OUR NEIGHBORS

WAKEMEAD REPUBLICAN.

Four cars of grain leave the Wakemead mill每天每小时。 The track will be extended as soon as the ground is open, thus enabling the firm to ship eight cars a day. In the spring operations will be commenced at the enlargement of the elevator and it is the intention to double the capacity.

WEST POINT REPUBLICAN.

The second and third page of the copy of last week's Harrington Nonpareil, which reached this office, was blank. The first page of the same paper was devoted to the tree trade cause. The page was blankly blank.

The building and operation of a competitive railroad line through Cuming county would immediately enhance the value of lands on the average from 10 to 20 per cent. The aggregate of advanced values on hay and pasture lands--to say nothing about village and city property--would be $1,000,000. This being the case, the allegation may be easily demonstrated by figures. Figures do not lie.

DAKOTA CITY EXPRESS.

During the past week there appeared in the Eagle's truth a feature article by a gentleman who has been a continuous reader of the paper ever since it started and who through mere neglect forgot that it takes money to weekly manufacture the truth. He had a smile on his face and asked of the editor how much he paid and for a year in advance besides. The editor effectually put him in his place by telling him he was pleased with the course it had taken in the past dozen years and further added that it would be an impossibility for him to keep house without it. There are lots of them in the same fix. In Dakota county there are yet several hundred who are owing from four to thirty dollars on back subscription and who despite their best efforts have not paid up.

Dehorning cattle is getting to be one of the things that is happening every day. Now, does it cost the farmer? We do it here, received the tools and will do him his entire herd. The horns are sawed off as close to the head as can be without cutting the flesh, and ten minutes after they go eating as though nothing had happened. Thus are the weapons taken from them, making them as quiet as sleep. Only a few moments later the animal is perfectly recovered and the fight is over.

Thus far we have not heard of any case of dehorning cattle when young before they become old enough to be dangerous. Hundreds of cattle and horses would thus be enabled to say nothing of the lambs, i.e., that are least likely to get lost.

Off with the horns.

STANTON REGISTER.

In a few days the Board of Trade will have received its ten thousand copies of paper containing a complete description of our county as it is known to all who desire to come west in search of farms. These papers are for free distribution and the man in the country should send a copy to their friends elsewhere, and especially to those whom they believe might be induced to seek homes with us. All industrious land-owners should be sent fifty or more copies, with a request that they be properly distributed.

If the proper showing is made we believe that the wide distribution of these papers will bring us settlers. We certainly can offer tempting inducements if the listener can only be found, and will only believe.

There are thousands of farmers tillers rented in the cast who should come to this and possess themselves of a farm of his own, he should come now while his means will allow him to purchase. We have a soil rich in all the elements to grow all crops. The land is yet cheap, and will go down in value as it remains.

Our never failing crops, let the season be wet or dry, is bound to turn the attention of farmers to our state, especially those residing in sections where they will have failure after failure of crops. There is room in Stanton county, for hundreds of families, and we will guarantee contentment, comfort and prosperity to all who are industrious and economical.

W. C. T. U.

This column is conducted by the Wayne W. C. T. U.

Our readers will remember that last June the Kentucky distillers made a contract together not to make any whisky for a year in order to enhance the price. It now transpires that a number of them have broken this contract, and manufactured whisky gratis to their own profit. The advantage of their more honest neighbors.

A meeting of the Association was held in Louisville, last week and Herman Beckius was instructed to bring suit against all signers of the contract who had broken it. This looks to us as little like encroaching upon men's "personal liberty," this making them "take a pledge not to drink whisky." It is a "no man's land" and the law is silent as to what to do with it, but if they can stand it we can. The effect of the measures was immediately seen in the advance in price of whisky from $1.05 to $1.08 per gallon.

"The War of the Rebellion," said General Daniel E. Sickles the other evening, was really a whisky war. Yet whisky caused the rebellion? I was in the congress preceding the war. It was whisky in the morning--the morning cocktail--a congress of whisky drinkers. Then whisky all day: whisky and gambling all day. whisky and corruption all day. whisky and treason all day before it adjourned. Surely a committee-room without its denouement of whisky and the clink of the glasses could be heard in the capital corridor. The fights--the angry speeches--were whisky. The atmosphere was redolent with whisky--nervous excitement, giddy relief in whisky, adding to nervous excitement, whisky added to nervous excitement. Yet the rebellion laid in wait for us, and the French army lay where to drink some morning--half the whisky consumed in any one day by that congress of whisky drinkers.

The following is the text of the Washington Territory law granting suffrage to women.

He is Enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Washington:

SECTION 1. That all citizens of the United States male and female, above the age of twenty-one years, who shall have resided six months in the territory, sixty days in the county and thirty days in the town, and thirty days in the district, shall be entitled to vote at all elections in this territory; provided, that no officer, soldier, seaman, marine, or other person in the army or navy, or attached to troops in the service of the United States, shall be allowed to vote at any election in this territory by reason of his service therein, unless and until he shall be discharged from the service of the United States, or shall have been honorably discharged from the service of the United States, and then nothing in this act shall be construed as to make it lawful for women to serve as jurors.

Sec. 2. That all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith be and are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval by the Governor.

Truston P. Dyer, late City Attorney of St. Louis, in the Post and Dispatch says he is surprised by the talk of the value of high license, that no man has seen so much of its workings as he has, would make such statements. True, St. Louis last year received from $1,732,341 to $1,732,350 in license fees for drunkenness, $2,678 for disturbing the peace, and 1,714 cases of vagrancy, at least three-fourths of which are directly traceable to liquor, besides 300 cases of cruelty to animals, and 221 of carelessness driving, of which at least one-half are due to the same cause. He thinks five-fifths a fair proportion of the police expenses and those for the jail and poorhouse would be saved by liquor.

The total expenses are $775,263, of which five-eighths are $485,781.53, which can be legitimately charged to the liquor traffic. The total revenue from license, less ten per cent for collecting, is $658,837.28, which leaves a small margin of "profit" out of which to pay the liquor proportion of the expenses of County Hospital, Insane Asylum, Poorhouse, etc.

That the city is not making money out of its high license is proved by the fact that while during the past four years the assessable value of St. Louis has increased fourteen per cent the rate of taxation has gone up two per cent. Would the city lose any money by adopting local option?

SHILOH'S COUGH AND CONSUMPTION Cure is sold us on a guarantee, it cures consumption. B. J. Kass.

SHILOH'S CURE will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. Sold by B. J. Kass.

THURSDAY, FEB. 28, 1888.

The President and Mrs. Cleveland are taking in the beauties of Florida.

General Sheridan comes out with a flat refusal to permit his name to be used in connection with the presidentcy.

With Blaine out of the way, if a campaign of enthusiasm is decided on the candidate will in all probability be Sheridan, and "Sheridan and Shandash" will be the war cry.

A row of big dimensions and promising the infliction of a lot of family miseries on the public, is going on among the heirs of the late S. P. Rounds, of the Omaha Republican.

There is probably no doubt that if Omaha could get a railroad to Yankton and on to the intersection with the Northern Pacific without paying out a dollar for it, that it would accept it.

The latest democratic scheme to prevent the admission of Dakota is the proposition of an amendment providing for the admission of Dakota, New Mexico, Montana, and Washington at the same time.

There is a very strong sentiment among the more enthusiastic Blaines to push his nomination, letter or no letter. They do not feel that the greatest of Americans should be permitted to decline a nomination.

The democratic Atlanta Constitution says: "We say let capital take care of itself, but the democratic party owes it to itself and the country to see that the workmen are not driven out of employment by free trade ideas."

Complete returns of the loss of life in Dakota from the January blizzard have been made and it is found that the exact number is one hundred and five, instead of a thousand, as the terrible imaginations of the eastern newsmen had it.

The Iowa State convention has been called unusually early this year for the express purpose of giving Allison a boom for the presidential nomination and his name will be pushed with all the enthusiasm and force the Lowans can bring to bear.

The New York Evening Post thinks that Sheridan could not be elected president if he wanted to. It was said long ago that a large proportion of the present voters of the country have little or nothing about it. Evidently the Evening Post has forgotten the significant tidal wave of interest in war matters which rolled over Mr. Cleveland when he undertook to surrender these confederate battle flags—Globe Democrat.

D. R. Locke, editor of the Toledo Blade, and one of the best known and most influential journalists in the country, died last week. His writings over the nom de plume of "Pericles V. Nasby" made his name a household word throughout the United States, and secured for the Toledo an enormous circulation.

Mt. Vernon, Illinois, a town of considerable importance in the southern part of the state, was struck by a cyclone Sunday, and a large portion of the city totally destroyed. Preceding the cyclone there was a heavy rain and ball storm that drove everyone to shelter, and the cyclone came entirely unexpected. Twenty-nine persons were killed outright, and a large number were more or less seriously injured by the falling buildings and flying timber, many of them so badly that they will die. Three hundred dwellings and business houses were destroyed, and more than twelve hundred persons rendered homeless. To add to the horror of the situation fire broke out in the ruined buildings and this caused much additional damage before the flames could be subdued. The storm was a purely local one, and no damage was done except in the vicinity of the city.

GINGER SNAPS.

STUFFED CARRAGE.

Take a coarse turnip and boil till tender, split it, and stick in a few cloves, cut one onion, a little thyme, add some browned flour. Have the turnip cool, then add the thyme, which mix the ingredients, add three hard boiled eggs, chop fine, garnish with hard boiled eggs.

STUFFED CABBAGE.

Take a fresh cabbage and remove the center. Fill the cavity with a stuffing made of dried veal or chicken, cleaned, fine, finely minced, and rolled into balls with the yolk of egg; tie the cabbage firmly together and boil after two hours.

WATER OMELET.

For twelve persons, take six eggs, one, removing the hard part, and mincing the rest very fine, allow one egg; beat very light the yolks of eight and whites of four eggs; mix with the yolks of the other eggs; add all the flour, put a pint of butter. If it sticks when the butter boils skim it and turn in the omelet; stir till it stiffens and fry light brown. Turn the other side down, turn on a hot plate. If you want the upper side brown hold a red hot shovel over it.

POACHED WHOLE POTATOES.

Peel the potatoes and lay in salted water. Take from the fire when done, so that they will remain whole; have ready one beaten egg and some bread or cracker crumbs, then dip the potatoes in the egg, then in the crumbs, and fry to a light brown. Old potatoes can be cooked this way.

Two Only a Bowl of Kerosene.

It is not always the foolish servant girl who tries to light the fire with kerosene; sometimes the lord of the house tries to accomplish the same unprofitable and risky trick. Since last Tuesday the general of certain hotel proprietor in this city has been endeavoring to ascertain who steals his candles—not Patterson, but he has kept his lips persistently glued together whenever the subject is mentioned to him. It was a ministerial man who had wandered late and long and come in by the dim uncertain dawn of the November morning who discovered the secret and knew that it was a good opportunity to give it away. It is a common belief of kerosene on his plum, round about the chimney, drew the kerosene on the fire to hurry up the candle—that was all. Detroit Free Press.

Should be Regularly Fitted.

"It is very wrong," said an oculist, "for people to buy glasses without having the eyes examined. They might as well order medicines to put up without a physician's prescription." It is a common error of opticians and improper glasses not only injure the eyes, but often produce a permanent injury to the sight. Glasses should be regularly prescribed, and then fitted by someone who understands the construction of the eye. It is particularly necessary when spectacles are worn. Philadelphia Times.

Fell Among Thieves.

An Addison County farmer tells a blood-curdling experience. He went to Boston to get a barrel polished and waded down to a tinker's office. He claims that before he got home his teeth were skinned and a mortgage put on his gums. The case is creating a good deal of excitement. Burlington Free Press.

Latent Colonial Ways.

President Cleveland has declined to accept a corner lot in the new Cleveland Park at St. Paul. As President of the United States he may not sanction even a corner lot in a park. If he were a man of the world, he would take the lot and let his supporters to put a house on it. Toronto Globe.
