Those contemplating Halloween festivities should hasten to procure a copy of the designer for October, for in it are given novel and most entertaining suggestions for such affairs, quaint illustrations aiding the description. October brides-to-be are especially considered in this number, for it contains bridal toilettes, a summary of charming yet not extravagant trousseau, and Etiquette Hints on Bridal Affairs. "Points on Dressmaking" treats of the new sleeves for coats and jackets, and the fashion designs presented are chosen with marked reference to coming Autumn days. A short story of unusual interest by Charlotte Hall is entitled "A Daughter of the Sandown Sea," and is illustrated most artistically, as, too, is the bright little comedietta by William Lincoln Balch, which tells the story of "Gay's Engagements." "Faint Heart and Fair Lady," the Kentucky love story by Henry Cleveland Wood is continued in this issue, and a short story for children, "What Teacher Taught Tom," should be of service not only to parents with restless children of tender years, but to kindergarten teachers as well. "The Model Kitchen" pictures and describes many articles that are probably new to Designer housekeepers, and less practical but certainly most attractive are articles of an entirely different nature given under "Dainty Lace Adornments" and "Novelties in Crocheting." "Health and Beauty" continues the treatment of the arms and hands; "Notes on New Books" presents the newest comers in the literary arena; "Selections for the Recitationist" gives charming bits of verse for the juvenile orator or for older folk; while "Household Hints," "Nursery Lore" and "Cookery," are as valuable as they are appropriate to the season. Last, but by no means least, must be mentioned with much commendation the millinery styles for head covering.

EXCHANGE NOTES.

Pender Republic: The old Cobb farm lately owned by Bob Hammel, was sold last week to W. W. Mueller of Wayne county for $45 per acre. The sale was made by the Pender Real Estate Co., and the price received was very satisfactory indeed.

Candidates for office, whether nominated or defeated for the nomination must file with the county clerk, a statement of their expenses. In case of no expense the statement must be filed the same as though some expenses were attached to the effort to get the office.

Emerson Enterprise: Willie E. Sweeney will attend the Wayne Normal again for about a year and then he is planning to attend the state university. Miss Elsie Edgar is attending teacher's institute at Wayne this week. She will teach school again this year, near Carroll commencing next Monday.

Wisner Free Press: K. A. McEachen moved his family to Wayne Tuesday. He has bought a ranch near there on which he will move in the spring.

Dr. G. A. Neiman, wife, son Charley and daughter Edna drove from Wayne Thursday and took the train to Fremont to visit a son and from there will accompany their daughter Edna to Omaha where she will attend the Sacred Heart Academy.

Homestead: There always should be sufficient grass on meadows in the fall to protect the roots during the winter. To whatever extent the meadow is pastured in the spring to that extent is the yield shortened. A candle can be burned off both ends but it will be consumed all the quicker. Both sides of the meadow can be injured by spring and fall pasturing. Good judgment should be employed to indicate when, and to what extent the meadow should be pastured.

Ex: Under the new law passed by last legislature, it is made the duty of all land owners to cut or destroy all weeds in the highway along their property, and if this is not done between July 15 and August 15 it is made the duty of the road overseer to do it, the expense to be paid out of the county general fund and assessed against the property as a special tax. The price to be charged is $1.50 a day for a man, the same for a team and $1 a day for a mowing machine.

Hamilton County Register: A Nebraska man moved to Kansas a few short months since, and after trying the blistering weather of the sand and sun finally concluded he had had enough and gave it up as a bad job and left the following farewell written on the wall of his Kansas residence: "Four miles from a depot, six miles from a post office, twenty-five miles from a railroad, fourteen miles from a school house, forty-one miles from a church, bothered to death with reptilians and flies, half a mile from water and a quarter of a mile from h—l, God bless our home. Gone back to Gods country—Nebraska to get a fresh start."

Homestead: The objections to the use of corn fodder as a feed are that a great deal of it is wasted in feeding, the stubs not eaten accumulate and render it very difficult to haul out the manure where fodder has been fed, and so much hard work is required in hauling it. By the aid of improved machinery these objections have been largely overcome. It can be harvested by machinery, handled with a fork, prepared for feeding with shredders, the shredded product moved away and fed without much loss, all of which are helpful. Shredded fodder after the ear has been taken from it, is valuable, ton for ton, with good practice or timothy hay.

Tekamah Burtonian: A representative of the Burtonian was shown through the electric light plant at the mill last Saturday. Mr. Glasson, the proprietor wanted to have the plant in operation by next week, but he will be unable to do so, because the switch board has not arrived and when it does come it will take some time to get it properly connected, as it is a very intricate piece of mechanism. Mr. Glasson has a 40 horse power dynamo with a capacity of 1200 lights. He will start in with about 400 lights, but this number will be increased as winter draws near. Some of our people seem to look upon the electric light as an air ship theory for they want to see if it is a success before they contract for lights. They should have brains enough to know that electric lights now days are not theories but a certainty. Our business men should wake up and discard the old time lamps and get in the lead by having electric lights.

Census Enumerator, Clawson: Who is also editor of the Herald at Howe, I. T., writes: "To whom it may concern:—I was a sufferer from stomach trouble until I was induced to try a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and I want to say that in my opinion it has no equal as a stomach remedy. I had tried many different remedies, but none with the happy results of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin."

Fourteen noted writers were sent by the Cosmopolitan magazine to the Pan American exposition to study the most interesting features, with a view of preparing the most beautiful souvenir of the Exposition ever made, from both a literary and an artistic standpoint. To "Mr. Dooley" was committed the case of the Midway. Judge Bob Grant went from Boston to give a bird's-eye view of the Exposition in his own most delightful style. Albert Shaw and Nicholas Murray Butler studied the value of the Exposition, and its educational influence. Chas. Y. Turner, to whom was committed the color scheme of the Pan-American, explains the methods by which he has produced such marvelous results. Art Britaine, in his own incomparable way, takes the incubator Baby and Niagara Falls for his subject. Director General Johnson contributes a very interesting paper on the organization of the Exposition. Professor Pupin, Col. David Porter Hepp, Elta Wheeler Wilcox, I. Van Hart, Julian East, Horne and John Brisson Walker are among others who consider the various phases of the Exposition. Under the direction of the editors of the Cosmopolitan, 105 photographs were prepared showing every variety of architecture and every phase of life, not neglecting the Midway, at the Pan-American. These are engraved and printed in a manner never surpassed even in the Cosmopolitan's high standard of art. At Chicago thousands of copies of the World's Fair number were sold at one dollar a copy after the edition—the plates having been worn out—began to be exhausted, and a few copies at the price of five dollars something that has never happened in the history of any other periodical since printing was invented. The Cosmopolitan's Pan-American souvenir will be an even finer number than that of the Chicago fair. To those who have visited the Exposition it will recall vividly in days to come every feature they have seen and those who are unable to go there will secure such a comprehensive view of its main attractions as will be well worthy of preservation. It is doubtful if any book selling at forty times the price of the magazine will give any description of the Fair, which will approach in interest and artistic value the September Cosmopolitan. The Cosmopolitan already has the largest clientele of intelligent, thoughtful readers reached by any periodical, daily, weekly, or monthly, in the world, and it aims to enter a quarter of a million new homes this year. The edition of the Pan-American Exposition number is absolutely limited to 500,000 copies.

What We Don't Know.

We don't know why anyone that understands how we buy and sell clothing would think of buying elsewhere. We know that everyone desires the best clothing, and at the lowest price. We don't know that everyone understands our method of doing business, and for that reason we make a statement showing the difference in price you pay if you trade here and elsewhere.

If You Trade Here:	If You Trade Elsewhere:
1 Suit ..... $10.00	1 Suit ..... $12.50
1 Suit Underwear ..... 1.00	1 Suit Underwear ..... 1.25
1 Shirt ..... .65	1 Shirt ..... .75
1 Tie ..... .50	1 Tie ..... .65
1 Collar ..... .15	1 Collar ..... .20
1 Collar Button ..... .10	1 Collar Button ..... .15
1 Pair of Suspenders ..... .25	1 Pair of Suspenders ..... .35
1 Pair Socks ..... .15	1 Pair Socks ..... .20
1 Pair Shoes ..... 2.00	1 Pair Shoes ..... 2.50
1 Hat ..... 1.50	1 Hat ..... 2.00
$16.30	$20.00

The above outfit is such as is usually bought by the average buyer and why anyone should pay $20.55 for this outfit when you can buy it here for $16.30 is what we don't know. Someone may say: "I pay when I get ready, and for that reason have to pay more." Don't you think $4.25 is pretty high interest on $16.30 worth of goods? If you believe that any merchant will sell you goods at our price and let you pay when convenient, you are mistaken. Will you sell a horse as cheap on time as for cash? Will you sell hogs as cheap on time as for cash? Will you sell wheat on time the same as for cash? We know you won't. If we were to ask a farmer to sell us a load of wheat on a year's time without interest, at market price, he would laugh at us and ask us if we thought he was a fool. Don't be deceived when a merchant sells you clothing, telling you can pay for it when you feel like it. He is charging you $20.55 for $16.30 worth of clothing. "Yes," but says one, "I have to have some things when I haven't got the money." That is true and we are always willing to oblige any worthy customer. We will loan a hoe, an ax, a shovel, or even money to a neighbor, but not to one that says he will bring it back in a year or when convenient.

Our terms are cash. We accommodate customers that prefer to pay the first of each month. This favor will not be granted to those that do not settle before the tenth of each month. We don't know why anyone should pay more than we ask for clothing. Our terms are just, our clothing the best, our stock is up-to-date, our price the lowest.

Clerk..... Bert Brown
Treasurer..... W. M. C. Gue
Sheriff..... Grant Meare
Judge..... E. H. Hunter
Superintendent..... C. H. Bright
Surreyer..... Robt Jones
Coroner..... J. J. Williams

In speaking of the nomination of Judge Sedgwick for the Supreme bench, Bixby wants to know, 'where would you find a better man?'

Now that Bartley has been returned to prison to serve up to his time what are the fusion papers going to howl about? Howl because he was sent back?

Take off your coat and go to work for the whole republican ticket. If you will fill the offices with republicans this year it will put a 'quieter' on fusionism for years to come in this county.

It was the biggest republican state convention ever held in the state during a year in which only one Supreme Judge and two regents were to be nominated. It was an enthusiastic convention as well as a business one.

Judge Sedgwick ought to and will be elected by a large majority if the people of Nebraska desire to elect an honorable, able and conscientious man to the Supreme bench. He is the peer of any man in Nebraska and a man of the people.

'There never was a dog of any value but that there was also a lot of valueless curs ready to snap at his heels,' says the Statton Picket, 'and there never was a man of worth, who tried to make a living by industry and to build up a business by close attention thereto, that a lot of human curs did not stand ready to pull him to pieces if possible. No man ever achieves success without having to run just such a gauntlet. It is such as these that test a man's ability to rise and hold a place of credit among man.'

Work of the Convention.
Republicans of Nebraska have reason to feel highly gratified over the work of the state convention. The convention was not only the largest gathering that has ever convened to nominate candidates and formulate a declaration of principals for any party in this state, but its membership was fully representative of the rank and file. The convention was confronted at the outset with delicate problems of state policy, but it grappled with the main questions at issue earnestly and without flinching from the duty imposed by the extraordinary conditions. The all-absorbing subject of contention before the convention was the parole of the late state treasurer, Bartley. After a full and free discussion of all its phases the convention declared in favor of the vindication of the majesty of the law and its uncompromising opposition to the exercise of executive clemency to the man whose conduct had wrecked the treasury and brought disaster upon the party.

In its selection of candidates for supreme judge and university regents the choice of the convention has fallen upon men of high character and eminently qualified for the responsible positions to which they will doubtless be elected. Judge Sedgwick is a jurist who enjoys the fullest confidence and respect of the bar. His training as a lawyer, his experience on the district bench and his more recent service as member of the supreme court commission afford ample guaranty of his ability to discharge the function of justice of the supreme court.

Of the two candidates for regent, Mr. Gould is just completing his six years' term on the present board, on which he has taken high rank, and Mr. Ernest is known to be well equipped to serve as his associate.

And in all the work of the convention stands out in bold relief as marking the regeneration of the republican party in Nebraska and the elevation of the standard of political morals to a higher plane than it has ever before occupied.—Bee.

Favorite Sons.
Senator Dolliver, happening to be in Chicago on the day when the republican leaders of Illinois were in Springfield with Theodore Roosevelt, was moved to solitude lest the claims of Iowa's favorite son should be forgotten.
'Iowa,' he hastened to declare to the press, 'has a candidate in the person of Leslie M. Shaw, and my state is back of him solidly.' Then he proceeded to say various good and partly true things about Iowa's present executive.
On the same day some of Mark A. Hanna's fellow townsmen in Cleveland doubtless with a laudable desire to keep for Ohio the lion of the offices, formed a club to promote the Senator's alleged aspirations to the Presidency. An examination of the Indiana country press, moreover has disclosed for some time periodical appropriations of Senator Fairbanks. At the same time occasional echoes from New York have carried the name of Benjamin Odell to Western ears.

All these things are encouraging to the republican party. The number of gentlemen with presidential aspirations indicates general confidence in the party's success in the next national contest. To furnish a candidate for the Presidency is a worthy ambition for any state. But that is all there is to be said for a 'favorite son' movement.
Senator Fairbanks, for example, although he is regarded as in some sense the administration's heir, arouses no enthusiasm even in Indiana. No clamorous demand for Governor Odell is general, even in New York. Senator Dolliver's declaration for Governor Shaw was not elicited by expressions of anything more than esteem from Republicans outside of Iowa. Although Senator Hanna represents large commercial interests outside of Cleveland and Wall street, his aspirations are held to be doomed to disappointment.

Only one movement toward the selection of a Republican Presidential candidate for 1904 has passed beyond the 'favorite son' stage. Only one is of national scope. That is the Roosevelt movement, which from Illinois to Colorado and from the Dakotas to the Gulf, is being joined by Republicans of all classes, factions and shades of sentiment, and which alone, of all the Presidential movements, at this writing has in it the vitality to perpetuate itself through 1901.—Inter Ocean.

AN OPENING WEDGE.

The Democratic party has a number of smart men left, but what it is starving for is an issue, a plank on which to make a platform. Everything it had has gone to the bottom with Bryan. In this emergency any tip from outside is welcome and a tip arrived in good season, just in the nick of time, in fact.

This tip was the utterance of Mr. Babcock. Of course he protested his stalwart faith in Protection, but by proposing some kind of a tilt at a schedule or two he gave the engineer and hollow eyed democrats a hint. If the republicans were to open up on tariff matters among themselves there might be 'something doing' for the Democrats. At all events, the little opening was worth cultivating. The tip went round, and now every democratic paper is working at the opening to make it bigger. They are satisfied rearrange a few details; they are already in full cry for Free Trade, or 'Tariff for revenue only,' and the heavy bass of a convention here and there adds sonorously to the hullabaloo.

Verily Brother Babcock has stirred up a nice mess! One good thing about it is that the 'true inwardness' of the Democratic party has again come to fight, and another is that it is easy now to look ahead and see what kind of a time there will be in Congress, even though but a handful of republicans lead contumacious to any scheme of 'tariff tinkering'. The democrats will exhaust every device to spread the opening and help pass any measure that will tend to cripple and break down the splendid body of legislation which has been the means of putting our country where it is today.
Republican statesmen should stand firmly together to prevent any such movement from getting under way.—Economist.

As the Picket has previously remarked it is simply wonderful what Nebraska soil and climate can do for corn even under the most unfavorable conditions. Think of it: There has been less than an inch of rain over most of Statton county since July began, and in some parts less than half that amount. The temperature during nearly four weeks was awful. Corn wilted, the leaves rolled and tassels and silks were fried. And through all this corn has passed, not unharmed to be sure, but in surprisingly good condition. It is simply astonishing.
There is another section of the country anywhere that could show up as well under like conditions it has not yet been discovered, or if discovered it has not been reported.—Statton Picket.

An Excellent Show.

Pawnee Bill's Wild West Show pitched its tents on the east side Thursday, and all day the grounds were swarmed with eager spectators. Both afternoon and evening performances were largely attended and all were thoroughly pleased with the exhibition. All the different phases of frontier life were portrayed in a realistic and thrilling manner, and for an exhibition of its kind, it is the best that ever visited here. The daring riding and feats of horsemanship exhibited by bands of Indians, cowboys and Mexicans was of a high order, and filled the hearts of all with admiration. The booming throwing by the Australian bushmen was a novel feature and deserving of special commendation. In short, the entire performance from start to finish was excellent, and held the closest attention of the large audiences.—The Pittsburg, (Pa.) Dispatch.

DANGERS OF ANTHRAX.

This Contagious Disease Plays Havoc with Men as well as with the Livestock.

The recent outbreak of anthrax of charbon near Polatine, Ill., has directed wide attention to the disease, seeing that it proved not only fatal to cattle attacked, but at least to one man in attendance upon the bovine victims. Some particulars about the disease, will prove of interest to the readers, as there is quite a misunderstanding of the difference between anthrax and the more common disease of young cattle known as 'black leg.' In this department of the paper we have taken pains to impress upon the minds of stockmen the necessity of keeping cattle away from stagnant water in ponds or sloughs and even from running rivers or creeks. The importance of this precaution will be the better understood when it is stated that most cases of anthrax are found where cattle have been so exposed to the rodlike, microscopic organism to which the disease is due. The 'bacillus,' as it is called is found in such places. It either originates there or is brought there by water coming from a place where a dead anthrax animal has been cast. For the latter reason it should be made a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment for anyone to throw a dead animal into a stream or drinking place. In Iowa a bad outbreak of the disease was traced at once to a pond into which a dead anthrax had been cast and at which a large herd took drinking water daily. The disease properly called anthrax occurs in different forms. In some cases there are diffuse swellings seen about the head and neck and when pressed these swellings are found to be solid and do not contain gas. On cutting into them there is found a yellowish, jelly-like mass, more or less stained with blood. In other cases the animal dies almost immediately from a form of apoplexy and discharges, stained with blood, come away from the natural orifices of the body. The body bloats and decomposes at once. This form is not so common as the other. In a third form the disease is subcutaneous and the victim may live for five or seven days. In the form characteristic by external swellings the animal (less in from one to two days. In man, the disease usually takes the form of 'malignant pustule' or carbuncle, and is contracted through a wound or abrasure of the skin when a person skins an animal dead of anthrax. The disease may also be carried in the same form to man by insects and it is probable that flies are the means of spreading the disease to other animals when dead bodies are left to decompose in the open air. In this way anthrax may be spread to sheep and horses. Swine and dogs are largely immune from the disease. From what has been said, it will be seen that it is very important to destroy the carcass of an anthrax victim so that the disease may not be spread by this means. The best way to get rid of the carcass is to totally destroy it by fire, but if this cannot be done it should be buried deeply in quick lime. It is not enough to bury the carcass, for Darwin has shown that earth worms may bring the pores of the disease to the surface where they may be taken into the systems of cattle pasturing over the graves and again cause the disease. When an anthrax victim is opened the spleen is always found to be greatly enlarged and filled with virulent matter; the blood is dark and does not coagulate; the mucous membranes of the chest and abdominal cavities are covered with dark red spots, and blood stained discharges issue from the natural orifices of the body. When an animal is attacked with black-leg the disease is characterized by external swellings, which are found to be filled with gas, which makes the swellings give out a crackling sound when being handled. After death the spleen is found to be unchanged and the blood coagulates and turns red on exposure to the air. Blackleg does not attack others than young cattle. Cattle may be safely inoculated against blackleg and with some degree of success against anthrax. In case of an outbreak of anthrax, cattle should be changed to a fresh pasture away from stagnant water. Disinfectants (such as the tar product disinfectants advertised in this paper) should be freely used around the buildings and for washing the hands. Dead animals should be destroyed and not skinned. Cases should not be treated.—South St. Paul Daily Reporter.

Positive Proof.

The public wants positive proof, before they will place themselves in the hands of a specialist for treatment. Dr. J. C. Clark, the eye specialist of Sioux City, furnishes the positive proof in abundance. Here is another chapter of the long continued series: Mrs. J. R. Elliott, a very responsible lady of Wayne has had a great deal of eye trouble and through all her efforts for relief had found none until she consulted Dr. Clark. Mrs. Elliott says: 'I have worn the glasses prescribed by Dr. Clark constantly and have received great relief from them. My eyes have been getting better ever since I consulted Dr. Clark. They are much better than I expected they could possibly be in so short a time.' Dr. Clark, eye specialist will be in Wayne on Tuesday, September 17. Those wishing to avoid waiting will go early.

Market Reports.

Sept. 4, 1901.
From NYE & BUCHANAN CO.
Receipts of cattle were very liberal first two days of this week, but today lightened up considerable with only about 2000 on sale. Good dry lot, corn fed-beeves are scarce and a ready sale at steady to strong prices. Market is a little slow on half-fatted and short fed kinds that come in competition with the western range cattle. Cows and mixed stock is liberally liberal supply and demand very fair. Trading active at steady to strong prices. The trade in stockers and feeders is fairly good but anything with any flesh on it is sold to killers but feeder buyers are active competitors for anything with weight. Light and common kinds are a drag on the market. Western range beeves in good supply and market steady for anything good. Trade rather slow and shade lower on common and medium grades.
Receipts of hogs light. Today with 5000 on sale, market strong to five higher, grew big five higher but closed easy with trade dragging on last end. Range $5.90 to $6.40, bulk of sales $6.10 to $6.15. This carries the market to the highest point in years and about 15c higher than last Wednesday.
Sheep receipts liberal and market steady to a shade lower.

What if the democrats have nominated some old "war horses" as they call them? It is by no means a sign that they can walk off with the plums that fall when a competent man have been named as were chosen by the republican convention in this county. The Herald can truthfully state that the nominees are satisfactory to us personally, but if they were not we would support them just the same.

What if you haven't had things happen to your liking. Don't be carrying malice and a knife up your sleeve forever. If you do republicans might just as well turn the business of the county over to the democrats and be done with it. Things have happened that do not suit the Herald by any means, nevertheless we propose to take our medicine and whoop 'er up for victory.

Bert Brown, the present County Clerk, with an able assistant, has done the work of the county clerk's office in a highly creditable manner, in fact the office has never been better conducted. Fairstaking, courteous and obliging, he has done his duty well, therefore, his party owes him a second term in the office as every man deserves a second term if he does his duty. Phil Kohl, his opponent has been honored with two terms as county treasurer and neither the county nor his party owe him a thing. To ask for it is assuming a great deal at the hands of the citizens.

Consumption Threatened.
C. Unger, 212 Maple St., Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year, and I thought I had consumption. "I had a running sore on my leg for seven years," writes Mrs. Jas. Forest of Chippewa Falls, Wis., and spent hundreds of dollars in trying to get it healed. Two boxes of Banner Salve entirely cured it." Beware of substitutes. Raymond's.

The Republican need not worry about us trying to create discord. It can create enough of it without any assistance from the Herald. If it and its friends will try as hard to elect the whole republican ticket as the Herald will there will be none but republicans in the county offices next winter.

While attempting to get a team of horses out of the pasture yesterday morning D. A. Jones was kicked in the forehead by a horse, sustaining a fracture of the skull. Drs. Williams and Blair were summoned and upon their arrival found that the bone had been badly shattered, necessitating the removal of a piece of the skull, which was properly done, and last evening he had recovered consciousness, was entirely rational and talked of the accident. That he was not killed is a miracle, and his friends hope that his recovery will be rapid.

The ladies' aid society of the M. E. church met with Mrs. Newton yesterday afternoon and elected the following officers for the coming year: Mrs. Fortner, president; Mrs. Fife, vice-pres.; Mrs. Beebe, secretary; Mrs. Main, treasurer. In 1898 the aid society paid the balance of the indebtedness on the church lots, and since that time has earned nearly twelve hundred dollars, the receipts for the past year being $465.27. The ladies recently turned $1000 over to the building committee of the new church, and also $25 to the bell fund. The treasurer's report shows a balance of about $40 now on hand.

We did not favor Mr. Chace for Chairman of the County Central Committee; that was our privilege; the county convention did favor him; that was its privilege, and we bow to the dictates of the convention, and will do all in our power for the success of the whole republican ticket. Every man nominated is competent to fill the office for which he was chosen, and will receive our most hearty support. They are men qualified to take charge of the county affairs, and their party loyalty cannot be questioned. We want it distinctly understood that we stand by the action of our party convention and when that speaks it marks out a course that we cheerfully travel, and this fall is no exception. The ticket, from top to bottom, will receive our earnest support, and the County Central Committee our hearty co-operation in its efforts for the success of republican principles. This is, and will continue to be our position, no matter what attempt may be made to stir up strife and contention by the opposition.

RAYMOND'S DRUG STORE, Sole Agent.

Doctors not seldom give up a case, but a mother never does. While life lasts, while there is a spark of vitality which may fan into a flame, she toils untrudging for the child she brought into the world. And sometimes where the doctors fail the mother succeeds. She has no prejudices. Any means she will use which will save her child.

The mother's prescription given below is a case in point. Her daughter was given up by physicians as suffering from an incurable disease called "wasting of the digestive organs." The mother prescribed Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and "Favorite Prescription," and had the happiness of seeing her daughter recovered to perfect health.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a nerve-nourishing, flesh-forming medicine—making new blood and new life.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. It is a true temperance medicine.

"My sister (of Arlington, Washington Co., Neb.) was taken very sick and had several doctors. One of them, C. L. Harrison, of Elk City, Douglas Co., Neb., tried to do her any good, but no doctor could help her, that she could not get well. She had 'wasting of the digestive organs.' The mother said to my sister, 'Well, I almost know that Dr. Pierce's medicine will cure her.' So she bought six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription,' and some of the 'Felix' and now my sister is a well woman. We thank you for your medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

 Sometimes you can't tell self-composure from indifference.
 A man is always blind when in love, but an Atchison man seems to be deaf as well.
 Ulcers, open or obstinate sores, and piles quickly cured by Banner Salve, the most healing medicine in the world, Raymond's.
 Less should be said about the ridiculousness of calf love; it is dignified compared with that of people of twenty years older.
 A never failing cure for cuts, burns, scalds, ulcers, wounds and sores is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A most soothing remedy for all skin affections. Accept only the genuine. Orth.
 The improvement in respect to the servant-girl problem since Rev. Dr. Sheldon began to talk about it is not yet noticeable.

Pawnee Bill's Wild West.

Pawnee Bill and his gathering of hero horsemen from many climes are coming here with their splendid exhibition. All the stirring scenes will be enacted by genuine Indians, Cowboys, Cossacks, Mexicano Australian Bushmen, Arabs, Gauchos and natives from many lands. The detachments from the foreign armies together with a full battery of artillery will give a grand military review. Over a thousand men and horses are employed.
 Not the least of the strong attractions are the sharpshooting contests in which May Lillie, the champion woman shot, figures prominently. During the performance the spectators will see the strange accoutrements worn and carried by Kit Carson in '49.
 The show itself has so many good features that it is hard to particularize them. There is so much that is instructive and novel in the entertainment and so attractive that an afternoon or evening passed in the company of Pawnee Bill and his associates should prove alike agreeable to young and old.
 Major Gordon W. Lillie is better known the world over now as "Pawnee Bill." This sobriquet he earned by serving the government among the Pawnees and by having been chosen by that band of warriors and useful nation as its own white chief and interpreter.
 A new and added feature is the juvenile wild west for the children. Indian, Arabs, Cossacks and Western boys and girls participate.
 Coming Sept. 6.

CANCER

Sufferers from this horrible malady nearly always inherit it—not necessarily from the parents, but may be from some remote ancestor, for Cancer often runs through several generations. This deadly poison may lay dormant in the blood for years, or until you reach middle life, then the first little sore or ulcer makes its appearance on the swollen gland in the breast, or some other part of the body, gives the first warning.

To cure Cancer thoroughly and permanently all the poisonous virus must be eliminated from the blood—every vestige of it driven out. This S. S. does, and is the only medicine that can reach deep-seated, obstinate blood troubles like this. When all the poison has been forced out of the system the Cancer heals, and the disease never returns.

Cancer begins often in a small way, as the following letter from Mrs. Shirer shows:

A small pimple came on my jaw about an inch below the ear on the right side of my face. It gave me no pain or inconvenience, and I should have forgotten about it had it not begun to inflame and itch; it would bleed a little when scrubbed, but would not heal. This continued for some time, when my jaw began to swell, becoming very painful. The Cancer began to eat and spread, until it was as large as a half dollar when returned to S. S. S. and determined to give it a fair trial, and it was remarkable what a wonderful effect it had from the very beginning; the sore began to heal and after taking a few bottles disappeared entirely. This was two years ago; there are still no signs of the Cancer, and my general health continues good.—Mrs. R. SHIRER, La Plata, Mo.
