

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Locals and Personals, Both City and Country.

O. D. Franks was a Sioux City visitor Friday. Dan Roush was a Winside visitor Saturday. Chas. Nydahl was here from Winside Saturday. Clarence Fish went to Omaha Tuesday afternoon. Henry Kellogg arrived home Monday from Niobrara. Mrs. Pile and Miss Stewart were in Winside Saturday. Clyde Winterburn went to Bel'den Monday to remain a few days. Fred Wright came up from Lincoln Saturday to remain for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mettlen visited here Sunday with Mr. Mettlen's mother.

Frank Kruser went to Crystal Lake, Tuesday afternoon on a duck hunting trip.

Misses Mae and Mary Claybaugh attended the funeral of Miss Elliot at Winside Monday.

Lovers of a good smoke will call at the Capital and try some of O. D. Franks fine line of cigars.

Don't be a widow. Make your husband buy Staley underwear and he will live longer than you. 2 JOHNS.

The choicest lines of wines and brandies for family use can be obtained by calling at the Capital.

The fellows abroad hallow'en right did a little mischief in one form or another, but we hear of no property being destroyed.

Henry Leuders has moved his barber shop into the handsome and commodious room in the basement of J. P. Gaertner's furniture store.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Carlin and daughter of Omaha, arrived Tuesday morning for a few days visit with Mrs. Carlin's sister, Mrs. Ed Raymond.

O. D. Franks has just completed the new addition to his residence, has painted the whole of it and now has one of the neatest homes in the city.

W. Goldie has moved the Democrat plant into his building 1st. door north of Veget's hardware store and feels pretty comfortable in his own home.

Last Friday a drizzling rain fell nearly all day and night, making the roads slippery and bad, while corn husking was for the time abandoned.

The Acme Club will meet Tuesday Nov. 11, with Mrs. Wright Leader, Mrs. Crawford, Critic, Mrs. Orth, Leeson, Religious of North and South America.

To cure a cold in one day take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

L. M. Owens attended the sale of cattle at South Omaha Friday and shipped home Saturday one of the finest cars of Hereford cattle ever brought into the county.

R. R. Smith who resides north of Winside attended the cattle sale at South Omaha last Friday and shipped home some fine cattle including a very handsome and valuable Shorthorn Durham bull.

Dr. Dawson left Monday for a visit of several days at Durant, Illinois, Chicago and other points. Rev. Hughes of Wakefield will occupy the M. E. pulpit here next Sabbath during the pastor's absence.

While moving into his building just north of Veget's Saturday, Walter Goldie had the misfortune to break his large job press, which fell to the sidewalk while trying to get it in the doorway. The damage was considerable.

A public dance will be held at the opera house tomorrow (Friday) evening. Excellent music will be furnished by Collin Bros. celebrated harp orchestra of Marcus, Ia. A grand, good, orderly time will be enjoyed. Everybody invited.

The Redmond Comedy Company gave an excellent performance of Davy Crockett, at the opera house last Thursday evening. The company has no superior on the road, and while a fair audience greeted them it should have been much larger.

The team of E. H. Gibson, who was accompanied by his son Ed, ran away Tuesday just a little ways from their home as they were starting for the polls in Hunter precinct. Both were thrown from the buggy, Mr. Gibson receiving some severe bruises and his son a dislocated arm. However, they went to the polls just the same after Dr. Williams had tendered professional assistance.

Ex U. S. Senator, W. V. Allen, addressed a large audience at the opera house last Saturday evening and tickled the ears of his followers. It was given out that he would answer Secretary Shaw who spoke the Saturday evening before, but he didn't. He dealt mostly on State issues and devoted considerable time to a rebuff of the old Barley deal and general berating of the republican party and every thing else.

Postmaster Baker was here from Carroll Tuesday.

C. A. Chase went to Sioux City yesterday morning.

Thos. Lound was up from Winside yesterday morning.

Mr. H. L. Taylor went to Dixon on Saturday to remain a week.

J. J. Moore of Carroll, was in the city on business Saturday afternoon.

Dr. J. C. Clark, Eye Specialist; will be at Wayne, Boyd Hotel, December 8th.

Mrs. Frank Tracy came up from Winside Saturday afternoon for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brown went to Winside Monday to attend the funeral of Miss Elliot.

"Not ready to die," is what a man said to us when buying Staley underwear last week. 2 JOHNS.

A very pleasant dance was held at the opera house by the young people on Friday night.

Taylor Steen and Harry Fisher were hunting at the reservation lake the first of the week.

Mrs. H. J. Candor of Hoskins, visited over Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Mettlen, in the city.

Dr. Mettlen of Bloomfield, and W. J. Mettlen, Asst. Chief Clerk, R. M. St. of Omaha, were in the city over Sunday.

380 men are wearing Staley underwear in Wayne county. Try a suit and you will keep well. 2 JOHNS.

The elements has not banded it to the farmers very kindly as whole this year, yet here is very little complaint.

"I am alright now" said a man to the other day, "I wear Staley underwear and don't have to use crutches." THE 2 JOHNS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Tucker returned home Friday from an extended and pleasant trip to Buffalo, New York, and other eastern points.

All the doctors in Wayne agree that Staley wool underwear is the proper thing to wear in this climate. They all wear it. 2 JOHNS.

O. D. Franks has in stock the finest line of cigars to be purchased on the market. For a good smoke step into the Capital and get it.

Henry Hudson went to Carroll on business Saturday. In about a week Mr. Hudson expects to go to Indiana for an extended visit of several months.

O. D. Franks of the Capital, keeps nothing but pure stock and the best goods. When buying case goods for use at the home, see him. It will pay you.

Rev. Hughes will preach at the M. E. church next Sunday at 10:35 a. m. The following program will be rendered at 7:30 p. m.

Song Services conducted by Prof Snodgrass. Prayer Dr Ivory. Anthem Choir. Scripture Lesson G. C. Terwilliger. Song Notices and Collection Mrs. Grogg. Paper Ma's Quartet. Recitation Mrs Colony. Song Three Prayers Doxology Dismissal G. C. Terwilliger.

Monday was the anniversary of the birth of Wayne's expert electrician and manager of the water work system, Thos. J. Filtz, and in honor of the event his wife prepared a happy surprise for him in the evening by inviting a number of friends to aid in celebrating the event and a pleasant evening was spent. Progressive high five was indulged in and at the close of the series of the game the first prize for ladies was won by Mrs. McNeal, the 2nd by Mrs. Jas. Miller. Jas Porterfield won the Messrs first prize and Rollie Ley 2nd. Very pretty refreshments were served during the evening at a beautifully decorated table. The invited guests were Messrs and Mesdames J. J. William, Rollie Ley, Jas. Porterfield, Thos. Moran, Jas. G. Miller, H. L. V. W. H. McNeal, and Mrs. A. Crave and Chas. Craven.

Why have rheumatism when you can buy Staley Underwear It will cure you. Try it. THE 2 JOHNS.

The marriage of Miss Lois G. Childs to John E. Lauenberg of St. Louis, Mo., was solemnized in Carroll yesterday afternoon, by Rev. W. W. Lewis of the Baptist church. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Childs, in the presence of a few invited guests. The bride is the youngest daughter of the late A. P. Childs and is a young lady of accomplishments and trained ability, and is well known in Wayne county. Mr. Lauenberg, while a stranger to our people, is highly spoken of as a young man of exemplary habits and a skilled mechanic. Following the ceremony and congratulations, a dainty and tastefully arranged wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Lauenberg will leave this week for Kansas City, Mo., where they expect to make their future home. The well wishes of their many friends go with them. Aug. Loberg, north of town, was visited by thieves last night. They carried off a set of heavy work harness, a saddle and four bridles. August is at Wayne today to see the authorities.—Carroll Index.

D. C. MONTGOMERY.

MANILA, Nov. 3.—D. C. Montgomery, superintendent of schools in Oriental Negroes, was murdered Friday by Ladrones, three miles from Bacod. Mr. Montgomery was going to Bacod for a consultation with the retiring superintendent and to assume control of the division. He had a large sum of money with him.

Six natives armed with bolo and spears attacked the superintendent, quickly killed him and then mutilated and robbed him. The constabulary have offered a reward for Mr. Montgomery's murderers and it is thought they will be captured. Robbery is understood to have been the motive for the deed. This is the first instance of a teacher in the Philippine island being harmed while in discharge of his duties. Mr. Montgomery leaves a widow, who is a teacher in the island of Negros.

Mr. Montgomery was a resident of Lexington, Nebraska and sailed for Manila on the transport Thomas July 23, 1901, with the teachers who were sent out at that time. The War department has received confirmation of the death of Mr. Montgomery.

Mr. Montgomery was a Nebraska boy whose boyhood home was at Edgar. He was a graduate of Hastings Presbyterian college, after which he took a theological course at McCormick Presbyterian seminary in Chicago, Ill. He was regularly ordained and his first pastorate was at Woodhall, Ill. Always having a heart for the darkened portion of the human race, after serving two years he became a missionary to South American, having charge of a mission near Bogota, Columbia. Here he did field work for two years, but was obliged to return to the United States on account of his wife's health. He then located at Wayne, Neb., as pastor of the Presbyterian church, and as a result of his labors a fine church building was erected at that place.

In twenty-six years we have cured thousands of cases of Rheumatism by selling them Staley all wool underwear. 2 JOHNS.

Mr. E. B. Young of Wayne, missionary for The American Sunday School Union was with us last Sunday and superintended the school. It was a very pleasant session, all who failed to attend missed a good thing.—Dixon Herald.

A woman came to Wayne from Randolph to buy Staley underwear as she said she got tired seeing her husband suffer from rheumatism. THE 2 JOHNS.

Don Forbes and Miss Dollie Holtz of Wayne were married Wednesday of last week at the residence of the bride's parents. Miss Holtz was a nurse at a hospital in Sioux City last year, and nursed Mr. Forbes when he was operated upon, and by her kindness and womanly qualities won his esteem and love. Both are highly esteemed young people. They are house keeping at the groom's fine farm home north of town.—Dakota County Herald.

NOTICE

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, will give a Tea at the church, Thursday evening Nov. 13th, to begin at 6 o'clock. No charge will be made for the Tea, but a voluntary offering will be given for missions. You are cordially invited. Mrs. H. E. COBBET, Secretary.

NOTICE

There will be a Missionsfest in the German Church, Rev. J. E. Kerpentstein Pastor, on Sunday November 16. Service in the morning by Rev. G. Rapp of Emerson, in the afternoon by Rev. H. Gehring of Winside. All the members and German speaking friends are cordially invited.

NOTICE OF RESOLUTION.

Notice is hereby given that on this 31st day of October, 1902, the firm of Perry & Porterfield was dissolved by mutual consent, Ed Perry having purchased the interest in the firm of James Porterfield and will continue the business. Dated Oct. 31, 1902.

EDWARD PERRY. JAS. PORTERFIELD.

Jones' Book Store.

New Goods arriving daily. A beautiful line of China and Cut Glass. 100 piece Best China Dinner Sets at a reasonable price. A beautiful line of Jardinieres.

Picture Frames and Pictures.

New Mouldings and Beautiful Pictures. We can frame the picture to please you.

Pianos and Organs.

Our prices are right. Our Pianos and Organs are well known and have an established reputation.

Note: Weber, Hardman, Ludwig, Kingsbury Pianos. Mason & Hamlin and Chicago Cottage Organs.

Jones' Book Store.

MAKESHIFT REPAIRS.

That kind of repairs only lead to more damage and expense. If it is done right the first time it will stay done. Here a Repairing is not a side issue here, but an important part of our business. Men, women and water all to do good work are all here. Small or large jobs are equal well attended to. Nothing is slighted or overlooked. Charges are moderate.

WM. DIEPENSTOCK, Wayne, Neb.

G. H. DARNELL,

Proprietor of

THE CITY BAKERY

Now manufacturers a fine line of Candies which he is enabled to sell cheaper than other dealers having purchased an oven for that purpose.

Chocolate Creams, Taffy, Peanut Crisps and various other kinds.

OYSTERS!

Served in all styles, also sold by the bulk or in cans.

RIVERSIDE OAKS.

Are the Prettiest and best heaters made. They have ash pans and burns all kinds of fuel. We have them in three prices.

Craven Bros.

CALL AT DAVIES' STORE

And see the large stock of New Fall Cloth Bound books at 15 cents and up. Our variety of novels far exceeds in design and quality any we have heretofore shown, and at low prices. We are well stocked with School Books, Tablets and School Supplies. A full line of up-to-date stationery.

In our music line we have just received a beautiful Chickering Bros. Piano in a dark oak case, finely finished, and with hand carved panels. The action is fine, and the ringing tone of the instrument is excellent. Another new piano just received is a Mahogany Cass H. Milton Piano, made by the well known D. H. Baldwin Co. at their Chicago factory. This instrument was granted high honors at the last Paris Exposition, and is a fine piano at a moderate cost. We also have a large size Bentley Piano, walnut case. This is a strong and durable instrument.

In organs we have Esley, Western Cottage and the ideal.

M. S. DAVIES' BOOK AND MUSIC HOUSE.

IN A NUT SHELL.

Up-to-Date, Seasonable Goods for sale at Reasonable Prices.

This is the whole story in a nut shell concerning Furchner Duerig & Co's. elegant line of Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Ladies' and Gents' Furnishings, Notions and Groceries.

Our Goods are all new and of the latest styles and patterns. We invite all to call at our store and satisfy themselves as to the quality of our goods.

Furchner, Duerig & Co.

We want your produce.

Raymond's Superior Cream.

A toilet preparation for chapped hands, face or lips. Superior to glycerine, vasoline, etc. We guarantee you will like it. 15 and 25 cent bottles.

Raymond's Drug Store. Wayne, Neb.

N. B. I have ten oak syrup barrels for sale, 75 cents each.

Brookings's Grocery

Sells everything in the

Line of Fruits.

also Glass Jars for Canning Purposes.

Fresh Groceries

arriving daily from the City Markets.

Bring your Butter and Eggs in to

BROOKINGS GROCERY.

Opposite the Post Office.

MORE MINERS WORK

ANTHRACITE OUTPUT BEING INCREASED DAILY.

The Strike Commissioners at Work in the Lehigh Valley Region—President Mitchell Has Filed the Miners' Side of the Case.

A Hazleton, Pa. special says: The anthracite strike commission spent the entire day Monday in the Lehigh valley region, visiting one mine and several of the anthracite villages. While most of the commissioners were looking over the operations, Recorder Wright was kept busy on the train attending to the correspondence of the commission.

Among the matters he disposed of was the sending of a copy of President Mitchell's statement of the miners' case which was filed with the commission on Sunday night before its departure for Scranton from this region to all the coal companies involved in the district.

The statement was mailed from this city and should be in the hands of the companies Tuesday. Under the agreement made before the commission at Washington the operators will make a reply in three or four days.

The commission's first step of the day was at Upper Lehigh, where A. C. Leisenring, superintendent of the Upper Lehigh Coal Company, took the commissioners for a drive through town. While in this place the arbitrators visited one of the homes of the miners, the first they have been in since they have been touring the region.

Drifton was the next place visited, and there a crowd gathered about the commission as Superintendent Smith, of Cox's Brook, Co., explained the trouble between the company and its men. All the miners employed at this mine are still on strike because the company insists upon their returning to work as individuals and not in a body.

At Jeddo John Markle, the independent operator, joined the party and escorted the commissioners to the mining village of Oakdale, near Jeddo. Mr. Markle showed them the club house which he maintains there for the benefit of the men. None of the men at the Markle colliery have returned to work for the same reason as those which are keeping the men out of the Cox's mines.

The entire afternoon was spent in Audreod mine. The commissioners were lowered into the workings 250 feet below through a 1,100 foot shaft.

AMERICAN SLAIN.

Former Miner Murdered by La. Drones—Robbery the Motive. Manila advices state: D. C. Montgomery, superintendent of schools in oriental Negroes, was murdered Friday by la. drones, three miles from Bacolod. Montgomery was going to Bacolod to assume control of that division. He had a large sum of money with him. Six natives armed with holos and spears attacked the superintendent, quickly killed him and then mutilated and robbed him. Robbery is understood to have been the motive for the crime. Montgomery leaves a widow, who is a teacher in the island of Negros.

BRIDEGROOM GOES TO PRISON

Stole $50,000 to Pay the Expenses of His Wedding. An Iowa Falls, Ia. special says: Ed Shaffer of this city has been sentenced to the penitentiary for one year. Shaffer is a young man who pleaded guilty to the indictment of grand larceny which was returned on the charge that Shaffer stole a $50 bill from his employer last August, the prisoner admitting he wanted the money to defray the expenses of his wedding and honeymoon trip. He was arrested the same week he was married and on preliminary examination admitted the crime for which he has just been sentenced to pay the penalty.

INDIAN LOSSES FORTUNE.

Was Afraid of Banks and Kept $20,000 in an Old Trunk. Missoula, Mont.: The house of a Flathead Indian named Mitchell, the wealthiest Indian on the reservation, was robbed of $20,000 cash Saturday night by three men. Mitchell was afraid of the banks and kept his money in an old trunk. Bands of young Indians have started out to try to catch the robbers.

Verdict Against Woodmen.

At Grand Rapids, Mich., Saturday a circuit court jury brought in a verdict of $2,500 for Mrs. Mary J. Lewis against the Modern Woodmen of America. Mrs. Lewis sued for $50,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been received by her husband, since deceased, while being initiated into the Coopersville camp of the order last winter. As a result of these injuries, it is alleged, necrosis set in, which caused death.

Sails for Antarctic Regions.

London advices state: The steamer Scotia left Clyde Monday for the antarctic regions with a number of members of the Scottish National Antarctic Association, under the leadership of William S. Bruce of Edinburgh, on board.

Kills Wife and Himself.

Peter Grant shot and killed his wife at Grover, six miles north of Coleman, Wis., Sunday. Grant then went to his barn and fired two shots into his own body with fatal effect.

Boy Leaps into Fire to Die.

A St. Paul special says: The 14-year-old son of William Zahrenhausen, a farmer living near Pipestone, Minn., committed suicide by setting fire to a straw pile and throwing himself into the flames. It is alleged that ill treatment on the part of his parents was the cause.

Has a Rough Passage.

A Victoria, B. C. dispatch says: The steamer City of Topeka arrived Monday from Skagway, after a very rough passage. She brought 160 passengers. The steamer Princess Mary has arrived at Vancouver with 188 passengers.

AWFUL VENGEANCE.

Enemy Blows Up Chicago Family with Dynamite.

A Chicago special says: A dynamite bomb, the weapon of an assassin, blew up the home of Joseph Kordeck, in Chicago Heights, Sunday, killing two members of the family outright and injuring several others. The house was set on fire and burned while a neighbor caught fire and was also destroyed.

Seven children who escaped were injured, but not seriously.

The explosion occurred while the family was asleep. The father and mother, with the daughter Lucy, occupied a room in the front of the cottage. On the other side were rooms occupied by the rest of the family. The cottage stood two feet from the ground on wood posts. The bomb was placed under the room occupied by the parents and the impact of the explosion tore a hole in the floor, blew the bed to pieces, dismembered Kordeck and scattered into fragments the body of Lucy, who was sleeping with her parents. Pieces of flesh the size of a man's hand were the largest remnants of the child's body that could be found.

The force of the explosion was directly upward and tore a piece of flesh from Mrs. Kordeck's side and blew her through a window. The police arrested the rest of the family and they had a hard time to escape from the flames, which soon destroyed the cottage. Kordeck's body, torn to shreds, was found in the debris after the fire.

Charles Smith, a former boarder at the Kordeck house, was paying attention to one of Kordeck's daughters, has been arrested by the police with the crime. The Kordeck girl was to have been married to another man next week. Smith declares he is innocent, but neighbors declare that he has made threats to them that if the girl refused to be his wife he would blow up the entire family with dynamite.

REAR END COLLISION.

One Trainman Killed and Another Hurt in New York.

A freight brakeman was killed and a freight conductor slightly injured in a rear end collision between two freight trains on the New York Central near Schenectady, N. Y., Sunday night. The first train was running on schedule time and the second on caution orders.

The engineer of the second train lost control and crashed into the forward train. Both engineer and fireman gave their lives by jumping. The engine of the second train was derailed, as was the caboose and three freight cars in the forward train.

THREE KILLED IN A MINE.

Explosion of Gas in Lost Run Colliery, in Ohio. A dispatch from New Straitsville, O., says: Maurice O'Brien, miner; Charles Sampson, stable boy; and Herbert Curran, bookkeeper, were killed by an explosion of gas in Lost Run mine, owned by the Buckeye Coal Company, near here Sunday morning. It is supposed the gas found its way into the mine from an adjoining mine, which has been abandoned for several years, probably through an opening made by digging out the coal. No one knows how the men came to be in the mine.

DOUBLE MURDER IN GEORGIA.

Bodies of White Man and Negro Found on Georgia Farm. A special from Savannah, Ga., states: Eugene Bourquin, 49, 65, and a negro man were murdered Sunday near the former's farm, six miles from this city. Bourquin's body was found in a dugger and the body of the negro was discovered 100 yards from where the vehicle was standing.

Recently Bourquin had trouble with hunters, who have sought to shoot game upon Bourquin's farm.

HUNDREDS OF SHEEP PERISH.

Cold Wave Strikes Texas and New Mexico. An El Paso, Tex., dispatch dated Sunday says: A cold wave has swept over this section during the past twelve hours, and reports from the surrounding mountain regions indicate that the snowfall has been heavy on the slopes in New Mexico. Hundreds of sheep, caught unexpectedly in the open, have perished, and below the city, in the Rio Grande valley, the losses have been heavy.

Mine Owners Yielding.

A Paris dispatch says: At a meeting of mine owners Monday French companies announced that the reports received from mine owners showed a disposition to open negotiations with the strikers. This is taken to indicate that the companies have been advised by the government to deal directly with their men.

Four Killed by a Train.

Frank and Louis Schmetz and Charles and James Woodie were killed early Sunday morning by a train in the big passenger station at Chicago and Northwestern Railway struck their carriage on the crossing of the main street of the village.

Great Power Canal Opened.

A Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., special says: Water was turned into the new power canal of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company Saturday when the wheels in the big power house started. A civic and military band marched through the streets. Over 10,000 men were in line.

Three Trainmen Killed.

A Baltimore, Md., dispatch says: Three trainmen were almost instantly killed Sunday by the explosion of a boiler of a Baltimore and Ohio locomotive at Haysboro, seven miles west of this city. The train was delayed three hours by the accident.

Killed While Driving.

At Youngstown, O., Herbert J. Hoffmann, aged 22, and Florence Carroll, aged 10, were killed by an Erie passenger train while out driving.

Several Passengers Injured.

A Jackson, Miss., special says: A northbound Illinois Central passenger train collided Sunday afternoon with a switch engine in the yards at this point, seriously injuring one passenger and slightly wounding twelve others.

Fatal Result of a Collision.

A Chicago special says: As a result of a collision between a Clybourne Avenue electric car and a switch engine on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul early Saturday one person was killed, three seriously injured and a number of others badly shaken up.

A FRIENDLY FEELING.

Cuba and America Are on the Best of Terms.

A Washington dispatch says: Senator Quesada, Cuban minister to the United States, Friday in commenting on the negotiations now being conducted for a commercial treaty between Cuba and this country, said: "The reciprocity treaty is a purely commercial convention, and has nothing to do with any other political questions which may arise between the two governments, and has absolutely nothing to do with the Platt amendment. The Cuban government has been studying the draft of the treaty submitted by Secretary Hay, and has been consulting the different interests in the island, and the custom house receipts as well, and in due time will return it with observations and modifications deemed for the interests of Cuba, and which at the same time will not hurt the interests of the United States. It has been shown by past experience, during the reciprocity arrangement under Mr. Blaine, that the commerce between both countries materially increased, and it is expected that under any reciprocal arrangement between the two countries the figures will be still higher than they were ten years ago, when they reached upward of $100,000,000."

Mr. Quesada said that the best feeling existed between the Cubans and Americans.

When asked regarding the proposed coal mining stations in Cuba, Mr. Quesada said that four days before President McKinley was shot he had, at the instance of Estada Palma, gone to Cayton and secured from the president a solemn promise that while he was chief executive he would not give his consent to the establishment of a naval station at Havana, and that President Roosevelt knew of the promise.

Continuing, Mr. Quesada said that President Palma never would have gone to Havana, the Cuban capital, were a diplomatic corps was established, while a foreign flag was flying over the city. The minister also said that he could see necessity for a coal station at Cayton, which had been recommended by Admiral Bradford, chief of the bureau of equipment, in view of its proximity to Guantanamo, which also was recommended as a coal station.

By his attorney, W. W. Towle, he sued Mr. Nutsch Wednesday morning for $100,000. In May, 1901, he says, he came to an agreement with Mr. Nutsch that he would pay for the coal station. Mr. Nutsch should give him not only the extent of a good will, but in gold to the amount of $200.

The ceremony was performed but the money was not so swift in coming. The fact is, says Mr. Lang, that it has not come yet.

VISITOR SLUGGED AND ROBBED

John Gosset Left Unconscious by Men Who Steal His Pocketbook. A Blair special says: John Gosset of Hartington, upon arriving at Blair Tuesday night to pay a visit to his uncle, Stephen Phillips, was slugged when about two blocks east of the depot, robbed of his pocketbook containing $20 and left unconscious by the side of the railroad. Mr. Gosset came in on the 8 o'clock train and walked out on the track until near a fill where the street goes under the railroad. He walked down the embankment and was set upon by three men, who held him by the neck and arms and bruised on the right temple. He was found about 9 o'clock and taken to his uncle's house, where he did not regain consciousness until nearly 12 o'clock. He was unable to describe any of his assailants.

Closing Arguments in the Niegendahl Trial at Pierce.

A Pierce special says: The defense closed its case in the trial of Niegendahl, the accused murderer of Albert C. H. Lewis, on Friday night. The jury heard the closing arguments of the defense, which were made by Attorney Barnhart and Eric, for the state, and Kelly, for the defense, made eloquent pleas.

The judge's instructions to the jury were given on Monday and the jury was sent out to deliberate over a verdict.

Wolves Among Farmers.

A number of Johnson County farmers are complaining of being bothered with wolves. W. P. McCoy, who lives just northeast of Tecumseh, says the animals have been raiding and killing sheep, and hogs. One wolf recently bit a sheep, a fight between a dog and some wolves at his pens and before he could drive a full grown pig, which had attacked a couple of hogs, they laid wounded the hog so badly that he died.

Hog Cholera.

A Tecumseh special says: There is much hog cholera in Johnson County this fall. One of the heaviest losses is Hon. C. H. Beethle of Todd Creek precinct. He has a herd of over 100 hogs, of which 40 are left. Forty of the brood sows were valued at from $75 to $100 each.

Boy Thrown from Pony.

A Beatrice special says: The 14-year-old son of Daniel Moschel, residing six miles west of this city, was badly injured Thursday by being thrown from a pony. The chances for the lad's recovery are favorable.

Take Advantage of the Dry Weather.

A Beatrice special says: Since the dry weather set in Gage county farmers have been busy husking corn and sowing winter wheat.

Runs Pitchfork in His Eye.

A Beatrice dispatch says: Chris thrashing near Ellis Tuesday, Walter Knoche, a prominent German farmer, had the misfortune to run the tine of a pitchfork in his right eye. The doctor held little hopes of saving the injured optic.

Boers Want to Fight.

A Johannesburg special says: A number of former Boer and British officers and a thousand men have offered their services to the British government in South Africa.

Four Years in Penitentiary.

Missouri advices state: Thomas F. Armstrong, junior partner in the commission firm of Blum & Armstrong, was sentenced to four years in the state penitentiary Thursday for conspiring in the forgery of bills of lading by his partner, E. T. Blum. The latter was sentenced to seven and one-half years in prison.

Kruger Would Return to Africa.

Advices from Brussels says: It is asserted here that Mr. Kruger has abandoned his irreconcilable attitude and intends to seek permission to return to South Africa.

STATE OF NEBRASKA

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN A CONDENSED FORM.

A Large Reward is Offered—Two Thousand Dollars for the Arrest of the Slayer of Harvey Little at David City.

A David City special says: Excitement over the shooting of Harvey Little by a burglar Friday morning is still at fever heat. The two suspects arrested in the afternoon have been released from custody, three others being retained against them. The trail which the bloodhounds followed south led to nothing.

Immediately after the death of Mr. Little Coroner Sample empaneled a jury, composed of E. Williams, J. Ira Dunham, W. D. Westover, J. B. Sprague and M. Pillsbury. Some testimony was taken behind closed doors.

It is now the general suspicion that the crime was committed by a local man, and there is some strong circumstantial evidence to support this theory. Two special detectives are assisting the officers in their work and some starting clues are being followed before long.

The rewards offered for the arrest of the criminal now amounts to about $2,000. The Nye and Schneider Company, Mr. Little's employers, are among the largest subscribers to the fund.

Mr. Little was about 28 years old, he leaves a wife and a daughter 12 years of age. He was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Ancient Order of United Workmen, Modern Woodmen, of America and Tribe of Ben Hur.

The evidence before the coroner's inquest tends to implicate N. Little, the wife of the dead man, or some of her relatives. Sensational developments are looked for before the inquest is finished.

GOT WIFE, BUT NO GOLD.

Lincoln Man Brings Suit Against Father-in-Law for $200.

A Lincoln special says: According to the mathematics of William F. Lang it was worth $200 to marry the daughter of Frank Nutsch, of Aten, Kan. It was an agreement with his father to pay for the suit. The court has been unable to entertain hopes that Justice Westerman will find that amount due him.

By his attorney, W. W. Towle, he sued Mr. Nutsch Wednesday morning for $100,000. In May, 1901, he says, he came to an agreement with Mr. Nutsch that he would pay for the coal station. Mr. Nutsch should give him not only the extent of a good will, but in gold to the amount of $200.

CHOLERA FIGHT SUCCESSFUL.

Disease Being Brought Under Control in the Philippines.

A Washington special says: A cable received Thursday from Gov. Taft states that the cholera has practically disappeared from the island of Luzon. In Manila there has been an average of two cases a day during the last ten days. In all twenty provinces are now practically free from cholera.

Only the provinces of Iloilo, Occidental Negros, Capiz, Zambo and Misamis are seriously affected. The percentage of mortality, which in the beginning reached 90 per cent, has been greatly reduced and is now generally below 50 per cent. Cebu has been declared a clean port, and Manila will be so declared on Nov. 1.

FIFTEEN MORE GOHOLS FOUND

Another Confession Increases Number of Medical College Teachers. An Indianapolis, Ind., special says: Rufus Cantrell says he will inaugurate fifteen additional physicians and undertakers of the city and every one of the local medical and dental colleges that have thus far escaped in the grave robbing scandal.

He also says one of two women embalmers will be shown to be guilty of complicity in the purchase and concealment of stolen bodies.

Doggers connected with the medical colleges of Fort Wayne, Louisville and Cincinnati will also be implicated in this latest confession, which will be given to the grand jury.

CUBA WAS FOREIGN COUNTRY.

Decision as to Punishment of Criminals is Made.

A New York dispatch says: A decision which is interpreted as signifying that the island of Cuba was a "foreign country," as understood by the United States constitution, from the time of the evacuation of the island by the Spaniards, has been handed down by United States Judge Thomas of Brooklyn.

The judge holds that all crimes committed in Cuba during the military rule of the United States on the island are subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the republic of Cuba.

FOOTBALL PLAYER INSANE.

He Was Seriously Injured While Playing Practice Game. A Paton, Ill., special says: As a result of a game of football several weeks ago Arthur Hill, a high school student and son of Prof. L. S. Ham, of the town high school, has gone violently insane, and has been transferred to an asylum in St. Louis. Several weeks ago while engaged in a practice game Ham broke his arm and injured his spine.

Seven Persons Injured.

A Chattanooga, Tenn., special says: A bolt raveled locomotive drawing seven freight cars collided with an electric car outside the city limits Sunday afternoon, injuring seven persons.

Went to Sleep Near Track.

A Lafayette, Ind., special says: Daniel Neel and Stanley Buford were instantly killed and William Housh fatally injured by a Big Four freight train while sleeping beside the tracks near here Friday morning.

Boers Want to Fight.

A Johannesburg special says: A number of former Boer and British officers and a thousand men have offered their services to the British government in South Africa.

Four Years in Penitentiary.

Missouri advices state: Thomas F. Armstrong, junior partner in the commission firm of Blum & Armstrong, was sentenced to four years in the state penitentiary Thursday for conspiring in the forgery of bills of lading by his partner, E. T. Blum. The latter was sentenced to seven and one-half years in prison.

Kruger Would Return to Africa.

Advices from Brussels says: It is asserted here that Mr. Kruger has abandoned his irreconcilable attitude and intends to seek permission to return to South Africa.

THEIR FAMILY NUMBERS 100.

Mr. and Mrs. John Church Have 98 Living Descendants.

One of the most remarkably octogenarians in this section of the country is John McKinley Church, who lives near the end of the bridge at South Sioux City. He enjoys the distinction of having a family of direct lineal descendants living which is probably as large as any family in the United States. There are counting himself and wife, just of even 100 of them: Ten children; forty-nine grandchildren and thirty-nine great grandchildren, a family of which any man might well be proud.

Mr. and Mrs. Church have come in regard their golden wedding as a thing of the past, having, not long ago, celebrated their sixty-first wedding anniversary. Mr. Church, although past 83 years of age, has the appearance of a man of 60. His carriage is erect, almost so far as he speaks with all the strength and vigor of a young man.

FARMER THROWS A BULL.

Duplicates Foot of Ursus in Story of Quo Vadis. A Fremont telegram says: Frank Telling, son of Louis Telling, a farmer residing in Logan township, in this county, has related the Quo Vadis, performed by doing the feat of throwing the bull, and doing it himself. Young Telling and his fiancée were crossing a pasture when they came upon a bull in the path. The bull drove the bull along ahead for a short distance, when the animal suddenly turned and charged upon the couple.

Young Telling had no weapon, and there was no time to run. He raised the bull by the horns and an exciting struggle took place. The screams of the girl brought two men running from the road, and when they arrived at the scene they found that Telling had succeeded in throwing the bull and was sitting on the neck of the animal, awaiting the arrival of the bull was not injured.

SCHOOL HOUSE DESTROYED.

Fire Structure at Arapahoe is an Entire Loss Through Fire. An Arapahoe special says: Fire of unknown origin entirely consumed the high school building at this place. The building is a total loss, not even the brick walls remaining standing. The fire was discovered about 8:45 Tuesday evening. It was not until 10 o'clock that it was possible to save the books or the fixtures other than one teacher's desk.

The school building was one of the best in southwestern Nebraska, costing $14,500 and well equipped with costly and modern fixtures, which will bring the aggregate loss up to $20,000, with but $8,000 insurance. The fire is supposed to have been caused by some combustion or explosion of chemicals in the laboratory.

PRODIG AN OLD CRIME.

Sensational Developments Are Expected at Beatrice. A Beatrice special says: Don Barry was found to be a convict and found fifteen years ago. The coroner's jury at that time returned a verdict of suicide. It is now concluded that Barry was murdered, and Beatrice is promised a sensation when the suspicious of the investigators are confirmed.

Barry appeared to be a simple-minded sort of a person. No one knows where he came from, nor who his relatives were. He had quite valuable property, which was disposed of by the court. It developed that his relatives are worthy people in the east, and the investigation started will be thorough.

SUICIDE OF AN EX-SOLDIER.

Joab Jones Swallows Carbolic Acid at Lincoln. A Lincoln special says: Joab Jones, whose home was at Macomb, Ill., committed suicide here Thursday night by swallowing carbolic acid. As a member of Company A, Fourteenth infantry, he saw service in the Philippines, and was discharged in 1898. He had been in the military hospital at Pekin. He was discharged from the army last May.

Jones was despondent because his wife, he said, had begun suit for divorce.

CAN'T HURT THE SMALL BOY.

Switch Engine Passes Over Him and He Gets Up Without a Scratch. A Beatrice special says: A very remarkable escape from a frightful death occurred in the Union Pacific yards here Saturday afternoon. Some small boys were playing about the cars when a lad named Nightingale, 13 years old, attempted to mount the footboard of a freight engine which was doing some switching in the yards. The boy missed his footing and fell in front of the engine, which passed over him. Wonderful as it may seem, the lad escaped without a scratch.

Not the Man Wanted.

A Stanton special says: Sheriff King of Stanton County was notified that Welch Lowry, who is wanted here on a charge of criminal assault and also burglary, had been captured at Omaha, Neb., and was being held by the officers at that place. A photograph was forwarded by mail. It was received Thursday, and beyond a doubt a mistake has been made, as the photograph bears not the slightest resemblance to Welch Lowry, for whose arrest a reward of $500 is offered.

Omaha Cigar Dealers Organize.

Four hundred and fifty cigar and tobacco dealers of Omaha and South Omaha Wednesday night formed a branch of the Retail Cigar Dealers' Association of America and will make a fight on trade-made goods. F. H. Pillsbury, a prominent retailer, was elected president. The organization has 80 cigar stores, 68 drug stores and 300 saloons.

Second Crop of Strawberries.

A Papillion special states that F. W. Kirkhouser was last Monday showing his friends a second growth of strawberries that he picked from his farm south of town in the county. The berries were well formed and well ripened.

Negligent Jury Secured.

A Pierce special states that the jury in the Niegendahl murder case has at last been secured. The jurymen are all farmers with but one exception. Security jurymen were excused before the jury was accepted.

Workmen Celebrate Anniversary.

The Clay Center lodge No. 75, Ancient Order of United Workmen, assisted by the Degree of Honor, Thursday evening celebrated the thirty-fourth anniversary of the institution of the order by a literary and musical program, followed by a splendid banquet.

Joseph Keller Under Arrest.

A Superior dispatch says: Joseph Keller has been arrested by the sheriff at this place. The charges are all while under bonds to appear before the county court to answer a charge of arson, returned to this county Thursday night and was caught by the sheriff and his deputies.

WANT THEIR RIGHTS

PROTEST OF OMAHA INDIANS IS REGISTERED.

Requiring Guardian for Minor Children to Give Bonds Before Receiving Cash Starts an Interesting Debate at Agency. Pender, Neb.: An unexpected and apparently serious complication has come up in connection with the special payments to the Omaha Indians now under way. It arises from a ruling of the secretary of the interior, and may result in a general refusal by the Indians to accept the money. Secretary Hitchcock has advised that the Omaha citizens of the United States, and under this ruling that the parents and guardians of minor children must give bonds as such before they can be allowed to receive the money due the children. To give the bond required will cost from $15 to $30 in one case, and it is to this expense that the Indians chiefly objected.

A second matter of the objection is that the ruling does not recognize the tribal relations which the constitution of the United States has established, at least so far as the common property of the tribe is concerned. These relations, it is asserted by the Indians, cover the lands and monies due from the government to the Indians. Treaties and statutes alike recognize the right of the Indians to land, according to well established rules, the ruling of the secretary is without precedent and directly in violation of all law on the subject.

"The rule of the secretary, as we are informed," says one of the Omaha leaders, "proceeds on the theory that Omaha Indians are citizens of the United States. But the secretary forgets that in many respects, insofar as tribal property is concerned, the Omaha tribe still exists, as it will be found under treaties as well as under statute law, the title in its corporate capacity still exists, and monies and the money in question, by the name of the Omaha Indians or Omaha Tribe of Indians, are to be distributed among the people, and this has invariably been the case of families and to an unnumbered individuals. The law under which this has been done is still on the statute books and has never been ignored until the present payment, but now it is being abrogated and that without notice to us and without giving us an opportunity to be heard. This is a most extraordinary way of depriving citizens of their rights."

"We deplore the situation in general, and hope the officers of the government, who do not, it seems, understand the situation, may be reached so as to rectify the error. It appears to the Indians that the ruling is merely a part of a scheme to deprive the Omaha of $1,000,000 of the money due them. The secretary of the interior has advised of the ruling of the secretary and the terms on which the money was to be paid they withdrew from the agent's office and held a meeting at which steps were taken to lay their protest before the secretary. The Indians are firm in their belief that the ruling is merely a scheme to deprive the whites of a share of the money, which would be practically worthless so far as legal protection is concerned, but could be made to meet the technical requirements of the case at a cost to the Indians estimated to be from $200 to $300. The Indians are sure they

SELECTING A KING'S WIFE.

Ministers Want Alfonso XIII to Marry Princess Louise. Spanish ministers are very anxious that their young King should marry and according to report have selected a wife for him in the person of Princess Louise of Orleans.

"It is our hope," says the Methodist conference to the ministers appointed to new congregations.—Pittsburg, Chronicle Telegraph.

The most remarkable feature about the latest New York murder mystery is that it did not remain a mystery long.—Baltimore Herald.

Timpany has got a new boss by the name of Mr. Timpany, and he is said to be a hot shot with his jacket off.—Atlanta Constitution.

After seven days' fight the Venezuelan situation seems to be composed of Castro, Carrasco and Carrasco.—New York Mail and Express.

It is taken thirty years to distribute the estate left by Morse, the inventor of the telegraph. Nothing electric about that.—Herald.

It is true that Alfonso's actions are getting Wagner to resign, perhaps the young gentleman isn't so big a fool after all.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Miscreants are said to be stealing the wooden sidewalks of Chicago for fuel. In other words, they go out and take a walk to get warm.—Atlanta Journal.

To the best of our knowledge and belief, about a dozen photographers have secured in the fact that Admiral Casey is at the bit in Panama.—Atlanta Journal.

A Polish giant named Jabinski is said to be seven feet high. He seems to be entitled to the persimmon. Longest Pole, you know.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The chestnut is an excellent thing to have, and there is no doubt that it skillfully contained in the furnace it will continue to keep off rheumatism.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

President Castro has nominated his capital on wheels, and unless he gets a punctured tire, will continue to keep his coat tails pointed defiantly at the enemy.—Denver Republican.

If you meet a man with a fur, hunt, and don't look at the conclusion that he is an escaped convict. He may be only a St. Louis Alibi man on his vacation.—Kansas City Journal.

A New York paper states that Salisbury resigned because King Edward refused to give him a star. A peevish Edward VII. is an even better man than we thought.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

WU TING FANG RECALLED.

Chinese Minister in Washington Most Return Home. Minister Wu Ting Fang has received orders to return to China as soon as possible. He is informed that he has been appointed to succeed Sheng as minister of the interior.

Mr. Wu, as the Chinese minister is commonly called, is in many ways the best-known foreign representative in Washington. He has broken away from the Chinese traditions of exclusiveness.

Mr. Wu will be accompanied by Miss Wu and some members of his personal suite, but he desires that his son may have a good American education, and may conclude to leave him in the United States for a time.

Mr. Wu, as the Chinese minister is commonly called, is in many ways the best-known foreign representative in Washington. He has broken away from the Chinese traditions of exclusiveness.

Mr. Wu will be accompanied by Miss Wu and some members of his personal suite, but he desires that his son may have a good American education, and may conclude to leave him in the United States for a time.

Mr. Wu, as the Chinese minister is commonly called, is in many ways the best-known foreign representative in Washington. He has broken away from the Chinese traditions of exclusiveness.

Mr. Wu will be accompanied by Miss Wu and some members of his personal suite, but he desires that his son may have a good American education, and may conclude to leave him in the United States for a time.

Mr. Wu, as the Chinese minister is commonly called, is in many ways the best-known foreign representative in Washington. He has broken away from the Chinese traditions of exclusiveness.

Mr. Wu will be accompanied by Miss Wu and some members of his personal suite, but he desires that his son may have a good American education, and may conclude to leave him in the United States for a time.

Mr. Wu, as the Chinese minister is commonly called, is in many ways the best-known foreign representative in Washington. He has broken away from the Chinese traditions of exclusiveness.

Mr. Wu will be accompanied by Miss Wu and some members of his personal suite, but he desires that his son may have a good American education, and may conclude to leave him in the United States for a time.

Mr. Wu, as the Chinese minister is commonly called, is in many ways the best-known foreign representative in Washington. He has broken away from the Chinese traditions of exclusiveness.

Mr. Wu will be accompanied by Miss Wu and some members of his personal suite, but he desires that his son may have a good American education, and may conclude to leave him in the United States for a time.

Mr. Wu, as the Chinese minister is commonly called, is in many ways the best-known foreign representative in Washington. He has broken away from the Chinese traditions of exclusiveness.

COMMERCIAL FINANCIAL.

No better evidence of industrial and commercial activity is needed than present inadequate transportation facilities. Every form of railway equipment, from track to rolling stock, has been increased and perfected during the last few years.

Labor is more fully employed than at any recent date, only a few small corner markets are left. Money market pressure has been removed, and although securities do not respond, legitimate trade is not retarded by quiet speculation.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904, for the week ending Sept. 22, 1904.

NAMES DAY OF THANKSGIVING.

President Issues Proclamation Designating Nov. 27. President Roosevelt has issued his proclamation designating Thursday, Nov. 27, as a day of thanksgiving. The proclamation is as follows:

"Over a century and a quarter has passed since this country took its place among the nations of the world. In that time we have had, on the whole, more to be thankful for than has fallen to the lot of any other people.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship.

CHOLERA KILLS THOUSANDS.

Ravages of the disease in Old World. Cholera is the most deadly of all the diseases which afflict the human race. It is a disease of the East, but it has recently been introduced into the West.

The fearful ravages of plague and cholera in the old world are set forth in mail advices received by the marine hospital service. From Manila Chief Quarantine Officer Perry makes a conservative estimate that the cases of cholera that have ravaged the Philippines since March 21st aggregated 75,000, with a mortality of 75 per cent.

In Japan the latest advices show that there have been 4,200 cases and 1,650 deaths from cholera. The cholera situation in China is summed up as follows: Cholera in China and Siam, the epidemic, killed 40,000 deaths; Fochow, epidemic; Shoungshien, epidemic, 3,000 cases per day. In Hongkong, since the beginning of the outbreak, there have been 450 cases and 390 deaths.

According to a representative of the director-general of the Egyptian epidemic committee, the number of cases registered during the week ended Sept. 16 amounted to 9,407, with 8,278 deaths.

The Southern Pacific has returned to the use of coal for locomotives after trying oil. The fact that oil prices are $1.00 per barrel, and that the price of coal is $1.00 per ton, is not heavy, while the four mills have been grinding at a rate to make new records in flour production, and outside mills have also been heavy buyers in this market.

The annual report of the New York Cattle Raisers' Association for the year 1903 is now ready for distribution. It is a most interesting and valuable work in the history of the industry.

The Erie Railroad has just placed in commission between Chicago and New York what is said to be one of the finest dining cars ever turned out.

The board of directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad has decided to issue $25,000,000 of new stock to be used in extending the line to the Pacific coast.

An official of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad made the statement recently that 70,000 people had gone to Colorado on tourist tickets during the season just passed.

The passenger department of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern has found that the extra cars which are placed on the twenty-third limited are not sufficient to accommodate the travel by this twenty-hour train between Chicago and New York.

The passenger department of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern has found that the extra cars which are placed on the twenty-third limited are not sufficient to accommodate the travel by this twenty-hour train between Chicago and New York.

The passenger department of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern has found that the extra cars which are placed on the twenty-third limited are not sufficient to accommodate the travel by this twenty-hour train between Chicago and New York.

The passenger department of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern has found that the extra cars which are placed on the twenty-third limited are not sufficient to accommodate the travel by this twenty-hour train between Chicago and New York.

The passenger department of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern has found that the extra cars which are placed on the twenty-third limited are not sufficient to accommodate the travel by this twenty-hour train between Chicago and New York.

POLITICAL COMMENT.

The Forthcoming Message. The Washington correspondents are already busy in outlining the main points of the President's message upon which he is now at work. While it will probably discuss nothing new save perhaps that of arbitration by a national commission, and the questions growing out of the coal strike, it will present some issues in a new light, and will still more forcibly present the recommendations made last year which were not acted upon by Congress, particularly those in regard to Cuban reciprocity and the trusts.

The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship. Old party leaders looked upon him not without suspicion, and as a young man noted mainly for strenuous and independent tendencies, leaving but little regard for the opinions of others.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship. Old party leaders looked upon him not without suspicion, and as a young man noted mainly for strenuous and independent tendencies, leaving but little regard for the opinions of others.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship. Old party leaders looked upon him not without suspicion, and as a young man noted mainly for strenuous and independent tendencies, leaving but little regard for the opinions of others.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship. Old party leaders looked upon him not without suspicion, and as a young man noted mainly for strenuous and independent tendencies, leaving but little regard for the opinions of others.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship. Old party leaders looked upon him not without suspicion, and as a young man noted mainly for strenuous and independent tendencies, leaving but little regard for the opinions of others.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship. Old party leaders looked upon him not without suspicion, and as a young man noted mainly for strenuous and independent tendencies, leaving but little regard for the opinions of others.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship. Old party leaders looked upon him not without suspicion, and as a young man noted mainly for strenuous and independent tendencies, leaving but little regard for the opinions of others.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship. Old party leaders looked upon him not without suspicion, and as a young man noted mainly for strenuous and independent tendencies, leaving but little regard for the opinions of others.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship. Old party leaders looked upon him not without suspicion, and as a young man noted mainly for strenuous and independent tendencies, leaving but little regard for the opinions of others.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship. Old party leaders looked upon him not without suspicion, and as a young man noted mainly for strenuous and independent tendencies, leaving but little regard for the opinions of others.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship. Old party leaders looked upon him not without suspicion, and as a young man noted mainly for strenuous and independent tendencies, leaving but little regard for the opinions of others.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship. Old party leaders looked upon him not without suspicion, and as a young man noted mainly for strenuous and independent tendencies, leaving but little regard for the opinions of others.

"The President stands before Congress in a very different attitude from what he did last year. Then he was virtually an unknown quantity in respect to politics and statesmanship. Old party leaders looked upon him not without suspicion, and as a young man noted mainly for strenuous and independent tendencies, leaving but little regard for the opinions of others.

ARM AGAINST MAD MULLAH.

Ladins Troops Are to Be Sent to Somalia. The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

The British government has decided to dispatch Indian troops to Somalia to deal with the mad mullah. The British are meeting in Somalia on the Gulf coast of the Indian Ocean, and a possible outbreak by Kitchener in the Sudan. They are meeting a counterpart of the Mad Mullah of 1897 in a Somali chieftain and are to have, probably, a campaign not unlike that in the Swat valley of northern India in 1897.

Beautiful Thoughts

The sweet, pure breath of the babe is the fragrance of innocence and health. Some children are born with a bright and delicate face...

Mother's Friend

It is particularly used. It is a liniment, easily absorbed and for external use only. It is a risk, no experiment, merely a pain reliever and balm.

H. G. LEISENKRING, M. D. Surgeon and Physician. Wayne, Nebraska.

J. J. WILLIAMS, Physician and Surgeon. Wayne, Nebraska.

F. M. THOMAS, OSTEOPATH. Graduate of the American School of Osteopathy, Kirksville, Mo.

A. A. WELCH, Attorney at Law. Wayne, Neb.

E. R. LUNDBURG, Attorney at Law. With A. A. Welch. Wayne, Nebraska.

ROE & FORTNER, Wayne Meat Market. First-class meats always on hand.

I. W. ALTEB, Bonded Abstractor. Real Estate and Loans. Insurance and Collections.

CHAS. M. CRAVEN, PHOTOGRAPHER. Cabinet Photos a Specialty. Gallery over Wayne Democrat Office.

HUGH O'CONNELL'S Pool and Billiard Hall. In Building north of Herald Office.

L. S. WINSOR, BLACKSMITH. Wayne, Neb. Uses the "Neverslip" shoe for horses.

WM. DAMMEYER, Manufacturer of and wholesaler and retail dealer in Fine Cigars.

Smoking and Chewing Tobaccos West side Main street, 1st door north of the Capital Saloon.

Bowl up, Boys. At Oom Paul's New Bowling Alley. Main Street, North of Herald Office.

THE WAYNE HERALD.

Entered at the Post Office at Wayne, Neb. as second class mail matter.

W. H. McNEAL, Editor.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

THE WORLD REPUBLICAN.

Even Unto the Earth Thereof and Also Part of the Sea.

NEBRASKA IS REPUBLICAN YET. Micky, McCarthy, Alden, Gregg, Siman and Russell Win.

A Light Vote Polled in the County Though some Energetic Work was Done. The City of Wayne lines up for Most of the Ticket but is Short Nearly One Hundred Votes.

Election day passed off quietly and it was difficult to tell what was forthcoming. A bitter fight had been put up against Mickey and McCarthy, both of whom the combination of democrats, pops, fusionists and a few republicans had concentrated their efforts upon to defeat, safer as this county was concerned, but it availed them naught and the victory is all the more satisfactory under the circumstances.

In the country the republicans rallied to the cause nobly, showing that they were satisfied and only in the towns was there any show of dissatisfaction. Heretofore populist predictions gave a republican majority this time and the old democratic precinct of Hancock almost switched around. The boys in Plum Creek, Hunter, Deer Creek, Sherman, Garfield and in fact all over deserve credit for the manner in which they took hold of the cause and made victory certain in spite of the very poor republicanism of several Wayne citizens.

In the city A. T. Witter was elected assessor, Chas. Jeffries, constable and B. F. Feather and I. W. Alter, justices of the peace, all getting there with both feet.

Blaine and McKinley Reciprocity. THE AMERICAN ECONOMIST refers to Governor Cummins and Gen. E. Roberts as "Tariff ripper," "Tariff smash" and "tariff breaker" all in the space of a stichful, and advises Secretary Shaw to retire to a rear row and take a seat.

Beginning your pardon, it is not sufficient comment, for the reason that the proposition quoted is that of the American Free-Trade League, and not that of the AMERICAN ECONOMIST. This the "Register-Leader" knows perfectly well. Moreover, the AMERICAN ECONOMIST never has made and does not now make any assault on the reciprocity of Blaine and McKinley. It agrees perfectly with the doctrine of Blaine and McKinley and with the doctrine set forth in the Republican national platform of 1900—the only platform, by the way which at this time binds the Republican party—that is, in reciprocity of the non-competitive sort. Such was the invariable policy of Blaine. Such was the policy advocated by President McKinley in his Buffalo speech, wherein he expressly stipulated for only such reciprocity as should not curtail home production—i. e., non-competitive reciprocity. With that type of reciprocity the AMERICAN ECONOMIST is in hearty accord; upon that type it makes no assault. Any other scheme of reciprocity conflicts with the policy of Protection and is at variance with Republican doctrine as defined by the party platform. The trouble with the "Register-Leader" is that it is unable to comprehend—or, perhaps, is unwilling to acknowledge—the perfectly obvious truth that the increased admission of foreign competitive commodities necessarily carries with it a diminished production of similar commodities by American labor. That plain fact once recognized and admitted, the advocates of competitive reciprocity must of necessity confess themselves no longer Protectionists. There is no escape from that conclusion.

It would be much more to the purpose of full and fair discussion if the Des Moines "Register-Leader" were to stop misquoting the AMERICAN ECONOMIST and cease to persistently evade the real merits of the question.—AMERICAN ECONOMIST.

Persistence of Race Prejudice. The London Times' Vienna correspondent sounds the alarm against what he calls the Pan-Germanic peril. He tells England, the United States and the rest of the non-German world, but particularly the two big English speaking countries, that there is such a thing as Pan-Germanism, and that it is a far greater menace than ever. Pan-Slavism was supposed to be for the rest of Europe. Germans, he says, are found on all the continents, and wherever they are, so he declares, they conspire to aid the fatherland. He says, or intimates, that the United States is especially vulnerable to attack from Pan-Germanism, for in every one of the forty-five states and all the important cities the Germans constitute a considerable ingredient of the population.

HON. J. J. MCCARTHY.

Congressman from the Third Nebraska District

Hon. J. J. McCarthy, republican member in the Third Nebraska district, is a man of whom not only the republican voters of the district, but all of the people may well feel proud, for he is a royal good fellow, a staunch republican and a genuine Nebraskan. He is a man of stirring qualities, a respected citizen and a man who will ably represent this district in Congress. Mr. McCarthy was born and raised on a farm in Wisconsin and managed to obtain so good an education that at the age of nineteen he was appointed professor of mathematics in Albion Academy, and he held this position two years. About this time he began to think of the possibilities of the west, and he came to Nebraska to cast his fortune with the new state on the prairies. That was nearly twenty five years ago. He first settled near David City, but later he moved to Emerson, and for twenty years he has been one of the dominating figures in the Third district. It would be useless to go into details regarding the efforts and achievements of these years. They have been years of hard work. But they have brought their successes. Mr. McCarthy stands high among the lawyers of the state. His acquaintance has grown until he is widely known over Northern Nebraska, and his friends are just about a numerous as his acquaintances. Those who watched his career in the legislature the past two sessions have no doubt of his ability or his inflexible honesty. Even those who opposed his policies and doubted the wisdom of his votes on some matters could but admire the rugged honesty of purpose shown all through. The masses of the people of Dixon county have stood by him year after year, and he has always won out triumphantly, even in the face of large fusion majorities.

In Pollock "Mac" is one of the most popular citizens. He has a fine home, graced by a charming wife, and a family of bright boys and girls and the McCarthy household is known as a home of hospitality.

It is clear that there are many things for that Vienna Englishman to learn before he can discourse with any sort of intelligence on the Pan-German aspiration as it affects the United States. There are several millions of the inhabitants of this country who were born in Germany. Probably 14,000,000 persons are in the United States today, out of the country's 80,000,000, who are of German descent or birth. The Germans, like Europeans of other races, have been coming to this country for several centuries. They figured with considerable prominence in the war of the revolution. Many of them were in the Mexican war. A far larger number of them were on the Union side in the civil war. They have participated prominently and honorably in all the country's activities from the beginning.

But the German is not only not a menace to the United States—he has aided very materially in building up the country and in giving it a large and glorious place on the map of the world. In the 30s and 40s of the recent century there were projects for the establishment of German colonies in several parts of this country—in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Arkansas, Texas (just after Texas' annexation)—which should retain the German language and have a sort of quasi independence of the national government, but, of all collapsed. Such plans were doomed to failure from the start. Moreover, the prime movers in them, after they had resided in this country a few years, not only saw that they were not desirable, but also saw that they were not desirable. Large communities of Germans were planted in all these states, but they quickly lost much of their distinctive character, and all of it, or nearly all, vanished eventually. The Germans, like all Europeans, and sooner than most of them, become thoroughly Americanized before they are in the United States long. This is one of the advantages—the power to assimilate all sorts of people—which the United States possesses over every other country in the world. Neither Pan-Germanism nor any other kind of races has any peril for the United States.

Fusionism is about as dead as any thing ever was or could be.

Now that the election is over a strong pull altogether for Wayne and Wayne county will be good for everybody.

The republican victory annually great for ad off year. The republicans elect 204 congressmen to the democrats fusionists and all other 179.

The States giving republican majorities are Iowa, Kansas, Illinois, Idaho, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Montana, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Utah, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Washington and Wyoming.

Official Canvass of Wayne County, November 4, 1902.

Table with columns for various precincts (Bronson, Chapin, Deer Creek, Garfield, Hunter, Hoskins, Hancock, Logan, Leslie, Plum Creek, Sherman, Straban, Wilbur, Winside, Wayne, 1st w, Wayne, 2nd w, Wayne, 3rd w) and rows for candidates (Governor, Congressman, State Secretary, Representative, County Attorney, Commissioner) with their respective vote counts.

A HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

In most any newspaper that you have a mind to read you will notice an account of some railroad accident, or other equally as bad, that has caused death and injury, but it is not often that we have things of that nature happen near home as the terrible accident that befell the Elliott sisters, of Win-side, last Saturday evening.

The two sisters, Mamie and Alice, had been near Hoskins visiting, we understand, and were returning home. They were on the west of Winside, and in crossing the railroad were struck by passenger train No. 11. It is the presumption that the boys were driving became a man, and that it was just a supposition for no one knew the truth of the matter, the living sister being yet too ill to state.

It was miraculous that both the girls were not killed, as the engine struck the buggy squarely, throwing the occupants sixty feet. As it was, Mamie, the oldest, was killed instantly, while Alice, though not receiving bruises of any consequence, was injured internally as to render her unconscious for several days. Report is that she is just recovering consciousness, and it is thought there is little danger of her death.

These girls were daughters of John Elliott of Winside, and were highly respected in that community. The funeral of Mamie was held Monday and was attended by a large number of friends.

On hearing of the accident Coroner J. J. Williams and County Attorney A. A. Welch went to Winside, but it was decided that no inquest was necessary.

BLANKS! BLANKS! Call at the HERALD office for blank receipts, notes, farm leases, three kinds, chattel mortgage, warranty deeds, real estate contracts, real estate mortgages.

Advertisement for Lion Coffee featuring an illustration of a lion and the text: 'Take A Bellows when you get home with that bulk coffee and blow the dirt and flies and foreign substances out of it. Then open a package of Lion Coffee see how clean and fresh it looks and note its rich aroma. The sealed package insures uniform quality.'

Parents' Responsibility Great. It is the right of every child to be well born, and to the parents it must look for health and happiness. How inconceivably great is the parental responsibility, and how important that no taint of disease is left in the blood to be transmitted to the helpless child, entailing the most pitiable suffering, and marking its little body with offensive sores and eruptions, catarrh of the nose and throat, weak eyes, glandular swellings, brittle bones, white swelling and deformity.

How can parents look upon such little sufferers and not reproach themselves for bringing so much misery into the world? If you have any disease lurking in your system, how can you expect well developed, healthy children? Cleanse your own blood and build up your health, and you have not only enlarged your capacity for the enjoyment of the pleasures of life, but have discharged a duty all parents owe to posterity, and made mankind healthier and happier.

There is no remedy that so surely reaches deep-seated, stubborn blood troubles as S. S. S. It searches out even hereditary poisons, and removes every taint from the blood, and builds up the general health. If weaklings are growing up around you, right the wrong by putting them on a course of S. S. S. at once. It is a purely vegetable medicine, harmless in its effects, and can be taken by both old and young without fear of any bad results. Write us about your case, and let our physicians advise and help you. This will cost you nothing, and we will also send our book on blood and skin diseases. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Advertisement for First National Bank. J. M. STRAHAN, President. F. E. STRAHAN, Vice-Pres. H. F. WILSON, Cashier. Capital and Surplus, $90,000. DIRECTORS: J. M. Strahan, F. E. Strahan, E. E. K. Mellor, George Bogart, Frank Fuller, John T. Bressler and H. F. Wilson. WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

Allbee's Land Bargains.

We have been up in Cedar County, listing land, and have several fine bargains for speculators. Don't fail to see us about these lands. We can make you from five to ten dollars per acre. Don't tarry for someone will have horse sense enough to buy quick. See?

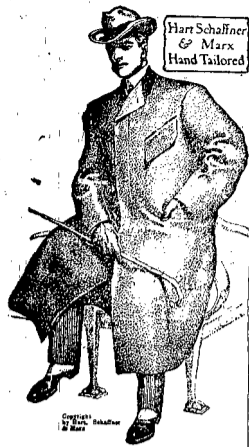

G. W. ALLBEE Real Estate Agent

For Your Stomach's Sake.

Election is over and everybody is happy, but you will be more so if you call at our bar. Fine line of Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Best of Case Beer, Budweiser, Lemps, Pilsner, Blue Ribbon, Pabst, and Schlitz. Old Homestead, Harper and Planet Whiskies. Best California Wines. We have all these so call and "take a little for your stomach's sake."

Advertisement for O. D. FRANKS, THE Capital PROPRIETOR, WAYNE. Includes a circular logo with 'Welcome!' and 'Capital' text. Corner of Main and First Street Wayne, Neb.

Overcoat Popularity

Three have never been more popular and popular overcoat than the Hart, Schaffner & Marx Byon; you can tell who by looking at the corners of it; all the best points in a modern up-to-date stylish garment, without the "fads." A coat for all sorts of men; here ready-to-wear make one think of Overcoats, and we are prepared to show you the "korrek styles." The "Byton" is the most popular one this fall and we have the "Varsity" and many others. Our prices will start at $10.00.

These "Coolish" Nights

HARRINGTON'S THE LEADING CLOTHIER.

Election is Over! Prosperity Will Continue!

You can now buy Land with a Sure Prospective Advance. Cast your eye over the following List of Land for Sale R. H. JAMES:

- 120 acre farm near Wayne, well improved, price $62.50.
- 160 acre farm, improved, 35 acres good grass, lies between Wayne and Carroll. Price, $100.00 per acre
- 160 acre farm about 5 miles south east of Wayne, good improvements, very choice land, some fine hay land. Price, $82.50.
- 160 acres elegant pasture, valley all seeded to timothy and clover, well set good fence, well windmill and tanks. Only 3 miles from town. Cattle men you need this in your business. Better have your own pasture than lose your calves in the herd every year. Price of this tract, $17.50 per acre.
- 640 acres of pasture land, 3 1/2 miles from wood town in Wayne county, fenced, running water, layes nicely. Price, $125 per acre.
- Some Choice Farms in Pierce and Cedar Counties
- Several bargains in Sherman precinct. Have over 100 farms in Wayne county for sale.
- Cheaper lands in several other good Nebraska Counties.
- If you want land I can fit you out. It will pay you to see me.

Now that Prosperity will continue, I will make farm loans at the remarkably low rates that I have been quoting for past two years, 5 per cent and small commission, giving optional payment privileges. I make loans for term of five years.

For particulars in reference to above call and see me at my office over First National Bank, Wayne, Neb. Correspondence promptly answered.

R. H. JAMES.

Carpet Bargains.

We strongly maintain that our prices on Carpets are the Lowest, if you consider quality.

We sell Carpets that are made up to the standard in all respects. The kind that look well and wear well.

We offer you the largest selection to choose from and save the waste.

Linoleums--The Best Made, 6 1/2 feet wide.

That New Carpet.

Will be easy for you to select if you call and inspect our handsome New Autumn Patterns, fresh from the Looms.

We now offer the Latest Designs, Newest Colorings, Choicest Weaves and Largest Assortment, and at such Low Prices too. Two-Ply Wool Ingrains at 65 cents per yard, all sewed. Union Ingrains at only 45 cents per yard, all sewed.

Ask to be shown the Green Twine Mattings, also the Rugs and Art Squares, the finest and best wearing floor covering for dining rooms, bed rooms, halls and stairs.

AHERN'S.

Agent for Wayne.

State Bank of Wayne.

Henry Ley, President. C. A. Chase, Vice President. E. W. Ley, Cashier.

Individual Responsibility $200,000.

Will do a General Banking Business. Interest paid on Time Deposits.

WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

LOCAL NEWS.

W. H. Buford, was in the city Saturday afternoon.

H. M. Sheen was in Hoskins on business Monday.

Miss Myra Preston was in Carroll Friday visiting relatives.

Window glass for sale by Wayne Drug Co., Boyd Annex.

W. B. Hall was a visitor from Dixon on business last Friday.

Have you tried those excellent mixed pickles at Brookings' Store.

Fred Pitt drove to Carroll Sunday evening to visit Prof. Little.

Miss Nellie Palmer, a Winde teacher, was in the city Saturday.

The Reese-Rasmussen case is being tried to day before Justice Alter.

Miss Robbins of Carroll, was in Wayne on business last Thursday.

Her. Cough Syrup, 25 and 50 cents. Wayne Drug Co., Boyd Annex.

For Cloaks and Furs see Ahern's list. The styles and prices are right.

Claude Wright is at home while his school near Weber is enjoying a vacation.

Mr. A. L. Howser is in Hoskins visiting friends. She will remain several weeks.

Edward McVay, who has been teaching near Weber, is at home for a vacation.

Today's markets are: corn 37 1/2, wheat 55, oats 20, hogs $5.90, eggs 18, butter 15.

E. R. Curney was down from Win side transacting business last Saturday.

Dr. R. B. Crawford came home from Chicago Monday to cast a straight republican vote.

Miss Gertrude Shafer, of Painesville, visited last Thursday at the home of Frank Whitner.

Prof. Little of Carroll, a last year's student at the N. N. C., was visiting friends in Wayne Saturday.

Prof. Hines of Winside, was in Wayne Saturday afternoon taking in the Basket Ball game at the college.

When your first is aggravating call at O. D. Frank's, where you can obtain the best beer the market affords.

If you wish to have a case of the best beer known for family use don't fail to see Oscar Frank's, who makes a specialty of this line.

Editor Gibson, of the Republican, enjoyed a visit the first of the week from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gibson, of Dixon.

The First National Bank has a counting machine that will add figures faster than lightning and runs into the millions in amount. It's a daisy.

A big haul by highwaymen, substitutes and others who steal the good name and fame of Rocky Mountain Tea made famous by Midson Medicine Co. 35c. Raymond Pharmacy.

E. C. Day, left Wednesday for Ancon, Colorado, after an extended visit with relatives here and at Wayne. He is still engaged in the mining business. North Bend Eagle.

We clip the following from the North Bend Eagle in regard to a former Wayne lady: "Mrs. El Stover departed for Seattle, Wash., this morning for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Jackson."

Prof. R. Durin has completed the work of remodeling his work shop on upper Main street, and is turning out some most handsome work for others as well as people of the county. Prof. Durin's work has a fine reputation in this part of the state, consequently he is beset with many orders.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church were entertained by Mrs. Goy R. Wilbur Friday afternoon at their regular meeting. Refreshments were served, and aside from the business part of the gathering, everybody spent an enjoyable afternoon.

Elmer Lundberg of Wayne, has purchased the Carroll Index. Elmer is alright and will give Carroll a mighty good newspaper. The Advocate wishes him all the success he deserves, and can assure the people of Carroll that he deserves the best there is going. He has helped us out on two occasions and we have had ample opportunity to judge of his worth. Besides being thoroughly at home in the mechanical department of a print shop, Elmer possesses the brain and education necessary to the wise editorial management of an up-to-date, newsy newspaper; while as to character he is one of those bright, wholesome young fellows who leave a community better because they have lived in it. Carroll is certainly to be congratulated. Laurel Advocate.

The following item is taken from the Reporter, published at Newman Grove, "Rev. Gearhart has resigned his position as pastor of the Congregational church, Newman Grove, and preached his farewell sermon Sunday morning. Mr. Gearhart and also Mrs. Gearhart have been very faithful workers in the Lord's vineyard since coming here about a year ago, but it seems that a few of the members who were full of the Holy Ghost when the church was first organized have grown up cold and indifferent and this was the principal reason for Mr. Gearhart's resignation. His many friends presented him with the neat sum of $50, while the Epworth and Junior Leagues presented Mrs. Gearhart with a beautiful oil glass oraker bowl. We did not learn where Mr. and Mrs. Gearhart intend to move but the Reporter wishes them success and prosperity wherever they may cast the lot." Mrs. Gearhart, when single, was a Wayne girl, a daughter of David Cunningham.

Rev. Dawson made his first visit to the college Friday morning, conducting the devotional exercises and giving a homiletic talk. We trust he may visit us as frequently and as regularly as his predecessor. The college entertains a similar desire with respect to the other city pastors, though we regret that our desires seem, not always to be reciprocated.

THE OLD RELIABLE

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

You take no chance on our cloaks. They are Guaranteed. THE RACKET.

Corn Huskers Hand Lotion, 15 and 25 cents. Wayne Drug Co., Boyd Annex.

Eureka Breads Powders, 10 and 15 cents. Wayne Drug Co., Boyd Annex.

The plate glass front for Frank Kruger's building on lower Main street is being put in today.

Stops the cough and works off the cold. Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price 25 cents.

Miss Edna Britton returned home from Sioux City Monday evening, where she has been in the military es ablement of T. S. Martin & Co.

If the republicans in Wayne alone had gone to the polls and voted as they should have done the majorities would have been 175 to 200 for all candidates.

The report has reached this "den" that Welch Lowery, the fellow who has been wanted at Stanton on a charge of rape, was captured over in Iowa, the first of the week.

It's said that every bride has many friends, but in a few years, they dwindle down to one. That's Rocky Mountain Tea. Makes and keeps her well. 35 cents. Raymond Pharmacy.

The Epworth League of the M. E. church are making arrangements for a sale of "down sofa pillows," bed pillows, handkerchiefs, aprons, etc., the first Saturday in December. If you want anything in this line wait for the sale. They will have a large assortment to select from.

As the vote of Sherman precinct was not brought in until this afternoon the official canvass of Tuesday's vote could not be obtained until tomorrow, therefore the HERALD gives the exact returns, tabulated, elsewhere for governor and all the rest of the ticket except for state offices.

COLLEGE.

Supt. Cram of Madison county called on Prof. Pile for a little while Thursday.

Mr. Beall, Butler, Sheldon and Co's representative, spent an hour or two at the college last Wednesday.

Mrs. Lucy Cullen, nee Bruner, now living in Gaddis, S. D., spent Thursday last with college friends.

Principal Shaloross came down with the Bloomfield basket ball team Saturday. He acted as their umpire during the game with the college girls.

A number of students of voting age returned to their homes Tuesday to vote. Mr. Maginty went to Lynch, where he was one of the election clerks.

Mr. Bailey, an old time student here and later a graduate of the Zenarian Art School, was a college visitor last Friday. He is at present employed in the photograph gallery in Wisner.

W. A. Johns, a former student, and his bride renewed college acquaintances and received congratulations from them Friday. Mr. Johns is now practicing law in South Dakota.

Ex-Senator Allen was the guest of Prof. and Mrs. Pile during his stay in Wayne. The ex-senator is a most congenial conversationalist and his visit was greatly enjoyed by his host and hostess.

The second fall term begins next Tuesday. The present term closes most satisfactorily both in numbers and interest and the coming term approaches with excellent prospect for like condition.

The basket ball game between the Bloomfield and college teams last Saturday proved to be an interesting and hotly contested one, the score being 4 to 3 in favor of Wayne. Rev. Weldon acted as referee.

Prof. Gregg's election to the legislature will take him from the classroom duties during only the sixty days after January 1st, during which the legislature is in session. His classes during that time will be satisfactorily provided for.

Prof. Gregg concluded his campaigning for the legislature last Saturday night with a speech in the Barr school house, Stanton county, ten miles south of Winside, where he was given attentive cordial hearing. Prof. Gregg has been greatly pleased with the loyal support he has received from the old N. N. C. students.

Rev. Dawson made his first visit to the college Friday morning, conducting the devotional exercises and giving a homiletic talk. We trust he may visit us as frequently and as regularly as his predecessor. The college entertains a similar desire with respect to the other city pastors, though we regret that our desires seem, not always to be reciprocated.

HALLOWEEN'S SOCIAL EVENTS.

There was a pleasant gathering Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Orth. It was the young people of the Baptist church, and they were enjoying a good time at the hands of their most genial hostesses. Refreshments were served and at a late hour they departed for their homes.

Last Friday evening the Lakerao young people met at a for one o'clock social at their church in the city. A good time is reported.

Miss Blanche Gaertner entertained a few of her young friends at a Halloween party. About twenty of her guests assembled and after a few hours spent in playing games, etc., all departed, declaring it a well spent evening.

The dancing club held a most enjoyable dance Halloween evening. About fifteen couples were present. Music was furnished by Miss Betha Armstrong.

We have everything in Ladies', Childrens, Boys' and Men's Underwear, now in stock. THE RACKET.

HERALD'S NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

The new subscribers to THE WAYNE HERALD for the month ending today and their addresses are:

WAYNE: G. W. Allbee Carl Beck Kinner and Root, Robt Taylor, Will Jacobson, August Jacobson, J. H. Spahr, F. Bargholtz, B. Green, J. C. Hansen, A. C. Parker, Carl Sund.

WISNER: Henry Meyer, Albert Lohmkuhl.

ATONIA: Win Kuss.

WAYNE: Gustav Press, Lars Peterson, Jas. Shoonson, Horst Taylor, Wm. Collins, Charlie Shirts, Chris Wobden, Carl Hayden, J. E. Jensen, John Rohde, Herman Blensun, Henry Rottmann, Geo. Hornby, H. S. Hornby, Bur Hornby, Ludwig Rheanus, Adolph Rolph, Fred Poddait, Fred Krause, Andy Anderson, Aug. Ulrich, Erik Miller, Ed Jenka Williams, Gus. G. Carter, Carl Wolf, John Nichols, Thos. Jones, Curtis Benson, Dave Leary, C. Carmont, E. Bush, M. C. McGivern, M. C. Bremerstall, J. W. Taylor, H. Miller, R. H. Perry, Ora Stephens, Sam Hurber, Carl Stamm, Wm. Jenkins.

HOSKINS: Herman Witke, Earl Middlestadt, Ernest Wilbur, Otto Wankock, A. E. Lomack, G. B. Barr, G. B. Miller, Wm. Eckers, John Cunningham, E. M. Locke, John McGregor, Fritz Vans, Geo. Dupas, Ernest Papp.

WARRICK: Frank Long, Rudolph Long.

SHOLES: A. C. Swan, G. L. Beaton, O. W. Bureham, Chas. Thompson.

A total of seventy-five. Advertisers will please make note of this.

NIEGENFIND CONVICTED.

The case of Gottlieb Niegenfind, the murderer at Pierce, came to an end last Friday and the case went to the jury. One man hung out for a long time for life sentence, but after twenty hours deliberation the jury brought in a verdict of guilty and fixed the penalty at death. The jury retired Friday afternoon and it was expected that they would soon bring in a verdict. All afternoon the crowd remained around the court room, expecting every moment that the jury would bring in a verdict.

When night arrived and there was no verdict the people began to despair. After the verdict had been read in the forenoon at 10:30 o'clock the judge discharged the jury, thanking the members for their verdict.

Niegenfind received the verdict with bowed head and did not display the least sign of fear. Attorney Kelley filed the customary motion for a new trial and the judge will probably hear the motion some time next week.

It is understood that after retiring the jury took a ballot standing ten for "affirm" and two for life imprisonment. "Affirm" it was eleven for hanging to one for life imprisonment.

Miss Blanche Shutte who is attending the Wayne college was the guest of the family of Charles Crowley Tuesday and Thursday. Wisner Chronicle.

FOR SALE.

I have two farm wagons that I don't use and will sell them cheap. E. J. NANOZE.

Wrinkles are smoothed away by its healing touch. Bruto tired and depressed people will find a cure in Rocky Mountain Tea. 35c. Raymond Pharmacy.

Ask to see "The Guarantee" given with every Palmer Cloak sold by us. THE RACKET.

SWARTZ LECTURE PROGRAM.

G. B. Swartz, of Sioux City, will deliver his Course of Lectures for Ten Nights in the Opera House.

Beginning Friday, November 14.

Program.

Friday..... Throw Out the Life Line.

Saturday..... Stars and Stripes.

Sunday..... What is a Man Worth.

Monday..... Ten Nights in a Bar Room.

Tuesday..... Ben Hur.

Wednesday..... Follow Babylon.

Thursday..... Abraham Lincoln.

Friday..... Pavilion Play.

Saturday..... Quicksand.

Sunday..... (To be selected).

First night, Free to All.

Second night free to old soldiers, their wives, widows and Woman's Relief Corps.

Chilly This Morning.

Very suggestive of Winter UNDERWEAR and BLANKETS.

Don't put off buying them too long. Stocks are now complete and the prices, perchance, lower than later.

AHERN'S WAYNE, NEBR.

ELECTION RETURNS SATISFY EVERYBODY.

When a majority of the people decide anything all true American citizens are satisfied. It is strange that men honestly differ and yet feel satisfied when the majority have settled the question at issue. This is true in politics and it should influence men to some extent in business matters. While a majority may sometimes be wrong, it is safe in most cases to follow the crowd. It is a fact known to nearly everyone that a majority of the citizens of Wayne county buy their clothing here. This fact should have at least influence enough to cause everyone to look here before buying any clothing elsewhere. A large majority of them wear Staley underwear, don't you think you ought to try it? A good majority of the best dressed and most successful men wear our suits and overcoats. If you never have bought a suit here, you ought to investigate this store before buying elsewhere. A fair majority of all the fur coats owned in Wayne county are in this store. It will interest you to see this large line of fur coats before you buy. More than three-fourths of the first-class clothing stores sell only at one price. As this is the only store in Wayne county that conducts their business on the majority plan it will surely be to your interest to try this store for clothing. We sell a majority of the clothing brought to this county and it will be safe for you to follow the crowd that comes here for clothing. We pay no rent. We lose no bad accounts. We buy in large quantities and for cash. We are expert clothing men and give a warrant with everything we sell. You will be satisfied with the result if you do as a majority of the men do in Wayne county. They buy clothing of us. Why not try us?

Staley Underwear. The 2 Johns ONE PRICE CLOTHING. WAYNE, NEB. Dutchess Trousers

FASHION CHANGES. Times Change. Fashions change—with a tailor always— with the ready-made clothing man if he sold his last stock. A man can be perfectly sure of entire clothing satisfaction only. There are no more, alike, in one there is a little defect here—in another it is in an entirely different place. Tailor made clothing is the cheapest in every way man can buy. Style, satisfaction, finish and elegance all combined by Holtz, the Tailor.

We're Pushing Paint. We're doing it all the year round, but harder than ever now, because it's the height of the painting season. We have everything that good painting requires. There are no better paints made than THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINTS. They have a wider sale than any others on the market, because they are the best. No matter what you have to paint, talk it over with us first.

THE WAYNE DRUG COMPANY. J. T. Leahy, Wayne, Neb.

THE CITIZEN'S BANK. (INCORPORATED.) A. L. TUCKER, President. J. S. FRENCH, Vice President. D. C. MAIN, Cashier. GILBERT FRENCH, Assistant Cashier. Capital and Undivided Profits, $100,000. DIRECTORS:—E. D. Mitchell, A. A. Welch, J. S. French, D. C. Main, G. E. French, A. L. Tucker, James Paul. WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

TO FARMERS. This is the time of year when you are disappointed again in the growth of your cattle for the summer, either because your own pasture was too crowded or because you sent them to a herd where they were abused and neglected, or because you put them in someone else's pasture, and you find you are losing $5.00 a head in the growth of your larger cattle. Then why not buy a pasture and save this beside getting an investment that will probably double in value in the next few years. I have three different pastures of a section each in central and western Pierce county at $10.00 per acre and less, two of them with good houses, small improvements; the other with a new, four wire fence, windmill, supply tank, etc., with splendid pasturage. Can buy on your own time at 6 per cent interest. A. J. DURLAND, Norfolk, Neb. P. S. You will remember that good pastures like these at $10.00 per acre are very few east of Holt County, and growing fewer every month. I also have rough land at $10.00 an acre in Knox County that is all good clay soil. Also 1380 acres five miles from Pierce, one half in cultivation and hay land, two sets of buildings and three windmills, at $20.00 per acre. If you want to buy a good farm in Madison, Pierce or Knox Counties, let me know, as no one else has such a large number of farms in this locality at these prices. The New Month Cattle Coat, also in stock.

FETTERED BY FATE

BY ALEXANDER ROBERTSON

"Joliet's Fate," "Little Sweetheart," "Lottie, the Sewing Girl," "Goldmaker of Lisbon," "Wedded to Wh," "Olivia Thorpe," "Nora's Legacy," Etc., Etc.

CHAPTER XX.—(Continued.)

CHAPTER XX.—(Continued.)
Captain Grant, seeing he had the upper hand, kept on.

"I have searched far for you, Carol, but at last I have found you. Will you go back with me?"

All at once flashed across the mind of the young girl a thought of the past and the actions of this man toward her. He had acted as no gentleman would or should act, and she now recoiled from him as from an adder.

"Leave me, sir," she cried. "I would return to my mother, the only one left for me to love—the only one."
"Oh, say not so, Carol," he exclaimed, passionately. "I will confess that I began this suit without much love, as a man of the world, but I found in you a woman worth loving, and I have grown to love you madly. Say that I may have some hope, oh, give me but the faintest hope, and I will cling to it as a shipwrecked mariner would to a plank that had been thrown within his reach. I know not that you disliked me, else I would never have used by my friends, with your father to help me, to bring me here. Forgive me for the past, Carol, and give me a grain of hope for the future. With your love I should be able to do much in this world; without it I feel like a rudderless vessel, drifting at the mercy of fate."

His words were eloquent, his acting of the very finest order, for he saw what he believed to be a good thing, and he wanted Carol to return to her father, and to be able to enter her heart in the rebound; but she half-homely motives and shrank from him as though he were a spirit of evil.

"I can never be more to you than I am now, Captain Grant. My heart is too sore to think of love. Leave me in peace to return to my mother," she said, slowly.

His face flamed and a fierce light shone in his eyes. It seemed as though he was returned just that to carry her off even against her will, but on second thought he dismissed the idea.

"As you will, Miss Richmond; your word is law to me. Good-bye in my mind again," he said, and in the direction the captain had gone.

CHAPTER XXI.

"It is my wife. This is retribution. My sin has found me out."

As these words fell from the lips of Lawrence Richmond he stood as if rooted to the spot. The woman who lived in the haunted mill raised her head and looked at him with eyes which said to him so much that he found himself gazing speechlessly upon the face of that wife whom he had not seen in all the years that had passed since he drove her away from him with curses that were to be so bitterly repented—curses that were to come back home to roost—curses that had ever since remained in his memory like plague spots, and which would not be erased though at times they almost hid him away.

The burnt mortgage was still smoldering upon the little fire, but he had completely forgotten it in the excitement still more intense produced by this astounding discovery.

He had wronged this woman terribly in the past, in a manner that had shocked him whenever he thought of it; for he had afterward looked back and searched for her, but she could not be found, and the old doubts crept over his mind again, obscuring it—and in that dread moment he only saw what a splendid chance for revenge had come to her.

Should she so desire she could crush him with a single blow. This was his brain as he stood there, still clutching her white wrist so feverishly.

"Then there flashed upon his mind the late act and words of the noble woman, and his eyes almost unsciously were turned upon the fire where the document was still smoldering, though just recovered."

"My wife!" he muttered, "my wife come back to me from the dead? Oh, I am dreaming. This is some horrid taunting specter. My wife is dead and I am her murderer."

He groaned with mental anguish, and it stirred the woman's heart to its full depth to hear the man whom she had never ceased to love thus exhibit his terrible suffering.

"Not so, Lawrence. You see before you the unhappy woman who was once your wife. The years have come and gone since last we stood face to face, years of suffering to me, and yet I have patiently awaited the will of heaven. Perhaps there may be more in this meeting than you are either of us imagining."

"Not dead, not dead," he muttered, with hushed breath, as he gazed eagerly upon her, "oh, then heaven has heard my prayer. He has sent you to me that the last act of my life should be my atonement to you. There, see me kneeling at your feet, with the pride, the cursed pride that ruined my life and yours, trampled down forever. Oh, can you forgive me for the past, my wretched mistake which I have deplored in tears of blood ever since? I know I do not deserve it, but if you could only forgive me it would be the act of an angel. Pity me, pardon me."

She had sunk at her feet in abject misery. Her mind was once more cleared of all doubts. She was deeply affected by this evidence of his contrition, and her whole frame trembled, while the tears streamed down her cheeks.

"Kneel not to me, Lawrence, for what sin you committed against me has long since been forgiven me, and I am not worthy to touch the hem of your garment. May heaven bless you—and forgive me," he moaned.

She made him rise, even assisted him, and, weak and trembling, he sank back into a chair, almost incapable of motion. The fierce will, the strong frame, they seemed withered up by the mad force of this demon remorse.

"It was false, and whoever told you that willfully deceived you. I never applied for a divorce, never received one. So far as the law is concerned, you are as much my wife as you ever were, though the bitter past can never be wiped out—never, and we must ever remain estranged."

"Oh, Father in heaven, I thank Thee for this mercy. Husband, let us then say adieu, and let each live as he best (darkened) our lives for many years, why should I shadow our whole future? And she stood before him, a light shining in her eyes and a blush upon her cheeks that had not been seen there for many a day.

Lawrence Richmond seemed dazed.
"Do I hear aright? Are you an angel that you can live down all my past feelings of crime, and I have grown to love you again? Say that I may have some hope, oh, give me but the faintest hope, and I will cling to it as a shipwrecked mariner would to a plank that had been thrown within his reach. I know not that you disliked me, else I would never have used by my friends, with your father to help me, to bring me here. Forgive me for the past, Carol, and give me a grain of hope for the future. With your love I should be able to do much in this world; without it I feel like a rudderless vessel, drifting at the mercy of fate."

His words were eloquent, his acting of the very finest order, for he saw what he believed to be a good thing, and he wanted Carol to return to her father, and to be able to enter her heart in the rebound; but she half-homely motives and shrank from him as though he were a spirit of evil.

"I can never be more to you than I am now, Captain Grant. My heart is too sore to think of love. Leave me in peace to return to my mother," she said, slowly.

His face flamed and a fierce light shone in his eyes. It seemed as though he was returned just that to carry her off even against her will, but on second thought he dismissed the idea.

"As you will, Miss Richmond; your word is law to me. Good-bye in my mind again," he said, and in the direction the captain had gone.

CHAPTER XXII.

"It is my wife. This is retribution. My sin has found me out."

As these words fell from the lips of Lawrence Richmond he stood as if rooted to the spot. The woman who lived in the haunted mill raised her head and looked at him with eyes which said to him so much that he found himself gazing speechlessly upon the face of that wife whom he had not seen in all the years that had passed since he drove her away from him with curses that were to be so bitterly repented—curses that were to come back home to roost—curses that had ever since remained in his memory like plague spots, and which would not be erased though at times they almost hid him away.

The burnt mortgage was still smoldering upon the little fire, but he had completely forgotten it in the excitement still more intense produced by this astounding discovery.

He had wronged this woman terribly in the past, in a manner that had shocked him whenever he thought of it; for he had afterward looked back and searched for her, but she could not be found, and the old doubts crept over his mind again, obscuring it—and in that dread moment he only saw what a splendid chance for revenge had come to her.

Should she so desire she could crush him with a single blow. This was his brain as he stood there, still clutching her white wrist so feverishly.

"Then there flashed upon his mind the late act and words of the noble woman, and his eyes almost unsciously were turned upon the fire where the document was still smoldering, though just recovered."

"My wife!" he muttered, "my wife come back to me from the dead? Oh, I am dreaming. This is some horrid taunting specter. My wife is dead and I am her murderer."

He groaned with mental anguish, and it stirred the woman's heart to its full depth to hear the man whom she had never ceased to love thus exhibit his terrible suffering.

"Not so, Lawrence. You see before you the unhappy woman who was once your wife. The years have come and gone since last we stood face to face, years of suffering to me, and yet I have patiently awaited the will of heaven. Perhaps there may be more in this meeting than you are either of us imagining."

"Not dead, not dead," he muttered, with hushed breath, as he gazed eagerly upon her, "oh, then heaven has heard my prayer. He has sent you to me that the last act of my life should be my atonement to you. There, see me kneeling at your feet, with the pride, the cursed pride that ruined my life and yours, trampled down forever. Oh, can you forgive me for the past, my wretched mistake which I have deplored in tears of blood ever since? I know I do not deserve it, but if you could only forgive me it would be the act of an angel. Pity me, pardon me."

She had sunk at her feet in abject misery. Her mind was once more cleared of all doubts. She was deeply affected by this evidence of his contrition, and her whole frame trembled, while the tears streamed down her cheeks.

"Kneel not to me, Lawrence, for what sin you committed against me has long since been forgiven me, and I am not worthy to touch the hem of your garment. May heaven bless you—and forgive me," he moaned.

She made him rise, even assisted him, and, weak and trembling, he sank back into a chair, almost incapable of motion. The fierce will, the strong frame, they seemed withered up by the mad force of this demon remorse.

to think what a sweet task they would have before them, as they contemplated how the mad-house doctor had become in the face before he was done with him.

The neighborhood of the mad house was singularly lonely, not a house being in sight either up or down the river, but Jack knew where he was aiming for, having studied the country well when he came and before applying for the situation.

Long through the dense undergrowth they made their way, leaving the mad house further behind than all the while, but although for a time all seemed going well, danger was not far away.

Suddenly Nora laid her hand upon the arm of her companion and brought him to a full stop.

"Listen!" she said, hoarsely.
They stood like statues for half a minute, their ears on the alert for sounds. Then Jack recognized a cry as one he had often heard among the swamps of the South. It was the long-drawn wail of a bloodhound.

"Come," said Jack, hoarsely, "let us fly. The doctor himself must be with those who are in our rear, and should they come up with us, they would just as soon lead the brutes against us. Can you run, Nora?"

She showed him that she could, but the bloodhounds barked their progress considerably. They had the satisfaction of knowing, however, that their pursuers were no better off, for they could hear the impatient noises given vent to by the hounds as they struggled in leash.

Jack still had his arm around his companion, but had his hand raised to his forehead, as he heeded his good right hand to assist him in his passage through the thickets. Besides, he was probably having plenty of warning ere the pursuers came upon them.

HENRY CLAY AS AN ACTOR.

How the Great Lawyer Won a Higher Case.
James Sandusky, who is an old and well known lawyer, and who has recently settled in Chicago, while coming in from DeWitt Valley on the electric line told an interesting story about Henry Clay, the great Kentucky statesman.

Mr. Sandusky, who in his youth lived in Mr. Clay's district during the time when Henry Clay was at his prime as a lawyer.

"A man was once being tried for murder," said Mr. Sandusky, "and his case looked hopeless indeed. He had without any seeming provocation murdered one of his neighbors in cold blood. Not a lawyer in the county would touch the case. It looked bad enough to ruin the reputation of any lawyer."

"The man, as a last extremity, appealed to Mr. Clay to take the case for him. Every one thought that Clay would certainly refuse. But when the celebrated lawyer looked into the matter his lightning bolt was roused, and, to the great surprise of all, he accepted."

"Then came a trial, the like of which I have never seen. Clay stood up, carried on the case, and it looked more and more hopeless. The only ground of defense the prisoner had was that the murdered man had looked at him with such a fierce, murderous look that out of self-defense he had struck first. A ripple passed through the jury at this evidence."

"The tide came for Clay to make his defense. It was settled in the minds of the spectators that the man was guilty of murder in the first degree. Clay calmly proceeded, laid all the proof before them in his mastery way. Then, just as he was about to conclude, he played his last and master card."

"Gentlemen of the jury," he said, assuming the fiercest, blackest look and carrying the most undying hatred in it that I have ever seen, gentlemen, if a man should look at you like this, what would you do?"

"That was all he said, but that was enough. The jury was startled and some even quailed on their seats. The judge moved uneasily on his bench. After fifteen minutes the jury fled slowly back with a 'Not guilty, your honor.' The victory was complete."

"When Clay was congratulated on his easy victory, he said:
"It was not so easy as you think. I spent days and days in my room before the mirror practicing that look. It took more hard work to give that look than to investigate the most obnoxious case."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

An Expansive Excuse.

Annie was late, and, like a sensible child, she recognized the fact and stopped running. Not so Johnnie. He belonged to the class that never knows when it has enough of either joy or trouble, so he kept up his laborious trot until the school door was reached. There he leaned dejectedly and breathed heavily. Annie eyed him with a scorn that grew as she looked. Later on they stood in the office looking like a set of illustrations for a new version of the "Lives of the Holy Saints," and Johnnie was talking. "I couldn't mean it," he sobbed. "It was me big sister Katie's fault. She made me eat three eggs, an' me madder egg I can't hold that much till I'm 9 years old, and—"

"He would have babbled on indefinitely, the tears rolling off his fat, foolish little face, but the principal handed him his admission slip and turned to Annie. That young lady had a passion for acquisition, so without further ado she required Johnnie's excuse.

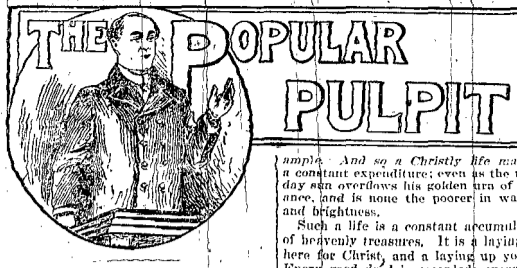

"I ate too many eggs, too, and it made me late," she explained.
"Indeed," said the principal, "and how many did you eat?" Annie's lips curled scornfully as she remembered Johnnie and his miserable three eggs.

"I ate seventy-four," she replied, blandly.—New York Evening Sun.

A Rural Possibility.

"How's things in yer settlement?"
"Mighty poorly."
"Not bad?"
"Not bad, but a little snakes."
"Gonna good?"
"Ain't got rain enough."
"No snakes?"
"No, but the weather's jest right fer the snakes, an' I'll be mighty disappointed if we don't have the chills an' the long sufferin' fever."—Atlanta Constitution.

Tears and laughter well compounded make the sweetest joy; grief and joy the truest happiness—happiness and pain the grandest good.—Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall.

TREASURES IN HEAVEN.

By Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler, D. D.

But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal.—Matthew 6:19.

"Store up treasures for yourselves in heaven." That is the rendering in one of the earlier English translations of the Bible—of our Lord's injunction in this sermon on the mount. He had just told his hearers that the treasures laid up on earth were liable to be consumed by the moth and the rust, or stolen away by thieves. If the word that was dear to their hearts out of the reach of the rust and the robbers, they must lodge them in God's keeping; there they would be safe.

The shrewdest business man may often be awake in his business about the absolute security of his investments; the Master declares that what we invest in heavenly treasures can never be lost.

Did Christ mean to recommend a large investment of money for charitable purposes in order to secure a place in heaven? Some have twisted this passage into this foolish notion, and thus perverted the salvation in the next world. But our Lord never descended to such a mercenary morality; God is not to be bargained with for gold or silver. The scope of this divine injunction is infinitely wider, and its motive more than any pecuniary transaction for selfish ends; it has an intensely spiritual significance.

The treasures to which he refers are all those objects for which an immortal being ought to live, and the possession of which is the most pleasing in the sight of God. When any man gives his heart to the service of God, he gives his heart to the service of his neighbor, and his neighbor's interest. His property may vanish in the flames, or be swept away by commercial hurricanes, but what is dearest to him is secure. "I know whom I have trusted, and I am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against all flood, and against all fiery trial, which shall come upon the righteous."—1 Peter 4:19.

The servants of Christ have a different arithmetic from the worldling. He counts his gains by the earthly possessions that he accumulates. The Christian often gains by the losses of earthly things.

"He that loses for my sake finds" is an aphorism that is applied to many a tried and afflicted child of God, who, after earthly wealth or honor costs very often a sad loss of grace and godliness. It is not what we take up, but what we are ready to give up, that makes us spiritually rich. Giving up for the sake of our Master honors him, and adds to our glory in the eyes of God. It is the peculiar glory of the martyrs; they, through the salvation of a believer's soul. It embraces all the results and the fruits, and the outcome of a genuine Christian life. The moment that you are truly converted, that moment you begin to make spiritual investments, you begin to lay up heavenly treasures.

The servants of Christ have a different arithmetic from the worldling. He counts his gains by the earthly possessions that he accumulates. The Christian often gains by the losses of earthly things.

"He that loses for my sake finds" is an aphorism that is applied to many a tried and afflicted child of God, who, after earthly wealth or honor costs very often a sad loss of grace and godliness. It is not what we take up, but what we are ready to give up, that makes us spiritually rich. Giving up for the sake of our Master honors him, and adds to our glory in the eyes of God. It is the peculiar glory of the martyrs; they, through the salvation of a believer's soul. It embraces all the results and the fruits, and the outcome of a genuine Christian life. The moment that you are truly converted, that moment you begin to make spiritual investments, you begin to lay up heavenly treasures.

It is impossible to compile what treasure is to be gained by the giving up of anything for the sake of Christ. There is a constant accumulation. There is a "laying up" day by day. God is a just accountant and a generous rewarder. "A book of remembrance" is kept, and God will give to every one as his work shall be. That record on high will read very differently the names of the faithful parents, and Sunday school teachers, and city missionaries, and the whole army of hard toilers in the service of the best of masters. Do you sometimes get discouraged because you do not see more immediate results of your efforts? Don't weary. You are sowing the seed for your whole duty; God is keeping the account. His "reward is with him"; give to every servant according to his work shall be.

It goes without saying that, as "they who turn many to righteousness will shine as the stars in the firmament." There are some favored servants of God, who will come into magnificent inheritances in heaven. We can imagine Robert Raikes surrounded by a multitude of those who were the spiritual trophies of his Sunday schools, and Sprague welcomed by the happy souls who were led to Jesus, and our own Moody finding in heaven all the more joyous for the number of those whom his untiring labors won to the life everlasting. Consecrated talents will then blaze as crowns of glory. What an inducement is this to every young man and woman who is asked the question: How shall I employ my brains, my culture or my money to the best advantage? Even one talent, if not hidden or wasted, shall make some very humble Christian rich and radiant when they come into their heavenly inheritance.

In these days, and especially in our own country, there is an astonishing increase of men of immense wealth; the word "millionaire" is almost as common as the word "shipman." There is a great deal of my childhood. Haste to be rich is the prevailing mania; yet only a very small proportion of all the most eager seekers after wealth will ever attain it.

Every one of my readers may become rich to secure God. The secret is to be given by giving. This is the true paradox in the economy of grace. His that refuses to give his whole heart to Christ is doomed to perish without Christ. He that saves for self only loses; he that saves for Christ will save himself. Would you secure treasures in heaven? Then learn to give, and give bountifully. God loveth the cheerful giver. This is not to be limited to gifts of the purse; for the offerings of silver and gold are only a part of what our Father asks a right to; we must freely give of everything that we have freely received.

If you have the heart to pray give your prayers; answered prayers will be a part of your heavenly inheritance. You that have acquired wisdom and knowledge, give your counsels to those who need them. Give your personal labors for Christ and the salvation of souls; no wealthy Christian ought to compound with his Master by drawing a bank check in lieu of personal Christian work. Those who have the much money or counsel or Christian work to bestow can afford the blessing of costly living and a holy ex-

HE KNOWS US.

By Rev. J. R. Lancaster

He knew what was in man.—John 3:25.

Knowledge of man is of two sorts. First, the knowledge of man as he is—the man as he is; second, the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

Some have mistaken the knowledge of man as he is to be—the possible man. When it is declared that Christ knew what was in man, there was reference to the possibilities within him. Now, it is not very difficult to accomplish to tell what man has done, or what he is; but it is extremely so to give prophetic speech.

In the Wild West.

Everybody seemed to avoid the man. "What's the matter?" asked the stranger from the East.

"He is lacking in public spirit," was the scornful reply.
"How is that?" asked the stranger.
"Oh, he doesn't care anything for the general welfare or the enjoyment of the community. Only a mean man would spend his evening after a dull season, when the boys were just dying for a bit of sport."

"Did he do that?"
"Saro, Everything was framed up right and we had the rope on him, when the damned man cried up and proved that he wasn't the man we wanted and we had to let him go. The boys'll never forgive him for that."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Gratitude promotes publicity and it's no wonder people testify when life is saved.

Every reader with a bad back is in danger, for bad backs are but kidney ailments and neglect may prove fatal.

Neglected backache is quickly followed by too frequent urinary discharges; retention of the urine, painful urination, Diabetes, Bright's disease, and how all such troubles can be cured.

Doan's Kidney Pills when I did it would not be alive now. It was a terrible condition and although I took quart of medicine, and was attended by doctors, I got no better, but worse. Friends spoke of my bad appearance, and thousands knew about it. I could hardly get around and felt and looked like a dead man rather than a living one. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Logan Drug Co's store, were a blessing to me; half a box relieved me; three boxes entirely cured me.

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. McLaughlin will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address: Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists, price 50 cents per box.

Too Long to Wait.
Miss Brusk didn't hesitate to give up her age as her reason for refusing old Munnysbags.

Miss Brusk didn't hesitate to give up her age as her reason for refusing old Munnysbags.

Miss Brusk didn't hesitate to give up her age as her reason for refusing old Munnysbags.

Miss Brusk didn't hesitate to give up her age as her reason for refusing old Munnysbags.

Miss Brusk didn't hesitate to give up her age as her reason for refusing old Munnysbags.

Miss Brusk didn't hesitate to give up her age as her reason for refusing old Munnysbags.

Miss Brusk didn't hesitate to give up her age as her reason for refusing old Munnysbags.

Miss Brusk didn't hesitate to give up her age as her reason for refusing old Munnysbags.

Miss Brusk didn't hesitate to give up her age as her reason for refusing old Munnysbags.

Miss Brusk didn't hesitate to give up her age as her reason for refusing old Munnysbags.

Miss Brusk didn't hesitate to give up her age as her reason for refusing old Munnysbags.

Miss Brusk didn't hesitate to give up her age as her reason for refusing old Munnysbags.

Miss Brusk didn't hesitate to give up her age as her reason for refusing old Munnysbags.

A Gay Deceiver.

Senator Quay is fond of telling a story of an experience at a country hotel near Pittsburg. Hanging on the wall in the parlor was an inscription, "Well on parole Français."

The Senator noticed the inscription, and, turning to the proprietor, said, "Do you speak French?"

"No," replied the proprietor; "United States will do for me."
"Well, then," said Quay; "why do you hang that notice on the wall? That means 'French is spoken here.'"

"Well, I'll be blamed if a young chap didn't sell that to me for a motto, 'Well on parole Français,'" answered the astonished hotelkeeper.—Philadelphia Times.

Carried to Extremes.
"Adulteration of foodstuffs is being carried to extremes nowadays," observed the man with the incandescent whiskers.

"What's wrong—been finding fish in your milk again?" asked the man with the foolish smile.

"No, but a friend of mine is in the sheep-margarine business, and he's just bought a carload of artificial hair to put through it and give it the semblance of the real article."—Judge.

THROUGH SLEEPING CAR.
Chicago to Washington, D. C., Virginia Hot Springs.

The Big Four Chesapeake and Ohio Route now run through sleeper Chicago to Washington, leaving Chicago at 1 p. m., arriving Washington next afternoon at 3:30. Quick time. Smooth roadbed. Dining car service. Magnificent mountain scenery. For reservations, etc., address Big Four Ticket Office, 234 Clark street, Chicago.

All Alike.
Grimes—Doesn't it disgust you to see youngsters trying to make a man of themselves by imitating the wives of their elders?

Harris—Not at all. I cannot help sympathizing with the boy, he evidently so thoroughly enjoys making a fool of himself.—Boston Transcript.

What's the secret of happy, vigorous health? Simply keeping the bowels, the stomach, the liver and kidneys strong and active. Burdock Blood Purifiers does it

