7TH ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT.

Another Successful Year of Work Passed by the Nebraska Normal College.

It has been seven years since the Nebraska Normal College became an assured fact, and during that time hundreds of bright, young ladies and gentlemen have graduated from the different departments and have gone out into the world well fitted to fight and win the battles of this life. The year just closing is one of the most successful in the history of the College and Prof. Pile and his assistants should be proud of their years work. During the past year a large dormitory was built and other improvements made and the College is now better equipped in many ways than it has ever been.

The next school year begins Sept. 5 and all indications point to a greatly increased attendance. The commencement exercises are being held at the opera house having begun last Friday evening and will close tomorrow evening. On last Friday evening the Philomathean Literary Society rendered an excellent program and on Saturday evening the Crescent Society entertained a well pleased audience. These societies give literary programs at the college every Friday evening and the training received here has enabled many a student to deliver an excellent oration at the time of graduating whom it was almost impossible to get to recite before an audience when first entering college.

On Sunday morning the baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. Thos. Bithell of the M. E. Church, who took for the subject of his discourse, "The Sword of the Spirit", his text being found in Eph. 6:17. The sermon was one of the best ever listened to in Wayne on a like occasion, and the large and intelligent audience highly appreciated the efforts of Mr. Bithell. The student who follows out the thoughts presented in this sermon cannot fail to make a success in life.

Monday evening the elocution department presented the drama "New Madalen", which is pronounced by many to have been the best play ever produced by the college students. Mrs. Wallis of course, displayed great ability in the roll of an Army Nurse, and Miss Hanifan and Miss Mettlen did exceedingly well in the characters represented by them. The play was enjoyed throughout by a large audience.

On Tuesday evening a large crowd listened to an excellent program rendered by the Conservatory department. The students graduating from this department are Ross Cunningham, Minnie Burson, Minnie Gaertner and Prudence Bush, all residents of Wayne. The splendid manner in which each one performed the most difficult pieces, shows how well they have been trained by their able instructor, Miss Nellie Stewart.

Wednesday evening, a portion of those graduating from the Teachers' department gave their orations. It is not necessary for us to dwell at length upon the merits of each speaker. All did exceedingly well. The instrumental and vocal music rendered during the evening was highly appreciated by the audience. The remainder of the Teachers' class, and Miss Mary E. Ahern, who graduates from the Scientific department, will deliver their orations tonight. Those graduating from the Teachers' department are, Myrtle A. Mills, of Laurel; Jos. Carroll, Dixon; S. Winchell and Iona Lombard, of Stanton; Chas. E. Hill, of Wisper; Manie W. Webster, of Creston; L. H. Currier, Alexander, S. D.; Lewis Ome, Grand Island; Mary Cox, Lindsay; S. V. Morgaeridge, Valentine; Emma Shindur, Craig; Celia Wilkinson, Anna Lund, Minnie Burson and Emma Kintworth, of Wayne, and from the Scientific department, Mary E. Ahern, of Wayne.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

A Good Attendance and Harmonious in Every Respect—Judge Norris Strongly Endorsed for Congress.

Frank M. Northrop Nominated for County Attorney by Acclamation.

The republican county convention held at the court house Saturday afternoon, was one of the best conducted and most harmonious conventions held in Wayne county for years, and one which does not augur well for fusionism, as the republicans propose to present a solid front this fall to the enemy, the triple alliance.

Considering the fact that a heavy rain fell the night before preventing the caucuses from being held in a few precincts the attendance was good and the interest in the affairs was marked. During the intervals while committees were at work Judge Norris, Wayne county's unanimous choice for Congress, and Frank M. Northrop, the nominee for county attorney, made short speeches which were greeted with applause.

The pops who assembled expecting to see war to the knife were sadly disappointed for there was not a hitch nor a word of disapproval throughout the entire convention. The following are the full proceedings of the convention.

Wayne, Neb., Aug. 6, 1898. A meeting of the Republicans of Wayne county in convention, called by Nelson Grimsley, chairman of the republican central committee, was called to order by chairman, and call read by E. Cunningham, Sec'y., after which convention proceeded to organize. A. A. Welch was elected temporary chairman and Bert Brown, temporary Sec'y.

A motion was then made and approved that the chair appoint a committee of three on credentials, whereupon J. R. Manning, C. C. Brown and E. A. Lundburg were appointed and authorized to fill any vacancy that occur by precincts not being represented. Committee reported the following named delegates entitled to seats in this convention:

Chapin—C. W. Lowry, Geo. Lewis. Deer Creek—Geo. Grimsley, A. C. Wolf, J. P. White, J. R. Manning, A. J. Swartz, Garfield—D. E. Francis, W. B. Groat, F. Z. Francis.

Hoskins—Geo. Harrigfield, C. F. Lent, T. Shannon, Aug. Zimber, Ernest Behmer. Hunter—J. W. Fox, John Grimsley, B. W. Lutz, Sr., Geo. Mearns. Plum Creek—Dan McManigal, S. E. West, J. M. Coleman, W. H. Gildersleeve. Strahan—A. J. Laughlin, C. C. Brown, John Stallmuth.

Sherman—T. E. Evans, J. Hancock, O. W. Edwards. Wilbur—Adam Grant, A. Anson, H. E. Hansen, Chas. Shulthies. Winside—B. W. McKean, A. B. Cherry. Wayne, First Ward—B. Hunter, J. D. King, W. H. McNeal, S. H. McManis. Second Ward—A. T. Wittor, E. C. Osborn, J. S. French, Ran Frazier.

Third Ward—E. Cunningham, E. Philles, E. Lutz, N. Grimsley, A. C. Wolf. The following precincts were not represented: Brenna, Hancock, Logan, Leslie. Report of committee on credentials approved, and on motion temporary organization was made permanent.

Thereupon the following resolution was presented and adopted: Resolved, That the delegates here assembled in convention, representing and acting for the republican voters of Wayne county, and holding the highest regard for our esteemed fellow citizen, Judge W. F. Norris, whom we know to be a citizen of the highest type of method, and a true American, thoroughly in accord with President McKinley's administration, and believing it to be the earnest desire of a large majority of the republican voters of the Third congressional district of Nebraska that he shall be chosen as the republican nominee for Congress in the fall of 1898, do hereby instruct to use all honorable means to secure his nomination.

At this time a motion was made and approved that the chair appoint a committee of five to select delegates to the following conventions and present the same to this convention for its approval: State, Senatorial and Representative. The following named committee was appointed: E. Cunningham, J. J. W. Fox, J. R. Manning, S. K. West, W. H. McNeal. Said committee reported the following to the respective conventions:

TROOPS IN DANGER

Total Obliteration of Shafter's Men Threatened.

WHOLE ARMY IS SICK.

Not a Perfectly Well Man Among American Troops at Santiago.

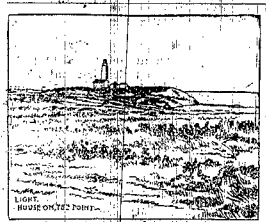

War Department Finally Awakens to Necessity of Action—Suffering Soldiers to Be Sent North as Rapidly as Possible—Are to Be Transported to Montauk Point, L. I.—Sensational Petition Signed by All the Leading Officers at Santiago.

Washington special. Gen. Shafter's army will be brought home to the United States as rapidly as possible. Information that the division commanders at Santiago, led by Col. Theodore Roosevelt, had addressed a letter to Gen. Shafter urging the immediate withdrawal of the Fifth corps from Cuba, was contained in a dispatch which was carried to the White House after a 10 o'clock Thursday morning, and a council of war was held at once with the full support of the field because known.

In the statement presented to Shafter by Roosevelt, and which is endorsed by all the general officers at Santiago, it is declared that half the army would die if kept in Cuba, and that the men must be sent north to save their lives.

For some days back Gen. Shafter's reports of the sickness in the army have been alarming. Nearly one-third of his men are in the hospitals. Most of them are disabled by malarial fever. Fortunately there are not many cases of yellow fever as yet, but Col. Roosevelt alleged that these figures, depressing as they are, do not give an adequate idea of the condition of the army. He states that not 10 per cent are fit for active work, and that the men are so weakened by malarial fever that if a genuine yellow fever epidemic were to break out it would sweep through them like a through-stab. The opinion has been generally held that if the army were moved to higher and healthier camps in the interior its sanitary condition would improve at once. Col. Roosevelt is of a contrary opinion. He asserts that the shifting of camp doubles the sick rate in our present weak condition. He believes that the men are run down that the labor involved in moving camp is too much for many of them. He states also that "the interior is rather worse than the coast," and that "our present camps are as healthy as any that can be had at this end of the island, can be had. The sick lists show that those camps are most unhealthy."

Col. Roosevelt declares that if the Santiago troops, with the exception of the regulars, are sent north, in six weeks the malarial will be out of their systems and

TO INCREASE DEWEY'S FLEET.

Oregon, Massachusetts and Newark Are Likely to Be Lent.

On account of their protracted stay in equatorial waters, some of the ships of Admiral Dewey's command need overhauling and before long they must be cleaned and otherwise put in order. The Navy Department is considering the question of withdrawing some of Dewey's vessels to Mare Island and Port Orchard for dry docking and assigning other vessels to take their places. The probability of the Asiatic squadron will be greatly increased in the number and character of ships. When the Spanish Government has complied with the terms of the United States concerning the evacuation of Cuba and Porto Rico, there will be no necessity of keeping so large a fleet in West Indian waters. The sending of reinforcements to Dewey will begin as soon as vessels have been cleaned and re-outfitted at New York, Norfolk and Port Royal. The cruiser Newark and the battleships Massachusetts and Oregon are likely to be the selections for service on the Asiatic station, forming, with the vessel now at Manila, a powerful fleet of four armorclads and seven other fighting ships, not including supply and dispatch boats and the Spanish gunboats picked up by Dewey in the Philippines.

WADE MUST WAIT.

Proposed Expedition to Porto Rico Has Been Postponed.

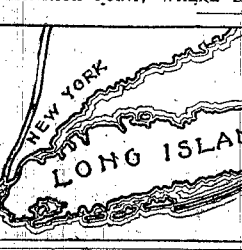

"According to the present understanding there will be no suspension for the present of the proposed expedition to Porto Rico under the command of Maj. Gen. Wade." This statement was made by an official at the War Department. Gen. Corbin denied that any such order had been issued in writing, but it was said by others that a verbal order thus understood had been reported to officials in charge of some of the departments. One reason given was that the removal of the sick from Santiago was the first object now. Another reason stated was that the peace negotiations might render unnecessary a second Porto Rican expedition.

SHAFTER FREED FROM BLAME.

Alger's Statement Defends His Connection with Transport Concho.

Gen. Shafter is released from all blame in sending convalescent soldiers from Santiago in the filthy transport Concho. In a statement signed by Secretary Alger it is said that the commander of the Concho did not report to Shafter that he needed water. The transports were given no shelter from the storms while at anchor off the Cuban coast, and this accounts in a measure for their bad condition. Secretary Alger's statement is based on the REPORT OF COL. CHARLES HEYL OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL'S OFFICE.

TROOPS FOR WADE'S DIVISION.

Regiments Selected, but List Is Subject to Change.

The list of volunteer regiments to be included in the provisional division to be sent to Porto Rico has been made by the President, Secretary Alger and Adjutant General Corbin. It is subject to change, and until it is definitely determined on the administration will not allow it to be published. Great difficulty is being experienced in selecting regiments in such a way as to satisfy the strong pressure which is being exerted from a large number of commonwealths to have organizations sent to the front.

ROOSEVELT IS REBUKED.

Secretary Alger Thinks the Colonel Unjustly Criticized Volunteers.

Secretary Alger has made public comment on the criticism of Col. Roosevelt, in which the latter asks to have his regiment of rough riders sent to Porto Rico. Roosevelt makes reflections upon the merit of the State troops as a whole. Alger's reply is curt and cautious. Roosevelt against making irrelevant comparisons. He says the State volunteers are as brave and capable as the rough riders or any other troops.

FOR BIG EUROPEAN SQUADRON.

Uncle Sam Will Soon Be Well Represented on Their Voyages to Water.

The naval officials are considering the formation of a big squadron to be stationed in European waters after the war is over. The intention is to reform the European squadron, but to make it much stronger than ever before. Just before the war began all the American warships were withdrawn from foreign stations except the Asiatic for service in the West Indies, and since then the officials have not had time to bother about arranging for the formation of a naval representation in alien waters. In late years the European station has dwindled in importance to the United States, until only three ships, none armored, were kept there. With the end of the war believed to be near, however, the navy officials have begun to talk over the character of the new European squadron and have practically reached the conclusion that a strong and formidable force should be sent there, not because of any likelihood of trouble with European nations, but to show the people over there the ships that whipped Spain's navy.

FALLING SICK BY HUNDREDS.

Delay in Transporting Prisoners Causes Embarrassment.

The delay in transporting the Spanish prisoners from Santiago to Spain is embarrassing the War Department in many ways, as it interferes with the carrying out of plans in regard to our own troops and involves the government in increasing daily expense. The contract for transporting the Spanish prisoners was awarded to the Compania Trans-Atlantico Espanola, but at the end of two weeks not a prisoner had been embarked for the voyage to Spain. The contract provided that several of the ships be delivered at Santiago within five days. Meanwhile, the prisoners have to be fed at great expense to the Government. They are falling sick by hundreds.

WATER POISONERS EXECUTED.

Treachorous Spanish Sympathizers Caught in Gomez's Camp.

News has been received in Washington that four Spaniards have been executed in the camp of Gen. Manuel Gomez, near a certain station for poisoning the water in several cisterns in the village of La Reforma, and that several others supposed to be in the conspiracy have been turned over to the Cuban civil authorities in that part of the island, to be given a civil trial. Several families were made seriously ill from drinking the water, and a number of deaths are reported. The men executed were "presentados," who had deserted from the Spanish camp and entered the Cuban lines, ostensibly to join their army.

FEVER DEATHS FORTY A DAY.

Frightful Sanitary Condition of the City of Santiago.

The reports regarding the healthfulness of Santiago are not borne out by facts. There is little yellow fever among the residents, they being vaccinated, but other diseases are causing a high death rate. The sanitary inspector has made a report to Gov. Wood, which says that dysentery and malarial fever are epidemic in the city. The deaths from these causes average forty a day. Under Spanish rule no attention whatever was paid to sanitation.

MEN ON YALE FARE POORLY.

Officer of the Ship Tells of the Voyage to Cuba.

An officer attached to the auxiliary cruiser Yale, which recently sailed for Cuba with a regiment of troops aboard, stated that the troops were detained aboard the crowded decks for three weeks, six weeks of which time was spent after the ship had reached Cuban waters. He said the men got soaking wet every time it rained and were herded like sheep on board, that there was but a ton of ice aboard, which was kept for the sick and the captain's table; that water was scarce and its use restricted; and that there were sixty cases of typhoid fever aboard, resulting in several deaths.

PROMOTIONS FOR BRAVERY.

Schley, Hobson and Others Will Be Substantially Remembered.

President McKinley has declined to fully recognize the meritorious and gallant conduct displayed in the war by American officers and men. They will be rewarded by promotions. Those known to be slated for advancement are Schley, Sampson, Hobson, Wainwright, Clark, Evans, Philip and many other brave officers and men.

PUT TO DEATH BECAUSE THEY FOUGHT FOR SPAIN.

Cubans bring reports to Santiago of the revolting slaughter of eighteen of their countrymen who bore arms for Spain.

The guerrillas were captured at Gibraza, and were put to death by machetes for bearing arms against the patriots.

WAR HISTORY OF A WEEK.

Saturday.

Madrid advises that the Spaniards are entrenching themselves at San Juan de Porto Rico.

The Navy Department received a dispatch from Admiral Dewey, saying that our forces may have to fight the Philippine insurgents, owing to the attitude assumed by Aguinaldo, their leader. All quiet at Manila. Gen. Merritt arrived and assumed command of our army there.

Washington, French ambassador in Washington, receiving President McKinley's reply to the Spanish note, presented credentials empowering him to act for Spain in the matter of peace negotiations. In consequence the terms as proposed by President McKinley were discussed at Manila, and when M. Cambon left the White House terms had practically been agreed upon.

Sunday.

Gen. Wade relieved of the command at Camp Thomas to lead a provisional brigade to Porto Rico.

Retreating Spanish soldiers in Porto Rico indulged in gross atrocities. Defenseless women and children were their victims.

Battleship Texas arrived at New York for repairs, having suffered to a considerable extent in the engagement with Cervera's fleet.

Monday.

Spaniards at San Juan sank a steamer to block the entrance to the harbor.

Said that President McKinley will call an extra session of both houses of Congress as soon as there be peace terms for ratification by the Senate.

Lieut. Richard Wrenson Hobson given a welcome at Atlanta, Ga., and then went to Litchia Springs where he met his mother and was given a reception.

Latest advices from Manila said that Admiral Dewey had received word from the city that the Spaniards were ready to surrender whenever called upon to do so.

A direct cable dispatch from Ponce, Porto Rico, said Gen. Miles' troops were gradually being cautiously making their way northward on the military road that extends from Ponce to San Juan. Gen. Brooke arrived at Ponce.

Sagasta and his cabinet held a four-hour session, discussing the terms of peace. A telegram was sent to Washington asking for an explanation of some point in the American position, the receipt of an answer an adjournment was taken.

Tuesday.

Gen. Garretson's brigade arrived at Ponce, Porto Rico.

Stories of outrage by retreating Spaniards in Porto Rico denied.

Madrid reports 2,000 Spanish volunteers in Porto Rico surrendered to Gen. Miles.

Gen. John C. Breckinridge arrived at Camp Thomas, Chickamauga, and assumed command of the troops there.

Gen. Garcia and his forces of Cuban insurgents reported to have defeated Spanish soldiers near Mayari after heavy fighting.

Notwithstanding the apparent speedy termination of the war, preparations go on in Washington to rush reinforcements to Porto Rico.

Gen. Merritt sent a telegram to Gen. Meritt at San Francisco, stating that 30,000 more troops should be sent to Manila because of fear of trouble with the insurgents.

President McKinley received dispatches from confidential agents in Europe, which were confirmed by advices to foreign diplomats in Washington, that Sagasta had decided to accept the terms of peace proposed by the United States.

Wednesday.

Eighteen regiments ordered to Porto Rico under Gen. Wade.

Gen. Miles formed practically a new plan of campaign in Porto Rico, his object being to hem in the Spanish troops at Alibonito, as well as to avoid mined roads.

In consequence of an appeal by the commanding officers in our army at Santiago, the President ordered Gen. Shafter's troops brought home as soon as possible.

Sagasta summoned political leaders to a conference in Madrid, presumably to discuss the peace terms.

Iron ore importers benefited by a change in the eastern Cuba tariff decided by the cabinet. The export duty on iron repeated, and a cargo tax of 20 cents a ton one way, 10 cents both ways, and no charge for vessels in ballast, ordered put in force.

Book-Making in the Middle Ages.

It required a man of great talents to be a successful publisher at that time, as much as or even more than it does today. Such an institution, for example, as the Sorbonne or University of Paris required the highest guarantees of character, capital and literary capacity in the licensed bookseller. He must be an adept in all the knowledge and science of the period, as well as perfectly skilled in the mechanical needs of his business. The university, too, which was always in close touch with the church, even when its studies had begun to broaden, exercised a jealous censorship, and some religious heresy should creep in, it was not only a crime, but also a mortal sin. The printer's press was found the transcripts were burned and the bookseller heavily fined. Sometimes his privileges might be entirely revoked, indeed, and he himself imprisoned. The bookseller could not even fix a price on his own products. Four of the guild in Paris, for example, were sworn as appraisers by the authorities of the Sorbonne to fix the selling value of a book, and any deviation from this was a penal offense. The students' price was fixed at two-thirds of the charge asked of the general purchaser. The booksellers could not dispose of their entire stock and trade without the license of the university, which must also approve the purchaser. As an additional help to students the Sorbonne in the middle of the fourteenth century framed a law compelling all booksellers to keep books to lend out on hire, and this example was imitated at Toulouse, Bologna, Vienna and Oxford. In this way circulating libraries were established in the middle ages.—Harper's Round Table.

George W. Vanderbilt.

George W. Vanderbilt, who has recently making his life for $1,000,000, need not resort to that expedient except for amusement, for Mr. Vanderbilt is worth $20,000,000. Altogether he is a peculiar fellow. He is passionately fond of collecting curious things, such as old rare books, odd coins, Egyptian beads, ancient Hindu weapons, and old bookshelves. He spends only $20,000 a year on himself and about $200,000 in charities, on other people who have no money at all. Once Mr. Vanderbilt thought he would like to see life from the reporter's point of view and ran himself to a newspaper at a very moderate salary. He retired from journalism not because he did not like his new duties, but because intense application to hard work wore down his health, and he felt that he would not be doing justice to himself if he persisted in an occupation that was injuring him without the necessity of doing so. Mr. Vanderbilt recently made a tour of the world and brought back with him a tremendous collection of curios, which he added to his already valuable store. He is a most studious, kind, simple man, and his whole life has been marked by an extreme devotion to his mother. His health has spoiled him in no way, and he is popular among young men who are not rich in the worldly wealth.

Don't blame a man for kicking if you call him a donkey.

AIDED BY MRS. PINKHAM.

Mrs. W. E. PAXTON, Youngtown, North Dakota, writes about her struggle to regain health after the birth of her little girl.

"I thank Mrs. PINKHAM—it is with pleasure that I add my testimony to your list, hoping that it may induce others to avail themselves of your valuable medicine."

"After the birth of my little girl, three years ago, my health was very poor. I had leucorrhoea badly, and a terrible bearing-down pain, which gradually grew worse, until I could do no work. Also had headache nearly all the time, and dizzy feelings. Menstruations were very profuse, appearing every two weeks."

"I took medicine from a good doctor, but it seemed to do no good. I was becoming alarmed over my condition, when I read your advertisement in a paper. I sent at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking two-thirds of the bottle I felt much better than I had for two months. After using three bottles I felt as strong and well as any one."

"I think it is the best medicine for female weakness ever advertised, and recommend it to every lady I meet suffering from this trouble."

"Maternity is a wonderful experience and many women approach it wholly unprepared. Childbirth under right conditions need not terrify women."

"The advice of Mrs. Pinkham is freely offered to all expectant mothers, and her advice is beyond question the most valuable to be obtained. If Mrs. Paxton had written to Mrs. Pinkham before confinement she would have been saved much suffering. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass."

Great will be the people's disappointment, beyond any doubt, if, in the diplomatic parley that will precede peace, the Philippines, which we have wrested from the clutches of Spain, should be sent back deliberately by us to the torture of that same merciless oppression.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

We believe that if a national plebiscite was invoked upon the question whether to restore the Philippines to Spain or to retain them at least for the present in possession of the United States, the people of the United States would vote in the proportion of four to one for their provisional retention.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

The people of the United States are in no sort of doubt as to what ought to be done with the Philippines. The conquest of the islands ought to be vigorously pushed, and every foot of ground which is captured ought to be held. Unquestionably this is the sentiment of a vast majority of the people.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Contagious blood poison is absolutely beyond the skill of the doctors. They may dose a patient for years on their mercurial and potash remedies, but he will never be rid of the disease, on the other hand, his condition will grow steadily worse. S. S. S. is the only cure for this terrible affliction, because it is the only remedy which goes direct to the cause of the disease and forces it from the system.

I was afflicted with Blood Poison, and the best doctors did me no good, though I took their treatment faithfully. In fact, I seemed to get worse all the while. I took a bottle of your so-called blood purifier, but they did not seem to reach the disease, and had no effect that I would never be cured of the disease. A friend of mine took S. S. S. and began to improve. I continued the medicine, and it cured me completely, building up my system and giving me a new lease of life. Although this was ten years ago, I have never yet had a sign of the disease to return.

It is like self-destruction to continue to take potash and mercury, besides totally destroying the digestion, they dry up the marrow in the bones, producing a stiffness and swelling of the joints, causing the hair to fall out, and completely wrecking the system.

S. S. S. for Blood is guaranteed Purely Vegetable, and is the only blood remedy free from these dangerous minerals. Book on self-treatment sent free by Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.

BUILDING HAY SHEEDS. Plans Suggested Which Imparticular Farmers May Find Useful. Stacking hay, and especially clover hay, is generally attended with waste, no matter how well the stacks may be built. In wet seasons the clover will be rank, will be full of water and will be hard to cure and hard to stack. It will be liable to rot in the stack, and in the end be worth about half as much as if you have not provided yourself with a hay shed made of tubular iron. This shed may be made of tubular iron, or telegraph poles or 8 by 8 pine timbers. Select a dry, high place convenient to your cattle yards 26 feet north and south and 40 feet east and west. Plant one of the poles 3 feet in the ground at each corner. If you prefer, in case you use 8 by 8 pine lumber, put a good stout oak post in the ground 4 feet at each corner and bolt your 8 by 8 poles to it. In this case it will not be necessary to use more than 18 feet or, for that matter, 16 feet timbers, although 20 feet are out of the way unless you are exposed to violent storms. Put another pole midway between the ends and two 12 feet apart at the sides, and you have the framework of your shed. You can then proceed in a way that any carpenter can point out to put on the plates, rafters and roof.

We would prefer having the roof flat, not more than one-third pitch, and it can be made of one inch boards or half inch or of shingles. The poles on the opposite side shall be tied together. Make the tie top feet from the top instead of at the top in order to give full swing to the fork. The horse fork can be put in in the usual way, and you have your hay shed. This will hold 40 tons of hay when well filled. If we used inch timbers for rafters, we would get them as dry as possible and nail them 4 inches from the side at any nailing point. This would allow them to cup. If we could get half inch or five-eighths, we would prefer it, as they will cup more freely, and the thinner boards will swell out quicker in case of rain and shed water better than the inch stuff.

Farmers who are ingenious can put a roof on a shed of this kind without going to the expense of boards by using sough grass bound in small sheaves and wiring it, so that it will shed water very well for several years. Having secured a hay shed of this character, it is not difficult to put the hay without handling it. For example, if his hay shed stands east and west he can put sheds 16 feet wide on the east, north and south, leaving one end free from which to take in the hay. That will give him a shed room of over 4,000 feet square, or equal to a barn 100 feet by 40 feet, at a comparatively small expense.

Beets in the Middle South. The conductor of a sugar factory at Staunton, Va., replies to numerous inquiries through the columns of the American Agriculturist. He states that he has found the best soil for beets there to be a warm clay or slate mixed with some sand, having a depth of 15 inches or more, plowed and subsoiled in fall, then deeply pulverized in spring and prepared for seed. Use phosphates and potash with nitrate of soda for a quick start, or manure from stock fed the beet leaves and pulp. Beets should not follow corn, because both crops take so much potash, but do well after wheat, rye, barley or oats.

The New Summer Mushroom. You like them. Why not try a frame or two of the new summer mushroom, Agaricus subrefescens? Make a hotbed of fresh horse droppings and a little loam from an old meadow, well worked together. When the first violent heat has pretty well subsided, insert the spawn in the same manner as one would that of the ordinary mushroom. This new kind can stand a good deal of heat and moisture—much more than the other, says American Gardening.

The Best Remedy for Flux. Mr. John Mathias, a well known stock dealer of Pulaski, Ky., says: "After suffering for over a week with flux, and my physician having failed to relieve me, I was advised to try Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhea remedy, and the first signs of getting the colic out of the bottle, and I was cured." Republican Congressional Convention.
The Republican elects the Third congressional district representatives to send delegates from their respective counties to a republican congressional convention to be held in the city of Norfolk on Tuesday, August 12, 1898, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for congressman from this district, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

Wayne county is entitled to nine delegates in this convention.
It is recommended that no proxies be admitted to the convention and that the delegation present be authorized to cast the entire vote of the delegation of the county which they represent.

GEO. MARSHALL, Chairman.
P. F. SPRECHER, Secretary.
Peace, is his well.

It will be common, plain Wm V. Allen after March 24th next.

It took President McKinley less than four months to make the haughty Spaniard climb down off of his high horse.

When it comes to talking about Wayne county, you may emphatically assert that she's got the crops and money, too.

The populists, demopops and free silver republicans have all been swallowed and now represent one large sized octopus.

The republicans of Nebraska propose to send a republican to the United States Senate to succeed Senator Allen. Bear this in mind.

Gen. Shafter's troops are being sent north from Santiago as fast as possible and regiments of immatures are being sent there to take their place.

All it requires to get into the fusion wagon is for two or three men to meet, select a party name—any old name—appoint yourselves delegates, and then you're acceptable.

Editor Nelson of the Hartington Herald, has purchased the Cedar County Leader, and consolidated the two papers. Therefore, Bro. Baird of the News, will have to represent the triple alliance.

The Nebraska Republican Newspaper Federation held its annual meeting at Lincoln hotel, Lincoln, on Tuesday evening, August 9th, 1898 at 8:30 o'clock, electing officers and transacting other business.

The greatest surprise of the popular circus is that which enveloped Governor Holcomb when he found his announcement that he was not a candidate for re-nomination taken so seriously that the vote accorded him could not be regarded as even complimentary.—See.

The republicans have come to the conclusion that they can do a little fusing themselves, and as a result the enemies' entrenchments will be vigorously attacked and a last great charge will be made on the 8th of next November to Oregonize the whole fusion "caboodle."

It must make the average free silver republican—if there is any—very tired to be driven into populism during these times, especially when the so-called free silver republicans claim to be in harmony with the g. o. p. except on the question of the coinage of silver. Come back before it is too late. You will be welcome.

Mr. Bryan thinks that by the adoption of free coinage of silver we can make the metal worth $1.20 the world over, but he thinks we are not great enough to establish and maintain a stable government in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. We don't suppose that Bryan could out Wm. McKinley can.—Lyons Sup.

On the stump Poynter is a bird and the demand for him among the republican campaigners is likely to be universal. When he ran against McKelvie John McCongress three years ago up in the Third district he made republican votes at every stand. He has no command over his mouth, it is said, and in the excitement of the moment gives the entire populistic snap away. Even Kelp for the republican demagogue who ran at the same time, beat him a thousand votes.—State Journal.

Senator Thurston predicts Nebraska will elect the republican state ticket and an four out of six congressmen. This will certainly be a glory enough and it is hoped that the senator can deliver the goods.—Fremont Tribune.

Whether we are "imperialists" or not, it will interest all of us to know that our flag now flies in the three zones, the arctic, the temperate and the torrid, and that only Denmark and Great Britain of all the nations, have so much extension of territory toward the north and south.—State Journal.

The guarantians McKinley, worthy champion of a great people. He courted peace before war; he did all he could to avert war; to secure by peace all the beneficial results which war could bring. War coming, as the loyal servant of the republic, he waged it with vigor, with skill. When its purposes are served his heart speaks out his first love—peace. This is his noble, generous magnanimity.—From Archbishop Ireland's Thanksgiving prayer.

Don't worry for a moment; President McKinley will not get the worst of it in the peace settlement with Spain. He did everything to effect a peaceful solution without war, but went right into preparing for war, and when the "Dons" wouldn't come to terms he was ready for them, and it took only three months to sink a few Spanish fleets, look the other out of them and cause them to cry for peace. McKinley is president and at the present writing it hasn't been discovered that the advice of a few of our populist friends of the Bryan persuasion, will be needed by the President.

It seems to hurt the feelings of the Wayne Democrat and numerous other papers of the same brand, when a republican paper gives Col. Bryan a little dig. They think because he has consented to serve his country in the capacity of a colonel, that everyone should fall down and worship him, but these same papers keep right on throwing slugs at President McKinley and resort to all kinds of methods to belittle him and his war policy. Before offering advice to the republican papers you had better stop barking at McKinley, who through the trying times of the past few months has shown such wonderful wisdom and foresight, and prevent himself to be complete master of the situation.

Frank A. Northrop, the republican nominee for county attorney, is a pioneer citizen of Wayne county, coming here in the early days. He has always been a faithful adherent to the building up of the county and its entire interests. He is one of the oldest citizens of Wayne, a city to which he has always lent his assistance in pushing it forward among the leading cities of the state. Mr. Northrop is a good lawyer, thoroughly qualified for the position and we believe the citizens of Wayne county owe him this mark of recognition irrespective of party, and The Herald hopes that he will receive the warm support of the entire republican party, and the older citizens, at least, of the other parties.

The stalwart democrats of Kansas have become so tired of the calamity crowd with which the name of their party has become associated in recent years, that they held a conference the other day and resolved "that it is the sense of this conference that the Democrats of Kansas put no state ticket in the field; but that it is the unanimous sense of the conference that democrats do all in their power to defeat fusion and populism in this state." These democrats are dyed too deeply in the wool to become republicans, but they will work and pray for the success of republicanism rather than allow the fusion calamity crowd to continue to play tag with the reputation of the state.—State Journal.

As a member of the state legislature Mr. Poynter made himself famous as the author and backer of some of the wild cat measures that for so long made the populist party a laughing stock of the country. Some of the democratic delegates further averred that he was a prohibitionist and voted for the submission of the amendment in 1889. Whatever the facts are regarding this last allegation, it yet remains an undisputed fact that Poynter's legislative record makes him a much weaker candidate than almost any of his competitors. * * * The head of the ticket being weak the tail is likely to suffer considerably. On the whole the republicans can feel very much relieved and gratified that their success, already indicated by the signs of the times, has been made comparatively certain, if Hayward or McKelvie is nominated, and a vigorous campaign prosecuted.—Lincoln News.

A Truly Wonderful Record.
The bureau of statistics has sent out its report of the foreign trade of the United States for the fiscal year 1898. In the matter of exports all records have been broken. The official report relates that the value of the exports is more than seven times that of 1835, four times as much as in 1869, twice as much as in 1877, 60 per cent more than in 1887, 20 per cent in excess of the great commercial year of 1892, and $180,000,000 more than the greatest year of our export trade—1897. The balance of trade in our favor is more than double that of any previous year, and nearly equal to that of the past five years combined. The net importations of gold exceed those of any preceding year in the history of the country, the total gold imports in excess of exports being for the full year $104,985,373, including gold bullion and ore, which no preceding year ever reached. It is $100,000,000 in excess of gold, while in this is added the fact that the imports of merchandise of the year are less than in any year since 1885, and with this single exception, less than in any year since 1870. It becomes apparent that the record of the fiscal year 1898 is an altogether unusual one.

The balance of trade in our favor in the year under consideration is $615,250,025 against $286,203,144 in 1897, $241,061,096 in 1879, $256,712,718 in 1891, $357,814,234 in 1873, $227,145,950 in 1894, and $202,875,986 in 1892, while no other year, except those mentioned, ever reached the $200,000,000 line in its balance of trade, or "excess of exports over imports" as it is termed in the official reports of the bureau of statistics. Indeed it is only since 1875 that the balance of trade has been, as a rule, in our favor. From 1871 to 1876 there were but sixteen occasions in which the exports of the year exceeded the imports. Since that time, however, the balance of trade has been almost constantly in our favor, only three years—1898, 1889 and 1893 showing an excess of imports of merchandise over our exports. "The excess of imports over exports in the 85 years prior to 1875 was $3,255,404,610, while the excess of exports over imports since that time has been $3,191,268,300. Thus the centennial year seems to have been a turning point in our commercial relations with other parts of the world. This extension of our import trade has been in all parts of the world, but especially with the distant points and with those countries and continents which but a decade ago purchased but little of our production.

To Africa, which in 1888 bought a little over $3,000,000 worth of our products, we have, during the past year, sold $17,000,000; to Japan, which took but little over $1,000,000 worth in 1888 our sales in the year just ended were valued at $21,000,000; to China, which took but 4,500,000 worth in 1888, we sold in 1898 $10,000,000 to Austro-Hungary, which took less than $500,000 worth in 1888, our sales in 1898 were over 5,000,000 in value; Belgium which took less than 10,000,000 worth in 1888, took 48,000,000; Denmark increased from $8,000,000 in 1888 to over 12,000,000 in 1898; Netherlands from 16,000,000 in '88 to 45,000,000 in '98; France from less than 40,000,000 in '88 to nearly 100,000,000 in '98; Germany from 56,000,000 in '88 to over 150,000,000 worth in '98; British North America from 38,000,000 in '88 to about 85,000,000 in '98; and the United Kingdom from 362,000,000 in '88 to about 510,000,000 in '98.—Herald.

LIGHT WEIGHT HOGS.

A correspondent writes asking what the real facts are with reference to the foreign and domestic demand for the light weight, or bacon hog, or whether this demand is sufficiently important to justify the western farmer in trying to meet it. As to the latter question every swine grower must be, to some extent, a law unto himself. He must judge whether in his situation, under his circumstances, and with the feeds at his command, an attempt to produce the bacon hog would be justifiable. As to the fact of the foreign demand, the supposed urgency exists chiefly and perhaps entirely in Great Britain. Speaking in a general way, the British market consumes annually 500,000,000 pounds of imported bacon. It comes mostly from the United States, Canada and Denmark. * * * We send from this country over 300,000,000 pounds of the amount, and it is of the kind that we are in the habit of growing, namely, the fat, or lard hog. There is a difference in the English market in the price obtained for the lean bacon, of which the exports from Canada and Denmark to a considerable extent consist, and that which is received for the bacon exported from this country. The extremes in price are, we believe, about 8 cents for the latter and 14 for the best and best cured bacon from Denmark or of home production.

It by no means follows however, that because Great Britain consumes a limited amount of 14-cent bacon, and a very large amount of 8, 9 and 10-cent bacon, that the people of that country would buy and pay for 500,000,000 lbs. of 14-cent bacon if it were offered them. To illustrate: There is at Chicago and in other large cities, a limited demand for choice cuts that sell from 25 to 30 cents a pound, but if it were proposed to turn all the beef that is sent to those cities into cuts of this kind, if such a thing were possible, it by no means follows that there would be a sale for such an amount of beef at 25 or 30 cents. In other words, the British demand is for 500,000,000 pounds of bacon. For the kind consumed by those to whom money is no object, a high price is paid, but it is probable that a very large proportion of the people who consume the rest of the bacon, which is sold at a lower price, could not consume it at all except by the fact that it is lower priced. If it were suddenly turned into 14-cent bacon it is probable that the whole mass of 14-cent bacon would suddenly tumble to nine or ten cents.

As to the domestic demand for light weights we hear a great deal of it in certain quarters, but we do not see a great deal of evidence of it in the market reports. It is vain for writers on the subject to urge on the farmer the production of light weights, and to insist that the market demands them, when in point of fact heavy weight hogs sell for as much, and often for more, per hundred pounds than the light weight hog. Especially is it vain to urge this when it admittedly costs more money, and requires a different and more expensive of feeding to make the light weight hogs of the kind the market is supposed to want, than it does to make the heavier hog.—Iowa Homestead.

John C. Hayes Writes an Interesting Letter to a Wayne Friend.
CAMP CUBA LIME, Aug 3, '98.
MR. O. H. BURSON,
Friend "Doc."—I suppose you think by this time that I have forgotten my promise but such is not the case. I had so much to do and no paper, stamps or anything else and have been busy making out the pay roll. I suppose you know what Company Clerk's work consists of. If my Captain sees me idle for one moment he soon finds me a job, but pay day is here, and oh! what a difference in the morning. All feel much better.

"Dr." I thought of you often coming down through Tennessee; passed thro' Murfreesboro. There is a large cemetery there. Could not help but think of how you old boys must have suffered in that God-forsaken country. Then on through Chattanooga, Lookout Mountain and Chickamauga. Did not have time to look around any there as we only stopped a few minutes, but after we left there we struck the most God-forsaken country you ever laid eyes on, and when we arrived at Jacksonville we were all ready to turn back but we had a job we couldn't quit. There are 18 regiments here and we have some very lively times. There are three canteens on the ground but none in our regiment. Willie, who is now, is a Presbyterian, but we get to Jacksonville once a week and make things lively.

If you had seen yours truly and two other boys trying to get by the provost guards in town to get to the bad lands. I imagine it would have made you think of old times. I see Fitzhugh Lee every day. He is a very common man and not swelled up like the little fish. We are camped in Panama Park on Pablo Bay; go bathing every night. We are right on the ground where Corbett and Mitchell fought. The grounds are very nice and a splendid place to bathe. Saw a lot of alligators the other day, and snakes galore; watermelons till you can't rest and a negro behind every stump. They come in herds after our laundry. The sand is shoe-mouth deep and stumps every step—not a very pleasant place to drill. Our menu is sow bosom, beans and black coffee and some bread the cook makes. We call them light rolls. One of the boys ate some of them yesterday and then went in bathing. He sank immediately.

I see by the paper that you and Jas. Britton are cutting weeds now for a living. You ought to have joined the army. "Beech" is camp orderly today and says to tell you he is the high duke; and Banister is on fatigue duty. Jack Hyatt cut his toe and is laying in his tent. He can get along without doing much. Well Doc, I have given you all the news in camp. Please tell Frank I will write him soon, and give my regards to all my friends. Will write more next time.
