Wausa Gazette: Smith McManigal and family came up by team Sunday from their home in the southeastern part of Wayne county for a visit with Mrs. J. T. Foley, who is a sister of Mrs. McManigal. They made the drive in one day, arriving at Mr. Foley's shortly after dark. Mr. McManigal informs us he will make a trip to Boyd county before returning, to look up chances for securing a farm in that section.

The amount of mail originating at the Wayne post office including government free matter, pouches, 30c, etc., for the period of 35 days ordered by the government that matter should be weighed, amounted to nearly double that of the post office at West Point, and was much larger than that of any other office in northeast Nebraska with the exception of the Norfolk office, and the amount of mail received and distributed is about the same in proportion.

A bright American girl is going to tell in the Ladies' Home Journal, how she and another girl friend went to Paris together, saw its sights, visited all places of interest, lived there and had "the time of our lives" as she expresses the experience. In three costly articles all the points of interest in and about the French capital will be treated and briefly described, and how to live well at small cost—in fact, just how girls going alone to Paris can best and cheapest enjoy the trip, will be explained. Of course, these experiences are intended to serve as a guide for girls going to the Paris Exposition in 1900.

Stanton Register: Nine members of the Monday club of Wayne, came down on Monday and visited here until yesterday noon with Mrs. L. J. Horton and Mrs. Nathan Chase. Tuesday afternoon a reception was given them at Mrs. Horton's and a most excellent time was had by all. On Wednesday evening the Stanton Sorosis entertained the visitors at C. H. Chase's by giving a railroad party. It was exclusively for ladies and from what we can hear it was a most unique and laughable party that was ever held in Stanton. We can only imagine what would be done and from reports we have heard it was a laughable imitation of a journey by railway. Those present expressed their belief of the party being the most enjoyable ever attended. The Wayne visitors went home yesterday being well pleased with their visit to Stanton. The ladies from Wayne were: Mesdames Chase, Fuller, Hartington, Northrup, Norris, Dearborn, Welch, McNeal and Cunningham.

In the East childlessness is considered a curse from the gods. It is a pathetic sight to see some childless Hindoo mother prostrate before an idol, imploring that the curse of childlessness may be taken away.

Are we much wiser than the heathen? Thousands of childless women are not as they suppose under Nature's ban, but are suffering from a diseased condition of the delicate feminine organs. It may be a debilitating disease of female weakness, and perhaps an inherited and undiagnosed condition of the parts. In any case the diseased condition must be removed and a healthy condition established before the mother can be fulfilled.

Many a mother acknowledges her debt to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and to N. Y. who invites the sick to write and consult him without charge. Satisfactory results are obtained. RASH GIVEN LIBERTY.

A Fiend in Human Form is at Large Again.

Norfolk News, Nov. 24: C. K. Rash, the notorious Wayne county murderer, was given his freedom the other day. He has been confined in the Norfolk hospital for about two years, during which time he has shown little or no evidence of insanity and the asylum authorities had no reason for longer keeping him in confinement. The authorities will however probably keep an eye on him and if he gives evidence of anything wrong he will be returned to his cell.

On his release he took passage for Missouri where he will reside. There is no one sorry that he has chosen Missouri for his home unless it be the people of that state, as Nebraska is glad enough to get rid of him.

The crime he committed is notorious for its heinousness and a short review of it might prove interesting at this time. The deed was committed on the night of January 27, 1897, at the home of Rash ten miles southwest of Wayne.

Rash had been attending revival meetings in a nearby church for a week preceding the deed and had gradually been growing more and more enthusiastic over religion. He attended as usual the night of the 27th, leaving his wife and three children at home. After the sermon, with some excitement he advanced to the rostrum and stood beside the minister. On the request of the latter he resumed his seat but before leaving the rostrum picked up a soap stone lying on the stand and which had been used by the minister. He was told not to take it, but carried it off claiming that it was his property. He started for home about 9 o'clock.

On reaching home he left his team outside, and entering the house he at once started in using the stone he had brought from the church on the horrible butchery, and nothing was seen of him or known of the crime until the next morning.

The mother had put the two little girls, aged 8 and 2 years, to bed and the boy, aged 10, was in the act of undressing when the work of the inhuman monster was begun. The next morning the body of the boy was found partly dressed at the foot of the bed and the body of the oldest girl was on the bed. The baby was evidently asleep when killed for she lay as if sleeping in the little trundle bed. Appearances indicated that the children were the first attacked and the mother tried to save them, for her body was lying on the floor near the children, a mutilated mass of human flesh.

The stone used by the fiend was broken into several pieces which were strewn about the floor covered with blood. The floor, furniture, doors, and windows, both inside and out were saturated with the blood of the victims indicating that a desperate struggle took place. News of the triple murder did not reach the county officials until nearly noon the next day.

The deed was discovered the morning following the crime by a young man who went to Rash's house to get him to assist in shelling corn. On entering the house he discovered the dead bodies lying about the rooms. He immediately informed the neighbors of what had transpired and as the news spread a crowd commenced to gather to view with horror the terrible crime. All the time Rash was pacing the floor among the victims, apparently insane.

Sheriff Reynolds left Wayne for the scene of the murder immediately after learning of it. He found the murderer still in the house with his victims and when he was approached by the officer he gave him a cordial and obsequious greeting and surrendered at once. He was taken to Wayne and locked in the strongest cell. His only statement when covered with the blood of his innocent babies and wife, was that the bible was his defense and that the good book would prove that he had done his duty.

Details of the murder, as they were learned from the silent witnesses, who spoke in language stronger than words, were bloodcurdling in the extreme. That the man could have gone about his awful work in so determined a manner, fighting off his wife who tried to defend her babies' lives and then having put to death all those whom he should have held most dear could spend the night and all the morning with the mangled bodies strewn about the room he occupied, each in a pool of clotted blood, was almost beyond belief. The community and country was stirred up and many threats were made of lynching, but nothing was done not in accord with law.

His trial was commenced in Wayne county, but owing to the feeling that prevailed there, a change of venue was taken to Pierce, where after a long and closely contested legal battle the man was declared insane and sent to the asylum here.

Now that he has been given his liberty it is to be hoped that if he was responsible for the horrible crime, retribution swift and sure may overtake him. At least it will be the part of discretion for those with whom he may come in contact to give him all the lee-way possible so that his crime may not be duplicated.

Ray. P. M. Esterbrook, treasurer of the Neb. Wesleyan University, writes: "Mr. Esterbrook has been greatly benefitted by Dr. Kay's Lung Balm for a bad cough and insomnia, and that Dr. Kay's Kidneyurea had helped his kidney trouble which had affected him a number of years. There are no better remedies. For proof of cures of many of the worst cases, address Dr. B. J. Kay, Saratoga, N. Y. Send for free advice, samples and books."

Coal Dealers Don't Like It?

They can't make much money out of this stove. It doesn't burn enough coal to suit them. They have been used to the old kind, consuming almost a ton of coal a day. Seriously this stove is the most economical stove we know anything about. We use one ourselves so we know what we are talking about. It will save its cost in coal in a short time. Drop in and look at it.

Sewing on Trouble

There is an old proverb to the effect that every time you have a button sewed on the clothes you are wearing, the sewer sews on trouble. Whether this is true or not, it certainly TAKES trouble to sew up rips and on buttons. Good work won't rip, buttons well sewed on won't come off. We try to do good work—we are ready at any time to make good deficiencies. WE WANT YOUR PATRONAGE.

HOME CURE FOR BLOOD POISON.

Beware of the Doctors' Patchwork; You Can Cure Yourself at Home.

There is not the slightest doubt that the doctors do more harm than good in treating Contagious Blood Poison; many victims of this loathsome disease would be much better off to-day if they had never allowed themselves to be dosed on mercury and potash, the only remedies which the doctors ever give for blood poison.

The doctors are wholly unable to get rid of this vile poison, and only attempt to heal up the outward appearance of the disease—the sores and eruptions. This they do by driving the poison into the system, and endeavor to keep it shut in with their constant doses of potash and mercury. The mouth and throat and other delicate parts then break out into sores, and the fight is continued indefinitely, the drugs doing the system more damage than the disease itself.

Mr. H. L. Myers, 100 Mulberry St., Newark, N. J., says: "I had spent a hundred dollars with the doctors, when I realized that they could do me no good. I had large spots all over my body, and these soon broke out into running sores, and I endured all the suffering which this vile disease produces. I decided to try S. S. S. as a last resort, and was soon greatly improved. I followed closely your 'Directions for Self-Treatment,' and the large blotches on my chest began to grow paler and smaller, and before long disappeared entirely. I was soon cured perfectly and my skin has been as clear as glass ever since. I cured myself at home, after the doctors had failed completely."

It is valuable time thrown away to expect the doctors to cure Contagious Blood Poison, for the disease is beyond their skill. Swifts Specific—

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD acts in an entirely different way from potash and mercury—it forces the poison out of the system and gets rid of it entirely. Hence it cures the disease, while other remedies only shut the poison in where it lurks forever, constantly undermining the constitution. Our system of private home treatment places a cure within the reach of all. We give all necessary medical advice, free of charge, and save the patient the embarrassment of publicity. Aguiñaldo is running like a jack rabbit but Uncle Sam's sleuths will get him in due time, just the same as the Aguiñaldos of this country will be caught next fall.

Dewey's cottages cannot dim the luster surrounding America's great Admiral nor bear from the hearts of his countrymen the love they bear him. There is but one Dewey and he belongs to the patriotic people of this country.

President McKinley at the late election received the strongest vote of confidence ever given to any President the year before the presidential election, since 1888. The republicans carried eight out of twelve states, or two-thirds went republican.

Gen. Wheeler furnishes several unanswerable reasons why it is impossible to give up the Philippines. He might add another to the effect that the American people are almost unanimously opposed to such an act of craven weakness and folly.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Those who think that Admiral Dewey's transfer of a small piece of real estate in Washington was of more importance than his transfer of an empire to the Nation can have their subscriptions returned by making proper application for the same. Dimes and quarters make a good deal of noise when shaken up in a tin can, but the kind of noise they make can never drown the booming of Dewey's guns in the ears and hearts of his countrymen.—Inter Ocean.

Bryanites are mighty easily pleased if they can secure any satisfaction out of the late election, except in Nebraska, and even in Nebraska a change of heart may come over their citizens before they again vote to restore those good old popocratic times of '93 and '94. Do you remember them? The matter of the price of wheat does not make or unmake this country. It is the price in general on all products and the market price on agricultural products and live stock is good.

General Property is still too busy to stop for an introduction to Colonel Bryan. Our bank statements for 1908 show 13,558,574 depositors with an aggregate of deposits of $7,043,053,801. Last year the total number of depositors was 8,708,971, and aggregate deposits $2,770,410,403. The increase in both the number of depositors and aggregate of deposits is 100 per cent, approximately. Of course our pop friends will say this is a lie because there isn't so much money on earth, but this is simply accidental ignorance. If they knew better, they wouldn't be pops.—State Journal.

There is needed among the voters of the state of Nebraska a revival of self-instruction as to the duties of citizenship. Every ballot should represent study, reflection and conclusion upon the part of the man who deposits it. No ballot should represent the impetuosity of the persuasion nor the popularity of any candidate whose name it may contain. Independent investigation of economic and political questions by each citizen who casts a vote are among the things that an intelligent and efficient administration of government. Nothing else can save the people from eventual despotism. Intelligent citizens need and will tolerate no bosses, either in Nebraska or New York. The money question needs study. The foreign policy needs study. Education and instruction need study. During the quiet evenings of the coming winter every citizen, by his tranquil heart, should study the United States and its best interests.—Conservative.

A Kentucky Philosopher.

Henry Watterson of the Courier-Journal practically admits the defeat of the Goebel machine, and apparently sees no chance of making a change through the workings of the state election board. "The result," he says, "rests with a court which ought to be respected for its own sake—if not for the law which created it—the more thoughtful among the people of Kentucky may look about them and observe the infinite hurt which these events have brought upon us all. The regulation democrats may see in the Goebel law, whose passage the Courier-Journal opposed, the cause of their undoing, if it shall prove that they are undone. Undoubtedly it cost the party thousands of votes.

Although he sees plenty of "tough politics" ahead, and does not know what is to happen to Kentucky in a political way, he refuses to be cast down. "The practical, every-day interests of life have been left untouched by the storm. The railways, banks and commerce are still in existence, and so he adds: "The meat, drink, and respectability of very few indeed depend upon the experience of parties, the fate of candidates and the political turn of elections. There is much else to live and labor for. The sooner we turn our backs to the past and our faces to the future the better for the state and for each and every one of its citizens."

Watterson is a philosopher. And his advice is just as sound for Nebraska today as it is for the people of Kentucky.—State Journal.

J. R. Sutherland of the Tekamah Herald, and Atlas Hart of the Dakota City Eagle, are making an unequalled fight on W. E. Peebles of Pender, because Thurston county went overwhelming for the fusion ticket. The facts are thus: Sutherland, Hart and others said if Peebles would step down and out of the political squabble in Thurston county it would strengthen the republican party. Peebles obeyed their whims for the sake of harmony and lo! and behold the county drops from 600 republican majority to 500 majority for the fusion ticket. Had Peebles remained in control of affairs he would have held the Indian vote as he always did, and pulled Thurston county through with 500 majority. Peebles has great influence in the county, state and nation, and why do republican newspapers want to tear down the party by their vicious assaults on him. He has as much influence with Senator Thurston, Melick and McKinley as any man in the state of Nebraska. Come, gentlemen, build up the party instead of tearing it down.—Lyons Mirror.

In four years the republican administration has not only carried a foreign war to a successful conclusion with the enormous expense that that implies but the secretary of the treasury now announces that he is prepared to buy $25,000,000 worth of bonds, thus reducing the national debt by that sum. It is a condition of national prosperity and material growth as the mind of man never imagined and a sense of stability and confidence the like of which has never before been known.—Lyons Sun.

Nebraska has the smallest per cent. of illiteracy of any state in the Union and still it goes pop by a howling majority! Beats the devil, don't it?—Dixon Tribune.

Well, one reason for the "howling majority" is that about all of the illiterates vote with the fusionists, and that's the reason, also, why they can never tell what their majority will be.

The democratic platform next year will be worth going thousands of miles to see as one of the orators of the age. Whether it will be Bryanized or not remains to be seen, but Croker says it will be, and the country is willing to have it so for the presidential contest.

Geo. Noland, Rockland, O., says: "My wife had piles forty years. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured her. It is the best Salve in America." It heals every thing and cures skin diseases. Orth.

Remember Manila Bay.

The present outburst of ill feeling toward Admiral George Dewey in Washington is at once ungracious and ungrateful. In transferring his house to his wife, he was guilty at worst of a mere impropriety to the persons who gave it to him. He did absolutely nothing to provoke the deplorable onslaughts now making on him. Moreover, had he done a thousand times worse, ordinary gratitude, ordinary loyalty, ought to forbid such outbreaks as were reported from the capital on Monday and yesterday.

Manly men for all the social niceties is a common enough virtue, if it be a virtue at all. Supreme courage is the rarest of virtues and, when coupled with sagacity, it makes the man of a century. Dewey has it. He has shown it. He has shown it in the service of the whole American people. He has written it over whole pages of this country's history. He has emblazoned it on the record of the nations. He has made it the open sesame of a new era in the republic's history. To forget all this, even overnight, for some petty mistake in his private life, is to shame the name of gratitude and to discredit the intelligence of the American people.

The record of human greatness is one of great achievements and great imperfections. From Franklin down, the makers of America have laid themselves open to the personal attacks of their contemporaries. Washington did it; Jefferson did it. So did Hamilton, Jackson, Webster, Lincoln and Grant. Each and all called forth with an appearance of reason the bitter reproaches of men of their times. Yet today, how mean, how pitiable, how cruelly contemptible these reproaches seem!

In no single respect has Admiral George Dewey given a tittle of the excuse for criticism that once was given by the above-named patriots. Yet had he given ten times more—had he heaped upon the measure of Hamilton and Franklin and Jackson—the person who would turn, with Manila Bay fresh in his mind, to assail him in spleen, must be a poor kind of creature indeed—a poor kind of American, a poor kind of man.

Admiral George Dewey is the greatest living American. Why not treat him as such while he lives in order that we may respect ourselves in honoring him when he dies?—Inter Ocean.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm
Cures others, why not you? "My wife has been using Chamberlain's Pain Balm with good results, for a lame shoulder that has pained her continually for nine years. We have tried all kinds of medicines and doctors without receiving any benefit from any of them. One day we saw an advertisement of this medicine and thought of trying it, which we did with the best of satisfaction. She has used only one bottle and her shoulder is almost well.—A. L. MILLER, Manchester, N. H. For sale at Raymond's drug store.

According to himself, Roberts of Utah, is paying excess baggage on an awful accumulation of abstract sanctity. He ought to be given an appointment as chaplain-in-ordinary to the Sultan of Sulu.

Used by British Soldiers in Africa.
Capt. C. G. Dennison is well known all over Africa as commander of the forces that captured the famous rebel Gallahe. Under date of Nov. 4, 1897, from Vryburg, Bochnanaland, he writes: "Before starting on the last campaign I bought a quantity of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which I used myself when troubled with bowel complaint, and had given to my men, and in every case it proved most beneficial." TWO BLUFFS THAT WON.

A Pleasant Meeting Between the Editor and the Reporter.
Jack Rogers was a newspaper reporter and broke. He had hung around the Dubuque newspaper offices for a job until he had been requested to move on. So he decided to move on to Des Moines. But how to get there was the question. Jack put on his thinking cap, and the result was that two hours later he found himself on a train and the conductor standing by his seat. "Tickets?" said the conductor. "See here, conductor," said Jack easily, "my name's Rogers, and I'm a reporter on the Des Moines Air Blast. I'm broke and I'm in a hurry to get back home with a big scoop. You let me ride and the office'll fix it up with you. See?" "Well," said the conductor, "I guess that'll do all right. The road feels friendly toward 'The Air Blast.' In fact, the editor is in the back coach. Come along and I'll introduce you. If he says you're all right, it goes." Jack was knocked all in a heap at the turn things had taken, but he had nothing to do but to follow the conductor. They halted in front of a man in the coach, and the conductor said: "Mr. Smiten, this is Mr. Rogers. He says he's a reporter on your paper, and wants the office to pay for his transportation when he gets to Des Moines." "How do you do, Mr. Rogers?" said the editor, pleasantly, extending his hand. "Glad to see you. Sit down here with me." The conductor didn't wait for any more, but went off. "Well, this is nice of you," said Jack, too astonished and embarrassed to talk straight. "Of course, I'm not on your paper, but I'm broke and yanked to the conductor, hoping to get a job and square it up later." "Oh, that's all right, my boy," said the other. "Neither am I on the paper, but I'm only riding on the editor's pass."—San Francisco Bulletin.

EGGS BY QUART.

White or Mixed in This Way of Marketing "Hen Fruit."
"Give me a quart of yolks."
"What are whites worth today?"
"Send me up a gallon of mixed."
Such expressions as these will be familiar terms in grocery stores and butcher shops in Kansas City before long. Housewives will make them so, for eggs will be sold by the quart and gallon instead of by the dozen. In fact, the big confectionery establishments of the city buy them by the gallon now. Kitchie, economy suggested the scheme, and local packers immediately took it up.
How often it is that a cook will break a dozen or more eggs in order to get the yolks to make a cake. The whites will be thrown away, or vice versa. Why not make a saving of the whites or yolks, the case may be, by suggesting, "The packers put the question to the confectioners, and the latter saw the point. Now, when a confectioner wants to make stuff with the yolks he sends to a packing house and buys yolks by the gallon. If he wants to use the whites for something, he sends for them." If he wants to use both, he sends and gets a mixed can. It is predicted that housewives will soon adopt the same method.
With this new system of handling "hen fruit," there is absolutely no loss. The eggshells are even used. They are ground up and sold for chicken feed.—Kansas City Times.

An Ancient Coin.

One of the prized coins of the Philadelphia mint is a coin which is 2,000 years old and which was coined at the ancient mint of that other Philadelphia for the far east mentioned in the Bible. It is still in good condition, and the inscription is perfectly legible. The design on the face of the coin bears a striking resemblance to the Goddess of Liberty of our own currency, and underneath it the one word "Demos," which means "the people." On the other side is the figure of Diana, with her bow arched, and the inscription, "Diana, Friend of the Philadelphians." When this coin was struck off, Philadelphia was the most important city of Lydia. The prize was picked up in Europe by Joseph Mitleley, a celebrated Philadelphia violin maker and numismatist of high repute, who presented it to the mint.—Philadelphia Record.

Apply Designated.

Robert Hilliard, the actor, since brought a young English woman to see "El Capitán." She was much impressed with De Wolf Hopper and remarked: "What a charming man your Mr. Hopper is! Tell me, is he married?" "Been married three times," was the reply. "Three times?" she repeated. "And they are all three dead?" "No," was the answer; "divorced." "Ah," she rejoined, "I feel I am a Grass Hopper."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Wood Tar.

Wood tar is still made as it was in 400 B. C. A bark is chosen and a hole dug into which the wood is placed, covered with turf. A fire is lighted underneath, and the tar slowly drips into the barrels to receive it.

Two Months in Wayne.

We are no longer entire strangers here, we have made some acquaintances and are daily making more. Quite a number have made several purchases of us and all are pleased with our new method of conducting a Clothing store. Our business has been much larger than we expected the first year, and we are convinced that we will establish ourselves as up-to-date reliable clothing merchants where you will always feel safe to buy Men's and Boy's Clothing. Our method of conducting a clothing store is entirely different than other stores. Here you take no chance on anything you buy as you get a written guarantee with every suit. It is no experiment to trade with us, for we have sold the same line for 20 years and don't have to guess at it when we tell you that everything you buy will prove satisfactory. You can buy Clothing in a general store but you can't buy the kind we sell, and we will be glad to show you the difference, as we know we can easily convince you that it will pay you to trade with The 2 Johns. Our stock is now complete and owing to the warm weather we have been having we have concluded to make special prices on our Overcoats. You will find you can save from one to three dollars on an overcoat by buying of us.

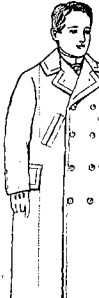

Comfort for the Little Fellows!

In our Childrens department you will find the largest and best stock of Overcoats and Reefers in the city and at guaranteed low prices, the fact is these are all special low prices on account of the warm weather.

CARROLL.

R. D. Merrill is having his store front all trimmed up with dark trimmings, which causes it to put on quite a different appearance. This denotes prosperity.

It is reported that a Woodmen either lost or pawned his badge in the Carroll saloon as one was found there. This should not be, neighbors; success never comes to anyone who spends his time and money in a saloon, unless it is the saloon keeper.

Sam Jones and John Vaughn started Tuesday, for South Wales.

Mr. Ziemer of Hoskins, was in our town last week. He was building a building a bridge four miles north of town when he met with an accident resulting in a broken leg and being badly bruised otherwise. The derriek some 27 feet high, fell with him as he was on top of it. He was brought to Carroll and Dr. Muehler of Winside summoned by telephone, and on his arrival the fracture was reduced. Mr. Ziemer was taken to his home at Hoskins the next day.

Pine weather, this; it beats California.

H. Griggs of Wayne, was in our city Tuesday morning.

We have just received the sad news of the death of Mr. Elston's boy, who formerly lived here, but for some time has resided near Randolph. Typhoid fever was the cause of his death.

Mr. Fahnstock who lives one mile west of Carroll, drove to town Tuesday evening, put his team in the livery barn, bought a new suit of clothes and departed, he one shows where as he has not been heard of yet.

Mr. Burdick of Wayne, was on our streets Tuesday, on business.

WINSIDE.

M. H. Dodge was in Winside Tuesday. Sheriff Cherry was here on legal business Monday.

Gustav Bleich, F. W. Trenn and W. M. Gue were Wayne visitors Friday.

Quite a number of the Knights of Pythias went to Wayne Tuesday night to attend a meeting of the order.

Great preparations are being made for the Fair on Thanksgiving day to be held at the opera house in Winside. Large quantities of beautiful as well as useful work has been done by the ladies interested.

Three seemingly genuine gypsy women have been attempting to tell the fortunes of our citizens this week. They have not made a fortune for themselves, here, as our people are not very credulous.

Andrew Shinn left here Wednesday for the West. He does not expect to see Wayne county, Neb, again for at least two years. "Andy" will be greatly missed here and takes with him many kind thoughts of old neighbors and friends. He intends to go to Ontario, Oregon, where the climate is much milder and pleasanter than we have it here.

Mr. W. I. Lowry has every reason to feel much gratification over the result of the box social and entertainment which she was manager of, Friday night. There was an enthusiasm over the buying of the boxes and the entertainment given by pupils of the school was very good. About $60 was made as the proceeds of the social and this sum is to go towards buying an organ for the primary room of our public school. It will be greatly needed and will add much to the interest taken by the smaller children in the work.

Had His Leg Broken.

While constructing a bridge near Dan Martin's north west of Carroll, Louis Ziemer met with a serious accident in which he sustained a broken leg, and his head and body were badly bruised. He was standing on the top of the pile-driver when one of the men in attempting to move it a little, let loose of one of the guy ropes. The drive tipped over with Mr. Ziemer who fell a distance of 25 feet. His left leg caught in the point at the top and when the driver rebounded the leg was broken just above the ankle. The injured man was taken to his home in Hoskins Saturday.

MARRIED.

At the home of Henry Bush, north west of Wayne, Wednesday evening, Nov. 23, 1899, Rev. Thomas Bithell, officiating, Miss Ida Martin and James Porterfield.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Martin and has a host of admiring friends. The groom is one of Wayne's well and favorably known stock dealers, and their many friends will wish the happy couple a long and prosperous life. A few close friends and relatives attended the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Porterfield will begin housekeeping at once in Wayne.

Joe Sheets and Miss Maude Tidrick were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother near Altona, Wednesday, Nov. 23, 1899. The HERALD joins with their many friends in extending congratulations.

At the German Lutheran church in Leslie precinct at two o'clock yesterday, Rev. Schultz, officiating, Henry Baker and Miss Rosa Brudigan were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The bride and groom have a large circle of friends who will wish them life's choicest blessings.

Wm. House visited in Norfolk the first of the week.

Dan Roush was here from Winside Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldie entertained friends Saturday evening.

Theo. Duerig was an east bound passenger Monday morning.

Mrs. Sam'l Jones and Joe Jones were down from Carroll Tuesday.

MARRIED.

Pete Porterfield of Norfolk, arrived yesterday to attend his brother's wedding.

Bertha Armstrong entertained a number of young friends Friday evening.

Miss Pearl Skeen and Frank Davy of Ponca, will be married at the home of the bride's parents in this city at high noon today.

On Monday, Dec. 4th, Pat Coleman will have a sale at his farm southeast of Wayne and about the first of January will move to Wayne to reside.

Charles Sestrand appeared before Justice Alter Tuesday and plead guilty to the charge of assaulting A. J. Elkund and was fined $2.00 and costs.

J. R. Coyle has purchased and taken charge of the Troy Steam Laundry, and there is no doubt he will make it a success. There ought to be big money in the laundry business here.

W. C. Hinrichs of Jerico, Mo. is visiting in Wayne and informs us that his father, Wm. Hinrichs, and Karl Krako, two former residents of this county, recently struck a vein of lead on their land at a depth of 120 feet which is 45 feet deep, which will make them a big fortune.

Rev. Thos. Bithell and wife are spending Thanksgiving with Mrs. B's parents in Washington county. This is the first time since they were married that Mr. and Mrs. Bithell have been enabled to spend Thanksgiving with their parents and they anticipate a pleasant time.
