The cast of characters is as follows: Mrs. Chichester-Gwendolyn Mulvey Jarvis Allan Sandahl Ethel, Mrs. Chichester's daughter Lucille Surber Alario, Mrs. Chichester's son Richard Moses Christian Brent Wm. Studley Peg Elaine Yocum Montgomery Hawks, lawyer Marion Jones Bennett, the maid Elaine Gildersleeve Jerry James Davies

The play is being directed by W. A. Behl. The action of the story centers around Peg O'Connell, who, although wealthy, is lead to believe she is very poor. Her parents have both died, leaving her to the care of her aunts in England. Many complicated situations arise in the home of the Chichesters, where Peg is kept for a few months. Every man in the home proposes to her and Peg wonders why. She refuses each one in a curt manner, but finally marries one.

WAYNE PLACES IN STATE MUSIC TILT

Local Students Get High Ratings in Contest at Kearney.

Forty-five Wayne high school musicians and nine sponsors attended the state high school music contest at Kearney Friday and Saturday, with the group under the supervision of Kermit Stewart, school music supervisor.

The girls' glee club received a Superior rating, the highest, which the judges could award. The mixed chorus received an Excellent rating, as did the boys' glee club.

Marion Jones received an Excellent rating in the clarinet solo division. Good ratings were won by the rest of the Wayne high school entries: two boys' solos, two girls' solos, a piano solo and three small vocal groups.

Minnie Denkinger, entered in the girls' solo division for college high school, received a Good rating. The judges are said to have been strict, with no superior ratings given in a number of events.

Legislature Cuts College Allotment

Teachers college appropriations for Nebraska will be cut about 20 per cent, according to indications of the state legislature. This, according to Dr. U. S. Conn, president of Wayne State Teachers college, will mean drastic salary readjustments in the four Nebraska schools.

The state normal board plans a special meeting within the next few days, at which revision of salaries will be discussed, as will ways and means of managing school finances for the next two years.

Dr. Conn said yesterday that there has been some talk about shortening the summer school terms, although the first term will undoubtedly run for 12 weeks as usual. The second term, he said, will probably be run on a greatly abbreviated schedule.

Discussion of tuition charges at the four state teachers colleges will undoubtedly be considered, Dr. Conn said. At present, none of the four colleges charges any tuition.

Rites for Mrs. Mary Stubbs to Be Today

Woman Had Been Wayne County Resident for Fifty Years.

Funeral services for Mrs. F. M. Stubbs, who died on Tuesday, May 9, 1933, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dan Leuck of Wisner, will be held this afternoon, May 11, 1933, at two o'clock from the First Presbyterian church with Rev. P. A. Davies in charge. Interment will be in the Wayne cemetery.

Mrs. Stubbs had been a resident of Wayne county for fifty years, and had lived for much of that time in the city of Wayne.

Mary Eliza Christopher was born in Kentucky on Feb. 14, 1853. The greater part of her childhood and earlier life was spent at Clarinda, Iowa, in the home of her grandparents. In March, 1882, she became the wife of Francis Marion Stubbs. In the year following their marriage, the young couple came to Nebraska and settled on a farm nine miles south of Wayne. They lived here for nine years. Mr. Stubbs died in 1892. After his death, Mrs. Stubbs felt that the care of the farm along with the care of the home was too great a task, so she rented the farm and came to live in Wayne. After spending a number of years here, she returned to the farm, where the family lived for 13 years. In 1912, she came to make her permanent home in Wayne.

During the past several years, she had spent the winter months in the homes of her daughters, Mrs. Hans Horst and Mrs. Dan Leuck near Wisner and the summer months in her home at Wayne.

She leaves to mourn her passing six children, three daughters and three sons: Mrs. J. E. Patterson of Jacksonville, Texas; Edward Stubbs of Westington, S. D.; Walter Stubbs of Norfolk; Mrs. Hans Horst of Wisner, Frank Stubbs of Ngwman Lake, Wash., and Mrs. Dan Leuck of Wisner. She is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Edward Fleming of Clarinda, Iowa, and a host of friends.

She was a member of the Rebekah lodge of Wayne and for years had been a faithful member of the Presbyterian church.

Wayne Couple Wed Saturday in Omaha

Mrs. Thelma DeVal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fred Martin of Wayne, and Ralph Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker, were married Saturday, May 6, in Omaha at a Catholic church. The couple spent the week-end in the home of the bride's brother, Howard Martin, and returned here late Sunday evening. They are residing temporarily at the Frank Baker home.

Rites for A. E. Bressler to Be Held Friday

Pioneer Wayne Resident Dies Unexpectedly, Tuesday.

Funeral services for Anderson E. Bressler, who died unexpectedly on Tuesday noon, May 9, 1933, will be held Friday afternoon, May 12, at 2:30 o'clock from the Wayne Methodist church, with Rev. H. C. Caspey in charge. Interment will be in the Wayne cemetery.

Mr. Bressler lacked a month of being 71 years old at the time of his death. He had been working in his garden Tuesday morning and came down town to work, apparently in the best of health. He talked cheerfully to his friends during the morning and gave no evidence of any indisposition. He passed away Tuesday noon, heart failure being the cause of death.

Mr. Bressler was born on June 9, 1862, in Pennsylvania. An elder brother, John T. Bressler, had come to Wayne county before the founding of the town of Wayne and had written home concerning the possibilities of this western country, so, in 1898, A. E. Bressler came to Wayne.

He had lived here from that time up until the time of his sudden death. He engaged in the real estate and insurance business, and had a host of business and social friends who admired his business ability and his pleasant personality.

He is survived by three brothers, John T. Bressler, Sr., F. P. Bressler of Wakefield and S. C. Bressler of Pender; a sister, Miss Hannah Bressler, a number of more distant relatives and many friends.

He possessed a deep bond of family affection and looked forward, each year to the annual Bressler family reunions, in which he took a most active part. He will be greatly missed by a community in whose civic affairs he played an important part.

CARROLL MAN GUILTY OF EMBEZZLEMENT

W. J. Littleton Sentenced to Year in State Penitentiary.

William J. Littleton of Carroll, charged on May 5 in County Judge J. M. Cherry's court with embezzlement of $400 from the Fullerton Lumber company at Carroll, entered a plea of guilty to the charge. On Monday, May 8, he was taken before Judge Charles Stewart at Norfolk and sentenced to 12 months in the state penitentiary.

Sheriff A. W. Stephens took the prisoner to Lincoln Tuesday and turned him over to prison authorities.

Rev. Parker Smith, former Baptist minister, was in Wayne Tuesday.

The Inquiring Reporter

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Do you approve of the Roosevelt Reforestation army plan? Minister: Yes, indeed. It should help solve the unemployment problem, and in the solution of the reforestation question and build young men into healthy physical specimens.

Merchant: One of the greatest problems has been to find something for our boys to do. The president's plan will give the right kind of work to many boys. It should result in a stronger nation.

Insurance Agent: It's one of the finest plans that was ever worked out.

Lawyer: I heartily approve of it. Roosevelt is solving a good many problems with one project.

Farmer: It looks like a good proposition. The boys will be ready men when they get back from six month's work of the kind that Roosevelt has outlined.

Lawyer — "Ah, I thought you wouldn't know."

There are several ways of selling paint, too, but after all the thing that counts is the name of the paint or the color of the label on the can; it's WHAT IS IN THE CAN! Remember, CER- TAIN-TEED paint is quality in the can.

Nationally advertis- ed, trademarked, mer- chandise is known all over the world as qual- ity merchandise. No manufacturer has ever been able to advertise and sell an inferior article for long. And so the Weyerhaeuser lumber mills produc- ing lumber have trade- marked their high grade products for your protection. It is known as 4-SQUARE. The cost is no higher than lumber that the dealer grades.

MOTHERS' DAY Sunday will be Mother's Day. Revolutions and economic conferences and banking reforms and world peace discussions are not the greatest events in the world.

Soldiers and statesmen are not the greatest people in the world. The most important people are mothers, who are called on to bring into existence a new generation.

On Mother's Day, it is fitting that we should honor mothers. It is even more fitting that we should take steps to make motherhood more safe for them, as leading authorities agree that half of the 14,000 women who annually die in childbirth could be saved by adequate care.

We dislike sentimentality. We try to hide our emotions, and maybe we think it sounds sticky, and why-washy to say a few of the things that we really feel about Mother.

But Mother never let any thought of hiding her emotions enter her head when she was fighting for us.

What can we say about Mother? Can mere words ever express anything of the feeling that is imbedded deep in the heart of every normal person for the divine woman whose body gave him life? Can the most flowery praise ever convey the feeling of obligation we have toward Mother?

We doubt it. But it is nice to try, and it is nice to have a day set aside for payment of homage to the Grandest Woman. Whether or not we succeed in turning the perfect phrase which tells of our love for Mother, we suspect that Mom will know how we feel about it. Mothers have a way of knowing nearly everything.

REST IN PEACE

The state legislature gasped its last breath this week and left the halls of the state capitol building with much work undone and a good deal of work done in a disappointing manner.

But it is not for us to deal too harshly with these, our public servants, for their task was a difficult one. They faced troublesome times, and they knew that the folks back home were going to be prepared to damn them if they did and damn them if they didn't.

We told them that we wanted our taxes reduced, and then when they got downright serious about reducing taxes, we told them that they had lost their heads. We wanted taxes reduced, we reaffirmed, but we had been misinformed. We hadn't said anything about cutting appropriations for any phase of state government. That, we insisted, must not be done.

We told them we wanted beer, and we told them that we didn't want beer. We signed petitions asking for a referendum on the eighteenth amendment and we wrote letters asking that the eighteenth amendment be left intact.

In short we put our legislators in to a position where they didn't know what we wanted and what we didn't want. In which they differed little from the folks back home.

Our legislature included a body of wild radicals who made monkeys of themselves, just as every body of over 25 men includes at least one or two men who think they have been divinely appointed to make spectacles of themselves. For the greater part of the legislature membership it can be said that they tried to do what they thought was best.

Many of the legislators were inexperienced. We do not even envy the most experienced ones their positions. They were doomed to a heavy dose of criticism before they ever began their work.

Miss Mildred Mumberson of Omaha and Miss Margaret Mumberson of Nebraska were the winners in the W. W. Rice home.

County School Notes

Wayne county pupils who have recently received diplomas of honor for three years' perfect attendance are Leland Thompson and Esther Schroeder of district 30, Elnora Lucke of district 23, Werner Mann of district 33, south, Clarence Giese of district 28, Forrest Sandahl and Reissilla Sandahl of district 47, and Melvin Coulter of district 79.

The school in district 23 has had 23 visitors so far this year. Florence Baker is the teacher.

Notices have been sent to 16 parents of the county during the past year concerning regular attendance of their children at school. Sicknessexuses non-attendance. Home work and disinclination to attend do not excuse. The school law requires that pupils between the ages of 7 and 16 attend 160 days each year in this county.

Miss Eva May Palmer, teacher in district 82, writes that her director, Mr. Gilbert Johnson, planted five trees on the school grounds. She is hoping they will grow, as only one of those planted last year is growing. Janet Sellen is the only pupil of this district who has had perfect attendance so far this year.

Harold Appel, pupil in district 41, had been neither absent nor tardy up to the end of the seventh month. Florence Schellenberg, the teacher, writes that she had twenty visitors up to that time and had enjoyed their company.

Helen Mohr, teacher in district 72, writes that her pupils are making various articles to be sent to the fair. The third and fourth grades completed bird booklets. The sixth and seventh grades are drawing maps. She says they have recently organized a "Busy Bee" club in their school. Their motto is, "A winner never quits and a quitter never wins." Meetings are held on Friday afternoons. Joye Bush is president and day. He treated his teacher and the April 3, was Joe Bush's ninth birthday. He treated his teacher and the pupils to an angel food cake.

Norma Jean Harrison, sixth grade pupil in district 1, writes the following letter:

"Dear Miss Sewitt: We have been making good use of a great deal of new reading material. We have our five dollars worth of library books and enjoy reading them and also having our teacher read them to us. The names of the books are: The Ten Breams of Zach Peters, The Hoosier School Boy, Pollyanna of the Orange Blossoms, Pollyanna's Western Adventure, Just David, and The Courtesy Book.

We also receive each week our copies of "My Weekly Reader" and the eighth grade gets "Current Events."

We had hot dinners two months this winter. We followed plan one. We cooked the hot dish at school and each one brought something for it, as milk, eggs, potatoes, etc. Some of the hot dishes we had were tomato soup, potato soup, bean soup, rice pudding, chocolate pudding, cocoa, meat, potatoes and dumplings. We were organized into a club and performed our tasks as dish-washers and housekeepers in turn. We chose this plan as we liked it much better than the pint jar plan or plan II.

In district 61, talks and readings on fire prevention are given on the last Friday of each month. The first, third, fourth and sixth grades have contests in spelling. The ones getting the most points at the end of a month receive a prize. The children are enjoying a new slide which was purchased for the playground. They also have a new baseball set. Kenneth Dunklau had a birthday on Feb. 13, so his birthday, Lincoln's birthday and Valentine's Day were all celebrated at the same time. The health contest had also just ended, so at noon vegetable soup, cocoa and cake were served. After the last recess, games were played, valentines given out, and Kenneth treated all to candy bars. Helen Morris is the teacher.

Bulah Brugger, teacher in district 40, writes that in her school, shortly after the holidays, the walls were newly papered and the woodwork painted. New single seats of the pedestal type were installed. Teacher and pupils enjoy them very much.

Wayne Man's Father Passes Away Sunday

Prof. Judson Q. Owen was called to Danville, Ill., last week Tuesday by word of the sudden serious illness of his father John Q. Owen. When his father's condition showed no change Prof. Owen left Saturday afternoon for home, arriving here late Sunday evening. Awaiting him was a telegram bringing news of the death of his father that morning. Funeral services were Tuesday, but Prof. Owen was unable to attend.

SCOTT SHOTS by "SCOTTY"

The Democrat this week takes real pleasure in presenting to you, its reader, the second annual Ballyhoo edition—otherwise known as "The Weekly Guyed." We hope that you will appreciate the humor that the advertisers have inserted into their copy.

Most of all, we hope that nobody will be mad about the editorial material, all of which was written in a spirit of fun. None of the copy is malicious. We all like to get a joke on the other fellow, but the real test is found in how we can take a joke on ourselves. If the Zilches and Hemingways have aimed any of their humor at you, we hope that you are the kind of a sport who can laugh as hard at that particular joke as you can snicker at the one about your friend and neighbor.

If the story about you makes you mad—we apologize and assure the rest of our readers that the story about you was not based upon any facts but was written as a jest.

The bigger they are, the better they take a joke.

What with all the Zilches and Hemingways around the office this week preparing the Weekly Guyed edition and getting into the Scott Shotters' hair at every opportunity, writing a Scott Shots column has been a difficult task. So we called the ever-humorous Fred Howard of Clay Center to our rescue. A perusal of the Clay County Sun, his paper, reveals that he is still sitting back in his easy chair and hurling ink at the world from his honey-and-vitriol dipped pen. Mr. Howard, can't we please write you to say a few words to our readers:

Steady work gets on the nerves of many a bird who declares his desire for a job.

Checks which used to come back marked "No Funds" now come back marked "No Bank."

It is reported that a hen laid a perfectly square egg in Logan township last week. Ouch!

Girls who smile when they are styled chickens get maddened later in life when called an old hen.

Miss Lohelma, the southside's frank and very handsome little sophisticate, says she had rather be led astray than never go any place.

When I note the kind of novels and magazines people buy these days I smile as there comes to me the things which my elders used to say of detective and Indian stories.

A wise bird notes that all female conversation centers around the pronoun "he," and all male talk is more than liberally sprinkled with the pronoun "I." The I's have "It."

I lived in a city once in which the report was current that there was a married woman living in a nearby town who did not stay awake nights to note what time her husband came in. It later was discovered that she did not allow him to go out.

If you appreciate straight-forwardness, logical reasoning and a desire to be open and above-board, you can't help but cheer President Franklin D. Roosevelt's radio talk last Sunday night. He recounted the things he had tried to accomplish and brought the affairs of the nation directly to the people. We are thankful to have such a leader at the helm of our ship of State.

Add Famous Last Lines The state legislature has adjourned.

Title for a burlesque of "King Kong"—"Ping Pong."

A Chicago store went out of business. In its window, its former slogan still remains, explaining everything: "We sell retail at less than wholesale."

In keeping with the Ballyhoo edition published by The Democrat this week, it seems fitting and proper to load over a few of the ads offered by the national advertisers:

The Taylor Instrument Companies suggest their "Stormguide" as a wedding present. It looks almost too darned appropriate.

"Blue looms big on the horizon this year," says an ad from Middishade suits. Gosh, and our politicians tell us that the depression is nearly over.

B. V. D. advertising talks about "pampered wool" bathing suits. Wonder if the pampered wool idea is anything like Carnation milk's "contented cows?"

Shell Petroleum announced "something exciting for the public" at their service stations on April 8. I wonder if many customers took their beer steins along.

A murmur ad says that Ray Francis' next picture will be "The Keyhole." Next? Score one for the Gay. It was here a week ago. Write your own wise-cracks on advertising of Lux, Listerine and Lifebuoy soap. We've done it too often.

Herman Mildner had a mother hen and twelve baby chicks. We use the word "had" advisedly, for Mr. Mildner no longer has them. All the care that could possibly be lavished upon the little fowls, Mr. Mildner gave them. Now they are gone. "Stolen is a horrid word," says Mr. Mildner, "but I guess they must have been stolen." Not only did the thief take the mamma hen and the itty-bitsy chicks but he took the crate which was their abode.

Mr. Mildner is worried about the care his chicks are getting, so he appeals to the sense of sportsmanship and fair play of the thief—through this column. "Wherever you are," he says, "be kind to those chicks. I always fed them hard-boiled eggs twice a day and I hope you'll be kind enough to them to carry on in that respect."

It reminds you of kidnapping cases in which the mother publishes the diet of the kidnapped child, doesn't it?

When the chicks have reached young man and womanhood and have developed into the fine, sturdy hens and roosters that Mr. Mildner knew these chicks would be, he hopes that the thief will at least invite him to a chicken dinner.

And he makes one plea. Won't the person who took the mamma hen and the itty-bitsy chicks PLEASE return the crate?

Baptist Church Holds Election of Officers

Members of the Baptist church held their annual fellowship supper Wednesday evening and elected officers for the coming year. J. K. Johnson was elected to succeed himself as deacon for a five-year term. Carlos Martin and S. B. Sprague succeeded themselves as trustees for two-year terms. J. G. W. Lewis was elected as trustee for a one-year term, to fill a vacancy. Other officers were elected as follows:

Clerk, Mrs. H. H. Hanscom; treasurer, Mrs. A. D. Lewis; financial secretary, Miss Ethel Huff; benevolence treasurer, Mrs. W. S. Bressler; head usher, Fred Bloomer; superintendent of Sunday school, Carlos Martin; assistant superintendent of Sunday school, J. K. Johnson; sec-treas. of Sunday school, Glenn Chichester; asst. sec-treas., Beulah Johnson; pianist, Altha Johnson; chorister, S. B. Sprague, and primary superintendent, Mrs. G. A. Wade.

WIGHTMAN RITES HELD WEDNESDAY

Former Wayne Resident Passes Away in California.

Funeral services for Mrs. Minnie Wightman of Long Beach, Calif., long-time resident of Wayne, were held on Wednesday morning, May 3, in Long Beach. Mrs. Wightman passed away Saturday morning, April 29. She was 72 years old at the time of her death.

She was a charter member of the Wayne P. E. O. society and at one time was an active worker in the Monday club. She was known as a loyal worker in Wayne civic affairs and was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church. Her husband, Dr. W. C. Wightman, died in 1930. A son, Frederick, died in infancy. She is survived by one son, Don S. Wightman of Wayne, and a daughter, Suzanne Wightman of Long Beach, as well as a number of more distant relatives and a host of friends.

Wendt, Miss Louise Wendt, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Spahr, Mrs. Harry McMillan, Mrs. Carl Bertson, Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Heidenreich, Miss Helen and Ruth Heidenreich, Miss Evelyn Wendt, Miss Helen Swanson and Miss Irma Doring. Mrs. Wilbur Spahr was elected the new president and Mrs. Harry McMillan was re-elected secretary. Miss Helen Swanson was re-elected vice president of the Young Ladies Missionary Conference. The meeting next year will be held in Wayne.

The Pastor will attend Synod at Kountz Memorial in Omaha next week. He will leave for Omaha Monday to attend a meeting of the examining committee before whom several young men from the Seminary are to be examined for Licensure and Ordination. Synod convenes on Tuesday morning.

Sunday is Mother's Day. We can honor Christian Mothers in no better way than by attending the services of God's House. Let us go to church next Sunday.

Methodist Episcopal Church Harold C. Caspey, Minister

Mother's Day has won a real place in the heart of our people and has, in the few years since its founding, become generally observed in the Churches of America. We shall have the theme and thought of Mother's Day in our morning service at 11 next Sunday and invite all our friends to share this service and commemoration with us. The pastor will preach on the subject, "God's Dream Come True," and there will be appropriate music.

Thursday of this week, the Woman's Foreign Missionary society meets at the home of Mrs. J. M. Cherry, with Mrs. Wm. Beckenhauer in charge of the program. Next Wednesday, Ladies Circle number 1 will meet with Mrs. Mae Merrick and the program will be in charge of Mrs. Ed Seymour.

Tuesday at 6:30, the Men's Brotherhood supper will be held. The men of the Brotherhood will entertain their wives. Each man is requested to bring a lady. The supper will be served by a committee of the men at as low a cost as possible. An interesting program will be prepared.

Presbyterian Church Notes P. A. Davies, Pastor

"The Lord is broadcasting a lot of messages from heaven but we must be tuned in."

Services are as follows for next Sunday: Sunday school, 10 a. m. Morning worship, 11 a. m. This will be a Mother's Day service. C. E. services, 6:30 p. m. High school baccalaureate message at 8 p. m.

The Missionary society held its regular service at the home of Mrs. A. A. Welch Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. W. Roe, Mrs. John Harrington and Mrs. J. G. Mines were assisting hostesses. Mrs. T. T. Jones led the meeting and Mrs. Mae Young had charge of the devotions.

One of the great messages that comes out of the spirit of Mother's Day is one of Loyalty to the church and its services.

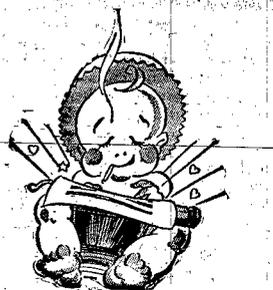

Christian Science Church 401 Main street Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Services at 11 a. m. Subject: Mortals and Immortals. Golden Text: Galatians 4:7. Broadcast over KFAB Monday and Thursday at 12:30 p. m.

A cordial invitation to attend our services is extended to all.

Our Redeemer's Evang. Luth. Church H. A. Teckhaus, Pastor

Sunday school 10 a. m. German service 11 a. m. The Luther League will meet at 7:00 p. m.

Come and worship with us.

Here's the Dope!

"Cavalcade," a movie whose theme is the effect of world events on the home and family, has been hailed as the greatest story written in the English language in a score of years. The author, Noel Coward, known for his successes, enjoyed the distinction of having his play run for a solid year at the Drury Lane theater in London.

A staff of experts was sent from Hollywood to see the play and to photograph it for reference. Another large staff was put to work on the research necessary to bring a story that covers the colorful period from 1900 to 1933 to the screen with absolute accuracy of costumes, equipment and historical backgrounds.

More than six months of preparation by a staff of 200 preceded the actual start of production. Hollywood, New York and London were scoured for the best actors and actresses fitted by education, training and experience to interpret the principal roles. Three members of the original Drury Lane cast were brought from London to re-enact their parts and two other London favorites were signed for leading roles.

In addition to the large cast of principles, thousands of extras found employment in the colorful sequences which include a number of dramatic and historic episodes and a graphic presentation of a cross-section of modern day life.

While the play is etched on a background of historical events of the last 33 years, the story itself is the principal feature of "Cavalcade." The story of the Mayrot city, its joys, loves and tragedies, is always uppermost. The theme is universal.

The show has been hailed as one of the most gigantic undertakings that ever came out of Hollywood.

WAYNE'S BLEEDING NEWSPAPER.

Published by the Nebraska Democrat, Thursday, May 11, 1933

Editor Turns Out to Be A Pun-Gent! ! !

You Lucky People, You, Here's Where You Have Fun.

Tramp! Tramp! Tramp!
(No, this is not to be a story of three tramps, nor even the story of the old maid who went for a tramp in the woods.)

Time marches on! Here it is, May, 1933, and here is The Nebraska Democrat's second annual Ballyhoo edition. Here it is Monday and I still gotta dollar.

It is our hope (and the hope of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, our pal) that this will be the wildest, happiest, funniest, gayest edition this paper has ever brought to our dearly beloved but long suffering public.

It incorporates a bit of fun that our Wayne advertisers are having with those big national advertisers—a bit of not-so-subtle razzing that you'll enjoy—and a lot of nonsense that may bring a few chuckles and an occasional guffaw.

The depression is over. Prosperity is no longer around the corner in a speakeasy. The sun shines bright on my old Kentucky home. Everything's going to be hunky-dory. So dive into the meaty reading matter of this Weekly Guyed and forget your troubles.

"Trouble's a bubble," as our old pal, Al "Kingfish" Jolson, used to say. Thank our Wayne business men for departing from their usually serious efforts to give you a few laughs and a load of pleasure. If the humor in this edition isn't virile enough for you, remember that this publication circulates in 15,000,000 homes and that it is our proudest boast that we NEVER publish anything that would offend the sensitive nature of the most persnickety 60-year old. Anyone, from 9 to 90, may read this edition without blushing. It might be funnier, but it couldn't be cleaner. If you find anything that you think is risqué, you're mistaken. It's your own fault.

Miss Hepzibah Hemingway who is holding down a teaching job in that little dinky school up Sholes way spent last week-end with her old man, Julius "Kingfish" Hemingway.

Kindly say "I seen your ad in The Democrat's Ballyhoo section" when answering any of the advertisements.

Here's Dope on Those Who Print This Paper

Millions of entranced readers are asking this question, "Who publishes the Weekly Guyed?" And we wouldn't want to disappoint even one little tiny million of our 15,000,000 happy subscribers.

We aren't telling who publishes it, inasmuch as we have not yet gone completely nuts. (I heard that dirty crack, Oscar). However, we will let you in on the secret that the splendid copy for this sterling edition was prepared by Mortimer P. Hemingway, the only newsman in the United States ever to draw a larger salary than Arthur Brisbane. (By the way, you should come in some time and watch him as he sits at his artist's easel, drawing his salary). Mr. Hemingway was assisted by 50 separate and distinct copy writers, each of the 50 being the peer in his particular line. (You're the peer in my peer salad.)

Spring Comes to Fred Howard of Clay Center

Fred Howard, pilot of the Clay County Sun, wrote the most delicate tribute to spring and its effects that Editor Hemingway has ever come across. It appeared in The Weekly Guyed last year, and here, you lucky readers, it is again:

There was a flea named John, Who loved a flea named Nell; But which was he and which was she No human eye could tell. But when John's spring-time fancy Lightly bade him seek his mate, He passed a million other fleas To hand on Nellie's gate. How he knew she or she knew he, No scientist can say, But that he found her proves, I'm bound, sir, Love will find a way.

HERE'S OUR CANDIDATE

PERCIVAL ZILCH HEMINGWAY

Percival Zilch Hemingway is The Weekly Guyed's candidate for the Hall of Fame.

In high onto thirty years, lad and man, Mr. Hemingway has never, even on the most sweltering summer day, said, "It isn't the heat, it's the humidity."

He has never said in public that Wayne's taxes, by George, are an outrage and are altogether too high and it must be the city council's fault. As a matter of fact, he has never even said this in private.

He has never tried to promote anything to raise those taxes.

He has never gone to Sioux City or Omaha to do his trading, and has always used Wayne products. He always pays his Weekly Guyed subscription in advance.

He served one term on the school board, despite the fact that he knew before he went into office that he would be criticised.

He once waited a year after he got his old car payed for before buying a new one.

He is considerate of his neighbors and is willing to do anything within his means to make the community a happier place.

He belongs to no clique, but belongs to all civic organizations.

Aw, nerds—he's too good to be true.

Editor Wants More Advertising in Guyed

"Advertise in The Weekly Guyed" is the plea of Aloysius P. Hemingway, known to his intimates as "Kingfish." Mr. Hemingway is editor of this fine newspaper which each week goes to a happy family of 15,000,000 readers. "If you DON'T advertise in The Weekly Guyed," Mr. Hemingway says, "we'll give our happy family of 15,000,000 readers the inside dope on your past and present—and then you'll be sorry. Don't think that we don't know all about you," because our reporters never sleep and they see everything."

Mr. Hemingway has been asked if the ads which appear in The Weekly Guyed are paid for. What do you think we're doing? Running this paper for our health? Of course they're paid for—or better be paid for by the first of the month if you don't want our collectors to get nasty with you.

Carl Nicolaisen has an ad in The Weekly Guyed, so we ought to have something about him in the news-columns, but he hasn't done anything very exciting lately.

Kindly say "I seen your ad in The Democrat's Ballyhoo section" when answering any of the advertisements.

The Inquiring Reporter

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

What is your favorite joke?
Percy Zilch: "That awfully funny one about Pat and Mike, a couple of Irishmen."

Arabella Hemingway: "The story about the dashing traveling salesman and the innocent farmer's daughter."

Perrinwinkle Zilch: "Prohibition."
Herman Harpenheister: "The quaint wisecrack about the negro chicken thief which end up, 'Dere aint nobody in here but us chickens!'"

Oscar Snodgrass: "That story about who was that lady I seen you with last night—that wasn't no lady, that was my wife."
Wilbur Watterfossset: "Congresses."

Newest Radio Idea Is Simply too Wonderful

Weakly Guyed to Sponsor Clever 'Silent Night' Air Program.

Despite the repeated urgings of our happy family of 15,000,000 readers, The Weekly Guyed has not yet gone on the radio. We're too busy running a newspaper that will meet with the approval of our happy family of 15,000,000 readers.

But we want to please our happy family, etc. So we have developed a unique scheme. Turn off your set and enjoy our Silent Night. It saves your radio tubes and it saves us a whole lot of money.

Our program is to be known as the Sappiness Hour. It will contain 25 minutes of advertising hooey and 5 minutes of phonograph records. It will run the gamut of human emotions. (By the by, have YOU ever run a Gamut? It is by far the finest car on the road today. Thirty free Gamuts will be given away during the month of June.)

Our Silent Night program is positively guaranteed to be free from static. It is guaranteed to contain nothing that will offend the most sensitive ear. It will be advertised as the "Quietest Hour on the Radio." It will be a revelation and a sensation. You won't get tired of it, and advertising rates during this period will be absolutely the lowest ever offered to radio advertisers. (Oh, you lucky advertisers.)

There isn't much news around town this week.

Special sale on postage stamps. We will not be undersold. Stamps in all the latest designs and colors, priced to sell. We have to make way for the new summer models, folks, so we're putting our entire stock on the bargain counter. We say unequivocally and without qualification that this is the best place of its kind in town. We appreciate your business and our efficient staff of smiling clerks will be glad to serve you. James M. Pile's Postoffice.

Vote "Yes" on the street car franchise proposition.

A TORRID JOKE

She was known as the town beauty, and possessed charm so unusual as to cause a great deal of comment. Her husband was insanely jealous of her and became angry if anyone so much as smiled at her.

Now it came to pass that her husband had to go out of town on a business trip. She was sitting at home alone when the front doorbell rang. She went to the door and beheld a handsome young Lothario of the town. "How do you do," the young man said, "It's a beautiful evening, isn't it?" Oh, pshaw, here comes Jim Pile and you know how he acts about letting any double-entendre jokes go through his old postoffice. Drop around when he's home for lunch and we'll sily you the rest of the story, which is really quite sensational.

Woman's Club to Build New Auditorium?

Community House Planned as Wayne Recreation Center.

Wayne's Women's club has not announced the forthcoming construction of a new community house, but there isn't much news this week, anyway, and the story has gained credence at various times during the last four or five years—so it ought to be good for at least one more writeup.

Information from a confidential source is to the effect that negotiations are being made with the Mutual Burlesque wheel, and that Wayne can be put on the regular circuit of this organization, thus insuring quality entertainment for the auditorium part of the building, the plans will go through. (Ed. Note—Through what? Reporter's note—The confidential source didn't say.)

Guyed Editor Receives Letter from Subscriber

Dear Editor Hemingway:

I think your publication, The Weekly Guyed, is just dandy. But I have often wondered why you have never published any of the red-hot hot-cha dope on the great fight which has been being waged in Wayne to receive recognition for some one of our people from James J. Farley?

Is it that you do not know that there has been a battle here for postmaster honors? Is it that you are trying to suppress an important piece of news? Or are you afraid of hurting someone's feelings? Or are your reasons mercenary?

It's the Berrys, giving us a Pile of hooey about inconsequential news when we're simply Strahangling for a little red-hot Patter, son. (Editor's note—Forgive this writer for an exhibition of the feeblest form of wit.)

Personally, I think the postmaster job should be entirely eliminated, except for the fact that such action would leave no work for the democratic central committee—and the democratic central committee gives a lot of people a chance to have their names on official stationery and a chance to think that they are of some importance in politics.

As I understand it, there are six candidates. Now, my idea would be to work the Postmaster Job like they're working in private business. Let each man work every sixth month and divide the salary among all six of them. Such a plan would do much to preserve the happiness of everybody. It would add a lot of variety to a business institution (the post-office, that has always been pretty dull. If people want to see new faces in the movies, why doesn't it stand to reason that they'd like to see new faces in the postoffice. I've got lots more good ideas if you need any.

(Editor's note—We don't.)
(Subscriber's note—Well, you don't need to be so abrupt about it.)

If the six candidates don't approve of my Man-a-Month idea, why wouldn't it be a good idea to sell the job to the highest bidder, thereby helping to balance the budget?

(Editor's note—Till bits, why wouldn't it?)

Your little friend,
A Loving Subscriber.

PLEASE! Mr. Hemingway!

"It's quite plain to see that you don't know your groceries."

Do we know our groceries? Just ask us! All our foods are full of vitamins and calories and all that sort of thing. We don't know how they got there, but they have them.

And speaking of prices! Well, we're modest, but we have to admit that we have real bargains.

Why don't you try trading here? It can't hurt.

AGAIN She Said "NO"

(Just like they always do in the advertisements.)

And he did so want a date with Minnie, the Moocher.

Luther "Kingfish" Hemingway, pictured above, didn't have B. O. He didn't have athlete's foot. He didn't even have pink tooth brush. But she always said "No."

Here's the secret. Girls like a gent what knows his hardware. And gents what know their hardware know that an occasional present, something personal like a Monarch Electric Refrigerator or a Dexter Twin-Tub washing machine, makes a whale of a difference.

Think how Minnie's face would have lit up if Luther had consulted us with his problems and had given her one of our new low-priced lawn mowers or a Monarch Electric Stove.

Girls—leave this ad laying around so that HE can see it. Maybe he'll take the hint. And you married women oughta just INSIST that your husbands bring home something from Hiscox Hardware Store at least once a week. Twice a week, if you can get away with it.

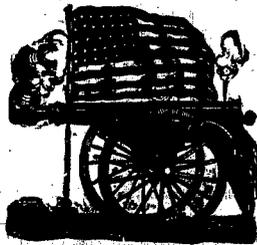

Trading at our store will suffice you with a glow of happiness. Of course, our prices are way too low, but that's your gain—and we'd rather lost money than have you say that we didn't try to please you.

A STRONG EDITORIAL

By William Randolph Zilch

We don't think that, with the legalization of beer, Wayne churches will discontinue their ice-cream socials in favor of German Biergarten festivals. We may be wrong, but we don't think so.

In the first place, local churches would not wish to compete with local business institutions. (Ed. note—How about Ladies' Aid Societies competing with newspapers? William Randolph Zilch's note—How about it?)

In the second place, beer is not yet legalized, so why waste your time reading conjectures on something that has not yet happened?

"ROADS OF NO-MAN'S LAND"

By Crank Flopping

Let me live in a house by the side of the road!

But what KIND of a road, I ask you? Do I want to live in a house by the side of a side-road? Would YOU want to live in a house by the side of a side-road? No, a thousand times, no. I want to live in a house by the side of a road that is designated as a federal highway.

"What," asks my little nephew, Ethelbert "Kingfish" Hemingway, "can you do about it?"

That shows the innocence of little children. What you gotta do if you want to live in a house by the side of a road that is designated as a federal highway—you gotta get the legislature to change the federal highway designations.

To do that, you just about have to get into the state legislature. To get into the state legislature, you gotta—but that's another story, and you probably wouldn't care to hear it, anyway.

After you get into the state legislature, all you have to do to get to live in a house by the side of the road that is designated as a federal highway is to get your Frateres in Legislatum (that's Latin) to vote with you. How do you get them to vote with you? That's easy. All you have to do is say, "I'll vote for your bill to found a home for indigent Third Ward politicians if you'll vote for my bill to let me live in a house by the side of a road that is designated as a federal highway."

A GRIPPING EDITORIAL

What Wayne needs is arterial stop signs at First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth and Ninth streets. (Change trains for points east and north.)

While we're on the subject, let's have a chocolate malted milk with whipped cream on top and a side dish of pretzels.

Let's get out and do things. (Take Al Capone, for example. You take him, we don't want him. There was a boy that got out and did things—but now he's back in again.)

Let "Forward, Never Backward" be our motto—at all times except when we are trying to get our car out of a parking space. And speaking of boys and girls! That speaking of spirits, have you been in Iowa lately. The 3.2 brew is said to be delicious.

Kindly say "I seen your ad in The Democrat's Ballyhoo section" when answering any of the advertisements.

Our Pal

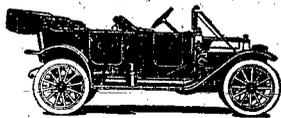

"It looks like a great year for the Democratic party," said the chairman of the Wayne county central committee when interviewed by a Weakly Guyed reporter.

"That donkey," he said, looking fondly at our pal, pictured above, "has taken a lot of hard knocks in the past few years, but he has shown marvelous staying powers. It is safe to predict that he has come back from his enforced retirement stronger than ever. He's just as big a joker as ever, and his humor is not quite so dry as it used to be. He is careful of his associates now, and it may be unqualifiedly denied that he was seen last week in the company of Andy Mellon."

The democratic chairman smiled broadly when memories of the last political campaign were brought back to him. He remembered how, during his active campaign for Roosevelt, people said to him, "Yeah, you democrats were just as confident about Al Smith and look what happened to him."

But there was a tinge of sadness to mar his happiness. As leader of the Wayne county democratic forces, he has a job with nothing to do. "Sometimes I wish there weren't so many democrats," he admitted. "It seems like there isn't much missionary work to do any more. Nobody argues about the merits of the democratic party. They all agree heartily—and that gets somewhat discouraging."

A Million Dollar Prize Contest

The Weakly Guyed is giving the beautiful new model Packillac pictured above as first prize in an extraordinary contest. Note the snappy lines of this late model, with body by special permission of the copyright owners. It has free wheeling, floating power, easy sparking and hot and cold running doorknobs. It's the nerts.
Frankly, we wanted to make this contest a lottery, but if you have anything about lotteries in your newspaper, you can't send it through the postoffice.

All you have to do is to take 20 Nebraska Democrats and paste them together in a string. Then write one word on each Democrat, making a 20-word slogan for the betterment of the community.

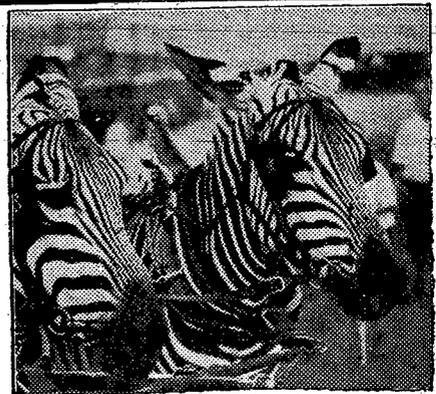

All answers must be turned in at the Weakly Guyed office by Feb. 30, 1945. No answers received after that date will be given any consideration by the judges, and very few of those received before that date will be given much consideration.

Poet Pays Tribute to Local Fire Department

Hall Burton Hemingway, one of our best advertisers, has written a little poem which is very good. Hall Burton has graciously consented to allow us to publish his little masterpiece in this issue of The Weakly Guyed, and we can't tell you how pleased we are to do it. We hope that you get as big a thrill out of it as we did, and if you don't it isn't very polite of you to mention it. Hall Burton has been writing poetry for some time; in fact, he might be referred to as one of the old masters. (No dirty cracks, Aloysius).

His little poem is a stirring tribute to the Wayne volunteer fire department:

THE BRAVE FIRE LADDIES
Oh, the brave fire laddies
Are sure hot daddies.
People who don't think so are baddies.
When their truck roars down the street we want to clap our paddies.
And how we do like to see them climb up the laddies (ouch!).
If you don't like them, you're just a bunch of maddies.

Something Good in Stripes

Word comes from Sing Sing that stripes will be very much in vogue this season—so we have them. Of course, if you want plaids, we've got them, too. Checks are good, in shirts, but not in banks. And if we don't have what you want, we'll sell you something else.

You should come in and have a fit. We'll put you in stitches—and you'll be simply nerts about our straw hats with detachable ear muffs. And are our garters snappy!

If you're troubled with B. O. (Bum Overcoats) we have some good ones, but we don't want to sell them until fall.

Wanna Look Like This? Of Course Not! Then you better drink more MILK

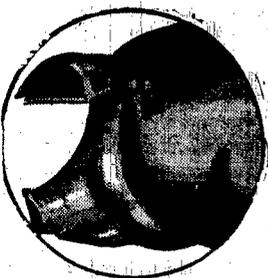

Read the sad story of Ophelia Hemingway, pictured above. "They laughed when I sat down to the dinner table," says Ophelia, "because for a beverage I used a liquid that contained harmful caffeine. It was not even dated."

"I didn't know," continues the former Follies girl, "that you gotta have milk to preserve your health and beauty. Nobody, not even mother, had ever told me about the wonderful, pasteurized Wayne Creamery milk—so rich and delicious—that puts the bloom of beauty in your cheeks and keeps it there."

Dr. R. E. Lease, our health expert, says that you oughta drink at least a gallon of our milk every day. (Personally, we think it would be twice as good if you'd drink two gallons.) That's why we sell so much stuff—that's wrapped in sellophane!
That's why you oughta trade here.
That's why we give you a line like this.

Magazines, candies, tobaccos and novelties that come from Milo Kremke's News Stand are pure and fresh as the driven snow. We positively guarantee them as being free from Pink Tooth Brush or B. O. germs, as they are all purified by special advertising rays.

You'll be simply nerfs about trading at our Wayne store—which is one unit in our gigantic chain, reaching from coast to coast. Our personal service will thrill you. Our very low prices will make you feel terribly sorry for us—but don't kid yourself, we'll make a profit on you.

"I never et a better meal" was the verdict of Heloise Hemingway, shown above, center, after eating one of our delightful meals.

Stricly high class people don't talk about prices, but our prices are so low you'll wonder how we manage. (It's a trick.)

"There's a Swell Dame"

That's what the gents say about women who patronize the French Beauty Parlor. And why shouldn't they? Customers of ours are frequently mistaken for Greta Garbo, Joan Crawford and Marlene Dietrich.

Seriously, our capable staff of beauticians and cosmetologists can give you expert work at moderate prices.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

W. C. T. U.
A Saturday night near-beer brawl will be staged by the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Amheuser "Kingfish" Blatz. Music for the occasion will be furnished by a little German band. "The Brass Rail—Insidious Promoter of Fallen Arches" will be read by Mrs. Schiltz Storz. Young Oscar Storz, her son, who arrived home yesterday from a three-months vacation at the Wayne county jail where he had been held on what Mrs. Storz says was a wholly false and unjust charge of bootlegging, has procured a brass rail for his mother to use in illustrating her talk.

Child Conservation League
The problem of better conservation of children will be discussed at a meeting of the Child Conservation League Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Eloise "Kingfish" Sproutnagle. Beer, cheese and crackers will be served and little Marybelle "Kingfish" Dinwiddie will recite "The Darling Young Man on the Flying Trap-eze" with gestures.

Cameo Club
Present plans call for a meeting of the Cameo club Friday evening, although the meeting will probably be postponed before the paper gets out. "The Cameo as compared to the Diamond" will be the topic under discussion, and Mrs. Lucifer "Kingfish" Herring will read a paper, "The Cameo Club—Jewels, Every Member."

Afternoon Tea
Just why does anyone want to go to an afternoon tea and what do they do after they get there? It's kind of a dirty trick to make you read this, because we didn't have any afternoon teas to write about—but every society column lists them, and we aren't going to be outdone.

A. A. U. W.
"I Would Rather Have Been Kicked Out of a University Than to Have Graduated from a Common College" will be the subject of an address to be given before the A. A. U. W. girls Wednesday night by Peaches "Kingfish" Stoopnagle.

EZ Card Club
Members of the EZ card club had a LouZ time at their meeting at the Montmorency "Kingfish" Minnow Tuesday night. PanZ and DalZ flowers were used for centerpieces. Games were played with much whimZ.

Fortnightly Club
The Fortnightly club only meets every two weeks, or every fortnight, from which this organization gets its name. This is the off week, so this club ain't got much news to put out.

Minerva Club
We can't think of anything to write about this organization, but we'd hate to hurt their feelings by leaving them out of the paper. Minerva Gump is the Matron Saffit.

Aitrusa Club
Aitrusa? Now what in the world do you suppose that word means? Anyway, it sounds jolly and we'll be glad to come over some time if you just send us an invitation.

Piano Recital
It's next Wednesday evening, and if you know the folks of any of the brats that are taking part, you'll probably have to go. Sure, we pity you, but we can't help laughing.

Country Club
It don't look as if there'll be any Country Club much longer, what with 3.2 beer getting so popular. But maybe Country Club will put out a 3.2 beer, themselves.

Royal Neighbors
Aren't your neighbors royal? Well, you big silly, why don't you move in to a better neighborhood?

Harmony Club
"Sweet Adeline, my Adeline!" What with beer coming back, the Harmony club has great days ahead.

Nu-Fu Club
Nu members will entertain at an afternun meeting, to which a fu guests have been invited.

Degree of Honor
Honor is comparative. Just what degree of honor do YOU possess, you old hypocrite?

Alpha Club
Alpha Beta Gamma Delta. See, we know our Greek, too. Learned it from eating in Grik ris'trunts.

Monday Club
The Monday club will meet next Wednesday.

We Have A Poetess Who Boosts Wayne

Here's a beautiful little poem turned out by Gertie Hemingway on her Coroha-Corona. Little Gertie is just six years old, and you'd never know it to read her little sonnet. Gertie's a local booster for Wayne—and that's what we like. Let's give little Gertie a great big hand:

I like living in Wayne.
Some towns give me a pain
But here we have plenty of rain.
The population includes Irish,
German, and Dane.

It is only 30 miles to an asylum for the insane.

You can get out of town by a low-priced train.

Or you can stay here and raise cane.
The busiest street is Main.
Busy, too, is Lover's Lane.

About our town I am very vain.
So is my little sister, Jane.

(Edl. Note—This is probably the louisest poem we've ever printed in 25 years, man and boy. But little Gertie Hemingway's father is one of our best advertisers, so what would you expect us to do about it?)

If you like the Weakly Guyed, tell others. If not, shut up!

BEER BILL PASSES MINUS BRYAN'S O. K.

Resubmission of Liquor Amendment Assured by House.

"I do not believe the beer bill will accomplish what its friends claim, but neither do I believe I should set myself up as a dictator if the people want beer," said Governor Charles W. Bryan when the let the 3-2 beer bill become a law Monday without his signature.

The beer bill will not go into effect until 90 days after the legislative adjourns.

Resubmission of Nebraska's constitutional provision for prohibition in the 1934 election was assured when the house Monday voted 63 to 29 for the Halpine resubmission bill. The measure had already passed the senate. It does not require the approval of the governor.

Klopping Road Bill Is Lost by Wayside

Nebraska's state legislature adjourned Wednesday without taking action on the Klopping road bill, a proposal to reroute highway No. 113. From a point three miles north of Wayne it would go straight west to highway No. 81, No. 113 at present goes west from Wayne on Seventh st., direct to Pierce.

Several Wayne business and professional men were in Lincoln Friday and Saturday, prepared to fight any last-minute attempts to get the bill through. Many local business men were strenuously opposed to the passage of the bill.

Methodists Hold Family Dinner Sunday Noon

About 150 Methodist families dined together Sunday noon in the church parlors, following the morning church services. Short talks were given by G. W. Costerisan, superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school, L. W. McNatt, K. N. Parke, and Kermit Stewart. Wilbur Porterfield sang several solos. Mrs. H. R. Best gave two readings and Mr. Stewart played several piano solos. Several people who have been members of the church for over 20 years were introduced.

You Could Not Have a Home Like This in 1929

Now Complete at a Price You Would Not Believe Possible

An Entirely NEW IDEA

Careful planning and engineering by leading manufacturers, or experts retained by them, have reduced the cost of the small home and improved its value. Never before could one own a home with less invested and with smaller maintenance bills. Each manufacturer named above has had a part in efficiently fitting his products to this plan.

The cost would have been at least 1-3 more in 1929, but one could not buy a "Key Home" then. Never before has the small house received the thought and study of fifteen leading material manufacturers.

Glass That Bends; Both Bullet and Stone Proof

Unbreakable glass is said to have been invented 2,000 years ago. An artist appeared before Tiberius with a glass cup which he dashed on the ground. It was not broken but merely dented like a piece of metal. Then he hammered the cup back into shape with a mallet. Tiberius asked if any body else knew the secret, and when the inventor answered "No," had him beheaded lest this wonderful glass should depreciate the value of gold.

Now the secret which died with its discoverer so long ago has been again revealed in Germany, where glass has been produced which neither splinters nor breaks. To test it, three adults used a long sheet of 9.50th of an inch thickness as a saw, and the glass is reported to have shown an elasticity similar to that of highly-flexible steel.

As a further test, a heavy steel ball was dropped from a height of 10 feet on the glass without leaving any impression.

Railway authorities and the motor-car trade are keenly interested in this glass, and it may be that the police will not be indifferent to it, as its general use for shop windows would tend to reduce, if not abolish, the "smash-and-grab" menace.—Tit-Bits.

Good Pup, but Got in Bad: He Ruined Guest's Teeth

A New York family had a young dog of which it was very fond. He was a good puppy, except for the fact that he would on occasion chew things he was not supposed to masticate. His worst exhibition in this line happened at the family's country place on Long Island at a time when several guests were staying over the week-end. It was warm and some of the guests left their doors ajar. In the morning the dog was discovered by a member of the family chewing on something but apparently making little headway. Examination disclosed that it was an upper plate containing the "store teeth" of a rather sensitive guest, who wished it believed that his ivory smile was all his own. There was nothing to be done. Those teeth were beyond wearing. The family could only wait in horror for their guest to wake to toothless tragedy.—Detroit News.

Marigold an Old Flower

The Tagetes marigolds are ordinarily of two kinds, the African and the French marigolds, which have been cultivated for several centuries. The French marigolds are smaller, spreading, free flowering, brown and yellow in color, and lasting all summer. The African are taller, long stemmed, large flowered and used considerably for cut-flower purposes. These colors are lemon and orange. Varieties of both kinds are visited by certain birds of the late season, and seem to furnish them with seeds as food. Most marigolds are grown from seed sown in the green house and the seedlings transplanted to open ground from flats or boxes. No other annual gets such a uniform start, nor transplants from flats to the open ground so easily.

Mink Prejudice Justified

"The prejudice against minks held by trappers appears only too well founded," says Dr. Ned Dearborn in "Food of Fur Bearing Animals in Michigan." "Unquestionably, minks kill many muskrats in winter when other warm-blooded animals are more difficult to find," he says. The mink burrows into their houses, occupies their nests, and lies in wait to kill them. An entire colony of muskrats may be destroyed or routed by a pair of these freebooters.

Lost Spud Find May Bring Growers Gold

Early Development of Peach-blow Colorado's Hope.

By C. F. Metzger, Associate Horticulturist, Colorado Agricultural College.

Colorado potato growers may increase their incomes at least $100,000 yearly within three or four years as the result of the finding and development of an almost extinct strain of potatoes known as dark red Peach-blow or Red McClure.

The lost strain that is believed to have originated 30 years ago was located on the McClure farm at Carbondale, from which it took its name. It was a sport or seedling of the Peachblow potato.

Although this potato was produced in 1908 at a farm near Carbondale, all trace of it disappeared until 1927 when the college in connection with its potato improvement program, collected 250 varieties of potatoes for comparative tests. In this collection was the dark red Peachblow. It had been obtained from a Teller county rancher.

Later the same strain of potatoes, which commands a premium of 10 to 15 cents a 100 pounds on the market because of its attractive color, was found on a farm in El Paso county and a ranch in Teller county.

Farmers' Institutes Are Crowd Bringers in Ohio

Although community funds for farmers' institutes have shrunk from $28,000 to $23,000, or 40 per cent, the total attendance or number of persons served has continued to increase, a rise of 14 per cent in the last two years, according to J. P. Schmidt, supervisor of farmers' institutes for the agricultural extension service of the Ohio State university.

Funds, he says, have decreased but requests for help are greatly increasing. Costs averaged about 3.3 cents per person attending in 1931-32, of which the state paid 2.3 cents. The total attendance was 709,353.

Institutes, which are open to any citizen in the community and which have been publicly supported since 1880, were held in all 88 Ohio counties. Wayne county, home of the Ohio agricultural experiment station, had the largest number of institutes and highest attendance in 1932, 16 institutes with a total attendance of 37,760.

Eighty-four per cent of the 89 members of the present regular farmers' institute staff, Schmidt pointed out, are farmers. The average person in this group rates as successful in some farm enterprise, college trained, or a master farmer or master homemaker.

Twenty co-operating state agencies furnish some talent at no cost or for expenses only. Among these are the state department of agriculture, the Ohio agricultural experiment station, farm organizations, state department of education, Ohio Bankers' association, state department of health, Commodity Marketing associations, and the Ohio Council of Churches.

Spray While You Prune

The home fruit grower can do much while he is pruning his trees toward lessening the number of injurious insects he will have to combat during the succeeding growing season, says a writer in the Rural New Yorker. The close inspection for this work makes it impractical for the commercial orchardist, but it is a time and labor saver for the home grower with a few trees and little spraying equipment. While pruning keep a sharp lookout for egg masses of larvae and cocoons. Among the many things to look for, the following may be mentioned: The gelatin-like masses of eggs of the tent-caterpillar, which are usually placed on small twigs; frothy egg-masses of the tussock-moth; the cocoons of the codling-moth which will be found under the loose bark of the tree trunk; pear psylla, minute insects which often hibernates under the rough bark on the trunks; twig-girdlers may be controlled by burning all twigs found on the ground.

Home-Made Brush Burner

A homemade brush burner, which will burn orchard prunings as fast as three men can pile them in, solves one common orchard problem for Clifton and Everett Derby of North Leominster, Mass. The burner is merely a large box, 10 feet by 6 feet by 3 feet deep, made of scrap iron, salvaged from old iron drums and sheet roofing, the pieces fastened together with stove bolts. Ventilation, which was found necessary to keep the brush burning, was provided by chopping a few holes in the sides with an ax. The box is mounted on skids and is pulled through the orchard by a tractor or team, while men pick up the pruned branches from under the trees and pile them in the box.

Silver Dollar of 1804 Is Rarest of American Coins

The 1804 silver dollar is the rarest of all American coins. There were some 20,000 of them minted, which seems to be a goodly number. But last year this coin was so rare it was told by George G. Evans in his "Illustrated History of the United States Mint": "The scarcity of this dollar was owing to the sinking of a Chinabound vessel having on board almost the entire mintage of 1804 dollars in lieu of Spanish milled dollars. In those days American dollars were being carried to China to compete with the Spanish dollars which circulated in that country."

The history asserts that there are not more than seven or eight genuine 1804 dollars extant, and the coin has become known as "the king of American rarities."

The originals are from but one obverse and one reverse die. A draped bust of Liberty faces right, the head bound with a fillet, the hair flowing. There are six stars before and seven behind the bust, and above it the word "Liberty." On the reverse is a heraldic eagle bearing on his breast a broad shield, in his beak a scroll with the words "E Pluribus Unum." In his right talon two arrows, and in his left an olive branch. There is an arc of clouds extending between the tips of his outstretched wings, and below this thirteen stars. This side is inscribed United States of America. The edge of the coin is lettered "one hundred cents one dollar or unit."

The best copy of this coin is in the cabinet of the United States mint. A few restrikes were made in 1858 and between 1880 and 1898. Many of these were destroyed, and dies were also, in 1893. The restrikes are also very valuable.

Asserts Ideal Bridegroom Is Man of Love Affairs

The ideal bridegroom is a man who has accumulated—and discarded—five or six love affairs, Prof. Erdman Harris of the Union Theological Seminary of New York declared.

Addressing a conference on the "ideal husband," participated in by 50 men and women students of eastern colleges, Prof. Harris said: "In studying the masculine side of marriage, I have considered 200 cases. I find that if a man can't fall in love without apologizing to his mother for it, he is not a good marriage risk."

"A man who has had sisters is a good marriage risk. "The best marriage risk is the man who has had at least a mild love affair. If he has had five or six affairs, it is better."

"It is necessary that the man have some knowledge of sex, too. "A man who is easy to room with; easy to play with, is a better risk than one who isn't."

Gasoline Vapor

One gallon of gasoline at 60 degrees F. is said to average 6.15 pounds in weight. According to Mechanical Engineer's Handbook, one pound of gasoline vapor at 62 degrees F. and at atmospheric pressure has a volume of 4.2 cubic feet. At this rate, a gallon of gasoline would produce about 25.5 cubic feet of vapor. The gas ignited in an automobile cylinder is of course a mixture of gasoline with a very large amount of air. It has been stated that if one gallon of gasoline be completely changed to vapor, it will enter the air in a room 21 by 10 by 10 feet explosive; or a quart for a room 8 by 8 by 8 feet. One authority has estimated that automobile engines are able to utilize less than 5 per cent of the tremendous energy stored up in gasoline; the other 95 per cent being either thrown away entirely or used up in friction.

Birth of American Navy

The American navy came into existence in 1775 after the close investment of Boston by Washington had cut off all supplies to the British troops, save such as might arrive by water. To intercept these, some small vessels were armed and manned by New England seamen, first under the auspices of Rhode Island and Connecticut, and afterward by authority of the congress which organized a naval committee with John Adams at its head. These little craft not only deprived the enemy of succor, but captured enough prizes to furnish the Colonial army with war material, without which it could not have continued hostilities.

Wealth Measured by Reindeer Herd

The wealth of the Laplander is measured by the number of reindeer he possesses. These animals yield to their owners milk, meat and leather which is used for making boots, clothing, tents and boats, and the skins of the reindeer are used as rope. As a pack animal the reindeer has at least one advantage over the use of dogs; the reindeer finds its food where it rests, but the driver of a dog team must take food for his dogs along with him.

Land-Grabbing

Washington, D. C. was created from a swamp by a group of men which included Jefferson and Washington sold off city lots covered with woods and corn fields; Patrick Henry had a hand in the Georgia land frauds; Benjamin Franklin took a flier in real estate and lost; Robert Morris made paper profits by the millions and ended in a debtor's prison—all this in the history of land-grabbing.

Says Mars Is Drying Up Same Way Our Moon Did

If any plant or creature lives on Mars, it must be quite different from the things on earth, observes a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"The nights are very cold, as low in temperature as 11 degrees below zero and breathing is difficult because the air is rare. And there is a scarcity of water, which we would find quite unbearable."

More than that, we'd probably feel very giddy. There is no strong pull of gravity on Mars, like that on earth, which holds us firmly and steadily down on the ground. A hop and a skip on Mars, and one would be soaring up in the air, and sailing smoothly down again.

By the help of telescopes, which project our sight thousands of miles past the limits of our eyes, scientists have seen a network of what seem to be canals on Mars. And some men have believed that this may be proof that people have built them. Others say the canals are really marshes which are flooded with water when the ice at the polar regions of Mars melts, and which dry up when it freezes again. This, they say, makes the network look different at different seasons.

Mars is not so near the sun as the earth is, and it is a small planet. Sometimes as the planets swing around the sun, it comes fairly near the earth—within 35,000,000 miles, but usually it is more than 60,000,000 miles away from us.

Gradually Mars is drying up. In much the same way as our moon did, and in a few million years it will probably be too dry and too cold for anything possibly to live on its surface.

Shows Genius Occurs in Two or More Generations

A study of books dealing with the subjects of genius and heredity such as Ribot's "Heredity" will show numerous cases of genius occurring in two or more generations. Doctor Saleeby in his "Hereditary and Race Culture" says:

"It is impossible to question that the hereditary transmission of genius or great talent does occur," and he quotes the Bach family, the Arnolds, the Mills and others as examples. Dr. Paul Kammerer in his "The Inheritance of Acquired Characteristics" states: "Genius can be acquired, but hardly by one individual and within the course of one generation. And genius is hereditary, though probably not without the contributory co-operation of the environment—it is necessary that favorable conditions of heritage and environment meet, in order to make possible the great achievements in which genius manifests itself to our eyes. The necessity of such a combination explains the rarity of recognized genius, and also the fact that many more unrecognized geniuses than we dream of tread the soil of our planet." Doctor Kammerer mentions five of the important obstacles to the inheritance of genius and adds that with the obstacles removed, the law of inheritance will once more assert itself.

Payment of Interest

The Encyclopedia of Social Sciences says: "In the Middle Ages the prohibition (upon interest) was grounded on religious and ethical principles. A loan was usually made under stress of special need for consumption purposes, and it was considered that to exact interest under such circumstances was to take advantage of a brother's need. Indeed it was admitted a compromise with strict Christian tenets to require repayment of the principal. The doctrinal basis of the opposition to interest was found in the concept of objective value, any departure from which was looked upon as unjust. It was argued that no value could attach to the use of a consumptible good separate from a good itself, and money was regarded as consumptible because it could be used only by parting with it. Another argument was directed against the payment for time, over which no man could claim ownership."

Country Set to Music

The country that Mozart set to music is all that region of Austria which runs from Salzburg, through the Salzkammergut and about Bad Gastein. Approaching from Hof Gastein, the Hohe Tauern mountains hurl themselves dramatically against the sky, and if it were not for some four or five palatial hotels jutting out beside the ravine, you would say that it was a wild and lovely mountain village. There one of the most famous cascades of Europe, the boiling River Ache, throws itself with violence into the valley nearly 500 feet below. The beautiful lakes of the Salzkammergut and such villages as Trauerkirchen make the region unique in beauty.

"Cheater"

Under English feudal law all land reverted to the crown if in default of heirs—in other words, it escheated (from the Latin escheatere—to fall away). And the officers who had charge of the interests of the crown in matters of land that should so pass to the king were called "escheators." There is food for the honesty of those men whose name came to be synonymous with "thief."

Statue Regulates Opening

Birmingham, Ala., harks back to the day of the mule and wagon twice each year, with opening of Circuit court at 11 a. m. on the convening day. The law was meant to give residents of remote sections time to reach the courthouse.

Farm Teaching in School Is Favored

Authority Says Education Is for Good of Masses.

From New York State College of Agriculture.—WNU Service.

Dr. R. M. Steward of Cornell university deplored the trend toward book teaching and defended the old principle of "learning to do by doing," in addressing the agricultural section of the American vocational association. "I cannot become enthusiastic about such a school problem as pruning an apple tree without having an apple tree. To make the problem difficult, vague, and indefinite adds no merit to teaching; the boy may learn about pruning without having an apple tree to prune, but only with extra effort. Real situations have more influence and beget a better type of thinking," he says.

He upholds the teaching of vocational agriculture, or special training, although he agrees that education should be designed for the good of the masses and not for individuals to "outstrip" their neighbors. However, until society takes a much different attitude on training lawyers, physicians, dentists, and other individual "out-strippers," agriculture is not yet doing violence to that principle. A high school course in agriculture, properly organized, provides the best means of a general education possible for many rural communities. Agricultural training may be called special, but the group of agricultural vocations touch life at every point and lend themselves better to human and social influences than any similarly related group of vocations.

Vocational education has no quarrel with general education; each has too much to offer the other and the sixteen years' experience of vocational training has contributed much to the general education field, he says.

"If we begin with the general, as we probably do, it remains barren and futile until vitalized by special experiences. If we begin with the special, as we probably do not, we shall soon discover that the principles from which fundamental values of life arise, are the same principles that other types of special education come to recognize. It is then the business of vocational education to check periodically its fundamental purposes, points of view, methods, and results with general education, of which it is an integral part, to find the common bases of mutual help."

Illinois Fruit Growers Thinning Out Orchards

Intent upon reducing wastes and losses and producing more economically, 25 southern Illinois fruit growers thinned 11,500 trees from their orchards the past year, according to reports collected by R. S. Marsh, horticultural extension specialist of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois. These same growers have almost 2,000 more trees labeled for removal during the coming year.

Growers throughout the state are taking up the tree thinning and culling campaign which the extension service of the agricultural college is conducting.

Thinning out crowded trees, even in well-cared for orchards, is held to be particularly essential at this time if growers are to wage a successful fight against the growing menace of insects and diseases and thereby reduce wastes and losses and keep down production costs. Even more important is the culling out of more than 900,000 apple trees in neglected orchards.

Best Handling of Manure

If manure is left in the stall or feed yards where it will be kept moist and thoroughly tramped, so as to exclude air, there is no better method of storing. Some of the liquid manure may be lost when earth floors are used and it may be economical to provide concrete floors to prevent this loss. This method of handling manure is advisable mainly where well-bedded stalls are provided for horses, and in cattle sheds or mule barns where the animals run loose and the tramping is very thorough. "It is best to have a system of cropping so that a place to scatter manure will be available during most of the year. This will avoid the necessity for storing any great amount of it about the farm. Thus, in a rotation of corn, oats, wheat, and clover, the manure would usually be applied to the clover sod and plowed under for corn.—Missouri Farmer.

Ohio Ton Litter Club

Nine 4-H club youngsters have become members of the Ohio Ton Litter club. Each litter of pigs raised by six of the nine boys attained a weight of 2,300 pounds within 130 days from the time of farrowing. The best record was made by a young man who fed a litter of 12 Poland Chinas to a weight of 2,818 pounds.

See Wheat Immune From Rust Injury

Experiments by Specialists Indicate Old Trouble Is Inherited.

Prepared by United States Department of Agriculture.—WNU Service.

Wheat breeders of the department are a step nearer their goal of producing rust-immune spring wheats. Several years of intensive experiments by department workers at the Northern Great Plains Field station at Mandan and the Langdon substation at Langdon, N. D., proved almost conclusively that near-immunity from stem rust is a plant character definitely inherited in wheat crosses.

The recent results were reported by J. Allen Clark and H. B. Humphrey of the division of cereal crops and diseases at the annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy held in Washington.

This principle is significant both for wheat breeders and wheat farmers. The breeders are convinced that there is such a character as near-immunity from rust in wheat which is inherited in a different manner than the character of resistance. They have a long way to go before they can breed this near-immunity in all wheat sown by farmers, for they must cross near-immune varieties with resistant and susceptible ones that have all the other desirable characters such as high yield, good milling and baking quality, resistance to hot weather, drought, and diseases other than rust. However, the knowledge that near-immunity is a hereditary character, and not merely a growth or plant condition is of tremendous importance in wheat improvement.

In the early experiments to produce rust-resistant wheats, breeders crossed common and durum varieties. Most of these crosses were sterile, but when they grew and were rust-resistant they were like the durum parent. Discovery of resistance in Koto common wheat in 1910 removed these difficulties. This resistance was a step forward but it was not sufficient to eliminate all possibility of loss.

In the first experiments, crosses of hope with marquis and reliance behaved similarly. The first plants grown from the cross had only a trace of rust. In the second generation the plants grown from the seed of the first crop varied, some being nearly immune from rust, some resistant, and some susceptible, but it was evident that the population tended toward near-immunity. In the third generation, about 25 per cent of the strains bred true for near-immunity, but only about 6 per cent bred true for susceptibility. There were also true-breeding resistant strains like Ceres and segregating strains.

In these wheat-breeding experiments, the government scientists delve deep into the genetic factors governing the near-immune, resistant, and susceptible reactions of wheat. The interpreter their results in genetic language by saying that hope has a single dominant inhibiting factor for near-immunity, that marquis and reliance have a major dominant factor of susceptibility, that Koto carries both of these dominant factors, and that the resistant genes is represented by the double recessives.

Only Beginning Is Made in Developing Soybeans

Only a beginning has been made in developing the full possibilities of the soybean, that versatile crop which last year was a two-million-dollar crop for Illinois farmers and which had a farm value of almost seven million dollars in 1930, according to a bulletin, "Genetics and Breeding in the Improvement of the Soybean," issued by the experiment station of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois. C. M. Woodworth, chief in plant genetics at the University of Illinois agricultural experiment station, is author of the bulletin. The work is a product of the state which leads all others in commercial soybean production and which in 1931 produced more than 40 per cent of the country's total threshed crop. The 1931 Illinois crop totaled 6,055,000 bushels.

The bulletin brings together the essential information on soybean genetics available at the present time, discusses the principles of breeding that are applicable to soybean improvement and reviews the results of investigations at Illinois and other institutions with a view to improving the crop in certain special features.

An Iceless "Icebox" Can Be Easily Made at Home

An efficient refrigerating box to be used without ice can be constructed of a small quantity of lumber, screen wire, burlap and pans. In places where ice is not available it is quite efficient. The construction is simple, the framework of the box being constructed of small wood, such as 1 x 2 pine. The sides were left open, being covered only with screen wire, but the top is made of solid wood. One side is used for a door. On the top of the refrigerator a pan of water is placed.

Four strips of burlap are required, of sufficient length to reach from the pan of water on top to another pan kept under the refrigerator. Their strips are soaked in water and then placed in position. The box is located in a position where it is in the path of a breeze, and the evaporation of the water follows, the evaporating action serving to chill the interior of the box.—Washington Star.

New Fertilizer to Use Ammonia, Peat

U.S. Chemists Say Manufacturing Process Simple and Inexpensive.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.—WNU Service.)

Ammoniated peat, a new fertilizer material, has been developed in the laboratories of the Department of Agriculture. It seems to combine many of the good features of the two familiar types of nitrogen-carrying fertilizers. It has not been developed commercially yet, but chemists of the department say that the manufacturing process is simple and relatively inexpensive and that the commercial production of ammoniated peat offers opportunity for material saving in freight on fertilizers. Small scale experiments with plants have given promising results.

By heating ammonia and peat under pressure, about two-thirds of the reacting ammonia is changed to chemical combinations that are not soluble in water. These forms are generally similar to the nitrogenous fertilizer materials in cottonseed meal and animal tankage. Roughly a third of the ammonia remains in water-soluble forms. Depending on temperature, the peat may be ammoniated to contain up to 20 per cent of nitrogen. A 20 per cent product would thus contain in each hundred pounds nearly half as much quick-acting nitrogen as 100 pounds of sodium nitrate and would at the same time contain about twice as much slower-acting nitrogen as 100 pounds of cottonseed meal. In other words, 100 pounds of 20 per cent ammoniated peat would be roughly equivalent to 200 pounds of cottonseed meal plus 50 pounds of sodium nitrate. The product could be shipped with notable savings in freight, and with notable advantage in combining the good features of both the slow-acting and the quick-acting nitrogen carriers. Raw peat is of relatively little value as a nutritive ingredient in fertilizer, but is recognized as a highly desirable element in mixed fertilizers because of its value as a conditioner and because it supplies to the soil a desirable form of organic matter.

May Find Corn That Will Withstand Heat and Cold

Some strains of yellow dent corn that are resistant to cold will also withstand more heat than corn that is not cold-resistant, the United States Department of Agriculture announces. The resistance to both heat and cold is due to the higher proportion of bound water in the corn plant, the department says.

The experimenting indicating the heat-resistant quality of corn were made in co-operation with the Illinois agricultural experiment station.

The soil specialists give the water in the white of an egg as an example of bound water, while that in a sponge is free water. Bound water forms a part of the plant. Plants high in bound water resist heat damage because the heat can not draw so much of the moisture from the plant and it can thus endure more heat. In cold weather the cold can not so easily freeze the water in the plant into ice crystals, thus breaking up the cell structures. Bound water thus accounts for both heat and cold resistance.

The experiments showed that heat-resistant plants increased their bound water capacity with successive heat and drought spells. They also found that if the heat came on gradually the corn was hardened to it and held more bound water and withstood more heat. Although the heat-resistance and cold-resistance studies are several steps ahead of the general farmer, the department points out that the discovery means that eventually improved strains of corn will be produced that will tend to resist heat as well as cold.

Cow Breaks Fat Record

Trixy Ormsby Beets, a senior four-year-old registered Holstein, bred and owned by R. E. Eddy, Poulitney, Vt., is the new national leader for yearly butterfat production on twice-a-day milking for her age class, according to the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. She is credited with a yield of 819.9 pounds fat and 24,324.6 pounds milk. This is equal to the yield of 45 average dairy cows and her average daily milk yield was 31 quarts. With this record "Trixy" displaces Korndyke Netherland Star De Kol, whose production was 781.2 pounds fat and 19,379.2 pounds milk. The sire of "Trixy" is Ormsby Sensation forty-fifth, who has 16 daughters admitted to Advanced Registry, two of which have topped 800 pounds fat in Class C. Trixy Hengerveld Beets is her mother.

Watering Farm Trees

This question cannot be answered specifically for all soil types. An examination of the soil with a soil auger is the most reliable method to use in determining when trees should be watered. It is advisable to water trees before they show signs of moisture deficiency. Applied generally to southern Idaho, farm woods and windbreaks thrive best on from four to seven waterings. Some woodlots have done well without irrigation water after July 1.—Extension Forester.

Thursday (May 15)

Methodist Aid meets with Mrs. Earl Merchant. Meeting is a week early because of Commencement activities at the State Teachers college.

St. Mary's Guild and Study group meeting, postponed from May 11, will be with Mrs. Charles Adcock and Mrs. Norbert Brugger in the Adcock home.

Rural Home society meets with Mrs. W. H. Neely.

Evangelical Theophilus Aid meets with Mrs. Henry Barellman. Mrs. H. S. Ringland and Mrs. H. B. Jones entertain Bidorbi members at one o'clock bridge luncheon.

Party Announces Engagement

The engagement and approaching marriage on June 1 of Miss Mildred Ross-of-Wakefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ross of Wayne, and A. E. Olson of Chicago was announced Saturday evening when Mrs. Ross entertained at her home. Guests were Miss Mildred Munterson of Elgin, Miss Margaret Munterson of Norfolk, Miss Janice Lehnhoff, Miss Bonnie Rogers, Miss Alice Keach, Miss Lila Johnson, Miss Eva Johnson, Miss Dorothy Spahr and Miss Stella Ogan of Wakefield, Miss Ardath Glidersleeve of Chicago, Mrs. P. E. Ross of Dixon, Miss Mary Lewis of Plainville, Miss Maude Curley, Mrs. Melvin Wert, Miss Ruth Ross and Miss Dorothy Ross. Bridge was played at four tables during the evening, high score prize going to Miss Lehnhoff. Miss Ross' chosen colors of orchid and yellow were used in flowers and table appointments for the lunch which was served at the close of the evening. Announcement of the engagement was found in a wee envelope hidden in a corsage given to each guest as a favor.

With Mrs. Stambaugh

Home Missionary society of the Methodist church met last Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Robert Stambaugh. Mrs. I. B. Ellis and Mrs. L. A. Fenske were assistant hostesses. The meeting opened with singing of "Jesus is All the World to Me," after which Mrs. H. C. Caspary led devotions, her subject being, "Jesus, the Great Physician." After prayer and singing of "Open My Eyes That I May See," Mrs. W. C. Andrews led the lesson on "The Victory, the Development of Science and Medicine." Mrs. Caspary read a short play, "Christina Columbus Discovers America." Election of officers for next year resulted as follows: president, Mrs. Andrews; vice president, Mrs. C. E. Wright; secretary, Mrs. C. O. Mitchell; treasurer, Mrs. R. Bosterfeld; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. W. Ross; mite box secretary, Mrs. Clyde Omas; Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Porterfeld and Mrs. Ross were re-elected. The hostesses served refreshments at the close. Next meeting is June 1 with Mrs. Henry Preston.

"Hard Time" Party

P. N. G. members met at the I. O. O. F. hall Tuesday afternoon for a "hard time" party in charge of Mrs. John Groskurth and Mrs. I. B. Ellis. There were four guests, Mrs. L. E. Panabaker, Mrs. John Dennis, Mrs. George Bornhoff and Mrs. Ethyl Lutz. Women were dressed appropriately, and entertainment was in the form of contests. Mrs. Dennis won a kitchen contest and Mrs. Harry McMillan won a garden contest. At a short business meeting the following officers were elected for next year: president, Mrs. Groskurth; vice president, Mrs. Alex Jeffrey; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Walter Phipps. Covered-dish luncheon was served at the close of the afternoon. Next meeting will be in September.

Club Changes Name

Child Conservation League met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Frank Koff, Mrs. J. H. Pile and Mrs. C. J. Shuck in the Koff home. There were three guests, Mrs. F. A. Mildner, Mrs. Alvina Koff and Mrs. George Brewster. New members were Mrs. Lyle Gamble, Mrs. Wm. Bond and Mrs. Norbert Brugger. At a business meeting name of the club was changed to Child Study club. Officers for next year were elected as follows: president, Mrs. C. E. Nicholaisen; vice president, Mrs. Koff; secretary, Mrs. Shuck; literary correspondent, Mrs. Clarence Sorenson. Papers were read by Mrs. Gamble, Mrs. Glenn McCay and Mrs. Carl Nuss. The hostesses served at the close of the meeting.

Keyser Recital

Piano pupils of Mrs. Grace Dickson Keyser appeared in a recital last Wednesday evening at her residence studio before an audience of 65 or 70 people. Performers drew for places on the program. Those taking part were: Evelyn Auker, Dorothy Baird, Lena Hageman, Jean Mines, Betty Hawkins, Verba Berry, Barbara Hook, Patricia Jean Gordon, Margaret Mau, Marjorie Reuter, Dorothy Reuter, Bob Merchant, Mattie Seace, Dorothy Jean Casper, Ruth Lundberg, Marjorie Hook, Marcella Freyert, Deborah Frovert, Evelyn Noakes, Nancy Mines, Betty Jean Roberts, Betty Blair, Geraldine Gamble, William Orr, Carroll Orr, Jr., and Neva Jones.

Coterie Club "Brunch"

Mrs. Edna Davis, Mrs. Wm. Mellor and Mrs. R. W. Casper entertained the Coterie club and two guests, Mrs. H. R. Best and Mrs. Clarence L. Wright at eleven o'clock "brunch" in the Davis home Monday. The meal was served at four small tables made attractive with pink sweet peas. Bridge was diversion for the afternoon, prizes going to Mrs. Wright, Mrs. F. S. Morgan and Mrs. Best. Early in the afternoon the club was surprised by a call from the U. D. club which held an all-day meeting in the home of Mrs. Jessie Reynolds. Next meeting is to be in October.

Bidorbi Luncheon

Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mrs. H. J. Felber and Mrs. J. E. Hufford entertained Bidorbi club members and two guests, Mrs. A. A. Welch and Mrs. R. J. Reister, at one o'clock luncheon in the Jones home last Thursday. Bouquets of tulips and bluebells were used on the tables and about the house. Contract bridge was diversion for the afternoon, high score being won by Mrs. C. H. Fisher. Mrs. C. M. Craven holds high score for the series. Last meeting of the year will be May 18 when Mrs. M. B. Jones and Mrs. H. S. Ringland entertain in the Jones home.

Harrington Piano Recital

Pupils of Mrs. Paul Harrington presented a recital of solo and duet numbers at her home studio Saturday before an audience of parents and friends. A musical game was a feature. Those taking part in the recital were Lyle Seymour, Billie Seymour, Dorothy Smolksy, Evelyn Sorenson, Paul Harrington, Madeline McClusky, Nona Jane Hall, John Harrington, Carol Jean Nicholaisen, Barbara Felber, Nan Nicholaisen, Catherine Cavanaugh and Marguerite Ehnung.

Circle Meeting

Mrs. G. W. Costerisan, Mrs. H. D. Griffin and Mrs. J. R. Keith entertained women of Circle 3 of Methodist Aid Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. L. A. Fenske was a guest. Mrs. H. R. Best had charge of a musical program. Mrs. D. S. DeWolf played piano numbers, and Mrs. Best conducted music contests of old songs. Mrs. R. J. Reister and Mrs. Costerisan won prizes. Mrs. Keith presented vocal solos and Miss Cynthia Fraser played piano selections.

U. D. Election

Members of the U. D. club and one guest, Mrs. J. O. Wentworth, met with Mrs. Jessie Reynolds for nine o'clock breakfast Monday. After the two-course morning meal officers were elected for next year as follows: president, Mrs. Rollie W. Ley; vice president, Mrs. H. S. Ringland; secretary, Mrs. C. M. Craven; treasurer, Mrs. H. B. Jones. Luncheon was served at two o'clock after a day spent socially. Next meeting is to be in October.

Junior Study Club Meets

Junior Catholic Study club met Tuesday evening with Miss Mary Esther Perdue. Roll call was answered with current events, after which the following reports were given: "The Legend of the Holy Grail," Miss Helen Nuss; "The Altar in the Old Testament," Miss Eulalie Brugger. A social hour followed, after which the hostess served. Miss Helen Thielman will be study leader at the next meeting, date of which is indefinite.

Altrusa Luncheon

Altrusa club members met Monday for one o'clock luncheon with Mrs. Elmer Noakes. At a brief business meeting following officers for next year were elected as follows: president, Mrs. Earl Merchant, vice president, Mrs. A. C. Norton; secretary, Mrs. Faye Strahan; treasurer, Mrs. Esther Thompson. Bridge was diversion during the afternoon. The club adjourned for summer recess, with next meeting falling in October.

Neihardt Dance

Thirty couples attended the spring dance given Friday evening by women students of Neihardt hall in the recreation room. Vine-covered lattice work, flowers, lawn furniture and softly shaded lamps transformed the room into a spring garden. Music was furnished by a three-piece orchestra. Mrs. Ilda Holmes, preceptress, and Mrs. Mamie Coyle were chaperones. Punch was served throughout the evening.

With Mrs. Hiscoc

Circle 2 of Methodist Aid held its final meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon in the W. A. Hiscoc home when Mrs. Hiscoc and Mrs. C. E. Wright were hostesses. Mrs. C. W. Brown and Mrs. L. M. Owen were guests. After a short business session there were a social hour. Roll call was answered with Mothers' Day quotations, and the hostesses served refreshments.

Alpha Club Kensington

Mrs. C. W. Hiscoc, Mrs. B. W. Wright and Mrs. D. Hall entertained Alpha club members and four guests, Mrs. Wm. Watson, Mrs. Charles White, Mrs. Myrick Sublette and Mrs. Mary Brittain, at Kensington in the Hiscoc home Monday afternoon. At the close of the afternoon two-course lunch was served at small tables made attractive with bouquets of tulips. Next meeting of the club will be in the fall.

O. E. S. Kensington

Mrs. C. T. Ingham, Mrs. Willis Noakes, Mrs. Adelaide McEachen and Mrs. C. E. Wilson entertained women of the Order of Eastern Star at Kensington in the Ingham home Friday afternoon. A quilt was completed and will be sent to the home at Fremont. The hostesses served. Next meeting will be June 2 with Mrs. Wm. Beckenhauer, Misses Faye and Pauline Beckenhauer and Mrs. Willard Wiltze.

Y. W. C. A. "Retreat"

Members of the retiring Y. W. C. A. cabinet, newly elected members and Y. W. C. A. sponsors, Mrs. G. W. Costerisan, Miss Marie Hove and Miss Mildred Piper, went to the Country club house Saturday for their annual "retreat." The group prepared breakfast there, and also two other meals, returning to town late in the evening after a day of discussion and planning.

Nu-Fu Bridge Meeting

Mrs. P. L. March entertained Nu-Fu club members and one guest, Mrs. John C. Carhart, Wednesday afternoon at bridge. The hostess won high score. Plans were made for a one o'clock bridge luncheon on Monday to honor mothers. Mrs. Burr Davis, Mrs. C. C. Stirtz and Miss Elsie Mae Carhart are to be hostesses for this.

With Mrs. Phillips

Central Social Circle met last Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Elmer Phillips for round table discussion on "Mothers' Rights." Mrs. John Grier, who was lesson leader, read a paper on "The Glory of Motherhood." The hostess served at the close of the afternoon. Next meeting will be June 1 with Mrs. Claude Bailey when Mrs. Roe will be lesson leader.

For W. O. Hanssens

About 40 attended a party given Friday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall for Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hanssens of Los Angeles, Calif., by members of the I. O. O. F., Rebekah and Royal Neighbor lodges. Five hundred was diversion for the evening, and Mr. Hanssens received traveling prizes. Covered dish supper was served late in the evening.

Nu-Deal Meeting

Nu-Deal card club met Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Quinn. There were three guests, Miss Dorothy and Harold Winterstein and Miss Nina Carter, the last of Norfolk. Five hundred was diversion for the evening, high scores going to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Meyer. The hostess served at the close of the meeting. Next meeting will be May 20.

Presbyterian Missionary Society

Mrs. A. A. Welch entertained the Presbyterian Missionary society on Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Will Roe, Mrs. John Harrington and Mrs. J. G. Mines assisted as hostesses. Mrs. T. T. Jones was lesson leader and Mrs. Mae Young had charge of devotions. The hostesses served at the close of the meeting.

Bible Class

Young Peoples Bible class met Friday evening in the E. B. Young home to hear a chalk talk on "The Cross" by Mrs. L. W. Kratavil. Miss Doris Howarth of Norfolk sang "Beneath the Cross of Jesus." Next meeting will be Friday in the Young home when college students will have charge of the lesson.

Light Brigade Meeting

About 17 members of St. Paul Lutheran Light Brigade met Saturday afternoon in the church basement with Mrs. J. W. Groskurth in charge of the Little Lights. This group had charge of an Indian lace program at Sunday school the following day. Women of the Missionary society furnished the surprise.

Farewell for Soden Girls

Mrs. H. H. Hanscom, assisted by Miss Irene Dawes, entertained members of the Baptist World Wide Guild at a farewell party for the Misses Mildred and Helen Soden, who will move to Wisner to make their home. Games occupied the evening, after which refreshments were served.

Newman Club Breakfast

Newman club of Wayne State Teachers college held its annual breakfast at seven o'clock Wednesday morning at the Palace cafe. All attended 6:30 mass at St. Mary's Catholic church before the meal. Prof. E. J. Huntemer is club sponsor.

Nu-Fu Dinner

Nu-Fu members, with Dr. and Mrs. Paul Siman as guests, met last Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. P. L. March for no-host dinner. Sweet peas were used on the dinner table. Bridge was diversion for the evening. There were three tables in play.

Miss Conklyn Entertains

Miss Enid Conklyn entertained 14 guests at bridge Friday evening at her home. Three tables were formed for the game, score prizes being won by Mrs. J. R. Keith and Dr. Myrick Sublette. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Dinner at Sprague's

Four families went to the Shirley Sprague home Friday evening for seven o'clock covered dish dinner followed by a social evening. In the group were the Walter Bressler, H. H. Hanscom, Carlos Martin and G. A. Wade families.

Dinner Bridge

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hufford entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Horney and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Seace at dinner, followed by bridge, Friday evening. Mrs. Seace holds high score for the series of meetings.

For Billie Orr

On the occasion of Billie Orr's eighth birthday Friday his mother, Mrs. C. A. Orr, entertained 16 small boys at their home after school. The time was spent playing games, after which a birthday lunch was served.

For Mrs. Hanssen

Mrs. J. H. Foster entertained four ladies at afternoon tea Saturday for Mrs. W. O. Hanssen of Los Angeles, Calif., a former resident. The time was spent in visiting after which light refreshments were served.

With Mrs. Kunz

Our Redeemer's Evangelical Lutheran Aid met last Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Ludolph Kunz. There were five guests. After the usual meeting, the hostess served refreshments. Next meeting is June 1.

For Miss Conklyn

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Smith entertained at dinner Sunday to honor Miss Enid Conklyn on the occasion of her birthday. Guests were Miss Conklyn, Mrs. Elvira Easton and Prof. and Mrs. J. R. Keith.

Entertain Saturday Evening

Miss Esther R. Dewitz and Mrs. A. M. C. Dewitz entertained Mrs. Clara Heylman and son, Robert, and Miss Anna McNair Saturday evening. Cards was diversion, and the hostesses served refreshments.

For John Brugger, Jr.

Mrs. Norbert Brugger entertained ten relatives Monday evening for her brother-in-law, John Brugger, Jr., whose 16th birthday was that day. The group enjoyed a social evening.

O. E. S. Meeting

Order of Eastern Star met Monday evening in the Masonic lodge rooms to conduct routine work.

Wayne will have a junior baseball team this year if plans of the American Legion, formulated at a meeting on Wednesday evening, May 3, are successful. Paul Mines, who has had charge of the Junior Legion team in years past, will again be chairman of the project.
