sented to the Country.

NEW York, Nov. 7.—Secretary Carlisle is in the city. To a reporter Mr. Carlisle said he was here on official business. He declined to say anything in relation to the financial and business situation or express any opinion as to the outlook. As to the condition of the treasury, etc., he would say nothing as he did not consider it wise or proper to express the opinion of the government through the newspapers.

Through the treasury order or an erroneous dispatch from Washington the impression is general that the secretary has ordered the mints to coin the selgmiorage of the silver bullion now in the mints.

Has Net Ordered the Setgniorage Coined.

sagmerage of the silver Dulinon now in the mints.

Has Not Ordered the Seigniorage Coined. Mr. Chrilsle said he had not issued any order directing the mints to coin the silver bullion in the treasury nor any part of it.

"What I have done is just this," said Mr. Carlisle. "We could use a few more silver dollars how and I have therefore directed the mints to get ready to coin the bullion when it is deemed advisable for them to do so, that is, for them to prepare the ingots and stamps. It is necessary, before the bullion can be coined, to make ingots of a certain length and obtain thickness requisits and make the stamps we need, so you see we could not begin coining at requisite and make the stamps we need, so you see we could not begin coining a once, and if we wanted to do so it would take norse than five years to coin all the side to the second to the treasury. I we should begin to coin it the seignior age would not in round figures amount to more than $1,000,000 a month, or it the infute were all kept steady going about $12,000,000.

to more than $1,000,000 a month; or if the initiat were all kept steady going, about $12,000,000.

Does Not Want to Be Misrepresented.

"With the certainty that the purchases of silver buildion are stopped, we can probably use the silver to advantage. I should be sorry, therefore, to see any law passed, as was recently suggested, that we set aside that portion of the buildin that would become seigniorage, the proportion of which can be calculated to a dot, and comple us to coil it alone and at once, and thus put into the treasury; available cash. If we did that I shink the coin would come back to us in a way we should not care to see. Something should be left to the discretion of the secretary. The law at present invests him with authority to coin such of the silver builtion as may be necessary for the redemption of the recently notes. I do not want to have a misrepresentation or misunderstanding of my mycoments to the country."

wanted any legislation to relieve the treasury, but it is known the ways and means committee has taken into consideration the finances of the treasury and that possibly it would have been able to act if a request had been made. tion with them that they had in initial different projects which they were willing to present should opportunity offer.

It is possible that the first thing the committee will be called upon to do when congress reassembles will be to put through some prigent deficiency measure for the treasury. This may be done by increasing the internal revenue taxes for the time being by issuing bonds, or by another method which seems to meet with considerable favor in some quarters. Between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000 of United States bonds are falling due or soon will be dide, It has been suggested that these bonds be haid by issuing treasury warrants. These warrants would have to be authorized by congress, and although called warrants, would simply be another name for greenbacks. The owner of the bonds could-demand payment in coin, but this could be supplied by sliver, or even gold, as the treasury warrants would brief the same as the greenback.

As long as the government maintains the parity of all its currency it would not make any difference. to the bonds holder whether he received his money in greenbacks or silver, which would be discretionary with the secretary of the treasury. The advisability has been discussed of authorizing the payment of bonds in these warrants, thus putting more money in circulation and at the same time relieving the situation in the treasury to a considerable extent.

Another subject which has been discussed by some members of the latter committee is the proposition to authorize the issue of a certain amount of greenbacks to supply the deficiency in revenues which the tarlife reduction will make, at least, until it is ascertaned and wat the actual increases and decreased by the condition of the proposition of authorize the issue of a certain amount of a condition of the same and committee said there would be no difficulty over the treasury shortare, and there were many ways the government could supply the deficiency in revenues which the treasury shortare, and there were many ways the governmen

Bills Passed by the Senate.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The session of the senate, will be long memorable; for the contest over the bill providing for the repeal of the silver purchasing clause of the Sherman act of 1830. The extraording results of the Sherman act of 1830. The purpose of accomplishing this repeal and the other work was merely inclined.

The bill of next greatest importance to the "repeal bill, which has passed to thin buses of congress, is the bill extending the time in which Chinese labories can register under the Chinese act, known as the Geary law. Much interest also attached to the till providing for a bridge across the Illudson at Now York. The bill passed both leases.

Now for the Tariff.

Washington, Nov. 3.—There was a rumor flying about last night that a disposition had been manifested opposing any adjournment or recess in coning any adjournment or recess in continuous that it is not shought to extend to ber, when the tariff bill would probably-beready to report. The men charged with getting up a tariff bill are any jous to have it in the house at an early day and will trush it through with all possible speed. This has been known by the republicans, who know it has been the desire of their political capponents to have the sarriff bill per into effects as early as possible, we that they may go before the people and explain it. If it could be passed in time to go into effect the last of May, or not later than the last of June, congress may adjourn so that the democrats could at once go upon the stump, they would be able to overcome before election the dissatisfaction which must necessarily prevail after a change in the tariff policy. All these calculations may be upset by the senate, as that body will have to either take a recess or adjournment, whichever may be decided upon.

on deser hand entries. In committee amended the bill so as to extend the time for final payments for one year instead of three and to make it apply only to entry men who were unable to pay. As amended the bill wis passed. A resolution authorizing the committee on agriculture and forestry to continue, during recess, the investigation asto the state of agriculture, authorized by the resolutions of April 19, 1892, and March 3, 1803, was agreed to. The wording of the resolution continuing the investigation "during the recess," brought Mr. Hoar, republican, of Massachusetts, to his feet with a question as to, whether there was to be a continuous session of the senate until the first of December, or what would inuous session of the senate intil first of December, or what would one as soon as the repeal bill had disposed of. Gorman said it was, a matter of ion but probably there would be an urnment.

Mr. Gorman said it was a matter of opinion but probably there would be an adjournment.

Mr. Blackburn offered the following resolution, which was agreed to:
Resolved that the committee on rules be instructed to inquire and—report to the senate what revision of or amendments to the rules, if any, should be adopted, to seeme a more efficient and satisfactory disposition of the business of the senate.

Mr. Cockrell, from the joint commission to the conduct of business in the executive departments, reported fayorably the house bill relating to contracts for supplies, which provides for a beard to compare all bids received and to recommend their acceptance or rejection. The New York and New Jersey bridge was then taken—up on motion of Mr. Hill, and the remainder of the session was confined almost chitrely to debate on the measure, and at 415 the bill was passed without division.

Mr. Gary, democrat, of Delaware, moved that the house bill to amend the eat approved May 5, 1892, to profibit the coming of Chinese persons into the (Inited States, be Eiken up 'so that it would become unfinished business.

Mr. Davis, republican, of Minnesota, called for a division, which resulted: Teas, 24; nays, 6. Mr. Gray withdrew his motion, no quorum valider which into executive session, after which the adjourned.

WASHIGHTON, Nov. 2.9. Sliver purchases by the government ceased yesterday. The purpose for which Mr. Cleveland called congress in extra session was accomplished at 4:25 this afternoon, when he affixed his signature to the bill to repeal unconditionally the purchasing clause of the Sherman law. The struggle in the house was short. Only twenty-seven mon could be allied for the last stand by the sliver leaders, Messrs, Bland and Bryan. Mr. Bland and bis colleagues, knowing further opposition was fuffle, preferred to sacrifice the opportunity for a few hours debate offered by Mr. Wilson in order to force the majority to bring in cloture and concur in the senate amendment by duress. But ween in this they failed.

The seaate Back to Business.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The senate opened with prayer yesterday for the first time for a couple of weeks. The attendance of senators was not large and only a few people were seattered throughout the galleries.

Mr. Pugh, from the committee on judiciary, called up the bill calling for the time and place for holding circuit and district courts in South Dakotta. The committee reported certain amendments to the bill, and as anueded it was passed.

Mr. Walthall reported the senate bill was passed.

Mr. Walthall reported the senate and whereby on the platform and only the democratic platform. In these he saw the new clews wherein in the democratic platform and only the democratic platform and only the democratic platform and only the democratic platform.

of the eastern constant logether upon that platform and upon it would march to triumph. The advocates of silver were not discouraged. On the contrary, when the Sherman law was wined out, the sole issue would be made whether this country should go to the gold innonmetallism, which had practically bankrupted Europe, or re-establish the monetary system of the constitution. There high the a spasmodic revival of business now, but it could not last in this country stocks had already begun to tall, and if anything should rise on account of the Sherman law and the go-ing to a gold standard, it should be stocks, for the legislation had been in the interest of stock jobbing operations. (Applause)

Applianse.]
The old world was in distress, however, and American securities were sent itself to this country, not whithstanding the repeal of the Sherman law. The lips had been repealed in the interest of stock gamilling, and wheat and cotton, the products of the farmer, had been depressed by it.
When Mr. Bland finished he yielded to Mr. Bryan, who said: "We have been told our platform demanded the inconditional repeal of the Sherman law. No person-fins yet brought in a single word of any platform that the stantiated that statement. Gentlemen who are interested in this bill may follow the leadership of John Sherman and call it democratic, but so help me me God, until he is converted to the true principles of finance I shall never-follow him and call it democratic or lonest. The surf board is a plank of eld sond of the board is left square. A species of cloth is usually bound around his end, perhaps for the in support of the foot while swimming, or rather being projected like a canno ball by the waves.

A crowd of natives will swim out, towing their boards, diving under and keep balance with a dextrous a stroke of the foot on hand, or by more without mishap but the natives are such a water dogs, that the accidents rarely terminate fatally.

The Sandwich islander's skill, in swimning is the rosult of long practice. It would be a good thing if

In other parts of the world, sport loving people have invented various helps in swimming. The Labrador Eskimo makes small paddles which are held in the hand by swimmers, who, it is pressured, dig the water 'ndog fashion.' A bath in ice cold water 'mist be a great luxury to the Eskimo duying the brief but comparatively hot, summer.

The idea of using bladders is very old. Highelicul's 'Little wanton boys on bladders' is a familiar phrase. When I was a boy some one told me that the way to learn-to-swim was to tied a bladder to the back before venturing into the water.

No doubt the harness and straphave been used ever since people began to swim. The Druk mother, more caroful of her baby than the Polynesian mother, tosa band under his arms and provents its sinking by holding the ends while the child paddles about in great glee.

In long-distance swimming great feats have been performed. I doubt, however, if any modern Leander of the sporting world would care to undertake a twelve-inile swim as did an Eskine I call to mind who leaped from a ship, wild with desire to return to his native paradise of desolution.

Royal Baking Powder

Is the product of this knowledge and experience and the expenditure of many thousands of dollars in patents and appliances for its preparation. It is a compound of strictly pure grape cream of tartar and absolutely pure soda, combined with exactness and care by famous chemists, and it will produce more wholesome and delicate bread, biscuit, cake, rolls, etc., than can be had where this modern agent of cooking is not used.

Beware of the cheap compounds called baking powders to catch the unwary. They are made with alum and are poisonous.

Mr. Gladstone, replying to a question from John Redmond as to whether, in view of the widespread anxiety in Ireland, the government would not reconsider its decision, not to introduce a tonant rolief bill during the present session and as to whether it would not deal with the whole question this year fully and effectively, said it would propose a renewal of clause 12 of the land, act of 1881, and that the government felt it to be its duty to confine the business of the present sitting to the Parish council bills and the employers liability bill, as well as the final disposition of bills passed during the earlier portions of the session. The government, Mr. Gladstone added, proposed to preserve the power of taking up any noncontentious bills if there was a pressing necessity.
