Words in the Telephone.

Long distance telephoning has become a little science on its own account and has called into existence a class of operators who are valuable by reason of the clearness and sharpness with which they can pronounce words while speaking rapidly.

It has also developed the fact that the French language is better adapted to the purposes of the telephone than the English. The ordinary business of the long distance telephone between Paris and London is carried on in the French language. It is stated that the considerable proportion of syllabic or hissing syllables in English renders it a less easy and accurate means of communication.

Certain English words are especially difficult of transmission by telephone. The word "soldier" is cited as one of these. Proper names frequently occur in the midst of an otherwise perfectly audible and intelligent conversation which the ear cannot possibly catch. These must be spelled out, involving delay.

Expert telephone operators in the press service between Paris and London have succeeded in transmitting messages in the French language at the rate of 100 words a minute. This is at a much swifter rate than ordinary speech.—Youth's Companion.

The Profit in Foam.

Some people deplore the use of foaming preparations in soda water, claiming that such additions are totally uncalled for and unwarranted, but it must nevertheless be conceded that soda foam can bring forward several valid arguments in its own favor. In the first place, it aids greatly in keeping the gas from escaping too rapidly from the tumbler. In the second place, it undoubtedly adds greatly to the dispenser's profits, for it is claimed that by adding two ounces of foaming preparation to a gallon of sirup the confectioner can draw 50 more glasses than without the foam.

Thirdly, we must remember that the appearance of any article of food or drink plays fully as important a part as its taste in increasing the appetite and stimulating the gastric secretions, and when we bear all these facts in mind we shall be inclined to look upon the snowy foam with more leniency. And, indeed, however we may look at it, there is no denying the fact that it has come to stay, and to stay probably for a considerable period of time, so we must make the best of it of the matter.—Thomas Warren in Confectioner's Journal.

Story of a Lustrous Diamond.

One of the finest diamonds in the world was found not long since in the Brazilian sands. It came in a novel form. A small quartz rock was found, about the size and shape of an egg, lying in the sands along the bank of the Amazon in Brazil. This was carried home by a Brazilian peasant, who was attracted by its odd shape and light weight. For some time it lay in his home with a number of other geological specimens, a mere curiosity. Happening one day in handling it to drop it on a stone block, it burst open and lay in halves on the block. The hollow interior that gave the light weight to the stone was filled with blood red sand. In this sand lay the diamond, a sparkling stone of the rarest quality. The stone was later sold to a diamond merchant and left the finder exceedingly wealthy.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Where Styles in Hats Rarely Change.

Dr. Doran tells us that the Natal "fashionables" wear hats a foot high in height, made of the fat of oxen. They first gradually anoint the head with a pure grease, which, mixing with the hair, fastens the hat on during the lifetime of the wearer. The Myantzes make a hat of a board 12 inches by 6. They place it on their heads, draw the hair over it and seal it with wax. They cannot lie down without keeping their necks straight, and when they comb their hair, which they do once or twice a year, they have to spend considerable time in melting the wax before they can get their hats off.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Bound to Get Even.

A man went up on the elevated who chuckled delightedly to himself and finally confided to his companion the cause of his mirth.

"You see," said he, "my wife is always giving me things she wants—house furnishings and the like—for a gift. I'm going to get even with her."

"I'm going to give her a year's subscription to three scientific magazines I have to take."

And the gentlemen chuckled in unison, while the woman going up town with drawing room bric-a-brac to present to their husbands glared frigidly at the plotter.—New York World.

Scientific Calculations.

An electrical writer has calculated that the firing of a small pistol sets free about 600 foot pounds of energy, while a watch consumes about 1-54,000,000th of a horsepower, the energy of the bullet being sufficient to keep the time for two years. An Edison telephone transmitter requires about 1,000th of the energy in a watch. It would therefore be worked for 2,000 years on the energy exerted in the pistol. A lightning flash of 3,000,000 volts and 12,000 amperes, lasting 1-21,000,000th of a second, would run a 100-horsepower engine for 10 seconds.—New York Telegram.

Frozen Water Not Pure.

The popular idea that water is purified by freezing has been again disproved by recent careful experiments.

when show that the average amount of impurity retained by the ice is 34.3 per cent of organic matter. As organic matter is the more objectionable of the two, the case is worse than was formerly supposed.—New York Press.

Work of the Types.

The editor who at the last moment had to substitute "dead" for "ill," but who forgot the qualifying adverb, furnished his readers with the surprising news that "our esteemed fellow citizen, Simon Smith, is lying dangerously dead."—Washington News.

Elsie's Occupation.

It was in the Sixth avenue elevated that one fond mother beamed upon an acquaintance and said:

"Yes, we are expecting Elsie home for the holidays. You know she's been in Boston prosecuting the study of music all winter."

And the other woman never even dropped her eyelids as she answered:

"You must be so very proud of her. Not many girls of her age could accomplish so much."—New York World.

Letting the Spool Run Out.

The writer remembers a case of a dying woman some few years ago in Sussex. She was gasping, and apparently was undergoing the last struggle in great distress. The nurse went to the window and opened it. At once the dying woman breathed deeply and expired. The writer said to the nurse, "Why did you open the window?" The answer given was, "Surely you wouldn't have her soul go up the chimney?"—Popular Science Monthly.

Typhoid Fever From Ice Cream.

It is a quite well established fact that ice may carry the germs of typhoid fever. Instances have been noted. The Lancet gives an account of the outbreak of this fever in London, which has been traced to some cheap ice cream peddled about the streets by Italians.

A sister's duty is to persuade to virtue, to win to wisdom's ways, gentle to lead where duty calls, to guard the citadel of home with the sleepless vigilance of virtue, to gather graces and straw flowers around the home altar.

Sir Andrew Clark is said to have told Mr. Gladstone that he had one month but 33 teeth, and that each mouthful of food should receive 33 bites in order to give every tooth a chance.

Colebridge found solace for his troubles in the forgetfulness induced by opium, and when under its influence would sit for hours threading the dreamy mazes of his own mind.

A Lancashire acre comprises 7,340 square yards; a Cheshire acre, 10,240 square yards; an Irish acre, 7,840, and a Scotch acre, 6,104 square yards.

Nowhere have such rare tastes in food been developed as among the Romans in ancient times and the Chinese.

Effect of Sun and Moon on Steel.

A curious fact has recently been noted by the fine steel workers at Sheffield, England. It is this: Fine edged tools assume a blue color and lose all temper if exposed for any considerable length of time to the light of the sun either in summer or winter. A similar effect is exercised by moonlight, a large cross-cut saw with which the experimenters were working having been "put out of shape and its temper ruined by a single night's exposure to a first quarter moon."—St. Louis Republic.

Read This Letter From a Chicago Lady.

Chicago, 735 W. Adams St., Apr. 20 '91.
Mr. Norman-Lichty, Des Moines, Ia.
Dear Sir—A sample of Krause's Headache Capsules was left in my husband's office a few days since, and as I am subject to headaches—neuralgic, nervous, and in fact every other kind—he thoughtfully brought the sample box home. The very next day I had a chance to try them and one Capsule relieved me less than half an hour. Next day I was attacked again, took another capsule with same delightful result, in less than half an hour my head felt as light as ever with no bad feeling as the after result. I have had these terrible headaches for twenty years and have tried every remedy I ever heard of, but nothing I have ever taken has cured or relieved me as quickly as Krause's Headache Capsules.
Mrs. N. A. Skinner.
April 27, 1891.

"Have I any objections to your printing a portion of my letter? NO! If my testimony will induce any one who suffers with headache to buy your Capsules I will be glad." Mrs. N. A. Skinner.

THE DEAR OLD FLAG.

OUR NATIONAL EMBLEM IN MANY FORMS.

The Circumstances Which Gave Rise to "Old Glory" Received for American Youth—Flags of the Patriotic Colonies.

OUR SPLENDID national emblem is a very familiar sight to the young people of this great country, but its origin is a story which is probably that very many who hail it with enthusiastic cheers are quite ignorant of the circumstances which gave rise to its adoption. There is a striking resemblance between the design of our flag and the arms of General Washington, which consisted of three stars in the upper portion and a banner bearing across the center the motto, "E PLURIBUS UNUM," which is the motto of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. "Qui transtulit sustinet," and on the other side, "No Popery." In July, 1775, on Prospect Hill, General Israel Putnam raised a flag upon which was inscribed the motto of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts: "Qui transtulit sustinet," and on the reverse were written the words, "An Appeal to Heaven."

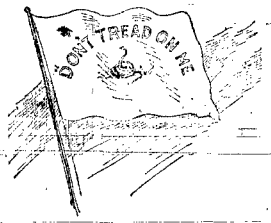

the words, "An Appeal to Heaven. In October, 1775, the floating batteries of Boston carried a flag with the motto, "An Appeal to Heaven," the design being a pine tree on a white field. Virginia carried a flag in 1775—design, a rattlesnake coiled as if about to strike, and the motto, "Don't Tread On Me." Her State motto in the present time resembles this, "Sic semper tyrannus," but it was not until January 18, 1776, that the grand union flag, bearing stars and stripes, was raised on the heights near Boston. It has been said that when the regulars—British troops—saw it, they supposed it was a white ensign, and submission to the King, who had just issued his proclamation.

An extract from the British Register of 1776 reads thus: "The rebels burnt the King's speech, and changed their colors from a plain red ground to a blue and white, and set the stars and stripes, and the law adopted this flag as the great national emblem." The thirteen colonies of this flag a stripe was added with every new State, but, as it became manifest that in time the beauty of the emblem would be marred by the enormous proportions acquired by additional States, Congress reduced the stripes to the original thirteen, and the stars were made to correspond with the number of States.

Perhaps no flag on sea or land shows its grace and beauty of design so well as the emblem of the United States, as its proportions are perfect when it is carried as broad as it is long—the first stripe red, the next white, and these alternating colors make the last stripe red, the blue field for the stars being the width and square of the first seven stripes.

The Continental Congress appointed a committee to supervise the union of the different parts of the National flag, and the following description of their design and significance was prepared: "The stars in the new flag represent the new constellation of States rising in the West. The idea was taken from the great constellation of Lyra, which in the land of Orpheus signifies harmony. The blue in the field was taken from the edges of the Covenanters banner in Scotland, significant of the league covenant of the United States against oppression, incidentally insinuating the virtues of vigilance, perseverance, and justice. The stars were disposed in a circle, symbolizing the perpetuity of the union; the ring, like the serpent of the Egyptians, signifying eternity. The thirteen stripes, showed with the stars the number of the united colonies, and denoted the authorization of the Statute of the Union, as well as equality among the States. The stripes were the banner of the various flags of the army; and the white ones of the floating batteries. The red color, which in Roman days was the signal of defiance, denoted daring; and the white, purity." ZITELLA COCKE

NECESSITATE EMBARRASSED.

"I must tell you a rather amusing predicament connected with a rash venture," says Robert Klein in his account of an artist's experience in Japan, in the June Scribner. "Right on the edge of the lake in a little summer house, into which I popped, pulled out the kimono I was wearing at the time, and plunged into the water. While I was fooling around I saw two Japanese figures take possession of the pavilion. I say, 'The water was cold, enough before that, but I imagined it about ten degrees colder at once. The Japanese friend who is with me had gone, and here I was alone to work out this rather peculiar problem. Well, I couldn't stay in all day, so finally I came out. Don't ask me how I did it, but I did manage to make it. I managed to work my way to the pavilion to receive my belongings from the hands of the pleasant and polite gentleman, not to mention the towel I had to take from the little woman—unless I say without finding time to use it just now, the whole affair appears ridiculously simple now it is over, and I am afraid I made an amusing ass of myself generally in their eyes. You see I'm too much of a barbarian to fall into their fine rictus of what might be termed artificial western prudery.

Vines on Houses. There is a prevailing opinion that vines make houses damp, for which reason they are nearly so many cottages and houses being built, as there should be. It is only when the climbers are allowed to cover the eaves and obstruct the gutter, or find their way under the singles, that they become objectionable, and these objectionable vines should be carefully guarded against. Vines should always be cut down below the roof. It is a little trouble to do this once a year, but we cannot get even our shoes blackened without some trouble. Those who know how beautiful and how cozy looking a cottage covered with vines will not object to the few hours' labor it requires to keep vines from stopping up the gutter. Vines really make the walls dry. The millions of rootlets by which they adhere to the walls absorb water, and an examination will prove that a covered wall to be as dry as an old bone. The great advantage of a vine-covered cottage, not often thought of, is that it is cooler in summer and warmer in winter than when there is bare masonry wall.—Farmers' Voice.

Lincoln now has four National Banks where a year ago there were seven.

Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, pardoned two of the Hay Market anarchists Tuesday.

Heroic American women—those who go to church wearing last summer's bonnets.

He is the greatest statesman in democratic eyes who puts the greatest number of democrats in office.

If ex-Queen "Lil" hasn't already settled she is deeply in debt to Charles Nordhoff for his letters from Hawaii.

Milwaukee last fall gave a democratic majority of 6,500. This week it elected a republican mayor by a majority of 3,500.

Perhaps Mr. Cleveland wanted to get Minister-Paramount Blount out of the way before Congress began to ask awkward questions.

If one may judge from the tone of the press the Sherman silver law will certainly be the under dog in the financial fight in Congress.

About 40,000 people were in attendance at the World's Fair, therefore the Sunday opening row seems to have really been for nothing at all.

Senator Martin, of Kansas, was compelled to promise that no populist should be allowed a bite before he was given the distribution of administration pie.

Mr. Carlisle's administration of the treasury department will make him a prominent candidate for obsecurity, instead of the Presidency, as his friends once hoped.

A few papers are spending considerable valuable space and time berating Governor Crouse for one thing or another. They are edited, however, by fellows who failed to secure a slice of the state plum. See?

Senator Allen is making mighty little hay these days, notwithstanding he is abroad in the land for that purpose, being sent out by the populists. One small boy can easily cock up all the senator cuts down.—Fremont Tribune.

The Norfolk Herald under the editorial management of G. W. Hunt has made a marked improvement and is now one of the most appreciated exchanges that comes under our observation. Long live the Herald in spite of its politics.

Of course it is all right for commissions Gardau to make a raid on the money appropriated by the legislation for the Nebraska exhibit at the World's Fair, because he's a democrat, at least that's the way the World Herald looks at it, but it will not injure Auditor Moore who politely "sat down" on him because of the needless expenses.

It must be pleasant to the misguided wage-earner who voted the democratic ticket last November to think that in addition to lowering his wages by tinkering with the tariff the democratic party is preparing the way for a currency that will not be legal tender, a currency which he may be compelled to accept for his labor, but which he cannot compel his grocer or his landlord to accept in payment of his debts to them. The republican party has been, and ever will be the champion of a legal tender currency, a dollar that can be spent for a dollar from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The New York World devotes an entire column of very serious and heavy editorial writing to the task of showing that Mr. Dana and other protection democrats who are now leading the van in calling for the immediate repeal of the McKinley act and the restoration of the constitutional free trade or revenue only tariff, are bad men indeed.

It says that these fellows will deliberately risk the prosperity of the country in this matter just for the sake of showing that the Chicago platform is a farce and a fraud. It says that the administration will do nothing rashly and effect no violent revolution. In other words that the Chicago platform has fulfilled its mission and that it no longer binds the conscience of any well meaning democrat.—State Journal.

Let no attention be diverted from the main question of Protection to home industry by currency discussions. Currency is not unimportant, but with imports larger than exports, and Free-trade plans to make those imports still greater, gold must and will flow outward to Europe, and no currency measures can stop the outgoing tide, or avert the coming of trouble to our labor and capital.—American Economist.

Rough on Calamities. Mound City, Kas., June 18.—A few days ago the people's party held a big picnic at Earlinville, at which Mrs. Lease and number of prominent populist orators, were present. The night before the picnic some one went to the trouble of getting out a poster with the following printed thereon and posted them about the picnic grounds. It made the populists mad. The poster read as follows:

"WANTED—To Buy—Everything a farmer has to sell. We will pay war prices. Bring your hogs at $6.50, your steers at $5, your old fat cows at $3, your corn at 35 cents a bushel. Fetch on your potatoes; we've got to have 'em, $1.20 up. It's just like finding money to get 11 cents for eggs. Make your cows all into butter and bring them to town at 15 cents a pound. We want to catch your spring chickens at 35 cents apiece. Anything you have to sell, we will pay you such prices as were never paid before."

"If you have nothing to sell, remember wages have advanced 25 per cent in the last fifteen years. Commerce regulates trade—competition is the life of business."

"To sell—Everything the farmer buys. We give more goods for $1 than ever before. Clothing cheaper than it has been since Adam and Eve made their garments of fig leaves in the garden of Eden. Good suits for $15 that sold for $21 ten years ago. Groceries cheaper than since Columbus discovered America. Farm wagons $50, worth $100 fifteen years ago. Self-binders for $140 worth $250 five years ago. Buggies for $50, worth $75 ten years ago. Road wagons for $40, worth $65 ten years ago. Nails 31 cents, worth 38 cents ten years ago. We will sell good calico for 4 cents that cost 8 cents ten years ago. Gingham for 5 cents that cost 12 cents ten years ago."

"The deposits in the bank of Linn county amount to nearly $400,000, or $21 per capita for the population of the county. We are as anxious to buy as we are to sell, and you can always find a ready market at splendid prices. Yours for patronage. LINN COUNTY BUSINESS MEN."

What is a Guarantee? It is this. If you have a cough or cold, a tickling in your throat, which keeps you constantly coughing, or if you are afflicted with any chest, throat or lung complaint, and you use Ballard's Horehound Syrup as directed, giving it a fair trial, and no benefit is experienced, we will refund you the money on return of bottle. It never fails to give satisfaction. It promptly relieves Bronchitis. Sold by R. W. Wilkins, druggist.

If you can afford to be annoyed by stak headache and constipation, don't use De Witt's Little Blue Pills for these Little Blue Pills will cure them. Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of the New York State, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 26th of May, while in Des Moines en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of diarrhoea. Having sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for the past several years, and knowing its reliability, he procured a 25 cent bottle, two doses of which completely cured him. The excitement and change of water and diet incident to traveling often produce a diarrhoea. Every one should procure a bottle of this Remedy before leaving home. For sale by B. J. Kass.

It Should Be in Every House. J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he would not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for constipation, cough and cold. It cured his wife who was threatened with pneumonia and an attack of "La Grippe," when she was confined to her bed. He says he had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cooke's sport, Pa. claims that King's New Discovery had cured him more than anything ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free trial bottles at Robert Wilkins' drug store. Large bottles, 50c and $1.00.

See the World's Fair For Fifteen Cents. Upon receipt of your address and fifteen cents in postage stamps, we will mail you a present our souvenir portfolio of the World's Columbian Exposition, the regular price is fifty cents, but as we want you to have one, we make the price nominal. You will find it a work of art and a thing to be prized. It contains full page views of the great buildings, with descriptions of same, and is executed in highest style of art. If you prefer to purchase our "Souvenir" we will return the stamps and let you keep the book. Address, H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, Ill.

What a Prominent Insurance Man Says.

H. M. Blossom, senior member of H. M. Blossom & Co., 217 N. 3rd St., St. Louis, writes: I had been left with a very distressing cough, the result of influenza which nothing seemed to relieve until I took Ballard's Horehound Syrup. One bottle completely cured me. I sent one bottle to my sister, who had a severe cough, and she experienced immediate relief. I always recommend this syrup to my syrap to my friends.

John Cranston, 908 Hampshire street Quincy, Ill., writes: I have found Ballard's Horehound Syrup superior to any other cough medicine I have ever known. I never disappoints. Price 50c. Sold by R. W. Wilkins, druggist, Wayne.

All that honesty, experience and skill can do to produce a perfect pill has been employed in making Dr. Williams' Little Blue Pills. The result is a specific for sick, headache, biliousness and constipation.

Dear sir:—A sample of Krause's Headache Capsules was left in my husband's office a few days since, and as I am subject to headaches—neuralgic, nervous, and in fact every other kind—he thoughtfully brought the sample box home. The very next day I had a chance to try them and one Capsule relieved me in less than half an hour. Next day I was attacked again, took another capsule with same delightful result, in less than half an hour my head felt as well as ever with no bad feeling as the after result. I have had these terrible headaches for twenty years and have tried every remedy I ever heard of, but nothing I have ever taken has cured or relieved me as quickly as Krause's Headache Capsules. ## IOWA STATE ITEMS.

—The farmer, Reilly, who was attacked last week near Bancroft by five horse traders, who tied his hands behind him and set a ferocious bulldog on him, which literally tore all the flesh from his lower limbs, died the last of the week, after five days of agony and suffering from his wounds. The people in that section, and especially the farmers, are very much enraged over the brutal crime, and one and all favor lynching.

—Charles Wilson of New London abused his wife, who left home and went to Fairfield. She stopped at a hotel in that city, but as soon as Wilson learned of her whereabouts he started after her. Arriving in Fairfield he went to the hotel, called for his wife, fired two shots into her body, and turning the pistol on himself fired two shots into his own body. Both will probably die.

—A 9-year-old boy of Andrew Nelson, while going from his home at Hancock to a neighbor's, was attacked by a savage bird dog and severely bitten. His leg was bitten through and torn and thigh and limbs badly lacerated. The dog was captured and has been treated by physicians to see if he exhibited any symptoms of rabies, but they report no trace of madness in the animal. The boy is resting easy and soon recover.

At a meeting of the state board of medical examiners at Des Moines, resolutions were passed to the effect that after the board will issue no certificate to practice medicine and surgery in Iowa except on satisfactory examination to graduates of any college not requiring as a condition of graduation four years medical study. Action was taken to protect the state against graduates of a number of eastern colleges as well as a few Iowa colleges.

W. M. Fields and J. Fields, comprising the firm of Fields & Bro., which recently failed at Cedar Falls, have been arrested upon the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. They controlled a majority of the stock of the First National Bank of Cedar Falls, which was compelled to suspend through their failure. Money was received at the bank and the personal notes of the firm of Field & Bros. issued instead of certificates of deposit of the bank.

—Robert A. Van Angelbeck, whose trial in the United States' criminal court at Des Moines attracted so much attention some weeks ago, and who was sentenced to a year's imprisonment in jail at Keokuk, has been liberated. His sentence is suspended during good behavior and it is said he will go back to Pella and marry his German sweetheart. Van Angelbeck was convicted of using the mails for fraudulent purposes and in dealing in bogus diplomas.

—A. K. Stone, general manager of the Council Bluffs and Omaha Railway and Bridge company, and Herman Parr, a motorman in Stone's employ, have been arrested on an indictment returned by the grand jury, at Council Bluffs, charging them with manslaughter. The action is the result of the recent accident in which a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy train ran into a street car, killing one person and seriously injuring four others. Both the men gave bonds in the sum of $2,500.

—Senator Allison in an interview at Dubuque, on the silver question, expresses the opinion that the action of India in closing her mints to the free coinage of silver emphasizes the necessity for an international agreement and that the United States alone can not maintain free coinage. He thinks it is clear, in view of this new phase, that the government should cease purchasing silver; that the Brussels conference should be reconvened and that we should have a comprehensive policy of our own in case it shall appear impossible for the leading nations to reach a common agreement on the subject.

GORHAM F. BETTS, convicted some weeks ago of fraud in connection with furnishing supplies to the Nebraska state asylum for the insane, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. The trial of the other five men implicated on the same charge will not occur until September.

—The Young People's Christian Universalist church of Iowa closed their fourth annual state convention at Marshalltown. Harry C. Richardson, of Waterloo, was elected president for the ensuing year, and Cora M. Lane, of Waterloo, secretary.

—Charles Madler shot and dangerously wounded his brother John in their mother's grocery store at Keokuk. Charles had been taking the gold cure for drunkenness and it is supposed to have affected his mind. His brother ordered him out of the store because he had been drinking. He went out and returned with a forty-four calibre revolver and fired three shots, one passing through his right arm, severing the brachial artery, another passing through the left hip, and the third not taking effect. The victim may lose his arm and possibly his life. The assailant was locked up.

—Matthew Taylor, a deaf mute living near LaPorte, was struck by a freight train north of Cedar Rapids and instantly killed, his head being crushed. He was walking on the track and of course could not hear the warning signals.

—The war waged on the saloons at Cedar Rapids has come to an end for the time being. The grand jury has made its final report, and of the fifty indictments returned fully forty are believed to be against Cedar Rapids liquor dealers.

County Directory.

Table listing County Treasurer, County Clerk, County Judge, Sheriff, County Attorney, County Surveyor, and County Com'rs.

The country will soon know whether it is "My Congress," or some other fellow's.

Suppose the democratic majority refuses to repeal the Sherman silver law, then what?

The "object lesson" business is in great danger of being overdone. Dead "object lessons" are deadlier stock than last year's bird's nests.

Speaker Crisp says the democratic Congress will impose an income tax. He ought to be good authority. Ditto, ditto, tax on state bank currency.

The coming Congress will be a decided improvement upon its democratic predecessors if it gives the country even a little bit of wise financial legislation.

Secretary Carlisle is reported to have recently said that the financial policy of the administration has been clearly defined. Pray, when and where, Mr. Secretary?

The figure 7 is in oriental minds emblematic of heaven, but when used in connection with the assembling of an extra session of Congress it reminds the average democrat of quite a different place.

A fearful holocaust occurred at the Worlds Fair Tuesday. The building of the Hercules Iron Works and Ice Refrigerator Manufacturers was destroyed by fire. A score of firemen were killed and as many more injured.

Whether the extra session of Congress will result in a restoration of public confidence will depend entirely upon itself. Its every act will be very carefully scrutinized, and, if it makes a "break" the consequences may be terrific.

C. W. Mosher, president of the defunct Capital National Bank of Lincoln, was sentenced Saturday to five years in the penitentiary at Sioux Falls, S. D., where the federal criminals of the district are confined. Mosher embezzled $500,000.

Ex-President Harrison voiced the opinion of many when he said referring to the calling of an extra session in August: "If Mr. Cleveland thinks he has the remedy and he is able to apply it, why didn't he do so before? Why didn't he call an extra session of Congress last April?"

According to cable advices the United States legations in Europe are studying the tax systems of the countries over there, in order to furnish the administration with ideas to be used in taxing the people of the United States. How about those democratic promises of lessening taxation?

No excuse is necessary for recalling the words of Lincoln at the close of the war, and they should be suggestive to some people: "Our work is now to heal the wounds and to care for the men who bore the battle, their widows and their orphans. Let us, therefore, dedicate ourselves to care for the men who made it possible for us to have such a country to enjoy."

The yield of corn per acre in Nebraska from 1850 to 1889, was two bushels more than Iowa or Ohio; six more than Illinois; four more than Kansas or Indiana; seven and one half more than the Dakotas; five and one half more than Missouri; and eight and seven-tenths more than the U. S. average. And during this time she sold hops for 38 cents more per head than these seven states, and $1.10 per head above the U. S. average price. - Norfolk Daily News.

It is worthy to note that the two men to whom Secretary Carlisle has turned for advice in his perplexity over the national finances have been Senator Sherman and ex Senator John L. Henderson, both republicans. - Sioux City Journal.

A Fine Entertainment. The Reno Novelty Co. will appear at the opera-house Friday evening July 14. Prof. Reno is well known throughout Nebraska as being one of the most skilled magicians that has ever traveled in the state. He will introduce his troupe of five and six acts which are very fine and Mrs. Reno will present her flock of trained birds. Mr. and Mrs. Yuger will give feats of wire walking, contortion also sketches, songs &c. Low prices of admission, children under 12, 10 cents, ad ults 20 cents. N. B. A free exhibition on a tight wire will be given in front of the opera house just before the performance to which all are invited. * *

WAKEFIELD NEWS. The new meat market opened for business Monday. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Long last week. Treasurer Ekeroth and supervisor Benap are in Ponca on business. Considerable damage was inflicted on farms south of Wakefield by hail Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Mathewson and Mr. and Mrs. Gould have returned from their summer visit. The Methodist Sunday school held a largely attended picnic in Gould's grove on Wednesday. Perlin Harmon had his leg broken Wednesday. He was exercising a horse on the track when he ran against a cow.

HINTS ON BEAUTY. This valuable book is free with each 10 cent cake of Kohler's skin and complexion soap. R. W. Wilkins. Deserving Praise. We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve, Electric Balm, and have never had a remedy that sell so well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely through their merits. R. W. Wilkins, Druggist.

HEAD.—SPEAR HEAD possesses more qualities of intrinsic value than any other plug tobacco produced. It is the richest, the choicest. SPEAR HEAD is absolutely pure and distinctively different in flavor from any other plug tobacco. A trial will convince the most skeptical of this fact. It is the largest seller of any similar plug and sells on every side, which proves that it has caught the popular taste and pleases the people. Try it, and participate in the contest for prizes. See that a TAG is on every cent piece of SPEAR HEAD you buy. Send in the tags, no matter how small the quantity. Very sincerely,
THE P. J. BORG COMPANY, MIDDLETOWN, OHIO.

A list of the people obtaining these prizes in this county will be published in this paper immediately after February 1st, 1894.

BALD HEADS

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

SKOOKUM ROOT HAIR GROWER
Is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither minerals nor oils. It is not a dye, but a hair restorer, which restores the hair to its natural color and texture. It stops falling hair, cures dandruff, and grows hair on bald heads.
Keep the scalp clean, healthy and free from irritating eruptions, by the use of Skookum Skin Soap. It destroys parasitic insects, which feed on and destroy the hair.
If your druggist cannot supply you, send direct to us, and we will forward prepaid, on receipt of price. Grower, $1.00 per bottle; 6 for $5.00. Soap, 50c per box.

WITHOUT THE Non-pull-out BOW (RING)

It is easy to steal or ring watches from the pocket. The thief gets the watch in one hand, the chain in the other and gives a short, quick jerk—the ring slips off of the watch stem, and away goes the watch, leaving the victim only the chain.
This idea stopped that little game:
The bow has a groove on each end. A collar runs down inside the pendant (stem) and fits into the groove, firmly locking the bow to the pendant, so that it cannot be pulled or twisted off.
Sold by all watch dealers, without cost, on Jas. Boss Filled and other cases containing this trade mark—
