DELAY IN RATIFYING PEACE TREATY THE CAUSE.

Republicans Are Already Making Preparations—Opinion of a Kentucky Judge on False Verdicts Obtained Through Influence.

Looks Like an Extra Session.

WASHINGTON: An extra session of congress is almost certain. The chances are to have the treaty over to a new session of the senate. The session of the house will be necessary to vote the $200,000,000 indemnity. The republican members are preparing for an extra session. Every member of the present congress who has been re-elected to the fifty-sixth congress has received a circular letter from Senator Lodge, chairman of the joint committee on printing, informing him that an extra session of congress early in the spring is probable and asking that corrections and expansions of the biographical data published in the congressional directory be sent to the committee. The significance of the circular lies largely in the date it bears, which is December 15. It was prepared then, when it was believed an extra session could not be avoided. Later it was thought that the session might be postponed to a date in the early part of the next year.

CREATES MOB LAW.

Judge's Opinion on False Verdicts Obtained Through Influence. In the circuit court here, Judge Baker, on motion of United States District Attorney Washburn, held the case against Cashier Resnickians of the Western First National Bank of St. Louis. The defendant was not guilty, but that Albert Wade, who was found guilty by a jury, was the one who wrecked the bank. Judge Baker concurred in this, and made the sensational statement that the defendant was guilty of the crime of perjury, on the stand, that the jury was influenced by the wealth and influence behind the man, and declared him not guilty. Judge Baker declared that such verdicts as that of Wade were a disgrace to the law. He said that the jury was influenced by the wealth and influence behind the man, and declared him not guilty.

Whole-sale Jail Delivery at Columbus—Four Prisoners Do a Smoother Job of Cutting Through Their Cells to Liberty—Other Items.

Whole-sale Jail Delivery at Columbus.

There was a wholesale jail delivery at Columbus on the morning of Jan. 14. Martin West, Hayes and Waters, four of the most desperate criminals that ever infested the community, performed a little of the same old job that was done so often in the town and gained their liberty. A hole was made in the cell about ten by fourteen inches and looked as smooth as though cut with a pencil. As soon as they gained the corridor they seemed to be burned like a porcupine and stood over another inmate of the jail, who was confined on a night charge, with knives while they dug through the brick wall. The sheriff's posse followed the trail to Paul Gearty, where it was lost. It was the intention to use A. L. Towne's back of bloodhounds at last report.

Buy Their Own Clothing.

Men from the First Cannot Be Supplied by Government. Some time ago word was received by the Governor stating that about 250 men, discharged from the First Nebraska Cavalry at San Francisco during the winter of their way home, and requesting that they be provided with warm clothing, as they had with them only the light suits necessary for the tropical climate of the Philippines. The governor directed Congressman Starke to visit the war department and see what could be done in the matter. The following message was received from Starke:

Washington, Gen. P. H. Barry, Lincoln: Touching clothing for the returning Nebraska Cavalry, I have just received from the War Department that 200 men of the First Nebraska Cavalry were discharged at Manila and no doubt received their final settlement before sailing. Under the law and regulations the government cannot issue them any clothing on arrival at San Francisco. I understand the Quartermaster General.

I suppose the boys have been paid their clothing allowance, and they lack purchase in San Francisco. If you have further orders in the matter please write me.

TREATY OBLIGATIONS.

Aug. 6, 1827, the time was "further indefinitely" extended by its first article "from the date of the expiration of the said ten years," but Article II. following reads thus:

It shall be competent, however, to either of the contracting parties, in case either should think fit, at any time after the said ten years—that is, after the 25th of October, 1827—on giving notice of twelve months to the other contracting party, to annul and abrogate the "convention" entirely annulled and abrogated, after the expiration of the said term of notice.

Thus the "convention" might have been annulled and abrogated by either party on the 25th of October, 1829, or at any time since, in conformity with its own provisions. It has been in force over sixty-nine years, at least against the interest of the United States, and for the last thirty-seven years to the lingering suffering of the country.

When the peace treaty of 1814 came to be considered the battle of Waterloo had been fought and Napoleon made a prisoner of war. Great Britain, flushed with victory, would not agree to any stipulation respecting the impressment of seamen.

ABSENT FROM THE FEAST.

At Jefferson City, Mo., the Legislature re-elected Francis M. Cockrell to the United States Senate. At Augusta, Me., Eugene Hale was re-elected Senator by concurrent vote of the two branches of the Legislature.

THE STAGE IN SHAKESPEARE'S TIME.

John Churlton Collins, the distinguished essayist and Quarterly Reviewer, has been lecturing on the theater of Shakespeare's time. The typical theater then was of wood, circular or hexagonal in form, being modeled externally on the general structure of the amphitheaters for bull and bear baiting.

ATE DURING THE NAVAL FIGHT.

It seems that Admiral Schley and Captain Cook sat down to dinner while the Brooklyn was chasing the Colon. There's American assurance for you! At the close of a tremendously important battle, which settled a war and changed the map of the world, the commanders on the United States flagship, pursuing at top speed the last of the enemy, whose guns still belched defiance, sat down to dinner, which, no doubt, was served in style and with a strict regard for gastronomic etiquette.

"I will have a bit of the tomato soup," remarked the admiral. "Ah, that must have been a five and one-half-egg shell, eh, captain?"

"Sounds like it—pass me the celery," replied Captain Cook.

With the cheese and black coffee and cigars the enemy is overhauled and driven ashore, the Spanish sailors dotting the sea like drowning rats and the aged Cervena tearing his beard in the agony of disaster. Then, after a while, a chartrouse, the American admiral appears on deck and orders all boats lowered and all efforts made to save the lives of the situated Spaniards.

There ought to be fairly good material in this incident for a light opera. There was nothing half so naive or amusing in "Pinafore."—Kansas City Star.

A YOUTHFUL FINANCIER.

"Mamma," said a little fellow after he returned from church last night, "does the Lord keep books against everybody on earth?"

"Yes, my son," the mother answered. "In the great record of time the acts of every man are registered, and if we do good, it is to our credit, and if we do evil, it is to our debit side."

"Then, mother," the little imp asked, "how much discount will the Lord figure on the nickel with a hole in it? It will get credit for the face value and be charged with the discount?"

The future financier was hustled off to bed as soon as evening prayer was over.

EARTHQUAKES.

When an earthquake occurs the entire crust or surface of the earth experiences some effects of the disturbance. An earthquake in Calcutta which was accurately recorded gave a basis for determining the speed of transmission of the waves of disturbance due to the shock. The disturbance was registered at the Edinburgh Observatory, thousands of miles distant, and gave a speed of transmission of six and two-tenths miles per second for the heavier shocks and less than two miles per second for the lighter ones.

The question of another State Normal school is being agitated. Wayne and Norfolk are the principal points bidding for the location and while a bill has been presented in favor of Wayne, still Norfolk is pre-eminently the best place and in the interest of education the Pilot would like to see a bill of this nature favorably considered by the legislature, authorizing the building of a Normal school at Norfolk—Blair Pilot.

To read the above one would naturally think the editor of the Pilot a fit subject for the state institution already located at Norfolk.

"God is good to the Irish" was the motto inscribed over a pipe crossed on a whiskey bottle, which the witty Don Boulozet invented for the coat of arms of the "Shaghraun Club." This interpretation of the purposes of Divine Providence would seem to be borne out by an article in the January Cosmopolitan treating of the Irish leaders of the nation, and showing that not only has England a Lord Wolsey, a Lord Roberts, and a Kitchener, but that Spain has a Duke of Tetuan, Russia a General Obrotshoff, and Hungary a Viscount Laffe, not to mention an endless array of other Irishmen who have reflected honor upon their native land.

Norfolk News: The contracts for sugar beets between the Norfolk factory and farmers are now out ready to be filled out and signed. The terms to the farmers are considerably more favorable than those of last year and it is expected that a large acreage will be contracted for. The crop raised last season was very satisfactory to the agriculturists, the beets being of a uniformly good quality and prices above the average, as may be proven by reference to the Christian's issue of this paper, where the matter was reviewed in detail and at length. The substantial farmers realize the value of this crop and there is no question but the contracts will be rapidly made.

As our readers are aware, we have been able to secure for them this year an unusually advantageous clubbing arrangement, which includes the Iowa Homestead, its special Farmers' Institute editions, the Poultry Farmer, the Farmers' Mutual Insurance Journal, and the Humane Alliance, together with our own paper, all for the surprisingly low figure of $1.45. Nothing like this has ever before been offered to our farmer readers. The Homestead with its Special Institute edition for January contains 64 pages of practical farm information, and reading the paper and its Special editions for a year practically amounts to a liberal agricultural education. The Special Farmers' Institute edition for the present month considers four interesting, practical topics relating to farm prosperity, sheep husbandry, winter's work, etc., and on them more than 200 practical farmers and farmers' wives in the West contribute their views and experiences, making it a remarkable collection of the best thought on western farms. The Poultry Farmer, the Mutual Insurance Journal and the Humane Alliance, the best of their class, should be in every farm. Take advantage of this great offer.

HARTINGTON, Neb., Jan. 1, '99.

The Northeast Nebraska teachers present at Lincoln expressed it as their belief that conditions are so unfavorable for a meeting at Wayne that it should be postponed indefinitely, the Northeast Nebraska association to have at least a business session at Norfolk, April 5, 6 and 7, during meeting of the North Nebraska association. At the suggestion in this "at least" embodied in the vote made of their expression I referred the matter of making the distinctive ideas of our program a feature in the North Nebraska meeting that the work we have done shall not be lost. Resulting from this the North Nebraska committee in its session at Norfolk last Saturday voted to request permission to use part of our program. Accordingly I have recommended that they use at least the six topics: literature, history, civics, sensory and motor training, mathematics and preface on aims of meeting, law, etc., by president (or some other person.) The presentation of the idea at Norfolk will open the way to a splendid program for the Northeast Nebraska next Thanksgiving time. Very respectfully,

R. F. PANABAKER,
Pres. N. E. N. T. A.

The Cruel Knife!

It is absolutely useless to expect a surgical operation to cure cancer, or any other blood disease. The cruelty of such treatment is illustrated in the alarming number of deaths which result from it. The disease is in the blood, and hence can not be cut out. Nine times out of ten the surgeon's knife only hastens death.

My son had a most malignant Cancer, for which the doctors said an operation was the only hope. The operation was a severe one, as it was necessary to cut down to the jaw bone and sever the spine. A great while the Cancer returned and began to grow rapidly. We gave him many remedies without effect, and finally, upon the advice of a friend, decided to try S. S. S. (Swift's Specific), and within the second bottle he began to improve. After twenty bottles had been taken, the Cancer disappeared entirely, and he was cured. The cure was a permanent one, for thirty seven years ago, and has never had a sign of the dreadful disease to return. 170 Broadway St., Dallas, Texas.

It is absolutely the only hope for Cancer is Swift's Specific. S. S. S. For the Blood as it is the only remedy which goes to the very bottom of the blood and forces out every trace of the disease. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no potash, mercury, or other mineral. Books on Cancer will be mailed free to any address by the Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

The appropriation bills providing for the payment of the legislators, never run up against any serious opposition and they are safe as death to pass.

The long struggle in the U. S. Senate over the Nicaragua canal bill finally came to an end Saturday when the bill passed the Senate by a vote of 48 to 6.

Chauncey M. Depew, the newly elected United States Senator from New York, will make the old dried up bones in the Democratic graveyard of the Senate, fairly rattle when he takes his seat.

If the legislature would leave the question of electing the United States senator to that section of the country the matter would be disposed of in very short order. Judge Norris would be the unanimous choice.

The Nebraska legislature may not be willing to take any advice, but we would suggest that they get together and elect a United States senator. They could then get down to business and fulfill the republican promise of a short and business like session.

A circumstance which clearly illustrates the perfect harmony which exists between President McKinley and congress is the fact that he has vetoed but two bills during his term of office. Measures which do not meet the approval of the president seldom get through the house.

Strange it is that when one section of the state has an opportunity to get a state institution, every little Jim Crow town exports it to be located there, which is fully in itself and very often results in defeating all chance of the institution being located at all. When Norfolk secured the asylum Wayne county was loyal to her. There is reason for reciprocity.

The figures for the last year's business of Uncle Sam with other countries have just been made up by the government, bureau of statistics and they make a most marvelous showing. During the year this country exported $221,200,535 more than it imported, being 204 millions in round numbers more than for the previous year, and exceeding all other records by long odds.—Fremont Tribune.

A great effort is being made to protect our merchant marine. Protection to American industries has proven a wonderful success, but we export double the amount we import for which we pay foreign steamship companies over $30,000,000 annually. Let us protect our merchant marine and a vast amount of this sum would go to American ship owners where it properly belongs.

Very few republican senators or congressmen have put themselves on record against expansion. While Senator Hale of Maine who was re-elected the other day, is one of the most prominent anti expansionists, the same legislature which elected him passed resolutions recommending the ratification of the peace treaty, thus showing that the people of Maine are not in sympathy of anti expansion ideas. The legislatures of Michigan and Massachusetts turned down anti expansionists and elected men who will support the administration.

After being out eighteen hours the jury in the United States Court at Omaha last Thursday found Frank M. Dorsey, the cashier of the defunct First National Bank of Ponca, guilty on thirteen counts in the indictment charged against him, under the national banking law. It will be remembered that he was charged with falsifying the books of the bank, of making fictitious reports to the comptroller of the currency, and of abstracting the funds of the bank. Many of the citizens of Ponca and Dixon county were crippled through the failure of the bank and the citizens of Ponca are rejoicing over the verdict of the jury. Dorsey will probably get ten years in the penitentiary.

An Iowa contemporary says Chauncey M. Depew and Joseph Choate have done nothing for the people to merit the reward of the high offices to which they have been appointed. True enough, perhaps. And well enough if true. If both were selected, as they doubtless were, because of conspicuous ability, so much the better for all concerned. If the people are getting away from the idea that public office is to be used as reward for party services, they are making a distinct advance toward better government. President McKinley appears to have made some particularly happy selections in reward diplomatically and other appointments, and his choice of Mr. Choate is a good example of his wisdom.—Sioux City Journal.

REPUBLICAN PROMISE FULFILLED.

In the last national campaign the republican party promised that if it was successful in the election it would give the country a policy that would revive industries and make a market for labor. It also gave assurance that it would maintain the credit of the nation and uphold the standard of values then existing. It promised the restoration of financial confidence and of prosperity. That these promises have been fulfilled no man familiar with the financial and commercial history of the last two years will question.

In a speech in the house of representatives last week, Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio contrasted present conditions with those of 1896. He declared that there were more idle men in the United States on the election day of 1896, or the day preceding it, than on any other day in its history prior to that time. In that year there was everywhere gloom and despondency, uncertainty and hesitation. "Long lines of railroads were in the hands of receivers, more miles of railroad entered the courts for adjudication and management during the period of depression than in any other period in the history of the country in the same proportion. Idle men and valueless rolling stock and dividendless securities stood in the places of the country and money was idle and enterprise had been well nigh forgotten." Mills and factories had been closed, machinery representing the investment of hundreds of millions was rusting in idleness, labor sought employment in vain.

What a change has been wrought in the short period of two years. With the advent of the republican party to power financial confidence revived, automation was infused into the industries of the country and a demand was created for labor. Said Mr. Grosvenor: "There never was a period in the history of this country or of any other country when so mighty a change took place in the same length of time as has taken place in the condition of this country between the 4th day of March, 1897, and the period in which we are living this hour." Railroads are not now going into the hands of receivers, but on the contrary are paying dividends, while most of them are taxed to their utmost capacity to carry the traffic. The great iron and steel industry, which for several years had been almost prostrated, has been greatly enlarged and its products are going into the markets of the world as never before. Nearly every industry is realizing a fair measure of prosperity, and American labor was never so fully employed. The wealth of the nation has been increased within the last two years more than a thousand million dollars, the balance of international trade in our favor is greater than ever before in the history of the country and there is the unprecedented fact of American money loaned in Europe and the United States practically dictating the price of money in London and on the continent.

These are incontestable facts. They are known of all men familiar with current business history. Admit that they are measurably due to causes outside of republican policy, yet every fair-minded man will concede that they could not have been realized without the confidence in financial stability and security which republican success created and the revigorating effect upon our industries of republican policy. But in spite of these facts the advocates of currency debasement still find hearers and adherents and threaten to renew in the next presidential contest the battle of the standards. The American people, however, will not soon again be deluded to the extent they were in 1896 by theories whose fallacy has been demonstrated. There are not today 6,000,000 voters in favor of free silver and another year of prosperity, which is assured, will still further reduce the number of the supporters of currency debasement and repudiation.—See.

Wall street may be selfish, but it is almost infallible as an indication of the material conditions and prospects of the country. There is no hesitation in selling stocks when the clouds are dark, or buying them when they are sunny. Making due allowance for corners and schemes, the stock market is the index hand on the financial dial. During the Civil War, every victory sent up the value of the national currency, and every defeat swung the balance in favor of gold. The upward tendency of the stock market shows plainly that national conditions are both prosperous and promising, and that the American people have reason for confidence in the present and in the future. It shows that Americans are opening their eyes to the fact that there are no better securities in the world than those of honestly administered American enterprises. It shows that the country, in the opinion of its financial center, is on a solid foundation, that the opportunities for young America were never better than now, and that the Spanish War, while adding to the national glory and prestige, has not imposed any burden the nation is unable to bear. The prospects of evil make no impression on the heart or brain of the republic.—Success.

The people of Boyd county are protesting against the bill introduced in Lincoln asking for relief for the settlers of that county. They wish to emphasize the fact that they are entirely independent and prosperous enough to do without aid of this kind. They ought to know.

"Between what Thomas J. Puffer thought and said and what a good many people imagine he thought and said there is room for a great many different kinds of democrats," observes the Keokuk Gaze City. "It only remains to add that the possibilities of the case have not been neglected in any means."

The republican majority will give Gov. Puffer a chance to show the people whether he means what he says about abolishing the state board of transportation or not. The pops have always and everlastingly declared that it is a humbug and worse than that and ought to be swept off the earth. Yet they have had two legislatures but have not made any move towards its abolition. It furnished three good jobs for three good pops, and was too great a snap for them to throw away. In his message Gov. Puffer says it ought to go and the republican legislature will repeal the law creating it. This will give the people a chance to show that he is a little more sincere than the party. Of course he will appreciate not repealing the obnoxious law. He cannot do otherwise. But by doing so he will not relieve the party of the odium of having denounced the commission for years and yet leaving it for a republican legislature to knock out. The pops make great pretenses and do nothing, but the republican party always proceeds to do what it considers best and redeems its promises.—York Times.

For many years Europe made Americans pay tribute to her manufacturers, but the adoption of the policy of protecting American markets for American producers, coupled with the higher wage rates consequent upon a higher development of the needs of the American people as the necessities of life, have so stimulated invention to devise machinery to reduce the labor cost of production that Europe, clinging to more conservative methods, has been outclassed, and is now almost a decade behind in methods and prices. Additional to this is the bounteousness of the supply of all forms of raw materials on the American continent, and the superior quality of most of these supplies. A new era is about to dawn on the world, and the development of higher civilization is certain to grip out of it. Uncle Sam's rusty sons and brawny daughters will have an important part to play in the newer drama of mankind. The new era means much for it will be attended with a larger realization of the comforts of life among its inhabitants and the enlargement of the consumption of all products of human energy, multiplying employments and enlarging opportunities. This era will not likely be attended by those deplorable reversions from civilization to barbarism that have so frequently collapsed the past, because with a population free and with opportunities for intellectual enlightenment, and all the nobler and elevating influences attendant on such civilization, slavery, which degraded even the most enlightened peoples, cannot exist, nor can its debasing and demoralizing influences blight and bias that culture which must always radiate from the minority.—Whelpling (W.V.), Ohio Valley Manufacturer.

Those bells, those bells, those wedding bells, how sweet their sound of music tells, that another trout is caught.

Wm Cook and Miss Westerhouse were married last week and the boys had a good time charivaring them. To get rid of them he gave the boys $5.

You must all attend literary three and one-half miles southwest of Wayne and we assure you a hot time, and we are sure to hit you in our paper. Come, hear and see.

Our sick list is getting thinner every day.
Agent Frosts mother was down from Emerson Sunday looking after him.

Corn by the bushel, load and car came in the past week. Something over 700 bushels came in one day.
Sherman Weatherholt and wife seem to have dropped out of sight. They have not returned to the city as yet.

Friday's and Saturday's visitors to Norfolk were quite numerous. Among them were Mrs Hecht, Mrs. Jno. Zeimor, and others we failed to get.

W. C. Bonham received a very favorable letter from Washington attorneys in regard to his book brace; he has an application for a patent on it on file.

SCHOOL NOTES.
Elmer Lundberg gave the pupils an instructive talk one morning last week.

The grip has made the attendance very irregular in some of the lower grades.
Our high school has been invited to take part in North Nebraska High School contest at Norfolk on April 5, but will not likely be represented as too much time has already been lost, and none of our pupils feel that they can spare the time to prepare for it.

The number of pupils enrolled in each grade this year is as follows:
Preliminary, Boys, 36 Girls, 36
First Grade, 18 18
Second Grade, 14 14
Third Grade, 24 21
Fourth Grade, 20 25
Fifth Grade, 32 23
Sixth Grade, 12 16
Seventh Grade, 18 16
Eighth Grade, 19 19
Ninth Grade, 14 25
Tenth Grade, 10 9
Eleventh Grade, 2 7
Twelfth Grade, 2 2
Total, Boys, 243 Girls, 268

A bill has been introduced in the legislature to have the state printed school books and they are to be compiled by a state board. This would doubtless obseep school books. But it must be remembered that while anyone can "compile" books it requires an educator to write them. Many states have books of their own printing and it is safe to say that in few instances have the books been benefited by these cheap "compiled books." As a rule school is an investment and if the investment is miserly the results are poor. The school books now in use cost an average per pupil about sixty cents per year.

Press Association.
The meeting of the Nebraska Press Association held at Omaha Tuesday and Wednesday of this week was without exception one of the most successful ever held; the discussions were of great interest to the fraternity. The members were handsomely treated by the people of Omaha. Tuesday evening they were served with lunch at the Commercial Club rooms and provided with theatre tickets. Last night they were banqueted at the Paxton hotel.

W. N. Huss of the Norfolk News was elected President of the association for the ensuing year, a fitting recognition of the northeast part of the state.

Gold in Pyrites.
Experts in gold mining agree that pretty much the bottom fact now known about such metal is briefly that all original pyrites of small grain texture contain gold to a greater or less extent, this, of course, not covering such secondary large crystal pyrites deposits derived from veins. It is not yet known, however, whether the gold in these pyrites is in chemical combination with the sulphur, or whether each minute particle of gold is simply covered with a coating of sulphide of iron, or finally whether such particles are in the metallic state, but alloyed with silver or other metal which combines more rapidly with sulphur than the gold does, and consequently forms a coat of sulphide of silver over the gold. The particles of gold are so minute that the combinations follow so rapidly during the splitting up of these pyrites that the finest instruments and tests known to chemistry have as yet been unable to settle this part of the question to the satisfaction of all concerned, this fact showing how easy it is to put in a mill that will not save the values.

Stupidity Rewarded.
This story is told of Sir Walter Scott, who was far from being a brilliant pupil at school. After he became famous the one day dropped into the old school to pay a visit to the scene of his former woes. The teacher was anxious to make a good impression on the writer and put the pupils through their lessons so as to show them to the best advantage. After awhile Scott said: "But which is the dance? You have one surely Show him to me."

"The teacher called up a poor fellow who looked the picture of woe as he bashfully came toward the distinguished visitor.
"Are you the dancer?" asked Scott.
"Yes, sir," said the boy.
"Well, my good fellow," said Scott, "here is a crown for you for keeping my place warm."

A Prime Political Reason.
It was in the Newton ward, where the candidate on the Liberal side was Mr. Ritchie, a well known confectioner and restaurateur, whose pies and rook were equally famous in Auld Reekie. After the poll the following conversation was heard between two workingmen who had just emerged from the voting station: "Well, Tam, did you vote for Ritchie?" "No," said the other, "I didn't." "And what for not?" asked his astonished friend. "You're a Liberal, are na' ye, and Ritchie's the Liberal candidate?" "I ken that fine," retorted his companion imperturbably, "but I never could bear Ritchie's pies!" —New Century

Salt Hay.
Salt hay is used in winter for coloring various kinds of plants that grow close to the earth. It has a long staple, and it serves this purpose well. Straw with long staple still is used for building up plants and shrubs being stalks. Salt hay is used in cemeteries to cover up ivy clad graves. The ivy is thus kept in better condition than if it were left exposed to the blasts and the cold of winter. The brown hay is laid lengthwise upon the grave in a covering of uniform thickness all over it, which is held in place by bent rods extending down upon it at intervals, hooplike, and with their ends in the ground on either side.

The reputation of the political platform is frequently surpassed by the reputation of the man. Recently, at a Conservative meeting, a local politician "on the stump" declared, in vindication of his devotion to truth, that when a boy he had been thrashed by a mistaken father for telling it.

It was an ill mannered Democrat in the body of the hall who briskly replied, "I guess it's cured yer, gunner!" —London Chronicle

A Conservative Verdict.
"He died through his own exertion, with some slight assistance from his neighbors," was the verdict of an early day coroner's jury in Ellsworth county after it had heard testimony to the effect that the vigilance committee had made a horse thief climb a ladder against a telegraph pole and jump off with a rope around his neck. —Kansas City Journal

The Deadly Grip.
Is again abroad in the land. The air you breathe may be full of its fatal germ! Don't neglect the "grip" or you will open the door to Pneumonia and consumption and invite death. Its sure signs are chills with fever, head ache, dull heavy pains, mucous discharges from the nose, sore throat and never let go cough. Don't waste precious time treating this cough with tablets, crochets, or poor, cheap syrups. Cure it at once with Dr. King's New Discovery, the infallible remedy for bronchial troubles. It kills the disease germs, heals the lungs and prevents the dreaded after effects from the malady. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Money back if not cured. A free trial bottle at Wilkins & Co's drug store.

Paul Perry of Columbus, Ga., suffered agony for thirty years and then cured his piles by using DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It heals injuries and skin diseases like magic. Orth.
