FROZEN TO DEATH

Body of Walter A. King Found in a Creamery.

DISAPPEARED DECEMBER 23

Helpless Child Abandoned and Allowed to Die—Arrested for Selling Mortgaged Property—History of the 45-Year-Old Butler—Wakefield Proposes to Push Telephone Building.

Wakefield proposes to revive and reorganize its brass band.

The fire department at Norfolk was called out for duty four times last Thursday.

Emerson barbers have entered an agreement to close their shops Sundays after March 1.

The debate between the Carroll and Winside schools will be held at the latter place the 26th inst.

The two leading stores at Wakefield—the Fair Store and Ekereth, Carlson & Co.'s store—have consolidated.

The Stanton Picket states that Nathan Chace continues to improve, and his recovery is now expected.

H. C. Pershing has sold the Pierce County Leader to A. H. Backhaus, a newspaper man of experience and ability.

It is announced that bids for rebuilding the asylum at Norfolk will be opened for consideration on the 20th inst.

The Laurel Advocate warns its readers against traveling doctors, operating in that vicinity, and urges them to patronize local talent if their health needs fixing.

W. H. Bucholz has resigned as president of the Norfolk National bank to accept a position as cashier of the Central bank of Oakland, Cal., to which place he will remove in March.

Today is the Chinese New Year's holiday and the only Chinaman in Norfolk, Sam Gwon, has shipped in a lot of choice fireworks and firecrackers with which to celebrate the occasion.

The Winebago Indians who were taken to Paris for exhibition, have been returned to the reservation. The enterprise proved a failure because the redskins became addicted to drinking absinthe.

Z. T. Fank returned to his home at Laurel last week after having an eye removed in an Omaha hospital. The eye was blind and had become diseased and it finally became necessary to have it taken out.

John P. D. John is to lecture in Carroll the 16th, discussing the question as to whether "God made man or man made God." Viewing the manner many people strut through the world one would conclude the latter to be correct.

W. J. Coffel, charged with selling mortgaged property in Dixon county, was arrested at Missouri Valley last week and taken to Ponca where he was given a hearing and bound over to the circuit court with bonds fixed at $1,000. He formerly lived seven miles northwest of Emerson. It is alleged that he had sold mortgaged property at different times to the banks at Emerson, Wakefield and Allen.

The dead body of a newly born babe was found in a box car at North Bend Friday evening, and as the car had just been hauled from Fremont it is thought the infant was put in the car there by some careless wretch. The babe had the appearance of having been dead but a short time and there was no evidence of violence. To abandon a helpless child and cause its death, is cold blooded murder.

Mrs. Harriet Pitcher who was closely associated with the history of the butter lately found in a spring near Decatur, where it was deposited 44 years ago, explains that a few months after her carriage she and her husband went to visit her mother who presented the jar of butter to them. On their way home they stopped with the family of Stephen Decatur and while there put the butter in the spring. Later they could not find it.

The Wakefield Republican says it is informed that the farmers straight north of town and those living on the south road one mile west of town wish to have the Home Telephone Co. build phone lines for them and understand that this company will comply with their wishes as soon as spring opens and the frost is out of the ground. In the meantime they are working on their exchange in this village and will have it in operation in a few weeks if the weather will permit.

The dead, frozen body of Walter A. King who disappeared from Norfolk December 23 last, was found in a creamery near that city Sunday afternoon. There was no evidence of foul play or murder, and it is believed he froze to death. He had built a fire in the cover of a creamery can, which was found partially filled with ashes. The young man had become reckless in his habits and had remained away from home for several days prior to his disappearance. King was a brother of Mrs. Wm. McOane, formerly of this place.

A merchant in town informs the writer that he intends to spend $800 the coming year in advertising and printing. He has been doing the same thing for the past two years and says his ad-

WAYNE COLLEGE

Is Greatly in Need of a New Building.

ONE PROPOSED TO COST $15,000

Larger Quarters Needed to Accommodate the Steadily Increasing Attendance of Students—Bright Prospects for Growth With the Proposed Improvement—College is of Inestimable Benefit to Wayne.

More room for the Wayne college is indispensable to a full realization of its possibilities. When the present buildings were provided there were ample accommodations, but the steady increase of attendance from year to year has rendered them clearly insufficient. There is every indication that the future will double the influx of students if the college quarters are enlarged to accommodate them. The class rooms and audience room are too small and, in fact, all departments are more or less cramped. A new building to cost not less than $15,000 is needed this year and will not fail to materialize if the past enterprise of President Pile and the public is a criterion of what may be expected.

The value of a college to a community is inestimable. It helps every man's business directly or indirectly. It brings desirable families to the city and neighboring farms. It broadens and improves society. Every dollar made by the institution is devoted to improvements and is thus a benefit to the town.

As founder and president of the college, Mr. Pile deserves great credit. Many well remember the precarious struggle of the institution during its first years and the untiring, persevering energy with which the worthy proponent pushed forward his enterprise. Many would have become discouraged and abandoned it, but not so with the man at the helm. His indomitable will and managing ability led to a triumph over all obstacles and the building up of a school that would be a credit to a town ten times the size of Wayne. He is now assured of continued success, and the public shares in enjoying the fruitage of his many years of hard work.

The proposed new building would invite increased attendance and further add to the institution's prosperity and thus enable it to improve its facilities and enlarge its scope. The public, regarding the benefits to be derived, will doubtless lend encouragement and aid in developing the worthy enterprise.

ATTEMPTED BANK ROBBERY.

The following dispatch in Monday's Daily News tells of a fierce encounter between citizens and bank robbers at Martinsburg, Dixon county, early Monday morning:

For two hours early in the day a pitched battle between five bank robbers and the citizens of this village raged fiercely. Behind a barricade the robbers kept up a fusillade of shots, replying to the volleys of citizens in concealment just across the street from the Martinsburg State bank, in which also the postoffice is located.

In the end four men, who were especially active in the fight, manuevered so successfully that they could sweep the bank with a hail of lead, and the robbers—only one of them apparently wounded—were compelled to retreat under a hot fire, sending back bullet for bullet as they ran. They seized a team which they had stolen and made good their escape.

The bank safe was blown to pieces, one of the iron being hurled through the ceiling and the floor, during the ten explosions of nitroglycerine, but the robbers while on the verge of getting $1,800 in the steel chest, were forced to flee. They secured only $70 in postage stamps which were locked inside the safe outside the steel chest.

The entire population of Martinsburg—numbering about ninety people—were up. Behind the barricade, Sheriff Muskeell found a hatful of cartridge shells, 32, 38 and 44 caliber, thrown there by the robbers during the battle. The bank windows were blown out, the furniture damaged and the safe was a wreck. Both doors had been torn off, the bottom torn loose and blown into the floor. A heavy piece of the top of the safe had been hurled through the ceiling.

TOO MUCH SALT.

There are no tricks in all trades and even the farmer, upon some occasions, has a game that he can play. At least one farmer who sold something which ought to have been butter but wasn't, to the Fair store, was next to a thing or two. Down in the middle of a pound of yellow, tempting butter which anyone might think was made from a rich Jersey cream, was inserted a long, strong, thick bar of salt which had cost about one cent and which was paid for by the Fair store people at the rate of fourteen cents a pound.

A customer who bought the butter sliced it open with a knife. The stamp upon the top of the butter is known to the store and the farmer will be arrested and prosecuted upon the charge of securing the money under false pretenses.—Norfolk News.

Musical comedy seems to have great hold on the public nowadays. In New York "Floradora" ran for two months during the past summer. Six big musical comedies ran all summer long at Broadway. The latest and one of the best candidates for public favor in the musical comedy line is "A Runaway Match" which comes to the opera house Saturday, Feb. 20th. It is one of the brightest and cleverest, daintiest pieces of the kind ever afforded to the American public. Now a musical comedy is not complete without a sextette. The special feature of "A Runaway Match" this season is "Nancy Brown" sextette. Nancy Brown is one of the most popular songs of the day, having been sung all summer long in the big city productions. There is also a male quartette, a mixed quartette and a number of other bright and telling specialties.

Attend the sale of household goods at Strickland's barn Saturday afternoon. A first class Singer sewing machine will also be offered.

GOLD AND ASBESTOS.

Prospectors Make a Find in a Maine Quarry.

By traveling less than six miles out into the town of Hallowell one may see where gold and platinum have been found, which, if the vein should hold out to the samples submitted, would mean a highly paying industry, says the Bangor (Me.) Commercial.

Some time ago Dr. Horace P. Hanson, in looking over the property of which he is the owner, found near the ledge of the vein a piece of rock which attracted his attention. He took it to State Assayer Ora W. Knight, of this city, to have it assayed for gold or whatever it might contain.

Platinum has been found in the rock in varying quantities from 5 to 23 per cent, but on account of its uncertainty no effort has been made to work it. Until quite recently little if anything has been known of the parent rock of platinum, and the search for it has been the study of geologists for a number of years.

Another metal which might develop into something after further working is that asbestos has been found scattered through the work of the quarry.

"Why do you plan to land here?" asked William Bradford, with some acidity.

"Why?" responded the captain, "in great disgust at the other's ignorance, if we didn't how would poultry-breeds ever get a name for their big 'doin'-fucker' chickens?"

So humiliated was he by this reply that Mr. Bradford forgot for two hours to declaim for the governorship.

THE POPULAR PULPIT

ZEAL AND KNOWLEDGE

A zeal for God but not according to knowledge.—Romans 10:2.

In the minds of many people sincerely, or earnestness of purpose, or conviction of rectitude is a justification for almost any sort of action.

But it is only abjectly speaking that we admit that when the consequences of exterior actions touch us personally, and unpleasantly we are apt to lose sight of the theory.

Sincerity without knowledge—which is better than insincerity without knowledge—is a dangerous criterion to establish by which to determine conduct or character.

Why, then, are we so busy with crops and stocks, with commerce and industry, politics, armies and navies, efforts, monarchies, and new appliances, while millions of babes are being misshapen, myriads of children are growing into bad ways, because thousands of homes are schools of ignorance and nurseries of weakness and wickedness?

The home is the preliminary battleground where evil is to be fought in its implicity and conquered. There Satan must first be met and overcome and the young soul taught how to retain its native innocence.

"Other things, other names?" Modern ethics have incorporated much of the strenuous energy with which we enter upon the problems and pursuits of life.

We have indeed changed, but in the general amelioration of conduct and ideas we have lost something. Our religion is eviscerated. It is too dainty. The nakedness of sin is concealed.

Fire and brimstone preaching in the pulpit has vanished, perhaps never to appear again—except in country districts, maybe—but no real genuine, if tempered, strength has come to take its place.

These are no sorry saints. The Devil will label his bait. Handcuffs do not make holy. Faith cannot be fed on farinose. No prayer can rise on wings of pretense.

Many things are cured by being endured. The kindhearted have no trouble in finding a purse that does not wear out. Doubt should be but the vestibule to decision.

Conversion is a starting point and not a terminus in true religion. The more puppylike a man's disposition the more dogmatic his opinions.

THE HOME AND THE CHILD. By Dr. Joseph Silverman. Except the Lord build the house, in vain do its builders toil thereon.

character of a man is conditioned by the home into which he as a child was first ushered and where was unfolded to him all that he for many years knew of life, of humanity, of the world.

The child! How like a new star just born from the conflict of nature's elements and bursting as a new light through the black curtain of the night upon a world it had never known!

What is this home not like? A frozen snowhouse in the Klondike or an orange grove in the tropics, a tent upon the arid desert, a lodge in some forest, a hut on the mountain top, a mansion by the sea or a dingy room in a congested tenement.

The child and the home are the two most important figures of the world—the corner stones of humanity. The child—the picture of sweet helplessness and wonderful potentiality.

Why, then, are we so busy with crops and stocks, with commerce and industry, politics, armies and navies, efforts, monarchies, and new appliances, while millions of babes are being misshapen, myriads of children are growing into bad ways, because thousands of homes are schools of ignorance and nurseries of weakness and wickedness?

FOR THIRTY YEARS

Congressman Meekison Suffered with Catarrh—Read His Endorsement of Pe-ru-na.

CONGRESSMAN MEEKISON, OF OHIO.

Hon. David Meekison is well known, not only in his own State but throughout America. He began his political career by serving four consecutive terms as Mayor of the town in which he lives, during which time he became widely known as the founder of the Meekison Bank of Napoleon, Ohio.

Only one law marred the otherwise complete success of this rising statesman. Catarrh with its insidious approach and tenacious grasp, was his only unquenched foe. For thirty years he waged unsuccessful warfare against the personal enemy.

"I have used several bottles of Peruna and I feel greatly benefited thereby from my catarrh of the head. I feel encouraged to believe that if I use it a short time longer I will be fully able to eradicate the disease of thirty years' standing."—David Meekison, ex-Member of Congress.

THE season of catching cold is upon us. The cough and the sneeze and nasal twinge are to be heard on every street. The origin of these catarrhs is the most common and dreadful of diseases, is a cold.

While many people have been cured of chronic catarrh by a single bottle of Peruna, yet, as a rule, when the catarrh becomes thoroughly fixed, more than one bottle is necessary to complete a cure.

But prevention is far better than cure. Every person subject to catching cold should take Peruna at once at the slightest symptom of cold or sore throat at this season of the year and thus prevent what is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh.

Couldn't Pass Her. Sir Thomas Lipton has a gallant way of paying pretty compliments to ladies. Driving through Washington on the day he lunched at the White House with President Roosevelt, he passed a large red automobile that stood before an imposing mansion of graystone.

We are at it Again

We commenced to invoice this store this week to see how the business was panning out. As far as we have gone we have found quite a number of things that must leave here at once. We make it a rule that no article can stay in this store more than two years. If no one wants it we burn it. We will not have old, shop-worn, out-of-date goods on our shelves. If you like to buy bargains and are not particular to have the latest style, we can accommodate you if you will call during the next thirty days. Price cuts no figure in selling odds and ends at this store, and much of the odds and ends we have are as good as ever but broken in sizes. If we can fit you, you get a bargain. We don't know how this business will pan out, but if we made more money than we think we ought to we will cut prices right and left. Look out for a sensation at this store during the next few weeks. Read our ad. next week.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Miss Ross, of last year's teachers' class, now teaching near Winside, was as an over Sunday visitor at the college.

Miss Anna Hirschman, after an absence of five weeks, entered school Monday.

Rev. E. B. Young conducted chapel devotions Monday morning and gave an inspiring five minute talk to the students.

The social given by the senior class was a successful and very much enjoyed affair, showing that the members of the graduating classes will be leaders in the communities into which they may go, not only intellectually but in social matters as well.

Quite a number of cases of measles have been cared for around the college dormitories, but at the present writing nearly all have recovered. Two cases of pneumonia have also been successfully managed under the direction of Dr. Williams and the careful nursing of Mr. Crossland.

Rev. Wright was a chapel visitor Wednesday morning and gave the students a helpful talk on the value of thoroughness. "Talk like this coming at the formative period of young people's lives may mean a great deal if properly appreciated, for there seems to be two philosophies of life entertained by the boys and girls of our day. One is that the secret of success consists in merely putting up the best show of attainment, and the other is that true success rests on genuine effort and thorough mastery of knowledge. Those who hold the former view are ambitious only 'to pass' in their school work. They come by and by to believe largely in the virtue of scheming and wire-pulling, and think of statesmen as merely successful politicians, the rich as fortunate tricksters and the honest and honorable as skillful deceivers. The boy or girl who believes in the virtue of thoroughness comes in due time to be the unfailing factor in community organization and the real element of the common-wealth's progress and stability. Let every teacher preach and exemplify the doctrine of thoroughness.

The general verdict of the theatre-going public this season is that "Runaway Match" that is billed to make its first appearance here, at the opera house Saturday, Feb. 26th, is the funniest and cleverest piece of farcical construction that ever has been seen on the stage for several years. The piece was built for laugh-making purpose only. That is its only excuse for existence. It is a sort of a dramatic medicine next to fresh air and sunshine. Laughter is nature's cure for all mental ills. "A Runaway Match" is a sort of a jolly hurrah from start to finish. The story is a complicated and funny one. The characters are the incarnation of the spirit of humor. A clever company direct from New York City interpret the farce. Several new and clever vaudeville sketches are introduced and the entertainment from beginning to end is bright and sparkling in the extreme.

After you see the Majestic Range at Terwilliger Bros. this week, you will wonder how you have managed to get along without one so long.

ESCAPEE AN AWFUL FATE.

Mr. H. Hagquis, of Melbourne, Fla., writes: "My doctor told me I had consumption and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery and owe all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by A. F. Lane, Druggist, Price 50 cents and $1. Trial bottles free.

A CURE FOR ECZEMA.

My baby had eczema so bad that its face was a solid mass of sores and its hair all came out. I had tried many remedies but none seemed to do any good. I then used Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. The eczema is cured, the hair is growing and the little one's scalp is perfectly clean and healthy and its face is growing beautifully again. I cannot give too much praise to Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. Frank Farmer, Belle City, Ky., in writing Witch Hazel Salve look out for counterfeit. Dr. Witt's is the original and only one containing pure Witch Hazel. The name, Dr. C. De Witt & Co., is on every box. Sold by Raymond's Pharmacy.
