Palpitation of the Heart
 Shortness of Breath, Swelling of Legs and Feet.

"For about four years I was troubled with palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath and swelling of the legs and feet. At times I would faint. I was treated by the best physicians in Savannah, Ga., with no relief. I then tried various Springs without benefit. Finally, I tried also his Nerve and Liver Pills. After beginning to take them I felt better. I continued taking them and I am now in better health than for many years. Since my recovery I have gained fifty pounds in weight. I hope this statement may be of value to some poor sufferer."

E. B. SUTTON, Ways Station, Ga.
 Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1.00 bottles for $5.00, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

SHORT HAND! I will give private lessons in Short Hand.

Wayne Herald.

Last week the Democrat came out with an article stating that "the republican lie that sugar has been made by demagogues, exploded." It is a lie, but need of a great power to as ported in the census of 1850, was sixty-five; this is increased to ninety in the census of 1890, and in the three years immediately succeeding there was a further increase, of which the iron and steel company is part. The capital employed in these factories of Peoria was quoted as $1,160,707 in the census of '80 and as $15,072,567 in that of '90. The number of persons employed has nearly doubled during this period of protection, and the amount of wages paid was more than doubled.

The closing of the great iron works necessarily will throw many men out of employment, and must have the further evil effect of discouraging new industrial enterprises.—Inter Ocean.

Then and Now.

Two years ago, when Van Wyck was a candidate for governor, the Omaha Bee joined in the fight with the business men of the state against the populists, and column after column was devoted to placing before the public the effects that would follow a populist victory. Below is a paragraph which appeared in the Bee, November 7, 1892.

"The election of Van Wyck as governor of Nebraska would be viewed everywhere in commercial and financial circles as a menace to creditors and a reaction in favor of the pernicious policy advocated by the populists regarding the currency inflation and the scaling of debts. While General Van Wyck himself doubtless does not believe in the wild money schemes of his party, his election as chief executive would be regarded as a menace to investors and creditors generally. It must be manifest to every intelligent democrat that the contest is between Judge Crouse and Van Wyck. In choosing between these two candidates no business man who desires to maintain Nebraska's credit can hesitate. The announcement of Judge Crouse's election will dispel all doubt as to the determination of our people to keep faith with their creditors and confidence will be permanently established."

Is populist rule less dangerous now than it was two years ago? Are there not stronger reasons why the business interests of Nebraska be protected against the blight of populism than existed when the Bee was arrayed on the side of the business men of the state? Since 1892 Colorado has had her Wate and Kansas her Lewelling, and the trouble and strife following in the wake of a populist victory in these two states should be warning enough to Nebraska not to follow their footsteps.—Norfolk News.

That Abduction.

Col. Charles A. Warner, of Geneva, was a populist senator in 1891 and sat with W. Taylor before that gentleman "lit out" suddenly for Oregon a few days before the adjournment of the legislature. Col. Warner, however, has become weary with Rosewater's persistent lying about Taylor being "spirited away" by Tom Majors or other republican leaders, to defeat the maximum rate railroad bill which was up in the senate at the time of his disappearance, and he made the statement at Geneva day before yesterday that he had interviewed Taylor at Portland, Ore., since his flight and that Taylor frankly confessed that he went away with Seth Cole of Omaha, an employe of one Edward Rosewater.

This has been a matter of common report since the dramatic disappearance of Taylor, but this positive confirmation of the story by ex-Senator Warner settles the matter for the people of Nebraska. Now let E. Rosewater come out of his hole and explain why this man Cole took Taylor to Oregon, whether it was by his orders, or whether Cole was betraying his employer at the time, and why, if Cole was betraying Rosewater, he has been retained in the employment of his injured master all these years since he got away with Taylor.

It is characteristic of Rosewater that he should endeavor to cover up his tracks in the "spiriting away" of Taylor by laying it to Tom Majors or the railroad corporations. If the railroad corporations were privy to the Rosewater-Cole abduction of Taylor, how much did Rosewater get for his agency in the matter?

He has always declared that the railroads paid the cost of the abduction, and it is evident that he is in a pretty good position to know all the circumstances of the transaction. He might as well unbosom himself of the particulars.

Taylor's nearest friends all agreed at the time of his disappearance that he had no intention of leaving for good at the time he took the train at Lincoln to visit his mother over Sunday at Council Bluffs. Now, as far as investigations have uncovered the mystery since the event, the only person he saw prior to changing his plans was Seth Cole, the private detective and general utility man of E. Rosewater, and that the said Cole went with Taylor all the way to Oregon, lest he should, in his absence, change his mind and come back.

Rosewater has had so much to say about Taylor's abduction the past three months that everybody will be curious to hear all the particulars from the man who evidently knows more about it than any other besides Taylor or Cole. A column card in the Bee, double headed and signed "E. Rosewater is now in order."—State Journal.

The price is gradually advancing, having already reached 6 cents a pound, being an increase of a little over 1 cent per pound to the common people. The Democrats have served notice on the Sugar Trust that they must get all the price to go up until after the November election, at which time they want liberty to increase it to 7 or 8 cents, if the demand of the trust need that much increase.

Commissioner Second District. A. M. JACOBS.

Remember that your vote should be for Anson A. Welch and A. M. Jacobs.

If you have any desire to have a court house place an X after the "For the bonds."

We would like to have some one show us where any good has resulted where the populists have secured complete control of state government.

Bryan says that the government would lose all its interest in the U. P. railway by a foreclosure. Then why does he say he is in favor of a foreclosure? Simply to fool the people, but he can't do it all the time.

The Pender Times says the HERALD lied about Bryan. Now the Times will point out to us the lie or forever cease its bickering. If we do not agree with Bryan's hallucinations, no matter how beautifully they may have been presented, it is no sign that the HERALD has lied.

So many democrats and populists are going to vote for Eugene Moore for State auditor because they know him to be faithful and honest in the discharge of his duties and know that he has ever guarded the interests of the state, that his majority will probably be much larger than any other candidate on the ticket.

The HERALD would like to have any democrat or populist tell us if he thinks that Jim Britton would do as much for his constituency as Charley Chace. Would it be in line with his past actions politically? Not only would it be folly to elect Mr. Britton so far as state interests are concerned, but it would be a mistake from a national standpoint that would take years to rectify.

Sioux Citizens are to be congratulated over the splendid showing made at the Inter-State Fair. It was a success, much more so than any one dared predict, and with old time crops next year's fair will be something remarkable. Sioux City is to be congratulated for she is chock full of hustlers, who, when descending something beneficial to the city and surrounding country, they go after it and they get it.

The farmers of Wayne and Stanton counties will hardly be fooled into voting for James Britton when a candidate like Charley Chace is pitted against him. Britton will be more near sighted than he now is ere he can pull the wool over the eyes of the voters. It is known that he desires to go to the legislature because he seeks to place Bryan under obligations to him so that he Britton may secure a job under the present democratic administration.

John Devine, the populist nominee for congress, is now undergoing a severe scolding at the hands of the democratic press of the district because he wouldn't kneel at the feet of the blood-suckers, Allen, Robinson and Reed, that Robinson might enjoy Washington life for a period of two years. But the democrat and populist party leaders have made a foolhood out of many of the populists about as long as they propose to stand it and a large percentage of them will vote the republican ticket this fall.

Last week the Democrat came out with an article stating that "the republican lie that sugar has been made more costly to the consumers by democratic legislation had been exploded." For a short time sugar was higher, but the democratic party is in sore need of a little buncombe therefore the great sugar trust, which had received so large a favor at the hands of the democratic congress, can well afford to lower the price of sugar a few weeks prior to election, as the amount will be as naught out of the millions and millions of dollars worth the trust shipped into the United States ere the bill passed. But will the Democrat guarantee the price will remain the same after the election? If it does remain the same it will be because the people have no money to buy with, as a result of the democratic administration, and as the demand will be greatly reduced thereby the price will remain the same, and another reason is that the trust bought up millions and millions of dollars worth of sugar under the McKinley bill, which enables them to sell at the old price if they desire. But, to show the inconsistency of the statement, will the Democrat state that the tariff on any other article of manufacture will be increased by the tariff if it does not on sugar? Then the democratic lie that the tariff is a tax is exploded, according to the Democrat's own assertion, and the republicans claim that a protective tariff eventually lessens the prices of manufactures, because of the new factories starting up and increased facilities and American inventive genius, thus creating labor, which creates a demand for the products of the farm, is refuted by the Democrat's statement of last week.

Mr. Rosewater says that Kansas is in every respect more prosperous than Nebraska and would convey the impression, although he does not say so, that it is because they have a populist governor. The people of Nebraska will remember that only four years ago, when Mr. Rosewater was stumping the State against prohibition he produced whole columns of statistics proving that Kansas was a whole decade behind Nebraska in every way. For the position and prominence he has attained, Mr. Rosewater is considerable of a demagogue. —Albion News.

By standing up for Nebraska and the Republican party in 1892 the state is $1,000,000 behind. A vote for Majors invites an equal or greater loss for the next two years. —Pierce Leader.

The above sounds good, coming from a democratic paper, because it is natural, but the Leader might just as well make the amount two millions instead of one. But will the Leader please tell us how many millions the people have lost by standing up for the nation and democracy in 1892?

Senator Allen is a lawyer, Judge Holcomb is a lawyer and W. J. Bryan is a lawyer. It is really wonderful how the pops do run after the tillers of the soil for horny-handed sons of labor for candidates. —Omaha Tribune-Democrat.

The Forum assumes a great deal of liberty when it presents questions to a republican asking what he will or will not do. Better present some questions to your own besmeared candidates. They will probably tell you what they will do and then do all in their power to see that it is not done. Whatever the republicans say they will do will come nearer being done than promises made by any section of the populist party.

McNeal, of Wayne, wants to compare Bryan to Meiklejohn. It would be like comparing Robert J. to an Indian pony. Good God, what has Meiklejohn ever done? He has introduced lots of bills—generally voted wrong—well, that's all. Meiklejohn can't help it though. God didn't intend that he should be great. —Pender Times.

The HERALD doesn't seek a comparison of these two men, but the work they have accomplished in congress. Thank God, Meiklejohn is not like Bryan. Bryan's work all runs from the mouth, while Meiklejohn attends to business and accomplishes results for his constituency.

The HERALD desires to inform the Stanton Picket man that James Britton was elected Mayor because no one else would accept the position and he was the only candidate on the ticket for that office. Britton running for representative and Britton running for mayor are two different things, and Charley Chace will get two votes to him one in Wayne.

If Holcomb and his followers really possess all the political honesty there is in Nebraska, as they say they do, this state may be said to have gone broke on honesty. —Omaha Tribune Democrat.

The closing of the Peoria Iron and Steel Co.'s works is an event significant of the operation of the new tariff. These works, with a capital of $500,000, were not in existence at the time of the taking of the census in 1890. There erection was one of the many beneficent sequences of the McKinley law, and their closing is one of the maleficent sequences of the Wilson Gorman law. Peoria is a city that has prospered greatly under protection. The number of its manufacturing industries, as reported in the census of 1890, was sixty-five; this is increased to ninety in the census of 1890, and in the three years immediately succeeding there was a further increase, of which the iron and steel company is part. The capital employed in these factories of Peoria was quoted as $4,160,707 in the census of '90 and as $15,072,567 in that of '90. The number of persons employed has nearly doubled during this period of protection, and the amount of wages paid was more than doubled.

The closing of the great iron works necessarily will throw many men out of employment, and must have the further evil effect of discouraging new industrial enterprises. —Inter Ocean.

Then and Now. Two years ago, when Van Wyok was candidate for governor, the Omaha Bee joined in the fight with the business men of the state against the populists, and column after column was devoted to placing before the public the effects that would follow a populist victory. Below is a paragraph which appeared in the Bee, November 7, 1892.

"The election of Van Wyok as governor of Nebraska would be viewed everywhere in commercial and financial circles as a menace to creditors and a reaction in favor of the pernicious policy advocated by the populists regarding the currency inflation and the scaling of debts. While General Van Wyok himself doubtless does not believe in the wild money schemes of his party, his election as chief executive would be regarded as a menace to investors and creditors generally. In choosing between these two candidates no business man who desires to maintain Nebraska's credit can hesitate. The announcement of Judge Crouse's election will dispel all doubt as to the determination of our people to keep faith with their creditors and confidence will be permanently established."

Is populist rule less dangerous now than it was two years ago? Are there not stronger reasons why the business interests of Nebraska be protected against the blight of populism than existed when the Bee was arrayed on the side of the business men of the state? Since 1892 Colorado has had her Waite and Kansas her Lovell, and the trouble and strife following in the wake of a populist victory in these two states should be warning enough to Nebraska not to follow their footsteps. —Norfolk News.

That Abduction. Col. Charles A. Warner, of Geneva, was a populist senator in 1891 and sat with W. Taylor before that gentleman "lit out" suddenly for Oregon a few days before the adjournment of the legislature. Col. Warner, however, has become wearied with Rosewater's persistent lying about Taylor being "spirited away" by Tom Majors or other republican leaders, to defeat the maximum rate railroad bill which was up in the senate at the time of his disappearance, and he made the statement at Geneva day before yesterday that he had interviewed Taylor at Portland, Ore., since his flight and that Taylor frankly confessed that he went away with Seth Cole of Omaha, an employe of one Edward Rosewater.

This has been a matter of common report since the dramatic disappearance of Taylor, but this positive confirmation of the story by ex-Senator Warner settles the matter for the people of Nebraska. Now let E. Rosewater come out of his hole and explain why this man Cole took Taylor to Oregon, whether it was by his orders, or whether Cole was betraying his employer at the time, and why, if Cole was betraying Rosewater he has been retained in the employment of his injured master all these years since he got away with Taylor.

It is characteristic of Rosewater that he should endeavor to cover up his tracks in the "spiriting away" of Taylor by laying it to Tom Majors or the railroad corporations. If the railroad corporations were privy to the Rosewater-Cole abduction of Taylor, how much did Rosewater get for his agency in the matter?

He has always declared that the railroads paid the cost of the abduction, and it is evident that he is in a pretty good position to know all the circumstances of the transaction. He might as well unbosom himself of the particulars.

Taylor's nearest friends all agreed at the time of his disappearance that he had no intention of leaving for good at the time he took the train at Lincoln to visit his mother over Sunday at Council Bluffs. Now, as far as investigations have uncovered the mystery since the event, the only person he saw prior to changing his plans was Seth Cole, the private detective and general utility man of E. Rosewater, and that the said Cole went with Taylor all the way to Oregon, lest he should, in his absence, change his mind and come back.

Rosewater has had so much to say about Taylor's abduction the past three months that everybody will be curious to hear all the particulars from the man who evidently knows more about it than any other besides Taylor or Cole. A column card in the Bee, double headed and signed "E. Rosewater" is now in order. —State Journal.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter recently written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at River Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding a gripple. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery. It was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in its results." Trial bottle free at Wilkins & Co's drug store. Regular size 50c. and $1.

The returns keep coming in concerning the abduction of Senator Taylor. Iwator has been saying so much on the subject that he has brought out more facts than he knows what to do with, Senator Warner, of Geneva, who was a populist senator with Taylor in 1891, is authority for the statement that he saw Taylor at Portland, Ore., after his abduction and Taylor frankly confessed that he left the seats in the company of Seth Cole, of Omaha, Iwator's private secretary, spy and detective. Iwator is trying to hoodwink the public by saddling the abduction onto Tom Majors. It is the old stop thief cry.—Fremont Tribune.

By the way, would it not be well when William Jennings Bryan tells you that he and his party associates passed that income tax law to bring the rich man to Limerick and exalt the horn of the poor, to ask him why they did not make a sufficient appropriation to put the law in force? The democratic committee having appropriations in charge struck that appropriation from the list and the income tax will not be worth the white paper it is printed on until the appropriation is made. Were not they buying the pop vote for the sugar trust tariff bill cheap when they put in the income tax clause and struck out the appropriation to carry it into effect?—Sioux City Journal.

Vote the republican ticket and retard the down-hill stride that threatens Nebraska, as well as the nation, and in 1896 the job will be completed and the nation will pass along the line of prosperity as of yore.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Palm Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Palm Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by Phil H. Kohl, Druggist.
