Nollen Tells Kiwanians At Banquet America Should Refuse to Fight

A total of 225 Kiwanians and their wives, 80 being visitors from Norfolk, Sioux City, Omaha and Yankton, were entertained by the Wayne organization in the municipal auditorium Monday evening at the annual Kiwanis banquet.

The Rev. F. C. Mills served as toastmaster. Dr. John S. Nollen, district governor of Kiwanis and president of Grinnell College, Grinnell, Iowa, delivered the main address. Glenn L. Cavanaugh of Omaha, lieutenant governor, was also present and spoke briefly.

"Our International Responsibility" was the subject of the talk given by Dr. Nollen, who was introduced by J. T. Anderson, president of Wayne State Teachers college. It was the speaker's contention that America must not only take definite steps to insure her own freedom from war by staying completely out of European quarrels, but that she should work constructively toward bringing about permanent peace. "As the most powerful nation on earth, it's our duty," he said.

The college president warmed up to his subject by indulging in a review of the European situation, in (Continued on page eight)

How About Hoss Races Ask Fans

Answer Lies With Interest Says Association; Plan Meeting Soon

The matter of whether or not Wayne this year will have pari-mutuel horse racing will have to be decided soon according to officials of the Wayne county horse racing association, as a license will have to be applied for and granted two months before a meet can be staged.

For some time racing fans here have discussed the possibilities of such an event as a follow up for the successful meet which was conducted last July under the auspices of the association after pari-mutuel racing had been legalized in Nebraska.

If races are to be conducted here as a yearly event and if there are to be horse race cards at the fair, accommodations will have to be made to take care of the horses participating.

Iver Anderson, Hoskins, president of the Wayne county horse racing association was in Omaha recently, and while there talked with Art Cullen, state racing secretary. Mr. Cullen told Anderson then that horsemen generally were interested in knowing whether or not there would be races here this year. These men were all well pleased with the meet last July and have entries of a high calibre.

"Dolly Dear" owned by the Ball stables and a number of other horses that raced here last season have been consistent winners in southern circuits in the winter just past. It is assured that a second meet here with last season's success as an indicator means a bigger and better meet than last year's, officials of the association say.

Seventy Wayne merchants backing the meet last year with $25 each never lost one cent. The association made money which was used in making improvements at the fair grounds. Paddocks were built, the track was placed in good condition (Continued on page eight)

Three County WPA Projects Supply Labor

Tennis Court Construction In Wayne Suspended; Shortage of Labor

Three projects are providing jobs for twenty persons in Wayne county as the Works Progress Administration forges ahead with its program of providing work for the jobless and developing socially desirable and economically sound public works.

Every project in Wayne county was attested as being desirable and needed work by city and county officials.

One project—the construction of tennis courts in Wayne—is not in operation at present due to a shortage of workers. It is estimated it will take five men one month to complete this project, which also includes the leveling, grading and seeding of a 75 by 100 foot lot at Thirteenth and Main streets in Wayne.

Spring activity on the part of the state highway department has drawn a large number of workers from WPA projects for work on the roads. The peak WPA employment load in Wayne county was 56 persons, but this has been reduced to 20 at present.

The outstanding projects in the county are the construction of 790 lineal feet of reinforced concrete storm sewer and the extension of water mains in Wayne. Five men are working on this project now and WPA officials estimate it will take them about two months to complete the project, which was set up to provide five months employment for eleven men.

The water main extension project consists of the construction of 1,972 feet of water main starting at the corner of West Seventh and Sherman streets, then north four blocks to West Eleventh street, and then east one block on Eleventh street to join the present water main. Seven men are working on this project which is nearly complete.

Seven men are assigned to repairing and repainting all of Wayne county's 570 bridges. This project was set up to provide six months' employment for 23 persons. It is approximately half done.

Heart Attack Causes Death of J. G. Bergt

Rites for County Assessor Take Place in Altona Sunday Afternoon

Funeral services for J. G. Bergt of Altona, 72, Wayne county assessor for over five years, took place Sunday afternoon at the Altona Lutheran cemetery.

Mr. Bergt died suddenly at his home Wednesday afternoon, April 22. Death was caused by a heart attack. J. After his confirmation he attended Concordia College at Fort Wayne, Indiana. In 1889 his parents moved to Tecumseh and Mr. Bergt later joined them after completing his second term at Concordia College. Two brothers and one sister preceded him in death.

In 1890 Mr. Bergt was united in marriage to Miss Mary Panning and to them were born seven children. The family moved to Altona in 1898, and have lived there the past 38 years.

Two Holidays Come on Saturdays Let's Prepare for Them

Both Memorial Day, May 30 and Independence Day, July 4, come on Saturday's this year. Saturdays are busiest days in Wayne but inasmuch as these days are designated as holidays, Wayne business men believe they should have these days off for themselves and their employees. They suggest that everyone planning to transact business in Wayne on the last week-end of May make an effort to do this business on Friday May 29. For that day many of them want to put on a special trade day. Next week The Nebraska Democrat hopes to be able to bring to its readers more information as to what form the plans will take.

Wayne Woman to Represent State

Mrs. F. Irving Moses To Be One of Cornhusker Group At Washington Meet

Tentative plans for Nebraska's being represented at the Triennial Conference of Associated Country Women of the World, which meets in Washington, D. C., the first week in June, were being completed this week. Approximately 33 farm women are expected to be in the Cornhusker delegation, including Mrs. F. Irving Moses of Wayne.

Miss Mary Ellen Brown, in charge of home demonstration work in Nebraska, said this week that the Nebraska delegation will probably leave Omaha May 25. Tentative plans call for overnight stops at Battle Creek, Michigan; St. Thomas, Canada; Niagara Falls; and Easton, Pennsylvania. The first 33 Nebraska women to register will be taken on the trip.

International relations, gardens, bread making, home landscaping and general economic problems and other important topics will have the attention of the 1,500 women attending the gathering from practically all nations in the world. Already delegates from twelve different countries are registered.

Details of the conference are available at the office of assistant agricultural agent Walter Moller.

New Use For Soybeans Told at Feeders' Day

Indications that another live stock use for soybeans has been discovered and that the produce will be used widely in cattle feeding was foreseen at the recent Feeders' Day conducted at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture. More than 1,500 people attended the event, including a sizeable Wayne county delegation.

Soybean oil meal cubes apparently will have a place in future live stock feeding, experimental tests reported on that day showed. The cubes, 37 per cent protein, were used for the first time in experimental work at the Nebraska station this year. No other station in the country has conducted similar tests.

County Agents Sponsor Weekly Radio Programs

Radio broadcasts over radio station WJAG at Norfolk are sponsored by the county agricultural agents of northeast Nebraska every Thursday. These programs have created considerable interest. The time of broadcast has been changed from 15 minute periods at 11:30 to 7:15 to 7:30 p. m.

On the broadcast at this hour May 7, Walter Moller will carry on a discussion of "The Next Step in Women's Project Work" with Mrs. F. Irving Moses and another club member. Mrs. Moses will also explain the Triennial Conference of Associated Country Women of the World, which she plans to attend the first week in June.

Special Provisions Made For Farmers, Landlords

Provisions for joint compliance under the Soil Conservation program give the farmer who handles land owned by more than one party, and the land lord who has more than one farm in one county, a great deal of leeway in meeting the conditions under which soil conserving payment will be made this year.

Application of the joint compliance ruling makes it very essential however, that farmers who operate land owned by more than one party, and landlords who have more than one farm, inquire at the county office regarding their participation in the 1936 Soil Conservation program. Each county committee is being urged by the Nebraska state committee to check records carefully and make certain that all landlords are given a chance to understand the joint compliance rulings in connection with their soil conserving crops and their grants of money.

Fifteen Enter State Contest

Wayne Co Pasture Entries Boost Total to 400; Platte Co. Leads

Nearly 400 Nebraska farmers have now officially entered the 1936 Pasture Contest with the deadline for filing entries of May 1 nearing, it was announced from the Nebraska college of agriculture this week.

Platte county leads the state thus far in number of entries. Agricultural agent Gelwick has 36 farmers officially entered there. In Wayne county, a total of fifteen farmers have entered. Nemaha county is second and Adams county third in the numbers of entries thus far.

More interest than usual is being manifested by farmers in grass and pastures this year. Many are particularly anxious to improve their permanent grazing areas and get temporary systems worked out. Much of the increased interest, it is thought, is due to the Soil Conservation program.

County Baby Beef Clubs Discuss 4-H Judging Day

A combined meeting of the six baby beef clubs of Wayne county was conducted in the court house Tuesday evening, April 21. Thirty-five members and five leaders were present. Plans for the 4-H Judging Day to take place June 18 were discussed. Discussion of plans for the fair was also carried on. Central meetings during the year will be conducted at regular intervals.

Demonstrations on Killing Of Gophers May be Held

Some work has been done in the past on poisoning of gophers and the work has proved satisfactory. Last year demonstrations were conducted in several communities and a good response was received. If there is enough interest in communities this year, demonstrations will again be held. Poison for preparing bait is on hand at the agricultural agent's office. A twenty-five cent box of poison will treat four quarts of bait.

The body of the New Firestone High Speed Tire is made from selected long-staple cotton dipped in liquid rubber, absorbing eight pounds of rubber in every hundred pounds of cotton. This patented Gum-Dipping process insulates every fiber in every cotton cord, preventing internal friction which creates the heat so destructive to tire life, and giving to the tire added strength.

This heavy, broad, traction and non-skid tread is held to the cord body of the tire with Two Extra Layers of Gum-Dipped Cords, a patented construction, making the cord body and tread an inseparable unit.

A leading university in 2350 tire tests has found that the new, scientifically designed Firestone High Speed tread stops a car up to 25% quicker. Its super-traction and non-skid efficiency have also been proved in the famous Pike's Peak Race where for eight consecutive years it has been used on the winning cars.

Take Me Out to the Ball Game

Wayne is to have a ball club in the big ten league this season. Success of the team lies principally in the support they receive from we who call Wayne our home town. Wayne has the players, a good park in which to play at the fair grounds and all around possibilities of a successful season if we as lovers of the national sport will but give a bit of encouragement.

It is embarrassing to say the least for a city of the size of Wayne at fair time not to have a team in competition when good ball games are considered the best kind of entertainment on such occasions.

Just because teams have failed in Wayne in the past is no real good reason why the team now being organized should not win favor with our sports lovers.

A good fighting baseball team is always a good advertisement for a city. Good baseball brings many persons to the games. Organized baseball in many quarters is the chief source of conversation during the season. It furishes a lot of good hot stove league conversation in the winter. It is of vital importance that we show our neighbors that we are sufficiently alive to produce a good club. The season opens Sunday with a game with Winside at the fair grounds. Everyone who likes baseball and wants to see Wayne have a successful season should be there and give the team his support.

Let's Clean Up!

Throughout the country spring is considered the proper time to clean up premises. It is the logical time for this work. After long confinement householders are anxious to get outside and do things they have planned to do when winter snows were piled high about the premises. Dregs of winter in many instances mar the natural beauty of a fine piece of property.

Junk of all kinds has been deposited upon lawns by children and stray dogs. While Wayne is a very clean and progressive city there is still ample opportunity for making it better. Let's make a concerted effort to make this a prettier, cleaner and more liveable place. With garden rake, wheelbarrow and a good rubbish burner which can be made from a steel oil barrel covered with woven wire or grill work of some kind premises can be made to look much better and kept in that condition. Let's pick and span ourselves up and have citizens from the neighboring towns pointing out what a clean city we have.

Now the honorable Arthur Mullen, Omaha attorney and political boss, wants a slice of federal money for the so-called effort he made in bringing to Nebraska the little TVA program. Secretary Ickes has offered to settle with the pest more reasonably rather than go through the ordeal of a long and tedious argument with him. Wherever the public purse is concerned the great Mullen should be dealt with sternly. He can not possibly mean any good to anyone but Mullen.

What will the Republicans and their allies do for material when the two party conventions are over? That question interests many observers. They will have to go all over the field again with the same old tactics and the same old arguments. And by that time the independent voter will be sickened of the spectacle.—Springfield, Mass., News. (Ind.)

Though Senator Burke has been named by Nebraska Democrats as their national committeeman, he may have learned by this time that both Mr. Stephens and Mr. Carpenter offered some opposition. Playing both ends against the middle and indiscriminate giving of patronage to Republicans in preference to partisan wheel horses does not set so well.

The Bystander
 By Stan

He is 91 years old and going strong. A salesman surely and a good one, too. Each spring for the past 45 years a bluing salesman of Kearney City has been calling on the Wayne trade. When I saw him he was in a Wayne grocery store telling the proprietor that fading eyesight due to declining years placed him in a position where he could not very well see small orders of dozens of bottles when making out reports. He is a rather distinguished looking old chap with grey Van Dyke beard and almost snow white hair. He wears pince nez glasses with a black silk cord attached. He told the little group in the store that he was about to quit for the day. Early that morning he had started out from Norfolk, going to Tilden, Pierce, Randolph, Laurel, Emerson and Wakefield before coming to Wayne, calling at all stores in each town along the way. Living to be 91 is no trick according to this old timer. His philosophy is simple. You simply live from day to day, work as you go but at no time work too hard.

"See you next year," was his parting word as he walked across the street to the parked car where his driver was waiting to take him to Wisner, the last town for the day.

I have a dandy lead paragraph all prepared for a story I am afraid will have to appear in this newspaper one of these days, if some of these youngsters driving cars about town aren't a bit more careful how they handle dad's cars. It just isn't in the cards for a driver, no matter how good he is, to get by with some of the pranks some of these youthful drivers are "pulling off". Careening around corners, dodging between cars, passing on the upper Main street hill and making fishtail stops if and when they do stop at through street intersections makes one wonder at times if there has not been a bank robbed in town and if the robbers are not trying to make a get away. A more careful look reveals that it's merely the town cut-ups again giving their adolescent gal friends a thrill ride in dad's car. Injuries received in auto accidents hurt like blazes. They cost like Sam Hill, too. Death is so permanent and if there would happen to be manslaughter charges filed against anyone, a reputation of being a "flivverboob" is no credit to a driver in court. If the parents of these thrill drivers don't "crack down" on them by being a bit more stingy with the keys, local law enforcement officers should show no mercy in curing these half wit public enemies of their insanity.

"I liked your column last week," a friend told me recently while we were engaged in a bit of visiting about this and that. "I know what you mean," I replied, "it's usually lousy but for once you were able to find something in it you liked."

He was very kind in explaining to me that he could tell when I made an effort to produce something and when I pounded the thing out as a matter of routine. He was frank, too, in saying that I murdered the King's English quite often, but was naive enough or pretended to be, to give me the impression that he believed I purposely made these grammatical breaches.

I never have been an authority on spelling, grammar or punctuation, and it's quite likely I never will be. I take a particular delight in making comma splices. One can usually draw a reprimand or two for that. I like to use slang, too, because I believe it's more expressive than some of the more so-called tested and tried means of expression. I was glad my friend commented upon having even read my column. His liking it pleased me, of course, but if he had just merely remarked that he had read it I would have been pleased also. Everyone who writes likes to believe what he writes is going to be read even though he knows he is going to be judged by his writing.

Interesting to me was a little story my mother had to tell me on my recent visit back home. The story had to do with her hearing Signor Capelli, the famous tenor introducing himself to a voice of the street radio announcer who was giving away loaves of an especially prepared brand of health bread to those he interviewed. After Capelli and the announcer had visited for a moment the great tenor asked the announcer if he too might have a loaf of the bread.

Musings: I like to collect recipes for tasty foods — preferably the highly seasoned European delicacies — I am indebted to Norma Carpenter for several I received in a recent letter from her. Shirley Temple last Thursday attained the ripe old age of seven years. According to the daily press, she spent a busy day riding a pony, eating birthday cake and visiting sick children in a hospital. . . . and the world moves on just the same — Wonder when Mickey Mouse will observe his . . . Jake is making a lot of improvements in the appearance of the grounds at the City Hall and Municipal auditorium.

Well, that's all I can think of for now. Goodbye and remember that if we were living in California we wouldn't consider this a dry spring but simply an extraordinary spell of weather. Drop in and see me whenever you can. Love and kisses, Stan.

WHAT A POSTAL CARD CAN DO FOR NEBRASKA

"Landon's chief claim to distinction rests on his insistence upon economy in government. As a statement to policy this is hardly more meaningful than an expressed opposition to cannibalism."—Editor of the Hastings, Nebraska, Tribune.

This is Nebraska looking over the border line of Kansas and making faces at her. Nebraska thinks she is entitled to the presidency unless Kansas can give a better accounting of her economy and budget balancing than she has done so far. Nebraska is proud of the fact that she does not owe a man an earth a dollar and has the finest capitol building of any state in the world, all paid for, bills receipted, and has a per capita tax of only thirty seven as against forty four in Kansas.

But there is this difference—Kansas Republicans are united in their favorite son, Governor Landon; in Nebraska the Republicans, Democrats and Independents are all mus. sed up. It came about this way. Senator Norris did not announce his coming, but everybody expected him. The whole family, expected Uncle George on the limited and Nebraska went down to the train to meet him. He didn't show up. You never saw such a disappointed crowd in your life. They all are saying now that if Uncle George had only sent us a Post Card! George Norris has got an awfully big family, everybody in the state, and you never saw such devotion as they have for Uncle George.

You see it is this way. George Norris is Nebraska and Nebraska is George Norris. It wouldn't surprise me to see them change the name of the state and call it Norris and not always be compelled to explain that while it is called Nebraska it belongs to George Norris. If he would write a Post Card out here to his beloved people that it was okeh they would do it. But they can't get him to write!

It all started back yonder in western Nebraska when Senator Norris was a young man and a judge. He had up before him a bunch of horse thieves and in the good old western way he was brusquely warned that if he did not turn them loose neither he nor his court would live to tell the tale. He gave every one of them the limit and then asked them what they were going to do about it. Judge Norris pulled through and from that day to this he has had a reputation for independence.

Just a sidelight on how he stands out here now. I asked one of the best informed newspaper men in the state today what this unicameral legislature was that had been put in the constitution of the state and he said he didn't know what it was but knew it was all right because George Norris said it was. He said that before it was put there he didn't know of an editor in the state that was for it, but the Senator told the boys it was a good thing and so there it is and everybody is happy.

George Norris dominates the state of Nebraska from top to bottom and the people are perfectly contented that it should be that way. Out here his honesty and integrity, his fearlessness and independence stand as unquestioned as that of St. Paul on Mar's Hill. He is a patriarch worthy of all honor. The Independents and Democrats revere him, and the Republicans respect and fear him, and I have a suspicion that they too, love him. I was told today that if he had announced on the Republican ticket for re-election every Republican in the state would have broken his neck or gotten to the polls to vote for him.

What a strange political fascination this old prairie schooner statesman has about him! In the eyes of his beloved Nebraska his glory is written in the golden tints of the setting sun receding below the green carpeted dome of the western plains, and as enduring as the diamonds in the spray of the onrushing Tennessee!

Nebraska is with baited breath waiting for a Postal Card telling them that they can send out a little invitation with his name on it. If he will only send it the first voters, the young voters and the pioneer voters will stack up the grandest total that was ever accorded a President in any state in the union according to population, and it will be Franklin D. Roosevelt, the friend of Norris, and the only President that has been a friend of Norris since he has been in the Senate of the United States. The people are saying that, the editors are saying it, and they do not believe that Mr. Norris will fail his friends in this critical hour. The result of his announcement will have its repercussions in Kansas, in Colorado, in Iowa, in the Dakotas, in Minnesota, in fact in all the union.

Just a Postal Card from Senator Norris is all the people of Nebraska want telling them that it is okeh.

Lips Like Red Cherries
THE poets of the Seventeenth Century, who knew a good thing when they saw—or tasted—it were wont to compare lovely girls' lips to cherries. It was way back in 1606 that the following words were set to music by Richard Allison in "An Howres Recreation Set to Musike":
"There is a garden in her face,
Where roses and white lilies show;
A heavenly paradise is that place,
Wherein all pleasant fruits do grow.
There cherries hang that none may buy,
Till cherry ripe themselves do cry."
And it was not many years later that Robert Herrick wrote this possible echo of the earlier lines:
"Cherry ripe, ripe, ripe, I cry,
Fall and fair ones—come and buy!
If so be you ask me where
They do grow, I answer, there,
Where my Julia's lips do smile,—
There's the land, or cherry-isle."
Worth Tasting
Now everyone will freely admit that cherries of the above description, as well as cherries that grow on trees, are well worth tasting. There are no fixed formulas for enabling you to taste the first. You'll have to work that out for yourself. But, fortunately, there are innumerable good recipes for tasting the second. Here are some of them:
Royal Purple Parfait: Soften one tablespoon gelatin in four tablespoons cold water. Dissolve in one cup boiling hot grape juice. Add the syrup from a No. 2 can Royal Anne cherries. When the gelatin begins to set, add the stemmed and halved cherries, and pile in tall, slim parfait glasses.

Chill in refrigerator. Top with whipped cream. Makes six to eight servings.
Cherry and Apple Pie: Pare, core and slice two green apples and arrange in a pastry-lined pie tin with the drained contents of a No. 2 can red pitted cherries. Mix together two-thirds cup sugar and one and a half tablespoons flour, and sprinkle over. Dot with three tablespoons butter, and pour over one-third cup cherry syrup from the can. Cover with top crust and bake at 450 degrees for ten minutes, or until crust is set, and then 350 degrees for thirty minutes. Makes one large pie.
A Titillating Taste
Cherry Torte: Drain contents of a No. 2 can pitted red cherries, and place in refrigerator until ready to use. Add enough water to the cherry syrup from the can to make one cup. Combine three-eighths cup sugar with one and a half tablespoons cornstarch, add to cherry syrup and cook over a low fire until thick and clear, stirring constantly. Beat two egg yolks slightly, add hot mixture slowly, cook one minute longer (do not boil), then cool. When cold, fold in two stiffly-beaten egg whites and one cup cream, whipped.
Meanwhile, have ready twenty-four rounds of pastry. Roll pastry thin, cut in 3-inch rounds with cookie cutter, prick with a fork and bake to a light golden color. Cool. Allow three rounds to a serving. Put the three rounds together with the cherry filling, leaving plenty on top. Cover with the cherries and garnish around the torte with a piping of whipped cream. Serves eight. If desired, one large torte may be made by baking three or four large pastry rounds and putting them together in the same way.

Door to Door Merchant Pays No Taxes For Supporting Wayne

Already the gypsy merchants have come to Wayne. Their season is now open and they're out to make as many sales as possible. They have no connections in the towns in which they work. They care not how schools, churches, parks or municipal buildings are financed. They sell their merchandise, usually of a low grade, by word of the glib tongue. They make fabulous profits. They make wild promises. They keep moving and are able to operate without having to pay taxes on their stocks.

A Wayne householder was telling this reporter early this week of his experience with a young chap who called at his door selling subscriptions to some magazine.

The peddler had a fanciful tale to tell. He was talented along musical lines, according to his story. Because of limited finances, he had been forced to leave his studies at the University of Nebraska in order to gain sufficient money to continue. It seems that a "Mr. Jolly" whom the youth had represented as head of the conservatory at the University had hit upon the idea of a group of these embryonic "musicians" going on the road selling magazine subscriptions.

Then there was the nice folksy sentimental angle, too. The young peddler had an "auntie" who was so eager to see her nephew succeed. She operated a poultry farm north of town and a few years ago made a home for him when he had otherwise been a homeless lad. His "auntie" would give each person who subscribed to the magazine with her nephew a fine Plymouth Rock hen and "of course you like chicken", he would say as he beamed down to householders he hoped to take down the alley.

The householder who told this writer of his experience with this sort of chiseler agreed with the lad that he liked chicken. He also told him he would like to help him get a musical education and that he would like a subscription to the magazine but there were a number of obstacles in the way that would have to be cleared up before they could talk business.

First the Wayne man wanted to know for sure if the head of the music department at the University was named "Jolly". He then wanted to know who the generous "auntie" was who would give a nice fat hen for anyone helping her poor nephew to become a musician.

The Wayne citizen had lived here for many years. He had never remembered of the young "musicians" ever having lived here and he did not know the "auntie".

It is the belief of this Wayne taxpayer that every citizen out of loyalty to Wayne business houses, everyone of whom is a tax payer, should get in touch with the city clerk's office before dealing with gypsy merchants. They should do this for their own protection as well, he said.

Seventy Farmers In Wayne County Receive Benefit of $39,000.00

One year old today, April 30, the Resettlement Administration has advanced aid to seventy farm families in Wayne county, it was announced by Ray L. Verzal, Resettlement representative.

Setting up of an adequate national, regional and state staff took several months so that actual field operations in this district date back to May, 1935, Mr. Verzal said.

"Farmers and businessmen alike have received great benefits from the Resettlement Administration," said the representative. "The program is so designed that it deals with needs of the individual case. If it had not been for emergency grants during the severe winter months thousands of farm families would have lacked the necessities of life. The ability of Resettlement to meet this need reveals an efficient working organization."

Lack of available funds made it impossible to extend the standard farm plan to all those desiring loans, the Resettlement representative pointed out, but in his district he said that fifty farmers were now operating under budgeted loans. This part of the program, he said, is proving very successful.

Since Resettlement offices were opened in Wayne last May, more than $39,000 has been disbursed in either grants or loans. Advice to farmers on modern cropping methods is one of the features of the standard farm plan, according to Mr. Verzal.

WHAT ABOUT HOSS RACES ASKS FANS

for racing and a fence was built around the course, as well as several other improvements. This year the association again starting from a scratch, feels that a guarantee of $31,000 should be sufficient to start the ball rolling. So certain are several members of the association that a meet here would be successful they are willing to finance the construction of a stable for the fair association and allow the association to pay for the improvement out of race earnings.

Officials said early this week that a meeting of the association will likely be called late this week or during next week at which time some decision will be arrived by which another meet can be arranged.

The Wayne County Horse Racing association operates under the laws regulating pari-mutuel racing in the state of Nebraska. The association is a non-profit organization which simply handles details of the meets.

All net earnings of such meets are to be turned over to the benefit of some agricultural society such as a fair association and no individual or groups of individuals may conduct meets for profit.

SPEAKER SAYS AMERICA MUST BE PEACEMAKER

which he is intensely interested for having lived abroad for ten years. Mussolini he says, visions an imperial future for his people and realizes the necessity of expansion, which is possible only by the destruction of existing empires. This explains the attack on Ethiopia.

British Empire Dissolving
"I am convinced," Nollen said, "that Mussolini believes in the present dissolution process of the British Empire. That is the foundation of his plan. He wants to seize a remnant, and Ethiopia is the most strategic remnant. It is the jugular vein that connects Britain's head with the body of her great empire. But I do not believe that the British association of independent states weakens the empire; on the contrary, I believe it strengthens it."

British statesmen are not blind to Mussolini's hypothesis, Nollen thinks. The one thought of France in the controversy is security, the speaker analyzed. "France believes she needs both England and Italy to combat Germany, so her's is a double role."

Denounces Dictated Peace
Dr. Nollen vigorously attacked America and the other allies of the World War for their attitude toward Germany when they tried to make peace a dictated peace, thereby nearly crushing a strong people. "Every step of the Allies since the end of the war has been a step in the wrong direction."

Commenting on Germany's devotion to Hitler, the speaker said, "Loyalty to a leader is one of Germany's national characteristics. It is unfortunate that their leader is represented by the Hitler type." Dr. Nollen thinks Hitler is an unsafe leader.

Danger of Fascism
"Now, how about us—America?" queried the college president. "We entered a war to end war; a war to make the world safe for democracy. And the result? Just the opposite. The world has been plunged into despotism. The real danger to American democracy, however, if there is one, is not communism but fascism."

One of the saddest, most shameful blots on American history, believes Nollen, concerns America's repudiation of the League of Nations after having secured signatures of other nations. "One reason the League is weak today," he said, "is simply because the most powerful nation on earth has stood aside."

"There must be peace; war is too destructive. America must agree never to enter war on any condition. But America must also help organize for peace. We are more free to make this venture than any other nation. We must help establish through an organ, in some way, a definite, lasting peace among the nations of the earth," Nollen concluded.

Dr. Nollen's talk was preceded by brief responses from representatives of the visiting clubs. A skit "Nightmare" in charge of Wilbur Porterfield and Henry Ley was presented. Music was furnished by Wayne State Teachers college groups, Prof. Clifford Bair and Robert Gibb. After the address, dancing occupied the remainder of the evening.
