Glady West took the noon train Saturday for Wayne, where she will spend a week with friends. Anna West departed Monday for Wayne where she will spend the summer in attendance at the Nebraska Normal.—Wausa Herald.

From all over the grand old state of Nebraska and many other parts of the universe young people have been arriving the past week to attend the Nebraska Normal College. The summer term is now on with a few less than 900 students in attendance.

A dispatch in the daily papers sent from Wayne county recently made the reporter look like a liar, as the article read, "small grain was yielding abundantly." The copy read, "small grain promises to yield abundantly." However, in a few weeks the item would read about right, just the same.

The Mayor and council began the work Monday of putting in stone crossings on the streets, having received a car load of large stones, six inches thick and 3 x 8 feet in size. They are beautiful and beet lumber about 'steved' to one. A crossing of this kind will cost about $38 per cross, but in less than five years it will be cheaper than plank.

A large number of Wayne Odd Fellows attended a general meeting of the 17th district, held at Randolph, last Thursday evening. Among those who attended from here we noticed the following: N. J. Juhlin, F. A. Berry, Henry Ley, Chas. Schulthes, Emil Hanson, Henry Stumpf, Rollie Ley, Will Kloubaugh, Nick Hansen, James Hermon, Chas. Nydahl, Olga Hansen, R. P. Williams, Fay Arnold, Jas. Portfield and J. H. Mines.

Now the ground is too hard—on top—not long ago it was too soft, but in the long run it will get there just the same.

Paul Harrington and John Dobbin were down from Carroll Sunday. Both of the boys are clerks of Chas. Robbins in his general store.

Eph Cunningham is fast becoming a fancy live stock auctioneer. And only think that once he was just a common editor with big feet.—Stanton Picket.

Miss Harriet Harmon of Salem, S. D., who has been trimmer in the millinery department of Wilson's department store, departed for her home Monday morning.

Misses Lottie and Veda Pilgr, of Wayne, visited from Monday evening until Tuesday evening with their brother, Frank Pilgr. They had been visiting friends at Plattsmouth and were on their way home.—Pierces Call Cattle shipments were made Sunday from Winside and Wayne, by the following persons: H. P. Anderson, Lear, John P. Lee, 1; Thos. Prince, 3; Geo. Ferrin, 2; Peter Kane, 2; Fred Thies, 1; L. Nelson, 2; Henry Klopping, 1 and Simon Geeman, 1.

About ninety members of the Junior League of the Methodist church enjoyed a pleasant ride to the home of S. E. Auker east of Wayne, last Thursday afternoon. Well filled lunch baskets were in evidence, and with the hospitality of Mr. Auker, the young people had a very good time.

James Stanton was at Wayne Saturday where he turned his assessor books over to the County Clerk. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ike Walden and child were at Wayne Wednesday. . . . Paul Harrington came up from Wayne Monday morning and is now employed in the store of his uncle Chas. Robbins.—Carroll Index.

Will the moon yet "turn to green cheese"? It is to be hoped not, but it may. Strange things are happening. Now comes a claim that potatoes are being grown above ground on plants as corn is grown. Each bud, in the plant, is said to swell into a large tuber. The specimen is said to hail from South Carolina. There is yet a chance for the city man who planted eggs in the ground to raise chicks or the city woman who was going to raise her own eggs by setting out an egg plant.

Gus Will of Wayne, was in town Tuesday making arrangements for opening a meat market at the Bernier Bros. old stand. W. F. Will & Co. will be the name of the new firm and their market will be opened about July 1. Mr. Will expects to occupy the Carl Bopp house near the ball parks.—Randolph Times.

Since the above was put in type we learn that the fellow who owned the contents of the market left suddenly and the deal was not made.

A new law will go into effect on July 1, which will make it a misdemeanor punishable by a $50 fine or 30 days in the county jail for anyone to furnish a minor with tobacco in any form. There is also a law prohibiting the use of tobacco by minors. It would be a great thing that ever happened to these boys who have just graduated from knee breeches if these laws were strictly enforced. These youngsters, who imagine they are men, seem to think they have reached the pinnacle of fame when they can get a cigarette between their teeth and smoke oozing from their nostrils like a panting locomotive, and the foul language and big long oaths they "tear off" would put the devil to shame. Boy's don't do it. Throw away the "coffin nails" and brace up and be men.—Creighton News.

Fruits fresh and nice, at Brookings'. J. R. Manning of Carroll, was a Wayne visitor Monday.

Have a crossing. It's made of stone. Wayne has quit fooling with common every day planks.

Henry Bush came down from Carroll on business Monday and looked just as pleasant as ever.

J. M. Strahan, of Malvern, Iowa, was a Wayne visitor the first of the week looking after business matters.

Rev. Thos. Bithell, of Neligh, and formerly pastor of the M. E. church here, was a pleasant visitor in the city Monday afternoon.

Geo. Grunemeyer of Wayne, visited friends near the city over Sunday. Geo. seems to make those Sunday calls to Warner & Andrus, St. Paul, Minn., quite regular.—Wakefield Republican.

Ed Lundburg, who graduated from the Law department of the University of Lincoln last Thursday, arrived home Friday and will engage in the practice of law here. His many friends will wish him success in his chosen profession.

Prof. C. L. Culler left Monday for Wayne, the home of his parents. He will attend the normal school at that place during the summer vacation, after which he goes to Bancroft as principal of the high school there.—Dakota City Eagle.

DIED. GLEN, the eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gamble, died last Thursday night, after an illness of several months. The funeral was held on Saturday morning at the Presbyterian church.

A GOOD CROWN MOWER. For sale, cheap. E. J. NANGLE.

FARMERS. I am agent for The State Farmer's Mutual Insurance Co. of South Omaha, don't forget me when wanting Insurance. GRANT S. MEARS.

Mrs. F. Wright, of Oelwein, Iowa, is another one of the million women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Overshadowing indeed is the success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—compared with it, all other medicines for women are experiments.

Why has it the greatest record for absolute cures of any female medicine in the world? Why has it secured and done its glorious work among women for a quarter of a century? Simply because of its sterling worth. The reason that no other medicine has ever reached its success is because there is no other medicine so successful in curing women's ills. Remember these important facts when a druggist tries to sell you something which he says is just as good.

A Young New York Lady Tells of a Wonderful Cure—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: My trouble was with the ovaries; I am tall, and the doctor told me that I grew too fast for my strength. I suffered dreadfully from inflammation and doctored continually, but got no help. I suffered from terrible dragging sensations with the most awful pains low down in the side and pains in the back, and the most agonizing headaches. No one knows what I endured. Often I was sick to the stomach, and every little while I would be too sick to go to work for three or four days; I work in a large store, and I suppose standing on my feet all day made me worse.

"At the suggestion of a friend of my mother's I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is simply wonderful. I felt better after the first two or three doses; it seemed as though a weight was taken off my shoulders; I continued its use until now I can truthfully say I am entirely cured. Young girls who are always complaining of their ills without getting any help, as I did, ought to take Lydia's medicine. It costs so much less, and it is sure to cure them.—Yours truly, ADELAIDE PRAHL, 174 St. Ann's Ave., New York City."

Women should not fail to profit by Miss Adelaide Prahl's experiences, just as surely as she was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so certainly will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure others who suffer from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability, and nervous prostration; remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

If there is anything in your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. She can surely help you, for no person in America has such a wide experience in treating female ills as she has had. Address is Lynn, Mass.; her advice is free and always helpful.

$5000 REFRESH If we cannot forthwith produce the original letter and signature of above testimonial, which was published in the Boston Globe, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Co., Lynn, Mass.

Identifies by His Lips. John Porter Healy, an Akron negro blind boy 13 years of age, astonished his physicians and nurses during his stay at the Huron street hospital by a phenomenal development of acute perception through the touch of his lips. The boy has been blind several years. He can identify an article after he has once handled it by merely touching it to his lips. He can tell the denomination of money in this manner. His nurses provided him with a number of playthings, among them two tips exactly alike. He called them "Tom and Jerry" and could tell which was Tom and which was Jerry as soon as his lips came into contact with them, although nobody else could tell them apart.

Another interesting faculty possessed by this strange boy, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, is the sense of perception through the limbs. He told his hands on their heads. Physicians were puzzled over the boy's strange power of identification through his lips. They have never known of a similar case.

THE MAN OUTSIDE

EVERYBODY for ten miles around knew that Bert Thatcher and Minnie Davis were engaged. She was the daughter of a farmer, and he was a clerk in a village store, and both had many friends and acquaintances.

The course of true love was running along as smoothly as a pair of balloons in winter time when a wind-mill agent came along and sold Farmer Davis a mill.

This agent was a middle-aged man with golden whiskers and a great deal of cheek, and he had to direct the setting up of the mill he was at the farmhouse for a couple of weeks. His attention was early attracted to Minnie, and he posed for an old bachelor and uttered more words of praise and flattery in ten minutes than she had ever heard in a month before.

The knowledge that she was engaged, together with a visit of the young man who was to lead her to the honeymoon altar, admitted, and he sang the praises of Minnie Davis till Bert Thatcher's jealousy was aroused and he was ready for a quarrel.

When once a young man lets his best girl understand that he is jealous of her she feels it her bounden duty to make him as uncomfortable as she can for a few weeks.

Young Thatcher felt as well he should be jealous of Minnie's grandfathers as of the windmill man with his golden whiskers, but when he heard that the two sang hymns and played checkers together, in addition to gathering harvest apples and reading Shakespeare on the front veranda after dinner, the green-eyed monster demanded a row. One was forthcoming. One evening the clerk drove up to Farmer Davis' house.

There was a dash, a roar and a yell. Scared as she was, she detected something familiar in the tones of the yell, and when her name was shouted she opened the door to admit Bert Thatcher. He had not only heard of the accident that detained her parents, but had made use of it to drive out to the farmhouse and tell the girl how sorry he was for making a clump of himself.

He was not at the window when the shot was fired, but walking away from it. Most of the charge went wild, but about a dozen of the little pellets peppered his shoulders and quickened his longing to kiss and make up.

With her hand in her mouth and the shotgun ready to fall from her trembling hands, the girl waited. The tramp whistled and then sat down on the lip of the door.

But only for a moment. Then he arose and seemed to move along to a kitchen window. His name was raised, and she dashed to the glass, and, shutting her eyes and trusting that her garments would be kept green, Minnie pulled the gun somewhere or other and pulled the trigger.

"You want to pick a quarrel?" "I say his whiskers are golden." "They are yaller!" "You want to pick a quarrel?" "You want to marry him?" "There on it was easy for the young man. All he had to do was to call Minnie a heartless girl, a flit and a coquette, and add that he was glad he had found her out before it was too late.

Her feelings were hurt, her indignation aroused, and she suggested that he had better look around and find some one to suit him better. Of course he drove away with flaming face and surging heart, and of course it wasn't a week before everybody heard of the row and had something to say about it.

When he had fulfilled his mission, which was to put up the best wind-mills on earth and tell every farmer's daughter that she was the sweetest and handsomest girl in the country, the windmill man took his pay and drove off, and his golden whiskers were hardly remembered fifteen minutes after his departure.

Among the people who were surprised that he did not ask for Minnie's hand before leaving the neighborhood was Bert Thatcher. He was not only mollified, but found himself wondering if he couldn't make it up with the girl and be restored to favor. Like many another man, he didn't appreciate a good thing until he had lost it.

The more Bert thought of those whiskers the more he was inclined to believe that the color was golden, instead of "yaller," but how was he to let Minnie understand his change of feelings? He must gently convey the next time she visited the store to "trade," and if she showed a yielding disposition the chasm would be bridged.

This decision arrived at, he had only to wait, and for a week before she called, in company with her mother, he had it all mapped out as to how he would receive her. His calculations received a bad setback, however.

"Mr. Thatcher, we want to look at some of your best tablecloths," announced the girl, as she looked him straight in the eyes, and his heart went down like a lump of lead, and he saw those golden whiskers floating in the air about him.

During the hour she was in the store Minnie remarked that it was a backward summer; that the buckleberry crop was very poor; that rain was badly needed; that she couldn't understand why she shovels were down and tablecloths were up, and the uncomfortable young man could recollect fourteen different occasions when she lugged in the name of "Mr. Thatcher."

He was so put out over events that he held a 50-cent beer to old Mr. Johnson for 25 cents, and astonished Aunt Mary Phillips by asking her 60 cents a yard for 7-cent calico.

As a matter of fact, Minnie intended to do her share toward "making up" when the proper time came, but she wanted to punish the young man first.

Four weeks after the buying of the tablecloths, and without the young couple having spoken together since, Farmer Davis and wife set out one day for a ten-mile drive to Cassville, intending to come back before dark.

While they were returning they met with an accident, and it came about that Minnie found herself alone in the house when night fell.

She didn't begin to get nervous until about 9 o'clock, but then a call from a tramp frightened her into locking all the doors and imagining all sorts of things. The tramp had taken a cold life and left, but knowing that she was alone he would doubtless hang about and break into the house.

CONDITION OF CROPS.

Injury Done by Both Flood and Drought.

High Water in the West Has Greatly Retarded Farm Work—Lower Area Age Will Result—Eastern States Suffer for Lack of Rain.

The weekly crop report, issued by the weather bureau, says excessive rains in the lower Missouri, central Mississippi and Ohio valleys, Tennessee, the Carolinas and Georgia have interrupted farm work and caused great damage to crops. Portions of the upper lake region, central and west Gulf States, North Dakota and Montana are in need of rain. Highly favorable temperature conditions prevailed in the Rocky Mountain States, but on the Pacific coast the work was very hot and dry, especially in California and Oregon, while the early part of the week in the central and west Gulf States was too cool.

Much corn remains to be planted in the Missouri, Mississippi and Ohio valleys, where the early planting in general is in need of cultivation, and much has been dropped. Planting was resumed in Nebraska and Iowa during the latter part of the week, where under the most favorable future conditions the acreage will be reduced.

Rust in winter wheat is very generally reported from the Ohio, central Mississippi and the Ohio valleys, and in the two last named districts the crop has sustained much damage from floods. In the lake region, middle Atlantic States and over the northern portion of the Southern States an improvement is generally noted. Harvesting is progressing rapidly in Texas, and has begun in California, where early wheat promises good yields.

Spring wheat, continues in very promising condition in the Dakotas and generally in Minnesota. On the North Pacific coast spring wheat, while needing rain, is doing well.

The outlook for oats in New York and Pennsylvania is very poor; in the Ohio valley a general improvement is indicated; in the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys, where not damaged by floods, the crop is in a promising condition. Cotton in the eastern portion of the belt has made good growth, but is very green, and is much in need of sunshine, while portions of the central districts need rain and suffered somewhat from cool nights during the early part of the week. The week as a whole has been very favorable for transplanting tobacco, which is nearly completed over about three-fourths of the tobacco area.

Too Personal.

Mrs. Nexdour—Our church choir resigned in a body last Sunday morning.

Mrs. Homer—Why, what was the trouble?

Mrs. Nexdour—They objected to the minister's personal remarks. After singing the first hymn he opened the Bible and close for his text, Acts xx: "And after the uproar had ceased," etc.

Quite Another Proposition.

"I'm in misery Biggles."

"What's the trouble?"

"Why, I started smoking to show my boys what a miserable habit it is and how it hangs onto its victim."

"Yes."

"And now I'm trying to show them what an easy thing it is to quit!"—Baltimore News.

Not for Him.

"If she would allow her own dresses I should think she'd be a good wife for you."

"Not much. That shows how poor her father must be."—Philadelphia Press.

DOCTOR ADVOCATED OPERATION—PERU-NA MADE KNIFE UNNECESSARY.

CATARH is a very frequent cause of that class of diseases popularly known as female weakness. Catarrh of the pelvic organs produces such a variety of disagreeable and irritating symptoms that many people, in fact, the majority of people—have ideas that they are caused by catarrh. It is the women who are suffering with any form of female weakness would write to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, and give him a complete description of their symptoms and the peculiarities of their troubles, he will immediately reply with complete directions for treatment, free of charge.

Mrs. Eva Bartho, 133 East 12th street, N. Y. City, N. Y., writes: "I suffered for three years with leucorrhoea and ulceration of the womb. The doctor advocated an operation which I dreaded very much, and strongly objected to go under it. Now I am a changed woman. Peruna cured me; it took nine bottles, but I felt so much improved I kept taking it, as I dreaded an operation so much. I am today in perfect health and have not felt so well for fifteen years."—Mrs. Eva Bartho.

Miss Maud Steinhach, 1300 12th St., Milwaukee, Wis., writes: "Last winter I felt sick most of the time, was irregular and suffered from nervous prostration and severe bearing down pains. I had so frequently heard of Peruna and what wonderful cures it performed so I sent for a bottle and in four weeks my health and strength were entirely restored to me."—Miss Maud Steinhach.

Everywhere the women are using Peruna and giving it to their friends, a palliative simply; it cures by removing the cause of female disease.

Dr. Hartman has probably cured more women and given more complete descriptions of their troubles, he makes these cures simply by using and recommending Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

A young man named Fisher, whose home is in Wayne county, about eight miles west of Pender, arrived from Wyoming, Sunday, and is quite low with consumption. He left here last winter in good health but got pneumonia while camping out.—Pender Republican.

You Are Invited.

Wayne extends a cordial invitation to you to celebrate here the 3rd and 4th of July. The Woodmen hold their Log Rolling Picnic here, and it will be the biggest event the Association has ever held. The citizens have subscribed hundreds of dollars for amusements, and the flags will be unfurled, the cannon will roar, the eagle will scream and the key to the city be turned over to the Woodmen and all visitors.

There will be races of all descriptions, tugs of war, parades, fireworks, etc., and the celebrated K. P. band of Wisner, with 20 pieces will furnish music.

Celebrate in Wayne.

WHY WE CELEBRATE.

Every man, woman and child should celebrate the 4th of July. Did you ever stop to think that only the disobedient ever accomplish anything worth celebrating? If your forefathers had obeyed the laws of England we would never had this grand republic. Only the brave who step out of existing conditions and dare to do right, as they see the right, ever accomplish anything that their ancestors ever feel like celebrating. If they succeed we call them great, and if they fail we call them cranks. If you are buying clothing like your grandfather bought, and the same way, step out of the old way and be brave enough to make this store a visit and your children will celebrate the day you first bought clothing of us. If your father buys clothing at a dry goods store, and if you will be brave enough to step out of that old way and face us you will gain a victory that you will feel like celebrating. If you have always traded at a certain store because you like the man that runs the store, be brave once and try this new up-to-date store and you will not only feel like celebrating the Fourth, but you will save enough on one suit to celebrate with. Most of you were brave enough to leave home and come to Nebraska and you are not sorry you done it. If you will be brave enough to try a store where goods are bought and sold for cash and everything is up-to-date you will not be sorry for trading here. Wayne will have a big time the 3rd and 4th and you will enjoy yourself if you buy your clothing here. Everything here is up-to-date and prices lower than elsewhere. Why not try us?

Miss Maudie Burke, who has been visiting with her brother-in-law, R. A. McEwen, west of the city, returned to Hancock this morning.

There will be a few cherries in this section of the country notwithstanding the great damage suffered from the sleet storm in the late spring.

The June sun shines on many a fair bride, made doubly lovely by the use of Rocky Mountain Tea. The bride's best friend. 35 cents. Raymond's Pharmacy.

Rev. W. S. Welden and wife left for Hastings yesterday, where he has accepted a call. The best wishes of Wayne friends accompanied them to their new home.

The children's day exercises Sunday night at the Presbyterian church, were a decided success. The church was nicely decorated and the program was of a select character.

F. E. Bird came up from Fremont Saturday to visit over Sunday with his son Oliver, who clerk's at Harrington's clothing store. He drove his son's rig to Wayne, returning Monday by rail.

Raymond's show window is about the sickest thing out. A small pool represents the river and a miniature bridge suspended over it represents the famous Brooklyn bridge. It's a study.

Fred Vo'pp left for New York, Tuesday morning to meet a brother, who is on his way here from the old country. The meeting will be a pleasant one for them as many years have elapsed since they were together.

I. O. O. F. and Rebekah's memorial services will be held at the Methodist church at 10:45 a. m. Sermon by the pastor. Evening topic "Weighted and Wanting." Official Board meeting Monday evening at eight o'clock.

Roe & further have 204 head of pigs at their farm south of the city the product of 82 sows of the celebrated O. I. Improved Chester White breed, that are as fine as were ever seen in the county. These gentlemen are engaged extensively in raising thoroughbreds.

The corn crop has been making rapid strides during the warm weather of the past week, and the reports from the farm grow brighter. A light rain to soften the surface of the ground, is needed. Generally speaking, however, the crops are in an encouraging condition.

Ed Owens, who lives west of the city one and a half miles, has a large field of rye that is as pretty as a picture ever made. It is five feet high with long bushy heads and promises to yield an unusually large number of bushels per acre and will be ready for the binder in a very few days.

Ted Perry, while on the way home Tuesday evening, fell on the sidewalk, west of Roe & Fortner's meat market, spilling a pail of milk and bumping his nose at the same time, owing to a loose board in the walk which tripped him. He never said a word, unless it was under his breath, but he must have felt like it.

Rev. P. Baker and daughter of Chicago, arrived in the city on Tuesday evening to visit with friends for a few days. Mr. Baker was formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church here and they never had a better, a fact the HERALD reserves the right to express. Next Sabbath he will address the people at the church as we are informed "Defense" is the subject for consideration at the evening service.

The library committee met on Tuesday, June 16. Three of the four members were present. A summing up of the work done in the four months it has been open is as follows: Readers, 312; loans made, 1507; days open, 33; books in library, 696. During vacation it was decided to open the library at 2:30 on Wednesday and Saturday and close at 5 o'clock. Will not be open July 4.

Rev. Shepherd who has been holding forth in text west of Roe & Fortner's, was reading some articles to his audience Tuesday night, purporting to be taken from a Catholic paper in which strong language against the church was used. E. W. Moran happened by about that time stepped into the tent and started to set down, when Rev. Shepherd queried him as to what he wanted, and Tom told him. It was to the effect that the reverend gentleman was misrepresenting the paper; that that the paper quoted from was not in existence as the paper quoted from was of another name. Mr. Shepherd was requested to call on Mr. Moran at the depot the next day and prove his statements, but he never called.

John Koeford went to Omaha with a load of hogs on Wednesday.

The Methodist church hopes to out of debt before many days.

Eighteen children were baptised at the M. E. church last Sunday.

The good work done in opening up the drainage of our streets is worthy of encouragement.

The farmers are doing a big weed-killing business. There never was any better weather for that important business.

Mrs. R. B. Crawford returned from Sioux City this morning, where she went to attend the wedding of her daughter, Nora Donnell to Fay Payne, formerly of this city, which occurred there last evening.

Mr. Dilworth, director of music in the college, will give a concert in the court room, Saturday evening. Miss Cunningham, vocal teacher in the same institution will assist.

This will be a rare treat, and it is to be hoped the court room will be filled. Don't bring babies, please. The following program will be rendered:

THOUGHTLESS SQUIBS.

If you read it in this column, it is either a fact or not so. You are to be the judge.

Accidents are bound to happen no matter how careful or whatever the rules and regulations.

A few cubic yards of early morning silt, 'tis said, is far better for the making of a good pair of strong luns than a barrel of whiskey and ood liver oil.

Bixby says that "things which prove that spite work doesn't pay come to pass right along.

A new song is now the rage as Morgan travels over the country singing "that's mine."

There's any sense in a driver hitting a horse with a whip when the animal stumbles? Neither is there any sense for giving a man a kick when he stumbles.

The hotels of Chicago, know what a hungry lot of waiters, clerks and employees want since the strike. It's more pie, but you don't find any jacks lies on the newspaper fronts looking for any outlets of that sort.

Promise of a strike among the lawn mowers is apparent, since Robt. Perrin began operating. P. L. Miller, R. J. Wernock, C. O. Fisher and John T. Bressler threaten to strike. The printers will back the grass mowers every time, although there are a number of ladies, who handle a mower beautifully.

BE CAREFUL OF THE CHILDREN.

In this day of sanitation when we are sterilizing milk and various foods we use, filtering the water, using germ proof brooms, sanitary clothing, disinfecting, heating, etc., you should be careful of your refrigerator. Never before in the history of the world have there been such precautions taken against microbes and bacteria as at the present time. Did you ever stop to think that you have, perhaps overlooked your refrigerator. All the food, the very substance that enables you to exist, passes through the refrigerator. When why do you keep your food in that poisonous, corroded, zinc-lined refrigerator that is lurking with microbes and disease? Children form the most delicate thermometer of health. Being more delicate, having less strength they show quicker the evil effects of any cause. The baby's food should be kept in an absolutely pure and clean place if we expect baby to keep well. We should respect hygienic truth to baby's sake, even though we do not for our lives. The HERBICK REFRIGERATOR is built on sanitary principles, and is the only one that is so built. Sold in Wayne by TERWIL LIGER BROS.

ANOTHER WRECK.

The C. St. P. M. & O. seems to be meeting with a streak of ill luck the past month. Another wreck occurred a mile and a half west of Winslow, yesterday shortly after noon, when the east bound freight was nearing that town. The track was torn up for quite a distance, one car demolished and two others relieved of their trucks. No one was injured, but the conductor and brakeman jumped from the top of the engine when they viewed one end of a freight car going up in the air. Train No. 10 was delayed some time and the Bloomfield train backed down to Winslow, where the mail, baggage and express was transferred.

THE INEVITABLE.

In another column will be found a statement to the effect Fern D. Smith of Chambers, was the last editor to get out of town after the association meeting last Saturday. The statement is erroneous and was written before we knew that Bro. E. R. Lundburg of Carroll, was going to stay till Tuesday morning for the dire purpose of purloining one of Atkinson's best looking young ladies. And this calls to mind an interesting fact regarding the Association, i. e., no meeting has been held for some time that did not result in a wedding—but we know of no other instance where it resulted in such quick returns as this. Lundburg is a sly rascal. We never thought of looking to him for the realization of our hopes this year, being centered about sister Hudspeth, sister Bowers, and I. M. Kies and A. H. Backhaus. But since the desired effect has already happened, we extend our blessing to the contracting parties and can rest serene till next year.—Atkinson Graphic.

LUNDBURG-SHUTTS.

At the residence of the bride's parents at eight o'clock last Tuesday morning, occurred the marriage of Elmer R. Lundburg of Carroll, and Evria Blanche Shutts of Atkinson. The couple departed for their new home the same morning. Rev. Clark officiated in the occasion and the guests outside of the family were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Varney and Mr. and Mrs. Steele. The bride is one of Atkinson's most popular and highly esteemed young ladies and Mr. Lundburg is the editor of the Carroll Index and also a rising young attorney. The Graphic congratulates.—Atkinson Graphic.

This nation is increasing in population faster than it is in meat production. In the fifty years from 1850 to 1900 the population increased 3.28 times. Beef cattle increased 2.95; dairy cattle, 5.83; swine, 2.07; sheep, 1.83. Considering these figures in connection with our enormous exports it does not look like the business is going to be overdone in the next fifty years. Just what it will be then can be only a matter of conjecture.

A Word to the Wise About Summer Suits.

Many clothiers are feeding you through the daily papers with large doses of the word "cheap," but we are trying to do better. Mean clothing we will not sell at any price. What is the sense of promising a $20 for $10. Does the person of average intelligence expect it?

We promise to do better, and sell a suit for $10 that is worth $10—worth every cent of it, made so well that you can depend on its giving you satisfactory service, but we don't try to deceive you by saying it is as good as you can buy for $20. We give you your money's worth every time—that is why we are doubling our business in clothing.

King and Queen of Serbia and Several Cabinet Ministers Assassinated at Belgrade.

KARAGEORVITCH PROCLAIMED NEW KING

Murdered Ruler's Wife and Others Are Struck Down with Axes or Killed by Bullets.

OFFICERS OF THE ARMY LEADERS OF REVOLUTION.

Royal Victims and Their Attendants Slain in the Dead of Night—May Have Been Result of Plot to Get Rid of Queen—May Cause Turmoil in Europe

The reign of King Alexander and Queen Draga, sovereigns of Serbia, was brought to a fearful end early Thursday when the royal palace in Belgrade was surrounded by troops and the king and queen and the members of their cabinet murdered in their beds. The revolutionists under Prince Karageorvitch secured the support of the entire Serbian army, and Karageorvitch was proclaimed king. Besides the king and queen, Premier Zinzar, Minister Markovitch and his wife, the commander of the palace garrison, and two other members of the royal household were assassinated.

Various reports are current as to the manner in which the king fell. One has it that both were shot by members of the military, while another story has it that the king, seeing the end was inevitable, first shot the queen and then turned his revolver on himself, committing suicide. They both made their last wishes, and then made their way to the apartments of Premier Zinzar and M. Markovitch, the commander of the king's guard. Both, with their wives, were shot down in cold blood.

A dispatch from Scutari, Hungary, gives an interesting version of the events at Belgrade. It says: A party of officers presented to the palace by previous arrangement with Gen. Ljubicevich, and called on King Alexander to abdicate in favor of Prince Karageorvitch. The king refused and shot Col. Nannovic, who made the proposal. The other officers thereupon summoned the war minister, Gen. Petrovitch, and Jankovic, the minister of the interior, out of the king's side-camp, and other loyal officers. The leader of the actual assassins was Lieut. Col. Masich, who himself murdered the king. The latter, together with his brother and sisters, was struck down with an ax. The queen died immediately. The king lived a few minutes.

Queen Kitted with an Ax. A dispatch from Scutari, Hungary, gives an interesting version of the events at Belgrade. It says: A party of officers presented to the palace by previous arrangement with Gen. Ljubicevich, and called on King Alexander to abdicate in favor of Prince Karageorvitch. The king refused and shot Col. Nannovic, who made the proposal. The other officers thereupon summoned the war minister, Gen. Masich, who himself murdered the king. The latter, together with his brother and sisters, was struck down with an ax. The queen died immediately. The king lived a few minutes.

It is said that the last moments of the king and queen were filled with horror. When the royal pair retired a few hours earlier they had no suspicion that the long-expected revolution was upon them. The king and queen were in the palace, and before their eyes the revolutionists had made the soldiers were upon them. The revolt of the army is complete. The overthrow of the government was done and within a few minutes after the troops had proclaimed Karageorvitch ruler.

The plan of the uprising was carefully covered up. It is said that several of Alexander's trusted advisers were in the palace at the time of the revolution. Some of these advisers had been shot. The formation of a new government progressed with all possible haste, in order to play the excitement. The leader of the Liberal party, Avakomovich, was appointed Premier. The king's abdication is a state of great excitement.

Although the late King and Queen were popular with their subjects, their reign's fate has aroused much public opinion. It is feared that a revolution of the kind which has taken place will follow and that an attempt will be made to depose Karageorvitch. Several previous attempts were made to assassinate Queen Draga. Since her assassination the Serbian throne has been vacant for a long series of months. Late in 1901, however, it was declared she had been restored to the favor of the king and several of her former favorites were banished from court.

Alexander and Queen Draga Masich were assassinated during a military revolution which broke out at 2 o'clock in the morning in the streets of Belgrade. A proclamation was posted in the streets shortly afterward stating that their majesties had been shot. The trouble was precipitated by Alexander's high-handedness under the influence of Queen Draga. Public opinion, especially in army circles, has been seeking for months past a long series of months. Late in 1901, however, it was declared she had been restored to the favor of the king and several of her former favorites were banished from court.

- TWO GUARDS—Among the first to be killed when the attack on the royal residence began.

STORMY LIFE OF ALEXANDER.

King's Career Has Been a Scandal in One Continuous Performance. From his earliest infancy King Alexander's life was a stormy one. When he was a baby Alexander was alternately kidnapped by his wicked father and beautiful mother. At 14 he was accustomed to throw crown out of the window. At 17 he personally kicked his regents out of the palace and took the government into his own hands.

MANY DIE IN ARIZONA.

Thirty-one Perish in Rush of Waters at Clifton. Twelve bodies of flood victims have been brought at Clifton, Arizona, by the death list generally increased at this time. Many of the bodies never recovered, although hundreds of men, including many of the striking miners, are engaged in the search. The rush of water bore most of the victims from Chase creek into the San Francisco river.

"THE BLOOD ACCUSATION."

It Was This Ancient Charge That Caused the Kishinev Massacre. William E. Curtis in a Washington special to the Chicago Record-Herald says: The recent massacres of Jews in Russia, according to newspaper reports were provoked by what has come to be known as the "blood accusation." The charge is that the Jewish rabbis killed a Christian child for its blood, to be used in the unleavened bread of the passover. The origin of the charge is supposed to be based upon the notion that as the Jews ceased to make animal sacrifices after the destruction of the temple, they would endeavor to find a substitute in a Christian, and sometimes the idea is put forth that, after sacrificing a Christian child, its blood is used for making the unleavened bread. This accusation has been formally made, hundreds of times, resulting in riots, criminal trials and several massacres, and although distinguished rabbis have publicly and solemnly sworn that human blood is never used in the Jewish ritual, and many popes, emperors and distinguished Christian scholars have expressed their belief in these statements and have condemned the authors of the accusation, it continues to be reiterated in eastern Europe, and even in this, the twentieth century.

CURRENT COMMENT

Forest and Flood.

The recent floods in Kansas destroyed property in the two principal cities of the State and in Kansas City, Mo., to the amount of $12,300,000. The losses in the 200 smaller towns in the zone of the floods will probably increase this to $15,000,000.

The losses in the Ohio valley were estimated at $50,000,000. The losses along some of the smaller Pennsylvania rivers in Pennsylvania amounted to $1,000,000.

It is contended by the Minnesota forestry department that crop of trees can be grown as fast as the soil, and, in proportion to its value, with less expense; that ten acres properly planted with timber and properly cultivated will in five years supply fuel for a family and fencing for a farm of 100 acres.
