Of course Schley is all right and it is less than a pennyworth of trouble to put a barbed wire fence up San Juan Hill?

The Norfolk News is making decidedly interesting reading for Governor Savage these days.

Iowa has always done the right thing by the republican party and has always been sound on every question of national importance.

Richard Croker, the great Tammany hall leader of New York city, has succumbed. In other words, he has retired in favor of Levi Nixon.

The Fremont Tribune suggests the name of Hon. W. D. Holbrook for Lieutenant Governor.

The people at large will await anxiously to hear from President Roosevelt who is going to examine the proceedings in the Schley investigation.

Judge J. B. Barnes of Norfolk, who is recognized as one of the ablest lawyers in Northeast Nebraska.

Down in Dodge county there is war among the republicans so to speak. There are two factions which have become known as the "Schneider faction" and the "Richard faction."

The selection of Judge J. B. Barnes to fill the place on the supreme court commission made vacant by the promotion of Judge Sedgwick.

A $10 Gold Piece for a $5 Bill!

We have never heard of anyone offering to sell a ten-dollar gold piece for five dollars. Why? Because everyone knows the value of a ten-dollar gold piece. But we hear every day of a ten-dollar suit for sale at five dollars. At this season of the year many merchants advertise to sell winter goods at half price. The reason for this is that most customers cannot tell the value of merchandise and some merchants believe that if they will mark up their goods and then sell at half price they can sell some goods that would otherwise remain in their store. We believe it good business to clean up and sell out at as nearly as possible all winter goods, but we do not believe it good business policy to deceive anyone about the former price. We will not use deception to sell goods. Our price is marked on every article and that price is the exact value. If we advertise a discount sale you get the discount, for you get the goods for just that much less than the article was worth early in the season. If you buy here you are always safe. We are now offering 25 per cent. off on Ulster Overcoats, Fur Coats, Boys' Overcoats, and Fur Caps. There is yet lots of time to wear these goods. If you care to save 25 per cent. you can do so if you trade here.

Staley Underwear.

Our line of Staley underwear is always complete. We have all sizes up to size 50. This is the best time to put on a new suit of Staley. It will cure rheumatism. About seven hundred men in Wayne county are wearing Staley underwear. All recommend it. Wear it and keep well. All doctors recommend it.

DIED.
McMANIGAL—At his home in this city Monday morning, Jan. 13, 1922, Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McManigal, died after a several weeks struggle with typhoid fever, aged 32 years. The death of Mr. McManigal is a very sad one. For more than a year some member of the family had been afflicted with the dread disease, two children having succumbed to it while the mother and remaining four children have suffered with it, and the baby is now ill. Deceased had undergone great trials and the sympathy of the entire community is extended to the stricken wife and children who are left to mourn his untimely departure. The funeral was held from the Catholic church yesterday morning at ten o'clock, presided over by Father Weber. A very large crowd was present at the services and a procession several blocks in length followed the remains to the cemetery where the closing services were held under the direction of the Modern Woodmen of America, of which deceased was a member and in which he had a policy of $3000 in favor of his wife.
Fred Rasmussen, one of Wayne county's highly respected farmer citizens, died very suddenly at his home in Senna precinct last week Monday of heart failure. Men had just completed corn shelling and left the place when Mr. Rasmussen who was cleaning up around where the shelling had been in progress, was stricken and fell, death being almost instantaneous. Deceased, who was in his fifth eighth year, leaves a wife and six children to mourn his untimely death. The funeral was held the following Wednesday and the remains buried in the Wayne cemetery. A large concourse of friends and neighbors accompanied the remains to the grave.

JACOBS—
Ida M. Simpson was born at Lowell, Massachusetts, October 30, 1856, and resided in that vicinity until the year 1887 when she was united in marriage with Albert M. Jacobs at Boston, coming west with her husband the same year, the latter having been out here two years previous, and settling in this county in the same home occupied by them at the time of death, which occurred at 5:45 Monday morning. Deceased had been suffering from pneumonia for several days and although every human power was exercised and the best of medical skill procured all was of no avail and death finally triumphed at the hour above named.
Mrs. Jacobs was a very highly esteemed and respected lady, a loving and dutiful wife, and a lady whose friends were numbered by the circle of her acquaintance. She was a devout christian and a member of the Old South Congregational church of Boston. Her death is mourned by the entire community and the sympathy of hosts of friends is with the grief stricken husband in his sad hour of bereavement.
The funeral was held at the Presbyterian church this afternoon at 2:30, the services being conducted by Rev. Welden, after which the remains were laid in their last resting place in the cemetery at this place.
J. F. Alexander, formerly of this city, died at his home near Concord on Sunday after several days illness. The funeral was held in this city Tuesday at the Methodist church under the auspices of the G. A. R. Post, of which deceased was an honored member.
