Theodore Roosevelt on "The Presidency."
Before his nomination for the Vice Presidency, Theodore Roosevelt wrote expressly for "The Youth's Companion" an article on "The Presidency." It will be published in the number for November 4, this being one of the quarterly editions of 1902 sent free from the time of subscription to very new subscribers who are subscribers $1.25 for "The Companion" for one year. The article on "The Presidency" was written so long ago that it has been forgotten even that its author would so soon be called upon to take up the duties of the great office. For the reason that Mr. Roosevelt had had no previous extraordinary interest in all things of political nature, it is a very original and fresh piece of the 1902 edition of "The Youth's Companion" and a sample copy of the paper will be sent free of charge to any address.

The Weather Prophet.

Sing he, the Weather Prophet! He says Quite warm, and that the wind will blow from the southwest;
And when the fisher goeth to angle in the deep Sing he, the Weather Prophet! He doth predict the rain.
And that the eastern wind approacheth for the stormy main.
The farmer farmer thinketh he now will have his corn in But woe to him in desert drought, if it raineth not one drop.

Sing he, the Weather Prophet! He doth predict this wise:
"A rising temperature will be attended by clear skies."
And when the playing party into the woods doth go,
Right blows the northern blast and damply falls the snow.

Sing he, the Weather Prophet! he hardly wishes his said:
This will not be if his predictions always were in fault
And who could turn him upside, and bring the truth to light—The Prophet's so contrary that he sometimes gets us right.

THE POPULAR PULPIT

USING A CRUTCH.

By Rev. Geo. L. Ferrin, D. D.

"Now, behold, thou stretchest upon the staff of this bruised reed."—H. Kingsley.

A year or more ago a man climbed borderly upon the stairs to my church study on crutches. He was seeking for something to do, something that even a lame man could do. His was a pathetic case. After some time he explained to me directly to the point, and said:
"Well, my friend, what can you do?" I named over a few things that he thought he might be able to do, but added, sorrowfully: "A man compelled to spend his days on crutches doesn't amount to much."

I have thought of his words many times. He probably had in mind the chances of a man on crutches in the competitions of life, and from this point of view he doubtless spoke truly. For a few and continuous are those that a man needs all his faculties and bodily powers at their best if he is to keep pace and fare well in the struggle.

As I was standing in the door of St.
Vincent's hospital, Norfolk, Va., one morning, with one of the hospital physicians, he said, pointing to the pathway leading to the gate: "Do you see that man walking on crutches?" "Yes," I replied. "Why do you ask?" "He has been here a day for three months that he could not have walked without the crutches if he had only thought so."

STRIVE FOR CHARACTER.

By Rev. Leander Turner.

Preachers are accused of telling the poor to be contented in their hard fate while preaching pleasant things to the rich. This pulpit at least is not guilty. Wealth as an end ought never to be sought, and even as a means it is easy to make too much of it. But this teaching is for the rich as well as the poor of the two classes the rich need it far more than the poor. Even Christians have come very slowly to understand and believe the teaching of Jesus in regard to wealth.

It is originally the nations were literally living for the seeking of things, things, things. They lived material lives, and their chief objects of pursuit were material power, beauty, pleasure and wealth. Those who saw the error of this went to the opposite extreme of accounting things as of no value.

CHANGE IS INEVITABLE.

By Rev. E. A. Crandall.

Does Paul contradict himself when he demands conformity to the world? In his letter to the Corinthians he declares that he becomes all things to all men. He conforms to his environment in all that has no moral significance. In dress and speech and social usage he is not unlike his fellows. But in all that pertains to the moral and religious realm he is peculiar. In this realm he refuses to conform to the world of his age. He stands as a citizen of the kingdom of God.
People imagine that there is some special virtue in dressing in a peculiar garb, using strange speech, refusing to live as his fellows live. It is a shallow view of the religious life which sees it to consist in externals. He lives as his fellows in his time lived, so far as social customs were concerned. He never tried to make himself noticeable by eccentricities of conduct. He was separated from his fellows men only in the spirit and purpose of his life.

SERMONETTES

"Truly See.—As man develops the power to truly see and hear and communicate, he is invariably finding the things of life, not death—of love, not anger; and this is to say that when the full power to receive is used, man finds only God, love and fatherhood helping him into the fullness of sonship. Not only must man reach up to God, but God reaches toward man; the infinite and the finite share in the process.

Special Note.—There are two things in the teachings of Christ which are worthy of especial note. They are the large amount of the Gospel which are given over to the teachings for children and the honor which is done to women in the Gospel. The Christian religion is peculiar among religions in that it pays special attention to children. The founders of the other religions who were existing at the time Christ came to the earth paid little or no attention to the children. Christ was different.—Rev. E. R. Willard, reformed, Wooster, Ohio.

The earnestness of life is the only passport to the satisfaction of life.— Theodore Parker.

MAKING OF TROUT FLIES.

Movie Whiskers and Bears' Eyebrows Are Used.

There are trout and salmon-fishers who pay several thousand dollars a year for their "flies" alone. Few persons can learn to tie the artificial flies, —knitting hair that can hardly be seen —so the skilled fly-maker commands high wages. The materials cost money, too, says the Maine Sportsman. The earth is ransacked for feathers and hairs, and one hair wrong makes "all the difference."

SUFFERED SEVEN YEARS

With Catarrhal Derangements of the Pelvic Organs.

Hundreds of Dollars Spent in Vain—Peruna Cured.

Miss Kate Brown, Reporting Secretary of the L. C. B. Association of Kansas, in a letter from 605 N. Seventh St., Kansas City, Kan., says:

"For seven years I have not known what it was to spend a well day.
I caught a severe cold which I neglected.
It was at the time of menstruation and inflammation set in and protracted my Catarrh of the kidneys and bladder followed, my digestive organs gave way, in fact the cold disarranged my whole system.

"I sent my thanks and blessings to you for Peruna. Miss Kate Brown, A neglected cold is frequently the cause of death.
It is more often, however, the cause of some chronic disease.
There is not an organ in the body that is not liable to become seriously deranged by a neglected cold. Diseases of the kidneys, bladder and digestive organs are all frequently the result of a neglected cold.
Hundreds of dollars are spent on doctors and medicines trying to cure these diseases, but with the true cause of them is discovered, there will be no use in using medicine.
Dyspepsia, indigestion, diarrhoea medicine and constipation medicine is of no good whatever when catarrh is the cause. The catarrh must be treated. The cause being removed, the derangements will disappear.
Peruna cures catarrh of the digestive organs, the urinary organs or any of the internal organs.
If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will immediately give you his valuable advice gratis.

The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Beauty Triumphs,
To a Painless Treasure.

No woman objects to being beautiful. Beauty is woman's charm, joy, pride and strength. The world has always looked and admired beautiful women. A pretty woman draws instantly for fear of losing this power and influence over to her. What can be done to preserve the face and keep women beautiful? There is a balm universally used by cultured and cultivated women in the crisis. It is a balm which does well to investigate this remedy in order to preserve their faces on the point of use with which children can be born and all beauty of form and figure retained.

Mother's Friend

Is the simple name by which this invaluable remedy is known. It will diminish all pain arising from indigestion. Used throughout the day it will dispel morning sickness, cure sore breasts, make elastic all tendons and fibrous tissues. A pretty woman draws instantly for fear of losing this power and influence over to her. What can be done to preserve the face and keep women beautiful? There is a balm universally used by cultured and cultivated women in the crisis. It is a balm which does well to investigate this remedy in order to preserve their faces on the point of use with which children can be born and all beauty of form and figure retained.

he will not take an active part in poli-

James Britton has been nominated for representative by the democrats and populists. And what a snap for his opponent.—Stanton, Picket.

The Supreme Court has rendered a decision which bars the Bible from the public schools of Nebraska. Daniel Freeman of Gage county, the first man to secure a free homestead under the United States homestead act, is the complaining party who secured the decision. As a friend of the court a prominent member of the Catholic church of West Point assisted by filing a brief.

Mr. Freeman is understood to be of no religious faith. He complained that the woman teacher in school district No 21, Gage county, read the Bible, sang songs from a book called the "Gospel Hymns," and offered prayer in the school room, the children joining in the exercises. All this the court holds is "religious and sectarian" and is plainly prohibited by the state constitution.

"Such matters being the subjects of sectarian differences," says the court, "are excluded by the express words of the constitution from being taught in or in any degree countenanced in educational institutions maintained to extent by the public funds."

The unexpectedly large treasury surplus for August is due to the productiveness of the Dingley law. Tariff tinkers think they can improve the present tariff, but the practical business sense of the country will be slow to believe it.—St. Louis "Globe-Democrat."

Tariff tinkers do not concern themselves with so trivial a question as revenue production. Their sole idea seems to be that the times are too prosperous, that prices are too high and that somebody is making too much money. It is for the purpose of rectifying these objectionable conditions that they urge the importance of Tariff revision. They are quite right. It would unquestionably bring about lower prices. To take off the duties on articles competing with trust products would lower prices forthwith, and the decreased range of prices would hold good until such times as our own trusts should have reached a "working agreement" with the foreign trusts. In the meantime all the non-trust industries would suffer a knockout blow. That would suit the trusts exactly. Once domestic competition was removed the home trusts would be masters of the situation and in a position to dictate terms with foreign competitors. With the disappearance of Tariff Protection would inevitably come the international trusts. The Tariff insures home competition, and home competition is a safe and certain check upon trust extortion. You cannot smash the trusts by smashing the Tariff, but you can smash the non-trust competing industries by that operation. The "progressives" clamor for lower Tariffs and foreign competition as a means of throttling the trusts, forgetting that this plan would at the same time throttle the competition of the non-trust concerns. Either they forget it or are unable to comprehend it. In any event their remedy is futile, worthless and destructive.—Economist

Gen. J. T. Stewart of Pennsylvania, was elected commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., at the National Encampment held at Washington last week.

"Slander campaigns," says The York Times, "have failed so signally and so often in Nebraska that most politicians and newspapers have learned to shun them. It is a pretty good thing."

A train robbery occurred near Lincoln early Saturday morning in which the highwaymen secured $23,000 in booty. It was a daring affair, but up-to date no clue of the perpetrators has been found.

Is there any fault to be found with the present state administration? Not a bit of it. Then why not let well enough alone by voting for the present state officers, and J. H. Mickley for Governor, who will succeed Sayage.

There is nothing in the Dingley Tarriff bill which shatters the two great est of all trusts, the coal and the Standard Oil trusts. These grabbing monopolies will meet their Waterloo some of these days when the American peoples' indignation reaches such a point that patience ceases to be a virtue.

John H. Mickley, the republican nominee for governor, will be victorious at the coming election. A man of his sterling qualities cannot be defeated at the polls. The people want a man of his make-up and character to try a hand in the executive office. It will prove beneficial to the people and to the state.

The Lincoln Daily Star of Lincoln, a new daily evening paper, published by D. E. Thompson, has been received at this office. It is an up to date daily in every particular, and is sixteen pages, seven columns to the page paper with subscription price, $3.00 per year. It will be most interesting reading both from a news as well as a political stand point.

Every republican in Wayne county should make it his business to go to the polls in November rain or shine and cast his ballot to stand pat for the present prosperous condition of affairs. Don't take any chances, but get out and attend to your duty. The state ticket is an admirable one, while the congressional and legislative tickets consist of good, representative men. Business is business in politics as well as in anything else.

The money of this country is the best on earth. No matter in what form you get it, it brings 100 cents on the dollar, gold, silver, copper, paper or draft. It was made so under a republican administration, and there is any quantity of it. Take the Wayne bank statements for instance, as an evidence. Therefore no one is worrying over the kind of money, and about all that are worrying to any considerable extent are the fellows who are not pulling at a good thing.

State Superintendent Fowler is by all odds the most able man who ever filled that position during all the history of the state. The newspapers of the state can do no better thing for the state than to give Mr. Fowler's candidate help. Mr. Fowler is doing for the common people of the state Beautiful Complexions.

Are spoiled by using any kind of preparation that fills the pores of the skin. The best way to secure a clear complexion, free from sallowness, pimples, blotches, etc., is to keep the liver in good order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver, and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at E. J. Ray-

SALOON MEN FIGHT MICKLEY

Deal With Fusionists to Defeat Republican Candidate.

WOULD LET DOWN ALL THE BARS

Liquor Dealers Not Satisfied With the Present Liberal Laws—Their Real Ambition is to Dominate Political Affairs of the State.

Lincoln, Oct. 13.—There is substantial evidence at hand to show that the fusionists have entered into a deal with the liquor interests to accomplish the defeat of J. H. Mickley, the Republican candidate for governor.
Mr. Mickley is charged with the terrible offense of being a temperance man and the saloon element regards this as sufficient cause to marshal their forces against him.

The people of Nebraska placed on the statute books a law that represents a compromise with the liquor interests. It is not as drastic a measure as most people prefer, and, if anything, it grants liberties to the liquor dealers largely in excess of the expressed wishes of a large majority of the electors of Nebraska. Mr. Mickley voted for that law, therefore he cannot be charged with maintaining intemperate hostility to the liquor traffic.

But this does not seem to satisfy the saloon element. They want all the bars that protect the home and society thrown down for them. They are not satisfied with trafficking in the vile liquors that steal away the brains and debauch the conscience of their fellow-man, but they want to traffic in politics and dominate the political affairs of the state.

The manhood of Nebraska will not consent to any such sovereignty.
There are thousands of temperance men who have opposed prohibition because they doubted of its efficacy who will not hazard the risk in the event the saloon undertakes organized and concerted warfare against the principle of temperance. A saloonkeeper has the same right that any other voter has to vote for whom he pleases, but when an organization composed of saloonkeepers representing every political faith unites to defeat the candidate of a party, individually is extinguished and the aspect changes.
When this is done the question is at once raised of the rights of the business represented and the subject should be dealt with accordingly.

The liquor interests are playing with dynamite when they undertake the subversion of public sentiment.
No line of business that obtains its right to exist through the good offices of popular suffrage is exempt from the bounds of propriety. Those best informed on the sentiment of the people of Nebraska are well aware that the enactment of prohibitive legislation has been stayed only by herculean efforts on the part of the opposition. It would require but little an-tagonism on the part of the saloon element to kindle an opposition and hostility that would not abate or be appeased until every saloon in the state was closed. In sentiment, Nebraska is a temperance state with a potent tendency toward prohibition, and nothing is better calculated to focus this opposition on the saloon than for the saloon element to undertake by concerted action to control the political machinery of the state.

Mr. Mickley enjoys the distinction of being a fair-minded man and the attempt of the liquor dealers to defeat him merely because he abstains from the use of intoxicants, will, if pursued to the end, bring down upon them a storm from whose withering blasts Nebraska will afford no shelter.

WANTON EXTRAVAGANCE.

Compare That Record of the Fusionists With Present Administration.

Those who are interested in the welfare of those who by misfortune have become inmates of the state institutions and those who believe that these institutions should be honestly and economically conducted have every reason for supporting the Republican ticket and every reason for opposing the fusion ticket.

Everybody remembers the last fusion administration as an administration of extravagance, disharmony and scandal.

The records show that it squandered the funds and contracted debts in excess of the appropriations to the extent of $149,000.

In regard to disharmony the newspapers of both parties bear abundant evidence of an unceasing wrangle over spoils. There was not an institution that was not torn up all the time by interclass warfare with stultification as the bone of contention. It is resulted in poor and expensive management in a waste of property and money and in the unfortunate inmates being sadly neglected.

In regard to scandal, the facts are still fresh in the realm of public opinion. Open and direct charges were made in the public prints of dishonesty.
Nearly every state institution was included in the bill of impeachment. Here a top student was charged with dissipating the funds and there with embezzling the very it was so apparent that no one attempted to deny the charge and it was so widespread and general that it was widely and generally that it was responsible for it—wanton extravagance or wholesale dishonesty. As a matter of fact the evidence shows both.

The incumbent Republican administration stands without a mark of dishonesty or extravagance against it.
There have been no quarrels over spoils and no scandals in the state institutions. The very best men were placed in charge of these institutions. Honesty and integrity were two things that were always considered making appointments. This has resulted in the inmates being well

When an administration spends all the money appropriated by the legislature and $129,000 besides, as was done by the last fusion administration, there is just one of two things responsible for it—wanton extravagance
of fact the evidence shows both.

were placed in charge of these institu-

never and in the institutions being well managed. The institutions were never in the history of the state of-ficed by a better class of superintendents. Every one of them was chosen because of special fitness.
Every one of them has established a record for honesty, economy and efficiency. Those who have had occasion to visit the institutions are profuse in their praise of the officers in charge.

It means a great deal to the state whether the state institutions are well managed. An increase of 1 per cent per capita per day to the average mind would appear too trivial to take notice of, and yet an increase of 1 per cent per capita means a daily loss to the state of $32. One cent a day increase at the Hastings asylum means a loss to the state of $8 per day.

There are over 3,000 inmates in the various institutions of the state. An increase of 5 cents per capita per day would mean a loss to the state of over $58,000 in a year.

By watching these seeming trifling things that the Republicans made a large saving.

Dare Any Farmer Say He Has Not Prospered?

With all the talk and clamor about oppressive trusts, the fact remains that the people of Nebraska generally are more prosperous and are making more money than ever before. Owing to the high price of farm and meat products, the farmers and stock growers of Nebraska will receive 50 per cent more for their surplus products this year than they did in 1896.

Everything that is grown on the farm has gone up in price and has increased in purchasing capacity. A few hogs will sell for enough to build a good barn and a few more will bring enough to build a house. An ordinary hog will bring $30 and an ordinary steer, $60 to $80. In 1896 pork was $3.75 per hundred and beef cattle $4. or about 40 per cent less than now.
Corn has gone up, wheat has gone up and interest rates have fallen.

The crop this year will sell for $20, 000,000 more than it would at the close of the Cleveland administration. The merchant, the farmer, the laborer, the professional man—everybody is more prosperous than ever before. Do you want a change?

A Remarkable Spectacle.

If the fusionists overlooked anything during the Poynter administration it was because it was invisible to eyes that were keen and beyond reach of appetites that were ravenous.

In one of the congressional districts one of their number was elected to congress. He celebrated the event by moving his family into a state institution that happened to be located in his district. When he went to Washington his family remained at the institution and was kept at the state's expense during his term. When he returned from congress, he made his home at the institution with his family. Finally sickness overtook him and the very remarkable spectacle was presented of a member of congress being buried from a state institution. This story is recited merely to illustrate to what extent the fusionists while they were in power foraged on the taxpayers.

Diet of Plug Tobacco for Infants.

The bill of fare at the Home of the Friendless during the last fusion administration must have been one distinguished principally for variety.
The population of that institution consists of homeless children, but during the fusion administration bills were rendered for whole boxes of plug tobacco and wagon loads of oats. Oats and tobacco is a rather strange diet for little children, but then that administration is noted for all sorts of innovations. At Beatrice it bought harnesses for the inmates and at the Soldiers' Home at Milford, where the inmates were at that time all males, it bought ribbons, laces and fancy underwear, devised, adopted and designed for the opposite sex.

Fowler's Record Becoming Famous.

The voters of Nebraska made a wise choice when they elected Prof.
W. K. Fowler superintendent of public instruction. Prof. Fowler is one of the most thorough school men in the state. He has exercised a keen interest in school work for many years, and since he has been at the head of the department of public instruction he has devoted every minute of his time to the educational interests of Nebraska. It is admitted by those interested in education the state over that the schools have made splendid progress under his direction. He is devoted to the work and allows no opportunity to improve the system of instruction to escape him.

Reputation of Bryan.

A solid Republican delegation to congress will be a notice to the whole country that Nebraska has been forever and unconditionally divorced from doctrines that begot industrial depression and unstable currency. Nebraska has enjoyed exceptional prosperity and the more the world at large is impressed with the understanding that Nebraska repudiates and has no sympathy with Bryanism, the greater will be the degree of prosperity.

Questions Which Should Be Answered.

The Sioux City "Journal" is not pleased with the American Economist's illustration of Secretary Shaw's in-sistency in deprecating tariff changes in his speech at Morrisville, Va., early in September and an advocating tariff changes by "swapping trade privileges" in his Chicago speech late in September. It says: "The idea of the American Economist is that there is only one course for tariffs on competitive articles, and that is upward. The Iowa idea is that, the course, under changing conditions, may sometimes be, without detriment to the public welfare, downward. The Iowa idea is that tariffs no longer required for revenue or for protection may with good reason be traded for advantages in foreign markets."

Allowing that the two ideas are as the "Journal" states them, which one is the true Protection idea and which the false? To shut out foreign competition for the benefit of domestic production and to thus insure domestic competition is the Protection idea.
Along with the fulfillment of that idea this country has taken first place among the industrial nations of the world. By doing its own work and paying wages to its own people instead of to foreigners the public has reached a stage of prosperity hitherto unknown in the world's history. Is that a bad idea?

The Iowa idea seems to favor an increase of foreign competition. Governor Cummins fully declares that to be its purpose, and he ought to know, for he is one of the progenitors of the Iowa idea. The Sioux City "Journal" apparently concurs in the Cummins and Roberts interpretation when it says that "tariffs no longer required for Protection may with good reason be traded for advantages in foreign markets." Now, if that means anything—if it is not blithering nonsense—it means that we are to remove or lower our tariffs in order to facilitate foreign competition. Either it means that or it means nothing. The foreigner is not interested in and will not thank us for any tariff removal or tariff reduction that will not enable him to sell more of his goods in the American market. You are offering him a gold brick—and he will not buy it—if you propose to remove for his benefit a tariff no longer required for Protection. He will reply: "Do you take me for a fool? If you want to swap trade privileges with me you must lower tariffs that are needed; otherwise, it's all off; nothing doing; we can't swap."

The Sioux City "Journal" is at some pains to avoid answering the following question addressed by the American Economist to Secretary Shaw, and incidentally addressed to every advocate of the plan of revising the tariff by reciprocity arrangements instead of by direct amendment—namely:

"Do you champion the swapping of trade privileges in competitive article in conformity with the Iowa idea of securing through reciprocity the thing which would be harder to secure through tariff revision?"

Perhaps Brother Perkins will consent to answer through the "Journal" this question:

"Is any scheme of reciprocity practicable which does not involve the reduction of our tariff duties to a point where the foreign producer can get into our market with his competitive goods? In other words, is competitive reciprocity possible without the reduction of our tariff duties below the Protective point?"

We should be glad if the Sioux City "Journal" would answer this question.
It is asked in good faith. We already know how the Free-Trade League answers it, also how it is answered by the National Reciprocity League. Both tell us that if reciprocity is to come, Protection must go. But we would like to have an answer from one who is a Republican and a Protectionist and a believer in the policy of swapping trade privileges; an answer, in short, on the basis of the Iowa idea.—American Economist.

The Journal forcibly answers the above, but we have no space for it this week.

After a hard days work it will not come amiss to call at the Capital and get a glass of good beer; you will then relish a good meal.

MORE LIGHT.

Bright light is one of the things that the human race all enjoy whose deeds are good. Darkness is for sleep, and those whose deeds are evil enjoy darkness rather than light. We are not asleep and our deeds will stand the searching rays of light. This store has nothing about it that is dark or mysterious. Everything here is bright and new and our method of doing business is open and fair to all. No X Y Z method used in marking goods, but everything is marked in plain figures and sold strictly at one price. No shoddy goods enter our building, and every article we sell we have been selling for years and we know when we recommend it that it will prove satisfactory.

Since we have enlarged this building we have light as clear as day in any part of the room, and we have just put in a new patent lighting plant and we have light at night that is clearer than day light. This is a great advantage to trade in the evening. You can see all the colors and trade after dark as well as in daylight. We have tried for twenty years to find a light strong enough to show clothing after dark, and we are glad to say we have found it. Come in and we will show you how this light is made. If you need any light on the subject of clothing you can get it here and it will not cost you a cent. Our stock is now complete and there is no other town the size of Wayne that has so large a clothing stock. Our fur coat stock is double the size of last year. We are selling more Staley Underwear than ever before. We have the finest line of Men's and Boys' Shoes in Wayne. We have Six Thousand Pairs of Heavy Canton Flannel two-thumb Mittens to sell at four pairs for twenty-five cents. Come in and see our new store. Everything new and cheaper than elsewhere.

MY FRIEND FROM ARKANSAS.

The above attraction, which will be at the opera house October 21, is another of the successful character plays that are taking the country by storm now-a-days. This play gives us a picture of life in Arkansas, showing the different types of individuals that are to be found in that locality. Any one that is at all familiar with the people of Arkansas will readily understand that if the characters are properly drawn they can not help but be interesting when presented upon the stage. Mr. Robert Sherman, the author of "My Friend From Arkansas," has fulfilled his mission in writing the play, for he has drawn characters true to life, people that you meet every day in Arkansas. He has woven a strong plot around these people and introduced much natural and wholesome comedy, thereby making this drama one of the strongest plays now before the public. Prices 25-35-50cts.

DIED.

Mrs. Etha Larson was born in Knox county, Ohio, August 6, 1886; died October 11, 1902, age 66 years, 2 months and 5 days. Early in life she was united in marriage to Simon Larson, who survives her. They moved to Iowa. To this union eight children were born of which six are now living, Charles, John, Williams, Walter, Mrs. Luella Strahan, and Mrs. Bessie Franks. In Iowa she united with the Cumberland Presbyterian church. From Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Larson removed to Nebraska where they have since made their home. Mrs. Larson's health had been failing for three years. A few months ago she was taken to Council Bluffs, for treatment and care but the change was without benefit. Early Saturday morning last she suffered a severe stroke of paralysis which resulted in her death. The remains were brought to Wayne Monday morning accompanied by relatives from Omaha. The funeral occurred from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Strahan, Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Welden of the Baptist church, officiating.

The eleven school teachers of Wayne's public schools, chaperoned by Prof. and Mrs. M. R. AGREE TO APPOINTMENT OF A COMMISSION BY PRESIDENT.

Decision is to be Accepted—They Have Many Grievances—Severe Arrangement of the United Mine Workers and of President Mitchell

A Washington special says: By an authority of J. F. Morgan, who with his assistants, Robert Bacon, and Secretary Keogh were in conference with President Woodrow Wilson at the temporary White House Monday night for an hour and a half, a statement was given out by Secretary Coffey in which the presidents of the coal-carrying railroads and mine operators propose a commission of five persons to adjust the differences and settle the coal strike in the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania.

The proposition is believed by the administration to be satisfactory to the miners, as it covers the proposition by President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers' Union, with additional conditions which it is believed the miners will accept.

The statement is a voluminous one, and arraigns the United Mine Workers and President Mitchell severely.

The commission is to be constituted as follows:

1. An officer in the engineer corps of either the military or naval service of the United States.

2. An expert mining engineer, experienced in the mining of coal and other minerals, and not in any way connected with coal-mining properties, either anthracite or bituminous.

3. One of the judges of the United States courts of the eastern district of Pennsylvania.

4. A man of prominence, eminent as a sociologist.

5. A man who, by active participation in the mining and selling of coal, is familiar with the physical and commercial features of the business.

While no official statement was made at the White House after the operators' address was made public by Secretary Coffey, the opinion was expressed that the way is now open for a complete settlement of the strike and that the mines would soon be in operation once more.

The issuance of the statement followed a conference at the White House, which assembled very quickly after Mr. Morgan and his partner, Robert Bacon, had reached Washington on a flying trip from New York.

The proposition of the coal operators was the result of the visit of Secretary Woodrow Wilson to New York and his conference with Mr. Morgan on Saturday.

TWO KILLED AND MANY HURT.

Heavy Powder Charge Causes Explosion in Illinois Mine.

A Springfield, Ill., dispatch says: The worst mine explosion ever known in the history of Sangamon County occurred at 12:30 Monday afternoon in Victor mine, Payne, eighteen miles southwest from this city, when two men were killed, four fatally and many others less seriously injured.

The accident happened just before the day force of 100 men went off duty. The explosion was caused by a charge of powder being too heavily charged, and the concussion caused the coal dust which thickly overlies the mine to explode with great force.

Some idea of the force of the explosion can be learned from the fact that all of those killed and injured were about 4,000 feet from the place where the shot was being fired.

ROBBERS GOT $33,000.

Body of Train in the Nebraska Train Holdup.

A Lincoln, Neb., special says: The man hunt in southeastern Nebraska lagged Sunday and the four highwaymen who held up the Burlington train near Lincoln early Saturday morning have seemingly distanced their pursuers. The heavy rain which fell all night and the drizzle up to noon Sunday made the following of the trail, even with bloodhounds, out of the question. The Burlington detectives and Lincoln police officers who were beating about in Cass County abandoned the search and returned here Sunday morning. Officers in every town that the robbers might visit are on the lookout, but at Burlington headquarters the statement was made that not an arrest had been made during the day.

Some of the Lincoln policemen are of the opinion the robbers are either hiding in this city or not far from here. That statement is based on the fact that Sunday night three houses were stolen at the town of Raymond, not far from the scene of the holdup, ridden hard in a roundabout way to this place, and abandoned. A house near Raymond is declared to be a rendezvous of thieves and hard characters, and some of its occasional occupants have caused the police much trouble.

The theory is that after the holdup the robbers drove rapidly to this place and were by their friends kept in hiding during the day. One of the Raymond men whom it is thought may have some knowledge of the holdup, though not actively connected with it, was seen in the vicinity of the robbery Friday. He recently completed a term in the penitentiary, the police say. It is possible some arrests may be made in the vicinity of Raymond.

This was the third and most successful attempt to hold up train No. 43. The train has been in service about three years. In fact, officials of the road say it was the best planned robbery in the history of the western railroads, and its execution showed that the desperadoes were not amateurs.

A police officer working on the case said Sunday evening that according to figures given him by an official of the express company there was close to $33,000 belonging to the company in the body secured by the robbers.

A Minneapolis, Minn., special says: Mystery surrounds the death of Elmer Stone, a fireman in the Lumber Exchange building, whose roasted corpse was found under a pile of shavings in the basement of the structure after the fire department had extinguished the flames and departed Sunday morning.

Stone had been literally roasted to death. It is not known how the body failed of discovery until after the fire had gone. The suicide theory is discredited, and the matter will be investigated by the police.

A BOY'S AWFUL CRIME.

Endeavors to Wipe Out a Whole Family.

A Homestead, Pa., special says: While laboring under mental aberration the result of the strain of perfecting an appliance for patents on an air brake, Charles Cayley, aged 17, Friday killed his sleeping mother and sister and fatally injured two brothers and two sisters. He tried to kill two other brothers, but they, after a fierce struggle, overpowered the maniac and turned him over to the police. Cayley used an ax with which he crushed and hacked the victims beyond recognition.

The Cayleys live in a neat six-room house on Second Avenue, Homestead. Thursday all the members retired about 10 o'clock. Mrs. Cayley and Belle occupied one bed, while Josephine, Adeline, Raymond and Agnes occupied other beds and cribs in the same room, which was on the second floor in the rear.

Charles, the murderer, and his brothers James, aged 20, and Harry, aged 14, occupied a front room on the second floor, adjoining their mother's room.

About 3 o'clock Friday morning Charles quietly arose and, dressing himself, but not putting on his shoes, crept down to the cellar and secured an ax. Coming upstairs he went into his mother's room, where his victims were sleeping. After turning up the light the maniac approached his mother's bedside and swung the ax with such force that her skull was crushed. The mother, evidently never knowing what struck her, but the crazed son, thinking his first blow did not do its work, pounded his dead mother's head almost to a jelly.

Melie, the oldest daughter, slept soundly, the dull sound of the ax on her mother's head not rousing her. Charles hurried to her side of the bed and struck her with the ax. It is thought that the first blow slipped and awok the girl, but only for a second. She did not have time to scream for the next blow killed her.

The head then turned to the smaller children and struck each one over the head with the bloody weapon.

Believing he had dispatched them all he started for his brother's room, but James, the oldest, had been awakened by the groans in his mother's room, and as Charles entered he seized a heavy rocking chair, and after a fierce struggle overpowered him and turned him over to the police.

On the way to the station he fought furiously, but after being placed in a cell he calmed down and did not seem to realize what he had done.

After a thorough examination by the coroner it was reported that the young man's story of robbery had been disproved, and that Cayley died in a fit of insanity.

Raymond Cayley died at the South Side hospital Friday night at 11:30 o'clock, making four dead.

Anna, the 11-year-old sister of Cayley, died Friday night at the South Side hospital. It is reported that the three other injured will probably die.

The boys tried to cross the bridge ahead of the trolley, when the younger one's foot caught between the ties. The engineer saw the boys but it was too late to stop. He threw the whistle and cried to the other boy to jump.

Eugene, as the train was almost upon them, managed to free his brother, and catching him around the body with one arm, spring to the other side of the bridge and lay down, holding his brother clear off the bridge and clinging to a tie with his free hand. The engine headed him as he passed.
