The piles that annoy you so will be quickly and permanently cured if you use De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. Beware of worthless counterfeits. L. P. Orth.

There is a disposition on the part of the republicans to get together as they should and show the combined opposition what a handsome majority of republicans there are in Wayne county.

It is easier to keep well than get cured. De Witt's Little Early Risers taken now and then will always keep your bowels in perfect order. They never gripe but promote an easy gentle action. Orth.

Our neighboring town of Wakefield is making preparations for a big time during the two days' Log Rolling Picnic of the M. W. A. to be held there August 28 and 29. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody and it is expected that nearly everybody in this section of the state will be there.

A newspaper man does not mind discussing the merits of candidates with the opposition press and gracefully take defeat or victory, but to be obliged to fight for a fair hearing and the hope of party success with a paper of your own faith is the most heartless task. It should not be so.

Try a Lake City Wagon this season. They are very nice. Philleo & Son.

College Commencement week was concluded with a banquet by the alumni at the Boyd on Thursday evening and on Friday every out-going train bore students to their homes elsewhere, many of whom, however, will return with the beginning of the fall term in September.

G. J. Savidge made a contract with E. H. Johansen last Thursday to sink a five inch tubular well for the artificial lake the latter intends to make on his land in the east part of the city, which will be used for boating and bathing in the summer time and for ice and skating in the winter. He expects to put out a large grove around the lake and in a few years will have a fine park for picnics, etc.

Saturday is the day of the republican county convention. It should be marked with harmony, in fact a convention for the whole republican party and not for the benefit of two or three men. The day for such things has gone by and nothing but defeat can attend the party, if such proceedings are allowed as occurred a year ago.

"The credit system in farm implements," says the Homestead, "is bad alike for both manufacturer and farmer. The manufacturer is never certain of the extent of his losses, which causes him to add vastly to the price of his machines, which the farmer must pay. This injures the farmer who pays cash, since he has to pay the losses of those to whom credit is extended. The injury it does farmers is that it extends credit and it causes a hardship to meet the obligations because much machinery is bought that would not be otherwise. The machine that is bought on credit is too often put by without housing. There is room for reformation in the sale of farm machinery."

EXCHANGE NOTES.

Emerson Enterprise: Sept. E. A. Lundberg of Wayne, was shaking hands with Emerson friends Wednesday.

Ponca Grit: Professor Vaget and Homer Sheen of Wayne, played with the Barker orchestra at the dance at Newcastle Friday night.

Wakefield Republican: Wakefield is one of the busiest towns in the state these days. Work was commenced Monday on Collins & Hype's large new furniture store building, a large number of workmen are employed on the new Peavy elevator and other improvements added to the city.

Homestead: When there is plenty of time and an inclination, running over the weeds a great deal of harm will do the weeds a great deal of harm and will not hurt the pasture. Some weeds are very much disconcerted when the mower approaches. A nice clean pasture is something fine to have and behold. Even the untidy farmer likes to see it.

Laurel Advocate: F. M. Thomas of Wayne, was a Laurel visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. E. R. Middleton returned yesterday morning from a short visit with her people at Wayne. Miss Myrtle Mills attended the graduating exercises of the Wayne Normal college this week. H. F. Fowler returned from Wayne Saturday evening, having finished work there for a few weeks. He is now figuring on the erection of two more fine residences at that place.

Dixon Tribune: To speak very mildly, it was unfortunate that Wayne should select Aug. 15 to start her Old Settlers picnic. Of course after this year it will not conflict with the Dixon very often, as their date is the third Thursday in August, but this time it does. The Wayne ball team was chosen because Dixon wished to favor their southern neighbors and have Wayne represented here that day and, well it is not the first time we have got the worst of it from that town.

Norfolk Tribune: Carl T. Seely who sold out the Madison Chronicle to accept a federal position which he was only allowed to retain a short time, is arranging to start a printing business at Missouri, Mont, where he will make his home. F. S. Malcome, of the Chronicle force, will accompany him to his new field of operations. Both gentlemen are well versed in the matters of the "ink preserve," and have the best wishes of every member of the press in this part of the state.

Homestead: A peep backward will disclose the time when farming was an occupation for the muscle alone. The boy with a muscle was fitted for a farmer and the intellectual boy was given opportunities to engage in other vocations. A good square look at the present will find all of this obauged. Intellect is as much in need to manage a farm as to run a bank. Should anyone mention sending a boy away from home to learn agriculture when I was a boy, more fan would be poked at him than could possibly be poked at a circus clown.

Norfolk Tribune: The state game warden appears to be much in evidence this year. The man behind the gun had better look up the law a little before he goes "gunning." Here is a few things he will find, he must take out a state license if he desires to shoot outside the county where he resides, he must not kill quail at any season of the year, he only allowed to kill a certain number of birds, animals or fish in any one day, he may not ship game out of the state. There is said to be one or more deputy wardens in each county and who they are is not made public, the man you see coming across the field any day may be one.

Randolph Times: A Wayne county farmer, living four miles southwest of Wayne on the Omaha road sold 8000 bushels of corn on Monday for $1 cents a bushel. This farmer, whose name we do not know, received $4320 for his corn. His kind of farming is the kind that pays. What might have been a serious fire was narrowly averted at the home of Wm. Beckenhauer Thursday forenoon. Miss Mable attempted to light the gasoline stove when flames leaped into her face and filled the room. Her face and hands were scorched and eyebrows singed off and the paper on the walls was burned. The tank has been filled with gasoline before breakfast and the larger part of it had leaked out and was ignited on the application of the match. Only by prompt work were the flames extinguished and the building saved.

Blair Republican: Last Friday Rev. Rowland P. Hillis, who has been a prisoner in the Blair jail for 10 months, was taken to Lincoln to serve a term of four years in the penitentiary. Gov. Savage refused to listen to the prayers of his young wife who begged for clemency, backed up by a petition of 700 citizens of this county and signed by all the jurymen who set on the case, except one who was not at home. Even the first wife, as the Republican is informed, who was brought from England, through the machinations of a minister, wrote a letter asking the governor to pardon the man whom she entrapped into a secret alliance that ruined him and made him an exile from home. We are opposed to pardoning big criminals for mere mercenary purposes, but in this case mercy would injure no one and it would have restored a devoted husband to his young wife and child without placing the stigma of felony upon their innocent lives.

Nebraska State Fair, 1901. For thirty-two years past, good crops or poor crops, the Nebraska State Board of agriculture, true to its duty, has annually presented to the public, at its fairs, the products, resources possibilities of this wonderful young state, the flower of the New West, a region of country known until a few years ago comparatively, as a barren waste. These products have been found, on actual examination, without aids anywhere, as to quality and yields. This year corn and vegetables have been badly scorched in some parts of the state it is true. And yet, in many other parts they are good. Small grain was never better.

The Fair Management is going right along with the Fair as usual, this year, Sept. 2 to 7. Have greatly improved the Old Fair Grounds adjoining Lincoln, recently purchased by the State. A new woven wire fence has been placed around the whole grounds; all the old buildings have been repaired, painted and put in the best condition. Nineteen new, large and commodious barns for live stock have been constructed. Water from the City Water Works in all parts of the grounds. Railroads, both passenger and freight run into the grounds. Reduced Rail Road passenger rates from all stations in the state. The Secretary announces that the outlook for exhibits were never better. Let the people all attend this great Fair, and with their families spend a few days recreation profitably and pleasantly.

Their Secret is Out. All Sadlevill, Ky., was curious to learn the cause of the vast improvement in the health of Mrs. T. P. Whitteker, who had for a long time endured untold suffering from a chronic bronchial trouble. "It's all due to Dr. King's New Discovery," writes her husband. "It completely cured her and also cured our little grand-daughter of a severe attack of whooping cough." It positively cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, lagrippe and throat and lung troubles. Republican State Convention.

The republicans of the state of Nebraska are hereby called to meet in convention at the auditorium in the city of Lincoln, Neb., on Wednesday, August 28, 1901, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following offices, to be voted for at the next general election to be held in the state of Nebraska, on November 5, 1901:

One judge of the supreme court, two regents of the university of the state of Nebraska, and for the transaction of such other business as may regularly come before said convention.

The basis of representation of the several counties in said convention shall be the vote cast for Hon. John F. Nease for presidential elector at the regular election held on Nov. 6, 1900, giving one delegate for each 100 votes or major fraction thereof, so cast for John F. Nease, and one delegate at large for each county. Said apportionment entitles the several counties to the following representation in said convention:

It is recommended that no proxies be allowed in said convention, but that the delegates present from each county be permitted to cast the full vote of the county represented by them.

Notice is hereby given that each of the even numbered senatorial districts in the state is entitled to select a member of the state committee to serve for a term of two years.

Signed, H. C. LINDBAY, Chairman Republican State Convention. JOHN T. MALLALIEU, Secretary.

Ex U. S. Senator Thurston has opened an office in Washington, where he will engage in the practice of law.

The Iowa democratic state convention yesterday endorsed the Kansas City platform and gave the Ohio democrat the cold shoulder.

If Vice President Theodore Roosevelt is not the next nominee of the Republican national convention, it will be no fault of his countless thousands of admirers in the west.

The Canadian challenger, Invader, won the Canada Cup in the international yacht race last week at Chicago, in which Cadillac, the defender of the cup, was poorly sailed.

A terrible storm swept over the Louisiana shore two days last week causing a vast destruction of property and the loss of many lives. Telegraph wires were all down, ships were destroyed and houses carried away. It was the greatest flood since 1836.

Hon. A. B. Cummins, who will be the next governor of Iowa by a majority something less than a half million votes, has been one of the stragglers in politics, but he got back and this year walked away with the republican state convention. He is a man of wonderful personal magnetism and is among the foremost members of the bar of that state.

The great strike of the Amalgamated Association in the East is growing in proportions and has become the largest strike in the history of the country. When large corporations join together for protection and gain there is need for organization among the laborers, skilled and unskilled, for protection, and the great mass of people of this country hope that the corporation will be brought to consider arbitration and that the matter will be satisfactorily adjusted. The laborer is entitled to a fair share of his earnings and until the time comes when this recognized by the employers, strikes will continue to occur.

The Utility of Rag-Chewing.

Just how far the obligation of endurance and endurance to be carried in the navy is a matter of some interest and is certainly a matter of considerable deloyalty because there is apparently no final authority in the matter. Secretary Long has publicly reprimanded fighting Bob Evans for making some sport of sundry orders delivered to him years ago by the then secretary of the navy fighting Bill Chandler. The bold sailor man contends that if a man is allowed to write history at all, he must have the privilege of criticizing officials who departed public life some time ago.

But is a subordinate officer ever to be given the privilege of telling the story of his campaigns unless he conceals the mistakes and misdoings of his "superior?" Must he hold his blessed tongue until he is dead and past speaking in the interests of official courtesy and never defend himself from the slurs and innuendoes of the superior? Can't a fellow ever have his say in the army and navy?

This may be a more burning question a few years hence than it is now because the time is coming around when if any of the commanders in the recent war with Spain and the insurrections in the Philippines desire to make statements they will have to make them hold their peace. And it is in the interests of historical truth and common justice that a subordinate should be compelled to forever hold his peace?

Or would it be all right if fighting Bob had waited until fighting Bill was dead? Because that isn't a safe wait you know. If the superior survives the subordinate, then the subordinate never gets a show for his white ally. Something should be done about it so that a man who wants to leave a historical record of his campaign may know his rights and when they begin to take effect.

Perhaps a law of congress to the effect that after a sailor man or an army man has retired from the service and his superiors have also retired, he may be permitted to fire his wad and free his mind, since the good of the service can no longer be prejudiced by disclosures. And it is better that crooked things be aired during the life time of the actors in them when they are above the ground to defend themselves than later when the persons who know the most about them are dead.

There should be nothing more sacred about the records of a soldier or a sailor or that of a congressman and a cabinet officer and a president. The latter class is not injuriously disgraced as a body, because individuals are criticized while they live as well as after they are dead. Why can't fighting Bob just as properly as an ex-congressman or an ex-cabinet officer, have a crack at fighting Bill if he desires? Let Bill stand up to him and resent the attack just as he would one from an old political "subordinate" instead of appealing to the present secretary of the navy to stuff a gag in Bob's mouth. The truth is always valuable, and the truth is only arrived at by chewing the rag, as everyone knows.—State Journal.

The Man Who Does.

Vice President Roosevelt, on his way eastward from Colorado, reached Hutchinson during the Kansas G. A. R. reunion. In his address to the old soldiers he reminded them of a service they had done their country, which most of us remember less than we should. We are prone to think of our civil war veterans only as soldiers and to forget the civil example that they set.

"You who left us a reunited nation," said Roosevelt, "left us something as great in a lesson to be applied to civil life—a great lesson of brotherhood. When you stood in the ranks you cared little who your neighbor was or where he came from. What you wanted to know was: Would he stand fire? Would he go forward? If he would and aid did, you honored him. It is the American principle to honor the man who does something."

Against those who would have this nation shirk its duties and for the sake of ease refrain from going forward Roosevelt also found an argument in his audience. "There were men of ease" he said, "during the times from 1861 to 1865. Did you soldiers envy them? Are you sorry for what you did then? Do you regret giving your country those four years?" And shouts of "No! Never!" were the answers to these questions.

"We will never make this country all it should be," Roosevelt continued, "until in good faith we accept the principle that the man is to be judged on his worth as a man." That is the principal upon which soldiers judge each other. That is why the military spirit is valuable in civil life. It corrects the tendency of those absorbed in pursuit of material gain to judge each other upon standards differing from that of simple manhood—of devotion to duty—of willingness to go forward and do.

In spite of the efforts of degenerated weaklings to set up other standards it is still the American principle to honor the man who does something. So long as the American people preserve the virtues that made them what they are they will honor the manhood that scores ease and goes forth to do. That is why they delight to honor Theodore Roosevelt. He is that kind of man—Inter Ocean.

Men like loafing pretty well naturally, so they should not be encouraged.

A LETTER FROM MONTANA.

Dall, Mont., Aug 17.

Dear Nebraska friends:

As I owe several of the friends letters, I take this liberty to write a letter for publication, so that they, one and all, will hear about my western trip and also about my park trip.

I left Wayne, Jan. 23 and arrived at Lima, Mont., Jan 25. At that time hardly any snow could be seen, only in some parts of Idaho. The weather was just like springtime. I stayed in Lima eight weeks and during this time attended church eleven times. There are but two churches, the M. E. and Mormon. Lima is a small place but it being a railroad center many men are employed in the round houses there. The scenery along the way was grand, especially some of the canons coming through Wyoming (the most desolate looking country) not a ranch or house can be seen for miles and miles. Some parts of Idaho are very rich looking but in other parts not a thing can be seen but sage bush and sand, no house being built well enough to keep the fine sand from sitting in when they have those terrible sand storms. In Montana a great many acres of land are not used, on account of having no water to irrigate it with. This country gets very little rain. I am staying with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Yost. Mrs. Yost will be well remembered as Annie Larson, formerly of Plum Creek, Neb. Their ranch is 16 miles from Lima and is situated in Sheep Creek Valley. The Sheep river flows by the house. This stream is acted for its mountain trout, white fish or greyling. No farming or gardening can be done as we have had snow every month. Grazing and stock raising is what is carried on in this country. Mr. Yost has a sheep ranch he now has 5000. These graze on the mountain sides all winter if the snow isn't too deep. The ranch is entirely surrounded by mountains, and together with the three canons makes it quite a place for scenery. We started on our "park trip," July 6. There were six in our party, Jim and Harry Cole, Mrs. C. Forsythe of Lakeview, Mamie Larson and Johnson and myself. A number of these people will be well known to some of the readers, having at one time lived in Wayne county. We had one light rig, two saddle horses and one heavy wagon with the provisions and bedding. The first night we camped near Henry's lake, Idaho, where we saw a great large saw mill. In the store at this place, stuffed birds and animals can be seen. The second day our camping place was three miles inside the park line near the Madison river, the most famous graying stream in the west. On leaving this place we passed through Christmas Tree park to the Riverside Military Station, where all firearms must be left, and everyone must register. The next is the Madison canon, five miles long. The 3rd camping place was near Nez Perce river, one mile from the Mountain Hotel. After supper we went to see the Mammoth Point Pots, the Clepsydra Springs also the Sulphur Springs, from which the water is piped one mile to the hotel for bathing purposes. The fourth day we saw the Fountain Geyser. Its area covers several acres. This place is called Lover Geyser Basin and contains 15 geysers and three hundred springs hot and cold, the most prominent ones being the Surprise, Firehole, Mushroom and Buffalo Springs. Next we come to Hell's Half Acre. On this place are the Turquois Springs, a silent pool about 100 feet in diameter and is remarkable for its blue transparent water. Pressurized lake is very pretty. The water around the edges is of a blue greenish color. In the shallow portions it changes to orange, red, grey, brown and purple. It is very nice when the sunshines on it. Near this lake is the largest geyser, the Excelsior, 200 feet wide and at each eruption this geyser throws out so much water that the Firehole river has risen several inches, for all the water flows in this river. The upper basin has 20 geysers and 400 springs. The most noted geysers are the Castle, Beehive, and the Old Faithful, which plays every 65 minutes and throws up a stream of hot water to the height of 150 feet. The Cascade, Spongy, Giantess, Saw Mill, Grand, Turban, Oblong, Grotto, Fan Mortar, Splendid and Lone Star are all very active geysers. Black Sand basin and the Pothole Bowl are very interesting places. The Morning Glory Springs are beautiful; its funnel shaped orator and its colors gives it very much the appearance of the flower after which it was named. Big-on-Basin is very attractive. The formation being shaped like biscuits and of an olive green color. Sappine Pool, Arterial Springs and Jewel Geyser are the last we see in the upper basin. The next drive is to Yellowstone Lake, 10 miles. First we see Koppier Cascades. The water leaps from shelf to shelf and then falls 150 feet. Shoshone Lake can now be seen, also the Teton Mountains with their dizzy heights of 14,000 feet, over topping all peaks of the Rockies. While camping at Thumb Lunch station, some soldiers took us out boat riding on Yellow Stone Lake. Many paint pots and geysers are along the bank of this lake. The most wonderful place is the Hot Spring Cone, where fish may be caught out of the lake and then thrown in the hot spring and boiled. After leaving Thumb Bay, a day's drive is taken along the lake to the Lake Hotel. From this place a steamer, Zillah, leaves for Thumb Bay and returns the same day. The altitude is 7900 feet above the sea level, at this hotel. After leaving the lake (the Natural Bridge, the Sleeping Giant and Saddle Mountains can be seen, also the Mud Geyser, where mud is thrown up instead of water. Hayden Valley is the most beautiful valley we went through. Alum Creek and Sulphur Mountains and Springs are the next we see. The mountain is yellow, the greater part of this peak being sulphur. After this day's ride we camp near the Grand Canon, a place which splendors are undecorable. Seeing this place one can see what nature's works are. The canon is twelve miles long and when the sun shines in it makes the whole place look as if a hundred rainbows had fallen into it. Sand of every color can be seen here. In this canon are the upper falls the water falling 100 feet. The lower falls are 300 feet deep where the water dashes down. Mr. Washburn a distance of 8 miles from the Canon is the observatory of the Park, it being up so high that all the scenery can be viewed from this mountain. We did not go to the petrified forest and Yancey's. At Norris Basin, a driver took us out in a coach to see the Black Crowler, Congress and Minute Man Geyser, to see the Devil's Inkstand and Teapot. At this place the altitude is 8000 feet. Leaving Norris we drove to the Mammoth Springs, another attractive place. On the way up we saw the Obsidian Cliff. This Cliff is 250 feet high and looks like black grass and has a glistening mirror like effect when illuminated by the sun. Apollinaris Springs is where delicious water can be drank, has a taste like soda water. Beaver Lake is where some work can be seen that was done by the beavers. Swan Lake, Crystal Springs, Roaring mountain and the Golden Silver Gate and "hooboes" are all seen before reaching the Springs, where the Liberty Cup, Devil's Elbows, thumbs and kitchen are, also the Minews, Jupiter, and Angel Terrace can be seen. Leaving this place we start back, going through Gibbon Canon where we saw the Gibbon falls, Paint Pots, Chocolate Springs and one soda spring. While in the park we saw bear, buffalo, deer, elk and many other small animals. Fishing was fine although we had no luck. Four large hotels, three lunch stations are fitted up in fine style to accommodate the hundreds of tourists that go through each year. Board is $1 per day. The lake hotel has 420 rooms. Our round trip was 350 miles and we were on the road twelve and a half days. Camping out is indeed the nicest way to go through the park. New friends you will hear all about some of the park wonders. These sights are far more attractive than the Great Expositions we have back east. Come and see them. Now I hope this letter will be as interesting to the readers as the trip was to me. I remember you all as kind friends.

The question of Canadian annexation is settling itself, so far as regards a large number of Canadians. A heavy immigration from Canada into the United States is taking place, notwithstanding the reports that the movement in the past few years is from the United States into Canada. The influx of Canadians into this country is one of the reasons for the slow rate of increase in population on the other side of the United States' northerly boundary. The drift in our direction will continue so long as Canada remains a dependency of a nation on the other side of the Atlantic. Even independence would not turn the tide in any perceptible degree. Nothing except political union with the United States will ever give the territory north of the St. Lawrence, the lakes and the 49th parallel the place in the world which its natural riches entitle it to and which its ambitious sons desire.—Globe Democrat.

Editor S. A. Brown of Beantownville, S. C. was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For indigestion, loss of appetite, stomach troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Silent, but not Dead.

During the past month we have not used the newspapers to keep our business before the public. It got too hot for us to write and too hot for the people to read. We have not been dead, but have used other means to keep our business before the people. We have used 2,500 fans that have sent many a refreshing breeze to our friends and we hope have kept our name where they will be reminded of us when they need clothing.

A Stranger Without Friends.

Two years ago we came to Wayne as a stranger and without friends. Many, not knowing that we were expert clothing men and had ample means, predicted that we would remain only a short time. All agree now that we are a permanent institution here and that our business has been growing from the start and is now the leading house in our line.

Have Come to Stay.

Every new store tells you they have come to stay, but our business has grown to such proportions that we cannot afford to leave and we have bought more goods than ever before for this fall and winter. Other stores may cut down their stock on account of the short corn crop, but our stock will be larger than ever.

Without Proper Clothing

In this climate you are subject to many diseases and continued annoyance. Clothing bought of us is made right and is comfortable. Our Staley All-Wool Underwear will keep you well, our Shoes will fit your feet, our bats will make you look well and our prices will make you happy.

What Shall we do with Him?

If you have a boy and don't know what to do with him because he wears out so many clothes bring him here and we can settle that matter. If you have a husband that you don't know what to do with because his clothing looks hard and out of shape and style bring him here and we will dress him up with clothing that is in style and don't get out of shape, and he will remind you of the day you married him.

Make Him Happy.

We make everyone happy when they buy here. Our goods are different than you find at other stores. We have the kind of goods you have been looking for. We have the best. Our prices will please you and "one price only" suits every one. We are experts at the business and know how to fit you. You are always safe in trading here. Life is worth living if you trade at Several traveling Life Insurance agents have made Wayne their headquarters during the summer or part of it. They have written several policies in and around Wayne and about three out of every four of those receiving policies from them are more or less dissatisfied and not one of them received exactly what he thought he was getting. But the agent is gone, they have paid the premium or given a note, and there is nothing for them to do but grin and get "buffalod" again, unless one lesson is enough. All standard companies write the same classes of policies. Some write better ones of the class. Among the latter is the Northwestern Mutual of Milwaukee, represented by E. R. Surber of this city, who is well posted on any kind of insurance. He doesn't buy his goods of a traveling man, but patronizes our merchants. He can get you a policy in any company. He keeps posted on insurance law and does not represent any "fakes." If some of our merchants displayed no better judgement in buying goods than in buying Life Insurance, the public would do well to avoid them. Some of the "fakes" Life Insurance in the market has been recently sold to Wayne business men. Mr. Surber asks only the opportunity to compare the Northwestern Mutual Life with those of any other company.

COLLEGE vs. STANTON.

The College club here, after playing a few games of ball away from home in which they were obliged to meet hired players who were not members of the different clubs they played with decided to strengthen their club and they have done so. Yesterday they played the Stanton club at the College grounds, and when the game ended the Statonites looked considerably like Billy Bryan and 10 to 1, the score being 17 to 2 in favor of Wayne. The game was so very interesting and the visiting club was outclassed. While the college club played with few errors the visiting team made many and even poor old Pont of the Stanton Register, looked like a Chinese laundryman, so disgusted did he become. A pretty good crowd attended the game though it is out of the way to the grounds, and the continual loss of the ball delayed the game materially. The score resulted as follows:

Market Reports.

South Omaha, Aug. 21, 1901.

Receipts of cattle are liberal, nearly 4500 a day so far this week. The very excellent corn fed heaves are quoted about steady but on medium and common grades it is weak and lower; some of the commoner grades of corn cattle that have been sent in prematurely have had to be sacrificed at prices 25 to 40¢ lower than prices current last week. The trading is very slow and dull owing to the inclination of buyers to wait until the range cattle are disposed of. Grass heaves are about steady at prices from $3.50 to $3.75 for common grades to $5.00 and $5.35 for choice grassers. Cows and butcher stock in liberal supply and weak to ten lower today. For the week about a quarter lower. Stockers and feeders are strong. Country buyers are fair buyers but receipts are limited and anything desirable is quickly picked up at strong prices.

Receipts of hogs liberal. Today with 8000 on sale market opened 5 to 10¢ lower, and closed about that way though trade was slow. Range $5.50 to $6.00 with bulk of sales $5.75 to $5.80. Market today averages 5¢ higher than last Wednesday after being considerable better. Sheep receipts continue liberal, market slow and weak.

Grass heaves are about steady at prices from $3.50 to $3.75 for common grades to $5.00 and $5.35 for choice grassers. Cows and butcher stock in liberal supply and weak to ten lower today. For the week about a quarter lower. Stockers and feeders are strong. Country buyers are fair buyers but receipts are limited and anything desirable is quickly picked up at strong prices.

Receipts of hogs liberal. Today with 8000 on sale market opened 5 to 10¢ lower, and closed about that way though trade was slow. Range $5.50 to $6.00 with bulk of sales $5.75 to $5.80. Market today averages 5¢ higher than last Wednesday after being considerable better. Sheep receipts continue liberal, market slow and weak.

The man who can hardly crawl, and has just strength to get through a day's work, has no strength left for family life. He wants to be quiet, to be alone, out of sight and sound of everybody.

What a difference between such a man and the healthy, hearty man, who romps with his children and rides his laughing baby to "Banbury Cross."

What makes the difference? Usually disease of the stomach, involving the entire digestive and nutritive system. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. When these diseases are cured the hindrance to the proper nourishment of the body is removed and strength comes back again.

A Day With the Pioneers.
Something like a thousand or more people attended the Pioneers and Old Settlers Picnic yesterday, held in the Bressler grove northwest of town. All manner of vehicles, were pressed into service to carry the people to and from the grounds, and the intimate meeting could only be termed as a first-class success. The grove had been neatly trimmed out and all preparations made for the comfort of the picnickers. Some twenty 15-foot tables provided a place to serve dinner but they were inadequate for the occasion and many a merry family banqueted on mother nature's grassy surface.

The program commenced about eleven o'clock and opened with a song from a male quartette composed of Mearns Davies, Howard, Cook and Goldie. Rev. Bithell asked a blessing and Judge Moses then made a short talk touching upon many subjects of interest to old and new settlers. Another song and then Frank Fuller announced the plans for the perpetuation of the society and cordially invited all to sign the by-laws. A general good time was then enjoyed listening about for dinner and if anyone pre-empted didn't get on the outside of a good square repast it was due to a lack of hunger or weak nerves.

Immediately after dinner a business meeting was held, J. T. Bressler, president, J. D. King, secretary and W. A. K. Neely treasurer, being re-elected for another year. Dr. R. B. Crawford was chosen historian, a position R. H. is eminently qualified for owing to his being one of the Pilgrims of the country and a natural talent for ancient history.

Business completed another song was listened to from the male quartet and Hon. Jas. Britton called upon for a speech. Mr. Britton said that although he came to Wayne county 26 years ago last April he made no claim to being a "pioneer." The old settlers were those who came in 69 and 70 and suffered all the hardships of a frontier life. He said the early days of the white men in Nebraska was prior to the time of Shakespeare, in July 1541, when an expedition of a thousand troops crossed the country from Mexico. Records of this early invasion have recently been brought to light by research in Paris, France, proving that Nebraska had really been visited by white men prior to the settlement of eastern states. 200 years later the first settlement was made at Bellevue by Col. Peter A. Sarpy, a famous Indian trader for the American Fur Co. The first settler in Wayne county was Capt. B. F. Whitten and a Mr. Bean who in 1868 crossed the Logan and located in Plum Creek precinct. The first postoffice was Taft, three miles down the Logan from Wakefield. Territorial organization was in 1854 and included Nebraska, the Dakotas, Montana and part of Idaho. The organization of Wayne county occurred in 1870 and in Aug. Gov. David Butler issued a proclamation calling for an election of county officers in Sept. of '70. The speaker then dwelt at some length upon the trials of the early settlers, when all this country was one vast prairie without a tree or shrub. The nearest railroad, was Sioux City. In the winter of 1881 the inhabitants were unable to get out doors for 30 days and relief expeditions had to be sent out to relieve suffering families. Mr. Britton said that when he first came here he knew everybody in the county. There were only about 35 townsteads, not a settler in range 3, homesteads of Garfield, Sherman and Chapin. Land was of little value, a claim being worth about $50. R. B. Crawford was county clerk and the B. & M. railroad had 23,000 acres in Wayne county upon which they owed back taxes. Mr. Britton as counsellor and Clerk Crawford effected a compromise on back taxes by accepting for the county a nominal sum. At this time Mr. Britton could have secured 20,000 acres at 90 cents per acre from the railroad company and he was offered a proposition to go east and sell the same. Even in 1878 a half section of land could be gotten for $500 but the speaker said he never had that much money and Mr. Bressler, who was in business with him at that time, had not then acquired that much. The first railroad was the Covington, Columbus and Black Hills Co. that built a line to Ponca and a graded narrow gauge to LaPorte. This was done by bonding the several counties to the limit through which it passed. About the time Wayne county was to pay her portion an injunction was gotten out and the whole thing declared unconstitutional. It was the intention of the present railroad to go to LaPorte but the Union Pacific was surveying through from the west and the LaPorte road was discarded and the present line taken up. Mr. Britton told of some exciting times with prairie fires, one taking place in '79 when a Mrs. Durin and her daughter were caught in a fire two miles west of LaPorte and burned to death. The speaker then called attention to the fact that A. P. Childs and Dr. Crawford, two able lions of the old school, were present and would regale them with their reminiscences. After a nicely rendered solo by Miss Reba Neagle, A. P. Childs took the floor. He said his first sight of LaPorte sent his heart into his boots. He and his family lived the first year in a house of one small room. There were two stores in town, one run by Britton and Bressler and the other by Tunius Hardenburg. Sometimes the former firm run their store and at other times the store run itself. After Childs got there he ran it part of the time. People were hard up for fuel and in the winter they doubled up, making a double increase in the population each year. As Mr. Britton had previously stated the people of LaPorte had most enjoyable times and had no regrets to express over their early experiences.

Dr. R. B. Crawford then gave an historical account of much interest which closed the day's program.

SARCASTIC UNCLE SAM.
I found Uncle Sam in a variety of moods this week. He had been reading a lot of clippings from the Free-Trade papers.

"I don't know whether to laugh or get mad," he said, as he rather angrily threw the staff one side. "I don't suppose it does much harm, but I do get provoked sometimes at the Free Trade Trust and its organs. I don't like to believe these folks are dishonest and malicious, and they can't be ignorant. I wonder if they really want to get me into trouble again just as I am enjoying the best and most prosperous years of my existence. It does seem as if there was always a few folks who must eternally be stirring up things.

His always been that way from the Nullifiers to the Antis. No one knows why the Almighty made snakes and potato bugs and mosquitoes. I suppose it's so the millennium wouldn't come too soon. These Free-Traders really ought to have a corner of the earth to themselves, where they could be in hot water all the time. They evidently have no fear of the hereafter; it would be so like keeping with the temperature they are in here. I would like to spend a few years in peace. There will be no need of general tariff changes for years. The Dingley law is working like a book and I don't want business disturbed for ten years at least. I rather guess it won't be, either. If Bryan has his way. Why, he's the best friend we've got, when you think it all over. If he only keeps the Free-Trade from coming into power he ought to have a monument as high as Washingtons. That man is preserving the country, if you only look at it that way."

"You seem rather sarcastic, Uncle Sam," I observed.

"Nothing of the kind," he replied, "That fellow Bryan is a rank Free-Trade. He wanted the job of being my manager. I don't blame him for that. It's a worthy ambition for any man. But Bryan didn't go about it right. He knew he couldn't be elected on a Free-Trade issue, so he hollers for Free Silver. That didn't work and he then hollers for anti-imperialism, whatever that is, and that didn't work. Now the democrats have found out their mistake and want to shove him, and he threatens to break up the show. I'd make a pretty Emperor, wouldn't I? Gosh! imagine me walking around with a crown upon my forehead. No! I'll stick to the old life. But these Free-Traders remember that the only issue they've won in forty years is the Tariff and they think they can work the stuff over in new form and dish it up. But the people got so nauseated with it the last time they ate it that the don't want to even taste it now. If the truth were known the cooks themselves do not want to eat their own broth. I do not blame 'em either. It's pretty thin stuff for these times."

"What do you attribute as their motive or reason?" I asked.

"No motive, no reason; pure cussedness. It's been in the race since the garden of Eden, and I guess we'll always have the varmint with us. Some of 'em good men, too. Fact is, they're too good for this earth; can almost see wings sprouting on some of 'em; and the old man walked away with his usual concealed look of contempt on his usually good natured face. F. C.

All kinds of vegetables are so scarce this year except onions that it is unreasonable to eat them without an apology.

A. H. Davis, Mt. Sterling, Ia., writes "I was troubled with kidney complaint for about two years, but two one dollar bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure effected a permanent cure. E. J. Raymond.

There never was a girl so honest that she was not willing to receive a little as to the size of her bust.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve should be promptly applied to cuts, burns and scalds. It soothes and quickly heals the injured part. There are worthless counterfeits, be sure to get DeWitt's, Orth.

If a woman is loved for the way she makes pies or cakes she bakes that is the kind of love that lasts as long as any.

High living, intemperance, exposure and many other things bring on Bright's disease. Foley's Kidney Cure will prevent Bright's disease and all other kidney and bladder disorders if taken in time. Be sure to take Foley's, Raymond's.

The story of the engineer who tried to make another station, should be related to a certain Atchison man at once.

A. R. Bass of Morgantown, Ind., had to get up ten or twelve times in the night and had severe backache and pains in the kidneys. He was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure. It is guaranteed to cure. E. J. Raymond's drug store.

Somehow, when poverty overtakes people, they never remember that now they have a chance to become real Bohemians.

William Finn of Lima, O., obtained excellent results from the use of Foley's Kidney Cure. "It relieved my backache and severe pain over my hips. It toned my system and gave me new vim and energy. It is an honest and reliable remedy, a sure cure for all kidney diseases. Ed. J. Raymond.

An Atchison woman is such a gossip that she started a story about another woman because she sat down near the grave of a man she ought to know.

Mr. Daniel Bantz, Ottumwa, Iowa, says: "Have had asthma and a very bad cough for years, but could get no relief from doctors and medicines. I tried, until I took Foley's Honey and Tar. It gave immediate relief, and done me more good than all the other remedies combined. Ed. J. Raymond's.

Whenever we see a laboring man sit under a tree at noon, and open his dinner pail, somehow we always envy him the eagerness with which he looks into it.

"I am indebted to One Minute Cough Cure for my present good health and my life. I was treated in vain by doctors for lung trouble following in grippe. I took One Minute Cough Cure and recovered my health." Mr. E. H. Wise of Madison, Georgia. L. P. Orth.

Turnips, cabbage and onions will be more plentiful than other vegetables this fall and every one wants up a house so that people have to move out.

There is so much news that even if it comes by telegraph we overlook some of it. Isn't it a fact that you have seen Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin advertised several times and have neglected to try it? An ounce of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is as good as a three weeks vacation. Ask any druggist or anyone who has taken it. Sold by Raymond.

If a man is single, he can sometimes speak to a girl without being intrusive, but if he is married he must save her life without a previous introduction.

"I wish to truthfully state to you and the readers of these few lines that your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is without question, the best and only cure for dyspepsia that I have ever come in contact with and I have used many other preparations." John Beahm, West Middlesex, Pa. No preparation of equal equals Kodol Dyspepsia Cure as it contains all the natural digestants. It will digest all kinds of food and it can't help but do you good. L. P. Orth.

You can nearly always catch a man by telling him he really ought to be in a large field. Nearly every poor business that was ever sold was sold to a man from a smaller town by the use of this story.

When the Hair Falls Out
swollen glands, aching muscles and bones, the disease is making rapid headway, and far worse symptoms will follow unless the blood is promptly and effectually cleansed of this violent destructive poison.

S. S. S. is the only safe and infallible cure for this disease. It cures the worst cases thoroughly and permanently.

My Condition Could Have Been No Worse.
In the fall of 1897 I contracted a disease which I tried to cure in three doctors, but did me no good; I was getting worse all the time; my hair came out, ulcers appeared in my throat and mouth, my body was almost covered with copper colored spots and offensive sores. I suffered severely from rheumatic pains in my shoulders and arms. My condition could have been no worse; only those afflicted as I was in the disorder, can appreciate how I almost lost all hope of ever being well again when I decided to try S. S. S. A little faith left in my mind, and I purchased the first bottle I noticed a change in my condition. It was truly encouraging, and I determined to give S. S. S. a thorough trial. From that time on the improvement was rapid. S. S. S. cured my disease, and I am completely well. The sores and ulcers healed and I was soon free from all signs of the disorder. I have been strong and healthy ever since.
