It is extortion with a big E at the World's Fair.

The Corn Belt Editorial Association meets at LeMars, Iowa, May 25 and 26, 1893.

It doesn't look very favorable for the impeached officers at Lincoln and they certainly can't expect a bed of roses upon which to lie.

It is less than two months until the Newberry freight law goes into effect and if the railroad companies do not prepare a rate schedule in accordance with the provisions of the bill, may the Lord have mercy on them for the people won't.

Republicans are anticipating a great meeting of the Republican National League at Louisville May 10 and 11. An unusual interest is manifested, and many of the distinguished leaders of the party will be present.

The keynote of republicanism will be sounded sharp and clear for the next national contest, and those who have predicted the dissolution of the republican party will see instead an active, compact, well organized body, perfectly equipped to take up the fight for the Cleveland succession. Four years of democratic administration will vindicate the republican policy and pave the way for a republican restoration.—Kearney Herald.

Chicago, May 5.—The World's Fair will be open Sundays. It may not be possible to open the fair within a few weeks the Sunday closing rule will be rescinded.

By a vote of 47 to 14 the National Commission yesterday afternoon opened the way for the directors to repeal the Sunday closing rule.

PLANS OF CARLISLE

ONE OF WHICH HAS BEEN FINALLY AGREED UPON.

The Bank Upon Which New York Bankers are Willing to Put Out Their Gold... Secretary Carlisle's Plan.

New York, May 5.—Since the conference between Secretary Carlisle and a dozen leading bank presidents here on April 27 several stories have been told of his plans which have been proposed whereby the gold in the treasury would be increased. It has been said that several plans to this end have been under discussion by the bankers since the secretary went away, and that one of them was eventually agreed upon.

The banker from whom the information was obtained said: "The situation is not as bad as it appears. The fear has passed away of a payment by the government of its currency obligations, otherwise than by the gold in its possession. The real difficulty is in the draining of the banks of their reserve (reduced now to about $12,000,000) by their contracting customers."

The plan which would obviate this situation would be for the banks to recognize this fact and pay out to their customers and in part settlement of their balances the article which they now hold—gold which is now in the hands of the treasury.

That Russian Treaty Again. WASHINGTON, May 5.—It is learned that the delay in the issue of the president's proclamation in regard to the extradition treaty with Russia is due to the non-arrival of the treaty proposed by the Russian government in accordance with the terms of the agreement entered into by our minister at St. Petersburg on the occasion of the exchange of ratifications at the Russian capital on the 21st ultimo.

Renovals of Postmasters. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5.—Statement prepared from the records of the Postoffice department shows that during the first two months of the present administration the total number of four-year postmasters appointed was 3,894, as against 5,104 made during the first two months of Mr. Harrison's administration.

As to Sunday Opening of the Fair. Chicago, Ill., May 4.—To use a legal phrase, the plan to add the World's fair is in statu quo.
