The American Beet Sugar Company of Norfolk, Neb., have issued their beet contracts for 1901. Under the provisions of this contract, the grower is assured of a satisfactory price for his crop. All beets testing 14 per cent. or less will be paid for at the rate of $4 per ton, 25 cents being paid for each per cent of sugar above 14, fractions in proportion. That is beets testing 14.1 per cent. being $4.02 1/2; 14.2 per cent. $4.05; 15 per cent. $4.25; 15.1, $4.27 1/2, etc. An additional 20 cents per ton will be paid for all beets sliced. The factory will pay freight charges on the beets delivered by rail, this placing the grower at a distance on a satisfactory footing. Further information of blank contracts can be obtained by applying to H. E. Hansen, local agent, or the office of the American Beet Sugar Co. Norfolk, Neb.

The Democrat of last week finds fault with the postage bill of the superintendent of public instruction as allowed by the board of county commissioners at their last meeting. Comparison is made between the bills of the clerk and treasurer and the superintendent for the same length of time and the latter is censured because his bill exceeds the bill of the other two offices combined. If the paper desired to be fair in the matter it would have stated frankly that the county superintendent's correspondence will state county and district school officers and the various teachers of the 80 districts of the county far exceeded the correspondence of both the other offices combined. It should have taken into consideration that blanks and record books were constantly being called for the officers and teachers of the county and on these the postage is pretty heavy and has to be paid by the county. It is possible that an investigation by the paper would have brought to light the further fact that a considerable portion of the postage included in the bill consisted of stamps on hand in the office and as yet unused. The superintendent's office is one where the correspondence is pretty voluminous, if properly attended to and we do not believe for a moment that the taxpayers of the county object to furnishing the postage necessary to a proper conduct of the office.—Republican.

OPTIMISM TAKES PLACE OF CONSERVATISM.

Many Insurgents Are Captured and Their Camps Destroyed—Better Understanding Among Natives of the United States Purpose.

MANILA: Optimism is taking the place of conservatism among the military men here, the cause being the numerous surrenders, captures and destruction of insurgent camps, coupled with the increased understanding of the American situation among the natives, proponents of the principles of the federal party, and the United States Philippine commission and the military authorities, and that this carrying of the terms of the peace is now being insisted upon by all who do things inimical to the interests of the army as rebels and traitors, are having pointed out and protection and showing the certainty of the final success of the American rebellion. The confining of American supplies has destroyed the remnants of the insurgents' organization. The inhabitants of the towns are disinclined to any longer contribute secretly to a hopeless cause, and the great majority believe that the pacification of the sufficient number of provinces to inaugurate a general scheme of provincial government will be accomplished before many more weeks have elapsed. The most pronounced resistance at present is in the remote mountainous regions of northern Mindanao, Cebu and Bohol.

She died a few hours later. Besides her she had a razor to use in case the rifle should fail. AMOUNTS TO CONFISCATION

Thomas Reed's Securities on Present Working of Stamp Act.

WASHINGTON: Former secretary of the United States treasury, Thomas Reed, has advised a committee on finance Monday for the amendment of the war revenue reduction act so as to reduce the tax on the transfer of stock. He contended for a change in the basis of operation, saying that the tax on the transfer of stock is a tax on the stock rather than upon the value, as provided in the existing law. Mr. Reed contended that this act operates as a great hardship upon stocks selling far below par. He said there were dealers whose stock was selling at a discount of 75 per cent. This amounted practically to confiscation and was unjust.

Steel Magnate Says Consolidation Stories are "Hot Blast."

NEW YORK: The evening Post says: "Andrew Carnegie Monday himself affirmed the denial of stories which were current Sunday to the effect that J. P. Seven Persons Killed and Twenty Seriously Injured.

CHICAGO: Seven people were crushed to death and twenty more seriously injured in a panic which followed a man's cry of "fire" late Saturday afternoon in West Twelfth Street Theater. About 300 people were in the place, gathered to witness the performance of a play called "The Greenhorn." The play was in Yiddish and the audience, comprising a large number of Jews, was packed in the center of a district densely populated by Jews. The play was nearly over when the cry which caused the panic was raised and within five seconds after it rang through the hall all the seats were empty. The panic was so great that many of the people were fighting for safety which lay beyond the doors of the building.

Around the upper part of the hall extends a balcony, which is open only at the rear end of the balcony, 500 women and children, and the women at the far end of the balcony, away from the stairs, seeing that the rush towards the exit was blocked to them and their children, began at once to throw the little ones over the railing. The floor then fell below, and children fell into the midst of the middled throng, and were at once trampled under foot. Following the children many of the women sprang from the balcony upon the crowd below, and others, who were not so fortunate, were trampled for they dropped. On the main floor the crush was much worse than in the balcony.

Within five minutes after the beginning of the panic it was all over, and the police and firemen who came hurrying to the scene of the disaster were unable to do anything beyond carrying away the dead and injured and keeping back the thousands of people who tried to force their way into the building.

As soon as the news of the panic had spread through the district, which seemed but a very few minutes, all the Hebrews from that part of the city rushed to the place, bent upon learning the names of the dead and wounded. Men and women fought desperately with the officers in their efforts to enter the building, and if any of their loved ones were among the dead. The crowd was so great, so excited and so unmanageable that several calls were sent for additional officers and firemen before it could be restrained. The flames of fire were false, having been blown in at some time. The furnace in the building is somewhat defective, and at times allows sparks to pass up through the registers. It was the sight of these sparks rising into the room that frightened the men.

The hall has several times been the scene of panics, and it is only a few months since a number of children were hurt in a rush for the doors, which occurred during a juvenile party that was given in that place.

It was one of the most difficult tasks to secure the names of the dead and injured. Many of the latter were taken to their homes before the police were aware of their names and many of them were learned only by canvassing the district.

It was not until the police had nearly finished the list of the injured that they refused to give their names, declaring the police were working in the interest of the proprietor of the hall whom they intended to sue for damages.

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN A CONDENSED FORM.

Three Bandits Suspected of the Fatal Hold-Up at Snyder. Arraigned at Fremont and Waive Preliminary Examination.

The three bandits charged with the murder of Norman Zahn were arraigned before County Judge Wintersteen at Fremont Jan. 10. Each waived preliminary examination and was held without bail to the next term of the district court, which convenes the first week in February. The complaint, which charges the three with murder in the first degree, was filed during the morning. As the report had been circulated that they were to be brought before the court only two or three men who happened to be passing the court house were in the court room. H. C. Maynard appeared for Rhea, "the little one," and Gardner, and Button & Cook will defend Burton who was informed against as William Darrel, which he says is his true name.

It was 12:10 when the three men under the guard of Sheriff Kreader, Deputy Stiles and several other officers were brought into the court room. Rhea has been held in custody and was able to walk with the assistance of other officers. He maintained the same cold, reckless look and demeanor as when first arrested. He listened to the reading of the complaint, which was very lengthy, standing on one foot, his hand resting on the table. His face showed no emotion during the reading and he answered, "I waive preliminary hearing," in the same unconcerned way one would answer an unimportant question.

Gardner appeared a little uneasy when he heard the name of a different party, which seemed but a very few minutes, all the Hebrews from that part of the city rushed to the place, bent upon learning the names of the dead and wounded. Men and women fought desperately with the officers in their efforts to enter the building, and if any of their loved ones were among the dead. The crowd was so great, so excited and so unmanageable that several calls were sent for additional officers and firemen before it could be restrained. The flames of fire were false, having been blown in at some time. The furnace in the building is somewhat defective, and at times allows sparks to pass up through the registers. It was the sight of these sparks rising into the room that frightened the men.

The hall has several times been the scene of panics, and it is only a few months since a number of children were hurt in a rush for the doors, which occurred during a juvenile party that was given in that place.

It was one of the most difficult tasks to secure the names of the dead and injured. Many of the latter were taken to their homes before the police were aware of their names and many of them were learned only by canvassing the district.

It was not until the police had nearly finished the list of the injured that they refused to give their names, declaring the police were working in the interest of the proprietor of the hall whom they intended to sue for damages.

LABOR RIOTS ARE FEARED.

If Italians Are Imported a Clash Is Likely at Florence, Colo.

FLORENCE, Colo.: The people of this city are being alarmed over the situation in Italy. It is feared that the importation of Italian laborers, and the strike for recognition of their union, Manager Milliken is willing to pay the union wages, but has refused to recognize a committee from the mill and another committee from the miners' union employees. Preparations are being made to import Italian laborers, and it is feared such action will result in rioting.

Little Kackley Takes No Chances on Threats Made in Letter.

While Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Kackley, who live in Ashland, were down town trading the other day a note was left on the gate post outside of their house. The note read as follows: "Mr. Kackley: You are requested to deposit $1,000 in gold at the bottom of the wharfing post on the railroad that runs from Ashland to Cambridge, Nebraska. We are the kidnapers of Omaha and we advise you to comply with our threat. We know you in Ogallala, Neb., and know your private affairs. If you do not comply, we will kidnap your family. The Ashland police think the note is the work of some joker or crank who desired to frighten the Kackley family. Miss Linnie Kackley, the threatened victim, is 18 years old, a pupil in the Ashland primary school, and is only child of the family. She is a expert shot with a revolver, having been taught that accomplishment while her parents lived on a ranch in Grant County. Since the receipt of the note she goes armed and it will be held for the benefit of the sender to attempt to carry out the threat.

TO CONSTRUCT A CANAL.

Nebraska Commercial Club Plans Extensive Project.

Engineer Nippell, who was engaged by the Nebraska Commercial Club to make the preliminary survey of the Nebraska River to find its fall, to be utilized as water power, has made his report. He finds in a distance of eight and one-half miles that the fall is fifty-four feet nine inches. "By cutting across the country between the two points, a distance of five and one-half miles, the water could be carried a mile for carrying the water in a canal," says Mr. Nippell's report, "it would leave a head fall of practically forty-five feet." The Commercial Club will organize a stock company at once and make a permanent survey for a canal.

Doane College Endowment.

H. A. French, John Doane and F. H. Chickering, who constitute Doane College's committee on endowment, have made a final report to the trustees in Crete. The report is of importance among the trustees of the college, of the proposition of the trustees of the late Thomas Doane's estate, which proposition was that the college accept certain properties valued at $100,000, and in return for the property interest which the estate holds in the property, the trustees of the college should agree to accept a permanent fund of $100,000 and secure a victory in the "permanent fund" branch of the college.

Says It Doesn't Owe a Cent.

The county board organized at Grand Island by the death of Henry Roe, as chairman, Mr. Rice, instituted quite a welcome innovation, reviewing in a message to the board the action of the board in the previous year and the needs of the county for the future. A review of the financial condition of the county shows the same to be without a cent of indebtedness.

Men Stripped the Boy.

In the district court at Plattsmouth, Judge Paul Jensen handed down a decision in the case wherein Lou Taylor succeeded in proving to the satisfaction of the jury that Lawrence Still was the father of her son. The decision is that Still owes Taylor $25,000 for the maintenance of the child and costs of the suit.

Seen to Want the Road.

The people of Logan County are reported to be almost unanimous in favoring the construction of a road from Logan County to aid in the construction of the Callaway, Lou Valley & Northern railway, and there does not seem to be any doubt that the Kearney-Callaway line will soon reach out to the county seat of Logan County and even beyond.

Engineer Inherits Estate.

William Hillman and family of McCook, have started for Germany, where, through the death of Henry Roe, as chairman, Mr. Rice, instituted quite an estate. For years he was a locomotive engineer on the Burlington.

Superintendent of Soldiers' Home

Gov. Dietrich has appointed A. C. Cole of Hastings to be superintendent of the soldiers' and sailors' home at Milford.

A New Engineer.

Gov. Dietrich appointed George Gould of Thayer County to be engineer at the Girls' Industrial Home at Geneva.

Nebraska Short Notes.

A large manufacturing company has made plans to locate in South Omaha. The city to locate in plant of the place if given a bonus of $1,200 to pay the expense of moving. There is every prospect that the bonus will be raised.

Chicken thieves visited Bennington one night recently and cleaned the coops of Fred Gottschar, J. H. Siers, A. Snyder, and a number of few others, getting about 2.0 chickens and a couple of dozen ducks and geese.

Three prisoners confined in the Madison County jail took a notion to escape. When discovered by the sheriff they had almost succeeded in slipping a note through the wall of the jail.

The old settlers of Pawnee County, Nebraska, and Nebraska County, Kansas, will hold a meeting at Pawnee, Jan. 17, to arrange for a joint reunion to be held some time during the future.

An old engineer has managed to secure a pardon for B. J. Vitok, sent to the penitentiary from Sheridan County for perjury. He was convicted of swearing falsely in order to save a friend in a case in which a young woman had brought bastardy charges. While many have started the petition there are many who are making a bitter fight against the granting of the pardon.

If the senatorial contest should continue any length of time the HERALD would not be surprised to see a prominent state senator elected one of the U. S. senators. He could easily fill the bill, so to speak.

If the Unionists down at Lincoln would only do the right thing they would nominate Uncle Henry Miller for U. S. Senator. He has been one of the most faithful, never faltering in his belief. It may be an empty honor but that it is merited cannot be gainsaid.

Speaker Sears is entitled to much credit for his excellent make-up of the committees of the house. Good legislation largely depends on the make-up of the committees. Fair and competent men head every committee and all interests are fairly represented.—Burt County Herald.

Fear is expressed that the abolition of the canteen will operate as a damper on enlistment at the recruiting office. The absence of the canteen however, will not prevent the soldiers from getting liquor, although they may be forced to pay more for it and take a poorer grade. It would be more natural for the recruits to demand more pay to make up the difference in prices between the canteen and the outside resort.—Bee.

There is no question that the republicans of Nebraska desire and expect their members in the legislature to hold a caucus before any step of importance is taken and to abide by the decision of the majority. All talk about each man plugging and blundering along in the dark to make what capital of good fortune he can for himself, regardless of the welfare of the party, is a vain noise and such like stuff. It is not republicanism, but factionism, it will not make the party stronger pure or better, but tend to disintegrate and defeat. There are not many republicans who advocate such a policy, but some of them are men whom republicans have listened to with respect, but the Times believe they are wrong and will not be able to carry their point.—York Times.

Some of the republican leaders are suggesting the name of John B. Hays as a compromise candidate for U. S. Senator. In case it should develop that those who have been in the race from the first are so nearly equal in strength that neither can be elected. From a republican standpoint this would seem to be good politics; in the first place, Madison county is recognized as one of the politically important counties of the state and not being very safely republican that move would doubtless strengthen the party. Mr. Hays is intellectually as strong as the majority of the men who compose that body at the present time and if the senator is to be a republican Mr. Hays would be as generally acceptable throughout the state as any other man that could be named. One thing is certain, if his selection would do much to harmonize the factional divisions which seem to exist in the party.—Norfolk Times-Tribune.

The striking difference in the treatment of the old soldiers in this country and Germany is brought out by recent debate in the German Reichstag. The measure under discussion was one to grant a pension the equivalent of $25 per year in our money to all the veterans of the German war unable to support themselves. There never was a time in this country when any disabled veteran received so small a sum as that proposed. Foreign nations have often wondered at the number of men who responded to the call for volunteers in this country when they were needed. Here they might find one of the reasons. The people of the United States are always ready to fight for their country fighting men are needed because they believe they have a government worth fighting for and because they know that it cares for its soldiers better than any country in the world.—Bee.

One feature of the contest for United States Senator at Lincoln is the evidence of jealousy on the part of newspaper men. Never before has the press of Nebraska had so good opportunity to assist in elevating a member of the staff to the senatorship, and yet their efforts are largely directed in keeping him back. The fact that Rosewater is outdoing the greatest newspaper in the state and in the west seems to be cause for bitter opposition on the part of rivals or would be rivals and no man in the race has been more roundly abused by the newspapers than he. In spite of this opposition, Mr. Rosewater is putting up a strong fight and one that is likely to win. It has quite frequently been the custom that when a man of a certain profession or line of business has aspired for promotion, others engaged in a similar work would rush to their support, thus honoring the calling. It has been said that this fellow did not exist in the same degree with newspaper men, and the present seems to prove it. Opposition from the organs of the other party does not look so bad, but when prominent papers of the republican party lead in the fight on Mr. Rosewater without apparent cause that envy it gives it a bad flavor.—Norfolk News.

A Republican Triumph.
The present era of Republican prosperity, which has attracted general attention throughout the world, is identified with a Republican tariff. American manufactures are going forth to every continent and those who purchase them are not troubled in the least about the Dingley law. Under a system of moderate protection our manufacturers and artisans have advanced until they are able to supply at foreign markets a better article at more favorable prices than can be obtained elsewhere. Our goods go to old manufacturing centers abroad. Formerly a few American specialties were disposed of in Europe, but the demand has greatly broadened. This is the third year of the Dingley law. Our exports in 1900 were twice those of 1898 and five times those of 1892. Exports per capita are $10.42, against $10.40 in 1870. Imports per capita are $10.90, against $11.96 in 1870. With total foreign exports in 1900 amounting to $1,470,000,000 and exports of manufactures of $400,000,000 a year, the whole list of free trade arguments is damaged beyond repair.

Supporters of a wise protective tariff meet the same old weapons which it is proposed to apply the same principle to a new industry. The Democratic assault upon the beginning of the tinplate industry was especially savage. Yet that branch of manufacture today is of immense extent and value. At the present time Democratic invective and ridicule are directed at the ship subsidy bill intended to revive and build up our merchant marine. This industry in Europe is subsidized and incouraged in every possible material way, yet the democratic party contends that it is public robbery and favoritism to aid our own shipping, though it has been out done by protected competition to an insignificant total. The methods that have developed our enormous foreign trade and our manufactures will be equally effective when applied to our merchant shipping.—Globe-Democrat.

These are great days in Wall street. They are great days also throughout the country. Prices are high on Wall street, and the number of shares of property which change hands is greater than ever before. Buyers are in immense numbers, and their competition sends prices up. More money has been disbursed in New York in the past seven days in interest and dividends than was given out ever before in the same length of time. In the country the business activity is greater than it was even at the opening of 1900, and that was a record breaking period. The United States is high on the way of republican prosperity at the present time.—Globe-Democrat.

Senator Crounse has been made chairman of the senate committee on school lands and funds. His experience in the office of governor gave him a good insight as to what is needed to promote the educational interests of the state by means of his endowment of the schools. He became aware of the necessity of keeping the permanent school fund profitably invested so as it would return a revenue. Undoubtedly there has been neglect of duty with respect to this and Senator Crounse is the man to see that the interests of the people are safeguarded and promoted.—Fremont Tribune.

By a vote of four to five the committee on privileges and elections has decided that the four fusion members from Douglas county are entitled to their seats in the legislature. Ed Smith, attorney for the contestees, said the house committee this complement: "I have been an attorney in three contest cases and I want to say that this is the only one that has been decided on the law and the evidence and not on politics.—Battle Creek Enterprise."

Nebraska is once more to the fore with the fine achievement of Consul Church Howe at Sheffield, in silencing a disturbance raised by the exporters there against the consular office. With his inherent natural diplomacy, Consul Howe has stilled the troubled waters and restored serenity all around. All Union Sam need do when confronted by turbulent conditions abroad is to draw on Nebraska for more consuls.—Bee.

Senator W. W. Young of Stanton, was quite ill and confined to his room at the Lindell on Monday. It is hoped he may soon improve. Mr. Young is one of the most indefatigable workers in the senate and a republican leader in that body. He invariably makes his mark in any public gathering.—Columbus Times.

With exports during the year 1900 amounting to over $15,000,000, it is little wonder that foreign countries "rattle with alarm" the great increasing trade of the United States. Of course Bryanocracy wouldn't call it prosperity.

W. J. Bryan's new paper is out and it is not expected that all fusionists will donate to the fund. He will not again be a presidential candidate but will attempt to keep the wheel of democracy thoroughly greased.

Political and Miscellaneous.
Watch the faithful "cough up" free silver when Bryan's "Commons" is issued.
The fusion governors have all passed into oblivion. They are no more, but what of it.
A great many people have a little grudge against Editor Rosewater simply because they have heard that a few others have. They have no other reason.

With two or three more years like past has Nebraska will become one of the best and wealthiest states in the union, at the rate the mortgage indebtedness is decreasing on farm lands.
Senator Thurston has favorably reported from the judiciary committee his bill providing for two additional district Judges in the district of Minnesota and Nebraska, which will undoubtedly be passed at this session.

Editor C. Putnam, of the Gibbon Gazette, committed suicide Saturday morning. Deceased was 65 years old and left a note giving as his reason for committing the deed that he was tired of living and had for years contemplated doing the deed.

The best sugar factory at Fremont closed down for the season yesterday. The amount of first grade granulated sugar turned out was 5,000,000 pounds, enough to fill about 150 average freight cars. About 330 men were employed during the time the factory was in operation.
The next thing is ocean telephoning. The American telephone and telegraph company have purchased the patents of Dr. M. J. Pupin of Columbia college which covers the art of ocean telephoning and which enables telephone messages over any length of land lines.

Ross Hammond says it "doesn't seem reasonable that Lot's wife should have remained inert after she had rubbed if there is such wonderful restorative qualities is salt." Perhaps she was like the common town gossip—too fresh—the salt of the land resists her blemishes.
The state electors met at Lincoln Saturday and elected J. L. Kennedy of Omaha, chairman; John E. Nesbit of Tekamah, secretary. W. E. Barton left for Washington Tuesday to announce the vote of Nebraska and to emphasize the importance of the great victory in this state.

The business methods of Governor Dietrich excites the admiration of even the populists. The contemptible charges preferred against the governor during the campaign, don't seem to prevent him from doing about the right thing at the right time and in the right place. Those who condemned him then can now see what small bore politics amounts to.

Josh Billings' Philosophy.

Cleanliness is next to godliness, no doubt; but when it becomes so fastidious that it changes every thing it touches into a shrub brush, it seems to be doing the matter more than justice.

Opinyons are somewhat like lies—one betrays another, and he who betrays the first and stands no chance at all.

Poverty and idleness are generally found together, and vice stands not far off watching them.

Many persons have had the experience of Mr. Peter Sherman of North Strafford, N. H., who says, "For years I suffered tortures from chronic indigestion, but Kodol Dyspepsit Cure made a new man of me." It digests what you eat; is a certain cure for dyspepsia and every form of stomach trouble. It gives relief at once and in the worst cases, and can't help but do you good. L. P. Orth.

TOOK CENTURIES TO BUILD.

Cologne Cathedral Was In Process of Erection 632 Years.
While the first stone of Cologne cathedral was laid on Aug. 15, 1248, and the body of the edifice was not opened until Aug. 15, 1880, 632 years later to the very day, it was not, however, until Aug. 15, 1880, that the splendid structure was finally reported completed, having thus occupied in building the record time of exactly 632 years.

The castle of Kingsberg, which stands at the southern extremity of Freiburg, took 204 years from the laying of the foundation stone to the raising of its master's banner on its highest pinnacle. Its foundation stone was the skull of its builder's bitterest enemy. Three months after its laying Count Jhorsting, the builder of the castle, was killed. His son was then in swaddling clothes. He did not continue his father's work until aged 24.

On his twenty-fifth birthday he was thrown into prison by the son of the man whose skull lay in the earth of Kingsberg's foundation stone. In this manner master after master of Kingsberg was stopped, putting another stone toward the completion of the founder's work till civilization intervened.

Restored castle, in Cornwall, took 40 years to build, of which period exactly one-third was decapitated in excavating the foundations. The solid rock upon which it stands is almost as hard as iron. Indeed Restormel means in Cornish "the palace of the iron rock."

The Duomo, at Florence, was commenced by Arnulfo in the year 1294, the last block of marble being placed in position in the facade in presence of the king on May 12, 1887, a period of 593 years.—Stray Stories.

Kent and Burr.
James Kent, whose famous "Commentaries on American Law" is classed with Blackstone as the greatest textbook on laws, was a great admirer of Alexander Hamilton, and when the great Federalist was killed by Aaron Burr in a duel he became the implacable enemy of the latter. One day long afterward when in New York the judge saw Burr on the opposite side of Nassau street. He went across the street as fast as his legs would permit and, branding his cane in Burr's face, shouted:

"You're a scoundrel, sir, a scoundrel, scoundrel!"
Burr, proved quiet to the emergency. He raised his hat and bowed to the ground and then said in his calmest professional tone: "The opinions of the learned chancellor are always entitled to the highest consideration."—Argonaut.

Working the Head of the Family.
It's a wise boy who knows how to work his father, and in this peculiar case most boys are wise. Louis' father works in Omaha, but Louis himself lives with his grandma in western Nebraska. Like most boys do, Louis writes to his fond father only when he wants money or something new in wearing apparel. Last week he wrote, enumerating a number of articles he needed. Among other things he wrote:

"Please send me some stockings. You better send bicycle stockings because they last longer than the other kind. Are you going to send me a bicycle on my birthday to wear with my bicycle stockings?"—Omaha World-Herald.

The Obstacle.
Oldmanne—Young man, have an ideal. Have an ideal, I say, and hug it to your bosom at all times and places.
Youngdog—She won't let me.—Farper's Hazzar.

The Better Man.
A safe man is often better for the long pull than the brilliant man. The latter flashes and is gone, while the other stands by you.

Exercise Enough.
"I thought your wife was going to join our physical culture class this year. Mr. Sutcher?"
"She did intend to, but we've got a girl who has been over from Sweden only six weeks, and my wife has to talk to her by making signs."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Take away my first letter, take away my second letter, take away all my letters, and I am still the same. What am I? The postman.

The rose was an emblem of immortality among the Syrians, and the Chinese planted it over graves.

Dosed Her With Cold Water.

"One autumn in Naples I was suddenly and seriously seized with a fever (cold)," says a society woman. "I couldn't but be frightened, away off there, in a strange land, from my own doctor, and my husband was more frightened than I was. By the advice of the hotel proprietor, however, we did not call in the resident American physician as he was in the city. There always is one, you know, but his (chief use, I've observed, seems to be in Mr. Howells' and Mr. James' international novels, where he acts as a splendid foil to the foreign lover of the heroine by failing in love with her heroine too, but always being rejected.

"No foreign hotel proprietor was ever known to recommend a resident American physician. Our Neapolitan host sent out for a regulation 'doctor,' who prescribed no more stringent course of treatment than drinking as much water as possible; not a pennyweight of medicine. I simply kept a pitcher of pure cold water and a glass upon the table at my side, and about every 15 minutes I quaffed a good, long draff. That cold was scattered like magic. After the first day I should scarcely have known I had been on the borders of one. Here at home in America whenever I want to scatter a threatened cold I promptly follow the prescription of my Neapolitan 'doctor' and dose myself with pure, cold water."—New York Sun.

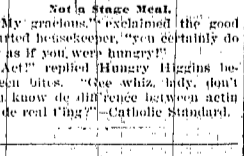

Not Arguing.
The person who feels like saying "Let us keep silence, that I may have the talk all to myself," would find reduced conversation an entirely one-sided affair.

The London News says that the late Charles Keene, the artist of Punch, used to describe with great delight the method of a certain man whom he called a "pot house Ruskin."
This person was sitting with a friend in an inn parlor and was bragging to the other man on matters ill general. Finally the friend ventured mildly to interpose an objection. The speaker drew himself up with much dignity. "I ain't narguing with you," said he; "I'm a-telling you!"

Hopetess Woman.
Mrs. Shears—Oh, dear, how the wind does blow!
Mr. Shears—My dear, did you ever know the wind to do anything else but blow?
"But the other day you said the rain came right down. Did you ever know the rain to go right up?"
"That's quite another thing. Just like a woman! Never can stick to the question under discussion."—Boston Transcript.

Not a Stage Meal.
"My granchild" exclaimed the good hearted housekeeper, "you certainly do act as if you were hungry!"
"Act" replied Hungry Higgins between bites. "Gee whiz, boy, don't you know de difference between actin' an' de real thing?"—Catholic Standard.

YOUR BODIES ARE TEMPLES

You believe that statement? But you only realize in part the obligations implied by it. Do you keep that temple of the body clean? If not, the defilement attaches to every service of the temple. The disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, affects the mind as well as the body. The dull mind, tormented by poisonous gases, enters on its service with difficulty. The "Discover" is a medicine and accomplishes it without delay. A healthy body and a clear mind result from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It removes the clogging and poisonous impurities from the stomach, stimulates the flow of the juices necessary to digestion and increases the blood supply in all organs. It is strictly a temperance medicine and contains no alcohol or whisky, neither opium, cocaine, nor other narcotic.

It has suffered from indigestion and only those who have suffered from it know what it really is. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine that will cure all the ailments of the stomach and bowels, and all the ailments of the blood. It is a medicine that will cure all the ailments of the stomach and bowels, and all the ailments of the blood. It is a medicine that will cure all the ailments of the stomach and bowels, and all the ailments of the blood.

Never before have we had such an opportunity to favor our readers. Think of it! We offer to send every reader of this paper free for fifty-two weeks, that great farm paper, the Prairie Farmer, published now for more than sixty years, and read by 100,000 of the best farmers in the world. Our offer is a pure gift, and we mean what we say. Every one who renews his subscription for 1901, or every new subscriber who pays us one year in advance may have The Prairie Farmer free by merely asking for it. Specimen copy of The Prairie Farmer may be seen at this office. This great paper is far ahead of any other farm paper in the United States. It is admitted by the leader of the agriculture press. No other paper pretends to compare with it in the qualifications of its editorial staff, and it covers, as does no other periodical, the whole field of country life—agriculture, fruit vegetable and flour gardening, dairying, breeding and feeding live stock, including poultry and bees, with due consideration for the library, the living room and the kitchen—every department being in charge of the very best specialists living.

Falls City Journal: Today Nebraska is a republican state, the ground laid by power and assumed the responsibilities of governing the commonwealth. The republican party assumes this duty with full knowledge of the weight of the responsibility and faces the task before it with confidence in its ability to do as it has ever done before and each official takes up his work with the best interests of the state at heart. The people of the state having placed these men in office have a right to expect a clean and businesslike administration of the state's affairs and if these demands are met the republican party has nothing to lose and every thing to gain. It seems most auspicious that Nebraska should enter an era of republican rule with the beginning of the new century. It seems to give a more rosy hue to the light that dawns along the eastern shores of time, but during the years of that century the republican party will be in its own hands. We have unbounded confidence in the party and the state and in having taken off our hats to the new century we doff them to republican Nebraska, over whose hills and prairies the standard of the grand old party has been raised—and long may it wave!

New Year's day is always fruitful of good resolutions. These are not always quite so prominent about the close of the year. For many years I kept a diary of what transpired throughout the year. I found it convenient, sometimes pleasant, and at times uncomfortable. I know of a number of others who started out at the beginning of the year with a nice blank book but in a month or two it was dropped. Laying all this aside, I believe the first the very best time to lay plans for the coming active season. I know that many times an early spring has slipped upon me, and a change in the order of things has been compelled where the plans have not been laid early enough in the season. Along about this time I like to know just what fields are to be put to certain crops, and how they are to be prepared. If the stalks are to be removed I want to know how. Many of these plans can be made while hay is being hauled to the stock or while doing other winter work. Thinking about one's business while at work is a great deal more profitable than devoting one's time to neighborhood gossip, upon which so many farmers—household,

A Letter from W. F. Norris.

Manila, December 5th, 1900.

DEAR FRIEND:

I received your letter and was glad to hear that everything was looking so well in Wayne. It appears from present appearances as though the election in the United States was going to have a satisfactory influence here. It is reported in the paper this morning that 936 of the Katapunians had surrendered to Gen. Young, and a previous report was to the effect that over a thousand bolo men had surrendered with their arms. The Katapuni is a Masonic secret society, said to be a Masonic order, but not such as would be recognized, I think, in the States. I have never learned much about it. It was framed, I understand, as an insurgent association early in the insurrection against Spain, and continued hostile to the American occupation. Masonry was not tolerated in the Islands, and the insurgents assumed what was termed a Masonic organization from their animosity to the Padres, to the religious orders, not to the church, as they are strong adherents of the Catholic church, but bitter foes to the Brotherhoods. The religious status of the insurgents is peculiar. They insist on the banishment of the Padres or that their lands be assumed by the State, and they be permitted to exercise no control in the religious matters of the country. They profess however, and undoubtedly are loyal to the church, but want their own native priests. It is frequently alleged that the prime cause of the original insurrection against Spain was owing to the dissatisfaction with the influence of the Monastic institutions. The situation in this respect presents a very perplexing problem. The Padres and their friends claim that the insurgents are hostile to them because they have possession of estates which they acquired by purchase and in legitimate ways, that were their advice followed it would be of material benefit to the Americans in putting down the insurrection, that they are friends to the existing government, their situation makes them so as the enemies of the United States are their enemies. When the intelligence of the re-election of President McKinley came the Orders rejoiced in the news and celebrated the event. After the close of the war, when the reconstruction period comes, the difficult question will be the settlement of the issues between the Padres and the natives. Like all religious issues, it is a burning question, which determined either way, or any way, will leave ranking behind. The issues are not only of a moral political religious character, but a vast amount of property is involved. The title to vast estates, comprising some of the most valuable land in the Islands, will be in controversy. There is always a perplexing period following the close of a war. The ending of the Philippine insurrection will prove no exception. We think, however, as Americans, that our government, if any one is, is capable of settling vexed political issues, and as our Supreme Court used say, doing substantial justice to the disputants.

This season has been remarkably free from rain. We have occasional showers, but the fierce tropical rain storms in which the water comes from the skies by pulsive, instead of in drops, have been very few. I did not suppose it possible for a season to pass with so little rain, but here it is Christmas month, when the rainy season is supposed to be over. It does not seem so late, but this letter will not be read by you till the next century, till after Christmas and New Years. Wishing you and yours a happy Christmas and New Year.

Your friend, W. F. Norris

ECZEMA'S ITCH IS TORTURE

Eczeema is caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing great redness and inflammation; little pustular eruptions form and the skin becomes very itchy, which dries and scabs off; sometimes the skin is hard, dry and fissured. Eczeema in any form is a tormenting, stubborn disease, and the itching and burning at times are almost unbearable. The best remedy is to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It is a powerful purgative and cleanses the blood, and sets the skin on fire. Salves, washes nor other external applications do any real good, for as long as the poison remains in the blood it will keep the skin irritated.

BAD FORM OF LETTER.

"For three years I had a letter on my hands, which caused them to swell to twice their natural size. The time of the disease was in the form of a running sore, very painful, and causing me much discomfort. My doctors said the letter had progressed so far that I could not get it out. I tried many bottles of B. S. and was completely cured. I have never had it since."—Mrs. L. B. Jackson, 124 McGee St., Kansas City, Mo.

"S. S. neutralizes this acid poison, cools the blood and restores to a healthy, natural state, and the rough, unhealthy skin becomes soft, smooth and clear."—Advertisement for SSS.

ECZEMA'S ITCH IS TORTURE

Eczeema is caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing great redness and inflammation; little pustular eruptions form and the skin becomes very itchy, which dries and scabs off; sometimes the skin is hard, dry and fissured. Eczeema in any form is a tormenting, stubborn disease, and the itching and burning at times are almost unbearable. The best remedy is to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It is a powerful purgative and cleanses the blood, and sets the skin on fire. Salves, washes nor other external applications do any real good, for as long as the poison remains in the blood it will keep the skin irritated.

BAD FORM OF LETTER.

"For three years I had a letter on my hands, which caused them to swell to twice their natural size. The time of the disease was in the form of a running sore, very painful, and causing me much discomfort. My doctors said the letter had progressed so far that I could not get it out. I tried many bottles of B. S. and was completely cured. I have never had it since."—Mrs. L. B. Jackson, 124 McGee St., Kansas City, Mo.

"S. S. neutralizes this acid poison, cools the blood and restores to a healthy, natural state, and the rough, unhealthy skin becomes soft, smooth and clear."—Advertisement for SSS.
