Wm. Weight came home from Omaha Saturday.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Donley on Saturday.

Chas. L. Robbins and wife, of Lincoln, passed Sunday with friends in Wayne.

William Healy, editor of the Miller, S. D. Gazette, was in town Monday morning on his way to Bloomfield.

A grain dealer at Randolph has received an order for 5,000 bushels of corn to be shipped to Manila, P. I.

Geo. L. Nelson, formerly of the Hartington Herald, proposes to move to Michigan to engage in farming.

R. Pritchard, Mrs. Ward Williams, Fred Wilcox, Mrs. B. D. Merrill and C. F. Nauen and family, were Carroll people doing business in Wayne Saturday.

William Donler who has three times been convicted at Neligh, of cattle stealing, was freed from the jail at that place Friday afternoon, and at last accounts was still at liberty.

A mild blast of cold weather landed here this week and spelled the frogs in neighboring ponds to hang up their hump, and mankind to stir their fires and seek other comforts necessary to combat frosty elements.

The bazaar and supper under the auspices of the Methodist Ladies Saturday afternoon and evening were generously patronized, the management realizing about $170.

Wm. Oida of Winona has accepted a position as clerk in A. Rosenberg's store to take the place of R. A. Hopkins who removes to Lincoln to fill a clerkship in the secretary of state's office.

Otto Krel, son of Fred Krel, living eight miles north of Wayne, accidentally caught his left arm in a corn sheller Saturday and had his bones and flesh badly crushed and torn. Dr. Leisenring was called.

Harry Hirsch and his cook, Wm. Wilson, had a misunderstanding Thursday evening about something or other and before they were squared to suit both parties Wilson got a pretty black eye as a result of coming in contact with Hirsch's fist. It was mainly a case of too much booze.

Judge Norris has been in Washington, D. C., the past few weeks in the interest of his promotion from judge of the court of first instance to judge of the supreme court in the Philippines. His many friends hereabouts wish for his success. His absence in Washington has necessarily delayed the family some days in starting on the return to Maui. They had expected to leave this week.

District court convenes next Monday, December 19, and there will be quite a string of jury cases unless the litigants do some fixing up between this and the date named. The trial of Mrs. E. C. Powell, charged with an attempt to kill her husband, and that of Ben Patrick for raising a check, will be among the criminal cases to be tried.

There is a disposition among our business men and farmers of the county to revive the Wayne County Fair. The project if it goes will have at its head men of push and it is safe to say will be made a complete success. No county in the state is so well situated as ours for the successful holding of an creditable fair and we are certain that if it is decided to go ahead there will be an exhibition of the county's resources that will bring credit to it and its people. We hope to be able to give something definite regarding this matter in the very near future.

Charley Martin thinks Prof. Pile is pretty cranky. Charley was scattering some manure last Saturday advertising Lydia Pinkham's or some other remedies and got up on College hill and scattered his books in and about the dormitories in a rather liberal manner and at the time Charley had everything filled up the professor put in an appearance and gave Charley a very urgent invitation to gather up his tracts and make tracks for some other place. Charley obeyed, but his opinion of the whole affair is not expressed in language usually heard in a prayer meeting.

T. Rockhold came into these editorial precincts the other day with a few elm twigs to back up what he was about to say. And then he proceeded to declare that he was willing to stake his reputation as a prophet that we are going to have a mild winter. "Look at my dog's fur," said he "and you will find that the hair is thinner than usual. Corn husks are light and prairie chickens have fewer feathers than usual. Here is an elm twig all budded and ready to burst out into leaves. You may just tell them that I want it to be a mild winter so they can't say I never said it when the winter is over."—Ord Quiz.

Carl Sand, one of the section foremen, met with a very severe accident Thursday afternoon of last week while in the performance of his duties. He and his men were repairing a switch and in some way or other a piece of steel was knocked from one of the rails and struck him in the right eye. He went to Omaha Friday accompanied by R. V. Karpenstein and the surgeon there made a class examination and found the fragment of steel had not lodged in the eye, as supposed, but had cut the ball very severely. Mr. Sand remained at Omaha and is at the Clark hospital where everything possible is being done to save the eye, but it is feared that he will lose it, and at best the surgeons do not think it will ever be of much account to him.

The big sugar factory which was located at Norfolk fourteen years ago and in consideration of which the citizens of that place gave a bonus of $150,000 in cash, besides 240 acres of land, will soon be removed to Lamar, Colo., where the sugar capitalists have secured a greater acreage of beets with which to carry on the factory. The institution closed its last run at Norfolk the first of the week and the work of removal has been undertaken. The buildings, boilers and real estate have been left to be used by some new enterprise by Norfolk in view of its big bonus. The commercial club of that city has already under consideration propositions from companies desiring to replace the sugar factory with other manufacturing institutions. The factory is removed because of lack of supply of beets in the vicinity of Norfolk, and the farmers thereabouts maintain that they cannot afford to raise beets, as their soil will produce crops that require less work and are more profitable.

In answering the question of whether farming is one of the well paying avocations of life or not, we can cite the case of a young man not five miles from Wayne who has produced this season from 180 acres 4,000 bushels of corn and 1,500 bushels of oats, besides all kinds of garden stuff and potatoes, and has raised a nice lot of calves, pigs and chickens. He sold his oats at twenty-eight cents per bushel and can get the same for his corn, and if you know of any young man just twenty-one years of age who has done as well in some other line of business we would be glad to have you trot him out. The above is not an exceptional case by any means but is only one of the many who have done fully as well, and some have done much better than the one cited.

The fellows who want county offices are undoubtedly laying the wires for nomination and election and the fight in this county next summer and fall is likely to be a pretty lively affair. There is no doubt Jack Cherry will attempt to hold on to the treasurership and Charley Reynolds the clerkship. These are the only two offices in the county really worth making a fight for and it is safe to predict that there will be republicans ready to tackle the job of putting the present democrats in about out of business. With this country as strong ly republican as at present it looks as though republican nominees ought and doubtless will be able to knock the persimmons, even against two as good campaigners as the gentlemen named.

The most important office, the one in which the tax payers are the most vitally interested, is that of county commissioner. It is with the board of commissioners the power lies to make taxes high or low; they have the oversight of the business and financial affairs of the county, and here is where great care should be made in the selection of men. The office is not one in which the compensation is at all in accord with the responsibilities placed on the shoulders of the men composing the board.

are cognizant of the fact that it is somewhat difficult to get men with the ability required to accept this place and for that reason many times the office goes to men of less ability than the requirements of the place demand. We are not authorized to say that Judge Hunter, Sheriff Mears, District Clerk Kuhl or Superintendent Bright will be aspirants to succeed themselves, but presume that some of them at least will be.

Rockefeller remarked with great show of feeling before his Sunday school class recently: "Money is only a trifle to man's hands and to use it improperly is a great sin." There is a general impression that he has been censured with too much of it.

Are Never Without Pe-ru-na in the Home for Catarrhal Diseases.

Under date of January 10, 1897, Dr. Hartman received the following letter:

"My wife has been a sufferer from a complication of diseases for the past twenty-five years. Her case has baffled the skill of some of the most noted physicians. One of her worst troubles was chronic constipation of several years' standing. She was also pining through that most critical period in the life of a woman—change of life.

"I will ever continue to speak a good word for Peruna. I am still cured of catarrh."—John O. Atkinson, Independence, Mo., Box 272.

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR A FREE PE-RU-NA ALMANAC FOR 1905

The Colonel's Lameness Cured. In a certain skirmish a Colonel (general he came to call himself) got a slight scratch on his leg. The wound was a matter of great glory to him, and he nursed it through after days, growing lammer with every year, that the memory of his bravery might be ever near him.

One day, late in his life, as he sat nursing his leg and pondering the glorious past, a young man, visiting the family for the first time, approached and sympathetically remarked: "Lame, general?"

"Yes, sir," after a pause, and with inexpressible solemnity, "I am lame."

"No," with rebuking sternness, "I have not been riding."

"Ah! Slipped on the ice, general?"

"No, sir," with actual ferocity, "Perhaps, then, you have sprained your ankle, sir?"

With a painful slowness the old man lifted his leg in both hands, set it carefully on the floor, rose slowly from his chair, and, looking down upon the unfortunate youth with mingled pity and wrath, burst forth in the sublimity of rage: "Go read the history of your country, you puppy!"—London Tit-Bits

Matter of Geography. "How often does the earth have a revolution?" asked the teacher. "What part of the earth?" inquired the pupil. "What part?" "Yes, sir. If you mean in the United States, every twenty-four hours, but if you mean in South America, they have 'em oftener."—Philadelphia Record.

JAPS STILL POUNDING AWAY AT PORT ARTHUR.

Little Yellow Men Are Straining Every Nerve to Capture the Russian Stronghold—Mikado's Army Making Progress—General News of the Conflict.

The Japanese soldiers are straining every nerve to get into Port Arthur before the Baltic fleet shall arrive there. That fleet is slowly moving eastward. It was reported last week that Admiral Rojdestvensky's division was coming off Swakopsand, in German Southwest Africa.

The Japanese have made progress at Port Arthur. They have galloped the entrance called Two Hundred and Three Meter Hill and the fort which crowns it. That hill is dominated by others of which the Russians retain possession, but the Japanese think it is worth the price paid for it, which is said, though the figures probably are exaggerated, to have been 5,000 in killed and wounded.

The seizure of the hill is a breach in the inner line of defenses of Port Arthur. The desperate and unsuccessful effort of General Stoessel to regain it shows how much importance he attaches to its possession. It is admitted at St. Petersburg that the loss is irreparable and the fall of the fortress only a question of time. But while the advanced position held by the Japanese commands the town and harbor of Port Arthur, the Russians can fall back to the forts on the Liaoi promontory south of the town, and if they hold on to those forts as stubbornly as they have to the others it may be weeks before General Stoessel holds the white flag.

General Nogi made the last day of November memorable in the history of the siege of Port Arthur by capturing Two Hundred and Three Meter Hill, overlooking the Etzshan and Antzshant forts. Once before, in the middle of September, he had succeeded in placing a company of his men well up toward the summit, but after a day and a night without food or water the company was driven off by the Russians. The all-day fighting of Nov. 30 followed several days of preliminary attacks. Repeated charges were repulsed before the fierce Russian resistance was overcome, and it was not till late in the evening that the entire summit was in Japanese hands.

It speaks well for the indomitable courage of the Russian soldiers, both officers and men, that in the face of all their losses and discouragements they were keen enough to attempt a sortie the following day to recover the hill. So reduced are the Russian soldiers in number that they are not sufficient to man even the short line of forts on which the fighting has now centered. The sailors from the fleet have been sent out to help, and sailors' bodies were among those picked up by the Japanese after the Russian sortie had been repulsed.

While the Japanese are nerved to heroism by the hope of an early victory, the Russian defenders of the fortress must surely by this time have realized that they are beyond succor and that they have nothing before them but capture. They are but a remnant, probably not more than a quarter or a third, of the original garrison. Wounded, they must suffer without comforts. Dead, they must often enough lie unburied. Their generals have no thought of surrender, and in the terrible rage of a final assault the men can expect no quarter from the enemy. They face extermination. And yet they fight on as fiercely and doggedly as ever.

Port Arthur will have a place in history as one of the most famous of sieges. The Japanese assaults will be remembered for their cheerful defiance to death in their terrible charges, but the Russian defenders will make an even stronger appeal to the imaginations of men in the future.

As far as is known the situation on the line of the Shakkho River is much what it was a week ago. There have been Russian reports of movements in which the Japanese got the worst of it, and Japanese reports in which the Russians came off second best. It is intimated that General Kuroki is moving around the Russian left flank, but there is no evidence of it.

Nearly all the correspondents and military attaches have left the Russian army. This is an indication that no great battle is looked for during the winter. It is hard to believe that the two huge armies will remain where they are until spring. It is said that the Russians are suffering for lack of fuel and are thinking of a forward movement to get possession of the Yental coal mines, of which the Japanese have the benefit. If so it will be the first battle on record for the possession of a coal mine. The question of water supply may become a serious one now that the streams are frozen up. The epidemics which come from the drinking of polluted water may break out.

The Japanese diet has met and is preparing to vote the money needed to carry off the war next year. The terms which it was intimated during the week would be acceptable to Japan—the restoration of Manchuria to China and the renunciation by Russia of her lease of the tip of the Liaotung peninsula, Port Arthur to be dismantled—are not acceptable to Russia. The rumor that she is willing to make peace with Japan if that country will enter into a close alliance, the two to be joint masters of China and the Orient, hardly deserves notice.

Kuropetkoff reports an engagement with the Japanese at the Shakkho river during a blizzard and fog, in which, it is said, the Japanese were repulsed.

THE WEEKLY HISTORIAN

One Hundred Years Ago.

British West India ports were closed to all American commerce. Napoleon and his wife Josephine were crowned at Paris by Pope Pius VII.

The governor of Hayti ordered a duty of $2 per gallon on all liquor imported into that island. The director of Salzburg suppressed in his states the tax imposed on Jews.

The legislature of South Carolina rejected by a single vote the bill prohibiting the importation of slaves into that State.

The first accurate map of Virginia, prepared by James Madison, was completed. By a treaty concluded between the State of Georgia and the Creek Indians the Okmulgee River was named as the boundary.

Seventy-five Years Ago. The United States government sent a commission to Georgia to discover the true boundaries of the Cherokee and Creek nations in that State.

The British government abolished the right of "suits," or immolation of widows on the funeral pile of their husbands.

Extensive cotton factories were being erected at Calcutta, India. Twelve slaves, who muffled on the schooner Lafayette, were tried by the United States court of Louisiana.

Russia ordered all her troops to evacuate Erzerum and all territory annexed to Russia by the treaty of Adrianople.

J. K. Mitchell, of Philadelphia, invented a method by which India rubber could be made into thin and almost transparent sheets.

London papers were urging parliament to repair the cloisters and interior of Westminster Abbey, which was in a sad state of dilapidation.

Forty Years Ago. The taking of evidence at the trial of several persons for treason at Indianapolis, Ind., involving the Knights of the Golden Circle, closed.

The first fire alarm box in Chicago was placed at Polk and Canal streets. Sixty natives of the Southern States, residents of New York, were arrested and examined as to their knowledge of the dynamite plot to destroy the city.

President Lincoln in a message to Congress urged the curtailment of the increasing circulation of State banks. Presidential electors met in the several United States and cast the ballot that re-elected Abraham Lincoln.

Thirty Years Ago. Many thousands of miners were idle in the Lackawanna valley. Pennsylvania, and misery and crime prevailed to an alarming extent.

The managers of the western railways at a meeting in Chicago voted to abandon the free pass. President Grant made his sixth annual message to Congress, and recommended a return to specie payment.

The United States Supreme Court in denying to a plaintiff the right to collect from the government for cotton brought from the Confederacy, and seized by Union troops, held the Confederacy to have been a conspiracy.

The striking from the budget by Bismarck of the appropriation for a legion at the veteran precipitated a row in the German reichstag.

WORK BEFORE CONGRESS.

Left-Over Legislation that Will Come Up in the Next Session. Much important legislation left over from the session of Congress concluded last April remains to be settled at the third session of the Fifty-eighth Congress, writes a correspondent of the Chicago Daily News.

Among the bills of national importance left over were the two labor bills. The Greater Pension bill to limit the meaning of the word "conspiracy" was one of these and the other was a compulsory eight-hour bill for employes on government contracts.

Another important measure was the bill for the admission of Oklahoma, Indian Territory and New Mexico and Arizona as States. New Mexico has been an applicant for statehood for thirty years.

Other measures in which Chicagoans were interested which are likely to come up for first action include the Hepburn pure-food bill, the Hepburn-Balch bill regulating interstate commerce in liquors, the Lodge bill for the regulation of the consular service; an appropriation for changes in the new Chicago postoffice for the betterment of the mail service; the Mann drug bill, which permits patents on the process of making drugs only and provides for reciprocity of such patents between this and other countries; and the labor dispute arbitration bill, which was advocated by the late Volney W. Foster.

It is not unlikely that a public building bill and a rivers and harbors measure will be passed by the coming session. The latter bill includes the Hepburn pure-food bill, the Hepburn-Balch bill, and provides for reciprocity of such patents between this and other countries; and the labor dispute arbitration bill, which was advocated by the late Volney W. Foster.

Three other items of national interest ones of the regular run of legislation are likely to be considered at the opening of Congress before March 4. One of these is the Swayne impeachment trial, the principal being a federal judge in Florida who is now resting under charges of judicial conduct.

The Swoot trial will be proceeded with by the Senate committee on privileges and elections and final action is possible. The third item is the resolution introduced by Congressman Crumpacker of Indiana providing for a reduction in southern representation in Congress for States which have practically disfranchised the negro voters.

All three of these subjects will tend to liven the interest of the country in what should be a most interesting session of the national legislature.

Body of Nissen Found. Rash Attempt to Kill Across Lake Michigan Ends in Death. The body of the foohilly Peter Nissen, who attempted to cross Lake Michigan in his aquatic balloon, was found on the Michigan shore. The chilly waters of the lake were fatal to the man who had succeeded in getting through the Niagara rapids. It was the aim of Nissen, the inventor of the "foohilly," to reach an island called "Fookiller," to make an amphibian craft which would make the journey across sea and land to the north or south pole. It is the science of psychology rather than that of geographical research to which his unhappy experiment seems to have contributed. His invention had no practical value, and he was not a man to be envied.

For years Nissen had experimented with various strange boats, in one of which he took a perilous trip through the rapids of Niagara. His last invention, a bag inflated with air and intended to roll before the wind, was obviously no utility of any practical purpose. Apart from the subject of his unutilized devices, he appears to have been an ordinarily industrious, common-sense workman. What aroused his ambition and gave it such a fantastic bent, it is impossible to say. He embarked in the "foohilly" at Chicago as nonchalantly as another man might have set out to test a new bicycle. In Nissen's case, unfortunately, there was no possibility of any useful outcome from his experiments.

Captured Giant Kel. The entire canal, stretching four miles to Mine Falls, N. H., has been drawn off for the first time in half a century, and thousands of large pickered, burned plike and eels were discovered. Operations at the end of the fishery are given the freedom of the market, fishery ordinarily being prohibited, and with scoops landed the fish in great numbers. Dumpcart wagons, barrows and baskets were used to carry the stock away. Fully six tons were procured before the gates had to be opened. The grandfather of the eels was captured by Albert Provencher, it being about seven feet long and weighing upward of seven pounds.

Schools and Colleges. John S. Haylor of New York offers to pay half the cost of establishing a big undenominational college for young women at Asheville, N. Y.

Vassar College, through Prof. Braeg, has received from the minister of public instruction at Paris 100 volumes concerning French history and art.

Dr. Esmo Littmann and Howard C. Brees of the Richardson faculty, with a party, will spend the winter in Syria studying the ethnology of that country.

The triennial catalogue of Yale university shows that there are 12,744 living graduates and 9,291 dead graduates of Yale, a total of 22,035. Of the academic department, 9,167 are living and 7,248 are dead, or 19 per cent. The gain last year was 1,285 living and 1,285 living graduates for the university during the three years is 3,808 and 440 Yale graduates have died during that time.

The triennial catalogue will hereafter be changed to a quinquennial and the next catalogue will not be issued until 1910.

This year, for the first time, all the children in the schools of Berlin were examined as to their health. There were 16,000 children and 88 examiners. The results were astounding. Ten per cent of the children were found insufficiently developed in body or mind, and had to be excluded for half a year or longer; 18 per cent were not sufficiently strong to attend school, owing to the debilitating effect of scarlet fever and other diseases; 15 per cent suffered from anaemia or scrofula; 5 per cent had tuberculosis trouble, etc.

Miss Rose Hennessy, well known as a poetess and elocutionist, of Lexington, Ky., tells how she was cured of uterine inflammation and ovaritis by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been so blessedly helped through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I feel it but just to acknowledge it, hoping that it may help some other woman suffering as I did. For years I enjoyed the best of health and thought that I would always do so. I attended parties and receptions thinly clad, and would be suddenly chilled, but I did not think of the results. I caught a bad cold eighteen months ago while menstruating, and this caused inflammation of the womb and congested ovaries. I suffered excruciating pains and kept getting worse. My attention was called to your Vegetable Compound and the wonderful cures it had performed, and I made up my mind to try it for two months and see what it would do for me. Within one month I felt much better, and at the close of the second I was entirely well.

"I have advised a number of my lady friends to use it, and all express themselves as well satisfied with the results as I was."—Miss Rose Nora Hennessy, 410 S. Broadway, Lexington, Ky.

The experience and testimony of some of the most noted women of America go to prove beyond a question that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct all such troubles and, at once, by removing the cause, and restoring the organs to a normal and healthy condition.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—About two years ago I consulted a physician about my health which had become so wretched that I was no longer able to be about. I had severe backache, bearing-down pains, pains across the abdomen, was very nervous and irritable, and this trouble grew worse each month. The physician prescribed for me, but I soon discovered that he was unable to help me, and I then decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and soon found that it was doing me good. My appetite was returning, the pains disappearing, and the general benefits were well marked.

"You cannot realize how pleased I was, and after taking the medicine for only three months, I found that I was completely cured of my trouble, and have been well and hearty ever since, and no more fear the monthly period, as it now passes without pain to me."—Yours very truly, Miss Pearl Ackers, 327 North Summer St., Nashville, Tenn.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health more than a million women, you cannot well say without trying it "I do not believe it will help me." If you are ill, do not hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Her advice is free and helpful. Write to-day. Delay may be fatal.

$5000 FOREFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and direct testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lowell, Mass.

A Modern Malaprop. The season of English opera at Drury Lane has not been in vain. A lady in Bayswater went down to see her cook the other morning.

"Marcia," she said, "you've been doing your work very badly for some weeks past. I won't have it!" "Aim," replied the cook, "cooking ain't my call. Work ain't my call. Hoper's my call, only I don't know whether I'm a contrast or a sultann!"

A Brutal Act. Mr. Gotham—So my old friend, Col. Woodbridge, is in disgrace? Col. Knottuck—Not a word, Country. No respectable person will speak to him. "My, my! What did he do?" "Struck a gentleman with his fist, instead of shooting him with a pistol."

The president of the Republic of Andorra, in the Pyrenees, gets the smallest salary paid by any civilized government. It is only $15 a year, and he thinks of asking for a ten per cent increase, which would make it $16.50.

FLOCKING INTO CANADA. Immigration from Dakota and Adjoining States—Major Edwards, United States Consul-General at Montreal, Describes the Movement as Due to Scarcity of Land.

Montreal, Nov. 15.—Major Allison Edwards, United States consul general, who returned to-day from a visit to his home at Fargo, North Dakota, said in an interview: "The proper way to describe the manner in which the people of North Dakota are coming over into Western Canada is to say they are coming over in droves. Among the people there did not seem to be any thought of there being a boundary line at all. It is simply a question," added the major, "of there not being any more land in North Dakota and the surrounding States, and the people are flocking to Canada to get good farms. Naturally the number that will come over will increase all the time, and I may say the people you are getting are the best people in the West. They are well supplied with money and are well acquainted with the conditions under which they will have to work." The agents of the Canadian government are prepared to give the fullest information regarding homestead and other laws.

THE TROUBLE. "I wonder why Mr. Oldbow goes to see Miss Proctor after she has rejected him so emphatically," remarked H. Jack. "Just to pass away the time," suggested Tomkidd. "But the reason he was refused was that he had already passed away a much time." A Reflection. How wonderful are the provisions of nature! If the common domestic kitten had been provided with a tail only slightly longer than the one which it possesses how much innocent amusement it would have been deprived of!—The King.

As a high roller and a reckless money manipulator, without scruples, Mrs. Chadwick took the lead.

If Governor Mokey jara a lot of fellows loose from the public test and don't allow other useful appendages to become attached, the people of the state will feel their votes for him in 1904 were not cast in vain.

Lincoln is at present the Mecca of the place hunter. He is in evidence everywhere and asking for all kinds of jobs; with this class a position of any kind is looked on as a snare and they don't expect and rarely do perform any service except sign the pay rolls. The average office seeker is a burlesque on the body politic and a nuisance generally.

Russia has about concluded that her Baltic fleet had better not go to the far east. In all probabilities the Japanese would be very thankful to have the Baselines and it along as it would save them the trouble of going to Harbin to destroy it, which they will doubtless do if the war between the two nations continues for another six months or more.

When the wise men of Nebraska meet to legislate, it is not to elect a United States senator and pass the necessary appropriation bills and then adjourn they will do more toward pleasing the masses of the people than they can possibly do in any other way. We don't need any more laws. The masses and legislative bodies in this are the many unimportant useless and needless laws they make. They are a waste of time and money and have more of them than ever before and consequently we are not to be any and learn how to get rid of the useless things now on our statute books.

The Omaha Bee counsels the coming legislature, with its overwhelming republican majority, to avoid any chamber sessions and steer clear of all untoward influences, maintaining the confidence of the people and insuring the future supremacy of the party, which otherwise might be endangered. Two important things to be done in carrying out the Bee's admonition will be to immediately elect Hon. E. J. Barrett for United States senator, according to the choice of the republican state convention and the people, and then turn attention to needed corrections of the revenue law. The former action may not exactly suit the Bee, but it will be in line with that paper's advice.

THE ABUSE OF MONEY

From "The Simple Life" by Rev. Chas. Wagner: Money will not answer for everything. It is a power, but not all powerful. Nothing complicates life, demoralizes man, perverts the normal course of society like the development of vanity. Whenever it reigns everybody is duped by everybody else; one can no longer put trust in persons or things, no longer obtain anything of value. We would not be detractors of money but this general law, misapplied to it: Everything in its own place. When gold, which should be a servant, becomes a tyrannical power, affronting morality, dignity and liberty, when some exert themselves to obtain it at any price, offering for sale what is not merchandise, and other a possess-log wealth, fancy that they can purchase what no one may buy, it is time to rise against the gross and criminal appetition and cry aloud to the imposture, "Thy money perish with thee." The most precious things that man possesses he has almost always received gratuitously. Let him learn so to give them.

There is a disposition on the part of some of the republican papers to ignore the senatorial nomination of E. J. Barrett for United States senator by the state convention. The delegates to the convention were elected as such by the republicans of the various counties they represented, and they were elected with the express understanding that one of the things they would be called on to do would be the nomination of a senator. The convention met and by a unanimous vote declared Mr. Barrett its choice. This declaration was the voice of the party expressed by its chosen representatives, and every candidate of the party for legislative honors tacitly understood that one of the things the party expected him to do was to carry out the instructions given by the convention, and any departure from that course will be looked upon by the party as a breach of faith. It is too late for the dissatisfied brethren to attempt to bring any influence to bear on members elected, and they will be unable to prevent the ratification of the state convention's work.

There is a large conservative business element in this state that has never been hostile to the railroads. These citizens have paid their taxes, much of it, as a general thing without grumbling, and have at the same time paid excessive freight rates without making more than a wry face. They have been walking up to the treasurer's office and paying their taxes under the new revenue law, and paying them in full without protest. It is to be supposed, then, that they are in sympathy with the effort that certain railroad companies are making to have the total of their tax at the expense of individual taxpayers. Not by any means of means, if any railroad managers were wise in their day and generation they would let well enough alone, pay up like other people, and not take the risk of creating an overwhelming anti-railroad sentiment in the state that would result disastrously for the railroads. It is claimed that the local officials of the railroads in Nebraska are averse to the present proceeding, to which they are forced by the higher officials outside of the state, and if this is true they are to that extent entitled to sympathy, but they will nevertheless have the odium to bear whether they would or not.—Kearney Hub.

Christmas time is fast approaching and perhaps never in the history of the world was a nation as a whole in better condition to properly welcome and celebrate this annual time of good cheer than in America at this Christmas time of 1904. For several years we have sown and reaped abundant harvests and the whole world are customers for what ever we have to sell, and they are ready to buy at remunerative prices; we are becoming wealthy at an amazing rate, even though we do not seek to push our wares in foreign fields with the greatest intelligence. Our manufacturers are busy, giving employment to millions of workmen at good wages, thus putting the man that labors in a more comfortable position. We have just passed through a great election without deranging trade conditions, or becoming unduly excited; we are at peace with the world and are highly respected by all the nations. These conditions lead to a feeling of comfort and contentment to us as a people, and though we are charged with being a people strongly charged with the spirit of commercialism, yet it is the spirit of commercialism with which as a people we are imbued that gives us the command of the wherewith to make ourselves comfortable and out of the desire for comfort grows our good homes, comfortably furnished, well ventilated and with sanitary surroundings; these are some of the things that make life desirable and of these the people of the United States have in greater proportion than any other people on the face of the earth and we have more of them than ever before and consequently we are not to be any probable this Christmas time filled with a spirit of good cheer and well wishes for all mankind.

MULLET HEADS.

What things go wrong in Nebraska politics it is the custom of the Hon. T. H. Tibbles to refer to the voters in his usual genial and charitable style as "mullet heads." It is a pity that the appellation has been fastened to such a use, for it is really needed now to describe the members of the family of the great common people who have just had their earnings taken away from them through the operation of the dead fall stock exchange. The old title of "lamb" is entirely too feeble to fit the case.

A full movement of some force has been in operation for several months now, and all of the leading stocks have gone to a higher level than they have been for two or three years. Unward by past experience, a glib-tongued public has been buying freely on the advancing market. Only a few pay for their stocks and put them away in a strong box for investment. By far the greater number make a small payment and borrow money on the stocks for the remainder, or simply buy on margin. After a few months of booming business in getting stocks spread out among the people at high prices, the time is up for the large operators to buy them back at a discount. All at once the rosy glow faded a out of the sky and storm clouds appear. Then the wind whips up a mighty gale and the thunder reverberates from shipwrecker to shipwrecker, and the frightened amateur holders of stocks throw over y shares they have at any price the weakened market will allow. They are too sea sick, poor dears, to realize that it is all stage thunder and lightning and that the waves are kicked up artificially from the offices of some of the great leaders of finance. In a day or two, after the "public" has been sufficiently unloading, the sun shines out all at once, the waves stop in their tracks, and some mysterious influence sends quotations back almost to the point at which they stood before the row. The big operators express thankfulness that the "dreadful storm" has been safely weathered, and retire to their offices to count their profits and sack away the stocks that were sold during the last six months at the top of the market and were recovered during the "panic" at a heavy discount. Really nothing short of "mullet head" can describe the man who goes into a stock speculation when the market can be rigged against him almost at the will of the followers of "high finance."—State Journal.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Henry and Hans Peterson of Wauson, are among the students coming in this week.

Mr. Healy of S. Dak., came in Tuesday. He is a brother of the Miss Healy who was with us last summer.

Prof. Gregg leaves for Bette Friday, to be present at an educational rally of Boyd Co. teachers on Saturday.

Mrs. Pile went to Sioux City Wednesday to meet Miss Helen, who returns for the holidays from her school duties at Oxford, O.

Prof. Pile goes to Clearwater, Saturday upon invitation of one of the pastors there, and will make addresses at the appointments on Sunday.

Rev. Daley was with us at chapel exercises Tuesday morning and gave a helpful talk to the students. He also remained to visit several classes.

Mr. Barney of Cedar Co. came down Monday and placed his two boys in school. He is the father of the Miss Barney who was with us last summer.

Rev. Dager of near Bassett, stopped off over Tuesday to visit with his son. Mr. Dager expresses great surprise at the expansion of the school since his last visit.

Mr. Talley of North Bend, spent last Friday visiting the school and on Tuesday of this week a party of five from the angular city on the Platte, enrolled for work in the various departments.

Among the students just coming in we recognize some familiar faces. Messrs. Frank Douglas, Frank Hartman, Nettleton, Arthur Johnson and Carroll are with us again we are pleased to report.

Since Christmas comes on Sunday this year, there will be no vacation whatever. It is possible that on Monday after Christmas there will be a small attendance at classes, but the work will go on just the same.

Nineteen additional students have enrolled since last week's report. The fine weather this fall made it possible to get the corn shucked earlier than common and the bulk of students comes a little earlier than common this year.

The recent large influx of students has made it necessary to seek rooming places outside the dormitories. It now looks as if the demand for accommodations in the homes of Wayne residents will be almost greater than usual.

Miss Nelson enjoyed a visit over Sunday from her sister of near Allon. Miss Nelson has been suffering with an attack of bronchitis, a condition which no one can appreciate who has not similarly suffered, and it was so glad to see her again.

A meeting was held in the chapel Tuesday evening for the purpose of organizing a literary company among the boys. After the preliminary a company of boys was organized, and the sixty-seven signed the company's name. A great show will be made in developing the plan into a permanent department of the school.

ITS INHABITANTS AND THEIR MODES OF LIVING, MARRIAGE CEREMONIES, ETC., QUEER DOINGS OF ITS PEOPLE

The woman is a beast of burden, the child a wild thing that gets barely enough water to drink and has to wash in the mud stands wrapped to the eyes in his gaudy blanket, as still and solemn as the very absence of the soot that strikes into his soul. His body is dwarfed and drawn and his mind runs into a very narrow channel. He is not the stunted growth of his poor surroundings. Someday the lands around him may be being reared and when the green fields stretch away before his eyes and the flowers bloom in his path and there come to mate in the trees birds that will grow, it will tend him and his children will have a better place among the sons of men.

It is customary for a couple to live together and get married whenever they have enough cash to pay the fee. The priest makes a trip among them each year and marries all who are ready. If times are hard the ceremony may have to be postponed for several years and sometimes it is never performed. If a native goes a distance of from fifty miles to marry, he will come home as if he had been to the moon, and his friends, who have come from afar off. The non-country people, that portion of Mexico lying on the coast and southern part of Mexico, are called better off than the other desert natives. They have plenty of water and plenty to eat, their surroundings and all, being in the pleasant, consequently they can muster to a higher standard. They are not very fond of work, however, and get out of it whenever the opportunity offers. The average salary paid for man's work is about 25 cents a day for Mexican money, and the Mexican's entire cost for clothing throughout the entire year would amount to only about 87 cents, as they need to wear but a cotton blouse and duck or cotton trousers and sandals home made of sole leather. Their only money going by for books or stamps set up edge way, and a piece of sheet iron across the top heated by a charcoal fire. They bake and fry their meals on these with the utmost skill.

The Mexican as a rule does not live to an old age. They are subject to disease and when once disease or plague attacks them they die quite rapidly. Dr. Caldwell, in his recent work on the prevalent diseases in Mexico, states that a great many of the Mexican children die before they are twenty years old. In the city of Mexico there are three hundred deaths a day. These deaths are caused principally from physical and mental neglect. It is a common sight in the Mexican cities to see a Mexican with a coffin strapped to his back and a shroud, carrying it down the middle of the street and the mourners following in the city of Mexico, which has a population of 600,000 people, the government has provided special funeral street cars which add greatly to the convenience and economy of the people.

Dr. Caldwell, in his recent work on the prevalent diseases in Mexico, states that a great many of the Mexican children die before they are twenty years old. In the city of Mexico there are three hundred deaths a day. These deaths are caused principally from physical and mental neglect. It is a common sight in the Mexican cities to see a Mexican with a coffin strapped to his back and a shroud, carrying it down the middle of the street and the mourners following in the city of Mexico, which has a population of 600,000 people, the government has provided special funeral street cars which add greatly to the convenience and economy of the people.

Teach the boy to work and work hard. The lad who learns to work rarely makes a criminal. Criminals come from the idlers, loafers and boys who play hooky from school. When the boy is at work he has no time to form bad habits and lay criminal plans. Teach the boy to work if you can teach him nothing else.—Nebraska Farmer.

A rather unexpected business change was closed up in Carroll this morning. Bert Brown of the general merchandise firm of Brown & Beebe has sold his half interest in the store to Frank E. Francis, possession to be given on or before Jan. 1, when the invoice will be completed. Mr. Francis will be a valuable addition to the town's business life. He is a highly esteemed and successful farmer of Garfield precinct, where he has resided for nearly a decade. His recognized business ability and wide acquaintance assure success for his new venture from the start. Mr. Brown will likely return to Wayne to reside as soon as his interests are closed out. He has not found stereotyping exactly to his liking, although the old firm have enjoyed a phenomenal trade.—Carroll Index.

It was a wondrous, an overpowering demonstration of the practical utility of good blood in farm stock that was presented at last week's International show. The steers bred by pure-bred bulls from grade or cross-bred cows, the magnificent big geldings got by pure-bred stallions of the draft types, the pens of fat wethers and the barrows, the progeny of registered rams and boars, the extraordinary cattle in the colored classes that had their origin on the ranges of the West and South; all swelled to overwhelming volume the testimony that it pays to use the pure-bred sire. This blood is within the reach of every farmer. The pure-breeds have never been freer from the domination of fads and speculative fevers than now. The general basis is sane, safe and sound. The year 1906 should therefore see a general further advance all along the line against "the scrub."—Breeder's Gazette.

REIMERS RELEASED

The many friends of C. A. Reimers will be pleased to learn that he expects to be home again on Thursday, Dec. 22, arriving in Pierce from Sioux Falls, S. D., on the 1:40 p. m. passenger. That he will receive a hearty welcome from old neighbors and friends goes without saying. An innocent man suffering from the shortcomings of another is one of the tragedies of life experienced by Mr. Reimers in the past five years. The death of a beloved son a short year before release must have nearly overwhelmed the grief-stricken father and it certainly melted the hardest heart of any that might at first have condemned. That the remainder of Mr. Reimers' life may be spent happily and peacefully among the old friends and neighbors is the expression of all.—Pierce Call.

The man referred to in the above is one of the parties, the other being his son, who were convicted a few years ago of wrecking one of the Nolligh banks. The party who was really responsible for the condition of the bank escaped and has never been apprehended, but the two Reimers were sent to the Sioux Falls penitentiary where the son died and now the father is about to be released.

Don't overlook the fact that in order to get the HERALD for one dollar per year you must pay for it in advance. If not paid in advance, after January first 1906, you will be charged at the rate of one dollar and fifty cents per year. We can't furnish the paper at the old price without getting our pay in advance. If you are living outside of the county the subscription must be paid in advance or you will be dropped from the list as we will not pay postage and run any risk in the collection of subscriptions—life is too short and the expense of conducting a newspaper too great to pursue any other than a strict business policy. Don't overlook this matter if you want the HERALD.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine out of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which failed of perfect digestion ferments and poisons the stomach, pulling it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time, that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

RUSSIANS IN RIOTS.

BIG DEMONSTRATION AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT.

Mobs Charged by the Police—Fifty Persons More or Less Seriously Hurt—Great Disappointment Felt Over the Fruitless Demonstration

St. Petersburg dispatch states that a popular anti-government demonstration, the participants in which included large numbers of students of both sexes, began at midday Sunday in the Nevsky prospect and lasted about two hours. Hundreds of police and mounted gendarmes, who were hidden in the courtyard of the public buildings, emerged suddenly and charged the crowd at full gallop, dividing the demonstrators in headlong confusion. This led to serious encounters, fifty persons being more or less severely injured. Large numbers were arrested.

Not since the riots of 1901, when cossacks reaching across the Nevsky prospect from building to building charged down the boulevard from the Moscow station to the Neva, has the Russian capital lived through such a day of excitement as this. The authorities Saturday night got wind of the big anti-government demonstration planned for Sunday by the social democratic labor party to demand an immediate end of the war and the convocation of a national assembly, and leading newspapers Sunday morning in black faced type gave an explicit warning to the people at the Nevsky prospect near the Kusan cathedral.

Toward 1 o'clock the workmen and students seemed to swarm toward the corner of the Hotel Europe, opposite the Kusan cathedral.

The police, recognizing that the critical moment was approaching, tried in vain to keep back the human tide. Then, when there was not a single mounted policeman in sight, on the stroke of 1 o'clock from the front of the thickly wedged crowd a blood red flag, like a jet of flame, suddenly shot up. It was the signal. Other flags appeared in the crowd, waving frantically overhead, and they were greeted with a hoarse roar, "Down with autocracy!" The students surged into the street singing the "Marseillaise," while innocent spectators, seeking to extricate themselves, crowded into doorways and huddled walls.

Considering the sharp fight the rioters had put up, the police acted humanely with the crowd, avoiding brutality and roughness in keeping the throng moving, and showing really more consideration than the police of many American cities would do under similar circumstances. Finally, those confined in the courtyard recognized his agitators were arrested, but all others were let go quietly home, the hurt first having their injuries dressed.

BIG FIRE IN VIRGINIA.

Flames for some time thought to be beyond control. Fire that broke out at 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning in the lumber yard of Robinson & Co., Portsmouth, Va., was for some time beyond control of the entire Portsmouth department and sweeping through a whole block before a high wind. A shower of fire brands fell on surrounding property. The fire district is bounded by High, Queen, Chestnut and Pine streets and the property endangered comprises a large lumber yard, a planing mill, lumber mill and saw and dock factory.

At 3 o'clock the firemen had checked the flames in time to save the office building of the Robinson Company, in the northern part of the block. The fire was confined to the square in which it originated, and the buildings destroyed are those used as planing mills, lumber mill and the saw and blind factory and power house.

Falls Four Stories to Death.

Apparently feigning prostration because she had no money to pay for her room, a woman who registered under the name Mrs. C. M. Morris, at the Revere House, Chicago, attempted to slide down an improvised rope from a fifth story window Saturday. When rescue was at hand she either lost her hold or deliberately loosened her grasp. She fell four stories and was instantly killed.

To Marry an English Earl.

The marriage of Miss Daisy Leiter, of Chicago, sister of Lady Curzon, to the earl of Suffolk and Berkshire, England, was announced Sunday night by Mrs. Leiter from the family residence in Chicago. The date of the wedding has not been decided upon as yet, but will be in the near future.

Sioux City Stock Market.

Saturday's quotations on the Sioux City stock market follow: Butcher steers, $3.35-$4.00. Top hogs, $4.40.

Jury Acquits Auto Driver.

At Pittsburg, Mo., a jury Saturday acquitted Timmie E. Bohlin, an architect, charged with voluntary manslaughter for the death of Mrs. Mary Stauffer, an aged woman, who was run down and killed by an automobile operated by Dr. Bohlin.

Entombed Miners Dead.

At Eldorado, Ill., rescuers Saturday reached the four men who were entombed Friday in the Eldorado coal mine, and found them dead.

No More Expenditure Feels.

The secretary of the treasury at Washington Saturday issued an order to the surveyor of customs at St. Louis, which will enable universities, schools, colleges and seminaries to receive the full measure of benefits from donations and purchases of exhibits at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

LOATH TO ADMIT IT.

But Russians Know the Port Arthur Fleet is Lost.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says: The Russian authorities evidently are not yet satisfied as to the truth of the report of the destruction of the remainder of the Port Arthur squadron, as the censor has not yet permitted the publication of foreign reports to that effect. Nevertheless, these reports are in the hands of the admiralty, where they are regarded as sounding the knell of the Port Arthur fleet.

The only regret expressed is that they did not get out for a final fight or sink in deep water, where they would be beyond hope of salvation.

A Japanese legation dispatch received at London from Tokio says: "The naval staff at Port Arthur reports Thursday evening that the Gallata was set on fire and holed to port with stern sink. Eleyoshi hits the Gallata (gunboat). The Hayan took fire at 11:30 p. m., and was still ablaze at 4:15 o'clock Friday morning. The Amur (transport) was hit fourteen times and sank. Many shots greatly damaged the warehouses and other buildings near Peiyou Mountain and the arsenal."

Advices from the headquarters of the Third Japanese Army before Port Arthur, via Fusan, state that on the night of Nov. 25 the Japanese established infantry trenches inside the parapets of two of the Rulhing and North Keelvan forts, but on the following day they were compelled to retire beyond the moats. Since then there has been practically no fighting done along the incline of the eastern ridge of forts, the main strength of the Japanese troops having been concentrated to effect the capture of 203 Meter Hill.

The battleship Pobieda has heeled over in the harbor and is now burning. The battleship Hetzivan and the turret ship Poltava have been sunk. The armored cruiser Hayan has been beached. The other vessels are making no effort to escape.

MORE CHEERFUL.

Stock Market Rallies Some, but Selling Orders Predominate.

The New York stock market opened weak and lower, the opening quotations showing declines of 1/2 to 1. The market soon steadied and in some shares there were good rallies. The feeling is rather more cheerful, although the unsettled conditions indicated in the early quotations tended to check anything like aggressive buying for a rise. Representatives of certain commission houses were reported to be buying moderately of the active list, while others seemed to have a preponderance of selling orders. There are no indications of forced liquidation.

WILL INDICT MRS. CHADWICK

The Woman Must Answer in Lorain County, Ohio.

The grand jury at Elyria, O., adjourned after voting to indict Mrs. Chadwick on the charge of having obtained money under false pretenses in Lorain County, for Oberlin in Lorain County. Prosecutor Stroup advised such a procedure. The jury is also looking into the rumors of a wholesale scheme to defraud. The connection of a New York lawyer and five other men with the Chadwick case in that county is being investigated.

German Officer in Disgrace.

Army circles at Berlin, Germany, are greatly excited over the condemnation of Maj. E. S. Zimmermann by court martial at Fraustadt and his sentence to seven months in prison for falsehood. Zimmermann's company several times received the imperial prize for marksmanship. It was recently discovered that Zimmermann had falsified the score sheets.

Signed by Andrew Carnegie.

Judge Francis W. Downs, a prominent attorney of Binghamton, N. Y., said: "I have been informed on what I believe to be good authority that the notes offered by Mrs. Chadwick and purporting to be signed by Andrew Carnegie were genuine, and were signed by an Andrew Carnegie, not the great steel magnate, but by a relative of his of that name."

Coal Miners' Narrow Escape.

A coal mine at South Bartonville, Ill., one mile south of Peoria, was discovered on fire at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning. There were 100 men at work in the mine, but all were taken to a second shaft, half a mile distant, and made their escape, although some of them were overcome by smoke and gas. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Robbers Are Shot.

Fonda, Ia., was the scene of a sensational robbery at an early hour Monday morning. During a fight with three citizens, one of the three robbers was shot and fatally wounded. The other two men escaped, but one of them is known to have been wounded.

Shipbuilding Company Fails.

The Newle & Levy Shipbuilding Company at Philadelphia, Pa., one of the oldest concerns of the kind in the country, assigned Friday. The company completed the Denver for the government and is now constructing the protected cruiser St. Louis.

Weds on Sky Sorrow.

Mrs. Georgianna Houser Hanning, of Lincoln, Ill., girl, whose marriage on the top of a thirteen-story skyscraper was an event in New Orleans, La., society last February, has filed suit for divorce.

Overdraft. Sued All Salaried.

A Terre Haute, Ind., special says: The county treasurer of Vigo County has refused to honor warrants until an overdraft of nearly $200,000, secretly piled up by the county commissioners, is disposed of.

Japanese Casualty List.

Imperial army headquarters at Tokio publishes a list of thirty-six officers killed and fifty-eight wounded. No mention is made where these casualties occurred, but presumably it was at Port Arthur.

A JURY IS SECURED.

Panel is Completed for the New Patterson Trial.

After John D. Benedict had been removed from the jury box by Justice Davis in the criminal branch of the supreme court at New York, the two jurors necessary to complete the panel in the trial of "Nan" Patterson for the murder of Caber Young were chosen Thursday afternoon, and Assistant District Attorney Rand at once began his opening statement. Mrs. Patterson was the only woman in the court room when the prosecutor opened.

Mr. Rand practically repeated the charges he made at the former trial, which was brought to a sudden end by the illness of a juror.

In closing, Mr. Rand said in part: "I cannot promise you that the men I shall call will swear to all they know. I think you will say that two of them, the cabman, Michaelis, and the pawnbroker, Stern, are not telling all they know, or agree with me that they are very ignorant men. But there is one witness I cannot call—and he is the tall, smooth-faced man of athletic build and having red hair. He is J. Morgan Smith. And I cannot call his wife, the sister of the defendant, because they have run away."

"Smith is a most important witness because he is a man who bought the weapon, and because he is not here. I propose to show you where he ran to, who helped him to get away, and who are helping him to keep away from the detectives still hunting for him. I will not attempt to produce an eye witness to the shooting. Such of the witnesses as I will produce I want you to size up, because they are a queer lot. And after I have presented all the facts I hope you will reach the truth, and if you then have any doubts, which by even a stretch of the imagination might be called reasonable, I say give me this defendant."

After Mr. Levy, representing Miss Patterson, had objected to certain statements made by Mr. Rand, adjournment was taken until noon.

EVANGELIST ARRESTED.

Aged Preacher Accused of Forgery at Paris, Tex.

A. A. Arthur, aged 71 years, who has made his home at Hinawath, Kan., since last September, representing himself as a retired preacher and evangelist, has been arrested by a St. Louis detective on a charge of forging a check for $10,000 at Paris, Tex. Later Arthur admitted his guilt and agreed to return to Texas without a requisition.

Under the name of H. H. Boyd, Arthur conducted revival meetings at Paris last summer. In August he deposited a draft for $10,000 in a Paris bank. The draft was regularly made out to H. H. Boyd, and was signed by M. M. Stevenson, cashier of the Georgia National Bank, at Athens, Ga. Arthur drew out $2,500 of the money and disappeared, after which it was discovered that the draft had been forged.

IN DESPERATE GRIP.

Bandit Battles with Victim Amid Smoke and Flame.

Lacked in a life and death struggle, Christopher Tripp and a masked bandit fought in a burning building at Murray, six miles south of Salt Lake City, Utah. Neither man relaxed his grip until their clothing was afire; then both crawled through the dense smoke to the outer air.

WASHINGTON MINE DISASTER.

Eleven Men are Dead and Four Still in the Mine.

As the result of an explosion in the Burnett coal mine at Carnest, Wash., Wednesday, which it is believed was caused by firelamp, eleven miners are dead, two badly injured, and it is known that at least four others are still in the mine.

The Search for the latter was abandoned at midnight, as it was deemed unsafe to continue the work of rescue. Eleven bodies, badly burned and mangled, have been recovered from the shaft.

Most of the married were Poles or Italians. The married victims of the catastrophe leave large families.

New Wage Plan Inaugurated.

The plan of the Illinois Steel Company to equalize wages at its South Chicago plant has gone into effect. A large reduction has been made in the wages of certain classes of workmen. Men who formerly received $5, $6 and $8 a day are now getting $3, $4 and $5, and there is much dissatisfaction among them.

Robber Gang Wrecks Safe.

Crackmen wrecked the safe of the Bank of Metromora, Mich., early Wednesday morning and in getting away from aroused villagers a gun started a running pistol battle. The men finally reached the railroad tracks and escaped on a passing freight train.

Complications Avoided.

A Constantinople dispatch says the Porte has yielded to the Austrian demand regarding the detention of Austrian mail, and the incident may be regarded as closed and the threatened complications avoided.

Killed in a Sand Pit.

At Missouri Valley, Ia., Samuel Cassidy, aged 22 years, was instantly killed Wednesday afternoon while working in a sand pit near that city. The big sand pit caved in without a moment's warning.

Whole Family Murdered.

An entire white family, named Hughes, living near Trenton, S. C., has been murdered. Meager details received resemble the killing of the Hodges family at Statesboro, Ga., last August.

STATE OF NEBRASKA

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN A CONDENSED FORM.

Father Schell Encouraged—Returns from Washington Strengthened by Conference with President Roosevelt—Says the Crafters Must Go.

"We are better than ever prepared to say to the crafters, 'You must go,' said Father Joseph Schell at Omaha, on his return from Washington, where he had consulted with President Roosevelt on the crime and corruption existing on the Winochee Indian reservation, for the abolition of which he has so persistently fought.

"I had a most satisfactory interview with the president," continued Father Schell, "and left Washington much more encouraged than I had any idea of hoping for before I went there. I had the whole matter before the president, and he was very sympathetic. He gave me a most cordial greeting and I was flattered beyond description that my cause received such generous consideration at the hands of this man of a high and noble character."

"I came back to Nebraska infused with new life in this fight and prepared to repeat to these crafters what we have told them. 'You must cease your nefarious business and get out.' The crafters are doomed; that's all there is to it. 'When I left Nebraska certain progress was being made in the investigation that the president would see me. On the contrary, I wish to say the president gave me a most cordial greeting and I was flattered beyond description that my cause received such generous consideration at the hands of this man of a high and noble character.'"

"I am glad to see Secretary Hitchcock. My conference with the president was sufficient. Besides meeting the president I met and talked with Mr. Coughlin, the new commissioner of Indian affairs, and am greatly pleased at his view of the situation."

Father Schell left Monday afternoon for Sioux City, whence he will go to Denver.

HOLOS DENNISON CULPABLE.

Sheriff King, of Stanton County, Followed Him 150 Miles.

N. P. King, sheriff of Stanton County, made an important capture in Knox County, thirty miles northwest of Lincoln, Wednesday morning.

Sunday night a team, lumber wagon and harness were stolen from the farm of Henry Mathes, near Stanton. The horses were valuable, the team being worth over $300.

Sheriff King, with Mathes, took the trail as soon as notified, and followed the horse thief night and day, traveling over 150 miles. The sheriff went over two teams in doing it, but when he came up with the fellow Wednesday morning he was already on his way to Stanton with his prisoner Wednesday afternoon.

To a circular they say they are glad that a first class circuit with good dates for all has been arranged, and that they think it will be of great advantage to the cities which join the circuit.

DENNISON MUST GO TO JAIL

Nebraska Court Orders Omaha Authorities to Accept No Bail.

The supreme court at Lincoln Thursday evening issued a new mandate in the case of Thomas Dennison of Omaha. It orders the restraint of Dennison and his detention in jail until he has perfected an application for a rehearing in the state supreme court or has appealed his case to the United States supreme court. In the meantime the officers at Omaha are charged not to accept bail from Dennison until further orders from the court; and on the other hand the mandate of the supreme court was issued to officers from Iowa are barred for the present from taking him to that state.

A resolution was also adopted requesting the mayor and city council to take more vigorous action in enforcing the sanitary regulations and laws governing the reporting of contagious diseases.

Farmer Kills Peoria Youth.

Corn husking is about finished around Fremont, warm, pleasant weather having been a great help to the farmers. The general yield will be a little below the average per acre. Considerable plowing is being done this fall.

Fatally Hurt in a Runaway.

George Fritz, a prominent German farmer living northeast of Beatrice, sustained a serious injury to his leg Tuesday night while en route home which will probably result fatally. Doctors express little hope for his recovery.

Work Suspended.

Work on one of the new drainage ditches north of Fremont has been suspended and one contractor may possibly throw up the job. Work was begun about a month ago at the west end of the ditch, but the ground was so wet as to make it very difficult for the contractor to dig.

Two Killed by a Train.

Thos. B. Ayers and wife, pioneers Madison county, were killed by a freight train near Meadow Grove Saturday. Northwestern section men discovered their dead bodies. They were wealthy and prominent and leave a widow and several children.

ESCAPING TIME WITH HOBBER'S

Escape from Man Who Detects Them, but Later Are Caught.

Sutton experienced the excitement resulting from his first holdup Saturday evening about 6 o'clock. Carl Sponiat, a druggist, called into his store as usual for sugar. This time he had just slipped across the door, leaving the door unlocked, and he was in the store about five minutes. The robber was getting up his feet in the middle of the floor. It consisted of silk dresses and other valuable clothing.

Sutton ran to the door and in the scuffle the robber pulled his revolver and shot at Sutton, just missing his head, but hitting his leg with a wound. Sutton, being unarmed, had to let go. The thief was joined by two others and they were followed by a posse consisting of Sheriff Smith, Leonard Roberts, J. Longstrech and others in a nearby jail.

MUTILATED MAN AT NORFOLK

Wounded Stranger Who Gives No Name Insists on Long Drive.

With a battered face, of which had been torn his nose and lips and cheek, a stranger arrived at Norfolk Wednesday night, after a long and arduous drive. He claimed that he had been in a wreck of a had runaway and in near the state insane hospital, and that he had lost his way in the drizzling that ensued. After having the wounds dressed as well as possible by a surgeon, the fellow insisted on returning by wagon to Boone field farm, near Lincoln, where he was a surgeon and doctor. The driver, however, refused to do so, and the man was taken to the city hospital.

A telephone message from Peoria stated that he arrived at that place, a distance of 150 miles, in thirty-five hours. His wounds were dressed again and he was left in town. The man was not drinking and was not insane. The mystery of his ways to Peoria to create an impression that he may have been robbed and have fought, or that he may have attempted to rob another and been whipped and punished.

CAPTURED A HORSE THIEF.

Sheriff King, of Stanton County, Followed Him 150 Miles.

N. P. King, sheriff of Stanton County, made an important capture in Knox County, thirty miles northwest of Lincoln, Wednesday morning.

Sunday night a team, lumber wagon and harness were stolen from the farm of Henry Mathes, near Stanton. The horses were valuable, the team being worth over $300.

Sheriff King, with Mathes, took the trail as soon as notified, and followed the horse thief night and day, traveling over 150 miles. The sheriff went over two teams in doing it, but when he came up with the fellow Wednesday morning he was already on his way to Stanton with his prisoner Wednesday afternoon.

NEW CIRCUIT TO BE FORMED

Northeast Nebraska Towns Will Join in a Meeting at Wayne.

James Hurst and P. E. Straban, of Wayne, announce that a meeting will be held in the opera house at Wayne at 2:30 p. m., Dec. 20, for the purpose of organizing the northeast Nebraska short shipping circuit of falls and race meetings.

To a circular they say they are glad that a first class circuit with good dates for all has been arranged, and that they think it will be of great advantage to the cities which join the circuit.

DENNISON MUST GO TO JAIL

Nebraska Court Orders Omaha Authorities to Accept No Bail.

The supreme court at Lincoln Thursday evening issued a new mandate in the case of Thomas Dennison of Omaha. It orders the restraint of Dennison and his detention in jail until he has perfected an application for a rehearing in the state supreme court or has appealed his case to the United States supreme court. In the meantime the officers at Omaha are charged not to accept bail from Dennison until further orders from the court; and on the other hand the mandate of the supreme court was issued to officers from Iowa are barred for the present from taking him to that state.

To Detect Contagious Diseases.

With a view of preventing the possible spread of contagious diseases, the board of education at Beatrice has instructed teachers in the city schools to ascertain in every case possible the exact cause of absence of each pupil in her room. A resolution was also adopted requesting the mayor and city council to take more vigorous action in enforcing the sanitary regulations and laws governing the reporting of contagious diseases.

Farmer Kills Peoria Youth.

Clyde Lester, 22 years old, whose home is at Peoria, Ia., was shot and instantly killed by John Lucas on the farm of the latter near Holdrege Tuesday. The men had quarreled over wages which Lester claimed for husking corn. Lucas was arrested.

Corn Husking About Finished.

Corn husking is about finished around Fremont, warm, pleasant weather having been a great help to the farmers. The general yield will be a little below the average per acre. Considerable plowing is being done this fall.

Fatally Hurt in a Runaway.

George Fritz, a prominent German farmer living northeast of Beatrice, sustained a serious injury to his leg Tuesday night while en route home which will probably result fatally. Doctors express little hope for his recovery.

WOMAN IN LAW'S GRIP

Mrs. Chadwick Taken Into Custody by Federal Officers.

With the arrest in New York of Cassie L. Chadwick and her attorney before a United States commissioner, a technical charge of aiding and abetting a bank official in unlawfully securing a national bank, the second stage in this remarkable case was begun. Mrs. Chadwick is accused of getting $12,000 out of the Citizens' National Bank of Oberlin, Ohio, on a check of her own, although she has no money there. Section 5206 of the United States revised statutes makes it a misdemeanor punishable by from five to ten years imprisonment to thus aid and abet officers of a national bank in misapplying its funds. A man who professes to have an $80,000

Legislators coming to Lincoln the first of the year will not find things in the senate chamber they did two years ago, all ready for the start. This is because the last legislature authorized the secretary of state to spend not more than $1,000 in getting ready for the session, the remainder of the previous year to be done by the legislators themselves. The $1,000 will not get very far. The bill for the year 1901 and 1902 and they have not been included in advance of the session, because they have to be introduced and cannot be brought on until after the adjournment of the previous session.

Bank Examiner Whitmore has made his official report to the state banking board of the condition of the Eldorado Valley Bank at O'Neill and this will be followed by an application for the appointment of a receiver. The report will not be made public until after the adjournment of the legislature. The reason for this is the opinion of Attorney General Prout such publication would hamper the work of settlement of the affairs of the bank and the names of some individuals are used in the report that is not deemed expedient at this time to be made public. The official report, however, does not differ materially from the reports of the condition of the bank as already published. The $25,000 worth of notes found by the examiner that he at first reported as being apparently worthless are worth something. Some of the notes are new ones and are not yet due. The names of Andrew Chadwick, one of the depositors, but to what extent is not known. No cash, other than the ten per cent, has been found.

At a meeting of the state board of commissioners at Lincoln, which was presided over by the Hon. Attorney General Prout read a history of the litigation and closed by recommending that the board settle the matter. While no formal proposition was made to the board, it is understood that the bondsmen are willing to pay the court costs of the suit. It has been learned by the board members that a judgment would be entered against the bondsmen, who have spent a large sum fighting the case. It was told a member of the board that Mr. Dexter gave his wife and son each $200,000 and kept $200,000 himself. Since the suit began it is said he has spent $200,000 in defending the suit and in other ways, and that a judgment would be entered against him for the balance of the suit. It has been reported that the bond that it fails to compromise the suit the bondsmen expect to go through bankruptcy.

The semi-annual report of the auditor filed with Gov. Mickey Saturday, shows the warrant indebtedness of the state to be $2,342,970.61, or an increase during the last two years of $335,550.98. One year ago the outstanding warrant indebtedness was $2,007,419.63, an increase in the warrant indebtedness was occasioned by the warrants issued for the payment of the permanent improvements as authorized by the last legislature and by the inadequacy of the old revenue law to bring in sufficient money with which to pay the warrants.

At the present time the state is obligated against the general fund amount to $2,255,401.82, and against the temporary auxiliary fund $81,068.99.

Chief Clerk Harney, of the office of the state superintendent of public instruction, is compiling statistics for the biennial report of that department and figuring up the number of school children in the state in relation to the school money to the various districts. Douglas County at this time, according to the report of the county superintendent, has 42,058. At the close of the school year Douglas County had expended for school purposes for the year 1900-1901, $1,000,000. In all the districts of the state $4,517,229.46, and there was spent in Douglas County 16 2/3 per cent of all the money that was spent in the entire state.

Rev. W. K. Williams, chaplain of the state penitentiary, has resigned his position and the place is now vacant. The resignation was tendered to Gov. Mickey some days ago, but was not made public. It is probable that Rev. E. C. Johnson, of Tecumseh, will be appointed to fill the vacancy. Rev. Mr. Johnson is an old-time preacher and stands high in Methodist circles. He is an old soldier and in at present in the army. It is understood that he was formerly a pastor of one of Gov. Mickey's churches.

Prices of Securities Drop Five to Ten Points.

Wall street Thursday passed through the worst panic it had seen since the terrible crash of May 9, 1901—the effect of the culmination of the Northern Pacific "boom." Prices dropped from 5 to 10 or 11 points. Stocks of all descriptions declined, the gold market fell, the bond and the issues in both classes were about an equal value. Kansas, of distress in the Wall street district among prominent houses were plentiful. But in all cases they were strenuously denied, and, until late in the afternoon, reports of failures, or of difficulties in raising the money to pay the bonds, were asserted by those conversant with the strange case that a number of banks not mentioned in public have made loans to Mrs. Chadwick.

SHOT AT PASSING TRAIN.

John Crane was brought before Judge Hunter at this place Saturday afternoon charged by an agent of the railroad company with shooting into a passing freight train and destroying property. Crane maintained that he was not actuated by malice and really shot without thinking, not raising the gun to his shoulder, but heedlessly discharged his contents in the direction of the train. The railroad company, considering lack of malice, did not urge a more serious charge than that of destroying property. Accordingly, Crane pleaded guilty and was fined $1, and costs, amounting in all to something over $5.

The Wakefield Republican explains the shooting as follows: While John Crane and a younger brother were hunting about two miles east of town last Sunday, the former took a shot at a passing freight train. The bullet which was a twenty-two long went through the end of the caboose and along the top of the seat where two of the train boys had just previously been sitting. The train came on to Wakefield and then summoned F. E. Smith and took him back to where the boys were, for the purpose of identifying them. John Crane says the only reason he can give for the act, which was a very grave one, was "just to be shooting." He says he had no grudge at anyone. The head officials of the road were immediately notified and on Tuesday one of their secret service men was here making an investigation but we have not learned what action has been taken in the matter.

A CHRISTMAS HOLOCAUST

There is one spot in the United States where Christmas is not publicly celebrated and where recurrence of the great holiday revives distressing memories. In the heart of the Oregon desert, more than two hundred miles from a railroad is a small cluster of habitations called Silver Lake, being situated in northern Lake county. In that lonely settlement a terrible holocaust occurred during Christmas festivities some twelve years ago. Before then it was an event that attracted people from the rough and sparsely settled desert for miles around. On this fatal Christmas people gathered in the upper story of the town hall as usual and appropriate exercises were in progress when a drunken sheep herder who had filed his tank at a nearby saloon staggered up the aisle and accidentally struck and overturned a lamp. Flaming oil quickly spread and a frenzy of excitement, resulting in a crushing stampede, immediately ensued. Fifty children and adults were either burned or trampled to death. This appalling calamity depressed the people of the desert that they have never since held public Christmas celebrations, and though the evil effects of the drink habit are regarded with comparative indifference in the west, saloons were at once driven from Silver Lake and never afterwards tolerated there. Besides abandoning public Christmas gatherings, the awful holocaust of twelve years ago impressed a temperance lesson that the survivors do not forget.
