

The Wayne Herald.

VOL. XIII. NO. 14.

WAYNE, WAYNE COUNTY, NEBRASKA, APRIL 19, 1888.

WHOLE NO. 6408.

First : National BANK.

WAYNE, NEBRASKA,

CAPITAL, $50,000

SURPLUS $13,000.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:

JOHN T. BRESSLER, President.

HENRY LEY, Vice Pres.

F. A. DEARBORN, Cashier.

W. S. GILLETTE, Ass't Cashier.

Directors.

John T. Bressler, D. C. Patterson, F. A. Dearborn, Henry Ley, J. W. Jones, F. M. Northrup, Frank Fuller.

V General Banking Business Done.

Accounts of Merchants and Farmers Solicited.

S. D. RELYEIA,

Contractor & Builder,

Bills for Materi'l free.

All work done Promptly

And in the best manner

Shop by Rayburn's blacksmith shop.

Wayne, Nebraska.

Rickabaugh & Workman's Barber :: Shop.

West Side Main Street.

Hair-cutting, Shaving, Etc.

Done neatly and promptly.

GEORGE W. KORTRIGHT

EVOTE HIS WHOLE TIME

To the Photographing Business.

This company photo studio is entirely surrounded by trees and a clear day, the best models are used in cloudy days. Give us a chance to use your camera and we will make a good job.

Card Photos, $2.50 per Doz.
Jabinets, 4.00 per Doz.

CHEAPER THAN CITY PRICES.

GEO W. KORTRIGHT PHOTOGRAPHER.

Wayne, Neb.

A. J. FERGUSON,

Pension, Bounty

And Claim Solicitor.

Wayne, Nebraska.

L. S. WINSOR'S Blacksmith Shop

Second door west of Harrington's.

HORSE SHOEING

A specialty, and all work guaranteed to first class.

WM. PIEPENSTOCK, Harness--Maker

Work First-Class.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Shop on 2nd street east of Joe E. McFarland's.

County Directory.

John Connor,	County Treasurer, Wayne.
W. H. Morris,	County Judge.
A. R. Miner,	County Sheriff.
W. E. Howard,	County Super., County Attorney.
D. King,	Comptroller.
James F. Tracy,	County Clerk.
Wm. Prater	Warden.
A. T. Chapman,	Attala.
J. T. Mettler,	Warden.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

Presbyterian Church.
Servicess every Sabbath morning and evening.
Wednesday evening, Rev. F. P. Baker, Pastor.

J. A. Little, Supply.

Methodist Episcopal Church.

Servicess every Sabbath at 10:30 o'clock A. M.

Wednesday evening, Conference Hall.

Rev. Mr. Miller, Supply.

English Ev. Lutheran Church.

Servicess every Sabbath at 10:30 A. M.

Wednesday evening, Conference Hall.

Rev. Mr. Morantz, Pastor.

Episcopal Church.

Servicess every Sabbath at 10:30 A. M.

Wednesday evening, Conference Hall.

Rev. Mr. Morantz, Pastor.

SOCIETIES.

O. O. F. Wayne Lodge, No. 118, meets every Friday evening in Masonic Hall.

John T. Bressler, N. G.

R. J. Morgan, Secretary.

A. Y. & A. M. Wayne Lodge, No. 120, meets in Masonic Hall every second and fourth Friday of each month.

A. W. W. Miller, N. G.

B. F. Farnum, Secretary.

K. of F. Legion Lodge, No. 45, meets the last and 3rd Fridays of each month in Masonic Hall.

W. M. Brewster, N. G.

W. H. Whitteman, K. of H.

A. U. W. Wayne Lodge, No. 202, meets the last and 3rd Fridays of each month in Masonic Hall.

W. M. Brewster, N. G.

W. H. Whitteman, K. of H.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

Rev. Mr. Farnum, Secy.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. C. T. U. meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

W. J. King, Pres.

G. A. C. Club, meets the 1st and 3rd Mondays of each month.

THE WAY TO SING.

The birds well know—Who wisely sing
Will sing as they.
The crimson air has generous wings,
Sings make their way,
No more—
Leaving place,
No mention of the place or how,
To any man,
No waiting—
A listening ear,
No different voice, no new delays,
It always draw near—
"What bird is it?"—
And eager eyes
Go peering through the dusky wood,
In glad surprise.
Then late at night, in his fire
The traveler sits,
Watching the flames grow brighter, higher,
The winter winds sing,
By snatches, by turns,
To help him rest,
When next he goes that road again,
And weary feet,
On leaves which will make him sigh:
"Ah, me! Last spring
Just here I heard, in passing by,
That birds were singing,
But while singing, remembrance
How sweet the song,
The little bird, on wingless wing,
Is born along,
In other words, the song
With weary feet,
On other roads, the simple strain
And simple strain,
The birds were known,
Will sing at them;
The common air has generous wings,
Songs make their way,

Helen Hunt.

ELFIE.

BY J. S. L.

She had expected opposition, and was relieved to find she did not run up to her wife.

By an afternoon train he followed her to town, and there was considerable consternation at the Balfords' where he did not return.

He had found much better than Mary had hoped for him; and when he had told her he could manage to walk alone, and now his absence greatly alarmed them.

At last, at evening, and the darkness had settled around his pretty little home as he entered his own gate, gently closing it behind him without a sound.

"Five o'clock," he muttered, "that's when I come home. And I look like it. It's seven or six."

His heart beat with a fierce anger, and he crept round to the back of the house.

"They will be in her bonds," he said; "it was there they used to meet, I have heard their muffled voices beneath me when in my own room. Heaven help me."

He was right.

His wife was there, and there was a blazing fire within, which cast forth bright and fiery rays, and by its light he could see that everything was as he expected to be, pleading with her with all the strength of a wild passion.

Suddenly they started asunder, the doorway, and the maid appeared with a tray set-table, lighted the gas, and laid out the dainty cups and saucers.

Then she drew down the blinds and closed them.

He turned and staggered, rather than walked, from the room which had been so dear to him, away from the woman he loved.

"I am a fool!" he muttered between his clenched teeth.

And over again he repeated that one word, "Fool."

He sat silent, aimlessly on, and as the light of a street-lamp fell upon his haggard face, a passer-by stopped and addressed him.

"Why, Mr. Eastridge, is that you? Not staying?"

"Ah, I am," returned Paul, "you are Lord Cranburn. No, I am not at my work. I shall never work again."

"I am sorry to return his lordship, sir," said the man.

"I have no home!"

Lord Cranburn halted a passing hansom, and helped his friend in.

"Paul, you must question just did he was so bold, a boy, as may still do; and Lord Cranburn drove him to his own lodgings, and having given him to bed, started off to inform Miss of his illness, and to assure him that he appeared to be in a high fever, and his head was wandering.

Mary Hainsford, however, had arrived before him, and was telling Miss of the disappearance of her son.

They had traced him to the station and she had followed him by the next up-train, which was an express.

"Paul, you must hear to hear of his safety from Lord Cranburn, and not for one moment did they dream of what had occurred, and the fatality foreshadowed he had made."

Thereupon, that sentiment that dearest had again set in, and that his visit to London had been as aimless as his wanderings seemed to have been, when he threw him in the way of Lord Cranburn.

Mr. Eastridge sent immediately for the medical man, who looked very grave, and the doctor came in the doctor's room to see Lord Cranburn.

Paul, who was willingly giving up his rooms to the sick man and his nurse, and went to others on a higher floor; but he offered his help in her her admissions, which singularly accepted him.

Paul, however, was not so sure that she might not be able to manage him, and he had promised the doctor to be at hand in case of her needing his services.

Subsequently, he took Miss home in his carriage, leaving Mary to resume the care of her patient.

Lord Cranburn willingly gave up his rooms to the sick man and his nurse, and went to others on a higher floor; but he offered his help in her her admissions, which singularly accepted him.

Paul, however, was not so sure that she might not be able to manage him, and he had promised the doctor to be at hand in case of her needing his services.

He came quietly in and out many times during the night, and looked with anxiety and admiration at the medical findings which the gentle young girl described over the strong and delicious meal.

It was a time of red anxiety and bitter sorrow to Miss.

She was in no way understand her friend's secret relapse, nor his apparent death to her.

He came quietly in and out many times during the night, and looked with anxiety and admiration at the medical findings which the gentle young girl described over the strong and delicious meal.

"I am glad you have found out that I am ill," said the doctor, "but you have no good-bye; I have a pressing engagement and must be off."

"Can I take you anywhere?" he asked but pointed out of the window.

"There is a carriage already waiting." For the messenger's brief-

The doctor assured her that in many instances of brain affection, the sufferer could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, or when they had lost consciousness, but her husband under her over-awed, but the doctor was obstinate, and protested that he must be moved; and Paul fretted at her having led doing it all for Paul's sake.

It was almost more than she could do to attend rehearsals night after night with her heavy lead-weighted heart; but she was leading it doing it all for Paul's sake.

More than ever it seemed in her necessity to pass on to fortune, for the mother had told her that Paul never would consent to stay home, and should live a quiet life.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

"It is right you should think so," he answered shortly.

"Tell me why you do not wash to go home," she begged earnestly; but he only shook his head.

She had little time, "I cannot," he said; "it would break your heart."

Lord Cranburn looked up with surprise, and beckoned her from the room.

"I am not afraid," he said, "do you know, I believe in you."

She had great influence over him, and readily consented to let him have that he could not bear the sight of the faces of those they loved most when in a semi-state, and he lay for hours pale and hopeless, seeming to take no interest in anything.

At last the doctor said he might be moved, and Mary told him the good news, and he rejoiced, it seemed to her, as his light up his pleasure instead of which he contrasted with a look of agony incomprehensible to her.

An Immense stock of Wall Paper at John E. McFarland's.

The Wayne Herald.

GOSHORN, A. NEAL Editors.

Largest Circulation of any Paper in Wayne County.

Official Paper of Town and County.

THURSDAY, APRIL 19, 1865.

Emperor Frederick is sinking rapidly, and his death is hourly expected.

Matthew Arnold, the noted English poet and critic is dead.

The land office at Niobrara has been ordered removed to O'Neill by the Interior Department.

The democratic papers exhibit an anxiety as to the condition of Blaine's health which is positively painful.

A large contingent from Iowa proposes to array itself in tall white hats and hickory clubs and storm the Chicago convention for Allison.

The Omaha ministers have attacked Sunday base ball playing in their city, eight of them having pronounced on that subject last Sunday.

The Oklahoma bill that had been set for one of the days used up in the recent filibustering operations in the house is dead for this session.

One of the most emphatic evidences of the arrival of spring is the appearance of several columns a day in the daily describing the base ball games.

The Omaha Herald in one column calls on its people to "Encourage home enterprises," and in another shrieks lustily for free trade, that would stifle the very enterprises the Herald wants encouraged.

It is reported that the ex-saloon men of Sioux City have found a loop hole in the liquor law of Iowa by which they can sell liquor imported from Canada as long as they remain in the original packages. Such a thing of course is possible, but it looks awfully gassy.

After filibustering nine days to prevent consideration of the direct tax refunding bill, the southern brigadiers brought the northern democrats to time, and compelled an unconditional surrender. If the democratic majority wishes to go before the people of the northern states with the record of refusing to pass such a measure the republicans have no great reason to complain.

Rocco Conkling died at New York yesterday morning at 1:30. Mr. Conkling for a generation has been one of the most prominent men in the nation, and there was scarcely his superior in public life. With hosts of friends and admirers he had many enemies, but not one who ever questioned his iron-clad manhood and his splendid ability. No taint of dishonor dims his fame, and in the history of the quarter of a century preceding the civil war his name will ever occupy a prominent place.

Rocco Conkling was born in Albany, N. Y., in 1828. His father, Alfred Conkling, was a noted lawyer in his state, a United States district judge and the author of several standard law books. He was also a representative in the Seventeenth congress and minister to Mexico. President Fillmore, Rocco Conkling, a good education and chose the profession of the law. In 1848 he was appointed district attorney for Oneida county. In 1858 he was elected mayor of Utica, to which place he removed in 1846. At the close of 1858 he was elected a representative in the Thirtieth congress. He had been a candidate for reelection in the preceding election, but was defeated by his law partner, Francis Karsner, afterward United States senator from New York. He was re-elected to the Thirtieth congress, of which his brother Frederick also was a member. He was re-elected a member of the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth and Forty-first congresses. In 1867, he was chosen an associate for the term ending in 1873, serving on the committee on appropriations, the judiciary, and mines. He was re-elected to the Senate for the term ending 1873, at the expiration of which he was again re-elected. But in 1882, on account of a conflict with the same administration, further than being president, he and Senator Karsner resigned. After a strenuous struggle the New York legislature refused to elect one to fill the vacancy caused by his resignation. Thereupon he retired to private life, devoting himself exclusively to the practice of law, his office having been in the city of New York. He steadily refused to be involved in politics, and quietly achieved remarkable success, at the time of his death ranking among the foremost lawyers of the American bar.

The author of the Mills tariff bill complains because the republicans took the tariff off playing cards and left twenty per cent on bibles. Why should he complain? It is simply the admission duty free of an article the democracy uses a great deal, and leaving a duty on one with which they have simple a speaking acquaintance.

The Central Labor Union, of New York, in order to make the boycott of the business employing non-members more effective, pledged all members to abstain from the use of liquor for two weeks. The pledge might be extended to an indefinite period to their great advantage.

The Omaha Republican is urging Omaha to build a grain palace this fall in imitation of the Sioux City palace. Why not get something original and build it out of logs. If the four footed stool is not obtainable use Omaha, and make the chief feature of the display the "Omaha & Northern Railway."

The debate on the Mills tariff bill began Tuesday and the country can depend on getting several millions of dollars worth of enlightenment on the question in the forty days or more the debate is expected to occupy.

SPECIAL HALF-PAGE LAND EXTRCTIONS.

To promote the Northwestern Iowa, Southwestern Minnesota, Nebraska and Dakota, will be run by the Chicago St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railroad Company, on Saturday, June 20, 1865. Tickets will be sold at ONE PARK WAY ROUND TRIP, and will be good to return within thirty days from date of issue.

For full information as to stations at which tickets will be sold, Address,

T. W. TEASDALE,

Genl. Passenger Agent,

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

Tickets will be sold to Wayne

Burke's Arches Sales.

The best sale in the world for Cutt, Brulles, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fevers, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Convulsions, Neuralgia, & positively every Piles, or no-pain required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price $1.00. For sale by Wrightman & McFarland.

"HACKMETACK," a lasting and fragrant perfume. Price 25 and 50 c. Sold by D. J. Kass.

CHOUF, WHOOPIG COUGH and Bronchitis, immediately relieved by Smith's Cough. D. J. Kass.

Notice of Application for License.
Notice is hereby given that on the 11th day of April, 1865, F. J. Kass filed with the Village Clerk of the Village of Wayne, Nebraska, his application for license to sell malt, spirituous and vinous liquors, signed by thirty resident freemen. That such application will be presented to the Board of Trustees of said village at the meeting to be held on the first day of May, 1865. The Wayne Herald, newspaper, will publish the above notice for two weeks at the expense of said applicant. F. J. KASS, Village Clerk.

Notice of Application for Drunkard's Permit.
Notice is hereby given that on the 11th day of April, 1865, F. J. Kass filed with the Village Clerk of the Village of Wayne, Nebraska, his application for a Drunkard's Permit to sell malt, spirituous and vinous liquors, signed by thirty resident freemen. That such application will be presented to the Board of Trustees of said village at the meeting to be held on the first day of May, 1865. The Wayne Herald, newspaper, will publish the above notice for two weeks at the expense of said applicant. F. J. KASS, Village Clerk.

Notice of Application for Drug Store's Permit.
Notice is hereby given that on the 11th day of April, 1865, F. J. Kass filed with the Village Clerk of the Village of Wayne, Nebraska, his application for a Drug Store's Permit to sell malt, spirituous and vinous liquors, signed by thirty resident freemen. That such application will be presented to the Board of Trustees of said village at the meeting to be held on the first day of May, 1865. The Wayne Herald, newspaper, will publish the above notice for two weeks at the expense of said applicant. F. J. KASS, Village Clerk.

Notice of Application for Drunkard's Permit.
Notice is hereby given that on the 11th day of April, 1865, F. J. Kass filed with the Village Clerk of the Village of Wayne, Nebraska, his application for a Drunkard's Permit to sell malt, spirituous and vinous liquors, signed by thirty resident freemen. That such application will be presented to the Board of Trustees of said village at the meeting to be held on the first day of May, 1865. The Wayne Herald, newspaper, will publish the above notice for two weeks at the expense of said applicant. F. J. KASS, Village Clerk.

Notice of Application for Drunkard's Permit.
Notice is hereby given that on the 11th day of April, 1865, F. J. Kass filed with the Village Clerk of the Village of Wayne, Nebraska, his application for a Drunkard's Permit to sell malt, spirituous and vinous liquors, signed by thirty resident freemen. That such application will be presented to the Board of Trustees of said village at the meeting to be held on the first day of May, 1865. The Wayne Herald, newspaper, will publish the above notice for two weeks at the expense of said applicant. F. J. KASS, Village Clerk.

Notice of Application for Drunkard's Permit.
Notice is hereby given that on the 11th day of April, 1865, F. J. Kass filed with the Village Clerk of the Village of Wayne, Nebraska, his application for a Drunkard's Permit to sell malt, spirituous and vinous liquors, signed by thirty resident freemen. That such application will be presented to the Board of Trustees of said village at the meeting to be held on the first day of May, 1865. The Wayne Herald, newspaper, will publish the above notice for two weeks at the expense of said applicant. F. J. KASS, Village Clerk.

Notice of Application for Drunkard's Permit.
Notice is hereby given that on the 11th day of April, 1865, F. J. Kass filed with the Village Clerk of the Village of Wayne, Nebraska, his application for a Drunkard's Permit to sell malt, spirituous and vinous liquors, signed by thirty resident freemen. That such application will be presented to the Board of Trustees of said village at the meeting to be held on the first day of May, 1865. The Wayne Herald, newspaper, will publish the above notice for two weeks at the expense of said applicant. F. J. KASS, Village Clerk.

Notice of Application for Drunkard's Permit.
Notice is hereby given that on the 11th day of April, 1865, F. J. Kass filed with the Village Clerk of the Village of Wayne, Nebraska, his application for a Drunkard's Permit to sell malt, spirituous and vinous liquors, signed by thirty resident freemen. That such application will be presented to the Board of Trustees of said village at the meeting to be held on the first day of May, 1865. The Wayne Herald, newspaper, will publish the above notice for two weeks at the expense of said applicant. F. J. KASS, Village Clerk.

Notice of Application for Drunkard's Permit.
Notice is hereby given that on the 11th day of April, 1865, F. J. Kass filed with the Village Clerk of the Village of Wayne, Nebraska, his application for a Drunkard's Permit to sell malt, spirituous and vinous liquors, signed by thirty resident freemen. That such application will be presented to the Board of Trustees of said village at the meeting to be held on the first day of May, 1865. The Wayne Herald, newspaper, will publish the above notice for two weeks at the expense of said applicant. F. J. KASS, Village Clerk.

Olmstead & Brant
Would respectfully inform the public that they are now prepared to attend to the
MOVING AND RAISING OF BUILDINGS.

Address them at
WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

JOHN KLEVER,
Carpenter
CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER,
WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

Shop on Main St.

BEE HIVE

Blacksmith Shop.
STRANGER & DAUGHERTY, Prop't.

Work Guaranteed. Shop first door south of Perry & Warner's Barn.

M. S. DAVIES'
Books, Station'ry,
Wall Paper,
Musical Instruments, etc.

East side Main street, Wayne, Neb.

ACORN COOKING &
HEATING STOVES

CHACE & NEELY.

J. N. LAWRENCE,
Insurance or a Loan on Farm or town property

Call on or address

B. F. FEATHER, Wayne, Neb.

HAYES & KING

Jewelers,

Have a fine selection for the Trade.

Don't forget to call on them. New goods arriving almost every day. We have a choice line of

Silverware

A few genuine

Diamond Rings

At Parc Prices. Select from goods while you have the choice. Any one we have in our line is worth

what we ask for it. All kinds of rings are represented. All kinds of rings

</

OVER THE STATE.

Murder Most Foul.

Columbus special to the Times Republican: A horrible murder occurred four miles west of this city at 9 o'clock last night. An old German named J. Denke, an ugly, quarreling man, having his home for several months past with his son, Charles Denke, a tenant on a farm, was found dead in the basement of the latter house with his wife, who had beaten him with a club and mortally wounded the son's wife, leaving her for dead, fleeing in the darkness. The murderer was scurrying the country for the murderer, who is sure to be caught when daylight comes.

An execution will be held in the morning. The murderer is between 20 and 30 years of age, a rambunctious, law-breaking,浪子, who has served two different terms in the local prison for murder and the other time for horse stealing. The son is an honest, hard-working young man, respected by all, who knew him, and his grief is terrible.

Silent at Present.

Fremont disclosed that Harry A. Swede, about forty years of age, succeeded here by taking poison of God's kind. He was a cook by profession and came here first about five weeks ago from Hastings. He went away saying he was going to the West, but returned, and came back again a week ago Wednesday, since which time he has been staying at the City hotel. Some time ago he got a job after failing in his room unsuccess and physicians were summoned who pronounced him dead. The results of taking poison. He never rallied back this morning at 9 o'clock. He was a stranger here.

GENERAL STATE NOTES.

annie Nichols, Omaha seafar girl, 17 years old, was found dead in bed this afternoon. She had been asymptomatic for some time, but turned up after existing the last night.

George L. Budd, a somewhat notorious criminal, who is now jail at Nebraska City for being stolen, made a desperate attempt to escape the other night, but failed, and was captured by wrenching off the door with a stick which was supposed to be an impossible fast, and then burning a hole through the floor, but was captured with a hatchet. He was detected before he had gone far, the hole was large enough for his purpose.

The Bulletin Express suggests the propriety and feasibility of organizing a building and improvement company, with capital of $300,000, payable in installments or assessments on a scale similar to that of the Nebraska State Bank.

The demands for brick pavements have caused the Lincoln city council to decide upon a trip of inspection, going to a number of cities in Illinois and Indiana, where pavement has been used successfully.

Columbus has a factory where they make leather shoes with wooden soles. It is reported that a prohibition paper is soon to be started in Fullerton.

The board of transportation, in session at Lincoln on the 8th, discussed the question of connecting the state

The town of McCook has organized a board of trade, articles of incorporation of which have been filed in the office of the secretary of state.

Joséfa Mariano, of Lincoln, while out driving, threw from his buggy and wounded severely. His driver, a mulatto, and fractured his bone.

A sad accident occurred about five miles from Columbus the other day, on the Platte river. Joseda Gill was out boating with a party, among whom was one of a local widow, Mrs. G. C. Gill. The widow's small boat patients are still well and the next house will be abandoned in a few days.

The City News, in the absence of sufficient space, places the reproduction of editorials, speeches, etc., which make the circumference of the news dressing.

Mrs. Orpha Douglas, the oldest woman in the west, and by far the oldest in Omaha, died at the residence of her son, H. A. Hall, last week. She was born May 9, 1826, at East Long Meadow, Mass., and lived there until she moved to Nebraska, and has resided ever since. She left her home, but took up residence in the city, and died last month of being 102 years old.

The Fremont Masonic temple, craft hall, and library, which have been planned for a number of years, have commenced advertising for bids for its erection. The building is to be three stories high, with stone front and iron cornice ornaments, and 43x125 feet long.

The annual election of the Union Pacific will occur on the 25th inst. A bill is prevalent that T. L. Kimball, the acting general manager, will be elected as Mr. Clegg's successor. Mr. Kimball has had no objection to that effect, with his characteristic frank and straightforwardness, keeps it to himself that all inquiries invariably answer that "the master will be seated at the election."

James Brooks, living near Syracuse was arrested and taken to Nebraska City and lodged in jail on the charge of arson. He is accused of setting fire to barns, George W. Warner, who has been away for some time, but turned up after existing the last night.

George L. Budd, a somewhat notorious criminal, who is now jail at Nebraska City for being stolen, made a desperate attempt to escape the other night, but failed, and was captured by wrenching off the door with a stick which was supposed to be an impossible fast, and then burning a hole through the floor, but was captured with a hatchet. He was detected before he had gone far, the hole was large enough for his purpose.

The Bulletin Express suggests the propriety and feasibility of organizing a building and improvement company, with capital of $300,000, payable in installments or assessments on a scale similar to that of the Nebraska State Bank.

Franklin, April 10.—The legislature of the state of Franklin, Tenn., adjourned yesterday at 12 o'clock, having been in session for a number of hours.

The session of the House of

While working on packing house No. 1, West Lincoln, a carpenter named Paul fell from the roof to the ground, breaking his neck. The house is owned by the city of Lincoln, and the next house will be abandoned in a few days.

The City News, in the absence of sufficient space, places the reproduction of editorials, speeches, etc., which make the circumference of the news dressing.

The Proposed Press List.

Ottawa (Ontario) dispatch. The following is a complete list of the articles which will be placed on the Canadian free list by the proclamation to be issued on the 1st of October, 1882:

Lindens, small red; patients are still well and the next house will be abandoned in a few days.

The City News, in the absence of sufficient space, places the reproduction of editorials, speeches, etc., which make the circumference of the news dressing.

Mrs. Orpha Douglas, the oldest woman in the west, and by far the oldest in Omaha, died at the residence of her son, H. A. Hall, last week. She was born May 9, 1826, at East Long Meadow, Mass., and lived there until she moved to Nebraska, and has resided ever since. She left her home, but took up residence in the city, and died last month of being 102 years old.

The Fremont Masonic temple, craft hall, and library, which have been planned for a number of years, have commenced advertising for bids for its erection. The building is to be three stories high, with stone front and iron cornice ornaments, and 43x125 feet long.

The annual election of the Union Pacific will occur on the 25th inst. A bill is prevalent that T. L. Kimball, the acting general manager, will be elected as Mr. Clegg's successor. Mr. Kimball has had no objection to that effect, with his characteristic frank and straightforwardness, keeps it to himself that all inquiries invariably answer that "the master will be seated at the election."

James Brooks, living near Syracuse was arrested and taken to Nebraska City and lodged in jail on the charge of arson. He is accused of setting fire to barns, George W. Warner, who has been away for some time, but turned up after existing the last night.

George L. Budd, a somewhat notorious criminal, who is now jail at Nebraska City for being stolen, made a desperate attempt to escape the other night, but failed, and was captured by wrenching off the door with a stick which was supposed to be an impossible fast, and then burning a hole through the floor, but was captured with a hatchet. He was detected before he had gone far, the hole was large enough for his purpose.

The Bulletin Express suggests the propriety and feasibility of organizing a building and improvement company, with capital of $300,000, payable in installments or assessments on a scale similar to that of the Nebraska State Bank.

Franklin, April 10.—The legislature of the state of Franklin, Tenn., adjourned yesterday at 12 o'clock, having been in session for a number of hours.

The session of the House of

While working on packing house No. 1, West Lincoln, a carpenter named Paul fell from the roof to the ground, breaking his neck. The house is owned by the city of Lincoln, and the next house will be abandoned in a few days.

The City News, in the absence of sufficient space, places the reproduction of editorials, speeches, etc., which make the circumference of the news dressing.

Franklin, April 10.—The legislature of the state of Franklin, Tenn., adjourned yesterday at 12 o'clock, having been in session for a number of hours.

The session of the House of

While working on packing house No. 1, West Lincoln, a carpenter named Paul fell from the roof to the ground, breaking his neck. The house is owned by the city of Lincoln, and the next house will be abandoned in a few days.

The City News, in the absence of sufficient space, places the reproduction of editorials, speeches, etc., which make the circumference of the news dressing.

Franklin, April 10.—The legislature of the state of Franklin, Tenn., adjourned yesterday at 12 o'clock, having been in session for a number of hours.

The session of the House of

While working on packing house No. 1, West Lincoln, a carpenter named Paul fell from the roof to the ground, breaking his neck. The house is owned by the city of Lincoln, and the next house will be abandoned in a few days.

The City News, in the absence of sufficient space, places the reproduction of editorials, speeches, etc., which make the circumference of the news dressing.

Franklin, April 10.—The legislature of the state of Franklin, Tenn., adjourned yesterday at 12 o'clock, having been in session for a number of hours.

The session of the House of

While working on packing house No. 1, West Lincoln, a carpenter named Paul fell from the roof to the ground, breaking his neck. The house is owned by the city of Lincoln, and the next house will be abandoned in a few days.

The City News, in the absence of sufficient space, places the reproduction of editorials, speeches, etc., which make the circumference of the news dressing.

Franklin, April 10.—The legislature of the state of Franklin, Tenn., adjourned yesterday at 12 o'clock, having been in session for a number of hours.

The session of the House of

While working on packing house No. 1, West Lincoln, a carpenter named Paul fell from the roof to the ground, breaking his neck. The house is owned by the city of Lincoln, and the next house will be abandoned in a few days.

The City News, in the absence of sufficient space, places the reproduction of editorials, speeches, etc., which make the circumference of the news dressing.

A PAINT HOPE LEFT.

Ex-Senator Conkling Slightly Improved at Last Acroome.

New York, April 10.—At 9:30 this morning Dr. Parker said Conkling's condition was much improved this morning and that the operation that was performed seemed to have accomplished that which was expected.

The most effective vote of the committee was the adoption of a resolution to make a contribution of $1,000 to the relief fund off set against the amount of money given by Dr. Parker yesterday to help the invalid.

At 8:30 Judge Alfred C. Cole, of Utica, a nephew of the ex-senator, visited the patient and within ten minutes he recovered. "Conkling passed a good night," said Dr. Parker, "but he is considered to be rather weak. He awoke when I was in the room but did not speak to me." Among other callers in the early morning were Judge Horace Russell, Ex-Chancellor Headley and Colonel Ed. T. Williams.

Dr. Parker said he had not been so well as well as at the early intervals of his illness, but the patient is improving rapidly. The effect of the operation is beginning to show itself in the work of his hands, and his fingers are more active than they were before the operation.

At 11:45 a.m. Dr. Parker said, "At this hour I am not yet able to speak to you." At 12 o'clock he said, "I am not yet able to speak to you."

At 11:45 the condition of the patient was considered to be favorable.

At 11:45 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 2:35 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 3:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 4:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 5:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 6:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 7:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 8:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 9:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 10:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 11:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 12:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 1:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 2:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 3:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 4:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 5:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 6:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 7:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 8:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 9:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 10:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 11:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 12:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 1:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 2:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 3:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 4:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 5:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 6:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 7:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 8:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 9:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 10:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 11:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 12:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 1:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 2:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 3:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 4:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 5:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 6:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 7:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 8:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 9:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 10:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 11:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 12:30 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 1:30 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

THAT AMENDMENT.

Which Parties Hail and Officials Are Making a Desperate Effort to Banish It.

Washington, April 10.—It is 10:30 this morning and Dr. Parker said Conkling's condition was much improved this morning and that the operation that was performed seemed to have accomplished that which was expected.

The most effective vote of the committee was the adoption of a resolution to make a contribution of $1,000 to the relief fund off set against the amount of money given by Dr. Parker yesterday to help the invalid.

At 8:30 Judge Alfred C. Cole, of Utica, a nephew of the ex-senator, visited the patient and within ten minutes he recovered. "Conkling passed a good night," said Dr. Parker, "but he is considered to be rather weak. He awoke when I was in the room but did not speak to me." Among other callers in the early morning were Judge Horace Russell, Ex-Chancellor Headley and Colonel Ed. T. Williams.

Dr. Parker said he had not been so well as well as at the early intervals of his illness, but the patient is improving rapidly. The effect of the operation is beginning to show itself in the work of his hands, and his fingers are more active than they were before the operation.

At 11:45 a.m. Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 12 o'clock he said, "I am not yet able to speak to you."

At 11:45 the condition of the patient was considered to be favorable.

At 11:45 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 11:45 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 12 o'clock he said, "I am not yet able to speak to you."

At 11:45 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 11:45 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 12 o'clock he said, "I am not yet able to speak to you."

At 11:45 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 11:45 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 12 o'clock he said, "I am not yet able to speak to you."

At 11:45 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 11:45 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 12 o'clock he said, "I am not yet able to speak to you."

At 11:45 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 11:45 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 12 o'clock he said, "I am not yet able to speak to you."

At 11:45 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 11:45 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 12 o'clock he said, "I am not yet able to speak to you."

At 11:45 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 11:45 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 12 o'clock he said, "I am not yet able to speak to you."

At 11:45 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 11:45 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 12 o'clock he said, "I am not yet able to speak to you."

At 11:45 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 11:45 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 12 o'clock he said, "I am not yet able to speak to you."

At 11:45 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 11:45 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 12 o'clock he said, "I am not yet able to speak to you."

At 11:45 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 11:45 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 12 o'clock he said, "I am not yet able to speak to you."

At 11:45 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

At 11:45 Dr. Parker said, "I am not yet able to speak to you." At 12 o'clock he said, "I am not yet able to speak to you."

At 11:45 Col. E. T. Williams, a brother of the ex-senator, came to the house leaving hourly over the area of the city, and was much affected to speak, and in answer to a question as to his brother's condition, he said, "Every little by little." When asked if there was any hope for recovery he replied, "I fear not. I fear not."

THE SICK MAN.

Some Slight Improvement Noted in His Case.

New York, April 12.—News from Conkling's sick chamber this morning is of the most cheering character, and there is every reason to believe that the crisis is passed. Conkling spent one of the most trying nights of his life. The periodical attacks of delirium did not manifest themselves at all during the night. The patient slept off and on, and there were few, if any, symptoms of pain exhibited during his sleep. About 2 o'clock this morning he awoke, and was again unable to sleep. His physician visited him at 2:30 a.m., and published extracts in his paper. His physician visited him at 2:30 a.m., and when he awoke he could hardly speak with the doctor, who administered an opiate. Dr. Parker said: "A marked change for the better has taken place during the night. Mr. Conkling is now in a much more comfortable condition than he has been for many hours this morning; that he has been able to rest two days, and enjoyed more refreshing sleep during the night than I have seen him do for months."

Dr. Parker called on Conkling at 10 o'clock this morning, and found no change to speak of, but what little change there was, was for the better. Dr. Parker said: "It is a great day today that the chances for Conkling's recovery are one in ten."

Dr. Anderson came out of the sick room at 11 o'clock. He said Conkling was sleeping quietly and had been the whole morning.

At 1 P.M. Dr. Parker said: "My feeling, if anything, is that he is better, but there is no particular gain. He has taken plenty of nourishment during the day, and I am sure he is in better condition than when he went to sleep yesterday evening and pleasant repose."

A visitor in the physician's house told the reporter that Conkling was giving the patient "all the attention he can." Dr. Parker said: "That is the best thing we can do for him to do. If we tell the public that the medicines are being applied they will consider the situation more serious than it actually is. We must keep all the information I consider advisable."

Dr. Parker and Sons called at 2 P.M. and remained in consultation until nearly 4 P.M. Dr. Parker told a reporter Conkling was in good condition and had taken considerable nourishment.

Many telegrams and many notes of sympathy were received from different parts of the country by Conkling's family. The first telegram from the Legislature adopted by the republican congressional convention of the Fifth Illinois.

The Medical Board to-morrow will make allusion to Mr. Conkling's case. After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

Many telegrams and many notes of sympathy were received from different parts of the country by Conkling's family. The first telegram from the Legislature adopted by the republican congressional convention of the Fifth Illinois.

The Medical Board to-morrow will make allusion to Mr. Conkling's case. After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

At 4:45 Dr. Parker arrived and went into the sick chamber. At 5:00 p.m. he stopped and announced that he would remain until 10 P.M. The physician left at 5:30 p.m. and had been largely sleeping to about 2 degrees.

The big crowd was at 2 p.m. At that time a great change had taken place. The ex-welder had taken some medicine, and the fact that he was up at 5:30 p.m. was regarded as very significant.

At 5:45 Dr. Parker arrived and went into the sick chamber. At 5:00 p.m. he stopped and announced that he would remain until 10 P.M. The physician left at 5:30 p.m. and had been largely sleeping to about 2 degrees.

The big crowd was at 2 p.m. At that time a great change had taken place. The ex-welder had taken some medicine, and the fact that he was up at 5:30 p.m. was regarded as very significant.

At 5:45 Dr. Parker arrived and went into the sick chamber. At 5:00 p.m. he stopped and announced that he would remain until 10 P.M. The physician left at 5:30 p.m. and had been largely sleeping to about 2 degrees.

The big crowd was at 2 p.m. At that time a great change had taken place. The ex-welder had taken some medicine, and the fact that he was up at 5:30 p.m. was regarded as very significant.

At 5:45 Dr. Parker arrived and went into the sick chamber. At 5:00 p.m. he stopped and announced that he would remain until 10 P.M. The physician left at 5:30 p.m. and had been largely sleeping to about 2 degrees.

The big crowd was at 2 p.m. At that time a great change had taken place. The ex-welder had taken some medicine, and the fact that he was up at 5:30 p.m. was regarded as very significant.

At 5:45 Dr. Parker arrived and went into the sick chamber. At 5:00 p.m. he stopped and announced that he would remain until 10 P.M. The physician left at 5:30 p.m. and had been largely sleeping to about 2 degrees.

The big crowd was at 2 p.m. At that time a great change had taken place. The ex-welder had taken some medicine, and the fact that he was up at 5:30 p.m. was regarded as very significant.

At 5:45 Dr. Parker arrived and went into the sick chamber. At 5:00 p.m. he stopped and announced that he would remain until 10 P.M. The physician left at 5:30 p.m. and had been largely sleeping to about 2 degrees.

The big crowd was at 2 p.m. At that time a great change had taken place. The ex-welder had taken some medicine, and the fact that he was up at 5:30 p.m. was regarded as very significant.

At 5:45 Dr. Parker arrived and went into the sick chamber. At 5:00 p.m. he stopped and announced that he would remain until 10 P.M. The physician left at 5:30 p.m. and had been largely sleeping to about 2 degrees.

The big crowd was at 2 p.m. At that time a great change had taken place. The ex-welder had taken some medicine, and the fact that he was up at 5:30 p.m. was regarded as very significant.

At 5:45 Dr. Parker arrived and went into the sick chamber. At 5:00 p.m. he stopped and announced that he would remain until 10 P.M. The physician left at 5:30 p.m. and had been largely sleeping to about 2 degrees.

The big crowd was at 2 p.m. At that time a great change had taken place. The ex-welder had taken some medicine, and the fact that he was up at 5:30 p.m. was regarded as very significant.

BUT LITTLE HOPE.

That Mr. Conkling Will be Able to Withstand His Present Illness.

New York, April 12.—What was thought to be the turning point in Senator Conkling's condition came this morning. After the bad dream, which manifested itself in a fierce delirium, Mr. Conkling paced up and down the sick chamber. After ten minutes he became exhausted and once more sank on the bed. It was not long until he was fast asleep. His physician said he had slept well and the condition of his patient had improved.

His physician visited him at 2:30 a.m., and when he awoke he could hardly speak with the doctor, who administered an opiate.

Dr. Parker said: "A marked change for the better has taken place during the night. Mr. Conkling is now in a much more comfortable condition than he has been for many hours this morning; that he has been able to rest two days, and enjoyed more refreshing sleep during the night than I have seen him do for months."

Edward Stetson visited Conkling at 10 o'clock. When Conkling awoke he said: "I never was more surprised in my life than I was this morning. Yesterday I believed he would not recover, and sent telegrams to the White House to say so. To-day he is sitting up in bed and when we went to sleep yesterday the chances for Conkling's recovery were one in ten."

Dr. Anderson came out of the sick room at 11 o'clock. He said Conkling was sleeping quietly and had been the whole morning.

At 1 P.M. Dr. Parker said: "My feeling, if anything, is that he is better, but there is no particular gain. He has taken plenty of nourishment during the day, and I am sure he is in better condition than when he went to sleep yesterday evening and pleasant repose."

A visitor in the physician's house told the reporter that Conkling was giving the patient "all the attention he can."

Dr. Parker said: "That is the best thing we can do for him to do. If we tell the public that the medicines are being applied they will consider the situation more serious than it actually is. We must keep all the information I consider advisable."

Dr. Parker and Sons called at 2 P.M. and remained in consultation until nearly 4 P.M. Dr. Parker told a reporter Conkling was in good condition and had taken considerable nourishment.

Many telegrams and many notes of sympathy were received from different parts of the country by Conkling's family. The first telegram from the Legislature adopted by the republican congressional convention of the Fifth Illinois.

The Medical Board to-morrow will make allusion to Mr. Conkling's case. After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

Mr. Conkling is still recovering.

After describing the case it says:

"The members of the board are unanimous in their opinion that the patient is in a fit of unaccountable mania."

The family was very much alarmed.

THE IMPORTING DRAFT HORSE CO.

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA.

IMPORTER OF—
Pure-bred French Draft (Percheron or Norman)
AND ENGLISH SHIRE HORSES.

VISITORS WELCOME. Call and see our horses or write for catalogues.

EDWARDS & McCULLOCH

LUMBER COMPANY INCORPORATED

Dealers in Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash, Doors,

Blinds, Paint, Paper.

Lime, hair, cement, brick and Coal,

[YARDS IN KANSAS, MINN., DAK., IOWA, AND NEB.]

Having purchased the yard formerly occupied by Phillips & Son, just east of the Boyd House, solicit a share of your patronage. Call and see us.

W. H. Bradford, Agent, Wayne, Neb.

PHILLEO & SON,

Dealers in all Kinds of Lumber, Lime, Coal

Call and see us before Purchasing Elsewhere.

Office in the English Building east side Main street.

JOHN S. LEWIS, JR.,

Manufacturer of and Dealer in Harness :: and :: Saddles,

Sweat Pads, Combs, Brushes, Blankets, Trunks Valises,

And everything in the line. I make all my Harness out of the Best Oak Leather and Warranty

the same to be better than any of my competitors.

Prices the Lowest of the Kind;

HIRSHINS & SHIRTS.

Blacksmiths.

Wayne, Nebraska.

HORSE-SHOING A SPECIALTY

Shop just south of the Baptist church.

J. E. McFarland,

Druggist,

Dealers in Wall Paper.

East Side Main Street. Corner 3rd.

WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

L. F. RAYBURN,

Blacksmith,

WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

Plow and Carriage Work

A Specialty.

P. W. OMAN, Auctioneer!

My services can always be obtained at the HAROLD office.

WAYNE. — NEBRASKA

THE CITIZENS BANK

(INCORPORATED)

PAID UP CAPITAL, $75,000.

SURPLUS, $2,000.

A. J. TUCKER, President.

N. GRIMLEY, Vice Pres't.

D. C. MAIN, Cashier.

C. B. FRENCH, Jr. Ass't. Cash.

DIRECTORS,

W. E. Swenitzel.

Nelson Grimley.

A. A. Welch.

James Paul.

A. L. Tucker.

C. B. French, Jr.

Money on hand to Loan on the most Favorable Terms.

Call And See Us.

A General Banking Business Done.

D. C. MAIN, Cashier.

Connor & Hughes,

Dealers in

FARM MACHINERY

Wagons, Carriages,

Threshers :: and :: Binders,

Call and get prices before purchasing Elsewhere.

M. OCTAVE FUILLLET, at the age of sixteen, is reported to be engaged on another novel.

M. GUTT is now in serene and happy spirits, and is busy arranging his speeches for publication.

LUCAS, the man who recently shot Louie Michel, has asked for her forgiveness, and she has acquiesced.

JAMES WELCH, of Portland, Me., was fined $200 and sentenced to eighteen months in jail for liquor selling last week.

The shah will postpone his visit to Europe until next year, so that he can attend the international exposition on at Paris.

EMILE OLIVIER, Napoleon's prime minister when the Franco-Prussian war of 1870 began, is writing a history of its causes.

MISS AGNES McCULLAN is the young "newspaper man" in Nebraska. She is but 15, and is local editor of The Second Democrat.

MR. GLADSTONE has written to Sir Sigeri Jacobi approving the latter's pamphlet advocating the neutralization of the sea.

MRS. MACKAY talks of buying a residence in the Scotch Highlands. Mrs. Mackay gives her carte blanche in nearly everything the desiderata.

DR. KOCH, the bacteriologist already a privy counselor, has been made physician general, one of the highest professional ranks in Germany.

PRESIDENT BLAIS, of Harvard, says he d-supposes all kinds of in intercollegiate contests, and would abolish them if he had the power to do so.

MARION BURDETT-COUTTS is about to establish workshops equipped with sewing-machines where poor seamstresses can go and use them at a low charge.

DOUGLAS GRANT, brother of the famous Grant, Miss Alice Grant, has been appointed a messenger in the navy department at Washington, at a salary of $800 a year.

EMPEROR WILLIAM sends a small present to each of his great grandchildren every Saturday night. He shows almost feminine affection for their father, Prince William.

CAROL KNOP, little, has begun an attack against matches on the clergy men of the Church of England, and the gentlemen assailed reply with no evidence at all of an intention to share.

As a proof that old age is rapidly overcome Benjamin F. Butler it is noted by a Washington correspondent that the general no longer wears a bush of flowers in his button-hole.

MR. J. N. SHEPPARD and wife, of Gadsden county, Florida, have a family of nineteen children, fifteen boys and four girls. The oldest child is 21 years and the youngest 6 months of age.

PROF. MARY W. WHITNEY, who takes Prof. Maria Mitchell's place at Vassar college, is no namesake of Vassar, and not of Harvard has been stated. She has studied, however, at the Harvard observatory.

PERE MARIE LIPPERT said laudily that if the Chinese Republic would give up infidelity all would be misery, and render confession voluntary, it would be to its side "all the desanders and all the lukewarm."

THREE ladies of Boston calling themselves the "giddy young girls" started on Saturday for a six weeks' trip to York. The Transcript adds: "The three girls, Misses Williams, of Montclair, N. J., 20; Miss Josephine Harrison, of Oregon, 26; and Miss Mrs. J. T. Morris, of New York, 65 years. They will visit Caleb W. Harrison of Newark, N. J., at his winter home at Rock Lodge."

DR. ASA GRAY had a considerable fund of humor. One summer not long ago he was with his pupils looking at the Hebrews in the desert, and in the arid garden. The willows were very small, and Dr. Gray, regarding them critically for a moment, remarked: "Well, all I have to say is that if the children of Israel hung their harps on the willows of Babylon when they sat down to weep, as the scriptures tell us, then they must have been jews' harps."

THE Osage Indians are about the only example now left in the United States of a real aristocracy. They do not depend upon Government rations, as do the Cheyennes and others, but have enough as their own undivided property, to make them the wealthiest people in the country. They have the land reservation, which belongs to them by a title hard to assess; they have about $7,000,000 bearing 5 per cent interest in the hands of the Government. They are paid about $250,000 a year in cash. The entire tribe numbers only 1,600, so that there are actually the richest body of people in the country.

You Carry

whole medicine chest in your pocket, with one box of Ayer's Pills. As they operate directly on the stomach and bowels, they indirectly affect every organ and muscle in the body. When the stomach is out of order, the heart is affected, digestion, faile, the blood becomes impeded, and you fall as easy victim to any prevalent disease. Miss E. Bell of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., writes: "I use no other medicine than Ayer's Pills. They are all that any one needs, and just splendid to save money in doctors' bills."

Here is an instance of

A Physician

who lost his medicine chest, but, having at hand a bottle of Ayer's Pills, found himself fully equipped.—J. Garrison, M. D., of San Jose, Cal., writes:

"Three years ago, by the most unexpected accident, I lost my medicine chest containing a number of the pills. I was surprised to find that the whole lot of the pills had been lost in my medicine chest having been lost in my pocket. I have since had to buy a new one."

John W. Brown, M. D., of Ossuna, N. Y., writes: "I prescribe Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

M. E. F. GARDNER, M. D., of Baltimore, Md., writes: "The Ayer's Pill is a wonderful cure and cure the complaints for which they are designed, as conclusively proven to me as anything possibly can be. They are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of the profession."

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.

SELL BY MAIL

PREPARED BY

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., LOWELL, MASS.

J. H. BUCHANAN,
Piano Tuner and Organ

Repairer

Mabel Buchanan,
Music--Teacher

Watertown, Nebraska

WALTERS BROS.,

House, Sign, Carriage & Ornamental

PAINTERS.

McKeehan, Crating

and Paper Boxes

At work rooms in Watertown and Watertown
McKeehan, Crating & Paper Boxes

McKeehan & McDonald

House, Sign and Carriage Painters

GRAINERS, CALCINERS,

PAPER EXCHANGERS

PRINTING and

GENERAL MANUFACTURES

WATER TOWER

R. D. CRAWFORD,

PIONEER

REAL ESTATE - AGENT,

WAYNE, NEB.

DEEP

WATER TOWER

FOR MAN AND BEAST!

ARBUCKLES

name on a package of COFFEE is guarantee of excellence

ARIOSA

COFFEE is kept in first-class grades from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

COFFEE

is never good when exposed to the sun. Always buy this in bags.

TESTED ONE POUND PACKETS

AGENTS!

IT will my friend

be a pleasure to supply

you with a sample of the ARIOSA

COFFEE.

DR. HENDERSON.

605 & 606 HYATTSVILLE ST., KANSAS CITY, MO.

DR. HENDERSON'S

REMEDY FOR RHEUMATIC CURE.

DR. HENDERSON'S

RHEUMATIC CURE.

DR. HENDERSON'S