BISHOP McCABE IN WAYNE

The presence of Bishop McCabe, who arrived from Omaha this morning, promises to draw to Wayne a large number of people from the surrounding country and neighboring towns. He lectures in the M. E. church this evening and there is every prospect that the building will be crowded with attentive listeners. One hundred or more people are expected to arrive this evening on a special train over the Bloomfield branch, and about twenty-five preachers are attracted here from different points in northern Nebraska.

The preachers, with their distinguished bishop, are holding meetings in the church today for conference and prayer. At 6:30 this afternoon Prof. and Mrs. J. M. Pile tender a reception at the college to the ministers and a number of townspeople.

The lecture tonight will be an intellectual one which no one should miss.

SENATOR DIETRICH INDICTED.

Dispatches from Omaha state that the federal grand jury, in session in that city, returned true bills on Monday against United States Senator Charles H. Dietrich and Postmaster Fisher of Hastings, charging them with conspiracy and bribery in connection with the appointment of Fisher to the position of postmaster. The report explains the action as follows:

The indictment against Senator Dietrich charges that he accepted money and property in consideration of his recommending Fisher for appointment as postmaster at Hastings. That against Postmaster Fisher charges him with making an agreement with Senator Dietrich by which the former was to pay in property and money $1,300 for securing Fisher the appointment. Evidence was presented to the grand jury to show that Fisher had bought post-office fixtures from the Grand Army post at Hastings, of the value of $500, and later turned the property over to Senator Dietrich, to whose building it was removed, and to whom was paid a rental by the government. In addition to turning over this property, it is charged that Fisher paid to the senator $500 in cash.

It might be stated that the grand jury has been investigating the Hastings postoffice case for nearly three weeks, and that a number of witnesses were present from Hastings and other points in the state.

Friends of Senator Dietrich explain that he has a good defense and charged strict Attorney Summers, with pushing the action because the senator opposes his re-appointment.

SEATS IN CONGRESS.

Reports from Washington tell of the interesting feature of the drawing of seats by members of congress on the opening day. Mr. McCarty got a fairly good location where he can catch the speaker's eye when occasion demands, and yet near enough to the door to insure a quick exit when the house gets to bloodshed and the hurrying of spittoons. Burkett and Hinchshaw got right into the middle, where the baggage will flow thickest. Mr. Hitchcock, the poor lone dumocrat, went away back and sat down in the "Oberknee strip," but there is a reason to believe he regards himself very lucky in getting any kind of an old seat in the chamber.—Fremont Tribune.

COMPLIMENTARY.

A county newspaper, old and established, always good, and which now easily stands in the front rank of the weekly country press of Nebraska, is the Wayne News, HERALD, recently purchased by W. Huse & Son of Postmaster McNeal. The Huse data from 30 years back in the newspaper history of the state. They are good writers, good printers, good managers. They will give Wayne a first class newspaper, none better. We congratulate Wayne on the improved HERALD, and congratulate our newspaper brethren on having such a fine location as the enterprising city of Wayne.

NEW PRECEDENT FOR DOCTORS.

The contract given by Dr. J. O. Clark, the eye specialist of Sioux City, to his patients is a new precedent for doctors who treat human ailments and it establishes Dr. Clark upon a plain above the sordid methods which are practiced by so many who claim they can cure, but never secure results. Dr. Clark gives a contract which guarantees results or money refunded. It is a fair and straightforward proposition.

Dr. Clark is an eye specialist of more than ordinary ability in his line, having been in practice more than twenty years and this is his eleventh year in Sioux City. His hundreds of patients in and around Wayne recommend him in the highest terms. Any person suffering from headache, nervousness, inflamed or watery eyes, floating specks, dizziness, weak memory, pains running from base of brain down spinal column, constipation, inactivity of the mind, etc., will do well to call upon Dr. Clark, no matter who has failed in your case before. The exhaustion of the nerve forces caused by eye-strain produces such troubles. If Dr. Clark cannot help you he will frankly tell you so. If he accepts your case it will be upon an absolute contract as above stated. Dr. Clark uses no drug or medicines in his practice. Spectacle lenses and suggestion are his only therapeutic.

Dr. Clark will be at Wayne Monday, November 23. Crossed eyes straightened without operation.

IN THE VICINITY.

Work on Emerson's new water system began last week.

According to the Herald, there is a growing epidemic of marriages in Hartington.

Elias May, aged 72 years, died at his home in Randolph on Wednesday evening of last week.

A farmer near Randolph gathered 200 bushels of fine potatoes from a planting of three quarters of an acre.

G. M. and C. E. Edham of Winslow, have bought the store of A. C. Goltz at Laurel and will locate there.

Rev. G. O. Bray has resigned as pastor of the Presbyterian church at Ponca, a position he has held for seven years.

Charles Scoulon of Minneapolis, national organizer for the prohibition party gave an address in Wakefield on the 8th inst.

A Danish Lutheran church has been organized at Laurel with a membership of twenty-four and with R. V. O. Erickson as pastor.

The Carroll Index reports that W. R. Mick is the first man in that vicinity to finish gathering his corn, having picked about 4900 bushels.

Burglars broke into the general store of Havlicek & Gross at Verdigris early Sunday morning and stole about $400 worth of goods.

Dixon county has added the coyote business to its list of industries, having voted at the late election to grant a bounty on coyote skins.

C. E. Staley, county clerk and bank president at Pierce, was hanged in effigy at that place recently. Indignation over Staley's part in the late election prompted the act.

Winslow has made a start toward getting fire protection. It has a fire bell, and the Tribune says all the town now lacks are a large reservoir, wells, pumps, fire engine, hook and ladder, and fire ladders with ladders.

Judge Griggs, Unionist, was re-elected district judge in the district comprising Dakota, Thurston, Stanton, Cuming, Cedar and Dixon counties, by a majority of 630 over his opponent, Judge Robinson, of Hartington.

The funeral of Rilla Compton, the boy who was accidentally killed last Sunday and the remains interred at Emerson. The dead boy's mother, sisters and uncle from Iowa attended the funeral.—Wakefield Republican.

Joe Borders, who formerly lived on the Wadsworth ranch west of town, arrived with his family and a car load of household goods Thursday. He has been living at Carroll, Iowa, the past year, but will move on the Gaubler farm near the west line of the county.—Carroll Index.

Things are moving in Dixon this week. Sidewalks are being torn down and reconstructed on the established grade line. The contract for digging the big sewer ditch through blocks six and seven was let to Fields & Lamp and the work on same is now well under way.—Dixon Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kruse came near being suffocated by gas escaping from their hard coal stove Friday night. The baby awakened them just in time, but Mrs. Kruse fainted before fresh air could be let into the room. This is the time of the year when people should be very careful of their hard coal stoves.—Emerson Enterprise.

The editor, preacher of the Elk Point Courier broke out recently in this fashion: "You may approximate the stars in a nail keg, hang the ocean on a grape vine, dry, wipe the nose of a cyclone with a towel, cut off the tail end of a tornado for a keepsake, put the sky in the ground to soak, unbutton the belly band of eternity, and open up the sun and moon as health resorts; but never be deluded with the idea that you can escape the other side of purgatory if you don't pay for your paper."

Emerson has recently installed a fire bell, and in order to test it and see whether the fire men would kick themselves out of bed promptly or not, a false alarm was sounded at 2:30 in the night. Arousing the town for that purpose was so foolish that no wonder many of its citizens were filled with wrath as a consequence. They couldn't see the necessity of being torn away from warm beds merely to test the voice of a bell when the desired result could be obtained as well in the day time.

The sting of defeat still goads the Hartington Herald man to exhortate those who he thinks prevented him from becoming boss of the probate court. The Herald hints if a newspaper man was ever elected judge of a county court, or any other kind of court. (This fact may console the Hartington man.) They are generally considered good judges at a lunch counter, where thinking is not the exclusive requirement, but are never raised to a judicial height that would necessitate much in the way of logic, experience and intellectual vigor. When a newspaper man bankers for office, he should seek appointment as commissary of subsistence.

The Allen News tells of a stranger who struck that town recently and made a big flourish on the representation that he would start a pump factory there, local capitalists, however, to raise half the money for the purpose. The News explains the scheme and how it turned out: "He was going to establish a $5,000 pump factory here and employ at least thirty men. Then he began negotiating for land, bought a residence and hotel on wind and promised to make Allen the biggest town west of Chicago. Visions of street cars and ten-story buildings were as common as clouds of clay. All he asked was that the town put up $2,500 against his $2,500 and the thing would be done. It was so simple and plausible that we nearly went crazy over it. Money was advanced to purchase a two-acre site and a subscription paper was circulated for the purpose of raising the $2,500. Then rumors of checks being passed for board bills and returning protested began to float in. We got suspicious and wanted to see the color of his $2,500, but he refused to show it. He wouldn't even allow us to put our money in the bank to be checked out for a factory. He wanted us to turn it over to him to do with as he pleased—but of course he would build the factory with it; we had his word for that. But right there was where the thing fell through. The town was ready to put up $2,500 against his $2,500, but wasn't ready to put up a cent against his part. And so the big-pump factory died."

DIETRICH IS INDICTED

UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM NEBRASKA IN TROUBLE.

Charged with Conspiracy and Bribery - Fisher is in the Same Boat - True Bill Against Hastings Postmaster - Causes Much Excitement.

The grand jury at Omaha, Neb., Monday evening returned true bills against United States Senator Chas. H. Dietrich and Postmaster Jacob Fisher of Hastings, Neb., charging both with conspiracy and bribery, in connection with the appointment of Fisher to the position of postmaster. The indictments were brought to the United States district court at 6 o'clock, Judge Miller presiding, and were placed on file. The court merely accepted the report of the grand jury, making no comment on its contents but making an order to the clerk for filing of the bills.

The indictment against Senator Dietrich charges that he accepted money and property in consideration of his recommending Fisher for appointment as postmaster at Hastings. That against Postmaster Fisher charges him with making an agreement with Senator Dietrich, by which the former was to pay in property and money $1,300 for securing Fisher the appointment. Evidence was presented to the grand jury to show that Fisher had bought postoffice fixtures from the Grand Army post at Hastings of the value of $500, and later turned the property over to Senator Dietrich, to whose building it was removed, and to whom was paid a rental by the government. In addition to turning over this property, it is charged that Fisher paid to the senator $800 in cash.

It was stated that the grand jury has been investigating the Hastings postoffice case for nearly three weeks, and that a number of witnesses were present from Hastings and other points in the state. Senator Dietrich is at present in Washington. This indictment is said to be the first returned against a United States senator on charges of this nature, and it caused a great excitement in government official circles in Omaha and in adjoining towns when it became public. Just what action will be taken, if any, to apprehend Senator Dietrich could not be ascertained.

MURDERED BY A NEGRO

Andrew H. Green Shot and Instantly Killed

New York, April 11. Green, the "Black Knight" of New York, one of the city's oldest citizens, was shot and instantly killed on the steps of his home in Park Avenue, Friday, by Cornelius M. Williams, a negro, who is believed to be insane.

The shooting was evidently the outcome of an insane delusion on the part of the negro. Green had been invited to his home for a party, but when he was asked why he had committed the murder, he replied: "I did it to save my character."

There were three witnesses of the tragedy. Mrs. Anna Bernhardt, a daughter of Mr. Green's family, and Michaela, an elderly negro, and Patrick Dyer, a Cuban. According to the witnesses the negro must have been waiting for Mr. Green to come home from the office. As he returned the negro was standing in the doorway of the house and Mr. Green started to ascend the two steps leading to the hall door. Williams advanced toward him, there was a brief interchange of words, and then the negro drew a revolver and fired five shots in rapid succession. Mr. Green sank to the ground, blood streaming from his head, while his revolver, returning the revolver to his pocket, waited against the railing of the stoop as if awaiting arrest.

Williams fled, carrying a satchel for the Murray Hill Hotel, was one of the first to reach the negro, who lay in a pool of blood. Green was found by a policeman and a detective, who pushed up a moment later. A physician was on the spot almost immediately, and pronounced Mr. Green to be dead.
