SCRIBNER GIRL IN TROUBLE

D. K. Horn, formerly of Wayne, successful in the work of Organizing Fraternal Life Associations—He and His Wife Promptly a Big Lodge at Fremont—Business Portion of Osmond Destroyed by Fire.

Wakefield has a newly organized brass band. Rev. Geo. Bray of Ponca, has been conducting a series of revival meetings at Wakefield.

The town board of Randolph has been asked to pay $1015 for a broken arm sustained by the 3-year-old son of Earl Hadley.

The Hartington Herald is waging war against social evils in that town and the mayor is asked to act or resign and get out the way.

Felix Hammerquist, a Swede, walked in front of a moving train while under the influence of liquor Sunday and was instantly killed, at Columbus.

Mrs. J. C. Ewain suicided by hanging at her home two miles southwest of Stanton Thursday morning. The rash act is attributed to temporary insanity.

Jno. T. Spencer of the Dakota City Herald, has been sentenced to hard by Moses Warner of the Lyons Mirror, because the former favors accepting cash from Rockefeller.

The Hartington Herald has eliminated from its columns all patent medicine advertisements. The WAYNE HERALD will cut out a few acres of them as soon as contracts expire.

W. P. Manley of Sioux City has sold his interest in the First National Bank at Wakefield to Levi Kimball, who has been the cashier of the institution. Mr. Kimball now has the controlling interest.

While dehorning cattle last Thursday afternoon, Emil Paulsen, living west of town, had the misfortune to lose an eye by having the ball pierced by a cow's horn. Dr. Rolph was called and performed the very delicate operation of removing the eyeball.—Pender Republic.

Muri Drebert, young man who lived with his parents near Pierce, died of lock-jaw in an Omaha hospital last Thursday night. He had been suffering from the disease about two weeks, thought to have been caused by vaccination, performed as a preventive against smallpox.

In bringing his auto from Wayne to Randolph M. N. Winnebrenner ran into a chuck hole and broke a brace which caused him trouble Sunday afternoon while exercising his machine. The auto was placed in a dry dock at M. H. Abis' shop and was in commission again Wednesday.—Randolph Times.

A large share of the business portion of Osmond, a town of 500 inhabitants, was wiped out by fire near midnight last Thursday night. At 11:30 o'clock flames were discovered in the rear of Turner & Peterson's meat market, situated in the center of a row of ten buildings, all of which were reduced to ashes. L. L. Davis livery barn, one block east, was ignited by flying sparks and was burned. The total loss is estimated at $50,000.

D. K. Horn, formerly of Wayne, is engaged in the work of organizing Fraternal Life associations, and according to the Tribune he and his wife have met marked success in building up the lodge recently started in Fremont. The lodge had a big meeting one night last week when fifty-six new members were added. "The Fremont lodge," says the Tribune, "and with the additions of last evening its membership roll now contains eighty-six names. It will be known as Fremont circle No. 47. F. L. A. State Deputy D. K. Horn and his wife, of Hastings, are in the city and will be here for two months working for new members."

The three young children of Jacob Cassell, six miles west of town, met with a dreadful accident while visiting at the Dary Sutton home Monday afternoon. As near as The Advocate has been able to learn the facts are substantially these: The little folks were standing about a table at which S. W. Soden was at work with a cream separator. Mr. Soden had a bottle of very strong acid in his hand, and being about to use it shook it vigorously. As he did so it exploded, the contents being thrown into the faces and eyes of the little ones. Medical assistance was immediately summoned, and as near as we can learn, the boy, George, will likely lose both eyes—though there is little hope of saving one; the little girl will lose one eye, and the other will escape with a very badly burned face.—Laurel Advocate.

"Third notice." Every editor has received them. The postmaster sends them to the editor. The postmaster is not to blame. For instance there is a man by the name of—well say Tim Short—who sent us three notices to stop his paper. He did not want it any longer. We wondered what was the matter. Upon investigating our subscription book we found that Tim was short $5.70. He had never paid a cent and yet he had stopped the paper as a matter of economy $9.25. A few evenings ago we stepped into a church, and Tim's melodious voice rang out loud and clear in the old soul-stirring song, "Jesus Paid it All." We might have been mistaken, but his earnestness impressed us. The next day we sent him a receipt in full, begging his pardon for not knowing that he had made an assignment of his liabilities to the Lord.—Fremont Herald Leader.

Miss Eva Rich, a young woman twenty years of age of Scribner, was attacked by three fiends while on her way home last Thursday night, and bound, gagged and outraged. She was left by the road-side in an unconscious and helpless condition. After two hours, she recovered consciousness and was able to crawl 100 yards to her home. Blood-hounds have been set on the trail of the villains and officers are scouring the country for them. If they are caught, a lynching is apt to take place. Later: Since the foregoing was written, it is reported that the girl has confessed to officers that the story of the attack was false and that she bound and gagged herself, employing the deception to defeat her own disgrace. Fred Harvey, the young man with whom she was in love, has been arrested. Her parents had objected to the match, but are now willing.

O. A. King suffered the misfortune of a lively runaway Monday afternoon when he was driving in the country. Five miles out, his horse, usually sedate, suddenly became violent and ran and kicked as though incited by Pluto. The animal tried to land a series of kicks on Mr. King's head, but failed, later overturning the buggy and dumping him by the roadside, fortunately without injuring him. The vehicle was put out of business and the traveler finally came to town astride the horse, which had acted so measly.

Rev. Thos. J. Wright, of the M. E. church, gave the first of the series of lectures, under the auspices of the Wayne Public Library association, in the opera house Tuesday evening. A fair-sized audience attended, and the funds derived, amounting to $45, $38 net, are to be used to buy new books for the library. "The Forces That Make the American Republic" was the speaker's subject. He gave a brief review of early British history and followed by touching important events in the development of America. He spoke fluently and held the close attention of his hearers.

The Wayne County Teachers' association met in the court house at this place last Saturday, with an attendance of about 100. Eugene Brookings, superintendent of Burt county, was present and gave an address on "The Objects of Superintendents' Visits." The question of teaching agriculture was introduced by Prof. Littell and informally discussed by different teachers. A majority advocated instruction along that line. "School Room Decoration" was presented by Miss Nellie Ross of Winfield and Miss Jennie Powell of Wayne, arousing a general discussion. This subject included the matter of cleanliness and neatness on the part of pupils. The session throughout was interesting and instructive. The next and last meeting of the association will be held on the last Saturday in April.

Democrats admit that Nebraska is hopelessly republican.
 The Dietrich investigation shows that his intentions and acts were not so bad as some feared.
 J. B. Dinsmore of Sutton, has announced the withdrawal of his candidacy for governor and supports the re-nomination of Gov. Mlokey.

There is no doubt that Bryan will dominate the democratic state convention and control the delegates sent to the democratic national convention.
 Hon. John L. Webster of Omaha, has been in Washington this week and according to report has received much encouragement as a candidate for vice president.

An official call has been made for the republican congressional convention to be held in Columbus on Tuesday, May 17. There will be 211 delegates, of whom Wayne county will furnish ten.
 Editor Roswater had an interview with President Roosevelt this week with reference to appointing a successor to District Attorney Summers and received assurance that action along that line would be taken within a short time.

York and Thayer county conventions have instructed their delegates to the state convention to support Congressman Burket for United States senator, and the republican committee of Butler, Jefferson, Saunders and Seward counties have passed resolutions favoring his candidacy.
 We often hear preachers and others say, in speaking of one who has died, that she or he was buried at such a time, and still they think that the bodily tenement is vacated at death and the immortal ego has gone to join the eternal throng. It is doubtless thoughtless, yet it smacks of materialism and is not consistent with the happy and well supported belief in life's continuity beyond the grave.

Joe Trigg in the Rockford Register: A lily white hand with a diamond on the third finger is not unnaturally a possession which the average woman would be glad to have, but such hands are not the ones which feed, dress and spank the American boys who are making the nation great. The womanly hand which is thus shaping the destiny of the republic is not soft or white, and no gem sparkles upon it. Browned, and sometimes calloused, it commands a reverence from all for the patriotic way in which it does its work.

A decision in the case growing out of the Northern Securities company, a combination of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads, was handed down by the supreme court of the United States on Monday and was in favor of the government, declaring the merger illegal, being a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The decision is one of great importance. It will prevent the growth of railroad monopoly, which would be a serious menace to the commerce of the country.

Monday's Norfolk News announces the candidacy of Hon. W. M. Robertson of that city for the republican nomination for governor. Mr. Robertson is one of the leading and able men of the state and has the essential qualifications to make an excellent governor. Speaking of Mr. Robertson's popularity, the News says in part: "It is probably a fact that Mr. Robertson has more friends among the rank and file of the voters than any other man in the state, and the representations that have been made to him are that he will easily be nominated, and it is anticipated that he will add very material strength to the ticket."

COLLEGE NOTES.
 Miss Mesona came in from Cherry county Monday to take up work in the teachers' course.
 Mrs. Cullen of Geddes, S. D., a graduate of some years ago, was a college visitor Monday.
 P. W. Singer left Wednesday for Prosser, Washington, whether he goes to try his fortune in the growing west.
 Mr. Dugger of near Bassett, Rock county, came down Tuesday to visit with his son. As is the custom he was the guest of the college during his stay here.

A hundred dollars worth of apparatus was added to the physics and chemistry laboratory last week. A splendid wireless telegraph outfit and a fine compound microscope are included in the supplies.
 A successor to Prof. Gregg as a teacher of science has come to town. He arrived in the city Tuesday evening, but will not take up his work till he has completed a long apprenticeship in the Gregg home.

The presidential nominating convention which came off last Saturday was a roaring success, and for all this a great deal of credit is due the committee on arrangements. Messrs. Jim Pils and Reid, and Miss Roschebina. The preliminaries were gone through with from one to two o'clock p. m. Saturday and the nomination came at the evening session. Mr. Root acted as permanent chairman, and was ably assisted by the other officials. A crash of reality was given to the convention by the presence of a black man from Alabama and three cow boys from Texas. The evening meeting opened with a thrilling patriotic address by Hon. C. C. Singer of Tennessee. Roosevelt, Bryan and Beveridge were put in nomination, and the first ballot gave Roosevelt the majority and he was duly declared the nominee. Every feature of real convention was gone through with and the occasion proved to be one that was not only interesting but highly instructive as well.

One of the quiet but effective and progressive schools of the state is the Nebraska Normal College at Wayne. President Pile has built a splendid school, one which is growing in numbers and reputation. The enrollment for the winter term of this year reached 460, larger than ever before at this time of year. The college and the public schools of Wayne work in perfect harmony to the advantage of both. An instance of this cooperation is the use of one of the ward schools of the city system as a model school for the normal, an arrangement which gives excellent opportunity for practice work.—Moh. Neb. Teacher.

The county teachers' association which met in the court house last Saturday afternoon was so largely attended by old students of the N. N. C. that it may well receive mention in this column. The first number was an enthusiastic address by Prof. Littell of Winside, on the Teaching of Agriculture, who argued for agriculture its value as a disciplinary study, holding that its value on the side of mental training was even more important than its practical benefits. Some objections to the teaching of agriculture were set forth by Prof. Wilson of Hoskins. A paper on Self-improvement by Miss Jennie Powell followed by a discussion by Miss Ross proved to be of high order in quality and inspirational in effect. Miss Pearl Sewell, in a paper on School-room Decorations, set forth in pleasing and forceful style some sane suggestions on the subject assigned and this theme was then further illuminated by Miss Bell in a pointed discussion. The principal address of the day was given by Co. Superintendent Brookings of Tekamah, who talked on Some Field Observations of a County Superintendent. The three quarters of an hour in which Prof. Brookings held the floor was packed full of the things that interest teachers and that all the teachers were benefited was the common talk after the adjournment. The session of the association was one of the best ever held in Wayne county.

 R. H. Manning left last Tuesday morning for Steamboat Springs, Colo., where he will make his future home. He was accompanied by C. F. Schneider and Geo. C. Merrill who went to look the country over. Mrs. Manning will not leave for a few weeks.
 With rural mail routes and telephone lines through the country there is little or no advantage in living in town these days. Carroll will have both soon. The telephone line will be up in a short time as all the material has been ordered some time, and the rural mail route is scheduled to start April 1. J. A. Jones is the carrier.

Shedding Time Here

The time is nearly here for all animals to shed their winter coats. Men and boys should at least use as good judgment about shedding their clothing as other animals do. When spring comes everything should put on a new suit. Nature never fails to bring forth new clothing for the trees and flowers and even the earth on which we walk is covered with a new carpet of grass. There are very few women or girls that will not get new hats and dresses, and we hope all men and boys will not fail to keep up with the fair sex. Cast off all the winter clothing and rig out for spring in a new outfit and you will feel like a new man, ready to battle life with new energies, and the world will look bright and cheerful. Now the question comes up, where to get this new spring outfit? There are not many places where you can get what you want, and there are a good many reasons why you should see us before you buy. Our store is the most popular place in Wayne county to buy Men's and Boys' clothing. It is not the oldest, but the largest and cheapest place to buy anything men and boys wear. Everything here is up to date and as every article is marked in plain figures and sold at one price only, you can make no mistake to trade here. We have just closed a great sale of odds and ends together with everything out of style, so that we have no old goods to offer you. Our spring goods are now here, and our stock is much larger and better selected than ever before. Why not look here before buying clothing? You will be welcome to look at anything we have and you get the best clothing made at less than others ask if you buy anything here. Come and look even if not ready to buy. We will be glad to show you the latest styles.

THE STORY OF THE SEWING MACHINE "SINGER"

One of the principal causes for the general diffusion of well-being among the people of the United States is found in the wonderfully diverse uses of mechanical contrivances to take the place of manual labor. So far as men and women can substitute for the direct output of physical strength the more intelligent effort of guiding a machine, they are so far uplifted in the scale of being, because they are enabled to make their lives more interesting as well as more productive.

It is in the invention of machinery which not only economizes, but elevates human labor—that American ingenuity excels; and the Singer Sewing Machine is one of the most conspicuous examples of this kind of invention.

For nearly half a century it has been a most potent factor in promoting the happiness of mankind all over the world. During this time improvement in all the processes of its manufacture has been constantly carried on, until now the machine seems to have reached ultimate perfection in every detail.

LOCAL ELECTION

Citizens Caucus Called for Tomorrow Night.

AS YET NO EAGER CANDIDATES

L. W. Roe, Wm. Piepenstock, Fred Volpp and Phil Kohl mentioned for Mayor—No Practical Issues Before the People—Municipal Affairs Have Run Smoothly and No Marked Opposition to Present Incumbents.

The annual city election comes off Tuesday, April 6, and a call has been made for a caucus tomorrow evening, so that the event may be properly remembered in Wayne. It seems to have been the custom for several years to have only one caucus—a citizens' non-partisan meeting, in which the real contest takes place, the election being merely a legal ratification.

There seem to be no issues, paramount or otherwise, over which to struggle, no pressing reforms demanded, no fiery indignation over the manner in which municipal affairs have been conducted and as yet no avowed candidates. With no other issues, party lines may be drawn with the chances in favor of placing the reins of city government in the hands of men who will maintain the gold standard, put down the trusts and perpetuate prosperity.

Those whose terms expire are: Jas. Britton, mayor; A. R. Davis, clerk; Harvey Ringland, treasurer; Chas. Beebe, C. A. Chas. and Jno. Sherbahn, councilmen. J. P. Gaertner, D. S. McVicker and L. W. Roe hold another year and are thus free from annoyances incident to what might be a heated campaign. Jas. Britton who is occupying the throne as mayor, is not proclaiming himself as a candidate. On the contrary, he appears surprisingly indifferent to the emoluments and honors of the high office. Still he might accept if urged. Also for that office L. W. Roe, Wm. Piepenstock, Fred Volpp and Phil Kohl have been spoken of. The HERALD has heard of no opposition to Messrs. Davis and Ringland, and candidates for councilmen are painful scarce, though some self-sacrificing, public-spirited citizens can doubtless be found to fill the places.

PEELING IS BITTER

OPPOSITION TO ROSEBUD BILL AROUSES RESENTMENT.

Roosevelt Likely to Veto It—Some Feared of Passing the Measure Over His Head, but There is Little Probability that This Will Be Done.

Washington, D. C. The South Dakota delegation is determined to press the Rosebud bill, now pending in the senate, to speedy passage.

The members of the delegation, with the exception of Congressman Martin, who is in the Black Hills looking after his fences, have had a number of conferences lately with a view of agreeing upon some plan of action looking to meeting the opposition of President Roosevelt to the bill as now constructed.

There are those in the delegation, however, who believe that $5 an acre is considerably too high for the land, higher even than a majority of the Indians had agreed to accept.

As far as the delegation is concerned, it has but one object in view, and that is, if possible, to change the bill so as to make it satisfactory to Mr. Roosevelt.

Chicago. Negroes are preparing an appeal to be delivered to Robert T. Lincoln, president of the Pullman Company, asking for equal rights with the whites in sleeping cars throughout the south.

QUIET AT SPRINGFIELD.

Turbulent Elements Held Well in Check by Militia.

Springfield, Ill. The race disturbances which have troubled the city for three days as the result of the murder of Patrolman Collins and the subsequent lynching of the negro Dixon, who shot Collins, are held well in check by the presence of three companies of state militia.

The authorities are of the opinion, however, that the troops must be held here for several days. There are unmistakable signs that there is an ugly feeling on the part of the men and boys who have composed the mob of the last three days and the authorities realize that the shooting of either a white man or negro, or even a street fight between men of opposite races would be sufficient to start the mob again.

Thursday evening the police arrested a negro said to be from Cincinnati. He was accompanied by several strange negroes and white men who had gathered an audience of negroes on the street they read a highly inflammatory typewritten paper urging the negroes to avenge the lynching of Dixon and to apply the torch to the white business and residence districts in retaliation for the burning of the negro quarters on the levee.

The police, however, do not intend to recover the body of a white man shot by a negro from local negroes.

While a special grand jury will sit Monday to investigate the lynching it is thought that it will be difficult to secure indictment of either the leaders of the mob which did the lynching or the subsequent burning.

Appleton, Wis. John Eggert, a farmer of the town of Center, falling to get his neighbors to shoot an old horse, which was useless, and not daring to do it himself, took the animal to a field and tied dynamite around its neck.

At the explosion the horse touched off the fuse and started to run. The horse started to follow. Eggert took one look and ran for his life. He reached a wire fence in his wild scramble, crawled through it, and ran about two rods when he heard a terrific explosion behind him.

Looking back, he saw no horse and no fence, and the ground was torn up for yards around.

STATE OF NEBRASKA

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN A CONDENSED FORM.

Floods Claim One Victim—Hunter's Dead Body Recovered from the Waters Near Ames—Floods Seem to be Slowly Subsiding.

The dead body of Lee Roberts of Fremont, was recovered from the ice about 350 yards from the bank of the Platte River, near Ames. Death was evidently caused by cold and exposure.

On account of the masses of floating ice it was impossible to recover the body of a man who was finally carried by means of a boat.

Roberts was about 35 years of age. He had been in the employ of the Standard Company and had worked for different farmers near Ames for several years, but was very reticent about himself, and nothing is known of his personal effects, except that of Nick Schriener, but the damage to the country between Mercer and Fremont and to the north of Mercer will be heavy.

From 1,000 to 1,500 of Nick Schriener's sheep, which were supposed to have been drowned in the flood Thursday night, were discovered on an ice floe. It was impossible to reach them on account of the strong current.

A terrible accident occurred at the home of L. W. Welch, living three miles east of Blue Springs. As she did so a terrific explosion occurred, the flames lighting her clothing and a number of articles in the room. After a night of fearful agony, the girl died.

The accident was due to the fact that the lamp had been filled from a can of oil purchased at a bench store and supposed to be kerosene, but which, upon investigation, was found to contain gasoline.

THE WAR IN THE FAR EAST

During last week there was a slight raising of the... which had hidden events in the far East and we were enabled to catch a glimpse of the Japanese naval activity.

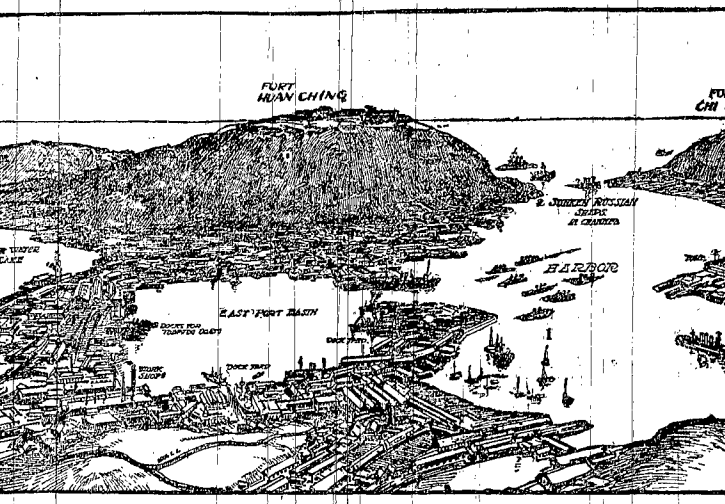

Various unconfirmed rumors state that Russian troops in northern Korea will fall back to the line of the Yalu River and that there the opening battles of the struggle will be fought.

Meanwhile the sending of reinforcements to the far East is being rushed with feverish haste by Russia. The railroad line across the ice on Lake Balkhal was opened early in the month and between 3,000 and 4,000 men are being sent over it daily, according to some advices.

An echo of the battle at Choumpul Korea, in which the Russian cruisers Korietz and Yuzig were sunk by their commanders, after having been damaged by Japanese shells, comes from St. Petersburg, where the official report of M. Pavloff, the Russian minister at Seoul at the time, has been received.

Reinforcements extending over a period of eight hours at Port Arthur, the loss by Russia of two torpedo boats and one torpedo boat destroyer, and cablegrams bringing news that 4,000 Russian soldiers already have been killed or wounded in the fighting in Korea and Manchuria, while 2,000 others have died or been invalided by frost-bite, constitute some of the late events in the war.

TORPEDO BOATS SUNK. JAPS LANDING UNDER FIRE. RUSSIA WARNS CHINESE.

Russia and Japan Lose One Vessel Each in Battle. One Russian torpedo boat destroyer and one Japanese torpedo boat were sunk in a fierce engagement off Port Arthur when Admiral Marakoff sailed out to give the enemy battle.

Admiral Marakoff inaugurated his assumption of the command of the Russian fleet by a complete change of tactics. As soon as he appeared he ordered the removal of the battleship Hetman, which was stationed at the mouth of the harbor, and heaved the channel at certain stages of the tide, making the progress of battleships impossible.

Although the odds were against the Russians, as the Japanese flotilla was supported by the cruiser squadron, the Russians made a heroic dash for the foe and apparently had the better of the fight, sinking a Japanese torpedo boat, while the cruisers got within range and one of the latter's shells crippled the Stroganovitch. Not much importance is attached to the bombardment, on account of the great distance of the enemy from the batteries.

A Japanese woman is a heroine. A brave and clever feat has been performed by a Japanese woman who escaped from Dalny by means which are still shrouded in secrecy, says a dispatch from Peking. It is said she received official plans of the harbors of Dalny and Port Arthur, took them to Tokio, getting away simply as an ordinary refugee. A decoration for her heroism is the reported reward.

Japs Are Humane. The Japanese government is making every effort to carry out its determination to conduct the war on humane principles. A bureau of prisoners of war has been established. This is the first of the kind, since the suggestion of the international congress in 1864. There was no precedent for such a step, but the difficulties which stood in the way have been surmounted. The bureau is intended to keep a complete register of all prisoners of war, both those in Japanese hands and as far as possible those in Russian hands.

Big Army for Korea. The Japanese will have an army of 150,000 men in Korea within three weeks, including the 35,000 already landed at Chemulpo. The force there will be one of disorder and chaos. The harbor's edge is piled with 200,000 tons of stores, packs of equipment, light guns and there are 6,000 cavalry and pack horses there.

General Koyanaka boasts that the Japanese army will march over the Manchurian coast to reach the Japanese sea, and that peace will be signed in Tokio. He predicts that the conquest will be completed by August.

War News in Brief. A military train bound for Irkutsk, eastern Siberia, was derailed near Tomsk. Admiral Birelet has inspected the ships which are at Kronstadt preparing to be put in commission. George Kennan, the noted traveler and writer, expresses the hope and belief that Japan will win.

An imperial ukase has been issued, prohibiting the exportation of horses from Russia until further notice. Russian and Japanese mounted scouts met north of Pingyang. After a brief engagement the Russians retreated.

A London military correspondent says it is Russia's time to strike the Japanese. The Russian army or a number of the Japanese Armada or abandon hope of interfering with its landing.

It is reported that the Russians have 15,000 tons of coal at Wiju which they keep drenched with kerosene in readiness to burn should the Japanese land there.

Vice Admiral Kamimura, in command of the Vladivostok naval expedition, reports that he scorching the coast after bombarding the city, but was unable to find any Russian warships.

A telegram from Peking states that England and America have protested against the Russian action in sinking a junk at Newchwang because it would block the egress of their war vessels. The destruction of the military order of St. George has been ordered by the commanders of the Russian warships. Yuzig and Korietz on account of their heroic conduct in the engagement with the Japanese at Chemulpo.

WAR VIEWED IN EUROPE

Russia Finds Many Friends; Japs Also Have Sympathizers.

By a careful canvass of correspondents in various capitals of Europe it has been ascertained that the European public as a rule are far more friendly to the Russian cause in the far East. All Europe has been polled through correspondents and the results show Napoleon's prediction that "Europe would be all republican or all Cossack" has been fulfilled by the nearly all Cossack so far as sympathy goes. England itself is a loyal ally of Japan, though the old-fashioned conservatives deprecate the alliance.

Correspondents have ascertained that while a month ago a Russo-French alliance seemed feeble, Russia's very misfortune has recentered the friendship. In Berlin it is learned that official and religious conservative elements are pro-Russian, as they consider that any weakening of Russia would upset the balance of power. The socialists are anti-Russian. The dual empire of Austria-Hungary is in favor of Russia. Twenty million of Emperor Franz Josef's subjects are Slavs. Official Italy is not cordial to Russia as a result of the Czar's snub in refusing to visit that country. Japan is received from its anti-English bias as pro-Russian, as they consider that any weakening of Russia would upset the balance of power.

Opinion in the Netherlands has not recovered from its anti-English bias as a result of the war. A fair neutral attitude, however, is maintained toward Russia. Spanish feeling is still generally anti-American and anti-English, and hence is in no way cordial toward Japan.

Shell Russian City. Japanese Warships Intermittently Hammer Away at Port Arthur. A Port Arthur dispatch states that the Japanese fleet, which prepared Wednesday night to bombard the city, but was dispersed by a heavy gale, reappeared shortly after midnight Thursday morning and opened fire. The bombardment continued intermittently until 8 o'clock, when the squadron withdrew.

While Admiral Togo's fleet of Japanese warships was bombarding Port Arthur, after riding out a gale, the Mikado's troops, from east and west, were fighting back the Russians and rushing to close the Liao-Tung peninsula. Their approach toward the city left the 40,000 Russian troops at Port Arthur in a death trap from which they seemed no escape.

The cutting of the railway line at Mukden cut off the supply of provisions and brought the garrison face to face with starvation. The announcement that the Russians were hurrying 2,000 men as reinforcements to Newchwang showed they realized the desperate situation.

On the other side of the peninsula whose point is Port Arthur the Japanese, after landing at Takai-Saia, have forced 35,000 Russians back to Feng-huangcheng. Russian reinforcements, Tokio hears, are being rushed to Newchwang. It is reported that 30,000 troops have already arrived there.

A plan is on foot among the Russians to block the mouth of the Liao river with junks and torpedoes. The Japs, marching along the Peking road from Korea, have seized every town, including Fung-huangcheng, which is fifty miles west of the Yalu river. The fighting has been severe.

Their vast army, strategically landed and deployed, has driven the Russians from Korea and far back into Manchuria by flanking movements, which, according to military authorities, have not been equaled since Napoleon's day.

Bombard Dalny. Japanese Fleet Makes a Furious Attack on the City.

Consternation reigned last week among the Russians in Newchwang over the sudden advance of the Japanese forces. Not only have Dalny and Port Arthur been subjected to a furious bombardment, but the Japanese forces are in force in Manchuria west of the Yalu, hastening inland by forced marches, bent on flanking the Russian position and cutting the army of the Czar off from its base.

After keeping out of sight for several days Admiral Togo's big fleet of Japanese warships suddenly reappeared before Port Dalny and began a furious bombardment of the city and the fortifications along the shores of Piliangwan bay. After keeping up a terrific bombardment for some time the fleet suddenly drew off and steamed southward to Port Arthur, about forty miles away, and renewed the attack on that city.

At Dalny, mindful of the elaborate system of mines with which Russia has protected this harbor, the fleet kept at a considerable distance from the shore, thus at the same time avoiding the mines and keeping out of range of the guns and the shore batteries. Admiral Togo is said to have had fifteen warships under his command.

While these operations of the fleet were in progress, it is believed, a force of Japanese troops was landed at the mouth of the Yalu river. They have captured Feng-Huang-Cheng and have driven out the Russians in the vicinity of Fen-Shu-Ling, the eastern pass, and are in force seventy miles to the east of Newchwang. The Russians are strongly entrenched with 35,000 men at Liao-Yung and Hai Chen, where a battle is imminent. Some small engagements have been fought, the Russians being victorious. The Japanese are using the same tactics and are advancing on the same route as they employed during their war with China.

It is reported that the Japanese have required the Russians at Feng-Huang-Cheng, four-four-inch siege guns were brought by rail to Newchwang and placed in the fort at the river mouth. The British and American consuls advised the immediate departure of women and children from Newchwang.

RECORD BY CONGRESS

LEGISLATION WELL ADVANCED MAY ADJOURN EARLY.

By the Middle of April the Session Is Likely to End—Tariff and Finance Measures Must Wait—Hops for Pension Bill.

Washington correspondence: The program mapped out by the Republican leaders at the opening of Congress is progressing favorably and, barring unforeseen events, is likely to result in the breaking of a record for the early adjournment of Congress at a long session. Among the leaders on both sides of the capitol the consensus of opinion seems to be that the present session will close not later than the middle of April. According to say, the Democrats are in full accord with the present arrangements and are not doing anything to retard legislation and little to make political capital out of what is transpiring.

The early adjournment session means death to practically all pending legislation. The Senate has already officially declared against the introduction of this session of both rivers and harbors and a public buildings bill. Some of these items will be included in the sundry civil bill, which will be open to the last to come before the House.

Already the appropriation bills have been introduced. The Indian affairs and postal appropriation bills are ready to report. When will follow the sundry civil bill, the District of Columbia bill and another deficiency bill and the work of the lower house will be done.

In the Senate the Panama treaty has occupied the week, but the foreign investment bill has been introduced. The remaining appropriation bills will follow in short order. Pension appropriation bills have been known to pass the Senate within an hour after they reach final reading.

Tariff and Finance to Wait. No bills on either of tariff will see the light of day this session. The present policy is adhered to. The good-roads project is dead, and the doubtful likelihood of the big bill on the currency, the law and the Grosvenor anti-injunction and anti-conspiracy bill will get farther than the House calendar, if at all. Early adjournment will play havoc with such bills as require earliest consideration in committee and upon the floor of either house.

Speaker Cannon has had the hearty cooperation of the Senate in his methods of hurrying up the business of the house, and the promise has been made that the upper house will do its share toward clearing up its calendar. Speaker Cannon has introduced new methods, under the unanimous consent rule, of disposing of bills for claims against the government, and upon this application no more than 200 bills are disposed of in one comparatively short time, and half the legislative day was saved for the consideration of other business.

The new plan is that of passing such measures in bloc, merely pending the title of the bills and passing the whole by one vote. When understood by the House it met with hearty approval from the members.

The one piece of prospective legislation which shows any signs of life, but all seems to be the service pension bill, for which veterans of the Civil War are united in a clamor for its passage. At first the powers that be were inclined to favor the passing of such a measure, carrying with it a pension for nearly all the soldiers who served in that war.

At the next session, the president is expected to continue his line in office by recess appointment. There can be no doubt of the hurry of the legislators to get away from Washington and the inactivity of the Democrats, makes it almost certain that no new political issues are to be debated before the opening of the national campaign.

THE POPULAR PULPIT

In God's spiritual family the character of the babe in Christ is honored and highly esteemed by all.

What lively emotions are kindled in the human breast at the coming of an infant into the family circle. In God's family angels are said to be rejoicing at the repentance of a sinner or the birth of a new-born soul into the kingdom. Then childhood, as it begins to act its part in the family, becomes a character of marked importance; so in God's family.

Witness the ruddy-cheeked David tending his few sheep. Timothy was complimented for his knowledge of the Scriptures from childhood, Christ, as he talked with the doctors of the law, attracted the attention of the wise and gifted ones.

The marriage relation is one of the prominent acts in family history. God uses that relationship to describe the tender tie that binds him to his people. Sickness, with its wasting hand, is spoken of as the misfortune of the home circle. So estrangement from God's household is spoken of as being faintness of head and sickness of heart. As a mother cares for the sick of her family, so God cares for the suffering ones in his.

Almost every relationship known among men in family relationship is of a similar one in the household of God. If these are so sweet and important in this preparatory world, where flesh at best is weak, what must they be in the heavenly family, where all weakness is gone and only perfect character remains?

If we poor mortals could only love the family relationship as we should, draw the pure streams of blessing furnished by its organization, then we could not but be greatly blessed in being members of God's family circle in this life preparatory to an eternal entrance into the family circle above.

Happy it would be for the world if it could only recognize the fact that God's family of earth and heaven is one, and that we are brethren. Then jars would cease, strife would vanish away; riches would not be so narrow in their blessings, race, or tribal relationships would not be of such paramount importance. These apparent differences could all be in the city of our loving Father. We could all joyfully abide the time when He should bring His entire family into one grand and glorious circle, where we should be one in Christ.

May the spirit of God's family possess each of our hearts this Sabbath morning and send us to our new earthly homes with greater love for them and a desire to shape them like to the dwellings of the family now in the sub-bright clime.

The family implies various persons having different talents, tastes and capabilities. It would be well for us to recognize the fact that other persons as well as ourselves may belong to the family of God. Christ said that "whoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, sister and mother." These may be very useful members of God's family that differ much from us in action and manner of thought, yet in heart are as pure as we, and as acceptable to the Father.

The statement respecting the love for change upon the part of mankind—the love for growth and advancement—is undeniable. It is a love that is welcomed, is deep seated and abiding. It cannot be staid. Mankind cannot go backward. They must go forward. Let us mark this desire for activity upon the part of the human race and, observing it, let us consider that it needs only to be directed into proper channels, to be guided and led by truth, by the Lord, and then shall follow results inappreciable for blessing and for good. Let us take mankind at their best estate; let us consider the good that is. Let us consider the great advancement made in passing from the abject condition which once mankind knew after the fall to the state and condition obtaining among mankind to-day and the desire and power and possibility for growth become altogether manifest.

A sense of justice is known and largely rules today where in the past it was unknown, or for the most part, disregarded. If we consider that this sense of justice is a growth—as are all other human attainments—then we shall be able more justly to estimate all human progress and to be more hopeful and expectant of future advancement. And we must be expectant of human growth and advancement in all directions, in all things that pertain to a true life of man. Not only as pertain to all things of man's own mind and life, but also as pertain to his relation to and use of all things of creation.

Here is a wide field for the exercise of man's knowledge and discernment, and respecting which we are as yet only upon the threshold. I know that we must be filled with astonishment as we see something of the things awaiting us here. Especially when we see and know that the lower realms of creation grow out of and are dependent upon the life of man for the external world is but the internal world of love and thought indefinitely expanded, and is changed with the changing mind and life of man.

We are to look for the redemption from suffering and pain of the universal world of man and the lower forms of creation and their dwelling together in harmony and peace, which comes to pass as mankind returns to the Lord. There is a return to the Lord—a happy return to him, even though it be only the beginning of a return. Nevertheless, it is a return, and is indicative of that blessed state and peaceful picture whereof the prophet speaks in his saying:

"They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea." Amen.

THE FAMILY OF GOD. By Rev. J. M. Hagerty, D. D. Has it ever occurred to you to examine the terminology of the gospel? How often and constantly family terms are made use of in the Christian system? Such an examination is surely worthy of your careful study and will prove to be a revelation of lasting profit as well as pleasure.

First of all, God is spoken of as Father, which necessarily implies that we are brethren, heirs to a common inheritance in life and eternity. God's love is likened to that of a mother by the Prophet Isaiah. The home is recognized as the center around which all other things cluster that are desirable in this life. Infant character is one of the most marked in earthly homes, and one of the most attractive.

Short Meter Sermons. Circumstances cannot stunt the soul. Sorrow is only our side of their joy. Misery is not a synonym for morality. Love is always a door into larger life. Lofly souls never despise lowly service. There are solemn sinners as well as solemn saints. A little vim in religion is worth a lot of vision. Heart-keeping is the secret of happy home-keeping. The self-conceited are bound to suffer from solitude. He who rebels against conscience ruins character. Lessons are for our learning rather than our liking. Goods are among the least of the rewards of goodness. Suffering should leave a legacy of ability to sympathize. A man of softness habits are never of immovable character. It is no use singing "sunshine" if your life is all moonshine. The true man never lets his living stand in the way of his life. No good is found in a difficulty by the man who crawls around it. The man who resists a tendency will not have to regret a habit. The only effective criticism of a poor religion is the creation of a better one.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES. Dr. G. Sims, who is head of Cambridge University, an eminent authority on tuberculosis, is lecturing in the United States. Dr. Yamei Kim, who was graduated from the New York medical college some years ago, is practicing at Ning-po, China. Adolph Levinson of New York has presented to Columbia University a valuable collection of rare books and manuscripts. The youngest woman's college president in the United States is Mary Emma Woods of Mount Holyoke. She is 23 years of age. Chancellor D. W. C. Huntington of Nebraska Wesleyan University is expected to have dedicated a church for every year of his life. Dr. W. F. King of Cornell College anticipates that the semi-annual event of the year will be the dedication of the new building at Pittsburg. Capt. John Anderson, U. S. A., has been detailed as professor of military science and tactics at the Massachusetts Agricultural College. Glen Harrison, a 13, is teaching in the Ozark mountains, near Greenville, Mo., and probably the youngest pedagogue in the United States.

A MORTIFYING ERROR.
Here is a sad story from the Holdrege Progress: "Much to the chagrin and regret of the editor, a ridiculous error in last week's issue of the Progress was not discovered until the whole edition was out. The mistake appeared in an item referring to the illness of Mrs. L. J. Titus and her mother, Mrs. Sargent, wherein Dr. 'Killemequik' of Lincoln, had been called in consultation by Dr. Whittier, who had the case in charge. It should have read Dr. Bailey, of Lincoln. The item was written and set in type about 11 o'clock Thursday night, when it was impossible to ascertain by phone or otherwise the doctor's name. Hence 'Killemequik' it was deemed, occupied sufficient room for the proper name, to be ascertained in the morning before publication. In the rush consequent to going to press Friday morning, however, the error was overlooked. As before stated, the editor very much regrets the error and begs humble apology."
