BLOWN DOWN AND BURNED!

The Tent in Which Revival Meetings were Held Entirely Destroyed—several Persons Slightly Injured in the Catastrophe. Last Sunday evening Rev. Corder of Chicago began a series of revival meetings in a large tent which had put up on the vacant lots between the court house and opera house. On Monday evening three and four hundred people had gathered at the tent and shortly after the services began a strong wind came up from the northwest, and many people feeling apprehensive as to their safety left the tent. Rev. Corder endeavored to persuade them that there was no danger, that he had held services in the tent for four years and had been through worse storms than that and was confident that the tent would withstand the storm. However, in a few minutes a stronger gust of wind came, the tent swayed and then slowly went down, catching fire immediately. Everyone made a rush for safety, women and children screamed and some became hysterical, people trampled over each other in their endeavors to get out of the burning tent, and it is indeed a miracle that they escaped without more serious injury or the loss of life. F. M. Skeen was no doubt the most seriously injured of any, being struck on the head by a falling lamp, or some heavy timbers, which laid him up for the following day. B. L. Preston was quite badly injured, Otto Sebald, John Juhlin, George Sullivan and others received slight bruises. Had it not been for the prompt action of the fire department, the court house and no doubt all the east portion of the city would have been burned. The wind was blowing a perfect hurricane and it seems almost impossible that the fire could have been extinguished without more serious loss. A great many chairs and seats from the different churches were destroyed, also the pulpit from the Baptist church. In the rush to get out of danger parasols, hats, capes and jackets were left in the tent, and of course these were burned. The total loss is estimated at about $800. We understand that Mrs. E. E. Reed lost a very valuable cape. It is not the purpose of the HERALD to unjustly criticize anyone but the manner in which Mr. Corder talked to the audience when they began leaving the tent was entirely uncalled for. The people of Wayne are an intelligent, enlightened and industrious class of people, and do not take very kindly to being called cowards and told that they have less sense and need a revival more than the people of any place he had ever visited, just because they did not feel safe in the tent during a severe wind storm. Of course Mr. Corder had all the confidence in the world in his tent and had he had the least idea that the tent would not withstand the storm he would certainly have dismissed the audience. It is but justice to Mr. Corder to say that he is charged with saying many things which he never said, and the people should learn the exact truth in the matter before criticizing him too severely. The meetings will be held in the Methodist church the remainder of this week. Beginning with next Sunday it is expected that they will be held in the opera house. Elegant line of silk waist patterns. THE RACKET. H. S. Welch, the new jeweler, comes to Wayne highly recommended as a workman and a citizen, and we speak for him a fair share of the patronage. Henry Ley, Guy R. Wilbur, Patrick Coleman, Frank Fuller, Wm. Wright and S. R. Bruner went to Norfolk yesterday to attend the democratic and free silver republican senatorial conventions. Immense Stock Fall Clothing being opened up every day. Suits for men and boys very reasonable this season. Harrington & Robbins. ELECTRIC LIGHTS FOR SURE. Last Thursday night the council was in session several hours and when they adjourned the question of electric lights was forever settled so far as Wayne is concerned. The contract was let to John T. Burke & Co. of Omaha for $5,228.95, and city attorney Fuller was instructed to draw up the contract to be entered into by the parties concerned. The bid covers everything for the plant complete, except the building, which has been arranged for and by the first of next November the plant will be in operation and the republican majority in Wayne this fall will be cajoled by electric light. AUCTION SALE. We will sell our household goods at public auction next Saturday, Sept. 10. Sale will take place on Main street. H. C. WRIGHT. INSURANCE! Fire, Lightning, Cyclone and Hail. On Friday evening last Dr. and Mrs. Williams were treated to a pleasant surprise party executed by Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard, in honor of their eighteenth wedding anniversary. The evening was pleasantly spent in singing and playing dominoes, and the guests left a number of handsome presents as reminders of the occasion. All repairing taken to Welch will prove satisfactory. On Friday Mrs. Chas. Robbins again gave a delightful afternoon to a large number of lady friends. The tables were prettily decorated with daisies, and out flowers aided in beautifying the rooms. The menu which was an elegant one, was served in four courses and the hostess was assisted by Mesdames John and Dan Harrington and E. Weber. A few days ago the old Presbyterian church was moved from its foundation and there was considerable curiosity concerning the contents of the corner stone which it was claimed contained a bible, money and papers, but the only thing discovered was a bible and an old oyster can containing papers that crumbled to pieces when handled, as the can supposed to be a box had not preserved the papers from the elements. A La Forte paper was about all that could be deciphered. Little Misses Luella Brenner and Alice Wright gave their young friends a very enjoyable afternoon on Friday at the home of the latter. Progressive letters was the game the young folks indulged in and Katherine Lewis succeeded in capturing the first prize, a pearl paper knife, and Elsie Warnock, the consolation prize, a box of writing paper. Very pretty refreshments were served and each guest was given a little doll as a souvenir of the event. Dear Maute's Shoes and get more wear, more style and more comfort at less money than elsewhere. POP CONVENTION. Last Saturday the populists held their county convention at the palace de juror in the city at which time W. E. Wallace was elected chairman and C. J. Rundell secretary. Jas. Britton, J. R. Coyle and John Heeren were appointed a committee on credentials and upon making their report the same was adopted. According to the prearranged program Frank Fuller was nominated for county attorney, after which the following delegates were appointed to the senatorial convention: John Heeren, L. Wade, Jas. Elliott, W. P. Agler, W. E. Wallace and H. B. Miller. On motion of Col. Britton a resolution was passed instructing the delegates to vote for no man who will not vote for Allen for United States senator. W. E. Wallace was elected county chairman and the convention then adjourned.

WRECK IN NEW YORK

TRAIN STRIKES A TROLLEY CAR AT COHES.

Eighteen Persons Killed and Ten Fatally Injured. The Motor was Crowded with Passengers Returning from a Labor Day Picnic.

Shocking Railroad Wreck.

Cohoes, N. Y.: An appalling disaster occurred in this city shortly before noon Monday night. A trolley car of the Troy Railway Company was struck by the night boat special of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad at a crossing at the west end of the Hudson River bridge, which connects this city with Lansingburgh.

The cars entering the city from Lansingburgh were crowded with passengers returning from a Labor Day picnic at Rensselaer Park, a pleasure resort near Troy. Car No. 162 was the victim of the disaster. It crossed the bridge about 7:35 o'clock laden with a merry party of people fresh from the enjoyment of the day.

The motor car was struck directly in the center by the engine of the train, which was going at a high rate of speed. The accident came without the slightest warning. The cars were upon the track before the train, and the trolley car was evidently saved the train approaching as he reached the track, and opened his controller, but in vain. With a crash that was heard for blocks the engine struck into the lighter vehicle. The motor car parted in two, both sections being hurled into the air in opposite directions. The mass of humanity, for the car was crowded to overflowing, was torn and mangled. Those in the front of the car met with the worst fate, and every man, woman and child in the vicinity of the wreck was horrified. Bodies had been hurled into the air and their headless and limbless trunks were found, in some cases, fifty feet from the crossing.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

Fall Trade in Fall Swing—Boom in Iron and Steel.

NEW YORK, Bradstreet's says: The advent of September finds fall trade apparently in full swing at the West, the north-west and more reported doing at southern points. The volume of business in wool and dry goods in the latter section is rather smaller than expected. Reports from the iron and steel trade are in a high degree favorable, the tonnage movement being unprecedentedly large and the tone of prices firm at the advances recently secured. Business in steel is exceptionally large. The west crop situation remains practically unchanged, cash wheat being offered on rather a larger movement of spring wheat, but an active demand for export has furnished sustaining power. Corn has been ruled by the weather in surplus producing states, which is dry and hot, with a slight effort on prices. The crop of the cotton year finds no price of that staple slightly firm on reports of damage by rain to the crop in the south Atlantic states. Distributive trade is active in the west and northwest. Wheat shipments are being making firm. Aggregate 3,687,400 bushels of wheat, 5,563,476 bushels last week. Corn exports for the week aggregate 4,361,700 bushels, against 2,648,928 bushels last week.

These amounts were charged to the expense account so that the outside world knew nothing of it at any time. Mr. Twitchell acknowledged his guilt, but it is thought no prosecution will follow. Mr. Twitchell has been grand commander of the Masonic commandery of Maine and is past grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias.

The writer tells a fearful tale of disease and hardship. He says that two of the members of the York company have gone insane, another has died, and many are sick. Mutual distrust and enmity have arisen among the ranks and petty quarrels are frequent. The water is bad and has to be boiled and the general sanitary condition is not what it ought to be.

L. K. Johnson, who has been confined in the county jail for two weeks, attempted to escape Sunday. The mangle which she had fallen into had some moving machine sockets in it and in her fall she struck on her side, severing the femur, opening the abdomen and letting the intestines out.

McKinley tariff, $312,002,508. The results under the Dingley tariff were substantially as predicted by Mr. Dingley in his speech in support of the bill in its final form.

Here are a few figures to give you an idea of the wealth added to this nation during 1898. It is all the gift of a kind and benevolent nature. It is worth mentioning that the figures given, as far as the crops are concerned, are maximum, but the prices are not far from those the producers will receive for their toll.

A Warning to Republicans.

The monstrous crusade to destroy the prestige of victory in war is now acknowledged to have as its object the discredit of President McKinley. The Chicago Chronicle has laid aside all subtlety and started directly that President McKinley was responsible "for all the recklessness which has caused fearful suffering to our gallant soldiers who died by fevers in ill-selected and ill-managed camps of starvation, because the supplies which were so generously provided by the nation had not been delivered to the soldiers."

The Chronicle, being a Democratic organ, has done what Republicans believed from the first that it would do.

This was a part of the copperhead conspiracy of 1898. Early in the war the malcontents and irreconcilables entered into a conspiracy to defeat the Republican party at the Congress in the next session. They believed that if they could frighten the administration into sending an army of 50,000 or 75,000 men to attack Havana in the rainy season disease would make such havoc among the troops before October came that the American people would be in a panic.

The President in War Times.

War is unquestionably the fire that tests men's souls, that burns away the dross, leaving the pure gold. When Maj. McKinley was nominated for the Presidency, many, even in his own party, were convinced that a weak man had been named.

Getting Too Hot for Them.

It will be so with McKinley. Already his bitter enemies are beginning to appreciate the great worth of the man; already he is beginning to receive the loyal support and indorsement of members of all parties.

Fallacy of a Free Trade Claim.

There never was a more striking illustration of the fallacy of the claim of the Democrats that unless we opened our markets freely to foreigners they would not buy of us.

On Trial.

This year the Republican party is on trial, and the test of popularity will be its record since it came into power in November, 1897. This will be necessary to bring the tariff more or less into line.

Three Tariffs.

The total receipts of the treasury for the first ten months of the three tariffs of this decade have been published and serve as a powerful statistical indorsement of the present administration.

All Praise the President.

In all the cavil and criticism following upon the heels of war, the universal praise for President McKinley is a general satisfaction. It is a matter of supreme satisfaction to the American people that their President has so conducted himself in his high office through so trying an ordeal as to call

The Affair Dreyfus.

France contributes a suicide to the agitation against militarism.—Detroit Free Press. To an government it seems impossible that the government should now refuse to grant Dreyfus a full trial.

Big Figures, These.

There's a grand total of $1,171,000,000 to find its way to the pockets of the farmers, and thence to the hands of the various tradesmen and manufacturers of this country, except a few hundred millions to be saved and invested in Government bonds.

Other Items are Omitted from the Above Table.

For instance, the poultry and egg business of the country is almost as big as the wheat crop, and the small fruit business is enormous in the aggregate.

Verily this is a land flowing with milk and honey.

The sample of prosperity how in evidence over the country from end to end is but the forerunner of greater things. Look pleasant, please, and thank Providence that you are an American, if not an American farmer.

The Innocence of the Imprisoned Officer.

has been established by a confession and a suicide. This will cause the release of the young French officer from his cage on a lonely island and also relieve Emil Zola, the novelist, from the penalties imposed upon him for defending Dreyfus in a manner offensive to French dignity.

On Top of all the railroad frauds and Panama frauds in the past comes the Dreyfus case, which incriminates the army to a degree hitherto unsuspected.

Nicholas' Peace Plan.

The most effective opposition to the czar's plan is likely to come from men who question his motives.—Milwaukee Sentinel. It may be the beginning of the most momentous and beneficent movement of modern times, indeed, of all history.

What more momentous event than this has taken place in recent years?

It is a fitting introduction to the coming century. The source of this recommendation should commend it to all rulers. At once it elevates the czar to a higher plane among sovereigns, and it renders incontestable the voice of the czar as a spokesman for the people of Europe.

It is not to be expected that it will at once bring forth the millennium, but if it shall only put an end to the increase of armies and navies it will bring untold blessings upon mankind.

It was to be expected that some similar action would be taken by the king of Spain and pose as the successor of the United States in the advancement of peace on earth and good will among men.

It is doubtful whether our children's children will see a complete realization of the peace program, but a mighty stride has been taken towards its realization.

Miss Mary McAllister, daughter of Ex-County Attorney McAllister of Dakota county, fell while trying to mount a horse two miles from Dakota City on Sunday, and as a result sustained a fracture of the bones of the right arm. This brings us to the question of a remedy, and Table's Pile Ointment is the only remedy for blind, bleeding or protruding piles that is endorsed by physicians. Cures the most obstinate cases. 50c. Wilkins & Co. The HERALD is not disposed to kick, but we believe as the people of the entire community believe, that the O. St. P. M. & O. Shook threshing is about all over with, and stack threshing will be in progress next week. Omaha Needs More Stock.

Omaha's live stock receipts, while showing a very gratifying increase over last year, are not large enough to supply the demand. Practically nothing has been shipped from here to Chicago the past sixty days. Local packers have taken everything offered and wanted more. If western stockmen would send more of their stock to Omaha and less to Chicago, their net returns would show considerable improvement. When receipts are big at Chicago and the market lower in consequence, it is safe to assume that the market will be lower here even in spite of comparative small receipts and a good demand. On the other hand with light receipts at Chicago the market is very apt to be stronger there and it is safe to figure that the market will be stronger at Omaha, even if receipts should be unusually heavy. The moral of all this is very evident. Send more stock to Omaha and less to Chicago and the average of prices is bound to be better all around. Shipper should keep this fact in mind and always remember that the demand here is now more than sufficient to take care of any receipts, however large they may be.—Omaha Daily Stockman.

Beats the Klondike. Mr. A. C. Thomas of Marysville, Tex. has found a more valuable discovery than has yet been made in the Klondike. For years he suffered untold agony from consumption, accompanied by hemorrhages, and was absolutely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. He declares that gold is of little value in comparison with this remarkable cure; would have it even if it cost a hundred dollars a bottle. Asthma, bronchitis and all throat and lung affections are positively cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. Trial bottles free at Wilkins & Co's. Drug store. Regular size 50c. and $1. Guaranteed to cure or price refunded.

There is no remedy equal to Herbine for the cure of constipation, sick headache, indigestion, loss of memory, vertigo, uncertain appetite, unrestful sleep or skin eruptions. If you want a perfect tonic for the liver, Herbine will not disappoint you. Wilkins & Co.

Scrofula, a Vile Inheritance.

Scrofula is the most obstinate of blood troubles, and is often the result of an inherited taint in the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Scrofula; it forces out every trace of the disease, and cures the worst cases.

My son, Charlie, was afflicted from infancy with Scrofula, and he suffered so that it was impossible to dress him for three years. His head and body were a mass of sores, and his eyesight also became affected. No treatment was a success that we tried, but he grew worse until his condition was indeed pitiable. I had almost despaired of his ever being cured, but by the advice of a friend we gave him S. S. S. Scrofula Specific. The rapid improvement was the result, and after he had taken a dozen bottles, no one who knew of his former dreadful condition would have recognized him. All the sores on his body have healed, his skin is perfectly clear and smooth, and he has been restored to perfect health. Mrs. S. S. MARY, 330 Elm St., Macon, Ga.

For real blood troubles it is a waste of time to expect a cure from the doctors. Blood diseases are beyond their skill. Swift's Specific.

reaches all deep-seated cases which other remedies have no effect upon. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no poison, mercury, or other mineral.

COUNTY.

For County Attorney—FRANK M. NORTHPROP.

If you do not know what's best for yourself, vote the republican ticket. The party will do the rest.

The fusionists have been counting their chicks and the distribution of the spoils in case Robinson is elected. But the chicks are not yet hatched.

Col. Roosevelt will be the next governor of New York, and right 'tis that he should be. He has earned his laurels and he who wins the spurs should wear them.

It is not known what part of the stock yards at South Omaha Poynter will be able to control, but the sensible farmers of this state will see to it that he does not control the Governor's chair.

Republican prosperity is too much for the fusion regime, and now in the smallness of their wisdom they are busily engaged in charging the sickness of soldiers to the republicans. Gee whizz!

After the vote is polled next November Allen and Robinson can renew their allegiance to Blackburn, and reorganize the old law firm of Allen, Robinson & Reed, with permanent headquarters at Madison. It's about their size.

It's mighty amusing to hear a man talk about the grand and glorious principles enunciated in the populist platform, and then watch the two parties fuse for the purpose solely of defeating a party that doesn't fuse but fights it out on the line of principle.

The republican state ticket is composed of the ablest set of men ever placed in nomination by any party in the state. They are honorable men too, of whom the republican party is proud. Remember this, kind voter, and let your vote be cast this fall for men who will be a credit to our grand common-wealth of Nebraska.

M. L. Hayward, like Judge Norris, was the unanimous choice of not only the convention, but of the whole party, and there is not a member of the republican party who has any kick coming. The conditions are very different from what they were with Tom Majors or Jack McCall at the head of the ticket and the result will be very different too.—Ponca Gazette.

Judge Norris of Wayne, the republican candidate for congress in this district, is a man of great ability, superior in every particular to that of his popoquatic opponent—not a professional politician but a man of broad views and excellent judgment. He will make an impression in congress immediately on arriving in Washington, and that is where he is going, and don't you forget it.—Bloomfield Monitor.

Here and there renegade republican newspaper men of the Madison Reporter, Stanton Register and Wisner Chronicle stripe, are howling about M. L. Hayward being a railroad candidate which they know is bosh. Mr. Hayward is one of the ablest men in the state, was selected by the masses of the people in the counties containing the former element of the republican voters and by them he will be elected. The German farmers do not propose to vote for a map of the Poynter stripe who has straddled the prohibition question—and every other question—because they do not know where to find him, and the tool of Bill Paxton of Omaha will never hold forth in the gubernatorial chair of Nebraska. But while we are discussing the railroad question, will these papers kindly inform us whether Judge Robinson is not a railroad candidate. Does he not ride on a pass and has he not done so for years? Give us a rest on the railroad candidate question or we will proceed to dish up beet sugar squibs and other corporation hash in large-sized doses. So far as we are concerned we don't care whether a candidate is supported by railroad men or not, he certainly should not refuse their support, but when it comes to this question the republicans in no way hold over our populist friends and don't you forget it for a minute. The railroad gag has become so rotten that it savors of populist mush.

The death rate at Chickamauga park which the fusionists are making so much ado about, while to be deplored, is not the fault of the administration, but the fault of incompetent officials selected by the governors like Holcomb who failed to do their duty, and who like Bryan, were incompetent owing to inexperience in warlike and military matters, and even then the death rate among the thousands of troops camped at Chickamauga, was nine-sixteenths per cent less than among the same number of people in the city of Chicago. War is horrible, and it was thoroughly understood before war began that sickness and death by disease was much more to be feared than fighting Spaniards, and when one thinks of the immense army organized, equipped and sent forth to camp life, that were not used to the trials of such a life, and that in the hottest time of the year, wherein the fusionists and such as they were howling for war and desired that Uncle Sam go right down and clean out Havana at once, it is a wonder that death from sickness has not been even greater than it has. The boot of the demagogue is always to be heard. Let him hoot.

Frank M. Northrop and Frank Fuller the nominees for County Attorney, are both old citizens and both are fair lawyers. Mr. Fuller has been a republican, held office at the hands of the republican party, and was defeated while running for county attorney at the hands of the people that now seek to elect him. Personally, we like Mr. Fuller, but we fail to see where any republican can now support him after he having deserted the republican party in time of need. Mr. Northrop has ever been loyal to the republican party, he has never held an office at the hands of the party, and every republican in the county should give him their earnest support, regardless of their personal likes or dislikes.

Bill Paxton's candidate for Governor W. A. Poynter, is all right when running on a fusion ticket, but in times gone by the pops used to score old Bill unmercifully because he hid himself among republican legislators as well as demagogues, and charged him with manipulating the strings of legislation. Bill was a terror in those days but he will be all right now so long as his thoroughbred Poynter is in the gubernatorial race. Bill will do the shooting—if the opportunity offers. However, Judge Hayward will be elected, Paxton or no Paxton.

It perhaps makes no difference, but The Herald is heartily ashamed of the Democrat and its despicable attacks against President McKinley, and also some of the most worthy citizens of Wayne. Through its violence along this line it injures itself, and prostitutes all rights to be called a legitimate newspaper. Malignant tirades never won an argument for any person and it can but drive fair minded men from the party that upholds a paper so 'toing.

Judge Hayward, our candidate for governor, is one of the best men in the state. When he is governor, Nebraska will be represented by an intelligent, dignified, sincere man, of whom the whole state will be proud. He has the respect of his neighbors and fellow citizens and the confidences of all his acquaintances and there is no better representative of the best in Nebraska than Judge Hayward.—Burt County Herald.

President McKinley spent five hours at Camp Wikoff, Montauk Point, last Sunday and its safe to say that every one of the soldiers admired the President. He is of the people and for the people and if his instructions had been carried out to the letter, a great deal of suffering might have been avoided.

Senator Allen would send up a few healthy groans if there were grounds for it. He says of the Chickamauga camp that the worst complaint among the men was that they didn't get to go to the front, and that the camp is about such as he became familiar with during the civil war.—Fremont Tribune.

And now it has come to pass that the true principle of the populist fusionist is to beat some one and rake in a few crumbs thereby. Said indeed are the glories of populism! The old line democrats are trying to shake it.—Bloomfield Monitor.

A man who cannot support the republican ticket in Nebraska this year is not a republican. There isn't a thing the matter with it.

We don't know where-in Judge Robinson is more a "friend of the people" than Judge Norris. What great thing has Robinson done for the people? The chestnuts are getting a little old and the suckers are growing fewer in number.

The Stanton Register talks about a republican candidate drifting hither and thither the past eight years. Cheer up "cully," where did the fusionists come from the past year? Haven't they been doing a good deal of drifting somewhat similar to that of the fusion candidate for county attorney in this county? Scatter your thoughts mildly, old man, and clear your own nominees.

In the face of so many grave problems as are pressing for settlement at our hands it will be the height of foolishness to send men possessed of foolish ideas to congress. The people of this district are onto their job and can be relied upon to send on to Washington as a result of the November elections a man of eminent common sense and broad statesmanship. The name of our next congressman is Norris.—Norfolk News.

Judge M. L. Hayward is a stalwart republican who served his country in the ranks of its defenders in the hour of the nation's peril. As one of the framers of the constitution and as a lawyer and judge, his career has commended him to popular esteem. As a man of affairs he has exhibited business capacity and executive ability of a high order, which assures the people of Nebraska a safe and conservative administration of their state government when he is elevated to the executive chair.—Osmond Republican.

The war record of the present administration will stand out in the future as bright as that of Abraham Lincoln's administration. The chronic idiot of today like those of that day, are finding fault because the government could not furnish palaces and mountain air for the troops, and because of sickness and a heavy death rate, it is all the fault of republicans. But how about the most successfully carried on war of modern times? Who is to receive the encomiums for such a successful termination of the war? The administration will feel proud of its war record, and as to sickness and deaths, such a thing would have occurred even if Hundell had been president.

The Norfolk asylum scandal of two and one-half years ago which resulted in an investigation by Governor Holcomb and a coat of white-wash for the superintendent, Dr. Mackey, said came near renovating that entire institution but did not, but called forth the resignation of Mackey later on, and was followed by a divorce suit and final decree granted Mrs. Mackey from her so claimed too much gallant husband, claims not to have permanently removed that gentleman from the political arena. Since John S. Robinson was nominated to congress he has selected Mackey as chairman of the allied forces in this congressional district in which capacity he will have the principal directing of Robinson's campaign. This may be a pleasant matter for populists to reflect upon! If it is, a few years have materially mellowed their feelings toward Mackey! The matter is respectfully referred to Uncle Henry Miller, of Winside.—Stanton Picket.

The demopulist papers gleefully quote the statement of a Wayne delegate to the republican congressional convention that Judge Norris was willing to run on "any platform adopted by the convention." This statement was made at the time a discussion was on concerning a very minor detail of the financial plank. Both propositions contemplated a strong gold plank but there was some discussion as to how it should be stated. The remark was therefore in reference to this plank the adoption of either not affecting the principles of the candidates. The opposition sheets will use it for all it is worth to indicate that Judge Norris is devoid of principle but their efforts avail little. It is well known of their candidate, however, that in Grover Cleveland's time he was not only a staunch supporter of the gentleman, but looked upon and talked free trade as the only way of preserving this country and bringing about the much longed for prosperity. Since the dire failure of the Wilson law, he, with others of his stripe quickly grasped at the free silver straw to keep him out of the vortex into which his party was drawn, and now the only thing he can see for the salvation of his country is the adoption of "free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 without the aid or consent of any nation on earth." When the principles of Judge Norris undergo as startling a change as this it will be time for the demopulist papers to begin to howl.—Norfolk Journal.

Modern Woodmen Day at Omaha.

Preparations have been well nigh completed by the head camp of Modern Woodmen of America for a great celebration on the Frane-Mississippi Exposition grounds on Woodmen Day, Thursday, September 22. A joint committee of the Omaha, South Omaha and Council Bluffs camps is assisting in the work of arranging the details and the event will undoubtedly be an epoch in the history of Woodcraft.

Among the features of the program for the day will be speech-making, a parade, competitive drill and fireworks. In the forenoon exercises will be held in the auditorium. Addresses of welcome will be made by President Wattles on behalf of the Exposition association, and by Governor Silas A. Holcomb on behalf of the state of Nebraska. Director A. R. Talbot and Supreme Oracle Mrs. Watts of the Royal Neighbors will respond, and Head Consul Northcutt will also make an address. After the speech making there will be a grand parade of Foresters, followed by a competitive drill for which the head camp will offer attractive prizes. In the evening there will be a brilliant display of fireworks. The set pieces will include fire portraits of Head Consul Northcutt and Head Clerk Hawes of the Modern Woodmen, and Supreme Oracle Mrs. Watts of the Royal Neighbors. Emblems of both societies will also be shown in fire.

Neighbors of the Modern Woodmen and of the Royal Neighbors in all parts of the country are expected to take advantage in large numbers of the low railroad rates granted for Woodmen Day, to visit what is considered to be one of the grandest of the world's great expositions.

The Vermont election held on Tuesday resulted in an overwhelming victory for the republican party.

Hayward will be sent homeward in November.—Emerson Times.

Oh! We don't know, Johnny, Hayward's a winner.

The next thing to looking Spain is the establishment of an American marine to a question of only a short time until Uncle Sam will be thus equipped. The republican party is the party of progress and it proposes to press forward.

About noon Tuesday, two spans of the National bridge of the New York-Ottawa railroad under construction across the St. Lawrence, fell carrying 100 men with them, sixty fell to the river below. Only 38 men have been accounted for and 18 of them have since died in the hospital. It was a frightful disaster.

A CRITICAL TIME!

During the Battle of Santiago.

SICK OR WELL, A RUSH NIGHT AND DAY.

The Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba were all Heroes. Their Heroic Efforts in Getting Ammunition and Rations to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. Butler, of pack-train No. 3, writing from Santiago de Cuba, on July 23rd, says: "We all had diarrhoea in more or less violent form, and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor, for it was a case of rush, and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations, but thanks to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, we were able to keep at work and keep our health; in fact, I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was the indirect saviour of our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrade and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine for our pack train before we left Tampa and I know in four cases it absolutely saved life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by L. P. Orth.

Baby's Coming

means pain, danger and possible death for some wives. For others it means practically no discomfort at all. There is no reason why childbirth should be a period of pain and dread. Several months before a woman becomes a mother she should prepare herself for the critical ordeal. It relaxes the muscles and relieves the tension, gives elasticity to every organ concerned in childbirth, and takes away all danger and nearly all suffering. Best results follow if the remedy is used during the whole period of pregnancy. It is the only remedy of the kind in the world that is endorsed by physicians. BONES OF GIANT INDIANS. Prehistoric Man Seven Feet Tall Who Once Lived in What is Maryland.

There has been received at the Maryland Academy of Sciences the skeleton of an Indian seven feet tall, says the Baltimore American. It was discovered near Annapolis.

There are recently discovered bones of three powerful Indians at the academy, who at one time in their wildness roamed over the State of Maryland armed with such instruments as nature gave them or that their limited skill taught them to make.

The skulls are of fine proportions, ample, and with walls of moderate thickness, but of great strength, and stiffened behind by a powerful occipital ridge.

The curves of the forehead are moderate and not retreating, suggesting intelligence and connected with jaws of moderate compactness.

Tradition has handed down the statement that between the years 1730 and 1736 the Catawbas overtook a band of Delawares at the mouth of the Annetam, and in the battle that ensued the Delawares were completely annihilated.

So the tradition goes, but according to Dr. Philip R. Umler, president of the Maryland Academy of Sciences, a careful examination of this locality has failed to establish evidence of a battle at this point, although numerous spear and arrow heads have been taken from the soil there.

It is of great interest, however, to notice that the locality was, at an earlier date, before the coming of the white man, occupied as a village site by Indians of great stature, some of them six and a half to seven feet in height.

"Hush! hush!" cries Della imploringly, as she rises to her feet with the child in her arms.

"Hold your tongue, you old vixen!" commenced James Moray, but his brother stops him.

"No, that's not, nor ever is," replies Mrs. Timson, witheringly; "take 'em up with you, do, sir, and a precious bargain you've got."

CHAPTER III.

"Well," he says, "I don't mean to insult my best friend, have you? and in my presence, too."

"Do you mean to disobey me?" cries James Moray, as he advances toward her.

"I cannot leave him yet," she answers, determinedly. "He is wet through to the skin, and he knows what he has done."

The sword of God's truth draws the dividing line to-day. On one side of it are sin and ruin and death; on the other side of it are pardon and usefulness and happiness.

How we get saved. You cannot expect to accept Christ and then accept him instantaneously and forever.

For this generation. I confess to you that my one wish is to serve this generation, not to antagonize it, not to damage it, not to rule it, but to serve it.

Away with Gloomy Talk. Away with gloomy talk about departing. This world is not departing.

Spanish Crown Jewels in America. Just now, when everything concerning Spain is of more or less interest, a couple of one-time jewels of the Spanish crown attract more than usual attention.

Spain is a powerful nation, that the jewels were placed in the crown. Perhaps black pearls, which seem an appropriate emblem for the proud and haughty dons, are not their lucky stones.

How are the mighty fallen when the jewels of the Spanish crown are worn by a Chicago "Diamond Queen."—New York Times.

CHAPTER IV.

The next morning dawned upon a bright, cold day. Mrs. Hephzibah Horton rises with the lark. This morning, however, she intends to devote to the interests of her friend.

Among the most ardent admirers of her freedom of thought and action is her legal adviser, Mr. Bond. This little man and Mrs. Horton are always quarreling, and yet neither of them is happy without the other.

And here Mrs. Horton details as much as necessary of Della Moray's circumstances and history, to which Mr. Bond listens attentively, lying back in his office chair, with his eyes closed, and his hands slowly rubbing one over the other.

"There is a family, then?" "Well, it seems to me that the best plan would be for your friend to establish herself in a home of her own, and if her husband persecutes her, then to take out a protection order against him."

Keep Your Youth

If you are young you naturally appear so. If you are old, why appear so? Keep your inwardly; we will look after the outwardly. You need not worry longer about those little streaks of gray; advance agents of age.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

will surely restore color to gray hair; and it will also give your hair all the wealth and gloss of early life. Do not allow the falling of your hair to threaten you longer with baldness. Do not be annoyed with dandruff. We will send you our book on the Hair and Scalp, free upon request.

Write to the Doctor. If you do not obtain all the benefit you expect from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed.

HOW TO LIGHT A PIPE.

Apply Flame to a Small Spot in the Center of the Bowl.

The pipe of tobacco—Bismarck calls it the delicious seventh course—is such an undisputed solace to many of mankind and one so generally resorted to that it will no doubt seem a little "brish" when I venture the estimate that not more than one smoker in five really knows how to smoke, but such is the fact. I am a believer in the maxim that "What is worth doing at all is worth doing well," and the difference between right and wrong smoking is so great that it certainly deserves attention.

See the high-strung American stop work long enough to snatch up his pipe. He knocks from the bottom of the bowl a spoonful of soggy filth, left there since his last smoke. Of course, the stem will be clogged, but no difference. If he can force a small opening with a broomstraw all is well. It is a good pipe and he loads up with good tobacco. He hurriedly strikes a match upon the nearest object that will furnish the necessary friction—generally his pants—holds the flame over the bowl, sulphur and all, then throws a column of smoke swift enough and rank enough to carry a balloon and fondly imagines he is smoking.

Now, comrades, do not waste time talking of style of pipe or brands of tobacco—tastes differ in those things—try this: Keep pipe and stem as clean as possible, and the time to clean them is immediately after a smoke. Fill the bowl with your favorite brand and press down firmly, but don't strive to see how solid you can pack it. If you make it as solid as wood it will burn like wood and make a coal fire about as hot and ungrateful. Don't light the entire surface. Don't "put" as though you had no more matches and feared it would "go out." Light a small spot directly in the center. Smoke slowly until it works its way gradually downward. If it undertakes to spread, press it down again with thumb or finger. A half minute's care in starting is all that is required. Now, smoke slowly. The little fire continues downward, delicately roasting the tobacco on the sides and presently when you have this soft, mellow smoke, so cool, so delicious, so soothing, that you will never regret having read this.—Sports Afield.

SOME FALL ODDITIES.

STRIKING FEATURES OF A FEW NEW GARMENTS.

The Cutaway Cape, a Stylish New Jacket, an Unusual Tailor Rig and a Peculiar Skirt—New Forms of the Fancy Waist.

Fashions for Feminine Readers. New York correspondence.

EARS roused by the report circulated each season that fancy bodices will be discontinued, year after year prove groundless. The fancy bodice came to stay. This season the bodice is almost sure to have some sort of a yoke, and the sleeve has either a cap at the shoulder or a slight and cap-like arrangement of fullness there. In to-day's initial and the illustration following it is shown a representative quartet of these waists. The first of these was, more than the others, a class by itself. It was in pale blue serge, trimmed with velvet ribbon in a darker shade, and had a yoke of cream lace over white silk. Lawns, ing features. Starters are not few, however, in the styles now coming forward, and a few of the more artistic of the oddities are put in the third illustration. First is a view of the latest form of the cut-away cape has taken. This first appeared last season as a complete novelty. This season it is to be the correct theater and dress wear, having won cordial acceptance. It hangs long at the back, almost to the bend of the knees, the corners are rounded off in front, it is made with sloping effect of shoulders, and altogether belongs distinctly to the "romantic school" of millinery and dressmaking. Usually the trimming consists of frills of lace, ribbon or silk to match the material of the cape. The frills are wide enough at the back to make the trimming reach a third of the length of the cloak, while they narrow to almost nothing as they reach the throat. To increase the slope of the shoulders, the model shown here, which was of electric-blue surah satin, showed a flat cap finish of applied lace at the shoulders. There is little warmth to them, because of their cut in front, but worn with a trained skirt they add greatly to the length and grace of the figure and are most suitable for carriage wear and calling. In black and delicate shades of gray and fawn they are considered the swiftest sort of wear for young matrons and brides.

The new thing in jackets is more striking than this cut of cape, and because it lacks the other graceful lines does not seem so attractive at first glance. But it is extremely stylish and just at present gives to its wearer most desirable distinction. It is called the directoire jacket, and is sketched be-

War Prices.

"He—I would give the world for you." "She—that all? Why, you offered that much before the war raised prices."—Indianapolis Journal.

TO MRS. PINKHAM

From Mrs. Walter E. Budd, of Patchogue, New York.

Mrs. Budd, in the following letter, tells a familiar story of weakness and suffering, and thanks Mrs. Pinkham for complete relief:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I think it is my duty to write to you and tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I feel like another woman. I had such dreadful headaches through my temples and on top of my head, that I nearly went crazy; was also troubled with chills, was very weak; my left side from my shoulders to my waist pained me terribly. I could not sleep for the pain. Plasters would help for a while, but as soon as taken off, the pain would be just as bad as ever. Doctors prescribed medicine, but it gave me no relief.

"Now I feel so well and strong, I have no more headaches, and no pain in side, and it is all owing to your compound. I cannot praise it enough. It is a wonderful medicine. I recommend it to every woman I know."

The Latest Recipe. She (at the close of the second act)—What are you going out for, James? "He—I am going out to read the war bulletins."—Chicago Tribune.

Growing Old.

It is most unfortunate that our parents should grow old and time-worn while the spirit within it is very young; in order to escape unkind remarks we must act in accordance with our appearance, and are actually made old by public opinion. One of the first surprises people have as they begin to realize that they are leaving the record of a goodly number of years behind them is that others think they are old. Casual remarks to that effect made before them come as a distinct shock. Presently they give up youthful practices because it is "proper" they should do so, and much against their inclination, "settle down." Almost any one can remember, as a child, wondering how it would seem to be very old—thirty, forty, even fifty, years. Then, when the thirty, forty, even fifty, years have passed, the man or woman looks back, feeling little older, and surprisingly little wiser, than that child. No, we are never really old as we appear so, because we are hampered by physical infirmities and public opinion.

Surely He Wouldn't. "If I were only a man," she said, "we could—"

"Possibly we could," he said, "but the chances are we wouldn't. If you were a man I wouldn't be here. I'd be saying nice things to somebody who wasn't a man."

Sometimes it is worth while to think of such facts as these.—Chicago Post.

chiffons and all transparent materials are also employed, as a glance at the other waists shows. Above the choker collar appears the little lace points so much used a season or so ago. Sometimes the little triangles are sewed in just under the ears, and sometimes slightly stiffened that they may stand up. Sleeves are usually plain, but the elaboration in the first of these three bodices, which was white taffeta, was very pretty with its tucks and bands of embroidery.

For a very slender figure the bodice beside this one presents a very clever feature. It was of white ladies' cloth, as smooth and glossy as silk, and had a skirt to match, though it will be pretty with almost any skirt. It fastened at the right side and just at the bust line extended out in a jag that gave a greater width there than elsewhere, and that thus suggested a fullness of curve. This suggestion was added to by the lace under the edge of the fastening. This is one of the few new models without a yoke, and were it not for the perfectly new sleeves one might suspect it of being a left-over. The fitted narrow belt with its slight curve down in front is of this season also, and the hand embroidery, put on after the fitting of the belt, was a little touch of this season which the trained eye would not miss.

For early fall wear very attractive bodices are made of light flannel, ladies' cloth and even novelty cloths.

side the cape. This one was bright green, the buttons large gray pearl and the frills at the edge of the pronounced revers were gray satin. Gray and green is a new combination. The ruff at the neck was gray lawn corded to stand up close and stiff. The distinctive feature of this cut of jacket is the long line of the front and the rounded short sides. The back is one piece and fits closely. Such are to be worn with all sorts of costumes, and are stunning additions.

Unusual features were apparent in the tailor rig of this group, both in its jacket and skirt. The latter was trained and ridiculously full for a cloth affair, though its lines were graceful. It was not, however, intended for walking, a skirt for that purpose being a separate feature of the suit. The material was biscuit colored cloth. The loose revers and wide standing collar were striking features of the jacket, and equally new was the neck finish, the string tie that knots without loops, the ends standing stiff and long. This one was glossy black satin. The sleeves of the jacket were very square, and if such are to become the fashion we are in for ugly shoulder lines.

The concluding model of this group was chosen for illustration because of the singular features of its skirt. That was long and plain, and being of heavy gray rep corded silk, did not attract

HEROES OF WAR.

From the Chicago Times-Herald.

The feeling of admiration for heroes of war is not confined to the young of heart, and is brought to the surface as the opportunity and object, for such hero worship presents itself.

Among those who proved their heroism during our Civil War was A. Schiffender, of 161 Sedgwick Street, Chicago. He is an Austrian by birth, and came to America at the age of twenty, and soon became an American citizen. He was a living monument to the heroism of the war when the call for volunteers came in 1862, and he promptly enlisted in Company A, of the Twenty-sixth Wisconsin Volunteers. In the Army of the Potomac he saw much fighting, campaigning in the Shenandoah Valley.

In the first day's fighting at the battle of Gettysburg, Schiffender received a wound in the right side, which afterward caused him much trouble. With a portion of his regiment he was captured and imprisoned at Fort Mifflin, Pennsylvania, and afterward exchanged. He returned to his regiment, which was transferred to the army of General Sherman, and marched with him through Georgia to the sea.

In this campaign Mr. Schiffender's old wound began to trouble him again, and he was sent to the hospital and then home. He had also contracted catarrh of the stomach and found no relief for years.

"It happened to me on an account of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People about a year ago," he said, "and thought that they might be good for my trouble. I decided to try them. I bought a one-box and began to take them according to directions. They gave me great relief. After finishing that box I bought another. I am now taking the pills I felt that I was cured."

AMERICAN GAME PICTURES. For Decoration of Homes. Probably at no time in the world's history has so much attention been paid to the interior decoration of homes as at present. The home is made more comfortable in without its handwork that helps to beautify the apartments and make the surroundings more cheerful. The taste of the American people has kept pace with the age, and almost every day brings forth something new in the way of a picture, a drapery, a piece of furniture or other form of interior decoration. One of the latest of these has been given to the world by the celebrated artist, Mullin, in a series of four handsome porcelain game plaques. Not for years has anything as handsome in this line been seen. The subjects represented by these plaques are American wild ducks, American pheasants, American quail and English snipe. They are handsome paintings and are especially designed for hanging on dining room walls, though their richness and beauty entitles them to a place in the parlor of any home. These original plaques have been purchased at a cost of $50,000 by J. C. Hubinger Bros. Co., manufacturers of the celebrated Elastic Starch, and in order to enable their numerous customers to become possessors of these handsome works of art they have had them reproduced by a special process, in all the rich colors and beauty of the original. They are finished on heavy cardboard, pressed and embossed in the shape of a plaque and trimmed with a heavy band of gold. They measure forty inches in circumference and contain no reading matter or advertisement whatsoever.

Until Oct. 1 Messrs. J. C. Hubinger Bros. Co. propose to distribute these plaques free to their customers. Every purchaser of three ten-cent packages of Elastic Starch, Ballroom brand, manufactured by J. C. Hubinger Bros. Co., is entitled to receive one of these handsome plaques free from their grocer. Old and new customers alike are entitled to the benefits of this offer. These plaques will not be sent through the mail, the only way to obtain them being from your grocer. Every grocer in this country has Elastic Starch for sale. It is the oldest and best laundry starch on the market and is the most perfect cold process starch ever invented. It is the only starch made by men who thoroughly understand the laundry business, and the only starch that will not injure the fabric. It is the standard for a quarter of a century and as an evidence of how good it is twenty-two million packages were sold last year. Ask your dealer to show you the plaques and tell you about Elastic Starch. Accept no substitutes. Bear in mind that this offer holds good a short time only and should be taken advantage of without delay.

Braving a Risk. "I told you I would not marry you; why do you keep on asking me?" "I want you to understand that I'm not afraid of your changing your mind."—Chicago Record.

STYLES THAT MAY STARTLE AT FIRST.

They are trimmed with braiding, are of bright color—the next pictured model was of scarlet cloth with black rings—and are set on bright silk yokes either heavily braided or covered with lace. The bodice sketched had an especially stunning yoke of scarlet silk covered with a lace of heavy black net, solidly embroidered leaves and flowers of red appearing upon the net. The braiding of the bodice was black and it was worn with a black cloth skirt and a jaunty fall hat with very good effect. It hinted that the field of the fancy bodice is widening. Time was when it was an expedient of fancy stuffs for theater, dinner or other occasion when the skirt "didn't count." But as a feature of the street gown it is new this season.

As some of the characteristics of former fancy bodices are echoed more or less clearly in all these admirable garments, none of them possessed striking through suggestions of lightness. It was not, however, as heavy as it looked, and since at the hips it showed the results of lessons learned from bicycle skirts, it still had its practical features. It fastened at either side of the front, after the manner of the conventional wheeling skirt, and fitted like a glove. Under one fastening was let a deep fall pocket. The dip of the belt to the front was a marked feature of this dress. That and the slope of the bodice jacket in front almost restored the long line which the blouse front showed women was so essential to grace of figure.

Delayed Letters Which Recount the Incidents of the Voyage and the Arrival at Manila Bay.

July 12, 2 p. m.—I ought to feel ashamed to say it, but a whole week has passed and I have failed to continue my journal. The Chicago has just come up on the coast and I am able to say our position on the earliest this time is 16 21 N. 133 31 E. so you see we have passed part of the enemy's possessions, and about six days off Manila. Just think! The last news we have had is dated San Francisco, June 28. But how have we been from the world's dolours. We don't know whether the war is over or not. What has Sampson done and what has Dewey been doing? I think it was intended, if thought necessary, that one of Dewey's war ships would meet us at Guam Island and be on hand for after leaving Wake Island the fleet sailed about southwest in order to reach Guam, which we sighted Saturday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock. Guam is the largest of the Ladrones and lies farthest to the south about 12 N. But there were no American warships, nor Spanish war ships either. So now we have to leave Guam and have been sailing nearly northwest for the first since around the north part of Luzon I to reach Manila. When we approached Guam there was considerable interest among the boys on board and for the remainder of the day it was crowded at the railings. I found the "Columbian" very much delighted on sighting land as we were. Two weeks had passed since the beautiful Hawaiian Islands had faded on the horizon, and when Guam and two smaller islands to the north appeared as blue clouds near the horizon we kept our eyes on them till the evening, and leaving early morning in the evening sunlight before us and barely two miles away. One noticeable feature of these islands is the tableland rising so often right from the shore and extending perfectly level for miles. Through a field glass I could easily discern the luxuriant tropical forest, with its palms, tall coconuts and banana trees. How I wished we could go ashore. I was sick of the sea and the seemingly endless voyage, and then I wanted to get some of the fruits so much for our Honolulu supply did not last long. But when darkness covered our view and the land breeze came over the water bearing the sweet fragrance of flowers and the delicious odor of ripe bananas and pineapples, I just felt like I wanted to plunge into the dark water and swim to them all. Don't you think that was tantalizing? Such good things to be so near as to be almost tasted and then not permitted to reach them. But just what till we get to Manila; things will be different there, at least in this respect, I hope.

There was target practice yesterday and I had my first experience in firing a Springfield rifle. The China set a target on the water and the artillery on the Colon. China and Zealandia had cannon practice and then we had the mark to shoot at. Each man was issued five rounds of cartridges, and when I had fired them all the barrel of my gun was so hot you couldn't bear to hold your hand to it. It kicked like sixty too, but I am not going to have it kick next time.

Somehow when I gather my things to write and go up on deck, I hardly can think of any thing to write, and I am in the habit of writing. The big steamer trembles from bow to stern from the workings of the ponderous engines. But when I lie in my bunk awake at night and the ship's motion rolls me from side to side, I think of so many things I could write; but when I take a pencil in hand they slip from me. This is much farther south than I have ever been before and I am not much used to it. 12 deg. of the equator would put us in the climate of Central America, and I get to feeling languid and depressed during the day, with hardly enough ambition to eat. A sea-faring life is not what it cracked up to be. My first days aboard taught me what it is to be a sailor, and I am not so sure that brings so much of intense misery as the dreadful sickness of the sea. Three days and nights I spent, either hanging over the railing trying to throw up my internal possessions, or tossing feverishly in my bunk, wailing and praying I had stayed in dear old Nebraska. The first day I threw up every thing I ate, and I have since repeated. The second day was so afraid I was going to die, but the third day was afraid I wouldn't die. I was just one of the many—there were others. There were only a few who were not affected, and some of them thought they were very smart. They didn't possess the first elements of the sea-sickness, but they had human instincts. They stood on deck and laughed at us trying to reverse our stomachs. No! they didn't get sick. They were white-livered scoundrels, too black hearted and mean to get sick. That's why! Oh you can sing your song of the gallant sailors! What did I care. I would rather be a land-lubber, never again on the sea, than to rank the most gallant seaman that ever trod a deck. But one becomes somewhat accustomed to the sensations in time, and only when the sea is rough are they revived, if at all.

MANILA BAY, July 17, 9:00 a. m.

We are anchored right on the battle ground where Dewey's fleet defeated the two hundred yards from the Senator the three of Spain's sub-marine warships. The masts, smoke-stacks and part of the rigging remain above water. The ships that were sunk near shore have parts of their deck above water. They appear very rusty and useless. Cavite which is the possession of the Spaniards and there are over 300 Spanish prisoners held here. We could see the cañonading on the shore near to Manila, between the Spaniards and insurgents. A number of boat loads of the soldiers of the first expedition came to us this morning and told us about things. The insurgents surround Manila and have cut off the water supply. They keep up their fighting most all the time by having a day and night relief.

Our expedition was met off the north point of Luzon by the Cruiser Boston, which was our guidance and protector the two days sailing to Manila Bay. The only thing of note happened. We will probably be taken ashore by tomorrow, landed in the barracks at Cavite, and then camp shortly within two miles of Manila. When the Monterey gets here she will lead Dewey's fleet in shelling the city. The natives have been killing the Spaniards and the Spaniards are killing the natives. They bring big loads of bananas and other fruits, but we can't buy them because the Colonel says No! But the boys did buy coconuts, big bundles of them, and have kept themselves puffing for dear life ever since. Many of them pronounce the chorizo superior to our ion centers at home, and here they only cost a few cents. They are very nice, but our morning visitors, my kids three years old, and all the female population. Isn't that awful? What a field for reform! I will collect all the information I can and write all about this strange country and its people. The China was very smooth for us but the first expedition say it was awful rough, that some of the officers stood on deck with the life-preservers on. I had to write this pretty fast for orders were that mail must be in before six. This goes to the Olympia and then to mail steamer, via Hong Kong.

George Matson found thirteen pairs of shoes tied up in a table outcloth in W. J. Templeton's cornfield on Sunday. It was discovered on Monday that Frank Weible had lost fourteen pairs of shoes and several articles of clothing from his general store here; then a grip and other articles were found near the hiding place of the shoes and most of these were the private sales mark of Mr. Weible. After much effort two men were found arrested by Marshal Frank Brower who had sold to one Obris Holms various other pieces of wearing apparel which also had Mr. Weible's mark on them. These men, who gave fictitious names and refused to confess to the stealing, were tried on Monday night and bound over to the district court under bonds of $500 each. As no one appeared to furnish these bonds, the prisoners were taken to Wayne Monday night to be placed in jail there. They had bought a file at one of our hardware stores and fitted a skeleton key to the lock of the cellar door leading to Mr. Weible's store and had probably visited the store at night many times.

A double runaway occurred last Saturday near Chas. Heikes' place. While Mr. Nels Nelson and his brother were coming to town in a buggy the Misses Hanson's came driving up and passed them. His fractious mule became unmanageable and threw Nelson and his brother out, the impulsive mule followed the girls' buggy, running into it, throwing the ladies out and completely demolishing the rig. Miss Hanson had her arm dislocated and Mr. Nelson had his face lacerated slightly.—Wakefield Journal.

There was a monkey and parrot of a time in Judge Witter's court last Saturday afternoon. A stranger and Ted Perry had been arrested the night before for disturbing the peace, it seems, and the judge by some strange fatality called to file the complaint against Edward. When the trial was called Alty Britton called his honor's attention to the oversight, and the defendant was discharged. The stranger, of course, got it in the neck, and is laying out a fine in jail.—Democrat.

At the fusion senatorial convention held at Norfolk yesterday, Fleck Hale, of well-known stock yards fame, was nominated for Senator. If that wouldn't freeze your whiskers, what would? The populists talk reform and in the face of it nominate such a man. Wm. Wright our own fellow townsman, who has done more to obtain fusion than any other man in the district, was defeated, was given to understand he was not wanted—cast off. But perhaps it serves him Wright. At any rate a republican will be elected.

The Miser.

Many a man with his whole soul immersed in business and money-getting is like the miser whose spring door shut to and locked him in forever. Men work and slave and get sick and broken down, forgetting all the time that health is worth more than money. Home is rather than great riches, and they hear the great spring to and shut them off from all the bright hopes they labored for.

A sick man cannot be happy; he cannot accomplish the work he has to do in this world; he loses the very money he is striving for; his ambition defeats itself. Any man who discovers that his strength and energy are giving way has an unending means of regaining his physical health and stamina in the simple yet all-potent restorative power of that wonderful "Golden Medical Discovery" originated by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the world-famous specialist in diseases of the nutritive organs.

Among the thousands who have consulted him by mail the case of Mr. Newton B. Blake, of Tippecanoe, Tippecanoe Co., Miss., as shown in the following letter, attests the remarkable efficacy of his treatment: "In December 1893 my health began to fail. I tried many different kinds of medicine, but my health got so bad that I could not hold out to work one hour. My breath became short and I was weak and nervous, and couldn't work any longer. I was unable to work. I tried one of the doctors in the vicinity but failed to obtain relief. I seemed to grow worse all the time. I then procured a bottle of Dr. Pierce's in which I read of a case similar to mine, and decided to write to Dr. Pierce. He recommended me to take his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After taking six bottles of this remedy I felt much better. I was able to build up the system. I am now enjoying good health.

Torpid liver and constipation are surely and speedily cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They never grip, they regulate, tone up and invigorate the liver, stomach and bowels. No substitute urged by mercenary dealers is as good.

President McKinley has signified his intention of attending the Trans-Mississippi Exposition between October 10th and 16th.

The Wayne county boys in the Second Nebraska are coming home. They are boys who started out with no fear of fighting for their country and only dreaded disease. God bless them, they will be welcomed back, and they will be our heroes. No matter their faults, we should love them.

At the fusion senatorial convention held at Norfolk yesterday, Fleck Hale, of well-known stock yards fame, was nominated for Senator. If that wouldn't freeze your whiskers, what would? The populists talk reform and in the face of it nominate such a man. Wm. Wright our own fellow townsman, who has done more to obtain fusion than any other man in the district, was defeated, was given to understand he was not wanted—cast off. But perhaps it serves him Wright. At any rate a republican will be elected.

The Miser.

Many a man with his whole soul immersed in business and money-getting is like the miser whose spring door shut to and locked him in forever. Men work and slave and get sick and broken down, forgetting all the time that health is worth more than money. Home is rather than great riches, and they hear the great spring to and shut them off from all the bright hopes they labored for.

A sick man cannot be happy; he cannot accomplish the work he has to do in this world; he loses the very money he is striving for; his ambition defeats itself. Any man who discovers that his strength and energy are giving way has an unending means of regaining his physical health and stamina in the simple yet all-potent restorative power of that wonderful "Golden Medical Discovery" originated by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the world-famous specialist in diseases of the nutritive organs.

Among the thousands who have consulted him by mail the case of Mr. Newton B. Blake, of Tippecanoe, Tippecanoe Co., Miss., as shown in the following letter, attests the remarkable efficacy of his treatment: "In December 1893 my health began to fail. I tried many different kinds of medicine, but my health got so bad that I could not hold out to work one hour. My breath became short and I was weak and nervous, and couldn't work any longer. I was unable to work. I tried one of the doctors in the vicinity but failed to obtain relief. I seemed to grow worse all the time. I then procured a bottle of Dr. Pierce's in which I read of a case similar to mine, and decided to write to Dr. Pierce. He recommended me to take his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After taking six bottles of this remedy I felt much better. I was able to build up the system. I am now enjoying good health.

Torpid liver and constipation are surely and speedily cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They never grip, they regulate, tone up and invigorate the liver, stomach and bowels. No substitute urged by mercenary dealers is as good.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has the largest sale of any Salve in the world. This fact and its merit has led dishonest people to attempt to counterfeit it. Look out for the man who calls for DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, the great pile cure. L. F. Orth.
