LINCOLN CHAMPION, KING OF STALL

Will Stand at Home, Every Day in the Week, on 7th St., One-half Mile East of Main St.

At $15.00 to insure mares in foal. The get of "Linc" have brought the highest prices of any horses sold in our county, and topped the Chicago market—some teams selling for $400. in cash and one individual horse bringing $450. "Linc" is the Sire of Del. Strickland's stallion—the dam being a two-year-old filly of C. Naur's.

Gentlemen! breed for good horses, money earning horses that will do you credit! There is more money in raising good draft horses than any other kind. Don't try to raised an all-purpose horse—there are none. It would be mighty handy if a lady could pull out her poodle into the form of algrey hound so it could catch a jack rabbit and shut him up short before meal time, but we can't get honest made horses as man made the telescope (in portable form,) nothing taking its diet fron earth, manger or spoon, grows in telescope fashion. The man of "all trades" was handy 100 years ago, he was a cobbler shoemaker, a cobbler carpenter and a cobbler tinsmith, but now it takes good work to please a man of taste and culture and we must have specialists in men and horses. You can trot your misfit drafts to town after their day's work is done forcing them to do "all-purpose" work but they won't last long and soon will adopt a tired trot. "Linc" is an imported and a noble cultured animal, and when people criticise him they make themselves a "laughing stock."
