Hart Schaffner & Mark Hand Tailored

Here's a coat you can wear in the rain with out harm to the coat or to you; a Hart Schaffner & Marx raincoat; L'Aiglon.

You can wear it in sunny weather too if you like; it looks and feels like any other fine overcoat, with the rainproof quality added.

Raincoats are often risky buying; some of 'em don't shed rain at all and some of 'em look "water proof;" some cost too much; some don't cost enough.

The H. S. & M. raincoat is right in every way; to see it is to be convinced.

We received a goodly number of these this week, Tuesday, which we will keep for a week. As they are quite an expensive garment we do not feel justified to carry them in stock. Come in and look them over and give us your opinion.

(Malvern, Ia.)

Among the sterling attractions visiting Wayne this season, none have achieved greater financial or artistic success than "Si Perkins," the rural drama which is played at the opera house next Monday night, October 13. It is said that the play is particularly interesting from a dramatic point of view, being filled with strong situations and thrilling climaxes. As in plays of similar construction, "The Old Homestead," for instance, the central figure is an honesthearted countryman, Si Perkins hails from New England, and is the agent for the Agitator Threshing Machine Co. His special mission on earth is to benefit the farmers in general and his company in particular; taking care not to overlook No. 1. Cupid, in his arrowy attack upon the human heart, cares not whether the heart is contained in the bosom of the threshing machine agent or a Romeo; and Si is made a target of by the little god, who strikes him hard. The Yankee is proverbially lucky and shrew—and whether it is luck or shrewdness on Si's part, he succeeds in circumventing the enemies of his loved one, and in spite of furious opposition marries her. During the action of the play many clever skits and specialties are introduced, and the burlesque band from Pughtown will brighten up the atmosphere with blasts of funny music. Manager Harpstrite will make the prices popular. Prices 25-35-50cts.

Wayne county voters, who have an eye to business, will vote for J. J. McCarthy for Congress. He is the only candidate who can benefit the third district an iota.

The prospective coal famine announced from numerous parts of the country are plainly a prearranged conspiracy against consumers. Is this game to be played on 80,000,000 Americans every year?

The thirty-sixth encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic is being held in Washington, D. C., this week. On Monday Camp Roosevelt, as it had been named, was dedicated. The attendance is unusually large.

During his term of office, R. Russell, has made a careful and painstaking official as county commissioner and the county's business, seems to be pretty well taken care of. A true and tried official should be retained and he will no doubt be re-elected by a handsome majority.

Something must be radically wrong with the coal industry when a strike in one state sends up prices exorbitantly everywhere. The trouble seems to be the greedy, reckless manipulation of operators. They will get the worst of it in trying to hold up 80,000,000 people.

There are very few people in the third Nebraska district who have not heard of J. J. McCarthy and the biggest number will make an X for him when they vote next month, and at the same time they will fix it so that Congressman Robinson can engage in the newspaper business along with Bryan, Allen and other fusionists of high and low degree.

Dr. J. M. Alden of Pierce, the republican candidate for State Senator, was a Wayne visitor yesterday. He was here to meet old friends and make new ones and he was successful. The doctor is a splendid man to meet and a man who makes friends wherever he goes; and, being a thoroughly competent man for the position, in Wayne county he will receive a handsome majority.

Thos. Ziegler, ex-treasurer of Cedar county, now a resident of Kansas, has been found to be $23,000 short in his account with that county while Treasurer. Mr. Ziegler was considered one of the best and most trustworthy men in northern Nebraska. Though democratic in politics, it is difficult for anyone to believe that he thus deceived his constituency. It is a matter hard to understand.

The people of the nation are becoming terribly indignant over the damnable manner in which the coal barons are acting in the controversy in the eastern coal fields. The product of this earth of the country belong to the people who are not subject to pay more than its real value. But no man or set of men have the right to refuse to supply the people this product or refuse to allow others to supply it, and cause untold misery in the homes of millions of people. When they do the people will raise up in their might and there will be a storm that will make the coal kings wish they had harkened to the people instead of hungering to fill their own coffers.

The Herald believes it puts the matter correctly when it affirms that J. J. McCarthy is the equal, in every respect of any man that has been nominated in any congressional district in the state. He is a representative of the party that has placed the United States as the leading nation of the world, a party that brought prosperity to such as has never been known by any other nation on the face of the globe. Are you going to vote for your own and your country's best interests by voting for J. J. McCarthy for Congress or are you going to do something to spite yourself by voting otherwise? The Herald does not believe there are many people in Wayne county who will do the latter.

The full dinner pail is covering the desolation not a little and they are deserting to disperse it by (unwillingly) if they will point out a few workmen, even those who are engaged in strikes, whose dinner pails are empty, or in greater terms, any who are suffering from food in this country they will be doing a favor to a philanthropic people who have enough and to spare. It has not yet been shown that there was a necessity for establishing free soup kitchens as in Grover's day, and until there is there will be a large number of people who will cling to the full dinner pail as the right kind of a campaign cry. Even the strikers could find work and wages if they would but look for it outside of their regular call line.—Norfolk News.

The American people have the right to secure wealth, to obtain property and enjoy freedom but no man or class of men have the right to deprive the people of the United States of a necessary product at any price which it would not cause untold suffering in hundreds of thousands of homes. The people are mighty when once aroused and the coal barons had better harken to the storm of protest that is approaching.

The Hon. J. J. McCarthy is giving the fusionists of the big Third such a shaking up that they will be unable to regain their equilibrium in time to cast their ballots for his opponent. McCarthy is steadily growing in popularity and with a united effort on the part of all republicans the result of the balloting will be favorable to McCarthy, the "emerald gem."—Lyons Sun.

Protection Stands Solid.
Senators Hoar and Hale are two more statesmen of long experience who take occasion to say plainly that the attempted revision of the tariff at the present time would prove calamitous to business. They see nothing in existing conditions to indicate that there should be any revision in the next Congress, or in the one following that. Senator Hoar remembers that the tariff bungling of the first Cleveland administration was a horrible nightmare, rendered still more horrible during the second term. The prosperity of the farming, manufacturing and commercial interests of the United States is at the highest point. Senator Hale says: "I am dead set against the revision of the existing tariff. It is not perfect in every detail, but it has given us more revenue, more business and more prosperity than any other tariff act ever enacted. I want to let well enough alone." Republicans have not seen a single reason why tariff revision should be an issue or why any date should be fixed for regarding revision as an urgent political question. "Let well enough alone" is an excellent rule.

It is a well known fact that there are free traders in disguise working inside Republican lines, and their efforts to raise a disturbance in this campaign have failed. The most artful of these free trade agents are those who want to fix some future time for tariff revision, which is their name for ripping up all the schedules. Real Republicans, in the interest of good times, American wages and the continued expansion of our industries, want the Dingley tariff let alone until the reason for changes is clear. As a matter of fact, there is no occasion to alter any schedule or to fix any future session for framing a new tariff law. The country will be most fortunate if the new tariff, when it comes years hence, is as wise and effective as that mainly designed by William McKinley and Nelson Dingley. Let the free trade agitator, in disguise or otherwise, go over to the party of calamity, where he belongs.

Still Without an Issue.
Though the congressional elections are but little more than two months distant, the Democratic party is without a single definite proposition on which to make the fight. It has copied off perceptibly on the Philippines. Republicans are far ahead in practical ideas touching the regulation of trusts. Financial questions are avoided by Democrats. War taxation has ended. The tariff issue is upon, if the Democratic party cares to make that the pivot of the contest, but in the light of what happened a few years ago they would rather be excused. Prosperity still abides throughout the land. Business men generally are crowded for orders and every wheel is turning except in the few cases where strikes are in progress. Last year's treasury operations ended with a big surplus, and there will probably be a balance on the right side, in spite of immense tax reductions, when the fiscal year closes ten months hence.

The Democratic party has failed to find an issue in the year 1909 simply because there is none on which opposition politics can be intelligently based. But Democrats can console themselves with the fact that no issue is as profitable as the rejected issues the party has been chasing for forty years. It abandoned the issue of sound money and left Mr. Cleveland in the lurch because he had a different opinion as to that movement. Where is the issue of the forty cent dollar today? Where are the other Democratic issues that have been insisted on in the past? A Democratic paper in Brooklyn says the party this year will vote on instinct, and it considers the issue pleasing. The Democratic party is reduced to the necessity of voting against Republican policies without being able to give a specific reason for it. It is safe to say the next Congress will not be elected on instinct.

BIG SAVING TO THE STATE

Present Method of Dealing with Railway Transportation.

GOV. SAVAGE STOPS A "LEAK."

Fusion Officeholders Traveled on Passes and Then Charged the State for Transportation—Other Abuses Corrected by Republicans.

Lincoln, Oct. 6.—The present Republican administration has made a large saving to the taxpayers of Nebraska in the matter of railway transportation. The fusionists were elected on an express promise to take no passes, but that promise, like all the rest made by them, was recklessly broken. Every fusion officeholder had a pass, from the commander-in-chief to the office boy. But what was worse still, in many instances, these "reformers" traveled on their passes and then charged the state for transportation. Many a dollar was smuggled out of the state treasury in this way.

Governor Savage was not slow in putting a stop to this practice when he assumed the governorship. He interrogated the representatives of the railroads and asked them whether transportation was given for personal reasons or whether it was given on account of the office the individual held. The railroad representatives were unanimous in saying that the transportation was a donation to the state and was given on account of the office. Immediately on learning this, Governor Savage notified state officials and employees that under no circumstances would any one riding on a pass or free transportation be permitted to charge up transportation to the state. This brought a protest from some of the employees, who further claimed that they received their passes as personal favors and the state was not therefore entitled to profit thereby. To one of these, who asked if he might not travel, his pass and charge up, transportation, Governor Savage said: "I cannot prevent you from charging up your transportation, but I can prevent you from charging it to the second time. If I can take up my pen and write the state anything like that, or if any other state employe attempts it, I will not be satisfied with dismissing the guilty one from the public service, but I will institute criminal proceedings at once. While I am governor the money of the taxpayers will not be expended in that way."

Nor has it been. Not a dollar has been drawn from the state treasury for transportation by any officer or employe using free transportation. When it is the superintendents of the three state institutions, six oil inspectors, several bank examiners and many employes whose duties require them to travel a great deal are transported by the railroads without charge to the state, some idea may be formed of the generosity of the railroads and of the amount of money saved the state by reason of it.

It should be borne in mind by those who contend that public officials should receive no free transportation that the duties of a very large majority of those holding office require them to travel about the state. All the public institutions and property of the state are managed by boards or committees, composed by law of state officers. If these officials were required to pay their railroad fare it would take more than their salary for that one purpose, while if the state had to pay for all those required to travel in the performance of their official duties, it would require thousands of dollars of appropriation by the legislature.

But while the railroads were even more generous with the fusionists than they have been with the Republicans and while nearly every fusion official and employe traveled on free transportation, it did not prevent the fusionists from milking the state treasury for expenses never incurred. More than one voucher appears in the files of the auditing department for money alleged to have been expended for railroad tickets, when in fact the claimant traveled on free transportation. The fusionists seemed to think when they got in power that they had a goat to skin and they skinned it, and even though the tail projected but an affectionate distance from the body, it too went with the hide.

Impeached by the Records.
The fusionists presume a great deal on public forbearance when they ask the voters of Nebraska to return them to power.

In the light of the splendid showing made by the Republicans and the very small showing made by the fusion administration, it is difficult to determine on what ground the fusionists base their claims for popular endorsement.

The official records show that the present Republican administration has made a saving during the last two years over the amount of expenses estimated by the legislature at more than $189,000. The indications are that by the close of this year the saving will exceed $200,000, or by far the largest surplus in the history of the state.

The fusionists are contending that the legislature appropriated unusually large sums, forgetting that the estimates were made by them and that the amount appropriated is more than $100,000 less than they estimated and asked for. No doubt that the fusionists trumped the amount asked for would have been none too large, for during the preceding biennium, they expended on all the money appropriated and contracted to add to the extent of over $148,000 in addition.

Then, too, while the record of the fusionists from a financial standpoint was had, their management of the state institutions was no better. Reports of disharmony, of the struggle for spoils, of public thievery, are still fresh in the memory of everyone. It is notorious that positions requiring competency, skill and what is equally as important, honesty, were partitioned out to political favorites and factions in utter disregard of the public good. Men were appointed for what good they had done the party rather than for their fitness resulting in filling the institutions with incompetents and, in many instances, with public plunderers. It was this that disrupted the public funds, caused the public service to retrograde, licensed fraud and well nigh impaired the state's credit at the counter of its own merchants.

To return this element to power would be to again expose the treasury to shameful extravagance and the state institutions, with their hundreds of unfortunate inmates, to almost criminal incompetency.

Trading Off Their Ticket.
While manifesting buoyant pretensions and while boastfully claiming success for the state ticket, the fusionists admit their insincerity by the endeavor to trade off Thompson and the entire state ticket for votes for their congressional candidates. Republicans have been approached during the last week by fusionists in the Third and Fourth congressional districts and offered votes for the Republican ticket in return for Republican votes for fusion congressmen. The fact seems to have dawned upon them that their state ticket is already hopelessly beaten, with every indication that every Republican nominee for congress will be elected, and they have concluded that they cannot afford to submit to the embarrassment of a large Republican majority on the state ticket if they can only fool the Republicans into voting for their congressional nominees. Republicans who were approached saw at once the motive and spurned the offer. That Nebraska will go Republican on the state ticket by from 12,000 up is reasonably certain and it is almost as certain that Nebraska will contribute her mite towards keeping the nation prosperous by electing a solid Republican delegation to congress.

Poorly Maintained.
To appreciate the improvements that have been made in connection with the state institutions during the last two years, one has only to make an ideal comparison between buildings that are clean kept and well repaired and those that are unsanitary and badly dilapidated. Very little of the money appropriated for the care and maintenance of public buildings was expended in that way by the last fusion administration. The money was taken out of the treasury, but where it went to no one appears to know. The buildings were in the worst condition imaginable. In nearly every state institution plastering was off, the interior wood work was coated with filth, the furniture and bedding was all but ruined. The spectacle, to say the least, was pitiable. It is difficult to believe that public servants would so far forget their duty as to permit of such a wreckage and destruction of public property.

The Republicans on assuming charge proceeded at once to repair the damage. Of the amount of money expended for maintaining the institutions no small sum was for repairs and furniture. Had not this been done, so complete was the wreck, that a delay would have cost a much larger expense as the buildings were going to wreck in an alarming pace. Even with this extraordinary expenditure, the Republicans have so managed the institutions as to maintain them for $182,000 less than the legislature estimated it would cost and $280,000 less than the fusion administration estimated and asked the legislature to appropriate.

True to Protective Principle.
Senator J. P. Dooliver of Iowa discussed the practical aspects of the political campaign at Chicago, Oct. 2, with the delegates to the thirtieth annual convention of the National Republican League and a large number of their friends as an audience. The eloquence and wit of the speaker were directed to an exposition of what he was pleased to call the "Iowa idea," but which he declared was a "Republican idea" that would in time be recognized as the "American idea."

Senator Dooliver took the position of an optimist. He was not alarmed over the trust problem. The law of competition eventually would be the doom of the trusts, and the protective principle would continue to advance the interests of the nation as it had done in the past. Mr. Dooliver believed that within a few years every trust or industrial combination not legitimately capitalized and managed on the soundest economic principles would pass away.

It is always safe to array yourself on the side of your country; it is always safe to stand against lawlessness and repudiation.—Major McKinley, at Ganton, Sept. 23, 1896.

It is not true that as the rich have grown richer the poorer have grown poorer. On the contrary, never before has the average man, the wage-worker, the farmer, the small trader, been so well off as in this country and at the present time.—President Roosevelt in message to congress, Dec. 3, 1901.

Call the roll of nations that are for protection. * * * At least 430 million people are in favor of protection and 38 million Britons are against it; to whom must be added those Americans, whose numbers are not known, who, while living under our flag, seem to follow another.—Major McKinley at Toledo, O., Feb. 12, 1891.

There have been abuses connected with the accumulation of wealth, yet it remains to be seen for some accurate and legitimate business can be accumulated by the person, specially benefited only on condition of conferring immense incidental benefits upon others. President Roosevelt, in message to congress, Dec. 3, 1901.

President Roosevelt's views on tariff revision were explained at length in his speech at Loganport, Ind., Sept. 23, 1902. The president advocated changes in many present schedules, declared them advisable, owing to new conditions, but he insisted upon one point—that nothing must be done to interfere with the American standard of living for American workmen. A commission for body of experts, much of a character above suspicion, to act upon proposed alterations in the tariff schedules, was advised by the president. He, however, declared there must be no abandoning of the policy of protection, only a readjustment, made necessary by the various changes in the world of commerce. These, he said, must not be too radical or of a nature to unsettle conditions.

Do You Want to Yawn?
Free cold shivering, aching in the bones, lack of energy, headaches, and great depression? These symptoms may be followed by violent headache, high fever, extreme nervousness, a condition known as malaria. Herbine cures it. Take it before the disease gets a fair hold, though it will work a cure in any stage. J. A. Hopkins, Manchester, Kan., writes: "I have never seen your great medicine, Herbine, for several years. There is nothing better for malaria, chills and fever, headache, illness, and for a blood-purifying tonic, there is nothing as good." 500 at E. J. Raymond.

The most timid man will take any chance of escape. The slender rope dropped down the precipice, the slippery log over the abyss, anything that offers a chance of life, is eagerly snatched at. The end the man seeks is safety, but he gets nothing.

There are thousands of men and women whose lives are at stake, who are hindered from accepting the one means of safety by foolish prejudice.

Dr. J. C. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been the means of restoring health to many men and women whose health had been ruined by various ailments, such as malaria, chills and fever, headache, illness, and for a blood-purifying tonic, there is nothing as good." 500 at E. J. Raymond.

It does not pay any man to have poor foot wear. His shoes should fit his feet at all times. For plowing they should not leak dirt and should be easy on his feet. Breaking in a new pair of shoes is not a desirable thing at any time and certainly no one ought to try this when plowing. Heavy lined shoes with very heavy soles will be the ideal shoe for wearing while husking corn. Rubber boots are the poorest foot wear one can select.—Homestead.

FULL STATE FORCE

ENTIRE PENNSYLVANIA NATIONAL GUARD CALLED OUT

Good Order Must Be Maintained - Gov. Stone Acts Vigorously to Suppress Rioting - Not Since 1802 Has the Whole Force Been Called Out.

A Harrisburg, Pa., special says: Gov. Stone late Monday night ordered the entire division of the National Guard of Pennsylvania to duty in the anthracite coal regions. The order calling out the troops has the following:

Headquarters of Pennsylvania National Guard, Adjutant General's Office, Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 6. - In certain portions of the counties of Luzerne, Schuylkill, Carbon, Lackawanna, Susquehanna, Northumberland, and Columbia, tumults and riots frequently occur and mob law reigns; men go down to work and their families are threatened. Railroad trains are stopped and the streets are kept open. The civil authorities are unable to maintain order, and have called upon the governor and commander in chief of the National Guard for troops.

The situation grows more serious daily. The territory involved is so extensive that it is impossible to prevent all disorders. The presence of the entire division of the National Guard of Pennsylvania is necessary in these counties to maintain the public peace.

The major general commanding will have the authority to call out the National Guard in such quantities as will render them most effective for preserving the public peace.

As tumults, riots, mobs and disorders usually occur when men attempt to work in and about the coal mines, he will see that all men who desire to work, and their families, have an opportunity to do so. He will protect all trains and other property from unlawful interference, and will arrest all persons engaging in acts of violence and intimidation and hold them under guard until their release will not endanger the public peace; still see that threats, intimidations, assaults, and acts of violence are not committed. The public peace and good order will be preserved upon all occasions, and throughout the several counties, and no interference whatever will be permitted with officers and men in the discharge of their duty under this order. The dignity and authority of the state must be maintained, and the power to suppress all lawlessness within the borders asserted. By order of WILLIAM A. STONE, Governor and Commander in Chief, Pennsylvania, Stewart, Adjutant General.

This is the first time since the Home Guard in 1862 that the entire division of the guard has been ordered out for strike duty.

The cost to the state of this tour of duty will probably exceed $1,000,000.

MYSTERY IN WOMAN'S DEATH

Shot with Husband's Revolver and Strangled It Was Accidental - A Springfield, Ill., special says: The police are investigating the death of Mrs. Mabel Jones, which took place Monday morning at St. John's hospital as the result of a mysterious wound inflicted early Thursday morning. Mrs. Jones was shot while in her husband's bedroom with a revolver, which, it is said, she accidentally discharged.

The woman's dying statement was that it was an accident. Edward Jones, the husband, alleges that he was asleep when the shot was fired. His sister-in-law rushed into the room, and when she discovered in awakening the man was told to get out. Jones also insisted that he did not hear the shot.

EFFORT WAS FUTILE

Conference at White House Results in No Agreement - A Washington, D. C., special states: Great disappointment is felt here over the failure of the president's efforts to end the anthracite strike. It was hoped when he summoned the coal operators and the head of the striking miners to meet him that it would lead to a speedy resumption of mining in the high coal regions. Apparently no good has resulted from the conference held here Friday. Indeed, they may result in stiffening the opposing lines and indefinitely postponing an amicable settlement of the controversy.

The operators' only proposition was that the miners agree to work as individuals and refer their grievances to the judges of the local courts, whose decisions would be respected.

Mr. Mitchell and his advisers rejected this proposition. They proposed that the differences be referred to a committee of arbitration appointed by the president, the miners meantime returning to work and to remain at work even if the committee decided against them.

The operators rejected this saying they would consider no proposition emanating from Mitchell.

This situation left the conference nothing to do except to adjourn.

Since adjournment it has been alleged that the bituminous coal operators were encouraging the anthracite strikers to contribute money in order that they may profit by extending the market and increasing the use of soft coal.

It is so it adds a serious complication to an already very grave situation.

Constitutional lawyers say that the situation is such that any order to deal with effectively by Congress, that the miners be wholly satisfied that it is the president's duty to see that the president, the legislature, and the people must handle it.

RIOTING NEAR WILKESBARRE

News from Washington Has a Depressing Effect - A Wilkesbarre, Pa., dispatch says: The news from Washington that an agreement had been reached at the conference Friday had a depressing effect in all interested here.

Some of the local operators who were interviewed think that the miners, knowing that all lines of laboring seem to be going, will gradually return to work.

The strike leaders are of the opinion that the struggle will continue, and that cold weather will not compel the operators to make concessions.

Some excitement was caused Friday by a row near the Northgate mine. A negro deputy was assaulted by a party of strikers, and shot one of them in the abdomen. The mob threatened to tear down the structure and lynch the negro, but the prompt arrival of six companies of the troops restored order.

R., at which it was expected he would occupy the reviewing stand in front of the White House. PROMISE TO MINERS President Roosevelt Undoubtedly Has Decided on One - A Washington special says: In an earnest effort to expedite the adjustment of the coal strike problem, another conference over the situation was held at the White House Sunday, and adjourned after three hours of deliberation. No statement was given out as to the conclusions reached, and every participant absolutely refused to discuss what had taken place at the meeting. The conference was set for Sunday in view of the extraordinary importance to the American people of a speedy solution of the question.

Besides the president, there were present at the conference Secretary of War Root, Secretary of the Navy Moody, Attorney General Knox, Postmaster General Payne and Colonel Carlisle D. Wright, United States Commissioner of Labor.

The last named was summoned to attend the conference on account of his expert knowledge of the situation in the anthracite coal fields, and because of his personal investigation of the conditions there which he made some months ago at the instance of the president.

It was notable that only four of the members of the cabinet were present. This, however, was significant only of the fact that three of those four were lawyers, and that the issue involved was one which called for the deliberation of trained legal minds.

The fourth cabinet member, Postmaster General Payne, has taken a prominent part in the preliminary conferences over the coal situation which led up to the conference with the railroad presidents and miners' representatives Friday, and besides has had a lifelong identification with corporate interests which are involved in the present question.

When the conference adjourned, a few minutes before 1 o'clock, all those who had joined in it departed to talk. Wright, the only outsider who was present, was pledged to the president to absolute secrecy as to what had occurred within the conference room.

Cuthbertson, including Mrs. Cuthbertson, his daughter, and Mrs. Isabella Cuthbertson, his mother, were taken suddenly and violently ill shortly after breakfast Sunday morning, with symptoms of poisoning, and for several hours their condition was critical. Late in the afternoon Dr. J. S. Goetz, the attending physician, pronounced his patients out of danger. Dr. Goetz said that members of the family were suffering from ptomaine poisoning.

A bottle of milk from which each of the sick persons had drunk was taken by the police and will be chemically analyzed. The milk was purchased Sunday morning from a grocery store in the vicinity of the home of the Cuthbertsons. Mrs. E. A. Cuthbertson drank a portion of the milk in some whiskey for breakfast and is not ill. From this it is believed that the milk was the cause of the illness.

The family ate breakfast about 9 o'clock after which Mrs. Isabella Cuthbertson left the house to visit friends in the neighborhood. She had taken only a short distance when she was suddenly taken violently ill. She hastened home and found the members of the family working over Mr. Cuthbertson, who was suffering with severe pains in the stomach. Dr. Goetz worked over them for twenty hours and it was late in the afternoon before he stated they were out of danger.

Crane with the President that President Roosevelt will take a hand in settling the coal strike. It is said the first attempt will be made along the lines of moral suasion. Even if the interested parties hesitate about accepting a reasonable compromise, the government will present the proposition by President Roosevelt will bring the controversy to a direct issue, and public opinion will be so strong in favor of the proposition that both the miners and mine owners will be forced to make concessions and end a situation which has become intolerable.

If moral influence were successful then the President will resort to legal means and every law upon the statute books which has any bearing on the situation will be invoked for the purpose of bringing about a resumption of work in the mines and giving relief to the people. Just what the power of the government will be in the premises, it is difficult to negotiate at thorough search of the law.

Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Tetter and Acne

Belong to that class of inflammatory and disfiguring skin eruptions that cause more genuine bodily discomfort and worry than all other known diseases. The impurities or sediments which collect in the system because of poor digestion, inactive kidneys and other organs of elimination are taken up by the blood, saturating the system with acid poisons and fluids that ooze out through the glands and pores of the skin, producing an indescribable itching and burning, and the yellow, watery discharge forms into crusts and sores or little brown and white scabs that drop off, leaving the skin tender and raw. The effect of the poison may cause the skin to crack and bleed, or give it a scaly, fishy appearance; again the eruptions may consist of innumerable blackheads and pimples or hard, red bumps upon the face. Purification of the blood is the only remedy for these vicious skin diseases. Washes and powders can only hide for a time the glaring blemishes. S. S. S. eradicates all poisonous accumulations, antitoxins the urine and other acids, and restores the blood to its wanted purity, and stimulates and revitalizes the sluggish organs, and the impurities pass off through the natural channels and relieve the skin. S. S. S. is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier. It contains no Arsenic, Potash or other harmful mineral.

Write us about your case and our physicians will advise without charge. We have a handsomely illustrated book on skin diseases, which will be sent free to all who wish it.

Beautiful Complexions.

Are spoiled by using any kind of preparation that fills the pores of the skin. The best way to secure a clear complexion, free from sallowness, pimples, blotches, etc., is to keep the liver in good order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver, and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at E. J. Raymond.

Look Out For Fever.

Biliousness and liver disorders at this season may be prevented by cleansing the system with DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills do not gripe. They move the bowels gently, but copiously, and by reason of the tonic properties, give tone and strength to the glands. L. P. Orth.

A formerly of Wayne man who thought this town was too small for him, was washing dishes in a restaurant when last heard from.

America's Famous Beauties.

Look with horror on Skin Eruptions, Blotches, Sores, Pimples. They don't have them, nor will any one, who uses Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It glorifies the face. Eczema or Salt Rheum, fish before it. It cures sore lips, chapped hands, chilblains. Infallible for Piles. 25c at L. P. Orth's drug store.

When a man gets mad at a horse, how mad he gets! Would he be equally angry if he had an opponent capable of fighting back?

Forty Years Torture.

To be relieved from a torturing disease after 40 years' torture might leave the gratitude of anyone. That is what DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve did for C. Haney, Geneva, O. He says: "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me of piles after I had suffered 40 years." Cures cuts, burns, wounds, skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. L. P. Orth.

One of the greatest mistakes in life is that those who can afford a handsome modern nursery, have no children to put in it.

Goes Like Hot Cakes.

"The fastest selling article I have in my store," writes August C. T. Smith, of Davis, Ky., "is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, because it always cures. In my six years of sales it has never failed. I have known it to save sufferers from Throat and Lung diseases, who could get no help from doctors or any other remedy." Mothers rely on it, best physicians prescribe it, and L. P. Orth, guarantees satisfaction or refund price. Trial bottles free. Regular sizes, 50c and $1.

Express agents say that they never delivered a collect package without the receiver saying that the charges should have been paid at the other end.

The Worst Form.

Multitudes are singing the praises of Kodol, the new discovery which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what they eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you feel good all over.

Mrs. Cranfill, of Troy, I. T., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol and after using four bottles I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia. Take a dose after meals. It digests what you eat." L. P. Orth.
