THE BEHRING SEA.

The President Gives This Question His Earliest Attention.

IT COMES BEFORE THE CABINET.

But No Decision Is Reached—About the Issue of Treasury Notes—The Business Record of the Supreme Court—A Committee to Attend Houk's Funeral.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The Behring sea question was considered at the cabinet meeting, but if a conclusion was reached it was not made public. Secretary Foster declined to say whether or not a decision had been reached. He admitted that the matter was almost the sole subject considered at the cabinet meeting. Prior to the meeting of the cabinet the subject was discussed by the president and a number of government officials. Ex-Minister John W. Foster, Acting Secretary of State Adee, Secretary Tracy, Secretary Foster, Capt. Stephens of the revenue marine service, who is familiar with Behring sea affairs, having commanded the Rush when she made some captures two years ago, and Mr. Tingle, special agent of the treasury department, met in concert with the president in his library, and discussed for two hours the Behring sea question. The discussion was further continued at the cabinet meeting which lasted two hours and a half. Cabinet officers informed a representative of the North American Commercial company, which has the contract for killing seals at the seal islands, that the cabinet reached no conclusion in the matter. So far as could be learned no orders were sent to the Rush at San Francisco to sail to the seal islands, and this would appear to confirm the report that the cabinet reached no decision. The greatest reticence is observed in official circles about the matter. The idea is advanced that the Canadian government is urging the English government to delay matters in order that Canadian sealers now in Behring sea, of which there are nearly fifty, can have time to catch their seals, and this would appear to be the seal islands. This is the time that they emigrate in great numbers.

Treasury Notes.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Attorney General Miller has decided that the secretary of the treasury has no authority under the act of July 9, 1890, to issue treasury notes provided for by that act except in payment of the bullion purchased each month under a contract with the mint. The mint is to coinage of bullion under the act, when paid into the treasury, because part of the gold and silver may be used under existing laws like any other standard silver dollars, and that silver certificates may be issued against such dollars as may be offered at the treasury for exchange, whether such dollars are regular, or are of the size or otherwise. There are $200,000,000 of bullion in the treasury against which silver certificates under this decision can be issued.

The Supreme Court Record.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The United States supreme court today decided, by a just ended, but the previous highest record of cases ever disposed of at one sitting. The court decided 877 cases, of which 470, by a majority of five, were passed upon in a single term. A record of importance cases is being argued before a full bench immediately after the court assemblies in October. Among these are the case of Sawyer—Behring sea case; the Connecticut case, involving the right of the interstate commerce commission to compel witnesses to testify; the Baltimore and Ohio railroad case; the case of the Government, and the case of the validity of the McKinley tariff and customs administrative acts.

Commissioner Ramm Will Resign.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The following is reported for stating that the President and Pension Commissioner Ramm have arrived at an understanding, and that the resignation of the latter will be accepted by the president at the first of August or September. It is felt that Gen. Ramm has been to a degree the victim of circumstances. His disposition is to deal with him as commander in chief, but at the same time the judgment is that a change ought to be made. The name of Executive Order will be used in the suggestion for the place, and if he can be induced to accept it will probably succeed Gen. Ramm.

THE DRASH ANNOUNCED BY Gen. Schofield WASHINGTON, May 27.—Gen. Schofield has communicated to the army the orders of the secretary of war announcing the death of Gen. Howard T. Taff. The order pays a high tribute to the deceased ex-captain officer, and directs that as a mark of respect to his memory the war department be draped in mourning for thirty days. On Wednesday, the day of the funeral, seven teen guns will be fired at intervals of two hours each in military salute.

To Attend Houk's Funeral.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The following members of the house of representatives have been appointed a committee to attend the funeral of the late Representative George H. Houk of Pennsylvania. The committee consists of Messrs. Taylor, Endicott and McMillin of Tennessee; Crisp of Georgia; Wilson of Kentucky; and Dalzell of Pennsylvania.

TOWA SENSATION.

Starting Developments in the Carroll Express Robbery.

CLERK MATTHEWS' CONFESSION.

He Planned the Robbery with the Assistance of Two Young Men of the City and Followed Up His Confession by Restoration.

Des Moines, Ia., May 27.—The American express robbery at Carroll Saturday night has taken a sensational turn. Clerk Matthews, who was found tied and gagged, confessed to complicity in the crime. He says the robbery was planned by himself, Craig Niswonger and Abson Scharnweber, two young men of Carroll. He went with Superintendent Garner of Omaha to an old vacant house west of town and hauled out from concealment $2,000, which asked only $5.88 of the amount stolen. Niswonger and Scharnweber were immediately placed under arrest and will be examined. They deny any knowledge of the crime.

AN ATTORNEY ON TRIAL.

An Indianapolis Lawyer Charged with Conspiring to Commit Burglary. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 27.—The trial of Attorney Reinhold, charged with conspiracy to commit burglary, was continued. George Atkins, a witness, testified that he and Horton, the leader of the gang, had frequently visited Reinhold's office, and during one of the visits he and Horton, at Brown's residence was formed. Brown is city editor of The News, and announced that he later attempted suicide some months ago. The witness said that Reinhold told him that he had a great deal of jewelry and that Brown carried a fine gold watch. After seeing the house the men went to the pictures and the carpenter, Reinhold declaring that all he had for was a watch even with Brown. Horton corroborated Atkins' story in every particular.

How an Italian Murderer Escaped.

NEWARK, May 27.—Last evening William Crowe, aged 16 years, was driving a cow to his home near the Platte river, the cow jumped into the garden of an Italian named Talarino. The boy Talarino, a native of Italy, caught the boy and started to draw a knife, one of the Italians seeing a companion of the boy came to the rescue when he drew a revolver and fired into the crowd, mortally wounding Cooney Glance, aged 20. The crowd then began to lynch the Italian with the intention of lynching him, when he ran to the river and jumped in. When in the middle of the stream he caught on a snag and held there fifteen minutes, when suddenly he was seen to hold his arms, and sinking was seen no more.

A British Bark Burns.

MONROCK, Va., May 27.—The British bark Virginia, Capt. Gwynne, of Yarmouth, N. J., was ashore during a fog a mile and half south of Poyner's life saving station on Currituck beach. She was blown to land from New York to Savannah, Ga., to load lumber. The crew and the captain's wife were all saved by the aid of the life boat. The vessel caught fire and was destroyed. The British vice consul has ordered that the vessel to be sold and the crew brought to Norfolk.

Mrs. Barnaby's Will.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 27.—The hearing of the probate of the will of the late Josephine A. Barnaby has been postponed until June 20, pending proceedings in the state of Colorado vs. Executor Thatcher Graves for the mandate of the testator. The Barnaby will is being contested by the executors and J. Taggard Bigelow appeared for the estate. The British vice consul has ordered that the vessel to be sold and the crew brought to Norfolk.

Attempted Train Robbery.

ST. JOHNS, N. J., May 27.—Three masked men attempted to rob the Bangor, Me., express train at Enfield, a small station near here. They pulled the bell cord, started the train, and endeavored to force their way into the express car. They failed in this, and after being driven out in cow trucks, they jumped from the train and fled to the woods.

Chapman's Spaulding Indicted.

BOSTON, May 27.—In the United States circuit court the grand jury returned an indictment against Harold E. Spaulding, the defaulting cashier of the Ayr National bank, charging him with the embezzlement of $39,000. He pleaded guilty and Judge Brewster sentenced him to five years in the jail at Fitchburg.

Choyzaki Knocks Out Dooley.

MILBURN, May 27.—The prize fight between Choyzaki of San Francisco and Mike Dooley resulted in the latter being knocked out in the eighth round. Choyzaki adopted a rushing tactic and drove Dooley to the ropes, defeating him in the second round.

A Fatal Fight for Liberty.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 27.—Three convicts named O'Hara, Harman and Ingram, men well known for fiery at Frank's line. The vigilante guards shot and killed O'Hara and Harman. Ingram made his escape.

To all whom this may concern: I am acquainted with Dr. Conway, president of the Health and Home Medical Institute located at Omaha Neb., having recently spent ten days there under treatment for difficulty of my eyes. I took Chloroform and underwent an operation and came out all right. I would recommend the Health and Home Medical Institute as far as my knowledge extends, believing them to be honorable and reliable as well as able physicians and skillful surgeons.

G. K. PITTENGER, Chapin Precinct, Twp. 26, Range 2, East, Wayne County, Neb.

Omaha, Neb., April 18, 1891.
To all whom this may concern: I have recently been accompanied with the Omaha Health and Home Medical Institute, from the fact of business relations, as well as having a surgical operation performed, for the purpose of removing a tumor from my head. I can safely say from my knowledge obtained from personally interviewing the doctors, and an examination of the place above named, that in my opinion, this medical institute is just what it is reported to be. I have become well acquainted with the president, Dr. Conway and a portion of his faculty, and without hesitancy would recommend any one needing medical aid, to investigate this place, from the fact that I believe them to be honorable, reliable, trustworthy as well as responsible for what they say and do. "August Flower"

Perhaps you do not believe these statements concerning Green's August Flower. Well, we can't make you. We can't force conviction on you to your head or medicine into your throat. We don't want to. The money you and the misery is yours; and until you are willing to believe, and spend the one for the relief of the other, they will stay so. John H. Foster, 122 Brown Street, Philadelphia, says: "My wife is a little Scotch woman, thirty years of age and of a naturally delicate disposition. For five or six years past she has been suffering from Dyspepsia. She became so bad at last that she could not sit down to a meal but she had to vomit it as soon as she had eaten it. Two bottles of your August Flower have cured her, after many doctors had tried, and she can eat anything, and enjoys it, as if she were never sick."

Dr. Sherman devoted the greater part of his life to the discovery of this reliable and safe remedy, and all its ingredients are vegetable. No poisons. No drugs.

Prickly Ash Bitters!
I name every one can remember, and to the present nothing has been discovered that is so superior for the BLOOD, for the LIVER, for the KIDNEYS and for the STOMACH. This remedy is now so well known and so generally known by all who have used it that arguments as to its merits are useless, and if others who require a corrective to the system would but give it a trial in their own case, they would be greatly benefited. A HANDSOME STRUCTURE

DR. TALMAGE'S NEW BROOKLYN TABERNACLE.
It Will Seat 5,000 Persons—The Largest Protestant Church in the Country—Constructed of Red Mortar Brick—Cost $350,000.

A sketch of the new Brooklyn Tabernacle is printed below, which will give our readers a pretty good idea of the outward appearance of the largest Protestant church in this country. This is the third church which has been built for Dr. Talmage in Brooklyn, each being of necessity much larger than the last. Twice first he destroyed the edifice built especially for his congregation. October 11, 1889, was the date of the destruction of the Schermerhorn street structure, which seated 3,000, and had the largest organ then in the country. The new church occupies an eight-acre lot, 100 feet long by 100 feet deep, and has a Sunday school room attached which measures 100 by 50 feet, and will seat 2,000. The church itself will seat 5,000 persons. The architect is a medical doctor, the distinctive feature being the great tower and spire at the corner of the building. The building is constructed of red mortar brick, and will be finished in the wall of the Sunday school room.

THE NEW BROOKLYN TABERNACLE is the corner stone of the preceding building. It has the inscription: "The Brooklyn Tabernacle, erected by the Rev. Dr. Talmage, 1872. Rebuilt 1912." The cost of the new building is about $350,000.

MISS GREELY'S MARRIAGE.

Chappagna, N. Y., loses the Famous Editor's Daughter.

The friends of Miss Gabrielle Greely, daughter of Horace Greeley, were all very much surprised when the announcement of her engagement to marriage with the Rev. Dr. Talmage.

GABRIELLE GREELY was made public. It was thought she had found her life work in ministering to the poor, the sick and the aged in the little town of Chappagna, but as she was an energetic and able business woman she has never been absent from church one Sunday. The minister who was the altar wife on the Sunday school all were her particular work and carried the church. During the summer when she has accepted invitations to visit friends at a distance it has been this understanding that she should return home Sundays. Consequently Saturdays would see her en route for Chappagna to return Monday or Tuesday to her friends.

Sand to Put Out Fires.
In connection with the equipment for fire protection it is recommended that fire extinguishers be placed in convenient reach of each workman. This practice might be followed wherever there is a possibility of fire starting in oils or oil-soaked materials. There is nothing which will extinguish fire so promptly and effectively than sand. It is a water-drawing element.

Velocity of the Wind on Kibbi Tower.
At a late sitting of the Paris Academy of Sciences M. Mascart reported that at the summit of the Eiffel tower the registered velocity of the wind during a recent gale was at one time 130 miles an hour. The wind was so strong that it was necessary to close the windows which have been blown down. The wind struck a vertical and upward direction, and it is reported as proof of the upward movement of the air during great depression.

If You Wear Black Satin.
Black satin can be softened by spraying it with water and then with a liberal quantity of glycerine to a part of water. Sponge on the wrong side, and repeat the operation until the fabric is soft and pliable. If it is very stiff, use a little more of the mixture with a part of water.

The Green Causes the Other.
There is a strong resemblance in looks between the man who has been cured of gonorrhea and the woman who has cured an hour.

Just Words.
There was one word—the little girl heard many times a day. The word was "Mussentoucht."
"What does the Mussentoucht mean?" she asked.
"The strange thing lived in the bureau drawers."
It lived in the sewing-machine.
It lived in the tall jar that stood on the little round table.
It certainly lived in the glass globe with the four little legs among the roses. This went on till baby was 2 years old. There was no word she heard so often as the long queer word, Mussentoucht.

Mussentoucht was everywhere—in the shinning globe on the parlor table; in the four-legged among the roses; even in mamma's work-basket the strange thing lived; and if baby took up a needle or cotton, there was Mussentoucht.

One day baby found herself by the glass globe all alone. The family were very busy, and for a few minutes forgot the little, prying, restless darling. This was her chance. Up went the chubby legs into the air, and she reached near the gold-fish globe. Poised on the rounding cushion, baby reached far over to touch the gold-fish. In reaching she lost her footing, and dragging the globe to the floor. There was a crash, a scream, a rush, and baby was on the spot. Baby was picked up, fussed and "I-I-I killed one Mussentoucht 'is time!" she said, shaking herself and walking off—Union Signal.

The Most Ancient.
The Vedas of the East, the most ancient written documents, attest that at times most remote, but well recorded in history, only two colors were known—black and red. In the time of Alexander the Great, painters knew of but two colors, viz. black and red, and yellow. The words to designate blue and yellow were wanting to the Greeks in the most ancient times of their history, they calling these colors black and gray.

When baby was sick, we gave her Caster's, when she was the doctor, we gave her Caster's. When she became ill, she along to Caster's. When she had children, she gave them Caster's.

Afraid He Would Miss Him.
There was a pistol duel between Smith and Jones. Jones was killed, and Miss Smith, who was present, raised his weapon to take aim and said pleasantly to his opponent, "I am sorry, but I don't want to miss you."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one cure for that annoying disease, both able to cure in all its stages, and that is Carter's Catarrh Cure. It is the only positive cure now known to the medical profession. It cures a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Dr. Carter's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the cause of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and restoring the system. The proprietors have no much faith in this catarrh cure, that they offer a Thousand-Dollar Reward for any case that will not cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: J. C. May Feast.
The great festival of the English milk-maids and chimney sweeps of the 11th of May dates its origin back to the Romans, who were wont to commemorate the festival by the general sowing of flowers, for several days in May. Maypoles were forbidden to be erected by parliament in 1604, but they were erected again by the restoration of Charles II. and in 1671 the maypole in the Strand was reared with much ceremony and rejoicing.

For Puffs for a Crown.
"Have you ever thought," said the economist to the spendthrift, "that every puff of your cigar represents a certain amount of money blown to the wind? How much did you pay for that black rooster?" "Five for a dollar," the spendthrift replied. "Well, if you take 200 puffs from it, you will cost you at the rate of a mill of smoke out of your pocket for every puff of your cigar. Look at your wasteful habit in this light, after you have blown that costly cloud of smoke out of your pocket, and you cannot longer violate economic law by forever burning up the money that you put into cigars."

An Imitation of Nature
—That's the result you want to reach. With Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, you here it. They cleanse and renovate the whole system naturally. That means that they do it thoroughly, but mildly. They're the smallest in size, but the most effective—sugar-coated, easiest to take. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Biliary Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels are prevented, relieved, and cured. Purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and gently laxative, or an active cathartic, according to size of dose. As a Liver Pill, they've been imitated, but never equalled."

The Way of the World.
It is surprising how early the child learns the way of the world. Five-year-old Edith went to bed one night with a good-by kiss for papa, who was to go away early next morning on a business trip. The next day her mama said: "We must pray for papa while he is gone, and ask God to take care of him." So the town went to bed and all the children said: "Yes," replied mama: "What would we do if papa should get killed?" "We'd cry," that's what the little Edith said, "and then we'd get married again and have another papa."—Housekeeper's Weekly.

Life A Burden.
I suffered for five years with mercurial rheumatism, which was the result of potash and mercurial treatment by physicians for constitutional blood-poison. They not only failed to cure me but made me worse. After taking a few bottles was entirely cured both of the rheumatism and blood-poison. I cheerfully recommend S. Tariff Figures. Our exports of mowers and reapers are growing. During March of last year we exported $200,000 worth and during March of this year $427,000 worth.

Omaha has the largest number of mowers of any city in the state. There were 5,000 of them who went to the fair grounds to see the airship go up and witness a marriage ceremony.

Upon the political horizon of America were to be discerned the bubbles of two conventions at the same time last week. Nondescript in formation but Aut vineam ad mortem.

Omaha will make an effort to secure the next republican national convention, and as she is nearly in the center of the United States it would seem that that city should be the appointed place.

How beautiful is the acknowledgment of the Italian Minister, Marquis di Rudini, of the scientific manner in which Secretary Blaine poured wisdom into the old fossilized crustacean of the ruler of Italy. In the efforts of the minister to clear his skirts he now lays the blame on the consul, who he claimed talked too much. Sorry plight that.

Any republican of Omaha who does not vote the straight republican ticket this fall after the scenes of the past six months in Nebraska, ought to be in the mess pot and broiled, then pickled and turned over to the democratic city council of Omaha, which would pass a resolution not to recognize them as well potted, but order a continuance of the pickling process.

The theories of the republican administration who have tried to create a hubbub about the depletion of the national treasury will no doubt be surprised to learn that the United States with the exception of England is the only nation in the world that is reducing its indebtedness and that has smaller indebtedness than any other great nation in the world except Germany, and that the treasury of the U. S. is ready to meet all its engagements. One life after another must receive a naming, and as the McKinley bill has made nails cheap, the process of refuting lies must be kept up.

By a protective tariff which harbors invention, the farmers of to-day have the privilege of doing in one day that which 25 years ago it would have taken ten men to do. New labor saving machinery has been invented and it will be devised because our manufacturers were protected and our inventive genius fostered by the nation. This has all come about under a republican form of government. It can't be denied. Why is not the protection they receive the same to the farmer for the laborer and farmer in the future as any that has yet been proposed. Men who will stop long enough to look back twenty-five years, and then at the present, cannot but recognize the fact that the country has made wonderful advancements in every direction. Then why not leave well enough alone. "To err is human," but a charge might be exceedingly detrimental, unnecessarily made.

Supply and Demand. It is amusing to hear free trade business talk of "supply and demand." Until the past year they have always ridiculed the republican party because it claimed that the price of farm products and many other things were regulated by supply and demand. However, it is not strange that the democratic party changes its ideas according to the varying of the winds.

HERE AND THERE. Ray Frazer, a leading stockman of Wayne, purchased a car of old cars of J. B. Norris, Tuesday, Randolph Times.

Wm. Malter has sold his city business and property out of the city to John H. Hugg, an experienced stockman, who from now on will be the operator and takes possession immediately. Mr. Malter expects to engage in the confectionery and sugar business to the satisfaction of his neighbors. A fair trial will be given. A note can be secured—Randolph Times.

because it only lists the courses to pursue and that of the representation. To be sure, supply and demand regulates the price of farm products more or less, but the democratic shills will not acknowledge that the representative of the McKinley bill stimulates the market by the offering of goods prices and reasonably steady, despite the coming on of the grass crop, which has done away with a considerable amount of feeding, necessarily reducing the demand for grain. The Omaha World-Herald says that the United States has not shipped near as much corn, etc. to Europe this year as she did last. This is glorious news. It is to be hoped that the time is drawing near when home consumption will be ample for the use of all farm products, and the present good prices be retained. However, until that time arrives the Hyphen will discover that when prices are as low as they were last year and the year before, the growers will be enormous quantities, but not so when the prices are as high as at present. In less than a two-year time free trade sheets will change their tone on the reciprocity measures of the McKinley bill, just the same as they have on the question of demand. When the truth of a thing has been clearly demonstrated they will clamor to get on the right side if possible and pose as great reformers. It getting very chestnutty and the farmers who read and thoroughly investigate the matter know that for genuine gulling the free trade sheets have no equal.

The American Economist on "the Tariff on Soap": "The New York Standard has an article in its issue of April 29 headed 'The Tariff Line on Soap.' It is a good article, and it is someone to thank for venturing to question its Tariff tax theory. Soap is the particular thing under consideration. For the purpose of 'proving' its point, the Economist has taken up the agents of a foreign soap manufacturer, who, naturally enough, are found hating on the Standard's side. The article is quite as eager as itself to abolish the tariff on soap. We have yet to find importers, write these agents of the English-soap concern, who do not hate the Standard's side. The agents are perfectly right. When an American turns his back upon the product of his own countryman's labor and insists upon getting his supply of soap from a distant country, he is always added to the price paid in the foreign market. So the agents have proven nothing—simply restated a perfectly obvious and universally accepted proposition. It has not the slightest bearing, however, upon the question as to whether the tariff is a tax. What is the agent should have shown is that consumers who buy American, not foreign, soap are taxed by reason of the duty on English soap. President Cleveland said they are taxed by the duty on the soap of the tariff, although they never may have seen a cake of imported soap. This is the reformer's Tariff tax theory, whose absurdity is demonstrated every hour. It is the duty in the case of refined nails. The Tariff on there is two cents a pound. They were quoted last week in Chicago at 1 3/4 cents a pound less than the price of the duty itself. If Mr. Cleveland's theory is sound, this one cent and nine mills a pound must include the two cent duty, and the abolition of the Tariff would reduce the price by just two cents. Subtracting 2 cents from 1 3/4 cents we have minus 1-10 of a cent, the price at which wire-nails would be selling if they bore no tariff. That is to say, the manufacture of wire-nails, in this blessed month of May, 1891, if the Tariff were abolished, would not only be giving their nails to the manufacturer, but actually offering a bonus of 1-10 of a cent a pound as an inducement to their customers to take them. Let our brilliant foreign agent, our distinguished Standard, take to the editor of this wretched paper. They will find that they have taken a larger contract than to merely show that duty is added to the foreign price of imported soap when they undertake to prove that the Tariff is a tax."

Lock Leuck is quite ill at present. Most everybody on the creek has had the measles. Mr. Flinn will give a social hop next Friday night. Arthur Pitkin will soon be ready to sow 100 acres of flax. Chris Thompson has recovered from a long spell of sickness. Everything is suffering for rain and the wheat will soon be ruined if we do not get rain.
