OBITUARY.

Kirk W. Oaks was born in Athens, Vermont, June 11, 1834; died April 30, 1897, near Belden, Nebraska; of a complication of diseases. Deceased came with his parents, when an infant, to Monmouth Ill., where he spent his boyhood days. After the death of his mother in 1847, (his father dying five years later), he made his home with his father's sister, Mrs. Abner Davis of Decora, until his marriage, April 27, 1865, to Miss Eleanor J. Long, who with two daughters and three sons survive him.

For many years he lived on the farm now occupied by William Ross. Twenty years ago he sold his home and with his family emigrated to western Iowa, four years since he moved to Nebraska.

Funeral was held May 2, from the M. E. church at Belden, of which congregation he was a consistent member.—Stroghurst, Ill., Graphic.

DIED—J. H. Cunningham, very suddenly of congestion of the lungs, aged 72 years. Deceased was the father of E. Cunningham, editor of this paper, and brother of David Cunningham of this place. He was a resident of Paterson, Pa., where he has lived all his life. He leaves one daughter and two sons to mourn his demise.—Republican.

On the evening of May 3rd, at his home near town, occurred the death of Wm. Lindsay, who for a long time has been in failing health.

Mr. Lindsay was one of the very early settlers of Fayette county. He was born near Hamilton in Scotland, Sept. 13, 1836, and came with his parents to the United States in 1851. They settled first at Woodstock, Ill., and moved to Fayette County, to the present homestead in 1854.

He was married to Mary Clyde in 1867. Two children were born to the family, Tina J. and Clyde.

Mr. Lindsay was a member of the Congregational church for over twenty-four years. He was a man of modest and reserved characteristics and was strictly upright and conscientious in all his dealings. He was known and will be missed but long remembered in our community. His wife and daughter who are thus bereft of husband and father, will have the sympathy of us all.

Rev. V. B. Hill conducted the funeral service to which many came to pay their last tribute of respect to one known so long and well.—Waucon Iowa, Sentinel.

Mr. Lindsay is the nephew of Archie Lindsay who resides south of Wayne.

STATE OF NEBRASKA

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN A CONDENSED FORM.

John Hoffman of Falls City Saves a Boy from Drowning in the Nemaha—But Loses His Own Life—Other Items of Interest.

Saves the Boy and Drowns Himself. John Hoffman was drowned in the Nemaha River at Falls City. He had been trying to clear the river of drifts, etc., caused by the late high water. He had been down stream and was coming back and caught the drift when his boat struck the dam it filled with water and sank. Hoffman and a young son of W. G. Brannin, who were in the boat, were thrown into the river. Hoffman pushed the boy so he could get hold of the boat and was thus saved. Hoffman had on heavy rubber boots and could not handle himself very well. The river was dragged and the body was found about twenty feet from where it went under.

Tramps Set the Air Brakes

Three tramps made it exceedingly interesting for the crew at the westbound Union Pacific freight train the other day two miles east of Elkhorst. The tramps were discovered in a box car by a brakeman, and by dint of considerable strong-arm work he persuaded the stowaways that walking was preferable to riding. As the train was ascending a heavy grade and running very slowly the tramps were able to get off without endangering their lives or limbs.

Intimidated a Witness

Charles M. Chamberlain, cashier of the Chamberlain Banking Company, was arrested at Tecumseh the other day by order of District Judge Stall of Lincoln on the charge of intimidating a witness. Mike Yorty, charged with burning a mill at Tecumseh, pleaded guilty, having in a previous confession implicated D. B. Osgood, a Lincoln attorney, whom he said had hired him to do the deed.

Tries to Burn the Jail

A tramp was locked up at Pierce by Marshal Goff for being drunk. He became enraged at this and set fire to a quilt that was on the bed in his cell. The alarm was given by the other occupants of the jail and quite a crowd gathered. The quilt was thrown out into the road and did no damage. The cell was of iron and nothing was in it that would burn but the bed clothes and the tramp himself. He was searched and matches found in his pockets, and his shoes were removed and matches were found there also.

Farmer Runs Away From Home

J. L. Smith, who has been living on a farm one mile north of Surprise, took two car loads of cattle to Omaha last week and returned with a team of money in his pocket. On the day after his return he took a team and started to town, telling his wife he would be back by 1 o'clock, and since that nothing has been heard of him. The team was found and returned from Uta, twenty miles distant.

Omaha Men Shot by a Footpad

At 9:30 Saturday night Dr. W. B. Wilcox was shot while resisting a footpad at the corner of Twenty-first and St. Mary's Avenue, Omaha. An hour later K. Grier, a butcher, was shot by a robber in his shop at Thirty-third and Parker Streets, three miles away. The same man did both jobs. Neither of the victims is dangerously hurt. The robber got nothing in either instance.

Steals a Buggy and Two Horses

A team of horses, one hay and one iron, together with a top buggy and harness, were stolen from Vincent's livery barn in Deweese the other night. The thief made the mistake of getting parts of two different sets of harness, which should assist in the identification of the rig. It is thought that they were driven north, toward Howard and Aurora.

Ship Cattle to Chicago

A special train left Ulysses Monday for Chicago of twenty-four cars of fat cattle; J. C. Schrader, eight cars; Martin & Withers, six cars; C. B. Wilson, four cars; W. H. Lamey, two cars; Bryon Beaver, two cars; J. H. Wynegar, two cars. These are all well fat cattle and will pay their owners a big profit.

Barwell Butters a Good Seller

The Loup Valley creamery, conducted by Ira Wagner is doing a splendid business. It is now getting cream enough to make about 400 pounds of butter each week. The butter is shipped direct to Boston, and it has come within 1 cent of topping the market.

MAY LEAD TO A WAR.

SENATE PASSES THE MORGAN BELLIGERENCY RESOLUTION.

Forty-one Members Vote Yes and but Fourteen Say Nay—Success of Measure Brings Cheers from the Galleries—President's Policy Defined.

Decisive Senate Vote. The long and exciting debate on the belligerency resolution recognizing the existence of a state of war in Cuba and declaring that strict neutrality shall be maintained by the United States passed the Senate by a decisive vote of 41 to 14 at a late hour Thursday afternoon.

Resolved, etc. That a condition of public war exists between the Government of Spain and the government proclaimed and for some time maintained by force of arms by the people of Cuba, and that the United States of America shall maintain a strict neutrality between the contending parties, according to each all the rights of belligerents in the ports and territory of the United States.

Analysis of the Vote. An analysis of the vote shows that the affirmative was cast by eighteen Republicans, nineteen Democrats and four Populists, and the negative by twelve Republicans and two Democrats.

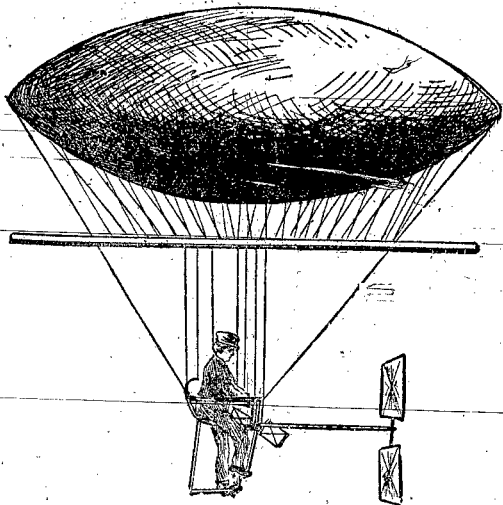

Prior to the final vote, the motion of Senator Hale to refer the resolution to the Committee on Foreign Relations was tabled—yeas, 34; nays, 19. Mr. Fairbanks of Indiana proposed a substitute providing that the President extend the good offices of the United States to Spain toward securing an end to the conflict and the ultimate independence of the island.

The debate occurred after an exciting debate participated in by Senators Thurston of Nebraska, Elkins of West Virginia, White of California, Fairbanks of Indiana, Hale of Maine, Spooner of Wisconsin and German of Maryland. Mr. Thurston spoke of the bloody contest which had raged during the last two years. There was ample information as to its extent, from American correspondents who had written their dispatches on the field of battle, from the reports which filled the records of the Senate and in the archives of the State Department.

RIOT IN A LEGISLATURE.

Bloodshed and rioting occurred Thursday in the Illinois House. An attempt was made to pull Speaker Curtis from the chair. P. J. Meany was hit on the cheek bone with an inkwell which was hurled directly at the Speaker, and which would have struck Mr. Curtis but for the fact that Meany was in the way and received the missile instead. An ugly gash was cut in Meany's face, from which the blood flowed freely. It was the stormiest scene witnessed in the Legislature for many years.

The trouble started immediately after Speaker Curtis called the House to order at 3 o'clock and lasted for an hour and a quarter. So great was the disturbance that it was heard plainly at the Grand Hotel, six blocks away.

The excitement was at fever heat during all the session, but reached a culmination point when Mr. Novak, who had been shouting for recognition for an hour, left his seat and proceeded up the aisle to the Speaker's desk.

D. V. WITH M'KINLEY.

PRESIDENT'S BUSY LIFE IN THE WHITE HOUSE.

One Day Would Make Many a Man Crazy—Every Moment of His Time Occupied—Has Less Time than He Who Digs Sewers.

Leads a Busy Life. Washington correspondence. The office of the President of the United States is no sinecure. It is one of the hardest in the gift of the nation to fill, as a sample day lived by President McKinley will suffice to show.

President McKinley rises at 7 o'clock and breakfasts with his family at 8:30. For half an hour after breakfast he lounges around with the family, a half hour which is probably the pleasantest of all the day. By 10 o'clock the President gets into his office. His special mail is all laid out for him to glance over.

The Raid of Visitors. From among the hundreds, yes, thousands, of letters that come to the White House bearing the name of the President, perhaps a dozen or two are found worthy of his special attention, and these are on his desk for his perusal. He also finds a lot of documents ready for his signature. These disposed of, he talks for a few moments with the private secretary about the business of the day, and by that time the great American public is clamoring to be cured in an hour. At 10 o'clock the raid begins. The waiting room is a study at this time. There are legless and armless veterans, in "faded blouse of blue," and in the nattiest of spring attire, but the bit of bronze button on the lapel of each is often associated with a tiny knot of ribbon, which means a "medal of honor" man.

Legions of Office-Seekers.

Among the waiters will be found aspirants for foreign consularships and the under offices, those are seeking preferment in this country, and those who come to give timely protest against certain appointments. Each and every one of them has an ax to grind and they use the President's nerves for a grindstone.

DEVIL-FISH AND DYNAMITE.

Signalor Adventure with an Octopus in Brunswick, Ga., Bay.

Ben Connor, who has been employed in the work carried on by Col. C. F. Goodyear in deepening Brunswick harbor, tells a thrilling story of an adventure with an octopus that occurred while they were blasting in the harbor.

The dynamite was fixed for exploding and placed in an old gunny sack and carefully lowered over the side, while the tug moved off some fifty yards, and so soon as the dynamite was safe on the bottom and we were at a safe distance away, the button was touched and the charge went off, sending up jets of water quite a hundred feet high, and frequently sending fine fish to the top, where they were picked up by the men.

WRECKED BY BANK PRESIDENT. Reports received at Washington on the Logansport Failure.

Reports received at the Treasury Department tend to show that the failure of the State National Bank at Logansport, Ind., was caused by the dishonesty of John F. Johnson, the president of the institution, who, it is claimed, appropriated not only the capital stock of the bank, $200,000, but also embezzled profits amounting to $300,000 more, and falsified the records so that the extent of his peculations cannot be determined at present.

Marriage. Third marriages are not favored by the Russian Church. It has just passed a decree imposing a religious penance of from three to five years in length upon all widows and widowers who attempt matrimony for the third time, and for all widows who marry after the age of sixty a rigid penance of two years' duration is prescribed.

Bottled Up!

Whether in the form of pill powder or liquid, the doctor's prescription for blood diseases is always the same—mercury or potash. These drugs bottle up and poison and dry up the system, but they also dry up the marrow in the bones at the same time. The suppleness and elasticity of the joints give way to a stiffness, the racking pains of rheumatism. The form gradually bends, the bones ache, while decrepitude and helplessness prematurely take possession of the body, and it is but a short step to a pair of crutches. Then comes falling of the hair and decay of the bones,—a condition truly horrible.

Contagious Blood Poison—the curse of mankind—is the most horrible of all diseases, and has always baffled the doctors. Their potash and mercury bottle up the poison, but it always breaks forth again attacking some delicate organ, frequently the nose and throat, filling them with eating sores. S.S.S. is the only known cure for this disease. It is guaranteed purely vegetable, and one thousand dollars reward is offered for proof to the contrary. It never fails to cure Contagious Blood Poison, Scrofula, Eczema, Rheumatism, Cancer, or any other disease of the blood. If you have a blood disease, take a remedy which will not injure you. Beware of mercury; don't do violence to your system. Don't get bottled up! Our books sent free to any address. Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

FARM GARDEN

POINTS IN ONION CULTURE.

Destroying Weeds With a Wheel Hoe. Moisture Required.

In accordance with an old, time honored custom, most of the onion growers in weeding scraped the soil away from the plants, as shown in Fig. 1, leaving the bulbs almost fully exposed on the surface of the ground. It is related in Farm and Fireside that a Michigan gardener who raises onions on a very large scale pictures a different method altogether, and this with generally satisfactory results. After the onion plants get some size he throws some soil against them from both sides (with a Planet, Jr., or similar wheel hoe, straddling the row). He does this while the weeds in the rows are yet small enough that they can be choked out by the soil covering. A row of onions thus hilled is shown in Fig. 2. The Michigan farmer claims that much labor in weeding is saved by this plan, and the onions do just as well as if left exposed above the ground. If we can hill with a wheel hoe, and thus kill the weeds, it is surely a quicker way than to go over the rows, scraping the soil away from the plants with a hand weeder. The opinion is expressed that it will not make much difference in the growth of the onion whether we scrape the soil away or pile it up against the plants.

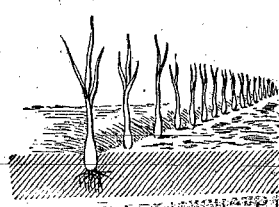

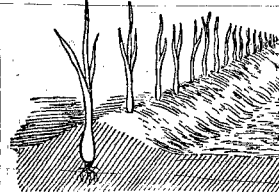

FIG. 1.—THE OLD PLAN.

A writer in the journal already quoted says on the subject of watering: "I have been puzzled why some of my onion plants did not do well when they had the advantage of the best and richest soil. It now seems to me that the trouble was chiefly one of lack of water. Some of these plants need more water than is frequently given them, and in many cases the soil underneath the surface is allowed to become dusty. We apply water from overhead, and the surface may appear quite wet, but we seldom have an inkling of how very dry the soil about the roots remains all this time.

"The new fad of subirrigation has the great advantage over the old plan of surface watering that the water which we apply does not show on the surface until the whole bed, from the bottom up, has received a thorough soaking. In other words, the new plan tempts us to use water more freely than we would by overhead watering. Most of our vegetable crops, especially lettuce, onions, celery, radishes, etc., require more water to do their best than is usually given them."

The Cowpea In Missouri.

The cowpea is advised as not seriously affected by extremes of heat or drought, and not easily smothered out by weeds. In central and southern Missouri it yields a larger quantity of vegetable matter, containing a larger amount of nitrogen, than does red clover. In those sections of the state adapted to it—namely, in central and southern Missouri—it is believed that it will prove more satisfactory as a green manure crop, especially on poor soils, than either red or crimson clover, as there is less difficulty in securing a stand and no danger of the hot weather in mid summer killing the young plants.

The cowpea should be sown at the rate of about a bushel and a half per acre, on soil prepared as for corn, either broadcast and covered with a cultivator to the depth of two or three inches, or drilled in with an ordinary wheat drill in rows 16 inches apart. It must not be sown too early in the spring. The best results obtained at the Missouri station were from sowings from the 1st to the 10th of June. If sown earlier, the plants grow slowly during cool weather and enable the weeds and grass to get a foothold. With later sowings the cowpeas grow rapidly enough to smother the weeds. The variety recommended by the station as best for general use in Missouri, is the Whippoorwill. It is the earliest, and if sown by the 10th of June will in average seasons mature seed in any section of Missouri. The Clay, the Black and the Unknown or Wonderfull are increasingly larger and later in the order named. The cured vines and pods make excellent hay, for which purpose the crop should be cut when most of the pods have been formed and the first ones are beginning to turn brown. A delay in cutting later than this causes loss of peas and leaves. If to be turned under for green manure, it is advised that the plants be allowed to become quite fully matured.

The air is four-fifths nitrogen, and The New England Homestead thinks that our farmers ought to grow more of those crops that will "corral" the atmospheric nitrogen.

Miss Myrtle Mills, who is attending school at the Nebraska Normal College at Wayne, came home last Friday evening, returning Monday morning. Miss Mills expresses herself as well pleased with the school, Prof. Pile and the faculty generally.—Laurel Advocate.

Mr. Arthur Miller closed a quite successful term of school in district No. 45 of Pierce county last Friday. A short and appropriate program was rendered with credit to the school and teacher. Many things have been hindrances to Mr. Miller in his work with the school, but as is characteristic of the gentleman, he conquered them as they came. He has finished one of the most successful terms of school ever taught in the village, and leaves with the esteem and best wishes of the community.—Randolph Times.

"Sweet Bells Jangled Out of Tune."

How much of woman's life happiness is lost for lack of harmony. A hundred sweet notes ruined by one little note of discord. Women who are not happy in their homes are not enjoying the perfect happiness of love and wifehood and motherhood are miserable from one year's end to the other because of some weakness or disease of the delicate organism of their sex. These delicate complaints make a jangling dissonance of so many lives, are not by any means a necessity of womanhood. They may be overcome and completely eradicated under judicious treatment. There is no need of repugnant examinations. There is no need of resorting to any unskilled, uneducated person. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the troubles of the feminine organism positively, completely and safely.

For nearly 30 years Dr. R. V. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. He is an eminent and expert specialist in this particular field of practice. Any woman may write to him with perfect confidence, and will receive free of charge, sound professional advice and suggestion for self-treatment by which—99 out of 100 cases of female complaint, even of the most obstinate kind, may be completely and permanently cured. Address him as above.

While we were living at Eagle Rock, Hot Springs, S. D., writes Mrs. C. C. Connor of Allegan Co., Va. I received from you a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. My daughter, aged 12 years, had been suffering for some time, and she has never had the necessary indisposition of womanhood. I advised her to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. She purchased one bottle and it cured her daughter. She was well and happy when I left there.

Constipation is the all-embracing cause of ill-health. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe.

Sick headache can be quickly and completely overcome by using those famous little pills known as "DeWitt's Little Early Risers."

According to reports the French wheat crop will be 61,000,000 bushels less this year than in 1896.

The debate on the tariff bill began in the Senate yesterday, opened for the republicans by Senator Aldrich. May the discussion be short.

Omaha wants all the great national conventions in 1898 to be held in that city. Well, it's perfectly proper that she should get them because she's part of Nebraska and the center of the Trans-Mississippi Exposition.

The United States Supreme Court adjourned Monday until October. No opinion was rendered in the Nebraska maximum freight rate case, hence Gov. Holcomb will not be privileged to call the legislature in extra session.

Gen. Weyler of Cuba, in an interview in regard to the passage of the Morgan resolution granting Cuban belligerency, says he would be glad if recognition comes, and declares it would help him. It undoubtedly will help him to get out of Cuba.

Should the bicycle be taxed? is a question for future solution. To be sure; there has always been a tax on horses which certainly establishes a precedent. Bikes are taxed $1.00 in St. Louis. In fact, if a bicycle bucks, it should be taxed $2.00 and costs.

Says the Washington News Letter: "With such men as Thurston, Foraker, and Mason, the personnel of the United States Senate in its ability in oratory has been immeasurably augmented. Since the days of Benton, of Douglas, and of Clay, a trio of more brilliant orators has not graced that body."

It may be that George Francis Train has a $20,000,000 interest in Omaha. However, he will have to show the Omahogs. They have been afflicted with flighty notions about an alrship but they are not afraid of any air castles in these days of building Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition buildings.

It matters little what some of the old back numbers do, there is a well known American determination that Cuba shall be free. This is not official but correct. The heroic American sentiment known to our beloved country from 1776 to the present time, will live, and to sympathize with the Cubans in their brave struggle for freedom is but natural. It is American.

The Sun in common with the republican press of the state has said a good many mean things about the Omaha Bee and its attitude to the republican party. An open confession is good for the soul and it must be admitted that had the party heeded the Bee's advice in the past it doubtless would now be in much better fighting condition.—Logan Valley Sun.

As soon as the U. S. Senate gets through with its belligerency, the outflow of gold, though of no consequence as it is not of a panic nature, will be stopped. As long as the foreigner gets a crack at the markets of Uncle Sam, he's going to put in his best "licks" and that is why they are shoving in their foreign made goods and carrying away our gold. For this reason the country at large is with Senator Wm. Mason of Illinois. He is fresh from the people who desire no "monkey" business at this time.

Governor Holcomb has named the following State Directors of the Trans-Mississippi Exposition who will be appointed July 9th, the date set by law for making their appointment: First District—H. M. Boydston, democrat, Nebraska City; Second District—Martin Dunham, republican, Omaha; Third District—W. A. Poynter, populist, Albion; Fourth District—C. D. Casper, democrat, David City; Fifth District—W. M. Dutton, silver republican, Hastings; Sixth District—Wm. Neville, populist, North Platte.

Last fall the pops and fusionists came out victorious and it was heralded broadcast what would be done for the people, etc. A fusion state board of equalization was appointed and has been in session, but to save their glitzards, in the case of the railroads they could not make a change in the assessed valuation, which was left the same as it has been for years. It was expected that these powerful concerns would be paying their share of the public taxes after all of the promises made during the campaign last fall, but oh, how the mighty have fallen. What will the pop song and dance be in the next campaign?

NEBRASKA REPUBLICANS

The Republican party suffered defeat at the polls in Nebraska last fall and its restoration to power should now be the purpose of the thoughtful, conscientious men who compose it.

But for one thing there could be no doubt of its immediate restoration. The poperaotic legislature which sat at Lincoln nullified the victory of the enemy. The session was nothing but a wake and political debauch. The disgraceful actions of the majority showed the popocrats to be dangerous and dishonest and unworthy of confidence. The people show much dissatisfaction and disgust with the action of their representatives.

The one thing standing in the way of republican success is the defalcation of two of the retiring state officials. Will this offset the weakened faith of the people in the honesty of purpose and policy of the enemy, as shown by the majority of the last legislature?

The Republican party condemns Moore and Bartley for their official misconduct. It is safe to predict that the state platform this year will denounce their defalcations in unmeasured terms, because the party never condones or countenances official misconduct. The republican press has from the first denounced the rascals in unmeasured terms.

Will the poperaotic platform adopted next fall arraign the ballot burglars? Will it denounce the high handed and arbitrary unseating of the Douglas county members, just because there was a brutal majority to do it? Will it arraign the rascals who manipulated bills so as to increase appropriations, and to show the passage of measures which did not have legislative sanction?

Nobody expects it to do anything of the kind. Instead of condemning this rottenness in its own party, as the republican press is doing, every little poperaotic sheet from Omaha to Ogallala is condoning it.

At a meeting of the John L. Webster Republican Club in Omaha last night Mr. Webster delivered an address in which he touched upon this subject. During the course of his remarks he said:

I do not know whether Moore and Bartley are guilty of the charges so freely asserted against them. It is too early to pass judgment upon them. It is a principle of law as old as the English speaking language that persons charged with crime are presumed to be innocent until proven guilty. When we humor that presumption, we are indulging in a principle of justice that had its existence before the Magna Charta.

If these men be conceded to be defalcators and embezzlers of public moneys their offences are not to be imputed to the party—but their crimes must rest upon their own heads. The Republican party never seeks to protect but hastens to condemn criminals. If these men are guilty they will be convicted in a republican court; if they are sentenced it will be by a republican judge; if they have betrayed the trust of the Republican party, that party will convict and condemn without hesitation and without reluctance.

If they have betrayed the trust and confidence we reposed in them, it furnishes no justification for condemning the great principles of the Republican party or its grand organization.

The army of Washington had a Benedict Arnold, but the people did not condemn the revolution, nor forsake the principles of the Declaration of Independence.

Mr. Webster spoke truly. Republicans will condemn their own scoundrels. Will the enemy do as much? Two republicans cannot represent the party, but a constitutional majority of the legislature, it must be admitted, does represent a party, certainly to a larger and fuller degree than two men.—Fremont Tribune.

How Well He Knows It.

It is discouraging to the friends of reform in the South and West that thus prematurely the movement for honest politics and sound money should be freighted down by a name which is potent only for evil. But it is still more discouraging to reflect that the man (Grover Cleveland) behind this name is as indefatigable as he is mischievous, that he is the author of the lax party discipline of which he complains; that he is the author of the Protection gibberish which the national convention in 1892 refused to adopt; that elected on a pledge of Tariff reform he sent the Tariff to the rear, and, advancing the money issue to the front, lost both; that he is very much richer than ever he was and much more ambitious than ever he was; that his removal to New Jersey was the first adroit step in his new plan of campaign; that every day of his life in that fine, effeminate Italian hand, he will write from two to fifty letters, addressed to persons in every part of the country; that posing as a retired statesman and philosopher, and playing upon the credulity of the simple-minded and easily flattered, he will leave no string untouched for stimulating the activity of the expectant; and day and night this Reform Club, having in charge the circulation of Democratic literature, will be silently, surely working to the one end which he, and they, have before them—his nomination in 1900.—Henry Watterson.

W. B. Johnson, Newark, O., says: "One Minute Cough Cure saved my only child from dying by croup." It has saved thousands of others suffering from croup, pneumonia, bronchitis and other serious throat and lung troubles.—Ortho.

Rambling Thoughts

BY NEMO.

To the Envious:—How do you better yourself by coveting the prosperity of others? Do you not rather let loose in your heart ravening wolves whose teeth are whetted to tear down those who run well? Many untoward things have happened to you, doubtless, and you feel sick at failures, but envy only leads you further astray. Concentration upon your own affairs (one of the ways to success) is impossible if your malevolent mind spends its strength in estimating the seemingly unfair distribution of worldly goods. The brighter the sunshine, the darker the shadow, and your heart would almost stand still with dread could you see the gloom along some of the ways you think so bright and happy. Tread serenely once more your own way, holding life to be a proving place of merit, and at the end there shall be peace.

To Bewildered Ones:—Buffeted by ill winds, with faith shaken by miseries that seem undeserved, you sometimes are tempted to cry out that life is naught but chance and mischance. But every analogy of nature is against you. There (and with you too) everything is concluded to be the result of cause and effect. There is a reason for all that is happening to you, difficult though it may be to discover it. Learn from the scientist. In a number of sciences, for instance, the study of the stars or the study of life, there is a point reached beyond which the light of reason fails and all becomes impenetrable darkness. The scientist must choose one of two ways, either conclude that the origin of things comes by chance, or that all is ordered and directed by a power beyond his ken. Which seems to you the more reasonable? I need hardly inquire! Then let your reason lead you to the same conclusion in relation to your own problems.

To Friendly Souls:—In ancient Mythology the world was believed to be held on the shoulders of Atlas. This man of mighty frame has his counterpart in these later years, and the fancy of the ancients does not seem so very remote, for I see this grand old age-marked world rolling quietly along and the most-sustaining influence in its friendship. The unselfishness of those who wish us well, out of pure goodness of heart, keeps many a toiler cheerfully in his place. God's vice-gerents on earth are the friends we have. When tempted and tried, even before we turn to God for guidance, our thought is almost invariably "What would dear—, my friend, think?" You magnanimous ones, whose eyes are blinded to our outer faults, but keen-visioned for the ideals and grandeur we are capable of, still exert your power unsparingly. The ways are hard and weary; stay not the precious influences that help us to believe in good and in effort and in ourselves.

To Ministers:—Let no man deprive you of your right to take active part in our country's affairs. You have the right and the responsibility as well. Bear with me for a few lines in order to see whether we agree.

The highest civilization is undoubtedly that in which there is the readiest interchange of advantages and opportunities among the members of the nation. We not only boast of a high civilization but we even dare to call ourselves "Christian." What is Christian civilization? The reply must be made that civilization, in order to be Christian in any sense, must be one that, as far as possible, from the highest to the lowest, is actuated by Christian principles. If this be true then, there is, as yet, very little danger of our going too far in such a direction. In fact, a glance over our political life up to this time, and a consideration of the motives that prompt many men into it, is quite sufficient reason for our not yet even approximating the Christian standard.

It must be borne in mind that any further introduction of Christian principles into politics and business will never be made by those who oppose such principles. The only hope that a gradual bettering of conditions and a gradual moving of our civilization forward to the humanity and brotherly kindness that ought to characterize it, has to be found in the active participation in all affairs of life by those who are the leaders of men along moral heights. The fact that our spirits take on a certain form of belief in relation to the future life does not in any way free us from responsibility here. We still need food and raiment, we still need money for the comforts of life and they are still obtainable only by toil. That toil still remains hampered by the social conditions of the day in which we live, and those conditions must necessarily remain hard and objectionable so long as they are solely brought about by those who are prompted by selfish motives. Let your light so shine before men in all the ways of life that, in their reaching after higher life they may not stumble and fall over material conditions that you could better. Hunger and thriftlessness and oppression are removable enemies to the faith you

The creamery is fast assuming proportions and will soon be ready to run.

A Harper was initiated in the ways and forms of the M. W. A. last Saturday evening.

The box supper given in the A. O. U. W. hall Tuesday night by the Degree of Honor, was a large affair. The supper netted them $23.

The ladies of Carroll circulated a remonstrance against the petition for a saloon. It would be better to have a licensed saloon than to have the same amount or more of liquor sold here without a license.

FAIRVIEW.

Mrs. Roy Huff is improving slowly.

Messrs. Haines and Black are making a pasture.

Our teacher attended the association at Carroll last Saturday.

We have the planks for the new bridge but nothing else.

Ben Wingert is finding a few days employment in this neighborhood.

Harry Sherwood and mother of Randolph, visited relatives in these parts last Sunday.

The breeze Sunday night was quite severe. However no crops were destroyed that the writer knows of.

Fairview was well represented at the D. of H. doings at Carroll last Tuesday night. They say it was grand.

There will be preaching next Sunday at the school house at 3 o'clock. Sunday school every Sunday at 2 o'clock.

Otto Black, Lillie and Clara Haines and their teacher went fishing last week and they say they had good luck.

Mr. Haines lost his saddle pony by some mysterious disease last week. He had been failing for some time. I guess his master had failed in the supply of confidence.

We notice Carroll has made another move toward entering into a co-partnership with some saloonists. Some of Carroll's young men are in great grief over the matter. Excuse our tears.

PLUM CREEK.

Peter Merton was shelling corn Tuesday.

Mr. Killion's school in No. 5, will close May 11, with a picnic dinner.

A number of the farmers of this precinct are re-planting their corn.

The county commissioners were looking over the road in this precinct last week.

County Supt. Fletcher was visiting schools in this part of the county during the past week.

John Liveringhouse has treated his new hog house to a coat of paint which adds much to its appearance.

We learn that a certain young couple of this precinct saw the much talked of air ship recently.

Mr. and Mrs. John Liveringhouse and Miss Pearl were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Worth of Garfield last Sunday.

Frank Long of Leslie, is quite a frequent visitor in this neighborhood. Of course we have no idea what Frank does for.

The boys will meet at C. W. Worth's next Sunday to organize a ball team. The boys have made application to enter the Western League.

Joe says the only reason he can give for the short crop of grass is that the load grazed too long on it. If you don't like short feed, Florence, drive on.

COLLEGE.

The Teachers' class has been organized for the coming year.

Prof. Fife boarded the train for the west Thursday, returning Saturday.

Miss Bell Blackstone, a former student, has been visiting the college the past week.

Rev. Theobald, the "theological Bill Nye," attended college Friday and gave the students a witty talk in Chapel.

The Philo Literary Society will render its program on Saturday night next instead of Friday, owing to the graduation exercises of the High School.

The debate, resolved "that the powers should crush Turkey," was decided for the negative; happily for eternal truth that the decision is not universal. Debate for next Saturday, as to that date the meetings have been changed, is resolved, "That Lincoln did more for his country than Washington." All invited. Seven o'clock sharp.

Proclamation By the Mayor.

The time will soon be here when we have the privilege to show our appreciation of the departed heroes of the Republic, and it is highly fitting that such a day should be generally observed.

As the 31st day of May has been chosen by the Grand Army Post to honor the memory of the departed heroes, I, Henry Ley, Mayor, do recommend to the people of Wayne and vicinity that we lay aside, as far as practicable, our ordinary avocations and refrain from whatever may disturb or mar an appropriate observance of the day.

Units in doing honor to the departed, revered veterans by taking part in the procession to visit the graves and decorate them with flowers. They spared not even themselves when the country called; let us give to them at least this one day of the year.

In testimony whereof I set my hand this 24th day of May, 1897.

HENRY LEY.

One Fare for the Round Trip to the Omaha Races.

All railroads will sell, within 150 miles from Omaha, round trip tickets to Omaha on June 8th to 11th, inclusive for one fare.

The trotting races occur on June 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th.

The field of horses, an unusually large one, includes many known trotters, as well as several new ones, which give promises of many surprises and a lively and interesting meeting is assured.

The Omaha Fair and Speed Association has secured two new and novel attractions at great expense, that will add greatly to the entertainment of visitors.

The great pacing horse JOHNNY, record 2:12, will each day attempt to lower his own record, going without driver or harness.

The horse-less carriage is another novelty. It will race each day with the fastest horse on the grounds, carrying four occupants, and will afford visitors the opportunity of seeing the first horse-less vehicle in the West.

The events include free-for-all trotting and free-for-all pacing races.

Don't thin your blood with sassafras or poison it with blue-mass; but aid Nature by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for constipation, biliousness and stomach and liver troubles. They are purely vegetable.—L. P. Orth.

Prof. C. H. Bright, of Grand Island, has been chosen principal of our schools for the ensuing year, and Mrs. A. L. Muirhead assistant, while Miss Miller and Mrs. Lowry were very appropriately re-elected to their respective positions. This makes a needed addition of one teacher.—Winside Tribune.

Mr. Bright is a graduate of the Nebraska Normal College and is well qualified for the position of principal.

Senator Morgan says his Cuban resolution was meant to precipitate war with Spain.

Owing to an error in the transcript issued by Police Judge Gordon of Omaha, Joseph Bartley, the defaulting state treasurer, may be released. It would seem that there is a great deal of law which is a humbug.

Not only piles of the very worst kind can be cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, but eczema, scalds, burns, boils, bruises, ulcers and other skin troubles can be instantly relieved by the same remedy.—L. P. Orth.
