Charley Kellogg came down from Knox county the latter part of the week to visit his parents and attend the Shorthorn cattle sale and was a buyer of the highest priced bull sold, paying $175 and getting an animal that is well worth the money.

G. W. Hunt, a veteran newspaper writer, died at the Samaritan hospital in Sioux City early Sunday morning after suffering several weeks from grip aggravated by a complication of other diseases. At one time Mr. Hunt did newspaper work at Norfolk and later at Pender, and was well known in this part of Nebraska. He was a keen and aggressive editorial writer.

They tell us that every residence in the city is occupied and there is a demand for many more that cannot be supplied. Not only are all residences occupied, but every business house but one has an occupant, and the one referred to has only been vacated within the past ten days and will probably be occupied in many more days to come. This is a much more desirable condition than to see "to let" cards hanging all about a city. It shows that from both the standpoint of business and a place to live, that ours is one much sought after.

Miss Laura Holtz has resigned her position as teacher in the Hartington schools on account of ill health. The patrons of the school and the many friends of Miss Holtz join in sincere wishes for her speedy return to health. Miss Holtz is an excellent teacher and will be greatly missed. Miss Taylor will take the room vacated by Miss Holtz in the public school and Miss Lettie Eby will take Miss Taylor's room. Miss Bertha Bridenbaugh will teach the Smithland school, which Miss Eby resigned.—Hartington Herald.

Silas Johnson, of Magnet, died Tuesday afternoon as the result of having seven teeth extracted. Dr. McEwen did the extracting and used cocaine to relieve the pain. After doing the work Dr. McEwen came to Randolph and the patient was left in the office where he was discovered in a partially collapsed condition. Dr. Geating of Wausau was called and had hard work keeping Johnson alive during the night. McEwen again took the case and against the man and came to Randolph. When he returned Johnson was dead. Dr. Ingdam of Coleridge held an inquest and the testimony exonerated Dr. McEwen from all blame as the dose of opium was light and the patient seemed to rally nicely.—Randolph Times.

Say, this country can beat 'em all when it comes to weather. The month of February was a real live example of what a month can do. The month started in by freezing the mythical ground hog into a solid cake of ice and instead of keeping him in that condition for six weeks as the weather-wise was quick to inform us would be the case, along about the middle of the month old Sol began to get in his work and before the month ended everything was frying as though it were mid-summer. It is pretty sudden when the thermometer can jump from 25 below to 60 above zero in four days and yet that is just about what occurred in this man's country not so long ago that the dates need to be given to substantiate the assertion. It looked to most of us on February 13 as though there would be plenty of snow here April first, but before the first day of March had put in an appearance the snow had vamoosed and in its stead, mud, mud, mud.

The latest candidate we have heard of for appointment as postmaster for Wayne is H. B. Koosa, and we are informed that his friends have begun an active campaign in his behalf and expect to be able to bring sufficient strength to his support to make him a strong man in the race. It is argued that his business house is most admirably located for the convenience of the patrons of the office and it is said that in case of his being successful in landing the apparently coveted plum, he will dispose of his stock of goods and put the room in first class shape for the office. Would be postmasters are getting pretty numerous and it looks to us as if in order to avert a civil war in this community by the supporters of the various aspirants, Uncle Sam will have to establish several offices in the city and not allow any one man to have a pinch on the office. The fight surely looks as though it would be a merry one before the final knockout is scored and here's hoping that all will get the worth of their money in the scrap.

Every man thinks he knows how to run a farm, just as most men believe they could edit a better newspaper than those who are in the business. In both cases the man who really knows most feels most modest about it. Book farmers have long been the butt of universal ridicule; and book farmers often get control of agricultural papers and make a sad mess of it as leaders of the hard-headed, common-sense farmers who have learned how to do things by doing them. Fortunately for Wayne county the farm paper most generally read here is The Iowa Homestead which is edited by practical farmers who live on and operate their own farms, besides being experts in the sciences and theory of agriculture. The Herald takes pleasure in recommending this excellent farm journal as the best exponent of practical and scientific agriculture, horticulture, stock-raising, dairy farming and the allied industries of the farm. We take subscriptions at this office, and believe that in so doing we are best promoting the interests of Wayne county.

The first of March, the general time of reckoning up the final accounts of the year in this part of the country, is past and to some of the many who are obliged to change their places of abode and settle up the old scores of the preceding year, it has brought a full burden of sorrow, care and trouble. The tenant farmers are the class on whom this time of the year places the heaviest burden. Under the best conditions it is a pretty big undertaking to move all the household effects, farm implements and domestic animals from one farm to another, and this is particularly true when several miles intervene between the old and the new home. When the roads are like they have been this year, the task is indeed herculean and involves an extra amount of hardship as well as financial loss in the shape of wear on horses and breakage of vehicles. It certainly would be a profitable thing for both landlord and tenant if leases could be made for a term of years instead of for a single year. If leases were for a term of years the tenant would become more of a stock and less a grain raiser. The farm would be improved instead of impoverished as is done under all short leases. The domestic animals would not only build up the credit of the tenant, but would at the same time improve the land and thus the landlord would have a sure revenue producer for all time. If on the other hand the general policy now in operation is to prevail it will be but a few years before the fair fields of today will be impoverished to such an extent as to bring distress to both owner and farmer. Already the effects of too much grain farming is in evidence in the spread of nookie burrs, sunflowers and other weeds that are fast sapping the fertility of our fields and there should be heed taken at once of the conditions that are bringing this about.

DIED.

In Omaha of blood poisoning, Wednesday, February 23, 1905, after an illness of five days, Jacob Reichert, aged 67 years, seven days.

Jacob Reichert was born in Germany, near Heidelberg, July 21, 1837, and came to America in 1847. He lived in Ohio for many years and in 1850 he married Rebecca Reed, who survives him. In 1855 they moved to Wayne county, Neb., where he resided until his death. A wife and seven children, three sons and four daughters are still living and two sons died in childhood. He also had three brothers and sisters survive him.

Mr. Reichert was a kind hearted man and will be missed by a large circle of friends. He was greatly interested in politics and was a leader of his party who elected him to several offices which he ably filled. He had his faults, as have we all, but there are many men now living who would not be missed nearly as much as will be warm hearted, genial, old Jacob Reichert.

Funeral services were held at the house conducted by the minister from Hoskins and all that remained of Jacob Reichert was laid away in the Ulrich cemetery, Monday morning.—Wineside Tribune.

After fighting the Japs for one year the Russians are not making the vainglorious boasts that emanated from them before the war started.

Cassie L. Chadwick, the most gigantic female swindler of the century, is again before the public in a trial which commenced against her at Cleveland Monday.

There are symptoms of a reaction in the popular mind that promises to boost the value of character above the worth of money, of which reformed nation President Roosevelt is an ideal exemplar and leader.

An effort to bribe a member of the Colorado legislature has come to light as a feature of the gubernatorial contest in that state. Colorado seems unable to exist long without some sort of a sensational scandal.

To a local blacksmith convicted of beating his wife, who volunteered a remarkable derogatory of her character, the judge spoke these words before sentencing him with a fine of $102 or ninety days in jail: "If anything were needed to convince me that you are a low-down, contemptible cur and a coward, I have it in your efforts to injure the character of your wife."—Sixty in the Lincoln Journal.

President Roosevelt's inauguration Saturday took place amidst an admiring multitude and was attended by the most brilliant and enthusiastic display in the history of such events. According to the idea of one magazine writer, President Roosevelt is the leader of the anti-graft element in American politics, representing the convictions of a vast majority of the people of this country, who stand firmly behind him in his efforts against monopoly and corruption and in behalf of proper government.

One of the very interesting features brought out in the recent bulletin prepared by Prof. Dietrich, of the Illinois experiment station, is that the United States produces 40 per cent. of all the hogs in the world. Latest statistics on live stock indicate that the United States has a stock of 47,000,000 hogs; Germany produces 17,000,000; Russia, 11,000,000; Hungary, 7,000,000; Canada, 3,000,000; Spain, 2,000,000; Romania, 2,000,000; Poland, Belgium, Denmark, Australia and the Netherlands, each 1,000,000. All other countries, together with those above enumerated, have enough to make a total of 117,000,000. It is of interest in the figures noted above that there are but two countries of the world, outside of the United States, that produce as many hogs as are packed in Chicago alone each year.

As many hogs are sold on the Chicago market to be shipped alive to eastern markets as are produced in any one of the five last mentioned countries on the list. The varied general production of hogs as regards character of animals in the United States must be great, as enough of the various classes are produced to hold the market in very good balance the year around. There is a general belief, however, that the demand for a class of hogs better adapted to bacon production is due for a considerable increase in this country as compared with that of any other class. Consumption of bacon is steadily on the gain in this country. Its excellence as a breakfast dish is being recognized, and the character of foreign trade in hog products demands an improvement in the class of hogs used for bacon production in this country if we would keep pace with other countries in that trade. Our position in the production of the hard hog is secure, being insured by the abundance of corn, in the production of which we excel as well as in hog production.

On Monday Charles Chapman, son of Eric Chapman, living north of Hoskins met with a very serious accident. He was doing some hauling around the farm when for some cause or other his team took fright, ran away and threw the young man out and so badly injured his head that for a time it looked very doubtful about his regaining consciousness at all, but at last accounts it was believed he would recover all right.

How the People Got Fooled

Last week the weather man had us believe that spring had come, and hundreds of people let their fannies go out and some put on lighter underwear. They got fooled and some have the grip or are in bed with colic. Some stores are like the weather, not to be depended on, but they succeed in fooling some people. Such stores are as changeable as the weather, one day they please you with bargains and the next day they make you suffer by swindling you. In this store the climate is always pleasant and you never get fooled if you come here to trade. It is never hot here with goods sold at less than cost and we never freeze you out with high prices. We never get below zero and our prices are never so high that you are made uncomfortable if you purchase anything here. We cannot change the weather, but we can furnish you with clothing to make you comfortable in any climate. We are now prepared to make you happy when warm weather demands a change of clothing. Our spring stock is now in and looks and feels like a bright spring day. The most pleasant part is that the prices are attractive and simply please you. Not below zero and not at 100 per cent profit, but at less profit than any merchants. Not today only, but every day you will find clothing here that will please you and save you money. Our hats are a surprise to everybody, for they are direct from a New York factory and we are one season ahead of other merchants. Our shoes are known to be the best in town and our stock is the largest. Spring shirts are here in greater numbers than ever before. Take a look through this store and you will forget that you ever had cold weather. You can't get fooled if you trade here.

and carried a large bouquet of white roses, a gift of the bride groom. After the congratulatory a four course dinner was served which was nicely carried out in pink and white. A very pretty feature planned by the bride was the little individual cake boxes of white tied with blue ribbon containing a piece of bride's cake, one for each guest. The afternoon was spent in a social manner and at four o'clock the bridal party was ready to start for Wayne where they took the train the next day for Laurel to visit a few days. Before entering their carriage they were showered with rice, shoes and best wishes. Many beautiful and valuable presents were received, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

He certainly worked hard to try to make it an evening long to be remembered by all who were fortunate to be invited.

from Chas. W. Ferry. The divorce proceeding of Camp Powell vs. Lillian Powell followed. The plaintiff was examined to show the value of his property, and his sister testified that she would take care of the children if they are given into her custody. Mrs. Powell was called in her own behalf and told of the abuse and humiliation to which she had been subjected by her husband. She said she had no money and that Powell had failed to provide for her support. The judge took final disposition of the case under advisement. He granted temporary alimony of $25 per month and leaves care of the children for the present with the sister. A divorce will undoubtedly be allowed, but it is not easy to decide on the amount of alimony and permanent custody of the children.

ton, and begin married life with the best wishes of many friends.

More of the good people are returning to Wayne county this spring. Tuesday Andrew and Nels Grandquist and Peter Paulson came back with their families and personal effects from Minnesota where they have been living for two or three years. They believe that Wayne county is hard to beat and for the future will be good enough for them.

The big Strahan horse sale yesterday was a good one, eighty head of horses being sold in just a little less than one hour and a half, pretty nearly a horse a minute from opening to closing of the sale, a record that certainly is not very slow for a country auctioneer. The salesman was E. Cunningham, and while the prices obtained were not extreme yet they were very satisfactory as a whole.

Fre蒙特 McManigal, the 6-year-old son of Mrs. S. T. McManigal, died near midnight last night. The boy had the grip about a month ago and had apparently recovered, but suffered a relapse Friday night and did not have sufficient strength to throw off the disease. Mrs. McManigal lost her husband and two children from typhoid fever several years ago, making her present bereavement doubly severe. The funeral will take place from the Catholic church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The deposits of the banks of Wayne county have greatly increased during the past year, being an indication of the rapidly growing business of the county. As an instance, the Citizens' bank, whose statement appears in this paper, shows an increase of about $17,000 in deposits since its former statement, and an increase of about $50,000 in deposits since its statement a year ago. Growth in deposits is not confined to one bank, but is shared by every bank in the county. This happy condition not only shows the healthy standing of our financial institutions, but proves that the county is developing in trade and business, attended by growing prosperity and wealth in all parts.

THIEVING AT THE COLLEGE. Fred Robinson, a student at the college, was arrested Monday on the charge of stealing a watch valued at $5, complaint being made by Ed. McGee, another student. Robinson pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs, which he was unable to pay and accordingly was committed to the custody of the sheriff. Tuesday he telegraphed one of the banks of his home town, Shelby, Iowa, for the necessary funds and received them. Released from jail, he journeyed back to Iowa Tuesday afternoon.

Stealing of small articles at the college has been a source of annoyance for sometime and suspicion finally rested on Robinson as being at least one of the guilty parties. The contents of his trunk disclosed a lot of things that had been missed and among others was the watch. All of the stolen articles were of small value, and it appears as though only a kleptomaniac would have been tempted to steal them. One of the instructors at the college expresses the belief that Robinson is a kleptomaniac and deserves pity. It is feared, however, that he may not have been the only student possessing the proclivity to steal, but if there are others, it is hoped the impressive lesson meted out to Robinson will also serve as a warning to them and lead to their reform. It is fortunate for Robinson that he was checked in yielding to temptation before a greater offense had been committed with a greater penalty and greater dishonor and disgrace. He says he has resolved to keep his clutches off from the possessions of others hereafter and it is hoped he will stick to it. He makes a good appearance and looks as though he could easily amount to something in the world if he can conquer the one weakness that landed him in a pitiable plight in Wayne.

DISTRICT COURT. After an adjournment for one week the regular session of district court resumed Monday afternoon. Aside from listening to the evidence in a couple of divorce suits, and entering a decree in one of them, little was done. Judge Boyd expects to be here again in May to give his decision in the Powell divorce case and attend to any other matters that appear before him.

After hearing the testimony, the court granted a divorce to Margaret K. Perry from Chas. W. Perry.

The divorce proceeding of Camp Powell vs. Lillian Powell followed. The plaintiff was examined to show the value of his property, and his sister testified that she would take care of the children if they are given into her custody. Mrs. Powell was called in her own behalf and told of the abuse and humiliation to which she had been subjected by her husband. She said she had no money and that Powell had failed to provide for her support.

The judge took final disposition of the case under advisement. He granted temporary alimony of $25 per month and leaves care of the children for the present with the sister. A divorce will undoubtedly be allowed, but it is not easy to decide on the amount of alimony and permanent custody of the children.

AN ELOPEMENT. Coloridge special to yesterday's Sioux City Journal: Miss Cora Ruger, the 15-year-old daughter of Jacob Ruger, a prosperous farmer east of town, eloped last Friday night with the son of a neighbor, John Reynolds, aged 23. Young Reynolds had been staying at the Ruger home working for his board, and Friday night he and the girl started ostensibly for a dance at a neighboring farmer's. Not returning by the next morning, the anxious and irate father began seeking their whereabouts. He found they had not attended the dance at all, and now, much alive to the serious condition facing him, began a search for the runaway couple. The county sheriff at Harrington was notified and the information given out that $100 would be spent in discovering the elopers. In his anxiety to follow the lost one the father left home Saturday, and Monday Mrs. Ruger was in town hunting for him. No word has been heard since he left on Saturday. It is an interesting and unusual episode.

GILDERSLEEVE-BASTIAN. (Contributed) A very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Bastian, February 28, 1905, when their daughter, Otilie, was united in marriage to Mr. Abram Gildersleeve. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and cedar sprays. At high noon the bride groom and Martin Bastian, best man, entered a side door and took their places at one side of the room which had been nicely decorated for the occasion. Mae Gildersleeve, as bridesmaid, preceded the bride. She wore white and carried a large bouquet of pink carnations. Baby Viola Bastian, niece of the bride, was dressed in pink tulle veiling and carried a rose. She led the bride to her place where Rev. Drais of Winside spoke the words which joined the lives of two of Wayne county's highly esteemed young people. The bride wore a handsome dress of light blue silk warp sublime trimmed in white and carried a large bouquet of white roses, a gift of the bride groom. After the congratulations a four course dinner was served which was nicely carried out in pink and white. A very pretty feature planned by the bride was the little individual cake boxes of white tied with blue ribbon containing a piece of bride's cake, one for each guest. The afternoon was spent in a social manner and at four o'clock the bride party was ready to start for Wayne where they took the train the next day for Laurel to visit a few days. Before entering their carriage they were showered with rice, shoes and best wishes. Many beautiful and valuable presents were received, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

The rear train of seven cars carried a battalion of Ohio National Guard soldiers. It stopped at Clinton, eight miles west of Pittsburgh, to repair a hot box.

The second train, with the same number of cars, carried the Tippecanoe Club of Cleveland a band and twenty-five women. The special trains were running close together and the rear brakeman of the forward train did not have time to run back. The engineer of the rear train said the block signal light showed green and he ran ahead at forty-five miles an hour. His locomotive plowed through the rear Pullman of the forward train and half way into a tourist sleeping car, just ahead. All the officers of the engine crew were in these cars, and all the casualties occurred in them. The wreckage caught fire and all the forward train and three cars of the rear train were burned.

Capt. Chas. E. Doje was the only officer of the engineers' battalion to escape injury, and he will be in command of the battalion, which will return to Cleveland. The Tippecanoe Club will continue on to Washington.

PEOPLE DETERMINED.

Russian Workmen Deliver an Ultimatum. The official Messenger at St. Petersburg publishes an imperial manifesto calling on the country to rally round the throne in defense of the empire from its internal enemies.

Black clouds are again lowering over the industrial situation of Russia. The strike at Moscow has been resumed on a large scale, and many persons in the Caucasus and at St. Petersburg the measures which the government advanced to quiet discontent and restore good relations between masters and men appear to have failed, with the probability of causing the storm to break anew.

The labor delegates representing the whole of the industrial population of St. Petersburg, and who were elected to choose fifty members of the Schidleyev reconciliation committee, met again Thursday and reaffirmed the resolution adopted the previous day. A practical ultimatum was delivered for an answer Friday. There is little expectation that the government will grant the conditions demanded. The strike also has assumed large proportions at St. Petersburg, about 50,000 men being out.

Workmen representing nine groups met again Thursday at the People's palace and ratified the demands drawn up March 1 by the representatives of seven groups, and decided to meet again in the same place and await a reply until noon. If at that hour a guarantee is not forthcoming, the delegates will leave the hall, decline to elect members to serve on the mixed commission, with Mr. Schidleyev president, and proclaim a general strike.

MEN FIGHT FOR DAYS WORK.

Police Called to Quiet Riot Caused by Too Many Applicants for Jobs. A New York Times advertisement offering a day's work to fifty snow shovellers brought such a crowd of applicants to a point in Fifth Street Thursday that the police reserves were called out to quell an incipient riot, which attended the scramble for work checks.

More than 300 men who had come in response to the advertisement were standing about the place soon after daylight when the man with fifty checks, each of which would entitle the holder to a day's work, appeared on the scene. The sight of the checks was the signal for a rush in which every one of the 300 joined. Men were tossed right and left in the scramble to reach the holder of the checks, and within a minute the last one of the bits of pasteboard had been given out. This did not stop the trouble, however, and when the police reserves, who had been summoned at the first rush, appeared, more than a score of individual couples were fighting hand to hand for the right to shovel snow, all for $2.

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN A CONDENSED FORM.

Fire in Norfolk Church—Panic Narrowly Averted—Rev. Father Walsh Showed Great Presence of Mind—Saved Many From Serious Injury.

Fire broke out in the Sacred Heart church at Norfolk during service Sunday morning and the 800 people comprising the congregation were thrown into a frenzy which, but for the presence of mind of Rev. Father Thomas Walsh, must have resulted seriously.

Walsh, who was in the midst of his sermon, left of smoke, gurgled through the floor and was almost instantly followed by huge flames in the center of the church.

The congregation arose as one person and many fled to the street. As it was heard, but the throng of people, a majority being women and children, was terribly frightened. Several women fainted and children fell under foot.

Father Walsh held out his hands imploringly. "Be calm," he commanded. "Go out, but do not slowly. There is no danger if order is preserved." His advice was heeded and there was no serious hurt.

The fire started from the furnace in the basement and burst forth without a moment's warning. The smoke was so dense that the firemen were forced to fight the flames through the windows. Fortunately there were no casualties.

AMERICAN FENCE

FARM PROFITS

Every rod of fence on your farm helps to cheapen the cost of your matured hogs, bees, sheep and horses.

The better and greater the quantity of efficient fence on the farm, the higher the price per acre.

If you do not raise stock, the good fence protects your crops and insures largest possible returns.

Thousands of investors are making fortunes by buying up so-called "run down" or "raw farms", putting on a few buildings and good fences, then selling them for improved, up-to-date farms. Good fences, well built, pay better dividends than good barns or houses.

You want bigger profits per acre—build good fire-proof, stock-proof, time-proof fences. Now is the time to do it. American Fence is the best fence, fully guaranteed, always satisfactory. It is cheaper per rod today than ever before. The manufacturers propose to double the use of American Fence during the next twelve months. We are here to help them. In helping them, we help you by offering you American Fence, the best in the world, at heretofore unheard-of prices. Come and see us, don't delay—this opportunity is too good to miss. A QUIET WEDDING.

The fact that Mr. Paul Lease was a married man and had been a benedict for almost a year was disclosed to the public this week for the first time, when he began to make arrangements to go to house-keeping on the old home farm north of town. Mr. Lease and Miss Grace Bell were teachers in the western part of Wayne county last year and became lovers. They quietly eloped themselves away to Bartlett, the county-seat of Wheeler county, and on the 80th of April, 1904, were married. Their union was kept a profound secret which was not even confided to the families of either the bride or groom. Mrs. Lease's parents are residents of Wayne. She has been teaching in the Meadow Grove school this year and has now resigned to join her husband in their farm home.

The Chronicle extends its congratulations at this late day with wishes for the abiding happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Lease.—Wisner Chronicle.

SHORTHORN SALE.

The Clark & Peterson combination sale of Shorthorn cattle at this place on Saturday was largely attended and the bidding was quite spirited, the entire offering of thirty-one head being sold in a little less than two hours at very satisfactory, but not high prices, the thirty-one head selling for $2500, an average of about $80.60. The twenty bulls averaged $89.63, and the eleven head of the staff averaged $69.33 per head. While these averages do not look very large it must be taken into consideration that ten of the bulls sold were under one year old and over half of these ten were under eight months, and of the she staff nine were only six months of age and two others just a trifle over a year old. The auctioneers, E. Onningham of this city and Z. M. Baird of Hartington, were able to get prices that compare very favorably with those gotten by the big colonels. The following is a list of buyers, catalogue number of animal and price paid and also postoffice address of purchaser.

D. Bruggeman, Laurel; No. 32, $55, F. M. Hooper, Wayne.

Messrs. Clark and Peterson are well satisfied with the result of the sale and are certain that the purchasers will never be sorry of the deals they made on that day and that every animal, barring accidents, will prove highly satisfactory and be profitable investments.

NOT A PATENT MEDICINE

Hyomei, the Guaranteed Catarrh Cure, Prescribed by Physicians.
No one should confound Hyomei with the patent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as far superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. Their composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians.
Its base is the valuable eucalyptus oil, famous for its antiseptic qualities. This is combined with aromatic and healing gums and balsams, making a pure liquid, which when used in the Hyomei pocket inhaler, fills the air you breathe with germ-killing, disease-destroying and healing powers that kill all catarrhal germs there may be in the throat, nose and lungs.

How foolish it is to try and cure catarrh by swallowing tablets or liquids. The only natural way to cure this disease and all other diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei.
This treatment has been so successful, curing 99 per cent. of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by E. J. Raymond under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it did not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1, and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime; and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents.

Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once and finally made her entirely well. She is now as strong as a young girl." Wayne Drug Co., sells and guarantees them, at 50c a bottle.
