The Wayne school board will be obliged to use all the arts of diplomacy when it comes to voting $2500 bonds for building an addition to the third ward school building. It will have the second ward on its hands.

The following card was received yesterday: Editor HERALD: Laurel has made her arrangements to celebrate and invites the citizens—as many as can—of Wayne to be present with her.

The city fathers are looking after the crossings and the sidewalks about the city and making other improvements that are very commendable indicating that the present mayor and council are made of the right stuff and have the interests of the city at heart.

A great deal of the corn planting to be done will be completed by Saturday night and the farmers will be feeling very much pleased with their spring work. The prospects never seemed brighter and the husbandman never appeared happier than he does at the present time, and why should it be otherwise.

All citizens are earnestly requested to participate in decoration ceremonies on May 30, and also attend Memorial services at the opera house on Sunday, May 27. The addresses will be especially interesting to the young.

Perhaps no city in the state of Nebraska is in a more prosperous condition than Wayne with her water works plant and electric light system in good condition and more than paying expenses, in addition to a fine surplus of funds on hand and more in sight, what more is needed? Nothing except it to be cease grubbing and quit stirring up strife by being too good or too bad.

Three of the citizens of Blair, Messrs E. F. Cook, A. C. Jones and A. O. Lound, were here Tuesday evening inspecting the Wayne electric light plant. The city of Blair contemplates putting in its own plant as there is dissatisfaction with the plant now in operation there. The gentleman seemed very well pleased with Wayne's plant. They went to Norfolk yesterday to inspect the plant there.

Tuesday was the twelfth anniversary of the birth of Ruth Bressler and in honor of the event her parents invited a host of her young friends to assist her in celebrating the occasion, and royally were the guests entertained from four to ten.

William Larson is back from Chicago after selling his cattle. He says Wayne county is in the lead, and says he has fed Standard Food and is well pleased with the results. William is one of our best boys. It will be remembered that Will and Carl Larson are two of Wayne county's best farmers.

Shortly after starting a fire in the cook stove at noon on Monday, M. C. Lower, who resides southeast of the city, on starting for the barn, discovered that his house was on fire in the upper story. After fighting the flames for some time they succeeded in putting it out, but not until considerable damage had been done to the house and household furniture.

At the opera house, May 25, the Huebner-Settle Co. will begin a two night's engagement presenting a grand scenic production of "Faust" for the opening play. The Norfolk News of Feb. 28 says: "The Huebner-Settle Co. was greeted by a large and responsive audience at the Auditorium last night and they are proving themselves genuine entertainers in all varieties of stage performances. Faust is an extremely difficult production to handle but that the company did so with satisfaction to all was evidenced by the thoughtful expressions on the faces of all at the close of the performance. The many impressions were met with approval and the entire production was exceedingly well conducted. The stage settings and scenic effects were especially fine. Those who went expecting to see a cheap play, because of the cheap price were agreeably disappointed and were satisfied that it was as worthy of patronage as those making greater pretensions."

The play for Saturday night will be announced. Seats now on sale at the Star Grocery.

On Tuesday evening the members of the "Sky Light" Fraternity were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ley, the affair being a surprise on Rolfe, which had been planned by his parents. Rolfe had reached the 21st milestone in his life and was master of his own time and so did not reach home until after the boys had arrived and the surprise was complete.

The boys enjoyed themselves at progressive cards until refreshments were announced. Upon being seated at the table Rolfe was presented with a gold band ring with the letters "S. L. F." engraved on the inside, by the members of the fraternity. Each member then took an oath to do justice to the good things set before them, the oath being administered by Clerk of the District Court Reynolds, and not one oath was violated. The "birthday" cake was the last course of the menu. This cake contained a ring and the young man receiving the piece of cake in which the ring was to be found was destined to be the first to wed.

We refrain from giving the name of the young man receiving the ring, as it might lead to embarrassing questions that would bring forth answers in language probably never heard by the questioner. Those who are really curious to know are referred to one of the boys. At twelve o'clock after congratulations, and thanks to the hostess for the pleasant evening they had spent, the boys adjourned. Those present were Jas. Miller, George Wilbur, Floyd Jones, Thos. Holz, E. A. Lundburg, Geo. Stringer, W. K. Heister, Fred Woolston, Eyrton Holla, Chas. Reynolds, Fred French and R. W. Ley.

Two heats were run each horse winning one. The same horses race again Saturday afternoon and a hot race is expected.

The changing of the location for the new school building is meeting with some opposition and may be defeated at the election at the next regular school meeting. It seems that the school district forfeits the lots now occupied by the old school building in case the location is changed which means a loss to the district of $100 or $150 and under the circumstances the opposition have good grounds for complaint. The present location is as good if not better than any that can be found and by purchasing the balance of the block, where the building now stands, can be made very commodious. However the majority rules and should a change be decided upon we will humbly acquiesce in the matter.

Carroll will celebrate July 4, 1900. This was decided on at a meeting of the business men and citizens of the town held one day last week. And it ought to meet the hearty endorsement of everyone in and around the town. Carroll has made wonderful strides, for the better, the past year or two and is riding in the front seat of McKinley's prosperity wagon and it will be a proper time to let the surrounding country have a taste of the good things to be had in Carroll. Carroll's celebrations have always been a success and this one will prove no exception to the rule except as it surpasses all previous celebrations ever held in the town. Every body is cordially invited to spend the day in Carroll. A full program will be furnished later, but we can assure you a grand good time. Ample preparations will be made for every out of town visitor and you will be taken care of right royally if you celebrate in Carroll.

The Poor Get Poorer! The Rich Get Richer!

It is only by following the example of the rich that a poor man can hope to get richer. The rich know the power of cash and use it to their advantage. The poor don't realize the value of cash in making a purchase and therefore remain poor. The poor are made to believe that a merchant will sell them clothing on a year's time at the same price they could buy them for cash. The rich know cash has a value and don't buy clothing on time. It is not a question of how much you earn but how you invest it. Buying clothing on long time will make you poor, while buying clothing of us for cash will make you rich. When you buy a machine you are told the cash price and also the time price you realize at once the value of cash. When you buy clothing on time you are made to believe that the long time you get cost you nothing. Don't you believe it. It will pay you to investigate us and you will be convinced that to buy clothing on time is very expensive. We buy clothing for cash and we get 10 per cent off for cash, and we sell for cash saving about 10 per cent. Don't you think we can sell cheaper than we could if we bought clothing on time and sold them on long time? A farmer sells his cattle for cash, his hogs for cash, his corn for cash, and his wheat for cash. He would refuse to sell at same price on time. If the farmer will buy his clothing of us for cash he will then get full value for his farm products, but if he will buy his clothing on the credit plan he will be only making a trade and will have to pay all the merchant's loss. Selling for cash and buying for cash is what makes the rich richer. Very few men get rich by trading. Men don't loan money without interest, or sell clothing on time without interest for the time. If you buy clothing of us you will get the cash discount and have no interest to pay. The poor and rich will get richer by trading at

OPENING OF THE SIOUX FALLS CONVENTION.

Gov. Lee Welcomes Delegate to the State—Munotesan for Temporary Chairman and Thos. Patterson of Colorado for Permanent Chairman

Sioux Falls, S. D., May 9: The national convention of the people's party opened today in the big tent on top of the hill in this city. There have been larger crowds in attendance upon national conventions and possibly there have been questions upon which more enthusiasm has been manifested than in any similar events which have been marked with more evident sincerity of purpose, of more pronounced decorum or behavior. It was evident that delegates were there for well understood purpose, and whatever that purpose it was to be carried into effect.

The interior of the tent was made resplendent with a lavish display of the national colors and bunting. The uprights of the structure bore noble, excellent black and white portraits of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Bryan.

At the conclusion of a prayer by Bishop O'Grady and the reading of the call for the convention by Secretary Edgerton, Chairman Munotesan introduced Gov. Lee of South Dakota, who, in his address, welcomed the convention to South Dakota.

The temporary chairman of the convention, P. M. Ringdal, introduced the temporary chairman of the convention, P. M. Ringdal, who, in his address, welcomed the convention to South Dakota.

BOTH NOMINATED BY ACCLAMATION.

Motion to Have Question of Nomination of Vice President Referred to a Committee Defeated by a Vote of 208 to 492—The Platform.

Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, who made a tour of the Philippines last year while the first volunteer assignments were being made on the train of the insurgents, gave a very laudatory tribute to the character of the men composing the invading army.

A belated war story comes from Porto Rico, and is told by Lieut. Juan Arato of the Spanish engineers. "When the war broke out," said the lieutenant, "we found that our supply of ammunition of all sorts was very low."

The platform consists of a preamble and a long series of resolutions. The preamble congratulates the People's party upon its victory in the election of 1896.

There is a strong resolution of sympathy for the Boers, a declaration against the annexation of the Philippines, and a demand for a return to the original homestead policy.

HAD $25,000 OWED $3,000,000.

Plight of Druggist's Clerk Who Obligingly Signed Some Papers.

Ordinarily men see no occasion for rejoicing in bankruptcy proceedings. Not so Amos K. Houshopper, says the Philadelphia Times. Until recently Houshopper was a drug clerk, and had not been for the bankruptcy proceedings he might have continued to be a clerk for the remainder of his days.

"About thirteen years ago," he began, "a friend of mine, who is a connoisseur, came to me and asked me to sign my name to some bonds. He said it was a mere matter of formality, and as I did not think my signature could create such a rumour as followed I complied with his request."

"I figured up my assets one day and made them $25,371, counting a pair of trousers, a hat, a pocket knife, a watch, and a pair of shoes, which I valued at 13 cents. Then I added up my liabilities and they amounted to $2,801,093.43. Even if the trousers had been broken off the knife, I could not have begun to satisfy such a thrifty lot of creditors as these."

"I was afraid to buy a suit of clothes, because I didn't know what minute it would be attached. I was so nervous that my fears were magnified beyond reason. I imagined that if I were to walk down town dressed in fine clothes I would be set upon immediately by creditors and sent back home in a garb that would make Adam blush."

"You know it's a fearful responsibility to owe $3,000,000. It isn't every man who can owe so much. Things got worse and worse, and I was in a state bordering on nervous prostration. Finally I couldn't stand it any longer, and consulted a lawyer who lived across the street from me. He asked if I knew who my creditors were, and I said he must think I was a human droid, for I owned a thousand or two to pretty nearly every man in Philadelphia. Mr. Culbert said that, under the circumstances, it was no use trying to get releases from all of them."

HOW HE WON THEM.

Bishop Whipple Learned All He Could About Engines.

Bishop Whipple says that when he went into the West to preach he was exceedingly anxious to reach artisans and railway operatives, of whom there were many in Chicago. A long list might be given of men who have owed their advancement in life to a clever answer given at the right moment. An account of how two of them managed it may be appropriately given just now. More than $30,000,000 worth of lumber was destroyed in the recent forest fires in the State of Washington.

Statistics of the Massachusetts Railway Commissioners show that the average cost of railway equipment per mile of main track in that State last year was $46,140.

The modern kid glove goes through the hands of 235 workmen before it is finished. At least 40,000,000 pairs were manufactured in France last year, their value being $25,000,000.

During the last ten years California has produced and marketed 12,000,000 barrels of crude oil worth over $15,000,000. The production for 1900 is estimated at 5,000,000 barrels.

New Jersey has spent $2,637,000 in making 440 miles of good roads, and Massachusetts has expended $2,633,000 on 250 miles. The highways are said to be as perfect as any in Europe.

In 1890 the United States mined 244,000,000 tons of coal and Great Britain 234,000,000 tons. In 1870 the figures were: United States, 36,805,500 tons; Great Britain, 123,682,355 tons.

Japanese clerks are now employed in many London shops and give satisfaction, whereas manufacturers who have tried them complain that they are wasteful of material and have little idea of the value of machinery.

A Missouri farmer has made experiments showing that with corn at 25 cents a bushel the first 100 pounds of a hog cost the breeder $2, the second 100 pounds $2.75; the third, $3.50, and the last 100 pounds of a 400-pound porker $4.25.

According to Lloyd's Register of Shipping last year there were, exclusive of warships, 720 vessels of 1,414,701 tons gross tonnage in the British Kingdom. Of these 714 of 1,114,714 tons were steamers, and 12 of 2,017 tons sailing ships. The warships launched at both government and private yards amounted to thirty-five of 168,590 tons displacement. This makes the total output of the United Kingdom for the year amount to 701 vessels of 1,585,281 tons, and in this it has surpassed all earlier records. The total output for the world is given at 1,945,000 tons steam and 170,000 tons sailing vessels, and, allowing for vessels lost or broken up, the sailing tonnage has on balance been reduced by 208,000 tons, while the steam tonnage has increased by 1,601,100 tons.

As a general thing the country folks do not favor voting for the Towne.

The Sioux Falls convention simply called the bluff of Senator Allen. That is all.

If the populists have come to town it does not at all follow that they will go to Towne.

Kansas City will be ready for the democratic convention, if announced and the people will be ready for the nominees of the convention.

According to Senator Allen's view, W. J. Bryan received the first back eye at the Sioux Falls convention in the nomination of Chas. Towne for vice president.

It is already conceded that Nebraska will elect a republican governor and it will not be long until Bryan will be obliged to tour the state on the rear end of two trains to save his bacon here.

The York Times says that "It is just as foolish to kill a good Republican as to drive one over to the enemy. The Republican party in Nebraska cannot afford to lose many of its strong men, either by death or desertion."

They say there will be a hot time in Kansas City during the early part of July followed by a terrific cyclone which will result in the withdrawal of candidate Bryan. What will Bryan worshipers do when their idol has fallen?

So badly has the populist party become Bryanized that they failed to even get a populist nominated at the Sioux Falls Convention. How do such men as Levi Dille, Fred Thompson, Henry Kellogg and many other good men in this county feel who honestly planned their faith to the populist party?

The candidates on the republican state ticket are among the very best business men of the state of Nebraska. They are not professionals but sound business men with every qualification for ably filling the positions to which they will be elected so sure as Nebraska raises good crops and the prospects were never better.

Senator Allen said that if he nominated a candidate for vice president at Sioux Falls the fusion forces would meet with defeat, but the convention doubted the wisdom of Windy V. and named a Towne for vice president. Some are very certain that Senator Allen well knows that McKimley will be re-elected, and he desires a loop hole out of which to climb, thus the reason for his declaration at the S. F. convention. Besides he and Bryan are industriously laying their wires to fill the position of senators from Nebraska.

John M. Thurston does not stay bottled up very good. The republicans of Nebraska are in proud of him and have to high an appreciation of his services to allow him to be culped or misused. He had three-fourths of all the votes in the state outside of Douglas and Lancaster counties, which had been tied up against him. He received more attention and applause than all others combined. It was strongly intimated that the Times was a fool in stating what it believed in regard to him and that the cowardly papers that withheld their approval of this greatest Nebraskan were wise and discreet. The result shows however, that the Times understood the temper of the rank and file of the party better than they. At the state convention a whole lot of fools rushed in where these ancient time servers had been afraid to tread, and showed them something that they did not seem to know.—York Times.

CURRENT NEWSPAPER COMMENT.

What the Editors of the Country are Saying About the Leading Topics of the Day.

One of the interior newspapers ventures the suggestion that the advocates of the Dingley Tariff have not lately made any attempt to vindicate that law. Well, why in the world should they do so? The Dingley law long ago vindicated itself.—Philadelphia "Inquirer."

There are still some people who believe that Mark Hanna made the good times just for the purpose of worrying the Democrats.—Pittsburg "Times."

The McKimley-Bryan contest this year will be much the same as that of 1896, only the fight will be cooler while it goes on, and the frost for the Bryanites will be severe.— Fargo (N. D.) "Argus."

That emphatic indorsement of the Bryan bill in the Maine Republican platform sets the right example to Massachusetts. Those two States have more at stake than any others in the restoration of the American merchant marine.—Boston "Journal."

Mr. Bryan would derive more comfort from the knowledge that Pennsylvania delegates are instructed for him were it not for the fact that majorities in that state go so far the other way.—Dopela (Kan.) "Capital."

The prices of cotton and silver are notwithstanding falling distance, Mr. Bryan's theory to the contrary notwithstanding.—Rochester (N. Y.) "Democrat and Chronicle."

It is to be regretted the Colonel Bryan could not tarry more than half an hour in San Francisco. He could have gathered here, better than anywhere else in America, damning evidence of the blasted condition of our commerce with Asia, and the entangling alliances that are rapidly knitting the business interests with foreign countries.—San Francisco "Chronicle."

In the debate on the Porto Rico bill old man Grosvenor made the Democrats furious by pointing out their hysterical attempt to keep the Republicans from hurting themselves. That has been the anxiety of the Democracy for thirty-five or forty years. They have always been so much afraid that the Republicans would do something to injure themselves. It is the natural generosity of the party and should be kept in mind.—Salt Lake City "Tribune."

The sun of republican prosperity has so warped that Lincoln platform that even now it looks like a washboard supported by four corkscrews.—St. Paul "Pioneer Press."

In respect to the Philippine situation the inclination of members of the Philippine Committee of the Senate is to not attempt more than the passage of a resolution declaring it the opinion of Congress that the President shall exercise all authority with respect to Philippine affairs when the insurrection is put down and until Congress shall legislation establish our policy toward and the government of the Philippine group.

Prof. William L. Wilson author of the Free-Trade bill, which his superior officer, Mr. Cleveland, denounced as "the creature of perjury and dishonor," is now trotting along behind the Bryan band wagon and with all the earnestness of a boy who has been promised a free ticket to the big circus. He refused to carry water to the animals in 1896, but he is willing to do so in 1900 and to help tote the bass drum, also.—New York "Mail and Express."

The fusion forces in Nebraska have a fashion of vindictive wrong doers of their own brand which ought to effectually close their mouths as to what republicans may do. Public officers who have trampled principle under iron-shod hoofs, who have violated every pledge to the people, who have set at naught public utterances as expressed in the parties platform, are taken up, renominated and supported without so much as a "reform" voice being raised in protest. Silas A. Holcomb with his 36 railroad passes was vindicated by an election as supreme judge. Oily Edmisten with his record as a state leg-puller is honored with continuance in public positions. Auditor Cornell and his notorious insurance examiners go right on doing business at the old stand and in the same manner without meeting with censure from their party. The donothing members of the board of transportation are not condemned by the parties responsible for their occupying the positions they do, and so on throughout the list. How changed would be their song if matters were reversed and these officials were republicans. How expressions of commendation would at once be changed to the most bitter condemnation. It makes all the difference imaginable with popocrats whether a wrong doer is a republican or a professional reformer.—Stapton Plek et.

How Kafirs Bank Their Money.

The natives of that part of South Africa which to a great extent is inhabited by Bushmen and Hottentots have a peculiar system of banks and banking.

These Kafirs among whom this curious system of banking obtains live near Kaffraria, in the south of the Colony country. The natives come down south from their country to trade in the several villages and towns in large numbers and then return to Kaffraria. From those who trade of their own volition they select one who for the occasion is to be their banker. He is converted into a bank of deposit by putting all the money of those whose banker he is into a bag, and then they sally forth to the stores to buy whatever they want.

When an article is purchased by any of those who are in this banking arrangement, the price of the article is taken by the banker from this deposit money bag, counted several times and then paid to the seller of the article, after which all the bank depositors cry out to the banker in the presence of the two witnesses selected: "You owe me so much!" This is then repeated by the witnesses. The general accounting comes between the banker and his several depositors when all desired purchases have been made, after which all the natives depart for their northern wilds.

Teaching Etiquette.

"Madam," he began as the door opened, "I am selling a new book on 'Etiquette and Deportment.'" "Oh, you are," she responded. "Go down there and clean the mud off your feet!" "Yes'm. As I was saying, ma'am, I am so!" "Take off your hat. Never address a strange lady at her door without removing your hat."

"Yes'm. Now, then, as I was saying—" "Take your hands out of your pockets. No gentleman ever carries his hands there."

"Yes'm. Now, ma'am, this work on 'Etiquette and Deportment.'" "Throw away your pipe. If a gentleman uses tobacco, he is careful not to disgust others by the habit."

"Yes'm. Now, ma'am, in calling your attention to this valuable—" "Wait. Put that dirty handkerchief out of sight and use less grease on your hair in the future. Now you look a bit decent. You have a book on 'Etiquette and Deportment.' Very well. I don't want it. I am only the servant girl. Go up the steps to the front door and talk with the lady of the house. She called me a downright outright, no-doubt-about-it idiot this morning, and I think the book you're selling is just what she requires."

Two Answers.

Not long ago a Boston clergyman received an evening call from an elderly man and woman who expressed a wish to be joined in the bonds of matrimony then and there. "Have you ever been married before?" asked the clergyman of the man, an honest eyed, weather beaten person of senescent aspect. "Never, and never wanted to be before," was the prompt reply.

"And have you ever been married before?" the question came to the woman. "No, sir," she replied with equal promptness, and with a touch of humor that appealed to the clergyman at once she added, "I never had a chance!"

The marriage ceremony was speedily performed, and the clergyman refused to take any fee, telling the bride with a twinkle in his eye that it had been a privilege to officiate which he would have been sorry to miss.—Youth's Companion.

Old Albanian Customs.

An Albanian woman expects to be beaten if she misbehaves, this being the prerogative of an Albanian husband. He must be careful, however, not to draw blood during the castigation, or the wife can complain to the authorities, who will fine the husband and give his property to his wife.

When an Albanian marries, he is bound to provide his wife with food, clothes and a home in keeping with his station and means and cannot require her to earn money for herself or him by her labor.

Divorce is quite common. Excessive complacency on the part of the husband is considered quite sufficient excuse for the wife to divorce him.

What He Prayed For.

A story is told of two worthy New Englanders, between whom a bitter feud had long existed concerning some contested point. Neither would give in, and the matter threatened to be handed down to the next generation, when one day Deacon Smith appeared before his enemy and solemnly said: "Brother Jones, it is a shame that this quarrel of ours should bring scandal upon the church. I have prayed earnestly for guidance in the matter and have come to the conclusion that you must give in, for I cannot!"

The German war department, it is said, actually keeps in stock duplicates of all the bridges in the empire considered likely to be damaged or destroyed in case of war, and what is more, it has duplicates of a good many French bridges and of bridges of other countries in which it is interested.—Chicago Journal.

After a Battle.

In the first aid that is rendered on the field after a battle nothing is attempted beyond the arrest of hemorrhage, the application of temporary splints for fractures and antiseptic dressing. There is no washing or exploration of wounds. The clothes are merely slit up with scissors, not removed, thus insuring protection to the patient's body and saving unnecessary disfigurement. The surgeon in charge of the collection station has a field companion, a water bottle and a small reserve of bandages and first dressings in his care to replenish the surgical haversacks with which the bearers are supplied.

Triangular bandages are chiefly used on the battlefield, made from a 38 inch square of linen or calico, cut diagonally into halves. Almost anything that comes to hand may be used as improvised splints—sticks, telegraph wire, bark of trees, straw, rifles, bayonets, lances and so on. The splint, if necessary, is padded with straw or leaves of grass and is fastened with straps torn from the soldier's equipment or with strips of a shirt, securely bound with the triangular bandage. Bound up with the rifle splint, a wounded man is made so secure that he can hardly move a muscle. One leg is firmly bound to the rifle, and the ankles are tied together, so that the injured limb is almost as rigid as the rifle at its side.—London Standard.

A Cheerful Liar.

"I have followed trout streams ever since I was a boy," said a Providence Yankee, "but have tried to solve for many years the cause of the apparent decrease in brook trout. Recently I think I discovered the cause of the extermination. I was fishing along a brook near Oakland Beach, R. I., when I saw a large snake with a half masticated trout in its mouth. The action of the snake interested me, and, standing quiet, I studied the snake closely."

"On the end of the snake's tail was a sharp bony growth shaped like a hook. After a few moments my watching was rewarded by seeing the snake glide over to some bushes growing along the bank and catch a grasshopper in its mouth. The snake then placed the grasshopper carefully on the booklike thing on the end of its tail."

"By this time my curiosity was thoroughly aroused," continued the fisherman. "The snake crawled up on a log that extended from the bank into the brook and let its tail hang into the water. In a moment it came a trawler and snapped at the grasshopper. It was short work for the snake to transfer the fish from its tail to its mouth, and I had solved the problem of the extermination of brook trout."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Tempering Copper Not a Lost Art.

The allegation that ancient Egyptians tempered copper and bronze to carry a razor edge is not borne out by investigation. Thomas Harper of Bellevue, Pa., challenges any one to produce a piece of metal tempered by the ancients that cannot be more than duplicated by any metal worker today. He says that in examining hundreds of specimens alleged to have been tempered to the degree that steel is tempered he failed to find any, nor had he discovered any one who had seen such work, and the fable which has been implicitly believed for centuries is being shattered in the light of modern research.

This is not the only story believed for centuries tending to belittle the man of today, to make him the inferior of his forefathers, which failed under the searchlight of inquiry and science. The ancients were children in mechanical knowledge as compared to the people of today, and if there was a demand for any particular building or piece of work such as was produced by the ancients it could be duplicated and improved on by the skilled artisans of the nineteenth century.—American Manufacturer.

Not Self Made.

"I am sorry to disappoint you, young man," said the great railway magnate to the reporter who had called in for the purpose of writing him up, "but I did not begin at the bottom and work my way up. I never blacked the boots of the engine wipers and never carried beer for the janitor of the roundhouse. I was kicked through college by my father, inherited a fortune, which I invested in railroad shares, and I got the job because I have votes enough to control it. It is too bad, my young friend, but we can't all be self made men. We would become trestlers."—Chicago Tribune.

Without Regard to Expense.

The king assembles the royal architects. "Build me a temple," he commands, "so costly that no smoker will ever be able to afford to have owned it had he let tobacco alone!"

Honest Confession.

"Young man," said the careful father, "if I consent to your marrying my daughter will you furnish her the luxuries to which she is accustomed?" "Well," said the young man, "it is more than likely that I won't be buying her as many theater admissions as I have been doing for the past year."—Indianapolis Press.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Anyone who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the inflection is demonic enough to warrant the belief. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by E. J. Raymond.

The following sentence, said to be taken verbatim from a law passed by the Nebraska Legislature, has a very strange and alarming sound. Perhaps a proposition has dropped out of the last phrase, "It shall be unlawful for any person to fire off or discharge any pistol, revolver, shotgun, rifle, or any firearms whatsoever on any of the public roads or highways in any of the counties of the State of Nebraska, or within sixty yards of such road or highway, except to destroy some wild ferocious and dangerous beast, or an offender in the discharge of his duty."

Buskirk, was an arrival on the evening passenger train Sunday having started with her father from Eureka Springs, Ark., a few days before on the homeward journey. When they changed cars at a point in southern Missouri, Mr. Buskirk, after depositing the grips in the car with the daughter, disappeared. She, supposing him to be in another coach, paid no attention to his absence until reaching Kansas City, but there the missing man failed to appear and she proceeded to Omaha expecting to find him safely alight from the same train upon the arrival at that station, but was yet disappointed. He had previously mentioned something about a visit to friends in Wisconsin before returning home and this affords the family the only satisfactory solution of the conduct of the derelict though he passed no word of his immediate intention to do so. He has not been in rugged health for some time, his purpose in visiting the south being to recuperate if possible, and some anxiety for his wellbeing is felt on the part of his family and friends.—Wisner Free Press.

Wanna Enterprise: The lecture by Rev. Bithell of Wayne, at the M. E. church Tuesday evening was quite well attended by our citizens. The lecture was well received by the audience. Rev. Winside Tribune: An extended obituary in an Illinois paper announces the death of Mrs. Carolina Bergson, of Lynn, Illinois, on April 18, 1903, at the age of 63 years. The deceased was the mother of Mrs. F. L. Mettlen, of this place, who was present at the time of her mother's death, having been previously called there by the latter's serious illness. Five of her six living children were with her during her final illness. Deceased was a faithful member of the Methodist church, and is spoken of as a most worthy woman in every respect. The funeral was held on Friday, April, 20.

Nothing has ever been produced to equal or compare with Tabler's Buckeye Pile Ointment as a curative and healing application for piles, fissures, blind and bleeding, external or internal, and itching and bleeding of the rectum. "How often we see families denying themselves all the comforts of life," says the Homestead. "There are many instances where a man will live a long time, work hard, make hard work for the wife and boys in paying for a farm of 240 acres, up early, ploughing saving and denying themselves that the farm might be paid for. About the time it is cleared the owner buys another quarter section he has wanted for a number of years, and there is more denial, pinching and saving and more work for the wife. I have often wondered when some men had enough land. To be with them a day or two and listen to them talk one would believe they were going to remain here forever, or take a farm or two with them when they go home. There is a lot of fool business going on. Some men don't know when they are well off. A life is turned into a miserable farce when a man deliberately makes a slave of himself and his wife and children, that he may be worth $20,000 instead of $20,000. Don't sell unless it is necessary, but don't buy more unless it is really needed.

For whooping cough, Asthma, bronchitis, or consumption, no medicine equals Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Price, 25 and 50 cts. Raymond's drug store.

"After suffering from severe dyspepsia over twelve years and using many remedies without permanent good I finally took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It did me so much good I recommended it to everyone," writes J. E. Watkins, Clerk and recorder, Chillicothe, Mo. It digests what you eat. L. P. Orth.

An Epidemic of Whooping Cough. Last winter during an epidemic of whooping cough my children contracted the disease having severe coughing spells. We had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy very successfully for cough and naturally turned to it at that time and found that it relieved the cough and affected a complete cure.—John E. Clifton, Proprietor of Norwood House, Norwood, N. Y. This remedy is for sale by E. J. Raymond.

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

Contagious Blood Poison is the most degrading and destructive of all diseases, as it vitiate and corrupts the entire system. The first sore or ulcer is followed by little red pimples on the body, mouth and throat become sore, the glands enlarge and inflame, copper colored spots appear, and hair and eyebrows fall out. These are some of the milder symptoms; they increase in severity, finally attacking the vital organs; the body is tortured with rheumatic pains and covered with offensive eating sores.

It is a peculiar poison, and so highly contagious that an innocent person handling the same articles used by one infected with this loathsome disease, may be inoculated with the virus. It can be transmitted from parent to child, appearing as the same disease or in a modified form—like Eczema or Scrofula. Many an old sore or stubborn skin trouble appearing in middle life, is due and traceable to blood poison contracted in early life. You may have taken potash and mercury faithfully for two or three years and thought you were cured, but you were not, for these poisonous minerals never cure this disease; they drive it from the outside, but it is doing its work on the inside, and will show up again sooner or later. You may not recognize it as the same old taint, but it is. S. S. S. has cured thousands of cases of Contagious Blood Poison, and it will cure you. It is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the only antidote for this poison. S. S. S. cleanses the blood thoroughly of every particle of the poison—there is never any return of the disease.

CURE YOURSELF AT HOME. Send for our Home Treatment book, which gives a history of the disease in all stages, and is the result of many years of close study of blood poison and actual experience in treating it. You can cure yourself perfectly and permanently at home, and your secret is your own. Should you need any information or medical advice at any time, write to our physicians. They have made a life study of blood diseases, and will give your letters prompt and careful attention. Consult them as often as you please; we make no charge whatever for this service. ### More Than He Bargained For.

One evening when a traveling circus was on its way to a large town the proprietor resolved to make a halt for a few hours at a village some two or three miles from the town. So an agent was sent on in advance to the village to secure a favorable field for the rest of the way.

Noticing a large and suitable field, he sought out the owner and told him he would like to turn something out to the field for an hour or so before going on to the town and concluded by asking how much he required for the use of the field.

"Well," said the farmer, "I suppose half a crown won't hurt you."

"That," was the ready reply, "will do very well. But perhaps you don't mind taking a crown," an offer the somewhat astonished yeoman was only too glad to accept.

Fancy his surprise when, a few hours afterward, a herd of elephants, a dozen stromedines and about 200 horses and ponies had not only been turned out into the field, but were feebly wiping the herbage out of existence.

"That the farmer was furious goes without saying, but the circus proprietor pointed out that he had received twice as much as he had asked for something to be turned out for an hour or two.

"But," roared the farmer, more irate than ever, "do you think I bargained for a Noah's ark?"—Tit-Bits.

A Queer Transaction.

"A casual observer might suppose that our business was intensely prosaic," said a Bowdler street commission merchant, "but such is far from being the case. All sorts of queer things happen in it, not the least of which are occasional consignments we receive from nowhere in particular.

"For instance, back in 1896 or thereabout we got a lot of fine onions one day by boat. No directions accompanied them, but we took it for granted they would arrive by mail. When the expected letter failed to put in an appearance and we instituted inquiries, we could get no clew to the identity of the shipper, and all we could do was to sell the lot and deposit the money in bank, waiting on a claimant.

"Fully two years had elapsed when, to my surprise, another lot of the same kind of onions came to hand, accompanied by a letter from the sender saying that he had forwarded a similar consignment at such and such a date and that his business relations with the house had been so satisfactory he wished to repeat the transaction. We sent a check for the lump sum, but what the Dickens he meant by his business relations being satisfactory when he had had only one deal with us, and didn't get his money on that, I never found out. I suppose he just forgot."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Makehift Wedding Rings.

Curious instances have been cited where makeshift substitutes for the conventional wedding ring have been utilized during the marriage ceremony. One such instance occurred some time ago in a nearby town, where the ring was missing. Nothing better being available as a substitute, a curtain ring was used, and on still another occasion the ring, handle of the church key was utilized. A couple in this state used in such an emergency a ring formed from the outer edge of a coin and which had been carried by some one present as a curiosity.

A gallant best man came to the rescue at a recent wedding, when the ring was not forthcoming at the right time. He drew from his tie the slender stick that had been adorning it, and bending the wire into ring shape, handed the improvised wedding ring to the distracted groom.

A horseshoe nail bent to the shape of a ring is said to bring a great deal of luck to the owner, and the lead cramp ring worn six centuries ago has given place to various rings now worn to prevent and cure rheumatism.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

The Polite Lie in Embryo.

A little child has given us a peep into the process by which the polite lie is developed. Mamma was talking to Effie about the absence of Edith from the children's party.

"You are sorry," said mamma, "that Edith could not come?"

Effie replied, having enjoyed herself, "Oh, I don't mind much."

To which mamma rejoined, "But Edith is ill. That is why she couldn't come. You must be sorry." Effie considered a year of sorrow I'm sorry," she said, "but it doesn't hurt me inside."—London Chronicle.

The Ruling Passion.

Wife who has been out shopping all day!—Oh, dear, how tired and hungry I am!

Husband—Didn't you have any luncheon in town?

Wife—A plate of soup only. I didn't feel that I could afford to have more.

Husband—Did you find the hat you wanted?

Wife—Oh, yes. It is a perfect dream, John, and it only cost $28.—Collier's Weekly.

Application for Liquor License.

In the matter of the application of Scott Halbrook for Liquor License. Notice is hereby given that Scott Halbrook did, on the 8th day of May, A. D., 1900, file his application with the city clerk of the city of Wayne, in the County of Wayne, in the State of Nebraska, for license to sell malt, spirituous and vinous liquors in the First Ward of the city of Wayne, County of Wayne and State of Nebraska, on the first floor of the brick building known as the Boyd annex, situated on Lot Three, in Block Twenty, in the original town of Wayne, Nebraska, and within said First Ward, for the fiscal year beginning May 1st, 1900. If there be no objections, remonstrance or protest filed within two weeks from the 11th day of May, 1900, the said license will be granted. SCOTT HALBROOK, Applicant. EVERETT LANGHEIN, City Clerk.

I consider it not only a pleasure but a duty I owe to my neighbors to tell about the wonderful cure effected in my case by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I was taken very badly with flux and procured a bottle of this remedy. A few doses of it effected a permanent cure. I take pleasure in recommending to others suffering from that dreadful disease.—J. W. Lynch, Dorv, W. Va. This remedy is sold by E. J. Raymond.

A Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one way to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. C. Lint of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. She then began at once to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful stomach, liver and kidney remedy. Cures dyspepsia, and loss of appetite. Try it.—Only 50c. For sale by E. J. Raymond, druggist.

Easy to Beat Hotels.

"Hotel men give out that they warn each other by circulars about dead-beats," said the slick looking man with the high hat, "but don't you let that stop you if you want to live high for a week. Few men like to publish the fact that they have been done up. It's the easiest thing in the world to beat a first class hotel. All you want is a good suit of clothes and plenty of check. A girl with a few shirts and collars is as good as a trunk."

"You drive up in style; you register to get the best room in the house; you bulldoze the clerks and threaten the servants. A checkbook is a good thing to show, but you pay for nothing. You talk in a loud voice, you make plenty of kicks, and you order the best wines for dinner. Launds, but the whole staff of the house will fall over each other to make it pleasant for you. You don't pay the first week's bill. On the contrary, you are indignant and demand an apology. When the second week is due, your drafts have not come."

"You will be worked out of the house, but with gentleness and apologies. They don't want a row, and they don't want notoriety. You'll be forgiven if you'll only go, and if you take up your quarters for the next two weeks right across the street no one from the hotel will give you away. When a man beats us, we like to see him beat our neighbor, you know. It's nice and genteel work, with no kicks or hard times, and there is always room for one more in the profession."—Detroit Journal.

A Strong Hint.

Harry wanted to give Lucy a birthday present, but could not make up his mind what it should be; so the next time he called he frankly told her the difficulty under which he was laboring.

"Want to make me a present, Harry?" exclaimed Lucy in well counterfeited astonishment. "Why, Harry, you forget yourself!"

Harry took the hint and offered himself on the spot.

W. T. Musser, Wilhelm, Pa., saved the life of his little girl by giving her One Minute Cough Cure when she was dying from croup. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. It quickly cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, grippe, asthma, and all throat and lung troubles. L. P. Orth. If that Detroit dentist who uses hypnotism in his practice would only impart a knowledge of his art to peatit politicians a campaign for office would not be so painful and the result to the victor would be the same.

J. Q. Hood, Justice of the Peace at Crosby, Miss., makes the following statement: "I can certify that One Minute Cough Cure will do all that is claimed for it. My wife could not get her breath and the first dose of it relieved her. It has also benefited my whole family. It acts immediately and cures coughs, colds, croup, grippe, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles. L. P. Orth.
