rests upon a solid foundation. We handle such instruments as WEBER PIANOS. The highest recommendation today without exception has been given this piano. We handle only instruments first in their grade—the best to be had for the money. We meet all reasonable competition—you are mistaken if you think you can do better in the large cities. We are dependent upon the kind of instruments sold for our reputation. We cannot afford to sell a poor one.

A vivid light will be thrown on the actual normal status of the police in New York City by Josiah Flynn's article to appear in McClure's for April, under the title, "York's Dishonest City." The present agitation of this subject attracts particular interest to the contributor, while the manner in which the author has gained his materials—by close association with the criminals themselves—will make his conclusions of extraordinary value.

The unique project of photographing the entire route of Sheridan's ride, from Winchester, Virginia, to Cedar Creek, as it is today, has been carried out by The Ladies' Home Journal, and the result will be shown in a picture story of fourteen photographs. Sheridan and his aids on horseback, from historical pictures, have been introduced into each picture, so that the ride of 1862 is shown as if it were taken today through that country, which, in reality, has changed but little.

Bar's Saturday night one of the wires in the dynamo at the electric light plant broke and but for the prompt action of Thos. Fritts and Peter Coyle might have resulted seriously. As it was, however, the city was in darkness the remainder of the night. The broken wire had cut into the armature, causing a short circuit. The dynamo was in bad condition also many other things about the power-house, Mr. Fritts having told the board of the fact. Sunday and Monday considerable sand was taken out of the boxing in the dynamo, and as there is no sand in oil, how it got there is a mystery. Had it not been for this the lights would have been running as usual Sunday night.

Homestead: Every time I see a new rag carpet go down on the floor of a home, I study the amount of work there is in it for the women folks of that home. The more I see of them the more I am convinced that it does not pay to make them. It is true that a great many rags will go to waste if not utilized in this way and the little girls can be set to work sewing who can not sew much else, and a saving made in this way. The end is not here. There is warp to buy, coloring matter to get, coloring to be done, weaving to pay for and when it is all computed good ingrain carpet can be bought and put down for the same expenditure. I am partial to ingrain carpet since it goes so much against the grain of seeing so much work in making the rag carpet.

Carroll Booming. The writer was in Carroll Saturday between trains and was greatly surprised at the building activity of that city. New buildings are springing up on every side and prosperity is plainly in evidence. The authorities propose to grade the streets and make a number of improvements. The handsome new school house stands in a slightly place and would be a credit to a town larger than Carroll. R. D. Merrill is building a large and handsome residence, which is rapidly nearing completion and other new dwellings will be put up at once. Edwards & Bradford are completing a veneered brick building, 40x80, in which they will place a large stock of hardware. Manning & Merrill have erected a large and substantial lumber shed and office, and M. S. Merrill will begin excavating this week for a two story brick building, 50x60, in which the bank will be located, also a general store. In fact that thriving town is making a substantial growth, although yet several degrees behind that of the surrounding country.

A severe snow storm in Western Nebraska Sunday night blocked the passenger train on the B. & M. and U. P. Railways, seriously interfering with traffic.

The republican legislators who headed their fusion friends down at Lincoln during the last week of the legislature will have their day of reckoning sooner or later.

How easy it is to drift the wrong way when there are those so ready and willing to help you, but it requires grit and the fight of a life time to row against the current.

The populist senators have moved body and benches into the Democratic camp by attending a caucus of that party. There is some doubt whether the men who elected them will look upon them as amalgamators or simply as traitors.

The legislature is now working over time. Saturday was the last pay day, but for the good of the cause the members are laboring away. It might have been better had that august body adjourned the day following its organization.

Today is the last day of the Nebraska legislature and there will be scenes of toll and turmoil. It is doubtful whether a United States senator will be elected or not. If not, only a part of the magnificent victory in the state last fall will have resulted in the good it was intended for.

The senate passed the representative, senatorial and judicial apportionment bills on Tuesday, but defeated the congressional apportionment bill by a majority of 1 vote, three republicans voting with the fusionists. The last bill should have been passed by all means as there is more than 100,000 difference in the population of some of the congressional districts.

It makes the old English free traders gasp to hear Andrew Carnegie say that a heavy export duty on coal is the only thing that will save the nation, but they are not disposed to take issue with him with much enthusiasm in the public prints. Andrew says that the country has been persistently eating out its own vitals in sending away coal and there is entirely too much truth in this assertion to be agreeable—State Journal.

Governor Dietrich says he is very much disappointed with the actions of the legislature in deciding to adjourn today, (Thursday) as many bills will fall by the wayside that should be enacted into laws. If the Governor knew of a republican in the state that is not very much disappointed with the republican end of the legislature for some reason or another, we would like to know his name and the color of his hair.

The term of Senator Allen will expire with the election of a successor, or in case of no election with the adjournment of the legislature. In any event, he can draw pay only until Thursday of this week. Interested persons have endeavored to convince the public that his term will continue until a successor is elected or appointed. This is not according to the senatorial precedents of seventy-five years.—State Journal.

The Herald from the first has felt that the election of Editor Rosewater and Geo. D. Metklohn would have been for the best interests of the republican party in the state. It was not to be so. The senator and representative in the district of which Wayne county is a part, were not agreed on the proposition, yet each carried out their honest convictions in the matter. It is our belief.

Everybody demands the right to think as he pleases and, in a decent and respectful way, to advocate his theories, but everybody is not willing to grant the same privilege to others. This reminds us that the idea that all men are equal is the foundation of republican government. All men are not equal in intellect or integrity, nor in wealth or education, but all are equal in natural and political rights. They are created that way, as the Declaration of Independence declares, and what we claim for ourselves we must freely concede to others.—York Times.

From a Mountain to a Molehill.

The tendency to exaggerate the effects of Russian Tariff retaliation for Secretary Gage's action in reference to countervailing duties on Russian beet sugar was strikingly illustrated on the occasion of the recent visit to Washington of a delegation from the Illinois Manufacturers' Association. First the delegation called upon the President and placed before him arguments to show that the discrimination against Russian sugars might seriously injure the export trade to Russia if retaliatory measures were insisted upon, and that a general trade war against the United States might arise. The President expressed the hope that no such war should be precipitated, but explained that the law was plain. He suggested that the only solution of the question would be a test case such as was contemplated by Secretary Gage when he issued the order imposing the countervailing duties.

The delegation then called on the Secretary of the Treasury and submitted a formal protest against his action in directing that countervailing duties be laid upon imports of Russian beet sugar pending a judicial determination of the disputed question whether the Russian exporters do or do not receive an indirect bounty upon sugar shipped to the United States. The protest concludes as follows:

It is our belief that the decision rendered by this department against the Russian Government will seriously affect the great agricultural and manufacturing interests of the United States. In view of this belief we feel that we are not only justified in requesting a reversal of the decision rendered, but that we would be false to the interests of the country if we did not demand its immediate repeal.

This protest in general terms was made more more specific by the representative of one of the large harvesting machine companies, who, in a supplementary statement to Secretary Gage said: "For your information I desire to point out that on one single item in our shipments to Russia this season the duty will amount to $8,000. This item represents but a quarter of our total shipments to Russia this year. But a very small portion of our machines has as yet reached that country; the mass is still at sea and cannot be landed until after the proposed advance on the part of Russia has gone into effect."

When asked by Secretary Gage to specify the items of shipment on which the exporters would be compelled to pay $8,000 in additional duties by reason of Russia's action, the harvesting machine representative stated that the articles in question were mowing machines. Thereupon Secretary Gage replied: "I am inclined to the opinion that they are not touched at all. Mowers are not included in the order. In fact, there are a very large number of articles in the United States not included in the order of advance. Agricultural implements of all kinds are specially exempted from the operations of the Russian order."

The Secretary also explained at some length that it was perfectly useless for any association of manufacturers or anyone else to demand of the Treasury Department the repeal of the countervailing duty order. The duty in question, he said, was imposed in obedience to the law of Congress, and was a matter over which the Treasury Department had no control except to carry out the law.

Thus the Russian tariff imbroglio dwindles from a mountain to a molehill. In the first instance it was asserted that export trade to the amount of $90,000,000 a year would be cut off. The fact, however, is that our total exports to Russia during 1900 amounted to rather less than $10,000,000. Later investigation proves that only about $2,500,000 of our yearly sales to Russia come under the increased tariff rate, and that agricultural implements are not affected at all. Upon so slender a basis as this rests the proposition of Free Traders and our entire scheme of Protection to American labor and industry. The facts in the case have a tendency to make some people look extremely silly.

Rheumatism. Rheumatic pains are the cries of protest, in distress, tortured muscles, aching joints and excited nerves. The blood has been poisoned by the accumulation of waste matter in the system, and can no longer supply the pure and health sustaining food they require. The whole system feels the effect of this acid poison, and not until the blood has been purified and brought back to a healthy condition will the aches and pains cease. Mrs. James Keit, of 709 Ninth street, N. E., Washington, D. C., writes as follows: 'A few months ago I had an attack of Sciatic Rheumatism in its worst form. The pain was so intense that I became completely prostrated. My condition was insupportably severe, and my condition was regarded as being very dangerous. I was attended by one of the best physicians in Washington, who is also a member of the faculty of a leading medical college here. He told me that he would prescribe for me a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After having it filled twelve times without receiving the slightest benefit, I decided to continue the treatment longer. Having heard of S. S. S. (Swift's Specific) recommended for Rheumatism, I decided, almost in despair, to give it a trial. I had taken a few bottles of S. S. S. when I had taken a few bottles I was able to get about my usual work. I had no more pain for me than at all. S. S. S. having cured me and well. All the distressing pains have left me, my appetite has returned, and I am happy to be again restored to perfect health. There are no opiates or minerals in it to disturb the digestion and lead to ruinous habits. We have prepared a special book on Rheumatism which every sufferer from this painful disease should read. It is the most complete and interesting book of the kind in existence. It will be sent free to any one desiring it. Write our physicians fully and freely about your case. We make no charge for medicine. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

COLLEGE.

Mr. Nicholson of Vermillion, S. D., was a recent College caller. Final term examinations for the winter term are in progress today. Mrs. Dineen is now in charge of the ladies' dormitory and is proving to be a very efficient matron. We respectfully invite the city ministers to be present and conduct chapel exercises next week as has been their custom in the past. Mrs. Gregg and little daughter Genevieve were class room visitors on Tuesday. Visitors are always welcome and we are pleased to be remembered in this way.

The good ladies of the Methodist church recently made up a basket of delectable viands for the gastric gratification of some sick students. The students are recovering. The spring term opens next Tuesday and the attendance promises to be fully as large as it has been the present term, in fact, none of the students intend going home during the brief vacation.

Owing to other engagements none of the college faculty will attend the Norfolk Teachers' Meeting. Prof. Gregg's paper on 'Sciences in the Grammar Grades,' will be read before that body on Supr. Lundburg, of this city.

The students' Sunday school, which convenes Sunday mornings has an average attendance of fifty. The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. organizations meet regularly Sunday afternoon. Just now they are giving attention to the study of the Pentateuch.

The reception tendered by Prof. and Mrs. Pile on the occasion of their 19th wedding anniversary the 16th inst. was highly appreciated by the students and other guests in attendance. As a memento of the event, Mrs. Pile was presented a French cloak and Prof. Pile with a set of mathematical blocks and blackboard globe.

The parliamentary law class closed its work last Saturday with a presidential nominating convention. Nearly a hundred "delegates" were in attendance and much enthusiasm was evinced at the two sessions necessary to complete the business of the convention. Roosevelt, Hill, and Mrs. Naton were the leading candidates on the first ballot, but the fifth ballot secured the nomination of a "dark horse," Miss Tompkins of Basset, Neb. As a running mate, S. T. Wilcox of Ponca was chosen.

A Triumph of Photography. Of course it was a Missourian, one of the "you've-got-to-show-me" type, who remarked to a companion as they examined with avestruck interest a picture in which there was seen the faces of all the presidents of the United States. "Say, Bill, how in thunder did the photographer ever get them men all together at once?"—Kansas City Journal.

Through many, many summers I look, as through a glass, And see a world of showers and dowers And laughing children pass, And a fair big blue sunbonnet One other little lass. A lass who watched the swallow sweep just beyond her hand, And where the flickers fled and sang And nests of bang birds tapped And felt those birds were fairly folk On wing to fairyland. In her warm fat she carried, Trudging 'er little bundle, In tiny papers laid and weighed As if in fairy scale. The salt that catches bobolinks When sprinkled on their tails. A little lass and wistful, Who gazed up the far sky, And reached for fairy things and wings In vain and wondered why; Poor little lass, I wonder still, Could she be really so fair.—Harriet Prescott Spofford, in Collier's.

ALLAH AND AMERICA.

A Persian Legend About the Creator's Visit to Earth. In Persia, on a morning after the vernal had been particularly vigorous, I said something quaint about getting back to God's country. An Armenian who had reposed in utter comfort in the same armchair heard it and smiled. Being an Armenian he hated the Persians, probably. Incidentally, the Persians reciprocates. Well, this Armenian, rubbing his hands and with his head skewed over on one side, said: "The Persians have a legend for what you said just now. It is this: "Allah—that is God—once said to his angel, 'I will see this world which I made.'"

"And so Allah and the angel descended lavishly in a cloud to the earth, and the first place at which they arrived was France—that is, in Peroglistan. And there they saw the railroads, and the tramways, and the theaters, and the great picture galleries. And Allah looked in disappointment and said: 'Alas, no! This is not the world which I made. I made none of these things.'"

"So they journeyed to Inglesistan—that is, England—and there were mighty-ships in the harbors and huge mills which make all sorts of things said: 'Alas, no! This is not the world which I made.' And everywhere they traveled in the cloud Allah looked up the land and said: 'No; this is not it.' "At last, in despair, the angel led the way to Persia, and Allah sat himself down upon a very high mountain, and looking far on every side, he saw neither railroads nor tramways nor theaters nor picture galleries nor ships nor mills nor schoolhouses nor plants to call.

"And Allah said: 'Yes, at last. This is the world which I made. Not a thing is changed. The people whom I put there have done nothing.' " "Why didn't he come to America?" I asked. "Sir," answered the Armenian, "in Persia they had not even heard of America."—Harper's Weekly.

The Success or Failure of a mercantile business is in the question of profit. If goods are constantly sold below cost, failure is bound to come. If prices are marked away up the people will not come more than once and trade is light. Too high or too low prices mean failure. Just where the turning point is between too high and too low prices, is difficult to determine. In marking our stock of we have gone low instead of high when we were in doubt where the turning point was. We give the Public the benefit of the doubt and sell the stock cheaper. You can prove this by examining our stock. Furchner, Duerig & Co. Highest Market Price for Produce.

Norfolk News: A company of 21 Wayne county people passed through the city today enroute to Lake Side, Washington, where they will locate. There is already quite a colony of Wayne county people located there and when this delegation arrives there will be three ex-clerks of Wayne county in the colony.

Burl Co. Herald: Miss Lena Morehouse is now located at Dodge, Neb., in charge of a military department. Miss Morehouse is an adept in her line possessing rare qualities required to make one a master in the art of millinery and is certain to satisfy the most fastidious patrons of any establishment over which she has charge.

Misses Maude Britton and Mae Cunningham entertained friends at the home of the former Monday evening. Cards and dancing constituted the amusement for the evening and light refreshments were served. Those present were Misses Austin, Ousted, Weber, Cunningham, Armstrong and Britton, and Messrs. Aherm, Hoile, Miller, Fisher, Stout and Craven.

Tuesday morning S. B. Russell, Ira Richards, G. A. Benson, J. L. Davis and families and Robt. Carr left for Washington, where they will take up their residence in the future. A large number of their friends were at the train at the time of their departure to wish them God speed and success in their new home. The car with their household effects went out the evening before. At Norfolk they took an omnibus car which was to have been sent to Wayne. Wayne is sorry to lose her citizens and especially is this true of S. B. Russell and family, who have resided here for so many years and whose friends were limited to only those who did not know them. Mr. Davis and wife and Robt. Carr will stop at Seattle, while the rest of the party will go to Lakeside from Seattle. The Herald will keep some of them posted on Wayne county news and wishes all happiness and prosperity in their new homes.

Republican: The Mrs. Williams at whose home the murderers of Zabu of Snyder, made their quarters, is none other than the woman put on trial here about a year ago for the theft of a horse from Geo. Rowher, and was acquitted of the charge, although the horse was found in her possession. It will be remembered that several of our ladies made themselves very conspicuous in their demonstrations of sympathy at the time of the trial and now that she has been harboring a gang that has no respect for life or property will doubtless be very proud of their actions at the time. Last week several parties from this and Dixon county were in attendance at the short-horn sale of John Britton at Sausboro, Iowa. They didn't come back empty handed but brought with them eleven head of the best stuff they could get hold of, in fact J. H. Mitchell of Logan precinct, paid the highest price received at the sale for a bull, and Wm. A. Meyer and Wm. Wischoff paying the highest price for heifers. Wm. Meyer, Sr., bought several head as did Peter Miller. It is pleasing to have such stock as this brought into the county, and evinces a determination on the part of these breeders to make their herds a credit to the county and a source of profit to themselves.

North Nebraska Teachers' Association.

Norfolk, Neb., Feb. 28th.

Up to Thursday noon about 250 have enrolled. The association in its past promises to equal any previous meeting but it is unlikely that the enrollment will be as large as the one at Wayne last year, which was the largest in its history.

DECLAMATORY CONTEST.

At the declamatory contest Wednesday evening the auditorium was filled to overflowing, standing room being at a premium. The result of the contest was as follows:

Oratorical: Elmer Robinson, Hartington, 1st; Sarah Krasne, Fullerton, 2nd.

Dramatical: John Newmarker, Columbus, 1st; Chas. M. Leifer, South Omaha, 2nd.

Humorous: Lydia Shultz, Schuyler, 1st; Nellie Handley, Norfolk, 2nd.

Considerable dissatisfaction was expressed over the decision in the humorous class. Had Wayne's contestant "sold" a piece as some expressed it "more silly" than funny, odds to have been able to arouse the tired audience to the sense of the ridiculous, as the winners did, then there would have been an opportunity to have secured a medal.

PASTURING.

I will receive cattle at O'Neill for $1 per head for summer pasture and will return them to O'Neill. Will receive hogs at Wakefield and Wayne for $3 per cwt and return the same. Plenty of good undrained water and grass on pasture. Address, M. A. WHALEY, O'Neill, Neb.

TINWARE.

Advertising is a pond in which business men fish for patronage.

For suckers, cheap is a good bait, but for those who deal on a sensible basis good goods and fair prices are a sufficient inducement.

In reference to tinware it does not pay to buy the cheap inferior grades when for a few cents more you can buy the Lisk anti-rust which will wear four times as long as a cheap grade, and is absolutely guaranteed not to rust.

The following guarantee is given with every piece:

"We guarantee and warrant each and every piece of anti-rust tinware against rust. Should any be returned rusted at any time, we guarantee to replace each and every piece with new goods free of charge."

The factory insists upon this guarantee being given with each article purchased.

We can show you a nice line of these goods consisting of wash boilers, buckets, dish pans, coffee pots, tea pots, dippers, etc.

Come in and let us show you some good tinware.

RIVER OF FLAMING OIL

Village of Glen Gardner, N. J., Partially Destroyed

New York, A fire of burning oil swept down upon the little village of Glen Gardner, N. J., while its inhabitants were asleep Sunday morning, March 21, and reduced edifice buildings, stores and dwellings to ashes.

A few miles west of the village, while coming down the incline round the mountain, the main pipe of the depot at Glen Gardner, the second section, smashed into the first.

SERVICE MEDALS
Being Distributed to Employees of the Illinois Central

In commemoration of the fiftieth Anniversary of the incorporation of the Illinois Central Railroad Company through the act of the State of Illinois, approved February 10, 1851, upon recommendation of Mr. Stuyvesant Fish, President, the Board of Directors decided in January last that the Company would give as an souvenir to every person in the employ of the Company during the month of February, 1901 who shall have served continuously for one year or more, a bronze medal, bearing the trade mark of the Company and on the reverse side the name of the employee and the number of full years in which he shall have served the Company.

The medals have been prepared by Messrs. Tiffany & Company of New York, and are simple but elegant design worked out in sharp lines of relief.

One side is an adoption of the Company's trade mark, bearing the familiar legend "Central Mississippi Route" in a diamond, with "Illinois Central R. Co., Chartered February 10, 1851" in the encompassing circle, underlying the two being radial bars. On the reverse, following the rim in relief letters is "Service Souvenir, Fiftieth Anniversary, 1851-1901" surrounding an inner inscription which reads "I. C. R. Co. to after years continuous service" the individual named and years of service being inscribed on the medal of each person receiving one. A marked feature of this distribution is the fact that precisely the same bronze medal is given to everyone who has been continuously in the employ of the Company. No distinction whatever is made between the highest and lowest; the services of those who labor with their hands, and those of the chief executive officers and board of directors being recognized in precisely the same way. The medals are being delivered in installments, and have already been circulated on some sections of the road.

N. N. T. A.
The meeting of the North Nebraska Teachers' association to be held at Norfolk on the 27th, 28th and 29th inst., promises to be the best of its kind ever held in our state. It is to be an educational session in the truest sense. With this end in view the committee have spared no pains.

The papers to be presented promise to be of superior excellence. The discussions are always awakened.

The evening attractions are to be of an unusual character. Chancellor E. Benjamin Andrews of our state University has an international reputation as a thinker and educator. He will entertain our patrons and teachers Thursday evening March 28th.

Liquid air, with demonstrations, has been the most instructive and scientific entertainment offered to the American public anywhere, for years. The committee have undertaken the responsibility of this entertainment because they believe our teachers and patrons are worthy of, and entitled to the very best form of attractions. Liquid air, with demonstrations, will be given Friday evening, March 29.

The several sessions and entertainments will be given in the Norfolk Auditorium.

This association has for its purpose the promotion of the cause of education, and invites to membership and to the discussion of topics on its program; all persons interested in the training of children or the welfare of society.

The influence of this association has been widespread. Teachers, members of boards of education should not fail to attend the present session.

Portraits of our Presidents
With Biographical Sketches By General Charles H. Grosvenor. Title Page Designed By Tiffany

This inaugural year, when the public mind is aroused over Presidential questions, is a fitting time to issue General Grosvenor's book. Its sale is already tremendous and will perhaps exceed that of Gen. Grant's Personal Memorials.

Every patriotic American desires to read what General Grosvenor has to say of Geo. Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln, President McKinley and other Chief Executives of the Nation, yet everyone desires to read what General Grosvenor has to say of the Republican leader in Congress, will say of that staunch old Democrat, Andrew Jackson, the Father of the Democratic party.

General Grosvenor has thrown into this sketch of Jackson all the fire and energy of his nature. The biography of Thomas Jefferson is grand. The biography of Lincoln is as beautiful as a sunrise over the hills.

General Grosvenor has personally known all the Presidents since the time of James Buchanan. The General's book will therefore contain history which has never before been published, written from his own personal observation of these great men.

General Grosvenor has served in Congress for nearly twenty years, and has served in every branch of the Government for nearly forty years. The book contains twenty four large Photographs of Presidents as fine as Steel Plates, printed by hand, on heavy plate paper, made especially for the purpose.

The book is in different tints, and are well worth $2 each. These Portraits are made from the Paintings endorsed by the family and near relatives of the Presidents. Two years time and a fortune were expended in securing these reproductions. The complete book is well worth $50, but the price has been placed so low that the most humble American citizen can own it.

The biographical sketches are printed in large open type, in two colors; the book so beautiful that when people see it they want it. The advance sale is very large. President McKinley was the first subscriber. There is one edition known as 'The President Edition' of Grand Luxe, initial letters in gold, and the book is bound in gold, title page hand illuminated, registered and numbered; subscription price, $50. Orders and application for territory are coming in rapidly. A high class man or woman of good social standing can make a small fortune taking orders in this territory. Send for prospectus and apply for terms quick, as the territory will be assigned soon. Address, THE CONTINENTAL PRESS, Washington, D. C., Opposite U. S. Treasury.

By order of the Board of County Commissioners of Wayne County, Neb. Upon the petition of Homer Graves, et al, for the opening of the following section in the northeast corner of section 26, range 4, east, running thence south for a distance of one mile on the section line between sections 17 and 18 and terminating at the southeast corner of said section 18, in township 23, range 4, east. All objections to the opening of said road or claims for damages by reason thereof must be filed in the county clerk's office on or before noon of the 25th day of May, A. D. 1901, or such road will be opened without reference thereto.

Small Pox Scars
Seem to cause a great deal of excitement when they get started, but we have a line of goods that causes more excitement than the small pox. For instance

Hoosier Seeders
These seeders we carry in three styles, viz: wide track, narrow track, and the Jumbo, which has an extra large hopper. These seeders are a strictly force feed with a land gage on end of each showing no of acres you are sowing. They are accurate and reliable. We now have a full line of the Morrison Old Line Plow Goods

which have been tested to satisfaction and perfection. The little "Twin Brother" plow is good enough for anybody at the prices we are offering it at.

ELI JONES & SON,
Wayne, Neb.

Famous Robinson Buggies
which have stood the test of time. This is not a cheap buggy made of brackie materials, but is made of bone-dry, thoroughly seasoned, second growth timber, well painted and striped. Every thing we have is new, the latest the market can produce. If you are thinking of buying anything in our line it will pay you to call and get prices, as we are giving better goods for the money than any one in this section.
