The costless man puts a careless arm around the waist of a hatless girl, as over the dustless and mudless roads in a horseless carriage they whirl. Like a leadless bullet from a hammerless gun by smokeless powder driven, they fly to taste the speechless joy by endless union given. Though the only lunch his coinless purse affords to them the means, is a tasteless meal of boneless cod with a "side" of stringless beans; he puffs a tobaccoless cigarette and laughs a mirthless laugh, when papa tries to coax her back by wireless telegraph. - Ex.

There is no use of a farmer doing any harder work than will bring about the results desired. Labor is a necessity. There is room for excellent tillage. This can be done with labor of body or mind, or both. We all want a living and a competence for sickness and old age. Labor conducted within reasonable bounds is a pleasure to the laborer. We are so constituted that we must have seasons of activity and and repose—regular exercise and regular rest. It is a mistake to think the idle are always happy. How hard a farmer should or must work depends on his farm, family, circumstances and the standard of living he has mapped out for himself.—Homestead.

Stockmen in Nebraska are beginning to know how important it is to have an acquaintance with the best methods of rendering stock immune against diseases to which cattle and swine in our state are peculiarly liable. The importance of a knowledge of the anatomy and physiology of farm animals is also making itself felt. Losses amounting to thousands of dollars are frequently met with because of not having such knowledge as mentioned above. The cost of attending the Universities School of Agriculture, which began last Monday, is less than one hundred dollars per year. The subjects named above are thoroughly taught. Stockmen would do well to have their sons attend. Students will be admitted for two weeks after the opening day.

The bane of the renting system is the one year renter, the man who skips from place to place, and from farm to farm skimming the cream off of land and leaving a legacy of weeds in his wake. A farm to do its best should be worked as no one-year man can afford to work it. The one-year renter knows this as well as anybody, but his tenure is such that he can ill afford to do them. For the best results the farm should be rented for a series of years. Then the owner should make certain requirements and stock should be kept by the tenant.—Iowa Homestead.

It has been estimated that the annual loss to the United States from insect ravages amounts to between three and four millions of dollars. When it becomes known that not a single crop which is grown upon the farm escapes the attacks of insect pests it will be apparent that an essential part of an agricultural education should be a training in elementary entomology, and that of course in the subject named above should be planned to give such knowledge as will enable those who take it to combat successfully the ravages of insect pests. Are there not many young men in Nebraska who desire to do some work in entomology? The University of Nebraska School of Agriculture which is now in session offers some excellent work in the study of insects.

W. W. Latta is going to sink a two inch hole 500 feet or more on his ranch southwest of town for the purpose of satisfying himself as to what formation may be under the surface. In 1856, or thereabouts, while Robert Carr owned a homestead in there, he sunk a well 60 feet deep. From this well they took many pieces of coal, which were burned in their stove. At 60 feet they struck a large vein of water which filled the well to within 10 feet of the top but it could never be used. The color became black and the taste so strong of coal that nothing would drink it. For years Mr. Latta has contemplated prospecting at this place but never until now has a good opportunity offered. Geo. Sutherland of Blair is now on the ground with a drilling machine and will soon have the hole made.—Tekamah Journal.

Stanton Ploket: What might have proven a serious accident from poisoning from eating factory canned fruit occurred here last Monday. That was time for meeting of the Stanton Sorosis and that club met with Mrs. Nathan Obaso. Before the adjournment a beautiful luncheon was served, including canned peaches and a salad which contained canned pine-apple. Shortly after going to their homes the ladies nearly all became ill, some of them violently so, the effect plainly indicating poison. Every physician in town found himself beset with emergency calls, and for two or three hours had all they could well attend to. Fortunately none of the cases terminated more seriously than to make the ladies severely ill for a time and alarm their friends. The cause of the trouble lies between the peaches and pine-apple. A majority of opinion places the blame upon the peaches. The ladies are certainly to be congratulated that the effects did not result even more seriously.

When will fusion meet again?

The populist party is now somewhat of a thing of the past. Fusion did it.

The man who can get mad and not say anything to be sorry for is a peach. He deserves a front seat.

Nebraska is as strongly republican as any other state, although its population is not quite so large.

The football teams of the University of Nebraska and Kansas played a game at Lincoln, Saturday in which the Nebraska team were victorious by a score of 35 to 5.

The leaders of the populists declare they should never have been any fusion with democrats and the democrats say the same thing and it is now mutually agreed to play quits. It has been unhealthy.

The crime of 1901 has been perpetrated by Spain in its decision to suspend the free coinage of silver. Probably Mexico will be the next criminal. More tears are in order in the office of the Commissioner.—St. Louis Journal.

Down in Omaha the democrats worked the non-partisan racket in the election of members of the school board. Since then the Jacksonian clubbed guests celebrated the event as a glorious democratic victory. Wouldn't that frost you?

The Sioux City Journal says "It may be pleasant on occasion to talk about a fearless press or a fearless pulpit. But there are limitations everywhere. Two men together are braver than one man alone. The best hope of all things good is in the ability of men to get together."

Tim Sedgwick says, if you expect to find perfection in the world you will be disappointed, but if you look in the right place, you will find some mighty good people and a good many of them." Of course, the latter does not include newspaper men, for along about election time they are said to be about the meanest men on earth, on one side or the other.

The York Times correctly asserts that some people always have pain in their stomach on election day. They are the hottest kind of hot partisans three hundred and sixty-four days in the year. Nobody is quite as good a partisan, quite as ardent, quite as loyal as they, but when the time of all times to test the quality of their loyalty arrives there is always some reason why they cannot vote the ticket."

Miss Helen Gould has consented to act as president of the board of lady managers of the St. Louis Exposition, which proves either that she is a very courageous young woman or a careless observer of events. The board of lady managers of an exposition is the storm center of the enterprise. It would drive a man to drink and any other than a level-headed woman to the lunatic asylum. Miss Gould is level-headed, however, and maybe she will be able to pull the affair off without bloodshed.—Harrisburg (Pa) Standard.

The energy and earnestness with which the local press of the state rushed to the support of the republican ticket accounts in a very large measure for the republican victory. When the country papers are united and in earnest they are by far the greatest power in the state. The revival of republican sentiment and the rescue of the state from fusion is due almost entirely to this influence. Take the files of the metropolitan papers and see how much they did editorially for republicanism in this important campaign.—York Times.

The republican party has its woes in Nebraska, especially in connection with the state treasurers' offices. Why, the good lord only knows. It seems the greed of men to make money overpowers their sense of right and in a few short hours their integrity for which they stood so high is wrecked almost beyond repair. The purchase of the Burt county bonds by an agent of Treasurer Stuffer recently, who afterward sold them to the state for a premium of $3,000, if as given out by prominent citizens of Tekamah, is but a transaction that merits the severest condemnation. Why do men of such excellent reputation thus risk their all?

Treasurer Stuffer positively denies having had anything to do with the transaction in question.

Stockmen in Nebraska are beginning to know how important it is to have a acquaintance with the best methods of rendering stock immune against diseases to which cattle and swine in our state are peculiarly liable. The importance of a knowledge of the anatomy and physiology of farm animals is also making itself felt. Stockmen would do well to have their sons attend. Students will be admitted for two weeks after the opening day.

UNCLE SAM, RECORD BREAKER.

In both fiscal and calendar years, 1901, Uncle Sam is found not only breaking every other nation's record, but breaking his own all along the line. In fact, it is getting quite monotonous, yet it is the kind of monotony we can endure. It may be instructive as well as interesting to note a few instances of the splendid attainments of the United States in this first year of the new century.

For the first time during a twelve-month we have passed the $1,500,000,000 line in exports, beating also the British figures. This will probably be high water mark for some time to come, as values are declining.

The year 1901 will be the greatest year American agriculture has ever known, in spite of many short crops. The wheat crop, both in quantity and value will surpass any previous record as will the amount exported, which is expected to reach 800,000,000 bushels out of a total crop of 750,000,000 bushels, valued at $473,000,000.

Cows, cattle, hogs and sheep have reared their highest value, and in the aggregate, their largest number.

The greatest fax crop in our history has been secured, the acreage being nearly treble that of 1896.

The tobacco crop exceeds all records, and the out put of cigars is over 6,375,000,000.

Our rapidly growing beet sugar industry has made a great advance, and the United States sugar product this year will exceed all previous outputs. In manufacturing, in spite of a slight apparent falling off in exports, we are beating all former outputs. The pig iron out put, all structural material, cars, boots, and shoes, clothing, silk, paper, oils, street products, and in fact, in almost every industry the figures for 1901 will exceed those of any previous year.

In mining the figures for 1901 will also beat all records; in iron ore, coal, copper and other metals, though totals cannot be known yet for some time.

Railroading also is having a record breaking year. In passengers and freight carried, in tonnage, in number of employees and in wages paid every former record is broken.

Bank clearings are breaking the record all over the country, showing that we are doing more business than ever before, not only in every community, but in the country as a whole.

Our national treasury was never before in such good condition. The gold in the treasury on October 31, 1901, $542,923,849, was the highest in the history of the country, while the circulation per capita, $28.50, was also the highest. Our credit is the highest on earth. We are buying bonds, lending money all over Europe, and piling up a larger surplus than ever, in spite of reduced taxation. Never before in our history was so large a percentage of our children attending school. Never before did our wage earners receive such high wages individually or collectively. Never before were the necessities and comforts such conveniences and luxuries of life so moderate in price compared with income, and never before were the people of the United States so blessed in every material way as they are in this year of our Lord 1901.—American Economist.

CAUSE OF THE FEUD.

A Fuss Between Jim, Joe and Bud Started It.

"As kindly as I kin remember," said the Kentucky mountaineer when asked what was the beginning of a certain feud of long standing, "Jim Sharpless had a dawg, Joe Parker had a dawg, and Bud Taylor had a jug of whiskey. Joe got the dawg and the dawg and the jug got mixed up together I disremember, but 'long comes Jim and Joe and Bud and begins a fuss, and two of 'em gets killed, and stays that time everybody has his smooth at everybody else whenever he had a chance. Maybe that dawg bit the dawg, or the dawg broke the jug, or the men was onery and ached for a fuss, but I reckon it don't make no difference. Bin 22 of 'em killed and 10 hurt, and it's still going on, and if you'll jest ride round that turn by the hill it's likely you'll find a Sharpless wintin for a Parker or a Parker lyn low for a Taylor, and you'll get a bullet into yo' fur meddlin with other folks' business." M. QUAD.

General Scheme All Wrong.

"Come and take your bath now," Ticklowell like a good little boy," urged the nurse. "You know I wouldn't tell you to do it if it wasn't necessary." "You touch now, Williams," said the little Boston boy, still hanging back, "upon one of the inscrutable mysteries. I do not object to these frequent bathings in themselves considered, but I do resent the evident necessity for them. It shows there is something inherently wrong in the constitution of things."—Chicago Tribune.

Foreboding.

"We are drifting toward a very dangerous condition in our political affairs," said the summer boarder. "Yes," said Farmer Corntassel. "I've noticed it for some time. If all the men have to quit work to argue about the best way to get the government straightened out, I don't know what's going to happen to the crops and the chores."—Washington Star.

Difference in Taste.

Wife—Mr. Black has no more taste in the matter of dress than a giraffe. Husband—Why do you say that? Wife—Because his wife had on the most beautiful gown last night, and when I admired it he said he thought it was dreadful. Husband—But my dear, he had to pay $500 for it.—Detroit Free Press.

A Cool Student.

A rather curious method of burglar catching was resorted to by an ingenious midservant recently in New York. As The Electrical Review tells the story, while in pursuit of her household duties the maid noticed a man's foot inside the clothes closet. She did not scream, neither did she jump at the door nor shut it with a bang. Instead she took a broom and began to sweep that corner of the room near the closet. Her approach was gradual, and the sweeping was done so naturally that it would not have aroused the most suspicious burglar. At last the broom brushed the door gently, but hard enough to close it to the fraction of an inch. With five or six more gentle sweeps that closet door was shut and almost latched, which she at length succeeded in doing by gently pressing her arm against it.

Novel Use For His Fodder.

"I have heard of some strange and curious expedients that have been used to clear the tracks in cases of railroad wrecks," said a well known railroad official recently, "but the methods used on a small railroad not far from Baltimore a few years ago, which did not turn out the house owner, who in his turn called the police headquarters. From there the car was sent to the police station nearest the house, and two policemen were sent around and got the wau.

WHY THE BOILER BURSTS.

Scientific Explanation of the Phenomena of the Kitchen. When you hear the kitchen boiler cracking, there is no cause for alarm. There is a prevailing impression that the cracking is produced by steam and that there is therefore an increased pressure on the boiler at such times. But this is an error. If the boiler is in good condition, with the water turned on as usual so that the boiler is kept filled, the only pressure that it is subjected to is the same as that in the water pipes, from which of course there never is the slightest danger. And this is true no matter how hot the water in the boiler may be. The reason is very simple. As long as the boiler is kept full of water there is no room for steam. If you open the hot water cock, the water pours out, and steam rises from it, because it then has a chance to escape into the air. In other words, evaporation takes place. But as the hot water pours out water from the pipes rushes in to take its place, and thus the boiler is kept full.

QUEER OPTICAL ILLUSION.

An Interesting Experiment With a Pencil and a Wire Screen. Professor R. W. Wood recently discovered a rather startling optical illusion which any one may see with a little practice. A lead pencil is held point up on a inch or two in front of a wire screen with a sky background. If the eyes are converged upon the pencil point, the wire gauze becomes somewhat blurred and, of course, doubled. As the gauze has a regularly recurring pattern, however, the two images can be united and, with a little effort, can be accommodated for distinct vision of the combined images of the mesh. As soon as accommodation is secured the mesh becomes perfectly sharp and appears to be nearly in the plane of the pencil point.

QUEER OPTICAL ILLUSION.

If now the pencil is moved away from the eyes, which are to be kept fixed on the screen, it apparently passes, through the mesh and becomes doubled. If now the pencil is removed entirely, it will be found that the sharp images of the combined images of the gauze persist, although the eyes be moved nearer to or farther away from the screen. Now bring the eyes up to within six or eight inches of the plane in which the mesh appears to be and attempt to touch it with the finger. It is not there. The finger falls upon empty space, the screen being in reality a couple of inches farther off.

QUEER OPTICAL ILLUSION.

"This," says Professor Wood, "is by all means the queerest illusion I have ever discovered, for we apparently see something occupying a perfectly definite position in space before our eyes, and yet if we attempt to put our finger on it we find that there is nothing there."—Exchange.

QUEER OPTICAL ILLUSION.

Probably very few persons who frequently use the expression "As mad as a hatter" have any idea as to what it means or why a hatter is necessarily any more subject to fits of anger than a plumber, a blacksmith or a carpenter. The expression is said to have come into use half a century ago, when the manufacture of hats was done wholly by hand. The most striking thing about the process was that of the beating up of the felt. The latter first dipped the mass of wool and hair frequently into hot water; then, seizing a stick in each hand, he belabored the mass most vigorously, stopping now and then to get his breath, until the material was matted together in a rough sort of felt. The lively beating administered to the felt, as if the workman were actually inflamed, gave rise to the familiar simile.

An Unpleasant Contest. "They had a lively boxing match at Splinter's the other night." "How was that?" "Splinter came home late, and as he passed through the hall his wife's tallest palm touched him on the cheek. Splinter was in an excited condition and thought it was somebody's fingers. So he struck out wildly with both fists and succeeded in knocking over two palms and severely bumping his own head."

QUEER OPTICAL ILLUSION.

"But why do you call it a boxing match?" "Because Splinter put up his knuckles against his wife's palms."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

QUEER OPTICAL ILLUSION.

An Interesting Experiment With a Pencil and a Wire Screen.

Professor R. W. Wood recently discovered a rather startling optical illusion which any one may see with a little practice. A lead pencil is held point up on a inch or two in front of a wire screen with a sky background. If the eyes are converged upon the pencil point, the wire gauze becomes somewhat blurred and, of course, doubled. As the gauze has a regularly recurring pattern, however, the two images can be united and, with a little effort, can be accommodated for distinct vision of the combined images of the mesh. As soon as accommodation is secured the mesh becomes perfectly sharp and appears to be nearly in the plane of the pencil point.

QUEER OPTICAL ILLUSION.</

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

A recent decision of the supreme court affirms the decision of the Knox county district court in its refusal to grant a permanent injunction to restrain the moving of the Knox county seat from Niobrara to Center, and the officials must move their offices and effects to go to jail. The new county seat is 12 miles from any town and the officials will be compelled to move in a few weeks. A temporary court house will probably be built and the town will grow up around it. The new county seat will be in the exact geographical center of the county. The citizens of Verdigris propose to have the seat within eight miles of their town, due east, by opening and grading a new road, putting in bridges, etc.

West Point Democrat: Joe Drahus, our genial harness maker, in his love for curious and strange pets, had quite a thrilling experience this week. Albert Wobig caught an animal in one of those large wire net traps and knowing Joe to be versed in animal lore took it to him to find out what it was. Joe, thinking he knew a prize when he saw it, begged Mr. Wobig to let him have it to place in his show window. And now he is sorry that he spoke. After playing the animal in the window some of the boys got to teasing it, which caused it to make known to what family of the animal kingdom it belonged. Joe is now busy fuming at his place of business and can not tell a skunk a mile off. Experience is a very good teacher but sometimes very unpleasant.

Another sale has taken place at this time one of Wayne's most highly esteemed and reliable firms, after eighteen years in business in the city have sold out their business. It is the firm of Chace & Neely, hardware. Their successors are the Craven Bros., Charles and Harry, who will take possession January 1, 1902. The old firm, which has been one of the most popular institutions in the city, have, owing to their courtesy and fair dealing, built up a most valuable business. Mr. Chace, we understand, will retire from active business life, while Mr. Neely will probably move westward and engage in the same business though he has a host of friends here who will regret to learn that he has so decided. The new firm are young men who are highly respected and well known to the community, and their success is assured in the beginning. Harry Craven has for some time been a clerk for the old firm, and is recognized for his efficiency and excellent qualifications and has won a host of friends during the two years he has been in the business. Charles Craven needs no introduction. His friends are legion and for many years he has been one of the most active of Wayne's citizens, always pushing for the advancement of our city in every way.

Market Reports.

Nov. 20, 1901.

Receipts of cattle tolerably liberal, about 15,000 for three days. Corn fed cattle are coming in a little heavier right along, but mostly from Iowa. Good to choice hogs scarce, demand active at steady prices. Half fat and short fed steers are a drug on the market, being slow sellers at uneven prices. Cows and mixed stock in fair supply, market steady active to strong all around. Trade in stockers and feeders active and shade stronger on desirable grades. Medium weight and common grades slow and dragging. Hog receipts are very light. Nebraska's hog crop appears to be short and packers have to pay good prices to get hogs here, the bulk of the receipts coming from Iowa, and our market is the highest on the river and right up to Chicago. Today with 12,000 on sale market is 10 cents higher, except on light weight hogs. Range $5.50 to $5.80 but $5.70 to $5.75. Average today 15c higher than a week ago and prospects look favorable for balance of the week. Sheep receipts heavy, market slow but about steady.

ARE YOU DEAF? ANY HEAD NOISES? DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE

by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable. HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY. F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Baltimore, Md., March 30, 1901. I have been cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment. I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to sting, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely. I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the deafness would not be cured, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement, suddenly I was in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After this I used it only a few days according to your directions, the noise ceased, and today, after five weeks, my hearing in the affected ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain very truly yours, F. A. WERMAN, 725 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation. Examination and advice free. YOU CAN CURE YOURSELF AT HOME. INTERNATIONAL AURAL CLINIC, 596 LA SALLE AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.

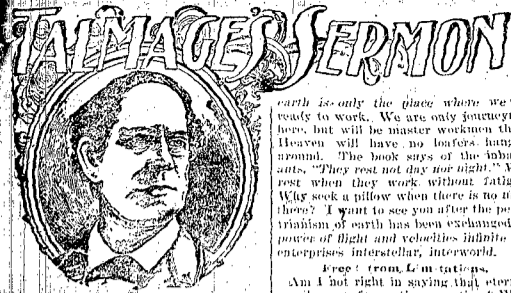

Strong Again.

The woman who knows the full value of health is the woman who has lost it and regained it; the woman who from being weak and sickly is once again made a strong woman. Hat a million weak and sickly women have been made strong and well by the aid of Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." It cures the ills which weaken women, it regulates the periods, dries encumbering drains, heals inflammation and restores the appetite and induces refreshing sleep.

"I had female trouble about seven years," writes Mrs. L. J. Dennis of 828 East College Street, Jackson, Mo. "I was so weak and nervous that I could not do any work, and I was so bad I would lie from day to day and could not get up. I suffered from internal inflammation, a disagreeable odor, hearing-down pain, and such distress every month, but now I never have a pain—do all my own work and am a strong and healthy woman."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets with "Favorite Prescription" if the bowels are inactive or irregular.

TALMAGE'S SERMON

earth is only the place where we get ready to work. We are only journeymen here, but will be master workmen there.

Free from limitations. Am I not right in saying that eternity will be more for us than this? What will we be able to do when our lovers of locomotion shall be quickened into the immortal spirit's speed?

Now, let me introduce this riding into the lives of some who are at times hopeless. There is a family whose son has gone wrong. Father and mother have about given him up, he seems so headstrong, so ungovernable, so dissipated, and the old folks do not have the strength of moral precipitation.

Hope, on and though you may never hear of your son's reformation and others may think he has left this life for ever, who knows but that in the last moment, after he has ceased to speak and before his soul launches away, your prayer may have been answered and he be one of the first to meet you at the shining gate.

Take the Hand of Hope. But if you will not take the hand of Hope for earthly governance, let me point you to the perfect body you are to have if you love and serve the Lord.

Assurances of Heaven. They have full assurance that all is plain with the soul. They are as sure of heaven as if they had passed the pearly portals of the gate, as though they were already seated in the temple of God.

God's Instruments. Those pessimists do not realize that two inventions of our times are going to make it possible under God to bring this world into salvable and millennial condition within a few years.

God's Instruments. Those pessimists do not realize that two inventions of our times are going to make it possible under God to bring this world into salvable and millennial condition within a few years.

service of God and righteousness, as they will. I refer to the telegraph and the telephone. If you think that God allowed these two inventions to be made merely to get rapid information concerning the price of railroad stocks or to call up a friend and make with him a business engagement, you have a very abbreviated idea of what can be done and will be done with those two instruments.

Let Hope say to the foreboding: Do all you can with Bible and spelling book and philosophic apparatus, but toil with the sunlight in your faces or your efforts will be a failure.

Let us have the angel of Hope to those who have through densest loss Christian friends. "How could I find thee, O thou bereft soul, 'mid there in the land of the multitudes?" You may find them by inquiry, by heavenly escort and by un-fading memory of the guard at the gate.

Angel of Hope in Near. Open that closed instrument of music in your parlor that has not been played on since the hand of the departed player forgot its tuning.

From this world cultivated life. Do so by realizing all the sermons promises of this world's coming civilization, and doing if you dare the verities of the Almighty when he says he will make the desert roses, and the leopard and the kid will lie down in the same pasture field, and the lion, ceasing to be carnivorous, will become gregarious, eating "straw like an ox."

Take the Hand of Hope. I cannot take the diagnosis of your disorder, but let hope cheer you with one of two thoughts. Such marvels are being wrought in our day through medication and surgery that your jaundiced may yet be restored.

Take the Hand of Hope. A Divine Ideal.—Let us look the world in the face, for we have been chosen to be successors to the Son of Man, and we have a divine ideal of citizenship to uphold.

Change of Character.—There is no final cure for vice except a change of character in the whole people. The administration of the city is not only the protector, but the patron of vice.

LOW YIELD OF CORN.

OFFICIAL ESTIMATES SHOW THE SMALLEST AVERAGE.

Field for Entire Country in Only 16.4 Bushels Per Acre as Compared to 25.3 Bushels an Acre in 1900—Lower than Lowest Previous Record.

The preliminary estimate of the average yield per acre of corn, as published in the monthly report of Statistics, Bureau of the Department of Agriculture, is 16.4 bushels as compared with an average yield of 25.3 bushels per acre in 1900 and 1899, 19.3 bushels in 1894, and a ten-year average of 24.4 bushels.

The indicated yield in bushels per acre in the seven principal States is as follows: Ohio, 20.1; Indiana, 19.8; Illinois, 21.4; Iowa, 25; Missouri, 10.1; Kansas, 7.8; Nebraska, 14.1.

The low yield per acre—16.4 bushels—evidently allows for the loss by abandonment of area. Taking the government area of 82,821,000 acres, the crop is estimated at 1,358,000,000 bushels, or 131,000,000 bushels more than the October figures indicated.

Finest Lot of Cattle Ever Imported. At the Chicago Union stock yards on Friday the finest herd of cattle ever imported into the United States was sold.

100,000 bushels from a year ago. The yield in detail is estimated as follows: Ohio, 28,277,000; Indiana, 14,000,000; Illinois, 15,000,000; Missouri, 14,000,000; Kansas, 14,000,000; Nebraska, 14,000,000; Iowa, 14,000,000.

CONFESSES TO FRAUD.

Charles N. Rathbun, Supposed to Be Dead, is Arrested.

The arrest of Charles Newell Rathbun at Louisville opens the way to the exposure of a plot to defraud the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and may result in Rathbun's indictment for murder.

Then the police discovered that the corpse was not that of Rathbun, but of W. L. Ten Eyck, a tramp, and that there were evidences of lundinium poisoning.

Then the question arose touching the way Ten Eyck, the tramp, had died. Rathbun insists that Ten Eyck died of acute alcoholism. He says that he put his coat with the letters T. E. on Ten Eyck, and that he thought the substitution of Ten Eyck's body would get him money.

MRS. IDA L. ROSEB

Grand-Niece of Ex-President James K. Polk Writes to Mrs. Pinkham Saying:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been married for nearly two years, and so far have not been blessed with a child. I have, however, suffered with a combination of female troubles and painful menstruation, until very recently."

"The value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was called to my attention by an intimate friend, whose life had simply been a torture with inflammation and ulceration of the bowels of your Compound cured her; she can hardly believe it herself to-day, she enjoys such blessed health I took four bottles of your Compound and consider myself entirely cured. I am now in fine health and spirits. My former medical attendances seem easy now, for I feel so strong I can do three times what I used to do. You have a host of friends in Denver and among the best of them are your friends and admirers, DAVID ROSEB, 1015 A St., Denver, Colo.—$6000 for life insurance is not enough if you are ill. Don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Free."

With a Loud "Yes." "It is marriage a failure." For the benefit of the husbands who ask such an asinine question, permit me to say YES. Marriage is a failure in each and every instance where the offspring of that marriage exhibits his or her asinine by asking such a fool question. Marriage is always a failure when a jackass is born in the family.—Kulcherbocker and His Island.

The Limit. Maud—Where did Mae go to school? Mabel—I don't know. Some unfashionable place, anyway. Maud—Why, how do you know? Mabel—Just look at her writing! She puts as many as seven or eight words on one sheet of paper. No first-class piece would permit more than four.

An Uncertain Quantity. "I saw you go home with a watermelon under your arm this noon. How much did you get?" "I don't know yet. The doctor is still at the hospital." "The oldest reliable outfit on earth is that of San Marino Italy. Its independence dates from 1848." "Don't be afraid to think again if you have thought twice."

Head Work Gathers. Mrs. Fitz-Ivory thought that she had solved the great ravening question when she employed a bright, young Norwegian girl. In attempting to acquaint the girl with her new duties, however, she was surprised at her ignorance. Finally, in despair, she asked: "What can you do?" "The few of the new-found treasure brightened and she replied: "I can milk a cow."

Nebraska and The World's Fair. St. Louis Mo., Nov. 17.

Secretary Reeves of the joint committee on Legislation and State and Territorial Exhibits, has received a letter from Mr. G. W. Wattle's, president of the Union National Bank, Omaha Neb., who is uniting in his efforts to promote Nebraska's participation in the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

Mr. Wattle's recently had an interview with Gov. Savage, on this matter, and in view of the fact that the late legislature made no appropriation, and the next session will not meet until Jan. 1901, the governor at his suggestion, agreed to appoint a Commission for the state to serve without pay until an appropriation can be made by the legislature.

He will make up this commission from among the most prominent and influential men of the state, with a view of having them provide the necessary funds for the preliminary work incidental to representation of the state at the exposition.

This Commission will probably be appointed in a few days. Mr. Wattle's believes that he voices the earnest desire of Nebraskans in the declaration that nothing should be left undone to the end that their state may be properly represented by an exhibit of her vast resources at this vast Exposition.
