Wayne Man Dies After Operation

J. J. Gildersleeve, Veteran Teacher, Buried Tuesday In Minnesota Town

Funeral services were held Tuesday, November 13, at Pleasant Grove, Minn., for J. J. Gildersleeve of Wayne, who died Saturday, November 10, at 5 p. m. in a Wayne hospital after having undergone a major operation six days earlier. Burial was at Pleasant Grove, where the Masonic lodge had charge of graveside rites.

Jonathan James Gildersleeve, son of Moses and Eliza Gildersleeve, was born at St. Charles, Ill., on August 10, 1855. He died at Wayne on November 10, 1934, aged 79 years and three months. In 1869 he moved with his parents to Ringold, Iowa, where he grew to manhood.

He was married August 17, 1876, to Mary Stringer, who passed away September 9, 1883. To this union were born four children. On July 4, 1887, he was married at Wayne to Ella Harrington, who died October 26, 1919, at Rochester, Minn. Four children were born to this union.

In early life Mr. Gildersleeve united with the Methodist church and had been a faithful member ever since. He was a member of the Masonic lodge at Pleasant Grove, Minn.

At the age of 15 years, he began teaching school and taught most of his life, carrying on the work in Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota and South Dakota. He was superintendent of Wayne county schools in the early nineties and county superintendent of Aitkin county, Minnesota, shortly after 1900.

Two children, Leonard and Fay, preceded their father in death. Surviving Mr. Gildersleeve are six children, Mrs. Grace Geer of Stewartville, Minn., J. W. Gildersleeve of Hill City, Minn., Abram Gildersleeve of Wayne, Mrs. Lura Knott of Lebanon, S. D., Leslie Gildersleeve of Tahoka, Texas, and Mrs. Mabel Smith of Los Angeles, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. D. E. McAninch of Swatara, Minn.; four brothers, Will H., Charles E., L. C. and Gene, all of Wayne; twenty-one grandchildren and sixteen great grandchildren.

Abram Gildersleeve and Willard Wiltse drove to Pleasant Grove with the body.

Local Red Cross Drive Under Way

Local Volunteers Making House-to-House Calls In Campaign

Red Cross roll call drive got under way Monday in all parts of Wayne county, according to Sup't H. R. Best, roll call chairman. A complete canvass of the county is being effected by a large corps of workers.

Mrs. A. T. Chapin has charge of the drive in Winside, and Mrs. Charles Jiraneck, as president of the Carroll Woman's club, is heading the work in that town. Directors of school districts have been mailed material and directions for work in each of the 82 rural districts.

J. R. Miller, president of the Wayne Young-Business Men's club, is directing club members in a campaign on Main street in Wayne. Mrs. E. W. Huse and Mrs. Rollie W. Ley, who have charge of roll call in the remainder of Wayne, are being assisted by Mesdames E. J. Huntmer, J. C. Johnson, P. N. Hancock, L. W. McNatt, L. W. Vath, C. E. Carhart, Fred S. Berry, E. R. Love, A. L. Jacobsen, Willard Wiltse, R. K. Kirkman, L. E. Brown, Burr Davis and Ralph Crockett.

The local campaign is part of a nation-wide roll call drive which is taking place between Armistice day and Thanksgiving.

Rehearsing for Messiah
About 75 persons turned out last Thursday at the college auditorium for a rehearsal of "The Messiah," oratorio which will be presented December 16 in the college auditorium under the auspices of the Wayne Business and Professional Woman's club. A similar number rehearsed Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church. Kermit C. Stewart, director, plans practices tonight at the college and Sunday at the Methodist church.

Pilger Team Teaches Locals Gridmanship In 53-0 Engagement

Wayne high school resumed football relations with Pilger after a two-weeks interval of peace and quiet and found themselves last Friday afternoon snowed under by a barrage of eight touchdowns and five extra points, which, if my mathematics are correct will add up to 53 points.

The Pilger team had little difficulty in disposing of the local high school, being master in every department of the game. The Pilger team barged up and down the field, running helter and skelter, but usually in the direction of the goal line, throwing lateral and forwards with reckless abandon until they fairly had the Wayne boys dizzy. About the only thing the Wayne team got from the game was a few bruises, much worthwhile experience, and a feeling that next year the tables will be turned.

Wayne will journey out of town again at Randolph next Friday, again for a game at Randolph next Friday. Randolph has a good ball club, but the Wayne club will endeavor to bring home the well-known bacon.

Local Men Stage Act Without Net

Ben Carhart Comes to Aid of Pal Who Had Shouted "Wolf"

People laugh today about old Sir Isaac Newton cutting two holes in the wall of his study, one large and one small, so that a mother cat and her kitten might go in and out at will. Well, this one about Newton has very little if anything to do with our story but just the same we feel that a little yarn we picked up the other day has its merits and maybe you can see the connection if any.

Anyway it seems that persons living in that quiet, unmolested and exclusive portion of the city which lies on the hill were wondering what sort of dog and pony show Fred Blair and Ben Carhart were staging Monday night. Well, the secret's out, gentlemen, and we hope your faces don't get as red as ours would under similar circumstances, but let us be on our way.

It seems that Fred, who is known as one of Wayne's prominent clubmen, had taken his family to the Kiwanis dinner Monday evening and on his arrival home found that he did not have his key, so-o-o-o, returned to the store where he felt confident he might find the little rascal, only to discover it was not there either.

It was just at this point in his reasoning he decided to enlist the services of one of his neighbors whom, for the sake of convenience, we shall call "Picklock Home" of Carhart Yard." You know him as Ben Carhart.

Well comma through the combined efforts of these determined gentlemen a ladder and tools were produced. "Picklock" ascended to the bathroom window where with his "jimmy" he removed the screen and made entry to the house. Now that's approximately all the story but don't let us forget to mention the fact that the Blairs got in too—not through the window, friends, but through the door. Fred's determination won out because even though he was unable to find his key, it was not lost. It was on the outside of the lock all the time.

College Music Students To Give Piano Recital

Students of Wayne State Teachers college piano department, under the direction of Prof. Albert G. Carlson, will appear in recital at the college auditorium next Monday evening, November 19, at eight o'clock. The entertainment is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

The program will feature several solo numbers and ensemble groups at two pianos. Taking part will be Dewayne Gramly and Ruth Paddock of Wayne, Dorothy Kile of Creighton, Harriet Stevens of Sioux City, Virginia Lecron of Columbus, Dorothy Nelson of Hubbard, Alice McGregor of Santee, Enid Presser of Bancroft, Gertrude Mankie of Norfolk and Helen Toy of O'Neill.

Local Tutors Hang One on Kearney Club

Pile Up 33-13 Victory By Ringing Bell in Each Stanza

Holding a determined Antelope club scoreless for three periods and managing to ring the bell in each stanza, a hard fighting Wayne State Teachers college delegation saw the dawn of a new day by hanging one on their hosts to the tune of 33-13 Friday.

Making 17 down against Kearney's six the local lads out yanked their adversaries by a comfortable margin. Kearney showed their aimlessness over the home boys when they succeeded in executing a pass from the fifty yard line which resulted in a counter.

Credit for stellar gridmanship in the foray goes to backfieldmen Manning, Gast and Kunkle who were supported by a stalwart line. Clark, another wildcat worthy of mention, showed his value to the home club by being so rude as to spear a well intended Kearney pass, and successfully stopped the show as he raced fifty yards for one of those things so much desired.

Both teams gave ample experience to understudents throughout the session.

Kiwanians Join In Dinner Dance

Norfolk and Wayne Club Members and Wives Meet Monday

Norfolk and Wayne Kiwanis clubs joined Monday evening in a "Dutch Treat" dinner dance at Hotel Stratton. Members and their wives numbered about 160, with 60 of the group representing the Norfolk club.

After a three-course turkey dinner Dr. J. C. Johnson, president of the Wayne group, introduced Dr. C. T. Ingham as toastmaster. Prof. Clifford Bair sang three selections. Sup't H. R. Best made a speech of welcome to which Sup't E. A. Burkhardt of Norfolk responded.

Jerry Brown of Norfolk introduced the Norfolk guests. Braden Carhart and Hug Berg presented a song stunt, after which the college dramatics class, directed by Miss Florence Drake, gave the one-act play, "Another Beginning."

Dancing occupied the remainder of the evening with a seven-piece orchestra furnishing music.

State Legionaire Guest At Wayne Monday Noon

Some of the Legion members met at an informal luncheon at the hotel Stratton Monday noon with Henry Dudley, their honored guest. He gave a short talk on the national program for the year. He also discussed the "Universal Service Act," which has been discussed by the Legion for about twelve years. This act provides and advocates that if this nation goes to war again, all finance, industry, manufacturing, ship building, agriculture and anything necessary for carrying on war is to be turned to the government in such a way that no one will receive more profit than the man at the front.

Those at the luncheon were Henry Dudley, department adjutant, Carroll Orr, Fred Dale, Dr. U. S. Conn, a guest, Al Swan, Oscar Kahn, Robert Chittick, L. W. McNatt, Charles Chinn, Ray Hickmon, J. M. Strahan, Dr. J. C. Johnson, John Brisben Paul Mines, Frank Heine and G. A. Renard.

Curb Pump Ordinance to Be Enforced Says Council

Wayne city fathers in session Tuesday evening at the City hall went on record as favoring rigid enforcement of the ordinance passed last spring relative to the removal of curb gasoline pumps and movable signs from the streets.

Bills were read and allowed and the city fathers took up the matter of alternatives to be decided upon before the PWA authority can go ahead with construction work on the City auditorium project.

John Surber, representing six others, submitted a petition asking that the council allow the extension of a drainage ditch in Taylor and Wachob's addition. This was filed with the city clerk.

AAA Program Is Taking Shape

Program for 1935 To Be More Simple, Similar To 1934 Plan

Returning to Lincoln last week, W. H. Brokaw, state corn-hog administrator, said the proposed corn-hog contract for 1935 had been tentatively drawn up by the committee of framers and administrative officials and submitted to the legal advisors of the Comptroller of Currency for their careful scrutiny. The Comptroller pays benefit payments and is therefore interested in the legal aspects of the contract.

Just when the proposals for next year would be offered to farmers of the middle west for their acceptance, or rejection, Brokaw was unable to say. Officials in the corn-hog section are anxious to get started on the program so farmers can see the contract before they start many plans for 1935 corn and hog production. The 1934 contract closes on December 1.

Fred Wallace of Gibbon, who represented Nebraska producers on the national committee preparing the contract, made a real hit with Washington corn-hog officials, Brokaw declared. With the help of Mr. Hodgson, farmer representative of Kansas, Wallace was able to state clearly the particular problems of the corn and hog producer in the states on the western border of the corn belt.

According to the first draft of the 1935 program, it will deal with corn and hogs only and be much more simple than the 1934 contract. Contract signers will elect their community committeemen and directors of their corn-hog association as they have in 1934. An allotment committee will again have charge of the program in each county. The 1932-33 base established in 1934 contract, with some possibility for readjustment in a few cases, will be used next year.

Benefit Program Proves Success

Community Council Profits $12 From Afternoon Affair Tuesday

Girl Scout community realized $12 from a benefit program Tuesday afternoon at the Gay theatre.

Prof. John R. Keith presented the Wayne State Teachers college string quartet, composed of Miss Wanda Story of Hubbard, Miss Fern Crawford of Wayne, Miss Enid Presser of Bancroft and Everett Dean of Sioux City, in a group of numbers. Dewayne Gramly played piano numbers.

Mrs. Hobart Auker gave a review of the book "The Folks," by RUTH Suckow. Miss Dorothy Hook, in behalf of the Girl Scouts, presented her with a bouquet of flowers.

Tap dances were presented by the Misses Lynelle Shuck, Barbara Strahan, Beverly Strahan, Catherine Cavanaugh, Dorothy Jean Casper, Margaret Larson, Nancy Mines and Marilyn Stratton.

Light refreshments were served by council members, Mesdames G. W. Costerisan, Paul R. Mines, Willard Wiltse, J. M. Strahan and W. D. Noakes.

Suffers Stroke
Chan T. Norton, who suffered a stroke last Wednesday, remains seriously ill in his home.

Work Progresses on Post Office; Phone Plant Nearly Done

Construction work on Wayne's new post office building being erected as a PWA project is progressing. A crew of about fifteen men are now dismantling forms used for the concrete walls and pillars which were poured Thursday.

The concrete pouring operation required three shifts of fifteen men each and was accomplished in eighteen hours of steady work, some of which was done under electric lights Thursday night. The project is being handled by the Paul Sothman construction company of Grand Island, who also have the general construction contract for the proposed city auditorium which will be built as a PWA project.

The new telephone building which is being built by Frank H. Thielman is now completed on the exterior and interior work is going forward rapidly so it will soon be ready for occupancy.

Iowa People See Skeleton

Fail to Identify Remains As Those of Man Who Left Year Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson of Blencoe, Iowa, were unable to identify the skeleton found in a weed patch east of here about a month ago as that of Mr. Peterson's brother, Eddie Peterson, 29, who disappeared a year ago.

The Petersons, who read newspaper accounts of the finding of the skeleton were in Wayne Friday. They were accompanied by Albin Carlson, Castana, Iowa, farmer for whom Eddie Peterson had been working previous to his disappearance. They said Eddie was wearing overalls, black oxfords, a cap and blue collarless button-sweater when he left. They knew of no reason for his mysterious disappearance and based their theory of the skeleton's being that of Eddie on newspaper accounts telling of the discovery which mentioned the fact that a model 16 Elgin watch and a comb similar to that owned by the missing man had been found with the remains.

They said he made a trip two years ago to Minden where he had worked about six weeks during the corn picking season and on his return to western Iowa had come home by way of Sioux City. Because of this they had an idea he might have returned to Nebraska and met his death. Due to the fact that they were unable to identify any of the effects found with the skeleton they are of the belief that their quest is yet to be fulfilled.

The skeleton was found about a month ago in a weed patch on the John T. Bressler, Jr., farm east of Wayne by Harry McMillan while pheasant hunting there. Dr. C. T. Ingham, who examined the remains not long after they were found, believed the bones to be those of a man who had been dead for at least two years. In addition to effects mentioned above as being found with the skeleton a Winchester special 22 octagon barreled rifle was lying nearby. The skull had a bullet hole of corresponding gauge just above the bridge of the nose and there was a discharged cartridge in the chamber of the gun.

In the last month a number of persons have called at the office of A. W. Stephens, county sheriff, to identify the skeleton but so far in each case there have been several reasons for which it could not be claimed.

Eddie Peterson was said by his brother to have been about five feet eight inches tall, weighing about 145 pounds, light complexioned and having light brown or sandy hair.

When last seen he was believed to be carrying a considerable amount of money but had left his automobile and other personal belongings at the home of his parents in Iowa. He was said to have been quiet, of good habits and of a home loving nature. Local authorities are still puzzled as to who the man was who once possessed the Elgin watch, maroon pocket comb, rifle, and eighty-five cents which were found with bits of clothing along with the bones.

Farm Union Group Meets With Griers

County President Gives Talk on History Of Organization

Double Valley local No. 1577 of the Farmers Union held a meeting at the home of John Grier northwest of Wayne Tuesday evening. W. E. Roggenbach, Wayne county president of the organization, was the speaker of the evening. Mr. Roggenbach's talk was on the history of the Farmers Union, as this was the 90th anniversary of the organization.

The union was organized in Rockdale, England, 90 years ago with twenty-eight charter members. In 1902 the movement spread to the United States, where the first unit was organized in Rains county, Texas. There are now twenty-five states in this country having organizations. On May 29, 1911, the first Nebraska unit was organized near Brunswick in Antelope county. At this time, Mr. Roggenbach pointed out, there are 1650 units in the state and of this number, approximately a thousand have charters in Knox, Pierce, Wayne Stanton and Cuming counties.

Activities of the Farmers Union include cooperative marketing of livestock, cream and grain and buying of farmers' necessities. They have cooperative oil companies, insurance companies, credit unions and banks, a hog cholera serum and virus laboratory, an auditing department and publish their own organ, The Nebraska Farmer.

In his talk Mr. Roggenbach said that through the organization's livestock marketing facilities at Omaha, members had benefited by an aggregate amount of $93,860.48 in undivided commissions which amount to fifty per cent.

Savings amounting to $867,895.64 were made for patrons of the four union creameries located at Superior, Aurora, Fremont and Fairbury. Farmers living in the vicinity of Pilger and Wisner received dividends amounting to $10,000 on products purchased at the cooperative union oil stations.

Following Roggenbach's talk, Billy Adams, secretary of the Cuming county union, talked on cooperation. Ray Perdue of Local No. 1577 was chosen delegate to attend the annual county meeting which will be held at Winside in December, and Henry Barelman was chosen as alternate. At a late hour a delicious luncheon was served.

Local Churches to Join In Thanksgiving Service

School Observes Nat'l Book Week

Public School Students Do Special Work as Part Of Observance

Activity at the public school this week is centering around the observance of National Book-week with each grade having special plays or stories. The second grade listed story-book friends, later describing themselves as fiction characters so that the class might guess the identity of each.

Third graders will present the play, "In Book Land," before the first, second and fourth grades Friday afternoon. Part of the play was written by the pupils. A "book house" made for the third grade will be shingled with squares of red, green and the tile paper on which pupils will write their names and the name of each book read.

Fifth grade has begun a new book chart, which will indicate how many library books each child reads.

Warns Against Colds
In a bulletin sent recently to parents of pupils, Sup't H. R. Best encourages parents to keep children out of school if they have infectious colds. In taking such a stand school authorities have in mind the good of the individual and of the group. A child who is ill with a cold will be able to accomplish but little and will effect a speedier recovery to hundred per cent efficiency if kept home. Such action would prevent spread of colds among other children.

In a pre-game pep program before the high school assembly Friday Hazel Caspey, Delores McNatt and Betty Wright had charge of a "radio broadcast." Four grade students impersonated the Mills brothers, Franklin Simonin imitated Bing Crosby and Buddy McNatt took the part of Mae West. Bob McEachen, game captain, gave the game's lineup, and Frank Gamble and Betty Wright led cheers.

Armistice Program
Miss Leone Westover arranged an Armistice day program, which an English class presented in assembly on Monday. Wayne McMaster and James Kingston led the assembly in a flag salute, after which Kermit Stewart played an appropriate piano selection. Neva Jones made an introductory speech, Peace Kingston and Ruth Judson read Armistice day poems and Maxine Barrett read Bruce Barton's "Unknown."

Eighth grade made "radio" speeches on the subject, "What Am I Going to Do with My Life?" last week. Marian Vath, whose speech was best, spoke before the seventh grade. Betty Hawkins, second best, spoke before the fifth grade, and Kenneth Petersen, who was third, addressed the sixth grade. Beverly Anderson and Bonnell Jones served as radio announcers.

Seventh and eighth grade art classes are working with stencils and colored chalks. High school students are making posters advertising the junior high school operetta.

Betty Hawkins, Marian Vath and Bonnell Jones debated the affirmative side of the question: Resolved, That the colonial girl had better educational advantages than the colonial boy, with Beverly Anderson, John Harrington and Norman Mahnke taking the negative side. The affirmative won by vote of the class.

Sixth grade pupils read the story, "Admiral Byrd's Dog," to the fourth grade last Thursday. On Friday fourth graders wrote a letter of thanks to the sixth grade.

In the fourth grade's self-testing arithmetic contest, Blues were ahead of the Reds on Monday.

The fifth grade has a new picture, "The Boy Pioneer." Pupils are making original vegetable and fruit posters. Addition of fractions is being worked on in arithmetic class.

In observance of National Education week, second grade pupils wrote stories about early schools as told to them by their grandmothers. Patty Love described a Swedish school, which her grandmother had attended, where good and bad pupils were seated on opposite sides of the room.

Mrs. P. N. Hancock taught in the first grade the first of the week for Miss Coila Potras, who was ill with flu.

Robert Kingston and Melvin Schroeder are new pupils in kindergarten. Last Thursday morning Miss Minnie Will took both kindergarten classes to the depot to inspect the train and depot. On their return to school, the children planned to build a "health limited" which will carry healthful foods in its baggage car. Names of children doing health chores will appear in the coach windows.

THE POWER OF PERSONALITY

In all the history of American politics there is no record of one personality comparable to the power of personality of Senator George W. Norris, as exhibited by the ballots cast in the late election on the proposed constitutional amendment providing for a one-house state legislature.

He led the fight alone. No Metropolitan newspaper aided his cause.

Very few editors of country newspapers endorsed his views.

Not one nominee for public office of high degree on either democratic or republican ticket put his neck in the collar in behalf of the Norris cause.

But look at the result! It is even now almost unbelievable that the power of the personality of one man could have been great enough to win to his cause an immense majority of the people of Nebraska.

Why did the people of Nebraska cast that big vote for a plan of state government regarding which they knew very little?

The answer is easy. There is but one answer: GEORGE NORRIS is the answer, and George Norris alone.

The people of Nebraska said by their ballots that the one-house legislative proposal must be a good thing, simply because George Norris advocated it.

Once again I say that in all the history of American politics there is no recorded such a striking instance of the power of one man's personality as was recorded in Nebraska last Tuesday when the people by an overwhelming vote approved the George Norris constitutional amendment for a one-house legislature.

EDGAR HOWARD.
—Columbus Daily Telegram

According to a recent associated press dispatch from the nation's capital, recovery agencies there are studying a gigantic plan which will put millions of unemployed onto the payroll of private industry with the government bearing the risk of any loss which might be entailed.

That the time is ripe for such a plan is conceded by many industrial heads. Henry Ford made a statement recently to the effect that as far as the Ford Motor company was concerned, the depression was over and that the company was going ahead with plans for building a million or more automobiles to be sold during the coming year. Others have voiced similar beliefs.

There is no denying the fact that one of the greatest potential markets in the nation's history exists today. Everyone needs everything. The joker in supplying this vast market, however, lies in an equitable distribution of the nation's purchasing power. America today is the wealthiest nation in the world but her wealth has been concentrated in the hands of a relatively few. Ninety per cent of American workers receive salaries of less than two thousand dollars a year but this same ninety per cent is required to buy sixty-five per cent of the goods produced by factories, farms and mines.

This in itself is an unequal ratio of consumption but add to this the rapid development of labor saving machinery plus a break-down in our economic structure and one can see quite readily why there are now from nine to twelve million unemployed persons throughout the nation. Economists who have gone deeply into America's problem say that at best there will be at least four million unemployed in this country.

That new industries must be developed goes without saying. Many of the hopelessly unemployed must be moved onto acreages where they can make a livelihood from the soil and those whose employment is seasonal should be given an opportunity to supplement their earnings with food-stuff they can raise on small farm or acreage plots.

In addition to this there must be a more equitable distribution of the wealth through a more equitable method of taxation. Some economists advocate a general sales tax, others say it should come from a gross income tax and still others say that a net income tax with stress laid upon greater collections from the so-called upper bracket incomes should be involed. Another school of thought advocates the passage of a revolving old age pension which would provide for an income of all the way from fifty to $200 per month to persons who have reached the age of sixty-five, provided they agree to retire from productive activity and are of sane mind and have not committed a felony.

No matter what sort of plan is used for this so much desired redistribution of wealth, there is no doubt but what certain provisions will have to be made for its circulation. Remonetization of silver is believed by many eminent economists to be the proper avenue for accomplishing this. By remonetizing silver, they point out, many mining properties which have been lying dormant since the close of the previous century would be reopened, thus providing employment for hundreds of thousands of men. Towns in the rich mining fields of Colorado, Nevada, California and Arizona would blossom out over night and one of the new industries so much desired would be born.

Whatever program the nation's fathers decide to launch out upon when they convene again this winter should be complete and well coordinated. Every bit of generalship available in this great nation should be brought to the center front for the good of a people who are deserving and will tolerate only the best.

Trivial Trifles
by Kay Noel

Those of you who have seen the early morning sky will recognize the horizon just before the sun appears.

Caprice
Sleepy,
Yawning angelettes,
Stretching in wee white pajamas
To see the sun rise.
They are soft, fleecy
Clouds.
As they
Watch, their cheeks color,
Deepening almost to fiery hues
From a delicate pink—
Then back to bed for a nap.

Again a verse by M. Arlington—
this one with that touch of truth in it that makes one say to himself, "Isn't that a fact, though!"

Balloons
Dreams are balloons,
Colorful, fragile, gay,
Lighter than air,
Lighter than thought,
They drift away if they're not
Anchored by firm, cool, fact.
For Beauty's sake they give us joy.
Alas,
Unexpected sharp things
Burst them.

And in defense of us who "jabber" so:
The Silent Folk
Oh, praise me not the silent folk;
To me they only seem
Like leafless, bird-abandoned oak
And muffled, frozen stream.

I want the leaves to talk and tell
The joy that's in the tree,
And water-nymphs to weave a spell
Of pine melody.

Your silent folk may be sincere,
But still, when all is said,
We have to grant they're rather drear
And maybe, too, they're dead.
Charles W. Stock.

Stanley Norris

The collich boy who entertained his friends with a startlingly loose-jointed tap routine the other night was feeling a bit too good to effect that last back flip on a slippery floor. He fell on his good natured face, broke off his two front teeth—and now he has a little gold monument to remind him of his indiscretion.

Very poor judgment, my boy. Very poor judgment.

We mean the Wayne lad who elected to care for his drunk-sick girl friend in front of a minister's house last week.

Anybody can criticize a man's shirt-and-tie combination (and how often is the complaint justified!) but it is not everyone who will follow up the criticism with a gift of a tie and shirt whose harmony is more in accord with the senses of the aesthete. But that's what happened last week when a certain Wayne man objected to the get-up of the man who served him his beer. My friend, life is like that. One can expect only so much.

Speaking of neckties brings to mind a very beautiful little bit of colorful poetry, published in the Democrat four years ago. Lest you forget, we reprint it for your delectation:

SOME LIKE 'EM RED
Some may long for the soothing touch
Of lavender, cream and mauve,
But the ties I wear must possess the glare
Of a red hot kitchen stove.
The books I read, and the life I lead
Are sensible, sane and mild.
I like calm hats, and don't wear spats,
But I want my neckties wild.

O, some will say that gent's cravats
Should only be seen, not heard;
But I want a tie that will make men cry,
And render their vision blurred.
I yearn, I long, for a tie so strong
It will take two men to tie it.
If such there be, just show it to me—
Whatever the price, I'll buy it.

Since ye ed is a co-ed again, having enrolled for an eleven o'clock on the hill, her vocabulary is rapidly enlarging. One of the Neihardt girls confided to her the other day that a gold digger is a girl who can make a fellow think she's taking dinner with him instead of from him.

It was during Sunday school class. The choice of a song for a particular ceremony in which the class was to participate was under discussion. "I think we will sing 'Onward Christmas Soldiers,' since that is what most of you seem to prefer," the teacher announced. "Hot-cha!" exclaimed the little boy in the back row.

Gertrude Stein's arrival in the United States about a month ago was the occasion for a number of clever stories by associated press feature writers. Her "Autobiography of Alice B. Toklas" is on every bookstand. Some of her earlier works—especially her poetry collection called "Tender Buttons"—are difficult to find.

Here's a sample of the "Tender Buttons" poetry:

"It is better than a little thing that has mellow, real mellow,
It is better than lakes, whole lakes.
It is better than seeing.
Chicken. Alas a dirty word.
Alas a dirty bird."
We wonder,

Things still happen in this depressed old world of ours that give one renewed hope.

News from New York the other day had it that the movies will probably begin the use of cameras that will reproduce colors and that will seal the doom of platinum blondes. The color, or lack of it, of their hair doesn't show up in color photography!

We'd been wondering what repeal would mean for the dries. That is, we wondered until last Friday, when the Omaha World Herald's head line informed us that "Drys May Try Delay Liquor."

We understand that's the best kind. If it's been delayed about 15 or 20 years in some dark basement.

T. S. Hook contributes an interesting item from the state bulletin of the Northwestern Mutual life insurance company.

A recent invention for motor cars is the Oral Speedometer which operates with a phonograph attachment. At 25 miles per hour, it remarks:

"The city speed limit has been passed. Is there a motorcycle policeman behind you?"

At 35 m. p. h.: "Too fast for city driving. We hope you're now in the country."

At 45 m. p. h.: "Your car is still under control but watch the car behind the car ahead of you. Have you had your brakes tested recently?"

At 50 m. p. h.: "Your responsibility is increasing. Keep your eyes on the road."

Contains TETRAETHYL
STANDARD RED CROWN SUPERFUEL
No Extra Charge!

Motorists no longer have to guess about the gasoline they buy. A metal plaque on the pump, required by law, tells at a glance whether the gasoline contains tetraethyl, that amazing performance-producing compound also contained in larger quantity in premium-priced gasoline. All any motorist has to do is look for the plaque.

If it isn't there, then the gasoline hasn't a single drop of that valuable fluid in it! For this reason, thousands of car owners make it a point to buy Standard Red Crown, the Live Power gasoline, which sells at the price of "regular." They know that that plaque is on every Red Crown pump!

THE DOCTOR BEATS THE STORK . . .

YOU THINK ALL GASOLINES ARE ALIKE? HOW COME THEY DON'T ALL HAVE THAT PLAQUE ON THE PUMP, THEN?

HERE'S WHERE TO GET IT!

$7.95-$10.95

You'll appreciate these dresses because they have so many of the style details shown on much higher priced frocks.

They are made of fine crepes, satins and woollens, too. No two are alike and there are styles and types suitable for all occasions.

Come and see what grand buys and grand styles they are.

Plain woollens for smart, serviceable shirts are 54 inches wide and only $1.25 a yard.

Transparent velvet in black for formal gowns—36 inches wide—is now only $2.95 a yard. This is a lot different from the $5.95 a yard this velvet used to cost. You can now have a lovely formal dress at a very moderate outlay.

Pajamas—Gowns—Chemises and Slips of real silks and satins, richly trimmed, which we selected for Holiday Gifts, have just come. If you wish to make an early selection, or if you have a special gift to buy at this time, you'll enjoy choosing from this special gift lingerie. Prices are $1.95, $2.95 and $3.50.

Customers tell us that Munsing Two-Way Stretch Girdles are the nicest fitting and by far the longest wearing of any they have tried. Munsing Girdles are shaped to fit instead of being an almost straight rubber tube. The one designed for regular and full figures has stays to prevent rolling and add smooth shapeliness. The better qualities are made of pure Lastex, which does not lose its stretch for many months. Some customers tell us they have had a year's wear out of these better girdles. They are priced $3.50 and $5.00. For slender young figures, the $2.50 girdle is very satisfactory.

Knitted vest and pantie sets—Munsing advertises them under the name of "Ponies"—are favored underthings for this time of the year. They're light as a whisper, they're silky smooth, they snuggle close to your skin with nary a wrinkle, nary a crinkle under your most revealing gown. Made with true Munsingwear care, they wear for months and months and launder quickly. Know real comfort this season. Get several sets of these inexpensive "Ponies."

They come in three qualities—fine cotton at 50c for each garment—cotton, rayon and worsted mixed at 65c each—and cotton, rayon and wool mixed at 95c.

A good looking, long wearing Munsing stocking for children in attractive mixed colorings is 25c. Extra length fine cotton and rayon stockings are 35c.

You'll never go back to outing flannel pajamas once you have worn Munsing Balbriggans... They are so much better wearing; just as warm and comfortable, and there is no comparison at all in their appearance.

You can get two or three seasons' wear out of Munsing Balbriggans. The colors and styles are very attractive. They launder perfectly. Ladies' sizes in either one or two piece styles are $1.95. Children's are $1.25.

New arrivals in curtains are especially interesting just at this time. We stick to the better-made type of curtains with firmly, neatly sewed ruffles and materials that wear and launder. They cost very little more than bargain curtains, and are so much more satisfactory in every way. The new floured styles, as well as the popular Priscilla and panel types, are here in cushion dot grenadines and flowered marquisettes at $1.19 to $1.95 a pair. Dainty attractive cottage sets are 75c to 1.00. We have short ruffled sets for half and small windows in bath rooms, bedrooms or kitchens at 50c to 60c a pair.

College Hi Gives Play Tuesday

Junior Students Present "Oh Professor" to Full House

The junior class of College high school presented the three act farce, "Oh Professor" to a well filled house at the College auditorium Tuesday evening.

Stellar performance in the production goes to Jack Kuhn who very ably played the part of Jimmie Anderson and credit for very good acting goes to Ralph Van Allen, as Jake; Fay Lutt, as Miss Frederica; John Alden Lewis, as Dr. Aristotle; Frances Lutt, as Patricia Paterson and Marilyn Glenn who took the part of Mlle. Eifi.

A surprise feature of the play took place when it developed that Willard Johnson, who was to take the part of Michael Pemberton, took sick and had to be substituted by Milton Wiksell, who directed the play.

Wiksell was unable to learn the 430 lines in the part before time for staging so very ably read from a book.

All the actors showed results of capable direction and handled their parts with masterful execution of seasoned troopers. The play was beautifully staged in a girl's school setting with the action taking place in the present. Modern stage lighting effects similar to those used in large city theatres were effected through the use of baby spot lights in preference to footlights.

Music was furnished by the training school orchestra under the direction of J. R. Keith and the make-up was handled by Olive Barker, Harriet Malone, Eileen Round and Alvin Giese, students in Miss Drake's collegiate dramatic class. Those who took part in the production are as follows:

Ralph Van Allen, Fay Lutt, John Alden Lewis, Marian Paulson, Mattie Scace, Fae Davison, Eleanor Owen, Dorothy Anderson, Willard Johnson, George Brock, Jack Kuhn, Frances Lutt, Marilyn Glenn and Mildred Murphy.

Stage manager, Reuben Meierhenry; Prompter, Verna Voss; Costume Manager, Eleanor Langenberg; Properties, Verna Voss and Class Sponsor, Miss Lettie Scott.

Local Physician To Head Five-County Medic Group

Dr. Walter Benthack of Wayne was named president, Dr. R. E. Bray of Martinsburg was elected vice-president and Dr. J. C. Kildebeck of Emerson and Dr. J. C. Kildebeck of tary-treasurer of the Five-County medical association when the group met Tuesday evening at Randolph. Dr. Benthack, as president, was named delegate and Dr. John Buis of Pender was named alternate to the state convention in Omaha in the spring.

After a 6:30 dinner, doctors' wives were entertained at bridge at the Peters home while the men heard scientific papers and transacted business.

Lewis Takes Students To Grinnell Conference

Dr. and Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis accompanied by twelve Wayne State Teachers college students left early today for Grinnell, Iowa, where they will attend a student conference on international relations at Grinnell college. Delegates from colleges in mid-western states will attend the conference, which will be held from Friday to Sunday inclusive.

Students who accompanied Dr. and Mrs. Lewis are as follows: Floyd Sorensen, Rudolph Swartz, Gerald Cunningham, Fred Evans, Robert Kingston, Art Dickey, Gertrude Bruhn, Maxine Jones, Helen Jones, Janet Hoffman and Iris Hohnbaum.

Week's News From Lutheran Hospital

Miss Leona Evans, medical patient admitted November 3, was given two blood transfusions last week, one on Friday and one on Saturday. Donors were Ivor Evans and Robert Barnhall. She is getting along nicely.

Andrew Erlanson of Laurel, who was admitted last Wednesday to the old people's home, is a medical patient.

A seven and one-half pound daughter, Dorothy, was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nissen of Bloomfield.

Harry Keteback of Winside had tonsils removed Tuesday. Otto Baier underwent a tonsillectomy Wednesday morning.

Fisher Brinks Arrives
Chester Fisher of Council Bluffs, Iowa, Willard Johnson broke both bones in his left forearm Tuesday afternoon in football practice.

Wayne People Attend Dixon County Meeting

C. A. Orr, chairman of the state Legion awards committee, presented two cups to Dixon county posts at a county convention in Wakefield on Tuesday. The Ponca post received a cup in recognition of outstanding achievement for the year. Wakefield post, who sent the most men the farthest distance to the state convention at Grand Island, was given a cup.

Attending the county banquet in the evening were Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Dale, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Swan, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Renard and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Orr. Mrs. O. W. Hahn of Wayne, national vice-president of the American Legion Auxiliary, was the principal after dinner speaker.

Second Quarter Opens at College

Annual Stunt Night Will Be Friday Event With Sophs in Charge

Second quarter of the school year began Monday at Wayne State Teachers college with an increase in enrollment slightly larger than that of last year. Students were allowed to call Wednesday at the registrar's office for their grades. Parents and guardians of all students will be mailed grades this week.

Dr. Lucian Stark of Norfolk addressed students during chapel period Wednesday morning, using as his subject, "Common Sense in Preventing Disease." His wife, who is a recently elected member of the state legislature, accompanied him and may return to speak later.

Annual stunt night will be Friday at 7:30 in the college auditorium with sophomore class in charge. Miss Vera KaDell is chairman of the affair, in which all halls, clubs and classes are eligible to compete.

A Thanksgiving game with Omaha municipal university has been scheduled. Wayne and Omaha tied in a Homecoming game here last month. The "W" club announces that the Harlem Globe Trotters, famous professional colored basketball team, will meet the Wayne All Stars in the college gymnasium on Thursday evening, December 15.

The Katz, college pep group, is sponsoring a dance in the college gymnasium this Thursday evening. Herbie Lowe and his orchestra, who were so well liked at the last party, will provide music for an all-school frolic, sponsored by the "W" club, in the college gymnasium from eight to twelve o'clock on Friday, November 23. The orchestra is frequently featured at the Rigadon in Sioux City.

Recent pledges to Pi Gamma Mu, social science fraternity, include Miss Muriel Chiken of Inman, Rudolph Ring of Wakefield, Ralph Wagner of Oakdale, Milton Wiksell of Grand Island, Philip Carlson of Concord, Wayne Dermitt of Dakota City, Miss Mildred Snyder, Miss Sarah Jane Ahern and Miss Marcella Huntmer, the last three of Wayne.

College High Grade School Activities

Kindergarten pupils at the college high school are working on a large playhouse, which measures a large twelve by five feet and is constructed on a wooden frame. The children have covered it inside and out with brown wrapping paper and trimmed it with heavier brown paper. Cellophane windows are being put in this week, and a swinging door will be added next. Gayly colored shingles are made of paper, cut by the children themselves.

The kindergarten grocery store is completed and has a large stock of canned foods. Cans are marked with free-hand cutouts of the food they contain.

Jannene Griffith, kindergarten pupil, has been tentatively placed in the first grade of the rural school.

First grade has finished their chart and pre-primer units and are well along in their primers. Mrs. K. N. Parke, Mr. and Mrs. Howard James and Mrs. G. Owens visited the room last week. Mrs. Myrick Sublette was a visitor Tuesday and Mrs. C. Shulteis was a guest Wednesday.

Third grade invited guests Friday, when their language club met with Franklin Bressler presiding. Each child told a fable, after which there was a puppet show and moving picture shows of dog stories. Prof. C. R. Chinn called in the morning. Afternoon visitors were Mrs. E. C. Perkins, Mrs. J. M. Strahan, Miss Frances Cherry, Mrs. John Brisben, Mrs. Sellon, Mrs. Steele, Mrs. F. A. Mildner, Mrs. C. R. Chinn, Mrs. Herbert Welch, Mrs. Festa Thiel and Mrs. John Kyl.

Finley and Jacqueline Helleberg, fifth grade pupils, have moved to Columbus. Robert Nichols, Mildred Hattig and Willis Noakes have been absent because of illness. Mrs. C. E. Wilson and Mrs. W. D. Hall visited in the sixth grade Friday.

Bulldogs Lose Game
College high school Bulldogs lost 26-2 on Friday when they met the Coleridge high school team on a foreign field. The score indicates that the game was more one-sided than it really was, for Wayne was "outdowned" only 12 to 10. The team plays Newcastle here on the college field at 3:15 Friday.

Winside Chapter Abandoned
At a meeting of the officers of the Winside Red Cross branch last Wednesday evening, the group decided to abandon their branch and turn $200 into the Wayne county chapter. This action permits the Wayne chapter to serve the entire county. Officers of the Winside group have been: president, Mrs. L. W. Needham; vice-president, Mrs. A. T. Chapin; secretary-treasurer, Dr. R. E. Gormley.

"Do we try to make the Bible true, instead of believing that it is true?"
Last Sunday evening we had our last session of our school of missions. We have not had quite as large a school as in other years, for during these wonderful Sunday's many of our people have visited friends and loved ones of other places. Last Sunday afternoon was no exception. On the other hand, the pleasant Sunday afternoons has added to the joy of our fellowship together. We wish to thank the ladies who have had charge of the suppers, for theirs is never an easy task. We would also thank our leaders for the fine and efficient way in which they presented their books. The leaders were Mr. Rest and Dr. Griffin for the adult department, Miss Traster and Miss Westover for the young people and Miss Wentworth and Miss Larson for the children.

On November 25 the two choirs that Prof. Hanscom is directing (Presbyterian and Baptist) will render er a beautiful Thanksgiving cantata at our church. Let us plan now to be present and enjoy this service of worshipful music.

Our services for next Sunday are at the following hours: Sunday School, 10 A. M.; Morning Worship, 11 A. M.; C. E. Services, 6:30 P. M.
The Missionary society, the program of which was announced a week ago in our papers, met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. S. Horney.

ARMISTICE DAY

Across the seas the din had ceased,
The hand of God had stilled the noise;
A silence greeted fighting men
And filled their hearts with certain joys.

The war had ceased—but bleeding men
About the battle field were strewn
Like oaks before the forest men,
Their bodies had been cut and hewn.

Stained were the poppies on that field,
Dyed was the blood stained grass and flower,
E'en birds had hushed their happy songs
And silent was that awful hour.

The God above had been profaned,
His sons had fought and bled and died
And war had reaped its fearful toll
While mothers grieved, and prayed and cried.

But now again we are at peace
And let that peace forever reign—
Instead of bomb and sword and shell
Let us be blessed with sun and rain.

But let us not forget the ones
Who left their bodies over there
And let us bless each one this day—
Aye, seek their blessing with our pray'r.

STRAPHANGER DECIDES TO BE A STUNT MAN. IT IS NOT A BIT MORE DANGEROUS THAN LION TAMING AND IT PAYS BETTER

MR. STRAPHANGER

by Thomas

A HAIR RAISING THRILLER

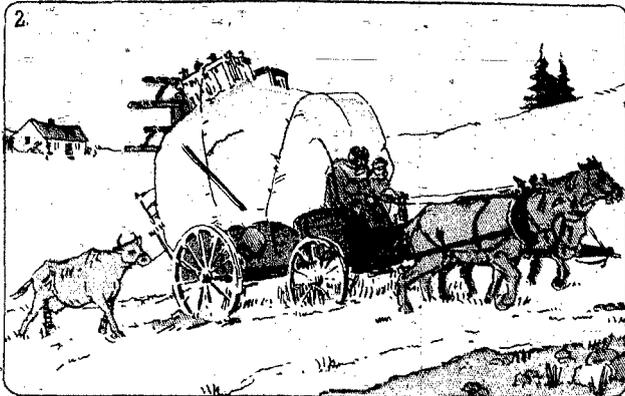

THE PIONEERS

BY LOVRIEN GREGORY AND GLENN CHAFFIN

1 Morning at last! The big day has arrived and Frank Higgins and his father, Abner, are astir early as they prepare to leave the old Maine homestead, perhaps never to see it again. They are moving west to the gold fields of California. How far they will get depends upon how much money Squire Alden pays them for their scanty store of household effects and live stock.

2 This unheroic start to the far-away western coast reflected the grim spirit of those pioneers who gave up everything they owned on a vague hope of gaining financial reward and economic freedom in a new country.

3 "Everything's all eat," announced Hank Slocum, who had been elected leader of the party. "Me and Ace here, will help you unload. The Squire's waitin' for you. The train ain't due for a time yet, so we needn't rush."

4 "Swing right around and back her up to the door, Abner," called the Squire in greeting. "Here she is, Squire," said Abner dryly. "Everything from pullets to heifer. Course the heifer is a mite old, but the hens is layin' good."

5 "That there furniture shore is house-broke, ain't it, Abner?" said Hank jovially. "All right," said the Squire good-naturedly, "if it's good enough for Abner, it's good enough for anybody. Let's go over to the office and figure out your grubstake."

6 "Frank, you go on down to the tavern with Ace an' Hank," said Abner. "Never mind luggin' that satchel. I'll bring it," he added kindly. "Oh, it ain't heavy, father. I can carry it easy and I guess Hank's big enough to carry yours."

7 While the squire and Abner dickered over the price of chickens and rag carpets, gossip buzzed at the tavern. Here had gathered a vanguard of those brave pioneers who carried strength and fortitude over the trails of the western border. Gold-seekers, yes, but home and empire builders, too.

8 "Oh, why don't they hurry, Mother?" exclaimed little Susan Slocum. "Don't you worry, honey. Your pap ain't goin' to miss the train." "Pshaw!" said Aunt Lou Smith, "it ain't her pap she's worryin' about. It's the lad that's botherin' her."

9 (Meanwhile) "It ain't much, Abner," said the Squire. "But that's the best I can do. If I can sell the place I'll send you the money. I hope you strike it rich." "It's more'n I expected, Squire," said Abner. "And I'm mighty obliged."

10 The train is due any minute now, and excitement is running high in the hearts of our little band of pioneers. Only studious and serious Elmer Bean is calm. Susan and Frank can hardly keep from running to meet the train.

11-12 The train is in! Careful of those bundles now! Hurray! They're off!

The first step is by train to Portland, Maine. Remember this is 1849 and the going is slow and dangerous. What perils lie ahead of them!
