ECHOES.

The Santee Indians did their part well. Well, it was a howling success. Let's shake! It was a happy, orderly, and good natured crowd.

THE BARBECUE

The barbeque, the work of which Mr. Whitelock of Ashland, had begun at noon on Wednesday, and which was a great curiosity for the thousands of visitors. Promptly at 6:00 o'clock the cannon pealed forth twenty-one salutes in honor of the great event and in a short time the streets and business houses were beautifully decorated with flags and bunting and presented almost a solid mass of red, white and blue, while across the streets at the approaches of the city, were suspended large streamers on which were painted in the national colors the word "Welcome," and the people were welcome and they knew it.

by some of the Wayne boys, the latter driving the stages. It was one of the most thrilling and exciting events ever witnessed. They started from the opera house and came thundering down Main street at a terrific rate, firing volley after volley, and the horses seemed to enjoy the race for life. The scene was witnessed by thousands of people who came running from every direction as soon as the firing began.

THE BARBECUE

The streets were a mass of humanity and the big crowds at the barbeque grounds and speakers stand made no noticeable difference in the immense crowds all along Main street. At 5:30 Prof. Winteringer and Miss Belle La Seur made as pretty a balloon ascension as was ever witnessed in the state. It could not have been better. When about five hundred feet in the air Mr. Winteringer made his parachute leap, and as there was so little wind the balloon went almost straight up, and in coming down he came very near lighting on Furchner & Duerig's store, less than a block from where the balloon was started.
