WELCOMING SPEECHES.

World's Parliament of Religions Formally Opened.

JEWS MARCH WITH GENTILES.

Also Protestant and Catholic Side by Side. Cardinal Gibbons Takes Part—Catholics Discuss the Attitude of the Church Toward Secret Societies.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—A processional in which the religions of the world were represented marked the opening of the world's parliament of religions at the Art Institute. It was a processional that had a world of meaning in it; one that would have been impossible not many years ago. Jew marched with Gentile and Catholic marched with Protestant. The religious beliefs of India, of China and of Japan were represented, as well as those of the English speaking nations. All attired in their priestly robes and wearing the insignia of their office, marched in peace and fellowship to the platform, while the audience rose and cheered at the sight.

First came Cardinal Gibbons escorted by President Bonney. Then came Mrs. Potter Palmer and Mrs. Charles Henriot, representing the board of lady managers of the World's fair, and then the representatives of all the different religions of the world.

It Was an Inspiring Scene. Even more inspiring was the scene when the vast audience arose and joined in singing "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," and later when Cardinal Gibbons led those of all nations and all religions in reciting the Lord's prayer.

President Bonney made the address of welcome. He said they should all give thanks for being able to take part in so grand a congress, one that so fully exemplified peace and progress and which would have so great an influence on the world. Mr. Bonney welcomed all in the name of the brotherhood of religion.

Protestant and Catholic Side by Side. Rev. John Henry Barrows, chairman of the committee on organization, then addressed the congress. He said the meeting had become a grand new factor in the history of the human race that would never be obliterated. He extended a welcome to the representatives of all delegations present.

Cardinal Gibbons said that though all did not agree on matters of faith, there was one platform on which all were united, that was charity, humanity and benevolence. He could not impress too strongly on everyone that each was his brother's keeper. That was the whole theory of humanity. If Christ had said, "Am I my brother's keeper?" we would still be walking in darkness.

Welcomed by a Woman. Rev. Augusta A. Chapin welcomed the congress on behalf of woman. The parliament of religion, she said, was the grandest and most significant gathering that had ever been assembled in this earth. President Higginbotham of the Columbian exposition, next welcomed the delegates on behalf of the World's fair.

Rev. Alex McKenzie, the next speaker, said that he supposed that everyone who spoke stood for something and he stood for the old settlers, the puritans. The parliament of religion, he said, was really begun on Plymouth rock and had been growing in importance ever since until now every religion on earth was represented in the country.

Thanks to This Country. The archbishop of Zante expressed his thanks for the invitation which enabled him to take part in the proceedings. The archbishop's tributes to this country were greeted with enthusiastic applause and Protosp Chunder Mazoombar was introduced.

No speaker on the program was greeted with such applause as was Pung Quang Yu, secretary of the Chinese legation at Washington. In introducing him Mr. Bonney spoke of the treatment that some of his countrymen had received in this country, but in spite of which the emperor of China had sent a delegate in a christian spirit to this congress. Nearly half the people in the hall rose and cheered and waved their handkerchiefs as the delegate appeared and made a gracious reply.

Russia and Japan Heard From. Prince Volkouska of Russia followed with a tribute to the congresses. He spoke of a Catholic prelate addressing the Jews and said that it was a magnificent scene that could be witnessed only in this age. Rt. Rev. Rouchi Shibata of Japan was next on the program and rose while Dr. Burrows read a paper, he had prepared. Then Z. Woguchi also of Japan made a short response. He was a Buddhist and spoke for himself and three companions.

Conn. Democrat of Berlin said that the Bible on its very first page taught that we were all of one family and we should keep that always in mind. He personally believed that Protestant Christianity was the only true religion, but he could well enter into the spirit of the present congress.

Rev. G. Bennett Bauer of France was the next speaker. He spoke of the benefits of religion and of the extraordinary character and benefits of the congress. The program was closed by brief responses by Archbishop Redwood of New Zealand and R. Darmapala.

CATHOLIC ARCHBISHOPS CONFERENCE.

They Discuss the Attitude of the Church Toward Secret Societies.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The Roman Catholic archbishops of the United States are in confidential session at the residence of Archbishop Fechan. The meeting will be carefully guarded against publicity. Mgr. Satelli is not expected to be present. It is possible, however, that he may be invited out of courtesy, to listen to debate on one or more topics. One of the topics will be the attitude of the church toward secret or semi-secret societies. Owing to lack of agreement among the authorities of the church an order or society whose banner is blessed by the bishop of one diocese is refused admission to a church in a continuous diocese. Sensational and discrediting episodes are reported east and west, arising out of lack of uniformity of opinion in the church concerning the neutral secret organization to whose ranks Roman Catholics belong.

CHAMPIONS COMING WEST.

A Number of New York Athletes to Take Part in the World's Fair Sports.

New York, Sept. 12.—The members of the Amateur Athletic union of New York, who are to participate in the World's fair sports to be held at Chicago on Sept. 18th to 16th, under the direction of the Chicago Athletic association, left here. Among the party were Will Day—who holds the five-mile championship of the United States—Tom Connell, one-mile champion; E. C. Goff, champion long jumper of America, who will compete for the Chicago championship in the hop, step and jump contest. Fred Puffer, champion high hurdle jumper of America; W. S. French, of the Seventh Regiment Athletic association, half mile running champion who will run in the 1,000 yard and two-mile handicap races; M. F. Sweeny, who holds the world's record for high jump, and Andy Walls, who holds the Metropolitan championship of one mile running races.

Oldest Settlers Knocked Out.

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 12.—People all over central Illinois are devoutly praying for rain. No rain except light showers have fallen in this locality since May 27, now 106 days, and this unprecedented drought has extended all over central Illinois. Old settlers say that they never knew a drought to equal it unless it was in the year of 1854, when a season probably equally as devoid of moisture was experienced.

Fire at Pullman.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Fire broke out in the Pullman company's lumber yard in the suburb of Pullman and for several hours the great shops were threatened with destruction. Engines were sent from Hyde Park, South Chicago and Chicago. After a hard fight the flames were subdued. About one-half of the company's lumber yard has been destroyed.

Several Arrests Made.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Sept. 12.—Thomas Ryan, alias Fleming, "Sleepy" Hewett and Carl Bruner have been arrested for being implicated in the murder of F. P. Burdick, whose body was found in Cut Off lake last Thursday. "Sleepy" Hewett has been identified as one of the men who were with Burdick a week ago.

Kansas People Go to Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The state of Kansas poured about 5,000 visitors into Chicago. They came from all parts of the state, and Pullmans, day coaches and smokers were filled on incoming trains. The big crowds from this western state is one of the most remarkable events in state celebrations in connection with the World's fair.

Bismarck's Condition.

KISSENGEN, Sept. 12.—Prince Bismarck has been attacked by stomach cramps and herpes rooster. His tendency to gout makes his condition on the whole serious, but there is no immediate danger. He is very weak and emaciated.

Dispute Over a Prize Fight.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 12.—The legality of the suppression of the Roby prize fights has been disputed by the Columbian Athletic club and the question will be settled by the supreme court.

National Bank of Ashland Will Resume.

OUR MEDALS GO ABROAD.

STATE DEPARTMENT REWARDS FOREIGNERS.

People Who Care for Our Sailors Earn the Gratitude of Uncle Sam—An Annual Appropriation of Five Thousand Dollars.

The state department sent abroad a few days ago the most ornate set of tributes ever awarded to those who have saved the lives of American sailors in foreign waters. They consisted chiefly of watches and medals of gold and silver. But there was one vase among them which was to go to Abdu'l Rachman Modlan Sjahl, sultan of Liviga Rho, which was gorgeous affair, well worthy of the great nation which presented it.

The state department chooses for itself the form of reward and the chief clerk chooses the gifts, which seem to him most appropriate to the service rendered. There is only one limitation on their selection. If they take the form of medals, they must be struck off at the mint in Philadelphia. There is a die at the Philadelphia mint, designed by Morgan, from which all of these medals, whether gold or silver, are struck. The engraving appropriate to each medal is done by a Washington engraver.

The design of the medal is very quiet but very effective. The only faulty feature of it is the cross-bar. On this cross-bar, which is a simple oblong, is the inscription "E Pluribus Unum." The letters are in relief. Just at the middle of the bar is a small and rather squatty shield which covers part of the word "Pluribus." The medal suspended from the cross-bar on a swivel is perfectly round. The obverse has the head of Columbia in the center surrounded by the words "Presented by the President of the United States."

These medals are of silver when they are intended for seamen and of gold when they are to be sent to officers, says the Philadelphia Times. Whether of gold or silver, they are encased in morocco and rest on faintly pads covered with maroon satin. They are kept in a steel safe in the inner office of the chief clerk, until the time fixed for shipping them abroad.

Several medals awarded by the state department have already been awarded. The representatives of the navy are unable to find those for whom they were intended. One of these medals was designed for one of those who rendered services to the survivors of the ill-fated Jeannette expedition. It is not likely that these medals will be delivered. They will probably be turned back to the mint and melted over for use in making other medals, and the state department will be credited with their value. The state department has to pay the treasury department for each of these medals. Many of the departments in Washington have running accounts with each other.

Sometimes the presents sent by the state department are in the form of money. These are to poor seamen to whom the money would be of much greater use than a vase or medal. Very often the gifts which are sent by the department are gold or silver watches, sometimes they are very fine field glasses or marine glasses. These are not American, but are of the best French make.

The award of these medals and other tributes of appreciation is chief of the consular bureau at the suggestion of our ministers and consuls abroad. When a consular report shows that an American vessel has been shipwrecked in foreign waters and that aid has been rendered to her sailors by any one, the chief of the consular bureau reports the circumstance to the chief clerk of the department. If he thinks the case a worthy one, and the chief clerk then makes a selection of a medal or watch or whatever seems to him appropriate. This gift is carefully packed and sealed to our representative at the court of the country of which the beneficiary is a citizen. Our minister takes the gift to the foreign office, and there presents it with much formality and a little speech. The chief of the foreign office receives it and acknowledges it formally, undertaking to have it delivered to the person for whom it is intended. Sometimes it is to be sent to another part of the world. Not long ago some American sailors were rescued from drowning by the people of an island over which the Netherlands had jurisdiction. And after our minister to the Netherlands had presented the gifts intended for these people they had to be shipped across the ocean again before they reached their destination. In every case a receipt is taken, and this goes back through the same channel until it reaches the state department. Either the receipt or the gift must be returned.

A Hint to Inventors. Professor Bell thinks the time occupied by inventors in working out the problem of aerial navigation by the usual inflated gas bags and methods of steering them is wasted. He thinks a feasible means of propelling and directing an airship would be a kind of trolley system where the road would hang down from the car to the stretched wire instead of extending upward. He recommends the idea to inventors.

"Why do people always say 'Hi' when they want to stop a stage?" They don't like to tantalize the horses by saying "Hay!"—Harper's Bazar.

IN FOREIGN LANDS.

Tradition's Power Visible in All Grades of Old-World Social Life.

In addressing his faithful Brandenburgers on the occasion of the opening of their provincial diet recently, Emperor William laid stress on the important part which tradition plays in monarchical states, and the New York Tribune thinks that, although he dwelt more especially on the influence which it exercises on the relations of a nation toward the dynasty, and which has ruled over it for many centuries, yet it cannot be denied that it pervades the entire social life of the old world. Nor is its influence confined, as might be supposed, to the classes. Indeed, it is just as potent with the masses, a fact readily comprehensible when it is borne in mind that people on the other side of the Atlantic are, as a rule, content with their social status. The yeoman farmer takes pride in the fact that his ancestors for hundreds of years have been yeoman farmers like himself, and educates his children to live up to the traditions of their forefathers. There are peasants in England, Germany and in Brittany who can trace their descent back to the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, and who have sufficient sense of dignity to prefer to be at the head of the yeomanry rather than at tail end of the aristocracy. In the same way the retail and wholesale traders in Europe, even in such republican countries as Switzerland and France, take an honest pride in the fact that their forefathers were traders like themselves, and it is the traditions of their ancestors which constitute the principal incentive for preserving untarnished by any failure or commercial dishonor the good name which they have inherited. In France the lawyers in particular are fond of pointing out how their fathers and fathers' fathers had been honored members of the magistracy and of the bar, and they, too, strive to live up to the traditions of what is known in the Gallic tongue as the noblesse do robe.

The Bastinado Still in Use. Among the Persians, the usual mode of punishment is the bastinado, from which men of the highest rank are not exempt. It is inflicted with very great severity, frequently so as to render the sufferer almost a cripple for life. The victim is thrown upon his face, each foot is passed through a loop of strong cord attached to a pole, which is raised horizontally by the men, who, twisting it around, tighten the ropes and render the feet immovable. The executioners then strike the soles alternately with switches of the pomegranate tree, well steeped in water to render them supple. A store of these switches is generally ready for use in the pond which adjoins the courtyards of the houses of the great. The punishment frequently lasts an hour, or until the unfortunate victim faints from pain.

A Good Reason. Kid Party—What are you crying that way for, little boy? Little Boy—Cause it's the only way I know how to cry.—Life.

A Serious Offense. "Hang him, he's always trying to make me like him."—Chicago Record.

BITS OF FUN. Mr. Kaller—What is your name my little man? Roy—When I am good it is "Billy," when I am bad it is "William J."

Young Mr. Sapley—I wish I could get me a hat that was suited to my head. Miss Palisade—Why don't you try a soft hat?

He (stroking a diminutive mustache)—In Queen Elizabeth's time men who wore beards were taxed. She—Yes; and it taxes some men now to raise a beard.

The Wife—Of course, I can make allowance for a little heat of temper. It isn't every man that can be master of himself. The Husband—No, if he has a wife.

Master—How is this, Bridget? My coffee is much stronger to-day than it is usually. Servant—Girl—Oh, please, sir, I've made a mistake. I gave you the wrong cup. That is my coffee.

Mollie—What a lovely complexion Hattie has. Ellie—Yes, she must use some face-wash or other. "She does use." "I know it." "I wonder where she gets it?" "Out of the hydrant."

"Any letters for me, miss?" "No." "Any for grandma?" "No." "Aunt Sally?" "None." "The Jenkins girls?" "None." "Why, you ain't give us any letter in three weeks?" "Can't help it. Got any side meat?" "Yes." "Well, I reckon we won't take any."

"Mamma, said little Harry, aged 7, 'is papa Mr. James L. Davis, senior?'" "Yes, Harold." "Then," pursued he, "are you Mrs. James L. Davis, senior?" "Yes," answered his mother again. "Then if I am Mr. James L. Davis, junior, where is Mrs. James L. Davis, junior?"

"Mamma, do you think you'll go to heaven?" said Jack thoughtfully looking into his mother's face. "Yes, Jack, if I'm good," said the little mother cautiously, wondering what would come next. "Then please be good, for papa and I would be so lonesome without you."

"Is your ship didn't break any records coming over? Must have been awfully monotonous." Must, eh? The second officer fell from a bridge and broke his arm the first day out, the engineer managed to break the shaft the second, and a lot of poker sharps broke in the third. Nothing very monotonous about that, was there?"

A Chinaman in the Army.

It is not generally known that the United States government has twenty years numbered among its defenders Chinaman. Lieut. Jackson of company H, United States Infantry, lately gave out the interesting information while chatting with a number of officers at Fort Seward. He made the remark that State Senator Baker's company of the sixth regiment was the only white company in the guard that had a colored private in it. "Oh, that's nothing," said Lieut. Jackson. "My company up to last year had a Chinaman in the ranks. He had the honor of being the first colored man who had enlisted in the United States army, but he was a member of the company for twenty years, and he was a good soldier too." Philadelphia Record.

The Only Scotchman. Once a thrifty Scotch physician was called to a case where a woman had dislocated her jaw. He very soon put her right. The woman asked how much he charged. He said he charged nothing. The patient thought it too much. He, however, would not take less, and the woman refused to give him the fee, he began to yawn. Yawning, as everyone knows, is infectious. The young woman in turn yawned. Her jaw again went out of joint and the doctor triumphantly said: "Now, until you hand me over my fee, your jaw can remain as it is." Needless to say it was promptly paid.

The One-Legged Man's Old Shoe. A Natchez shoemaker advertises to sell shoes at 50 cents a foot. An Ohio shoemaker was asked what became of the one-legged man's old shoe, replied that economical customers suffering from that affliction buy a pair of shoes, and if they have only the right foot, use the shoe on the left foot, and if they have the left foot, use the shoe on the right foot. This, he said, makes a fairly comfortable shoe, and they use it for everyday wear.

Books for Girls. "It worries me," said a mother, not long ago, "because my daughter will not do any school reading." A survey of the "solid reading" provided exhorted the young girl in the estimation of the one to whom the complaint was addressed. "It is a pity," he nearly started to prefer dry bread to dainty viands. The quickest introduction to solid reading is the historical novel or the well-written and well-illustrated book of travels. In the selection of both, care must be taken that books written with a purpose are not chosen. The child who has to be convinced of a read is always suspicious of attempts to teach him unweary. As much real information can be derived from books such as "Innocence Abroad" or Miss Duncan's "Social Departure" as from ponderous books of travel, carefully elaborated and written up from encyclopedias by gentlemen whose aim it is to combine amusement with instruction.

The Safest Way to Do It. Binks—Well, sir, I gave it to that man straight, now, I can tell you. He is twice as big as I am, but I told him exactly what I thought of his rascally conduct, right in his face, and I called him all the mean names in the dictionary.

Minks—And didn't he try to hit you, Binks? Binks—No, sir, he didn't. And when he tried to answer back I just hung the telephone up without a word and walked away.

How Far Can Thunder Be Heard? It is believed that lightning is visible for 150 miles, but it is still in controversy how far away thunder can be heard. A French astronomer has made observations on the subject and he declares it impossible for thunder to be heard at a greater distance than ten miles. An English meteorologist has counted up to 130 seconds between the flash and the thunder, which would give a distance of twenty-seven miles.

Lincoln's Pew. The New York Avenue Presbyterian church, where the Presbyterian assembly has been sitting, is not only the largest in point of congregation of any Presbyterian church in the topical capital, but it ranks near the top in the denomination in this country, there being only seven or eight Presbyterian churches which have a larger roll of membership. There are now over 1,000 regular members, and the limit of growth has by no means been reached. The church is under the pastoral supervision of the Rev. J. C. Johnson, D. D., and has an attendant at this church and President Johnson also had a pew there. The pew occupied by President Lincoln has always been preserved, and it now holds a position in the auditorium of the New York Avenue church which is its old-fashioned appearance contrasts strongly with the modern furniture and furnishings.

An Unfortunate Attention. "Now, Will," said Mrs. Angoulanne, "do be careful while we are in America about eating so fast that you will get indigestion. Mr. Gladstone, you know, always gives his steak a hundred bites. He never has any trouble with his food."

"Doesn't he?" answered her husband; "that didn't prevent him from being hit in the eye with a piece of ginger bread."

And Will laughed a slow, sardonic laugh.

Sudden Death in Files.

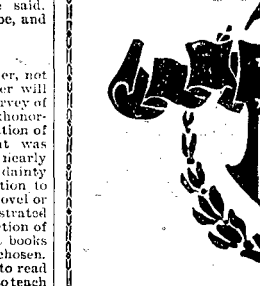

"Come inside a minute," said a Fourth avenue dealer in pianos. "I have discovered the greatest fly trap on earth, and I want to show it to you. He led the way to the rear of the store, and the store on which was a newspaper. At least 1,000 dead flies were lying on the paper, on which had been placed a bunch of sweet peas. "I threw these here by chance," he continued, "and in a moment I noticed that every fly that alighted on the flowers died in a very short time." Even as he spoke a number of the insects which had stopped to suck the deadly sweet toppled over dead. They alighted with their usual buzz, stopped momentarily, quivered in their legs, flapped their wings weakly several times, and then gave up the ghost.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Scentiment That Was Applauded. A bevy of pretty girls at the beach were making impressions in the sand with their feet and measuring them to see which had the smallest foot. "Comrade" was no idle and meaningless word when spoken to Benjamin Harrison by the old soldiers at Indianapolis.

The West Point Republican was 23 years old last week. It is one of the best papers in Northeast Nebraska and improves with age.

The contortions of the democratic editors as they try to explain Hoke Smith's pension back-down will amuse others for weeks to come.

The man to whose eyes no tear of sympathy ever comes is the man who never will be missed when he drops out. He is also to be pitied.

That Hawaiian business ought to be settled. Then perhaps correspondent Nordhoff might be persuaded to let up on the newspaper reading public.

Men recommended for office by Senators Vest and Vance will have their chances ripped Y-shaped up the back as fast as their papers reach the White House.

It appears that Tammany Croker's advent upon the turf has been too much for Mr. Pierre Lorillard. At any rate the latter announces his horses for sale, and his retirement.

The Pan-American Medical Congress, now in session at Washington, may get some valuable pointers on how not to cure a patient from the other Congress in session there.

Hoke Smith changed his mind about the strength of the love of the country for the old soldiers, and his suspension will have shut down permanently.

Ex-Governor Campbell truly says: "Neal has an uphill fight on his hands." It is only a question of how large a majority Gov. McKinley will get, his election having been assured by his nomination.

It is announced that Mr. Cleveland has about determined to make the head of the tax on State bank currency a party measure and force it through Congress with the aid of King Cacus. Didn't the Chicago platform make it a party measure?

There is one thing perceptible and that is the present efficient county clerk is not seeking advice of the Graphic. A trait in Mr. Russell's character which has won him many friends is that he is not subject to bossism. This Mr. Gollie not long since discovered. The Graphic aserts in one item with intent to convey the idea, that Mr. Russell is not a democrat, and in another item avows that "McNeal is satisfied with a democratic clerk." True, Mr. Russell has treated the HERALD courteously and so he does every MAN in the county so far as we know. However, the HERALD will be found supporting the republican nominees and leading its mite towards securing their election, but in so doing it will not employ the Graphic's tactics of "mad slinging."

There is not a single reason why any republican should not cast his ballot this fall, for N. D. Jackson for judge of the Ninth Judicial district. He is eminently qualified for the Judgeship and fity wears the Judicial ermine. If integrity, ability and justice are commendations, then, any voter, regardless of party affiliations can conscientiously cast their ballot for Mr. Jackson. He will be elected to the position he now holds by virtue of appointment and which he has proven himself so well qualified to fill.

The democratic and independent parties are intensely filled with cowardice in the 9th judicial district. They dare not nominate a full ticket, because they well know to do so means utter defeat. Will the voters of the district and county be gulled into throwing office seekers into office for the mere sake of defeating another party. Are you cowards in working for your principles, or are they principles.

Senator Vance was talking through his hat when he said that Cleveland would not have received a single electoral vote south of the Potomac river had his opposition to silver been known before the election. Bosh! Mr Cleveland's position has been known to the entire country for years, and he has not changed it, on this question.

It seems as if the originator of every new political rostrum thinks it necessary to try it on Kansas before introducing it elsewhere. From which it has come to be naturally inferred that some of the people of Kansas are easier led astray than those of other States.

Mr. Cleveland is credited with having recently said: "The average democratic Congressman is far more intent upon getting offices than upon legislation to relieve the country." Wonder if it has taken him all this time to make that discovery.

As the panic is virtually over and the Sherman Act is still unrepented what excuse has democracy now to offer for having charged the Sherman law with being the cause of the money stringency and depression in business.

The republican Senator or Representative who votes with the democrats when they are right, and they are right sometimes, strange as it may sound, deserves praise, instead of the censure administered in some quarters.

The democratic members of the House Ways and Means committee should keep the fact in mind that in just a little more than a year the people will have an opportunity to pass upon their tariff work.

The defaulting Treasurer, of Holt county, Barrett Scott was captured at Jaurerez, Mexico, and will be returned to his old home. It didn't work, did the jumping the county.

The hanging of public men in effigy is about the silliest of all known methods of making known popular opposition, and sensible men never engage in it.

Independent farmers demand that eight hours constitute a days work for every working man except the farm hand.—Norfolk News.

Maxwell!! Maxwell!! Maxwell!! Give us Maxwell and there will be no doubt as to the next Supreme Judge.

The New York Mugwump papers are now throwing the ghosts of his predecessors at Senator Hill!

We understand that J. J. Gildersleeve is a candidate before the republican county convention for county superintendent.—Mr. Gildersleeve is amply qualified for the position, is an energetic citizen and as he will no doubt receive the nomination, his election is assured. Republicans will be republicans this year.

Judge Martin will no doubt be re-nominated for County Judge, by the republican convention next Monday. He needs no commendation. He has well and faithfully filled the requirements of office, and of his re-election there is no question.

The Iowa campaign is on and Governor Boise's opponent, Mr. Jackson the republican nominee will make things so hot that the democratic governor will wish he had clung to his statement in which he proclaimed that he was opposed to the third term.

Who is this S. A. Holcomb, of Broken Bow, that the independents nominated for judge of the supreme court?—Oakland Times.

BUSINESS REMOVALS.

R. W. WILKINS & CO.
 It is with a degree of great pleasure that the HERALD announces this week the removal of R. W. Wilkins & Co. druggists, into their handsome and commodious quarters in the new brick adjoing the Wayne National Bank.
 Mr. Wilkins was 60 years of age until a short time ago. Del Blanchard, of Havana, Illinois, purchased a half interest and became the company of the new firm.
 R. W. Wilkins is one of the leading druggists of Northeast Nebraska and well and widely known. His first concern was at Woodhill, Ill., where he was engaged in the drug establishment of A. P. Lilley. In the spring of 1882 he came to Wayne and entered the employ of L. C. Dearborn, where by honesty, ability and close attention to business he soon gained a position. He then entered the employ of Wightman & McFarland who had purchased the drug business of Mr. Dearborn and with them he remained for more than a year. About this time Dr. Adams purchased the drug store of Adams & Dutcher with whom Bob, as he is familiarly known, accepted a position. After a year the business changed hands and became the property of E. E. Perrine, and Mr. Wilkins was given charge of the business where he remained for nearly three years. At the end of this time he decided to go into partnership with the founder for four drug stores of Dr. Williams, which had formerly been the property of his first employer. He began business in Nov., 1891 and has built up an extensive trade much to the gratification of a host of friends who will now heartily congratulate him on his successful career.
 The building is eighty feet deep and nicely furnished and one of the handsomest prescription cases made, adorns the east end of the room. Three new show cases have been added which are placed on handsome iron case supports. In fact it is one of the neatest and best drug stores in the west. It is not only the proprietor who will well feel proud and the HERALD joins with the citizens in general in wishing the new firm a prosperous business career.

I. SHANE, THE GROCER.
 A little more than a year ago I. Shane, of Omaha, came to Wayne and engaged in the grocery business in the brick building adjoining the Boyd Hotel. Mr. Shane is a firm believer of printers ink and in a short time the results of it became apparent by an increasing business which has grown steadily until at the present time it is one of the best in the city. Mr. Shane is a thorough merchant and business man of such qualifications as insure success. Fair dealing and reasonable profits has been his motto. Saturday evening he moved into the new brick of Bressler & Dearborn's adjoining the drug store of R. W. Wilkins & Co., where he has as handsome a grocery establishment as one could wish to see, large and commodious new stock. The HERALD extends congratulations and wishes him increased prosperity.

B. W. SPRAGUE.
 The proprietor of the People's Restaurant, B. W. Sprague, has removed to the building adjoining the Boyd Hotel to be occupied by I. Shane the grocer. About a year ago B. W. Sprague came to Wayne from Iowa with a view of locating. The corner building on Main and First streets was leased for a year and an eating house and lunch counter, with confectionery in connection was established. The proprietor being an industrious, upright and thorough business man, the business of the place has steadily increased until the present time when more room was needed, thus the reason for his removal. The building that he now occupies is large and convenient and affords Mr. Sprague an opportunity to better serve his customers. The HERALD extends congratulations and wish him continued prosperity.

A Big Show.
 Three hundred dollars is quite a sum for the manager of an opera house in a town the size of Wayne to guarantee a theatrical company, but this is the amount paid the Rice, Wolford & Sheridan Co. by Mr. Britton for three nights commencing Thursday next. Mr. Britton has every assurance that the above named company is in every particular first-class as the papers in the Black Hills county have been sounding their praises for the past four weeks. The Deadwood Pioneer states that the company was the best that ever visited the Hills. Reserved seats 50 cents.

A Word to Smokers.
 Readers do you ever stop to think that when you bought a cigar, that nine times out of ten you are in great danger. The pest holes of the cities are where many of your favorite brands are made. Only cigars that have a union label on the box are free from taint. They are made by persons who receive a fair compensation for their labor and consequently are clean. If you want a cigar and a good one bear in mind that when you purchase one of Adams & Bell's you are buying goods that are home made and that they are just as good as can be made anywhere and you are taking no chances. Besides this you are patronizing a firm that is located in your midst and the money remains here. It may seem but a small matter to you but in the aggregate it makes a difference no matter whether you are much of a smoker or not. Look at it in any light, you are simply doing justice to yourself by patronizing a home industry. The HERALD heartily recommends the Imperial Cigar manufacturer and dealer, Adams & Bell, and they have a number of excellent brands. Do your duty dealers and smokers.

Ed HERALD.—The reference to my name as a probable candidate for the office of county superintendent, has put me into the attitude of a partisan seeking a nomination and election by one or other of the political parties.
 Instead of this view I hold the office to be strictly an educational one, and to be sought only by those who have the educational qualifications for the duties. If I am in any sense of the term a candidate, it is before the whole people of the county. But the only way in which the people can express their will before the date of election is through the several party conventions. When these conventions have decided who they will support, then, and not till then, can we know who are the candidates for county superintendent. W. M. MARVIN.

The bird was so slender that one could hardly see it, though it stood three feet in its stocking foot. The large crowd attracted there by its appearance failed to get several fine terrapin dogs to take hold of it, but they wouldn't bite.

The new Swedish Lutheran church which has just been completed at Oakland at a cost of some $15,000, was formally dedicated last Sunday with imposing ceremonies, a number of prominent divines of that church being there from different parts of the state. Rev. A. O. Johnson, pastor, preached the dedicatory sermon, he having been the first pastor of the church.

SWARTZ & SOX, the livermen, of Fremont would like some information. On the 10th of August they let a team to David Ebertson, who said he had a striking machine and wanted to attend the fair at Elbron and payed $100 to return in ten days. When the ten days were up he did not appear and he is still absent. So is the team, and the owners would like to find the aggregation.

In response to a telegram from the sheriff of Hall county, Officers Noe and L. J. O'Connell, of Fremont, and the sheriff of men who were from Grand Island. They got off the train in the edge of the yards, but the officers anticipated such a movement and got them. They were placed in jail to await the arrival of an officer from Grand Island, where they are wanted for robbing freight cars.

As Fred Moore was fishing about 100 yards below where the South Omaha stock yards sewer enters the river he observed a dark object floating down with the current, and as it came closer he found it to be the body of a human being. He went out with his boat and found the body of a man who had fallen to the shore. The body was in a fair state of preservation and could be easily identified.

An elderly gentleman named Frank Brown died at O'Neill suddenly of what resembled very much Asiatic cholera, but the attending physician says it could not possibly have been. His diagnosis was sporadic cholera morbus. Some of the symptoms of the disease prevailed upon the man's vitals and life blood until he was reduced to a mere skeleton, something like a mummy in appearance.

An amateur horse thief in the person of Charlie Chirder was arrested in Plainville by the city marshal. Young Chirder had been working for a man in the city and was caught while he was carrying off the man's horse and cart. No trace had been found until he was caught. He claims that he sold the cart and harness, the horse having died. He walked into town and was inquiring the fare to Omaha. He is but 15 years old.

C. P. EYSPHAS, a young farmer living near Kenesaw, met with a peculiar accident which resulted in his death. He had been out hunting and when returning home, stopped and gathered some corn which he tossed carelessly into the buggy where his gun was lying. Some of the corn struck the gun, causing an explosion and the gun happened to be so pointed that the charge struck and tore off one of his arms. A physician was summoned, but before anything could be done he died.

The large barn of A. W. Howard, in Aurora, was destroyed by fire. How it started is a mystery, as the only persons at home were Mrs. Howard and a little girl some years old who were in the house at the time. There were three horses and a cow, considerable machinery, some hay and grain in the barn when the fire started. One of the horses perished and the entire contents of the barn were destroyed.

A CRAWFORD dispatch says: J. D. Haines, of South Omaha school board university fame, has been investigating the books of the Crawford school district and has found the school treasurer over $2,500 short in his accounts and many other irregularities. He has filed a complaint with the district attorney and has secured warrants for $500 in the hands of the treasurer and $1,800 in teachers' warrants are now outstanding, while over $18,000 in orders have been paid, none of which have been allowed by the school district board.

WINS ERMES Smith and wife, who live four miles east of Fremont, avowed the fact that they had been burgled during the night and had carried off the contents of Mr. Smith's and the hired man and other articles. A horse was also missing from the stable. The horse was traced east nearly to Valley, when the authorities here were informed. The animal was finally found hidden in South Fremont, the thieves having evidently doubted on their track and came to this city.

Rev. B. H. Lewis, evangelist, and president of the Nebraska Holiness union, is down with nervous prostration, and has been compelled to cancel all his future engagements. He has been laid up for nearly a year and a half, and his nervous and physical constitution have not been equal to the task. He has preached and given over 700 sermons and Bible readings within the last eighteen months, besides writing out a little for the religious press. He expects to go south for a month or two as soon as he can make the necessary arrangements.

The latest weather crop bulletin says: The week has been cool and dry, and while corn, as a rule, continues to do well and is beginning to ripen, rains would be of great benefit. In the northern portion of the state during the last two nights of August, but did no injury. Reports are again favorable relative to the potato crop; pastures are beginning to suffer for rain. The weather has been excellent for hay harvesting, and that crop is being raised in fine condition. The wheat and wheat crop is progressing, though in some counties the soil is getting too dry to plow. Winter wheat is coming up nicely in Adams county.

TO DISCUSS REPEAL.

IN ORDER IN THE SENATE ALL THIS WEEK.

There May be an Occasional Break, but Repeal Will Go Most of the Time—Mr. Voorhees' Bill Will Not be Rushed—The Resolution of Senator Peffer—Increasing in the Ways and Means Committee—Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Congratulated Over the Birth of Another Daughter.

REPORT ALL THIS WEEK.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The senate this week will devote itself almost entirely to the discussion of the repeal bill. Possibly there may be an occasional break in the monotony, caused by taking up some other subject during the morning hours, but the calendar affords very little scope for diversion in this respect. The calendar is, indeed, one of the briefest of publications these days; owing to the fact that the general committee action has been encouraged in the interest of the legislation on the Sherman act, it contains two or three bills, besides the repeal of the tariff of government claims, three resolutions for the payment of the expenses of recent claimants to seats in the senate, Senator Morgan's resolution for a finance compromise, a half dozen measures of minor importance reported from the committee on public lands, Senator Hill's bill for the repeal of the federal election law and Senator Voorhees' repeal bill and his bill for the removal of the tax on state banks.

Mr. Voorhees' decided more than a week ago that it would be expedient to push through the repeal of the national banks until the most important repeal bill has been laid aside to allow the house measure to be discussed until the senate is ready for action. When the unconditional repeal is reached the Voorhees bill will probably be considered, for the bill which comes from the other side of the aisle. Recognizing, as he does, the supreme importance of financial legislation, Senator Hill will not attempt to secure consideration for his anti-federal election bill until the question of repeal is settled.

They are the only subjects of national importance before the senate except the reserves of the New York, Philadelphia and Boston banks. The Peffer resolution has already been made to do its possible duty as a time-killer and it occupies the place which it is to be utilized for that purpose. The measure is not on the calendar, but lies on the table and can be taken up for discussion at any time during the morning hour, and as long as there is any one who desires to talk upon it, it will not be deferred. Therefore, the opponents of repeal prefer, therefore, the opportunity to talk every day up to 2 o'clock upon this resolution. Some of them manifested a disposition when the resolution in a slightly different form was before them earlier in the session to have it carried through by pretty thorough airing, and it is possible that there may be more talk in this line during the present week before the resolution can be disposed of by referring it to the committee on finance.

The resolution for the remuneration of Mr. Morgan, which was reported from the committee of the leaders of the repeal forces if it should appear that they cannot be considered without assuring debates. Other measures on the calendar stand no show, according to the present arrangement of affairs, of receiving the slightest attention.

It is quite evident that it is the purpose of the repeal advocates to hold that measure before the senate for the present as the one object of the session to the exclusion of every other subject. The repeal of the tariff of government claims has right of way after October 1. It is even possible indeed that the bill will be pressed more persistently during the present week than it was last week, now that there is a cessation of caspiousness talk. It does not appear, however, that the calendar will be crowded to the point where the repeal bill will be insisted upon.

Mr. Voorhees has found that all efforts to crowd the senate in this respect are stubbornly resisted and he has concluded that time will be gained by letting the debate take its legitimate course until it becomes apparently that discussion has degenerated into filibustering. The outlook for the week is therefore one of solid talk in the financial situation with the bill repealing the purchasing clause of the Sherman law as a basis. Senator Teiler's speech on the subject of the executive branch of the government is expected to be made tomorrow. Senator Mitchell of Oregon has given notice of a speech for Tuesday, Senators Hunsbrough and Shoup for Wednesday, and Senator Daniel for a speech Thursday. Other speeches will be made to occupy the time of the senate for a week are known to be in preparation.

A portion of Wednesday will be devoted to eulogies of the late Senator Stanford of California.

Tariff Pressing Forward.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The public interest in the ways and means committee increases daily, and the spacious room occupied by the gentlemen who are to formulate the revenue policy of the democratic congress is crowded at every meeting almost beyond its capacity. During the coming week there will take place the most important hearings of the committee. Under the rules of the committee to hear as close on the 20th inst. and the preparation of a general tariff bill will at once begin.

The coming week will be devoted to hearing representatives of nearly all the protected industries of iron and steel in the United States. To these gentlemen will be allotted a greater time than to any other industries which will appear before the committee. The other articles to be brought up for consideration will be the following: Wool and textile manufactures, glass, pottery, cutlery, plishes and velvets, cotton yarns, buttons, felts, gold, silver metal, leaf and bronze powders, straw hats, granite and dyes.

Congratulating Mrs. Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Congratulatory messages still arrive at the white house expressing the felicity of the country from one end to the other over the happiness which has been brought to the chief executive of the nation and his wife by the birth of another child. Both Mrs. Cleveland and her lady are as well as the conditions will allow and every one at the executive mansion wears a happy smile of contentment.

Dr. Graves' Body Sent East.

DEVER, Colo., Sept. 11.—The remains of Dr. T. Thayer Graves, who was found dead last Sunday in the county jail, where he was awaiting a rehearing on the charge of having poisoned the body of his wife, Frederick A. L., were sent east tonight. He was accompanied by Mrs. Graves, Judge Mason, the wife of Dr. Graves' attorney. No services were held here, as it was feared that Mrs. Graves, who is in poor health, would not be able to stand the funeral. The body will be buried at Thompson, Conn.—Dr. Graves' birth place.

Change in Pension Rules.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—For the purpose of arriving at a more certain and uniform practice in the pension office and the department of the interior in the matter of appeals in pension cases, Secretary Smith has promulgated a new code of rules for the government of the department and guidance of appellants and their attorneys. Very loose methods, it is said, have heretofore prevailed and almost any paper filed by a claimant who considered himself aggrieved by the action of the pension office has been considered and treated as an appeal. This practice has a tendency to clog the record, but no appeal, unless mere board of general review or the work of the pension office and to occupy the time and attention of the department with the utterly useless and irrelevant matters. No special or technical forms are required for an appeal by the pension office. No appeal shall be required to file with the secretary a concise and plain statement of the errors of law or facts complained of and constituting the ground of the appeal. New and material evidence which has been filed subsequent to the action of the pension office, and which, if received, the appeal is taken, will not be considered by the secretary until the same has first been passed upon by the pension office. No appeal taken on behalf of a claimant or through a suspended or disbarred attorney will be entertained unless refundment, as required, shall have been made. No appeal, the rejection of which has been affirmed by the secretary on appeal, will be reopened with his approval.

The organization of the board of pension appeals has also been materially changed and modified. Instead of being divided into three general divisions and sub-divisions, each working under its own character, in a semi-independent manner, it has now been constituted into one board with an organization similar to other divisions of the office. The chairman, having one chairman or one chief clerk, the secretary, and one or more assistants. The secretary will tend to facilitate the work and secure uniformity in the decisions of the board. Mr. John A. Lacy of Missouri, who has been a member of the board since 1887, has been made chairman and Mr. Edward P. Hall of Pennsylvania assistant chairman.

Blount's Report of Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—A report on the Hawaiian question is being prepared by Secretary Gresham, who will submit it to President Cleveland, and it will then be transmitted to congress. Minister Blount has had several interviews with Mr. Cleveland on Hawaiian affairs and it is reported that a decision on the subject will be made in a few days. This is thought, will tend to facilitate the work and secure uniformity in the decisions of the board. Mr. John A. Lacy of Missouri, who has been a member of the board since 1887, has been made chairman and Mr. Edward P. Hall of Pennsylvania assistant chairman.

Iowa Prohibitionists Nominate.

DES MOINES, Sept. 6.—The Iowa prohibitionists in convention here yesterday nominated L. S. Coffin for governor by acclamation. The nominee has been prominent in the republican party for many years. He served three terms on the board of railroad commissioners and has been identified with the movement in favor of safety train appliances.

Iowa State Fair Closed.—With a deficit.

DES MOINES, Sept. 11.—The state fair closed Friday with a very light attendance. The total receipts for the week will fall short of $10,000, and there will be a deficit of probably $10,000. This, with previous liabilities, will leave the society about $25,000 in debt.

It Should be in Every House.
J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he would not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with pneumonia after an attack of "La Grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert E. Burt, of Cookeport, Pa. claims Dr. King's New Discovery had done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. He writes: "Try it. Free trial bottles at Robert Wilkins' drug store. Large bottles, 50c. and $1.00."
