IMPORTANT BUSINESS CHANGE

O. D. Franks Takes Charge of the Central Meat Market—Y. W. C. A. of the College Has Social Party—Baccalaureate Sermon Preached Sunday Night—Harkey-Bressler Wedding Announced.

Norfolk is figuring on having a big celebration July 4th.

A cement walk builder here this week reports that he has contracts for 12,000 feet of walk at this place.

There will be no services at the German Lutheran church next Sunday owing to the absence of Rev. J. H. Karpenstein, who preaches in Randolph.

Tomorrow brings the closing of the city schools, a most welcome day to students and teachers who have earned a vacation by their long application to study.

The HERALD has this week printed programs for the annual session of the North Platte conference of the Evangelical Lutheran church, to be held at Woolbach, Neb., June 21, 22 and 23. Rev. C. J. Ringer of Wayne, is president of the conference.

Rev. Thos. P. Haley's illustrated lecture Monday evening for the benefit of the public library, treated American history in an interesting style and would have been attended by a much larger audience had the weather not been threatening. The receipts for the library amounted to about $40.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. John T. Bressler announcing the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Maude, to Mr. Oliver Albert Harkey, Jr., of Carbondale, Ill., in the Presbyterian church, Wayne, Wednesday evening, June 15. The wedding is to be followed by a reception at the residence of the bride's parents.

The baccalaureate sermon for this year's graduating class of the high school was delivered by Rev. Thos. Wright in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening. Members of the class occupied seats of honor, and the gathering filled the church. Rev. Wright gave an able and appropriate sermon which was listened to attentively throughout.

The Y. W. C. A. of the college had an enjoyable social gathering at the home of Mrs. E. E. Young Saturday, celebrating a contest for members. About sixty young ladies were present and made the evening pass swiftly and pleasantly with various kinds of entertainment. A Japanese tea party was an interesting feature, other refreshments being served in the way of ice cream and cake.

Fred Volpp gave possession of the Central Meat Market to his successor, O. D. Franks, yesterday morning. Mr. Volpp has been identified with the business interests of Wayne for many years and is held in high regard, and it is hoped and expected that he will re-embark in some line of business here on his return from a safe and pleasant visit to Germany. Mr. Franks is a thorough and reliable business man and will undoubtedly meet success.

The Acme club had its annual picnic Tuesday afternoon, marking the close of the year's work. The members and their husbands' and a number of other guests drove out to the farm residence of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Corbit, whose beautiful grove and lawn were all that could be desired for such a gathering. The afternoon was spent in general sociability, and toward evening a beautiful picnic supper was enjoyed. Names of those present: Prof. and Mrs. M. S. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Weber, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Crawford, Prof. and Mrs. J. M. Pile, Mrs. L. P. Orth, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Bressler, Mr. and Mrs. Skiles, Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Tod Perry, Mrs. Clarence Corbit, Helen and Harold Blair, John Bressler, Jr., Frank Wilson and Dora Lewis.

MR. SULLIVAN'S FUNERAL.

The funeral cortege, following the remains of the late Eugene Sullivan to the Catholic church in Wayne Monday morning, was nearly a mile long, and the church was filled to overflowing with neighbors and friends who thus showed their respect for the man who had preceded them into the life beyond. A solemn requiem mass was offered for the repose of his soul, Rev. T. P. Haley being the celebrant, assisted by Rev. Father Reimer of Randolph, as deacon, and Rev. Father McNamara of Bloomfield, as sub-deacon. Father Haley read the last service and preached an appropriate sermon.

Prof. M. S. Davies presided at the organ and Miss Johanna Ahern sang during the mass.

The remains were conveyed Monday afternoon to Imogene, Ia., where they were to be interred beside those of his father and mother.

In the death of Mr. Sullivan, Wayne county loses one of its best citizens, and he will ever be remembered with esteem.

IN THE VICINITY.

Columbus has several cases of small-pox under quarantine.

The volunteer firemen's annual tournament will be held in Norfolk August 2, 3 and 4.

The Wayne HERALD issues a supplement in "Dutch." The HERALD is bound to take Holland.—Fremont Tribune.

Mrs. F. C. Kennan, who has been a resident of southern Wayne county for twelve years, died there on the 21st ult. Funeral services took place from the Wisner M. E. church.

A Fremont dealer, while unpacking goods in front of his store, was made the victim of a shower of rotten eggs which fell from hands at the top of the building. None of the spoiled fruit hit him.

A district meeting of Odd Fellows at Laurel on the 10th inst. promises to be attended by several hundred members of the fraternity, and the people of that town propose to make the occasion a success in all respects.

A farmer near Newcastle uses a traction engine in planting his corn and is able to make the work go faster than by the old method. Those who have seen the machine operate pronounce it a success, and others will likely follow his example.

Last week's Wakefield Republican contains a very interesting letter from J. D. Haskell descriptive of his travels in the Orient. Inferior conditions of life there impress him with the advantages enjoyed in progressive America.

Maud Storts, the 5-year-old daughter of a farmer living thirty-five miles from O'Neill, was the victim of a villainous crime charged to Dell Sweet, who was employed by the little one's father. As a result the child died in a Norfolk hospital, and it is reported that Sweet has been hurried off to Lincoln for safe-keeping, intensely bitter feeling at O'Neill and vicinity having been aroused against him.

The wet weather interfered with the success of the "Spring Jubilee" at Randolph last week and most of the events prepared for the occasion had to be declared off. Numerous gamblers were on hand and caused the good citizens of Randolph a great deal of trouble. They do not propose to tolerate gambling at their celebrations and will adopt rigid means to prevent it. They expect to celebrate again July 4th.

A deputy game warden by the name of James Reed arrested three men, Dick Bentley, John Peterhagen and Henry Groszoth, for having a seine in Wakefield lake the first of last week. The accused pleaded guilty and were fined $35 each and costs, amounting in all to $68. Later the deputy game warden was arrested on the charge of using indecent language and threatening to shoot. Pender is the center of the trouble.

In speaking of the rights of mail carriers, a publication says in part: "It would be well for drivers of wagons to remember that all United States mail carriers have the right of way in public highway when on duty. They cannot be driven into the ditches by heavily loaded wagons without violation of the United States mail law. This law applies not only when meeting a vehicle, but applies to those in front of the mail as well, when the mail carrier makes an effort to pass."

While coming from Allen Tuesday night about 13 o'clock where he had been instructing the band L. R. Israel had a narrow escape from being killed by lightning. He says that when he was about half way home a flash of lightning stunned him, knocking him over in the buggy and knocking the horses down. The horses ran several rods before he succeeded in stopping them. He was not hurt by the shock however. At Allen he says there was a small cyclone early in the evening. Roofs of houses were blown off and over 100 window glass blown out.—Wakefield Republican.

DECORATION DAY

Great Crowds from the Country Join the City in Paying Due Honor to Civil War Veterans—Memory of their Heroic Deeds Eulogized by Eloquent Speakers—Opera House Filled to Overflowing.

Wayne paid due tribute to the memory of civil war veterans on Decoration day. The weather was ideal, and the fact that farmers were able to suspend their rush of work, brought in hundreds of people from every direction. Business houses and public buildings were profusely decorated with flags and bunting and the spirit of patriotism pervaded the city and the desire to appropriately honor the deeds of the old soldiers was evidenced on every hand. A larger crowd never assembled in Wayne on such an occasion and the commemoration passed off to the eminent satisfaction of all. Members of the G. A. R. were very properly relieved of the burden and responsibility of the preparatory details of the celebration, younger citizens taking the matter in hand and carrying it to a successful end. Wayne may, indeed, be proud of the manner in which it remembered the valor of those who fought for the preservation of the Union.

At 1:30 the G. A. R. and a band of fifteen little flower girls, gowned in white, marched to the opera house where the program of addresses and music was rendered. Every seat and every foot of standing room in the opera house were occupied, and several hundred could not gain admission.

The program was carried out as published with the exception of one selection of music. Short speeches were made by Mayor Britton and Prof. M. S. Snodgrass both of whom talked along appropriate lines and showed their well known ability in doing so. The main address was given by P. E. Taylor of Tekamah, who reviewed many of the leading events of the war and showed the achievements of that bloody conflict in striking the harkles from the feet of the Negro and renouncing and perpetuating a Union which had been threatened with disruption. He eulogized the deeds of the old soldiers in high terms, and his eloquent and pathetic address received marked attention.

The orchestra and singers rendered excellent service and were an inspiration to the large gathering.

At the conclusion of the program in the opera house, a procession was formed and marched to the cemetery where the graves of departed heroes were decorated with flowers, amidst fitting ceremonies. A great crowd, unable to get into the opera house, had preceded the procession to the cemetery, which had been made beautiful for the occasion. The graves of fifteen honored veterans were strewn with flowers, which were the gift of Mrs. A. N. Matheny, and fifteen little girls scattered the beautiful floral offerings.

Thus the day was duly observed, the memory of heroic deeds revived and the fires of patriotism rekindled. A comparatively small band of the Grand Army remains, and ere many years all will have joined their comrades in eternity, filling honored graves and becoming subjects of memorial eulogy.

MEMORIAL SABBATH.

The M. E. church was crowded Sunday morning, being the occasion of the memorial sermon which was preached by Rev. Thos. Wright. The G. A. R. attended in a body. The sermon was of a high order, delivered in the fluent and eloquent manner characteristic of the speaker.

FELL FROM TELEPHONE POLE

The following special to the Omaha World-Herald from Lincoln relates to a young man who was employed by the Bell company in Wayne about a year ago and was well known here among the young folks: "Charley Welch, an electric line man, this morning fell from a thirty-foot telephone pole at Eleventh and Plum streets, striking the brick pavement on his head and receiving shock from a live wire. He was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital, and doctors pronounce his condition critical. His home is in Ashland."

Nature's cunning, that failed. A certain clever teacher in a public school once congratulated a pupil on having given her geography class a vivid idea of islands by cutting out pieces of brown paper and planning them on the wall. "That's all very well," said the master of the school, speaking from a longer experience of the youthful mind, "but those children will go out into life with a fixed idea that an island is a piece of brown paper pinned on the wall." The New York Evening Post says that two little "fresh air" girls were noticed, on the morning after their arrival, gazing at the landscape with evident disapproval.

"What's the matter, children?" asked their hostess. "Why are you disappointed with the country?" "Why, there's no grass here," said one, pulling a blade and hitting the end of it.

The lady could only stare. "What is your idea of grass?" she asked, at last. "Little by little the truth came out. To begin with, grass, she thought, was about the height of a man. "If this were taller, would be like grass," asked the lady. "Oh, no!" "How is it different?" "Why, grass is black," said one child. "Black and white," added the other. Then the explanation became apparent. They had drawn their ideas of vegetation from the black and white prints of newspapers and books.

A Suggestion. Much depends on the title of a book. It should be one that can be easily spoken and adapted to attract attention. How many authors meet these conditions? To give a book the name of a man or woman is easy, but it is only a sneaking way of escaping the responsibility of finding a real title. Two Out a Power, Many Inventions, Kidnapped, are all admirable titles, since they fulfil the conditions just named, and are, moreover, found after the books to which they belong are read to be eminently appropriate. Still they are not ideal titles, for they lack the merit of marked originality—that of the manufacture and sale of titles. Why should not some one make a study of the subject and prepare titles which can be sold at a modest price to authors who have written new books? It would be a relief to the author of a new historical novel if he could send to the title bureau and ask for a list of suitable titles.

Mrs. Rosa Adams, niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C.S.A., wants every woman to know of the wonders accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot tell you with pen and ink what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me, suffering from the ills peculiar to the sex, extreme lassitude and that all gone feeling. I would slip from my bed in the morning feeling more tired than when I went to bed, but before I used two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I began to feel the buoyancy of my younger days returning, became regular, could do more work and not feel tired than I had ever been able to do before, so I continued to use it until I was able to perform healthily. It is indeed a boon to sick women and I heartily recommend it. Yours very truly, Mrs. ROSA ADAMS, 810 12th St., Louisville, Ky. —$3.00 for full trial of FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Why is it that Ayer's Hair Vigor does so many remarkable things? Because it is a hair food. It feeds the hair, puts new life into it. The hair cannot keep from growing. And gradually all the dark, rich color of early life comes back to gray hair.

When I first used Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair was about all gray. But now it is a nice rich black and thick as I could wish. Mrs. SUGAN KLOPFENSTEIN, Tuscumbia, Ala.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For U. S. Senator, ELMER J. BURKETT.
For Governor, JOHN H. MICKLEY.
For Lieutenant Governor, E. G. MCGILTON.
For Secretary of State, A. GALUSHA.
For Auditor, E. M. SEARLE.
For Treasurer, PETER MORTENSEN.
For Commissioner Public Lands and Buildings, HENRY M. EATON.
For Attorney General, NORRIS BROWN.
For Superintendent Public Instruction, J. L. MCBRIEN.
For Congress, Third District, JOHN J. MCCARTHY.

A little discreet forethought often prevents a great deal of distressing afterthought.

Paul Morton, son of the late J. Sterling Morton, has renounced life-long allegiance to the democratic party and joined the republican ranks.

Gov. Mickey has made a good, conscientious executive and there is every reason to expect that the people of Nebraska will roll up a big majority for him.

One of the speakers on Decoration day impressed a truth when he said, in substance, that as long as we celebrate the achievements of our great men in a proper spirit, we will grow and strengthen as a great nation.

Among the aggregate graduates from high schools, the girls are greatly in the majority. It is true this year and probably every year in the past. What stops the boys from graduating—necessity or mental inertia?

The Democrat man should be less suspicious, childish and spiteful. He should be able to tolerate newspaper controversies without narrowness, or avoid them entirely. He should conduct himself with the decorum he has expected of citizens who have been made victims of his abuse in the past.

The Democrat finds fault with our looks. If its editor could muster up the courage to consult a looking-glass, he would forever remain silent concerning the personal appearance of others. He would be too forcibly reminded of those rib-nosed boys that munch coconuts, fight fleas and swing by their tails in the jungles of Borneo to again assume the role of critical anthropologist.

The Herald has received copies of the report of the special committee appointed to inquire into the charges against United States Senator Dietrich, and that report exonerates him completely. The committee concludes as follows: "Upon full consideration of all of the evidence, the committee is of the opinion that Senator Dietrich has not been guilty of any violation of the statutes of the United States or of any corrupt or unworthy conduct relating either to the appointment of Jacob Fisher as postmaster at Hastings, Neb., or the leasing of the building in question to the United States for the purpose of a postoffice."

According to the rules governing the Rosebud opening, as published, the drawing will decide the priority of choice of homesteads. Thus a man who is not an expert judge of land will be put to great disadvantage, and besides it looks as though many might make the same selections that could not be detected until it would be too late for corrections, unless those seeking for the government were able to post entries promptly—something that would be difficult to do during a rush of work. In addition, the need of information by strangers under the proposed system, opens a field for high-priced locators and possible fraud. What could have been more simple and equitable than to have each quarter section described on a separate card, and thus those who drew anything would know exactly what they had, doing away with a great deal of annoyance and avoiding the burden of being harassed by land agents.

E. J. RAYMOND RELY UPON HYOMEL.

Cures Colds, Coughs, Catarrh and Grip. Just Breathe It.

Hyomel is nature's own method for curing catarrh, colds, coughs and diseases of the respiratory organs. It is the only natural treatment for the cure of these troubles.

Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, the air that passes into the throat and lungs, is identical with that on the mountains, where it is laden with healing and health-giving balsams. It searches out and kills disease germs in the most remote and minute air cells of the throat, chest and lungs. It soothes and heals all irritation of the mucous membrane.

Hyomel is prescribed by physicians generally. Many of them use it themselves to break up a cold and prevent pneumonia.

The complete Hyomel outfit consists of a neat inhaler, that is so small and convenient that it can be carried in the pocket or purse, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomel. This outfit but $1 and it will cure any ordinary case of catarrh. In chronic and deep seated conditions, longer use is necessary and extra bottles of Hyomel can be obtained for 50c, making it a most economical treatment for all cases.

E. J. Raymond has much confidence in the power of Hyomel to cure catarrh and other diseases of the throat and lungs that he sells it under his personal guarantee to refund the money to anybody who takes all the risk himself, and Hyomel cures you absolutely nothing unless it does you good.

STARTLING EVIDENCE.
Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Bentonsville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles 'wholly' cured me. Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles. Guaranteed. For sale by all Druggists. Japanische Waffenschmiede.
Die alten Schwertfeger und ihre kunstvollen Erzeugnisse.
Bei einem so ritterlichen Volke, wie die Japaner es sind, oder doch früher waren, haben die Schwertfeger freier Weise stets eine große Rolle gespielt. Die Kunst des Waffenschmiedens war daher auch ein höchst ehrenvolles Gewerbe, dessen Mitglieder Männer von edler Abkunft waren. Alle andern Gewerbe, Künste und Handwerke wurden als eines Edelmannes unwürdig erachtet. Nur der Waffenschmied machte eine Ausnahme. Viele Waffenschmiede haben sich im Laufe eines berühmten Namen gemacht, und ihre Geschichte, sowie die ihrer Schwertfeger ist zuweilen mit den ältesten Lebenserzählungen und Sagen Japans verflochten.

Das Schwertfegerhandwerk
galt als eine der edelsten und wichtigsten Beschäftigungen und konnte ohne ihre Hilfe nicht befriedigend von Statten gehen. Diese wurde durch Gebete erlitten, und so zu allen heiligen Handlungen größte Heiligkeit nötig war, so fasten die Waffenschmiede während der Arbeitsdauer, indem sie sich aller berauschenden Getränke und scharfer Speisen, auch der Fische enthalten und nur von Reis und anderen Vegetabilien lebten, täglich kalte Wafungen vornahmen und in jeder Beziehung ein den Göttern wohlgefälliges Leben führten. Ueber dem Umkehr zwischen zwei aufeinanderfolgenden Waffenschmieden hing das Strohblech Sakimamona mit seinen Strohhalm und eigentümlichen Papierfingeln, die eine Stätte bis heilig kennzeichneten. Der Waffenschmied selbst aber legte zur Arbeit wie zu einer feierlichen Handlung die erlaubte Tracht des Hofadels, der Kuge, an.

Die Herstellung einer guten Klinge erfordert größte Übung und Erfahrung. Außerdem — so war die Anschaffung — hing das Gelingen nicht allein von dem Waffenschmiede ab. Die fünf Elemente des Himmels und der Erde, Feuer, Wasser, Holz, Metall und Erde, mußten richtig zusammenwirken und willig ineinander greifen, ein das andere ergänzend und unterstützend, wenn es eine vollendete Klinge geben sollte. Monate, ja Jahre lang bauerte es zuweilen bis eine Klinge fertig wurde, wobei wohl die japanische Gewohnheit, sehr verschwenderisch mit der Zeit umzugehen, berücksichtigt werden muß. Die Art und Weise des Schmiedens war natürlich ein großes Geheimnis der Schwertfeger. Als gleichfalls wichtig muß der Umstand erscheinen, daß die alten Schwertfeger es verstanden haben, aus alten, verrosteten Leberblechen von Eisen Schwertfeger zu schmieden, und daß es ihnen ferner bekannt war, daß durch häufiges Umschlagen der Ringe deren Vortzge erhöht wurden. Die Klinge wurde aus gutem Stahl geschmiebet, der sehr hart und elastisch sein mußte. Die aus Stabeisen geschmiebeten Ringe wurden mit einem Teig aus Kaffeebohnen und Hon überzogen, an der Sonne getrocknet, normalmäßig dem Feuer ausgesetzt und lo lange erhit, bis die Klinge eine weiche Farbe erhielt. Man fühlte die glühende Klinge dann in lauwarmen Wasser ab. Die Schwertfeger, die nach dem Jahre 1570 gemacht worden sind, werden in Japan Schinto, d. h. neue Schwertfeger genannt. Seit werden alle anderen vor 1570 gemachten Schwertfeger, d. h. alte, genannt. Schwertfeger, älter als 300 Jahre, sind noch jetzt häufig.

Se nach ihrer Gestalt theilte man die Klinge in verschiedene Klassen, gestimmte, gerade, fensterrartige, schwertförmige. Auch die Größe der Klinge der Schwertfeger waren sehr verschieden geformt und haben ihre besondern Benennungen. Die schön polierten Schwerter wurden, gewöhnlich in leberne Nebelzüge gefestigt und dabei verwendete man häufig die getörnte Haut des Gaischjes.

Wagner-Verbe gab es im abgelaufenen Jahre auf den deutschen Bühnen des europäischen Kontinents nicht weniger als 1406. Die meisten Aufführungen erlebte "Lohengrin," die weitesten "Rienzi." Fährten ist Berlin mit 63 Abenden, ihm schloßen sich Hamburg, Dresden und München an, dann folgt Wien mit 63 Vorstellungen Wagner'scher Opern.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE WAYNE HERALD

Vol. 25 Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, June 2, 1904 No. 17.

Herr Karl Weil schalte am Donnerstags lester Woche Korn.
Fried. Bartholz aus der Nähe von LaPorte war letzte Woche in Wayne.

Herr Pastor H. Gehring von Winnside war letzte Woche in Spencer, Süd Dakota zu der Konferenz.

Wie alljährlich so wurde auch dies Jahr der Erntebühnenfesttag in unserer Stadt feierlich begangen.

Herr Franz Weible und Frau und mehrere Kinder von Winnside waren am Erntebühnenfesttag in Wayne.

Gustav Will arbeitet seit Herrn Hoffmann, den neuen Eigentümer der Wayne Wasch- und Katterei Anstalt.

Herr Heinrich Klopffing sandte eine Ladung Fieh und eine Ladung Schweine am Sonntag lester Woche.

Willie Will wurde als einseitiger Reiseträger für die He Route der landlichen freien Post-Ablieferung angefielt.

Frau M. Hefti senior, von deren eruffen Erkrankung wir vor zwei Wochen berichteten, ist so weit wieder hergestellt.

Kollie Ley der junge Cassier der Wayne State Bank baut sich ein neues Wohnhaus in unmittelbarer Nähe seines väterlichen Hauses.

Da Pastor J. D. Karpenstein nächsten Sonntag nach Randolph geht, so wird Gottesdienst und Sonntagschule an dem Tag ausfallen.

Der Cementarbeiter berichtet daß er 12,000 Fuß Cement-Bürgersteig in Wayne hergestellt hat. Das ist ein gutes Zeichen für unsere Stadt.

Herr Theodor Bernhardt von Postins, Hilfs-Sleuer-Abfänger war mehrere Tage lester Woche bei Herrn Ziegler, dem Haupt-Arbeiter zu Besuch.

Frau E. P. Orth, die bisher noch in Wayne wohnte ist am Einpicken, da sie auch nach Clarinda, Iowa, zieht, wo ihr Mann einen Dringstore eignet.

Der Staat Nebraska feiert dies Jahr sein 50 jähriges Jubiläum als einer staatlichen Organisation inclusive der Zeit, da es als Territorium galt. Zur Erinnerung hieran wird am 10. Juni c. a. eine entsprechende öffentliche Feier in Omaha stattfinden.

Herr Fritz Bolpp übertrug am 1. Juni sein Fleischgeschäft an seinen Nachfolger Herrn D. D. Franks. Wir hoffen, daß er nach seiner Rückkunft von Deutschland sich in einer andern Geschäftsbzange hier niederlassen wird. An gutem Erfolg wird's ihm gewiß nicht fehlen!

Herrn John D. Kote erkrete sich am Erntebühnenfesttag einer engeren Familien-Zusammenkunft. Anwesend waren: die Schwiegereltern, sowie ein Schwager; Herr Karl Beggel und Frau samt zwei Kindern von Laden, Utah, und Frau Kate's Schwester und ihr Mann Herr Johann Gufford von Wayne.

Der illustrierte Vortrag des Pastors T. P. Palen bezugnehmend auf die Amerikanische Geschichte, hatte wegen drohendem Wetter am Montag-Abend nicht den Zulauf, den man dem Gegenstand und dem Zwecke des Vortrages wegen, hatte erwarten können.

Er brachte der Bibliothekstube jedoch immerhin die schon Summe von $10.

Am Sonntag-Abend fand in der Presbyterischer Kirche die Schul-Schluß-Predigt statt. Pastor Wright von der Methodistischen Kirche gab den Abschiedsreden der Hochschule, 16 an der Zahl, 6 Jünglingen und 10 Jungfrauen, einige ernste Lehren und Mahnungen mit ins Leben, und wenn sie dieselben befolgen, so wird es ihnen nur zum Guten gereichen.

Herr Agent Fleen laßt vor dem Wohnhaus des Postmeisters McNeal, das dem Advokaten Fuller in Washington T. G. gehört einen Bürgersteig von Cement legen. Dies gerichtet nicht nur zur Zierde, sondern war auch fast eine Nothwendigkeit, denn jenes Stück Bürgersteig litt an chronischer Unpassierbarkeit. Es giebt aber noch eine Unmenge Plätze, die an eben solchem Zustand leiden.

Die Russen haben, nachdem sie durch einige Siege wieder neuen Mut bekommen hatten, hormalms eine furchtbare Schlage bekommen. Es wird berichtet, daß die Schlacht am Rauschan-Dügel südlich von Kintshan eine der blutigsten Schlachten der neuzeitlichen Kriege war. Es laßt sich nicht leugnen daß die Japaner ein sehr „angewandtes“, die Augen überall offen habendes Volk sind, was auch bei dieser Schlacht wieder erkennbar ist.

Herr Gustav Will und Frau wurden am Mittwoch-Abend lester Woche von den Ableben ihrer Schwiegermutter und Mutter, der Frau Volk, in Westpoint benachrichtigt. Sie litt schon längere Zeit schwer und war die Todesnachricht nicht überraschend. Frau Will hatte sie noch die vorhergehende Woche besucht. Sie erreichte ein Alter von 72 Jahren und hinterließ einen Wittwer und mehrere erwachsene und verheiratete Kinder. Herr Volk zieht zu seinem Sohn auf die Farm in die Nähe von Rainview. Die Leiche der alten Mutter fand am Samstag Nachmittag in Westpoint statt. Herr Will und Frau kehrten am Sonntag Mittag wieder heim.

DINING ROOM ELEGANCE.

The dining room is where you do the honors of your home. Three times a day, you're lucky, you and your family meet in the dining room. Half of your enjoyment is taken there, and next to your food making adds more to that enjoyment than the dining room furniture.

But elegant Dining Room Furniture doesn't necessarily mean expensive furniture. Not if you buy it here. The largest and most complete line of Dining Room Furniture will be found upon our floors, and while you marvel at the richness of design and finish, inquiry for prices will reveal that it costs not a cent more than much inferior goods.

If you are looking for Dining Room Elegance at a mighty low price, you should see us.

Mattresses, Iron Beds and up-to-date furniture of all kinds. Prices are right.

SIXTY YEARS ON THE MARKET

THE SINGER

But One Standard of Quality

There are three distinct types of Singer sewing machines for family use, but there is only one standard of quality—THE BEST. There is a wide range of prices, depending on the style of cabinet work and ornamentation, but whether the price be the lowest or the highest, the working quality of the machine is the same and has been fully tested before leaving factory.

Truest Economy to Get the Best

A cheaply made sewing machine is dear at any price, because faulty in action, liable to break and difficult to operate. A labor saving machine for woman's use should be the best and experience proves a Singer to be the best.

Imitation the Sincerest Flattery

Cheaply made imitations of obsolete forms of Singer sewing machines are offered by mercantile dealers to deceive an unwary public. Genuine Singers are never sold to dealers. They go directly from maker to user, and can only be obtained through the company's employes.

Among its Improvements are:

A metal-covered hub, which will not check or split. A combination wood and steel axle, the wood and steel going the whole length of the axle. This axle will stand twice the strain of an ordinary hickory axle. Also a helix-axle made from heavy sheet steel.

The popularity of the MacKinnon Wagon rests not only on the above improvements, but every piece of lumber used in its construction is carefully selected from the best Wisconsin timber. The parts are fitted and put together by skilled workmen, and nothing is left undone, even in the smallest detail, to make it a perfect wagon in every particular. We manufacture our own wood stock, from the log to the wagon, and as we have been twenty-five years engaged in the manufacture of wagon material, we have gained an experience in the selection of wagon wood second to none. Carroll base ball fans have been royally entertained so far this week. The fan started Monday at 1 o'clock with a game between the lid nines of Carroll and Winside. The Winside youngsters simply walloped the earth with Carroll, the score being something like 15 to 3 in their favor. They have a good team without question, and know the game thoroughly. Immediately after this game the senior team and a team from the Daily Theatrical Troupe entertained the crowd at the great American sport. The score was 19 to 6 in favor of Carroll at the end of seventh inning, when the game was declared off. Then on Tuesday the Carroll boys entertained the Belden team. Both teams were somewhat patched up, but the game was a good one from start to finish. Some times one was in the lead and sometimes the other, the final score being 15 to 14 in favor of the home team. The game was hard fought all the way through, but a good feeling prevailed.

W. A. Ivory, dentist, over First National Bank.

We have a fine lot of sweet potato plants.

THOUSANDS KILLED

JAPANESE LOSSES AT KIN CHOU ARE ENORMOUS.

However, Outcome is Looked Upon as a Great Japanese Victory—Russians Are Swept from Their Defences West of Taiten Wan.

London: A dispatch to the Central News from Harbin says the Japanese losses during the fighting at Kin Chou are said to be 2,000 men killed. It is estimated that these figures have been confirmed by an official dispatch. Fighting, it is said, is still going on in the vicinity of Kin Chou.

London: The Tokio dispatch to the Associated Press and other official accounts are the only detailed descriptions that have yet reached London of the brilliant Japanese victory at Kin Chou, which is hailed by the London press as establishing an even stronger claim than did the Japanese operations on the Yalu river by their superior forces as well as the Russian retreat at the hands of the Japanese.

TORN TO FLINDERS.

Explosion of Towboat's Boilers on Ohio River.

Louisville, Ky.: The towboat Fred Wilson was torn to flinders, ten men were blown to bits, and sixteen others injured by the explosion of the boat's boilers at 3:30 o'clock Thursday morning. About seven persons aboard the boat were escaped unhurt. Of the injured, six will probably die.

The Fred Wilson was the property of the Monongahela Coal and Coke Company. She had just left the city when the explosion occurred. The cause is not known.

The boat was literally blown to pieces and her hull sank in eighteen feet of water.

MOUNTAIN TIME FOR NEVADA

Dividing Line is Moved 500 Miles Westward by Harriman's Order.

Salt Lake City, Utah: As a result of an order just issued by E. H. Harriman thousands of residents of Nevada are being ordered to leave their homes in the western district between Ogden, Utah, and Reno, Nev., must readjust their habits and watches to conform with mountain time.

Heretofore Pacific time has succeeded the mountain standard at Ogden, but Harriman has shifted the dividing line to the western limit. The problem confronting Nevada is as complex as it is urgent, the order going into effect on June 1.

The man who retires on Tuesday, May 31, at 10 p. m., will wake up on Wednesday, June 1, to find his watch 15 minutes out of time. Whether he is hungry, he must eat not according to his stomach, but as Harriman dictates. He must take time by the forelock or he will find himself late for work. The order is general.

RIVER GIVES UP PRALL'S BODY

Chicago Mystery is Believed to Have Been Solved.

Chicago: The badly decomposed body of a man was taken from the Calumet River at the foot of Ninety-first Street, and from articles found on the body it is supposed to be that of W. G. Prall, secretary of the Elgin National Watch Company, who disappeared Nov. 28, 1903.

There were no indications that death had been caused by violence, and it is believed that Mr. Prall committed suicide by throwing himself into the lake and that his body was finally carried by shore currents into the mouth of the river.

Mr. Prall disappeared at 10 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 28. He left his office and was never seen by anybody who knew him after he stepped into the elevator in the building in which the office of the Elgin National Watch Company is located in this city.

There is no known motive for the suicide, and Mr. Prall's affairs were in a prosperous condition and his accounts with the company in good shape.

THE LOSS REACHES MILLIONS

Yazoo City, Miss., Nearly Destroyed

Jackson, Miss.: With every business house of any importance in ashes, together with 200 houses, Yazoo City, with 6,000 inhabitants, finds itself possessed by fire which started Wednesday morning and burned all day, destroying an area three blocks wide and two blocks long of property valued at $2,000,000. The destruction of water works, which had wooden mains, failed to meet the demand. Pipes burst all over the city and it was impossible to get water even to the first floors of many buildings.

The fire started from defective electric wiring. A child was killed by falling walls and Mayor Hobbs was severely hurt. In the afternoon the fire jumped a bayou and spread to Lottonia, a residence suburb, where it destroyed some of the finest homes. About sixty families are homeless.

COLUMBIA NOT COOLED OFF

Would Rather Not Receive Minister from United States

Washington: The state department has learned that an intimation has been conveyed to Mr. Snyder, United States minister at Bogota, that the Colombian government would rather not receive Mr. Russell as minister. It is distinctly stated that there is nothing personal to Mr. Russell in this attitude. The intimation is said to have come from the Colombian side, but it is simply an illustration of the sentiment felt by Colombia toward the United States.

It is said that the department that Mr. Russell will take advantage of a leave of absence already granted him to return to his home in Washington and at the expiration of the legal time, if the Colombians are in the same state of mind, another and perhaps better diplomatic post will be found for him.

WORRIED OVER VENEZUELA

Uncle Sam Looks Askance at Extensive Military Measures

Washington: Military measures on a large scale begun recently by Venezuela are giving rise to a great deal of concern at Washington. It is said that a French company sold Venezuela 1,500,000 livres' worth of artillery, which is being placed in fortifications at Puerto Cabello and at other ports.

Just what this extensive armament means, when Venezuela is so poor, is a matter of speculation, and there is some fear that it is the forerunner of a repudiation by Venezuela of liability for further payments of installments of indebtedness under the awards of the recent arbitrations.

INSURANCE A GREAT FEATURE

Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Has Paid $12,500,000.

Los Angeles, Cal.: The convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers resumed consideration of its insurance report at Wednesday's session. The report shows that during the operation of the insurance plan $12,500,000 has been paid out in benefits, averaging at the present time $100,000 monthly to beneficiaries and disabled members. The insurance report showed a greater advance in that branch of the brotherhood's work during the past biennial than at any time in its history.

Brown, of Berkeley, Cal.

STATE OF NEBRASKA

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN A CONDENSED FORM.

Opportunity of a Lifetime—More Than 8,000,000 Acres of Grazing Land Opened to Nebraska—Settlers May Obtain 640 Acres.

A Lincoln special says: Fine grazing land—more than 8,000,000 acres of it—is thrown open to public settlement by the new Kinkaid bill. Homesteads of 640 acres may be obtained by the settlers. June 28 is the date of the opening of the lands for homestead entry. This opening gives a chance for the first time to the farmer who has not been slow in recognizing his opportunities.

The recent discoveries of the foreign grasses which will grow luxuriantly on even the poorest of this western land makes every foot of the government-owned lands of the sixth congressional district, and the area covered is about the size of Vermont, Connecticut and Massachusetts combined. About 400,000 acres of the grant lies in Custer County, and Rock County contains more than 200,000 acres.

The Kinkaid bill provides that there shall be excluded from the provisions of the act such lands within the territory as, in the opinion of the secretary of the interior, it may be reasonably practicable to irrigate under the irrigation law or by private enterprise.

It is estimated that the fees and commissions on all entries under this act shall be uniformly the same as those charged under the present law for a maximum entry at the minimum price. That the commutation provisions of the homestead law shall not apply to entries under the Kinkaid bill is also provided.

The opportunity of a lifetime is now open in western Nebraska.

BROTHER INVESTIGATES.

Expecta Parties Under Arrest Will Be Proven Guilty.

Thomas J. Fozell has returned to Humboldt from Nuckolls County, where he has been engaged in superintending the work of logging on the land of his brother, Eli Fozell, the farmer who disappeared mysteriously last November.

Fozell is looked upon as though the matter is settled, but since the recent finding of parts of a human body on the farm and a grave underneath the kitchen of the farm house, evidence has been steadily accumulating, and Mr. Fozell says everything points to the guilt of the parties under arrest, charged with the murder of his brother.

The search has been a long one, but the movements of the suspected ones have been carefully traced until it seems the path is now too light to be broken.

The parties under arrest are Mrs. Hutchins, the housekeeper, her son, Charles, and her daughter, Mary. The preliminary hearing is set for June 13 at Nelson.

WASHINGTON Gossip

The fifty-eighth Congress appropriated $781,574,629.90. In this amount is included all the regular annual bills, deficiencies, amounts authorized by special acts, etc. If from this amount there shall be deducted contributions to the sinking fund and amounts appropriated for deficiencies there will be left approximately $700,000,000 as the expenditures authorized for the operation of the government during the next fiscal year. Analysis of the Appropriations is interesting. The regular annual appropriations amount to $612,300,000.00; deficiencies to $23,801,843.03; miscellaneous to $1,000,000.00; permanent appropriations to $141,471,820. The increases in appropriation bills of 1905 over 1904 aggregate $28,516,123.97. Increases of separate bills are as follows:

Diplomatic	51,800,000.00
District of Columbia	2,384,043.00
Postoffice	229,177.74
Interior	116,272.31
Judicial	68,200,000.00
War	1,000,000.00
Military Academy	22,200,000.00
Navy	10,000,000.00
Rivers and harbors, regular bill	1,000,000.00
Sundry civil	2,300,000.00
Permanent appropriations	8,882,000.00
Total increase	28,516,123.97

Against these are to be placed the decreases, which are as follows:

Agriculture	17,120,000.00
Army	818,451.95
Pension	1,400,000.00
Sundry civil	2,300,000.00
Miscellaneous	1,000,000.00
Total decrease	25,038,902.95
Net increase	3,477,221.02

A careful study of the figures shows that the increases in appropriations for the civil establishment greatly exceed those for the military establishment, the military appropriations, as a matter of fact, showing a decrease of almost $10,000,000.

The Department of Commerce and Labor has issued a statement showing the cost of government of the principal countries of the world. The statement is based on statistics of the year 1903, the latest available from foreign countries. It shows the population, the expenditures, and the per capita expenditure of each nation treated, with the result that the cost of our government is the lowest on the list. From the data on the statement the following comparative table is provided:

Country	Population	Expenditure	Per capita
New Zealand	788,000	$30,241,000	$38.38
Albania	3,772,000	142,148,000	37.69
Belgium	4,911,000	407,300,000	83.16
France	38,902,000	1,005,200,000	25.84
Germany	60,000,000	1,500,000,000	25.00
Austria-Hungary	45,400,000	1,000,000,000	22.03
Spain	20,000,000	400,000,000	20.00
Sweden	5,000,000	100,000,000	20.00
Denmark	2,000,000	40,000,000	20.00
Switzerland	3,000,000	60,000,000	20.00
United States	80,372,000	2,800,000,000	34.84

A study of this table shows that the cost of maintaining a representative government is more expensive than republican. The cost of our government is $21.20, while that of our government is $17.97. Contrary to the popular notion, the cost of government is much less for the United States than it is for any other great nation. While the cost is as high as $21.20 per person for the United States, it is $17.97 for France, $14.27 for Austria-Hungary, $11.49 for the Netherlands, $9.54 for Norway, $8.00 for Sweden, and $4.05 for the German Empire. It is only $7.97 for the United States. These figures are cited from a report just issued by the Board of Statistics at Washington, and may be presumed to be correct. Of course, some of the expenditures of our State governments correspond to outlays made by the central authorities in most of the other countries, and an allowance should be made on this account. After making all reasonable reductions, however, in the cost of such governments as Great Britain, France and Germany to render the comparison with ours fairer, it is clear that we are in a much better position as regards the expenditure of our governmental machine than are the people of Europe.

Under the provisions of the treaty by which the Chinese government gave its sanction to the exclusion of its subjects from the United States, citizens of the United States are privileged to denounce it only once previous to the expiration of its ten years' term, Dec. 27, 1904. The Chinese government has served formal notice upon the United States, denouncing the treaty. This action necessitates negotiations for a new agreement. Meanwhile Congress has enacted the exclusion law.

How closely nations watch one another and how quick they are to learn of one another has been demonstrated in the United States Senate. When the naval appropriation bill came up, the item of expense for the construction of new battleships was opposed almost wholly on the ground that Japan, in her present war with Russia, had demonstrated the superiority of small vessels, like torpedo boats, and had shown the impotence of battleships in modern naval warfare.

In late years the first session of a Congress has usually lasted long into the warm weather, even in "Presidential" years. The adjournment of the Fifty-eighth Congress this year was unusually early. The Fifty-eighth Congress held its first session on March 27, 1904, more than a month earlier. But there is a country of eighty million people has more business for its legislators than a country of six millions.

The total appropriations at the recent session of Congress amounted to $781,574,629.90. Of this total, about $3,000,000.00 is for the sinking fund or for deficiencies in the previous year, leaving the amount of expenditures authorized during the next fiscal year a little less than $700,000,000.

COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL

Special dispatches to the International Mercantile Agency describe a general trade revival this week at prominent Western and Southwestern centers. The situation is noteworthy in contrast with conditions during the previous month, and has its basis in more reasonable weather and increased orders for spring stock. Jobbing centers report a material addition to the volume of "restocking business" with a tendency among merchants to duplicate orders previously given for spring goods. Dry goods have been particularly active, with a healthy demand for both spring and fall stock. Clothing lines are also showing improvement, which is shown especially throughout the Southwest. Boots and shoes are active, with more inquiry for the better qualities.

Heavy weight goods have been consumed in such quantities as to reduce supplies of carried over stock to the lowest volume in years. This has placed dealers in an especially strong position to handle seasonal goods, which they are doing profitably and expeditiously, owing to the generally milder weather. Although the improvement has been noteworthy, it is doubtful whether the present rush of orders will be sufficient to make good the March and April deficiencies. People generally seem to be well supplied with money, and while cautious about engaging in new enterprises, they are not backward about securing underlying conditions are reported to be sound. The crop situation has been greatly benefited by the warmer weather, which has advanced wheat in sections where backward spring did great damage. Although wheat suffered serious damage from the setback during the recent cold snap, a fair crop can be counted on if normal conditions prevail. Most grains will be harvested two or three weeks later than usual, although it is possible that the next government report will describe a generally better condition than was shown by the last figures. Winter wheat is showing up particularly well in some sections. Seeding in the Red River Valley district has been retarded by unfavorable weather, so that the crop outlook in that section is problematical. Elsewhere throughout the Northwest encouraging conditions prevail.

Chicago. Duin's weekly review of the trade for the week says: The protracted the most lake commerce has remained the normal business. The wheat and its derivatives, and its products, are upon receipts of wheat, corn and the forwarding of food stuffs reached the heaviest aggregate in two months past, making a considerable addition to railroad traffic. Following the strike settlement and resumption of building work there was a strong demand for materials of all kinds for structural purposes and denters reduced stocks at firm prices. Receipts of farm products declined owing to the rush in completing seeding. Reports emphasize much improvement in agricultural conditions, especially throughout Illinois, and dealings reflect enlarged consumption of necessities both in city and country. Stocks of heavy weight wear have been measurably reduced and the demand has turned to the lines adapted to warm weather. The local buying at the market was well distributed and most of the transactions were active in dry goods, clothing and millinery furnishings, with receipts more numerous. Mercantile collections have continued satisfactory.

Grain shipments were 2,742,345 bushels, while the best aggregate recently reported is 30 per cent under those of a year ago. Dealings in the course grains showed improved demand. The market for cash wheat and flour was very narrow. Compared with clover hay, May wheat advanced 7 cents per bushel, due to speculative influences, and corn gained 1 cent, while oats were practically unchanged. Receipts of live stock were 239,754 head, compared with 275,223 head the previous week and 275,223 head a year ago. Failures reported in Chicago district number twenty-four, against thirty the previous week and thirty-eight a year ago.

THE BATTLE-FIELDS. OLD SOLDIERS TALK OVER ARMY EXPERIENCES.

The Blue and the Gray Review Incidents of the Late War, and in a Graphic and Interesting Manner Tell of Camp, March and Battle.

"Covering a retreat," said the Captain, "is the hardest work soldiers are called upon to perform. The safety of an army often depends on the masterfulness of the officer in command of a rear guard and on the staying qualities of his men. It was the fate of our regiment, the Fifty-second Ohio, to act as rear guard on a retreat when it was only a few weeks old, and on that march the men learned a good many things not in the books.

"The regiment was mustered into the service Aug. 22, 1862, and Aug. 30 was marching from Lexington, Ky., to ward the Kentucky river to re-enforce General William Nelson in battle at Richmond. The summer had been unusually dry, the pike was ankle deep in dust, and there was little water to be found. The march was a hard one, and our green regiment had the advantage. During that day and the next we were continually meeting stragglers from the battle-field, big with tales of privation and disaster. Each straggler was the sole survivor of his command, which had been literally annihilated in bloody battle.

"This was very trying on the nerves of new men. We could hear the artillery firing before we left Lexington, and we could hear it better as we advanced. At night we were meeting every few minutes straggling squads from the front, who spent all their spare time firing at each other. As the stragglers came in the regiment would halt a few minutes to hear the latest news from the front and a new description of the battle. At one of these parleys the men, exhausted and nerve shaken, dropped down to get a minute's rest. For several hours stragglers had been telling us just ahead of us or in our rear.

"Therefore, as we rested we were apprehensive, expecting Morgan's cavalry to ride up on us. Imagine the excitement, then, when, during one of those roadside halts we heard a commotion in the Twenty-eighth Ohio in our rear. We were in the woods at the time and could hear horses galloping on the flinty pike and chains rattling on the road. Somebody in the rear shouted, 'Morgan's cavalry!' Every other man took up the cry and, half awake, the men, many of them gung and hatless, jumped to either side of the road, a high fence preventing further retreat.

"Crowded into fence corners the men waited for the worst, and it came in the shape of miles with doubletree chains and singletrees flying. The miles, scared worse than any man in the ranks, ran from the rear almost to the full length of the regiment before they were caught. Then the men swept back into the road, and I never forgot one of them who would admit that he had broken ranks or had lost a gun. As for myself, I recovered my lost gun, and never made a remark to indicate it had ever been out of my hands.

"Jo Swan, however, lost his gun and cap. Something had to be done, and to lose to the occasion with characteristic resourcefulness. At the next halt he found Private Chubb of company K asleep, and gently relieved him of his gun and cap. He removed the letter K from the cap, pastoring the spot where the cap had been with dust and mud. The next day as we were in full retreat to Lexington, acting as rear guard under Colonel Dan McCook, and the hot sun was beating down on us unmercifully, Chubb came up bareheaded, cursing everybody in general, and the man who stole his cap and gun in particular. Jo Swan was a man to tell your troubles to, and Chubb found in Jo a sympathetic listener.

"The mention of Jo Swan," said Sergeant Sam Grimshaw, "reminds me that on the day of that mule stampede most of us were so frightened that from that time we began to turn gray. When those mules broke loose, with the spreaders and the Lord only knows how many other chains, we thought for a minute that the whole rebel army, cavalry, infantry and artillery had been turned loose on us.

"Our only casualty was injury to George Malone, upon whose breast one of the frightened mules stepped, inflicting a wound more painful and serious than if he had been struck by a bullet. Malone was discharged at Nashville, Tenn., and draws a pension as a result of that mule stampede. But I want to say that our company (B. Fifty-second) stands in a class by itself in that it had not a single case of desertion in its three years' service. From start to finish we had 120 men in the company, and if the records published by the state of Ohio are correct, our company is the only one from the state that did not report a case of desertion.

away I started to join them. I had gone about thirty yards when I turned and pleaded with Bond to quit his hammering, as he surely would explode the shell. He had the hatchet raised to make a cut or strike a blow when I spoke, and he answered, saying: 'All right; I will strike once more and quit.' I remember his face as he spoke the words, and I remember how the other boys looked in the distance. Then something happened.

"Bond struck once more and quit. He had to. The shell exploded and carried away his right arm. Colonel Ciancy, who was a physician and surgeon, performed the operation and said it was one of the wonders of war that Bond escaped with his life. We found the hatchet handle with three of Bond's fingers severed five yards from the place of explosion. The hatchet itself was far away. The other boys, 300 yards away, saw pieces of the shell whistled past them. I heard nothing but the roar of the bursting shell."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

"The Man on the Bank." "After the charge of Stone River," said Dan A. Anderson, "I helped my wounded brother to a hospital and assisted the surgeons in looking after him and other wounded. When I started to return to my company I was commanded to remain and, carrying the matter to regimental headquarters in protest against the action of Surgeon J. T. Wood, I lost my case and was detailed temporarily for hospital duty.

"So it happened that I served as wardmaster and chief cook of ward B, general field hospital, Army of the Cumberland, chief cook of all the wards, expert nurse, doing all the difficult bandaging and finally serving as commissary. While at Stevenson some weeks later I was in my tent making out a requisition for supplies, when I walked a dandy, who, without saying a word, sat down on my bunk. I had quite a number of colored men working for me, and as it was no new thing to have one of them come to my quarters, I paid no attention to the man on the bunk.

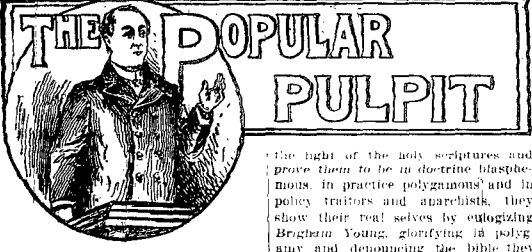

"I worked at my figures for nearly an hour and was on the point of starting for headquarters to have the requisition countersigned when the dandy said: 'Aint yous gwine to show me which is the down?' 'Why, yes,' I began, 'out there under that tree.' To this the man on the bunk answered plaintively: 'The dandy sent me over here, and said you'd take care of me. I is sick, I is.' 'What is the matter?' I asked, with the patience of the indifferent. 'What ails you?' and he answered: 'I has got the smallpox; dat's what I has got.'

"This settled the question of indifference. Taking a good look at him, I saw that Vesuvius couldn't hold a candle to him in the matter of breaking out. It was only a few steps to the surgeon's tent and I was soon there in my temper over the sending of a smallpox case to my tent. The dandy laughed and said: 'I told him to go over there to dat tent; point to the real thing, away up on the side of the mountain, half a mile away, but directly in line with my tent.'

"It was another case of nobody to blame, but the fact that the negro stopped short of the smallpox hospital was a troublesome one. Two in our camp took the disease, and one from Centerville, Ind., died. The other was that of a preacher, acting as chaplain of the camp, who struck his head by at my tent, yelled 'smallpox' and bolted. It was quick work and a great joke, but he had the smallpox all the same. Surgeon Wood, by the way, was, in himself, a whole dramatic personage of four-horse power. He had this legend about his desk:

If you come here on business, Attend to dat businessness. And go about your businessness. So we can attend to our businessness.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Held in High Esteem. Few generals were so beloved and revered by their soldiers as Stone-wall Jackson, the "great fighter," was by his. His simplicity, modesty, daring, skill in the field, his unflinching endurance in his troops while his men were exposed to their admiration. Whenever he was cheering was heard in Jackson's camp those who were drenched from being present at the occasion would say: "Here comes either Jackson or an old rebel!"

THE POPULAR PULPIT

A WISE CAUTION. By Rev. J. M. BERR. "Fret not thyself."—Isaiah xxxvii. This word of advice is not to be confused with its modern substitute, "don't worry." Anxiety is not always avoidable. Worry of the deepest kind may arise from various causes, but what the psalmist says is, "Don't fret thyself." Don't fret over things that are beyond thy control. Don't fret over things that are beyond thy control. Don't fret over things that are beyond thy control.

Usually fretfulness is catalogued as a humor rather than as a sin and associated with teething children and chronic invalids, but, in fact, there is something selfish about it, since to be indulged with the most delicious enjoyment it must be shared with others and our annoyance is increased tenfold if nobody takes any notice. Granted that fretfulness is but a humor that will pass, still, it recurs too often it may become a habit. What ever is characteristic of pass, still, it recurs too often it may become a habit. What ever is characteristic of pass, still, it recurs too often it may become a habit.

The chief cause of fretfulness with the psalmist specifies is envy, such envy, perhaps, as sent Ahab to bed and turned his night into the vineyard of Naboth. Such envy as brought fretful Martha to Jesus asking: "Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? Bid her therefore that she help me." To fret another person, and we are not praised; to see another happy—and we are not contented, and how often the spirit of the elder brother at once begins to put in his fine work. Such a state of mind is unhealthy and may result in positive injury to self and others; therefore, the psalmist not only points out its most prolific cause, but hastily proceeds to point out certain effective remedies.

If the nerves are always kept at the same tension the body will quickly wear out. Relaxation and diversion are a necessity. Similarly, it is possible for the soul to indulge in too much self-concentration; it needs at times to escape from self and think about somebody else. It may trouble itself too keenly about its spiritual menu, too punctiliously inquiring, "What shall I eat and what shall I drink?" To dwell too much on the delicate nature of the spiritual organism, its liability to errors, and its professed mistakes, changes the soul into a fretful invalid. "Trust in the Lord and do good," and the result will be a healthy disposition. Unselfish works will take the selfishness out of life and leave the heart neither time nor inclination to fret itself.

One of the commonest symptoms of fretfulness is impatience; it is not always easy to "Rest in the Lord and wait patiently for him," not an easy thing to surrender our own judgment and "commit our way unto the Lord." Men wait quick returns to-day on their investments. They are willing to trust their bread upon the waters, but they want to find it again by afternoon; they are willing to go forth, even with weeping if needs be, bearing precious seed, but they must doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing their sheaves with them not later than 6 o'clock. God has not promised quick returns. That "exceeding weight of glory" that Paul speaks about is not due six months from date of first installment of faith. "In due season we shall reap if we faint not."

"Fret not thyself" and there is no body else that can. Out of our own hearts come the thoughts that annoy and the worries that trouble us. Lock the door and put the key in God's hand; let him do the opening and the shutting, and for yourself, "Trust in the Lord and do good." Commit thy way unto the Lord and he shall bring it to pass. "Rest in him, wait patiently for him, fret not thyself in any wise."

MORMONISM IS DENOUNCED. By Dr. John Merritt Driver, Chicago. No beast of the desert, no serpent in the jungle has been so feendishly and persistently sinned against as man has sinned against woman. Take, for example, polygamy. Polygamy was instituted at the very gate of Eden—but on the outside. The sweet and sublime ideal of equality and brotherly equality was lost in the beginning and was never recovered until the coming of the great Burden Bearer. For 4,000 years while one husband constituted one-half the marriage compact it required two to 1,000 wives to constitute the other half. The history of every land and age and people's revolt and crimson with this most revolting barbarity and abomination. Even Columbus to-day hangs her head in shame and beseeches her guests from foreign lands to avoid Utah and the five contiguous states and territories lest her foulness and corruption be discovered.

Nor does Chicago escape the curse and menace. Mormon missionaries swarm in our city. They line our streets, they bombard us with their literature, they knock at our doors, they force themselves into our homes. Resourceful as Japs, as cunning as Jesuits, unprincipled as the master they serve, they present their program and press their suit. At first they say, "Oh, yes, we believe in the bible and in Jesus just as your Baptists, Presbyterians, Methodists or Catholics do. Nay, we would die for this sweet faith and blessed Savior." But when you turn on them

OLD FAVORITES

Do They Miss Me at Home? Do they miss me at home, do they miss me? 'Twould be an assurance most dear, To know that this moment some loved one Were saying, 'I wish he was here.' To feel that the group at the fireside Were thinking of me as I roam, Oh, yes, 'twould be joy beyond measure To know that they miss'd me at home.

When twilight approaches, the season That ever is repeated to song, Does some one repeat my name over, And sigh that I tarry so long? And is there a chord in the music That's miss'd when my voice is away? And a chord in each least the awaketh Regret at my wearisome stay?

Do they set me a chair near the table, When evening's home pleasures are nigh, When the candles are lit in the parlor, And the stars in the calm, azure sky? And when the "good-nights" are repeated, And all lay them down to their sleep, Do they think of the absent, and wait for A whisper'd "good-night" while they weep?

Do they miss me at home—do they miss me? At morning, at noon, or at night? And fingers one gloomy shade round them? That only my presence can light? Are joy less intricately welcome, And pleasures less hale than before, Because one is miss'd from the circle, Because I am with them no more?

The Spacious Firmament on High, The spacious firmament on high, With all the blue ethereal sky, And spangled heavens, a shining frame, Their great Original proclaim. The unwearied sun, from day to day, Does his Creator's power display, And publishes to every land the work of an Almighty hand.

Soon as the evening shades prevail, The moon takes up the wondrous tale, And nightly to the listening earth Repetitions of her birth; Whilst all the stars that round her burn, And all the planets in their turn, Confirm the tidings as they roll, And spread the truth from pole to pole.

What though in solemn silence all Move round this dark terrestrial ball, What though no real voice nor sound Amidst their radiant orbs be found, In reason's ear they all rejoice, And utter forth a glorious voice, Forever singing as they shine, "The hand that made us is divine."—Joseph Addison.

ODD CANDLE AUCTIONS. Method Still Employed in a Few English Parishes. A curious method of sale by auction, which is still observed in one or two places as a matter of ancient custom, but which was once very common, is sale by candle, says the Ashton (England) Reporter. A fragment of candle, an inch or less in length, was lighted as the thing to be sold was put up, and the auctioneer received bids so long as the candle burned. The successful bid was the last made before the flame went out. When the competition was all keen it must have required considerable acuteness and nice power of discrimination on the part of the salesman to know the probable price of the candle. In the description of Mr. Pepps given in the Ashton Reporter, it is said that the candle was lighted as the thing to be sold was put up, and the auctioneer received bids so long as the candle burned.
