IN BARTLETT'S ROAD TO SEITZERVILLE

E. FRED BARTLETT

IS Killed in the Battle at Manila on Last Sunday.

Among the volunteers who fell in the battle at Manila was Fred Bartlett of Co. L, First Colorado Volunteers. He was the son of our fellow-townsmen, J. W. Bartlett, and the stricken parents have the sympathy of the entire community in their affliction, but they have the knowledge that their brave son died fighting for his country.

The deceased fearing that his father would object to his entering the army, enlisted under the name of Elmer F. Doran, giving as his residence the place he was born in Iowa. After his father learned he had enlisted he visited him at Denver, and afterward made an application to the government to have his son re-enlisted in his right name, and he had received notice that the request would be complied with but the papers had not yet been received. Mrs. Bartlett, mother of deceased, is spending the winter in California and a telegram was forwarded to her by Mr. Bartlett informing her of the death of her son.

Manager Britton informs us that if a sufficient number of reserved seats are sold in advance for the John Dillon performance he will put in electric lights at the opera house. They are needed, and here's hoping there will be 400 tickets sold.

Some of the boys are a veritable nuisance around the post office after school hours, which will not much longer be tolerated, and if the work of marking and writing on the walls is continued, some of them will land in the lock-up. The boys might just as well act like little gentlemen as any other way, and parents should interest themselves in the matter before some of the boys get into the hands of the Deputy United States Marshall.

The county commissioners met on Tuesday, but owing to the death of his wife Chairman Russell was not present. The board was viewing the different designs and plans presented by some ten or a dozen architects for the proposed new court house. There were some fine plans presented but it is not probable that any design will be settled upon until the full board meets.

The following parties were here exhibiting different plans: Burkhead & Reese, Slonek City; J. C. Holland, Lincoln; J. T. Guth, Omaha; Geo. Birdinghoff, Beatrice; J. S. Cordner, Lincoln; Wm. F. Shreve, Kansas City; A. G. Kirk & Co., Milwaukee, Wis.; Brown & Brown, Buffalo, N. Y.; Sidney Smith, Chicago; Pass & Schippel, Manhattan.

BATTLE IS FOUGHT!

The American and Insurgent Armies at Manila, Clash.

FILIPINOS SUSTAIN GREAT LOSS

American Loss is About 45 Killed and 140 Wounded. First Nebraska Volunteers in the Thick of the Fight and Acquit Themselves With Honor.

The long looked for clash between the American army and the insurgents at Manila, occurred last Saturday night when the insurgents attempted to cross the American lines at about 8:00 o'clock. The third attempt to cross the line resulted in the first shot being fired by a member of the Nebraska regiment who killed one insurgent and wounded another before he himself fell. The fight at once began all along the line and continued throughout the night and a part of Sunday. The Nebraska, Montana and North Dakota regiments repelled vigorously to the assault from the insurgents, and as the battle raged Sunday the insurgent forces were driven back, having suffered defeat and a terrible loss of men. The American loss was 45 killed and 140 wounded. The First Nebraska was in the brunt of the fight and acquitted themselves with honor to the state and country. Four of the brave boys were killed and many wounded. The gunboats aided the Americans in the fight and did frightful execution among the insurgents. The battle lasted twenty-four hours.

M. W. A. State Convention

Dr. Blair, Phil Kohl and W. H. Hoguewood went to Fremont Monday to attend the state M. W. A. convention which convened in that city yesterday. It was a most interesting meeting with sharp competition for the election of the different officers. Phil Kohl was elected as delegate to the Head camp which meets in Kansas City. Dr. Blair secured the unanimous endorsement of the Third congressional district for Head Physician, and has the majority of the state delegates to the Head Camp which insures his election. Wayne has a knock of getting most everything she goes after, and The Herald congratulates the delegates to the state convention over their success.

A Close Call.

On Monday night about eleven o'clock Marshal Miner went to the "cooler" near the waterworks where he had given John Phillips a bed for the night. Upon his arrival there he discovered that the building had just caught fire from the stove, or rather a dangerous concern representing a stove, which he extinguished. Had he been a few moments later the building would undoubtedly have been destroyed, together with the electric light plant and the waterworks while Phillips would have met a horrible death. Economy is all right, but it is not economy where the city's interests are thus jeopardized. The council had better purchase a stove, and in the second place, the old shack is too close to the city's property interests which guard the welfare of the town.

A Sad Death.

RUSSELL—At her home in Leslie precinct, Wayne county, sixteen miles southeast of Wayne, on Tuesday, February 7, 1899, Margaret, wife of Richard Russell, chairman of the board of county commissioners, passed from this earthly sphere to the great beyond, death resulting from an attack of the measles. The deceased was about 45 years of age. She leaves a husband and two children who have the sympathy of their friends.

Valentines at Bookstore.

Miss Fanny Dickey returned to Council Bluffs on Monday afternoon.

An article headed "Expansion of England," dated Wayne, Neb., Feb. 4th, and signed by W. N. Foster appears in Tuesday morning's Omaha Bee. The contribution is worthy of publication but we are at a loss to know who the writer is.

Robbie Mears fell some twelve feet from one of the windows at the school building last Friday striking on his head and shoulders. Dr. Williams was called and dressed the wounds which consisted of two slight cuts on the head and a few bruises.

On January 19, an item in reference to Ravhouser and Whitman being arrested appeared in The Herald. Instead of Whitman it should have read Waterman, and we cheerfully make the correction which occurred through an error of the compositor.

Subject of morning service at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath. "The first last, the last first." In the evening the seventh sermon in the illustrated series will be given. The paintings will show the meeting between Joseph and Jacob, also the meeting with Pharaoh.

Ted Perry received a message last Saturday evening announcing the death of Mrs. J. W. Perry. Mrs. Perry resided in Wayne for many years and had many friends here who received the sad news with much sorrow. The many friends of Mr. Perry here deeply sympathize with him in his sore affliction.

WE are not heavy Advertisers, but when we do Advertise we mean Every word of it!

And when we tell you that the

MAJESTIC MALLEABLE & STEEL RANGE

Are the Best and the Cheapest; We stand ready to prove it.

They are the best for the following reasons:

- The top is malleable iron and will not warp, break or crack.
- The oven is steel and made air tight.
- The reservoir holds 15 gallons of water.
- Is a good heater in winter; bakes biscuit in 3 minutes.
- Bakes and cooks with two thirds the fuel it takes to run other ranges.
- And the woman using it is always in a good humor.
- Is the CHEAPEST because it gives perfect satisfaction and lasts three times as long as other stoves and ranges.

We will be pleased to show you the Majestic

And it is to your interest to look at it if in need of a stove or range for the kitchen.

Next week in this space we will give you a list of the names of women in this vicinity who are using the MAJESTIC and are pleased with it. Come in and look at them.

I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by L. P. Orth.

MARRIED. BROOKE—RESCHEMANN—At the office of the county judge on Monday, February 6, 1899, Judge Hunter officiating, Hans Brogon to Miss Lena Roschmann, both of Winside.

SCHOOL NOTES. Miss White is teaching the grammar room this week. Some of the grades will give Washington programs. The Athenian society gave their regular program last Friday. Mrs. Ott has been out of school with the grip the past week. H. E. Griggs is fireman at the high school in the absence of Mr. Davis. Janitor Davis was called to Council Bluffs by the serious illness of his father on Tuesday. Robert Mears fell from an upstairs window at the high school building the other day but is in school again. About sixty patrons attended the parent's meeting last Friday afternoon. Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. Mellor and Mrs. Britton read papers, and these were followed by a general discussion. It was pretty generally agreed that the child who is never questioned at home in regard to his work, and who receives no aid nor encouragement in his lessons from this source is apt to lose interest. The fact was also brought out that children who have been urged in the lower grades to skip a grade often find the work from that time on very difficult for them and they lose interest from their inability to do the work well. Irregular attendance and its bad effects on the interest and progress of the pupil was discussed at some length. Farm land in Wayne county has advanced in price $5.00 per acre on more during the past year, which is another blow at prosperity according to the populist idea; but the sound sensible farmers of Wayne county will register their votes at the next election in favor of a constitution of the present conditions. The prices for everything in the line of farm produce is very satisfactory and the twaddle dum and twaddle dep't of demagogues will no longer meet with favor.

Wausa Gazette: Clifton Grace came up from Wayne Monday and is now established as salesman in the F. O. Lyon hardware store. "CHIT" made many friends during his stay here last year all of whom rejoice to see him back.

The Ponca Gazette is authority for the report that an African lion has been seen in the bluffs north of Lime Grove in that part of the state. Whether the story is a companion piece to Mose Warner's mountain lion story the Gazette does not state, but no doubt the "forty-rod" in that vicinity is below proof.

Winslow Tribune: Miss Fannie Skiles of the Wayne schools, visited the fore part of last week with her friend, Mrs. O. K. Bright.... Miss Brown and Miss Blakeley, both of whom are teaching west of town, went to Wayne on Saturday morning to visit friends and relatives.

Emerson Enterprise: Several bills have been introduced in the legislature for the establishment of new Normal schools. If another school is to be established northeast Nebraska is entitled to it. Wayne has been mentioned and it is a town which is very accessible and its citizens are cultured, refined and hospitable. Wayne would make an ideal college town.

The parents' meeting at the high school rooms last Friday afternoon was well attended and according to all reports was decidedly interesting. The papers by Mrs. Mellor, Mrs. Cunningham and Miss White, were read and many valuable suggestions to the teachers and pupils were advanced. Such meetings are certainly productive of much good and should be held at stated periods.

Good amusements have been scarce this winter, therefore the popular comedian, John Dillon, booked to appear at the opera house on the evening of Wednesday, March, 1st, will be most welcome. He has a new play this year that in the language of Tammany Hall, is a "crackerjack." Mr. Dillon appears as "Hiram Jolly," an eccentric old fellow and the part is admirably suited to his peculiarities as a comedian. His company is good, and he will draw a big house.

How appropriately the following from the Coleridge Blade applies to a few of the would-be bosses of Wayne county: "It is not written anywhere in the law of God that one man is possessed of natural rights that are not equally given to all men. He that exalteth himself shall be humbled. Some of our fellow citizens whose heads are swelled until they think they are qualified to manage the affairs of their neighbors, better pause and take an inventory of their capabilities for performing the job."

LITERARY NOTES

McClure's Magazine for February opens with a notable poem by Rudyard Kipling in the "White Man" unmistakably the White Man of the United States is urged to take up his burden and go forth and fulfill his divine office of master and teacher to his "new caught sullen peoples half devil and half child." Following this an interesting account by Franklin Matthews of an actual descent in the Holland diving torpedo boat, illustrated with drawings from life; and Stephen Crane depicts in his own vivid manner, some striking instances of bravery on the part of marines to whom it fell at Guantanamo to signal from shore to the ships under full exposure to Spanish sharpshooters. E. W. Harden's character sketch of Dewey at Manila giving his own observations and personal impressions; and Captain Mahan's account and estimate of Admiral Cervera's movements in the recent war—are all both entertaining and valuable. There are also three excellent short stories—one of them a story of American political life by a new writer, and one a vigorous joyous tale in Kipling's series of short stories of school-boy life.

Wallace Farmer this week announces that Mr. Wallace's new book on "Clover Farming" is now ready to be sent out. It is a small book neatly bound in paper and well printed, contains boiled down and compact, Mr. Wallace's twenty years' experience in growing clover as a forage and crop seed and for fertility. Mr. Wallace has for years been recognized as the clover authority of the United States, and this book will certainly have a large sale. We can send Wallace's Farmer (published weekly at Des Moines—regular price $1 per year) and the Wayne Herald, both one year for only $1.50. We can send Wallace's Farmer, the new book, "Clover Farming," and the Wayne Herald, all for only $1.75. One sample copy of Wallace's Farmer can be obtained free by addressing a postal card to Wallace Farmer, Des Moines, Iowa.

The question of handling the wires and gas, water and drainage pipes in great cities, and even in towns, is becoming with each year one of greater importance. A prize was offered to the engineers of the United States by the Cosmopolitan magazine for the ablest article suggesting a scientific, economical solution of this problem. The paper of Henry F. Bryant has been selected by the committee as the one most ably meeting the conditions. It appears in the February Cosmopolitan. "Some Plays and their Actors.—Without Prejudice," is a new department in the Cosmopolitan. The names of the contributors are not given, but in the staff are embraced the majority of the leading critics of the country, including David Belasco. It is interesting to note that in these days of competition in the magazine field the editors of the Cosmopolitan have gone from three hundred thousand for February, 1895 to three hundred and fifty thousand in February of this year.

S. A. Faekler, editor of the Micanopy (Fla.) Eustler, with his wife and children, suffered terribly from la grippe. One Minute Cough Cure was the only remedy that helped them. It acted quickly. Thousands of others use this remedy as a specific for la grippe and its exhausting after effects. Orth.

Lent is approaching, and a deep, religious, Lenten quiet and calm would work the country and its dependencies no end of good.

La grippe is again epidemic. Every precaution should be taken to avoid it. Its specific cure is One Minute Cough Cure. A. J. Doctors Can't Cure It!

Contagious blood poison is absolutely beyond the skill of the doctors. They may dose a patient for years on their mercurial and potash remedies, but he will never be rid of the disease; on the other hand, his condition will grow steadily worse. S. S. is the only cure for this terrible affliction, because it is the only remedy which goes direct to the cause of the disease and forces it from the system.

"I was afflicted with blood poison, and the best doctors did me no good, though I took their treatment faithfully. In fact, I seemed to get worse all the while. I took almost every so-called blood remedy, but they did not seem to reach the disease, and had no effect whatever. I was disheartened, for it seemed that I could never be cured. At the advice of a friend I then took S. S. and to my surprise, I continued the medicine and it cured me completely, building up my health and increasing my appetite. Although this was ten years ago, I have never had a sign of the disease to return to me."

It is like self-destruction to continue to take potash and mercury, besides totally destroying the digestion, they dry up the marrow in the bones, producing a stiffness and swelling of the joints, causing the hair to fall out, and completely wrecking the system.

BUILDING HAY SHEDS.

Plans Suggested Which Ingenious Farmers May Find Useful.

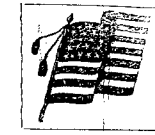

Stacking hay, and especially clover hay, is generally attended with waste, no matter how well the stacks may be built. In wet seasons the clover will be rank, will be full of water and will be hard to cure and hard to stack. It will be liable to spoil in the stack, and in the end be worth about half as much as it ought to be, and therefore we say if you have not provided yourself with a hay shed make calculations to do so at once. This advice is given in Wallace's Farmer, with the following suggestions for building sheds:

Hay sheds may be built in any shape or size desired. You can make a good one for $50, or you can put $500 into it. We suggest a cheap shed that will answer the purpose. Secure straight poles 20 feet long and 8 inches in diameter. They may be oak or ash, round or telegraph poles or 8 by 8 pine timbers. Select a dry, high place convenient to your cattle yards 80 feet north and south and 40 feet east and west. Plant one of these poles 8 feet in the ground at each corner, or, if you prefer, in case you use 8 by 8 pine lumber, put a good stout oak post in the ground 4 feet at each corner and bolt your 8 by 8 on to it. In this case it will not be necessary to use more than 18 foot or, for that matter, 16 foot timbers, although 20 feet are not out of the way unless you are exposed to violent storms. Put another pole midway between the ends and two 18 feet apart at the sides, and you have the framework of your shed. You can then proceed in a way that any carpenter can point out to put on the plates, rafters and roof.

We would prefer having the roof flat, not more than one-third pitch, and it can be made of one inch boards or half inch or of shingles. The poles on the opposite side should be tied together. Make the tie two feet from the top instead of the top in order to give full swing to the fork. The horse fork can be put in in the usual way, and you have your hay shed! This will hold 40 tons of hay when well filled. If we used inch boards for roofing, we would get them as dry as possible and nail them 4 inches from the side at any nailing point. This would allow them to cup. If we could get half inch or five-eighths, we would prefer it, and they will cup more freely, and the thinner boards will swell out quicker in case of rain and shed water better than the inch stuff.

Farmers who are ingenious can put a roof in a shed of this kind without going to the expense of boards by using slough grass bound in small sheaves and wiring it, so that it will shed water very well for several years. Having secured a hay shed of this character it is very easy to put cattle sheds around and feed out the hay without hauling it. For example, if his hay shed stands east and west he can put sheds 16 feet wide on the east, north and south, leaving one end free from which to take to the barn. This will give him a shed room of over 4,000 feet square, or equal to a barn 100 feet by 40 feet, at a comparatively small expense.

TREATY RATIFIED.
Such was the verdict rendered by the U. S. Senate when, by a vote of 57 to 27, the treaty of Paris, promulgated by the American and Spanish peace commissioners, was ratified on Monday. Hence the work of Dewey is not to be undone and the action of the senate will meet with the approval of the whole country.

Judge W. F. Norris would in no way have anything to do with a move to contest the seat of his opponent for congress. The mention of it met with his disapproval.

Up to the time of going to press, nothing has been heard of that appointment of Uncle Henry Miller. Can it be that Governor Poynter has forgotten where Wayne county is?

It appears certain that Hayward cannot be elected the attention of the state legislature is respectfully called to Wayne. Here they will find first class timber for an A. No. 1 senator.

One of the brightest and newest weekly papers that reaches The Herald office is the Platt County Times, published at Columbus by Will B. Dale. It is a most welcome visitor.

President McKinley is a man of action. Will some one proceed to enlighten us—if they can—wherein, in a single act, he has been wrong? He has been equal to every emergency and every necessity. For reference see General Eagan.

It Miles and Eagan had had as much control over their mouths as they did over men they would have been saved a deal of trouble and relieved the people of a large portion of that tired feeling. Mouth discipline should be added to the U. S. tactics.

General Gomez in co-operation with President McKinley in accepting the $3,000,000 for the Cuban soldiers, and the disbandment of the Cuban army, has done a great deal more for the freedom of the Cubans than during all his years of campaigning against Spain.

Just why the legislators of Lancaster county desire a secret ballot in the event of a republican caucus is not clear to the average republican throughout the state, and if such a ballot should be taken it would always appear very cloudy to a large majority of the voters.

The Tekamah Burmanian asserts that the present legislature is going to be a most expensive one simply because it is a republican body. If the deficiencies caused by pop mismanagement of affairs are provided for, it is probable that it will be much more expensive than it would have been had a pop legislature provided for the payment of the obligations pop officials incurred in state institutions.

To hear some newspaper men "spout" about passes, or to hear any other class of men for that matter, is almost enough to knock the microbes out of any gripe of which man is heir. Why bless your soul, every last "booger" of them puts forth his best efforts to obtain a pass whenever the opportunity offers, and why not? The man is a chump who would refuse a pass or whatever you may term it, when he can get one, and ohamps of this variety are not visible to such an extent that you could notice it.

The entire country commends President McKinley in his efforts to have the Senate act promptly and positively in ratifying the Paris treaty. Had it been done at the proper time no doubt the lives of many of our brave volunteer soldiers would not have been sacrificed on the altar of the wretched Aguinaldo's ambition. The American allies of the Philippines must deeply feel chagrined at the frightful carnage they have aided in bringing about, in addition to being bitterly condemned by the whole American people. The Philippines, too, have learned a lesson. To attempt to betray and wrong their friends has brought disaster to them. The strong arm of the United States must be respected.

The republicans fought the present secret ballot law and when it was amended they kicked worse than ever. Its mighty hand to please a republican unless you give him everything in sight and the privilege of keeping all he can find.—Stanton Register.

Great Scott, Pónt! Do you mean to say that you believe it is right and justice for one man's name to appear on the ballot in three or four different places while the opposing candidates name can appear but once? And Pónt, don't you also know that the present distinction for an Australian ballot system was passed directly in the interest of one class of citizens without taking into consideration the rights of the opposition? If you don't know it, you are a much bigger ass than most people give you credit with being.

THE IRON BANDS OF PROTECTION

They Embrace a Happy and Prosperous Country.

While a couple of years ago the whole country was in the doleful dumps hundreds of thousands out of work, while business was dead and all commercial enterprises were suffering with chills, and many of them tottering on the brink of hopeless bankruptcy, and while the Western farmers were in a despairing plight, the prophets of evil wore one prolonged smile. Famine seemed to fatten, starvation and desperation to gladden them beyond measure. The cry of the sheriff's auctioneer was everywhere heard in the land, and was their most delicious music. When our bankrupt sales were so large and at such low prices that some of the goods found their way to foreign shores, their smiles broadened, and they said: "Behold, the iron bands of Protection have been torn from our commerce, and now comes the fulfillment of the prophecies of the great Colón—evan America is entering the markets of the world with her manufacturers."

But now the iron bands of Protection embrace the country once more. The mechanic is at work trying to feed his little ones back to their former plumpness. The merchant is filling the largest orders he has booked since President Harrison's time. Everybody is busy, well-fed, well-paid and supremely contented and helpful, except those prophets who have lost their laugh, mislaid their smiles, and now go around with long faces, because—with the iron bands of Protection still around us—we have exported even more of our goods to foreign shores, have captured a still larger share of the markets of the world, and have laid low in the dust all the prophecies, predictions and teachings of the once great Colón and his little remnant of followers. Even the staunchest adherents of the old British economic school avowed a year ago that if we could show a larger expansion of our foreign trade under the Dingley bill we would do much to overthrow the belief of all Englishmen in the desirability of maintaining their Free-Trade theories. The United States has supplied the proof.—New York Commercial.

By a vote of 80 to 19 the house of representatives at Lincoln, while in session on Saturday adopted the following resolution:

Whereas, The opinion as expressed by this house that United States senators should be elected by a direct vote of the people, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we hereby request our senators and representatives in congress to procure as soon as possible the submission of an amendment to the constitution of the United States for ratification, providing for the election of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people; be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to each of our senators and representatives in congress. The long drawn out contest for the election of a United States senator by legislatures is, no doubt, the cause for the passing of the above resolution, but it is very questionable whether such proceedings would be wise, when taking into consideration the manner in which the House of Congress flops around every few years. One branch of the government should be stable and is needed to hold in check the other. The sober second and third thought of the people should prevail, and the popular will is not always for the best interests of the whole people by a long way.

The Wayne Herald editor got "fired" over the Journal's statement that Norfolk was the best location for the state normal. He got up to remark that the Journal was somewhat piggyish in its statements, and also stated that Wayne had just as good railroad facilities as Norfolk. He intimated that Norfolk was only good enough for a lunatic asylum, and when it comes to educational institutions Wayne is the only place, etc. The drift of his remarks would indicate that he is about ready for the asylum himself.—Norfolk Journal.

Well, as people with hogish propensities generally occupy such places, we know of no place where more porkers exist than in Norfolk, and evidently the Journal people have got mixed up in the mess. Hence we can overlook their idiotic remarks. People living near by such places are subject to "infection." True, Norfolk is a good town; but there are others.

HONOR OF THE FLAG.

We cannot remember when we did not think the American flag the most beautiful object of its kind in the world. We learned to love it in the days of its youth, as we could never love "but one"; and that once all the time; still more, we have learned to hold it, not in heart only but in reason, worthy of such a love, in all it stands for all it promises, to ourselves and to mankind. We have sailed foreign oceans, and the sight of it as we drew into New York harbor was a renewal of the intensities of youth; it could only be compared with the joy of greeting our own household and children—or better, not compared at all, for either feeling was one to itself alone. When we have read in the English novels, Clark Russell, of his wrecked and ocean-driven mariners, famishing and frozen, where a mast begins to glimmer above the misty sea-line, straining for a sight of ensign, praying that if it be not of their own country, then it may be the stars and stripes the one supreme assurance they could have of rescue and humanity—it has made us feel almost as good as if we had ourselves wrecked a craft of some feeble enemy.

It ought not to be surprising then if we feel an interest, keen even to sensitiveness, in the honor and glory of an emblem so adored. We hope that in our earnest efforts to preserve that honor, we may not seem over-zealous and aggressive to our fellow-countrymen. If we wish to keep it clean, at least to the requirement of decency; if we would not defile it with needless mire, blood, and all corruption; above all if we would withdraw it as swiftly and decisively as possible from any false and dishonoring position; we trust that our care of the flag may be regarded, even if somewhat ideal, as at least patriotic.

Suppose a young man among his fellows, getting in some dispute, and not sure precisely what position he will assume; then suppose a doughty fellow came to the teeth, coming up and prodding in his ear from behind, "Go right on never talk of right and wrong whatever you claim to do I will stand by you, and mail the life out of anybody that lifts a hand against you"—that retainer might be faithful and able in his part, he might in some dull sense be called mindful of his patron's interest; but how of that patron's honor? By all the latest gospel of clap-trap that has filled the land, if a pranky school-boy should set up our banner on top of Saint Paul's, we must fight all Britain to the end of time before it should be taken down.

The following resolution was adopted by the house of representatives of Nebraska on Saturday, by a vote of 49 to 80:

Whereas, The government of the United States and the government of Spain have, after long and careful negotiations, agreed on a treaty of peace and the terms of that treaty are, in all its substantial features, in accord with the terms proposed by the United States; and

Whereas, A failure to ratify the treaty by the senate of the United States would place the government of the United States in a ridiculous position before the world in failing to ratify what it had itself proposed; and

Whereas, The ratification of the treaty in no manner commits this government to the so called policy of expansion or imperialism, but simply puts an end to the war, and permits the nation to assume and perform the duties imposed upon it by the results of the Spanish-American war; therefore

Resolved, That the house of representatives of Nebraska hereby respectfully requests Senators Allen and Thurston to vote for the ratification of said treaty of peace; and they did.

The following appropriate resolutions which will merit the commendation of every citizen throughout the state, were passed by the legislature at Lincoln Monday:

Resolved, That the sergeant-at-arms be instructed to place a flag at half-mast during today's session.

Resolved, That we tender Nebraska's brave volunteer boys our congratulations for their brilliant achievements at Manila February 5 and to the parents and relatives of the fallen our heartfelt sympathy. The memory of the prowess of American arms will be kept ever green.

Recently Russian Sailor.
A tall, thin, gangling bent up shoulders from the life-long habit of carrying his hands like a soldier and cannot possibly be "handy." A sailor's gait ashore has a slight roll. This arises from the need of a keeling up the windward side of a rolling ship. And the rolling gait marks one of a sailor's best qualities—balance. Unless the body balances and poises to meet every motion of a ship the result is seasickness.

Now, the Russian bluejacket does not roll in his gait ashore, but marches. Neither has he any sense of balancing at sea and seasickness in the Russian fleet is a source of actual weakness and danger. The Black sea squadron can only put to sea in the three calm months of the summer, and the so called mahonevers take place ashore on the Kebab peninsula, consisting mainly of battalion drill.

One more trait of the real sailor is his self reliance, which makes him fit for any emergency—single handed. But the Russian bluejacket has none of this. He is not a machine in himself, but only a little bit of a machine which cannot work without the other bits. He is huge in stature—a giant compared with our men—but in his winter coat it is impossible to distinguish him from a soldier. Unhandy, seasick and reliant only in drill discipline, he is utterly unfit for active service.—London Answers

Silent Brides.

In Korea during the whole of the marriage day the bride must be as mute as a statue. If she says a word, or even makes a sign, she becomes an object of ridicule, and her silence must remain even in her own room, though her husband should attempt to break it by taunts, jeers or coaxing. For the female servants are all on the watch for such a breach of etiquette as speech, banging about the doors and chinks to catch up and repeat even a single utterance, which would cause her to lose caste forever in her circle.

This custom of silence is observed with the greatest rigidity among the higher classes. It may be a week or several months before the husband knows the sound of his wife's voice, and even after that for a length of time she only opens her mouth for necessary speech. With the father-in-law the custom of silence is still more rigid, and the daughter-in-law often passes weeks without raising her eyes to his or addressing a word to him. In Bulgaria a month's silence is imposed on brides unless specially addressed by the husband.

Wanted Her Money's Worth.

Bridgeport, Raridity had served the best years of her life as a cook and now that she was "wearin' awa'" and an operation became necessary she haughtily declined to go to a ward, but took one of the best rooms in the hospital. The operation was successful, but the patient was allowed very little food. During her convalescence she made frequent use of the electric bell at her bed. The nurse would fly to her, to be greeted with some trifling question or the remark: "I only wanted to know if you were there."

As such frequent use of her bell suggested to the matron on that floor that the nurse was neglecting her patient, the nurse remonstrated, and received the following unique explanation: "Well, you see, miss, here I am paying $30 a week, and I'm not seeing anything. I'm not hearing anything, and, miss, I'm not eating anything. So I just ring the bell to get my money's worth, and, anyways, I enjoy hearing it ring."—San Francisco Argonaut.

No Diamonds For Her.

Here is a story from The Bookman, told by Rudyard Kipling. His father, John Kipling, went to pay a visit to an Indian rajah who was about to bring home a queen. The elder Kipling had been engaged in the decorations of the palace, and its owner showed him the gifts of stuffs and perfumes he had procured for his coming spouse. The rajah also sent for his jewel caskets and asked Kipling to assist him in selecting the gems to be included in the marriage gifts. They were of extraordinary size and value, such gems as are seldom seen except in the east, and to the artist the selection was a pleasure. Finally he selected a wonderful diamond, one of the choicest gems in the collection, and said: "You should send this. No woman could resist it." The rajah looked up, caught it and held it jealously to his breast, then slowly replacing it in the casket, answered: "Nay, such gems be not for women."

They Were New.

"Now, George, quit pulling my ear!"
"It's my ear now, sweet! Going to pull it all I please!"

Live Within Your Means.
There is something that needs to be sounded into the ears of all the young men of America and terrified and deterred if this country is ever to be delivered from the great economic disaster that is to be established and perpetuated—live within your means. Spend no more than you make. And let us adjust all our business and our homes to the needs of the country. Our religion ought to mean just as much on Saturday and Monday as on the day between and not to be a mere periphrasis of sanctity. Our religion ought to fit clean our hearts, and then it ought to clean our lives. Religion is not, as some seem to think, a sort of moral decoration, a kind of confectionery, a sort of spiritual caramel or holy gumdrop or sanctified peppermint or theological anesthetic. It is an omnipotent principle, all controlling, all embracing. You may go along with something less than that, and you may deceive yourself with it, but you cannot deceive God, and you cannot deceive the world. The keen business man will put on his spectacles, and he will look clear through to the bare fact of a fact. And you cannot hide your samples of sugar or rice or tea or coffee if they are false; you cannot hide them under the cloak of a communion table. In the really good, and when you give an account of your liabilities you do not mention all the unpaid dividends and the United States bank notes outstanding, and the individual deposits, and the obligations to the bank, and the authority and the power of the bank examiner will go through and through and through your business.

Wane Stotsberg Removed.
A committee of five, representing the members of the First Nebraska Volunteers, who have returned home from Manila and have mustered out, called on Gov. Poynter a few days since and presented a petition asking the governor to make a request on the War Department for the removal of Wane Stotsberg from command of the First Nebraska and returned to his own regiment. Among other things Stotsberg is charged with falsifying the report when the men of the regiment made a request to be sent home on account of illness. It is charged that for political effect his speeches of this character were printed in a favorite newspaper. The specifications contain extracts from this paper.

Widow Collects Insurance.
Mrs. E. M. Nichols of Omaha instituted a suit against the Masonic Aid Association of South Dakota, in which company the deceased husband of Mrs. Nichols was insured. The amount involved was $3,000. The company resisted payment of the insurance money, and the widow, Mrs. Nichols, by which the policy was invalidated. A large number of expert medical witnesses were examined and a great deal of testimony introduced. The case was argued by the judge and the jury returned a verdict in favor of the widow for $2,201.40.

Another Beet Sugar Factory.
Construction has been started for the erection of a large beet sugar factory at Ames, a small town west of Omaha, on the Union Pacific. The work of construction will be commenced as soon as the weather will permit. The factory will be built on the site of the old factory which was destroyed by fire in 1900. The new factory will be a modern one, and will be equipped with the latest machinery. The factory will be owned by the Standard Cattle and Feeding Company, which already has large interests at Ames.

Department Store Burned.
The fire department of Fairbury was called out last night by a fire in the Standard department store. The blaze originated in a sleeping room in the second story and burned through the floor into the store. It was extinguished, however, before much damage was done to the building. The store was insured for the amount of about $200. The damage to the building is about $200. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Prisoner to Freedom.
A young man giving his name as Gurley W. Harris was taken into custody at Barada by a party of fielding a team of horses in Fall 1903, a year ago. The young man was taken to the county jail, where he was held for some time. He was released on bond, and he is now at large. He is a native of Nebraska, and he is a member of the Methodist church.

Wymoreans Happy.
The recent strike in the Isabella gold mine at Wymore, Colo., which is said to be the largest gold mine in the world, has been a source of great joy to the Wymoreans. The mine has produced about $1,000,000 worth of gold, and the Wymoreans are very proud of it. The mine is owned by the Wymore Mining Company, and the Wymoreans are very proud of it.

Accomplice Receives Sentence.
In the District Court at Columbus James Martin was sentenced to one year and eight months in the county jail for a burglary. Martin was convicted of aiding and abetting the shooting of Policeman John Brock on the night of December 21.

Requisition for Fryson.
The requisition papers have been issued for the return of Frank Fryson from Jackson County, Missouri. Fryson is wanted in Omaha for a charge of robbery, committed on December 10, 1903. Fryson was arrested at Broken Bow, and he is now in custody at Broken Bow.

Polk County Mortgage Record.
Polk County mortgage record for January 1904 shows a total of $1,245,000. The record shows a total of $1,245,000 in mortgages recorded in the county during the month. The record shows a total of $1,245,000 in mortgages recorded in the county during the month.

Blaze Accidentally Kindled.
Mr. Reed, living west of North Bend, while attempting to light his pump, accidentally kindled a fire in the building. The fire was extinguished, but the loss was about $400. The fire was caused by a spark from the pump, and the loss was about $400.

Telephone Wires Will Extend.
The Nebraska Telephone Company contemplates, with the opening of the season, constructing lines from Nebraska City to St. Paul, Minn. The line will be a direct line, and it will be a very important one. The line will be a direct line, and it will be a very important one.

Smallpox in Omaha.
Vendome Hotel, Fall of Guests, Is Quarantined.
A special to the Chicago Record from February 10th reports that the Vendome Hotel of that city is quarantined and an armed policeman standing at every door and window to prevent the people from leaving. The hotel is in the center of the city. The health department was notified, and plans were quickly decided upon for quarantining the hotel. The hotel is in the center of the city.

Good Credit of Fremont.
A special city election was held at Fremont to vote on a proposition to refund the city bonds which were issued in 1901. The proposition was carried by a large majority. The proposition was carried by a large majority.

Object to a Pest House.
Injunction proceedings have been instituted at Omaha to restrain the city from erecting a pest house in the city. The city is planning to erect a pest house in the city, and the injunction proceedings have been instituted to restrain the city from doing so.

Workman Accidentally Hurt.
While knocking the blocks from under an engine in the Burlington shops at Wymore, a workman was accidentally hurt. The workman was injured, and he is now in the hospital. The workman was injured, and he is now in the hospital.

CARROLL.

F. M. Skeen was in town Tuesday. R. D. Merrill is in Omaha this week. February 6 the peace treaty was signed. Too cold for the farmers to come to town. Guy Manning went to Wayne on Wednesday. Pink eye is the prevailing disease in Carroll at present. Coal dealers only seem to be busy this kind of weather. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Swartz returned from Sioux City Friday. The B. Y. P. U. give a quadrum social in the hall Thursday eve. Henry Wolf shipped a car of hogs and a car of cattle to Omaha Tuesday. The hotel has been leased by a Mr. Saunders who took possession Tuesday. Hurrah for the First Nebraska for their gallant work at Manila Saturday. Senator Allen must have forgotten the divine teaching "Am I my brother's keeper?"

The members of the Baptist church are holding a series of cottage prayer meetings this week. Word reached Carroll Tuesday that Fred Bartlett of Wayne, was killed in the battle of Manila Saturday.

Dr. Brown, V. S., of Randolph, came down Tuesday to doctor a sick horse belonging to Rodney Manning.

B. W. Wineland now occupies the front part of Henry Krebs blacksmith building as a harness and shoe shop.

Jim Stevens, Charley Robinson, Leander Simmerman and A. J. Swartz boarded the train for Wayne Saturday.

J. R. Manning who has been in Denver the past ten days, is expected home with several cars of stock some time next week.

Information given us the past week leads us to believe there will be an immense amount of building done early this spring.

A special train carrying the officials of the Omaha road and the P. V. elevator company, passed through Carroll Monday.

Mr. Skeen informs us that he expects to spend in the neighborhood of $100 in improving the hotel building at this place—a wise idea, sure.

Grant Swartz had the misfortune to cut his knee on a piece of glass Monday. Dr. Love was called and found it necessary to sew up the wound.

With the thermometer 38 degrees below zero and "Old Boreas" sailing along at the rate of 40 miles an hour, it isn't very pleasant these days.

If the legislature at Lincoln will elect Hayward for U. S. senator, amend the present ballot law, and the necessary appropriation bills and adjourn the people will say amen.

The fighting in the enemy's country goes on. But it is at Manila and not in the U. S., and if W. J. wants to keep up the fight in the enemy's country he ought to embark for that place at once.

Frank Bell is busy getting the building formerly occupied by B. W. Wineland as a shoe shop, ready for the new stock of military goods purchased by Miss Mary Williams and Mrs. Berry.

WANTED—Four additional members for the Orphans' home. Since the above notice was handed up for publication, Mr. Saunders has taken possession of the building, and owing to the scarcity of rooms in town, the Orphans dissolved.

It is safe to say that a majority of the republicans of Wayne county desire to see Hayward elected U. S. senator. Yet the representative from this district, elected by Wayne county republicans, seems to be in opposition to Hayward's election. What's the matter with the "Sclibergert"? Vote for Hayward and we will shout, "He's all right."

We are very sorry that we ever overlooked any news, but it is impossible for us to get all the news, and especially news of minor importance. We are very sorry that we have slighted Mr. Blakesly in any way and assure that gentleman it was unintentional on our part. Had we known he was a member of the A. O. U. W. lodge we would certainly have published the fact. We are afraid Mr. Blakesly is troubled with that disease commonly called "a swelled head." We are glad to know that Mr. Blakesly is fond of seeing his name in print and shall endeavor in the future to satisfy the gentleman in that respect.

WINSIDE. W. M. Gue was a Wayne visitor on Tuesday. H. P. Peterson went to Wayne Monday returning Tuesday. Wilson Piegree and wife visited Harry Prescott and his family on Friday.

Frank Dearborn came down from Wayne Wednesday morning. John Crosby went to Sioux City Friday to stay over Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Kit Crosby Miller.

J. E. Glass has been having a pleurisy visit from his two brothers-in-law from Battle Creek the past week. Thermometers register as low as 28 degrees below here at nearly noon today (Wednesday), and there is a high wind making the cold almost unendurable for any length of time.

Many entire families near town are sick from lagrippe or similar diseases; among the sick are Nels Nelson and family, Anton Vanher, Franz Fieschmann, Mrs. W. H. Fisher and many others.

Sheriff Cherry drove a very sick horse into Winside last week. The horse was highly prized by her owner and all was done that could be done to save her life but she died on Friday night.

There was a dance at the opera house under the auspices of the Winfield orchestra, also a carrom social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McCleskey on Friday evening.

W. W. Saunders and wife have sold out their interest in the Bon Ton restaurant to Mr. Ross who, it is understood, will conduct a grocery store in the building, while Mr. and Mrs. Saunders go to Carroll to manage the hotel at that place.

The first team used on a dray in Winside were sold to August Kransen and will hereafter attend to the John Kuggee had a large work horse fall on the street here Friday, the disease seemed to be the same that caused the death of so many horses here last winter, a sudden weakness of the back and hind legs rendering the animal helpless this horse died Saturday night.

FAIRVIEW. Katie Aborn is sick this week. Aokle Andrew visited Black's Sunday. James Stephen was at Wayne Saturday. Edward Tulk visited Wayne last Friday.

Henry Stattenburg was a Pierce Co. visitor this week. Lewis Beem of Randolph visited at Haines Saturday.

N. J. Haines returned to his home in Iowa last Monday. P. F. Peterson has been on the sick list for about a week.

J. F. Kenney has lost that white mule. We congratulate you John. Plummer Huff represented Fairview at Wayne last Wednesday.

J. B. Haines returned to his home near Bloomfield, Wednesday. Ed Tulk has been shelling for Fred Wilcox and J. H. Porter this week.

Frank McPherson returned to Iowa last Saturday after a short visit here. Mrs. J. N. Haines and her father Frank McPherson were in Wayne Friday.

The entertainment at Pleasant Hill School house last Thursday was well attended and all enjoyed the good program.

The Fairview literary society will hold their regular meeting next Friday. This is the night for election of new officers.

We understand Dan McCarthy has decided to quit farming and move in to town in the coming spring. He expects to have a big sale soon.

The joint debate between the Morris and Fairview Literary Societies was not very well attended by Fairviewites as it was so cold. The debate was decided 2 to 1 in favor of Fairview.

There will be a joint debate between the Morris Literary society and Fairview Literary society at the Fairview school house, Friday, February 24th, on the question: "Resolved, that labor is justified in organizing against capital." Affirmative, Fairview; Negative, Morris. Each side has three speakers. This promises to be a good debate. Plaf to be there.

CARD OF THANKS. To the kind friends, neighbors, and members of the A. O. U. W. of Carroll, who assisted us during the late illness and death of my husband, I desire to extend my heartfelt thanks.

Mrs. MELISSA HAINES. BRENNA. By Peck's Bad Boy (?) W. S. Brown broke ornamentals last week. Miss Oman is somewhat better at this writing.

Bill Sewright sold hogs at Wayne last Friday. Miss Lucy Brown is very busy sewing these days.

Doc Richards is hauling corn for his brother Sim these days. Ira Richards was scouring the country for poultry last week.

Wanted, by W. S. Brown, a good bulldog to keep the boys away. Ted Perry and C. J. Lund were buying cattle in Brenna last week.

Joe Vigas of Wayne visited Baker Bros. last Thursday and Friday. Jas. Earnest will leave Brenna soon as he has secured a farm near Pender. Come, wake up and hear the birds sing—a meadow-lark was seen Saturday.

Lawrence Brown has sent for a bloodhound. He says he will find that rooster. S. Baker accompanied by his sister Minnie attended a wedding at Randolph last week.

Miss Kate Baker said she was going to move down with Nick so she could go to Brown's too. Mrs. James Shorten was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Turnbull, in Wayne last week.

Miss Beatie Bonawitz is just recovering from the grip. She states that Chester brings his colts now. Brother Phillips thinks it hard enough to preach to an audience, let alone preaching to colts.

Perry Benson was seen waiting to Wayne last week. We presume he was too tired to hitch up a team. Brenna's correspondent was foundered last week, was unable to go to town. His news was very much mixed.

Oh say, partner, didn't those fags come in handy last Monday, it was such a terrible hot day—28 degrees below zero.

Chas. Baker, we advise you to always take a spring seat when going to literary so as not to have your ladies ride home on a salt barrel.

The little son of Frank Baker met with a serious accident last week. He slipped over a cup of hot tea which ran down his sleeve and also burning him quite badly.

For sale, a team of sorrel mules, one run, kick and bray equal to Chester Brown's, for $5,000 cash or 3 months time with interest at 40 per cent. Enquire of F. H. Cunninghamham.

Marshall Anderson, followed by the Baker brothers, is a daily traveler on the road one mile west of town. When asked his reason for going every day his reply was that he wanted to keep his legs smooth for the ladies.
