MARRIED BUT NOT MATED

By "RITA."

"The shame cannot touch you," she cried, "but I will not let it like this. After all, the proof may be wrong. Who brought them? Who knows the story?"

"The Countess—that traitor! Oh, Ivor, do believe me! Don't accept this wrong at his hands. It is all a lie. I am sure it is."

"The Countess is the truer truth. The papers discovered the matter."

"And what are you going to do?" she asked.

"I leave here to-morrow. I have told the lawyers the facts of the case, and they don't see any loophole out of it. The only difficulty is to find the next heir to the property. The direct line fails with me—without me, I should say," he added bitterly. "It seems likely to trace back to a remote branch which will hold its title, as far as myself, I shall call it, I think, under a foreign title. What else remains to be done?"

"Don't talk so bitterly," she entreated. "You will not be so hopeless. Have you—have you seen Savonar since this discovery?"

"Great heaven!" he cried, hoarsely. "I forgot. In all my own trouble I forgot that his fidelity could touch you also. I can't keep my promise to him now."

"What promise?" she asked sternly.

"I should not have told you of my sake. Oh, Ivor, do not tell me that. He was silent. He only looked at her despairingly, and saw the hot blood rise to her very brow, and bawled all the beautiful pale face into one fiery glow of shame, till her hands went up to cover it from his sight.

"I will not see my husband," she said slowly. "I know that was what you meant. Well, let him do his worst. I don't fear him."

"But I do, for your sake," cried Ivor hoarsely. "It means ruin to you—it means more than all my troubles put together to me. For—oh, Ivor, I brought you to me, and I can't help you now."

"Yes, you can," she said, dropping her hands and facing him with a new, bright courage in her eyes. "You can help me by being brave all the time, and fighting against your misfortune—not letting your anguish show you can help myself by doing that, so I should be able to place myself at his mercy by purchasing his silence. Let him do his worst to me. I will not let him do it to you. I don't fear him any longer."

"My brave darling! Ivor, from Ivor's lips is involuntary."

"Hush!" she said, raising her finger warningly. "don't say that—don't make a weak woman when I want to be a strong one. I will take the weapon out of Countess's hand. I will show my husband and tell him myself how I have been. Let him judge for himself—let him condemn me as he pleases; at least, no cruel spy shall dog your steps, or make you live a burden."

"You—you will do this?" he faltered.

"As heaven sees and judges us now."

"Then," cried Ivor, with a strange gleam in his eyes, "you enable me to fight this cur with his own weapons. Let him do his worst, as you say—we can defy him! Holy pale and cold you look! He went on, gently. "I have been selfish to detain you here so long. Let me see you home now to the Rectory. It is the last time, you know."

"She took his arm without a word; she was trembling all over, and dropping her head she walked and closed the gate, where Jack and Cyril had been used to swing. In silence, too, they reached the Rectory grounds, and were passed as if by common consent, and stood for a moment with clasped hands looking into each other's and saddened eyes. Then with a murmured "I shall be with you," the trembling hands were linked themselves, and between those two slender fingers rolled back the dark, swift waves of trouble and despair.

"With hurried steps Beryl Marsden entered the dark and silent house. A lamp was burning in the parlor. Before the fire the old woman sat, and she said, "You are late, my dear," she said, "and how white and cold you look. See, there is a letter for you from your friends at Vaux."

Beryl took up the letter mechanically. She saw it was marked "Immediate," and her hands trembled so that she could scarcely open it. It was a telegram from Tilda which Mrs. Dunbar had forwarded from the Abbey.

"For one sick, dizzy moment her heart seemed to stand still. Then she tore open the paper, and read these words: "Ivor, I have come here. Go to your lover, bravely."

"Beryl, my child! Beryl, what is it?"

"But ere he could catch the swaying form she fell at his feet like a log, with the paper crushed in her hand."

CHAPTER XV.

Dusk was falling over the thick autumn woods of the Rectory, and there from the windows of the house like waterfalls, misting the air, were dropping shadows. Now and then the falling wind shook a shower of leaves from the branches and then went sighing through empty corridors in a weird and melancholy way. The pretty mistress of Vaux, walking through one of those corridors, shivered involuntarily.

"It makes one think of ghosts," she said, and quickened her steps, finally pausing before a closed door. She knocked, and then entered.

"Did you ever see the time of the year," she said, "when the wind would blow so fearful as the wind? Makes one think of ghosts, and all sorts of creepy horrors."

"Are there ghosts at Vaux?" asked a voice, low and muffled, but with a thrill of dread in it. "It notes that spoke of trouble and pain, and knowledge of life's sorrows."

"Ghosts!" cried Midge Dunbar. "My dear Beryl, of course there are. There's one about Vaux, the housekeeper told me, and it gave me the horrors for a time. Cosmo laughed at me. What a blessing it must be to be a man, and have no nerves! By the way, would you like to hear the new book? you might introduce it in your new book, you know. If I were an author, I should be always on the lookout for information. I can't imagine how you can write at all, buried alive as you are. I do wish you'd come out of your shell a little more often. Why, do you know when people say to me, 'I wonder who on earth 'Danita' is,' I am absolutely in agony to tell them. Why, she's my dearest friend, and her real name—"

"Oh, hush, Midge," interrupted that low, muffled voice. "You have gone over that ground often enough. A woman situated as I am cannot bear the sight of

CHRIST, GREATEST TEACHER.

By Rev. A. G. Bergen.

The names of Washington and Jefferson, Webster and Clay, Grant and Lincoln, Garfield, Harrison and McKinley, our national history of the past. But Christian history presents a just and beautiful picture of men and women, each brilliant in the luster of his own personality.

But above them all stands one figure which commands our undivided attention, however we may view Him. He stands in a class of religious teachers whose names can be counted on the fingers of one hand. They are Confucius, Mohammed, Brahma, Buddha and Christ. But Christ stands pre-eminent among them all. In His character, the purpose of His life, His teachings and in the virtue and piety of His followers, Christ is the most conspicuous personality in the world's history.

Christ is the all and in all in the plan of human redemption. Redemption had its origin in the love of God, and Christ is the highest expression of that love to man. The plan of redemption recognizes man's need, and is the method by which God seeks to restore him to his lost estate. In carrying out this plan it became necessary that one should become a sacrifice for the race. Christ became the Savior of man. He came to reveal God to man and then to save him.

He is the one supreme object of the believer's faith and hope and love and worship. Christ is all this because he is our Savior. Moreover, he is our model life, our perfect exemplar. He is our teacher, sympathetic and helpful, our comforter, our friend, and our Redeemer. Said He: "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life."

In a word, He is the source and inspiration of our spiritual life. We draw help from Him as from the wells of salvation. To Him we are justified, regenerated, sanctified and glorified. Finally, Christ will be the all and in all of heaven.

THE AMERICAN CITIZEN.

By Rev. J. P. Brushingham, D. D.

His Majesty, the American Citizen, must be deemed the equal of every other citizen before the law, as he is at the throne of the elect.

It is not the number of the elect, but the absolute equality of talents and abilities, not all are Plato's and Paul's, Chas. and Websters; but an equality of rights and responsibilities.

Every American citizen should be a citizen in the true sense of the word. He should not only believe in equality, but he should be equal in his rights and responsibilities. He should be a citizen in the true sense of the word. He should not only believe in equality, but he should be equal in his rights and responsibilities.

A FIGHTING SCHOOLMASTER.

He Won the Boys' Friendship in an Unexpected Way.

The experience of a college graduate, named Levenworth, who taught for a year in a little Western town, is an example of the way in which a teacher sometimes wins the admiration of his pupils quite unexpectedly.

Levenworth was not a teacher by nature or profession; but as many men have done, he spent a year teaching to get money enough to help himself through the law school. He was a hearty, clear-headed fellow, who kept rather aloof from the townspeople. The local paper spoke of him as having "had a promising career in college."

Part of his promising career had, as it happened, been spent in athletics. He had learned to box and wrestle, and had won his class championship in the art which, from his unfortunate association with the prize ring, has not so good a reputation among the peaceful as in its legitimate form, it deserves.

This school was quiet and orderly from the start; but he found it hard work to get on intimate terms with the twenty boys under him. They obeyed at a distance but did not show much personal friendship for him.

One day at recess when the school yard was a clamor of voices, the young master heard a sudden lull. Looking out the window, he saw the children lined up against the fence watching a teamster, who was stupidly trying to whip his horse up the hill that ran past the school. The wagon was loaded heavily with garden-stuff, and the horse was doing his best to no purpose.

Suddenly one of the boys went into the street, and evidently remonstrated with the driver. For answer he got an angry slash of the whip, and reeled back, lashing his hands over his eyes.

"This was too much for Levenworth. He ran down stairs and out across the playground. Coolly pushing a stone under the wheel with his foot he commanded the teamster, a gruff, slinky man, to come off his seat.

"The fellow grew hostile at once, and obeyed. Jumping down, he approached the schoolmaster, ready and eager for a fight, and heeled to dangerous angles his struggle with the horse.

"It was a real, old-fashioned fight. It was on the power of anger and excitement on one side, and skill, backed by justice on the other.

"There was enough left of the teamster to drive his horse, while a dozen boys put their shoulders to the wheels and pushed the wagon to the top of the hill. The pupil whose task it was to ring the bell for the end of recess was a minute late that day. The teacher was late, too. It took him a little time to put his clothes in order and wash his face and hands. Meanwhile the schoolmaster, and took some noise and excitement, and took their seats. They were subdued and orderly when Levenworth came in and walked with his desk.

Before he had time to be seated, and as if by a preconcerted signal, the pupils began to applaud. Discipline and modesty made the teacher try to stop them. It was useless, so he smiled. Then they cheered. The disorder of the next minute was quite against the rules, but nobody received a look from the schoolmaster's department; and after that, to Levenworth's surprise, there was a new and warm friendship in the bearing of the boys toward him.

LOVE'S SEEING POWER.

By Dean Richmond Rabbit, D. D.

She bath down what she could; she is come bereft and to amon my body to the barging,—Mark xiv, 8.

The most beautiful things ever done have been those done by women. Men have done heroic acts, so have women. But in the heroism of women there has often been a sweet and entrancing beauty that has covered the hard, rigorous, severe lines of naked heroism. Ten years and love have been the setting of their heroic deeds, and the rugged, heroic act which would in man stand forth in a cold isolation is softened by woman with a sweet attractiveness that warms with it.

It is not the heroism of men, but the heroism of women, that is the most beautiful. It is the heroism of women, that is the most beautiful. It is the heroism of women, that is the most beautiful.

PILOTS TO THE INFINITE.

By Rev. John Sisk.

Abraham gave up a settled life for that of an itinerant in making this choice, Abraham had a grand plan in view. The writer of the epistle to the Hebrews, in referring to this move of Abraham, says: "For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God."

Abraham, like ourselves, was a traveler on the way to an infinite city. He was a "pilgrim to the infinite." He recognized that the temporary was the method by which he reached his goal.

Men, when building a railroad, come to a hill. Ordinarily they lay the track around the base. This is but an expedient. Year by year, while the traffic goes on, the section of the old track is cut and reconstructed the road that that part. If a mile is saved to be straightened, swamps to be drained, tracks to be raised, the improved road has shortened the distance forty miles, and saved one hour of time for each of the millions of dollars that it paid in the end.

Some men seem to be cut off from everything while they prosecute their work, but we forget that they are in touch with every power of the universe. In days gone by, when a ship sailed out into the sea, the crew on night it was cut off from the world. It was a long and utter isolation. To-day the isolation is passed away. The wireless telegraph makes the steamer the center of the world. The vessel is no longer alone. Messages are given and received every minute. The world is not cut off from the world, but part of the divine plan.

The man who takes up a great idea seems to take up loneliness and hardships only. But his soul is in communication with a universe. His daily life is a series of messages and visions. He is continually receiving the influence of his surroundings and becomes the practical man of the age. He feels a brotherhood with the workers of all time.

Spiritual Prosperity.—We must not forget what we have inherited from the past. There has been no such century of unexampled prosperity. It is for us to say if this material, material and spiritual prosperity shall continue. In our hands is the lever which will swing the world. In our hands is the lever which will swing the world. In our hands is the lever which will swing the world.

CONDITION OF CROPS. COMMERCIAL FINANCIAL

CORN MAKES RAPID GROWTH IN WESTERN STATES.

Rainfall's Uneven—Some Sections Suffer from Too Much Moisture—Winter Wheat Generally Shows Favorable Progress—Cotton Well Cultivated.

The weekly crop report issued by the weather bureau gives the following general summary of crop conditions throughout the country:

Highly favorable temperature conditions prevailed during the week in the great part of the central valley, the central and west Gulf States suffered from excessive heat, and the districts from the upper Missouri valley to the New England coast have experienced temperatures too high for favorable growth. The lower Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys and the southern portion of the upper lake region have received additional heavy rains, and crops in portions of these districts are much in need of cultivation. Abundant rains have effectively relieved drought in the south Atlantic States, but the almost entire absence of rain in the central and west Gulf States has intensified drought conditions previously existing in those sections.

Corn has made rapid growth in Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Indiana and in portions of Illinois and Iowa, and is much improved in Ohio. In portions of Iowa and northern Illinois the crop has suffered from heavy rains, and in Wisconsin and Michigan from both excessive moisture and low temperatures. Corn is suffering seriously from drought in the central and west Gulf States.

Winter Wheat Looks Better.

Winter wheat has made favorable progress during the last week, further improvement being reported from the Ohio valley and lake region. In northern Illinois the crop has suffered to some extent from heavy rains, and much lodging on rich soils is reported from Wisconsin. Harvest has begun in Kansas and southern Iowa, and has progressed under favorable conditions in Missouri, and is well advanced in the Carolinas and Tennessee, and wheat is ripening in southern Nebraska with promising outlook. Winter wheat continues in promising condition in Washington and Oregon, and a good crop is being harvested in northern and central California.

Spring wheat has been damaged in flooded valleys in portions of Iowa, but is doing well in the drier portions of the State, and some of the late sown in South Dakota is weedy. With these exceptions the crop is in excellent condition.

Dates have suffered some injury in northern Illinois and portions of Iowa from heavy rains, and in Wisconsin is reported from Nebraska and Wisconsin; elsewhere the crop has advanced favorably.

Over the northern portion of the western and central districts and generally throughout the eastern portion of the cotton belt cotton has experienced generally favorable conditions. Over the southern portion of the western districts and throughout Texas the crop has made slow growth.

The season has been unfavorable for transplanting tobacco in the middle Atlantic States and Kentucky, and the crop has suffered much from drought in Virginia, North Carolina and portions of Kentucky.

Reports from Western States.

TEXAS.—Excessive heat and drying winds retarded crop growth; cotton looking well generally, but winter wheat damaged by rain; corn well advanced, but harvest in progress, about half crop; corn doing well, but some sections suffering from drought; cotton in north and south in progress, about half crop; tobacco doing well; some fruit blown down.

INDIANA.—Too wet to cultivate in north section; corn interrupted clover crop; wheat generally well, but some sections suffering from drought; cotton in north and south in progress, about half crop; tobacco doing well; some fruit blown down.

SOUTH DAKOTA.—Well distributed, beneficial rainfall; corn well advanced, but harvest in progress, about half crop; cotton doing well; some fruit blown down.

NEBRASKA.—Wheat, with some showers, the growing week; winter wheat continues to advance, but some sections suffering from drought; cotton in north and south in progress, about half crop; tobacco doing well; some fruit blown down.

SAW VICTORIA CROWNED.

And After 40 Years She Witnessed the Coronation of Her Son.

Few of the spectators of the coronation ceremony of King Edward had the opportunity of Baronesse Burdett-Coutts, England's richest and best loved woman. Sixty-four years ago, little Victoria, the daughter of the late Queen Victoria, was crowned Queen of Great Britain. She was crowned in the presence of her mother, the late Queen Victoria, and her father, the late Prince Albert.

The baronesse has just celebrated her sixtieth birthday, and high tribute was paid to the venerable lady whose life has been consecrated to charity. Her name is now Mrs. Burdett-Coutts, and she resides in London, having her $100,000.00 in real estate, but part of the divine plan.

The man who takes up a great idea seems to take up loneliness and hardships only. But his soul is in communication with a universe. His daily life is a series of messages and visions. He is continually receiving the influence of his surroundings and becomes the practical man of the age. He feels a brotherhood with the workers of all time.

Spiritual Prosperity.—We must not forget what we have inherited from the past. There has been no such century of unexampled prosperity. It is for us to say if this material, material and spiritual prosperity shall continue. In our hands is the lever which will swing the world. In our hands is the lever which will swing the world. In our hands is the lever which will swing the world.

THE MARKETS

Chicago.—From the fact that there are labor disputes in it, it is evident that the spirit of unrest is at work. The country is unusually prosperous with many industries taxed beyond capacity. ## Gray?

"My hair was falling out and turning gray very fast. But your Hair Vigor stopped it, and I restored the natural color."—Mrs. E. Z. Bonnington, Colmes, N. D.

It's impossible for you not to look old, with the color of seventy years in your hair! Perhaps you are seventy and you live your gray hair. But you use Ayer's Hair Vigor. In less than a month your gray hair will have all the dark, rich color of youth.

Send your order to the only you, you a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, you a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, you a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor.

For County Attorney, H. E. SIMANS, of Wislida.
For Co. Commissioner, 3rd district, R. RUSSELL.

The most astute thing Mister Bryan ever done was to move onto a farm peddling a republican era of high prices for farm products.

What ever you do, if you do nothing else, keep your word. A good reputation for reliability is better than credit at the bank.—York Times.

The coronation of King Edward VII has been indefinitely postponed on the account of his serious illness. The king is afflicted with appendicitis and on Tuesday a surgical operation was performed on the royal person, from which he rallied.

The democrat state platform declares against the Protective Tariff to which this country is very largely indebted for its present prosperity. In November, however, the people will remember the bridge which brought them over. The lesson of the Free-Trade legislation which followed the Democratic victory of 1892 has not been forgotten—Terre Haute Tribune.

Now that the conventions have been held and the selection of candidates has been made the republicans must off with their coats and be up and doing. Especially is this true in the Third Congressional district. It must not be understood that the victory is an easy one. There is work to do and several things done at Lincoln will not make it any the easier. Spite work has never accomplish much.

W. J. Bryan brought about the desired union in the fusion convention at Grand Island yesterday and as a result they fused and nominated the following candidates: For Gov., W. H. Thompson, dem.; Lieut. Gov., E. A. Gilbert, pop.; Sec. of State, John Fowers, pop.; Treas., J. N. Lyman, pop.; Auditor, Charles C. DeFrance, pop.; Atty Gen., J. T. Broody, dem.; Land Com., James Brennan, dem.; Supt. of Instruction, Claude Smith, pop.

It is said that the Democrats will revive the Tariff issue and fight it out on that line in 1904. Just ten years ago we engaged in a political campaign with the tariff as the leading issue and the democrats won. What followed we can all remember, in fact we can remember so well that there is no likelihood of going wrong again. Just at the time the objections of the earth are beginning to see the advantage of a Protective Tariff for themselves would be a very absurd time for us to let down the bars.—Terre Haute Tribune.

Senator Young made McNeal of Wayne, postmaster and when Young wanted votes to nominate him for congress McNeal gave him the merry halloo. Such base ingratitude should be punished, but Young is not liable to inflict any. We would advise the senator to watch his postoffice editor at home. Enps is liable to fall of the "band wagon" sometime in the near future.—Stanton Register.

Oh, now, Ponty, really, you had better go away back and set down (go Away back. You evidently had base ball on the brain again when you allowed your mind to wander in that direction. The editor, as well as the rest of the Wayne county delegation did all in their power for the nomination of the Senator from Stanton.

NO PROMISE UNFULFILLED.
False Assertion That We Are Committed to Cuban Tariff Concessions.
A persistent assertion comes from the Free-Trade element that the United States has promised Tariff concessions to Cuba. The statement is absolutely false. Congress alone can enter into a Tariff adjustment with Cuba, and has never acted on the subject. A bill has passed the House proposing a reduction on imports from Cuba, but it carries with it the sugar differential and requires Cuba, in addition to allowing a corresponding Tariff reduction, to adopt our restrictions on immigration. The senate has not approved the bill nor made any headway in forming a plan of its own. If Congress should agree on a bill, and the president sign

If there is not the slightest compulsion on Cuba to accept our Tariff provisions in whole or in part. It is very... promise with Cuba when... alone could give a pledge of that sort and it is not the custom of the legislative branch of the Government to issue advance pledges of future laws. Some of the Free-Trade chorus say the promise is only implied. But the United States is not run by implications. It legislates formally and officially, and publishes the record to the world.

Now that Cuba is an equal party in framing Tariff regulations there will be an end to the gammon about a promise. Cuba has promised nothing on that score, and was not in a position to do it. But now it is the full mistress of its Tariff, and will be guided by its own interests. Talk of a promise on our part was, in fact, an attempted imposition of the alleged promise on Cuba. If the American Congress should offer a special Tariff reduction Cuba is as free to reject it as any other nation would be. Any Tariff proposition of our Congress touching Cuba must go to the Cuban congress, and the course of both nations is entirely untrammelled. Free-Traders tried to force the fighting on the imaginary Tariff promise before Cuba passed under its own flag. It has lost. We can negotiate with Cuba for special Tariff relations, but in doing it it will deal with an equal, a country as unfettered as ourselves in Tariff policies.

We have pointed out the unwisdom of offering special Tariff favors to Cuba and illustrated the point by referring to the growing commerce with our friendly and prosperous neighbor, Mexico. This to Cuba's interest also to keep out of a system of Tariff favoritism, which is a short cut to the creation of endless heart burnings, jealousies and reprisals. No doubt the island will assert its freedom thoroughly and it would commit a serious mistake if it failed to cultivate kindly, courteous and fair-minded relations with all the governments of the earth. It will itself, to all appearances, be a Protectionists nation, building up its own industries and safeguarding the wages of its workmen by putting Protective principles squarely and firmly in the Tariff it will now proceed to formulate according to its own free wishes. The clamor about a Tariff promise to Cuba has been an artfully conceived Free-Trade confidence game but it is played out.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN ISSUES.
Republicans Will Welcome a Fight on Tariff and Trust Questions.
The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee has decided to make the Tariff and the trusts the leading issues in the campaign this year. That will be regarded as good news by all Republicans.

The Tariff has always been a winning issue for the Republicans, save in the campaign of 1902, when the voters listened to the seductive sophistry of the Free-Traders and decided at the polls to destroy property. But they learned a lesson, as the result of that election, which they are not likely to forget. The dark and gloomy days from 1893 to 1897, while the blight of the Wilson law was upon the country, business was paralyzed and labor was without remunerative employment, demonstrated that protection cannot be abandoned in the United States without bringing distress upon the people. The instant and tremendous revival of business as a result of the election of McKinley and the enactment of the Dingley law, which restored the protective policy, supplied ample proof of the value of protection as a stimulant to industry and commerce. The Democrats cannot this year delude the people into voting for an abandonment of the protective policy.

Nor will they be enabled to make an effective campaign on the trust issue. The democratic record will not compare favorably with the republican record in respect to trusts. The Sherman anti-trust law, which appears to be the only effective weapon that congress can use against the big combinations of capital, was framed by a republican, passed by a republican congress, and signed by a republican president in 1890. For four years that law stood in the statute books while Grover Cleveland was president, yet it was not used once to restrain a trust. It was used by a republican Attorney-General against the Joint Traffic Association and the Trans-Missouri Freight Association, which were formed to control trade among the states. It is now being used by another republican Attorney-General against the beef trust, and it will be used against other combinations which are oppressive of the people. The Sherman law goes as far as any statute can, under the present limitations of the constitution, in the restraint of the operations of trusts. It will be necessary to amend the constitution so as to give congress greater power if more drastic legislation is to be enacted. Yet, when a constitutional amendment was proposed in the republican congress the democrats opposed it solidly because they were afraid that the rights of the states might be invaded.

Let the Democrats begin their campaign on these two issues. The republicans are willing to meet them, and they will make the fight interesting from beginning to end.—Cleveland Leader.

Did He Understand?
A well known Edinburgh professor often became so interested in his subject that when the noon bell rang he seemed quite oblivious of the fact and kept the class for several minutes. Certain restless spirits among the students decided to give him a gentle hint, so they brought an alarm clock. London "Tit-Bits" tells the result.

The clock set to alarm at precisely 12 o'clock, was placed on the professor's desk. As was anticipated, he began his lecture, without observing the clock. But when the noon hour struck the alarm went off with a startling crash. Even those not in the secret appreciated the joke. There was a round of applause. The professor smilingly waited until the alarm and the applause ceased and then said: "Young gentlemen, I thank you for this gift. I had forgotten it was my birthday. An alarm clock is something my wife has needed for our servant for a long time. It is a very kind remembrance on your part." Then he went on with the demonstration which had been interrupted by the alarm, and the students were never quite able to satisfy themselves whether the professor understood the joke or not.

One Boy's Loyalty.
A New York boy was at school in Canada, and it was his first day in class. The geography lesson was called, and it was his turn to answer. "Which is the largest city in the world?" asked the teacher. "New York," unhesitatingly came the answer. "I mean the largest city in the world," said the teacher. As promptly came the reply, "New York."

"But," expostulated the teacher, "I did not say the largest city in the United States, but the largest city in the world. You surely know which is the largest city in the world." "New York," persisted the boy. "London has a larger population than New York," said the teacher. "If I do not have the correct answer this time, I shall have to punish you. Come now," coaxingly, "tell me the name of the largest city in the world." "New York." "Stay in during recess and write me fifty lines."

He wrote the fifty lines, and every line read: "The biggest city in the world is New York."—New York Tribune.

New York's New Marriage Law.
In view of the quite general discussion of the questions of marriage and divorce the new marriage law which has just gone into effect in the state of New York is of more than local interest. Formerly the laws of the state regarded marriage as simply a civil contract. Accordingly heretofore any evidence adequate to satisfy the court that a man and a woman had agreed to live together as man and wife constituted them man and wife. No ceremony, no solemnity of any description, was a prerequisite. It is contended that various frauds were perpetrated under this simple form. In more than one case an adventurer has claimed the death of a man of wealth as a part of his property on the ground that she had been married to him. We doubt whether this had ever been the case unless he had furnished some sort of basis for the claim by his misbehavior. Nevertheless it has brought in many cases great distress of mind and perhaps in some cases practical pecuniary injustice upon the innocent wife and legitimate children.

It was to prevent this and other violations of the spirit of the marriage contract that a new law was passed by the last New York legislature, which went into effect on the first of this year. Under this law marriage continues to be a civil contract, but it is classed with those civil contracts which require some measure of solemnity to make them legal. The marriage ceremony may still be performed by a clergyman or a magistrate, as heretofore, and is then legal and binding on both the parties. Without a clergyman or magistrate it may be entered into only by a written contract, signed and acknowledged before a notary, as conveyances of real estate are required to be signed and acknowledged. Certainly a contract involving the responsibilities and obligations imposed by marriage should require not less evidence to attest it than in the case of a contract conveying real estate.

THE Imported Percheron Stallion
Foaled March 28, 1889, imported in 1890, sire Briard 5317 (1630), dam Robin 5697. Villiers is a jet black, weighs over a ton and for many years stood at the head of the stud of Dunham, Fletcher & Coleman, the famous Illinois Percheron importers and breeders. As an individual he is without doubt one of the grandest horses that was ever in the United States, as a producer of the best there is in horse flesh he is easily at the top. He will make the season of 1902 at the barn of his owners in Wayne.

The Bradfield Regulator Co. ATLANTA, GA.

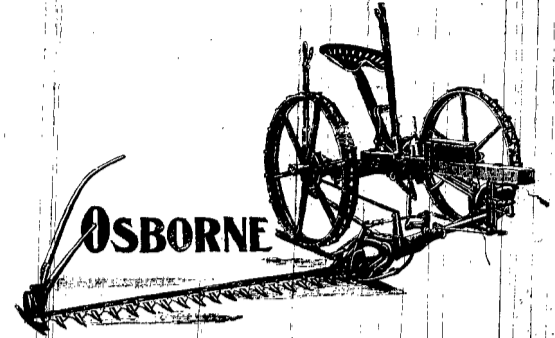

Sam Jones, the revivalist, was once taking women to task for spending more time in praying than in praying. "If there's a woman here," he screamed finally, "who prays more than she prinks, let her stand up." One poor old faded specimen of femininity in the sorriest, shabbiest of clothes arose. "You spend more time praying than prinking?" asked the preacher, taking her all in. The poor old creature said she did—prayed all the time, prinked none at all. "You go straight home," admonished Jones, "and put a little time on your prinks."

GREEN APPLE WISDOM.
The accumulated wisdom of ten generations can't keep a boy from eating green apples. You can talk to him until you are tired, but it will do no good. He simply can't learn from anything but hard pit-of-the-stomach experience. He must have his own belle-ache before he will believe what you tell him. Now men are just boys grown up. It isn't green apples any longer, but it's the same old comedy with new properties. Its the question perhaps of a mower. It's the old chimer of getting value without cost. It's the mower which "is just as good as the Osborne." And the lesson is only learned after the loss of many dollars you might have earned. Why not use the green apple sense you learned when a boy?

Six Valuable Features of the OSBORNE COLUMBIAN MOWER:
First. Compact gear and broad face. Will wear a lifetime.
Second. A crank shaft bearing, separate from frame.
Third. With four pawls in the drive wheel, can start in the heaviest of grass without backing.
Fourth. Extra heavy hinge bar with malleable hinge and shoe.
Fifth. With the long double forked connection to cutter bar, and 14 inch bearing on hinge bar, the cutter bar cannot sag.
Sixth. Long metal pitman with ball and socket joint at each end, fitted for taking up the wear—never breaks sockets.

Where To Celebrate the 4th.

It is the duty of every American Citizen to celebrate the nation's birthday. At no time in our experience have the people been more prosperous and as we are at peace with the world let us all celebrate the glorious 4th. Where to go is a question with some and what to wear is a question with all. We cannot answer the first question, but we are in a position that we can satisfy any man or boy as to what he should wear.

Don't You Do It.

Don't think of enjoying yourself in an old suit of clothes. You will get more than double the enjoyment if you come here before the 4th. and rig up for the occasion. Your friends will brighten up and it is your duty to look as well as you can. If you buy your clothing here you will get stylish clothing and you will have money left to celebrate with.

Come to Wayne.

Before the 4th. If you will come here and buy your clothing you can save enough to pay all your necessary expense on the 4th, not only that, but you will get better clothing here, and if you want extra good things to wear you will find them here. Our stock is large and complete in every thing that is stylish. You will find what you want and the prices are lower than elsewhere. One price to all.

Chas. E. Neeham, of Winside, and Miss Laura Fish were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents in Strahan precinct yesterday and left on a wedding trip for the west. The young couple are two of Wayne County's brightest and best and the Herald extends congratulations and wishes them an abundance of happiness and prosperity.

"Cowboy Charley," the jolly plains man, gave his little show to about fifteen men last Saturday night in the opera house. It was a first class entertainment for people to stay away from, so those absent missed little.

"Charley" was in Sioux City some time ago preaching on the street, representing himself as a divine minister, but from a financial standpoint, fled to greener fields.

Young people who do not belong or do not attend any other meeting of the kind are given a special invitation to attend the Epworth League services every Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. An especial effort is being made to make these meetings interesting. A short song service is held each evening and last Sunday evening an excellent male quartet was rendered by Messrs. Snodgrass, Cook, Gregg and Stalnaker.

DEMOCRATIC CO. CONVENTION.

The democratic county convention was held at the court house Saturday afternoon, and while from appearances, one would judge that everything was harmonious, it was not exactly so. The dissatisfaction arising from the selection of delegates to the different conventions. The convention was organized by the election of J. W. Ziegler as chairman and E. H. James as secretary. Wayne School Dist.	4

The Board of Education of the School District of Wayne, in the County of Wayne and State of Nebraska, having requested a levy of 25 mills for school purposes, on motion the same is hereby made.

On motion Board adjourned sine die. Bert Brown, County Clerk.

The county commissioners were in session Tuesday finishing up all business to come before them as a board of equalization. Very few complaints were made this year in regard to the assessment placed on property by the assessors. A few reductions were made on complaint of individuals and the board reduced the valuation on all real estate in Hunter precinct 4 per cent and raised the valuation of real estate in Brenna 4 per cent, in Leslie 2 per cent and Wilbur 3 per cent. The average valuation of farm land in the county runs from $3.41 per acre in Hoskins to $5.25 per acre in Hunter, and average throughout the county is about $4.52 per acre. All assessments, of course are supposed to be made on a basis of one-sixth of the real valuation. The total valuation of the county is about $28,000 more than last year, and figures up including the railroad and telegraph $1,928,969.

The following is the valuation by precincts of both real and personal property:

Real Estate	Personal
Sherman $ 79950	17866
Hoskins village 3977	629
Hoskins 74455	19415
Leslie 67727	12725

Total valuation of county 1928969.

Omaha Markets

June 25, 1902
Best corn-fed beefs have made a further gain in price for the week ending today, and a new high record price of $7.85. Grassers continue weak. Feeders about steady at the recent decline.
We quote best 1250 to 1500 lb. beefs at $7.00 to $7.85; 1050 to 1250 lb. $6.00 to $7.00; 900 to 1050 lb. $5.00 to $6.00. Choice hogs and cows up to $5.75; good $4.00 to $5.00; common and grassers down to $2.00; veal calves $3.50 to $6.00; good feeding steers $4.25 to $4.50; stockers $2.50 to $4.25. Hog receipts have continued fair and prices have advanced right along but are 5c lower today. We quote them at $7.25 to $7.70. Owing to feeding so much slop and green stuff hogs now shrink badly.
Receipts of sheep fair. No fat ones. Others 65c to 75c lower for the week.

Splendid Remedy.

Neuralgic pains, rheumatism, lumbago and sciatic pains yield to the penetrating influence of Ballard's Snow Liniment. It penetrates to the nerves and bones, and being absorbed into the blood, its healing properties are conveyed to every part of the body and effect some wonderful cures. Mr. D. F. Moore, Agent Illinois Central Railway, Milan, Tenn., states: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism, backache, etc., in my family. It is a splendid remedy. We could not do without it." 25c, 50c, and $1.00 at E. J. Raymond's.

Hot Weather Weakness.

If you feel fagged out, listless and lacking in energy, you are perhaps suffering from the debilitating effects of summer weather. These symptoms indicate that a tonic is needed that will create a healthy appetite, make digestion perfect, regulate the bowels and impart natural vitality to the liver. This, Herbine will do; it is a tonic, laxative and restorative. H. J. Freegar, Propr., Grand View Hotel, Cheney, Kan., writes: "I have used Herbine for the last 12 years, and nothing on earth can beat it. It was recommended to me by Dr. Newton, Newton Kan." 50c at E. J. Raymond's.

The Everglades of Florida, which are now a vast swampy region, are being reclaimed by the United States government.

The prospects are now that from a land of desolation and waste the great swamp region of Florida, known as the Everglades, is to be changed into a veritable garden spot.

While this enterprise is by no means a new one, the advances made in engineering science during the past quarter of a century have made the problem more feasible than it was a few years ago.

Operations have already been begun, and on the land reclaimed at the north side of the great basin quite a large tract has been cleared, upon which profitable crops of sugar cane, vegetables of all kinds, pineapples, etc., have been produced.

The prospects are now that from a land of desolation and waste the great swamp region of Florida, known as the Everglades, is to be changed into a veritable garden spot.

OLD PEOPLE

Do not always receive the sympathy and attention which they deserve. Their ailments are regarded as purely imaginary or natural and unavoidable at their time of life. Disease and infirmity should not always be associated with old age. The eyes of the gray haired grandire may be bright and the complexion as fair as any of his younger and more vigorous companions.

Good Blood is the secret of healthy old age, for it regulates and controls every part of the body, strengthens the nerves, makes the muscles elastic and supple, the bones strong and the flesh firm; but when this life fluid is polluted or poisoned and loses its nutritive, health sustaining elements, then there is a rapid decline of the vital powers, resulting in premature old age and disease. Any derangement of the blood quickly shows itself in an ulcer, sore, wart, tumor or some other troublesome growth upon the body, and rheumatic and neuralgic pains become almost constant, accompanied with poor digestion and cold extremities.

SSS best blood purifier for old people. It does not shock or hurt the system like the strong mineral remedies, but gently and thoroughly cleanses the blood and stimulates the debilitated organs; when all bodily ailments disappear. S. S. S. is just such a tonic as old people need to improve a weak digestion and tone up the stomach. If there is any hereditary taint, or the remains of some disease contracted in early life, S. S. S. will search it out and remove every vestige of it from the system. Write us fully about your case and let our physicians advise and help you. This will cost you nothing, and we will mail free our book on blood and skin diseases.

IN THE STUD SEASON F 1902.

The Magnificently Bred Stallion.

TAMMANY TIM 34283.

Full brother to Hinky Dink, 2:25 1/2, first start, fourth time in winning race. By Union Medium 4:18 2, 2:18 3/4, Dam Alice G. 2:29 1/2, Dam of Hinky Dink, 2:25 1/2. Tammany Tim was foaled in June 1897. He is a handsome bay horse, 16 1/2 hands high, weighs 1225 lbs. The only stallion standing in this part of the state whose first three Dams are producers of 2:30 trotters, or better.

In conformation he is a grand horse, clear cut head intelligent countenance, strong shoulders, powerful back, hips and stifles, all gracefully combined to produce strength and speed.

His blood lines are of the best, the most popular and prolific speed producing combination in trotting blood lines, the kind that get the money on the race course and the prizes in the show ring.

That he will beget speed and grand road qualities there is no doubt, as he not only inherits, but possesses these qualities in a marked degree.

Even common mares bred to a horse of this class, cannot fail to produce foals that will find a ready market as carriage horses or roadsters, as well as general, all purpose horses.

Terms: $15 to insure in foal. Wednesday and Thursday of each week at Owen's old feed yard.

The HERALD is in receipt of an illustrated paper in pamphlet form of the Norfolk News of June 21. Editor W. N. Hays is due much credit for its make-up.

Mr. S. T. Wilson and Misses Mary Wilson and Mrs. McKelver, of Wayne county, left for their Sunday and returned with Mrs. S. T. Wilson who had been here a week.—Allen News.

Horner Sken, formerly of Wayne, but now in Sioux City, was married June 12, to Miss Marion Ayers of Dakota City. The groom is well known in Randolph by friends who wish him a happy married life.—Randolph Reporter.

The F. E. has extended their road from Verdigris to Niobrara and the first train run into Old Niobrara last Saturday afternoon. Thus Niobrara gets a big send-off in the commercial world, and the hopes of her citizens for a railroad are at last realized.

Several weeks ago some farmers were looking over their meadows and they then made plans to cut up a great deal of corn in order to get stover for winter. The rains and warm weather in the past few weeks have turned the tables and some of these self same farmers are thinking they will have to cut up but little corn this fall.

Filthy Temples in India.

Sacred bows often defile Indian temples, but worse yet is a body that's polluted by contamination. Don't permit it. Cleanse your system with Dr. King's New Life Pills and avoid untold misery. They give lively liver, active bowels, good digestion, fine appetite. Only 25c at L. P. Orth's drug store.

A Traveling Man

confided to us the other day that he used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in his family and needed no other remedy, as it seemed to keep the entire family so perfectly free from Constipation, Indigestion, Sick Headache and Stomach Troubles. Sold by E. J. Raymond.

An Atchison woman took her baby to her husband's office recently and asked the stenographer to watch it while she went for refreshments at an afternoon card party.

Ready To Yield.

"I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for piles and found it a certain cure," says S. R. Meredith, Willow Grove, Del. Operations unnecessary to cure piles. It always yields. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Cures skin diseases, all kinds of wounds. Accept no counterfeits. L. P. Orth.

It is told of an Atchison church pillar that she looks the doors and pulls down the curtains on Sunday, and has a Seventh Day Adventist sewing woman on that day.

Happy Time in Old Town.

"We felt very happy," writes E. N. Berill, Old Town, Va., "when Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured our daughter of a bad case of scald head. It delights me to see it for Corns, Burns, Bruises, Bolls, Ulcers, Eruptions. Infallible for Piles. Only 25c at L. P. Orth's drug store.

An Atchison man took up the time of another a half hour the other day telling of a quarrel he had over forty years ago. Heavens, but old grievances do hang on!

Stonksville, Mo., May 5, 1900. Gentlemen:—I have been troubled with Indigestion and Constipation for the last two years, and have tried every remedy known, but had never received any relief until I was handed a trial bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin through our druggist, J. W. Watson, which gave me immediate relief, and I can truthfully say has given me more relief than anything I have ever tried.—R. B. Hurd. Sold by E. J. Raymond.

They make such costly drinks at Atchison and fountain that it is possible for a girl to make a young man too poor to marry her after three treats.

Spring Fever.

Spring fever is another name for biliousness. It is more serious than most people think. A torpid liver and inactive bowels mean a poisoned system. If neglected one or more illness may follow. Early Risers remove all danger by stimulating the liver, opening the bowels and cleansing the system of impurities. Safe pills. Never gripe. I have taken DeWitt's Laxative and Purgative for torpid liver every spring for years," writes R. M. Eversly, Moundsville, W. Va. "They do me more good than anything I have ever tried." L. P. Orth.

Emerson, Neb., June 24, 1902. The annual Dixon county S. S. convention will be held at Central church, seven miles northwest of Martinsburg, on July 12-13, 1902. You are cordially invited to be present with a delegation and a report from your school. Entertainment will be provided. Please take collection on July 6 for county work. J. E. CHASE, President.

Prof. M. K. Snodgrass stepped off the train Tuesday to greet old friends on his way through. While driving home from Wayne in a storm Tuesday night lightning struck close enough to W. E. Kalso to give him a severe shock and fell one of his horses. His children fled to the barn for comfort. Geo. Buskirk lost a valuable beef animal from overheat Monday while driving to ship. The animal stampeded and ran itself to death.—Free Press, Wisner.

"Miss Charlotte M. White, of Norfolk, formerly of Wayne, will be with us next Sunday evening, June 22," says the W. C. T. U. correspondent to the Randolph Times. The ladies will be in uniform at the opera house to which all are cordially invited. Miss White received the compliment of being the only woman for which an extension of time was given at the State Federation of Women's Clubs at their convention held in Lincoln two years ago. Come and hear her."

The annual picnic of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of this part of the state will be held at Crystal Lake, South Sioux City, August 20. Excursions will be run on both the Omaha and the Short Line and passengers will be unloaded at the park. Crystal Lake is one of the finest bodies of water in the state and this will prove a great attraction. There are ample accommodations for all kinds of amusements will be provided. The program for the day will be announced later.

The fact that Lincoln is to have a progressive, up-to-date evening paper will be good news to the people of the state. It will fill a field that has long been practically vacant, and we understand, will be conducted on broad lines in the interests of the material advancement of the whole state. That it will be a Republican paper, giving forth no amount of party politics without saying, and when it is further known that D. E. Thompson is the organizer and president of the company, no one will question its stability or success. It will be mailed to any address one year for $3.00; 6 months for $1.75; three months for 75c. Advance subscriptions are now being taken, and if you desire to receive the Star, beginning with the first issue send your name and address to the Star Publishing Co., Lincoln, Neb. The money for the subscription may be sent after the paper has been issued.

DID THE PIRATES GET IT.

In a letter received at the World's Fair Grounds, St. Louis, from Sanibel, Florida, the author expresses a desire to hear up a correspondence with Exposition companies concerning the $15,000,000 paid by the United States for the Louisiana concessions in 1803. "Was not some of this money lost—stolen by pirates?" he asks, and then he continues: "For many years people have been coming out here with their children buried here in the vicinity of Charlotte harbor by old Gasparilla and Lafitte, noted pirates. The survivors of this huge steal say it was the Louisiana Purchase money. Lafitte only acted as a spy; Gasparilla did the stealing. I've been here for it seven years and find considerable evidence concerning it, though it is very difficult to exactly locate. If it can be found, it will be the making of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. Please let me know if there was a portion of the money lost, for I am very much interested."

Road Notice.

To all whom it may concern: By order of the Board of County Commissioners of Wayne County, Nebraska: Upon the petition of Martin Muth et al for the opening of the following section line roads: Commencing at the northwest corner of section twenty-two, township twenty-five, range four, east of the sixth principal meridian, running thence west on the township line between township twenty-five, range four, and township twenty-six, range four, for a distance of four miles and terminating at the northwest corner of section township twenty-two, township four, in Wayne county, Nebraska. All objections to the opening of said road or claims for damages by reason thereof must be filed in the County Clerk's office on or before noon on the 20th day of August, A. D. 1902, or such road will be established without regard to objections.

Dated at Wayne, Nebraska, this 18th day of June, A. D. 1902.

these days, or rather nights, sees a great deal of women. At one of those swell parties not more than a thousand miles from here, a couple of young men were admiring the ladies and their gowns. "We had a fine one," said one, "your gown so fascinating a sight?" "No, since I was wanned," said the other.—Ex.

Saved From An Awful Fate.

"Everybody said I had consumption," writes Mrs. A. M. Shields, of Chambersburg, Pa., "I was so low after six months of severe sickness, caused by Hay Fever and Asthma, that few thought I could get well, but I learned of the marvelous merit of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, used it, and was completely cured. For several years I have had Lung Disease. It is the safest cure in the world, and is infallible for Coughs, Colds and Bronchial Affections. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at L. P. Orth's.

Fantastic stories have been written of magic mirrors in which the future was revealed. If such a thing were possible, many a bright-faced bride would shrink from the revelation of herself, stripped of all her loveliness. If there is one thing which would make a woman shrink from marriage it is the prospect of rapid physical deterioration which comes to so many wives. The cause is generally due to womanly diseases. Lost health and lost contentment are restored by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures irregularity and dries weakening drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I tell you what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery have done for me," writes Mrs. Emma L. Bankes, of 102 North 7th Street, Harrisburg, Pa. "They have done me a world of good. I had female troubles for six years, sometimes would feel so badly I did not know what to do, but I found relief at last. I thank Dr. Pierce for his kind advice. I have this medicine still in my house and will always keep it."

If you are led to the purchase of "Favorite Prescription" because of its remarkable cures of other women, do not accept a substitute which has none of these cures to its credit.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Or for cloth-bound volume send 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Notice To Farmers of Wayne County

The following prices were adopted at the meeting of the T. M. P. A., of Wayne county: wheat, 4 cents per bushel; oats, 3 cents per bushel; barley, 7 cents per bushel; millet, 6c; flax, 8 cents per bushel; timothy, 25 cents per bushel.

Coal will be furnished by threshermen 1904. By order of Committee of T. M. P. A.

You often hear men say: "That's my mistake in my house."

Ever notice how little influence a man has with his wife? Somehow, she naturally opposes what he favors.

Virulent Cancer Cured.

Startling proof of a wonderful advance in medicine is given by druggist G. O. Roberts of Elizabeth, W. Va. An old man there had long suffered with what good doctors pronounced incurable cancer. They believed his case hopeless till he used Electric Bitters. Advance Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which treatment completely cured him. When Electric Bitters are used to expel bilious, kidney and microbe poisons at the same time this salve exerts its matchless healing power, blood diseases, skin eruptions, ulcers and sores vanish. Bitters 50c, Salve 25c at L. P. Orth's.

Leads Them All.

"One Minute Cough Cure beats all other medicines I ever tried for colds, coughs, croup, whooping cough and other troubles," says D. Scott Curran of Longton, Pa. One Minute Cough Cure is the only absolutely safe cough remedy which acts immediately. Mothers everywhere testify to the good it has done their little ones. Croup is no sudden in its attacks that the doctor often arrives too late. It yields at once to One Minute Cough Cure. Pleasant to take. Children like it. Sure cure for grip, bronchitis, coughs. L. P. Orth.
