

Announcing

The Jamieson Hospital and Sanitarium

521 Pearl Street

Wayne, Nebraska

On this last day of the year 1936, I wish to announce the opening of my new hospital and sanitarium in the large residence property I have acquired for this purpose at 521 Pearl Street in Wayne.

It has long been my desire to have a hospital of my own. The opportunity for fulfillment of that desire came through the tremendous public acceptance of The Jamieson Health Plan. Consequently I was forced to provide hospitalization facilities by January 1, 1937.

In charge of the Jamieson Hospital and Sanitarium is Miss Lisle Clayton. Miss Clayton has been for a number of years actively engaged in the nursing profession in Wayne and needs no introduction. The hospital is modern in every way. It is fully equipped and ready to serve its patients with last minute developments for providing scientific care of the sick.

On this last day of the year, 1936, I wish to thank the people of Northeast Nebraska for the open-minded consideration and whole-hearted acceptance that has been afforded The Jamieson Health Plan.

The plan is yours for your own use in securing health protection at a very nominal fee. It was through your enthusiasm for the plan that I was able to provide The Jamieson Hospital and Sanitarium for you.

It is my sincere wish that I may have an opportunity to prove the feasibility, economy and security provided by this novel plan. Wishing you and yours a most happy 1937, I eagerly await an opportunity to be of service to you.

Bygone Days

(Thursday, Jan. 10, 1924) There is a chess game on between Wayne and Bloomfield, played by mail, and it has already advanced to about the third move on each side. It was a challenge game and both teams playing for the championship. The Bok Pease proposal will be discussed and ballots distributed for use of all who care to vote at the open forum meeting Friday evening at the college.

former editor, George F. Kehnower, went up in smoke Thursday night with a complete loss of the plant. The drug store stock on the first floor and in the basement were also destroyed leaving the walls intact. The fire evidently caught from the furnace, and possibly smouldered several hours before being located.

A single point was the margin by which the Wildcats beat the Yack-ton colleg. Greyhounds in a game played on the Wayne floor Jan. 3. A free throw by Wendt broke a 17 to 17 tie, and with four minutes to go a field goal by Best clinched the victory. (Thursday, Jan. 17, 1924)

Jan. 13. The price was $12.25, the highest paid for a number of weeks, which brought 55 head averaging 1982 pounds. The cattle were western bred Herefords with a sprinkling of cross-breeds. They were bought by Armour for local and western trade. This sale was a dollar higher than any other the same day, and demonstrated that well bred cattle properly finished bring a good premium over plain stock.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Jordan, Jan. 21. George Thompson suffered a compound fracture when his arm caught in the elevator chain of a corn sheller while working at the Harry Robinson farm. His arm was drawn into the endless elevator chain and pulled over two of the lugs which punctured the forearm in two places breaking the bone.

(Thursday, Jan. 21, 1924) For saving the life of a small boy from drowning in the Elkhorn river at Neligh, J. A. Reynolds, manager of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company of Pilger was presented with a Vail bronze medal for bravery, a special coronation Thursday.

William Von Seggern as representative of the Wayne county fair association attended a seven day meeting at Lincoln last week.

Major Frank Ebbert will talk on "Unfinished Battle" and also illustrate his talk with scenes of the last raid of Sheriff Kendall at the community house Friday evening.

Wayne telephone users in this city make about 2,877 calls a day, or an average of six calls per telephone, according to a recent count by the telephone company. At regular intervals, telephone calls are counted to find out if there are enough operators to handle the load promptly and if the load is evenly distributed among the operators. Records show that the greatest number of calls are made between 9:30 and 10 o'clock in the morning and 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening.
