TROUBLE AT TEKAMAH

Rev. Davidson and Wife Involved in Strange Action

Rev. Charles W. Davidson was before the board of insanity at Tekamah last week for an investigation at the instance of his wife, who claimed she had been grossly abused by him and believed he was a victim of spasmodic insanity. She said he hugged and kissed her and then kicked her and knocked her down and pounded her with a stove dumper. She was found with several ugly scalp wounds, and he was discovered upstairs with a gun-shot wound in his head. Who did the shooting, the examination did not determine. He says he entered the house after fixing a door, and what happened then is blank to him. The board dismissed him, and he and his wife decided to separate, he going with relatives into Iowa and she returning to her parents' home in Plainview, Nebraska.

Since getting the above in type, we learn that both Rev. Davidson and wife are well known in Wayne and Wayne county. It seems that Mrs. Davidson was, before marriage, Ella M. Sears, who came to Wayne from Plainview and engaged in dressmaking here for several years. During that time Rev. Davidson was located at Carroll, where he had the Methodist charge. In Wayne he met Miss Sears, and their acquaintance resulted in their marriage three years ago. Both were highly respected in this county.

Considerable space in the Tekamah papers is devoted to the trouble and to the examination before the board of insanity. The Burlington Herald gives the following introductory explanation:

"Last Saturday about 10 o'clock a man the neighbors on the street west of the M. E. church were aroused by the cry for help coming from the home of Rev. and Mrs. Davidson, who occupy the residence of Mr. Hurlbaker. Mrs. Davidson appeared in the street all besmeared with blood and ran to the home of a neighbor and informed them that her husband was crazy and tried to kill her. The alarm soon spread and a number of men were soon at the house, as was also City Marshal Longford. Upon entering the house they found Mr. Davidson upstairs sitting on the edge of the bed holding in his arms their only child, a 16-month-old babe. He appeared somewhat dazed and asked what had happened and if he was hurt; they told him not much, only a slight wound in side of head from which a little blood had oozed. At this juncture his wife appeared, to her he said: "My dear, are you hurt, too?" He was taken to the jail by the marshal in a buggy and seemed to be suffering much pain from his wound, and his limbs were partially paralyzed, but he appeared quite rational. A little later he became quite sick and vomited several times. As to what had happened he declared was all a blank to him; that he had put a new spring on the kitchen door and after that he knew nothing until the men came to his room."

The testimony of attending physicians indicated that the wound in Mr. Davidson's head was caused by a bullet, which tore a deep hole in the scalp, but did not fracture the skull. A 22-caliber revolver was found in one of the rooms, all chambers loaded but one, which had the appearance of being recently fired. The doctors concurred in the belief that Mr. Davidson was not insane.

Mrs. Davidson's evidence alleges that her husband pounded her and thenceforward abused her on the day in question, all of which she attributed to insanity. She said she did not hear a shot fired at any time and doesn't know how he was hurt.

The Tekamah Journal concludes its report with this paragraph:

"The board finding no evidence to sustain the charge of insanity dismissed the prisoner. Yesterday an understanding was reached by Mr. and Mrs. Davidson and today he accompanied his mother to her home in Iowa, where he will visit a few weeks. Mrs. Davidson's parents and brother, from the western part of the state, have been with her for several days. About the whole affair there seems to be something mysterious and so far unexplainable."

Randolph correspondence in the Sioux City Journal: Farmers in this section are having difficulty in securing help for corn picking. A combination among pickers seems to have been formed, and they are asking 4 cents a bushel for their work, including board. Farmers are refusing to pay this exorbitant price, and declare they will turn stock into the fields rather than submit to the demands of the pickers. Some farmers have compromised at 3 1/2 cents. The corn yield will be better than earlier expectations.

It becomes a disease with some people to look and act stupidly. They can't help it.

Some zealous democratic paper in our neighborhood judicial district announced as one of the qualifications of Judge Graves for re-election that he has never ridden on a railroad pass.

The political campaign in Holt county has grown fierce, the combative flourish in the arena being the Missouri and Independent, two opposing papers, the spirit of whose ebullient attacks to Mars. The principal fight is over the district judgeship.

In the course of an address a member of the Ottawa Parliament makes much discredit on the strength and stability of the last two generations of English people. His conclusions are partly, that fact may be largely, if not wholly, attributed to cultivated idleness and luxury on the one hand and ambitionless poverty on the other. Class distinction, based on wealth rather than character, and which holds itself aloof from those who work, is conspicuous in England, and the fruit of the folly is evidenced in the weakness of its late generations.

The Herald proprietors enjoyed a brief visit at Ponca last week and were surprised to see the improvements that have been made there in the last four years. Rashback buildings on business streets have given place to substantial brick blocks, and the residential portion has gone ahead accordingly. Nestled around the hills, with an abundance of shade, neatly kept lawns and good buildings, Ponca deserves the distinction of being one of the most attractive towns in the state. The proprietors' tastes have dealt generously with its citizens, and they have every appearance of enjoying the greatest boon of humanity—contentment.

Does it merely happen that times are prosperous during a republican administration? And it is only a coincidence that democratic control brings depression? People have had too much experience to believe these conditions have "just happened," and they will run no risk by supporting the democratic party. One may say it is not essential to stick to party in county elections, but this, disregard party in the county and you weaken the party's standing in the state and the state has its influence in national politics. The strength of the party should be shown from constant to the highest office. If republican nominees were only equal to necessary qualifications, they should have the party's unanimous support.

Guided by a deluded conscience, like the executioners who burned Sorvettes, Moses M. Warner, of the Lyons Mirror, relegates the H. R. management to "eviling hell," because of its espousal of the republican cause, adding that we will "never sit with him on the golden seat." Then, recalling old times he beseeches us, in tones of commiseration, to repeat and avoid the steps of the "Tartarus—hid, paroled and inaccessible to irrigation." He has counseled all republican editors to the same locality—an assurance of good society which in a large measure removes the terror of climatic discomforts and mitigates the hardship of forfeiting the "golden seat," which, if duly cherished, we would naturally covet. But Moses, you are a trifling, unreasonable, not even as considerate and gentle as was your antecedent, who was also a leader of men, his experience being devoted to getting the Israelites safely out of Egypt. He was moved to anger only on severe trial and provocation, while you, without good reason, pronounce him unwelcome judgment, from which there seems to be no appeal, and slanting your eyes to the wisdom of republican policies and the superiority of republican nominees, you dump the whole republican aggregation into murky, nethermost hell.

THE CANDIDATES.

Chas. Beebe combines all the requisites to make one of the most satisfactory clerks the county ever had. Besides his ability and experience, he is naturally affable and accommodating, a friend to all classes, young and old. There is not even an imaginary reason why he should not win with a big majority.

Nothing can be truthfully said against the qualifications of J. A. Jones for county treasurer. He is one of our substantial citizens and a man of high character, and to know him means to respect him. That he will make an excellent treasurer, even his opponents will admit. Facing that fact, with a republican majority, it is inconceivable how the democratic brethren can hope to gratify their yearning for the office.

Sheriff Grant S. Mears has discharged his duties so acceptably that his re-election is assured. Might as well try to dam the Missouri river with a mpp as to try to defeat him.

Judge E. Hunter will achieve a decisive victory, just as a union veteran should, and as the union veterans did forty years ago in a fiercer kind of warfare than develops in politics.

Ed. Owens knows the needs of the county and has all the essential qualifications for commissioner. His majority will make democratic leaders look wan and sad for a week.

Chas. H. Bright for school superintendent, August Wittler for assessor and Otto H. Kuhl for clerk of court, each popular and well qualified, will be duly initiated into their respective offices next January. In the meantime they will figure successfully in an election.

THE MAN FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

E. Hunter, who is serving faithfully and efficiently as county judge and who is now before the people for re-election on the republican ticket, is a man whose conscientious and capable administration of the affairs of his office, whose unimpeachable record—clean, upright, honorable character, as evidenced in both his public and private life, will assuredly appeal to the good judgment of voters. His deeds will bear the closest scrutiny, without a shadow of discredit to himself. As county judge he has guarded the claims of widows and orphans, whether rich or poor, as zealously as though they were members of his own family. He has rendered fair and exact justice to all who have appeared before him, and has ever been prompt and courteous in the discharge of his duties. Thus, he has been tried and found lacking in none of the essentials for an eminently satisfactory county judge.

Is Mr. Hunter deserving? Let us briefly review his war record and see what he did for his country during its dark, perilous years of threatened disruption.

He was 18 years of age in May, 1861, and on the 28th day of August, that year, he enlisted, as a volunteer, in the 4th Illinois Cavalry, Co. "I." He took part in the capture of Fort Henry on February 6, 1862; was in the siege and capture of Fort Donelson; was in the battle of Shiloh in April, 1862; was in Sherman's division during the advance on Corinth in May, 1862; was with the advance and in the fight at Coffeeville, Mississippi, where the regiment lost its lieutenant colonel. His regiment was afterwards on detached duty guarding the Memphis and Charleston railroad until after the capture of Vicksburg; operated in the rear of Vicksburg during the fall of 1863; in December, 1863, the regiment was sent to Natchez, Miss., where it remained until December, 1864; was sent from there to Memphis and participated in the raid from Memphis to Vicksburg. At the close of the war his regiment was at Memphis and was sent there to Alexandria, where it was consolidated with the 12th Illinois Cavalry, and then marched to Houston, Texas, under General Custer; spent the winter of 1865-1866 in Houston and vicinity. Mr. Hunter was mustered out there May 1th, 1866, and at Springfield, Ill., June 19, 1866, received an honorable discharge as corporal of Co. "I," 12th Illinois Cavalry. He was wounded twice in the battle at Coffeeville, but, aside from forty days which he spent in a regimental hospital, he was continuously with his company and ready for duty.

Mr. Hunter is one of the pioneers who came to Wayne county when it was a wilderness. He was among those first, sturdy, venturesome men who endured innumerable hardships and privations in taming and preparing the county for future settlement and prosperity. While he has not accumulated a great deal of this world's good, he has raised and educated a large family and has lived a life of which any man might justly feel proud.

This is the man, the republican party asks you to re-elect for county judge. Is he not worthy and have not his official acts, known to all, proven his excellent fitness? Can his opponent show a record that makes him as deserving or well qualified?

The finest picking vineyard at Ganaway's.

ANYTHING TO GET VOTES.

If you stop to give the matter careful thought and consideration before you cast your vote in November you will vote the republican ticket. There, republicans can always be found standing for some principle, while the democrats are advocating one thing this year and another thing some other year. They don't know what the people need and they don't care. It's just any old thing to get the support of the voters. —Shelton Clapper.

HON. J. B. BARNES, Republican Candidate for Supreme Judge.

FOR SUPREME JUDGE.

Keep it before the people that Judge Barnes, the republican candidate for supreme judge, was twice appointed supreme court commissioner by unanimous vote of the present judges of the court in which Judge Sullivan, the opposing fusion candidate, concurred. If he did not possess all the requisite qualifications for the judicial position to which he aspires, would Judge Sullivan have joined in making him a supreme court commissioner, not once, but twice? If faithful and conscientious service as a member of the supreme court commissioner deserves promotion Judge Barnes is entitled to election—Omaha Bee.

ARMY EXPECTS WAR.

According to a Washington correspondent, the general staff of the army whose duty it is to prepare plans for war with every possible antagonism, has concluded that the defense of the Monroe doctrine will some day, perhaps soon, be in general.

When the war comes, the officers of the general staff believe, many campaigns will be fought in South America in order that comprehensive plans may be prepared in advance for the struggle to re-assert dominion of the South American republics.

An exhaustive study of Venezuela with a short side trip to the isthmus of Panama, has been completed by Captain Chaucey B. Humphrey of the Third Infantry and First Lieut. Ernest V. D. Warrup of the Tenth Cavalry.

The officers' report, which was made to the division of military information, is full of interesting and satisfactory details from a military point of view.

Fuel of the Future.

It was recently calculated that the visible coal supply, which is never visible till it is brought to the surface, hence the real meaning is, the delineated supply would last the world for about a hundred years longer.

And in spite of the activities of forest choppers and business farmers, and others who utilize the products of the forest, the world is still putting forth so considerable a quantity of vegetation that the making of new coal may be going on, month by month, and not to be completed for centuries.

It is a long and thoughtful opinion, the Chicago Tribune's editorial dwells upon one feature of our agricultural situation, that is, the fact that our farmers are not trained to think along American lines.

All this is to be expected by one who has studied the tendency of the people to flock into the towns and cities. The struggle of this tendency is plainly exhibited in census figures.

There is a reason to believe, says the correspondent, that the general staff has learned that Germany has had military agents in Spain in connection with the line of rail proposed for an invasion of that country.

The staff officers fear there will be trouble over the collection of the customs receipts that were to be sent aside by President Castro for the payment of the foreign claims.

Nothing So Wonderful in the Days of Specialism.

DR. CALDWELL. The success of Dr. Caldwell is attributed to his special study of specialism. Dr. Caldwell, student, philosopher and physician of wide reputation, having been in the time and practice of a line of special diseases which enables her from long experience to handle the case of a patient with a specialism as a master specialist. Her faculty for mastering disease, her ability to detect a disease and her power to cure it, have made her a young woman in life, a plain woman, and do not profess or pretend to follow the old-fashioned fashion, which is to look wise and say nothing. She knows disease, she knows how to treat it, she knows the symptoms of all diseases, and she knows the location of all organs, and she knows from experience, from what she has done in the past, and from what she has done in the future. It is said by Dr. Caldwell's friends that she can diagnose a disease of any patient without asking a question, that being the case, she is not likely to doctor them for the wrong ailment, and she will not take an incurable disease and lead the patient to believe that she can cure them when there is really no hope for them. Her specialty is in the treatment of diseases of the eye, at times more than she can do without taking incurable diseases. She has graduated from one of the best schools in America. She has practiced her profession in some of the principal hospitals in this country. Her specialty comprises that class of diseases which the ordinary family doctor fails to cure, such as female diseases, heart diseases, diseases of children and the many special diseases of the eye. Her specialty is in the treatment of the plain, hard-working people who are unable to come to her for treatment, and she is responsible for her cures and very prompt with those who are not able to pay for her services. Her specialty has been known to refuse to treat a patient who is worthy and in need. A number of papers and magazines, which we hereby take the liberty to publish, which will be of interest to some who wish to know more of Dr. Caldwell's specialty.
