The Carroll index thinks the corn crop will be a little short of expectations.

The Nebraska Telephone company is extending its line in the vicinity of Dixon.

Corn around Emerson is yielding as high as 55 and 70 bushels to the acre, according to the Enterprise.

Carroll was delighted with the first number of its lecture course. It was an address by Robert Parker Mills.

The Herald of Dixon reports that the first free delivery mail route from that town was to begin on Monday of this week.

The Knights of Pythias of Laurel had a big banquet on Thursday evening of last week in honor of one of its members, Rev. J. L. Phillips, who was lately elected Grand Chancellor Commander of the state.

Roy Moats, a school boy of Randolph, defeated Eddie Wood, a professional sprinter of Coleridge, in a foot race at the latter place recently. It is reported that Coleridge sports lost about $100 in backing their champion.

Rev. Lips, who is now preaching in Mount Morris, Iowa, expects to soon return to the Lutheran pastorate at West Point, which charge he left six or seven years ago to go to Ponca. From Ponca he went into Iowa.

Mr. Henry Bruers, of Pender, and Miss Alta M. Sneath, of Wayne county, were married at the Congregational parsonage in West Point, Oct. 21, 1903.

Bruers is well and favorably known in Beemer, and his many friends here wish him and his fair bride a long and happy life.—The Beemer Times.

Wilson Bros.' store at Allen had a narrow escape from destruction by fire on Sunday of last week. Passers-by saw a pile of blankets blazing and notified Mr. Wilson who was in an adjoining building. The News says the store had been open for a short time in the morning and it is supposed that a spark from a cigar fell among the blankets.

At the grand lodge in Lincoln last week C. H. Ellis was elected Grand Master of the I. O. O. F. of Nebraska, and E. L. Dimick was elected Grand Junior Warden in the Grand Encampment. This gives Laurel the head offices in the I. O. O. F. and K. P. grand lodges, and a minor office in the Encampment—pretty good showing for a place this size.—Laurel Advocate.

E. R. Gurney and family have removed from Winside to Fremont, where Mr. Gurney goes as vice-president and business manager of the First National bank of that place. He still retains an interest in the Winside bank. Mr.
Gurney is a man of brains, persevering energy and good sense, and while Wayne county regrets to lose him, it will applaud his deserved promotion.

The biggest real estate deal of the season was made in Randolph last week when John G. Spencer purchased the remainder of the farm holdings of Livingston & Nichols. Five improved farms were included in the deal and they foot about 1500 acres, all good farming land and all located near Randolph. The price was about $25,000 or between $48 and $41 per acre. Mr.
Spencer paid $55,000 spot cash, and the rentals of these farm lands will make a mighty nice income for Uncle Spencer.

May Dollie Hertz, aged 17, stepdaughter of E. R. Streeter, a farmer living on the Winnebago reservation, ran away from home last week with the intention of marrying an Indian by the name of Alex Payer. The girl and Indian met and accompanied by the latter's relatives, drove to Sioux City. In the meantime Mrs. Streeter became suspicious and notified the Sioux City police, and accordingly two officers arrested the couple as they were crossing the combination bridge. The Minor Sullivan, 13-year-old son of D.

P. Sullivan, who resides near Laurel, was the victim of an annoying blunder on the part of a railroad ticket agent in Omaha. Young Sullivan wished to return home from that city, where he had gone for medical treatment, and was sold a ticket to Nora, in southern Nebraska, instead of to Laurel. He got on the right train, but the conductor made him change at Blair and started him off for Fremont on his way to Nora, not listening to the boy's insistence that a mistake had been made and that he knew where he wanted to go. Finally, at Seward, he found an official who was capable of thawing out enough to listen, to him and heed his protests. He was taken back to Omaha and soon got on the right track for home. Knowing when he was to leave Omaha, his father and mother were terribly worried until they located him by telephone.

GRATIFYING RECOGNITION.

Ponca Leader: There is a decided improvement in the WAYNE HERALD under the management of Huse & Son.
The Huses are among the best newspaper men in this part of the state.
Klamath Falls (Oregon) Express: The WAYNE HERALD, a Wayne, Neb., paper, reached us this week. Its publishers and editors are W. Huse & Son. After four years of residence out in the far west they are back again to tread the winter blizzard and the summer cyclone of the Nebraska-Kansas country. The WAYNE HERALD is a splendid property, apparently, and we wish its publishers no less success than attended them as publishers of the Klamath Republican.

Dakota City Herald: Wm. Huse and son, Eugene Huse, of the WAYNE HER-ALD, called at these headquarters last Saturday, on their way from Ponca to Wayne. It seemed good to see them again. Wm. Huse settled in Ponca in the early '70's and established the Ponca Journal. He was one of the best writers on any of the North Nebraska papers and we read his paper with a great deal of interest. They sold the Journal about four years ago and went to Oregon and engaged in the newspaper business. They have sold out there and have purchased the WAYNE HERALD. Huse et. will live in Norfolk and leave the active management to Eugene, a very capable young man.

Ponca Journal: Wm. Huse and son, E. W. Huse were in town from Friday evening until Saturday noon, greeting their many Ponca friends. The Huses were publishers of the Journal from its inception in 1872 until it was purchased by the present publisher, four and a half years ago, since when they have been engaged in the newspaper business in Oregon. Recently they returned to Nebraska and purchased the HERALD at Wayne. 'Gene has the active management of the paper and his parents will reside at Norfolk, where the other son, W. N., is publisher of the Norfolk News. The daughter, Edith, who is now Mrs. Hopkins, together with her husband and child, also reside at Norfolk, where they expect to reside in the future. The Huse family have many warm friends in Ponca who wish well for their future.

The Gus Sun American Minstrels exhibited before a good-sized audience here Thursday evening. In number of performers and excellent adaptation of each to his line, in musical ability, acrobatic skill, gorgeous dress and attractive arrangement of the stage, the company was first-class. Some of the jokes turned loose, however, were not exactly in accordance with the HER-ALD's idea of propriety. The HERALD, though, may not know what the superlative modern fashion demands. Thus, a series of really recherche jokes might cause the HERALD to frown unwillingly. So it would be an incompetent and unjust critic.

DEATH OF NEIL HARRINGTON.

On Sunday Dan and John Harrington of this place, received a telegram from Salt Lake City announcing the death of their brother, Neil Harrington who died in that city that day after a brief illness.
Further particulars, the dispatch did not give. The Harrington brothers left Sunday afternoon for Salt Lake City, where they expected to arrive Tuesday. They will bring the remains to Wayne for interment and will probably reach here tomorrow.

Neil Harrington was one of the substantial and highly respected citizens of Wayne for a long term of years.
He was in the mercantile business here with Dan Harrington and later with Chas. Robbins. He was generally esteemed and news of his death will be received by his many friends with genuine regret. In Salt Lake he was engaged in the wholesale furniture business.

He was aged about 40 years and leaves two brothers, Dan and John Harrington, one half-brother, Chas.
Robbins, and a sister, Mrs. Emil Weber to mourn his death. They have the cordial sympathy of all.

Mrs. Rosa Adams, niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C. S. A., wants every woman to know of the wonders accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot tell you with pen and ink what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me, suffering from the sex, extreme nervousness and that all gone feeling. I would not have believed I had used two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I began to feel the buoyancy of my younger days returning, because I could do more work and feel better than I had ever been able to do before, so I continued to use it until I was restored to perfect health. It is indeed a boon to all sick women and I heartily recommend it. Yours very truly, Mrs. Rosa Adams, 819 1/2 St. Louis, Mo.

Any women who are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, general debility and nervous prostration, should know there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No other medicine for women has received such wide-spread and unqualified indorsement. No other medicine has such a record of famous cures.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am very pleased to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for womb and ovarian difficulties from which I have been a sufferer for years. It was the only medicine which was at all beneficial. I used it for a little over three months, and within a week after I started to use it, I was able to get on my feet and look like a girl of that time. I suffered from the menstrual period, and was troubled with those distressing pains which compelled me to go to bed, and I have not had a headache since. It is a nearly a year ago I was kept a little behind and took a few doses every week for I find it does the best for me. I feel as if every woman ought to try this grand medicine. Yours very truly, Miss Elsie Danforth, 238 De Solais, Memphis, Tenn.

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN. Do not hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham. She will understand your case perfectly and will treat you with kindness. Her advice is free, and the address is Lynn, Mass. No woman ever regretted having written her, and she has helped thousands.

FORFEIT if we cannot cure you with the original letters and signatures of our distinguished physicians, which will prove their absolute confidence in Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound. Write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

How a Crow Farm

The only crow farm in the United States is operated by a farmer named Billings at Brookfield, a few miles from St. Paul, Minn. The industry is a new one, but it is evidently a paying one.

Crows generally have no place on a farm, as they are the bane to the existence of many chickens, and the idea of a farmer starting a farm for his own particular benefit is truly a novelty. But Farmer Billings is a speculator as well as a farmer, and the reason of his interest in crows is that they are a salable commodity.

There is a demand for the birds from milliners, and it is to this trade that Billings is catering.

He has set up on his farm an incubator, such as are found in henhouses, and in these young crows are hatched out. He has taken into captivity about 1000 crows, and about one dozen crows.

Within fifteen days after the eggs are placed in the incubator the young crows are hatched. Two weeks later they are in condition to be banded. The head and feathers of the birds are sold to milliners to be used in the decoration of women's hats.

Already there has been an exceedingly heavy demand for the product of the farm, says the Philadelphia North American, and Mr. Billings expects a generous return on his investment.

THE POPULAR PULPIT

PRAYER. By Rev. C. B. Johnson.

And he said unto them, When ye pray say, Our Father—LORD, that men were going to pray. He always prayed himself. It was his habit, his nature, his life. The evangelist said and told us many things which he did, but they make large room for his prayers. His praying was one of the outstanding and awe-inspiring features of his life. He was found praying before every important step in his career.

And what he did he expects all men to do. To his eyes to heaven and say "Father" was natural and easy, but it is not so easy to many of us, and some of us have doubts as to its reasonableness and value. We are living in an age when men are determined to get, if possible to the bottom of things. Everything is subjected to analysis, investigation, criticism. Prayer, as all admit, has roots which run down into the realm of mystery, and it is not surprising that earnest people should be asking many questions about it.

They want to study the psychology and chemistry of prayer. This is entirely proper, but the study of chemistry must be kept in its right place. The chemistry of bread is both interesting and important, but the chemist should not let his breakfast before he enters his studies. He will then be better fitted for his work. Eating soups first and chemistry afterward.

The psychology of sleep is a most fascinating study, but before all the problems have been explored it is necessary for a man to sleep. After one has enjoyed a good night's sleep he is in better humor for psychological investigations. And so it is with prayer. Prayer is one of the natural attributes of the soul. In prayer the soul finds food with which it nourishes its life.

Before prayer is studied in its scientific aspects by the soul, it should be with God. Praying is an instinct, a deep-seated instinct in every unspoiled heart. It is said to follow the faint glow of a falling star and postpone all study until the faint has been refreshed by sleep, so also is it said to follow the instinct which at certain times impels us to throw a passionate wish towards God. When you have your questions, pray first and then your questions afterward. If you have your doubts, pray first and then deal with them one by one. The chemistry of prayer is interesting, but it is demoralizing if the study of it is made a substitute for living. God comes to heaven and saying "Father" in the words of Emerson, "As well might a child live without its mother's milk as a soul without prayer."

One reason why many persons have lost faith in the efficacy of prayer is because they and others have made their prayers too small. Let us discard the notion that prayer is simply asking for things. Prayer is first of all education, pouring into the soul the presence of manifested greatness and beauty. When all the scriptures we watch glimpses of the universe, which looks on behind the veil and do not hear angel or announced saint asking for things. They say, Lord God Almighty, surely you violate no law of the universe when you adore.

Prayer is thanksgiving. It is giving something to God. It is the giving of mind to be able to return thanks. Animals do not know how to feel or to say "I thank you," but to feel gratitude is human becoming. We will not allow a law to pick up our hands either for us in the street without some word of recognition of his kindness; what shall we say of men and women who take the good things which the great God offers to them daily and turn away without ever once saying in heart or by lip, "I thank Thee"? Surely there is to live in God's universe which is transmuted by the expression of glad and genuine gratitude.

Prayer is also confession. We have all sinned and come short of the glory of God. There is none righteous—no, not one. We have all broken the commandments of the Heavenly Father, and modern science has discovered nothing which renders it unreasonable for a man to say to God, "I have sinned. I am sorry." The man who trembles on his knees in the street and hurries on without so much as "I beg your pardon" is put down by the standard as a man who is a man before God, and when he stands before God, he is forgiven. Many a man is discontented, sour, and ill at ease because he enters in his heart a load of unforgiveness.

WHO OR WHAT IS YOUR MASTER? By Rev. H. C. Bishop.

No man can serve two masters.—St. Matthew, vi, 24.

It is always impressive and helpful to have a statement intended as a rule of life uttered with authority and in language so simple and direct that it cannot be misunderstood.

Jesus Christ's words were these: "Ye were not only the 'Lord of life,' but the Master of living. He spoke not only as one having authority, but out of an experience that had tested in his own life the rules he gave for the guidance of others."

That he exemplified both in letter and spirit the principle expressed in the text is so clearly a matter of history that even his most persistent critics have not been able to gainsay. Nor should any one fail to understand the force of the axiom, "No man can serve two masters." It is a universal negative and asserts an impossible condition of service. It does not destroy the free exercise of the human will, but it

FAITH UPHOLD BY LOVE. By Rev. John Norris Smith.

The most potent word of Scripture is faith. Coming into a faithless world, Christ inspired faith in Himself, and it was a personal faith and involved affection. Because of their affection for Jesus they had come to love Him, and their faith rested on love. Faith is a large word, and like passages that seem at variance are only aspects of a great fact. In one place we read: "Let him that believeth make haste," and surely that is a word that needs to be spread into the hearts of men.

There is a tendency to spiritualize and digested plans of work or other crude theories of life. They read again that "the that believeth shall not be confounded." The man of faith is not easily disconcerted by the latest confusion in God. He stands firm, and his faith is not shaken.

Let us again we read "how do you love faith when ye receive hope one from another?" We certainly have not outlived this warning for there is almost as much scrambling for social, political preference as there is for spiritual distinction. There is a rather unscriptural hankering after loves and fishes.

Sentence Sermon.

A life needs no law to govern it. The laboratory of religion. Our phrases are but the garments of truth.

It is a day without a good deed leaves me a debt.

Happiness is never picked up on the bargain counter.

The best men are always looking for the best in men.

He became the Man of Sorrows for the sorrows of men.

The road of prejudice never leads to the realm of truth.

It is only to-morrow's burdens that break the back of to-day.

It is a cheap makeshift to mock at what you cannot make.

Keep your complaints out of your heart, and they will die of neglect.

A man has no business with religion who has no religion with his business.

How a Farmer was freed from Misery.

OF THE high recommendation that I can find words to express this is what Mr. J. H. Plangman (of Sherman, Tex.) says of Doan's Kidney Pills. He tells his experience in the following words: "Sometimes in the Spring when I was taken with aching pain across the small of my back, directly to the kidneys. I paid small attention to this at first, thinking it would pass off. But instead of getting better it became worse and in a short time the pain centered through my left hip and down my left leg as far as the knee." This is precisely what kidney trouble will do with the body.

It does not always show itself at first, but appears just in this way, when the usual movements or action brings sharp pains and aching, aches, and the telling of sick kidneys.

Mr. Plangman's experience bore this out. Continuing, he says: "I did not know the cause of the trouble, but I am led to believe now that it was first brought about by jumping in and out of the wagon in a some way I had managed to attain my back."

"It was constantly growing worse," he continues, "and I became very much alarmed about my condition. I knew that something had to be done or get a specialist here in Sherman, and underwent a rigid examination."

Then he relates how the doctor told him that it was a serious case, but that he could cure him for fifty dollars.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills

OF THE high recommendation that I can find words to express this is what Mr. J. H. Plangman (of Sherman, Tex.) says of Doan's Kidney Pills. He tells his experience in the following words: "Sometimes in the Spring when I was taken with aching pain across the small of my back, directly to the kidneys. I paid small attention to this at first, thinking it would pass off. But instead of getting better it became worse and in a short time the pain centered through my left hip and down my left leg as far as the knee." This is precisely what kidney trouble will do with the body.

It is always impressive and helpful to have a statement intended as a rule of life uttered with authority and in language so simple and direct that it cannot be misunderstood.

That he exemplified both in letter and spirit the principle expressed in the text is so clearly a matter of history that even his most persistent critics have not been able to gainsay. Nor should any one fail to understand the force of the axiom, "No man can serve two masters." It is a universal negative and asserts an impossible condition of service. It does not destroy the free exercise of the human will, but it

Who Elects Democratic Officers In A Republican County

Always after an election where the people elect a majority of the officers of a party that is in the minority, the question comes up: Who does it? Under our system of voting it is impossible to find out. We know that there are men who get in the habit of voting straight and never change. No reform could ever be accomplished in a free government if all were that way. But we have independent men that are always willing to change their way when they are convinced that a change would be a benefit. These are the men that elect officers of a minority party. Why not be independent in all things? Why trade at the same place a life-time, without investigating what other merchants are doing? If you have always traded at the same store in Wayne, change your way and give this store a trial. It will do you good. Old stores are like a party long in power, they don't always give the best services. This store is new and up to date and you will do well to investigate it. Try a suit of Staley Underwear and you will be well and happy. Our clothing is better than any you have been wearing unless you have had Kuppenheimer clothing. Our coats at $2.00 wear you all winter. A flaves Hat will make you look smart. Our caps are made to order and different than other merchants sell. Our stock of Fur Coats is the largest and best you ever saw. We ask you to be independent and look at our goods; you can buy them where you think best. It will do you good to give this store a fair trial.

FEW UNIVERSITY MEN IN NATIONAL LEGISLATURE

Leaders Among the Lawmakers Are Not Highly Educated—Country Furnishes the Majority of Members of Both Senate and House.

Washington correspondent: UNIVERSITY education may be necessary in selecting disinterested men for the legislative branch, but it does not seem to have been a factor in the selection of members of the Fifty-eighth Congress.

The members of the Fifty-eighth Congress were not selected on the basis of education. The proportion of university-bred men in the Fifty-eighth Congress will not be higher than in previous Congresses.

HIS INVASION OF NEW YORK CITY A FAILURE

"Prophet" Attempt to Convert Gotham Now Revealed as the Mistake of His Life—Enormous Expense of His Trip—Elijah's Waterloo.

New York correspondent: The mad upon New York, the modern Babylon on the part of John Alexander Dowie and his host of Zionites has been a failure.

Every anticipated item of expense was figured by Dowie before the army left Zion City. As is usual with him, the figuring placed most of the expense on his followers.

Dark Hair

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor

Geo. Yellott, Towson, Md.

We mean all that rich, dark color your hair used to have. If it's gray now, no matter; for Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores

CORN EXHIBIT WANTED.
The Nebraska State Commission to the World's Fair at St. Louis, wishes to exhibit the finest samples of Nebraska-grown corn at the Exposition in 1904, offers a splendid opportunity to the farmers of this county to enter into competition for valuable Exposition premiums as well as to widely advertise their corn-producing lands. Any farmer who has grown fine, large samples of corn is asked to ship at least twenty-five ears of each variety by freight to the Secretary of the Commission, Mr. H. G. Sheild, 414 McCague Building, Omaha, Nebraska, notifying him of such shipment and sending him the bill of lading. All such collections of corn, if acceptable to the Commission, will be sent to St. Louis and entered in the individual growers' names for the premiums offered by the Exposition authorities without expense to the growers. In preparing ears of corn for such exhibition purposes, the following suggestions should be followed:

The ear should stand on the stalk until fully matured. The selection should be made when husking the entire crop, as there is then an opportunity to see every ear and compare the quality. For this purpose a box may be carried on the rear of the wagon and desirable ears laid carefully in this box. The ears should be dried in a heated room, but the kitchen is not a good place on account of the steam. Great care should be taken not to shell even a single kernel from the ear.

To ship, wrap each ear separately in cloth or paper, pack carefully in a box, stuffing paper in any remaining space to prevent the ears from shaking about in transit.

Each box should contain the shipper's name and address. Ship by freight, prepaid, to the Secretary of the Commission, 414 McCague Building, Omaha, Nebraska.

A SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.
Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or over-loaded. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich red blood. Sold by Raymond's Pharmacy.

Several years ago, while in private practice, I thought it wrong to advertise, simply because I had been told so and had not had experience enough to know better. After a while I discovered a valuable plan of treatment in certain cases, and fortunately obtained a large number of patients, enough to fully test my plan and prove its success. I thereupon prepared a lengthy paper upon the subject and read it before the state medical society. What was the result? A half a dozen members took the floor to say that the treatment had been for a hundred years back, and to claim that the old treatment, though unsuccessful, should be continued, notwithstanding that the new treatment had been successful. I thought this was not more than to use the new method and made remarkable cures of cases that had been pronounced incurable. My business increased rapidly as each person that I cured told some friend, who came in turn and was cured. Each person advertised me a little. What then? In that large city there were not more than 400 cases of the kind. I cured every case that came to me and then had nothing to do except the ordinary business of a local physician. I knew there were hundreds and thousands of others elsewhere who might be cured if they only knew where to go. I advertised, cured hundreds of others and have advertised ever since. I have relieved more suffering, cured more patients, made more people happy, and done more good generally because I have told the people what I can do, and I shall go on
