Mrs. J. G. Mines entertained very pleasantly a number of young people last Thursday evening in honor of Miss Marjorie Haughey, of Philadelphia, Penn. For amusement Mrs. Mines had arranged a great variety of guessing games, which called for a good deal of clever wit; one of the games was a "Floral Love Tale."

Prof. Keller took the first prize for having the most correct guesses, and Dr. Parker not being so conversant with the language of the flowers, took the "booby."

At 11:00 o'clock the guests were seated at small tables and a tempting lunch was served. Those present: Misses Armstrong, Tucker, Smith, Effie and Lucy Buffington, Britton, Cunningham, Philleo and Corbit; Messrs. Jones, Keller, Lundburg, Greer, Armstrong, Parker, French and Chace.

MODERN WOODMEN.

Camps from Wakefield, Winside, Pender, Carroll, Hosking, Dixon, and Laurel Capture the City—Visitors Banqueted and Given the Freedom of the City.

Tuesday was a red letter day in Modern Woodmen circles and in the evening the city was alive with sterling neighbors who came from surrounding towns to participate in the Woodmen festivities. The Wayne Camp has grown until it has a membership of nearly 120, and Wayne is now looked upon as the center of the order in this section of the state.

The success of the Wayne Camp is largely due to the untiring efforts of Venerable Counsel, W. H. Hogewood, and able assistants, and that the proceedings Tuesday evening would be successful in every feature was a foregone conclusion.

During the afternoon several enterprising members, assisted by the "Royal Neighbors" and others, fitted up the banquet hall adjoining the Boyd hotel. To the rear of the hall was Old Glory, in front of which was suspended the words, "Eat, Drink and be Merry for Tomorrow you will have to Saw Wood."

Around the sides of the building brush was to be seen with the famous Woodman ax hanging here and there. The most noticeable feature, perhaps, was the large saw buck and saw and ax placed in the window, while an especially attractive feature was the two long banquet tables fairly growing under the good things set forth for the coming feast.

About seven o'clock the Wayne Camp and visiting neighbors to the number of 150 or more assembled at the hall where the work of the Woodmen was thoroughly exemplified. Two candidates traveled through the weary winding path to the Woodmen's Camp, and that their travels will remain indelibly stamped upon their memories there is no question.

The team of the Wayne Camp is a "cracker-jack" so to speak, and their work was much appreciated by the visiting guests. At the close of the work about one hundred ladies including the Royal Neighbors fled into the hall which, for once, was too small for the large crowd.

After an address of welcome, the Wayne band played a few pieces after which the visiting neighbors repaired to the banquet hall where plates for 100 persons had been arranged.

While the banquet was in progress merry Woodmen songs were sung until three times the long tables had been filled. The boys who bit into the wooden cookies, even, were not sorry they did so.

After the banquet came short speeches by the Venerable Councils from visiting Camps and wit and humor poured forth like flowing streams and a happier and more pleasant gathering never assembled. Short talks were also made by M. H. Dodge and Dorr H. Carroll of Winside, W. M. Wheeler and W. H. Rollings of Wakefield, and Frank Fuller and E. Cunningham of this city.

Vocal music was also furnished by the Wayne Glee Club. Following this came the ladies drill by the Royal Neighbors, under the direction of Mrs. J. L. Winterburn, which was roundly applauded.

In fact it was an event showing how popular the M. W. A. is growing and of the great benefits both socially and financially with which its members are blessed.

The Ladies Exchange will be found at P. L. Miller's Saturday afternoon. Mrs. F. W. Burdick has been quite sick the past week.

S. H. Alexander is among the sick this week and is unable to attend to his work at the bank.

All parties interested in the B. & M. lands are requested to meet at the court house Wednesday afternoon, April 1st, at 2:00 o'clock, for the purpose of deciding what to do in regard to the suits now pending.

Wayne.—This church, under the pastorate of the Rev. E. Van Dyke Wight, has been greatly uplifted by a genuine revival of religion. The ladies of the church, who are active in every good work, have recently paid the last dollar of debt on the manse. Soon after this the Evangelist, the Rev. C. S. Billings, came and assisted in conducting a special meeting lasting for ten days. During this time the interest was kept up, and on two evenings it was necessary to go to the Opera House to find room for the people. On the first Sabbath of this month, fifty persons were received into the church, all except three on confession of faith. Twenty-two received the ordinance of baptism. The young people are active and aggressive in missionary work, having given over $30 to missions during the past six months. There is much reason for devout gratitude to God.—The Chicago Interior.

Rev. Wm. Stiles, of Ainsworth, has been in the city this week soliciting seed grain for the farmers of Brown county who are greatly in need of assistance. The crops in Brown county for the past three years have been almost a total failure and the farmers of the more favored communities should not be backward in lending help. CITIZENS CAUCUS.

Pursuant to call of chairman and secretary, the citizens of Wayne to the number of 100 or more, assembled at the court house, Friday evening and after electing M. S. Davies chairman and E. P. Olmsted secretary, nominated the following ticket:

Mayor, Mark Stringer. City Clerk, Chas. S. Beebe. Treasurer, Lambert Roe. J. Tower received the nomination for member of the Board of Education for the two year term and Andy Brenner and E. D. Mitchell for the three year term.

The office of city engineer was passed. In the first ward, Sim Richards was nominated for councilman; in the second, A. P. Childs; and in the third, C. O. Fisher.

With the exception of the city clerk, there will be but one ticket to vote for as the mayor and treasurer and members of the school Board of the citizens caucus, were endorsed by the republican caucus. The nominees are men well known to the citizens of Wayne and need no commendation from us, and that they will fill the different offices to the best of their ability, there is no question.

The candidates for Clerk, W. K. Heister and Chas. S. Beebe, are two of Wayne's young business men and the contest will be a friendly one. In the first and second wards there will be a friendly contest for councilman.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

In response to bills circulated Friday afternoon about fifty republicans assembled at the court house Saturday evening to perfect a city organization and to nominate a ticket, it having been deemed advisable by a number of republicans, J. W. Bartlett was elected chairman and F. M. Skeen, secretary.

On motion the citizens' nominee, Mark Stringer was endorsed, also Lambert Roe for city treasurer and J. Tower, E. D. Mitchell and Andy Branner for members of the board of Education. A motion was made and seconded that Chas. S. Beebe be endorsed but for some reason the chairman failed to put the motion. E. Cunningham placed Gilbert French in nomination, and Alex Holtz placed W. K. Heister in nomination.

The names of Chas. Beebe and Gilbert French were withdrawn and Mr. Heister was nominated by acclamation; after which a permanent organization was effected with J. W. Bartlett as chairman and F. M. Skeen, secretary. This is the first time in the history of the city that a republican caucus was held to nominate a city ticket, and the nominees will have to be placed on the ticket by petition.

In the first ward, Samuel Winsor was nominated for councilman and E. P. Olmsted in the second. No caucus was held in the third ward.

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes, because, with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have a "magic touch."

Stomach

With severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea, which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came off and on more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla that I took several bottles, and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." EASTER HEADGEAR.

VERY FEW NEW FEATURES ARE SHOWN.

Bonnets Seem Deliciously Dainty and Hats Are Perky and Fresh—Everything in Millinery Now Has a Decidedly Springlike Appearance.

Hats of Late Date.

All the millinery "openings" have been celebrated, and those who attended them have settled down to the conclusion that Easter headgear will present very few absolutely new features. Yet the bonnets seem so deliciously dainty and the hats so perky and fresh that one quite loses sight of the fact that there are few changes. In general, hats are lighter, flowers are spread, brims are transparent, trimming is crisp, and everything is as springlike as can be. Flowers and ribbons are the characteristic trimmings for the season, and there is a tendency to cut away from the heavy plumes that have made the winter hats so picturesque. Pleated silks, ribbons and gauze seem in place on all hats; indeed, one may almost say that no hat should be without something of the sort. One of the few real novelties is a little turban-like hat of the sort that comes first in the accompanying illustrations. On them are yards and yards of crisp mousseline brim throw soft varied lights on the pretty face beneath. The hats of the season have an air of vouching for the prettiness of the face beneath, for one feels that only a pretty girl would put on such a hat, or at any rate, that she would be pretty once she got it on. No springtime description of hats would do unless the latest demonstration of the sailor was discussed. And how unlike the simple sailor is the sailor of to-day! It will never on earth be buried, and by nature it is too much at home on the water to ever come to grief there. This season it has a brim of rough straw in many colors, or a brim of lace shirred closely and wired, or one that is all woven of the stems of flowers, the flowers themselves adding to the criss-cross of colors. About the crown for a band, is jeweled or gold ribbon. The band should be as wide as the crown is high, and it should sparkle and glitter. Wherever the fancy elects pretty wide-spreading and many looped bows of ribbon are placed, and the ribbon must be multi-colored. Caught with one of the bows will be a bunch of high standing flowers. Such a hat must present all the colors of the season—that is, turquoise blue, bright green, soft rose, gray and black and a touch of charet. Of the result of all this elaboration you may judge by glancing at the fourth of these pictures. Of course there are other sailors, and perhaps the most frivolous demonstration of this completely corrupted head-dress is a sailor crown set on an accor-

de sole or paper-like taffeta crinkled into the finest accordion pleats and cut into ruffles about a hand breadth wide. Then the ruffles are pinked out along the edge, and on a tiny wire frame the ruffle, all crinkled and crisp, is laid round and round till you can't see where it begins or ends. It seems like a collection of pinks or a smother of crysanthemums, and right up out of the center stands an egret. Such a headpiece is a hat, a turban or a bonnet, just as you wear it, and if it is unbecoming, it is because you have not had sense enough to adjust its folds to the most bewitching indorsement of every good point you have. These little affairs are to be very popular. They are as light as a thistle down, and come in all sorts of bright colors, geranium, turquoise-blue and bright grass-green being three of the pet shades.

Their lightness is not an exceptional recommendation, because all the new hats are of featherweight. This is a comforting discovery, and another one is that the easy shape so long worn, the one next shown, with a medium crown and a brim scooping wide in front and narrowing to the ears and back, now appears with a wire crown and with a brim of colored grasses woven in and out between the hair-like wires. A ruche of crisp grass-green tulle is at the very edge of the brim, a loose knot of sprangly ox-eyed daisies or miniature and ragged sunflowers is laid on the top of the brim, there is a lift of gauzy ribbon all yellow and green, black and white and so on, and a few in-woven strands of colored grass cover the meshes of the wire crown. That is all, but it is so light, so pretty dion-pleated silken brim, all wired to stand up like a frolic of crysanthemums. The tendency in big hats is toward cutting them close at the sides and spreading only in front, but there are fewer of the crazily shaped freaks of straw that were ventured a year ago, and the fashion, always trying, even to a young face, of turning the brim up straight from the forehead, no longer claims attention as a novelty. The very pliant and very young girl who found becoming the touch of audacity such a hat gave may still wear the shape, but most of us will try the demure effects of the season, and for that matter of several seasons back, is the empire poke. As seen in the last picture, this is an exaggerated Salvation Army bonnet, with its brim starting upward suddenly in front instead of drooping low, and by the tilt being as much more saucy as demureness always is when there is a twinkle in the eye and a dimple a-lurk under the prim look. shape whose brim is pushed up in the center and that is recalled as being very fashionable only a few years ago. One of this sort comes next in the pictures. Its wee crown is there somewhere, but it is not to be seen, because of the scallopy crisp ruche of gauze in Dresden colors and a thousand pleats that is laid along the top of the brim. The crown is at the base of the light bunch of flowers that triumphs out of the very center of this gauzy maze, but who cares? The flower nods, the leaves spray prettily over all, and the many colored ribbons that are woven into the brim throw soft varied lights on the pretty face beneath. The hats of the season have an air of vouching for the prettiness of the face beneath, for one feels that only a pretty girl would put on such a hat, or at any rate, that she would be pretty once she got it on. No springtime description of hats would do unless the latest demonstration of the sailor was discussed. And how unlike the simple sailor is the sailor of to-day! It will never on earth be buried, and by nature it is too much at home on the water to ever come to grief there. This season it has a brim of rough straw in many colors, or a brim of lace shirred closely and wired, or one that is all woven of the stems of flowers, the flowers themselves adding to the criss-cross of colors. About the crown for a band, is jeweled or gold ribbon. The band should be as wide as the crown is high, and it should sparkle and glitter. Wherever the fancy elects pretty wide-spreading and many looped bows of ribbon are placed, and the ribbon must be multi-colored. Caught with one of the bows will be a bunch of high standing flowers. Such a hat must present all the colors of the season—that is, turquoise blue, bright green, soft rose, gray and black and a touch of charet. Of the result of all this elaboration you may judge by glancing at the fourth of these pictures. Of course there are other sailors, and perhaps the most frivolous demonstration of this completely corrupted head-dress is a sailor crown set on an accor-

de sole or paper-like taffeta crinkled into the finest accordion pleats and cut into ruffles about a hand breadth wide. Then the ruffles are pinked out along the edge, and on a tiny wire frame the ruffle, all crinkled and crisp, is laid round and round till you can't see where it begins or ends. It seems like a collection of pinks or a smother of crysanthemums, and right up out of the center stands an egret. Such a headpiece is a hat, a turban or a bonnet, just as you wear it, and if it is unbecoming, it is because you have not had sense enough to adjust its folds to the most bewitching indorsement of every good point you have. These little affairs are to be very popular. They are as light as a thistle down, and come in all sorts of bright colors, geranium, turquoise-blue and bright grass-green being three of the pet shades.

A MOTORMAN'S LIFE.

FULL OF HARDSHIPS, EXPOSURE AND CONSTANT DANGER.

The Great Strain on a Man's Nerves Sufficient in Itself to Wreck Him in a Short Time—The Experience of a Well-known Motorman.

From the Cincinnati, Ohio, Enquirer.

The life of a motorman is not a bed of roses. He is subjected to many hardships especially in the winter, when he is exposed to the cold and snow. Even in the summer he must bear the intense heat which beats down upon him. Considerable nerve and self-possession is necessary in a good motorman, for the lives and limbs of his passengers are at stake. One of the best-known electric motormen in this city is William Frazer, who is at present running a car on the Cumminsville electric line. He is not only well known to his fellow employees, but to the people who travel on his car. Mr. Frazer is a young man about twenty-six years of age, and resides with his wife and child in the West street, Cincinnati, O. About a year ago Mr. Frazer was taken with serious stomach troubles. He bought several kinds of medicine which were recommended to him, but none of them seemed to give him even temporary benefit. An enthusiastic admirer of that famous remedy for Pale People told him to try them. Frazer was almost discouraged, but took the advice. To a reporter of the Enquirer he said:

"I can most heartily recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are all that is claimed for them, in fact they advertise themselves both by their name and by their results. I was most discouraged. Before I had taken one box I was decidedly better. Two boxes cured me entirely. While I have been under the weather from other causes my indigestion has never returned. If it ever should know just what to do, I have so much confidence in the efficacy of Pink Pills that if I ever get real sick again with any disorder I shall use some of them. It is a pleasure for me, I assure you, to testify to the excellent qualities of these Pink Pills. They not only tone the stomach but regulate the bowels and act as a mild cathartic."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are sold in boxes, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or directly by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

A Hand's Mysterious Imprint.

In one of the cells of the Carbon County (Pa.) jail there is an imprint of a hand to which a strange story attaches. In 1877 Alexander Campbell, one of the Mollie Maguires, was confined in this cell. He strongly protested his innocence of a murder, of which he was convicted, and the night before his execution, placing his left hand upon the wall, he said that if he were innocent the impression of his hand would permanently remain upon the wall. Although 19 years have since elapsed the imprint remains. Several times the wall has been whitewashed, but before the lime is dry the impression reappears with startling distinctiveness.

Bargains in Carriages and Harness.

Intending purchasers of carriages, phaetons and buggies would do well to write to the Elkhart Carriage and Harness Manufacturing Co. at Elkhart, Indiana, for their new catalogue. These manufacturers deal directly from their factory with consumers, and have customers from Maine to California to whom they ship and sell at factory prices. Their work is good and honest, while their prices, considering quality and finish, are so reasonable as to attract attention wherever their carriages are sold. Their advertisement in another column explains their methods of dealing with purchasers.

Deafness Can't Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by sending Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

The Kindest Cut of All.

As Shakespeare says, is to poke fun or sneer at people who are nervous, under the half-belief that their complaint is imaginary or an affectation. It is neither, but a serious reality. Imperfect digestion and assimilation of the food is a very common cause of nervousness, especially that distressing form of it which manifests itself in want of sleep. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters speedily remedies nervousness, as it also does indigestion, kidney bilious and rheumatic ailments. The weak gain vigor speedily through its use.

The Security Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Fremont, Nebraska, have added to the regular policy which they are issuing on the whole life plan a feature by which the insured amount may pay for 10, 15, 20 or 25 years a specified amount in addition to the regular monthly assessment, which payments, if continued through the period for which the policy was written, converts his contract into a paid up policy, payable to the beneficiary named, together with the amount of his payment to the guarantee fund and the amount of the additional payments, all of which are payable at the death of the insured. The policy also provides that after three full years' payment have been made, should circumstances arise making it impossible for the insured to continue his payments he will be carried for the full amount of his original insurance for such time as his payment to the trust fund, together with compound interest, will pay his regular assessment on a whole life policy. Or he may receive a paid up policy for such an amount as the earnings on his payments to the trust fund at 4 1/2 per cent will pay for this amount of reduced insurance, to be paid to his beneficiary at his death.

They are writing this policy and giving the insured the privilege of saying any time during the term whether he wishes the full amount paid to his beneficiary at his death or whether he wishes a stated amount, paid at his death, the balance to be paid in annual installments. Three per cent interest on the deferred payment would be added to each year's payment. This last named feature is one that is desirable in many cases, as it provides a certain amount of money being paid to his beneficiary for a given number of years, which in many cases avoids improper investments at a loss to the estate.

The law under which the Security Mutual Life Insurance Co. is organized provides that all moneys held in trust for the maturing or fulfillment of policy contracts shall be invested as prescribed by law and the securities held by the auditor of the state of Nebraska in trust for the policy holders. This makes it impossible for any misappropriation of funds, or the use of any fund for any purpose except that for which the securities were deposited.

The Security Mutual Life Insurance Co. should have the hearty support and assistance of every insurable man who is interested in Nebraska or Nebraska enterprises, and is the only assessment company issuing a paid up policy and granting the above features. Insure in this company.

His Lip Gone.

M. M. Nicholson, who lives at the corner of Curran and Anderson Sts., Atlanta, Ga., had a cancer for years. It first appeared on his lip and resembled a fever blister, but spread rapidly and soon began to destroy the flesh. His father and uncle died of Cancer, and he sought the best medical aid in different cities, but it seemed impossible to check the disease. Several operations were performed but the cancer always returned. This continued for years until the partition in his nose and his entire upper lip were eaten away. All treatment having proved futile, he looked upon death as the only relief.

"Some one recommended S.S.S.," he says, "and a few bottles afforded some relief; thus encouraged I continued it, and it was not long before the progress of the disease seemed checked. I persevered in its use, and remarkable as it may seem, I am completely cured, and feel like I have new life. S.S.S. is the most remarkable remedy in the world, and everyone will agree that the cure was a wonderful one."

The prospects are for the largest acreage of wheat ever sown in this part of Wayne county with a corresponding increase throughout the wheat growing states and a large yield, the outlook for better prices in that cereal will be very poor.

Messrs. Besch, Wineland, Taylor, Linn, Geo. Belford, R. Merrill and John Butler chartered the band car Tuesday evening and went to Wayne to attend a supper given by the Ladies Auxiliary of Woodmen Lodge at that place, and report a very good time.

Farmers need to practice a more diversified plan of farming. What we need is a few creameries and cheese factories scattered through the country. Farmers once started in the dairy business are on a fair road to prosperity. It has been proven a success wherever tried and the farmers in this part of the state would do well to profit by others experience. PLOKWIOK.

A Very Sad Death.

Mrs. E. E. Coleman, of Norfolk, Nebraska, who came to this city some weeks ago with the hope of improving her health, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles K. Coleman, on Sunday morning, March 15th, 1896.

The funeral services held at the M. E. church on Tuesday, conducted by Rev. G. P. Fison, pastor of the Baptist church, assisted by Rev. J. A. Bacon, were attended by a large concourse of sympathizing friends.

Emma Alice Shafer was born at Orville, Ohio, February 24, 1869. Afterwards the family removed to Gilman, Ill., where she was converted and united with the Baptist church at the age of 13 years.

They came to this city in the year 1883, where she was married to Mr. Coleman two years later. To them were born four children, three girls and one boy. Letta died about a year ago, and the other three, left without the mother's loving care, will remain with her sister, Mrs. Charles Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman were active members of the Baptist church in Norfolk.

A beautiful life is ended. She was a good daughter, a loving wife and mother, and a woman of sweet Christian spirit. In her death she saw the angels hovering about her, saw her little dead Letta and called her name, and begged that her friends would not detain her. She was anxious to join the heavenly company. — McCook Times Democrat.

COUNTY TEACHERS' MEETING.

The Wayne county teachers Association held their usual monthly meeting in Wayne on Saturday, March 14th, in the court house hall. The president, Mrs. Fletcher, called the morning session to order at 10:30.

Mr. Joseph Cullen led the discussion of the lesson in U. S. History. The work in history extended from the causes of the Revolution to the adoption of the constitution. Mr. Brown and Mr. Mason gave interesting talks on the character of the colonists and their taxation by England. Miss White showed the effects the pulpit and press had upon them. The important battles of the Revolution were then taken up and the various campaigns traced out. In this Messrs. Howard, Blakesley and Park took prominent part. The history lesson took up the morning period.

The hearing of quotations from Pope opened the afternoon session. Responses were general. While awaiting arrival of two leaders, whose names were on the program, Supt. Fletcher spoke of the Dixon county institute at Wakefield, opening March 30 and urged as many as could do so, to attend to hear Prof. Saylor.

Prof. Boner read a helpful paper on "Elementary Science in rural Schools." He urged all to make a start in this work and not wait for apparatus as nature furnished plenty of material. A suggestive list of helpful books on this subject closed the paper. The paper was reviewed by Messrs. Park and Gibson and Mrs. Fletcher.

As M. O. Cunningham was absent the subject of "Narcotics" was opened by Miss White, who was followed by Messrs. Blakesley, Wilbur, Carroll, Howard, Miss Pittinger and Supt. Fletcher.

Mr. Mason read the program and gave a short talk on the North Nebraska Teachers' Association to be held at Fremont April 1-2-3. The program promised a very interesting and instructive meeting, among the many things are lectures by William Hawley Smith and Hon. W. J. Bryan.

The program for the next meeting was read and the association adjourned to meet the second Saturday of April. Elmer Lundburg, Secy.

Mrs. Myra Fletcher, Pres.
