Local and Personal.

Frank Coyle returned to Sioux City Monday morning.

Mark Stringer, Jr., and wife were Sunday visitors at Winside.

J. T. Bressler and son returned from Hot Springs Saturday afternoon.

Will Mettlen was here from Omaha over Sunday to visit with relatives.

Wm. Piepenstok and wife were east bound passengers Monday morning.

A handsome new cement walk has been put in front of the Citizens bank.

H. E. Siman and Prof. C. H. Bright were here from Winfield Saturday afternoon.

Homer Skeen came over from Dakota City Saturday evening and remained over Sunday.

Dr. Lisonnier left Friday for a six week's visit in San Diego and other California points.

Pearl Reynolds and Reaa Olmsted, teachers at Emerson, spent Sunday with their parents here.

"Deacon" Whitney went to Hartington or some other place Friday afternoon to visit with relatives.

If Wayne had a good sewerage system it would head the list of cities of the second class in the state.

Today take Foley's Honey and Tar. It positively prevents pneumonia, or other serious results from colds. It may be too late tomorrow.

Senator Millard is making a strenuous effort to have a central west division headquarters for the free rural mail delivery service established at Omaha.

John Worth, who visited the latter part of last week with his sons Herb and Charles, who reside east and southwest of Wayne returned to Le-Marville, Iowa, Tuesday.

Don't wait until you become chronically constipated but take DeWitt's Little Early Risers now and then. They will keep your liver and bowels in good order. Easy to take. Safe pills. Orth.

Penfold Republic: R. Karo drove over to Wayne Sunday and from there went to Norfolk. He returned from the latter place Monday morning. He saw the burning of the asylum which was about half destroyed when his train left Norfolk.

The work of laying the foundation for the new brick building of O. D. Franks was begun Monday after several days delay owing to the rainy weather. Mr. Franks expects to be able to occupy the building by the 15th of November, as work on the structures will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Homestead: To some men a ton of hay is a ton of hay. There is a vast difference between a ton of hay and a ton of dried grass. One ton of bright, well cured hay, out at the proper season, is easily worth two tons of over-ripe, storm-spoiled stuff sometimes called hay. In order to get the most good out of the latter the owner should provide his stock with leather "spokes" and tangle his stuff, "This is hay," to fool them.

A short while ago the Cosmopolitan published an article by a well known writer under the nom de plume of Rufford Pyke on "What Women Like in Men," which created wide interest, not only in America but also in England. The Review of Reviews of London, said that the article showed "rare sympathy, rarer penetration and rare knowledge of woman's nature. In the Cosmopolitan for October the same author discusses with brilliance and keenness "What Men Like in Women." There are few in all the world who would not care to possess the passports to a man's or a woman's affection, and it is doubtful if truer words were ever written about a problem which has occupied the world from the earliest days of which there is any record than those of this pointed little essay.

Jas. Stephens of Carroll, was in the city on business Saturday.

Ed Powell of Wakefield, visited at the home of W. H. McNeal Sunday.

Nels Grimmsley and W. W. Wright went to Duluth on Thursday afternoon.

Will Rickabaugh came down from Bloomfield Friday to remain here for some time.

Geo. Rowher and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine bouncing baby girl that arrived at their home on Friday, Sept. 27.

A few Modern Woodmen from Wayne visited the Altoona lodge, ten miles south of Wayne Saturday night and assisted in degree work.

Otto Kahl and brother Ernest were in Wayne Thursday. The former is employed in a general store at Winfield, while the latter left Friday morning for St. Louis to enter a school of pharmacy.

Stop coughing, as it irritates the lungs and gives them no chance to heal. Foley's Honey and Tar cures without causing a strain in throwing off the phlegm like common cough expectorants. Raymond's.

Laurel Advocate: Ben Roblken, wife and three children and Mrs. Fred Beckman and son drove to Wayne last Saturday to visit friends. From there they drove to Wisner, Cumming county, arriving home Tuesday evening.

Pender Times: Miss Mary Meyer of Wayne, who visited several days with D. Nutzhorn's family left for her home Monday afternoon, but at Emerson, by mistake, got on the Pender train and returned to this place until the next morning when she returned to her home.

The post office department has notified Senator Millard that the report of Special Agent Llewellyn recommending the establishment of Rural Free Delivery from the Wayne post office will receive favorable action. Notice will be given 60 or 90 days before the service is to be established.

Many physicians are now prescribing Kodol Dyspepsia Cure regularly having found that it is the best prescription they can write because it is the one preparation which contains the elements necessary to digest not only some kinds of food, but all kind and it therefore cures indigestion and dyspepsia no matter what the cause. Orth.

Homestead: I never met a lot of children on the way to school but what I feel that I would like to be a school boy again. I would be willing to accept the ills and pains incident to boyhood. A stone bruise on the foot would be a pleasant feeling in comparison to a pang caused by a multitude of things which come to the man with a family.

A local merchant who handled a great deal of butter, informs the HERALD that a great many of his best and cleanest butter makers spill their butter by placing a dry cloth over it. He has observed that some scrupulously clean people fill a crook with fresh sweet butter, they go to the onpboard and get a clean cotton cloth and place over it, and when the butter goes to town it will have the smell and taste of newly washed clothes. He suggests that the lady rinse the cloth and lay it on the butter wet, the trouble would be overcome. This tip costs nothing and is worth a trial.

Columbus Times: A prominent gentleman in this city has neighbors, a family that is in a deplorable condition, the mother dead and the four or five children coming along almost any way. One of the younger members of group has a decided fancy for climbing trees in the neighborhood and has received quite a few serious falls, so when the little four-year-old tot of our friend was saying his prayer the other night his mother was horrified to hear the following clause injected into it: "Oh God take care of the Blank family. Tommy climbs the trees, and O God see that he doesn't fall and break his cussed neck." It is needless to say that the prayer came to a very abrupt ending.

So far as we can learn there have been no serious disturbances of the rural mail boxes in our county, and for the good of all there had better not be. A chap in Jones county, says an exchange had a spite against a neighbor. He took a club one night and smashed the neighbor's mail box—an act that showed him to be a coward as well as a knave. He is now in custody of Postoffice Inspector Stewart and the penitentiary gates are getting ready to swing open for him. It may take a few cases of this kind to teach the lesson, but people will find that it is not safe to tamper with the rural mail boxes. Your Uncle Samuel, kind hearted, good natured and all that, but he won't stand any "monkey work" with property under his special care. The person who injures a rural mail box doesn't spite the owner of the box, but he does get himself in spunk register of his uncle. This spanking will be administered, too even though it take years to find the culprit and costs a mint of money. Your uncle has a long memory, a long purse, and a strong hand. You had better watch out.

W. M. GUE FOR CO-TREASURER.

W. M. Gue, the republican nominee for County Treasurer, was born in Inland, Cedar county, Iowa, Nov. 18, 1859. He finished his school days in the New York State Normal School at Oswego, N. Y., and, after spending several years in assisting his father, J. H. Gue, to conduct the affairs of his stock farm near Omaha, he entered railroad work and was telegraph operator and station agent in Colorado, Ohio and Nebraska.

He came to Wayne county, Nebr., in 1887 and was station agent at Wayne for more than two years, leaving the railroad work to open a bank at Winfield in 1889 in which town he has resided ever since, thus having been a citizen of our county for almost 15 years. Since Sept., 1893 the subject of this sketch has been in business for himself.

Mr. Gue is thoroughly conversant with the conduct of business affairs, having had experience of many years, in caring for the books of railway companies, various commercial concerns and a banking house, as well as in looking after the interests of many eastern parties who have entrusted large properties to his management.

He evidenced his faith in the future of Wayne county by purchasing real estate here almost as soon as he entered the county, and has invested all he could save of his earnings, since that time, in farms and town property, near his home in Winfield. By industry and frugality he has collected sufficient of this world's goods, so that he is financially responsible in every particular and able and willing to meet all of his obligations.

Mr. Gue has never, before this fall, entered politics except to take a deep interest in the affairs of our State and Nation and has always been known as a staunch republican.

He comes before the citizens of our county as one of their number in whom they know him to recognize an honest, able man well fitted, both in business ability and inborn integrity for the duties of the office he aspires to fill, and the HERALD hopes that the republican party in Wayne county will do its duty this fall by electing him.

Every church choir furnishes an example of the sublime patience of the people.

Mrs. E. K. Williams returned home Saturday after a few days visit with relatives at Carroll.

Ten general agents wanted right away. Salary and commission. No capital required; work not hard; good pay, and expenses advanced. Write for our offer to H. J. Boyd, rooms 50-51 Douglas block, Omaha, Neb.

Wisner Chronicle: The High School boys held a special meeting on Tuesday evening for the purpose of organizing a base ball team. Charles McElroy was chosen manager and Fred West captain. The boys have already received a challenge from the Wayne High School boys and possibly we will have a good game in the near future.

Geo. W. Lane, Pawamo, Mich., writes "Your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the best remedy for indigestion and stomach trouble that I ever used. For years I suffered from dyspepsia, at times compelling me to stay in bed and causing me untold agony. I am completely cured by Kodol Dyspepsia cure. In recommending it to others who suffer from indigestion, I always offer to pay for it if it fails. Thus far I have never failed." Orth.

Wausa Herald: We never yet knew a boy who did not have a sort of sneaking hope that some day he would find a big pile of money, and some of them are so hopeful that they are constantly looking for it. The men, whom, we all know are constantly trying to get something for nothing are so far abnormal that they have not out grown their boyishness. You will find them betting on other men's games of all kinds, bucking the board of trade, etc.—trying to get something without working for it. The result is always the same—they are losers in the long run. It is their business if they lose, as a matter of course, but that does not change the result. A dollar isn't worth much unless you work for it.

Philosophers tell us that there is nothing new under the sun, but philosophers are mistaken as usual. An Omaha young man has found out how to have a right good time on a four dollar-a-week salary. The aforesaid young man took his best girl out walking last Sunday. In the course of their perambulation they passed a lively stable. The dear girl remarked, "What a nice day for a ride." The young man was up against a hard proposition—he had but a single dollar and the horse and buggy cost $1.50. He was a brave boy though, and faced the situation like a man. He said to the young lady, "My darling girl, the price is $1.50, and I have only got a dollar, so the ride is impossible." She replied, "I don't see that way, I don't intend to be a deadhead in this enterprise—here is my share of the common stock," and she handed him half a dollar—the rig was rented—he drove with one hand and she relieved the other by carrying the whip. They had a delightful ride and the young man is saving up another dollar for next Sunday.—Ex.

THE M. E. LADIES BAZAAR

The Bazaar at the Opera house Saturday under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society and Epworth League of the M. E. church, was a decided success in every particular despite the threatening weather during the forenoon.

There were five handsome booths and a memory table presided over by President Mrs. Geo. Fortner and Mesdames D. C. Main, J. R. Elliott, J. M. Cherry, C. S. Beebe, G. W. Crossland, J. M. Pile and Miss Luay Buffington. All the booths were filled with articles for sale and everything was disposed of before the close of the day. The ladies are to be congratulated on being so successful.

The reception committee, Mesdames C. O. Fisher, G. W. Terwilliger, F. W. Burdick and W. H. McNeal were kept busy receiving the large number of people arriving at the noon hour and during the entire afternoon. Mesdames R. Craven, R. Frazier, S. B. Scoce and J. W. Mason had supervision of serving meals, assisted by a number of young ladies, and an excellent dinner and supper was served to a large number of hungry people.

The total receipts of the Bazaar amounted to about $160.00.

Senator Millard, who is rapidly establishing a reputation for accomplishing practical results for his constituents, but whose career of public usefulness has not yet fairly begun, is making an effort to secure for Nebraska a government station for experiments in soil culture. That valuable results would come from this is a certainty. It has come to be known that tilling the soil in any old way will not successfully grow dollar spuds and 50-cent corn in a droothy season. Therefore such scientific investigation as will disclose the best means of producing high-priced crops in times of stress is bound to prove a sweet boon to the agrarian and, indirectly, to the urban population. For instance, a certain farmer near Fremont failed to finish plowing on a certain Saturday evening for the last time a field of corn. Before Monday came it had grown so he would not do the work. That strip was a belt of almost barren waste. One plowing was the difference between a fair crop and no crop. Experiments of like nature carried on at government expense would prove an inestimable value. Senator Millard, other statesmen after a similar enterprise and that he may succeed in the ardent wish of those who know he is pushing a Good Thing.—Fremont Tribune.

There are a very few people who can appreciate genius in a person younger than themselves, though they recognize it in those who are older.

There is considerable discussion pro and con concerning the rebuilding of the asylum at Norfolk, and there was talk of removing the asylum to Lincoln, but there is little danger of it. Such an act would bring forth the bitterest condemnation from the north part of the state. It should remain where it is, under the circumstances.

The following funeral ode to William McKinley, entitled "The Man," is from the pen of John G. Nelhardt, a former Wayne boy and appeared in the Omaha News Sunday:

With the dull resonance of muffled drums,
He comes!
The tramp of grief-timed feet, the cannon bark!
Are these saluting to the hungry Dark
That puts to day its right hand from the mist?
If so, desist!
It is the form that passes, not the man
Today shall pass the tyranny of flesh
That held its mesh
Such life as chafes at selfish limit lines.
Behold! the spirit pine
For new existence that cannot grow cold.
Behold!
The sleeper wakened
He rears himself in ecstacy and shakes
From his bowed head the chill of doom and death.
A deeper breath!
A Stranger life leaps brilliant from its birth;
He speaks! thrills the earth.
Nor with slow funeral pomp it comes,
Nor with dull drums.
But with a guiding utterance like song,
It comes! It comes!
The Morning breaks Night's temporary ban,
And lo! The MAN!

GREW UP IN A NIGHT

LAWTON NOW A BUSTLING CITY OF THOUSANDS.

The Wonderful Town on the Plains of Oklahoma Probably Has No Parallel in the History of the United States.

There is nothing in the history of the country that will compare with the wonderful city of Lawton (named in honor of the brave American general who was killed in the Philippines) that a few weeks ago sprang into existence overnight on the plains of Oklahoma.

When the site of Lawton was first selected a ranchman who thought he knew the country pretty well shook his head and prophesied that the town never would amount to anything.

The most exaggerated business condition of the new town is the fact that six hundred houses have been built in less than a month.

The next largest development is the banking business. Prominent among these is the First National Bank, which opened in a tent Aug. 6.

CRY DOWN THE RED FLAG.

Sentiments Against Anarchy Expressed at Chicago Memorial Meeting.

Fifteen thousand persons crowded the great Coliseum Sunday night to witness the closing of Chicago's memorial services in honor of the late President.

The most impressive feature of the program was the singing of the late President's favorite hymn, "The American Flag."

COMMERCIAL FINANCIAL

Now that the last sad act in the national tragedy is finished the future is anticipated with greater confidence than business interests felt when they were turning the depressing activities of the closing occurrence at Buffalo.

There is nothing in the history of the country that will compare with the wonderful city of Lawton (named in honor of the brave American general who was killed in the Philippines) that a few weeks ago sprang into existence overnight on the plains of Oklahoma.

The unfortunate condition of the corn crop this year was brought forth before the country again by severe frosts, which injured the yield a little more.

Wholesale and retail business has been helped by the early cold weather.

SEE FACE OF LINCOLN.

Casket is Opened for the Last Time at Springfield.

Abraham Lincoln's casket was opened Thursday and the face of the great emancipator was seen for the last time before the body was finally laid to rest beneath the Lincoln monument in Oak Ridge cemetery near Springfield.

The identification of the remains was positive. The features are said to have been extremely pallid, and it is said that this condition was due to a fever that had crept over the face.

The shirt front was well preserved, as was also the black silk stock that Lincoln wore about his neck.

The casket, surrounded by an iron cage, is now imbedded in and made a part of a solid concrete block eight by eight feet and thirteen feet long.

Are You Independent?

If you are independent and can trade where you please, this store will certainly interest you. Some people are tied to the store they have been trading with and have no use for any other store, no matter if they can save 20 per cent on their purchases. They say: "I have traded ever since I came to Wayne county at the same store. I like the people that run that store, and as long as I can find what I want I will trade there." Well, this advertisement is not intended for anyone who is not independent and dare not leave a store because they trust him for what he wants. If we had gold dollars for ninety cents such people would not dare to come here and get any. If you are independent and can trade where you please we can interest you in the clothing line and can convince you that we can save you money on clothing. We know that no store is like the old store as far as feeling at home, but you will soon feel at home here and you will be surprised at the amount of stock you have to select from and if you like to save money you will be pleased to trade here. If you have been buying clothing at a store where they sell everything and have a few suits piled up in the corner to sell on long time you will be surprised if you will look at our line, for we not only sell much cheaper but sell better clothing. If you are independent and care to save money on your clothing make this store a visit. See what we can do for you. We don't claim to have the only clothing in Wayne fit to wear but where we beat other stores is in the price, and better goods for the same price. If you want the best at the lowest price this is the place to look. Remember we sell everything men and boys wear. Our shoe department contains only such shoes as our experience has proven to give satisfaction. Our styles are the latest. Be independent and investigate this store. It will cost you nothing to see our goods. It will afford us great pleasure to show you and you can save money trading here. Why not try it?

During the evening light refreshments were served. Those present were Misses Philleo, Britton, Cook, Weber, Mrs. Main, Messrs Ivory, French, Fisher, Criss, Miller, Hoite.

At the commissioners convention held at Hoskins last Saturday Frank Francis of Garfield, was placed in nomination for county commissioner after several ballots had been taken for Aug. Ziemer, E. C. Brooks, John Prince and J. H. Porter. Mr. Francis is one of Wayne county's successful farmers and will make an ideal commissioner.

The state Federation of Women's clubs will hold its annual meeting in Wayne next week and representatives from nearly all of the women's clubs in the state will be in attendance. That the ladies will meet with a hearty welcome there is no doubt and while here will be pleasantly entertained. Wayne greatly appreciates having been chosen as the place for holding the meeting and will so endeavor to show its appreciation that when her guests return to their homes they will have a warm place in their hearts for our beautiful city and her people. Wayne extends a cordial welcome to the State Federation.

We find in looking over the business changes beginning with the first of the month that D. King Horn has his piano parlors nearly ready for occupancy, and that he is putting in some of the finest goods that have ever been brought to the city, both in pianos and organs. There is no doubt judging from the number of sales he has made during the past year, that he is a practical music man and has the ability that is necessary to handle an exclusive music house. His parlors are located over Olmsted's hardware store and although he is not quite ready yet for public inspection, he has just sold a fine Harvard piano to G. W. Allbee, an organ to Mr. McGinty and one to Dr. Cadwell.

Harry Beebe is here from Stanton. Wilbur & Berry have purchased the business of F. A. Dea-born here.

Last week M. S. Davies sold Mark Stringer a beautiful Chickering Bros. piano.

The eight months old child of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Lindsay died Monday morning. The sympathy of friends and neighbors is extended to the stricken parents. The funeral was held at the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon attended by a large concourse of people.

Last Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Liveringhouse were given a hearty and pleasant surprise that they will long remember. They had packed all of their household furniture preparatory to moving to their home here from their farm south of Wayne and everything was torn up, but nevertheless about 75 of their friends and neighbors, including many from Wiener arrived at the home in the evening and it proved to be a most delightful affair as all brought well filled baskets. The ladies of the the Royal Highlanders presented Mrs. Liveringhouse with a handsome sewing basket and the Royal Neighbors presented Mr. Liveringhouse with a fine watch charm. When the guests took their departure they extended their best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Liveringhouse, wishing them happiness in their new home.

Mesdames O. D. Franks, Jas. Porterfield and Wm. Vincent delightfully entertained a large number of their lady friends at a calico party at the home of Mrs. Franks last Thursday evening. The house was beautifully decorated with roses and ferns. Handsome bouquets decorated each table and a large punch bowl was decorated with asparagus and sweet elystrum. Mrs. Thomas Fritts won the prize cake for the worst costume and Mrs. H. Ley the prize for the prettiest. A pretty four course lunch was served, covers being laid for: Mesdames A. T. Witter, J. Larison, Davis, Corbit, Walt Weber, Ellis, Anderson, Theobald, Clark, Wheeler, Cheney and E. R. Chace, F. Philleo, Armstrong, Will Larison, C. HIS DEAR LITTLE GIRL

What was that Terence Dawney had always called her ever since she was a baby? "My dear little girl." He was in Ireland now with his regiment, but he wrote very regularly to his dear little girl, and though there was no question of any formal engagement between them, he had assured her that their understanding was as sacred a bond to him as any public betrothal, and of course she believed him, for she was young and she loved him.
She was thinking of him as she walked down the path to meet the postman. This was her letter day, and Irish letters always came by the midday mail to the Devonshire village where she lived within sight and sound of the moaning sea.

"The plucker that goes often to the well is broken at last." There's a world of wisdom in that familiar proverb, and a sound application of it to disease, especially to such familiar forms of disease as cough and cold. Singularly enough the very thing that ought to cause alarm is given as excuse for a feeling of safety. "It's nothing; only a cough. I've had it before." The fact that a cough returns periodically should be warning enough to take it in time, for the most serious and disastrous of all maladies begins with a cough.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery not only stops the cough but cures the cause. It cures obstinate, deep-seated coughs, bronchitis, weak lungs, hemorrhage, the diseases which if neglected or unskillfully treated find a fatal termination in consumption.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is no other medicine just as good for weak lungs.

"I've seen it," writes Mr. Mollie Jacobs of Felton, Kent Co., Delaware, "and my family doctor said I had consumption. I thought I must die soon for I felt so bad. I had a bad cough, spit blood, was very short of breath, in fact could hardly get my breath at all some times. I had pain in my chest and tight lung, also had dyspepsia. Before I took your Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Laxative I was so weak I could not sweep a room, and now I can do a small washing, worked in the yard, and am a new person. I believe that the Lord and your medicine have saved my life. I was sick over two years. I took thirteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four vials of Dr. Pierce's Laxative."

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Campaign in Nebraska.

During the five weeks that will elapse between now and election day the people of Nebraska will have an opportunity to determine for themselves whether the welfare of the state and their individual prosperity would be best promoted by an endorsement of the pollies and candidates of the republican party or those of the so-called fusion reformers. While local candidates and local issues will necessarily absorb most attention, the state ticket and the principles for which it stands cannot be lost sight of even in an off year.

Conceding that the candidates presented on both opposing tickets are competent to discharge the duties appertaining to the offices to which they aspire, other considerations should impel the great majority of the people to give the preference to the nominees of the republican party.

As one of the most progressive states in the union, Nebraska is naturally attached to the party of progress which brought it into the union and with which it has been identified during the best period of its development.

The brilliant victory achieved in the presidential campaign has given Nebraska front place in the galaxy of republican states and as a matter of state pride the people of Nebraska should maintain that prestige. By remaining in the republican column Nebraska will be in a position to demand more liberal recognition at the hands of the republican administration and greater concessions in legislative measures that will assist in the development of the resources of the state.

Last, but not least, every citizen who shares the property brought about by republican pollies can exhibit a grateful appreciation of existing conditions no better than by expressing approval through the ballot box in voting for Judge S. H. Sedgwick and the two republican candidates for university regents.—Bee.

Without His Accomplices.

The collapse of Czolgosz upon his last appearance in court was evident to all beholders. When asked if he had any reason to advance why sentence should not be passed upon him he could give none. He lacked even the strength to excuse his crime. He showed only the trapped animal's fear of death.

This man, who but a few weeks ago had nerved himself to a hideous crime, who had had the will to perform it and had gathered the resolution to face certain death for it, thus suddenly became a creature utterly incapable of concentrated thought or deed. And why? Simply because he was at last alone—without sympathy, support, or encouragement.

The highly respectable citizens who had told him from the platform and in the newspapers for nearly three years that William McKinley was a "czar," an "emperor," an "oppressor," a "tyrant" a "butcherer" had fled from him in terror.

The moral reformers who had described to him the President of the United States as a "William of Jolo, with his anteens, slaves and wines and concubines," had hushed their chatter and stolen away into hiding.

The degenerate journalists who had assured him that he was a down-trodden slave, and that William McKinley was but the dirty tool of his cruel masters had scurried from his view and clothed themselves in silence.

They all were gone—those who had drawn the pictures to fire his fanaticism, those who had uttered the denunciations to dispel his terror, those who had piled the lash of hate to rouse his determination—they all were gone and he was left alone—alone and as he was before they touched him and misled him.

And so, in his isolation, he became his natural self again—a creature too weak, too craven to speak or strike. Without others to support or encourage him, his real character was plain. He stood before all the world as the feeblest of men.

The assassin goes to his death alone and the others remain to be remembered. And when he dies they are still to be remembered, not only for what they have done, but also for what they are.—Inter Ocean.

The assassin of President McKinley declared that the president was a tyrant. But is it any wonder, when that idea was spread far and near by papers filled with rantings about imperialism. Was it not such work that caused the assassination?

Wayne County Schools.

Interesting Facts Shown by the Annual Report of the County Superintendent to the State Department of Public Instruction.

The annual report of the county superintendent for the year ending July 8, 1901, shows that there was on hand at the close of the previous year $7,588.34. The total receipts from all different sources was $46,726.90. Of this amount $37,705.42 was drawn from the county treasury; $5,799.00 received from the sale of school bonds; $149.95 from tuition; $2,100.00 from local fines and licenses; making a total of $54,315.24 to pay the running expenses of the schools.

EXPENDED HOW?
The report shows that $4,801.05 was paid as wages to male teachers; $12,896.08 as wages to female teachers, making a total of $17,697.73 paid out in salaries to teachers. In the erection of three new school houses during the year and for the purchase of school house sites there was expended $8,767.43; and for repairs $2,085.41 was paid out. Fuel cost $2,267.42 and in the purchase of reference books, maps and charts $508.52 was spent. New text books cost $1,098.40, and new furniture cost $1,030.11; while for incidentals there was expended $3,898.66. The total running expenses of the schools was $47,453.08, leaving a total of $6,862.10 in the hands of the district treasurers.

A COMPARISON.
It might be interesting to note that $9,225.79 more was expended for the year ending July, 1901, than for the year closing July, 1900, and $11,650.04 more than for the year ending July, 1899. This increase in expenses in 1901 over 1899 and 1900 is mostly accounted for, in that, in 1900 two new school houses were built in the county while in 1901 three new school houses were erected; yet the encouraging item is that $1,463.43 more was paid in salary to teachers for the year closing July, 1901, than for the year closing, 1900.

BONDS AND DEBTS.

The report shows fifteen districts have outstanding bonds in the amount of $14,700.00. The report of a year ago showed but ten districts with a bonded indebtedness of $8,400.00. The report also shows twelve other districts having other debts aggregating $644.08, making a total district indebtedness of $15,344.08.

VALUE OF DISTRICT PROPERTY.

The value of the schoolhouses in the county as reported is $85,150. Value of schoolhouse sites $9,065.00. Value of text books $4,725.00. Value of maps, charts and other apparatus $3,620.00. Value of other district property $3,955.00. Value of all district property $74,415.00.

CENSUS

The number of children in the county between five and twenty-one years of age is 1882 males and 1884 females, a total of 3766, an increase of but 32 over the census of a year ago. There are 719 males and 808 females, a total of 1427 children in the county between the ages of 8 and 14.

Wayne school district gained 7 in school population this year, over the census of last year and now has 830. Winslow with 171 has gained 16. Hoskins with 79 shows a loss of 18 and Carroll with 93 shows a loss of 7.

Wayne county's school population really increased 49 but 17 pupils were transferred to a nearer school and thus were enumerated in another county.

The school census however shows a decrease of 93 in the number of males of school age and an increase of 125 in the number of females; a decrease of nearly 5 per cent in males and an increase of over 7 per cent in females. In Wayne there are 370 boys and 400 girls of school age; in Winslow 70 boys and 95 girls; in Carroll 48 boys and 43 girls; in Hoskins 40 boys and 79 girls. There was but little change in the census of the country districts, while the combined census of the four towns show a loss of 2; the combined census of the country districts show a gain of 61 or about 2 per cent. Last year's report showed there to be 625 boys and 650 girls of school age in the towns; this year report shows 534 boys and 680 girls. In the country districts last year's reports showed 1360 boys and 1207 girls of school age; this year report shows 1348 boys and 1245 girls.

ENROLLMENT.

The report shows that 1451 males and 1419 girls were enrolled in the schools of the county during the past year, making a total of 2870. Of this number the four towns furnished 406 males and 485 females and the country districts 1045 males and 934 females, a total of 1979. Thus it can readily be determined that over 76 per cent of the boys and girls of school age in the county a year ago were enrolled in the schools during the year. Another item of interest is found in the fact that while in the town schools 70 more females were enrolled than males, in the country 111 more males were enrolled than females. But it remains for the average attendance to tell the story.

ATTENDANCE.

The average daily attendance in the county was 1709 of which number 885 were males and 824 females. This shows that out of the enrollment but 57 per cent of the males were in school every day and but slightly over 55 per cent of the females were in school every day. There were but 21 more pupils enrolled in the schools of the county over the number the previous year, yet the average daily attendance was 36 greater than in 1900 and 209 greater than in 1899.

TEACHERS.
While but 93 teachers are required in the county, owing to the fact that many of the teachers were not regularly employed, there were 12 male teachers and 93 female teachers who taught in the county during the year. The male teachers earned in salaries during the year $5,811.05 and the female teachers earned $21,100.07.

The average number of months of school for the county was 7 months and the average teachers' wages was, for males $41.86, for females $35.65. This is an increase of $1.74 per month in the average wages paid males and an increase of $1.91 in the average wages paid females.

GENERAL STATISTICS.
There are 80 school districts in Wayne county, an increase of one district over a year ago. While the average number of months school was open last year was 7 months the number of months voted for the year just commencing averaged 8 months and 8 days to the district.

All but four districts in the county have complied with the law requiring district boards to furnish all text books necessary; last year there were ten districts, showing that six more districts have complied with the law during the year.

There were 17 districts last year which held nine months school; this year there will be 28. Last year 44 schools held open 8 months; this year there will be 44. Last year 5 schools held open 7 months; this year there will be 6. Last year 14 schools held 6 months or less; this year there will be 2.

CONCLUSION.

As a whole the report is very gratifying and shows many encouraging features.

The increase in teachers' wages over 34 per cent in the amount paid over that of last year does not come without a demand that better services be rendered on the part of the teachers. There seems to be a revival of interest on the part of the school boards and patrons over the county and a general demand for improvement of the school work; and proof for this assertion is shown in the average increase of the length of the term of one month and eight days to the school.

There was but one school in the county last year paying as low as $25.00 per month; this year none are known. The best wages, contrary to the general opinion, are paid in the districts where the patrons are mostly German. No factor of our population have a more abiding faith in our public schools than have the Germans.

It is of no less importance that a small school be provided with a strong teacher, one well prepared for the work, than one having a large enrollment.

Our schools have been rightly termed the safeguard of our institutions. They are the preparatory garden of our future citizens. Hence every child is entitled to equal opportunities to secure an education such as may be properly provided in our public schools. Equal opportunities must competent teachers, necessary text books and a well kept schoolroom. The spirit of cooperation is nowhere more essential than where the best interests of our schools are concerned. Ever let the proper spirit be manifest. Let not political and personal differences divide us. Nothing comes so near to the home as the school. It is in the home and the school where the elements of manhood and womanhood are inculcated in the youth.

The proper spirit, the true American spirit, must dominate our every act in dealing with the interests of our public schools. The public schools are the "Rock of Ages" of the American Republic. It is there where childhood listens to the beautiful story of our nation's past, and come to have an abiding faith in its perpetuity.

The Best Qualities, The Lowest Prices Always..

Times Change.

Fashions change—with a tailor always—with the ready-made clothing man if he sold his last stock. A man can be perfectly sure of entire clothing satisfaction only. There are no men alive. In one there is a little defect here—in another it is in an entirely different place. Tailor made clothing is the cheapest in every way man can figure. Style, satisfaction, finish and elegance all combined by

Holtz, the Tailor.
