The application for a postal money order is one of the best features of the system. It reduces the chances of errors in issuing orders and furnishes a permanent record at the office of issue which the remitter of an order may consult at any time. A receipt is also furnished the remitter. The particulars of an order are also on file at the office of payment where they may be consulted by the payee at any time.

A postal money order is only payable to the order of the person named on the face of the order, not to bearer. If he wishes someone else to get the money he must fill in the form of endorsement on the back of the order, being careful to sign his name in the right place and as it appears on the face of the order. Unless these rules were enforced money orders would be no safer than bank notes. Orders not properly endorsed will be refused payment in every case.

George Gibbs, whose charming picture on the cover of the Ladies' Home Journal for July, has so successfully caught the spirit of summer days at West Point, is one of the growing band of American artists who are also authors. Hitherto his special field has been the naval side of ocean life. He is a young man—a comparative newcomer in the ranks where P. H. Smith, Howard Pyle and Frederic Remington are veterans. But his early promise as an illustrator, as well as a writer, is already bearing fruit.

On the first of May the South Omaha Mutual made an assessment of 33 mills to meet extraordinary losses (?) and expenses! This company has boasted that it made no assessments, but the exigencies of poor risks and high expenses made the Company fall into the usual mutual rut. The Farmers Mutual of Lincoln, during the spring, assessed part of its members 2 mills, others 2½ mills. That is hardly mutual as it favors some members to the disadvantage of others. If you get a policy in the Continental you know just what you will have to pay and that you will receive every dollar on your loss. E. R. SUBBER, Agt.

The three dimensions in speech, as everyone knows, are length, breadth and thickness. The "fourth dimension" is a scientific fiction, which the learned have not yet been able to establish in fact. Nevertheless, undaunted by so trifling an obstacle, Mr. Joseph Conrad and Mr. Ford M. Hueffer have written a clever and amusing story entitled, "Inheritors," in which they claim the heroine to be an inhabitant of the fourth dimension, and indeed her remarkable actions to give color to the possibility of an ultramundane origin. The story is a fantasy and deals with political and journalistic life in Paris and London, and has to do with a gigantic scheme to cheat the inhabitants of Greenland out of their country and their homes. The scheme, however, is happily frustrated. The book is published by McClure, Phillips & Co.

LETTERS FROM JUDGE NORRIS.

Aguinaldo, his capture, career leadership like the Republica Filipinas, is a thing of the past. In this country events rapidly succeed each other, pass away and are forgotten.

Aguinaldo was captured, brought to Manila, confined a few days in Malacanang, the Military Governor's residence, took the oath of allegiance to the United States, was liberated and that was the end. I have the impression that the capture of Aguinaldo caused more excitement in the United States than in the Philippine Islands. It is a question as to what effect his capture had on the insurrection. That the war is over there seems no reasonable doubt, nor is there much doubt that it was virtually ended before Aguinaldo was taken prisoner. It may be that a considerable number of the Tagaloes would the more readily surrender owing to the fact of their chief having been taken prisoner and sworn allegiance to the United States, but it is very doubtful whether the insurgents would have ventured on any further regular military operations. The insurrection came to an end during the administration of General MacArthur and not before, notwithstanding the oft repeated and continuous assertions of ex-military Governor Otis to the contrary, that the insurrection was over before he left the Philippine Islands.

The rainy season has apparently set in but we cannot tell till waiting a few days to see whether it lets up or not. So far the rain fall has been mild and pleasant, somewhat like a New England shower, but when it comes in earnest it comes by the pallid, barrelful, by the hoghead, by the deluge. As I have written before, in rainfalls, the Philippines beat Nebraska, but we beat the Philippines in everything else in the way of nature's convulsions excepting earthquakes, which during the past two years have been infrequent and very light. I was talking this morning with an officer who has been prosecuting some of the commissary defendants. I think he has secured a conviction in every case. He tells me that two of the officers have a political pull, one an especially strong pull. It goes without saying that political influence will be invoked and everybody knows how effectual often is a political pull in shielding a scoundrel and disgracing the nation, or protecting from merited punishment an infamous scoundrel who has taken advantage of his official position to bring disgrace on the national name and character.

The United States cannot afford to permit any guilty man to escape. The eyes of Europe are upon us keenly and critically, noting every move, and what is of more importance to impress the Filipino with a favorable impression of the character of citizenship in the United States will be a moral impossibility if official dishonesty and corruption in high places is allowed to escape merited punishment.

The Commission are supposed to have the new code pretty nearly completed. Its promulgation is awaited with a good deal of interest by the American lawyers; heretofore legal proceedings have been conducted in the Spanish language. The question of interest is whether in the future Spanish or English shall be the language of the courts. It is understood that the commission has decided that Spanish shall continue the court language until 1906. In fact I was told as much by the Judge of the commission. English has been made the language of the schools and as a matter of nationalism, I think it ought to be made the language of the courts. The reason that the ancient language is retained, as I understand, is to prevent depriving the Spanish and native lawyers and clerks of their occupation.

The commissary trials are the latest excitement which have become an old story here in Manila and at date all may be reported as quiet on the Pasig. W. F. NORRIS.

Manila, May 22.

The question is often asked here as to what will be done with the walls, meaning the fortifications around the old city. The modern man of business says to tear them down and fill up the ditch. Others having a regard for the unique wish them to remain as they are, while a third class would adopt a course between the romantic and practical by demolishing a portion of the walls and leaving the remainder to stand as a memento of the Philippines, past.

The walls surrounding the old city, or Manila, proper, are certainly an inconvenience to the public. Egress and ingress is through the gates at the termination of the streets. The gates are narrow and in some cases the approaches quite long as well as narrow, which makes the passage difficult in the evening and at the hour of the day when the greater number of carriages are driving to and from the city. The walls are certainly romantic. They are said to be the best preserved specimens of the old time city walls in existence. If left to themselves they are soon covered with a luxuriant growth of vines. The walls are built of square blocks of stone of a dingy gray color.

The heavy growth of vegetation, partially concealing the old grey stones makes a pretty contrast and the entire wall presents a beautifully picturesque appearance. I have an idea that a portion of the walls will be removed, and very likely the gates widened so that transportation will not be interfered with. I would hate to see the old fortifications entirely demolished. The old structures reaching back to pretty near the middle ages have a strong attraction for me and the demolition of the walls would remove one of the most interesting of the old landmarks of Manila.

A good deal of work has been done on the Lunetta, the fashionable driveway of the city, which has been widened and improved generally. Two band stands have been built, or are being built in place of the one still in use that we inherited from Spain. The latter is to be pulled down upon the completion of the new ones.

The Spanish government presented to the United States a monument that is to be placed just off the Lunetta on a conspicuous site overlooking the bay. The monument represents Lezasp, the early Spanish navigator, and Father Urdaneta an Augustinian Friar who came over with him. The monument cost 20,000 pesos, which amount was raised by public subscription. The monument had been sent over from Spain but not set up at the time of the American occupation. The monument is said to be a fine work of art and was cast at Barcelona and designed by the Spanish artist, Querol.

Quick Relief for Asthma.

Miss Maude Dickens, Parsons, Kans., writes: "I suffered 8 years with asthma in its worst form. I had several attacks during the last year and was not expected to live through them. I began using Foley's honey and tar and it has never failed to give immediate relief." E. J. Raymond.

Wm. Woodward of Decatur, Iowa, writes: "I was troubled with kidney disease years and four $1 size bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure cured me. I would recommend it to any one who has kidney trouble." Ed J. Raymond.

before were your friends and admirers. It requires a heresim which few possess. Yet no great reformer or elevating reformer has ever been so persecuted until some one was willing to defy what the world should think or say of. But there have been men and women of that kind. They stand all up and down the corridors of history, examples for us to follow. Charles Sumner in the United States Senate, Alexander H. Stephens in Georgia convention, Savonarola staking his life in time of persecution, Martin Luther fighting the battle for religious freedom against the mightiest antichristian power of the world, William Carey, leading the missionary movement to save a heathen world while churches denounced him as a fanatic and with attempting an impossibility. Jenner, the hero of medicine, caricatured for his attempt by vaccination to beat back the worst disease that smote the nations. They who watch the wind of public opinion will not stop. It is an uncertain indication and is apt to blow the wrong way.

Communities and churches and nations sometimes are thrown into hysteria, and it requires a man of great courage to maintain a right position. Thirty-three years ago there came a time of bitterness in American politics, and the impeachment of a President of the United States was demanded. Two or three patriotic men, at the risk of losing their senatorial positions, stood against the demand of their political associates and saved the country from that which all people of all parties now see would have been a calamity and would have put every subsequent President at the mercy of his opponents. It only required the waiting of a few months, when time itself removed all controversy.

"Let us have war with England if needs be," said the most of the people of our Northern States in 1861, when Mason and Slidell, the distinguished Southern envoys, were taken by our navy from the British steamer Trent and the English government resented the act of our government in stopping one of their ships. "Give up those prisoners," said Great Britain. "No," said the almost unanimous opinion of the North. "Do not give up those prisoners," said the English rather than surrender them." Then William H. Sewall, Secretary of State, faced one of the fiercest storms of public opinion ever seen in this or any other country. Seeing that the retention of these two men was of no importance to our country and that we had no quarrel with England, he gave up the prisoners. "We give them up," they were given up, and through the resistance of popular clamor by that one man a world-wide calamity was averted.

Some of us remember as boys huzzling when Kossuth, the great Hungarian, rode up Broadway, New York. Most Americans were in favor of taking some decided steps for Hungary. The only result of such interference would have been the loss of all the money needed to carry on war with European nations. When Daniel Webster, in his immortal "Hulkenann letter," braved a whirlwind of popular opinion and saved this nation from useless foreign entanglement. Webster did not observe the wind when he wrote that letter. He had the honor of carrying out his duty to face a nation full-year, a world full-of opposition.

Beware of Overprudence.

How many there are who give too much time to watching the weather vanes and to trying to catch the wind. You may think what you are going to do and then go ahead and do it. There always will be hindrances. It is a moral disaster if you allow prudence to overmaster all the other graces. The Bible makes it a duty to "stand up for the right, and face the contrary wind of opposition. It is not one year that the great ocean steamers fall to still at the appointed time because of the storm signals. Let the weather bidden prophesy what hurricane or cyclone it may. On Wednesday, next, the great steamers will be in New York and Philadelphia and Boston harbors and will reach Liverpool and Southampton and Glasgow and Bremen, their arrivals as certain as their embarkation. They cannot avoid the contrary wind, nor can you in your life voyage.

The grandest and best things ever accomplished have been in the teeth of hostility. Consider the grandest enterprise of the centuries—the salvation of a Christian world from the wind of heathenism. The Lord descended amid vociferations of welcome to come and take possession of the most encephalic and ornate of the palaces and said "Gladly will I dwell in the midst of you." He came to dwell in the midst of the heathen, who were still in the outskirts of Jerusalem? No. It struck him with insult as soon as it could reach him.

The winds of stormy opposition blow upon the Christian church. The wind of heathenism, blew upon the homesteads that dared to give him shelter, blew upon his grave, but he went right on and sowed the earth with sympathetic tears and redeeming blood and consolation, and his helpfulness continues here from that time to this, an awful time to say. But behold the harvest of churches, asylums, worldwide charities, civilizations, millenniums!

Just call over the names of the men and women who have done most for our race and you will find that they will call the names of those who had most after they were shunned by the elite, they were scorned by the satirists, they lived on food which you and I would not throw to a camel. Some of them died in prison, some in the stocks, some in the public expense because of the laws of sanitation. They were hounded through the world and hounded out of it. Now we cross the ocean to see the room in which they were held and find on the walls at the monuments which the church of the world has reared to their matchless fidelity and courage. (After 100 or 200 or 300 years the world has made up its mind that instead of being hounded out of the world they have been vindicated, instead of cave of the mountain for residence they ought to have had bestowed upon them an Alhambra.

Make Opportunities.

Young man, you have planned what you are going to do and do it. The world but you are waiting for circumstances to become more favorable. You are, like the farmer in the text, observing the wind. Better start now. Obstacles will come if you wait. The wind of God will blow through. Peter Cooper, the millionaire philanthropist, who will bless all succeeding centuries by the institution he founded, worked five years for $25 a year and his board. Henry Wilson, the Christian statesman who commanded the United States Senate with the gavel of the Vice-Presidency, wrote of his early days: "Want sat by my cradle. I know what it is to ask a mother for bread when she has none to give. I left my home at 10 years of age and served an apprenticeship of eleven years, receiving a month's schooling each year, and at the end of eleven years of hard work a yoke of oxen and six sheep, which brought me $24. In the first month after I was 21 years of age I went into the woods, drove a team and cut mill logs. I arose in the morning before daylight and worked hard till after dark and received the magnificent sum of $8 for the month's work. Each of those dollars looked as large to me as the moon looks to-night." Wonderful Henry Wilson! But that was not his original name. He changed his name because he did not want on him the taint of a tramping character. As the Vice-President stood in my pulpit in Brooklyn, making the last address he ever made, and commended the religion of Christ to the young men of that city I thought to myself, "You yourself are the man who made me what I ever saw of victory over obstacles." For thirty years the wind blew the wrong way, yet he did not observe the wind, but kept right on sowing.

Many of us who are now preachers of the gospel or medical practitioners or members of the mercantile or professional classes in various kinds of business had very poor opportunity at the start because we had it too easy—far too easy. We never appreciated what it is to get an education because our fathers or older brothers paid the schooling and we did not get the muscle which reaching but hard work can develop. I congratulate you, young man, if to you life is a struggle. It is out of such circumstances God makes heroes, if they are willing to be made. Cut your way through. If you want to do so, you must stand in any board of bank directors, in any board of trade, in any legislature, State or national, and ask all who were brought up in luxury and ease to lift their hand, here and there a hand might be lifted. But ask those who had an awful hard time at the start to lift their hands, and the most of the hands would be lifted. The heroes of church and state were not brought up on confectionery and cake.

Defy Your Antagonists.

The Earl of Alsatun, a favorite of Edward III. of England, had excited the jealousy of other courtiers, and one time, while the king was absent, they persuaded the queen to turn a lion loose in the court to test the earl's courage. The earl, rising at break of day, as was his custom, came into the courtyard and lost the lion, and the courtiers, from the wall, watched the scene. The lion, with bristling hair and a growl, was ready to spring upon the earl when he, undaunted, shouted to the monster, "Stand, you dog!" Then the lion coughed, the earl took it by the mane and fastened a kerchief on the neck of the monster, and looking up in triumph to the jealous courtiers, who he knew were watching from the windows, cried out, "Let him among you all that prided himself on his pedigree go and fetch that lion from the wall, for he will find a lion in your way, perhaps turned loose by the jealousy of those who would enjoy your ruin. In the strength of God make that lion cough. By God's help you can do it and defy and challenge your antagonists.

My subject takes another step. Through medical science and dentistry that has improved the world's sanitation and stronger defense against climatic changes and by the understanding of the laws of health and hygiene, a contentarian still a wonder. How many people do you know a hundred years old? I do not know one. We talk of a century as though it were a very long reach of time. But what is a century on earth compared with each century of heaven? A million centuries, a quintillion of centuries? We are all determined to get ready for the longer life we are to live after we exit from things sublunary. We are waiting for more propitious opportunities. We are waiting for a better hour. We are waiting for a better place. We are waiting for a better time. We are waiting for a better place. We are waiting for a better time. We are waiting for a better place. We are waiting for a better time.

The Trouble at Troy.

"The trouble at Troy," said the professor, "appears to be that a feeling of impotence seemed to take possession of the Trojans. They were, so to speak, seemingly under the influence of a fate from which there was no escape. This was plainly shown when the wooden horse was discovered outside of the walls. What is it, Mr. Birmingham?"

"As I understood it," said the brilliant young junior, "just as soon as they got the wooden horse inside, all the Trojan women rushed away to get on their loveliest clothes, and all the men toddled off to get their tall hats and their innermost overcoats."

"And why should they do that?" cried the astonished professor.

"Because they thought it was a horse shoe," replied the bright youth.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Rockbridge, Mo., June 24.—The neighborhood and particularly the members of Rockbridge Lodge, No. 435, A. F. & A. M., are feeling very much pleased over the recovery of Mr. Ambrose McKay, a prominent citizen and an honored member of the Masonic Fraternity.

Mr. McKay had been suffering for years with Diabetes and Rheumatism, which recently threatened to end his days. His limbs were so filled with pain that he could not sleep. His wife was very bad.

Just then one day I suggested a new remedy—Dodd's Kidney Pills—which has been much advertised recently as a cure for Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble.

After Mr. McKay had used a few doses, he commenced to improve. His pain all left him, and he is almost as well as ever. He says Dodd's Kidney Pills are worth much more than they cost. They are certainly getting a great reputation in Missouri, and many very startling cures are being reported.

The pest of British Columbia forests is a plant called the devil's club. It has spikes which, when they enter the flesh, break off and produce poisoned wounds, which fester.

A Sad Mistake.

Wife—Did you know the cook was in the next room when you were swearing and complaining over the breakfast? Husband—Good heavens, no! I thought it was you.—Life.

There are other persons who truthfully say: "I am doing the best I can. The clouds are thick and the wind blows the wrong way, but I am not a prophet. I can only do what I can, and I am doing it." God for you, my brother, my sister! What you plant will come up. What you sow will rise into a harvest. The wealth of your life will not know of the loss of your harvest. I hear of a young man who has a large estate in the bright fields of heaven. The soft gases of that land, as they pass, bend the full headed grain in curves of beauty. It is golden in the light of a sun that never sets. As you pass in rest will put your hand on the stalk for the rippling, and there will be nothing to remind you of weary husbandmen toiling under hot summer sun on earth and lying down under the shade of the tree at night, so that were they to be reaped without any toil of your hands, without any besetting of your brow. Christ in one of his sermons told how your harvest will be gathered. "These are certain, getting a great reputation in Missouri, and many very startling cures are being reported."

SERMONETTES

Personal Liberty.—There is no such thing as personal liberty in the general acceptance of the term by prodigals and politicians. (The only possible personal liberty is found in doing right.)—Rev. W. F. Crafts, Washington, D. C.

Lawyers Instead of Soldiers.—As the world advances we think the office of the soldier will be the first to disappear. Once petty disputes among men were settled by duels, now they are settled by an appeal to the lawyers. Once disputes between nations were all ways settled by an appeal to arms. In these modern times many of these disputes are settled by arbitration.—Rev. Dr. Coburn, Presbyterian, Denver, Colorado.

Nature's Enigma.—Man has ever been nature's enigma, for none has ever absolutely interpreted him. Man has ranged from the idiot to the philosopher, from the savage to the civilized and from the Adam man to the Christ man, yet we are at a loss to define him in the highest triumph of his possibility.—Rev. F. E. Wason, Spiritualist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Where's Reuben Went.

Farmer Haystack—I suppose you've heard about my son-in-law, Reuben? He has a new institution up learnin'.

Farmer Sankerfoot—Why, no. Some of his kin spreadin' the report around the neighborhood that you've sent him to college.—Judge.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

The opposition to Tammany in New York is getting together with the end in view of putting that aggregation to rout.

Floods in the Elkhorn region in West Virginia the first of the week caused the loss of 100 lives and a vast amount of property. It was almost equal to the Jamestown flood.

The new mint at Philadelphia has $70,000,000 in silver alone in its vaults, which in itself would pretty well provide for a rainy day even if it does rain almost every day some days.

The Brooklyn Eagle reads school teachers a lecture for going to vacation schools, holding that educators are paid to rest in the summer months in order to be fresh for their arduous duties.

And it rained and rained, not forty days, but many days, yet the crops were not drowned out and there is yet no drought and the moon shines regularly nightly, in spite of the weather prophets or Bryan.

Instead of passing away, the Fourth of July is assuming more importance than ever by the people of the world, and will not only be celebrated throughout the length and breadth of the United States but by the Porto Ricans and Filipinos, thousands of miles away.

Rixey wins the derby. He says: Some of the newspapers that used to abuse Hazen C. Pingree most scandalously have all at once discovered that he was a very excellent man. If the hypocrites in this world were to all die at once, there would be none to give them interment.

W. J. Bryan's Omaha organ says that he will not again be a candidate for president unless sure of election. But wasn't he sure of election a year ago, and didn't the fellows who believed in the World-Herald plank up many a good old "plunk" because of that paper's unwise calculations?

The war that Uncle Sam had in the Philippines was larger than most people knew. Up to April 14, the official list of surrenders among the native troops numbered 31,425 men with 11,368 rifles and 80 cannons. The number of other Filipino soldiers, killed, wounded and captured would probably reach 30,000.

The papers in general are commenting on the fact that W. V. Allen declines to be a candidate for Supreme Judge. Don't think for a minute that the ex-senator is not alive to the situation. He is well aware that for the present, at least, Nebraska is a Republican state, and with the middle existing in the fusion ranks, there is not a speck of hope to elect a democratic or populist candidate.

Manila has almost two hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants. This, of course, represents a gain over the Spanish days of three years ago. The gain is likely to continue. The Americans in Manila, exclusive of the soldiers, already outnumber the Spaniards almost four to one, and they are still farther ahead of the other whites. The settled conditions which are now being reached in the Philippines, however will send the white population up rapidly.

A Pittsburg waiter who has been engaged in that business for fifty years has just retired on a fortune of $100,000 and married a fourth wife. There is nothing like being on the tips. A good many newspaper men are good waiters, too and have been waiting a long time for subscribers to drop into the shop and liquidate that subscription account and leave a tip of $1 for another year in advance. Few newspaper men will ever retire on a fortune of $100,000. It's too much to expect. Put it down for $1.00.

The Bradshaw Republican would like to have any fusion editor answer the following question: "Where can a man go in all this vast universe to find more freedom—freedom of thought, freedom of speech, freedom of press and liberty of action than under the American flag wherever it floats?" Now come, Mr. Kicker, specify the names of the country that is better than our own and there will be, or should be, a grand rush of emigrants for the paradise at once. — Norfolk Daily News.

The season for insect pests is upon us, and the Omaha World-Herald, which is famous among entomologists, will soon begin to set traps for that bug, which carries "the sting of ingratitude." And not even the personal philanthropy, present altitude, or conciliatory attitude of that luminous angelic being will preclude the World-Herald's efforts to exterminate and exclude the aforesaid insect of "the sting of ingratitude" from the cackling brood of the sixteen-to-one attitude, and anti-government-by-injunction attitude, of which the World-Herald aforesaid is the chief dude. — Conservativus.

Judge Chas. T. Dickinson, of Tekamah, has indicated through a letter to a friend, which was made public, his willingness to become a candidate for judge of the supreme court in place of Judge Carroll, whose term expires, and who does not seek a re-election. Judge Dickinson has a host of friends in northeast Nebraska and with his admirable and satisfactory service on the district bench in the largest and most exacting district in the state he will, we believe, be the republican nominee for that high office, and triumphantly elected, because he is the strongest man the party can name.—Pender Republic.

COLLEGE.

Eleven new students have entered school since last week's report.

Sup't. O'Connor, of Norfolk, and Principal Wallace, of Lee, are recent college visitors.

The following counties are represented in the students recently enrolled: Wayne, Holt, Madison, Cedar, and Antelope.

Miss Carrie Stewart, recently elected principal of the Concord schools, has entered for work that will add to her already well recognized fitness as a teacher.

An ice cream social will be given on the college lawn Saturday evening, the proceeds to be divided between the base ball boys and a committee of young ladies, having in charge certain decorations for Chapel Hall.

The meeting of the Y. M. C. A. next Sunday at 4:30 p. m., promises to be of unusual interest. The college extends an invitation to all the young men of Wayne to be present at these meetings. C. L. Culler leads next Sunday's meeting.

The question for debate at Friday night's literary society is: Resolved, that the bible cannot be accepted as literally true. Mr. Willis affirms, and Mr. Griffith denies. Other features will lend additional interest to the program.

While the college is glad to see its boys win victories on the diamond, it is very much prouder of the fact that its alme can play a game of ball without forgetting the requirements of gentlemen. A victory on any other terms is more discreditible than defeat.

The senior class at its meeting Tuesday night presented Miss Chase with a book case as a sort of substantial evidence of their appreciation of her untiring efforts in their behalf. The gift was well bestowed and the event will form a bright spot in the memory of all concerned.

Prof. Gibbins had an addition to his "actual business" department Monday Morning, when, for once, he cannot equip for a diploma with his usual rapidity—a little girl baby. That her "expense account" may always be kept in balance by generous entries of filial affection is the wish of all friends.

Sheriff Cherry discovered a hair worm (ordotus aquationis) the so-called "horsehair snake" in a rain barrel the other day and sent it to the college, where it now enjoys a bath of formalin and finds a place in the biological cabinet. Specimens of this or any sort, illustrating natural history are always gratefully received.

The McKay family was released from quarantine Tuesday. Had there been no election on hand they would in all probabilities have been released the day before.

The annual school meeting took place Monday and passed off very nicely indeed. In fact it was almost too nice to be true. Your correspondent was deeply interested in the election of Bassford and Beach as a public condemnation of the actions of the retiring members in the government of the school the past year. We were never doubtful of the results because we were satisfied last winter that the people of 62 had become tired of Manningism and were only waiting to demonstrate the fact and also that no more Keleys need apply for the Carroll school. A majority of 12 was given both Bassford and Beach, the vote standing 74 to 62. To some this may seem a small margin, but to those who done the hustling for votes it was a triumphant victory. Mr. Manning worked from Friday until the polls closed on Monday, as he never worked before, not even when he ran for treasurer, but he couldn't stem the tide. It was a bitter pill to swallow we must admit, but it was administered as kindly as possible, which ought to go a long way toward relieving the patient of any serious effects after so sign a defeat.

Mrs. Charissa Harmon, who was seriously injured in a fall she received at the court house last week, died on Tuesday at the home of her son, Jas. E. at the advanced age of 91 years. Mr. Hysel, manager of the elevator, who is also village clerk and clerk of the M. W. A. of that town, kept the records in the office which adjoined the elevator, and now the records of the elevator and camp are no more.

Republican: Frank Gamble graduates from the Kirksville school of Osteopathy this year, and will be given a diploma certifying that he can rub, punch or pull you in a scientific manner. ... During the electrical storm last Thursday night seven head of cattle and four horses were killed by lightning in the big pasture of J. R. Manning at Carroll. ... A few days ago Henry Hinrichs was offered and refused $85 an acre for his 290 acre farm six miles northeast of Wayne.

I wish to state that the Farmers Mutual Insurance Company of Lincoln, Nebraska, on or about June 1st, 1901, sent out printed notices of assessment No. 7, and that part of these notices stated that "in accordance with the action of the Board of Directors an assessment of 3 mills on combined policies has been levied." Others stated that "an assessment of 2 1/2 mills on combined policies has been levied." I simply state a fact for the consideration of the members and furnish them food for thought. I have in my possession the original of one of these notices and a sworn copy of the other. Anyone doubting the above statements is invited to call on me and see the papers. E. B. Sisson.

The farmers have, so to speak, been making hay while the sun shines, and a vast amount of corn plowing has been done. A good many inform us that the crop is growing wonderfully and is looking splendid, while in a few places it does not look so well. The small grain crop for the most part looks well and will at the present outlook, be a fair yield.

EX-GOVERNOR OF MICHIGAN EXPIRES IN LONDON.

Receives Death's Summons After Brief Illness - Story of Remarkable Career in Business and Politics - Favored for Many Reform White in Office.

Hazen S. Pingree, former Governor of Michigan, breathed his last in London, England, at 11:35 p. m. Tuesday. He was under the care of three physicians and two nurses, but the doctors had admitted for the last day or two that the hope of his recovery was very slight.

Dr. Mills had not returned when the end came. The only person in the room at the time was Miss S. Pingree, Jr., who had been constantly at his father's bedside and had not removed his clothes for four days. At 11:30 he noticed an apparent change in his father's condition.

Upon the death of his father H. S. Pingree, Jr., called at once to his home at New York, not to do so. He will be embalmed and sent to Detroit. Dr. Mills, in speaking of the condition of his distinguished patient shortly before his death, said: "It seems to me that the serious nature of his illness was not discovered earlier."

Hazen S. Pingree was born at Denmark, Me., Aug. 30, 1841. He spent the first seven years of his life on a father's farm. He then went to work in a cotton factory at Saco, Me. He afterward learned his trade as a shoe cutter at a factory in Hopkinton, Mass.

When the Civil War broke out Mr. Pingree enlisted in the First Massachusetts Heavy Artillery. He served on the front from August, 1862, to August, 1865. He was for five months a prisoner of war, rendered a total of 6,248: 4,300 rounds of ammunition, 495 fuses, and 24 pieces of cannon.

Late Senator Foraker found the final draft of the platform and it appears from this that the words "which we pledge ourselves to promote" were added by Chandler in a special address to the writer and that the written words are in the handwriting of Senator Lodge.

MANY DIE IN FLAMES.

EXPLOSION OF FIREWORKS CAUSE DEATH AND INJURY.

Blowing Up of a Small Store Ignites a Big Tenement Building - Frantic Dwellers Entrapped in Frame Structure Jump from Windows to Escape.

In a terrific explosion of fireworks in a Patterson, N. J., store on Friday at least seventeen persons were killed and seven were injured. Several more are missing. Twenty-one families were rendered homeless, all their household effects being burned by the fire, which destroyed three large apartment buildings. Many houses were made and many narrow escapes were recorded.

One woman, whose husband was a helpless invalid, dashed back into the flames to save him, and joined him in death just as the firemen sent to help arrived. A bridegroom, by the explosion of a great bonfire, strength and presence of mind, saved his young wife and himself when it seemed as if they must perish. A father and mother dug through heaps of fallen plaster to save their baby, and effected their escape after unsuccessful efforts. Three firemen were killed in the fighting, and several others were injured but with a chance of recovery.

In the cellar, under the wholesale and retail fireworks store of A. M. Rittenberg, were stored tons of fireworks for the sales preliminary to the Fourth of July. No one knew the origin of the catastrophe, but at 12:30 o'clock the whole neighborhood was shaken by a terrific explosion which brought down almost immediately the tenement house above the store and so shook the adjoining buildings of the same kind that they quickly fell into the street. Those who had taken refuge in their rooms and those who had just escaped from the store, and so rapid was the spread of the flames that they had barely time to do so. Many jumped from windows in making their escape.

Flames were leaping through the two floors of the store long before an alarm had been turned in, and by the time the firemen arrived many casualties had been recorded. No less than thirty-five persons were taken from the three buildings by firemen and by relatives who retained their presence of mind.

DIVORCE A CHURCH SIN.

The Episcopalian Clergymen's Revised Canon Is Rigid.

In the report to be submitted to the convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church on a revision of marriage within certain degrees of consanguinity is a proposed canon forbidding a man from wedding his dead wife's sister. There has been vigorous opposition. Attached to the report is a "proposed canon prohibiting a man from marrying the widow of a person standing to one another in the following relations is prohibited by this church: A man may not marry his mother, step-mother, daughter, step-daughter, daughter-in-law, sister-in-law, grand-daughter, step-granddaughter, granddaughter-in-law, aunt, aunt by marriage, nephew, nephew by marriage."

Should the proposed canon be accepted it will raise within the Episcopal Church in this country the question which has long vexed the lawyers in England on the subject of the deceased wife's sister, for marriage with a sister-in-law is prohibited. Marriages of divorced persons where the ground for divorce occurred after marriage is strictly prohibited, and the marriage to a deceased wife's sister is also placed under the ban.

DOVIE WEARS WINGS.

Although Claiming Immortality He Feels Killdeer.

John Alexander Dowie appeared before his Chicago congregation Sunday with wings attached to his robe. He announced that certain physicians had formed a plot to kidnap him, lock him in a detention hospital and beat him till he should lose all his reasoning powers and become really insane. He said that the kidnapping might take place any time, and after the service he called a special private meeting of the male members to help the Zion guard in protecting him. He also made threats against the physicians that he would do to them as he thought they were trying to do to him, saying they shall let him alone and stop calling him a prophet or a saint.

With all this, Dowie repeated his pretensions to be Elijah reincarnated, making way for the end of the world, and he incidentally laid claim to immortality. "I have special information," shouted the congregate following, "that a law has been passed with special reference to me. These doctors have fixed it so that an insanity complaint does not have to come from a relative now, but may come from any man who says he acts in public interest. Do you know, my friends, this means that I am the same man who are calling me a parasite."

Dowie also declared his intention of having the editors of Chicago newspapers indicted for inciting murder.

INCREASE IN STAMPS USED.

Total for Fiscal Year Is Estimated at 5,116,236,000.

A statement has been issued by the director of the bureau of engraving and printing showing the official estimated number of stamps to be used in the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904. According to this statement the issue of the year includes 1,300,000 one-cent stamps, 3,500,000, 900 2-cent stamps and 300,236,000 of the three-cent stamps. The total, including special delivery 10-cent stamps, is 5,116,236,000, against 4,377,727,000 for the previous fiscal year.

The number of stamp books issued, containing twelve, twenty-four and forty-eight 2-cent stamps, is estimated at 3,004,000, and of the 3-cent stamps, respectively, making an additional total of 48,720,000. The estimate shows the issue of postage due stamps to be 25,521,000, against 25,150,000 last year. The number of 5-cent stamps this year is estimated at 55,500,000, against 45,000,000 last year.

STATE OF THE CROPS

WEATHER BUREAU'S WEEKLY AGRICULTURAL REPORT.

Temperatures in Central Valleys Is Favorable - Cool in Northwest - Principal Crops States Report Improvement - Winter-Wheat Harvest.

According to the climate and crop division of the weather bureau the central valleys, lake region, Atlantic coast districts and Southern States experienced the most favorable temperature conditions of the season, but throughout the Rocky Mountain and Pacific coast regions the week was decidedly cool, with frosts more or less damaging in the central and northern Rocky Mountain districts and portions of California. Abundant and beneficial rains have fallen over portions of the middle Rocky Mountain slope and throughout the spring wheat region, and excessively heavy and damaging rains occurred in the South Atlantic States, while portions of Texas, Missouri and Illinois continue to suffer from drought. Although the week averaged decidedly cool over the Pacific coast a general decided improvement in the condition of the crop is reported from the principal crop States. Cut worms are, however, causing damage in Dakota, and in the South Atlantic States the crop is suffering seriously from lack of cereals.

Winter wheat harvesting is looking more general in Kansas and Missouri, has begun in southern Illinois, Virginia and Kentucky. The crop has experienced favorable conditions during the week in the central valleys, although damaged by continuing surface winds. On the Pacific coast cool weather has somewhat checked the development of wheat in California, where harvest is in progress in most sections with good yields. Promising reports continue from Oregon and Washington. Spring wheat has made rapid advancement in the Dakotas and Minnesota, being in excellent condition in the last-named State.

Further improvement in the condition of oats is generally reported except in Arkansas and Missouri, where a poor start is being made. Harvesting continues in the Southern States, being nearly finished in some sections. In the central and western portions of the cotton belt cotton is generally improved and well cultivated, although needing further attention in some sections. In the State of the Ohio, central Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys the dropping of apples continues to be extensively reported. The general outlook for other fruits is encouraging, although the heavy rains in Georgia have caused rotting in some sections.

Crop Reports by States. The outlook for the future is encouraging, although the heavy rains in Georgia have caused rotting in some sections.

Mr. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, who has caused the church membership of the Episcopal Church to be reorganized by the demand of the Bible, with all her references to women left out of the text, may truly be called the "queen of the suffragists." She was one of the signers of the call for the first woman suffrage convention which was held at Seneca Falls, N. Y., on July 8, 1848. She is the only signer of the call who has been living throughout the years and has never lagged in the work then begun, although she has faced storms and hurricanes of ridicule and vituperation. Mrs. Stanton was born of puritan ancestry at Johnstown, N. Y., Nov. 12, 1818. Her father was a distinguished lawyer of the time. As a girl she was educated at Mrs. Willard's seminary at Troy. She was married in 1840, went abroad, and on her return took an active part in the work of the women's suffragists; but to complete without Mrs. Stanton.

Maj. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee is the American officer who delighted the British public by declaring at a banquet at London that he was a native-born American and that he would never go to war with his own country. He declared no matter how much his countrymen might differ, the world would never see American and British soldiers facing each other on a field of battle. He also declared according to a Paris dispatch, that although the national policy of the United States was to steer clear of international complications, America would have to make a choice should the war break out.

There is a strong competition for the honor of christening the new ship, but Miss Sigbee seems to be in the lead.

NOW IT'S A SOIL MAP.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT IS MAKING FARMERS' GUIDE.

Colored Chart of the Entire Country - Carefully Gathered Information Shows What Grows Best and Tells the Things to Avoid.

Washington correspondents: The agricultural department is about to publish a soil map that will enable the farmer, wherever he is located, to determine just what crops will bring him the largest returns in money. Printed in colors, it will convey information in the clearest and most easily comprehended manner imaginable.

The map is a colored chart of the United States, and will be on such a scale that every ten-acre patch will be represented by one-eighth of an inch square. But each farmer will be able to procure a chart of his own neighborhood in larger scale, so that he can arrange his planting in accordance with the suggestions which it conveys. The work done by township-to-township, and these are put together to make counties, which are finally assembled to form complete maps of States.

Hitherto the business of farming has been largely a matter of guesswork; the agriculturist formed his estimate as to what crops were best for him to try, and did his planting accordingly. Henceforth it will be quite different. He will study the government map, and from it will obtain advice, based on the highest scientific knowledge available, as to what he should try to grow. Then he will go ahead with a reasonable certainty of satisfactory results.

Soil Map In First Guide.

In the first place, the soil map will show what kind of agricultural industry any given locality is best adapted for, whether fruit raising, vegetable growing, dairying, or general farming. It will make clear to the farmer in North Carolina, for instance, that he has the same soil that is used advantageously for certain purposes in Georgia, and that, if climatic conditions are not unfavorable, the same crops may be expected to succeed on his land.

A wonderful strip of light, sandy soil now over 100 miles wide extends along the Atlantic coast from Massachusetts to Florida with occasional interruptions, bordering the ocean and its embayments - i. e., the rivers and bays. It is a natural truck patch, adapted for the production of early vegetables, which ripen earlier in that ribbon of land than anywhere else in the corresponding latitudes, owing to the nearness of the sea. The nearer the water, the earlier the planting may be done.

Along that strip in spring the climate moves north at an average rate of thirteen miles a day. The crops of vegetables will be in the same order as in the corresponding area. But because the weather in the South and forward weather in the North will disarrange things sometimes, causing a ripening of the same kinds of produce at the same period in different latitudes of the strip, and this will be a disadvantage to the grower. Under ordinary conditions, however, the potatoes, tomatoes, peas, and other garden stuff arrive first from Florida, then from Georgia, next from the Carolinas, and so on.

This interesting strip is conspicuously shown on the soil map, owing to its great contrast with the more arid districts which enclose the season for several years that now it may be said that there is no longer any season; such products are obtainable all the year round. In Southern Florida there is a limited area below reach of all winter weather, in which crops of all kinds are raised. In the spring season begins its march up the coast.

Shows What to Avoid.

It is the strip next to the beach, a mile wide, that is best for trucking purposes, and these sandy lands, when near to cities and with good transportation available, are worth from $50 to $500 an acre. They are best for trucking purposes, and these sandy lands, when near to cities and with good transportation available, are worth from $50 to $500 an acre. They are best for trucking purposes, and these sandy lands, when near to cities and with good transportation available, are worth from $50 to $500 an acre.

The map will call attention to certain troubles of soils, which have been investigated through chemical analysis. One of these is acidity, which has an important influence upon farming over a large part of the region. The deficiency of certain elements of plant growth, which can be supplied by fertilizers; and yet another is alkali. As for alkali, science has ascertained both the source of it and the remedy. It comes usually from calcium salts on the mountains, from salts carried on to the land by the wind, and from deposits laid down at a period, when the lands lay sea bottom. The remedy is to underdrain the land and wash out the alkali and to prevent the accumulation of seepage water in the subsoil.

Map for Cotton Region.

An illustration of the method of mapping, and of the value of the work, is afforded by the so-called Yazoo Bottom, in Mississippi. This area has been completed. It is a vast alluvial delta 100 miles long by 40 miles wide, and comprises a good deal of the richest land in the world. But within its topographical limits are four or five different soils, and these are of very different productivity. Some of the land yields, under a bale of cotton to the acre, some of it half a bale, some of it three-quarters of a bale, and some of it a bale and more. Generally speaking, the bottom is a production of about a bale to the acre.

The spots not so productive for cotton have been ascertained recently by the experts to be valuable for crops of kinds not yet introduced, such as vegetables and certain fruits. Provided with a soil map, the farmer will know just where to replace poor crops with vegetables that will yield $100 to $200 an acre. In that part of the country there is a great deal of what is called "wash soil," which has ruined whole sections of the region. The soil map being furnished with a color key, the farmer can see at a glance which soils are best adapted for the various crops, and the instructions are given as to how to treat them by terracing, etc.

The map will give a basis for the introduction of new crops from abroad into the United States, and will be a valuable guide to certain kinds of plants. It was incidental to this investigation that the important fact was ascertained that real Samatra tobacco could be grown in the Connecticut Valley by growing it on the same soil as the tobacco that is now produced in that section. This was a most important discovery, and the soil map will show the farmer just where to plant it.

The scarcity of domestic silk has caused a great deal of interest in the raising of silkworms. The soil map will show the farmer just where to plant the mulberry trees that are best adapted for the purpose. It will also show the farmer just where to plant the various kinds of fruit trees that are best adapted for the soil and climate of his locality.

STATE OF THE CROPS

WEATHER BUREAU'S WEEKLY AGRICULTURAL REPORT.

Temperatures in Central Valleys Is Favorable - Cool in Northwest - Principal Crops States Report Improvement - Winter-Wheat Harvest.

According to the climate and crop division of the weather bureau the central valleys, lake region, Atlantic coast districts and Southern States experienced the most favorable temperature conditions of the season, but throughout the Rocky Mountain and Pacific coast regions the week was decidedly cool, with frosts more or less damaging in the central and northern Rocky Mountain districts and portions of California. Abundant and beneficial rains have fallen over portions of the middle Rocky Mountain slope and throughout the spring wheat region, and excessively heavy and damaging rains occurred in the South Atlantic States, while portions of Texas, Missouri and Illinois continue to suffer from drought. Although the week averaged decidedly cool over the Pacific coast a general decided improvement in the condition of the crop is reported from the principal crop States. Cut worms are, however, causing damage in Dakota, and in the South Atlantic States the crop is suffering seriously from lack of cereals.

Winter wheat harvesting is looking more general in Kansas and Missouri, has begun in southern Illinois, Virginia and Kentucky. The crop has experienced favorable conditions during the week in the central valleys, although damaged by continuing surface winds. On the Pacific coast cool weather has somewhat checked the development of wheat in California, where harvest is in progress in most sections with good yields. Promising reports continue from Oregon and Washington. Spring wheat has made rapid advancement in the Dakotas and Minnesota, being in excellent condition in the last-named State.

Further improvement in the condition of oats is generally reported except in Arkansas and Missouri, where a poor start is being made. Harvesting continues in the Southern States, being nearly finished in some sections. In the central and western portions of the cotton belt cotton is generally improved and well cultivated, although needing further attention in some sections. In the State of the Ohio, central Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys the dropping of apples continues to be extensively reported. The general outlook for other fruits is encouraging, although the heavy rains in Georgia have caused rotting in some sections.

Crop Reports by States. Illinois - Warm with local rains, still too dry in some localities; improved situation in corn, wheat and soybeans; grain crops generally good; oats improved but straw short; corn and pastures greatly and meadow crops in fine shape; garden and potato doing well; small fruits doing well, but the apple crop deteriorating; sugar beets generally good; pastures drying up; cotton forming sprouts; apples continue dropping; wheat crops in fine shape. Indiana - Warm with local rains, still too dry in some localities; improved situation in corn, wheat and soybeans; grain crops generally good; oats improved but straw short; corn and pastures greatly and meadow crops in fine shape; garden and potato doing well; small fruits doing well, but the apple crop deteriorating; sugar beets generally good; pastures drying up; cotton forming sprouts; apples continue dropping; wheat crops in fine shape.

Michigan - Warm with local rains, still too dry in some localities; improved situation in corn, wheat and soybeans; grain crops generally good; oats improved but straw short; corn and pastures greatly and meadow crops in fine shape; garden and potato doing well

Rheumatism

Rheumatic pains are the cries of protest and distress from tortured muscles, aching joints and excited nerves. The blood has been purified by the accumulation of waste matter in the system, and can no longer supply the pure and health sustaining food they require. The whole system feels the effect of this acid poison, and it is not until the blood has been purified and brought back to a healthy condition will the aches and pains cease.

Mrs. James Kelly, of 717 1/2 North Street, N. E. Washington, D. C., writes as follows: "A few months ago I had an attack of sciatic Rheumatism in the worst form. The pain was so intense that I could not get up. I was completely prostrated. The attack was unusually severe one, and my condition was regarded as being very dangerous. I was attended by one of the most able doctors in Washington, who is also a member of the faculty of a leading medical college here. He told me to continue his prescription and I would get well. After having it filled twice without receiving the slightest benefit, I decided to continue my treatment by using SSS. Having heard of S. S. S. (Swiss Specific) recommended for Rheumatism, I decided, almost in despair, however, to give the medicine a trial, and after I had taken a few bottles I was able to get about on crutches, and in a few days after had no use for them at all. S. S. S. having cured the sound and well. All the distressing pains have left me, my appetite has returned, and I am happy to be again restored to perfect health."

SSS the great vegetable purifier and tonic, is the ideal remedy in all rheumatic troubles. There are no opiates or minerals in it to disturb the digestion and lead to ruinous habits.

We have prepared a special book on Rheumatism which every sufferer from this painful disease should read. It is the most complete and interesting book of the kind in existence. It will be sent free to anyone desiring it. Write our physicians fully and freely about your case. We make no charge for medical advice.

EXCHANGE NOTES.

Winer Free Press: Ed McManigal was down from his Wayne county home Monday. Ed is not farming this year but is giving his attention to cattle feeding and just now has ten loads in his feed yards.

Columbus Times: Prof. J. M. Pile of the Wayne Normal College, was in attendance at the Teachers' Institute last Friday afternoon, and the Times editor acknowledges a pleasant call from the genial and leading Nebraska educator.

Homestead: I have practiced un-harnessing the teams at noon and I have let them remain during that hour. I feel better when I unharness them and think the teams feel better. I have no means of ascertaining whether this is true or not, save by imagination.

Wakefield Republican: Dixon county sends to Wayne her greatest orator and her finest band of music to help make the eagle scream on the Fourth of July. A crowd of people will attend from here as well. This only lent. All Wayne will be over here to the Woodman picnic and there is room and welcome for all.

Fremont Tribune: Judge W. F. Norris has just been appointed as judge for the island of Negros, in the Philippines. He has been there for a year or two in the legal department of the collector of the port. This new honor has just been conferred by the Taft commission. Judge Norris was at one time judge of the Eighth district of Nebraska. He was candidate for congress in the Third district in 1908.

Ponca Journal: Misses Lulu Cook of Wayne, and Charlotte Haskell of Wakefield, are spending the week with Miss Ella Kingsbury. Mrs. Norris returned to Wayne Tuesday morning and Miss Ethell remained for a longer visit. Norris are expecting to leave for the Philippines soon where Judge Norris is located, he having just been promoted to one of the federal judgeships of the archipelago at a princely salary.

Homestead: There is a great demand for good men to do farm work. As harvest time approaches the demand seems to increase. This demand has occasioned high wages and one has been compelled to study why this is the case. Good and prosperous times make a demand for competent men to work in cities and towns with a prospect of some promotion. This takes a great many good men from the farms. To the extent that these leave, to that extent is there a dearth of good hands in the country.

Stanton Picket: Textley Bros. have purchased the only drug store at Carroll and Dr. A. Textley is now there looking after the business. The Textley brothers have not yet fully decided just how the business there will be managed. Should the doctor decide to locate there permanently a registered pharmacist will be employed to handle their drug and perscription business here. G. Textley expects to go to Carroll in a few weeks, when a stock of watches, jewelry and silverware will be added to the business. The Textleys are good citizens and conservative business men, and Carroll is to be congratulated upon securing a part of them as residents.

The Wayne Republican says: "Norfolk is figuring on keeping teams of its main street. They are talking of using it for park purposes and don't care to be disturbed by the occasional team that wanders onto the thoroughfare." Wayne has very successfully attained the end sought in Norfolk—not that the main street has been parked in the News don't believe there is a town in Nebraska where traffic would admit of a business street being parked out it has provided ample facilities for the hitching of teams on side streets and the main thoroughfare is at all times open to business traffic that is more or less inconvenient by teams being hitched thereon. The fact that Wayne has adopted the scheme indicates that it is a good thing because Wayne people are usually alive to the benefits of the town.—Norfolk Daily News.

Homestead: Some men quit farming at the age of forty-five. A man is just getting some sense at about this age. It is just then when he will be able to put in some good looks. Happy is the man who has a good farm and has it paid for at that age. He should be thrice happy should he have sons that he can hand the reins to and bid them keep right on in the same path he has shown them. Some men retire from the farm to rest up and others leave the city to go on the farm to get real enjoyment. A good deal depends on the man after all, whether he gets real enjoyment.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL

Excursion Rates to the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo.

It was said when the World's Fair closed that this country would not see its equal in fifty years. In all but the space occupied, however, the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo this year will excel the great show of '03. This means that more can be seen in the same length of time at the Pan-American, and with less fatigue and weariness than was unavoidable at the World's Fair.

The exhibits will be varied, interesting and instructive, and the improvement in their selection and the manner in which they are displayed, due to the experience gained by exhibitors at the recent great Expositions, will be very noticeable. In the variety, quality, novelty and number of its entertainment features, the Buffalo Exposition will surpass all others.

There are different rates for tickets with different limits, and if you expect to visit Buffalo, and will send your address to the undersigned, the rates now in effect will be quoted you, and you will be kept advised of any changes.

An artistic booklet, beautifully illustrated and giving a concise description of this great Exposition, will be mailed free to all inquirers.
