Miss H. Wilkinson went to Des Moines Tuesday where she will spend a week visiting and purchasing a large line of the latest in fall and winter millinery. She will also attend the exposition a week.

Next week Archie McIntosh commences the erection of a four room addition to the residence of P. L. Miller. He will also build an addition to A. J. Ferguson's residence and put up a new residence for F. L. Neely.

Miss Laura Holtz who was a member of the graduating class of '98 of the Wayne High School, and who is now at Hartington, has secured a school about twenty miles from that place and will begin teaching September 13. She is attending institute at Hartington this week.

The Log Rolling Picnic held at Hartington last Thursday was a huge success in every particular. The weather was fine, the crowd was big and in a good humor, and the Hartington people did their best to do the best, and if any one failed to have a good time, it was their own fault. Peter was selected as the place for holding the next annual picnic. W. H. Hoguewood of Wayne, was elected President, and Henry Hecht of Hoskins, Vice Pres., and W. W. Cooper of Polka, Secretary and Treasurer.

OUR FALL STOCK

Is now coming in. The line will be much larger and more complete than ever before. AHERN.

One fare to Omaha and return Sept. 10th, 11th and morning of the 12th, good returning until and including Sept. 21st. Children over five and under twelve years one half rate. T. W. Moran, Agent.

F. A. Dearborn sold the Jas. Barbour farm three miles northeast of Wayne for $8,000 on Tuesday, to Claus Severs of Shelby county, Iowa, the price paid being $40 per acre. Wayne county real estate has come to be most desirable property for the best of farmers, and when a farm is sold and the owner refuses to accept all cash, it looks a little like prosperity.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. P. M. Corbit very pleasantly entertained at a four o'clock luncheon a large number of lady friends in honor of Miss Butler of Iowa City, Ia., and Mrs. Wachs of Allegheny City, Penn. National flowers predominated and they were abundant. The guests assembled were Mesdames N. Chace, Welch, Fuller, Wachs, Grimsley, DeWitt, Bennett, Montgomery, Williams, Girton, Philleo, Blanchard, Mitchell, Wheeler, Gamble, Leg, Ellis, Crawford, Geo. Goldie, Anderson, Feather, A. G. Howard, and Misses Sweet and Butler.

A number of persons are complaining about the condition of the grading up to the bridges between Wayne, and Henry Klopping's place. It seems that the end of the bridge is from six inches to one foot above the ground, and when a buggy or wagon leaves the bridge the occupants receive a severe jolt. The road overseers or commissioners should take care of these matters and see that the roads and bridges are kept in proper condition. It is their business and they should allow no charge of incompetency to be made against them.

Immense Stock Fall

Clothing being opened up every day. Suits for men and boys very reasonable this season. Harrington & Robbins.

Depler, Chester Brown, John Coleman, Fred French, Charles Craven, Mr. Brenner, C. E. Turnbull, Fay Wayne, Miles Sparger, Ira Richards, Mrs. Wm. Ford, Mrs. Girton, Mrs. Lobe and daughter, Apple, besides the members of the band and many others whose names we did not learn.

ON THE BANKS OF "THE MIGHTY MISSOURI"

That's where the Trans-Mississippi Exposition is placed, right at Nebraska's threshold, and where every Nebraskan should go and see it, for such a "lay-out" for instruction, amusement, cultivation and profitable information—not excelled by the World's Fair save in foreign exhibits—is likely to be but one opportunity in a lifetime, and the expense instead of being forbidding is inviting in the extreme.

The fifty cents you give at the gate instantly dwindles into insignificance on beholding at the first glance, what you are permitted to see—the extensiveness of the grounds in all their beautiful adornments of foliage and flowers laid out in lawns with lavish hands around the magnificent buildings, imposing in their beautiful domes, statuary and columns, creating thankful thoughts to the high order of genius that conceived and executed in such varied parts and such harmonious whole—in landscape and architecture, and to the management that has placed within our reach such a veritable instructive and aesthetic treat.

Walking the lovely pebbled drive-ways and promenades, inhaling elevating inspiration at every step, pleasure beaming from every eye in the great orderly, well-dressed multitude, a person feels his backbone straightening and his whole system growing young under the magic influence of this exhilarating and mighty panorama and that such a plant should spring up upon the edge of what comparatively but a few years ago was called The Great American Desert, is one of the bold marks by the wayside, of America's marvelous progress—one is urged to ask whether this is dreamland!

Go and see this "Show" neighbors, go and see this show, it is at your very door. The rapid "rail" will take you down the rich and lovely Logan valley—a jaunt with an "outing" worth all its costs in itself.

Omaha is doing the decent thing in good order, facilities of transportation and accommodations. Plenty of good rooms clean, comfortable and safe for fifty cents, meals inside and outside the Exposition grounds for fifteen to twenty-five cents, delightful and airy bowers where luncheons are served of delicious teas, astonishingly cheap. In fact the whole Exposition is a flame of glory from entrance to exit and when one comes away it is with a feeling that he has just finished a good book or parted with exquisite company.

H. Sullivan's, J. W. Epler & Co's, McVicker's Bakery, Farrand & Randall's, and at W. E. Brookings. MERRITT & BROCK.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

The city council convened last night for the purpose of opening the bids for the construction of the Electric Light plant. Six bids were filed with the Clerk and each company had a representative present. The companies bidding were the W. M. Thompson of Sioux City, Bioglow Electric Light & Supply Co. of Lincoln, Fort Wayne Electric Light Co., and three Omaha companies, J. T. Burke Electric Supply Co., Western Electric Supply Co., and Fairbanks & Morris. The bids were thoroughly examined and matters discussed but no conclusion reached and another meeting will be held to night at which time the contract will no doubt be let. The lowest bid for the plant complete, first-class, through-out and according to plans and specifications, is that of the Jno. T. Burke Company which will amount to about $1,200,000 which is within about $100 of the amount Mayor Ley has figured the plant would cost, and this too, with much heavier machinery than was first contemplated.

Wayne Herald: Miss Lucy Bruner has been notified by the Norfolk school board that she was unanimously elected Principal of the Washington High School of that city. She has handed her resignation to the Valentine school board and will accept the position at Norfolk.

Wayne now has as fine a china store as you will often see in a much larger city. It is opposite the post office and the proprietor is Chas. E. Beebe. It is full of nice chinaware, glassware, novelties of every description, and many things in the line of table cloths, fancy curtains and other pretty articles to suit the feminine tastes. Call and see the new store.

Last Sunday morning Frank Anderson, age 18 years, was found dead in bed at the home of N. Erickson north of the city, where he had been employed. It seems that Anderson had just recovered from a severe attack of diphtheria, through the efforts of Dr. Leisenring, but failed to heed the doctor's warning about returning to work and went to work Saturday afternoon upon the arrival of the thrasher. In the evening he became ill with the result as above stated. The funeral was held on Monday.

The front of the Wayne State Bank has been painted and presents a much improved appearance.

Perry & Porterfield shipped two car loads of hogs and Wm. Vincent two car loads of cattle to Omaha Monday.

Randolph Reporter: Wayne is making big preparations for the barbecue and peace jubilee which takes place there on September 15th. Wayne never does anything by halves.

Truth wears well. People have learned that DeWitt's Little Early Risers are reliable little pills for regulating the bowels, curing constipation and sick headache. They don't gripe. Orth.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Soaco, who have been visiting with their son, S. B., returned to their home at Warren, Ill., last week. Miss Elsie Soaco accompanied them and will visit for some time.

A number of the young lady friends of Miss Dolly Holtz gave her an agreeable surprise on last Saturday evening. She left this morning for Sioux City where she will enter the Samaritan Hospital.

Ballard's Snow Liniment cures rheumatism, neuralgia, headache, sprains, sore throat, cuts, bruises, old sores, corns and all pain and inflammation. The most penetrating liniment in the world. Try it, 50c. Wilkins & Co.

Claus Severs of Shelby county, Iowa, was a Wayne visitor Monday. He is one of the sturdy farmers of that country who has decided that Wayne county land is all O. K. and has purchased the farm of Jas. Barbour three miles northeast of the city.

There have been more men in Wayne the past week looking for farm lands than there has been in a like period for twelve years. It is an indication of the better times that exist and shows how Wayne county stands abroad. There is no better country for agricultural purposes anywhere.

It is not what a manufacturer says about his own medicine that cures the patient, but what the medicine does. Ballard's Horehound Syrup does the work and does it well. It cures coughs and colds in a day. Its healing, soothing, quieting. 25 & 50c. Wilkins & Co.

Wisner Chronicle: The Harding Creamery Co. has leased the Wayne creamery. This enterprising company is rapidly extending its business in this section of the state and is doing a great work in developing the industry which is rapidly becoming a leading interest to the state.

Ponca Journal: Wayne is waking up and is building and improving with its old time energy. Everything is prosperous and up and doing in Wayne, a bright and animated contrast to the grass grown streets and tenantless houses of two years ago. The only disappointment now is the failure to build a beet sugar factory, which, says the Democrat, has evidently gone to look for Donald McLean's railroad.

Randolph Times: John Hyatt was a Wayne visitor Wednesday and Thursday. He was accompanied home by his wife, who has been visiting at that place for several weeks past. The citizens of Wayne are making great preparations for a big peace jubilee and barbecue that will be held at that place Sept. 15th, and promise a big time to all who attend. Wayne people are good entertainers and they will have a good crowd.

Cedar County News: Thos. F. Bewick, late of Wayne, has been transferred to Hartington to buy grain for the Peavy Elevator Co. Mr. Bewick has been in the employ of this company for the past eighteen years and has been in the grain business about twenty-one years. He shipped the first grain over the Northwestern railroad from Jaynesville, Wis., when that road's great system was only nineteen miles long. Mr. Bewick is looking for a home to rent and will move his family to Hartington as soon as one can be found. Welcome.

Madison Reporter: The telephone exchange rates in Wayne have been reduced to $1.50 a month for business houses, and $1.00 a month for residences. Contrast with the prices charged for like service by the Nebraska Telephone Co.

There is no pain or discomfort when Tabler's Pile Ointment is used. It relieves that itching increased by scratching. It is prepared with scientific accuracy and professional knowledge and is the kind that cures blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles with no pain or loss of time. Wilkins & Co.

Mark Twain is the next famous man to be "anecdotalized" by the Ladies' Home Journal, and his closest friends have contributed twenty funny stories about the humorist for the article. The stories will show that all the good things about Mark Twain have not been told. Several ludicrous "snapshots" pictures of Mark have also been loaned by his friends—all printed for the first time.

Winside Tribune: M. S. Moats and Mr. Evans of Sherman precinct, were in town last Thursday. Mr. Moats is willing to be a candidate for commissioner from this district if the people want him. If it is true, as reported, that Commissioner Harrigfield will not be a candidate for re-nomination, it now looks as if Mr. Moats would have a walkaway for that honor. The writer, while at Randolph, became acquainted with Mr. Moats and knows him to be a thoroughly capable and upright man, and one whom we believe can be elected if nominated, and who, if elected commissioner, will fill the position with credit to himself and to the best interests of the county. This is not said in disparagement of Mr. Harrigfield or any other possible candidate for the commissionership, but is only such a voluntary tribute as we would pay to any other worthy man under similar circumstances.

The bud is more easily blighted than the full-blown rose. A young girl is more susceptible to weakness and disease that will wreck her in a womanly way than she is after she has attained to healthy womanhood. Thousands of women have their lives wrecked by troubles of this delicate description because of their own ignorance and the prudence of their mothers.

Whenever the wandering demon of ill-health finds a ship adrift upon the sea of ignorance, he steps on board, takes the helm, and steers straight for the marvellous straits of death. The young woman who has not been taught the necessity of taking care of her health in a womanly way is a ship adrift upon the sea of ignorance. Disease that wrecks her happiness will soon assume command. Young women who suffer from weakness and disease peculiar to their sex live under a terrible nervous tension, and their death is always threatened with insanity. The whole nervous system is affected by the constant dragging down of the delicate and sensitive organs. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the one perfect and unfailing specific for every ailment and disorder of this description. It fits a woman for wifehood and motherhood. It is the best of all known nerve tonics. It is the discovery of one of the most eminent and skillful specialists in disease of women.

I was troubled three years with female weakness," writes Miss Ethel Oley, of Bedford City, Bedford Co., Va. "I was troubled with pains in my left side all the time. When it came monthly, it was so bad that I would die with pain in my back and stomach. I also had a terrible nervous tension, and my death was always threatened with insanity. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and two of his Golden Medical Discovery, and do not have my pains at all and am in better health now than I ever was in my life."

How to preserve health and beauty are told in Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy, send 2¢ in stamps to cover mailing only. Cloth binding, 3 stamps. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

STATE.

- For Governor—M. L. HAYWARD, Otoe County.
- Lieutenant Governor—GEO. A. MURPHY, Gage County.
- Secretary of State—GENEK DURAS, Saline County.
- Auditor—T. L. MATTHEWS, Dodge County.
- Treasurer—PETER MORTENSEN, Valley County.
- Supl. of Public Instruction—J. F. SAYLOR, Lancaster County.
- Attorney General—N. D. JACKSON, Antelope County.
- Com. Public Lands and Buildings—G. R. WILLIAMS, Douglas County.

CONGRESSIONAL.

For Congressman, 3rd District, W. F. NORRIS, Wayne County.

COUNTY.

For County Attorney—FRANK M. NORTHROP.

The Republican party is the party of progress and may be expected to meet the exigencies of the times.

Jamaica now presents a request to come to the arms of Uncle Sam. This is quite a dig at Great Britain.

If Stanton county will name Louis Smithberger as their choice for representative, as it is Stanton county's turn to name the candidate, THE HERALD believes he can be elected easily.

You can rest assured of one fact—Nebraska will no longer stay in the populist column after this fall, and the whole thing may go republican. It would be the greatest act the people of the state have accomplished in years, if it does.

R. B. Schneider of Fremont, has been chosen chairman of the republican central committee of the state, and P. O. Hedlund has been made Secretary. It is a very strong organization and will conduct a hard and honest campaign.—York Times.

We think the farmers would "view with alarm" the fact that the populists are determined to force the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, issue, and as a result it knocks the wheat out of the prices of grain. Vote the republican ticket this fall and settle the question for all time to come.

"Who in thunder is Poynter?" asks Walt Mason. If he should ask this question of the regenerated Ross Hammond and the immaculate Tom Cooke they might inform the Bunker agitator that he is an honest man that they tried to buy two years ago and signally failed.—Madison Reporter.

Waugh! But how about the stock yards. Didn't they get him?

If you desire to see prices raised on farm products and a continuance of the times of the past year which were steadily improving, vote the republican ticket from top to bottom next November, but if you want to see the thing go back into the old rut of two or three years ago, vote the fusion ticket. Which do you prefer?

When you hear a blatant fusionist hooting about republican sealings this fall, keep your eyes open. You'll pretty nearly always find the hooter to be a man who refuses to pay his debts, is unable to do business in his own name, or is hunting hard for a soft berth under the fusion regime. It is well known that Bartley has been bitterly condemned and sentenced by republicans, and when a man has no other argument than this to present when the welfare of the whole country is at stake, he'll bear watching.

Judge Robinson's friends must feel delighted with Dr. Mackay of Norfolk asylum fame, as the head pusher of his campaign. Indeed it looks as though his campaign will be a crank campaign throughout.

The biennial encampment of the Knights of Pythias held at Indianapolis last week, was one of the most successful yet held. Over 18,000 Knights were in line in the parade, 10,000 of which were uniform rank.

It must make the average democrat or populist swell with pride to be compelled to adopt the methods they are obliged to adopt in that they may have even a semblance of a show to elect their candidates.

John Robinson is a good fellow, but that don't settle the question by a long ways. The people have either got to endorse the administration or repudiate it, and it don't seem that the bitter experience our farmers had three or four years past, until a year ago, would settle the question very decidedly.

According to a few four by six pop papers the fusionists are the salt of the land and the only pebbles on the beach, but why this egotism? What have you got outside of Nebraska? Nothing. What do you expect to get? Nothing. How much of Nebraska will you get this fall? Don't hitch up too high. Remember the Oregon.

The selection of Mr. Manning as a member of the congressional central committee from Wayne county, was a wise one. He is an energetic and tireless worker, and it will be no fault of his if there is a lack of interest in the congressional campaign. We hope every republican will lend Mr. Manning all the necessary aid required to place Wayne county in the position she justly should occupy, of being a republican county.

Do not be deceived; the republicans do not have 4900 votes to overcome in this congressional district. It must be remembered that hundreds of Judge Maxwell's old republican friends voted for him that will not vote for Robinson, for they were not of the so-called free silver republicans. In the first place only 3400 of a change is needed to turn the thing, and the republican vote that Maxwell received was over 3000, so that Judge Norris has about 600 the best of it. He will be elected.

The Emerson Times, whose editor was a delegate to the fusion congressional convention at Norfolk on the 10th inst., gives a very complete write up of that convention, a very commendable thing to do, (by the way Murray might get some valuable pointers of McKean) but the account of the proceedings of three conventions fails to reveal any such degree of concord as is absolutely essential for them to even have a shadow of a show of electing their gold democrat man Robinson. The times predicts, and he generally knows a thing or two, that the silver republican vote will certainly go to Judge Norris and make his election sure beyond a peradventure.—Thurston Republic.

If you are in favor of an administration that has made the greatest record made for years by any administration; one that has magnificently carried on a war forced upon it, to a successful termination in less than four months; an administration that has showed itself to be thoroughly American, one that upon the advent of President McKinley into office brought a quick return to prosperity, and one that will continue prosperity if given the power of congress, it is your duty to vote a republican ticket this fall. You cannot afford to longer dally with isms. It is dangerous. Past experience should teach anyone the folly of voting for fusionists and the fact that they may name some good men is no cause for voting against the best interests of the country.

Two years ago, when it became necessary for the demopops to run a man who had been a republican in order to catch the dissatisfied republican vote to insure success at the polls, Judge Maxwell was nominated. Mr. Maxwell received a very large republican vote—the so-called "free silver republican vote"—more, perhaps, than four-fifths of his majority. Since then, a large percentage of the republican voters have returned to the party, leaving only a few pernilious office-seekers to man the so-called free silver republican party, while we doubt not that some of them will vote for Judge Norris. We call the attention of the Democrat to the fact that when we say there are few free silver republicans now, it does not apply to the dissatisfied republicans who voted for Maxwell two years ago. The latter are the ones that will crush Maxwell's majority of two years ago.

The tramp has become a burden to the farmers as well as to town people, in addition to being a veritable nuisance to railroad companies. He it is who will neither work nor let anyone else work if he can prevent it, that is, the "professional tramp." He persists in building fires along the railways, endangers the farmers property, is continually bothering people for something to eat, and absolutely refuses to work when it is offered him. There appears to be only one way to abate this nuisance and that is for the legislature to pass a tramp law. It would no doubt be a grand good thing for the tramp himself, because it would get him out of the rut into which he has fallen. In addition to putting him to work it would imbue him with a spirit of independence and create in him a desire to renew his manhood. It would do away with a thing that has become a terrible nuisance to the public in general, and it is to be hoped some kind of a law will be passed.

The opposition is now asking why the Dingley law doesn't hold up the price of wheat. Why bless your souls, brethren, the Republican party never said it would. It is the same old law of supply and demand that governs the price of wheat—a law that you were going to repeal.—Pierce Call.

Our fusion friends speak of Judge Norris as a chronic office seek. We can see no crime or anything unjust in honorably aspiring to the best gifts at the hands of the people. However, if it is, where does Judge Robinson hold over Mr. Norris? Robinson has been a "chronic office" seeker ever since he has been in the state, so he is not so much peaches and cream. Our fusion friends should not be so silly along this line.

The republicans of this state declare that they are "unalterably opposed to the free coinage of silver." Judge Norris won't run on that kind of a platform as he has made too many free silver speeches for that kind of a plank for him to stand on.—Stanton Register.

Bah! Will the Register please inform us what kind of a platform Robinson stands on, a populist platform or a democratic platform. It would seem that he stands on a good many, and that they are about to crumble beneath him is visible on every hand.

The man who is a true populist this fall is like one without a country and without a flag to follow. The populist party is dead, killed by its self constituted leaders, bartered away, sold on the auction block for the benefit of a few office holding leaders. The true pop, who went in the movement from principle, and did not want to traffic for spoils, has been hounded out of the ranks or hooted into silence with the cry of "traitor," by the spoils-hunting crew in charge of the populist ship. The true populist abhors subserviency to the railroads, but the men he must acknowledge as leaders and the men for whom he must vote if he votes the ticket wearing a pop label, have their pockets lined with railroad passes. He hates the lawyers, but he finds a lawyer running on his ticket for every office in sight where glory is the prize of oratory. He loathes the banker, but the bankers are after what few political snaps the lawyers left. The true populist and the farmer who farms the soil are not in it in fusion politics.—Norfolk Journal.

NORTH NEBRASKA NOTES.

Osmond wants a hotel, and the Republican of that town claims there is a good opening for some one.

The Stanton Picket issued an exposition number last week containing an illustrated write-up of the business firms of that place.

The post office at Pierce was entered by thieves last Thursday night, and the safe blown open, the burglars securing about $5 in stamps.

Some one threw two large bricks through a window of Carl Romberg's residence at Oakland, last week Thursday night, but as the family had retired no one was injured.

Peter Wood of Lyons, recently picked a tomato from his vines, measuring thirteen and one-half by fourteen and three-quarters inches, and will take oath that such is a fact.

The question of dividing Knox county into two counties will again be submitted to the voters this fall. A petition signed by 735 voters in the proposed new county was filed last week with the clerk.

The two children of Tom Mackey of Niobrara were wading in the river near that place one day last week, when they stepped into a deep hole and both disappeared. The bodies were recovered on the following morning.

An exchange tells the following of a boy as he knelt at his mother's knee saying his evening prayer: "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep. If Uncle Sam don't lick Spain, I'll never say my prayers again."

Randolph had a fire a few days ago and now the papers are agitating the question of procuring operatives for fighting fire. They should make it so hot that the citizens would give heed to the papers and procure the apparatus necessary for fighting fire.

Bud Latta of Tekamah, has one of the best and speediest mares ever owned in Burt county. Her name is "Lena Russell" and she was bred and trained by her owner at Tekamah. She won the 2:20 pacer race at Joliet, Ill., last Saturday without being extended, in three straight heats, the time being 2:10 1/2, 2:11 1/4, 2:12 1/4. Purse, $1,000.

Some one recently fired three shots into the Neary brothers' house near Lyons, the shots entering the room where some members of the family were about to retire, but fortunately none of the family were injured. This episode, coupled with the cutting up of their harness on two different occasions, makes it appear as though they had enemies who are bent on their destruction in one way or another. The person or persons who are doing this work will be caught sooner or later and it will go hard with them.

A. P. Childs, the venerable pioneer journalist of Nebraska, editor of the Madison Reporter, is absolutely one of the ablest editors west of the Mississippi river, and has the brains and ability to manage some great daily newspaper and it is unfortunate that his financial condition is not such that he could assume control of a paper in keeping with his intellectual ability. He is original in thought and not a chronic imitator.—Lyons Mirror.

To relieve Moses' mind we suggest that in case Hitchcock of the Omaha World-Herald should defeat Mercer for Congress in the First district, that A. P. might then be able to assume control of the World-Herald.

FROM JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA!

John C. Hayes Writes Another Letter to "Doc" Burson.

CAMP CUBA LIBRE, FLA., AUG. 25.
Dear Friend "Doc": Your letter received. No, I can't say that your name would be Dennis, but it would sure be something else if I could meet you today. Florida still holds her reputation of being the next hottest place to h—l.

Just returned from drill, began at 6:30 and got through about 9:30, double time. How is that, with the mercury at 108 in the shade. "Doc" I guess we are elected to go to Cuba, as the tin soldier officers of the Third Regiment are all stuck on their jobs. Our first Lieutenant was promoted to Adjutant. The Captain, Second Lieutenant and First Sergeant are down to town on a 24-hour pass, so peace and happiness reigns in Co. G's quarters.

I just finished the guard detail—there's where I get even with the klookers. Was very careful not to put any Wayne boys on. Beech has the best snap in the Co. Goes to town every morning for the ice, measures it out to the different companies, and gets thro' at 9 o'clock for the day. He likes soldiering. Frank Banister says if he ever gets home, he will never be seen off his father's farm again. "Cotton Jack" also expresses himself as willing to farm for Jackson Hyatt next year. Wages no object; "and he fain would have filled his belly with the husks which the swine did eat, but no man gave unto him." Our company has been well represented in the Guard "parlors" and regimental fatigue duty is a snap.

Doc, I just bought a piece of 6-b from a coon, that would cause George Grant to leave a keg of beer. Co. "G" gave an entertainment in our company street Tuesday night. We have a quartette, song and dance artist, and a magician. The major was present and complimented the boys very highly.

Well "Doc" when I left I thought we would go to Manila, but I guess I will have to be contented with Havana. I go boat riding sometimes and am getting to be quite a fisherman. I often laugh to myself and think "if you could see me in rinks." The Captain says: "Corp Hayes, straighten up your feet," and the man that walks behind me is always tramping on my heels. I suppose those feet of mine will be the death of me yet. I am very sorry to hear that your old complaint has caught you again, but it will soon be cool there and then you will be O. K. We get moonshine whiskey here for 25c a pint. It is O. K., but don't drink much. Very near every man says he has lost his appetite for whiskey, but you ought to see them line up for pork and beans.

Kindly remember me to all the boys. Will close wishing you health and prosperity.

Modern Woodmen Day at Omaha.

Preparations have been well nigh completed by the head camp of Modern Woodmen of America for a great celebration on the Trans-Mississippi Exposition grounds on Woodmen Day, Thursday, September 22. A joint committee of the Omaha, South Omaha and Council Bluffs camps is assisting in the work of arranging the details and the event will undoubtedly be an epoch in the history of Woodcraft.

Among the features of the program for the day will be speech-making, a parade, competitive drill and fireworks. In the forenoon exercises will be held in the auditorium. Addresses of welcome will be made by President Wattles on behalf of the Exposition association, and by Governor Silas A. Holcomb on behalf of the state of Nebraska. Director A. R. Talbot and Supreme Oracle Mrs. Watts of the Royal Neighbors will respond, and Head Consul Northcutt will also make an address.

After the speech-making there will be a grand parade of Foresters, followed by a competitive drill for which the head camp will offer attractive prizes.

In the evening there will be a brilliant display of fireworks. The set pieces will include fire portraits of Head Consul Northcutt and Head Clerk Hawes of the Modern Woodmen, and Supreme Oracle Mrs. Watts of the Royal Neighbors. Emblems of both societies will also be shown in fire.

Neighbors of the Modern Woodmen and of the Royal Neighbors in all parts of the country are expected to take advantage in large numbers of the low railroad rates granted for Woodmen Day, to visit what is conceded to be one of the grandest of the world's great expositions.

The Democrat has interviewed one of the principle grain buyers and obtained the information that if the farmers all over the country hang on to their wheat as they are now doing in Wayne county, the cereal will be worth fifty cents per bushel inside of a week. Receipts were very light in Minneapolis last week and this buyer states that only in case of a glutted market will wheat go lower than fifty cents per bushel.—Democrat.

Give Warning of Winter

So the falling of the hair tells of the approach of age and declining power.

No matter how barren the tree nor how leafless it may seem, you confidently expect leaves again. And why? Because there is life at the roots.

So you need not worry about the falling of your hair, the threatened departure of youth and beauty. And why? Because if there is a spark of life remaining in the roots of the hair

SECURED MORE WAGES.

Harcourt's Gardener Persevered Until He Received $100 Yearly Increase.

Sir William Harcourt is said to be remarkable for a pronounced horror of little worries. This trait in the character of the great parliamentarian often leads, according to Cassell's Saturday Journal, to ridiculous scenes at home. For instance, on his Hampshire estate he employs an old gardener who firmly believes that his master is afraid of him.

This old servant, thinking his wage insufficient, determined to give notice, but notwithstanding that he waylaid Sir William in all parts of the grounds, and waited for him round corners, and stood on the homestead in the mornings, he never got any further than "If you please, Sir William—" before the latter would flidget nervously, turn his back and hurry away.

But the gardener's opportunity came. One fine morning, when standing upon a high ladder pruning a climbing rose, it occurred to him that he was just outside Sir William's dressing-room, and that he had better take the bull by the horns and give notice through the window. The latter was open, and peering cautiously into the apartment, the gardener espied Sir William leisurely brushing his hair.

Thereupon, in a loud voice, he called out: "If you please, Sir William, I want to tell you that I don't think as I can stay—" He got just far when Sir William precipitately fled into the next room. That day the minister left for London, and in the course of the week the gardener received a brief note, on House of Commons paper, saying simply:

"Your wages are increased £20 a year.—Harcourt." This missive is treasured in a little cottage, where small grandchildren have already grown to render additional honor to their grandfather on account of his successful dealings with a great ex-minister of the crown.

APPAREL FOR FALL.

THE "PROPER THING" IN SKIRTS AND JACKETS.

Double-Breasted Riding Habit Bodice—Silk to Reappear in Street Gowns—Skirts Made in Two Parts—Colors May Be Contrasted or Not.

Good-Bye to the Blouse.

New York correspondence.

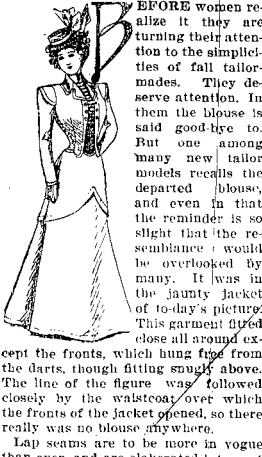

BEFORE women realize it they are turning their attention to the simplicities of fall tailor-mades. They deserve attention. In them the blouse is said good-bye to. But one among many new tailor models recalls the departed blouse, and even in that the reminder is so slight that the resemblance would be overlooked by many. It was in the jaunty jacket of to-day's picture. This garment fitted close all around except the fronts, which hung free from the darts, though fitting snugly above. The line of the figure was followed closely by the waistcoat, over which the fronts of the jacket opened, so there really was no blouse anywhere.

Lap seams are to be more in vogue than ever, and are elaborated into part of the ornamentation of the skirt, the lap being wide and the stitching marked. All skirts are more or less trimmed, though the trimming is often more than a row of stitching, a line of braid or a lap seam, which in each case outlines the joining of different portions of the skirt. The one-piece skirt is away out of date. The gown just described was a particular fetching affair in the new shade of electric green ladies' cloth in which a blonde, sun-bloomed a little from her summer outing, will look lovely.

The double-breasted riding habit bodshowed up the front, being the lighter. The reverse of the collar matched the underskirt, the rest of the bodice matching the upper. The shades of green were not in violent contrast. You notice that the coat sleeve has returned and that the stiffened shoulder stands straight out at the shoulder line. This means that women must beware of the uplifted shoulder, of which they were all so tired before they last got rid of it. The present model is a sure beginning of it, and it is to be feared that we shall be welcoming it again in a little while.

The last of these three double-breasted tailor gowns was in a rich red broad cloth. As it was planned for wear without the linen collar and dicky, it will serve later in the season than the other gowns sketched. This model in its shoulder caps adhered to a fashion to which we are sorry to say good-bye, yet in its oddly cut skirt proclaimed itself among the latest designs. Ordinarily the upper portion of the skirt starts from the belt. This gown, however, showed what may be styled an exaggerated patch let in at the back of the skirt and appearing at the sides. It seems a pity to cut up good material like that, especially when the lines of the figure are sacrificed also. But you see, these shoulder pieces required something violently in fashion in the rest of the dress. The single never gave a jaunty look to the bodice, but it was not in the least new, so separate measures were excusable in the skirt arrangement.

You will note that the women of the accompanying pictures are on the short waisted order. Don't think that it is an exaggerated notion of the fashionist artist, some of whom turn women into monstrosities so far as their figures go. The pictorial treatment is accurate portrayal of what street fashions are to be. We hear that women are to be slender, willowy and romantic in their winter dress-ups; now, if they are expected to display figures like these in outdoor rig, what a time there'll be for winter fashionables in daily changes from one thing to the other. Let's get some satisfaction out of a model that fully answers this whimsical riddle, yet that is especially suited to a plump figure. It is in the next illustration. The suit was double-breasted only below the curve of the bust, the line being most cleverly cut. Note the dip in the front of this season's jacket bodice, that marks it as brand new, and that makes it risky to bring out and remodel a jacket bodice held on hand. This gown was made of one of the new dull surface corded silks. It seems odd to think it, but still is going to appear in street dresses a good deal this coming season. "It sheds dust and swishes so nicely," one of its promoters urges. The trimming of the skirt was narrow black satin ribbon laid on flat. Such a gown will serve all through the fall and be pretty for next spring, but may not appear this winter.

Almost all skirts are divided into upper and lower skirt effects, as suggested but a few models show the upper skirt slit at side, back or front to show a panel effect underneath. A variation on this is especially effective. The skirt is at sides and back folded under in a deep pleat, the inside of the pleat being of contrasting color and material. The result is more graceful in many than a flat panel, and the relief of color is the same. In the concluding picture is a skirt of this sort. It was a smooth serge, in stone gray, the panel being black gros grain silk, facings of collar and straps matching the band.

The tailor finish displayed here was of the severe sort, but trimmed tailors suits are still abundant, and their trimming costs a pretty penny. Were it not for the expense of it, it would be safe to prophesy that plainness would be the dominant idea, but there's in this very point of expense a mighty attraction to many women. Besides, the dressers who are thus attracted are just the ones who set fashions for the rest.

New Implement of Warfare.

The greatest benefactor of modern times may be found in poor Polish chemist named Simon Pawlowski, of Warsaw. This obscure chemist has invented a new gas, which, if used in the battles of the future, will put an end to the horrible mutilations and terrible deaths at the battlefield.

The battles of the future will be the harmless bursting of Pavlovski shells, filled with a gas which, as soon as freed from its gelatine cage, will permeate the atmosphere breathed by the enemy and lull him in a fifteen hours sleep, from which they will not be awakened until their standards have been seized by the opposing army and their sleeping bodies removed to a place of safety.

The gas invented by Pawlowski is an anesthetic which is forced into a shell made of gelatine. When the latter bursts in the ranks of the enemy this gas escapes, rendering every soldier in the immediate vicinity soothingly unconscious for a long time, but with no other injury than to incapacitate him for the time from working against the opposing army.—New York World.

MRS. PINKHAM'S WARNING TO WOMEN.

Neglect is the Forerunner of Misery and Suffering—A Grateful Eusband Writes of His Wife's Recovery.

Nearly all the ill health of women is traceable to some derangement of the feminine organs. These derangements do not cure themselves, and neglect of the sensations resulting from them is only putting off trouble.

Pathetic stories are constantly coming to Mrs. Pinkham of women whose neglect has resulted in serious heart trouble and a whole train of woes.

Here is the story of a woman who was helped by Mrs. Pinkham after other treatment failed:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—It affords me very great pleasure to be able to state that I believe my wife owes her health to your medicine and good advice. For three years her health failed rapidly; she had heart trouble, often falling down in dizzy and fainting spells, shortness of breath, choking and smothering spells, bloating of the stomach, a dry cough, dyspeptic symptoms, menses irregular, scanty, and of an unnatural color. She had been treated by physicians with but little benefit. She has taken your treatment according to your directions, and is better in every way. I am well pleased with the result of your treatment, and give you permission to use my letter for the benefit of others.—

CHAS. H. AND MRS. MAY BURTON, Fort Meyer, Va.

The healing and strengthening power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all female ills is so well established that it needs no argument. For over twenty years it has been used by women with results that are truly wonderful.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all women who are puzzled about their health to write to her at Lynn, Mass., for advice. All such correspondence is seen by women only, and no charge is made.

TOLD BY THE SERGEANT.

From the Temperance Grand Rapids, Mich.

At the Michigan Soldiers' Home, Grand Rapids, lives Sergeant Richard Dunn, hale and hearty, although he carries the scars of several wounds sustained in some of the battles of the Civil War. In recounting his experiences to a reporter, Mr. Dunn said:

"About a year and a half ago I began to have trouble with my stomach. My suffering was so intense that I tried different medicines and doctored with several physicians, but without permanent relief.

"I recall an account of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People having cured a case of indigestion, and I decided to try a trial, which I did.

"A few boxes I was cured. I never felt better than I do now, even in my younger days. I am naturally a robust man, but that stomach trouble, together with rheumatism, which afterward set in, were making fast inroads upon my health, and I am satisfied that it would have been but a short time before my comrades would have been conducting the regulation funeral ceremonies over my remains had I not changed my mind and taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

"There are several others in the home who are taking these pills and are receiving great benefit. RICHARD DUNN."

AS FALL TAILOR GOWNS WILL BE FINISHED.

As fall tailors are busy with the finishing of their gowns, we have a few more to show. The first is a simple, yet elegant, gown in a rich red broad cloth. It features a double-breasted bodice with a high collar and a long, flowing skirt. The second is a gown in a light blue or lavender shade, with a similar double-breasted bodice and a skirt with a subtle pattern. The third is a gown in a dark, possibly black or navy, color, with a more structured bodice and a skirt that falls in soft folds. Each gown is shown on a model, highlighting the fit and the details of the tailoring.

Quarantined Toys.

"Did you ever hear of quarantined toys?" asked the toy dealer of a customer. "Some mother probably originated the idea. It isn't a profitable arrangement for dealers, because one set of toys can be made to serve a neighborhood. When not in use they are quarantined."

"It's like this," continued the dealer, taking up an iron horse, with a mechanical postman delivering the mail, "a child is taken ill in a neighborhood with scarlet fever and the house and family are at once isolated. The neighbors have great sympathy for the child's mother and they scheme together to send something that will help to amuse the little one when it is getting better. As you see, the toys are of iron, and are passed along with the request that each time they are used they shall be put into an oven, and baked before they are returned. I have known one set of toys to go through an epidemic."

"Doesn't baking them destroy their usefulness?"

"It melts off a leg sometimes, but great care is taken in getting them for the purpose. We have to look out for them as a regular part of our trade. Queer? Yes, but there are lots of queer things in our line, this is only one of them."

The skirt of this gown is an excellent example of one of the variations on the two-piece skirt. Though the upper part of the figure may be all curves and adorable plumpness, it will never do to suggest a lack of limb length. The long points of the upper portion of the skirt and the unbroken line of the front restores height. As a rule, the two portions of the skirt are of one material, their outlines suggested merely by seams or braiding. In this gown, however, two shades of green were used, the underskirt, which

FROM ACROSS THE PACIFIC!

Elmer Lundburg Writes More Letters For Publication in The Herald.

JULY 5, 1898.

This is 4:30 in the afternoon of July 5th. We passed the 180 meridian last week. When the ship crossed it at 9:35 a. m. Thursday it became 9:35 Friday. So you see, with the rest of them, I have lost a day of my life and last week had only six days for us. Maybe as I write this minute you are watching the fireworks in Nebraska. But we had our 4th and were celebrating before you had commenced. Little did we dream the 4th of July last year that the next one would be passed away out upon the Pacific and over seven thousand miles from home. But now, perhaps it is best that we do not know and cannot foresee what the days bring forth to us. But we, the First Nebraska Volunteers, en route for Manila did celebrate and in grand style too. And so they did on the China, the Zealandia and the Colon. Of course we didn't know how they did it. But we had speaking by the Colonel and several of the majors and captains, and the reading of the Declaration of Independence by Major Stotsenber, followed by a number of funny recitations by several, with singing and hand music, and I helped in that and music, too. Played alto. I have played in the band on so many Fourth's that I must not break the record. The director of the band for the 1st Nebraska Regt. is Lieut. Richards of Co. L, Omaha, and he was with the Wayne band during two engagements at the S. C. Corn Palace, so you see I am well acquainted with him. He wished me to lend for my horn before leaving Frisco but we were ordered to leave rather sudden and did not have time. And then again, I didn't really care to join. It is only an extra burden to look after with no additional pay. But the band boys do have a few privileges. But our celebration. In the morning, instead of hoisting our flag from each ship's signal staff (the pole at the stern of ships, which always floats during daylight, the colors of the country to which the vessel belongs.) "Old Glory" floats from every masthead of the four transports, while the Union Jack floated proudly from its staff at their bows. The wind blew a stiff breeze all the day long, and those sixteen big flags looked grand and inspiring, so far out in the ocean away from the land that gave it birth and crown it with such ennobling power. At noon the six pounders on the Colon boomed a salute to each star of the beautiful emblem waving so proudly aloft. We had some beerackers, but my, how that red lemonade was missed. Some of the boys bought additional supplies at Honolulu and among one lot ordered was a box of beerackers. That's how it came; a joke of the merchant. But our dinner! Of course it should be "extra" for that day. So we had mashed potatoes, roast beef, biscuits and pie. Now, pie is the delight of the soldier's heart. If a man doesn't like pie he would make a very poor soldier to begin with. This was made out of dried apples and peaches with something for a bottom and a top. I won't tell how hard nor how good it was; yum, yum. And you never tasted such potatoes and roast beef. It was canned roast beef, you see, and the innocent cutter which died to be thus canned might have been a pack-mule in the late rebellion. But we all voted it a grand, good dinner and enjoyed it, oh! so much.

Where did this picnic take place? I will tell you; about 166 31 E. 19 11 N. We sighted an island at this point, just a stretch of sand, only eight feet above water. I guess its only inhabitants were mud turtles. The China stopped and sent a boat ashore; what it was for I don't know for the other three ships went right and almost left the China from sight before she started to follow. But I think it was to give target practice to the artillery aboard her, for she sailed ahead for a similar purpose before. But the boys conjecture and invent so many stories, and it is a very fertile field for them for they have not much else to do. They said it was to get a supply of turtles for soup; that she stopped to await a convoy to accompany us to Manila, to assure our safety; etc. The next day they said that Gen. Green (on board China) put an American flag on shore, and left papers telling of the expedition. The island is worthless. Its name is Wake, or Halcyon Island and is not marked on small maps.

July 25, 1898.

I just returned from a stroll along the shores of Manila bay, and was told that if letters were in by 8:00 they would go by way of Hong Kong. I must take advantage of every chance to send letters for they are few enough. Will get mail tonight or in the morning for the third expedition has arrived. Gen. Merritt's flag ship came in about noon and the rest will be in in a few hours. I have spent every afternoon except one, since landing, in taking in the sights. Right after dinner a couple of us would "sneak" through the guard lines and make a tour from camp far enough so as to be back by supper time. There is no danger so long as we do not get near Spanish lines around Manila for the insurgents have them entirely hemmed in the city, while the insurgents and Americans hold the island of Luzon. Last Sunday the insurgents fought the hardest battle they have in this war, and about sixteen were killed or wounded. Two of us were over to their hospital the other day. They are taken care of by native doctors and well taken care of and in good quarters—a large stone building built for the Spanish government of that particular province. Yesterday afternoon we went along shore of the bay looking for shells. There are just lots and lots of beautiful shells along the beach. I have a tomato can half full of very pretty ones. While they are all small it is quite a variety. I have also a dozen or more of large ones, nearly flat and from two to five inches across. They are their for windows in the better class of houses in Cavite. Some of the windows have over a hundred of these little panes. The shells are translucent; while they admit light they keep out old Salt's fiery darts whenever he shows his power during the day. This is a great country for sea-shells and among them is often found mother of pearls. Our company dug a well in the camp street and about six feet down took our bushels of shell but they were most all decayed and imperfect. This is about a quarter of a mile back from the shore, so it gives a good idea of the amount of formation of at least this part of the island. Our trip yesterday took us to the mouth of the river Parig. There is quite a large native village here.

BRENNA

Hurrah for Uncle Sam. All hands are busy threshing. Some of the farmers are plowing. Corn looks fine since the last rain. The Brown and Baker families went to Hartington to attend the picnic. The intense heat is very severe on those who are engaged at heavy labor. Mr. Lewis and daughters have been in Omaha attending the exposition during the past week. Mr. Westerhouse has sold 5,000 bushels of corn at 21 cents, and is now engaged in hauling it away. Everybody hereabouts will attend the celebration and barbecue at Wayne Thursday, September 15th. Khabron Barrett was overcome by the heat last Saturday while helping Geo. Hass thresh, and fell over. There was no preaching at Graeb's church last Sunday, as Mr. Wright went to Norfolk to attend the camp meeting. James Ernest is looking for his wife and brother and sister from Bismarck this week. Jim says the people in Bismarck are all O. K. Charley Seestran's horse became frightened last Sunday while going home from church, and jumped into Perry Ben-shoof's buggy, turning it over and throwing Mrs. Ben-shoof and children out. Both teams ran away, but no one was hurt.

CARROLL

Mr. J. Emery visited in Wakefield Sunday. Major White made a visit to Sioux City on Sunday. Miss Emma Berry visited in Hartington the past week. Miss Nellie Swartz has returned home from a short visit at Soo City. J. R. Manning is expecting about a thousand head of cattle from the west. Miss Mary and Maggie Isaacs left Tuesday for a visit to their old home in Ohio. Sam and Walter Hurlburt received a car load of cattle from South Omaha on Saturday. Everyone puts off as much work for tomorrow as if he expected the day to be a week long. Farmers feared the hot winds of the past few days but as yet no damages have been reported. The Carroll House is receiving a new coat of paint which it has been badly in need of for some time. Everyone in and around Carroll will take a day off on Sept. 15th, and attend the peace jubilee at Wayne. Mr. Bailey and three boys returned to Carroll Saturday from California where they went some time ago. School opens Monday. Miss Mason of Wayne, teaches the high school and Miss Reynolds of Creighton, the primary room. Wirt Hetherington and Jas. P. Howe of Atobinson, Kansas, are visiting at the home of the latter's uncle, Mr. W. H. Swartz. Services in the Baptist church Sunday were conducted by Rev. V. Morgan of London, England, in the morning and Rev. Russell, a Welsh missionary, in the evening. The union picnic of the Woodman and Workmen is being held here today. The Winside Band is furnishing the music and several hundred people are expected here this afternoon.

WINSIDE

Everybody will attend the barbecue and peace jubilee at Wayne on Sept. 15. Sheriff Cherry of Wayne, was in Winside Monday. Misses Mary Morin and Mary Gaebler droye to Wayne last week. J. G. Morrison of Lincoln, is in this vicinity looking after his farms. W. M. Gus, D. W. Shaw and Robert Bender have just completed a creamery building for the Harding Creamery Co. at Poster, Neb. John Jaszkiowiak reached town from Council Bluffs Wednesday evening and will go with our band to Carroll today to manipulate the bass drum. Mr. and Mrs. Will Reed of eastern Illinois have been visiting for the past week with their relatives, Mrs. I. O. Brown and Misses Maggie Reed and Mando Leady. They were called here at this time by the death of Mrs. J. M. Cassell who was a sister of Mr. Reed. C. W. Anderson and Charley Linn from west of Winside, had some parties arrested for petty thieving the first of the week. Al Houser of Hoskus, represented the defendants, and County Attorney Welch the plaintiffs. The case was called before Justice Gaebler on Tuesday. We have been having very hot winds for the past few days and corn is being much injured by them. Unless cooler weather sets in soon it will be a small crop. What wheat has been threshed from shock near here has averaged about 15 bushels per acre; oats from 30 to 40 or 45 bushels per acre. Many farmers are holding their small grain in hopes of better prices later on.

HUNTER

J. L. Stiner is visiting in Iowa at present. Miss Amy Fox of Wausau, who has been visiting relatives here the past week, returned home on Monday.

Shook, threshing is about over and shock threshing will soon begin. Everybody in this neighborhood will attend the big barbecue and jubilee at Wayne September 15th. John E. Agler and wife of Winside, side, were visiting in Hunter over Sunday. Harry Kellogg is in Iowa, being called there by the serious illness of his mother. Among those from this vicinity who took in the excursion to Sioux City on Sunday were Julie Chaon, A. M. Chaon, Henry Classman, John Johnson, and Misses Silda Chaon, Lydia Chaon, Clara Chaon and Clara Classman. The largest dance ever held in the county, outside of the city of Wayne was the bowery dance at J. W. Fox's last Saturday evening, about two hundred being present, many of whom were from Wayne. It was a good-natured crowd and everything passed off smoothly, and if anyone did not enjoy it we would like to have them rise and express themselves.

Foul-Smelling Catarrh.

Catarrh is one of the most obstinate diseases and hence the most difficult to cure. There is but one way to cure it. The cure is in the blood, and all the syrups, ointments, and other mixtures, no matter how many, are of no effect whatever. The only cure is the Swift Specifics. Catarrh is a blood disease, and the only way to cure it is to purify the blood.
