

Goshorn & McNeal, Publishers.

REPUBLICAN LEADING AND OFFICIAL PAPER OF WAYNE AND WAYNE COUNTY - REPUBLICAN.

Subscription $1.50 in Advance.

Here You Are.

The Semi-weekly State Journal and the Herald from now to January 1st 1895 for the small sum of 50 cents. The State Journal is one of the best papers in the west.

T. B. Heckert, Dentist. For Dress Goods see J. Singer & Co. Julius Caesar at the opera house tonight.

Have you seen that security Dust pan at D. E. Smith & Co?

The County Commissioners meet in adjourned session next Saturday.

J. Singer & Co. are always busy and their special low prices cause it.

A few of the lovers of terpsichore will enjoy a party at the Mellor hall Saturday evening.

A piece of sheet music given away at R. W. Wilkins & Co's with every dollar cash purchase.

A young druggist arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil H. Kohl yesterday and no father was ever prouder of his son than Phil is of his boy.

The Herald acknowledges a complimentary ticket of admission to the Pierce county fair to be held at Pierce September 20, 21 and 22nd 1894.

Clouds hung in the sky all afternoon Friday and at times a gentle sprinkle fell and it looked as if a heavy rain was forthcoming, but it did not come.

Henry Volkmann caught his elbow in the cog of a threshing machine Tuesday and lacerated his arm in a serious manner. Dr. Leisenring dressed the wound.

A host of friends were entertained by Ruth Brossler Monday evening from five o'clock to eight-thirty and the little folk enjoyed themselves as only children can.

The meeting of the Gild has been postponed, owing to the hot weather, until the first Thursday in September; when the meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. Coons.

A number of the young people of Wayne held a picnic at the La Porte Grove Friday afternoon. They were met by a delegation from Wakefield and together the picnickers had a "hay old time."

The teachers institute is over and some of the teachers are not sorry. Many of them will soon begin teaching in schools to which they have been elected and the Herald trusts that one and all will have a successful school year.

"Panny" knew Mr. Ferguson wasn't going to speak in Mellor's hall before he made the statement in the Democrat to that effect, and he should "fess" up after he "gets his foot in it." Mr. Ferguson is able to distinguish the truth from ridicule, and is not "damphool" enough to swallow the Democrats' row.

Mrs. E. Weber gave a surprise party on her husband last evening, the event being the celebration of their eleventh wedding anniversary. About sixty guests were present and the evening was very pleasantly spent in playing cards. Excellent refreshments were served and the host and hostess received renewed congratulations.

The Ella June Meade and Lu B. Cake entertainment given at the opera house Saturday evening under the auspices of the Teachers Institute proved a pleasing conclusion to the two weeks of institute work. The entertainment was all that it is claimed and the audience were more than pleased with the excellent work of these renowned entertainers.

Last Friday evening about eight o'clock the hostess holding one of the large lamps in the dining room of the Boyd Hotel came out and the lamp fell to the table and turning over set fire to the table cloth. An alarm of fire was immediately turned in but the flames were extinguished before the department arrived. Very little damage resulted.

J. SINGER & CO.
Do you need a trunk? See what a nice line we have, D. E. Smith & Co.

Another fine rain fell last night and the ground is now full of moisture.

Mail service will be established at Magnet, on the Randolph and Bloomfield branch to-day.

Richard Wintermoyer and Augusta Ayres, of Cedar county were married by Judge Martin Monday.

Purchase for cash one dollar worth of goods at R. W. Wilkins & Co's, and get a piece of sheet music free.

The college boys and a picked-nine of this city played a game of ball at the fair grounds, Saturday the score standing 18 to 16 in favor of the former.

J. SINGER & CO.
It is not our few leaders we try to save you money on, but all our dry goods and shoes must go as we need room for our fall stock. J. Singer & Co.

The three months old child of P. J. Hokinsan of this city died Saturday and was buried Sunday. The funeral services were held at the Lutheran church.

The Herald has become possessor of a card of admission to the State Fair and Exposition to be held at Lincoln September 7th to 16th inclusive, for which the Secretary has our thanks.

The old timers and the regulars played a game of ball yesterday afternoon at the fair grounds, score 11 to 18. If the editor of this institution could play a "lick on earth" the result would have been—different anyhow.

E. D. Mitchell returned from New York state Thursday morning. In speaking of the crops there Mr. Mitchell informs us they are the best people in the vicinity where he has been visiting, have had for many years.

The last entertainment of summer will be at the Baptist church on August 24th. E. Bean King and Dorra Howard Carroll will furnish a first-class article of American humor for the occasion. Admission 25 and 15 cents. Reserved seats at T. Collinson's.

J. Singer & Co.
Bon Fuller entertained a host of his little friends Saturday evening. According to reports from those present Ben is a master in the art of entertaining, and from five to nine o'clock it was a continual round of pleasure for the little people.

The "kids" of Wayne and Wakefield engaged in a game of ball at the latter place Saturday and when the Wayne youngsters got through with the Wakefield lads the indicator showed a score of 23 to 7 in favor of the little fellows of this city.

Miss Cora Nissen, artist, of Omaha, will be in Wayne the latter part of this month. She will enlarge photographs in crayons and oils and do scenery painting. She will also teach painting and crayon work. She comes highly recommended.

It is rumored that an insurance agent by the name of Campbell, insured a few of the farmers northwest of Wayne about 3 months ago; took notes made payable to himself and the insured failed to receive their policies. If this is true there will probably be trouble in camp for the said agent.

J. SINGER & CO.
H. M. Henry lost 75 tons of hay by fire Saturday evening on his land one mile east of this city. How the fire originated is unknown but it might have been the result of the carelessness of a cigarette smoker. Mr. Henry said he had been offered $8.00 per ton for it therefore his loss is about $600.

The residence of A. L. Tucker of this city is the scene of a happy family reunion and four brothers who have not been together for years are visiting with each other. They are: D. Tucker, of La Crosse, Wisconsin, H. Tucker, of Buffalo, New York, Able Tucker, of Randolph, and our fellow townsman, A. L.

The publisher of the Herald heard one of our prominent citizens who rents a number of farms in Wayne county, say the other day that he proposed to share with his renters any loss of crops they sustained on account of the weather. This certainly shows a spirit of fairness, and yet this same man has been charged with being selfish, a money shark, etc.

J. Singer & Co.
The Methodist camp meeting at Norfolk is said to be a success beyond all expectations. Quite a number from Wayne have been in attendance. The Norfolk News in speaking of the ministers present says: "If you want to see a preacher who is loved by his people, who delights to preach, who gets happy driving a fast horse and shouts when he shoots a prairie chicken, look at Rev. Millard."

COMMENCEMENT.

Of the Nebraska Normal College—An Able Address by Rev. C. H. Strickland

The commencement week program of the Nebraska Normal College was begun Sunday morning at the opera house. The baccalaureate sermon was preached by Rev. C. H. Strickland, of Sioux City, and was one the most able addresses ever heard in the city. The large audience and college students present speak of it in the highest terms.

The entertainment given by the Scientific class Monday evening can be termed a success in every way. A fair sized audience was in attendance in spite of the lowering weather and the members of the class, L. M. Powers and Dorra H. Carroll, acquitted themselves in a creditable manner. A lack of space will not permit of an extended write up of the entertainment.

The department of Elocution and Expression Tuesday evening was greeted by a crowded house. The music was an excellent part of the program and it is a delight to hear Misses Maude Britton, Maude Tucker, Stella Vincent and Clara Phillee and Prof. Ezerman sing. The orations and recitations of Miss Cora Simmons and Mr. McClusky were very good, about the only fault being the continuous gestures. The Indian club swinging by John McClusky is clever and indicates that he is quite an adept in the art. Prof. Ball delivered an address to the class after which the diplomas were presented by President Pile.

The exercises given by the Conservatory department last evening was perhaps the most interesting entertainment of commencement week and the large audience was an appreciative one. The first number on the programme, "Hail, Bright Abode" a march and chorus from Tannhauser, presented by Misses Britton, Armstrong, Benson and Corbit, assisted by a large chorus was almost perfect and was a treat to lovers of music, as was also the piano variations by Prof. Ezerman and Maude Britton. Too much cannot be said of the excellent singing of Miss Estella Vincent, who has made remarkable advancement during the two years at the college. Her voice is beautiful and powerful and under perfect control and during the rendition of Judith, Miss Vincent fairly won the medal presented to her immediately thereafter by President J. M. Pile. The Cantata, "Miriam's Song of Triumph" was a most pleasing part of the program and so interested was the audience in the chorus that the people did not begin to leave the hall until the students started off the stage. The College is to be congratulated in that it has so able a musical instructor as Prof. Ezerman.

We take orders for tailor-made clothing, D. E. Smith & Co.

Mr. F. G. Theobald will give an "Olde Tyme Ballad" at the B. Y. P. U. entertainment a week from tomorrow, and it is one of the best things he ever sang.

Deck Pittinger of Albion, arrived this morning with two car loads of stock hogs from Boone county. Mr. Pittinger says they have no crops in that county and thinks that Wayne county is in the best shape of any county either in Kansas or Nebraska.

The B. Y. P. U. are arranging one of the nicest entertainments which have been presented to the people of Wayne this summer. Songs by the male quartet and lady quartet, recitations by some of the elocutionary talent of the society, and one of the oddest conceits yet given to the people of Wayne will be seen and heard on Friday evening, August 24th. Admission 25 and 15 cents. Reserved seats without extra charge at T. Collinson's.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—(Special to the Herald.)—Receipts of cattle to day 18,000, 3,000 of which are westerns. The run was somewhat lighter than expected and prices on good cattle are steady and strong. Choice heavy grades of beefs are coming sparingly and selling well, heavy graded in demand and common grades not wanted. Thin cattle of all grades are slow sale at very low prices. The western rangers are selling strong under light receipts. Prospects for this class of cattle are very good and if the conditions do not change prices will be no lower. We sold some Texas westerns today, averaging 1130 pounds at $3.55. The present outlook is gloomy for feeders this year and for this reason many half fat cattle are being forced on the market. As for hogs, buyers have taken all the hogs that are ripe for the market at steadily advancing prices, and under the heavy receipts of day, 38,000, are strong and higher. "Fat-backs" in demand and "half-fat" not wanted at a wide difference in prices from the good ones. Sheep and lambs steady.

STANDARD LIVE STOCK COM. CO.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

The republican county convention was held at the town hall in Wayne Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and was called to order by A. A. Welch, chairman of the county central committee.

After reading the call a temporary organization was effected by the election of F. M. Northrop as chairman and Geo. Harrigfeld, of Hoskins, as secretary.

On motion the following committee on credentials was appointed: Bert Brown, of Strahan precinct; J. J. W. Fox, of Hunter; and A. H. Carter, of Winside.

While the committee were preparing their report the republican county central committee was chosen as follows:

- Brenna precinct—W. H. Brown.
- Deer Creek—J. R. Manning.
- Hancock—H. Wittler.
- Hunter—D. Cunningham.
- Chapin—W. E. Reed.
- Gardfield—E. C. Brooks.
- Hoskins—Geo. Harrigfeld.
- Logan—E. E. Driskell.
- Plum Creek—Chas. Gildersleeve.
- Leslie—J. E. Wilson.
- Sherman—J. W. Jones.
- Strahan—B. Cunningham.
- Wilbur—A. M. Jacobs.
- Wayne, 1st Ward—J. P. Gaertner.
- 2nd Ward—J. J. Coons.
- 3rd Ward—E. Cunningham.

The committee on credentials then submitted the following report which was adopted:

- Wayne, 1st Ward—W. H. McNeal, P. Mears, Robt. Osborn and E. Hunter.
- Second Ward—J. J. Coons, A. J. Tracy, J. S. French and I. W. Alter.
- Third Ward—F. M. Northrop, J. T. Bressler, E. Cunningham and Nelson Grimley.
- Deer Creek—J. R. Manning, R. D. Merrill and Geo. Harrigfeld.
- Hoskins—Geo. Hoffeld, L. Ziemer, and Ernest Behmer.
- Wilbur—A. Grier and C. Schulties.
- Sherman—M. S. Moat and J. S. Jones.
- Winside—A. H. Carter and J. Elliott.

On motion the republicans present from the following precincts were empowered to vote in the convention:

- Hunter—D. Cunningham, W. P. Sears, Jim Fox and B. Mossman.
- Chapin—Mr. Lower and C. C. Lewis.
- Gardfield—Wm. Kelley and J. Francis.
- Strahan—B. Cunningham, B. Brown and C. C. Brown.
- Leslie, Logan and Plum Creek were not represented.

The following committee was appointed by the chair to present to the convention a list of delegates to the different conventions: A. J. Tracy, J. R. Manning, E. Cunningham, A. H. Carter and B. Cunningham.

Delegates were elected as follows as per report of committee:

- State convention—J. R. Manning, W. H. McNeal, J. O. Woolston, P. M. Northrop, B. Cunningham, D. Cunningham, R. C. Osborn and Wm. Sears.
- Congressional—A. H. Carter, A. A. Welch, J. T. Bressler, Geo. Harrigfeld, John Francis, J. A. Jones, A. J. Tracy and D. D. Merrill.

Senatorial—E. Cunningham, R. B. Crawford, Dorra Carroll, Perrin Long, Wm. Kelly, Chas. Schulties, Bert Brown and Mark Jeffrey.

Representative—Frank Fuller, T. S. Goss, L. J. Coons, L. W. Alter, J. J. W. Fox, John Donner, A. B. Jeffrey and Joel Hancock.

The convention then proceeded to nominate a candidate for county attorney. The ballot resulted in A. A. Welch receiving 33 votes and Frank Fuller 6. A motion that the nomination of Mr. Welch be made unanimous carried.

It was decided that the delegation be empowered to fill any vacancies in numbers.

On motion the delegates were empowered to empower members of the different delegations present at the republican conventions to cast the full vote to which Wayne county is entitled.

Frank Fuller was elected chairman and R. C. Osborn secretary of the republican county central committee for the ensuing year, and the convention then adjourned.

Immediately at the close of the county convention the delegates from the first and third wards of Wayne, Wilbur, Strahan and Brenna precincts, assembled in convention for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for commissioner from the third commissioners district.

Frank Northrop was elected chairman and E. Cunningham secretary. T. S. Goss, Wm. Frazier and C. C. Brown were placed in nomination the ballot resulting, Goss 8, Brown 4, and Frazier 3. The nomination of Mr. Goss was made unanimous and the convention then adjourned.

FOR RENT—The Alex Holz brick house in east part of city. Inquire of J. C. Ludeke.

PERSONAL.

Ed. Smith was in Ponca on business Monday.

I. J. Coons went to Pierce yesterday morning.

J. H. O'Hara transacted business in Wausa Tuesday.

Otto and Alex Holz came down from Hartington yesterday.

Fred Phillee was a passenger for Omaha Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Sneath went to Norfolk Saturday to attend the M. E. camp meeting.

Messrs King, Mitchell and Phillee went up the Branch Tuesday morning.

Mr. Richard of Omaha, was transacting business in Wayne Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. C. Ludden, of Wausa, was the guest of Mrs. J. J. Diltz over night Monday.

Mrs. Fink, of Bloomfield, has been visiting the past few days with Mrs. J. D. King.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beebe visited Mr. Beebe's parents near Stanton Friday and Saturday.

B. Cunningham went to Norfolk Monday morning to attend the M. E. camp meeting.

Miss Neely, who has been the guest of Mrs. Tower for some time returned to Bellwood Monday.

Henry Kloppe went to Caloway Monday morning where he expects to purchase a lot of hogs.

Frank Blomquist of Gothenburg, has been engaged by Dorra Carroll to assist him on the Winside Watchman.

James Rickter of Washington county, is visiting this week with the families of C. W. Shutt and George L. Cook.

Mrs. McKee who has been visiting for some time with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. D. King returned to Iowa Monday afternoon.

J. G. Mines left yesterday for New York and Philadelphia and will be absent for some time. He will purchase new goods before returning.

Mrs. Susie Harris, of Fort Scott, Kansas, arrived Thursday evening, and is visiting with her brother and sister, Mr. S. Davies and Mrs. Welch.

Miss Whiteley and Dr. Cruthers, of South Omaha, and Miss Kidd, of Beatrice, who have been the guests of Miss Maude Tucker for some time, returned to their homes Monday.

J. G. Morrison, of Lincoln, was looking after land interests in Wayne county the first of the week. He informs us that the crops here are better than he has seen anywhere else.

Mr. and Mrs. Moran and children went to Dakota City Saturday evening to visit over Sunday and camp out at Crystal Lake in company with Mr. and Mrs. John Coyle and others.

READ THE FOLLOWING POINTERS

From Wayne's Enterprising Merchants, if You Desire to Keep Posted.

All kinds of canned goods at W. E. Brookings.

Dress Goods for sale at D. E. Smith & Co.

Before buying elsewhere call on J. Singer & Co.

Call and see the Crocoos Boudoir slippers for Ladies at D. E. Smith & Co.

J. SINGER & CO.

W. E. Brookings carries groceries of every description, and his prices are in accordance with the times.

I have a few fine Jersey heifers for sale. They have been bred and will come in the spring. S. M. Cutler.

J. Singer & Co.

We will give away with every dollar cash purchase an excellent piece of sheet music valued at from 25 to 50 cents, at R. W. Wilkins & Co's.

Look at the following prices and conclude to wear tailor made clothes: Suits made to order at $18.00, $20.00, $22.50, $25.00 and upward. Pants made to order at $4.50, $5.00, $6.00 and upward. Holtz, the tailor, 1st door west of State Bank.

Ice Cream Parlor.

You are respectfully invited to the Ice Cream Parlor of August Piepenstock where you can procure delicious ice cream, lemonade and other summer drinks.

NOTICE!

During the month of August I will make cabinet photographs for $8.00 per dozen. All work guaranteed. C. M. CRAVEN.

IRRIGATED LANDS.

In the San Louis Valley, Colorado, Lands cheap, water abundant, fine climate, no uncertainty as to crops. Why not take a cheap trip to that Wonderland? R. R. fare credited on purchase price of land. One more excursion in August! Inquire about it of A. J. Ferguson & Co.

ORN has been the principal topic of conversation for several days, therefore, a Herald reporter has interviewed a large number of farmers since Monday and in nearly every instance they have reported that corn crop would average from 12 to 20 bushels and some as high as 35 bushels per acre. Judging from all reports and information that we have been able to obtain, we can safely say that on the whole there will be fully one third of a corn crop in Wayne county. There are numerous fields where very little if any corn will be raised and these should be cut and shocked for fodder. If it is done there is no doubt a great deal of stock will be wintered and the fodder be in enough demand to insure a fair price. The rains of Sunday Monday and yesterday have been of great value and the hay crop will be much better than expected. The Herald ventures the assertion that the entire crop in Wayne county will equal more than equal in value the crop of last year. If the rains continue and nothing else unlooked for happens it is probable there will be more than one third of a corn crop. In making the last assertion we base it on our own observation and the observation of a number of the citizens of Wayne who have been out through the county during the week.

J. Singer & Co.

NORMAL COLLEGE NOTES.

Miss Berry came down from Carroll this morning. Mr. Steckleburg and Howard Grant came up from Madison Wednesday to attend the drama, Caesar.

Prof. Ellis left the first of the week for a few weeks' visit with relatives in Oklahoma previous to going to Wyoming.

The graduates of the business department of the College will receive their diplomas in chapel hall Friday morning.

Everybody should come out and hear the drama, Caesar tonight. This arrangement of the College has worked hard to make the play successful.

The entertainment given under the auspices of the teachers institute Saturday evening was very well attended, and was as represented, first class in every respect.

Owing to the threatened rain the Scientific class did not have as full a house as was expected, but honors were equally divided between the two members, both doing well.

About three hundred students were in line Sunday morning which was not nearly all, and marched to opera house where they listened to one of the best if not the best sermon they had ever heard.

This will be the last Normal Notes that we shall write for this school year and we thank all who have aided us in gathering news and hope that whoever fills our place next term will receive as kind treatment.

That there is a demand for students of the Nebraska Normal College is proven from the number of positions they have obtained as teachers. Politics also claim their attention, two of our students being chosen as delegates to the republican senatorial convention.

The alumni of the college held their annual meeting Wednesday afternoon, when the following officers were elected: President, H. E. Mason; vice president, Lloyd Cunningham; recording secretary, Grace Nelhart; corresponding secretary, E. Jennie Mettlen; treasurer, Dorra Carroll. The class of '92 and '93 will give a banquet at the Boyd hotel Friday evening in honor of the class of '94.

HAY FEVER SUFFERERS—

Do you know that The Greatest Hay Fever Resort In the West is Bayfield, Wis. On the Southern Shore of Lake Superior?

And that the best way to reach this resort is via "The North-Western Line" C. St. P. M. & O. R. Ry?

For excursion rates to Lake Superior cities and via steamer lines for short trips to Port Arthur and around Isle Royale "The Gem Isle of the Great Unsalted Sea" Apply to your local agent.

J. Singer & Co.

You Can't do Better!

We will take wheat, oats and corn at highest prices on book accounts, notes or in trade. PAULDO & SON.

CASE OF MOA BARRIOS

A Spaniard's American Story. Written for This Paper by Phillip Braggalan.

(Copyright)

CHAPTER I.

I am a Spaniard on a four around the world. During the twenty years of my life I have traveled aimlessly, or at least with no other purpose than to find pleasure in new and shifting sights. Long ago I exhausted the novelties of the big cities of all lands, and then I took to stopping in my journeys whenever and wherever the whim seized me. That is the reason why I came upon and participated in the events which I have set my pen to writing out.

In New York I read a newspaper paragraph about the building of a cathedral in Montreal after the model of a cathedral in Madrid, and within a few hours I started toward the Canadian city. There were a few Spaniards in Montreal, but I was not one of them. I had chosen to take a slower and less usual journey midway between the better and swifter lines. I had traveled two or three connecting railroads, and had spent eight or nine hours in going 100 miles, when a sign-board fixed my Spanish eyes interestedly. I am so much of a cosmopolitan that three or four languages are quite as apt to my utterance and my vision as my native one. Yet, when I saw "Olla Podrida" lettered on the front of a small house near the station at Hoosac I was positively thrilled by the name of Spain's national dish in rural New York, and I had to decide to visit the premises.

The restaurant had not prosperously introduced the olla podrida to Americans, for the establishment was a crude, cheap eating place, although neat enough. But Moa Barrios was there, and after a visitor got sight of her the rest of the things in the house were not much considered. I saw instantly that Spanish blood coursed through her veins, she was tall, nobly formed and beautiful. Her foot crossed the earth when she trod, one might have poured water under the arch of her instep. Her hands were small, though hardened with work. The chestnut curls with the golden tints, the chestnut curls with the sunbeams they impressed the pearly teeth, the dark eyes, were all of a piece in their loveliness. But the features were so striking, and the level brows had lost their childish curves, and her voice was deep and full, like that of a born queen. Her blue blooded her lithic figure like an embrace. Folds of white linen inclosed her softly heaving bosom.

"What was Moa Barrios? Merely a girl of twenty-two, who helped the waiter?" I asked. "No, she is a Spaniard, and she has the olla podrida in her name," she said. "I am Spanish only in name and parentage," she said to me when I asked questions about herself. "My father and mother came from Spain, but I was born in this country and was left an orphan in childhood. I don't know how many hundred words in my mother's language."

"Olla podrida," she said, "is a Spanish word, and it means 'rotten' or 'spoiled'." "And do you know how to cook the olla podrida?" "Yes."

"You! for we used to eat it when my mother was alive, and I remembered how to make it after a fashion. When I came to work here, a cheap and palatable specialty was desired, and I prepared it for the first time. It was only a Spanish princess of my description who only a maid could do."

"Olla podrida," she said, "is a Spanish word, and it means 'rotten' or 'spoiled'." "And do you know how to cook the olla podrida?" "Yes."

"You! for we used to eat it when my mother was alive, and I remembered how to make it after a fashion. When I came to work here, a cheap and palatable specialty was desired, and I prepared it for the first time. It was only a Spanish princess of my description who only a maid could do."

"Olla podrida," she said, "is a Spanish word, and it means 'rotten' or 'spoiled'." "And do you know how to cook the olla podrida?" "Yes."

produced a slight variation of what you Americans call chicken stew.

"No, I answered, whimsically determined to taste the Spanish dish once more in its best formation. 'Let us get up the genuine thing. I will help you.' 'All right,' she responded, 'if Albert and Mamma Dowers will assist.' Albert Dowers was there at that instant to reply for himself. He was a big, broad young man, heated and tired from a day of haymaking, but good-looking and amiable. He entered into the project with spirit, despite his fatigue. But when I insisted that the olla podrida should be of an elaborately correct description, requiring several hours to manufacture, it was decided to time it late in the evening, and ask a few of the young couple's friends to keep their appetite for it."

"We had a merry time at the table. Upon Moa's crude formula I superimposed the extras to form a dish really fit for Spanish commendation. Albert went willingly here and there after such ingredients as the house did not already contain, and even his mother released considerable of her grumpiness as she helped a little, and Mamma Dowers handed more than ever in the mild excitement of mingling labor and playtime. The reader who is also a housewife may care to know that we first stewed some lean beef and peas together; that simultaneously we boiled a fowl along with a little ham, smoked sausages and vegetables; that there was a seasoning to the highest degree, and that most American palates might like, with saffron, parsley, and bay leaves; and that finally, after mixing all these materials, some hard-boiled eggs, artichokes, giblets, and other things were added. All this produced a finer olla podrida than the little restaurant at Hoosac had ever before seen, and such as wealthy Spaniards in their own country are accustomed to eat. It was 10 o'clock in the evening before the dozen invited guests were seated at the table, and the lateness of the meal insured voracious appetites. We served the result of our cookery in a more formal fashion, too, than the tavern had been accustomed to. There was a dinner of several courses, beginning with a soup dipped from the gravy of the olla, strained from the meats and poured boiling hot over slices of toast. After this the beef was served with the peas. Then followed the fowl and other vegetables. It was an unaccustomed feast for the company, and they enjoyed it very genuinely and heartily. The occasion proved more amusing to me than anything else I had encountered in my travels for a long while."

It was observed that Moa, although she entered into the spirit of the affair, was not all the time engrossed in it. I watched her closely, impelled by admiration, and discerned that she had spells of serious thoughts or recurring melancholy quite out of harmony with the general jollity. That led me to be attentive to her, not with any idea of gallantry, but merely because she interested me. She had on a white which accompanied the meal up to which mouthful was cider, and the juice of the apple was old enough to have developed a fair percentage of alcohol, so that the drinkers felt its exhilaration; but as a climax I insisted upon brandy, which, as I explained, would take the place of the native Spanish liquor usually supplied for digestion's sake after a heavy olla podrida. The men followed my direction readily, but the women were reluctant, and in the case of Moa I pointed a spoonful or so into her glass and closely insisted that she should take it. She banteringly declined and then seriously repulsed me.

"I will not have it, and let that satisfy you," she said, in a low but emphatic voice.

"No, she shall not drink it," Albert added, in a savage whisper. The demeanor of the young couple was such a sudden alteration from their previous exuberance that my face expressed, although my tongue did not utter, surprise and curiosity. Albert saw this at once, and said apologetically:

"I beg your pardon, but to see Moa drink from a glass filled for her by a stranger would be something I could not stand. No—I am not jealous of you. That isn't it at all. My reason is good, though, and to-morrow I will tell it to you. Don't let us say any more about it to-night—or think about it—for that would do to spoil Moa's good humor, and mine too."

The supper was already over, and with much merriment and satisfaction the party dispersed.

CHAPTER II.

ALBERT DAWERS'S STORY.

Next day Albert Dowers kept his promise to tell me the story of himself and Moa. I am not a stenographer, and at the time there seemed no occasion for an exact record; but subsequent events fixed the narrative in my memory, and I shall not be important by inaccurate in his language, although the dialect may be less his than my own. But we will regard the rest of this chapter, if the reader pleases, as being essentially Albert's own language.

Moa and I were brought up together here in Hoosac. You see what a handsome woman she has grown to be. That is only the maturity of a beauty that marked her from her earliest years. Her folks died and left her alone, but my father was then alive, and he and my mother took her into our family. Well, we called each other brother and sister at first; then cousin, and finally she got to know that I was her lover, although we never spoke up this little matter until the patch of a farm. Moa is Spanish, you know, and matter if she never saw Spain, and from her mother she learned a lot of Spanish legends. One of these she often told. It was that of a Princess who was an evil sorceress, and by her arts won the love of a pure young priest, and never rested till she had secured him within her marrying net, although he had solemnly vowed himself to celibacy. In despair he cast himself from the high rocks at the fall of the tide and was drowned. And she, riding alone upon the Spanish battle-axe, from the boat being sunk, jumped and landing from her saddle, plucked off her silken slipper and smote the dead face upon either cheek, with mocking words. And here came a wonder. For the dead had raised itself and caught her by the wrist, dragged her from her trembling steed and held her in a grip that never relaxed until, in the very jaws of the smoldering hell, she had waded her wicked life out with its sharp, salt kisses. But the steed galloped home, and they tracked its hoof marks to the shore next day at the ebb of the tide. And there they found her. But the dead hand kept its hold—until the holy prior of the monastery sprinkled with holy water and conjured in the Holy Name. Then he buried her fingers open. And so they buried the monk on the wild seashore, so that the seabirds might scream above him forever, and the roar of the ocean be in his ears till the judgment day. But the body of the Witten Princess they burned with pitch faggots, and the dust of her was scattered to the four winds of heaven.

Well, it was autumn five years ago. The corn was all out, the apples had been gathered indoors, and the people were free to take a rest from their work. We live within five miles of New England, you know, and husking peas are still held here. We had one in the barn over there. It was a jolly, fat fellow, and he was the only one. She looked like an actress in the story of the Witch Princess and her monkish lover; and as she ended, and the voices of those who had listened were loud in praise, I lifted my eyes from her, and saw that a stranger had joined our party. He was tall, slowly dressed, after the fashion of the hunting and the hawk. He joined in the applause and loudly, as if he wished to attract Moa's notice, but she never looked at him. We ate our roasted apples, and drank the hot cider to each other's health, and danced on the floor of the old barn in the light of candles.

Next day the stranger came to this house. He was a rich man, so they said, and well known in New York. He took up his abode in our house, for the sake of the hunting and the hawk. He slept in the spare room you are now using, and ate and drank of the best that we could give. He told us his name, or the name by which it was his whim to be known among us, Henry Mercer. A curse upon his name! A curse upon the day when he brought his face into our house!

November came, the skies were gray, and the last popovers of the year hung withered among the barley stubbles. It was on Thanksgiving eve when I first spoke love to Moa. We were in the kitchen together where the brown onions hung in ropes from the smoke-stained beams of the ceiling, and the old marriage plates of my father's family hung on the wall. The fire burned low on the wide hearth, a great tree stood by the side of it, and he rolled up on the beach for fuel. It was cracked by the sun and I grove, instead of using the hatchet, to widen a long split with my fingers and wrench a piece away. She mocked me and said I could not do it. Her eyes gleamed at me in the firelight provokingly, and the power of her womanhood struck me like a bolt. I seized the great rock by the jagged horns of the fire, and I said, 'I will kill the man who has ruined my life.' She looked at me, stopped across to look at her roughly round the waist, and kissed her till she kissed me back again, and vowed before God to be my faithful wife. Then I sought my mother and told her the news.

"You are my son, and the house and farm are yours," she said. "And Moa has grown up in the house, it is not to be denied. The good God give you a true wife in her. She shook her head and said, 'I will never give up the thread. I went out vexed, but so forgot my grievance in the light of Moa's smiles.'

Henry Mercer heard the news next day. It had gone round the village. He smiled and said that I was a likely fellow to have gone so quietly about securing the handsomest girl in Hoosac. He said, too, that he grieved that he should not be able to witness our marriage and salute the bride, as he had done in the case of my mother's return to New York. The evening came—the last he was to spend among us—and he ate and drank with us and took a healthy to our betrothal. This isn't much of an inn, and it hasn't a wine cellar, but he brought a bottle of Madeira from the village. The glasses were few, and the shared Moa drank from the touch of her lips, he whispered in her ear. I heard him, and passed it over as an idle compliment, though I saw the red color burn across her cheeks and throat. An instant only, and it was gone. But she took the glass and drank to him, and he to her. And then, as if by magic, he joined us. And last of all, nothing would do but Moa must tell the story of the Witch Princess. He had always praised her elocution whenever she had recited anything, and told her that she had the making of a fine actress.

Next morning he left us. He had bought the old discarded spinning wheel in the garage, and my mother rejoiced in a joyful father coin. He had given me his microscope pipe with the silver setting. Everybody had a gift but Moa. I was secretly vexed that she should be neglected so. Christmas was not far off. I had to go to Peterborough to buy extra provisions for the holidays, and I made up my mind to purchase something by way of a gift for my girl. Night had fallen when I returned to the house, and the door stood open; but there was no cheery firelight to welcome me. The table was bare. There were no preparations for supper. Beside the black hearth my mother sat with her head bent upon her knees. A roughly scrawled letter lay beside her. I stooped and picked it up. She motioned me to read it. We both learned the contents of the letter. It was from Mercer, Moa was a traitress to her betrothal. Mercer had lured her away—she was only too ready to believe his fulsome praises—to trust his lying promises. She had it in her to become a great actress, he had told her—a woman who should rule the world ere long by the combined power of her beauty and her genius. She promised to make all our money and by 'Satan's badge' she would look after for us. She had raised her. She—'I folded the letter, and raised my mother up, blinding her weep no more.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

SHALL WE LOSE IT?

THE DEMOCRATIC POLICY OF DESTRUCTION EXPOSED.

They Want to Throw Away Eleven Billion Dollars and Take Chances of Dividing Seven Billions—The Markets of the World Compared with Our Own.

Vote for Protection.

The renewal of the free-trade party's destructive free raw material war cry against American industries natural y calls to mind their old theory of the markets of the world, and how great a gain it will be if we can only secure them. Let us look into it.

The total manufactures of the United States in 1890, according to the last census returns, amounted in value to $9,054,435,337, of which we exported to the value of $15,102,376, leaving $8,939,332,961 worth of American manufactured goods consumed at home, as follows:

AMERICAN MANUFACTURES.
Total United States manufactures.	$9,054,435,337
Total exported 1890.	15,102,376
Total home consumption, 1890.	$8,939,332,961

In the same way we must deal with our farm products, the total value of which during 1890, consumed in 1890, was $2,460,107,454. We exported to the extent of $532,141,490, leaving American farm products worth $1,927,965,964 consumed by Americans. Thus:

Under Republican Rule.

Will you be kind enough to state the amount of money in the National Treasury on March 4, 1899, and at the same date four years later? Charles E. Van Dusen.

We have not at hand the figures asked for on March 4, but give those at the end of each fiscal year June 30, 1899 and 1892, as supplied in the Statistical Abstract of the United States, published by the Treasury Department, as follows:

CASH IN TREASURY.
June 30, 1899.	$67,119,172.01
1892.	661,368,854.39
1891.	624,068,839.83
1890.	746,937,681.03

Increase in four years.

1899-92.	$108,849,699.01
----------	------------------

It will be seen that within four years the cash in the Treasury increased by $108,849,699. In this connection it is interesting to compare the amount of the national debt, less cash in the Treasury, and also the per capita debt, as supplied by the same official authority. Thus:

DEBT LESS CASH IN TREASURY.
June 30, 1899.	$975,932,700.22
1892.	890,784,370.53
1891.	851,912,741.78
1890.	811,928,465.60
Decrease four years.	1899-92.	234,418,286.92	3.05

Here it is seen that during the four years ending June 30, 1892, the national debt less cash in the Treasury de-his honor in this—that having pledged the country in favor of tariff reform, these pledges should be redeemed.

3. The country is not considered in the concessions—simply the "pledges" of a democratic leader to his partisans.

4. Senator Gorman, speaking from his own knowledge, and summoning other Senators as willing witnesses, avers that the tariff bill denounced by Mr. Cleveland as "perfidy" had been submitted to the President and approved.

5. While the President, in deference to a recently developed New York public opinion, "deprecates" the income tax, it is shown that he had suggested such a tax in a public message.

6. The President's demand for free coal is declared by his political friends to be in the interest of a Nova Scotia coal syndicate owned by personal friends. The direct result of free coal will be the destruction of one of the most important industries of Pennsylvania, to enrich the syndicate.

7. It appears that before Mr. Cleveland was nominated he was stood up by two Louisiana Senators—the late Randall Gibson and the present Justice White—and compelled to promise "protection to sugar."

8. The outcome is that every poor man in the United States must pay from 2 to 3 cents a pound extra for sugar to enable a few planters in the tropical sections of Louisiana to compete with the West India Islands and Brazil.

9. The sugar trust, a concern largely

DOT LEEDLE TARIFF BAND OF GROVER'S.—N. Y. Recorder.

creased by $134,418,286.92, or at the rate of $4.05 per head of our population. This showing is slightly different from that made during the first year of the present administration, which added almost $75,000,000 to the national debt. It is of further interest to study the amount of interest paid on the national debt within the same period, which it will be seen decreased by $7,623,368, or at the rate of $0.19 per capita.

AMERICAN FARM PRODUCTS.

Total farm products, 1890.	$2,460,107,454
Total exported, 1890.	532,141,490
Total home consumption, 1890.	$1,927,965,964

We see that the American people consumed American manufactured goods and farm products in 1890 to the extent of $10,831,298,925. To this we must add the value of the foreign goods entered for consumption through our customs department, which amounted to $73,074,812 in 1890, thereby getting the following aggregate value of the entire

AMERICAN CONSUMPTION IN 1890.

American manufactures.	$9,963,398,361
American farm products.	1,927,965,964
Foreign goods.	73,974,812

Total American consumption $11,965,339,137

Against this aggregate consumption of goods in the United States, worth $11,965,339,137 in the year 1890, or $178.52 for every man, woman, and child of a population of 65,000,000 persons, what are the great markets of the world that we may expect to secure?

The markets of the world comprise only such goods as are imported by the different countries of the world, because we cannot claim to supply them with what they already manufacture or grow in their own countries, unless they propose free trade, as the Democratic party would have us do. They are not so foolish, however. Other countries prefer to retain what they already possess rather than allow us to take the substance for the shadow. We find, from the American Almanac of 1888, that the total imports of all other countries in the world at the latest date for which complete returns are available were as follows:

TOTAL FOREIGN IMPORTS.

Europe, Asia, Africa, North and South America, Australasia, and the Islands of the Sea.	$7,863,900,000
---	-----------------

This is less by over four billions of dollars than the total consumption of goods in the United States. Thus:

Total United States consumption, 1890.	$11,965,339,137
Total imports, all other countries, 1888.	7,863,900,000

United States market excess. $4,101,439,137

The policy of the free trade party is to throw our American market—worth $11,965,339,137 in 1890—open to the competition of the farmers and manufacturers of all other nations, while we strive to secure their markets, all of which put together are worth $4,035,973,337 less than our own home market.

It is not best to retain the good home market that we already possess, also striving to cease buying the $73,674,812 worth of foreign goods that we consume and to produce these goods for ourselves, if we can, rather than to throw away what we are sure of and take chances in securing a portion of the smaller markets of the rest of the world in open competition with the cheap labor of Europe, of Asia, of Africa, of Canada, of Central and South America, and of the savage labor of the Islands of the Sea?

Such is the policy of protection. But the free-trade policy is to give our markets to the cheap labor countries and to compete with the cheap labor in their smaller markets. We already consume over four billion dollars' worth of goods more than they can buy from us. Let us keep our trade first. ALcreated by $134,418,286.92, or at the rate of $4.05 per head of our population. This showing is slightly different from that made during the first year of the present administration, which added almost $75,000,000 to the national debt. It is of further interest to study the amount of interest paid on the national debt within the same period, which it will be seen decreased by $7,623,368, or at the rate of $0.19 per capita.

INTEREST PAID.

June 30, 1899.	$41,000,484.29	50.33
1892.	36,099,284.05	47
1891.	37,692,138.37	37
1890.	23,378,116.22	36
Decrease four years.	1899-92.	17,623,368.06	19

The Senate and Cheap Labor.

The following historical document is of particular interest at this time: IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES, Jan. 16, 1867.

WHEREAS, The traffic in laborers transported from China and other eastern countries, known as the coolie trade, is odious to the people of the United States as inhuman and immoral; and

WHEREAS, It is abhorrent to the spirit of modern international law and policy, which have substantially expelled the African slave trade, to permit the establishment in its place of a mode of enslaving men differing from the former in little else than the employment of fraud instead of force to make its victims captive; therefore

Be it resolved, That it is the duty of this Government to give effect to the above sentiment of the nation through its agencies for the purpose of preventing the further introduction of coolies into this hemisphere or the adjacent islands.

Ordered, That the Secretary lay the foregoing resolution before the President of the United States.

Attest: J. W. FURNEY, Secretary.

It is equally the moral sentiment of the nation to-day that the work done by cheap labor "as inhuman and immoral" as cheap labor itself. Those members of Congress who vote to reduce our existing protective tariff, and thereby permit the importation of foreign goods made by coolie and other cheap labor to compete with goods made by American labor—all members of Congress voting for such "traffic" will be "odious to the people of the United States," and will be "inhuman and immoral" according to a resolution passed by the United States Senate on Jan. 16, 1867.

How Free-Traders Agree.

The following shows how well free-traders agree. Both speeches were made on the same day:

Extract from speech extracted from speech of Senator Mills, in co-sponsor, now Secretary of the Treasury, Feb. 2, 1890.

Our tariff is closing the trade between us and the rest of the world. We must these States is larger have access to the by the thousands of millions of dollars than we can produce our farm products. Sixty could even be six millions of coolies taken this and all the surplus is a good market for the rest of the world. It is a better secured by a free trade.

The Black Week.

This will be known in American history, as far as Washington is concerned, as the black week. Never, not even when President Johnson fought Congress, have we had such a flow of scandal as is now coming from Washington. Let us sum it up:

1. The President writes to Mr. Wilson a letter saying in plain words that "tariff reform," as he calls the mercantile business, has been sacrificed by the "perfidy" of Democratic Senators.

2. He appeals to Mr. Wilson to save owned by aliens, gave thirty million in the recent election in return for a accession worth to them thirty millions a year.

10. The whisky trust, another mercenary and infamous combination, has arranged in the same manner for a monopoly worth several millions.

This may well be called the black week. The sky of darkness is unredeemed by a single star—John Russell Young, in Philadelphia Star.

Vivid Demonstration.

M. Guillemin, a schoolmaster of Bussieres-les-Clermont, France, undertook the other day to show his pupils exactly how President Carnot was killed. He has a keen stiletto, and as he drew it the children crowded around him and one of them, an 8-year-old boy named Girard, being pushed by those behind him in their excitement, fell forward, his breast striking the knife, which penetrated to his heart, killing him instantly. The children ran screaming from the school-room, and the unhappy teacher, finding the boy dead, tried to commit suicide with the same knife. Two men, who ran in to see what the excitement was all about, prevented him. The teacher is very popular with parents and children, and the parents of Girard begged the authorities not to prosecute him, convinced that the affair was purely accidental.

Democratic Times on Democratic Papers.

FIRST EDITION—1892.

SECOND EDITION—1894.

TALMAGE'S SERMON.

AN ABLE DISCOURSE UPON THE EVILS OF SUICIDE.

The Great Preacher Says It Is the Worst of All Crimes—Fidelity and Self-Destruction—A Christian's Life, Death, and Immortality.

Do Thyself no Harm.

Rev. Dr. Talmage, who is now abroad, has selected as his subject for his sermon through the press this week, the word "Suicide," the text being Acts xvi, 27, 28: "He drew out his sword and would have killed himself, supposing that the prisoners had been freed. But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm."

Here is a would-be suicide arrested in his deadly attempt. He was a sheriff, and according to the Roman law a bailiff himself must suffer the punishment due an escaped prisoner, and if the prisoner breaking jail was sentenced to be imprisoned for three or four years, the sheriff must be imprisoned for three or four years, and if the prisoner breaking jail was sentenced to suffer capital punishment, the sheriff must suffer capital punishment.

The Sheriff had received special charge to keep a sharp lookout for Paul and Silas. The Government had not had confidence in bolts or bars to keep safe the prisoners, and men whom there seemed to be something strange and supernatural.

Sure enough, by miraculous power they are free, and the Sheriff, waking out of a sound sleep, and supposing these ministers have run away, and knowing that they were to die for preaching Christ, and realizing that he must therefore die, rather than go under the executioner's ax on the morrow and suffer public disgrace, resolved to precipitate his own demise. But before the sharp, keen, glittering dagger of the Sheriff could strike his heart one of the unloosed prisoners arrests the blade by the command, "Do thyself no harm."

In olden times and where Christianity had not entered, with it suicide was considered honorable, a sign of courage. Demosthenes poisoned himself when told that Alexander's ambassador had demanded the surrender of the Athenian orators. Socrates killed himself rather than surrender to Philip of Macedonia. Cato, rather than submit to Julius Caesar, took his own life, and after three times his wounds had been treated, he lay open and perished. Mithridates killed himself rather than submit to Pompey the conqueror. Hannibal destroyed his life by poison from his ring, considering life unbearable. Lycurgus a suicide, Brutus a suicide. After the disaster of Moscow, Napoleon always carried with him a preparation of opium, and one night his servant heard the emperor groaning, put him in a glass and drink it, and soon after the groans aroused all the attendants, and it was only through utmost medical skill he was resuscitated from the stupor of the opiate.

A Spreading Evil. Times have changed, and yet the American conscience needs to be toned up to the subject of suicide. Have you a son or a daughter who is not anxious to announce the passage out of life by one's own behest? Defaulters, alarmed at the idea of exposure, quit life precipitately. Men losing large fortunes go out of the world because they cannot endure earthly existence. Frustrated affection, domestic infelicity, dyspeptic impatience, anger, remorse, envy, jealousy, and other misanthropy, are none of sufficient causes for absconding from this life by Paris green, by laudanum, by belladonna, by Othello's dagger, by batter, by leap from the abutment of a bridge, by firearms. More cases of "felo de se" in the last two years of the world's existence. The evil is more and more spreading.

A pupil not long ago expressed some doubt as to whether there was really anything wrong about quitting this life when it became disagreeable, and there are found in respectable circles people apologetic for the crime which Paul in the text extorted. I shall show you before I get through that suicide is the worst of all crimes, and I shall list a warning catalogue. But in admiring that some of the best Christians that ever lived have committed self-destruction, but always in dementia and not responsible. I have no more doubt about their eternal felicity than I have of the Christian who dies in his bed in the delirium of typhoid fever. While the shock of the catastrophe is very great, when the survivors have the Christian friends under cerebral aberration step off the boundaries of this life to have no doubt about their happiness. The dear Lord took them right out of their dazed and frenzied state into perfect safety. How Christ feels toward the insane you may know from the king's way. He treated the dementia of Gadara and the child lunatic and the potency with which He hushed the tempests either of sea or brain.

Scotland, the land prolific of intellectual giants, had none grander than Hugh Miller, great for science and great for God. He came of the best highland blood, and he was a descendant of Donald Roy, a man eminent in his plot and the rare gift of second sight. His attainments, climbing up as he did from the quarry and the wall of the stonemason, drew forth the astonished admiration of Buckland and Murchison, the scientists, and Dr. Chalmers, the theologian, and held universities spellbound while he told them the story of what he had seen of God in the old red sandstone.

Allowance Made. The man did more than any being that ever lived to show that the God of the Bible, and he struck his tuning fork on the rocks of Cromarty until he brought geology and theology accordant in divine worship. His two books, entitled "Footprints of the Creator" and the "Testimony of the Rocks," proclaimed the banners of an everlasting marriage between genuine science and revelation. On this latter book he toiled day and night through love of nature and love of God until he could not sleep, and his brain gave way, and he was found dead by a revolver by his side, the cruel instrument having had two bullets—one for him and the other for the gunsmith; who at the coroner's inquest was examining it, and fell dead. Have you any one of the beautiful beauties of Hugh Miller after his hot brain had been throbbing that winter night in his study at Portofino? Among the mightiest of earth, among the mightiest of Heaven.

One ever doubted the piety of William Cowper, the author of those three great hymns, "For a Closer Walk With God," "What Various Hindrances We Meet," "There Is a Fountain Filled With Blood," William Cowper, who shares with Isaac Watts and Charles Wesley the chief honors of Christian hymnology. In hypochondria he resolved to take his own life and added to the major Thomas, but found a man seated on some logs, at the very point from which he expected to spring, and rode back to his home, and that night threw himself upon his own knife, but the blade broke, and then he hanged himself to the ceiling, but the rope parted. No wonder that when God mercifully delivered him from that awful dementia he sat down and wrote that other hymn just as memorable:

God mov'd in a mysterious way
He wonders to perform;
He plants his footsteps in the sea,
And whirls his eddies to and fro;
And sets the earth on fire,
And burns it like a coal;
And He will make it plain.

A Leap to Perdition. While we make this merciful and righteous allowance in regard to those who were plunged into mental incoherence, I declare that the man who in a snap of the bond between his own soul and his soul goes straight into perdition. Shall I prove it? Revelation xxi, 8, "Murderers shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone." Revelation xxii, 15, "Without are dogs and sorcerers and whoremongers and murderers. You do not not believe the New Testament? Then perhaps you believe the Ten Commandments? 'Thou shalt not kill.' Do you say all these passages refer to the taking of the life of others? Then I ask you if you are not as responsible for your own life as for the life of others? God gave you a special trust in your life. He made you the custodian of his life as he made you the custodian of no other life. He gave you as weapons with which to defend it two arms to strike back assailants, two eyes to watch for invasion and a natural love of life which ought ever to be on the alert. Assassination of others is a mild crime compared with the assassination of yourself, because in the latter case it is treachery to an especial trust; it is the betrayal of a trust which you were especially appointed to keep. It is treason to a natural law, and it is treason to God added to ordinary murder.

To show how God in the Bible looked upon this crime I point you to the mosaic picture gallery in some parts of the Bible, the pictures of the people who have committed this unnatural crime. Here is the headless trunk of Saul on the walls of Bathshan. Here is the man who chased little David—ten feet in stature chasing four. Here is the man who consulted a clairvoyant, witch of Endor. Here is a man who, whipped in battle, instead of surrendering his sword with dignity, as many a man has done, asks his servant to slay him, and the servant declines then the giant plants the hill of the sword in the earth, the sharp point sticking upward, and he throws his body on it and expires, the coward, the suicide! Here is Ahiathophel, the Machiavelli of olden times, betraying his best friend David in order that he may become prime minister of Abimelech, and joining that fellow in his attempt to perdition. Not getting what he wanted by change of politics, he takes a short cut out of a disgraced life into the suicide's eternity. There he is, the ignored!

Worse Than Judas. Here is Abimelech, practically a suicide. He is with an army bombarding a tower, when a woman in the city makes a bridge from the place and drops it upon his head, and with what life he has left in a cracked skull he commands his armor bearer, "Draw thy sword and slay me, lest men say a woman slew me." There is his post mortem photograph in the book of Samuel. But the hero of this group is Judas Iscariot. Dr. Donne says he was a martyr, and we have in our way up to him. And when we wonder in this day when we have a book revealing Aaron Burr as a pattern of virtue, and in this day when we uncover a statue to George Sand as the benefactor of literature, and in this day when there are betrayals of Christ on the part of some of his pretended apostles—a betrayal so thick it makes the infamy of Judas Iscariot white! Let us remember by his own hand hung up for the execution of all the ages, Judas Iscariot.

All the good men and women of the Bible left to God the decision of their earthly terminus, and they could have said with Job, who had a right to commit suicide if any man ever had, what Job has done, "I will not put my hands upon my head, and I will not take my head down to the earth, for I am afraid of the wrath of God, and I am afraid of his anger." And when our friends are engaged in all the drudgery of the household, and prefer French novels to English classics. In selecting his hands they choose dandies with social graces, rather than men with solid attainments. They are full of strange, whimsical notions peculiar to the age. This is very much like the growl of the pessimists of our own day.

He Only Wanted to Know. "Papa," said an inquisitive boy, "don't fishes have legs?" "They do not," answered papa. "Why don't they, papa?" "Because fishes swim and don't require legs." The small boy was silent for a few minutes, and papa forgot about his questions. Then he asked, "Papa, ducks have legs, don't they?" "Why, yes, ducks have legs." "Well, ducks swim, don't they?" "Yes." "Then why don't fishes have legs if ducks do? or why don't ducks not have any legs if fishes don't?" Papa gave up.

Why was it that at midnight, just at midnight, the destroying angel struck the blow that set the Israelites free from bondage? The 430 years were not up at 11, and 1 o'clock would have been tardy and too late. The 430 years were up at 12 o'clock, and the destroying angel struck the blow. "I am God, and God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your earthly perturbations, just as Calus gave to Agrippa a chain of gold and a crown, and we have in our way up to him. And God knows just the hour when it is time to lead you up from earthly bondage. By his grace make not the worst of things, but the best of them. If you must take the pills, do not chew them. Your everlasting rewards will accord with your

MARK STRINGER,
THE LEADING BLACKSMITH!
And Machinist,
Of Wayne, Neb. Shop on 1st Street.

I. W. ALTER,
BONDED ABTRACTER.
Writes Insurance, Collections looked after.
Office over Citizens Bank, Wayne, Nebraska.

TO ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS OR LAKE SUPERIOR
TAKE THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE
For Tickets, Information and Illustrated Folder, Call on Your Local Agent, or Address T. W. TEASDALE—G. P. A.—C. St. P. M. & O. P. Y., St. Paul.

Subscribe for the Herald.

State Bank
OF WAYNE.
CAPITAL STOCK Paid in $75,000
N. G. Miley, President; J. W. Jones, Vice President; Henry Ley, Cashier.
A General Banking Business Transacted.
Interest paid on Time Deposits.
WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

CLIMAX BAKING POWDER
PUREST
AND BEST
LESS THAN HALF THE
PRICE OF OTHER BRANDS
1 POUNDS 20¢ +
HALVES 10¢ QUARTERS 5¢
SOLD IN CANS ONLY

Tired, Weak, Nervous Could Not Sleep.

Prof. L. D. Edwards, of Preston, Idaho, says: "I was all run down, weak, nervous and irritable through overwork. I suffered from brain fatigue, mental depression, etc. I became so weak and nervous that I could not sleep, I would arise tired, discouraged and blue. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine and now everything is changed. I sleep soundly, I feel bright, active and ambitious. I can do more in one day now than I used to do in a week. For this great good I give Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine the sole credit. It cures."

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at 25¢ bottles for 50¢ or it will be sent prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

NEW Furniture Store
OF BARTLETT & HEISTER,
Dealers in all kinds of Furniture,
Mouldings,
Curtains, Etc.

M. P. SAVIDGE,
THE Hydraulic Well Digger.
DEALER IN—
Pumps, Bath Tubs, Etc.

PLUMBING A SPECIALTY.
All work in this line guaranteed
first-class.
Shop South of Railroad Track, Wayne.

CITY LIVERY STABLE!
S. H. RICHARDS, Proprietor.
GOOD RIGS
Furnished on Short Notice and at Reasonable Rates.
Ferry Bros. old Stables, corner 1st and Pearl Sts

THE BOOK OF THE FAIR,
By H. H. Bancroft,
"The Historian."

A WORK
Of 1,000 imperial folio pages,
12 x 16, printed on the Michel press, as an exhibit in the Machinery Hall. This work contains 25 parts of 40 pages each.
There will be over

2,500 Superb Pictures of all sizes, up to a full page. A chapter on

Fairs of the Past
From the London Crystal
Palace of 1851, to the Paris
Exposition of 1889.

The Exposition was but for A Moment!

While the Book is for
All Time!
And should be in every home. Sold by Subscription only, on easy payments of 6-12 Cents per Day.

For further particulars apply to
A. FROST,
General Agent for Nebraska, 311 Sheely
Block, Omaha, Nebraska.

Wayne Opera House
Seating Capacity, 800.
JAS. BRITTON, MANAGER.
Population of City, 2,000.

CITY OFFICERS
Mayor..... JAMES BRITTON
Treasurer..... F. L. NEELY
Clerk..... W. H. McNEAL
Police Judge..... A. P. CHILDS
Comptroller..... W. J. Gaertner, T. W. 2nd Ward, Wm. Beckenbauer, O. B. Kortright, 3rd Ward, S. R. Seize, N. Grimsley

COUNTY OFFICIALS.
L. F. Rayburn, County Treasurer, Wayne.
S. B. Inghall, County Clerk.
E. Martin, County Judge.
Ed. Reynolds, County Sheriff.
Charles White, County Supt.
G. R. Wilson, County Attorney.
J. P. Gaertner, Coroner.
Ludwig Ziemer, County Surveyor.
Mark Jeffrey, County Clerk.
L. Needham, County Clerk.
P. W. Oman, County Clerk.

Rail Road Time Table
CHICAGO, ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS & OMAHA.

	EAST.	WEST.
Norfolk Accom. & Pass	7:40 a. m.	4:30 p. m.
Overland Passenger	8:50 p. m.	9:30 a. m.
Overland Passenger	7:25 p. m.	8:30 a. m.
Way Freight	7:40 a. m.	2:30 a. m.
Runs Sunday.

BLOOMFIELD LINE.

	ARRIVES.	LEAVES.
Accommodation & Pass	7:30 a. m.	9:30 a. m.
	12:30 p. m.	4:30 p. m.

Sioux City accommodation connects at Emerson with Omaha passenger arriving at Omaha at 10:30 p. m.; connects at Sioux City with all trains east, west, north and south. Overland passenger east, connects at Sioux City with St. Paul, Duluth and Black Hills west, connects at Norfolk with U. P. and P. E. & M. V. trains east and west. Overland passenger west, connects at Norfolk with U. P. accommodation for all points south and west. T. W. MOHAN, AGT., WAYNE, NEB.

SOCIETIES.

K. of P.—Lodge No. 53, meets the second and fourth Thursdays of each month, at 7:30 p. m. A. P. Childs, C. C.

O. O. F.—Wayne Lodge No. 118, meets Monday of each week at 7:30 p. m. Mark Jeffrey, N. G.

G. A. R.—Casey Post No. 5, meets the first Monday in each month, at 7:30 p. m. Ed. Reynolds, P. C.

A. F. & A. M.—Wayne Lodge, meets 2nd and 4th Fridays of each month. Wm. Beckenbauer, W. M. & Hunter, Secretary.

O. O. U. W.—Wayne Lodge, No. 103, meets the 1st and 3rd Thursdays of each month, at 7:30 p. m. at Masonic hall. W. H. Bradford, M. W., I. W. Alter, Recorder.

CHURCHES.

CATHOLIC.—Services every alternate Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Rev. Berry, Priest.

EPISCOPAL.—Services held in Masonic Hall subject to announcement. Rev. W. H. Sparling, Pastor.

LUTHERAN.—Services every Sunday at 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday School at 10:00 p. m. meeting every Wednesday evening. Rev. L. E. Kunkelmann, Pastor.

DEUTSCHE LUTHERAN KIRCHE.—Services alternate Sunday at 9:30 p. m. Sunday School at 2:00 p. m. Services are in German. Rev. Emil Asbrand.

PRESBYTERIAN.—Preaching every Sunday at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday School at 12:30 p. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Rev. A. P. Ernst, Pastor.

PURITAN BAPTIST.—Preaching every Sunday at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 11:45 a. m. P. meeting at 6:30 p. m. Rev. W. Theobald, Pastor.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL.—Preaching Sundays at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday School at 12:30 p. m.—Epworth League Friday at 7:45 p. m. Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Rev. H. Hirst Millard, P. C.

ADVERTISING RATES.

THE HERALD now has nearly 1000 circulation and over 6000 readers. Its subscribers reside mostly in Wayne county. As an advertising medium it is not excelled by any weekly paper in North Nebraska.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One column, one month	$8.00
Four inches double column, one month	4.00
Three	3.00
Two	2.00
One	1.00
One column (1st page) one month	12.00
Special rates on contracts for space to be taken longer than one month.

NOTICE: To regular advertisers 5 cents a line to all others, 10 cents a line first insertion, 5 cents a line thereafter.

Legal advertising at legal rates. Estray notices 5 insertions, $3.00.

Subscription Rates, $1.50 a year in advance. For more particular information call on or address
TRE HERALD, WAYNE, NEB.

"I know an old soldier who had chronic diarrhoea of long standing to have been permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Edward Shumppik, a prominent druggist of Minneapolis, Minn. "I have sold the remedy in this city for over seven years and consider it superior to any other medicine now on the market for bowel complaints." 25 and 50 cent bottles of this remedy for sale by Phil H. Kohl, Druggist.

Perfectly at Home.
The irrigated lands of Idaho possesses that peculiar qualification which is perfectly adapted to the raising of apples, apricots, peaches, cherries, pears, plums, grapes, prunes, hops, alfalfa, corn and potatoes, which always find a ready market and bring a good price.
"You can't overstock the United States with these commodities."
We'll send our advertising matter on application.
Or E. L. Lomax, G. P. & T. A., Omaha, Neb.

My boy was taken with a disease resembling bloody flux. The first thing I thought of was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Two doses settled the matter and cured him sound and well. I heartily recommend this remedy to all persons suffering from a like complaint. I will answer any inquiries regarding it when stamp is inclosed I refer to any county official as to my reliability. Wm. Rauch, J. P., Primrose, Campbell Co., Tenn. For sale by Phil H. Kohl, Druggist.

Don't Tobacco Spit or Smoke your life away is the truthful, startling title of a little book that tells all about No-to-bac, the wonderful, harmless guaranteed tobacco habit cure. The cost is trifling and the man who wants to quit and can't run no physical or financial risk in using "No-to-bac." Sold by P. H. Kohl. Book at drug store or by mail free. Address The Smoking Remedy Co., Indiana Mineral Springs, Ind.

SUGAR IN CONGRESS.
"THE POOR MAN'S SUGAR" WORRIES THE HEAD OF THE TRUST.

Mr. Havemeyer's Evidence Before the Committee is Torn to Shreds—False and Misleading Statements Designed to Deceive. Not One-third of "Poor Man's Sugar."

I spoke of the different grades of refined, the higher grades of refined being made from higher grades of raw, and the lower grades of refined—the poor man's sugar—being made from the lower, it not being possible to be made out of the higher grades of raw.

The discrimination was against the article which supplied the poor man with sugar and against the article on which the greatest amount of capital and labor is employed in its manufacture and the cost of manufacture generally is expended.

The foregoing paragraphs are taken from the testimony of Mr. Henry O. Havemeyer, the president of the Sugar Trust, as reported in The World, June 13, in answer to questions propounded by Senator Gray and Senator Davis of the senate investigating committee. These were the statements of Mr. Havemeyer:

The facts are that over 70 per cent of the sugar imported into the United States is high grade and less than 30 per cent is low grade sugar. "The poor man" uses high grade granulated sugar, which can be made out of both high and low grade raw sugars. The yellow sugars are not found now on the tables of the people, and the darkest colored sugars are used mainly for tobacco curing and such purposes, very little indeed going into direct human consumption.

From Mr. Havemeyer's testimony it is plainly inferred, and was meant to be inferred, that "the poor man" would be oppressed by a specific tariff on raw sugar, and there is further inference that "the poor man's" sugar constitutes the bulk of the sugar refining business, as not one person in half a million out of the total population of the United States knows to the contrary.

The American Economist has been to the trouble of compiling statistics to show what were the aggregate imports of raw sugar, according to each and every grade by which the duty estimated under the tariff act of 1883 was collectable. It compiled these imports for the whole period under which that tariff was in operation, beginning with the year ending June 30, 1884, and closing with the year ending June 30, 1891, and gives the aggregate imports for the eight years and the average imports for each year, according to each degree, as follows:

IMPORTS OF RAW SUGAR FOR EIGHT YEARS ENDING JUNE 30, 1884-91.

Grade.	Pounds.	Average imports each year.
Not above 75 degrees.	69,389,870	8,673,735
Not above 70 degrees.	9,940,401	1,237,774
Not above 70 degrees.	9,002,308	1,125,263
Not above 75 degrees.	6,629,492	834,687
Not above 70 degrees.	62,441,110	7,805,140
Not above 80 degrees.	420,733,444	52,591,680
Not above 81 degrees.	141,238,597	17,654,825
Not above 82 degrees.	130,045,810	16,255,726
Not above 83 degrees.	173,477,818	21,684,727
Not above 84 degrees.	2,100,070,035	262,747,492
Not above 85 degrees.	1,133,288,355	141,662,294
Not above 86 degrees.	382,622,708	47,827,845
Not above 87 degrees.	653,768,042	81,735,005
Not above 88 degrees.	888,270,071	111,033,764
Not above 89 degrees.	323,471,070	40,433,884
Not above 90 degrees.	5,261,817,038	657,727,122
Not above 91 degrees.	130,044,000	16,255,500
Not above 92 degrees.	130,230,029	16,278,761
Not above 93 degrees.	214,091,283	26,761,410
Not above 94 degrees.	416,027,555	52,004,644
Not above 95 degrees.	6,967,864,845	870,982,605
Not above 96 degrees.	754,733,027	94,341,630
Not above 97 degrees.	412,321,556	51,540,194
Not above 98 degrees.	80,744,569	10,092,571
Not above 99 degrees.	2,411,842	301,480
Totals.	10,648,742,056	1,330,022,695

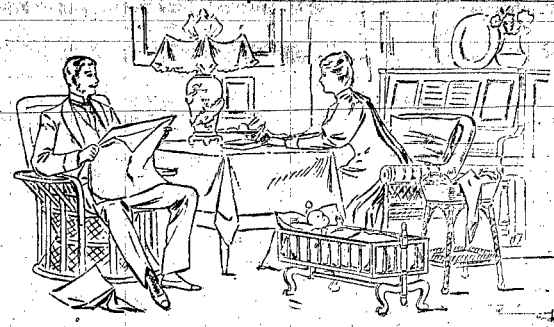

The average imports of raw sugar during each of these eight years was 2,456,000,000 pounds, the total for the eight years being almost 20,000,000,000 pounds.

An analysis of the foregoing figures will show that out of the annual average of imports of less than 2,500,000,000 pounds of raw sugar there were 1,720,000,000 pounds imported between 90 and 99 degrees test, leaving only 730,000,000 pounds imported between the range of 75 and 89 degrees test. In other words, during the whole of this period of eight years there was at least 70 per cent of high grade sugar imported into the United States, while only 30 per cent was low grade, or "the poor man's sugar."

Mr. Havemeyer further states that "the cost of manufacture generally is expended on the poor man's sugar." If this be the case, then "the cost of manufacture generally" is confined to one-third of the total output of the refiners and the other two-thirds can practically be refined free of cost. If this be the case also, why does not Mr. Havemeyer sell the higher grades of sugar at lower cost—lower, even than the price of "the poor man's sugar" upon which "the cost of manufacture generally is expended?"

Since the operation of the McKinley tariff which cheaper price of the high grade sugar, such as granulated, has resulted in its much greater consumption, with a consequent lessening of the demand for the low grade yellow sugars "on which the greatest amount of capital and labor is employed in its manufacture and the cost of manufacture generally is expended." Therefore it is quite fair to assume that more than 70 per cent of the sugar refined now consists of high grade sugar, and that less than 30 per cent is "the poor man's sugar," the cost of manufacture, therefore, having been decreased proportionately.

If Mr. Havemeyer were really as solicitous for the welfare of "the poor man" as he would fain have had the senate investigating committee believe, he would at once cancel the secret contract that now exists between himself and the wholesale grocers of the country, whereby special percentages and rates of discount are allowed them in return for their support and patronage, a system that has the practical effect of creating a trust among the grocery trade and preventing competition in the price of sugars retailed to "the poor man."

A PROSPEROUS HOME.

Husband.—"Why, it's just a year ago tomorrow that we were married."
Wife.—"So it is; and, do you know, I am wearing the same pair of shoes that I was married in, and they are not half worn out!"
Husband.—"So am I."
Wife.—"Why, how strange. Mine were made by the Hamilton Brown Shoe Co., of St. Louis—their Ladies' Hand Sewed."
Husband.—"And mine are their Men's $4.00 Shoe."
"Well, let's stick to them for shoemakers for the rest of our lives, for their shoes wear as finely as they look."

Sold in Wayne by
J. SINGER & CO.

SAM'L A. FRIEDOLPH,

New Suitings
Constantly Arriving
Merchant Tailor!

Workmanship First-class and Satisfaction Guaranteed.

GO TO
The Leaders
FURCHNER,
DUERIG &
COMPANY.

When you want Clothing at a low margin.
Just think of it the Best of Childrens Clothing.

At only 75 cents a suit, and up; also some very fine knee pants at the small sum of only 50 cents.

Fresh Butter and Eggs.

We carry the finest line of groceries in the city and want to inform you right here "on the quiet," gentle reader, that our prices are

THE LOWEST
Furchner, Durig & Co.

L. F. HOLTZ,

Satisfaction
Guaranteed.
Merchant Tailor!

An Elegant line of Seasonable Goods to Select from.

Shop First Door West of the State Bank

JOHN S. LEWIS, JR.
Manufacturer of and Dealer in HARNESS AND SADDLES.

Sweat Pads, Combs, Brushes,
Blankets, Trunks, Valises

And everything in the line. I make all my Harness out of the Best Oak Leather.

And warrant the same to be better than any of my competitors.

Burson & O'Hara,
SCHLITZ PLACE.

Wines, Liquors,
And Choice Cigars.

Schlitz' Milwaukee Beer.

Case Beer in quarts and pints for family use. All orders given prompt attention
WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION.
I will be in my office at the court house every Monday and Saturday. Examinations held Saturday of every month, and the first day previous to the first of the month.
CHARLES M. WELCH,
County Superintendent.

ATTORNEYS AT LAW
WAYNE, NEBR.
Office over the First National Bank.

FRANK FULLER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
WAYNE, NEBR.
Office over the First National Bank.

GUY R. WILBOUR,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
WAYNE, NEBR.
Office over Harrington & Robbin's General Merchandise Store.

A. A. WELCH
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
WAYNE, NEBR.
Office over the Citizens' Bank.

J. A. BERRY,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
CARROLL, NEB.
Prompt attention given to Collections.

G. LEISENRING, M. D.
SURGEON AND PHYSICIAN,
WAYNE, NEBRASKA.
Office over Hughes & Locke's Store. Local surgeon for the C. St. P. M. & O. Railway and the Union Pacific Railway.

A. LOVE, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon.
WAYNE, NEBRASKA.
Office over P. L. Miller's store. Residence on Fourth street. Calls promptly attended to day or night.

J. J. WILLIAMS, M. D.
Physician & Surgeon,
WAYNE, NEBR.
Office over Wayne National Bank. Residence one block west of the Presbyterian church.

Dr. W. D. HAMMOND,
Veterinary Surgeon and Dentist.
Graduate of Ontario Veterinary College Toronto, Canada.
All calls promptly attended to day or night.
Office and Infirmary on Logan St., north of Jones' Livery Barn.

J. E. BARKER,
PROPRIETORS OF
The Palace Barber Shop
Only first-class Artists employed. Try our preparations for all scalp ailments. Shop under First National Bank.

B. F. FEATHER,
NOTARY PUBLIC.
Land Loans and Insurance.
Conveyancing a Speciality.
WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

ELI JONES,
PALACE LIVERY STABLE
On Second Street one-half block east of Main.
WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

W. A. IVORY,
DENTIST.
Over the First National Bank.
Wayne, Nebraska.

B. Heckert, D. D. S.
DENTAL PARLORS.
Over P. L. Miller's Star Grocery.
WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

CHAS. M. CRAVEN,
Photographer,
WAYNE, NEBRASKA.
Cabinet Photos a Speciality.
Gallery over post office building.

L. S. WINSOR'S
BLACKSMITH SHOP.
HORSE SHOEING
A specialty, and all work guaranteed to be first class.
WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

ED. REYNOLDS,
Auctioneer!
Satisfaction Guaranteed
Terms Reasonable.
WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

Wayne Herald.
Member of the Northeastern Nebraska Press Association
Official Paper of Town and County.
Largest Circulation of any Paper in Wayne County.
Subscription, $1.50 per Year.
PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Republican Congressional Convention.
The Republican electors of the Third congressional district of Nebraska are requested to meet in convention in the city of Norfolk on Tuesday, August 28, 1894, at 7:30 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for election from said district.
The several counties are entitled to representation as follows: being based upon the vote cast for H. M. Raymond, for presidential elector in 1892, giving one delegate at large to each county and one for each 100 votes and the majority fraction thereof:
County, Del.
Antelope 9 Madison 11
Boon 10 Merrick 7
Butt 11 Niobrara 7
Cass 11 Platte 10
Coffey 9 Stanton 8
Cuming 9 Thayer 8
Dixon 8 Wayne 8
Dodge 11 Total 135
Norfolk, Neb., June 15, 1894.
B. H. JAYES, Secretary.
C. C. McNEISH, Chairman.

CONVENTIONS.
Republican State, Omaha, Aug. 22.
Populist State, Grand Island, Aug. 25.

It will be amusing to watch the democratic papers attempt to explain the tariff question during the coming campaign.

The delegates to the state and other conventions are uninstruced but will be for the best men whoever they may be.

Oh! where is Cleveland since Gorman got out his search light—the 500 senate amendments and poor Wilson will soon be forgotten.

The Allen News (populist) says that "Nominating a man with the understanding and expectation that some other party will endorse him, is not only fusion but a job."

The Democrat finally "fessed up" that the Pierce Call was correct in its statements that their was more money in the treasury when President Harrison went out of office than when he went in.

The Nebraska Editor arrived this week and as the HERALD man perused its contents joy struck him and as he read it over again he enjoyed it more. It is an excellent thing to take—Nebraska publishers think so.

It is rumored that Attorney Chard of Wausa, is negotiating for an interest in the Wayne Democrat to succeed Mr. Panabaker. There are too many anti-Bryan and anti-free silver democrats in the county who are not altogether pleased with "Pans" ideas.

The proposed fusion in the Third district, as advanced by the arch enemies of good government, will drive hundreds of self-respecting populists and democrats to vote for Meiklejohn. And they will never have cause to regret their action. Daily Drift.

Have you noticed the Madison Reporter's flow of large, round and elegant words? The Doctors swearing at the "rabid" republican papers is of the "high fullittin" order and is enough to make a donkey, even of the Mackay stripe, smile a large yellow smile.

Northeast Nebraska should be represented on the people's state ticket. Who can we select? We know of no better man in this part of the state for commissioner of public lands and buildings than H. B. Miller of Winside, Wayne county.—Allen News.

So?

It was Ben Harrison, we believe, who choked off the gold bond conspirators during the closing hours of his administration. "Nary a bond," said Benjamin and he was taken to mean what he said. O! for thirty days of Ben Harrison and a republican administration.—Kearney Hub.

The republican county convention Saturday was harmonious throughout and all but three precincts in the county were represented in the proceedings. Frank M. Northrup upon being called thanked the convention and stated that it was usually customary for the chairman to make some remark but as there was work to do he would dispense with speech making. It can truthfully be said that Mr. Northrup conducted the proceedings of the convention in an able and fair manner.

H. B. Miller prattles away in last week's Madison Reporter with a lot more of his silly gush about what "B said to C to tell A," etc. It is one of Miller's stories hatched as he watched the sun blister his corn—and while in this mood he became filled with a desire for revenge and motted himself for not being the "Mr. A" to whom he refers in his article? and then, as he labored, brought forth his customary slur. Most people are on to "Uncle Henry Miller" whose sickness at the coming election will exceed that of two years ago.

The Tariff bill has been passed at last and the House swallowed the 500 (Gorman amendments) of the Senate in spite of Cleveland's letter to Speaker Crisp. The Chicago platform has suffered terribly and scarcely a plank of it is visible. The democratic party is in a sorry plight.

Will be Victorious.
The interest taken in the republican county convention Saturday is an assurance that at the polls on election day the republicans of Wayne county will be victorious. Throughout the deliberations of the convention, which were conducted by Chairman Northrup in a fair and impartial manner, harmony and good feeling reigned. No speeches were made because delegates desired to get home on the afternoon train. The delegation to the state convention as between MacColl and Majors will be for MacColl. The congressional delegation will be for Geo. D. Meiklejohn who has represented the third congressional district of Nebraska the past year and a half in a manner creditable to his state and his constituency and in a manner to be commended by all fair minded men. The voters of the district should see that he is returned. There are two or three candidates for State Senator and Representative but who the delegates will be for we do not know. In the selection of the republican nominee for County Attorney A. A. Welch, who is well known to all, the convention certainly made no mistake. He is a lawyer of ability and a man who will attend to the duties of the office and not neglect them as has been the case in the past few years. Mr. Welch has many friends in all parties throughout the county and as many of them desire a man who will properly look after the business of the county his chances for election are exceedingly good. Mr. T. S. Goss who was nominated for County Commissioner is a resident of Wilbur precinct and is successful as a farmer. He has served one term in the state legislature and no complaint has ever been heard of his action while in that body. He will no doubt make an efficient member of the Board and will be elected if the republicans do their duty. The committeeman of each precinct should take an active part in the campaign and urge the holding of meetings besides endeavoring to see every republican in his precinct and request them to take an interest in the campaign.

The Forum of last week attempts to steal republican principles as thunder by quoting from a book of the Lincoln and Douglas joint discussions of 1858. The principles of Governors Waite, Lewellen and Altgelt, and Breckonridge, Coxe and Debs, as compared with the principles of Lincoln and the grand old party are as different as sunlight is from darkness, and to find any similarity between populist doctrines and the doctrines of Lincoln and the republican party would require a magnifying glass of unknown magnitude. Democracy had control of the government at the time Lincoln and the republican party saved the country. Democracy has again had control of the government for two years and it devolves upon the republican party to save the country and so far as Wayne county is concerned the HERALD believes the voters will say so.

Evidently the Madison Reporter is a very independent (?) paper. It works mostly for Allen, Robinson & Reed; they who are to feed at the public crib, and the Reporter hasn't said yet that its share consists of crow. Oh, yes! the Reporter has great sympathy for the "poor, down trodden farmers and laborers," like the firm of Attorneys Alley, Robinson & Reed, who will, if the people of Northeast Nebraska are chumps enough to say so, domineer this section of the state for their own individual aggrandizement.—Thus the statesmen of North Nebraska must all come from the town of Madison. However, there's many a slip, and the plotters of a few cowardly tricks may learn of things, said to come home to roost in politics.

The only thing the populist party can possibly accomplish is to retain the democratic party in power. The election in Alabama last week clearly demonstrates this fact. The sunny South does not propose to leave her first love as the large democratic majority plainly shows. If the north, east and west hope to again become prosperous their loyal voters must discard the populist branch of democracy. The populist party is but a sprig to aid democracy. Will you continue to vote the populist ticket and assist democracy after the experience of the past year and a half? May your answer be no!

During the republican administrations from January 1, 1867, to January 1, 1893, the public debt decreased $1,300,000,000 in round numbers, or at the rate of fifty millions annually. From January 1, 1893, to August 1, 1894, the public debt increased $80,000,000, or at the rate of fifty and a half millions a year. Comment is perhaps superfluous. But it is a little singular to find that it will not take, at the democratic rate, quite so long to put the public debt back to the figure of 1867 as it did the republicans to reduce it to the figure of 1893. It is a case of pernicious activity. STATE JOURNAL.

The retirement of ex-Congressman Ben Clover from the populist party is one of the important of the political events of the year in Kansas—Clover was one of the original organizers of the farmers' alliance. He has worked earnestly in the causes from the very beginning and has been credited with a sincere desire to advance the condition of the farmers of his state. He now issues a letter in which he admits that reform cannot be secured through the peoples party because:

We find today that it has fallen into the hands of a dictator, whose power is absolute; who in the practice of corrupt and disreputable political methods has outdone all other political managers that have ever risen in Kansas; whose sole motive is plunder and spoil and political honor for himself. The party to which thousands of honest farmers in this country have contributed their money and their time to organize and build up has now become the prey of political freebooters. A monthly stipend for campaign or personal purposes is exacted from the gambling dens and liquor dives of our large cities. It has organized the metropolitan police into revenue collectors, who visit the respectable and loathsome places and compel these dealers in vice to divide the profits of their unholy business. This is done now by the leaders of our reform movement.

Mr. Clover proceeds to give the administration the strongest scolding it has yet received from any source. He says that every public institution has been disgraced and become the subject of the vilest scandals; that the party promised railroad reform, and "to-day the representatives of the people's party, every one of them, are riding upon a pass and courting the favor of railroad corporations;" that the state officers are spending their time not in the service of the people, but in building themselves up politically; and that the course of the party has been so outrageous that even the democratic party will no longer give it support. Mr. Clover concludes that when a party becomes too wicked for the democrats, it is time for it to be thrown overboard by the men who believe in political honesty and wish to do something to save the reputation of the state.

Mr. Clover therefore declares his adherence to the old republican party, and advises his friends in the populist organization to go with him without delay.—State Journal.

There never was a more complete backdown and surrender than that made by the administration in the Hawaii matter. It was the first great national measure that Mr. Cleveland and his Secretary tackled. They carried things with a high head and with the hand of intrigue, and very soon, heard from the people and learned of their mistake. It was more than a mistake—it was a blunder of the worst character.—Inter Ocean.

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS.
What will Contribute to the Success of the State Fair.
Here is a partial program of what will be in reserve outside the regular fair routine:
Major Henderson, the famed drummer boy of the Rappahannock, with his son the fifer, will entertain free, daily on the fair grounds.
Joakle's pony hippodrome, chariot races, Roman standing races, trotting dog Sheppe, free daily on race-track.
Soldiers' day, children's day, and state day, on Tuesday, 11th. This will be THE DAY this year.
Other entertainments are being considered, and in all probability will be added. Lillian Coody, the champion rifle and revolver shot of the world, is among the possible performers free in front of the grand stand daily.
Each evening during the fair, the "Carnival of Venice" will be presented at Burlington beach, and the "Siege of Algiers" at Lincoln park. These are most thrilling and entertaining spectacular entertainments.
All these side shows as it were, in comparison with the great combined exposition of the state fair, state horticultural exhibit and manufacturers and consumers association's presentation. All showing the wonderful resources, industries, advantages and possibilities of Nebraska. Managers of these respective organizations are leaving nothing undone to make the exposition far in advance of anything of this kind ever before seen.
You should try our Mocha and Java coffee, 40 cents per lb. D. E. Smith & Co.
Emerson Times: Dr. H. G. Leisenring, of Wayne, was in Emerson between trains Tuesday. The doctor has the reputation of being Wayne's best.

Stanton Pickett—Hal Gamble, of Wayne, visited Saturday and Sunday with his friend, John Bennett. A brother of Chas. Chase, of Wayne, accompanied by his family, was visiting in Stanton over Sunday.

RUSII to Mel Norton's new establishment and have your buggy repaired. One hundred buggies wanted for this purpose, and the best of work at hard times prices is our motto. You will find us prepared to do the best of work. MEL NORTON, Wayne, Neb.

Ben Clover's Bolt.
The retirement of ex-Congressman Ben Clover from the populist party is one of the important of the political events of the year in Kansas—Clover was one of the original organizers of the farmers' alliance. He has worked earnestly in the causes from the very beginning and has been credited with a sincere desire to advance the condition of the farmers of his state. He now issues a letter in which he admits that reform cannot be secured through the peoples party because:

We find today that it has fallen into the hands of a dictator, whose power is absolute; who in the practice of corrupt and disreputable political methods has outdone all other political managers that have ever risen in Kansas; whose sole motive is plunder and spoil and political honor for himself. The party to which thousands of honest farmers in this country have contributed their money and their time to organize and build up has now become the prey of political freebooters. A monthly stipend for campaign or personal purposes is exacted from the gambling dens and liquor dives of our large cities. It has organized the metropolitan police into revenue collectors, who visit the respectable and loathsome places and compel these dealers in vice to divide the profits of their unholy business. This is done now by the leaders of our reform movement.

Mr. Clover proceeds to give the administration the strongest scolding it has yet received from any source. He says that every public institution has been disgraced and become the subject of the vilest scandals; that the party promised railroad reform, and "to-day the representatives of the people's party, every one of them, are riding upon a pass and courting the favor of railroad corporations;" that the state officers are spending their time not in the service of the people, but in building themselves up politically; and that the course of the party has been so outrageous that even the democratic party will no longer give it support. Mr. Clover concludes that when a party becomes too wicked for the democrats, it is time for it to be thrown overboard by the men who believe in political honesty and wish to do something to save the reputation of the state.

Mr. Clover therefore declares his adherence to the old republican party, and advises his friends in the populist organization to go with him without delay.—State Journal.

There never was a more complete backdown and surrender than that made by the administration in the Hawaii matter. It was the first great national measure that Mr. Cleveland and his Secretary tackled. They carried things with a high head and with the hand of intrigue, and very soon, heard from the people and learned of their mistake. It was more than a mistake—it was a blunder of the worst character.—Inter Ocean.

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS.
What will Contribute to the Success of the State Fair.
Here is a partial program of what will be in reserve outside the regular fair routine:
Major Henderson, the famed drummer boy of the Rappahannock, with his son the fifer, will entertain free, daily on the fair grounds.
Joakle's pony hippodrome, chariot races, Roman standing races, trotting dog Sheppe, free daily on race-track.
Soldiers' day, children's day, and state day, on Tuesday, 11th. This will be THE DAY this year.
Other entertainments are being considered, and in all probability will be added. Lillian Coody, the champion rifle and revolver shot of the world, is among the possible performers free in front of the grand stand daily.
Each evening during the fair, the "Carnival of Venice" will be presented at Burlington beach, and the "Siege of Algiers" at Lincoln park. These are most thrilling and entertaining spectacular entertainments.
All these side shows as it were, in comparison with the great combined exposition of the state fair, state horticultural exhibit and manufacturers and consumers association's presentation. All showing the wonderful resources, industries, advantages and possibilities of Nebraska. Managers of these respective organizations are leaving nothing undone to make the exposition far in advance of anything of this kind ever before seen.
You should try our Mocha and Java coffee, 40 cents per lb. D. E. Smith & Co.
Emerson Times: Dr. H. G. Leisenring, of Wayne, was in Emerson between trains Tuesday. The doctor has the reputation of being Wayne's best.

Stanton Pickett—Hal Gamble, of Wayne, visited Saturday and Sunday with his friend, John Bennett. A brother of Chas. Chase, of Wayne, accompanied by his family, was visiting in Stanton over Sunday.

RUSII to Mel Norton's new establishment and have your buggy repaired. One hundred buggies wanted for this purpose, and the best of work at hard times prices is our motto. You will find us prepared to do the best of work. MEL NORTON, Wayne, Neb.

R. W. WILKINS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS
Stationery and Perfumes!
Wall Paper.
Sheet Music Given Away.
Prompt and Careful Attention Given to Filling Prescriptions.
WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

THE CITIZENS BANK
(INCORPORATED.)
CAPITAL AND UND. PROFITS $100,000
A. L. TUCKER, President. D. C. MAIN, Cashier.
E. D. MITCHELL, Vice Pres't. W. F. HOWARD, Ass't Cash.
A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS DONE

A Marvelous Strike!
Have you Heard About it?
It is the strike that all smokers make for the Flor De Pauline Hall
AND THE Havana Belle.
Two of the Best Brands of Cigars Manufactured. To satisfy yourself go to the Turf Exchange and ask for one.
BUT,
If you Prefer Nickle Goods,
You will find a hearts delight in one of the Cockney Cigars,
No better Nickle Goods Manufactured.
The Way to Satisfy Yourself is to Ask
TOM WORKING
For one of them, and be convinced of the fact of this statement.

D. E. SMITH & CO.,
Handle as nice a line of CLOTHING.
As you can find in the City.
Boys Suits, from $2.50 to $7.00.
Youths Suits, from 4.00 to 10.00.
Mens Suits, from 5.00 to 20.00.
Men's coats and vests from $5.00 to $15.00.
Men's light weight coats and vests 75c to $5.00.
Call and see what we have to offer you for these prices. We also carry a nice line of Neckwear.
White Laundered Dress shirts, sold for $1.25 now $1.
White Laundered Dress Shirts, sold for $1.00 now 90c.
Linen Collars, 15 cents.
D. E. SMITH & CO.,
WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

EDWARDS & BRADFORD LUMBER COMPANY.
(INCORPORATED.)
LUMBER, LIME AND COAL.
GET ESTIMATES
BEFORE you BUILD.
W. H. BRADFORD, Agent

Wayne :- Meat :- Market,
ROE & FORTNER.
Will Keep First-Class Meats always on Hand.
Fish and poultry in season. Also dealers in hides and furs.
New brick west of the State Bank of Wayne on second street.

MOST FIENDISH ACT.

MASKED MEN FLOG A DEFENSELESS WOMAN.

A New Foundland Man Causes the Loss of Four Buildings to Cancel a Debt—Scotch Express Wrecked in London and Nineteen Passengers Injured.

Heal a Defenseless Woman.

GRANTVILLE, W. Va., special: At a lovely place near Minor, in Washington District, forty men raided the cabin of a lone woman named "Sis" King, of doubtful reputation, and dragged the terrified woman from her bed by her right foot...

Fire in Town to Cancel a Debt.

St. JOHNS, N. F., special: Four large buildings—a dwelling, shop and fish and general stores—were burned at Pillers Island, a mining settlement 200 miles north of here...

Train Broken Refused to Work.

LONDON special: An accident that caused much excitement occurred at the St. Pancras station in this city. The Scotch express train arrived in the station at 6.30 a. m. instead of slowing up the train dashed ahead...

Suit to Recover.

CINCINNATI special: Irwin & Groen brokers of Chicago, have filed a suit against H. P. Lloyd, trustee of E. L. Harper, late president of the Fidelity National Bank...

Thrown to Death by Treatment.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., special: Two unknown negroes were found dead by the side of the Florida Central and Florida Railroad track about four miles from the city. They are thought to be the negroes who brutally assaulted Policeman Dillon...

IN THE EAST.

TRENTON, N. J., special: Rev. J. H. Pierce died after a prolonged attack of hiccoughs. He was a man of much learning and a pupil orator of considerable fame...

WASHINGTON special:

The news spread over the city that militia from Alexandria were marching to Roslyn for the purpose of arresting the commonwealthers in accordance with Gov. O'Ferrall's notice. About midnight crowds began to collect at the Washington end of the bridge...

ALTOONA, Pa., special:

Harry A. Gardner, cashier of the Second National Bank of this city, left Monday night in company with Mrs. Gordon to whom he has been so attentive the past year as to execute unfavorable comment. A director of the bank is authority for the statement that Gardner has also taken with him a large sum of money belonging to the bank...

BOSTON special:

The whaling bark James Allen of New Bedford which sailed from San Francisco April 14 for the Arctic Ocean on a whaling cruise, returned at 11 o'clock on Monday and sank immediately. Five men were lost.

lost. Capt. Huntley and twenty-five men in the boat in which the fifteen men were separated from the other boats and the men have not been heard from since. Capt. Huntley's two boats started for Onalaska, 120 miles distant. Their provisions were low. His boat capized May 20 and four were lost. The others landed at a point on the coast by gathering shell fish and catching cod with hooks and wire. Between May 20 and June 5 six died of exposure. July 5 the captain, with five men, started for Onalaska, and reached there July 12. They then went back to the barren island for the others and found them in a hut, clustered about a pot that was boiling over a fire. They not contained human flesh. The boat brought the men back and they have returned to tell the horrible tale of their suffering.

WASHINGTON special: The Republic of Hawaii has at last been formally recognized by the United States, through the Secretary of State. The Republican Government in Hawaii will be remembered, was set up July 4. On the following day Minister Willis Goodwin negotiated, so far as it was within his power, the new Republic. Mr. Willis' action has been discussed, but no decision was reached until within the past twenty-four hours. Secretary Gresham, under the direction of the President, sent a formal note to the minister approving his course. Although the note of recognition is a personal statement of Goodwin's, it is understood that the President extends to the new Republic the hearty good wishes of the United States.

NEW YORK special: The schedules in the assignment of Wendell, Goodwin and Frederick Swift, of the firm of Goodwin & Swift, railway contractors, were filed. The liabilities are $34,644; nominal assets, $1,907,405; and net assets, $136,464. A personal statement of Goodwin's shows them to be $128,672; nominal assets, $134,980, and actual assets, $250.

WASHINGTON special: The Japanese minister has filed a formal protest against the delivery to China of 10,000,000 rifle cartridges by a Connecticut company. The general manager of the Colt Iron Company of Hartford telegraphed the State Department asking it to reserve its decision till the company could be heard.

IN THE WEST.

OTTAWA, Ill., special: Thomas D. Catlin, president of the United Glass Company, in an interview here said that the situation in the window glass industry was far from satisfactory. There has been no conference between the manufacturers and the workingmen's committees as yet in regard to the scale for the coming year, as the date of conference will be deferred as long as possible. The manufacturers have been awaiting final action of the tariff bill before preparing a scale. The uncertainty of the fate of the bill leaves all concerned at sea. They cannot ask the men to accept a reduction on the theory that the window glass tariff will be reduced. Neither do they feel inclined to sign a scale as high as that in vogue under the McKinley bill. It is barely possible that a conference will be held during the coming week, but there is not much prospect of an agreement being reached for some time, consequently there may be a delay in starting up the fires. The stock is very low at this time, and the demand for glass on the market, at the factories having run light last season, on account of the uncertainty of the tariff relating to their products. The large buyers have refrained from placing orders for the same reason, buying only in proportion to the immediate demand. Consequently the tariff tarring is responsible for the serious complications that have arisen. If the Wilson bill is defeated and the McKinley tariff prevails President Catlin says all the window houses owned by the United Glass Company will start on time, while if the proposed bill is passed it will delay an agreement on the scale and greatly reduce the output in this country during the next year.

Chicago special: A fire broke out in a business portion of the north side suburb of Rogers Park. It was soon beyond control of the local fire department and assistance was asked from Evanston and other nearby towns. After a hard fight the fire was gotten under control. An entire block of small business houses was destroyed, including one of the best and six dwellings. Mrs. D. Barbark and daughter, and a policeman who rescued them from one of the buildings were badly burned. Loss, $60,000.

ST. PAUL special: In the convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union the first business was reports of societies not connected with the unions. Wonderful growth was reported from many sections. In the afternoon Secretary Doyle New York submitted the report of the membership strength of the order, in which he says: "We have added sixty-eight new societies with a membership of 2,693 to the roll of national unions, making a total of 763 societies with a membership of 55,445."

Chicago special: What is supposed to be an attempt to blow up part of a packing town occurred when a bomb exploded in a wagon load of empty boxes near Armour's packing house in the heart of the stock yards district. The report was like that of a cannon, but the only damage was the destruction of the wagon and boxes. A search failed to reveal any cause for the explosion and a full investigation was postponed.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., special: Dow McDonald, a business man, and his wife, were in the city on their folding bed the other night, causing it to accidentally closing up. They were extricated with difficulty after being in their perilous position for several hours. McDowell died from his injuries and his wife is seriously hurt.

BOISE, Idaho, special: Geo. N. Hineley of Moscow was arrested charged with forging county warrants to the amount of $8,000. He was a deputy officer of Lathrop county and entrusted with the entire business.

ROCKFORD, Ill., special: By the burning of a summer cottage at Lauderdale Lake, Miss Sadie Fallon of this city was burned to death, and Mrs. E. F. Brown fatally burned.

CHICAGO special: Oscar Folsch, a barber, shot and instantly killed George Wechselsberger. The murderer was shot by a diver ruined his domestic happiness.

FOREIGN JOTTINGS.

ARCHANGEL, Russia, special: The steamer Winzars, which was on board the Jackson North Polar Expedition, has sailed hence for Harbourova or Jugorski Schars as circumstances shall determine. The expedition procured here additional stores, guns, and a number of Russian ponies. At Harbourova of Jugorski Schars a few Steerage will be added to the crew of the Winzars and the steamer will then proceed direct to the northern shore of Franz Josef Land. The place of the landing of the expedition in Franz Josef Land can only be determined when the conditions are known. All the members of the party are in good health and spirits, and are confident of success in their undertaking. The departure of the expedition was met with the greatest remarks and display of enthusiasm. The city was everywhere decorated with flags. The government and city officials and other notables went on board the Winzars and went with it some distance down the harbor. When they left the steamer they were hearty and were the greatest they wished the voyagers, who respond with cheer.

LONDON special: The abnormal abundance of money during the past week compelled the joint stock banks to reduce their allowance on deposits from the previous minimum of 1 per cent to 1 per cent. It was even suggested that the Bank of England should change its custom and descend below its recognized minimum rate of 3 per cent. Legal securities have attained phenomenal prices, though it would be rash to predict that they have touched the highest point. The stock exchange has worn a holiday appearance, having been closed for two days. Except for a drop of a few points in Japanese and Chinese stocks the market showed a better tone generally. Railway and foreign securities were firm. There is a fear that the Japanese-Chinese troubles will cause European complications. American railway securities were exceptionally idle, the movements being guided by the New York quotations.

CHICAGO special: Additional battles have been fought between the Japanese and Chinese. The latter were defeated. Sokoan was taken by the Japanese with a trifling loss. Five hundred Chinese were killed. The remainder fled in the direction of Koshiu. An imperial ordinance just issued permits Chinese engaged in peaceful pursuits to reside in Japan. The general excitement prevails throughout the country as the result of the Japanese victory. Rumors are current here that the Japanese naval forces were defeated in an engagement with a Chinese warship.

LONDON special: A dispatch from Tromsoe, Norway, states that the sailing vessel Malygen and a fast cutter have sailed for Spitzbergen, the object being to bring back the members of the Peary polar Expedition. June 17 Wellman and his companions were six miles east of Cape Flaten and the relief expedition will approach as near as possible to that point in order to pick them up.

CHICAGO special: G. H. Underwood, United States Consul in Leith, a seaport of this city, died of blood poisoning.

SOUTHERN SUMMARY.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., special: The conference of Kolb growers which has finished its session has given out an address to the people of Alabama reiterating the charges of fraud in the recent election, declaring there is no doubt the state ticket headed by Capt. Kolb was elected and calling upon the people to meet at their respective clubs and insist on the great issues and insist on the great issues and insist on the great issues.

DALLAS, Texas, special: The state convention of the "lily white" wing of the Republican party met here. The platform sympathizes with the laboring classes in all lawful efforts to obtain a more equitable distribution of the wealth produced by labor, demands that the farmer be protected against the loss of his property and the farmer's fair returns for his products and condemns the leasing of convicts. Colonel A. J. Houston introduced a resolution advocating the purchase of northern Mexico for the establishment there of a negro republic, the Government of the United States to reimburse itself from the minerals of the proposed republic. The resolution seemed to aim at wiping out the memory of the Republican party was killed by the Committee.

ST. LOUIS special: The Post-Dispatch's Hermosillo, Mexico, dispatch says: The forces of government soldiers sent against the Yaqui Indians are meeting with defeat in all the attacks made, and the Indians, on their successes, are committing depredations upon neighboring ranchmen with greater frequency than ever. An encounter which the soldiers had with a band of Indians near Chiltepin resulted in fifteen soldiers being killed and a large number wounded. The Indians lost about ten killed. The Government is anxious to send reinforcements against the Yaquis.

SOUTH MOLESTER, I. T., special: Several automobile men lived on the northbound Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train near Bond, I. T. Owing to previous warning the train did not stop, but flew by at a sixty mile gait. The Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway has been anticipating an attack by bandits for several days and all night express trains are heavily guarded while passing through the Indian Territory. Officers have been sent in pursuit of the would-be robbers.

PARIS special: Premier Dupuy asked the Chamber of Deputies as a mark of confidence in the Government to reject all amendments to the Government's proposal in the bill aimed at the suppression of archery. In spite of protests, all the amendments were offered and promptly rejected, the Government majorities ranging from 82 to 127. The Chamber then adjourned.

LYNCHBURG, Va., special: John Daniel, the 8-year-old son of United States Senator William Patton Daniel, fell from his horse and, his foot catching in the stirrup, he was dragged and so fearfully injured that he died.

HOT WINDS AND FROST.

CROPS SUFFERING FROM UNUSUAL WEATHER.

While the North is Praying for Rain the South Suffers from Unusual Precipitation—Frosts Prevail Where Cool Weather Never Before Appeared in August.

Corn is Burning Up.

The reports to Prof. W. L. Moore, at the Chicago weather station, as to the condition of crops throughout the country and the general influence of weather on growth, cultivation and harvest made by the directors of the different State weather services of the United States Weather Bureau, are as follows:

Illinois—Temperature below normal, shading, less normal and rainfall below and badly distributed. Some sections none being received. Late rains beneficial to corn, pastures and gardens. Wheat and oat thrashing still progressing. Some potatoes suffering seriously.

Indiana—Few local showers and cool weather benefited corn in good soil; that in light and clay ground needs rain much. Corn and oat thrashing continued; yield good.

Wisconsin—First of week hot and last cool, with light frosts on 3d, injuring cranberries considerably. No rain except light showers on 2d. Some sections badly injured by drought and generally past help. Pastures dried up in all sections and dairies suffering severely.

Minnesota—Drought unbroken, but cooler, with light frosts Thursday and Friday doing slight damage. Harvest well along. Wheat yielding better than expected. Corn, potatoes and pastures drying.

South Dakota—Continued drought, but cooler. Wheat, oats, and barley harvest will be completed this week. Except in scattered spots, some sections have not yet started. Corn, flax, and millet irreparable, and farmers cutting corn for fodder. Hay light and scarce, and potatoes suffering.

Nebraska—Recent showers with good rains, except in the northern halves of the middle and eastern divisions, have improved crop conditions. Outside of rain belts crops not improved, pastures are brown, and wheat has lost some weight.

Oklahoma—Temperature below normal; local showers over greater portion of every section, admitting of plowing for fall wheat. Grass and pastures improving, cotton shedding well.

Ohio—Local rains have benefited corn, potatoes and tobacco considerably, but the distribution was very irregular. Much corn in ground, especially in north part of State, the damage is irreparable. Wheat yield is good. Tobacco doing well. Fruits scarce and of poor quality.

Arkansas—Recent showers have helped corn in small areas; generally corn slightly poorer condition than a week ago; a very light crop; much corn being cut for fodder.

Missouri—Rainfall badly distributed and the drought continues in many counties. In southwest section corn in good condition, with prospects for whole crop; in north and central sections, corn in poor condition, while other crops show a decline.

Michigan—Drought still on and corn, potatoes, beans and pastures suffering severely. Some sections being cut for fodder. Light frosts on 2d and 4th did slight damage.

Arkansas—Week particularly favorable for all crops; cotton fruiting abundantly; some sections showing improvement. It is needed to make late corn; both plantings are fine; large crop sweet and Irish potatoes and watermelons.

Kentucky—Local rains improved corn and tobacco in some sections, but in others these crops are seriously affected by drought, especially upland corn; forward tobacco being topped; pastures very poor; and standing drought well; potatoes improved.

North Dakota—All small grain has been seriously damaged by drought, particularly wheat. The heavy frosts that have been reported by the State are particularly injurious; corn and potatoes suffering except in a few localities; pastures drying up; harvest nearly half finished.

Four Outlook for Corn.

The past week has been one of excessive heat in the greater portions of the Southern States, while showers in some sections quite sufficient to relieve the drought fell over the middle Atlantic and New England States. In portions of the Carolinas, Georgia, and over a large part of Texas weekly rainfalls ranging from four to six inches are reported. More than the usual rainfall has occurred in the north and Michigan and over limited areas in the central Ohio and central Mississippi valleys; but over much the greater portion of the country from the Alleghenies westward, including the principal corn states, little or no rain fell during the week, and the drought condition previously reported in that region is continuing.

Unusually low temperatures occurred over the central valley, Gulf States, lake region and New England, many stations reporting the lowest temperatures yet recorded during the first decade of August, light frosts occurred in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, causing considerable damage.

While low temperatures have improved somewhat during the week in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, the showers that have fallen in these States have been insufficient to help the crops in the uplands. In Michigan, Iowa, Nebraska, and South Dakota the condition of the corn, except over very limited areas, is more serious than was reported a few days ago. It is particularly so for fodder in South Dakota, Nebraska, and Michigan. Throughout the Southern States corn is reported as in excellent condition, and a fine crop is practically assured in South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi. Upon the whole reports as to the condition of cotton continue favorable, although too much rain has interfered with picking in Texas and caused shedding and rust to some extent in South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana. The orange y crop, which has previously sustained injury from forest fires in New Jersey and Wisconsin, has been further damaged in the last named state by recent frosts. In Ohio the yield of the winter wheat is being largely affected by the early frosts and drought. Spring wheat harvesting is progressing rapidly, and will be completed in South Dakota this week. In Minnesota the yield is better than was expected, but in North Dakota the berry has been shrunken by premature ripening.

PLOT TO TAR TARSNEY.

One of the Conspirators Makes a Full Confession of the Conspiracy.

A Denver dispatch says that Joe R. Wilson, the El Paso County Deputy Sheriff who was captured by Adjt. Gen. Tarsney in Missouri, has made a full confession of the tarring and feathering and given to Chief of Police Armstrong the names of all of the men connected with the outrage committed in Colorado Springs last week ago. Wilson was brought back to Denver by Officer Cross and placed in the city jail. On the train going to Colorado Springs he told everything he knew of the affair. In his story of the experiences of the eventual night the names of Sheriff Bowers, Deputy Sheriff Bob Mullins, and Capt. Saxton, of the Colorado Springs military company, were all mentioned. He complained the story that a murderer out of the El Paso County jail was allowed to help to put tar and feathers on Colorado's Adjutant General. Every detail of the tar and feathers affair is now in the possession of the Denver officers, and however high a position the offender may hold they will ultimately be brought to justice. Wilson's confession clearly illustrates that the crime was committed by the political enemies of Gen. Tarsney and that the criminals were not the outcasts of the Bull Hill army, but men of higher standing in the community.

NOTES MAY BE TAXED.

UNITED STATES LEGAL TENDERS NO LONGER EXEMPT.

Greenbacks and National Bank Issues Subjected to Taxation by State Officials—Silver Certificates Included in the Bill.

State Tax on Money.

The only financial legislation accomplished by this Congress, except the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act and the passage of the seigniorage bill, which received the Presidential veto, is the bill to subject to State taxation national bank notes and United States treasury notes, which has passed the House with Senate amendments. Attempts have been made in nearly every Congress since the war to subject these forms of money to taxation. The bill provides that circulating notes of national banking associations and United States legal-tender notes, and other notes and certificates of the United States payable on demand and circulating or intended to circulate as currency, shall not be exempt from taxation under the laws of any State or Territory, provided that taxation is exercised at the same rate and in the same manner as upon other property or money.

Investigating the Strike.

The Commission Appointed by President Cleveland Now in Session.

The commission appointed by President Cleveland last week, which is to investigate the strike of the American Railway Union, and which consists of Chief Justice D. Wright, United States Commissioner of Labor; John D. Kernan, of Utica; and Judge N. E. Worthington, of Peoria, Ill., held its first session in Washington to map out its plan of work.

These men have an important mission before them. The question is, what can be done to prevent strikes, lock-outs and boycotts as methods of settling industrial controversies? The facts of our recent disturbances should be investigated, set forth in a comprehensive report with a view to the practical solution of this, the greatest problem of the period.

Carroll D. Wright is the chairman of the commission. Born in New Hampshire in 1840, he studied law, but the war breaking out he gave up his studies and fought for his country. At its close he was admitted to the bar. He early interested himself in the workmen, and when he removed to Massachusetts and became a State senator, he secured the passage of a law in 1878 which made him the chief of the State.

Worthington, bureau of labor statistics and, after holding various other important offices, he was made Chief of the Department of Labor at Washington by President Arthur in 1885. He is a Republican. No man in the country is better versed in labor matters.

Judge N. E. Worthington is a resident of Peoria, Ill. He was born in Brook County, W. Va., in 1837. He was graduated at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., and became a school teacher in Illinois in 1858. In 1859 he became Superintendent of the schools of Peoria and Tazewell Counties, serving until 1872. Afterward he studied law and was admitted to the bar. In 1882 he was elected to Congress by the Democrats, and served several terms. He was elevated to the bench of the Circuit Court in 1891, and has still several years to serve. Judge Worthington was one of the delegates-at-large to the late Democratic national convention. He has the gift of eloquence to a marked degree.

In 1886 he became a member of the commission, is a native of New York State. Mr. Kernan is not widely known throughout the country, but in his own State is liked and respected. He is an authority on labor matters. Mr. Keruan lives at Alder Creek, near Utica.

REV. DR. E. H. STOKES.

President of the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Association.

The Rev. Dr. Elwood H. Stokes is President of the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Association. The Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Association is one of the largest and most famous of the world-wide fame, is held in August each year, and is attended by many thousands of persons. Dr. Stokes is 80 years of age. He was born in New Bedford, near Philadelphia, and as his parents were orthodox Quakers, he was brought up in that faith. When quite young he went to Philadelphia as an apprentice to a book-binder, and at this time became a member of the Methodist church. He studied the ministry and it has been fifty-one years since he devoted his first sermon. While pastor of the State street church in Trenton, Dr. Stokes started the movement that resulted in the organization of the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Association.

Democrats Claim a Victory by Twenty Thousand.

According to Montgomery, Ala., dispatches Ontario and the Democrats made heavy gains over the State. The latest returns say that the Senate will have at least eight Democratic majority and the House not less than ten. The official vote will make Outes' majority as much as 25,000 and increase the strength in both branches of the Legislature. The vote is short of that returned by the State, 51,000 on account of the election law tried for the first time.

A POSSE of deputy sheriffs in pursuit of a band of Nebraska cattle thieves captured William Campbell, the leader, and Allan Jones near Santee agency, Nebraska.

The warship Captain Pratt has been ordered to Alaska to protect endangered Alaskan interests.

NOTES MAY BE TAXED.

UNITED STATES LEGAL TENDERS NO LONGER EXEMPT.

Greenbacks and National Bank Issues Subjected to Taxation by State Officials—Silver Certificates Included in the Bill.

State Tax on Money.

The only financial legislation accomplished by this Congress, except the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act and the passage of the seigniorage bill, which received the Presidential veto, is the bill to subject to State taxation national bank notes and United States treasury notes, which has passed the House with Senate amendments. Attempts have been made in nearly every Congress since the war to subject these forms of money to taxation. The bill provides that circulating notes of national banking associations and United States legal-tender notes, and other notes and certificates of the United States payable on demand and circulating or intended to circulate as currency, shall not be exempt from taxation under the laws of any State or Territory, provided that taxation is exercised at the same rate and in the same manner as upon other property or money.

The three acts authorizing the issuance of greenbacks each with a total amount of $160,000,000, but the total amount was afterward reduced to $346,000,000—a figure that has remained permanent, although much of the money has been lost or destroyed. Each issuing act declared the greenbacks exempt from taxation by State or municipal authorities, as well as all other obligations of the United States, under the laws which are the Sherman notes for the purchase of bullion of $10,000,000, 750,000 of United States notes exempt from taxation.

Against the bill it was argued that it was an infringement upon the sovereignty of the General Government to permit State and municipal authorities to tax its monetary issues, but, on the other hand, it was pointed out that the States were not permitted to discriminate against any forms of money, and that these greenbacks should be placed on the same basis as gold and silver.

CHARGE D'AFFAIRES IN CHINA.

Charles Denby, Jr., Who Now Looks After American Interests.

This country's interests in China just now are in the hands of Charles Denby, Jr., a comparatively young man for such responsible affairs. In the absence of Mr. Denby, the Minister to China, who is home on furlough. The young diplomat is a graduate of Princeton College, where he was known in the early years of his career as one of the best players on the college. In 1885 when the elder Denby received his appointment as Minister to China, the young man was just out of college and expected to follow his father's career and become a lawyer. The chance to go to China as Secretary of the Legation proved too great a temptation. Young Denby went into foreign exile and has since become one in the nine years of his service.

Friends who have visited the legation at Peking say that the sudden responsibility thrust upon the United States legation will be in good hands. They say that the present charge d'affaires has learned to speak the Chinese language fluently in an particular good terms with Li Hung Chang, and that his long experience at the post qualifies him for almost any diplomatic emergency that may arise.

A touch of romance has been added to the situation by the recent announcement of the secretary's engagement to Miss Martha Orr of Evansville, Ind., the former home of the Denbys. Although they have known each other for many years, they have never had a very little of each other until this summer, when Miss Orr visited Peking as one of a party traveling with the Hon. John W. Foster, ex-Secretary of State. Miss Orr is beautiful, has traveled a great deal and is wealthy. The wedding was to have taken place this fall, but may be delayed on account of a Japan difficulty continues much longer.

LIVES IN ILLINOIS.

The Only Surviving Brother of William Cullen Bryant.

John H. Bryant, of Princeton, Ill., is the only surviving brother of William Cullen Bryant. He was born at Cunningham in 1807, and removed to Illinois in 1831, where he became justice of the Peace of Putnam County in 1834. He has been twice a member of the Illinois Legislature, and has held other modest offices. Until his sixtieth year a Mr. Bryant was a farmer. He has published two volumes of verse which have won him modest fame as a poet. The centennial of the birth of William Cullen Bryant will be celebrated by a festival of poets in the Berkshire hills of Massachusetts on August 14, which his brother will attend, if his health permits.

Sparks from the Wires.

JAMES PAY, a bookmaker, was found dead at Rome, N. Y.

HARRY M. DICKEY died at Marshall, Mich. He was a Chicago traveling salesman.

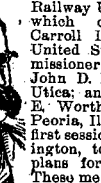

HENRY E. PERRINE, of Buffalo, N. Y., stepfather of Mrs. Grover Cleveland, died, seriously ill.

The California State troops have been ordered home, but their uniforms will remain in the field several weeks.

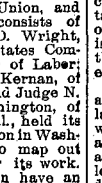

New Albany, Ind., is so hopelessly in debt that a proposition is being seriously considered to surrender its affairs to the next Legislature and have the Governor appoint commissioners to take control of the town and pull it out of debt.

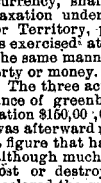

CARROLL D. WRIGHT, perform.

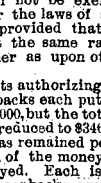

JUDGE N. E. WORTHINGTON.

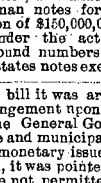

JOHN D. KERAN.

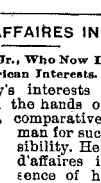

DR. E. H. STOKES.

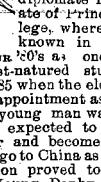

DR. E. H. STOKES.

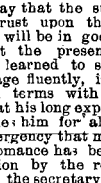

DR. E. H. STOKES.

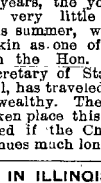

DR. E. H. STOKES.

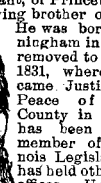

DR. E. H. STOKES.

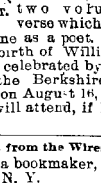

DR. E. H. STOKES.

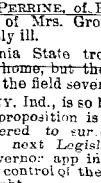

DR. E. H. STOKES.

DR. E. H. STOKES.

DR. E. H. STOKES.

DR. E. H. STOKES.

THE NATION'S SOLONS

SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Our National Law Makers and What They Are Doing for the Good of the Country—Various Measures Proposed, Discussed and Acted Upon.

Doings of Congress. In the Senate on the 8th Senator Allen of Nebraska introduced a bill to prevent protection of the Northern Mississippi River...

In the House on the 8th, the Judiciary Committee presented a resolution for investigation of the charges against Judge Rice, federal judge in the district of northern Ohio...

In the House on the 9th Representative Boultwell created something of a commotion by accusing the administration of "peanut politics" in the House...

In the Senate on the 10th Senator Hill tried to obtain recognition to offer a resolution requesting the Senate conferees to report to the Senate the results of the negotiations...

In the House on the 11th the Senate amendments to the sundry civil bill, to give a million acres of land to Kansas and Nebraska...

An Entertaining Colony of Oriental Merchants. Long New York's immense cosmopolitan population is a colony of 300 Syrians who are fast winning the distinction for themselves of being among the best immigrants...

Deaths of a Broken Heart. Mrs. Lulu Roebuck died at her home at Dunbar. The deceased was married about a year ago. Her husband deserted her two weeks ago and her death is attributed to this fact, she dying of a broken heart.

Nebraska Short Notes. BURGLARS broke into the depot at Elgin and secured $55 in cash from the till.

DAKOTA COUNTY pioneers and old settlers will hold their annual reunion at Clinton Park, Dakota City, August 30.

It is predicted that the Kearney cotton mill will be running again by September 1st and that 300 to 400 people will be employed all winter.

MRS. NORTHRUP of Wakefield has a gold ring which was bought by Gen. George Washington and presented by him to her grandmother about a century ago.

ALFRED GEMST and his son, while riding near West Point, were thrown from a wagon by the breaking of the pole and seriously injured. The boy had his leg broken and the old man was dragged for a long distance and severely bruised.

CHILD of W. H. Fing of Dubois stopped in front of its father's mowing machine and lost one foot, besides receiving a gash in the thigh.

THERE is an apparent shortage in the accounts of the treasurer of Scotts Bluff County amounting to about $100, caused by a failure to keep the receipts of road overseers.

A FAST freight on the Burlington was derailed at Holdrege by a misplaced switch and Engineer Oyster was caught under his engine and badly injured. The property loss was heavy.

LOOKS BAD FOR NEBRASKANS.

Rains, Which Are Threatened, May Save Much Corn Elsewhere.

Nebraska has practically had no rain since July 5, the isolated showers which fell during July having no appreciable effect upon the growing crop. As a result there is practically no crop of any description in the western, northern and northwestern parts of the state...

In the South Platte Counties east of the center the crop will average more than 50 per cent. In the northeastern part of the state the conditions are almost none favorable.

The weekly Government weather crop bulletin says: There has been an almost entire absence of hot winds and the condition of crops has not materially changed.

There has been an almost entire absence of hot winds and the condition of crops has not materially changed. Hay is everywhere a light crop. On the uplands generally it is a complete failure; on bottom lands from one-quarter to one-half crop.

BIG IRRIGATION CONVENTION.

Nebraska Farmers Favor the Proposition of New York Capitalists. The irrigation meeting at O'Neill was a big one, indeed, and one of great importance to north Nebraska.

The irrigation meeting at O'Neill was a big one, indeed, and one of great importance to north Nebraska. It was attended by representatives from Brown, Rock, Cherry, Koyah Paha and Boyd Counties.

Conrad Luis' barn at Howell's burned and among the embers was found the lifeless trunk of his youngest child, about 3 years old.

Postmaster Barnett Still Absent. No trace has been found of S. R. Barnett, the departed postmaster of Clay Center.

WYMORE to Improve Her Waterworks. At a special election held at Wyome, $10,000 in bonds were voted for the improvement of the city water-works.

Deaths of a Broken Heart. Mrs. Lulu Roebuck died at her home at Dunbar. The deceased was married about a year ago.

Nebraska Short Notes. BURGLARS broke into the depot at Elgin and secured $55 in cash from the till.

DAKOTA COUNTY pioneers and old settlers will hold their annual reunion at Clinton Park, Dakota City, August 30.

It is predicted that the Kearney cotton mill will be running again by September 1st and that 300 to 400 people will be employed all winter.

MRS. NORTHRUP of Wakefield has a gold ring which was bought by Gen. George Washington and presented by him to her grandmother about a century ago.

ALFRED GEMST and his son, while riding near West Point, were thrown from a wagon by the breaking of the pole and seriously injured.

CHILD of W. H. Fing of Dubois stopped in front of its father's mowing machine and lost one foot, besides receiving a gash in the thigh.

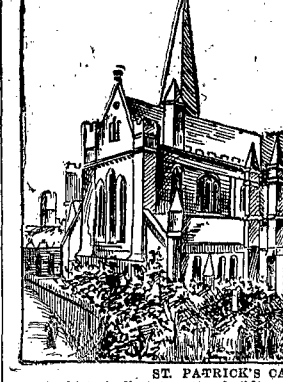

CAPITAL OF IRELAND.

ITS POLITICAL SPLENDOR HAS DEPARTED.

Though Its Manufactories Are Now Dead, and Its Trade Paralyzed, Dublin Is Still a City of Rare Beauty—Some of the City's Historic Buildings.

On the Green Isle. There was a time when Dublin, the capital of Ireland, was one of the most splendid capitals of Europe, and though now its political splendor is departed, its manufactories dead, and its trade paralyzed, it is still a city of rare beauty and interest.

There was a time when Dublin, the capital of Ireland, was one of the most splendid capitals of Europe, and though now its political splendor is departed, its manufactories dead, and its trade paralyzed, it is still a city of rare beauty and interest.

ST. PATRICK'S CATHEDRAL, DUBLIN. (An historically interesting building, erected over seven hundred years ago.)

monument is the postoffice, a handsome structure of granite and Portland stone. Other splendid buildings are the Custom House, erected a century ago at the cost of $2,000,000; the Four Courts, built over a century ago at a cost of $1,000,000; the old Parliament House, now the Bank of Ireland and the handsomest structure devoted to banking business in the world.

Of other historic buildings St. Patrick's Cathedral possesses the greatest interest. Here Swift's body is interred, and here also sleeps Hester Johnson, better known to the world as Stella, under which name she is celebrated in the writings of the dean. The cathedral was built in 1190, and was erected on the site of another church that was built by St. Patrick in 448.

O'CONNELL MONUMENT AND GLASNEVIN CEMETERY.

The squares of Dublin have always been particularly admired. Of these Stephens Green, Merrion Square and Mountjoy Square are the finest.

The environs of the city are especially interesting and some of them very beautiful. To the west lies the spacious Phoenix Park, one of the finest and largest parks in Great Britain, but memorable now rather for its connection with an atrocious crime than on account of its beauty.

PHOENIX PARK AND WELLINGTON MONUMENT

from base to summit with victories of the "Iron Duke." Wellington was born in Dublin, and the sum of £20,000 was raised by public subscription of the citizens to erect the testimonial to the hero of Waterloo.

of Addison, Steele, Swift, and Sheridan, and in its cemetery lie the ashes of Curran and O'Connell. Curran's tomb is a sarcophagus of the Doric order, built of blocks of granite, the largest of which weigh four or five tons each.

Of the more remote and romantic localities adjacent to Dublin is the celebrated vale of Avon, whose verdant loveliness and beauty Moore has sung in "The Meeting of the Waters."

Enthusiastic Angler. General Maury, who writes the "Recollections of a Virginian," says that when he was in Texas he found Colonel George Crittenden, who was then commanding Fort Ingo, to be a man devoted to sport.

He was a wonderful fisherman, and used to find out very quickly whether his soldiers had any qualifications for the "gentle art." When the orderly reported to him at the daily guard-mounting, he would say:

"Do you know how to catch minnows?" "Yes, Colonel." "Then take my bucket, go to the creek, and catch some."

"I examined the well of that prison, and found a fish in it." "I'll bet you caught him!" was the answer.

"Indeed, I did," said he, laughing. "I got a pin, made a hook, found a piece of twine, and fished for that fellow till I caught him."

An enthusiastic angler, he was also a most patient one, for he confessed that when he fished two days in the Tennessee river without getting a bite, he enjoyed it as much as any spot he ever had.

Greatly Tempted. We hear a great deal about the self-repression of the Scotch, who are even shy of showing their affection to one another, but that species of moderation scarcely exists to-day in New England.

We hear a great deal about the self-repression of the Scotch, who are even shy of showing their affection to one another, but that species of moderation scarcely exists to-day in New England.

He has been married about a year, and is devotedly attached to his wife. His life without her was a hard and solitary one, and in the sunshine she brought him his nature has blossomed into good deeds and gentle thought.

"You are not as melancholy as you used to be," said an old acquaintance to him not long ago. "Melancholy! I should say not!" he returned, with emphasis.

Why They Are Shifted. The shifting about of the admirals of the United States navy necessitated by the approaching retirement of several now commanding in foreign waters is a thing of frequent occurrence, because no rear admiral ever long enjoys that rank on the active list.

Choosing Curtains. In choosing curtains it is well to remember that a bright yellow fabric will light up a north room as nothing else can. Curtains in a dull shade of light green are most suitable for a room furnished in rose color or yellow, as a green light will soften the bright tints and is always pleasant to the eye.

Collection of Tickets. A remarkable collection of old-line Whig, Republican and Democratic election tickets for all the spring and fall elections since 1841, is possessed and highly prized by Constable William Abrams, Sr., of Frankford, Pa., who is now in his 74th year.

Why Don't They Try It. Some physicians have arrived at the conclusion that most persons struck by lightning, and to all appearances dead, could be recalled to life by applying the method of artificial respiration in use for resuscitating the drowned.

MATRONS AND MAIDS.

FAIR WOMAN'S DOINGS AND IDEAS.

How a Woman of Small Means and Limited Tastes May Keep Within Her Income and Abreast with the Times—The Kind of a Man to Marry.

The Permanently Thoughtful Man. HIS thing I write unto you love-battered girls: you can trust your happiness, other things being equal, to a tender man, writes Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward in the Ladies' Home Journal.

while they arg about it. The expressions of courtship go for little. A girl who gives herself to a man proved before marriage to be rough or cold, deserves the fate that will surely overtake her.

Woman and Poverty. It is hard to the woman of small means and luxurious tastes to keep within her income and abreast with the times, but a little sound sense in the way of finding out short cuts to economy will work wonders.

Things to Know. Hot alum water effectually destroys bed-bugs. CLEAN piano keys with a soft rag dipped in alcohol.

COFFEE boiled longer than one minute is coffee spoiled. TO POLISH jewelry, use a paste of powdered chalk and spirits of wine.

CARRY a lighted match with the name from you to keep it from going out. A TAPRO, soft sponge, either dry or slightly dampened, makes a good duster.

FEED caged birds with not only seed, but also lettuce, sorrel, plantain, and celery top. FLAT-IRONS are not yellow linen if they are first rubbed on a cloth saturated with kerosene.

BUTTER put into clean pots, and well surrounded with charcoal, will keep good for twelve months. TOMATO SOUP may be made especially good by the addition of a few slices of orange just before serving.

ALL traces of mud can easily be removed from black cloths by rubbing the spots with a raw potato cut in half. IN baking bread or rolls, put a saucupan of boiling water into the oven. The steam will keep the crust smooth and tender.

MIX stove blacking with spirits of turpentine. It will take off the rust, polish easier and stay glossy longer than when water is used. TO CLEAN marble, boil four ounces of soft soap with four of powdered whiting and one of soda. Apply hot and let it remain on the marble for a day or two.

TO DO up shirt-bosoms take two ounces of fine white gum arabic powder, put it into a pitcher and pour on a pint of water, and then, having covered it, let it stand all night. In the morning pour it carefully from the dregs into a clean bottle, cork it, and keep it for use.

A tablespoonful of gum poured in a pint of starch made in the usual manner, will give to lawn, either white or printed, a look of newness, when nothing else can restore to them after they have been washed.

Drunkon Wasps. That drunkenness and its mischievous consequences are not peculiar to human beings will be seen from the observations of Mr. Lawson Tait, who writes in the Popular Science News that he has noticed the avidity with which wasps attack certain fruit when it is overripe, and he has also noticed some of the peculiar results of their doing so.

The sugar in some fruits which are most frequented by wasps has a tendency to pass into a kind of alcohol, in the ordinary process of rotting, a fact which is easily ascertained by the use of a still not large enough to attract the attention of the excise authorities.

On such fruits, particularly grapes and certain plums, you will see wasps pushing and fighting in numbers much larger than can be accommodated, and you will see them get very drunk, crawl away in a semicomatose condition, and repose in the grass for some time, till they get over the "bout," and then they will go at it again.

It is while they are thus affected that it is they their worst stinging, both in the virulent nature of the stroke and the utterly unprovoked assaults of which they are guilty. I was stung last year by a drunken wasp, and suffered severely from symptoms of nerve poison for several days.

In their drunken peculiarities they resemble their human contemporaries. A LAWYER seldom fails for want of a partner who knows how to charge. THE juryman testifies under oath to the powers of a woman's tears.

square, sewing them on the machine, and taking care not to leave any untied threads, where a break may let the contents ooze out. Mix the soap, oatmeal, and orris root thoroughly and fill the bags loosely. Sew up the opening in each and lay them away to use as required. They are used as a sponge, dipped in warm water, making a thick, velvety lather and wonderfully softening the skin, while the orris imparts a lasting fragrance.

Practical Eye Wash. A little salt water used as an eye wash will cleanse and strengthen inflamed lashes and rest tired eyes. It is safe to use it at any time that irritation is felt. A New York surgeon prescribes the ocean for bad eyes, particularly young eyes. "Get out," he says, "whenever you can and let the salt and the sea breeze wash and blow around your eyes; it will do them good; it will dislodge the germs of disease, for the air breathed by half the world is germ-laden, and sore eyes are more quickly caught than small-pox and much more fatal; it will brighten and strengthen them and prolong their beauty and usefulness."

To Make Shoe Dressing. Here are two ways of making dressing for shoes: Take two drachms of spermaceti oil, three ounces of good molasses, and four ounces of finely powdered ivory black and stir them together thoroughly. Then stir in half a pint of good vinegar, and the dressing is ready for use. It gives a bright, clean surface and makes the shoes look almost like new. The second dressing is for rainy weather and it is said to make the shoes waterproof. Take an ounce of beeswax, an ounce of turpentine and a quarter of an ounce of Burgundy pitch. Put them into half a pint of cottonseed oil and melt together over a slow fire, being careful that the mixture does not take fire.

Things to Know. Hot alum water effectually destroys bed-bugs. CLEAN piano keys with a soft rag dipped in alcohol. COFFEE boiled longer than one minute is coffee spoiled. TO POLISH jewelry, use a paste of powdered chalk and spirits of wine. CARRY a lighted match with the name from you to keep it from going out. A TAPRO, soft sponge, either dry or slightly dampened, makes a good duster.

FEED caged birds with not only seed, but also lettuce, sorrel, plantain, and celery top. FLAT-IRONS are not yellow linen if they are first rubbed on a cloth saturated with kerosene. BUTTER put into clean pots, and well surrounded with charcoal, will keep good for twelve months. TOMATO SOUP may be made especially good by the addition of a few slices of orange just before serving.

ALL traces of mud can easily be removed from black cloths by rubbing the spots with a raw potato cut in half. IN baking bread or rolls, put a saucupan of boiling water into the oven. The steam will keep the crust smooth and tender.

MIX stove blacking with spirits of turpentine. It will take off the rust, polish easier and stay glossy longer than when water is used. TO CLEAN marble, boil four ounces of soft soap with four of powdered whiting and one of soda. Apply hot and let it remain on the marble for a day or two.

TO DO up shirt-bosoms take two ounces of fine white gum arabic powder, put it into a pitcher and pour on a pint of water, and then, having covered it, let it stand all night. In the morning pour it carefully from the dregs into a clean bottle, cork it, and keep it for use.

A tablespoonful of gum poured in a pint of starch made in the usual manner, will give to lawn, either white or printed, a look of newness, when nothing else can restore to them after they have been washed.

Drunkon Wasps. That drunkenness and its mischievous consequences are not peculiar to human beings will be seen from the observations of Mr. Lawson Tait, who writes in the Popular Science News that he has noticed the avidity with which wasps attack certain fruit when it is overripe, and he has also noticed some of the peculiar results of their doing so.

The sugar in some fruits which are most frequented by wasps has a tendency to pass into a kind of alcohol, in the ordinary process of rotting, a fact which is easily ascertained by the use of a still not large enough to attract the attention of the excise authorities.

On such fruits, particularly grapes and certain plums, you will see wasps pushing and fighting in numbers much larger than can be accommodated, and you will see them get very drunk, crawl away in a semicomatose condition, and repose in the grass for some time, till they get over the "bout," and then they will go at it again.

It is while they are thus affected that it is they their worst stinging, both in the virulent nature of the stroke and the utterly unprovoked assaults of which they are guilty. I was stung last year by a drunken wasp, and suffered severely from symptoms of nerve poison for several days.

In their drunken peculiarities they resemble their human contemporaries. A LAWYER seldom fails for want of a partner who knows how to charge. THE juryman testifies under oath to the powers of a woman's tears.

CENTRAL Meat Market.

FRED VOLPE, Prop.
Beef, Pork, Mutton, Smoked Beef,
Hams Shoulders and Bacon.

Highest Price Paid for HIDES PELTS AND FURS.
Post Office Building

A. SCHWAERZEL
PROPRIETOR OF THE

WAYNE SHOE SHOP
Boots and shoes made to order. Workmanship Guaranteed.
Wayne, Nebraska.

Auction!
I will hold a Public Auction in Wayne every Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m.

Persons having anything to sell—horses, cattle, hogs, machinery, or household articles—will please bring them in and I will dispose of them to the highest bidder.
My charges for selling will be 5 per cent.

ED. REYNOLDS, Auctioneer

IF YOU WANT TO PLAY A NICE QUIET GAME OF BILLIARDS

Go to
Hugh O'Connell's
POOL and BILLIARD HALL.

In Basement of Boyd Building.

CITY MEAT MARKET!

J. H. GOLL, Prop'r.
Will keep First-Class Meats Always on Hand.
Highest cash prices paid for Hides.

Now That The Fourth

And we are threatened with a famine because of the Pullman boycott, it will be well for you all to call on us for your supplies in Groceries, Fruit and Vegetables, as we have taken time by the forelock and stocked up heavy in anticipation of just such an emergency.

REMEMBER!
That our prices are so low, that competition never touches them, and our stock so well assorted as to challenge the envy of all comers.

Shane,
The Low Priced Cash Grocer.

$5.00 Will-Well Dress YOUR BOY.
Our Offer's as Unusual as its Great.
A Full Suit of Clothes, Ages 5 to 15 years—every thread all wool—double breasted coat—pant made with double knees—double seats—taped seams (will outlast 2 pairs of the usual kind) A Stanley Cap, made like illustration—to match the suit—and A Pair of Shoes of solid leather, first-class, strong and neat—
THE HUB'S Head-To-Foot-Outfit for $5.00

Send on receipt of price, of C. O. D. with privilege of examination to any part of the United States if $5.00 deposit is sent with order. If not satisfactory we agree to refund the purchase price. Catalogue and samples free. In ordering include 5c postage.
THE HUB, Clothiers, Hatters, Furnishers and Shoers. CHICAGO, ILL. State and Jackson St.

Kenneth Bazemore had the good fortune to receive a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when three members of his family were sick with cholera. This one small bottle cured them all and he had some which he gave to Geo. W. Baker, a prominent merchant of the place. Lewiston, N. C., and it cured him of the same complaint. When troubled with dysentery, diarrhoea, colic or cholera morbus, give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result. The praise that naturally follows its introduction and use has made it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by E. H. Kohl, Druggist.

Irrigated Fruit Lands.
Did you see the fruit in the Idaho Exhibit at the World's Fair? Nothing finer, first premium and all raised on irrigated land, its size, its abundance, its profitability, its your opportunity.
The country is here, the lands are cheap, and the eastern market is from 400 to 1,500 miles nearer than to similar lands in Oregon, Washington and California.
Advertising matter sent on application.
Address: E. L. LOMAX, G. P. & T. A., Omaha, Neb.

Perfectly At Home.
The irrigated lands of Idaho possess that peculiar qualification which is perfectly adapted to the raising of apples, apricots, peaches, cherries, pears, plums, grapes, berries, hops, alfalfa, corn, and potatoes, which always find a ready market and bring a good price.
You can't overstock the United States with these commodities.
We'll send our advertising matter on application. E. L. LOMAX, G. P. & T. A., Omaha, Neb.

INVESTIGATE the irrigated lands of Idaho and you will find them the cheapest, the best and the most accessible to markets.
EMIGRATE to Idaho and you will be happy. It's a new country, its for the poor man and the smaller farmer and fruit grower.
IRRIGATE the lands of Idaho and you have a surety of crops and fruit in abundance.
COGITATE? Of course you will, then send for our Idaho advertising matter.
E. L. LOMAX, G. P. & T. A., Omaha, Neb.

A surprise for our German readers The Lincoln Freie Presse, the best German paper in the west, offers to all subscribers a new premium book: "Der Deutschen Hausfrau Kochbuch," neatly bound, containing 300 pages. 50 cts. pays for the paper for one year and the book is given away free upon receipt of 10 cts. for postage. Subscriptions received at our office only. Subscribe for the FREIE PRESSE and the HERALD.

AUG. PIEPENSTOCK,
City Bakery
AND Grocery.
Keeps a full stock of first-class Groceries, and WARM BREAD, CAKES, PIES, Etc.
Every day before noon.

THE COUNTY NEWS,

And Other Correspondence.

CARROLL NEWS.
M. S. Merrill is at Hartington this week.

John Morris was a Wayne passenger last Saturday.

F. M. Burlick of Wayne, was in Carroll last Friday.

C. H. We... shipped a car of hogs to Sioux City Monday afternoon.

The two Miss Frances were Wayne passengers Wednesday morning.

C. B. French of Sioux City did business with J. R. Manning last Friday.

Miss Lillian Cole of Hartington, visited over Sunday with M. S. Merrill.

Herbert Robinson of Griswold, Iowa, is visiting his brother, Abner Robinson.

S. M. Pinkerton, a business man of Harvard, Nebr., was in Carroll last Friday.

Charles Cobleigh returned to his home in Nevada, Iowa, Monday morning.

Mr. Woodworth, general manager of the Peavey elevator Co., was in Carroll Tuesday.

Dave Bliss, John Morris and J. R. Manning were Wayne passengers Tuesday morning.

Miss Lulu and Mary Ralinson, of Coleridge, are visiting with the family of F. A. Berry.

Samuel Hulbert and others attended the dance at the home of Jacob Bruger last Saturday evening.

Mr. Evans and Robinson, two of Randolph's enterprising merchants, were in Carroll Monday afternoon.

Quite a number of the citizens of Carroll and vicinity are attending the M. E. camp meeting at Norfolk.

Dr. Northrop reports two births during the past week. A girl at the home of H. Bush, also a girl at the home of Henry Bingers.

R. D. Merrill, J. A. Jones, Geo. Bedford and J. R. Manning went to Wayne last Saturday to attend the Republican County convention.

Mr. Andrews, father of our druggist, C. M. Andrews, went to Norfolk last Saturday afternoon to visit his son-in-law, Dr. Little the superintendent of the Norfolk asylum.

Mr. Crow, brother-in-law of E. E. Jones, returned with his family to their home in Iowa last Monday morning, after a two weeks stay in Carroll and vicinity visiting relatives and friends.

J. Singer & Co.
Subscribe for the HERALD and be happy.

You should try our Mocha and Java coffee, 40 cents per lb., D. E. Smith & Co.

Pennsylvania Rally
The annual Pennsylvania picnic and social gathering will be held at Dr. Crawford's grove, 2 miles northwest of Wayne, on Wednesday, Aug. 29, 1894.

All Pennsylvanians by birth, marriage, distant relationship or previous term of servitude who have settled in Wayne or adjacent counties are cordially invited to attend and bring a good supply of old time rye bread, pumpkin pie or huckleberry jam. The occasion will be one of social enjoyment, and it is hoped that all will turn out and help make the day one long to be remembered by fraternal greetings. The following programme has been arranged for the occasion, and we hope that every part will be fully carried out:
Prayer. Song, led by Geo. L. Cook.
Address. Rev. Kunkleman. Song.
Dinner. Poem, P. W. Oman. Business meeting. Roll call of counties and short responses.
The following committees have been appointed:
Committee on Grounds—R. B. Crawford, D. Marshall, W. A. K. Neely.
Music—George L. Cook.
Finance—P. M. Corbit, S. B. Russell, Eli Jones.
Spoken—J. T. Mettlen.
Refreshments—W. O. Gamble, A. H. Carter.
By order of
E. J. NANGLE, President.
S. B. RUSSELL, Secretary.

HAY FEVER SUFFERERS
Do you know that
The Greatest Hay Fever Resort
In the West is Bayfield, Wis.,
On the Southern Shore of Lake Superior?

And the best way to reach this resort is via "The North-Western Line" C., St. P., M. & O. Ry?

For excursion rates to Lake Superior Cities
And via steamer lines for short trips
To Port Arthur and around Isle Royale
"The Gem Isle of the Great Unsalted Sea"
Apply to your local agent.

Aug. 14, 1894.

EDITOR: We want no man to represent Nebraska who is tainted with anarchy, or who in the least degree affiliates with riot and insurrection; and winks at defiance to law and order.

Such element is dangerous; and is already ruinous. We are not afraid to trust John M. Thurston; even if he is a railroad lawyer; or any law abiding citizen who is fitted to represent, and honor our state in the United States Senate.

Editor: We want no man to represent Nebraska who is tainted with anarchy, or who in the least degree affiliates with riot and insurrection; and winks at defiance to law and order.

Such element is dangerous; and is already ruinous. We are not afraid to trust John M. Thurston; even if he is a railroad lawyer; or any law abiding citizen who is fitted to represent, and honor our state in the United States Senate.

Editor: We want no man to represent Nebraska who is tainted with anarchy, or who in the least degree affiliates with riot and insurrection; and winks at defiance to law and order.

Republican Versus Democratic Wages.
Twenty-six Republican states pay an average of $1.33 per day in farm wages. Eighteen Democratic states pay an average of 87 cents per day in farm wages. This is from a report of the department of agriculture in 1890. Could the south see their folly in remaining Democratic, could they only put aside the old sectional feeling, become Republicans, adopt protection and develop their resources, wages of farm hands would be as high as in the north, and wages of laborers in other industries would be much higher than now. There are vast opportunities in the south as soon as they throw off the shackles of Democracy and free trade. The farm flourishes with the factory. Each helps the other, and when factories are running at full time the farmer will get good prices for his products and his hands good wages for their toil.

Get ready for the fair.
Laugh and grow fat at the B. Y. P. entertainment on the 24th. Reserved seats at Collinson's for 25 cents.

Feeders and Stock Cattle.
I keep constantly on hand a good grade of feeders and stock cattle for sale, and will make price and terms to suit responsible parties. Ran Frazier.

J. Singer & Co.
THE MARKETS.
These quotations are the prices paid by our merchants to producers.

FARM PRODUCTS.
Eggs 7
Butter 20
Potatoes 40

HAY AND GRAIN.
These quotations indicate what is paid at the elevators.
Wheat 36@40
Oats 26
Rye 28
Corn 46
Clover 1.05
Hay 4.00

LIVE STOCK.
Hogs 4.00 @ 4.60
Cattle 3.00 @ 3.25

Real Estate Transfers.
O D Brown to J T Bressler, lots 6 and 8, block 4, North add to Wayne. $ 200 00
Crawford & Peters to R M Waddell, s e 1/4 s, 23, 1. 2,000 00
Flickinger & Hamilton to David Longnecker, s w 1/4 s 23, 25, 5. 750 00
A G Howard to W J McNeal, lots 1, 2, 3, block 3, East add to Wayne. 400 00
Hoskins Town Hall Association to R M Waddell, lot 13, block 5, Hoskins 1 00
John C Havemeyer to Wm Frazier, n w 2 23, 27, 1. 2,000 00
R M Waddell to Charles C Dobbin, s e 1/4 s, 25, 1. 2,500 00
Helen M Henry to John T Bressler, s e 1/4 s 23, 25, 1, north of railroad. 5,000 00

Road Notice.
To all to whom it may concern:
The commissioner appointed to view the road extending south from the Main street of Hoskins to section lines between sections 27 and 34, township 23, N. range 1, east, running north and intersecting with road between sections 27 and 34, township 23, N. range 1, east, said commissioner having reported favorably to establishing of said road thereat. All objections or claims for damages must be filed in the County Clerk's office on or before noon of the 11th day of October, 1894, or such road will be established without reference thereto.
S. B. RUSSELL,
County Clerk.

Legal Notice.
To E. A. Clark, defendant:
You are hereby notified that on the 7th day of July, 1894, the plaintiff, Belle Clark, filed her petition in the district court of Wayne county, Nebraska, against E. A. Clark, defendant, the object and prayer of which are to obtain an absolute divorce from said defendant on the ground of extreme cruelty and for failure to support, though being of sufficient ability so to do; and the further prayer that she may have the care, custody and education of their child, E. M. Clark.
You are required to answer said petition on or before the 3rd day of September, 1894.
Dated at Wayne, Nebraska, July 15, 1894.
BELLE CLARK,
By her Attorney Frank Fuller.

Probate Notice to Creditors.
Aug. 9-14.
In the County Court of Wayne county, Nebraska.
In the matter of the estate of Fanny Graves, deceased.
Notice is hereby given, that the creditors of the said deceased will meet the executor of said estate, before me, County Judge of Wayne county, Nebraska, at the county court room in said county, on the 1st day of September, and on the 4th day of October, 1894, and on each day, for the purpose of presenting their claims for examination, adjustment and allowance. Six months are allowed for creditors to present their claims and one year for the executor to settle said estate, from the 1st day of August, 1894. This notice will be published in the Wayne Herald for four successive weeks prior to the 1st day of September, 1894.
Witness my hand and seal of said court this 6th day of August, 1894.
L. MARTIN, County Judge.

Picnic

Season is Here and for it we Have

Bartaria Shrimp, Hamburg Eels in Jelly,
Figaro Sardines in Luca Oil,
Star Lobsters, Scarboro Beach Clams,
Broiled Lake Erie White Fish,
Potted and Deviled Ham, Potted Tongue,
Cooks Columbia River Salmon Steak,
Boned Turkey, Boned Chicken,
Corned Beef and Bewick Bay Oysters.

Also a fine line of Bottled Goods at Miller's!

PHILIPPO & SON.
DEALERS IN Lumber Lime and Stone.
BEST GRADES - LOW PRICES.
McCormick Binders,
Mowers and Twine.
To Use McCormick Machines
Saves Time, Trouble and Money. SEE OUR SAMPLES.

J. P. GAERTNER, Dealer in Furniture
Embalming, thorough.
Undertaking Goods and Hearse in connection.

D. T. WORKING'S
TURF EXCHANGE. CIGARS.
West side Main Street, Wayne, Neb.

D. T. WORKING,
DEALER IN Fine Wines and Liquors!
Sole Agent for the Celebrated
PABST' Milwaukee BEER!
Which I keep constantly on tap and in bottles.

JOIN THE HERALD'S ARMY.

We want you on our Subscription List.
IF YOU DESIRE
Number one Job work, at living rates
Call at the Herald Office.

The First National Bank.

Wayne, Nebraska.
Capital and Surplus. $90,000.00.
J. M. STRAHAN, President. H. F. WILSON, Cashier.
FRANK M. NORTHPROP, Vice Pres. NATHAN CHACE, Ass't Cashier
DIRECTORS: J. M. Strahan, Frank E. Strahan, Geo. Bogart, John T. Bressler, Frank M. Northrop, Frank Fuller, H. F. Wilson