Cancer Of the Face.

Mrs. Laura E. Mims, of Dawson, Ga., says: "A small pimple of a strawberry color appeared on my cheek, it soon began to grow rapidly, notwithstanding all efforts to check it. My eye became terribly inflamed, and was so swollen that for quite a while I could not see. The doctors said I had Cancer of the most malignant type, and after exhausting their efforts without doing me any good, they gave up the case as hopeless. When informed that my father had died from the same disease, they said I must die, as hereditary Cancer was incurable. At this crisis, I was advised to try S. S. S., and in a short while the Cancer began to discharge and continued to do so for three months, then it began to heal. I continued the medicine a while longer until the Cancer disappeared entirely. This was several years ago and there has been no return of the disease."

A Real Blood Remedy.

Cancer is a blood disease, and only a blood remedy will cure it. S. S. S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) is a real blood remedy, and never fails to permanently cure Cancer, Scrofula, Eczema, Rheumatism or any other disease of the blood. ARTICHOKES.

The wonderful productiveness of the improved artichokes and the ease with which they can be produced are always a surprise to those who cultivate them for the first time. They are an excellent food for cattle, sheep, hogs and horses, and also one of the cheapest and healthiest hog foods raised. And for milch cows they exceed any root grown for increasing the flow of milk and making it much richer. Last winter they were tested at the Fremont creamery on a small scale, and the report was good. The chemical analysis of carrots, sugar beets, mangolds and artichokes show that the latter contain more nutrition than any of the others.

The nutrition of the artichokes is in the form of sugar in solution therefore always ready for use with very little internal preparation on the part of the eater. They are highly important because no insect, blight or rust has yet struck them, and the tops make a fodder superior to corn fodder when properly handled. An acre will keep from twenty to thirty hogs during the fall and winter months. The improved variety is very easily eradicated after once being planted. My plan is to keep the hogs in the patch a little late in the spring; they will take the last one in the ground. The variety I grow is the Improved White French. It grows to be about six feet high and in the fall is covered with a yellow bloom. It grows very compactly in the ground, making it very easy for digging, and often yields as high as 800 bushels per acre. Low, black soil which is too frosty for corn and many other crops is fine land for the artichokes, for freezing will not hurt them. The keeping them through winter is very important. Last winter I kept 700 bushel in pits without scarcely losing a bushel. I picked out a dry spot and shovelled out a pit not over ten inches deep and about five feet wide, and as long as convenient. I piled the tubers up to a peak and put a shallow layer of straw on top to keep the dirt from rattling through; then I shovelled on dirt not to exceed five inches deep. If more dirt is put on they will surely heat and spoil.—J. H. Van Ness, in Prairie Farmer.

Feeding For Milk.

Let the milk flow be large or small, feed alone cannot control the quality of the milk. To a certain extent every cow has individuality of her own, a milking habit we may term it, and the kind, amount, terms, manner of feeding only effect this to a certain extent. In many cases better feeding and handling of the cows on the average farm would give a man a better profit. It requires a certain amount of feed to sustain animal life, and this must always come first. It is largely from the food consumed over and above this that the milk is produced. But is even possible to feed a ration that will keep the cow in a fairly thrifty condition and yet not supply the elements needed to enable the cow to produce milk to her full capacity. There is hardly any question but that some cows naturally give rich milk, while others kept under the same condition give poor milk; and the character of this proves that, whether rich or poor, fattening or milk producing will affect this only to a limited extent. A cow now with the habit of incli-

MAKING A TARIFF. WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE WORKING ON NEW BILL.

The Farmers' Interests Being Carefully Studied. Special correspondence: Washington, February, 1897. The Ways and Means Committee is pushing the work of the new tariff bill as rapidly as possible.

This suggestion indicates in some degree the amount of labor required to complete a bill of this kind and the amount of labor which the Ways and Means Committee is putting on this new measure.

Every question relating to their industries and interests is considered. Many of the important items relating to their industries have been acted upon already, and in all of these the new rates fixed have been such as to give a satisfactory protection.

On the question of reciprocity, nothing has as yet been determined. There is a disposition on the part of the committee to provide a reciprocity clause, but they are finding difficulty in this because of the fact that they do not expect to put sugar on the free list.

the past there is no reason to hope for co-operation on their part in anything proposed by the Republicans. There is, however, reason to believe that there will be sufficient co-operation on the part of the gold Democrats to bring about the passage of the bill in the Senate after a reasonable discussion.

DECLINE OF BRYANISM, His Rapid Disappearance Is Evidence that His Is a "Lost Cause."

Perhaps the only thing in American politics more remarkable than the rapid and picturesque rise of the silver movement before the last presidential election is the precipitous downward tendency of the same movement since the defeat of its viceroyal prophet, William Bryan.

A careful study of the official returns has convinced the sincere men of all political faiths that McKinley's victory was, with one exception, the most sweeping in the history of the country; and that Bryan's defeat was a deliberate, honest and mighty protest against dangerous fallacies, designed to mislead the unthinking and catch the time-serving.

Democracy to Join with Republicans in Favor of a Protective Measure. Unless the most experienced observers in Washington are greatly deceived, says an exchange, the Republicans need have no anxiety about the passing of the Republican tariff bill by the Senate, even if the Republican Senators are not a majority.

WAGES IN EUROPE. A Comparison with the Figures Paid in America.

The recent annual report of the Massachusetts bureau of statistics of labor contains a careful comparison of wages and prices here and abroad. Chief Wadlin ascertains that during the period 1890-1893 wages were 75.4 per cent higher in Massachusetts than in Great Britain, and the general average weekly wage is now 77 per cent higher.

THE WHITE HOUSE. The executive mansion, better known as the "White House," which is to be the home of Hon. William McKinley during the coming four years, will, at the end of his term, have given to the country a hundred years of its history.

The executive mansion, better known as the "White House," which is to be the home of Hon. William McKinley during the coming four years, will, at the end of his term, have given to the country a hundred years of its history. Although its corner stone was laid in 1792, it was not until the latter part of the year 1800 that it was occupied as a presidential residence.

BRYAN AS SPEAKER. The States in Which He Spoke Votes Against Him.

Table showing the number of votes cast for and against Bryan in various states during his campaign for Speaker of the House. States listed include Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, Illinois, Wisconsin, New Jersey, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Connecticut, Ohio, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Maryland, Rhode Island, Indiana, and West Virginia.

FIFTY MILLIONS OF GOLD. Added to the Currency of the United States in Six Months.

Within the last six months the gold mines of the United States have produced not less than $21,000,000 worth of that metal. As not more than 10 to 15 per cent of this metal has gone into the arts, and as none of it has been exported, it is apparent that at least $18,000,000 of new gold of our own production has been added to the amount of money in the country.

GOLD RAPIDLY INCREASING. Some Interesting Facts Bearing on the Question of the Use of Silver.

Table showing the production of gold in the United States and other countries for the years 1895 and 1896. Countries listed include United States, Africa, Australia, Russia, Mexico, India, China, Colombia, Brazil, Germany, Guiana (Brit.), Guiana (F'uch), Austria-Hungary, and Other countries.

A still better appreciation of the increase in the world's gold output can be obtained when it is remembered that for 1894 it amounted to $179,000,000 in round figures, while in 1891 the total value of all the gold mined was only about $130,000,000.

"STILL LACKING." The Tariff Law a Failure to the East.

The receipts for January were nearly $6,000,000 less than the expenditures. This is under the present Wilson tariff, which some Democrats affect to believe will soon produce a surplus of revenue.

SLOW BUT SURE. Business Improvements Coming as Rapidly as Could Be Expected.

There is a gradual but certain improvement in all departments of business activity, including the manufacturing and merchandising interests in all parts of the country. With this acceleration of trade, the city is fast becoming a center of confidence that is shown in the large purchases of raw materials for use in supplying a market that is certain to open up brisk and strong in the spring.

POPULISM AND SILVER. Was the People's Party Really the Friend of the White Metal?

In a speech before the bimetallic convention at Tampa on Tuesday ex-Senator John Martin declared that free silver was only a surface issue and that deep down beneath it were the real issues which the silver party would be called upon to solve.

FREE TRADE AT HOME. The Greatest "Free Trade" Field is Furnished by Our Own States.

There is a ripple of pleasurable and surprised excitement at present among the lonely devotees of the markets of the United States concerning the "irremediable" increase in the export of American manufactured goods. It is estimated that these exports will reach this year the "unparalleled" total of $260,000,000.

MORE WORK AND BETTER WAGES. Encouraging Figures for the Workmen of the Country.

Labor agitators constantly assert that the number of employed is decreasing and that wages are growing lower. The statistics of the United States census office from 1870 to 1890 approve these assertions, showing a constant increase both in the number of persons employed and

A Rat of Taste and Talent.
A story is told of a recently deceased rat who obtained oil from a narrow-necked bottle by dipping his tail therein. Then he licked the oil from his long and well-oiled tail and waxed fat. The truth of the story is certified by reputable men, and is contained in "Stories of Animal Sagacity," a book published by S. W. Partridge & Co., of London.

The rat had the misfortune to be born in a machine shop, where only metal was used, and there was, consequently, little good food for his kind. He was brought up in penury by his parents, and after he was old enough to look out for himself, gained a precarious livelihood by looking for scraps of food accidentally left around.

It happened that the men always kept a bottle of oil uncorked, and fastened by a wire to a certain part of the machinery. It was in constant use. One evening the thoughtful rat betook himself to a study of this bottle. It lay open temptingly before him. Its contents would make him fat and shiny, and a social leader among his companions.

Could he not get at the oil? He scratched his head and thought harder. Then his thinking gave a brilliant result. He had a tail—what use was he making of it? This was an opportunity, and he had been wasting it, but now he could use it.

Immediately he inserted the long tail as far as it would go into the narrow neck of the bottle and soaked it thoroughly in oil. Then he withdrew it and licked the oil carefully from off it. After that he repeated the same process as often as he felt hungry. A little judiciously selected wood provided the necessary solid element in this diet. He became fat and sleek and a leader among rats.

One day he was taking a copious meal of oil when he realized that he had forgotten his hereditary caution, and that a man was watching him. The man showed no sign of attacking him, but rather a pleased curiosity, and the rat therefore stayed. The result of this meeting was that in time the rat got into the habit of taking his meals in the presence of the workmen, and that to have killed so clever a creature would have been regarded as a crime. He led a happy life, and died of old and years.

Strict Justice.
Two Arabs sat down to dinner; one had five loaves, the other three. A stranger passing by desired permission to eat with them, which they agreed to. The stranger dined, laid down eight pieces of money, and departed. The proprietor of the five loaves took up five pieces, and left three for the other, who objected and insisted on receiving half. The cause came before Allah, who gave the following judgment: "Let the owner of the five loaves have seven pieces of money, and the owner of the three loaves, one; for, if we divide the eight loaves by three, they make twenty-four parts, of which he who laid down the five loaves had fifteen; whilst he who laid down three had only nine. As all fared alike, and eight shares was each man's proportion, the stranger ate seven parts of the first man's property, and only one belonging to the other; the money in justice must be divided accordingly."

A Fortunate Man:
Stranger—Is the editor in? Sanctum Sentinel—No, sir; he has just gone out.
Stranger—This makes three times I have called to-day and each time you have told me he has just gone out.

My Daughter Learned to Cook.
We used to have old-fashioned thin, like home-made greens.

We used to have just common soup, made out of pork and beans; But now its buillon, consommé, and things made from a book.

And put au feu and julienne, since my daughter's learned to cook.

We used to have a piece of beef—just ordinary meat.
And pickled pig's feet, spareribs, too, and other things to eat.
While now it's fillet and ragout, and leg of mutton braised,
And macaroni au gratin, and sheep's head Hollandaise.

Escalops a la Versailles—a la this and a la that.
And sweetbread, a la Dieppoise—it's enough to kill a cat!
But while I suffer deeply, I invariably look
As if I were delighted 'cause my daughter's learned to cook.

We have a lot of salad things, with dressing mayonnaise,
In place of oysters, lime points, trussed a dozen ways.
And orange robe, polye, float and peach meringues, also—
Enough to wreck a stomach that is made of plated brass!

The good old things have passed away, in silent, sad retreat;
We've lots of 'hic' alutin' things, but nothing much to eat.
And while I never say a word, and always pleasant look,
You bet I've had dyspepsia since my daughter's learned to cook.
Good Housekeeping.

Spiced-Grapes.
Take ten pounds of ripe grapes. Pop them from the skins and cook in a preserving kettle until the seeds can be pressed out in a colander. In the mean time cook the skins in a very small quantity of clear water until they are tender. Put all together in the preserving kettle, and add four pounds of brown sugar, one-half pint elder vinegar, two-tablespoonfuls of ground cinnamon, one tablespoonful ground cloves and cook slowly until quite thick—probably it will take over one hour, and will need constant watching to prevent burning. This will keep any length of time, and can be sealed or not.

Keeping Tomatoes.
Prof. Massey, of the North Carolina Experiment Station, writes the Garden and Forest that when frost is imminent he gathers the green tomatoes, wraps them separately in paper (old newspapers will answer) and packs them in boxes, which are stored in a place just warm enough to be secure from frost, the object being to keep them and not to ripen them. Then, as the fruits are wanted, a few of them are brought out at a time and placed in a warm position, where they will ripen in a few days. In this way he has kept his table supplied with sliced tomatoes up to midwinter.

Lemon Sauce.
One cup sugar and three heaping tea-spoonfuls of corn starch, mix well, add two cups of boiling water and cook eight or ten minutes, stirring frequently. Add the grated rind and juice of one large lemon, and a tablespoonful of butter, and serve at once. If the water boils away and the sauce becomes too thick add a little more hot water.

The above recipes are from the American Kitchen Magazine, a fact which is sufficient guarantee of their excellence.

Sauce for a Rich Fudding.
Make a rich boiled custard with a pint of hot cream, the yolks of four eggs and half a cup of sugar. Flavor with lemon, vanilla or maraschino. This is good with fruit pudding.

Helpful Hints.
The juice of a pineapple cuts the membrane from the throat of a diphtheritic patient when nothing else will.

A high stool or chair is of great convenience in a kitchen, as it enables the housewife to sit down when doing work that must be accomplished on a table.

Dissolve a little salt in the alcohol that is to be used for sponging clothing, particularly where there are greasy spots.

Andirons, lamps, candle lanterns, or anything made of the wrought-iron now so much used—can be freed from dirt by wiping the iron with a cotton cloth slightly dampened with kerosene oil.

If house plants become frozen, darken the room and sprinkle with water from the well, with a few drops of spirits of camphor in it. Keep the temperature at 45 degrees for twenty-four hours.

Tomatoes are almost as useful when green as when ripe. Green tomatoes are an excellent vegetable fried. Cut them into slices half an inch thick, sprinkle them with salt and pepper, dip in egg, and roll in crumbs; then fry each side until brown.

Keep in the Pantry.
A few cans of good soup for emergency dinners.

Canned mushrooms for sauces and meat dressings.

Fresh celery seed for salads, when celery is scarce.

A nice sandwich mixture that can be quickly prepared with gravy, stock or butter for hasty luncheons.

Canned lobster for salads and canned tongue, for serving cold, and potted chicken for slicing or making sandwiches.

A good supply of jelly and chocolate mixtures, etc., for the hasty preparation of layer cakes and pudding sauces.

TRULY A FREAK.
The Demo Represents Bird, Beast, and Reptile.

The most wonderful freak yet discovered is a product of Paragonia. The head and breast are distinctly birdlike. The beak is that of a carnivorous bird. The plumage is that of the bird of the tropics, bright red and green predominating, but all the colors of the rainbow being there. The legs, although covered with down and feathers, are distinctively animal-like in shape, the toes being tipped with sharp claws. The leg and foot is like that of the raccoon. The tail is in shape a reptile's, narrowing down to a point at the tip from the size of the body. It coils its tail like a snake, and looking at that end alone one would take it for a reptile. The tail is also covered with down and very small feathers, which present a scale-like appearance. The queer bird is known as the demo.

Don't Give Way to Despair,
Although you have suffered for a long time from malaria, dyspepsia, biliousness, nervousness, or indigestion. Know that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has cured worse cases than yours, and is potent to help you as it has helped hosts of others. Always remember that trite saying, "Deaths are dangerous." Mole hills grow to be mountains in consequence of disregarding it. Check disease at the outset with this incomparable defensive medicine.

Must Put Up a Good Bluff.
Uncle Sam has sent to the waters of Siam one little gunboat to call down the Emperor in the matter of a little difficulty into which a citizen of the United States has fallen. This little boat is of 1,177 tons burden, carrying eight rapid-firing guns. Now Siam's principal defensive force is her navy. She has 22 ships of war, each of them over 500 tons. There are 10,000 trained soldiers ready for service afloat, and a reserve of 2,000 more. The marine infantry recruited from the maritime provinces numbers 15,000. Therefore it will be necessary for the little boat, sent there by Uncle Sam to enforce his demands, to put up a good bluff and let it be distinctly understood who sent her.

Deafness Can't Be Cured
By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed, it has a tendency to close, thereby preventing the air from reaching the inner ear, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of the system, the hearing will never be restored. The normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness cured by our method. Business made by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Killed by Meteors.
In the year 616 a meteoric stone fell in China, shattering a cart and killing ten men. About the close of the seventeenth century a Captain Willmann reported that two of his sailors were killed at sea by the fall of a nine-pound meteorite. Not long after this a monk was killed near Milan in the same way, while a meteor which fell near New Concord in 1860 broke a railroad tie in two.

The per capita cost of living in New South Wales is the highest in the world, being nearly $200 per head per annum. In the United Kingdom it is about $100, in the United States $170, and in Canada $120.

A Profitable Earthquake.
Earthquakes occasionally profit mankind as in the case of Ouzoun-Ada, a part of the Caspian, which is the starting-point of the Trans-Caspian Railway of Samarkand. The part of the town was visited by an earthquake last year, and since then it has been found open to steamers which could not enter it before, owing to the shallow water.

Do You Know That There Is Science in Neatness? Be Wise and Use SAPOLIO

"You see, to start with," said a Cleveland, Ohio, compositor, my work—that of setting type at the case—allows me little chance for exercise, and is too confining for anybody who is in the least subject to indigestion or dyspepsia. That has been my trouble for years; and I attribute the recent noticeable improvement in my physical condition to the occasional use of

RIPANS TABLETS

I first heard of them through a fellow-workman who, on hearing my tale of woe, one day offered me a Tablet and said he would guarantee it to act on the liver. I took it under protest, but was surprised with the result. It was gentle but effective, and since then I have gradually noted an entire change in the working of my system, and I think that Ripans Tablets are the best remedy for liver and stomach troubles this side of anywhere. They are really in my case a substitute for physical exercise."

CORRESPONDENCE.

COON CREEK.
Martin Math made a flying trip to Wisner Wednesday.
The farmers have been testing their seed corn lately. There is not one-third of their best corn that will grow this year.
M. S. Engert has just received some clover seed and seed corn from the John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wisconsin.
One of the Cook Creek boys ran against another man's fist the other day and now he is carrying a pair of black eyes.
Nels Nelson has a baby boy at his home and lately he was given a name. It is William Jennings Bryan Nelson. Can Shakspeare beat that?
Measles have put in an appearance on Cook Creek and members of the families of Hunter, Thompson and Keanews are down with them.
It has been said by several of the farmers lately that if distress warrants were issued on the poor farmers these hard times, the commissioners' necks should pay the penalty.
Theodore Larson has rented the Ola Larson farm for five years. Theodore was seen going along the road the other day with a woman on his arm but we look for something else on his arm before long.
The 80 acres of land that James Finn bought of Alex Peterson four years ago were transferred back to Peterson the other day on account of the good democratic times we have had the past four years.

R. Ruth of Plum Creek, and Elmer Longnecker of Coon Creek wrestled for $10.00 a side at the Ola Larson farm last Friday night and the latter won. All the sports on the Creek were there and everything went off nice. Crist Nelson was referee.
