West Point Republican: U. S. Conn. superintendent of schools at Wayne, and president of the state Teachers' Association, was a West Point visitor Monday and Tuesday.

Homestead: The best time to kill weeds is before they come up, and the next best is the next day after they have come up. The longer the killing process is delayed the harder it will be to accomplish the desired end.

The new game bill which has passed will be interesting. It prohibits quail shooting for a couple of years, makes more stringent the law against poisoning, prevents fishing with trotlines of more than five hooks on a line, provides for game and fish wardens, and for a $1 license for hunting in another than a home county, with a $10 fee for non-residents hunting in the state.

Lives of poor men oft remind us honest men won't stand a chance. The more we work, there grow behind us bigger patches on our pants. On our pants, once new and glossy, now are stripes of different hue, all because subscribers linger and don't pay us what is due. Then let us be up and doing; send in your mite however small, or when the wind of spring-time strike us, we will have no pants at all—Stolen.

Lincoln, Neb., April 5—Articles of incorporation of the Nebraska Crematory association, stock $10,000, have been filed with the secretary of state. The incorporators are: J. Sterling Morton, A. P. Ginn, H. N. Shewell, J. W. Steinbart and A. T. Richardson, all of Nebraska City. The business of the company will be the maintenance of a crematory furnace and chapel, cremating human bodies and storing ashes. This is the first organization of the kind in the state.

Homestead: Some men have a faculty of making dollars out of wind, but they never do it blowing, about themselves. A very good way to make dollars out of wind is to have a windmill geared so it will perform a large share of work on the farm. One other way I know can be done, and it is in putting on a strong wind when the seed grain is being prepared for seeding. Turn out plenty of wind when the seed grain is passing through the fan, and harness the wind whenever it can be done for profit.

Laurel Advocate: E. R. Gurney was over from Winside yesterday shaking hands with friends. In the afternoon he drove out to his farm. Chas. Tower of Wayne, has been in Laurel most of the time lately, and says he thinks he'll be eligible to run for office at the school election. L. J. Houle departed Wednesday afternoon with C. G. Davis' car of household goods for the city of Washington, going by way of the Omaha. He expects to be absent about three weeks, visiting his people in Ohio on his return.

Randolph Times: Wayne Odd Fellows will get in line and celebrate the 83 anniversary of the order on April 25th. Wayne is located favorably for such a project and is accessible by prosperous lodges in Pierce, Cedar, Madison, Dixon, Thurston and Dakota counties. April 25 is a time for rejoicing by all lovers of Odd Fellowship and we feel sure that the Wayne brethren, by a little help from business men will extend the open hand of friendship to hundreds of the wearers of the three links. We would favor an organization whose object would be to properly observe the natal day of the order, and hold the celebrations successively in the towns embracing the association. Randolph Odd Fellows will be more than pleased to participate in the Wayne celebration, and while we cannot speak for others, our opinion is that Cedar County in general will be well represented.

A practical farmer in the Homestead says, "We farmers know of signs for this and signs for that and we also know that some of them fall sometimes. There are signs of the moon and signs that have some logical connection. We always feel that a clear frosty morning portends a fine day. It is said that if the wind blows from the northwest on the 15th and 16th of April it will be a good year for spring wheat and other grains. It has also been alleged that Friday of each week will be the fairest of the foulest. That for every fog in February we'll have that many frosts in May. That if it rains at the same time we have the first thunder storm, the following will be a wet season. We like to dwell on some of these signs as a waste time. They give us something to think about when we are prone to think of other matters that will do us less good, perhaps."

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Division of Forestry.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6, 1901.

The Division of Forestry of the U. S. Department of agriculture has decided to make a thorough examination during the coming summer, of tree growth in the State of Nebraska. The object of this examination is to determine if forest production on a large scale is possible in this region. Throughout the greater part of Nebraska there is but a sparse timber growth, while portions of the State are practically treeless. From the results of the proposed investigations the Division of Forestry hopes to devise means for improving and extending the present forest growth, and, in the case of the treeless regions, to formulate a plan of tree planting, whereby the waste lands may be reclaimed. The best methods of tree culture will be considered and a careful study will be made of climate, soil and natural enemies of trees in this region.

For several years past the division of Forestry, through its section of Tree Planting, has been investigating the forest growth in several of the Middle Western States. The agents selected for the work to be done in Nebraska this summer are men who have a practical knowledge of existing conditions, and are well fitted for the task of making an exhaustive study of the region. The results obtained from this tour of investigation will be of value to several of the neighboring States, for in Kansas, South Dakota and portions of Eastern Colorado and Wyoming much the same conditions exist.

The valley of the Platte river, from Plattsmouth to Kearney, and the entire western half of the state, will constitute the field of investigation. About May 1, two representatives of the Division will commence work at Plattsmouth and go up the river examining and classifying the growth of trees. Especial attention will be given to the distribution of species, and to all efforts to cultivate considerable bodies of timber. In the investigation of tree planting experiments the failures as well as the successes will be noted, for it is desirable to obtain all possible information on the subject.

It is expected that Kearney will be reached before July 1. At this point the party will be increased to six members and will be equipped with a complete camp outfit and saddle horses. The following four months will be spent in work that will practically cover the western half of the state. The line of travel will be from Kearney to the western boundary of the state, along the Platte, thence north to Crawford, and then in a generally southeasterly direction through the sand hills, and down the Middle Loop City to Loup City.

A wide strip of territory can be studied on each side of the route, as the party will be mounted, and particular attention is to be given and reproduction of Yellow Pines Nebraska is the meeting grounds of the plains and mountain flora, and for this reason much valuable and interesting information is likely to be obtained. Cooperation by the people along the route to be taken by the Government will greatly facilitate the work.

The Division of Forestry has received sufficient encouragement from work already done in Nebraska to warrant the thorough examination that is to be made this summer. The fact that many tree growers in the state are already realizing substantial profits from planted timber is noteworthy. A number of men who have had wide experience in dealing with the problem of forestry in Nebraska have written to the Division of Forestry stating that there is no doubt in their minds of the possibility of increasing the present scant growth of trees, and agreeing that even the sand hills can be forested. Among those who have expressed such an opinion are: Dr. Secretary of Agriculture, J. Sterling Morton; Prof. Charles E. Bessey of the University of Nebraska; C. S. Harrison, President of the Nebraska Park and Forest Association; and E. F. Stevens.

The rapid spread of interest in forestry will soon bring land owners to realize that timber may be considered as truly an agricultural crop as wheat or corn. With the Division of Forestry investigating the best methods of tree culture and offering its advice and assistance to landowners interested in tree-planting there is reason to believe that in the near future much headway will be made in bringing about a reasonable forest growth on lands now almost treeless.

The work outlined by the Division, looking to the improvement of Nebraska forests, should attract general attention, considering that throughout this region forest products are in constant demand, commanding high prices and presenting a profitable field for the investment of capital. Improved forest conditions in Nebraska would mean cheaper fuel, a beneficial influence on local climate, with a consequent increase in the value of land.

THEY SLEEP HANGING UP.

Monks and Bats Suspend Themselves Without Muscular Exertion. There is one animal which lives entirely in trees, but is able to maintain its position during slumber without the least exercise of muscular force, says Professor...

The great antler which is held by a kinsman and fellow countryman of the sloth, has an enormous tail which is used in a very remarkable manner. Recently saw two of these strange animals lying together asleep, and they had arranged their tails so cleverly that their whole bodies were hidden from view.

Moreover it was evident that when the animal covering would afford excellent protection from the weather. For the central solid part of the tail is covered with a kind of plate over the whole part of the sloth's body, so that the long fringes that hang down from each side like the fringe of a rug.

Like the sloth, many kinds of bats are suspended by their hooked claws when they are asleep. Some of the large fruit-eating bats of the tropics, which do not sleep hanging like the species common in southern latitudes, but which hang suspended to the branches of trees in their cities, adopt a position which would be difficult to bear for human beings.

A WOMAN'S HEART.

Miss M. G. Dyer Tells a Narrow Tale of Suffering. I suffered from a disease of the heart, doctoring with the best physicians. Some of them would have given me up as hopeless. I was told that I would have to sit up for hours, to get relief. I would awake almost all night. I am 62 years of age, and no one could imagine how much I suffered with this disease.

IS NOT PRACTICABLE.

NO DANGER OF A EUROPEAN TRADE ALLIANCE.

Conflicting Interests Will Operate to Prevent a Retaliatory Tariff Combine of Foreign Countries Against the United States.

The British plan of a continental tariff alliance against the United States might be practical if Europe were one nation within the several parts of which there was the community of interests brought into existence by a free interchange of commodities. But it is practically impossible to form one general trade alliance against the United States while the several European nations tax each other's products.

The Continent of Europe is divided into a number of little nationalities which have no interests in common. The goods that these several countries produce are all by hand made or hand made. One daughter of Queen Victoria shares the Russian throne with her brotherly monarch, and another daughter of the British Queen is the mother of the present Emperor of Germany.

CHANGED CONDITIONS.

From Good to Bad in 1892, and from Bad Back to Good in 1896. Industrial conditions which prevailed in the United States four years ago have been completely reversed. Then and for three years before workmen were clamoring for employment; now employers are clamoring for workmen.

Business shrink immediately. The worst panic for half a century drove more than two million men out of employment and deprived the rest of nearly 20 per cent of their former wages. The volume of business in 1894 was 25 per cent smaller than in 1892, and the Wilson tariff taught the country the practical effects of Democratic theories.

Where the Farmer Comes In. According to a recent announcement of the Agricultural Department, the farmers of the United States received $185,290,172 more in their farm, wheat, oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, potatoes and hay in 1900 than they did in 1890. The total receipts for last year being $1,801,406,582, as against $1,676,170,410 in 1899.

DO NOT STUDY GEOGRAPHY.

Englishmen Know Little About Locations and Distances Here. Englishmen know little of the geography of the States, and what little they do know does not object to putting Philadelphia next door to Boston, or San Francisco alongside of New York.

The Russian Retaliatory Duties. The wisdom and propriety of Secretary Gage's action relative to the collection of counter-vailing duties on Russian beet sugar grow more and more apparent. Strong representations on this subject had been made to our government by the German ambassador at Washington prior to the decision of Secretary Gage, and a protest had been entered in behalf of Germany against discrimination in favor of Russian sugar.

The Picture and the Original. The question has been often asked whether painters should represent the persons who sit to them adorned with more charms than they really possess. The following anecdote may serve as an answer.

Another Prop. Gage. The reversal of trade which followed immediately upon the enactment of the Dingley law in 1897, to take the place of the Wilson law abolition, was so remarkable that the free-traders were hard put to find some argument or excuse for their ill-considered policy.

Important to Coward Girls. "And what have the story of the prodigal son teach us?" asked the teacher. "It teaches us how to get the fatted calf," was the prompt reply of the lad boy at the foot of the class.—Chicago Post.

"GONOVA" For the treatment of gonorrhea, urethritis, and other venereal diseases. It is a powerful and reliable remedy, and is sold by all druggists.

strange but True. A man was found dead in a field. The coroner called and the doctor pronounced him dead. The man's wife came and said she had seen him alive just before he died.

PROTECTION. Remember This Fact. It is well enough to keep in mind that the only time since 1899 that the Democratic party was in control of both houses of Congress and the President was during the second election of Cleveland, which occurred in 1892, and that great financial panic of 1893; followed the assurance of Democratic control. This fact should be remembered by every voter in the United States and read anew at each recurring election.—Medford (Ore.) Patriot.

Nervous Prostration.

A Noted Boston Woman Describes its Symptoms and Terrors. Two Severe Cases Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

ADELE WILLIAMSON

"I am so nervous! no one ever suffered as I do! There isn't a well inch in my body. I honestly believe my lungs are diseased, my chest pains me so, but I have no cough. I am so weak at my stomach, and have indigestion terribly, and palpitation of the heart; and losing flesh; and this headache and backache nearly kills me, and yesterday I had hysterics."

This is a most vivid description of a woman suffering with nervous prostration, caused by inflammation or some other diseased condition of the womb. No woman should allow herself to reach such a perfection of misery when there is no need of it, as read about Miss Williamson's case and how she was cured.

Two Bad Cases of Nervous Prostration Cured. "Dear Mrs. PINKHAM:—I was suffering such tortures from nervous prostration that life was a burden. I could not sleep at all, and was too weak to walk across the floor. My heart was affected so that often I could not lie down at all without almost suffocating. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it worked like magic. I feel that your medicine has been of inestimable benefit to me."

Carl Seeley of Madison formerly deputy revenue collector was dismissed from the service recently owing to the change in the war tax law, and the territory of each man is now about doubled.

The bonnet display in Ahern's window is new, nobby and up-to-date. The lady with sprinkler in hand, looks very industrious as though she were in charge of a handsome flower garden. The window dresser there seems to understand the business.

Opera house manager Britton has secured the Marsden-Hart company for a week's engagement commencing Monday evening the 15th. This company is composed of ladies and gentlemen, all of whom are artists and no doubt will exceed the average repertoire companies who have heretofore visited our city. Their engagements will consist of the best of dramas, with a full line of comedies and the specialties.

On the opening night one lady will be admitted free with each paid reserved seat ticket. Tickets on sale at Miller's grocery. Prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents.

A. R. Davis, an attorney of Blencoe, Iowa, arrived in the city the latter part of last week and will become a resident of Wayne, having formed a partnership with A. J. Ferguson. Mr. Davis comes to Wayne with excellent recommendations, his home paper speaking of him as follows: "Mr. Davis is a young attorney of whom all Blencoe is proud, having grown to manhood in this community. He is a young man of good character, bright, intelligent, and sound judgment, and we are glad of the opportunity to recommend him to the people with whom he has decided to cast his lot. Blencoe people are sorry to lose him, but are unanimous in well wishes."

Owing to the fact that we have been painting, kalsomining and otherwise making improvements in the office the Herald may not contain as much local news as usual this week, but we are bound to keep up with the times, and with new material we are better equipped than ever to do first class job work.

Prof. Durkin, the marble and Granite dealer is turning out some very fine work at his shop. This spring he has on hand a large assortment of monuments and is selling very low. Parties wishing monumental work will do well to call at his shop and leave orders with him personally as they will be so going save the usual 20 per cent of an agent. Leave orders soon if you wish the work for Decoration day.

Emerson Enterprise: The re-election of Misses Crosby, Mae Cunningham and Nell Thompson by the school board will give entire satisfaction to the patrons of the school. They have done faithful and efficient work during the past year. The work of the other teachers was also satisfactory but they were not applicants. Prof. Martin presumably has a better position in view. Mrs. Ecklein will go to California to join her husband, and Miss Spears, it is reported, will study "kalligraphy." Four applications are on file for the principals and several for the other positions.

Nolin when they both resided in Iowa, was a visitor during last week at the home of Mr. Nolin.

There is one town in Nebraska that has achieved the climax of dampfoolishness. That town is Concord, though we never before heard of it. At the election Tuesday there was one ticket in the field standing on the platform that the policy of the town should be dictated by Carrie Nation and that nothing affecting its moral status should be done without her approval. Unreasonable as it may appear that ticket was elected by an almost unanimous vote, and it's up to Carrie now how so many virulent cranks came to be congregated in a town by the name of Concord, the Lord only knows, but having so congregated it seems meet and proper that they should be governed by the queen of cranks. This freak lifts the town out of the obscurity which has enveloped it, but there are some things worse than obscurity.—Fremont Tribune.

All Churches Observe Easter.

Easter services were generally observed in the different churches of the city on Sunday and although the day was not exactly an ideal one nevertheless numerous spring gowns and Easter hats were in evidence. The services were especially devoted to the day and were of an interesting nature throughout. At all of the churches the decorations were abundant and very handsome plainly evidencing the work of woman's mind and hand.

At the Presbyterian church a large assemblage listened to an excellent and appropriate sermon by Rev. Montgomery. Special music had been arranged for by Prof. Davies and choir, and the floral decorations under the supervision of the Ladies Aid society were superb, having been obtained for the most part of the florists at Sioux City.

No very elaborate preparations were made for Easter day at the M. E. church, although the services were in keeping with the day. The church was decorated with beautiful flowers, ferns and Easter lilies. In the morning a number of scripture lessons were read and the pastor preached an excellent Easter sermon. In the evening there were Scripture readings bearing on the death and resurrection of Christ, some special music by a large choir, and a short sermon by Rev. Bithell. The music was the special feature of the evening service, there being some excellent selections rendered.

Rev. Ringer conducted the services at the Lutheran church which were very appropriate. The decorations were very pretty consisting of flowers and plants. Eleven persons united with the church.

HOUSE BILLS.

House roll 51, by Mead, making it a crime to threaten to accuse any person of a crime or offense or to do injury to the person or property of another with the intent to extort money or pecuniary advantage, or to compel the person threatened to do any act against his will, and providing punishment for the offense. It provides that any person who shall by printed, written or verbal communication, threaten to accuse another of an offense or to do any injury to his person or property, with intent to extort money or pecuniary advantage, or to compel the benefit of another, or to compel the person so threatened to do an act against his will, is guilty of blackmail, and is imprisoned in the penitentiary not more than three years nor less than one year, or fined not less than $200 nor more than $500. Approved March 20.

House roll 14, by Crockett, providing that all damages caused by the laying out, altering, opening or discontinuing any county road may be paid by warrant on the general fund of the county, except as provided by section 4546, chapter 78, of the statutes. Approved March 20.

House roll 138, by Evans, for protection of fish, game and insectivorous birds. The governor is made the game and fish commissioner, and is authorized to appoint two deputy commissioners. One is called the chief deputy and shall reside in Lincoln; the other shall be skilled in the science of fish culture and have control and management of all fish hatcheries in the state. Each to receive a salary of $1,200 per annum. The governor is also authorized to appoint three more deputies at a salary of $75 a month, during the time actually employed under direction of the commissioner. They are to be allowed $300 per annum for traveling expenses, and to have offices in the capitol. The commissioner and his deputies are made officials of the state with all the powers of sheriffs and constables, while acting within the line of their official duties, to make arrests, to serve all writs and processes, civil and criminal in the enforcement of this act, and to charge therefor and collect fees allowed by law. It is made the duty of the commissioner and his deputies, with or without a warrant, to arrest all parties he may deem guilty of violations of this act. And with or without warrant, to open and examine any box, barn, car or other place where he believes game killed in violation of the act to be concealed. When entering a dwelling house a warrant is necessary. No person shall shoot or hunt from a public highway at any game, insectivorous or other bird, or fish, or hunt game on any land not public land, without consent of the owner, nor fish or hunt in any private park, or lake without consent of the proprietor. The use of dynamite or other explosive in killing fish is forbidden. Killing of the following named birds is forbidden at any and all times of the year: Robin, lark, thrush, blue bird, king bird, wren, jay, swallow, oriole, woodpecker, yellow hammer, cuckoo, yellow bird, bobolink, or other birds of like nature that promote agriculture or horticulture by feeding on noxious worms or insects. It is provided, however, that hawks and owls may be killed on one's own premises, schools or colleges, when authorized by the commissioner, may take or kill for scientific purposes, twenty-five of each of the forbidden species. Any person violating any of the provisions of the above section is liable to a fine of five dollars for each bird killed. The open season for deer and antelope having horns shall begin Aug. 15, and end Nov. 15. Wolves, coyotes, foxes, skunks, wildcats and rabbits, may be killed during any time of the year. The open season for prairie chickens, sage chickens, and grouse, begins Oct. 1 and ends Nov. 30; for quails from Nov. 1 to Nov. 30, and it is made unlawful to kill, trap or hunt any quail at any season of the year prior to Nov. 1, 1903; for wild ducks, wrens, grackles, geese, etc., shall begin Sept. 1 and end April 15; for jack snipes, Wilson snipes and yellow legs from Sept. 1 to April 15; for wild pigeons, doves, plover, April 15 to Oct. 30. The open season for trout not less than eight inches in length shall begin June 1 and end Oct. 31; for all other fish April 1 to Oct. 31. Taking of game in any one day is limited to the following amounts for one person: Ten wild geese or brants, 25 game birds of any other variety, 25 fish. No person may kill more than one deer and one antelope in one year. Or he may substitute two of one kind for one of each kind. No one person may have in possession at any time more than 10 wild geese or brants, 50 ducks, and 60 other birds, nor more than 50 fish. No game or fish shall be held in possession by any person for more than five days after expiration of the season for killing. Game may not be pursued in the night time, nor with other than an ordinary shoulder gun or pistol. Fish may be caught only by hooks, baited with natural or artificial bait, and the number of hooks on any one line must not exceed five; nor shall any fish be caught within 200 feet of any fish way. Violation of the provision restricting the number of birds and fish, and the provision relating to time and method of hunting is made punishable by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100 or imprisonment in the county jail not less than 60 days. A fine of not less than $100 nor more than $300 or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed 90 days, or both, is provided for killing deer, antelope or elk out of season, or in greater numbers than is permitted by law. The killing of birds out of season, or possession of birds out of season, is made punishable by a fine of $5 for each bird or fish unlawfully killed, taken or wounded, or imprisoned in the county jail not more than 60 days.

House roll 128, by Evans, for protection of fish, game and insectivorous birds. The governor is made the game and fish commissioner, and is authorized to appoint two deputy commissioners. One is called the chief deputy and shall reside in Lincoln; the other shall be skilled in the science of fish culture and have control and management of all fish hatcheries in the state. Each to receive a salary of $1,200 per annum. The governor is also authorized to appoint three more deputies at a salary of $75 a month, during the time actually employed under direction of the commissioner. The commissioner and his deputies are made officials of the state with all the powers of sheriffs and constables, while acting within the line of their official duties, to make arrests, to serve all writs and processes, civil and criminal in the enforcement of this act, and to charge therefor and collect fees allowed by law. It is made the duty of the commissioner and his deputies, with or without a warrant, to arrest all parties he may deem guilty of violations of this act. And with or without warrant, to open and examine any box, barn, car or other place where he believes game killed in violation of the act to be concealed. When entering a dwelling house a warrant is necessary. No person shall shoot or hunt from a public highway at any game, insectivorous or other bird, or fish, or hunt game on any land not public land, without consent of the owner, nor fish or hunt in any private park, or lake without consent of the proprietor. The use of dynamite or other explosive in killing fish is forbidden. Killing of the following named birds is forbidden at any and all times of the year: Robin, lark, thrush, blue bird, king bird, wren, jay, swallow, oriole, woodpecker, yellow hammer, cuckoo, yellow bird, bobolink, or other birds of like nature that promote agriculture or horticulture by feeding on noxious worms or insects. It is provided, however, that hawks and owls may be killed on one's own premises, schools or colleges, when authorized by the commissioner, may take or kill for scientific purposes, twenty-five of each of the forbidden species. Any person violating any of the provisions of the above section is liable to a fine of five dollars for each bird killed. The open season for deer and antelope having horns shall begin Aug. 15, and end Nov. 15. Wolves, coyotes, foxes, skunks, wildcats and rabbits, may be killed during any time of the year. The open season for prairie chickens, sage chickens, and grouse, begins Oct. 1 and ends Nov. 30; for quails from Nov. 1 to Nov. 30, and it is made unlawful to kill, trap or hunt any quail at any season of the year prior to Nov. 1, 1903; for wild ducks, wrens, grackles, geese, etc., shall begin Sept. 1 and end April 15; for jack snipes, Wilson snipes and yellow legs from Sept. 1 to April 15; for wild pigeons, doves, plover, April 15 to Oct. 30. The open season for trout not less than eight inches in length shall begin June 1 and end Oct. 31; for all other fish April 1 to Oct. 31. Taking of game in any one day is limited to the following amounts for one person: Ten wild geese or brants, 25 game birds of any other variety, 25 fish. No person may kill more than one deer and one antelope in one year. Or he may substitute two of one kind for one of each kind. No one person may have in possession at any time more than 10 wild geese or brants, 50 ducks, and 60 other birds, nor more than 50 fish. No game or fish shall be held in possession by any person for more than five days after expiration of the season for killing. Game may not be pursued in the night time, nor with other than an ordinary shoulder gun or pistol. Fish may be caught only by hooks, baited with natural or artificial bait, and the number of hooks on any one line must not exceed five; nor shall any fish be caught within 200 feet of any fish way. Violation of the provision restricting the number of birds and fish, and the provision relating to time and method of hunting is made punishable by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100 or imprisonment in the county jail not less than 60 days. A fine of not less than $100 nor more than $300 or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed 90 days, or both, is provided for killing deer, antelope or elk out of season, or in greater numbers than is permitted by law. The killing of birds out of season, or possession of birds out of season, is made punishable by a fine of $5 for each bird or fish unlawfully killed, taken or wounded, or imprisoned in the county jail not more than 60 days.
